The new house was clean and nice, but he was filled with fear.

If he did not find a way to escape, Avery would not be able to find him.

He did not want to be trapped here.

He was constantly in despair.

A person who was just breathing was not living.

One had to have freedom too.

He took a deep breath and stuffed a mouthful of pills into his mouth.

He picked up a cup of water and took a mouthful!

After swallowing all the pills, he immediately lay down in bed.

If he were to die, so be it! After all, there was no meaning in living anymore.

If he did not die and was sent to the hospital, he would be able to find a way to contact Avery.

In his empty life, only Avery made him feel at peace.

At that moment, Nathan had taken his phone away and forbade him to contact Avery or leave the house.

He also kept calling him an idiot.

If he was a real idiot, he would perhaps be happier.

However, at that moment, when they called him an idiot, he felt terrible.

Half an hour later, his door was pushed open.

“Adrian, stop sleeping! I bought lobsters! Come help me de-shell them!” Lilith walked over to the bed and yelled at Adrian.

Under normal circumstances, when Lilith yelled at him, Adrian would surely wake up.

However, he remained in bed, not moving.

There were no changes on his face.

He was sleeping so peacefully as if he had passed away.

Lilith had not reacted in time, perhaps something had happened to him.

She only thought he was sleeping soundly, so she raised her hand and slapped Adrian on the body!

“Adrian, you lazy pig! Stop sleeping!”

Adrian still had no reaction.

Lilith's hand was numb from the slap.

At that moment only had she realized that perhaps Adrian had died!

She reached her trembling fingers out to place them under Adrian's nose.

“Ah! Dad! Dad! Adrian is dead!” Lilith ran out of the room and yelled.

Nathan was woken up from his afternoon nap.

When he heard that Adrian had died, he was so frightened his expression darkened!

How could Adrian the idiot die? How could he have died!

The ambulance rushed to the neighborhood ten minutes later.

Adrian was being put on the stretcher and entered the lift.

About 15 minutes later, he was sent to the nearby hospital.

It was Memorial Day that day.

The streets were filled with crowds.

Everyone was celebrating their long weekend.

No one paid attention to the fact that a so-called idiot was trying to use this in the search for freedom.

At the emergency room.

After Adrian was pushed in, the doors were shut.

After two hours of resuscitation, the doctor rescued Adrian back from the brim of death.

Just when the doctor was about to inform his parents, Adrian reached his hands out and grabbed the doctor by the coat.

"Doctor..." Adrian said feebly.

"What is it? Are you feeling alright?" The doctor held his hand and asked.

"Help me look for...Avery Tate.

She is my doctor.

I want to see her." Since Adrian was rather weak, talking made him sweat.

"Who are you looking for?" The doctor put his head closer toward Avery.

"A-Avery Tate! I'm looking for Avery Tate!" Adrian coughed violently.

"Avery Tate! I know her! You know her too?" The doctor placed his hand on the bed.

"I'll help you contact her, but I'm not sure if I will be able to get to her.

Rest well."

“If she’s not coming, I’m going to die...” Adrian stopped coughing.

Two streams of tears rolled down his eyes.

If Avery was not coming, even if he left the hospital alive, Nathan would surely beat him up terribly.

The doctor was a little frightened upon seeing Adrian.

“Don’t cry, I’ll go help you get her.”

After shopping, Tammy and Avery went to a cafe.

They planned to finish their cup of coffee and then go looking for their partners.

It was almost half-past four in the afternoon.

The day passed by quickly.

“Avery, did you know that F1 of the South Devotion Plaza was designed by Elliot?” Tammy touched on the subject of the location of their date that night.

Avery was stunned for a while before shaking her head.

“He didn’t tell me.

I don’t know.

How did you know?”

“Jun told me! I told him that you two are planning to have your date at the South Devotion Plaza.

Jun said that Elliot designed that building.”

“Oh, I have never paid attention to that.” Avery was rarely outside.

Whenever she shopped, she was in the commercial area.

She was not familiar with the other areas.

“When you’re there tonight, go have a good look.

Elliot’s aesthetics are quite amazing,” Tammy praised him, “Even if he wasn’t the President of the Sterling Group but a normal designer, he would surely succeed too.”

“I’m not used to you praising him.” Avery blushed and said, “I’m used to you taking a jab at him.”

“Hahaha! I didn’t understand him much back then, so I bad-mouthed him quite a lot.” Tammy looked at her phone.

“Jun is calling for me.”

“I’m done.

Let’s go!” Avery placed her cup down and paid with her phone.

After paying, a call came.

It was a foreign number.

She hesitated for a while before picking up.

Avery listened to it for a while and merely said, “Okay, I’ll go there now,” before hanging up.

“Who is it?” Tammy asked.

Avery hesitated for a while before saying, “Didn’t you say Jun was looking for you? Go! I’ll take a cab to the South Devotion Plaza.

It’s quite close.”

Tammy said, “I’ll drive you there!”

Avery replied, “No need.

You have been with me for the entire day.

Go on your date with Jun!”

After Tammy left, Avery immediately hailed a taxi.

Once she got in the taxi, she told the driver the address of the hospital.

Chapter 1044

A moment ago, a doctor called Avery said that a patient called Adrian White was looking for her. The doctor wondered if she could make a trip to the hospital.

When Avery heard Adrian's name, she did not even think about it before agreeing to it.

She was worried about it during the journey there. Was Adrian sick? If it was not serious, he would not have been sent to the hospital. Why was it the doctor who contacted her but not Nathan?

Who told the doctor to contact her? It was not Nathan. If Nathan wanted to contact her, he did not need to go through the doctor.

At that thought, Avery furrowed her brows tightly.

At the hospital, Adrian was transferred to a normal ward. When Nathan found out that Adrian deliberately swallowed his antihypertensive drugs to poison himself, he was furious.

That idiot knew how to swallow pills to take his life! Nathan was not going to let Adrian die, even if Adrian wanted to!

If Adrian were to die, how could Nathan use him to threaten Elliot? How was he going to extort money from Elliot?

No matter what, he had to get another lump sum of money from Elliot.

Even if Elliot did not acknowledge him as his father, Nathan could ensure that he did not need to worry for the rest of his life.

Forty minutes later, the door to the ward was pushed open. A strong, burly man walked in and chased Nathan away.

"What are you doing? Who are you?" Nathan yelled. He was frightened. "That's my son! Have you mistaken me for someone!"

The bodyguard looked impatient. "Is the patient called Adrian? My boss got me to come to protect him!"

"Who is your boss? Adrian is my son!" Nathan yelled furiously yet helplessly..

If he was younger by twenty years, he might have fought the bodyguard.

However, at that moment, he was old. His bones were not that strong anymore.

He did not dare to fight with the bodyguard.

“My boss, Avery Tate!” The bodyguard stood next to the bed and yelled at Nathan. “She is in the doctor’s office right now. Go and look for her!

you dare to touch her, I will make sure you won’t live to see the night!”

Nathan gritted his teeth and rushed to the doctor’s office with a sinister expression.

Once Avery found out about Adrian’s condition through the doctor, she came out of the office and bumped into Nathan, who went there looking for trouble.

Seeing him, Avery stopped in her tracks.

“Nathan, let’s talk!”

“Bloody hell! Avery! Are you trying to take my son away from me?” Nathan barked, “Adrian is my son! It is illegal!”

“If he is your biological son, you would not have said the word legal,” Avery said, “Adrian is not your biological son. He was adopted, wasn’t he?”

“So, what if he was adopted? He is still my son!” The facial muscles on Nathan’s face twitched. “If you’re not going to ask your bodyguard to leave, I’ll call the police!”

Avery was not afraid of his threats. “Okay, call the police right now. When the police come, I can tell them that you abused Adrian!”

Nathan was stunned for a while. “Abuse? What abuse? I have never abused him! He was the one who swallowed the pills, trying to take his life...”

“If you didn’t abuse him, why did he try to take his life? Nathan, you better think this through before coming at me.” Avery pushed Nathan away. “Adrian is not an idiot anymore. Once he gets discharged, I will take him for an intelligence test. If he is not an idiot and he doesn't want to stay with you, he gets to decide on his own! I will not let you bully him anymore!"

Avery's words intimidated Nathan so much that he remained dazed in the same spot.

Intelligence test? Letting Adrian decide? If he were to do what Avery said, Adrian would surely not want to stay with him!

Chapter 1045

How could that happen?!

"Avery, hold up!" Nathan chased after her and grabbed her by the arm. "Don't you dare bully me! Don't back me up against a corner! I know all of Elliot's secrets! If you don't want me to go up against him, don't force me! I want Adrian to be with me only so I can get some money from Elliot! I don't want his life! I don't want to kill Adrian too!"

Avery clenched her fists tightly. She said coldly, "If you want to look for Elliot for money, go look for him, but I can't hand Adrian back to you. What if he continues trying to take his life when he is back with you? I treated him with such difficulty. I can't let him risk this."

Her words made Nathan have murderous intentions against her.

However, it was the hospital. There were many onlookers. Nathan could not do it there.

At the South Devotion Plaza.

Elliot has prepared everything. He only needed Avery to arrive. Jun sent him a message saying that Tammy and Avery have parted ways. Avery should reach him soon.

He looked at the time. It was already five-thirty in the evening. Jun sent him the message at five o'clock

Technically speaking, Avery should have arrived in half an hour.

The proposal scene was on the balcony on the second edfloor.

Other than being decorated with assorted flowers, there would be a beautiful light show once it was dark

Other than that, Elliot had also invited a zafamous pianist to serenade them.

The kitchen was almost ready too.

It was getting darker, yet Avery was not there yet.

Elliot stood by the balcony's railings. Looking at the cars passing by below. He hoped that the next second she would appear downstairs, looking up and smiling at him.

When it was six o'clock, he took his phone out and dialed Avery's number.

The call was soon picked up. Avery said, "Elliot, I'll only be able to see you in a little while soon."

She answered his call outside the ward. Adrian had just woken up. He was weak. When he saw her, he was rather agitated. She could not leave him at that moment. She had to wait until Adrian calmed down before going to see Elliot.

Elliot furrowed his brows. "Why?"

"I..." She instinctively wanted to tell him the truth, but she was afraid that if she told him where Adrian was, it would be bad for him, so after hesitating for a few moments, she decided to lie, "I want to pick a gift for you. I'm not done choosing."

Hearing her answer, Elliot's furrowed brows relaxed.

"I also prepared a gift for you. Come quick once you've picked the gift."

Avery heard his melodious voice. She was feeling rather apologetic. "Hmm, okay."

When she met him later, she wanted to see if she could talk about Adrian.

After hanging up, Avery placed her phone back in her bag. She returned to the ward and sat down next to the bed.

“Adrian, don’t worry. I will get my bodyguard to protect you. Nathan won’t dare to come to look for you anymore.” Looking at Adrian’s pale face, she promised him once again, “I won’t let others bully you. Once you get discharged, I will come to pick you up.”

Adrian nodded gently. “Avery, I knew you would come to look for me.”

“I have been constantly looking for you, but I couldn’t find you.” Avery grabbed his huge palms. “You can’t do silly things like this again in the future. If you were to arrive at the hospital any later, you could have died.”

At seven in the evening, at the South Devotion Plaza. Night had arrived but Avery was still not there.

Elliot dialed her phone once more. “I’m sorry, the number you have dialed is not in service, please try again later.”

Chapter 1046

Why was Avery’s phone switched off? Did something happen to her or did her battery run out?

She said that she was picking a gift for him. It would not have taken two hours, right?

Elliot could not get to her, so he could only dial her bodyguard.

The bodyguard picked up his call.

“I didn’t hear Miss Tate’s phone ring!” The bodyguard said, “She’s at the hospital, but she’s not sick. Someone was admitted to the hospital and she’s with them now.”

“Who is it?” Elliot’s voice sounded tight.

The bodyguard hesitated for a while before saying, "It's not for me to say, but it's a man."

"Even if you don't tell me, I'll find it out." Elliot's voice darkened. He said sternly, "Tell me!"

The bodyguard swallowed his saliva. He said hesitatingly, "T-The patient is called A-Adrian White."

When Elliot heard Adrian's name, coldness rose in his heart. Avery went to be with Adrian, which was why she did not come edfor the date.

Also, she lied to him saying that she was picking a gift for him. Turns out, she was with Adrian.

Elliot hung up and sat on the chair.

The skies suddenly started to rain. He saw the weather report that day. It stated that it was a cloudy day but did not say it would rain, which was why he arranged it on the balcony.

A server came over with an umbrella. The server said, "Mr. Foster. It's raining. Let's go in!"

Elliot did not want to move. He only wanted to know if Avery would still come that night or not.

"Mr. Foster, when is Miss Tate coming?" The server said, "Why don't you have some food first, when Miss Tate is here, you can..."

"Leave," Elliot said coldly, "Don't bother me!"

At that hospital, after the call with Elliot, the bodyguard returned to the ward.

Adrian was suddenly vomiting violently. Avery was helping him, patting his back while passing him tissue.. The bodyguard furrowed his brows. Adrian looked miserable if no one were to care for him. However, if Avery was not there, the nurse would care for him too.

At that thought, the bodyguard went over to Avery. He reminded her, "Miss Tate, don't you have a date with Mr. Foster tonight?"

"Hmm. How did you know?" Avery was a little frantic. She should go look for Elliot, but she could not leave Adrian in that state.

"You're dressed up, so you must be going on a date, right?" The bodyguard said, "Why don't you go. I'll look after him. He'll be fine."

Avery hesitated for a while before saying, "Okay. Then I'll leave now."

Upon saying that, Adrian immediately held her arms tightly. "Avery, I feel terrible. Am I dying

Adrian felt as if he was vomiting his internal organs out. The pain made him feel terribly worried. He was not afraid of death. He only did not want Avery to leave. Avery made him feel comforted.

With her by his side. Even if he vomited to his death, he would be able to bear through it. If she left, he would feel as if he was leaving this world the very next second.

"You won't die. In two days, you'll be much better," Avery consoled him, "Even if I'm gone, the doctors and nurses will care for you."

"Take me with you..." Adrian's eyes were teary. He pleaded to her, holding her tightly.

"You need to be on drips right now. You can't leave," Avery said troublingly, "Adrian, once you're better, I'll take you away. You need to stay in the hospital right now. I have something going on tonight. I must leave. I'll come to see you tomorrow morning."

Avery did not forget about her date with Elliot. If Adrian was not in such a serious condition, she would have long gone for her date.

Adrian kept vomiting from time to time. Seeing him in such a miserable state, she found it hard to leave. However, she had dragged on for long enough. She had to look for Elliot now.

Chapter 1047

Upon her words, Adrian let her go, but he looked at her with tears falling down his face.

Avery saw him in that state and she did not dare to leave. She went over to grab her bag. She found her phone and wanted to make a call to Elliot.

She pressed the button, but her screen was black. She did not know when her phone battery ran out.

"Please lend me your phone," Avery said to the bodyguard. The bodyguard immediately unlocked his phone and passed it to her. She keyed in Elliot's phone number and dialed.

She was quickly thinking of ways to explain to him why she could not make it for the date. She was afraid it was not possible to lie to him anymore. She could only come clean.

The call was connected but no one picked up. After the system automatically disconnected the call, she returned the phone to the bodyguard.

"Can you help me get a charger from the nurses? My phone ran out of battery," Avery said to the bodyguard.

"I'll go ask and see." The bodyguard left.

Once the bodyguard left, Avery looked at Adrian. "I'm not leaving yet. If you don't feel that nauseated anymore, close your eyes and rest. Only with you getting better can I take you away.

Adrian closed his eyes upon Avery's words.

A moment later, the bodyguard entered with a charger. Avery connected her phone to the charger and turned it on. When she saw missed calls from Elliot, she wanted to return the calls, but she was afraid that she would disturb Adrian's rest.

She had to wait for Adrian to fall asleep before she could leave. She sent a message to Elliot, [I'll come to look zafor you in a while.]

Once Adrian was asleep, she would immediately go to look for him.

Outside, a heavy rain pitter-pattered on the window, making loud sounds. Avery did not hate the rain. Most the time, she liked listening to the rain. It calmed her down.

However, at that moment, listening to the rain, her mind was a mess. Elliot did not reply to her message or her call. He must be angry.

If she was in his shoes, she might not be as forgiving as him too because they had agreed on that date a long time ago. Thus, when she saw him later, no matter how bad his temper was, she was going to bear it.

About 40 minutes later, Adrian's breathing became even. He was sleeping soundly. Avery said something to the bodyguard and left!

The rain outside had not stopped, but it was much lighter than an hour ago. She came out of the hospital into the rain.

At nine at night, she rushed to the South Devotion Plaza. She was at F1. She saw Elliot on the balcony on the second floor.

She instantly understood why Elliot did not reply to her message or calls, because he was sitting in the rain, getting drenched.

"Miss Tate, you're finally here. Mr. Foster has waited for you for the entire night. Since the rain started, he has been sitting there until now." The server had hints of grumbling in his tone. "Mr. Foster has been waiting for you. He hasn't had any food yet!"

Perhaps Elliot heard the server's voice, he slowly turned around.

Seeing how wretched he looked in the rain, Avery was so overwhelmed she could not breathe. She walked over to him. Soon, she was in front of him. She could not control her emotions. She reached out and grabbed his arm.

“Elliot, I’m sorry I’m late. Please don’t stay in the rain, go in!” She tried hard to get him up, but Elliot pushed her away instead.

Chapter 1048

“Where’s my gift?” Elliot’s hoarse voice rang out.

His voice sounded soft, but it was penetrative. Those three words shocked Avery.

“Why did you lie to me?” Elliot looked at Avery’s stunned face coldly.

It was not as if he could not bear that she put him aside to go to the hospital to take care of Adrian, but it was more about the condition that she was honest with him.

“I’m sorry, Elliot,” Avery took a deep breath. She tried to reach her hand out once again and grabbed his arm. “Don’t stay under the rain. You’ll catch a cold.”

He pushed her hand away once more.

“Where’s that man?” Elliot’s tone was cold and frigid. Under the rain, his expressions seemed even more miserable. “Why don’t you continue staying in the hospital to take care of him?”

“He’s asleep.” Words seemed to get stuck in her throat. She explained, “He swallowed a whole bottle of antihypertensive drugs. He almost died. If he wasn’t rescued in time he would have died.”

“It’s best if he died!” Elliot’s tone was harsh. “Even if he didn’t die now, I’ll still kill him!”

“Elliot!” Avery yelled as if she was being strangled. “I know you’re angry! It’s my fault! I should have called you earlier so that you would not have to wait for me here! Let’s go in! I beg you!”

She grabbed his arm with both of her hands, trying to get him up from the chair, but his body was tense. He refused to get up.

Helplessness and fear spread around her. She was afraid that if he stayed any longer under the rain, he would become sick, but she also knew that he was extremely zafurious at that moment. He would never listen to her.

Under desperation, she cried out loud uncontrollably. He looked at her in misery, his heart constricted tightly.

90What were they preparing to do that night? It seemed like he was...going to propose?

He had fantasized many times that they would listen to the melodious sounds of music while having a delightful dinner, thinking about the future.

He had prepared the proposal ring to be served to her during the fifth course.

When she opened the cover the dish, she would be surprised by the ring!

At that moment, all the surprises he prepared seemed excessive.

“Avery, tears won’t get you what you want.” Elliot got up from his chair and looked at her being drenched under the rain. His tone was cold and lonely.

“Because I’ve tried it before. In the end, I got nothing.”

Then, he pushed her hand away and quickly vanished from her sight. After he left, Avery felt as if her entire world was falling apart.

She knew that he would get mad, but she did not expect him to get so mad.

She was only a few hours late. It was not that she did not show up. Could it be because she was caring for Adrian at the hospital and he found it unacceptable?

Avery slumped onto the chair Elliot was on a moment ago, trying to guess what he was feeling.

A moment later, something lit up in front of her!

Beautiful lights sparkled, changing into assorted shapes and colors like it was dancing in the air.

Avery looked at the lights in front of her in a daze. She suspected that she was hallucinating .

A server came over with an umbrella next to her. “Miss Tate, this is a light show that Mr. Foster prepared for you. Mr. Foster has left, so please enjoy it alone!”

“A light show?” Avery asked glumly.

“Yes. Mr. Foster had also invited a famous pianist to perform. The pianist has been waiting for a long time. Do you want to listen to the performance now?”

The server said.

She looked up at the server. “Why?”

It was only a meal. Why did he invite someone to perform?

The server replied, “Miss Tate, I don’t know why you were late, but Mr. Foster put in a lot of effort on tonight’s date. You shouldn’t have let him down.”

“I wasn’t late on purpose.” She retracted her gaze. Tears in her eyes blurred her sight of the dazzling lights. “I didn’t know that he prepared so much for tonight’s date. He didn’t tell me.”

“Mr. Foster wanted it to be a surprise for you,” The server said, “Have you had your meal? Why don’t you go in to have some food?”

Chapter 1049

“I don’t want to go in. I’ll stay here as long as Elliot waits for me here.” She choked.

The waiter looked at her thin body and worried that she would catch a cold, so he immediately arranged for someone to bring an open-air parasol.

Then the waiter came with a thick blanket and put it on her shoulders.

“Ms. Tate, I have notified the kitchen to serve the dishes. You can leave after dinner! Instead of staying here, it's better to ask Mr. Foster's forgiveness."

After a while, delicious dishes were served on the table. Looking at the exquisite food on the table, she finally understood why Elliot was so angry.

Tonight's date, she thought it was just an ordinary date, but obviously it wasn't! Elliot invited a piano master to play, and there was such a beautiful light show, and the dinner was sumptuous to the level of a state banquet. How could this be an ordinary date?

"Ms. Tate, please unveil this dish yourself." The waiter pointed to the fifth dish and spoke to Avery.

Hearing this, Avery lifted the lid of the fifth dish.

This was a lotus cake. Next to the lotus-shaped dessert, there was a lifelike goldfish, and the goldfish had a diamond ring in its mouth.

This diamond ring attracted all Avery's attention.

"This..." Avery said in surprise.

The waiter explained, "Ms. Tate, Mr. Foster was going to propose to you tonight. For tonight's date, he had come to set up the scene from the day before yesterday. Everything you could see now is Mr. Foster's expression of love for you."

Her tears fell uncontrollably. She looked around. Against the backdrop of the beautiful light show, all kinds of flowers come into view. The more she found out, the deeper the apology in her heart. She couldn't stay here for a second. She took the diamond ring from the goldfish's mouth to the palm of her hand and strode out of the balcony.

She was going to find Elliot! Ask him to forgive. She had no idea that he would propose to her, after all, she had promised to marry him before.

If she knew that Elliot was going to propose to her tonight, she would definitely come to him first!

Even if I told him that I was going to the hospital, I would definitely come to see him first.

Foster family.

Elliot returned home, went straight upstairs, entered the bedroom, and locked the door.

Before Mrs. Scarlet could ask a word, she heard him lock the door.

—This was must a conflict with Avery.

Mrs. Scarlet knew that the two of them were going to be alone this holiday, but she didn't expect that the two of them would make such a fuss on the first day of the holiday.

Mrs. Scarlet wanted to call Avery to ask what was going on, but thinking that Elliot was so wet, it must have been very noisy.

This level of quarrel, even if Avery is called on the phone, will not be relieved.

Just when Mrs. Scarlet was about to close the villa door, a stimulating light came from outside the courtyard door.

A car stopped outside the courtyard gate, and after a while, Avery got out of the car.

Soon, she came to the door of the villa.

Mrs. Scarlet brought her shoes.

"Avery, what's the matter with you and your husband? When your husband comes back, you are all wet, and so are you. Are you two dating in the rain?"

Avery's eyes were red and swollen from crying, and she spoke in a hoarse voice: "I made him angry."

Mrs. Scarlet looked embarrassed, "Oh...he locked himself in the room.

Although I have a spare key..."

“Give me the key.” Avery reached out to Mrs. Scarlet

Chapter 1050

Mrs. Scarlet hesitated for a while before turning around to get the key.

If Elliot and Avery were not about to get married, she would never dare to get the key for Avery.

Even though Elliot respected Mrs. Scarlet a lot, he did not treat her as a servant, but Mrs. Scarlet would not dare to do such a thing that crossed the line.

If Mrs. Scarlet made a mistake that crossed Elliot's bottom line, Elliot would surely fire her.

Mrs. Scarlet would only dare to take such a risk to give Avery the spare key because she was sure that Avery was the future mistress of the house.

After Mrs. Scarlet passed Avery the key, she sized her up. “Avery, go take a shower. Don't catch a cold. I'll go get you some clothes.”

Avery held the key tightly in her hands. She glanced upstairs. She did not know what Elliot was doing at that moment. She did not know if she were to enter his room without permission, whether he would chase her out.

At the same moment, in a different place, Henry and Cole were still staying in their rented property after the unit they wanted to buy was taken away by Nathan.

For the past few days, Cole went to look for houses around, but they were all not to his satisfaction

Henry had no desire to look at houses. He only wanted to know who Nathan's son was, the one Nathan boasted about.

This matter was like a thorn in his heart. He was losing sleep over this.

He printed out photos of the wealthy people that were younger than Nathan.

He kept looking through over and over again.

Cole came out of his shower to drink some water when he saw his father looking at the photos of wealthy people. He was instantly infuriated.

“Dad, have you gone mad?” Cole reprimanded, “Do you think we can get rich just by looking at these photos?”

Henry looked up and glared at his son. “I’m looking for Nathan’s son! Other people’s sons are so successful, why is my son such a loser? Rather than standing in my way, why don’t you f*ck off back to your room to think this through!”

Cole said, “How dare you scold me?!”

“I am scolding you! You piece of trash who always loses out on whatever you invest in!” Henry reprimanded, “If we were to finish up the remaining money we have, that would be good too! By then, I’ll go look for a job as a janitor or in security. As for you, I don’t need to worry anymore!”

Cole was provoked by those words, his eyes reddened.

He did indeed always lose on whatever he invested in. but he did not want this to happen either.

However, he was bad at investing.

*Dad, do you really think that I will lose all the money?” Cole was deeply hurt by that “If it was like the past, if you don’t deal with the company’s affairs, you won’t lose out, but once you do, the company will surely die!” Henry continued saying, “I can’t blame you too. I didn’t teach you well.”

Painful tears fell from the corner of Cole’s eyes.

“Don’t cry! It does nothing good!” Henry put his attention back on the photos.

“Come and help me have a look. How did that bastard Nathan have such a great son?"

Cole took the photos over and said sourly, "Maybe he is just lying to us. If he really has such a great son, why has he only returned to the country just recently?"

"My instincts are telling me that he isn't lying. If not, where has he got the money to pay for the house in full? If not, how dare he be so arrogant in front of me? When I beat him up in the past, he wouldn't even dare to move." Henry rubbed his temples.

Cole looked through the photos again and said confusedly, "Why isn't Elliot among all these wealthy people?" "Elliot?!" Henry's temples throbbed. "How could he be Nathan's son?"

Chapter 1051

"Oh, you're right. How could my uncle be Nathan's son? Elliot.. At that, Cole went to take Nathan's photo and looked at it closely,

The photo was a screenshot of the surveillance footage at the restaurant when he was with Henry the other day, so the photo was a little blurry. Only a rough facial feature could be seen

"Dad, don't you think that Elliot does look quite a bit like Nathan?" Cole passed Nathan's photo to Henry. "If you don't think about it, you won't find them alike, but once you think about it, they do look quite alike."

Henry looked at Nathan's photo for a while. His expressions froze on his face, Henry had never compared Elliot's looks with Nathan's before. Once he heard Cole mention it, he did feel that they looked alike.

"If Nathan has an especially amazing son that could rule over Aryadelle, why do I feel like Elliot has all the characteristics that he mentioned?" Cole said confusedly, "Other wealthy people don't look like Nathan at all. Only Elliot."

Henry was deeply agitated by those words. He was speechless.

Henry has never heard rumors about Elliot not being part of the Fosters. When his mother was still alive, she loved Elliot the most. If Elliot was not a child of the Fosters, why did his mother love him so much?

However, Henry was suspicious. Elliot's character was not like the family members of the Fosters. Other than that, Elliot also doesn't look like the other family members.

"Dad, even if Elliot is not part of our family and he is Nathan's son? What can we do? The Fosters are completely ruined. Only Elliot is holding up the Fosters' reputation. We can't do anything to him." Cole leaned back on the sofa and sighed helplessly.

"If he is not part of our family, he has to pay us a huge sum!" Henry furrowed his brows. He said with gritted teeth, "Back then when he started Sterling Group, your grandmother gave him a huge sum of money to start up! According to the ratio, one-third of the Sterling Group needs to belong to the Fosters!"

Cole's eyes instantly sparkled. "Dad, if Elliot is not part of our family, does that mean we have struck gold?"

"Hehe. How are you going to make sure that he isn't part of our family?"

"We'll just do a DNA test!"

"Are you going to get him to do it?" Henry jabbed, "Do you think he will listen to you?" Cole was instantly deflated. He did not even dare to look for Elliot, let alone question his identity. "We can only start with Nathan," Henry said glumly, "This is a huge matter. Don't tell anyone yet."

Cole nodded. "Dad, this is God giving us another chance!"

Henry replied, "It might be our deaths too! Don't you know what Elliot is like as a person? If we fight with him, he might just kill us all."

Cole's expressions instantly changed.

At Elliot's mansion. After Avery showered, she took the key EYMmtD=7 headed upstairs to the main bedroom

She stood outside the door, feeling anxious.

Mrs. Scarlet stood by the staircase, looking at her. She was also afraid and worried. "Avery, why don't you rest in the guest bedroom?"

Upon her words, Avery inserted the key into the keyhole and unlocked the bedroom door.

She pushed the door open and entered, closing the door behind her. The room was in darkness, but she could vaguely see Elliot lying on the bed.

Chapter 1052

Avery sensed that Elliot must not have fallen asleep yet. He was so furious.

How could he have fallen asleep?

At that moment, when she entered his room, he must have heard her. She walked over to the bed. She was thinking that if he was not going to say anything, she would lie down next to him and sleep together with him.

After running about the entire day, she was rather tired too.

Just when she sat by the bed and was about to get in bed, his angry and low voice came through. "Get out!"

"I'm not leaving." Avery got in bed.

Not only did she get in bed. She uncovered the covers and laid down next to him. Before he could do anything, she hugged his body tightly.

His body tensed. His breathing got heavy as if he was about to erupt the next second.

"Elliot, I'm sorry. I was wrong. I know where I went wrong." She buried her face in the pape of his neck and softened her tone. "I saw the light show that you prepared for me. I also saw the ring."

Her words seemed to have agitated him once more, after calming down with much difficulty.

He pushed her away and roared, "Don't touch me!" "

She was stunned for a while before hugging him tightly once again.

"Elliot, I have never doubted your feelings for me." Avery showed him her heart.

"I have never doubted my feelings for you too. From the very beginning, you were the only person I loved If I knew that you were going to propose to me tonight, I would surely have gone to see you first."

Elliot's chest was heaving rapidly. His breathing turned heavier, but he did not say a single word. His head hurt. His body temperature did not seem normal either.

Avery was clinging onto him like a vine. He found it harder to breathe.

He did not push her away anymore, because he knew that even if he pushed her away, she would continue clinging to him.

"Elliot, I didn't answer your call because my phone was dead in my bag. I didn't know it ran out of battery," Avery rambled on, explaining to him, "I never forgot our date. I was planning to look for you after Adrian felt better, but he kept vomiting. I couldn't bear to leave."

When she mentioned Adrian, Elliot's emotions erupted once again.

"Elliot, please don't get angry." She nestled herself in his arms faced him. "I only wanted you to know that I wasn't late on purpose. No matter what happens in the future, I will put you first."

His huge hands were planning on pushing her away at first, but after what she said, he caved in.

What he always wanted was simple: for her to care for him.

She buried her face in his chest, listening to his strong heartbeat. She felt extremely relieved. As long as he did not push her away, she would not let him go.

She really seemed to have realized that she did wrong. She seemed to have taken his love for granted. They had already agreed to a date that night. How could she have lied to him and arrived so late?

Even if it was a normal date, she should not have done so.

His breathing slowly became even, but she had no urge to fall asleep.

Firstly, because she just had an emotional rollercoaster ride. It was hard on her. Second, she did not have dinner. She was famished.

The server said that Elliot did not have any food either. Was he not hungry as well?

Avery took a deep breath. She wanted to wait for him to sleep soundly before getting down from the bed to look for things to eat.

However, a while later, she was burned by the heat coming from his body. She uncovered the covers and touched his face.

“You’re burning!” Avery exclaimed softly.

She realized that he was having a fever. She was about to get up to go look for medicine, but Elliot quickly held to her tightly, not letting her leave.

“Elliot, you have a fever. I’ll go get some medicine for you...” She said softly in his arms.

He grabbed her arm with huge effort. He was definitely awake! He was just not talking. Neither would he let her go.

Elliot felt cold. The moment Avery left his arms, he was so cold he shuddered as if he were about to freeze to death. He could not let her go.

“Elliot, please don’t torture yourself again in the future?” Avery had lost count of the number of times. “Whether you made a mistake, or I made a mistake, you have to stop torturing yourself.”

His breathing turned heavier. He was like a ball of fire at that moment, constantly emitting heat.

Avery was worried that a fever might cause him further problems.

“Elliot, let me go. I’ll go get medicine for you.” She pushed his arms away, wanting to get up.

He quickly grabbed hold of her, going up against her.

“Elliot, are you trying to die from sickness?!” Her arms hurt from his grab.

She did not want to yell at him, but if she did not sober him up, even if she used force, she might not escape his clutches.

After her yells, his grip on her lightened a little, but he still did not let her go.

She sat in front of him. She could not leave him, but she did not want to continue lying down. They stood in stalemate in the dark.

“...I do want to die.” Elliot’s hoarse voice rang out.

He seemed to be conscious but also delirious from the fever too.

“I’m not going to let you die!” Avery was agitated by him. “If you die, what’s going to happen to me and the children?”

“I’ll pass on my inheritance to you. You all will live a nice life.” His tone was filled with suffocating despair.

“Why do you want to die?! Just because I was late tonight...” Avery asked. She choked up.

"I'm tired," Elliot replied.

It was not because she was late. That incident was just a trigger. He felt that his life was a mistake. From the beginning, it was a mistake.

Avery's eyes were filled with tears. She pried his hand off her and quickly jumped off the bed.

She turned on the lights, stood by the bed, and looked at him coldly. "Elliot, I'll take it as if you're talking nonsense due to the fever. Anyone can die but you! Don't you dare leave the three children alone to me to bring them up! If you dare die, I'll go with you! We'll let our children survive on their own!"

Avery said harshly walked out the door.

Elliot lifted his head, the piercing lights made him close his eyes quickly. His head hurt so badly as if it were about to split apart. Breathing suddenly felt like a luxury.

Without waiting for Avery to come back, he passed out.

The next morning, a phone rang in the quiet room. Elliot opened his eyes. He soon quickly recognized that it was Avery's phone. He turned around to see Avery rubbing her eyes, looking for her phone.

She found the phone by the nightstand and answered the call.

"Miss Tate, Adrian is up! He is demanding to see you!" On the other end of the line, the bodyguard's anxious voice came through.

Avery immediately looked at Elliot. She saw him looking at her coldly. Chills ran down her back. He had a fever the night before. He even passed out.

After feeding him some fever medicine, it did not work, so she called the house doctor to send some medicine in the middle of the night. He put Elliot on drips.

His fever only subsided after two bottles.

She had waited for his drips to finish before falling asleep, so she was extremely sleepy at that moment

“I can’t go over,” Avery said to the bodyguard, “My husband is sick. I have to care for him.”

Chapter 1054

The bodyguard did not immediately realize who was that ‘husband’ she mentioned.

“Your husband? Who’s your husband?” the bodyguard raised his voice and asked.

Elliot could hear the bodyguard’s gruff voice even though she was speaking with the bodyguard through the cell phone.

Avery blushed immediately. “Who else could it be besides Elliot? We’re getting married soon.”

“Oh! So you’re not married yet but you’re already referring to him as your husband?” the bodyguard teased. “Alright. Go ahead and take care of him. I’ll just ignore Adrian.”

Had Elliot not been standing beside her, Avery would have asked the bodyguard to pass the phone to Adrian and comforted him. His presence made her wary of doing it.

She looked at Elliot after hanging up.

He turned his body to his side with his back facing her.

She placed her cell phone down and leaned toward him.

“How do you feel, Elliot?” she asked, reaching out and touching his forehead.

He remembered what happened the night before and so pushed her hand away out of resentment.

“I’m sorry, okay. I made a mistake yesterday.” She rested her body on top of him and asked in a soft voice. “Are you hungry? Let me bring you breakfast!”

“Why aren’t you taking care of that fool at the hospital?” he asked sullenly.

“Because you’re more important to me than he is.” She flipped him over so that he was facing her. “Look, Elliot. I put the ring on, and it fits perfectly.”

He looked at the diamond ring on her finger and it successfully suppressed the anger in his heart.

He still remembered what she said to him when he had a fever the night before.

He trusted that she did not come late on purpose, but there would always exist that irreconcilableness between himself and Adrian. After all, she could not tell him that she loved him while at the same time leading Adrian on.

It did not matter that she was only doing so out of sympathy and pity.

“I know you can’t accept Adrian,” she opened up when she saw his cold and gloomy face, “Because he’s Shea’s brother. I know everything, Elliot.”

Her words made his expression turn even colder.

“Adrian is my patient, so that information isn’t something that can be hidden from me.” She got down from the bed brought him some water. “I wouldn’t’ve suspected anything if Nathan treated him a little better.”

“When did you know?” Elliot gritted his teeth.

“I knew before Nathan came to you.” She then said honestly and sincerely, “I’ll face this together with you, Elliot. You’re the only Elliot Foster in this world.”

His Adam’s apple bobbed in his throat and he found it hard to describe what he was feeling.

She brought a glass of water to the bed.

“I need to bring Adrian away from Nathan because Nathan wants to threaten you using him. He might be your father, but he only looks at you like you’re a cash cow. Whether you live or die is none of his concern.” She put the water glass into his hand. "I only have one request, Elliot-don't kill Adrian. We can put him somewhere no one can find him."

"Why would you think that a place like that would exist in this world?" he retorted "The only way to stop anyone from finding him is if he dies."

Avery was startled. "Do you have to kill him, Elliot? What if I don't let you?"

"Don't you think someone would be able to find him and use him to threaten me?" He put the water glass on the cabinet next to him. "Do you want to see me be threatened? Or do you want everyone to know about the baggage that I'm carrying?" "But didn't you keep Shea well-hidden before? We could hide Adrian like that too..."

Chapter 1055

"You found Shea, didn't you?" He frowned and proposed another plan. "It's fine if you don't want to kill Adrian, but just in case, I'll kill Nathan's family."

Avery was speechless.

She could not accept what he proposed because she did not want him to kill anyone.

"You haven't recovered from your cold yet, Elliot. You need to rest. Don't worry about him. I'll get the bodyguards to keep watch over him in the hospital so Nathan can't get close to him for now." She lowered her eyes and persuaded softly, "We'll try and find another way once you've recovered."

"Avoiding a problem won't solve it, Avery." Elliot's voice was cold. "He cannot live under the same sun as me."

"Why not? Adrian won't take anything from you. He's just like Shea-someone whose status is probably less than that of a random person on the street. Were you going to kill Shea too if she was alive?" Avery questioned him with a frown.

"You're being unreasonable. Shea's dead, so there's no basis for your question,” he retorted.

“Who are you calling unreasonable? Did Adrian do anything wrong? Why can’t you tolerate his existence?” Avery knew for a long time that she and Elliot would have to eventually face that problem. However, she did not expect him to be that determined.

“He did nothing wrong. I’m the one who was wrong!” His face was gloomy. “I took his life and I don’t plan on giving it back to him for the rest of my life!”

“I never said you were wrong, Elliot.” She took a deep, agonized breath. “You didn’t choose your life. You were a victim too.”

He lifted the quilt and got off the bed.

She watched him stride into the bathroom and felt a dull pain in her heart.

She might not be able to convince him, because there was probably no better way to settle the problem.

Elliot was right, after all. If they hid Adrian, Nathan would go all out to find him, the quest of which would last for as long as Nathan was still breathing.

Either one of Adrian or Nathan had to die, or else things could turn from bad to worse at any time! During breakfast, Mrs. Scarlet secretly observed the two of them backed away.

It appeared that the conflict between them had not yet been resolved.

After she left, Avery opened her mouth and initiated a conversation. “I’ve been thinking, Elliot. If Adrian is discovered, the worst that could happen is that your background would be exposed. But why does it matter that you’re not the Fosters’ young master? It doesn’t affect your company’s operations at all.”

“You’re right when you say that it won’t affect my company, but it’ll also expose my murder of Eason.”

Avery felt choked for a moment. “But you were underage at the time, so you will neither be charged for murder nor sentenced to death.”

“Do you have any idea how cruel it is that you said that, Avery?” He put down his cutlery and had an ashen face. “I don’t want any outsiders to know about my history and my underage murder! But now you’re forcing me to face them!”

“I never forced you to face them. I just...” She sighed and put down her cutlery too. “Please just don’t kill anyone, okay? You had no choice when you killed Eason, but it’s not as if you have no choice right now.”

“You can leave now!” he felt a splitting headache coming on and said hoarsely.

“I want to be alone for a while.”

She felt empty inside when he got up from the dining chair and left the dining room.

The last thing she wanted was for him to suffer, but she was very much aware that she was the one who brought upon him that very suffering.

Without her, he could do whatever he wanted without anyone objecting to him, and no one would be able to threaten him anymore. Avery continued to sit for a moment before coming out of the dining room and leaving the house.

Chapter 1056

At the hospital, Adrian was in rather low spirits because he did not see Avery that day.

The bodyguard sat beside his hospital bed and was absorbed in some mobile game. Meanwhile, Adrian stared at the ceiling in a daze.

It did not take long before the door of the ward was pushed open and Avery walked in.

Adrian looked at her in a daze and thought he was dreaming. After all, the bodyguard had told him earlier in the morning that Avery was not coming that day.

“How are you feeling today, Adrian?” Avery walked up to the bed and asked.

The bodyguard immediately quit the game and stood up in shock.

“Miss Tate? Didn’t you say you were going to take care of your husband today?” The bodyguard cleared his throat awkwardly. “Why are you here? Is your husband alright? Or did you get into an argument with him?”

“Would it kill you to talk a little less?” Avery seemed to realize that the people around her, such as Mike and the bodyguard, frequently overstepped their boundaries.

It was probably because she had a good temper that they felt they could take things a little less seriously.

Adrian grabbed Avery’s hand and said with a bright smile, “I’m much better. Bring me out!”

“Are you sure you can be discharged from the hospital?” Avery glanced at his medication for that day and saw that it was nearly finished.

“I don’t want to stay here,” he looked at her and pleaded. “I’m worried Nathan might come to me and hit me.”

Avery looked at his uneasy expression and nodded. “I’ll ask your doctor and see if you’re ready to be discharged from the hospital today. If so, then I’ll get you discharged.”

At Elliot’s mansion, Mrs. Scarlet brought breakfast to the master bedroom on the second floor after Avery left.

“Master Elliot, you need to at least eat something or else your health will get worse,” Mrs. Scarlet said bitterly. “I overheard your conversation earlier. That man named Adrian is Shea’s brother?”

Elliot took the food from Mrs. Scarlet’s hand and answered coldly.

“With all due respect, I don’t think you have anything to be afraid of,” Mrs.

Scarlet said calmly. "No one can undermine the status you have. No one is going to mock you regardless of your history, GXlqkF=0 killing Master Eason was a justified act. Even if the public knew the truth, they won't necessarily scold you."

Mrs. Scarlet's words stunned Elliot. "Do you truly believe so?"

"Whatever the outside world thinks of you is insignificant, because, in my eyes, you are a kind, hearted and honest person. No man will ever be better than you, and I believe Avery sees you the same way too." Mrs. Scarlet said in all sincerity. "She advised you not to kill anyone because she's afraid that you'd lose your way. You were never wrong in the first place, but that will change if you take a person's life."

Elliot's mood calmed down gradually.

"I know what you're afraid of. You're concerned that your problems will affect Avery and the children. You're also worried that your peaceful life would be disrupted and that everyone will judge you wherever you go in the future." Mrs. Scarlet pointed out his inner fears. "But you have nothing to be afraid of. You're not an ordinary person, which means that the troubles you have to face will be even more complicated than those of an ordinary person."

"I'm not as strong as you think," he said bluntly. "I still can't accept my history."

"Think positively. No matter what kind of history you have, Avery will never hate you. Whatever you have experienced in the past would not affect your happy life with Avery in the future."

An hour later, a black car stopped at the entrance of Elliot's home.

Avery's bodyguard got out of the car first.

Mrs. Scarlet immediately went upstairs to report to Elliot after seeing Avery's

“Master Elliot! Avery is here.” Elliot’s mood had improved greatly after Mrs. Scarlet persuaded him.

He would no longer blame Avery for all those problems, and he understood that it was for his good when Avery forbade him from killing anyone.

He calmed himself down and went downstairs. However, he had already spotted Avery with another man before he even got to the first floor.

Chapter 1057

That man was tall, thin, and possessed graceful facial features along with a timid-looking gaze. He was probably Adrian.

Avery took Adrian’s hand and walked to Elliot.

“Adrian, this is your big brother, Elliot,” Avery said to Adrian

Adrian was a little scared when he looked at Elliot’s stern and gloomy face, but he obediently said, “Hello, Big Br-” “Don’t call me that! I’m not your big brother!” Elliot interrupted him immediately.

At the same time, he looked at Avery and said, “Come up here right now, Avery!”

Avery knew that Elliot would be angry because she brought Adrian there without discussing it with him in advance.

A discussion would have been pointless since he would never agree to let her bring Adrian there.

“Don’t be afraid. He looks fierce, but he’s actually a good person,” Avery reassured him and walked upstairs.

The two of them went to the second floor and entered the master bedroom.

“Don’t be mad, Elliot. Hear me out.” Avery walked up to him and looked gently at him. "I gave it some thought and realized that the most dangerous place would be the safest place. His safety will almost certainly be guaranteed if he lived at your place. Who would dare to kidnap him from your house, am I right?"

Elliot was speechless.

"I know you don't like him, so if he lived in your house, you could always live at mine in the future." Avery seemed to have arranged everything already. "We're going to get married anyway, and we'll have to live together."

Elliot was speechless after listening to her arrangement.

He was thoroughly displeased because he felt that there was no good reason to let Adrian live at his place!

"If you don't want to live with me, I can always move in and live with you," she continued. "I'll be with you in the future and I'll stand by your side no matter what happens."

Outside the villa, Nathan was red with anger and felt as if his heart had gone up in flames!

He had tailed Avery's car earlier and was surprised that she brought Adrian back to Elliot's villa!

Bodyguards stood guard over the villa 24 hours a day, and the villa was equipped with the most advanced security system! Breaking in was impossible, and the only way to get in was to be let in by someone!

Just as he was scolding and preparing to get into the car, a loud thump was heard and someone had punched him from behind!

The punch was so great that he immediately passed out!

Half an hour later, he was dragged to an unfamiliar room.

He was doused in a bucket of cold water and woke up with a start!

“Guess who’s going to take your life, Nathan?!” a man teased. He was holding a sharp dagger in his hand.

Nathan’s hands and feet were tied with ropes, and he struggled a few times before coming to the shocking realization that he could not break free from them!

“It has to be that goddamn Elliot! Refusing to acknowledge me was bad enough. Now he’s going to kill me?” Nathan remembered that he had been knocked unconscious outside Elliot’s villa, so it was natural for the latter to be the prime suspect.

“You guessed it right! Haha! You said he wouldn’t acknowledge you? Are you his father?” The man with the knife grinned. “Why would he kill you if you were his father?”

“He’s pissed that I cost him his dignity! He can dream on if he wants to be the Fosters’ young master for the rest of his life! If I die, my son will expose all of his scandals, so hurry up and tell him to let me go!”

Outside the room, Henry was listening to every single one of Nathan’s words. Henry’s face was ashen and his fingers clenched tightly! It came as quite a shock to hear that Elliot was Nathan’s son!

Chapter 1058

It was shocking. Hair-raising, even!

That was the first time in all his years as an adult that he found out about such a secret.

He wondered if his mother knew about it, assuming that she did because it was hard to imagine that a woman would be unaware of whether her son was hers.

Henry did not remember his childhood too clearly

All he remembered from back then was Elliot being brought out to receive treatment from a prodigious doctor.

He was cured sometime later and brought back.

Could the real Elliot have been replaced during the treatment period?

How else could anyone explain why Elliot was Nathan's son?

Judging from Nathan's remark, Elliot probably knew about it already However, Elliot did not plan on doing anything about it, which showed that he was planning to continue his life as 'Elliot Foster'.

After all, it would be such a privilege to be known as the Fosters' young master!

One could imagine how the public would gossip behind Elliot's back if they knew that he was Nathan's son. Such rumors would be intolerable for Elliot, considering how much he cared about his reputation.

Henry, however, was equally as intolerant of the revelation because he was the rightful eldest son of the Fosters!

He might still be able to let Elliot continue living as 'Elliot' on the condition that something else was given in return.

Henry decided to head back and start planning his heart-to-heart with Elliot. He could ideally achieve what he wanted without angering him.

At Elliot's home, Avery explained her decision to Elliot, who merely looked at her coldly without saying a word.

There was nothing he could do after she brought Adrian to the house. After all, it was not like he could just chase the unwelcome guest out!

That was exactly what he wanted to do, but it was simply too risky!

The consequences would be even more troublesome if Nathan managed to get his hands on Adrian

It was better to let Adrian stay within his sight, because that way, he did not have to worry about anyone using Adrian to threaten him in the near future.

“You just recovered from your fever, so you need to rest.” Avery saw his emaciated appearance GYJUME-8 led him to the side of the bed so he could sit. “Have you eaten breakfast? You need to eat something.”

“I did.” He looked up at her. “Are you sure you don’t hate me?”

That question stunned Avery for a moment.

“Nobody put a gun to my head when I agreed to marry you.” She sat down beside him and reached out to hold his big palm. “You told me everything about you, and I gave it a lot of thought too. I don’t think you’re guilty, and I wouldn’t’ve been half as brave if I were you.”

After she finished speaking, she wrapped her hands around his neck and planted a light kiss on his cheek.

She had previously been ashamed to express her feelings and was always the passive one in the relationship

The previous night's events gave her a realization.

The things he did for her were a lot more than just secretly preparing a marriage proposal to surprise her.

In the same vein, she ought to also let him be aware of her true feelings and not alienate him.

Downstairs in the living room, Mrs. Scarlet looked at Adrian from head to toe.

Adrian was feeling a little awkward when he sat on the sofa, but he still obediently accepted Mrs. Scarlet’s gaze.

After observing him thoroughly, Mrs. Scarlet concluded that Adrian and Shea were very similar, not only in their looks but in their mannerisms and temperament too.

Mrs. Scarlet saw Shea in Adrian and finally understood why Avery protected Adrian so much-the feelings they had for Shea could easily be projected onto Adrian.

Chapter 1059

nary. Adrian?" Mrs. Scarlet took a banana from the fruit bowl and handed it to him."

Here, have a banana! You don't have to be scared. Master Elliot won't chase you away even though he's angry."

Adrian took the banana and said nervously, "He's really fierce. Is he mean to Avery?"

Mrs. Scarlet laughed softly, "Not at all. The two of them are getting married soon. She wouldn't've agreed to marry him if he was mean to her."

Adrian lowered his eyes and peeled the banana quietly.

"Avery told you to address him as Big Brother, so you should call him that if you see him later." Mrs. Scarlet wanted to help ease the relationship between Adrian and Elliot.

"He won't let me."

"Call him that a few more times and he'll slowly begin to accept it. He'll be very nice to you once he accepts you calling him that," Mrs. Scarlet persuaded.

"Enjoy your banana. I'm going to clean up your room."

After Mrs. Scarlet left, Adrian raised his head and looked around him.

He wondered if that would be his home in the future.

That night, Avery took the initiative to pack Elliot's luggage because she planned to bring him back to her place.

She was quite certain that he would not be able to accept Adrian so soon.

Reducing their interactions with each other would be a much safer bet.

Secondly, she was also going to get married soon, so living together in advance would be conducive to their future life together.

Elliot frowned slightly on the way to the Starry River Villa.

“Are you worried that Hayden won’t be happy when he gets home?”

“I’m all but certain that he’ll be unhappy,” Elliot said.

“He ought to learn that not everything in life goes according to what he wants.”

Avery had already prepared for the worst. “I’ll have a good talk with him about this. Just relax and leave this to me.”

“Why is he so smart for his age?” Elliot vaguely remembered that he was never like that when he was Hayden’s age.

“I have no idea. He grew up in the same environment as Layla, but Layla turned out to be a normal child.” Avery postulated, “So Hayden’s intellect is probably a result of genetics, rather than external factors. It’s quite obvious that he takes after you.”

There was nothing Elliot could say to deny it. “I guess, if you put it that way, I am kind of resentful.

“You resent him? How could you?”

I wasn’t talking about him. I was referring to myself. It would be so much better if like you. People would like him more.”

“But I like Hayden as he is. Whenever I see him, I imagine how you must have been like this when you were young. It’s like I traveled through time BQJKID=2 saw you.”

“I wasn’t that smart when I was young.” Elliot lamented. “Your son is probably an upgraded version of me.”

“But I think Robert will be a very lively little boy.” Avery missed her children all of a sudden.

“Wouldn’t that be wonderful?” Elliot was also missing his children a little too.

The Memorial Day weekend went by in a flash and all three children came home.

After the warm reunion, Avery told the news that Elliot would live at home in the future.

Hayden immediately turned around and went back to his room after hearing that.

Avery chased after him.

"I'm having a test soon," Hayden said. "You don't have to tell me about you and him."

"But you don't seem very happy."

"Do you want me to accept him as Layla does?"

Avery hesitated for a few seconds and said, "I won't force you, of course. But I hope you won't treat him like he's your mortal enemy. He's not a bad person, Hayden. Don't you trust me? I can only hope that you'll give him a chance to turn over a new leaf. I won't side with him if he makes another mistake in the future."

Hayden immediately took down his stern facade.

He had an aggrieved and unwilling expression but he still asked stubbornly,

"Promise me that you won't force me. Do you really like him that much?"

Avery hesitated for a few seconds before answering firmly, "Yes. I love him. I can never fall in love with another man."

Elliot just so happened to hear Avery's answer when he carried Layla up.

Chapter 1060

Avery's answer stunned Hayden for a few seconds.

He was still a child, and the most he could express was his 'like' for someone, not 'love'.

However, Avery said that she loved Elliot and could never love anyone else except him.

There was nothing Hayden could do except accept that.

“Fine, I get it!” Hayden yelled as he looked at Elliot at the entrance of the stairs.

He ran into his room soon after.

Avery turned around and saw Elliot walking over with Layla in his arms.

“Don’t you think you were a little too direct earlier?” Elliot blushed slightly.

“What I mean by that is, do you think you are pushing him a bit too much?”

Avery knew that she was a little impulsive earlier.

Then again, they would have to face it sooner or later. It would be better off talking about the elephant in the room instead of pretending that it did not exist.

“Maybe I was a little impatient.” She lowered her eyes slightly and sighed. “I don’t want to have to worry about how he would react when we finally get married. Whether he’s able to accept it or not, at least I don’t have to be so cautious with you anymore after being upfront with him.”

“Daddy, could you put me down?” Layla struggled. “I’m going to talk to Hayden.”

Elliot put her down right away.

“You can do that later, Layla. Hayden said that he has a test, so bothering him at this time might not be a good idea.” Avery held her daughter’s little hand.

“Let’s go down and play with Robert!”

“Oh, is it that important competition that Hayden is going to participate in?”

Layla asked curiously.

Avery looked at Elliot. “It’s in June, isn’t it?”

“Yeah. He has to pass the qualifying round before he can participate in the competition. It’s soon,” Elliot said. “We’ll see how he performs then.”

“The qualifying round? You mean the one where the whole class is fighting for one spot?”

“Yes.”

Avery frowned immediately. “This competition is very important to him. If I knew he was going to be competing soon, I wouldn’t’ve picked this time to upset him.”

Elliot held her by the shoulders comforted her. “Don’t blame yourself. I’m sure he can handle it.”

“He might be smart for his age, but he’s still a child. I’ll find a time to apologize to him later.” Avery felt even more guilty. “It’s all your fault, Elliot.”

Elliot was speechless.

7 wouldn’t need to put him in a tight spot if it wasn’t to make your life at home a little more comfortable.” She made a point to vent her frustration onto him. “You might not have put any pressure on me, but I feel that pressure whenever I see you.”

It’s my fault.” He apologized. “How about I go back to my place and stay there for a couple of days?

“Did you forget that Adrian’s living there now? Are you fine with living with him if you went back?

- she reminded.

Elliot was silent

He had completely forgotten about it!

The past few days had been quite blissful for him and he forgot Adrian’s existence since that man was never mentioned!

“You should just stay here with me. I’ve already had a heart-to-heart with Hayden, and from what I know about him, he wouldn’t treat you as an enemy anymore,” Avery reassured. “I know my son.”

Elliot’s pupils widened slightly. “Really?”

“Yes, really. He’s very obedient.” Deep down, Avery felt a little uncomfortable when she said that.” That’s why I never wanted to force him because I knew he’d listen to me if I did.”

Elliot was a little excited.

He longed to reconcile with Hayden, and although the process was a little unpleasant when Avery stepped forward and explained things, he could always make it up to Hayden in the future if the results were positive..

“Thank you, Darling,” he said in a low and hoarse voice. He could not resist kissing her on the cheek. Avery blushed shyly.

Chapter 1061

“Ahh!” Their lovey-dovey antics made Layla cringe. She let go of Avery’s hand and ran downstairs at once.

At nine that night, Avery came out of the children’s room and went back to the master bedroom.

Elliot looked at her while carrying Robert. “How did it go?”

“I apologized to him and told him to do his best without letting it get to his head. He just said, ‘ Okay’.” Avery let out a smile. “He wasn’t as angry as I thought he’d be.”

“That’s a good thing.” Elliot breathed a sigh of relief. “Let Robert sleep with us tonight! I want to experience what it’s like to sleep with a child at night.”

Robert was young and looked like him, so he felt like he was holding a miniature version of himself when he carried Robert.

His fatherly love welled up within his heart.

He wanted to carry the baby in his hands all the time, rather than just at night.

“Are you sure?” Avery cocked her eyebrow. “Don’t you need to go to work tomorrow? We enjoyed ourselves for five days at home and completely ignored the wedding preparations. Won’t you be busy tomorrow?”

Elliot did not realize how serious it was and asked, "Are you saying that I might not be able to get up tomorrow if I bring him to sleep tonight?"

"He needs to drink milk at night, and there's a possibility he'll be full of energy and refuses to sleep after he's done. In that case, you'll have to play with him. By the time he's tired and finally falls asleep, it'll be you who might find it difficult to sleep..."

Elliot immediately scrapped the idea of sleeping with the child when she said that.

"I will be really busy tomorrow. Maybe I'll just play with him for a bit right now!"

Elliot held Robert, grabbed an animal book, and looked at the pictures with the boy.

Avery took a book from the study and lay down on the bed to read.

"What are you reading, Avery?" Elliot glanced at her and saw a medical book focusing on andrology.

"Andrology." Her tone was indifferent. "There's no guarantee the three men in our family won't get sick in the future."

Elliot was speechless.

"Have you done your annual checkup?" she asked.

"It's every June."

"Oh, in that case, let's do it together after the wedding!" she said.

"Sure." He saw that the child was flipping through the book without his help, so he went over to Avery GVKppD>5 discussed something with her. "Hey, should I get a vasectomy? We already have three children, and I'm pretty sure we won't have any more children in the future."

Avery looked at him in astonishment. "Aren't you afraid of the pain?"

"It shouldn't be very painful, right? Can't they give me some anesthetics if it hurts?" He guessed.

"There's no need to do that though." Avery's cheeks were hot. "As long as we use the proper contraceptives, we should be able to avoid any accidental pregnancies."

"What if it still happens?" "If you're expecting it to happen, then it might still happen even if you get a vasectomy," she teased. "I don't want you to go under the knife for this."

Her tone suggested that she felt pity for him.

"I'll listen to your advice," he said, then he kissed her on the cheek.

Avery kissed him back. "That sentence is so much better to hear than 'I love you'."

"Do you want a husband or a slave?" "I want someone like you who both loves and listens to me." She looked content. "I'll let you in on something you might not like to hear-I knew all along that you'd listen to me when it came to Adrian."

"You're crossing the line with that, Avery." Elliot pretended to get angry. "What if I don't listen to you?"

"If you don't listen to me, I'll just kiss you." She hugged his neck and immediately kissed his lips. Even heroes fall for beautiful damsels. You won't be able to escape my charm." The next morning, an oversized package appeared in the living room.

Chapter 1062

Avery opened it and saw that it contained a beautiful red dress

It was the reception dress.

Mrs. Cooper smiled and said, "I thought it was the wedding dress!"

"The wedding dress won't be done so quickly" Avery took out the dress and placed it against her body. "I'll give it a try."

“You should. There’s still time to make modifications if it doesn’t fit,” Mrs. Cooper said. “Don’t you think time passes really quickly? You’ll be married in two weeks.”

Avery smiled and said, “I feel like time actually slowed down! I was hoping to marry him sooner.”

“Hahaha! Your relationship with him has improved a lot since he moved in.”

“Yeah. That just goes to show how important it is to communicate.” Avery took the dress and walked toward the room.

It had probably been too painful for them on Memorial Day, which was why they cherished each other even more from that day onward.

At ten in the morning, a car parked in front of Elliot’s mansion.

The person who got out of it was Henry.

The bodyguard saw him and informed Mrs. Scarlet at once.

Mrs. Scarlet came out.

“Is Elliot home, Mrs. Scarlet?” Henry asked politely

Mrs. Scarlet shook her head. “He’s not. What brings you here?”

“This isn’t something that can be discussed with an outsider. I need to speak to him personally.”

“Oh, well, he’s not at home. He’s been very, very busy with the wedding recently,” Mrs. Scarlet said. “If it’s not something urgent, you can always come back after the wedding.”

Henry smiled awkwardly. “You don’t seem so welcoming toward me, Mrs. Scarlet.”

“That’s a very serious accusation, Mr. Foster. I’m a mere servant in this home and I have no right to invite anyone into the house when my employer isn’t home.” Mrs. Scarlet said politely but coldly, “ You can give him a call if it’s urgent.”

“I did. But he’s always busy.”

“Yes. He’s been very busy recently,” Mrs. Scarlet said.

Henry looked at the villa.

Adrian stood at the door of the villa and wanted to come out, but he hesitated because there was a stranger outside.

He had been living there for a few days was no longer as reticent as he was at the beginning

Mrs. Scarlet treated him very well and brought him around the place instead of just taking care of him every day “Who’s that?” Henry stared at Adrian.

Mrs. Scarlet turned back and saw Adrian standing at the door of the villa. She immediately ran over and told Adrian to go back into the house.

Henry was even more puzzled when he saw her hiding Adrian so frantically Elliot was extremely protective of his privacy and would never invite ordinary people to his home, which begged the question of what kind of relationship Elliot had with that man and why was he in Elliot’s home.

After Mrs. Scarlet told Adrian to return to his room, she strode back to the gate of the courtyard and said to Henry, “That’s one of my nephews who came to visit me. You may come back another time, Mr. Foster!”

“How dare you let your nephew come over to Elliot’s home?”

Mrs. Scarlet felt guilty and hurriedly said, “You don’t need to worry about it. I’ve already gotten permission from Master Elliot.” She turned and walked away as soon as she said that.

Henry felt that something was amiss, but he was in no position to pry open Mrs. Scarlet’s mouth and get her to tell the truth.

Henry drove home and told everything to Cole. "There's more to that man than meets the eye," Henry frowned. "If he was Mrs. Scarlet's nephew, why would she be so scared to let me see him? You have no idea how panicked her expression was at the time." "Dad, have you ever wondered where my uncle is if Elliot was Nathan's son?"

Chapter 1063

That question came as a shock to Henry!

He had ignored a very important question.

If that Elliot was fake, then where was the real Elliot?!

As long as they could find the real Elliot, it would be easy for them to deal with the fake one!

"We can spend a bit of money to find out more about that man," Cole said.

"There are plenty of servants in Elliot's home and we just need to bribe one of them."

"I'll leave that to you. I'm going to meet Nathan."

"Why do you even need to meet him again?"

"It'll be good for us if he's on our side," Henry said. "Elliot is too powerful. We'd have a better chance of winning if we have another person helping us." "Why would he join us if he's Elliot's biological father?"

"Did you forget that I asked someone to beat him up a few days ago? I had them say it was done under Elliot's orders, so he probably hates Elliot to death right now." Henry smiled. "Elliot is busy preparing for the wedding, and this is our last chance to turn things to our favor."

Cole nodded. "I don't need to spend my time looking for a house or starting a business. As long as we can overthrow Elliot with this, we won't have to worry about it for the rest of our lives."

Henry contacted Nathan that afternoon.

Nathan's nose and face were swollen after getting beaten up a few days ago, so he was recuperating at home when the call came.

He despised Elliot a lot, but the injuries on his body reminded him that Elliot was not someone he could afford to offend.

He failed to seize the opportunity when he had Adrian, and with Adrian gone, he no longer dared to act on an impulse.

Nathan looked at Henry with disdain when the latter arrived. "Why did you want to meet with me?"

"Who beat you up like this? Didn't you say that your son is at the top of the food chain in Aryadelle?" Henry sat down on the sofa and joked, "Or was it your son who beat you up like this? I don't think anyone would have the guts to beat you up like this, other than your son of course."

Nathan was furious when he heard that. "What does it matter if my son beat me up? It's none of your business! Don't make me ask you twice. Why did you ask to meet?!"

Henry was not amused by his rudeness.

Judging from Nathan's appearance, he would probably not say anything bad about Elliot in public even though he had been beaten to a pulp by the latter.

"I heard some rumors about you FUMquC<6 Elliot..."

"Oh, so you know about that? Like I care. Who's going to get to my son when he's in Aryadelle? Are you here to threaten me, you good-for-nothing? Get the hell out!" Nathan got up from the sofa and strode aggressively to Henry. He had a fierce expression that looked a little like he was going to devour Henry. Henry was so frightened that he immediately ran for the door.

After Henry ran away like a chicken, Nathan paced back and forth in the living room.

He wondered if it would be bad for Elliot if Henry found out.

Nathan was fine with asking Elliot for money, but he could not tolerate it if someone else did that to Elliot

After his dilemma, he reached for his mobile phone and dialed Elliot's number.

Over at the Sterling Group, Elliot frowned when he saw Nathan's call.

What else could that man be calling for? Was he going to ask for more money after spending everything?

Elliot did not want to answer the call, but he was afraid that Nathan would cause trouble after failing to reach him.

After answering the phone, Nathan's coarse voice came blaring into Elliot's ears. "You little brat! How could you be so cruel? Were you seriously planning on shutting me up for good? All I did was take some money from you, and now you have taken Adrian away from me too. What else did I do to offend you?!"

Elliot frowned because he had no clue what Nathan was blabbering about.

"Did you drink too much, Nathan?"

"Me? Drinking? How am I supposed to drink when I'm badly hurt?!" Nathan said angrily and planned to tell him what Henry discovered.

However, Elliot had already hung up!

Elliot called the bodyguard and asked, "Did you beat up Nathan behind my back?"

"No! I wouldn't dare to do something like that without prior instruction from you."

"Nathan called and said that I wanted to 'shut him up for good'," Elliot said.

"Find out what happened."

That evening at Central University, Avery came to pick up Hayden from school. He had an important test earlier in the morning, and she hoped that he would not make that big a fuss over his result and accept it calmly regardless of whether he got first place.

“How did you do in the test, Hayden?” Daniel and Hayden came out of the classroom together.

Aside from being best buddies, they were also the top scorers in the class. Hayden was very satisfied with his efforts but answered in a rather modest manner, “Let’s wait and see the score tomorrow!”

“Okay! I think I did well.” Daniel cocked an eyebrow. “I know you want to go too, so if you ask nicely, I might consider giving my spot to you. But my dad might not agree though.”

“I’ll rely on my abilities to get the spot. I don’t need you to give it to me.”

“But you’re not as good as I am! We might be good friends, but that’s the harsh truth. I got first when I took the final exam, remember?”

Hayden corrected him, “I just scored a little lower than you in the art and culture subjects. I’m just as good as you in the core subjects, you know.”

“Okay! Let’s stop arguing. When the scores come out tomorrow, you’ll know that I’m still better than you,” Daniel said. He then spotted Avery at the school gate and yelled, “Your mom is here to pick you up, Hayden. She’s becoming more and more beautiful!”

Hayden glanced at the school gate.

Avery waved to him as soon as she saw him.

When Hayden saw the smile on his mother’s face, the unhappiness he felt in his heart faded considerably

He knew that he had no control over the kind of man his mother chose, which left him little choice but to accept Elliot.

At the end of the day, all he wanted was to live with his mother.

“Auntie!” Daniel walked up to Avery right away and greeted her warmly.,”We had a test for the qualifying round of the competition today!”

“I’ve heard. How did you do?”

“I think I’d definitely get the spot. I’ve already told Hayden earlier. Please comfort him when you’re back home. I don’t want to make Hayden sad, but I can’t make my dad sad either. He really wants me to participate in the Hacker Cup competition. Winning an international award will help me a lot in the future,” Daniel said solemnly.

Avery wanted to congratulate Daniel but she could not.

If what Daniel said was true, then Hayden would be utterly crushed.

That competition was very important for Hayden. “Let’s go home, Mommy!”

Hayden took Avery’s and led her away.

After getting in the car, Avery uncapped a bottle of water and handed it to Hayden

“Hayden, it’ll be fine even if you don’t get the spot. You’ll always be the best in my eyes.”

Hayden took the water bottle and drank a sip.

“The results won’t be released until tomorrow.”

“Oh, but Daniel seems to be very confident.” Avery frowned. “Don’t feel too down if he does get the spot, okay? It’s just one competition. There will be other competitions in the future.”

“Trust me, Mommy” Hayden’s expression, and his tone more so, was calm.

Her nervousness disappeared when she saw his confidence.

“Of course! I’ll be waiting for your good news tomorrow.” Avery then added,

“That goes for second place too!”

“I’ll get first place.” Hayden frowned.

“We’ll go out and celebrate if you do!” Avery started the car and dialed Elliot’s number.

‘The number you have dialed is busy. Please try again later.’

Elliot was actually on his way home when he received a call from his bodyguard.

“You were right, Mr. Foster. Nathan was beaten up. The person who beat him said that you sent him to beat him.”

Elliot frowned. “Could you find out who was using my name?”

“It won’t be easy. Nathan already forgot what that person looked like,” the bodyguard said. “He said that Henry came to him today, and he told me to warn you that Henry was going to cause trouble.”

Chapter 1065

Elliot’s expression became slightly gloomy when he heard that. “Why did Henry, meet with him?”

“Henry knows about your relationship with Nathan.”

Although he knew that it was not something he could hide for long, he did not expect Henry to find out that quickly. He had no idea what Henry would do next.

Henry knew everything about him, and things were going to get ugly if Henry were to have a severe falling out with him.

After he hung up, he saw Avery’s call and immediately called back.

“Are you coming back for dinner tonight, Elliot?” Avery asked in a gentle voice.

“Yeah. I’m already on the journey home, but there’s a bit of a traffic jam here.

Did you pick up the kids?”

“Yeah.’ Avery glanced at Hayden and smiled, “Get a cake on your way home!

Hayden did well in the test today, so let’s celebrate in advance.”

“Sure thing. What flavor?”

“Chocolate, but don’t buy one that’s too big.”

After the phone call, Avery looked at Hayden again. “I asked your father to buy a cake.”

Hayden sighed in response.

The next day, the test results came out.

Hayden got first place in the test with a three-point advantage over Daniel, which meant that he qualified for the Hacker Cup.

After the teacher announced the results in class, Daniel collapsed and cried.

Hayden was sitting next to Daniel, and he felt awkward and at a loss when he saw what happened.

Since Daniel’s outburst was affecting the class, the teacher brought Daniel to the office to comfort him.

The other students congratulated Hayden for winning the spot.

Hayden adjusted his mood immediately.

Daniel returned to the classroom sometime later.

He was no longer crying, but he looked at Hayden differently compared to before.

“Hayden! You said that Elliot wasn’t your dad, but I know now that he is! If your dad wasn’t Elliot, the teacher wouldn’t have been biased in giving you first place! We put in the same amount of effort, so there’s no reason why you’d get three points higher than me! The only reason my spot had to be given to you is because your father is Elliot!”

After Daniel roared, he lay down on the table cried again.

Hayden's face turned ashen when he heard that.

He won due to his own ability, not due to Elliot! "I didn't rely on Elliot!" he roared.

"You did! The teacher told me everything, and I was asked not to argue with you because your dad invested money in our school! You got the spot because of your dad, Hayden! You're such a disgrace!" He then grabbed his school bag and ran out.

Hayden's body ran cold and he trembled uncontrollably.

His classmates all stared at him, as if echoing what Daniel said. 'You got the spot because of your dad. You are a disgrace!'

Over at Tate Industries, Avery received a call on her phone.

As soon as she answered it, she immediately left the office and rushed to the school.

The teacher called her and sounded anxious when informing her that Hayden wanted to leave the school. However, the teacher did not elaborate any further on his reasons..

Avery rushed to the school as fast as she could and saw Hayden standing angrily at the school gate. When Hayden saw her, he walked away in the other direction without hesitation!

"Hayden!" Avery chased after him. "Stop!"

The teacher caught up with Avery and explained the reason to her. "Hayden got first place in the test. Daniel could not accept the result and said that he relied on his father to get the spot. Hayden is a proud boy, so he got angry, and truthfully speaking, Hayden did get first place on his own effort, without Mr. Foster's interference..."

Avery looked in Hayden's direction after listening to the teacher's explanation and saw that a truck was speeding in Hayden's direction!

Chapter 1066

"HAYDEN! BE CAREFUL!"

Avery ran as fast as she could toward him.

Hayden stopped as soon as he saw the speeding truck, and the sound of screeching tires was heard as the truck braked abruptly at a distance of less than half a meter away from Hayden.

Avery was so frightened that she burst into tears and ran over to hug him.

After hugging him, she wasted not a single second and carried him from the middle of the road to the sidewalk.

"Let's go home, okay?" Avery held his cold little hand tightly. "I know you've been unfairly accused because you got first place with your own efforts without having anything to do with your father."

"I don't want a father like him!" Hayden frowned and shook Avery's hand away.

"I'm not going to go back home!"

In Hayden's eyes, Starry River Villa was the home of his mother and Elliot. He could not ask his mother to break up with Elliot, so he did not want to go back to that house again!

"Where do you want to go if you're not going home? Tell me. I'll go with you!"

Avery's eyes were wet and she held his hand tightly.

She knew that he would run away again if she let go of his hand.

Not long after, a black Rolls-Roice parked just behind Avery and Hayden.

Elliot got out of the car and walked over to them.

The alarm bells in Avery's mind began to ring when she saw Elliot's arrival.

Hayden loathed him immensely, and it was sure to be an unpleasant endeavor if both father and son encountered each other right then.

“I did invest money in your school because I wanted it to be in line with international standards,” Elliot explained to Hayden. “I also told your teachers to take care of you, but I never asked them to give you extra marks.”

Unfortunately, Elliot’s explanation merely added fuel to the fire.

“You think you’re so great just because you’re filthy rich!” Hayden tensed up and looked at him angrily. “I don’t need you to worry about me! You’re not my father! I’m not your son either!”

Hayden could not accept Elliot’s presence in his school life EPJxxC;2 found it humiliating that the man invested money in the school and told the teacher to take care of him!

Hayden did not want to live under Elliot’s halo.

He wanted to rely on his strength and ability to surpass his father!

“Hayden, your father did that because he has his ways of wanting to treat you better.” Avery felt very heartbroken when she saw how intense her son’s emotions were..

“I don’t want it! If you think he’s so good, you can live with him!” Hayden broke free from Avery and walked away.

Elliot felt as if his heart had been slashed with a knife when he saw Avery crying.

He pulled Hayden back by force and put the boy down in front of Avery.

“Hayden! You can hate me all you want, but you can’t treat your mother like that.” Elliot reprimanded sharply. “Go home with your mother. I’ll go back to my home and I won’t show myself to you until you calm down!”

Elliot strode back to the car when he finished speaking.

Avery watched his car disappear into the distance before reaching out to wipe the tears from Hayden’s face. “Let’s go home, Hayden!”

After they returned home, Mike immediately rushed over after hearing what happened.

Hayden locked himself in his room and refused to see anyone.

Mike frowned and put his hands on his hips. "Hayden is a very proud boy. Does Elliot have nothing better to do? Why did he insist on interfering with Hayden's studies?"

Avery's eyes turned red and she said hoarsely, "You might not understand this, but most of the parents in Aryadelle are like that. They would help to pave their children's future if it was within their ability. I used to be so envious of other parents when they sent their children to the best schools and encouraged them to join classes of the hobbies that they were interested in."

"Makes sense. Hayden wouldn't be so angry if you did that, but he hates Elliot.

When Elliot did that, he felt violated," Mike provided his take. "He might not even participate in the competition."

That was something that Avery was concerned about too.

"He really wanted to join the competition. It would be such a shame if he just gave it up."

"I'll persuade him. Don't worry about it for now," Mike said. "Where's Elliot though? How is he?" Avery lowered her eyes and felt a sting in her heart. "He won't be coming around any time soon.

Chapter 1067

"What a drag! They share the same violent temper, and I think you're the one who has to suffer the most because you're sandwiched in between them." Mike patted her on the shoulder. "Would you like to go to Elliot?"

Avery shook her head. "Even if he's angry, he won't lock himself up like Hayden did. I'll think about that after we coax Hayden."

When Elliot returned to the mansion, he saw Adrian pruning the branches in the yard with a pair of pruning shears.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Scarlet was watering the flowers and plants.

It was a very homely and peaceful scene. When Mrs. Scarlet saw Elliot coming back, she immediately took Adrian to Elliot. Mrs. Scarlet gave Adrian a wink, and Adrian immediately said obediently, “Hi, Big Brother.”

Mrs. Scarlet was afraid that Elliot would get angry, so she immediately said, “Master Elliot, Henry came looking for you a few days ago. He said he couldn’t get to you through the phone.”

Elliot’s jaw clenched tightly as he strode into the living room.

“I suppose you haven’t eaten lunch yet? I’ll whip something up for you right now.” Mrs. Scarlet walked toward the kitchen immediately after entering the living room.

Elliot sat down on the sofa. Adrian stood uneasily two meters away from him and glanced secretly from the corner of his eyes.

“If Avery hadn’t stopped me, I would have killed you long ago,” Elliot said, breaking the silence.

Adrian’s face turned pale instantly.

“Are you scared? Would you like to leave now?” Elliot looked at Adrian coldly.

“Well, you should!”

Adrian was terrified and immediately ran toward the kitchen. Elliot let out a little snicker when he saw Adrian flee in fright.

Everyone was afraid of him, so he was not fit to be a good person at all.

He had long gotten used to distancing himself from ordinary people.

After all, being distant from someone was a surefire way to avoid getting hurt.

Adrian was so scared after hearing what Elliot said BVJrWB=4 immediately ran to hide in the kitchen. It was not until Elliot finished eating and went upstairs that Adrian came out of the kitchen.

“Master Elliot was just teasing you on purpose. He won’t kill you,” Mrs. Scarlet coaxed. “He wouldn’t have allowed you to stay here if he really can’t tolerate your existence.”

Adrian lowered his gaze. “He scares me.”

“Don’t be scared. He’ll only come back here every once in a while. He’s going to marry Avery soon, and he’ll live with her after they tie the knot.” Mrs. Scarlet was uneasy when she said that.

Elliot came back rather suddenly, and judging from his expression, he did not look too happy.

Something must have happened again.

At four that afternoon, Henry made a surprise visit. It was as if he found out that Elliot was home and immediately rushed over.

Mrs. Scarlet went upstairs and reported news of Henry’s arrival to Elliot.

“Master Elliot, I don’t think anything good will come out of Henry’s visit. Should I let him go?” Mrs. Scarlet asked.

Elliot walked out from behind his desk. “He already knows about my relationship with Nathan. Avoiding it won’t solve the problem.”

He walked downstairs and saw Henry standing in the living room with his hands behind his back.

Henry turned to Mrs. Scarlet and said, “Elliot and I have something private to discuss, so if you’ll please excuse yourself, Mrs. Scarlet.”

Mrs. Scarlet glanced at Elliot and took her leave.

“Elliot, I came to you today because I wanted to ask you regarding someone,”

Henry went straight to the point.

Chapter 1068

Elliot did not ask 'who do you want' but instead, "What if I don't?"

Henry laughed awkwardly. "I wonder how Mom would feel if she was still alive and saw us turn against each other."

"Don't put pressure on me using Mom's name!" Elliot scolded. "You and your son killed her. You have no right to bring that up!"

"I have no right, you say? Where do you think my right came from?" Henry was breathing noticeably heavily. "At least I'm her biological son! What about you, Elliot? How long do you think you can keep up this lie? You've already taken over my brother's life. Are you honestly going to imprison him illegally for the rest of your life?!"

"Imprison him?" Elliot was stunned by those two words. "And you're saying that I took over his life? Do you think Mom's hands are clean? She was the one who created this in the first place!"

"Even though she switched Adrian with you, I can't continue perpetuating her mistakes. More so now that she's dead. Hand Adrian over to me! He's my brother, and I'm not dead yet! You have no business bullying him!"

"He's just a silly kid. What use would you have for someone like that?" Elliot retorted. "Do you even have the financial ability to be supporting someone who doesn't have a job? You can't even guarantee your livelihood and that of your son's. You only want Adrian so you can threaten me, right?"

Henry saw red. "Ask yourself whether I've ever treated you badly in all my years as your elder brother. I haven't! I just want to reunite with my biological younger brother, so why won't you let me? What grounds are you stopping me on?! You're sitting at the top of the Sterling Group. Why would you be scared of an ordinary person like me? Do you really think I wouldn't find some other way of threatening you even if I don't bring him back with me?!" He roared.

The atmosphere in the living room was unbelievably tense, as if everything was hanging by a thread.

"It's still possible for you to continue using this 'Elliot' identity, but please just let me bring Adrian home." Henry lowered his voice with the intention of negotiating. "I... I just found out about it two days ago. My mind is all over the place right now, APIMKA;⁷ I don't want to think about anything else for the time being. I just want to bring home my biological younger brother."

Memories of the past appeared in Elliot's mind when he saw Henry's deflated expression.

He had never been close to Henry due to the huge age gap, but they were later able to live in harmony under their mother's guidance.

Although they had long known that they were not biologically related, the affection built up over the past few decades was still genuine.

Elliot could just ignore Henry's request to bring Adrian away, but in doing so he would anger Henry.

If Henry genuinely wanted to threaten him, there was no shortage of methods he could use to do

So.

Avery went to school later that afternoon.

When it came to comforting Hayden, action spoke louder than words.

After Avery arrived at the school, she contacted Daniel's father through the contact information provided by the teacher.

Daniel had suspected that the teacher gave Hayden a high score and deliberately lowered his score, resulting in his grades being inferior to Hayden's. If that matter was not resolved, Daniel would always use that against Hayden.

The teacher had assured Avery that Hayden was not given such a high score on purpose.

Avery then asked the teacher to provide a breakdown of Daniel and Hayden's answers in the qualifying round in front of the entire class, such as the reasons why Hayden scored higher than Daniel and whether the grading was unfair.

After the teacher explained the reasons for the grading, she said, "Hayden's father, Mr. Foster, invested money in our school to bring our curriculum in line with international standards. This move benefited not only Hayden but every single student in the class. With his financial resources and status, he could've just allowed Hayden to bypass the qualifying tournament and given him a shortcut to the competition."

Daniel's father's cheeks turned red and he said to Avery, "Since the teacher has already explained that the grading was fair and just, I will hereby apologize to you for Daniel."

"Your son's words were very hurtful to my son, and I expect him to give a proper and personal apology to my son. You treasure your son, and so do I. With all due respect, this is a very poor display of EQ by your son. When my son got second place in the past, he never said anything bad about your son," Avery did not mince her words.

Daniel's father's face soured a little. Daniel wiped away his tears and said, "I didn't mean to."

Chapter 1069

"I know you didn't mean it. But Hayden had a severe falling out with his father because of what you said. You should always think about the consequences of your words before you say anything next time.”

Avery breathed a heavy sigh of relief after coming out of the school.

Daniel promised to apologize to Hayden the next time they met.

It was a positive result.

After Avery got in the car, she took out her cell phone and dialed Elliot's number.

He answered at once.

“You don't need to fret too much over Hayden. I've already explained it to his classmates. I'll send Hayden to school tomorrow, and Daniel will apologize to him.” Avery remembered Elliot's lonely figure when he left that morning and felt especially heartbroken.

He invested money into Hayden's school behind the scenes and hired foreign teachers on a high salary. Those actions were all out of love for Hayden.

Hayden might not have understood it then, but when he becomes a father in the future, he might be able to finally understand Elliot's painstaking efforts.

“That's great news,” Elliot replied curtly.

“Where are you now? I feel like coming to you.”

“You should continue coaxing Hayden.” Elliot was in rather low spirits, and he did not want to show that to her or let it affect her.

“Okay. I'll meet you tomorrow then.”

“I'm going to the wedding venue tomorrow,” he said.

“I'll go with you.”

He hesitated but eventually agreed.

The next morning, Avery sent Hayden to school and left after Daniel had apologized to him.

Her wedding with Elliot would be held at a resort.

She drove to the resort and met Elliot there.

“You don’t seem too happy, Elliot? Are you still feeling down over what Hayden did?” She walked up to him and held his big palm tightly.

Elliot shook his head. “Henry took Adrian away.”

The expression on Avery’s face froze and she released his hand abruptly.

“Why did you let Adrian go with Henry?” She frowned. “Do you know what you’re doing? Do you think Henry will treat Adrian kindly after bringing him away?!”

“Adrian is Henry’s younger brother.”

“I know that! But I will bet my last dollar that he didn’t bring Adrian away because he wanted to take care of him!” Avery clenched her hGSJvuF;8s tightly and her body ran cold. “If I had known you’d let Henry take Adrian, I wouldn’t’ve brought Adrian to your house!”

“Do you see yourself as everyone’s savior, Avery?” Elliot looked at her coldly.

“You wanted to save both Adrian and me, but are you able to do that?”

“Am I supposed to just sit by and watch you be persecuted?” Avery’s eyes turned red. “Henry might not be a bad person, but Cole will never let this opportunity pass.”

Chapter 1070

“Do you think I’m scared of him?” Elliot held her cold little hand. “Let them do whatever they want. It won’t affect me.”

“Are you sure you’re ready?” The unease in her heart disappeared gradually when she looked at his calm and steady expression.

“I spent a lot of time thinking about it last night. We can’t change the fact that all these things exist. We’ll have to face them sooner or later, so rather than being afraid, we should just face everything as calmly as we can.” He led her into the resort. “Nothing else matters as long as you and our children are by my side.”

Avery’s tense heart relaxed immediately at that moment.

“I’m glad you think that way, Elliot.” She took a deep breath. “We’ll be much braver if we spend every day as if it’s our last.”

“I don’t want to think that today is my last day,” he murmured. “I haven’t spent enough time with you, and I want to be by your side until my hair turns gray.”

“Hahaha! Let me let you in on a little secret,” she said cheerfully. “Remember that time I told you I was going to pull out your gray hair? I was lying. You don’t have gray hair. I just wanted to pull a few strands of your hair to do a DNA test.”

Elliot had a startled expression. “Should I thank you for just pulling my hair out instead of taking my blood?”

“It would’ve been too obvious if I took your blood. You’re a smart man, so you would definitely figure it out,” she said, then changed the topic, “After I pulled out your hair, I pulled out Cole’s too. He screamed in pain and it’s pretty hilarious now that I think about it.”

“Why didn’t you tell me that you gave me and Cole a DNA test? Were you worried that I couldn’t handle it?”

“You didn’t tell me that Nathan was looking for either.” She brushed her hand across the flowers in the pathway and a flash of white light appeared suddenly in her mind. “Did we forget to take a wedding photo?”

Elliot was stunned.

“Don’t all couples have a wedding photoshoot before they get married? At least that’s what I’ve noticed. Aren’t we going to lay out the wedding photos to show the guests during our wedding?” she asked.

Elliot said, “It’s not too late to have one now.”

“You seriously forgot? Hahaha! Didn’t anyone around you remind you?” Avery laughed at him mercilessly when she saw his bewildered expression.

“I don’t have any experience with this.” A blush appeared on his hAXluKD=2some face. “No time like the present right? Let’s get it done today!”

“Would you like to wait until the weekend comes so we can take the photos with the children?” she suggested

Elliot refused outright. “We’re taking wedding photos, not family photos.”

“Oh, okay! Where are we going to take them?” She looked around when she asked the question.

The resort was facing the sea and had a very beautiful sea view.

“Why don’t we do it here?” She decided on the spot. “We can do our outdoor photoshoot here, and then we’ll take a couple in the studio, and voila!”

“Okay, I’ll get in touch with a photographer right now.” Elliot led her to the villa to sit and rest.

As he was contacting the makeup artist and photographer, she reached out for her mobile phone and sent a message to Tammy.

Avery: [You wouldn’t believe it, but Elliot and I haven’t taken any wedding photos yet.]

Tammy replied with a string of exclamation marks.

[He completely forgot about them and blamed it on his ‘inexperience’. It’s like when I agreed to marry him when he didn’t even propose to me. Don’t you think it’s a little şilly? Haha!]

[Well, you might not have any experience in holding weddings, but you two have a lot of experience making babies! A lot of people who got married earlier than you haven’t even gotten a child!]

Avery sent several ellipses to denote her speechlessness. Tammy then replied:

[I really look up to you both. Hayden can get married in a few years too.]

Chapter 1071

Avery then said: [Elliot and Hayden are arguing again. Elliot was supposed to stay at my house but he's now gone back to his mansion.]

Tammy replied: (All kids argue with their father. Get Hayden's teacher to give him more homework.)

[He has a lot already. I don't think he'll attend my wedding since he needs to be out of the country for a competition.]

[Respect his choice if he doesn't want to attend! His relationship with his father will be better once he's a little older.]

[Yeah. Would you like to watch my wedding photoshoot? It's at the resort.]

[Kays. I'll sort my things out and head there in a bit!] After sending the message, Avery looked at Elliot and asked, "Have you found a photographer, Elliot?"

"Yeah."

"Would you like to take some photos in the water? I've seen other people's wedding photos being taken in the water. They're so beautiful!" Avery allowed her imagination to run wild. "I also saw some couples doing their photoshoot on a cliff."

"Let me guess, you want to do one in the clouds too?"

"Omigosh, how did you know?! You have a plane, right? We can take to the skies with the plane and use a drone to take photos of us."

Elliot frowned slightly. "Are you serious?"

Avery thought for a few seconds and decided to give up. "Nah, forget about it.

Let's just have a quick photoshoot and get the wedding over with. We've already given birth to three children. If we don't get married any sooner,

Hayden might get married before us”

“Do you really think he’ll get married that soon?” Elliot sat down beside Avery. “I don’t think he’s interested in women at all.”

“He might not seem that way because he’s not yet an adult.” Avery trusted that her son was a normal boy. “He’ll start to understand his feelings once he’s an adult.”

“That might not necessarily be the case. You said he was like me, right? Well, I had no interest in women before I met you,” he said bluntly. “If I did, I would’ve gotten married long ago instead of waiting until you came along and picked me up.”

“Me? Picking you up? There should be a limit to your narcissism, Elliot.”

Avery’s cheeks were slightly red AQInvB<3 she instantly recalled the scene of their first meeting. “Okay, fine. I was the one who picked you up. If you hadn’t turned into a vegetable in that car accident, your mother wouldn’t’ve married a random woman to you. I’ll admit that you were better than me when we both first met, but now I’m on par with you.”

He gazed intently at her reddened face.

“You’re better than I am now,” he complimented her without hesitation. “What you do is so much more meaningful than what I do. Your future offers you infinite possibilities.”

“Doesn’t your future offer infinite possibilities too?” she retorted.

“I don’t really know what else I can do aside from just making money.” There was confusion in his eyes.

She leaned her head on his shoulder. “Aside from making money, you can spend your days taking good care of your family! Spending more time with your wife and children is a very meaningful thing too.”

“Okay. Let’s go on a honeymoon after the wedding!” He wanted to give himself a long vacation. Avery did not expect him to get the gist so quickly. “Sure thing! Where do you wanna go?”

“Didn’t Wesley send you a postcard?” he asked. “Don’t you want to look for him? Perhaps we can go and have a visit.”

“You’re thinking about finding Shea, aren’t you?” Avery lifted her head from his shoulder.

His eyes were slightly red. “Do you think there’s a possibility she might still be alive?”

Avery shook her head. “Wesley has no reason not to tell us if she is. It goes without saying that I would give anything for her to be alive, even if it is only in the medical sense of the word. At least there’s still a chance.”

“If Shea was still alive, she wouldn’t have left me even after knowing that I wasn’t her brother,” he said sternly. “Adrian chose to go with Henry.”

Chapter 1072

Avery’s calm heart felt cold all of a sudden.

“He’s extremely afraid of me,” Elliot said, “So he would rather go with Henry than stay with me.”

“Don’t bring that up, Elliot.” Avery felt a little uncomfortable. “We’re having our wedding photoshoot today. Let’s not talk about unhappy stuff, okay?”

She pondered over it briefly. Even though it was still not a good idea for Adrian to return to Henry’s side, it was still much better than remaining with Nathan.

Adrian was Henry’s younger brother and Henry would not go so far as to abuse his younger brother.

Not long later, a team of photographers arrived.

Tammy arrived at about the same time too.

With Tammy's help, Avery chose three different themes. The weather was quite good that day and the outdoor photoshoot went very smoothly.

They originally decided to do one outdoor scene and two studio scenes, but the outdoor scenes were quite relaxing so they did an extra set.

Time passed by in a flash and it was already evening.

It was dinnertime at the Starry River Villa.

"Let's go ahead and eat! Your mom is busy at her wedding photoshoot today and she won't make it in time for dinner." Mike told the two children after calling Avery.

Layla pouted. "Why can't she do it on a weekend? I wanted to watch them do the photoshoot!"

Mike could not help but laugh. "If the two of them don't do the photoshoot any sooner, it'll be too late for them to catch up with the wedding. Your parents might look smart, but they're actually a mess right now."

Layla then said, "But you're still friends with them even though you know they're not smart. That means you're not smart either!"

The smile on Mike's face stiffened. "Hayden is going abroad soon, and you'll only have me as your playmate. You need to be nice to me, you know?!"

"Hmph! I can play with my little brother!" Layla said. She then looked at Hayden and said, "I don't want you to go abroad, Hayden."

"But you already agreed to it last night," Hayden protested. "You can't go back on your word."

"Uuuuwaahh! But Mommy might not agree to let you study abroad. I'm sure she can't bring herself to let you go."

"Layla, this isn't a question of whether your mom can bring herself to let him go or not. If your brother doesn't go, your dad wouldn't dare to enter the house," Mike teased.

"Besides, Hayden's going abroad to study, EQLOPB<4 by the time he comes back, he'll be even better than your dad!"

Layla shook her head and pouted. "Liar... He said he was just going abroad for a competition... Now he's saying he's going abroad to study..."

Mike had talked to Hayden the previous afternoon.

Hayden said he wanted to leave the house, and Mike-who was always doting on Hayden-agreed to help him figure out a solution.

He came up with the idea that Hayden could do an exchange program and study abroad after the competition.

Hayden agreed without hesitation.

Mike told him to sleep on it and then inform Avery once a decision was made.

Hayden thought about it for a day and still firmly decided on going abroad.

He did not want to see Elliot, nor did he want to attend his mother and Elliot's wedding.

Studying abroad would be a good excuse to leave.

Avery returned at about eight that evening, whereupon Mike told her about Hayden's decision to go abroad.

"Hayden has made up his mind, so you don't need to convince him otherwise,"

Mike said. "But it won't be so convenient for you to meet him after he goes abroad."

Avery's face turned red the instant Mike ended his sentence.

"Don't cry! It's not like he won't come back. He's just going abroad to study."

Mike took a tissue and handed it to her. "Having him argue with his dad all the time is not a good solution."

Avery did not take the tissue from Mike. "It's difficult for me to accept that Hayden will be separated from me, but I know that he has grown up and that I should respect his decision.”

“The classroom environment overseas will help him improve tremendously,” Mike comforted. “I’ll accompany him there and come back for your wedding.” Avery did not have a choice. They had already agreed on it in private, and it was only a matter of informing her.

That night, Avery could not control her tears as she lay on the bed. She planned to talk to Hayden that night, but he went to bed early.

Chapter 1073

Avery felt that Hayden was deliberately refusing to negotiate with her.

The more she thought about it, the more restless she became. Eventually, she called Elliot because her sadness was too much to bear.

“Elliot, Hayden has decided to study abroad. He’s leaving me.”

Elliot’s breathing became heavier. “Is there anything I can do?”

“No. Don’t do anything, because you can’t,” she felt choked. “He’s made up his mind. Mike said he’d be leaving the day after tomorrow at the latest. He doesn’t want to be in this house anymore.”

“Let him go if that’s what he wants,” Elliot said helplessly. “Don’t cry. Just don’t treat him like he’s a child.”

“I can’t help but treat him as a child, Elliot. I always feel like I’m going to lose him.”

“You won’t. He’s your son and you’ll never lose him,” Elliot comforted her patiently. “He just doesn’t want to face me. He still loves you. You can always visit him frequently in the future.”

Her mood calmed down gradually as she listened to his deep voice.

“Life seldom goes our way. We should always appreciate that Hayden is healthy and safe," he continued to comfort.

"Okay. I'll get up early tomorrow and talk to him. Even if he wants to leave, I don't want him to leave feeling sad."

"You should rest early." "Okay. What are you doing?" she asked.

"Reading."

"What book?" What she would have given to lie beside him and hug him.

"It's about war."

"...Well, don't read until it's too late or you won't have any energy tomorrow."

"Okay. Good night, Avery."

After hanging up the phone, Avery stared at the dimly lit room in a trance.

Elliot's remark that life seldom went one's way was a phrase that she was wellacquainted with.

He had experienced adversity before, and she also had a long period of adversity too.

However, she was not that vulnerable when she encountered those difficulties in the past.

In any case, she had to be brave to hold her family together.

With Elliot by her side, she believed that it was possible to overcome all difficulties.

The next morning, she went to the children's room ESIIIsF<1 talked to Hayden.

"I respect your decision, Hayden." She cried a lot the previous night so her eyes were very swollen that day. "I just wanted to tell you that I love you always, and that I'll miss you when you go."

Hayden looked at his mother's haggard face and lowered his head. "I'll be back in a year."

"Okay. I'll visit you as much as I can."

"That would be nice."

“And another thing. Your dad won’t interfere with any of your affairs anymore. He wanted me to tell you that, and he also wants to apologize for everything. He won’t bother you again until you decide to forgive him.”

Hayden did not respond to that remark because he did not want to face that problem, at least not for the moment.

A day later, Avery sent Hayden to the airport.

Avery could not help but cry when she saw Hayden go through the security checkpoint.

“Mommy, Daddy’s here,” Layla reminded Avery and pulled her hand.

Avery wiped away her tears immediately and turned around.

Elliot did not tell her that he would be at the airport, so his presence came as a bit of a shock for her.

He strode up to her and embraced her in his arms.

“Don’t cry. I’ll bring you somewhere,” he said hoarsely. Avery asked while sobbing, “Where are we going?”

Chapter 1074

Elliot picked Layla up with one hand and held Avery’s hand tightly with his other hand.

She followed him and left the airport lobby.

At the airport command and control center, Elliot brought Avery and Layla in and led them to the massive floor-to-ceiling windows. The runway could be seen very clearly.

“We’ll be able to see Hayden’s flight taking off in about half an hour.” He took Avery and came to the window. “I chatted with Mike last night and I share the same view as him. It is the better choice for Hayden to be studying abroad.”

Avery stared at him blankly and waited for him to explain further.

“He managed to get only three points higher than Daniel in the qualifying round, which is why Daniel questioned whether the teacher’s grade was fair. If he scored thirty points more than Daniel, do you think Daniel will still question it? He still lacks in ability....”

Avery frowned when she heard him say that. “Don’t you think you’re asking too much of your son? He’s three years younger than Daniel, which means he’s already better than Daniel even though Daniel has been in school for three more years. He’s already good enough.”

“But he collapsed as soon as Daniel questioned him.” Elliot looked at her calmly, “Faced with such a situation, he could either strengthen his abilities or adjust his mentality. He has chosen the former, so we will support him.”

Avery took a deep breath and looked out the window

“It is only when he’s strong enough that he won’t be so easily provoked by others,” Elliot continued, “I hope my son can surpass me in the future, because that way, he can better protect himself and his family. This brief separation will be bearable.”

Avery looked back at him. “You may be right, but emotionally speaking, it’s an uphill task for me to accept that he’s leaving me. I wouldn’t be so uneasy if he was seventeen rather than seven. You weren’t that young during your first time abroad, right?”

“It was his own choice. We didn’t force him to leave.”

“I knew you were going to say that.” She took a deep breath looked at him a little resentfully. “You said before that you have a resentful personality, and you’re right. It is a little resentful sometimes. If your son didn’t take after you that much, he wouldn’t have been so against you.”

Elliot did not retort.

Half an hour later, Hayden's flight slowly took off from the runway and into the skies.

Elliot brought Avery and Layla home.

"Avery, your wedding dress has arrived." Mrs. Cooper smiled. "Would you like to try it?"

Avery looked at the beautifully packaged oversized box in the living room and tried to force herself not to think about Hayden's departure.

She opened the box and saw the white wedding dress.

"Let me help you put it on!" Elliot lifted the wedding dress from the box and offered.

She accepted and went back to the room with him.

After a while, she put on her wedding dress and looked blankly at herself in the mirror.

It was as if she was already about to attend the wedding.

"How does it feel?" Elliot asked in a hoarse voice when he saw how beautiful she was.

"It's...perfect." She looked at his emotion-filled eyes in the mirror and felt her cheeks become slightly hot. "When the wedding is over, the first thing you should do is bring me to see Hayden."

"Consider it done."

"I don't blame you." She turned around and put her arms around his waist. "My words might seem like it, but I'm not thinking that way."

"I know." He picked her up and walked to the bed, "I'm not angry even if you did blame me."

“Let’s not quarrel in the future, okay? It breaks my heart whenever I quarrel with you.” She sat by the bed, holding his big palm in her small hand.

“Of course.”

Elliot held Avery’s hand in one hand and her nape in the other. He was just about to deliver a kiss on her cheek when an ill-timed phone call came.

Chapter 1075

Avery gave Elliot a quick peck on his thin lips and pushed him away. “You have a call! I’ll change into something else and put the wedding dress away.”

He took out his cell phone from his pocket and answered it when he saw the incoming call.

“Mr. Foster, Henry brought Adrian to do a DNA test,” Elliot’s subordinate said. “I think he has ulterior motives for doing this. He knows that Adrian is his younger brother and he’s already taken him away from you, so there really isn’t any reason for him to do the test.”

Elliot glanced at Avery.

She was looking in the mirror while unfastening the strings of the dress on her back.

“Keep an eye on them and report everything to me at the first instance,” he said before ending the call.

“Who was it?” Avery asked after seeing that he had hung up the phone.

“Henry brought Adrian to do a DNA test. And since you were worried about Adrian, I had my men keep my eyes on them.” He strode behind her and helped her untie the strings.

“Oh. Did Henry ask you anything?” She felt a little uneasy.

“Not yet.”

“Will you give him money if he asks you for it?” she asked casually. “I think

Cole will lose the money they got from selling the old mansion, and when they run out, they'll definitely come to you for more."

"We'll see when that happens." It was useless to worry about something that might or might not happen.

Avery frowned. "They're all a bunch of bloodsuckers! Nathan probably hasn't left either, I suppose?"

"Don't let them ruin your mood, Avery. Even if they ask me for money, I won't just give it to them for nothing." After he untied her wedding dress, he took a nightdress from the side and put it on her head. "You can rest at home today!"

"Okay. I'll get Layla to come around. She's feeling incredibly down now that Hayden's gone."

"Do your best. The pain will be temporary. We just need to get used to it."

Before long, it was already the end of May.

There was one more day to go before Elliot and Avery's wedding.

For their upcoming grand wedding, all major media in Aryadelle wrote extensive reports. 'It has been reported that nearly 1,000 guests were invited to the wedding EVMjnB?0 the entire city will attend the wedding!'

'This wedding of the century is a sensation around the world, and billions were spent just to make Mrs. Foster happy!'

The couple's wedding photos made headlines in all major news sections!

They hogged the limelight in a flash.

When Henry looked at the news reports on Elliot and Avery's wedding, he had an indescribable look of jealousy on his face.

Elliot could spend billions for a wedding, but Henry-despite being the real Foster child-had no choice but to rent a place to stay.

He received no invitation to Elliot's wedding, and even his relatives and friends seemed to have alienated him.

Everyone cut off contact with him just because he had to sell his family home due to financial difficulties

“Elliot is a heartless man!” Henry sighed. “He didn’t even think about compensating us at all.”

Cole snorted coldly. “Do you think he would rise to his position today because of kindness? He won’t give us a single cent if we don’t ask him for it.”

“He’s crossing the line!” Henry put his phone down and rubbed his eyebrows.

“Judging from the situation, a complete fall-out is unavoidable.” “Are you going to look for him today or will you confront him at his wedding tomorrow?” Cole asked.

“He didn’t invite us, so we can’t even be present at his wedding venue!” Henry gritted his teeth and picked up his phone again. “When tomorrow comes, I’ll make him kneel and beg me!”

Chapter 1076

Over at Starry River Villa, Mrs. Cooper placed an envelope in front of Avery.

“Would you like me to open it for you, Avery? Or do you want to open it yourself?” asked Mrs. Cooper

Avery picked up the envelope and carefully read the sender’s information.

The envelope came from a small country she was unfamiliar with.

She opened the enveloped and pulled out a postcard.

The moment she saw the postcard, Wesley’s face appeared in her mind.

“Is it from Wesley?” asked Mrs. Cooper. “Is it the same address as before?”

Avery shook her head. “It’s not the same address. Elliot was planning on checking out the address the last postcard came from after the wedding, but he moved to another country again.”

“Is he traveling the world?!” Mrs. Cooper said with furrowed brows.

Avery carefully looked through the postcard.

It was a handmade postcard with a drawing of a bride and groom on it.

"I never knew he was this good at drawing," she mumbled softly. "I wonder how he's doing right now. There was no reason for him to leave his home because of what happened."

"Exactly! He's an only son. His parents must be miserable, going this long without him!" said Mrs. Cooper. "Are you still unable to contact him?"

"I can't get through to him at all. He isn't using his old number anymore."

"Call him heartless, but at least he remembered the twins' birthday. He even knows about your wedding. It means he's still paying attention to the news in Aryadelle. He's such a contradictory person!"

Avery placed the postcard down, then said, "We'll just have to wait and see if he can let things go in the future."

"Is Mike arriving at noon?"

"He is." Avery checked the time, then said, "I'll go to the airport now to pick him up."

"It's still early. Besides, you could just ask the driver to go. It'd be troublesome if you get recognized at the airport," said Mrs. Cooper. "You're a celebrity now, after all."

"I'll take the bodyguard with me. I really want to know how Hayden's doing."

"Alright, then. Make sure you wear a face mask when you leave."

"I will."

Avery stored the postcard, changed her clothes, left the house.

The next day was her and Elliot's wedding.

Wedding guests from abroad had been arriving in the city for the past couple of days. Elliot was entertaining the guests at the resort at that moment.

Once Avery picked up Mike from the airport, they would head over to the resort together.

Avery was reading a book in a bookstore at the airport when the bodyguard walked over with Mike.

“What are you reading? You look really engrossed in it!” Mike placed his arm around Avery’s shoulders, then said, “The announcement of your wedding really rocked the world! You even made headlines in Bridgedale. Hasn’t Elliot always kept a low profile? I’m not used to this high-profile side of him.”

Avery took the book she was reading over to the cashier to pay for it, “What’s wrong with going a little over the top for our one and only wedding?” she said in response to his teasing.

“Tsk. Haven’t you heard that showing off your love makes it die quicker? With such a high-profile wedding, if anything scandalous happens after you get married, then you’ll be an international laughing stock.”

Mike could never quite break his habit of being a harbinger of doom. “Can’t you just wish us a loving and happy marriage?”

Chapter 1077

“Of course, I can! But this has nothing to do with whether or not I wish you well. It’s up to the both of you to keep things loving and happy! I wasn’t the one who wished for your constant bickering in the past now, was I?” laughed Mike. “You don’t have to worry about Hayden. He’s pretty much settled down over there now.”

“Did he say anything to you in secret?” Avery asked.

Mike chuckled softly and looked as if he had heard a good joke. “Do you think your son is the type of person to reveal his secrets to others? He barely says two sentences to you, and you are his mother. He doesn't speak to others at all, okay? The first night he was at the new school, the teacher actually asked me if he had a speaking disability."

Avery was shocked. "Didn't you say he was settled down?!"

"He is! I asked his teacher about it, and she said that she and the other students are used to him now. She guaranteed that he won't get bullied.

Doesn't that count as him being settled down?" Mike let out a hearty guffaw.

Avery shot him a glare and said, "I shouldn't have let him go abroad."

"He's already gone. It's too late for you to regret it now. Elliot told me that the two of you will visit him after the wedding. You can go and see things for yourself, then! I promise that your son hasn't lost weight and is growing up very well."

"That would be best. If he's not doing well there, then I'll take him home with me."

"Stop frowning. You're going to be a bride tomorrow." Mike examined her closely, then asked, "Do you have any thoughts on that?"

Avery thought about it for a few seconds, then said, "I'm wondering why a wedding has to be such a hassle. Elliot's been behaving like a publicist since a few days ago. He's been entertaining guests every day since then."

"I heard about it from Chad. Not only has Elliot turned into a publicist, but Chad and Ben have also been working nonstop. Chad said that there are a bunch of beautiful women from Elliot's old university that are coming. Are you nervous about that?"

Avery opened the car door, got into the car, then said nonchalantly, "Have you not been to his office before? There are plenty of gorgeous women who work there. Every time I'm there, I can't help but think that their HR department is comprised of former pageant contestants.”

“Ha ha ha! I’ll have to go EPIryC:1 see that for myself next time.”

When Avery and Mike arrived at the resort about an hour later, it was lunchtime.

Avery noticed the group of women who were Elliot’s friends from college.

The women were all in their thirties, but every single one of them had taken good care of themselves and were oozing maturity, sensuality, and elegance.

Avery greeted everyone, then sat down next to Elliot.

“We finally get to see you in the flesh, Avery! You’re even more beautiful in real life than in your photos! Elliot sure has good taste!” praised one of the women.

“I bet Avery’s looks aren’t the only thing that caught Elliot’s heart! He’s met plenty of beautiful women so far, so there is definitely something extraordinary about Avery.” Elliot’s male college mates had a different opinion. “I heard you studied medicine, Avery. Elliot must never have to go to the hospital again once you’re married.”

Avery’s smile was restrained as she said, “I’m not a general practitioner. If he has any andrological medical issues, he’s better off seeing a specialist!”

“What type of illnesses do you specialize in, then?”

“I’m a neurologist.”

“That’s amazing! I don’t know much about it, but I bet you’re incredible!

Otherwise, why would Elliot marry you?”

The man had a slip of tongue and did not consider Avery’s feelings.

Avery was not upset. Elliot’s friends thought that she had climbed the social ladder to nab him. After all, she could not compare to him when it came to finances.

“I’m not with Avery for any of those complicated reasons,” Elliot said nonchalantly. "I'm with her because she is beautiful."

Avery choked and began to cough.

It was no exaggeration to say that every single one of his female college mates were gorgeous women. Avery did not stand out while amongst them.

"One look was all it took for me to fall for her back then." Elliot casually poured a glass of water for Avery as he continued to casually explain his reason for marrying her. "Not only is she beautiful, but she's also got one hell of a body. Other than that, she's got a good personality."

Avery was stunned by his praises.

She glanced around the table and saw that everyone else was also stunned.

Elliot Foster was an expert at spouting utter nonsense!

Chapter 1078

"She's a good cook and makes me whatever I want to eat. She's very good to me."

"She can also knit. The sweater she knitted me is better than anything that you could get at a store.

"She cheers me up when I'm unhappy.

"She takes me out on dates when I'm happy. You should all know that I've always been a boring person, but she's never held that against me.

"When I'm sick, she would stay up all night and take care of me with devotion. She's an outstanding mother, entrepreneur, and an amazing wife."

It was as if Elliot had too much to drink and was on a drunken ramble. Avery was in a daze from his praise and wanted to dig a hole and hide inside it.

She had never thought of herself as someone that extraordinary.

She suspected that Elliot was describing his dream wife.

"Why are you so talkative today, Elliot?" She poured him a glass of juice in hopes that he would calm down.

Elliot took a sip of juice and got even more excited. He fixed his deep-set eyes on Avery, then asked, "Why do you want to marry me, Avery?"

Avery was at a loss for words.

She saw what he was thinking through his eyes.

He wanted her to praise him just as he had just done to her.

"Let's hear about why you want to marry Elliot, Avery! You're such a catch, after all. You must have plenty of admirers!" someone in the crowd urged.

Avery awkwardly cleared her throat, then mustered up her courage and said, "I think I'm rather shallow. I'm willing to marry him not only because he's handsome and has a muscular body, but also because of his money. Yes, you heard me right. I love him for his money."

The crowd was speechless.

Elliot gazed at her with misty eyes and encouraged her to continue.

"He's a conceited man with high self-esteem, so he's always pissing me off. Every time I get upset with him, he would buy expensive gifts for me." Avery revealed her true feelings. "He often buys me expensive jewelry. I don't like wearing them, but I like looking at them.

"Not only did he give me all of his passwords to his social media accounts, but he also gave me the passwords to his credit card CVNqyF>3 security deposit box. He was worried that I wouldn't remember all of them, so he wrote them all down in a little notebook and gave it to me," Avery added

At that moment, all the women at the table were drowning in jealousy!

"Also, guess what he said when I asked him how much he would pay me to marry him." Avery deliberately kept everyone guessing for a moment, then said, "He said he would wrap himself up and give himself to me."

“Holy sh*t! Have you always been this generous to women, Elliot? You’re really giving yourself away?” someone gasped in disbelief.

“Seeing how loving Avery and Elliot are makes me believe in true love! This is sweeter than any of the romantic dramas I’ve seen on TV! No script would compare to this!”

“Elliot, if I’d known you were such a loving man, I would’ve worked harder back then to make you mine!” said one of the women regretfully.

“Your hard work won’t pay off. Elliot likes women like Avery who are both beautiful and intelligent. You might be beautiful, but can you cook? Do you know how to knit a sweater? Can you treat sick patients?”

“Fine! I admit defeat! Avery really is incredible!”

After a joyful lunch, Avery dragged Elliot off to rest.

When they returned to their room, Elliot chuckled, “You love me for my money?”

“When did I ever cook for you?” Avery retorted.

“Do you want to know my passwords? I’ll write them all down in a notebook for you.” Then, Elliot walked over to the desk and searched for a pen and paper.

Chapter 1079

“Listen, Elliot. Even if you spout all those wild exaggerations about me out there, I would never become someone like that.” Avery lay down on the bed, then said, “At the very least, I’m never knitting a sweater again.” .

“They don’t know you. I just wanted them to know that you didn’t climb any ladders to get to me.” Elliot wrote down all of his passwords on the piece of paper, then handed it over to her. “For your perusal, Honey.”

Avery accepted his reasoning. She picked up the piece of paper, went through it in detail, then noticed something that stood out. “Is the ‘AT’ at the beginning of your social media password my initials?”

“That’s right. The pin to my credit card is Layla’s birthday,” he said. “The two of you are the most important women in my life.”

Avery’s cheeks flushed. Then, she asked, “Are your sons not important?”

“Not relatively as important.” Elliot sat by the bed, then added, “You and Layla are much more thoughtful. Our sons just get angry at me all the time.”

“Robert has never gotten mad at you. You can’t just decide that sons aren’t as good just because of your relationship with Hayden.”

“It’s not that I don’t think sons are good. I just think our sons should become independent rather than depend on me.” Elliot walked over to the window and pulled back the sheer, white curtains. “I’ll help them out before they’re of age. Once they’re no longer minors, I won’t coddle them anymore.”

Avery immediately retaliated, “Even if they’re no longer minors, they would still be under twenty years old! Are you sure you won’t care for them anymore once they’re of age?”

“I’ll help them out if they ask for it. If they don’t, then I won’t.” Elliot took off his coat, hung it, and sat next to Avery. “I don’t want our sons to become a loser like Cole.”

Avery folded the piece of paper with the passwords, then kept it in her purse.

“Not every child from wealthy families turns out like Cole. Of course, I respect your decision. If the children don’t ask for our help, there’s no reason for us to get too involved. Hayden’s got a strong personality. I doubt he’d want us to get involved in his life either.”

“That’s true.”

“Are you sure you don’t want to invite your brother to the wedding?” Avery lay down, then wrapped her arms around Elliot. “You invited all your other relatives. Wouldn't he be upset if he found out?"

"I cut ties with him a long time ago," Elliot said coldly. "I won't invite him just because he knows my secrets."

"I suppose. It doesn't matter even if we don't invite him," Avery said. "Get some rest. I'll wake you in a bit."

Elliot grunted in response, and his breathing very quickly settled down as he drifted off to sleep.

Avery's heart ached as she watched his haggard face, and she hugged him tightly.

She thought of how he had departed from his usual character of a man of few words to one who sang her praises to the moon just so she would not have to suffer their misunderstandings.

From the moment they had cleared things up between them, she could clearly feel Elliot's deep feelings for her.

From now on, she would not disappoint his love for her.

That evening, Avery dropped by Starry River Villa to pick up Mrs. Cooper and Robert.

As they approached the street leading to the resort, she slowed the car down.

She unintentionally glanced out the window and saw a familiar face.

"Do you see that man in the blue shirt, Mrs. Cooper? Doesn't he look like Cole?" Avery asked.

Mrs. Cooper looked out the window and carefully studied the man in the blue shirt.

"I think it's him! Did Master Elliot invite him?"

"He didn't. I just asked Elliot about it this afternoon. Elliot said he didn't invite Henry and Cole." Avery frowned, then mumbled, "What's he doing here? I don't think I've seen the man he's talking to."

"Henry and Cole won't do something to mess up the wedding tomorrow, would they?" Mrs. Cooper said with furrowed brows as a bad feeling rose inside her.

When Avery heard Mrs. Cooper's words, her calmness instantly broke, and she became a frenzied mess of emotion!

Chapter 1080

"Give Master Elliot a call, Avery. Ask him to get someone to check it out," suggested Mrs. Cooper. "Why would Cole come to such a secluded place? I bet he's got something up his sleeve and wants to cause a scene tomorrow."

"Okay. I'll let him know when I see him later."

"Listen, Avery. Henry might look like a good man, but he really isn't," Mrs. Cooper said as she held Robert with a stern expression on her face. "Don't think that Cole turned into a bad apple all by himself. He was influenced by his parents. His mother was a monster, but his father isn't that far off. Those who sleep in the same bed wouldn't be that different, after all."

Avery pondered this for a moment with furrowed brows, then said, "I vaguely remember how Cole tried to use me to get his hands on Elliot's inheritance back when he was in a vegetative state. I doubt he came up with such a despicable plan by himself!"

"That's right! Didn't Cole come to see Master Elliot after he woke up? Master Elliot threw a huge fit," Mrs. Cooper said as she revealed everything that had happened all of those years ago. "Don't you think Master Elliot knows what kind of people they are? He wouldn't be this heartless if Henry weren't that evil."

Avery was silent.

"We have to keep an eye out for the two of them tomorrow," said Mrs. Cooper, reminding her to tell Elliot that she had seen Cole.

“I agree. I’ll talk to Elliot after this.”

Once the car approached the resort, Avery immediately saw Elliot.

He was chatting with some friends outside while he waited for her and Robert.

When he saw the car approaching, he immediately walked toward them.

Once the driver brought the car to a halt, Avery opened the door and got out.

“Elliot,” Avery said when she stood in front of him. “Send someone outside to check things out. I saw Cole just now.”

Elliot raised his brows and asked, “Are you certain?”

“Mrs. Cooper saw him too. He was speaking to a stranger by the street. I have a feeling he showed up tonight because of some scheme he has planned.”

Avery did not want them to affect the wedding the next day.

“Don’t worry. I’ll send someone to check it out,” said Elliot, placating her. “Even if they’re scheming something, they won’t be able to get into the resort to mess anything up.”

Avery frowned DPLVZA:4 said, “But I don’t want them to ruin the mood at the wedding tomorrow. They can mess things up whenever they want, just not tomorrow.”

Sometimes, the more afraid you are of something, the more likely it would happen.

Seeing how nervous Avery was feeling affected Elliot’s mood too.

It looked like Henry was planning on revealing all of his scandals at the wedding the next day!

Elliot had been waiting for Henry to contact him these past few days, but Henry did nothing of the sort.

Elliot had tried to guess what Henry was thinking, but he could not figure it out.

If Henry wanted money from him, then Elliot would be willing to give him however much he wanted as long as the price was reasonable.

Henry's lack of initiative made Elliot feel even more uneasy.

He knew that the lack of contact meant that Henry had something much bigger in mind.

Elliot sent his subordinates to check things out, then took Robert from Mrs. Cooper.

Robert had taken a nap in the car, so his black eyes were glistening with energy at this moment.

Elliot could not help but break into a smile as he gazed at his son. "What are you looking at? It's crowded here, isn't it? Don't be scared, they're all Daddy's friends."

Then, Elliot carried his son over to meet his friends.

Mrs. Cooper smiled as she watched the scene. "Master Elliot looks like he's turned a few years younger carrying his child like that."

"He also turns childish. It's as if he's the only one with a son. He probably also thinks that his son is the cutest baby in the universe," Avery said. Then, she grabbed the baby's things from the car and headed up to the room with Mrs. Cooper.

Chapter 1081

Soon after, the bodyguard that was sent to search for Cole returned.

"Sir, I've looked around a few shops in the area but didn't find Cole Foster."

"Leave it," Elliot said.

"Yes, Sir. I'll get the team to guard the resort's entrance. I guarantee we won't allow anyone insignificant to enter."

"Good."

When Avery stepped out of the shower of the resort villa and saw Tammy holding Robert, she felt slightly bewildered.

“Did you bring Robert back?” “That’s right! Someone was smoking out there, so Elliot asked me to bring Robert back to you when he saw me,” Tammy said.

“I’m guessing that the man who was smoking couldn’t stand Elliot any longer! Do you know what Elliot was doing the whole time he was holding Robert out there? He was praising Robert to the moon. It was as if he would never run out of words to describe how amazing Robert is.”

Avery held back her laughter.

“Have you noticed that Elliot’s been in unusually high spirits the past couple of days? Didn’t he sing your praises at lunch, too? When he had Layla with him this morning, he was giving her ten compliments for each compliment other people gave her. Also, he was carrying Layla in his arms the entire time.

People even began to ask whether she had hurt her legs! It was hilarious!”

Tammy had arrived first thing in the morning, so she had witnessed everything with her own eyes.

“Perhaps he’s been holding it in for too long and now he can’t contain it any longer. He said this is the first time the Fosters invited so many people to a banquet,” said Avery. “Everyone knows how successful his career is. Now that his life is perfect, he wants everyone to know about it, too.”

“He’s in the mood to show off now that he’s perfectly happy with his life. It’s a good thing!” Tammy placed Robert down on the bed, then helped him stand by supporting him by his elbows.” Say ‘daddy’, sweetie. Then, I’ll feed you your milk.”

Robert pursed his little lips.

“Daddy,” Tammy said as she tried to teach Robert to say the word. “Daddy, daddy, daddy!"

Robert pursed his lips once again.

"Daddy, daddy, daddy, daddy!" Tammy continued to bombard the child with the word 'daddy'. Robert was finally influenced ETLXSC>5 mumbled, "Da... daddy!" His voice was clear and powerful. If Elliot had heard it for himself, he probably would have lost his mind.

"Avery! Did you hear that? Your son just said 'daddy!'" Tammy exclaimed excitedly.

Avery nodded enthusiastically and said, "You're amazing, Tammy. Elliot hasn't been able to get him to say it despite trying his best to teach him the word. Not a day has passed where he had not tried getting Robert to say the word. I can't believe he said it right away with you."

"Ha ha ha! It shows that your son likes beautiful women." Tammy gave Robert a peck on the cheek and said, "Say 'daddy' again, sweetie!"

"Daddy!" Robert was bought over by the kiss.

Tammy wanted to strike while the iron was hot and quickly carried Robert to look for Elliot.

Less than ten minutes later, Elliot returned to the room with Robert in his arms. When Avery saw the smile on his face, she figured that Robert had said 'daddy' for him.

"Avery! Robert can say 'daddy' now!" Elliot rushed over to her excitedly.

Avery took Robert over from him.

"Not only will your son be calling you 'daddy' from now on, but he'll also be causing you plenty of trouble!" She shoved him in the direction of the bathroom, then said, "Go and take a shower. We should go to bed early tonight."

“Alright.” Elliot entered the bathroom, then said, “By the way, I sent the bodyguard to search for Cole but he couldn’t find him.”

“Forget it, then. We can’t stop them if they’re really planning on doing something anyway.” Avery stared calmly at him, then said, “Worst comes to worst, we’ll both become laughing stocks tomorrow.” “Aren’t you afraid, Avery?” Elliot asked as his eyes slowly turned cold.

Chapter 1082

“I am.” There was no reason for Avery to hide her true feelings in front of Elliot.

“I’m afraid that our peaceful lives will be ruined. This has been the happiest time since we’ve been together. I don’t want anything to ruin it, but I know it definitely will be.”

“Cole would not show up here for no reason.

“He and Henry must have some sort of scheme,” thought Avery.

Avery had a strong feeling that Henry would reveal all of Elliot’s secrets tomorrow.

Henry chose tomorrow to do this because the resort will be the most crowded place at the time.

All major media outlets would be present, so revealing things tomorrow would have the biggest impact.

“Our lives won’t be ruined as long as you and the children are by my side.”

Elliot’s voice was low and hoarse but filled with magnetism.

“I know things won’t change between us, but I don’t want you to have to suffer such major scrutiny. Even if the truth is exposed, and a majority of people feel the same as me and don’t think you were in the wrong, there would still be plenty of people who would make you the bad guy.” Avery knew she was being greedy. She knew that Elliot would be greatly affected by the exposure of the truth, but even then, he would still try to feign nonchalance.

“How can someone as proud as him be able to endure a scandal like this?”

thought Avery.

“I don’t care about what other people think, Avery,” Elliot said as he gazed at Avery. “I’m not that weak. Trust me, alright?”

Avery nodded and said, “I trust you, Elliot. I’ve always trusted you. I’m just not brave enough. I’ll try my best to compose my emotions. Go and take a shower. I’ll keep Robert company for now.”

“Where’s Layla?” Elliot asked as he unbuttoned his shirt. “I haven’t seen her all night.”

“She’s been stuck to Mike! He hasn’t been home for a few days so she’s been missing him a lot.”

“I see. Is Eric arriving tomorrow?”

“He’s got work tonight and said he’ll come over once he wraps up. He’ll probably arrive in the middle of the night, so he asked us not to wait for him.”

Avery placed Robert down on the bed, then pulled out his pajamas from the suitcase.

After Elliot entered the bathroom, Mrs. Cooper returned with Layla. Layla was covered in sweat, but judging from her pout, she probably wanted to have more fun. “You reek of alcohol, Layla.” Avery took a sniff of her daughter, then led her to another bathroom for a bath.

The villa they were staying at had four bedrooms two living rooms. Layla and Robert were staying there with Avery and Elliot.

“Why aren’t you and Daddy going out to have some fun, Mommy? They’re playing games out there. It’s a lot of fun!” Layla was standing obediently in the bathtub as Avery helped her with her bath.

“We have to get up early tomorrow. If we stay up late tonight, we won’t be able to wake up in the morning,” Avery said. “You should go to bed early, too. Daddy and I won’t have much time to keep you company tomorrow.”

“I’m not worried! Uncle Eric will be with me tomorrow!” said Layla. She looked slightly spoilt but fearless. “Uncle Eric said he’s taking me for a movie shoot over summer break. I can’t stay at home with you during summer break now, Mommy!”

“Did you already discuss this in private?” Avery sighed.

“That’s right! Didn’t you say it was up to us? You didn’t say anything when Hayden went abroad, so you should let me shoot a movie, too,” said Layla, negotiating with her mother as she puffed her cheeks.

“The two of you are all grown up now. I can’t, nor do I want to, control you,” Avery said as she accepted her fate. “Your father said we won’t bother with you at all once you’re all of age.”

“He’s not bothering with us now either! He should just focus on himself and not make you mad!” Layla said sharply.

“Alright. When you go for your movie shoot with Uncle Eric in the summer, I’ll go to Bridgedale to see your brother.”

“Hmph. Can’t you just wait until I’m done with the shoot and take me with you to go see Hayden?” Layla mumbled unhappily.

“Do you think a movie shoot is something that will take a couple of days to wrap up? Since you’ve decided to become a celebrity, you have to take every single job you get seriously. Otherwise, people will say you became famous because of your father... Look at how upset your brother is because of that.”

“I won’t get as mad as Hayden!” Layla mumbled softly. “If Daddy is willing to support me, I’d happily announce to the world that he’s my Daddy!”

Avery could not help but laugh.

“You sure are optimistic.”

“Of course! Daddy's incredible. Everyone will be envious after finding out that I'm his daughter.”

The smile on Avery's face instantly froze. “Layla, if your father one day loses his glory, will you still be proud of him?”

Layla was stunned for a moment. “What do you mean by that, Mommy?” “If there comes a day when everyone will criticize him...” .

Chapter 1083

“Why would people criticize him?” Layla took Avery's words seriously, and she looked sad.

Avery did not know how to explain things to her daughter.

She worried that if she revealed everything to Layla tonight will make it difficult for her to fall asleep, so she held her tongue.

“It's nothing. I was just speaking hypothetically. You have to remember that your father is a good man. Don't dislike him no matter how other people criticize him.”

“Okay.” Layla was confused, but she nodded her head and said, “I'll listen to you, Mommy.” Once Avery finished helping Layla with her bath, she tucked her into bed.

It was already past ten by the time Avery returned to the master bedroom.

Elliot pointed at the midnight snack that the butler had sent over and asked,

“Do you want to have something to eat?”

Avery shook her head and said, “I gain weight easily if I eat this late at night. I want to be the most beautiful bride tomorrow. Don't tempt me with food.”

“I'll ask the butler to take it away, then.” Elliot picked up the phone and called the butler.

Soon after, the butler entered the room and took the food away.

“Let’s go to bed, Elliot. I’m getting pretty tired.”

“Alright. Should I blow out the scented candle?”

“Alright.”

Once the lights were turned off, the room fell into darkness.

Avery habitually wrapped her arms around Elliot’s waist and nuzzled her face into his chest.

The mixture of the scented candle and his familiar scent was so hypnotic that it put her straight to sleep.

By the time Avery opened her eyes again, the room was drowning in the light of the morning sun.

“Are you awake?” Elliot saw that Avery’s eyes were opened, so he sat up and said, “Let’s get up. The makeup artist is here.”

“Okay. Did you turn off my alarm?” Avery picked up her phone and checked the time.

She had overslept.

“It’s fine to sleep in a little.” Elliot pulled off the covers and got out of bed. “I’ll get the butler to bring breakfast.”

“Alright.” Avery stretched, then got out of the bed, DXMnpB>7 pulled the curtains apart.

Golden beams of light gleamed and sparkled into the room like flecks of gold.

The beautiful morning sun put a wide smile on her face.

After breakfast, the makeup artist, stylist, and designer all made their way into the villa.

Once the designer helped Avery into her wedding dress, she led her to the makeup table.

Soon after, Tammy and the bridesmaids arrived.

The villa filled with life as the women got their makeup done and their photos taken.

When Avery was done with her hair and makeup, she glanced around but did not catch sight of Elliot.

"Where's Elliot?"

For some reason, she immediately began to feel uneasy when she did not see him.

"I saw him talking on the phone earlier, then he left," Tammy said. "Maybe more guests arrived!" Avery lowered her gaze, picked up her phone from the makeup table, and dialed Elliot's number.

Chapter 1084

Elliot answered the phone quickly.

"Elliot, where have you been?" Avery tense heartstrings relaxed a little. She was so nervous just now that she thought she would not be able to get through to him.

"I'm going to receive guests. You stay in the villa, don't run around." Elliot said calmly.

"Oh, did Henry look for you?" Avery asked in a low voice.

"No."

Henry didn't look for me, but Henry's uncle looked for me.

And uncle was looking for me because of Henry's relationship. His uncle came to the resort yesterday, but now, uncle is outside. His uncle told him that Henry had something to talk with me about, and told me to go out to meet them now.

Henry is willing to negotiate with him privately rather than tearing his face in front of the public.

He didn't want Avery to worry, so he decided to go see what Henry would ask.

In a restaurant outside the resort, Henry, Cole, and several elders of the Foster family were sitting at the dining table.

When Elliot entered the restaurant, their eyes instantly turned to each other.

"Elliot, today is your big wedding day. I wish you a happy wedding, although you didn't invite me." Henry had a fake smile on his face.

Elliot sat down opposite him: "Tell me! What do you want?"

"Don't look like a wronged victim." The smirk on Henry's face disappeared,

"Today, I will come to you to get back what belongs to our Foster family's stuff!"

Seeing his arrogant attitude, Elliot lost the mood to negotiate with him.

What is the Foster family thing?

Is it true that the words 'Elliot' also belong to the Foster family?

"Today is your big day, I don't want to embarrass you too much, but you can't take advantage of our Foster family!" Henry saw that Elliot's face was gloomy, so he raised his voice, "I have already done it with Adrian. The DNA test showed that he is indeed my younger brother! So, you are not my brother, and you are not from our Foster family!"

Elliot noticed that the faces of the elders present were very ugly. They learned the truth from Henry this morning and received a strong blow.

They used to have a good relationship with Elliot, but now that they know that Elliot is not from the Foster family, even if they have feelings for him, they can't continue to stand by him.

"Before you started your business, I won't count the money my parents spent on you! When you started your business, my mother gave you a large amount of startup money. In order to find out how much this money is. Specially I went to the bank to check, and the amount of money transferred to you by my mother's bank card alone is as high as 10 million!" Henry was very angry. Henry continued, "I went to check the registered capital of your company at the beginning of its establishment, and it was only 50 million! It is equal to the money my mother gave you, accounting for one-fifth of your company! The reason why you can make so much money now is because Don't open our Foster family's financial support for you!" Elliot looked at his indignant appearance, listened to his fierce words, and guessed what he wanted to take back. He didn't expect that Henry's appetite would be so great!

Chapter 1085

No wonder Henry didn't come to him for a while, because to make such a request, it really takes some courage!

"Henry, do you think your request is reasonable?" Elliot looked gloomy and his voice was even colder, "Those who didn't know thought it was you who gave me 10 million. When your mother gave me 10 million, she didn't look for it. I owe me an IOU."

"Looks like you don't plan to repay the money!" Henry's voice trembled with anger.

"If you insist on me paying it back, of course I can pay it back to you. I can pay you 10 million with the interest, but if you want the shares of our company, you might as well just go back to your rental house and dream!"

His finger Clinging tightly, patience has bottomed out.

Henry didn't expect that he could be so arrogant when he had the handle in his hands!

Is Elliot really not afraid of the truth being revealed?

“Elliot! You are indeed the son of a gangster, Nathan. Not only did you stole my uncle, Adrian’s life, but you also stole the property belonging to our family.

Don’t think that your current social status If you are taller than us, you can do whatever you want. When we reveal your true face, wait for your reputation to be ruined!” Cole saw his father’s body trembling with anger, so he shouted.

Elliot had a brotherly love for Henry, so he endured Henry’s lion.

“And Cole, what do you think I am? How dare you yell in front of me?” After saying these words, Elliot got up from the chair, walked to Cole, grabbed his collar, punched him hard in the face!

Bright red blood spurted out of Cole’s mouth, dyeing Elliot’s dress red.

Cole was knocked out by his punch!

Elliot looked at his blood-stained fist, but he didn’t expect such an astonishing power to burst out when he was out of control!

“Killed...killed! Elliot, you murderer! Not only did you kill my father, you even spared my son! You wait! I’ll call the police right away, you wait for me. ” Henry was so frightened that he quickly took out his mobile phone from his pocket. Several elders immediately stepped forward and grabbed Elliot to prevent him from doing it again.

“Elliot, don’t be impulsive! It’s hard to tell who’s right and who’s wrong about the past. As elders, we hope you two brothers can solve this matter well and don’t cause any fatalities!”

“Cole fainted, call ambulance to take him to the hospital first!” Henry first called the police, and then Ask the elders to send Cole to the hospital.

“Today, my feud with Elliot is settled! Even if I can’t get back what belongs to my Foster family, I can’t make him feel better!” Henry said, staring at Elliot fiercely, "I knew you. The wolf is ambitious, greedy, and won't easily hand over what you swallow, so you can wait for your retribution!"

Henry finished the warning and left the restaurant angrily. He made a twohanded plan.

The first-hand plan, Elliot was willing to give one-fifth of the shares to Henry and Cole, then this series of scandals should not have happened.

Second-hand planning, Elliot rejects their request, then they don't have to give Elliot any face. He has contacted many media privately, and he will expose all the truth in front of the media!

In a hotel closest to the resort, reporters have been waiting for a long time.

After Henry appeared, everyone cheered up and waited for the secrets of the giants to be revealed!

Henry walked to the stage and faced all the reporters. The words are sonorous and powerful, "Just now, Elliot beat my son into the hospital. If the elders hadn't stopped him just now, my son would have been killed by him. My father, Jaxson Foster, was killed by Elliot! This incident is what I saw with my own eyes! I am willing to bear all the consequences to prove that what I said is true!

The reason for this incident is It has been concealed until now, because I am thinking of the affection of my relatives! Now, I find that his identity is not the young master of the Foster family, but a wild breed born to a driver of our Foster family!"

Chapter 1086

This press conference for countless media was broadcast live on the Internet simultaneously.

Henry is now determined to fight to the death with Elliot, so his emotions are particularly intense. He was at the scene and provided all kinds of evidence.

Including the DNA certificate, as well as the screenshot of the transfer from the mother to Elliot.

After providing all kinds of evidence, he turned to the camera with tears in his eyes: "Elliot deprived my brother of his life and founded Sterling Group with the money of our Foster family. Now my mother has passed away, I don't know what happened to my brother and the driver back then. How did the child get replaced, but now the truth has come to the bottom. I don't want to be hurt any more! Even if Elliot doesn't want to pay back the money owed to our Foster family and my father's life, he must come out and give an explanation!"

After the live broadcast was synchronized online, it was immediately spread in Aryadelle.

Elliot and Avery's wedding was super talkative, and the blessing comments were instantly replaced by new content.

[Have you seen the live broadcast of Elliot's brother Henry? The news is terrible! Come and see! Search Henry to see it.]

[Everyone, go watch the live broadcast! If you go later, the live broadcast may be blocked! After all, Elliot can cover the sky with only one hand in Aryadelle.]

[Aah! Can anyone summarize what his brother said on the live broadcast? I can't watch the live broadcast at work.]

[Summary:1. Elliot is not the child of the Foster family, but the child of the driver of the Foster family. The civet cat has changed the prince. 2. When Elliot was a teenager, he personally killed Jaxson Foster, the head of the Foster family. 3. Elliot's Sterling Group was founded with the Foster family's money, but now Elliot is not willing to share the money with Henry. In the final analysis, there is a problem with the distribution of benefits. If Elliot was willing to give Henry a little more money, these scandals would not have been exposed.]

[F*ck. Elliot turned out to be the driver's child. It must be his father who replaced him with the real young master of the Foster family. His dad is so brave. No wonder Elliot doesn't look like the rest of the Foster family.]

[Only I am curious, why did he kill Jaxson Foster? Murder is against the law.

When he killed Jaxson Foster, he must not have known his true background, right?]

[Sure enough, those who can succeed are not ordinary people. Judging from the information exposed by Henry, Elliot is a very scary person! Avery married him today. I wonder if Avery knew these things about him.]

[Know what, they both have had children. Must be bound for life. Moreover, what if Elliot killed someone, and if he killed him when he was a minor, the law can't do anything about him.]

[Although the law can't do anything to him, it would be too sad if society can tolerate such a person to succeed! I hope the state can come forward to manage such bad public figures!]

[Elliot is not an entertainment star. He pays real taxes to the state every year. How do you think the state should manage him?]

[No matter what country you are in, murder is illegal! When he killed Jaxson Foster, can you imagine how helpless and desperate Jaxson Foster must be? Teenage boys, even if they are underage, can never be ignored!]

[I can not stand it any more! On behalf of myself, I would like to boycott Elliot from now on! He is a murderer! Even if he was underage at the time, this fact cannot be erased! Murderers should be cast aside forever!]

[Those who cleaned up Elliot, I hope you will never encounter a murderer in your life.]

.....

Netizens are arguing fiercely on the Internet, while in the resort, there is peace and tranquility.

However, the calm is only an illusion.

After Tammy swiped her mobile phone and saw the news on the Internet, she immediately took the mobile phone and handed it to Avery.

“Avery, what’s wrong with Henry? Is he sick? Why did he spread rumors about Elliot?” Tammy said angrily, “It’s too outrageous! He even said that Elliot was not his own brother, and that Elliot was their driver.”

After Avery saw the news on the Internet, she immediately returned the phone to Tammy, then stood up with her skirt, ready to find Elliot.

Tammy immediately followed her, “Avery! Where are you going? Are you looking for Elliot? Just call him, it’s too inconvenient for you to go out like this!”

Tammy pulled her arm tightly.

“Tammy, what Henry said is true. I’m afraid Elliot can’t stand it! I have to find him!” Avery pushed Tammy’s hand away and continued to walk outside.

Chapter 1087

Tammy froze in place, startled.

Is what Henry said true?

Elliot is not the young master of the Foster family. Elliot killed Jaxson Foster?

OMG!...

If it wasn’t for her holding on to the column next to her in time, she might have fallen down when her ankles softened!

This news was so scary! She was dizzy and felt like she was having a nightmare.

After Avery came out of the villa, the bodyguard immediately caught up with her.

The bodyguard advised, “Boss, calm down! If you run out like this now, you will attract onlookers, Mr. Foster has gone outside, but he shouldn’t have gone far.

If you call him, he should be back soon. “

Avery’s chest rose and fell rapidly. She turned on her phone, found his number and dialed it.

The phone was on, but he didn't answer.

The bodyguard supported Avery and sent her to the villa, "Boss, you stay in the villa, I'll find him! I'll find him and ask him to call you back. There are many people outside, you are dressed in Going out like this will be discussed by others. And it will also stain the wedding dress."

She told Elliot that no matter what happened today, the wedding must be done.

She took a deep breath and calmed herself down a little.

"Go to him. Find him and bring him back immediately. If he refuses to come back, tell him that I'm waiting for him." Avery's eyes were red, and he explained to the bodyguard.

"Okay." The bodyguard sent her to the villa, then turned around and strode away.

Outside the resort.

Elliot is under investigation by the police.

"Mr. Foster, we contacted the hospital just now. Your nephew is not dead. So you will not be in trouble."

Elliot: "He is not my nephew. I have nothing to do with the Foster family."

The people of the Foster family, the outside world doesn't care so much. The main reason is that Henry said that you killed his father with your own hands...

Is it true?" The police officer asked cautiously.

After Elliot was silent for a moment, his Adam's apple rolled: "Yes. I killed Jaxson Foster."

"You were underage, right?"

"yes."

"Can you tell me why you killed Jaxson Foster? This matter Now is fermenting on the Internet, and it doesn't affect you very well. If you can give a reasonable explanation here, we can help you publicize it.”

“No.” Without hesitation, he rejected the other party's kindness.

Elliot didn't want to make Shea's incident public, because it was a deep scar for both Shea and him.

If one more person knows, it will hurt him.

He doesn't need the sympathy of outsiders.

Chapter 1088

In the villa.

Avery received a call from the bodyguard.

“Boss, I found Mr. Foster! But it's a little messy outside now!”

The voice of the bodyguard came from the phone. Together, there are loud voices.

“I don't know what's going on, but suddenly a lot of people rushed over and called Mr. Foster a murderer! These people don't feel like normal people...

Because the police were also on the scene, they dared to come around and make trouble!” The bodyguard said, and suddenly let out a low roar, as if arguing with someone.

Avery hung up the phone and ran outside immediately.

“Avery! Where are you going?!” Tammy immediately caught up with her when she saw her impulsiveness.

“Elliot is in danger, I'm going to find him!” Avery quickly walked out of the villa gate with her heavy skirt.

After she went out, her footsteps stopped abruptly.

Eric held Layla and stood in front of her.

Eric already knew what happened on the Internet, so he came to see her, “Are you going to find Elliot? It's very chaotic outside now. I've asked his bodyguard to support him, so don't go."

Avery heard his words, but didn't take them into her heart.

"Bring Layla into the house! I have to go out and see."

With that, she walked around him and strode down the steps.

Eric took a deep breath, handed Layla to Tammy, and chased after her.

There was chaos outside the resort.

A large group of people came from nowhere and surrounded Elliot.

These people not only abused him with fierce words, but also took pictures of him with their mobile phones.

Although the bodyguards were protecting him, they couldn't stretch their limbs because there were so many people around.

"Elliot, You devil with blood on your hands! If you don't spit out the black money, you will be dragged to h-e-l-l by the specter sooner or later."

"Elliot's wife and children won't die!"

Elliot frowned and looked at the source of the sound!

After seeing the middle-aged man who said that his wife and children were going to die, he immediately pushed aside the bodyguards in front of him and strode towards the man!

"Elliot!" An exclamation came from outside the crowd.

Avery, wearing a white wedding dress, strode over.

Everyone was stunned when they saw Avery.

No one expected that the bride would run out of the resort.

Elliot saw her anxious little face and clenched fists, and immediately forgot where to swing.

When the middle-aged man standing in front of him saw him absent-minded, he immediately raised his fist and smashed his head.

After the first person started, the second person, the third person... also followed suit.

Elliot felt that he was being dragged down by countless pairs of sharp claws. He seemed to have fallen into an endless hell and his body was constantly being tortured and tortured from all directions.

Avery saw when Elliot was pushed down and besieged, her tears fell suddenly.

“Elliot!” She desperately pushed the people around in front of her away and roared, “Let him go. Stop it. You thugs. You lunatics.”

The police and bodyguards rushed to help immediately.

Chapter 1089

Soon, the violent crowd was repelled.

Avery walked through the crowd, ran to Elliot’s side, and hugged his tense body!

“Elliot! Don’t be afraid. They are all ignorant madmen. You are not a sinner.”

After the perpetrator was taken away by the police, the crowd of onlookers did not stop taking pictures with their mobile phones.

The video of Elliot being beaten quickly spread to the Internet. This kind of news of dragging the big man off the shrine has always caused huge heated discussions.

[Oh my God! Is this really Elliot? He looks so miserable. To be beaten up by so many people in the street... If this were me, I would never dare to see anyone again.]

[Have you seen it? He didn’t dare to fight back. It shows that he really killed people.]

responsible. justice is in everyone's heart, let this b*stard die.]

[Isn't he getting married today? It seems that this marriage is impossible to end, right? If I were a bride, I would definitely run away]

...

Mid-range community.

Nathan trembled with anger after seeing the video of Elliot being beaten. This incident made him more angry than Elliot not giving him money.

Although he and Elliot have no normal father-son relationship, Elliot is his biological son after all. Seeing his son being bullied like this, he felt that all those fists were smashed into his face, which made him particularly embarrassed.

If he is not in Aryadelle, he can ignore this matter but now Elliot is being bullied under his nose. How can he just sit back and ignore it?

Zion sneered after watching the video several times and said, "It's really useless. I thought he was so good and he didn't even know how to fight back when he was beaten."

"So many people beaten Elliot, how can he fight back? Have you never been beaten? Zion, You really a useless b*stard." Nathan yelled loudly and reprimanded.

"Dad, what are you yelling at me for? It's not that I beat him... Besides, he had someone beat you before. Now, shouldn't you be happy to see him beaten?"

"Why am I so happy! It's my son! Even if he beats me up, he's still my son!"

Nathan raised his voice, his eyes were scarlet, "The house we live in now was bought with his money! Although he wouldn't give me a lot of money. If you ask him for a little money in the future, he will definitely give it!"

"Why are you so angry, it's true that he killed someone, he deserves to be beaten!" Zion got emotional and couldn't help but talk back.

Nathan slapped Zion's face and said, ""Shut up your mouth. You b*stard, You know Elliot your younger brother. If you have nothing to do, go back to Bridgedale for me! Take your sister and get out of here! Seeing you two trash, I have a headache!"

Zion covered his face, exhaled heavily and strode back to his room to pack his luggage.

Nathan was so upset that he put his phone in his pocket and walked quickly to the door to change his shoes.

In the resort.

Avery helped Elliot back to the villa.

Footprints were all over Elliot's clothes. The straight suit that had been ironed was now wrinkled, making him look embarrassed.

When The two returned to the villa, the portrait in the villa was pressed to pause.

It wasn't until Avery helped Elliot into the master bedroom, and until Layla's cry came, everyone was relieved.

"Don't cry baby Layla." Tammy picked Layla up and wanted to coax her but she didn't know how.

Eric came forward to take Layla over and carried her away from the depressing living room.

In master bedroom.

Avery unfastened the jacket on him and took it off. Then She went to the bathroom and brought a basin of warm water to wipe the blood and dust on his face and hands.

They had known each other for so many years, and this was the first time she saw him being bullied.

Avery took a towel and wiped his stern pale face, his voice choked, "Elliot, I know you're feeling very uncomfortable now but... our wedding..."

Avery broke down in tears when she said this.

Do they want to continue their wedding?

Chapter 1090

They agreed before that even if Henry made everything public, they would continue the wedding normally.

But now Elliot mental state makes her heartache. She wanted to continue the wedding, but didn't want to force him.

There were so many guests at the scene, although they were all his friends, but it was difficult to guarantee that everyone was not looking at him with the mood of watching a good show.

Her tears dripped down Elliot's trousers.

Elliot looked at her sad appearance, and his voice was desolate and hoarse, "Don't cry."

Hearing his voice, her reason returned to her body.

"I'm not crying. There's nothing to cry about." she said, carrying the sink to the bathroom and putting it down, then grabbed a brand-new suit from the closet.

"Now that things have spread, we don't have to worry anymore." Avery put the suit down on the bed, and unbuttoned his shirt one by one.

His shirt was not only dirty but wrinkled.

Avery didn't want to see him in wrinkled clothes.

In the past so many years, Elliot had always been a handsome and noble son. Even now everyone called him a murderer, but in her eyes, he was still the noble and glamorous Elliot.

“Elliot, don’t care what others say, it has nothing to do with us. We will get married and live a happy life...” Having said this, the next words choked.

Avery unbuttoned his shirt and saw him covered in bruises.

The tears she managed to hold back burst again after seeing the injury on his body.

Those savage bastards, why did they bully Elliot? Dmn them!

“Does it hurt?” Her fingers trembling slightly, landed on his wound.

“Don’t cry. I promised you that no matter what, it won’t affect our wedding.” Her sloppy reason gradually gathered up after meeting her tears.

Just like what she said, Henry has already laid out all his cards.

Nothing will ever be worse than the present.

“Yeah! Elliot, in this life, I don’t want anyone but you. Even if you’re a really heinous villain, I’ll admit it!” Avery looked at his resolute eyes with tears in her eyes, “wait for me here, I will go and get the medicine.”

Avery turned around, wiping away her tears. When she came out of the master bedroom, everyone saw her and stepped forward.

“Avery, how is Elliot? Is he all right?”

“Should the wedding continue? It will be auspicious in half an hour.”

“Avery, you have finally come this far, but don’t be influenced by the outside world. What happened has already passed, as long as Elliot treats you well now is enough.”

Everyone’s comfort fell in Avery’s ears.

Avery nodded: “We’re fine. The wedding will continue. I’ll go and get him medicine.”

“You stay here and don’t move, I’ll get the medicine.” Mike strode out.

Chad chased after him to get medicine.

“This Henry has such big ambitions.” Chad complained to Mike about the news he had inquired, “I heard that he asked my boss for shares in Sterling Group. Do you think he has a big heart?”

Mike said, “Is he good? It’s easy to get hold of Elliot. If you don’t speak up, you will have no chance in the future.”

“The company was founded by my boss and it is my boss’s hard work. Of course my boss won’t let him be slaughtered. If my boss is such a threat, the company has been torn apart a long time ago!”

“Elliot still have a boss? he has killed people. Don’t you think it’s scary?” Mike teased coldly.

Chapter 1091

Chad replied: “Avery doesn’t think it’s scary. What’s so scary about me? Do you think Avery has no brains?”

Mike said worriedly, “Even if you think he’s okay, but other people don’t think so. I really I’m worried that their children will be affected. If only Elliot could come forward and explain his motive for the murder.”

Chad said firmly, “My boss won’t explain it. He hates talking to others the most. But I believe that he must have justified reasons for doing such extreme things. For example, self-defense.”

“I know your boss doesn’t bother to explain to others. He doesn’t even explain to Avery, let alone other people? Avery can’t stand his stinky temper. Elliot’s dragging him to death and he’s been taught a lesson today!”

“Are you gloating? If my boss is guilty, the law will punish him. What happened today’s Plan which is completely organized? Those people will be punished and no one can escape!” Chad said angrily.

“It is estimated that this is the first time in Elliot’s life that he has suffered such humiliation. It's tragic."

"Shut up your mouth. Elliot is Avery's husband now. You better bless him in peace, otherwise Avery will cry even more. "

Why do you keep pressing Avery on me?"

"Because only she can hold you down your crow's mouth!"

After a while, Mike took the medicine box and handed it to Avery.

"Why don't the wedding be delayed for half an hour? It will be 12 o'clock soon."

Mike glanced at the time and discussed with Avery.

Avery hesitated for a moment, then nodded: "We'll go when I change his clothes."

"Well. Also, you have to put on makeup because Your face looks like a crying face." Mike reminded.

"Got it." She turned around and entered the room with the medicine box.

Mike came out of the villa and planned to inform the officiant of the wedding that the wedding was postponed.

I ran into a bodyguard and hurried over.

"In a panic, what's wrong?" Mike asked.

The bodyguard wondered, "A middle-aged man came to the door of the resort, saying it was President Foster's father, and he had to break in. I asked him to bring out the invitation, but he said no. He insisted that he was President Foster's father.Why don't you go and see if he is President Foster's father!"

Mike said: "How do I know who his father is... Chad, Go and see! "

Chad pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose, "Why don't I go and inform my boss! Because I don't know who his biological father is...I haven't seen him!"

Today, Henry exposed Before all the scandals, Elliot didn't tell the people around him, except Avery.

"Are you sure you're going to tell Elliot? Elliot didn't invite his biological father which means they have a bad relationship." Mike whispered to Chad, "Why don't you just shoot people away! So that he won't get upset."

Chad thought about it. After checking the feasibility, he nodded.

20 minutes later.

Avery put medicine on Elliot's wounds. She changed him into a new dress, then held his hand and came out of the villa.

When the two came out of the villa, they suddenly heard a sharp scream from the gate of the resort.

Elliot recognized who the voice came from almost instantly.

It's Nathan!

His body tensed instantly, and the big palm conditioned reflex released Avery's hand.

"Elliot..." Avery saw his face ashen, and there was a huge fear in his heart!

There was a strong murderous aura in his eyes!

Avery called his name, but Elliot turned a deaf ear as if he couldn't hear her voice at all.

Elliot took a step forward and strode towards the gate of the resort.

Chapter 1092

The entrance gate of the resort.

Mike and Chad miscalculated Nathan's explosive power.

Some people just rush and leave. And some people can't be driven away.

Nathan has been mixed for most of his life with full of brute force and sloppy skills. He collapsed to the ground, screaming. In fact, the bodyguard didn't touch him at all.

The bodyguard didn't dare to touch him rashly. Today's situation is too conflicted.

At first, this person said that he was Elliot's biological father.

Second, things are too ugly and will attract a large number of nearby residents to watch, which will inevitably affect the wedding.

After Elliot rushed over, he saw Nathan who was rolling on the ground, the blood in his body 'pumped' and exploded!

In the morning, he became enemies with Henry, which exhausted his patience and completely chilled his heart.

Now Nathan came to his wedding scene to make trouble again, as if God deliberately turned against him, making it impossible for him to get married today!

He has become a villain known by thousands of people, and he doesn't care that his reputation is worse now.

"What are you doing here?!" Elliot strode up in front of Nathan and pulled Nathan's collar up.

Everyone watched him lift Nathan up from the ground, feeling that he was going to send Nathan back to the West in the next second!

"I saw that you were beaten up! So I come here to see you. What's the matter, you b*stard, you got angry outside and put your anger on his head? Hurry up and let go!" Nathan roared.

Avery wanted to ask him to stop, but couldn't make a sound. She knew that he was so angry now that if his emotions didn't come out, he would suppress it in his heart and cause problems!

Nathan hit the muzzle of the gun.

“Avery, go to the auditorium first!” Mike felt that Elliot had lost his mind, and the next scene might be more violent and bloody. He didn’t want Avery to see such a picture.

Mike forcibly took Avery away and walked towards the auditorium.

In the grand and splendid auditorium, there were no empty seats for guests.

When everyone saw Mike and Avery coming in, there were puzzled expressions on their faces.

The wedding ceremony has been delayed by 10 minutes.

Although the master of ceremonies had already informed that the wedding ceremony would be postponed for 30 minutes. But seeing the bride’s dejected look, everyone couldn’t help but guess in their hearts whether the wedding could be held smoothly.

Avery raised her eyes and looked at Elliot’s well-arranged auditorium. She liked pink, so the entire tone of the auditorium was dominated by pink. and She liked flowers, so there were flowers of all colors everywhere in the auditorium.

Originally, she should stand here with Elliot now, and made an oath of love in front of all her relatives and friends, but she was very uncertain.

She didn’t know if Elliot still remembered the wedding, let alone if he would come.

Mike helped her to the front row of chairs and sat down.

“Avery, sit here, I’ll go out and have a look.” Before Mike went out, he asked Tammy to come and accompany her.

At the entrance of the resort, Nathan wanted to break free from Elliot’s restraint, but Elliot refused to let go of him.

And just like that, the father and son fought!

The bodyguard watched, not knowing what to do.

After all, Nathan was Elliot's biological father. The father and son fought, and it was difficult for outsiders to interfere.

Moreover, Elliot had a good physique, so he would not suffer at all in the face of Nathan.

Soon, Nathan was pinned to the ground!

Chad stood beside him and tried to persuade him to fight: "Boss, hand him over to the bodyguard! You go and hold the wedding ceremony with Avery first."

Chapter 1093

Before Chad's words were settled, Nathan scolded and chattered: "Elliot! You bastard! You don't even ask me what I'm here to do! You fcking, you have the ability to beat up Henry. You just saw that I'm your biological father, so you can't really do anything to you..."

Elliot was disgusted when he saw his constantly pursed lips.

What Henry said was even more disgusting!

If Henry hadn't brought Adrian back to Aryadelle to find Elliot to defraud money, the latter series of things would not have happened.

This tragedy was caused by Henry, and he dared to come here to find fault, he didn't know whether to live or die!

Even if today's wedding is over, Elliot has to teach Henry a lesson and let him never dare to jump again!

In the auditorium.

Avery heard hurried footsteps behind her. She looked up to the side and saw Mike coming over.

"What about others?" Avery's voice was uncontrollably cold. She waited so long, and Elliot hasn't come yet. Is he not going to come?

“He was Injured and sent to the hospital.” Mike sighed heavily, “Let’s go eat first!”

Her fingers clenched tightly. She should have gone to the hospital to see Elliot, but she couldn’t move. She just wanted to stay here and not go anywhere.

“Avery, I know you’re sad, but if things are like this today, your wedding will definitely not happen. You go to dinner with us first and don’t let the wedding go and people will starve first.” Mike grabbed her arm, want to take her away.

She stubbornly retracted her arms and refused to listen to Mike.

Tammy frowned and said, “Mike, take the guests to dinner first. I’ll sit here with Avery for a while. It’s not that Avery got married, of course she can’t understand how uncomfortable she is now.”

” Okay, I’ll take the guests away first.” After Mike finished speaking, he turned and invited everyone to the banquet hall for dinner.

In the huge auditorium, only Avery and Tammy were left.

Tammy sat down beside her and comforted, “Avery, even if you and Elliot don’t have this wedding, you will grow old together, Really. All the bad things happened today, and you will never meet again in the future. I’m in trouble.”

Avery lowered her eyes, tears rustling down: “Why can’t Elliot control himself? After saying that the wedding is going to be completed today, why can’t he control his temper a little... ..”

Tammy held her cool hand and said, “The wedding can be done later. What happened today is really scary, not only us but also the other guests were frightened. Avery, Henry chose to expose these today, just to be sure. Let you all have a good wedding. Just wait until today is over.”

“Hopefully!” Avery raised her head slightly to calm herself down quickly, “You go with me and change your clothes!”

“Okay.”

In the hospital.

After the doctor treated Elliot’s wounds on his face and hands, he strode out of the consultation room before he could tell him what to pay attention to.

“Boss, where are you going?” Chad was very afraid at this moment that he would do something even more outrageous.

He beat Nathan with a bruised nose and a swollen face, which was not humanlike.

Although Nathan was weaker than him and Elliot was also a violent temper.

Nathan was beaten hard, and he didn’t care that Elliot was his own son, so he was also injured.

“Go back and get married.” The anger in his dark eyes had been extinguished.

Whether it is Henry or Nathan, the farce they brought can be temporarily forgotten.

Today was his and Avery’s wedding, and Avery was still waiting for him. So he had to rush back to marry her.

Half an hour later, he rushed to the auditorium. The auditorium was empty. Just like his heart at the moment, a piece of desolation.

Didn’t Avery wait for me?

Chapter 1094

“Boss, the guests have all gone to the banquet hall to eat.” Chad asked a waiter outside the auditorium, and got this answer, “Why don’t you go to the banquet hall to eat first! Maybe Avery is also eat there.”

Elliot took out his phone from his pocket. He didn’t know when the screen of the mobile phone crack but still usable.

He found Avery’s number and dialed it. Soon, the call was connected.

“Avery.”

“Elliot.” The two spoke almost at the same time.

“Where are you now?”

“Where are you now?” The two said at the same time again.

They fell silent at the same time. After a few seconds, Avery spoke first: “I’m in the villa. What about you?”

“I’ll go to you now.”

“Well.”

After hanging up, Avery breathed a sigh of relief.

Listening to his tone, she should have calmed down by now.

As Tammy said, after getting through today, their lives will gradually become stable.

After that, no one could break them again.

Five minutes later, Elliot returned to the villa.

The moment the two looked at each other and were shocked.

Elliot didn’t expect that Avery had already taken off her wedding dress, and took off her makeup and styling.

Now she was wearing an everyday long dress, and her face was the plain .

But Avery was shocked that Elliot face was injured and wrapped in gauze.

“Aren’t we going to have a wedding?” he asked nervously.

She took a sad breath: “Elliot, it’s past 2 o’clock in the afternoon...”

“Didn’t you say that no matter what happens, there will be a wedding?”

“You’re like this, are you sure you want to have a wedding? Look at your clothes, it’s dirty again. The injury on your face, are you trying to scare others?

If you really want to have a wedding with me, why don’t you just do the ceremony with me and then fight?”

She I didn’t want to blame him, but he actually questioned her!

While she was waiting for him in the auditorium, Elliot didn't think for a second about how she felt.

Elliot knew that he was wrong, so he didn't say anything.

She took him to the bedroom and said, "You go and change your clothes first. I'll ask the nanny to bring lunch. I figured it out, it's fine even if we don't have the ceremony, anyway, it's our wedding today."

"Do you think that I'm ashamed now?" Elliot asked as he entered the bedroom. Avery took out a set of clean clothes from the closet and put it on the bed, and replied casually: "If you feel ashamed yourself and you are afraid that others will feel ashamed of you. And even if you feel ashamed, you are not alone. We have long been tied to each other together, and our child."

He took off his jacket and untied his tie, "How is Layla?"

Avery said truthfully, "My daughter cried. You don't have to worry about others now, you take care of it. You can do it yourself. You stay at home for the next few days and don't go anywhere. Wait until the limelight is over."

"You just feel ashamed of me." You probably vented all your anger outside, so don't care what Avery said for now What, he is not angry.

"So what if I'm ashamed, what if I despise you, do you want to break up with me?" Avery complained, taking the dirty clothes and put into the dirty clothes basket.

By the time Avery came out of the bathroom, Elliot had already changed his clothes.

"We got married today. You are my wife now." Elliot deep eyes fell on her face. Avery said angrily, "It's better to have a wife in your eyes. Look at how embarrassed you are now. If we are photographed, we can post it on the Internet to make up a big drama."

Chapter 1095

“Don’t care what others say.” Elliot took her small hand, put her in his arms, rubbed his chin on her head and asked, “Have you eaten?”

“I didn’t eat much in the morning, and I was very hungry at noon. So I ate it.” Avery said.

When Elliot saw Nathan at that time, it was as if he had gone crazy.

Avery was afraid that Elliot would strike someone lightly or seriously and cause problems.

Elliot said hoarsely, “I don’t know. Nathan should still be alive. If it wasn’t for him, there wouldn’t be so much trouble at all. Even if he stayed well in Bridgedale and asked me for money, I wouldn’t be so angry.”

“He is indeed not a good father. Elliot, don’t be angry. What happens to him in the future has nothing to do with us.”

“Well.”

....

In the hospital.

Although Nathan was covered with injuries, fortunately, he was not seriously injured. After the doctor treated his wound, he was advised to be hospitalized.

But Nathan found himself able to walk and move, so he refused to be hospitalized.

After coming out of the hospital, Nathan called Zion.

“Hurry up and pick me up at the hospital!”

Zion said, “I’m going to the airport with Gwen now!”

“F*ck! You don’t listen to what I said? Hurry up and pick me up at the hospital!”

Otherwise, you won’t be able to see me in the future!” Nathan said angrily.

It’s not entirely because he was beaten by Elliot.

This chapter is provided by naijdate.com. Visit naijdate.com for daily update.

Because when Elliot beat him, he also punched Elliot twice. After punching Elliot twice, his heart was even more uncomfortable.

Thinking that Elliot is now being attacked by Henry and being scolded by the whole network, he may not be able to hold his head up in Aryadelle in the future, and it may not be so easy for him to ask Elliot for money in the future. It can't go on like this.

Elliot is no longer a member of the Foster family, but a descendant of the White family. Now this whole thing is a game between the White family and the Foster family! How could Nathan let the White family lose?

Nathan dialed the next number.

Now Elliot hates him to the bone so he can't communicate with Elliot. But he can only communicate with the people around Elliot.

Nathan inquired that the person with the best relationship with Elliot was Ben Schaffer.

Ben Schaffer is in charge of the financial power of Sterling Group, and he must have the right to speak beside Elliot.

After he called Ben Schaffer, he reported his identity, and then told Ben Schaffer his plans and requirements.

After listening to him, Ben Schaffer agreed to his request without hesitation.

"My phone has recorded it. If you don't care when you talk, I will let my son make this recording public." Nathan threatened.

Ben Schaffer said, "I promised on behalf of Elliot. The money will definitely be given by Elliot. Your purpose is to ensure that your son and daughter will be safe for the rest of their lives. Of course Elliot can do it. But you will definitely not ask for it. Elliot's money is not from the wind, and at the same time, he is not a stingy person. If you can do what you say, Elliot will definitely not treat them badly.”

“Hey, this kid looks down on me. They don’t even want to talk to me, and they beat me up when they see me.” Nathan let out a depressing sigh.

“Uncle White, if you were Elliot, you might be more impulsive.” Ben Schaffer said, “If you didn’t come to Aryadelle, Elliot’s life would not be destroyed.”

“Okay! Don’t blame me. I won’t admit my mistake!” Nathan said angrily and hung up the phone.

At night.

Ben Schaffer came to the villa and looked for Elliot.

“Mr Foster, should you rest in the afternoon?” Ben Schaffer looked at the wound on his face and said cautiously, “Everyone cares about you, why don’t you go and meet everyone?”

Elliot glanced at Avery, said in a low voice, “My wife won’t let me.”

Chapter 1096

Avery felt that the injury on his face would scare the children who came to the wedding, so let him stay in the villa, while resting, think about what happened today, if it was better to do it all over again solution.

In fact, she was just resentful. Elliot had half the responsibility for the failure of the wedding today.

“Avery, why don’t you let him go out to meet the guests? Everyone wants to see him.” Ben Schaffer cleared his throat and asked,

“He is covered in injuries.” Avery saw Elliot throwing the blame on him, so he didn’t Save face for him, “It’s all over the a-s-s.”

Elliot was speechless

Ben Schaffer was shocked: “Elliot, are you hurt so badly? If it’s so serious, then you should rest well.”

Elliot got up from the sofa and said, “I’m fine.”

“Oh.” Ben Schaffer was in a dilemma.

Elliot walked up to Avery and discussed with her, “Today is our wedding, it doesn’t seem good for us to stay in the room all the time. I’ll accompany the guests.”

Avery said, “OK, then go but you must be back before nine o’clock.”

Elliot agreed, then raised his wrist and glanced at his watch.

He has an hour and a half of active time.

Ben Schaffer said, “Avery, do you want to go to the banquet hall with us? In addition to seeing Elliot, everyone also wants to see you!”

Avery felt a little awkward.

The events of the day were like a sharp blade, which carved a deep scar in her heart. She can’t forget the scene when she entered the auditorium wearing a wedding dress and was surrounded by so many eyes. Although these people are obviously friends and relatives of the two of them, she still feels a little ashamed.

“Wife, let’s go together.” Elliot held her hand in the palm of his hand, “After today’s dinner, some guests have left. There are not so many guests now.”

“Yes, some guests have left tonight and some stay here. Yes, they have a good relationship.” Ben Schaffer said, “Although what happened today is sensational, it is not good for Elliot’s reputation, and there is a lot of scolding on the Internet, but it will not affect Elliot’s career. As long as Elliot’s career will not be affected, everything else is trivial.”

After being persuaded by Ben Schaffer, Avery felt better.

Avery worriedly said, “Elliot, bring more bodyguards when you go out in the future. I don't want to see you bullying others, let alone seeing you being bullied."

"Avery, don't worry, I called a team of bodyguards again. Come here. Specially protect Elliot and you. Today's accident during the day will not happen again."

Avery followed the two of them to the banquet hall.

When everyone saw them coming, they immediately surrounded them enthusiastically.

"Do you two want to recite your wedding vows now?" Tammy knew that Avery regretted not being able to hold the wedding ceremony today, so she coaxed, "It happens that the master of ceremonies is here, so you can go through the process again!"

Avery suddenly Blushing: "Don't make trouble, I didn't bring the draft oath."

"Elliot, you missed the appointment at noon and made Avery cry in the auditorium. Now you must recite your wedding oath in front of everyone!"

Tammy was angry with Elliot.

Avery took Tammy's arm and told her not to embarrass Elliot.

then Elliot took Avery's hand and walked to the stage.

The lights in the banquet hall suddenly dimmed, and the spotlight came on, hitting both of them.

The guests were very tacit and quiet and waiting for Elliot's oath.

Chapter 1097

"Once, I thought I would walk the road of my life alone. Until I met you, Avery. You let me know what love is what righteousness is, and let me I know what completeness is. With you, my life is complete. I can't guarantee that every day will be smooth, but I can guarantee that every day that follows. I will be like this momentarily with all my heart To love you."

Avery looked at him with a surprised expression, in disbelief!

Because the words Elliot said were completely different from the oath he wrote before!

“I know you must be thinking, why is what I said different from the draft?” He looked at her surprised face and said word by word, “Because what happened today has made you wronged, I am very sorry. So there are a lot of things I want to say to you in my heart.”

Avery’s eyes suddenly became wet.

Although this was not a formal wedding ceremony, it moved her even more.

She took the microphone from him and stared at him and said, “Elliot, I know we are very different. You are like a burning flame, and I am like a piece of wood. But you are not ordinary Fire and will not destroy me. What you bring to me is only unforgettable warmth and touching. Although we often quarrel, I will never forget the changes and sacrifices you have made for me. I will always love you, Until the end of life.” The Audience was boiling.

“Kiss one! Kiss one!” Everyone exclaimed.

Eric immediately covered Layla’s eyes.

Layla raised her little hand and lifted Eric’s hand away, “I want to see them kiss!” After a pause, she pursed her lips and said aggrieved, “I thought my father didn’t come to marry my mother at noon, and my mother must be angry. I thought the two of them were going to quarrel again, and they won’t see each other for a long time without talking...”

Now that her parents were so loving, Layla was also relieved.

.....

In a rental room.

Henry was sitting on the sofa, swiping his phone and watching news on the Internet.

Cole's face was swollen like a bun, and he couldn't sleep because of the pain, so he sat in the living room.

"Dad, things are so big today that it doesn't seem to affect Elliot."

Henry said coldly, "How do you know it didn't affect them? They didn't even get married. That's not an impact? If I can't get the money, I can't make him feel better. "Don't think about waiting for the limelight to pass. After a while, I'll take out these things!"

Cole frowned, "Dad, do we really take his hands from him? Can't I get the money inside? Even if I can get the old house back! These houses outside are not only expensive, but also of poor quality. Our old house is better."

Henry glared at him and said, "It's not that you have no money to spend and you encouraged me to sell the old house? Elliot is so determined that he refuses to give us money, what can we do?"

Cole's brain started to run at a high speed, and he began to think of a way.

At this moment, Adrian came out of the room.

When Cole saw him come out, he reflexively said, "Uncle, you haven't slept yet?"

Adrian replied, "I'm thirsty."

Adrian was with them, although he didn't receive much care, But they were much more polite to him than Nathan and his son.

After all, Elliot is Henry's younger brother and Cole's uncle.

"Uncle, do you have a good relationship with Avery?" Cole suddenly thought of this.

Adrian said, "Avery was very kind to me but I made her angry."

Avery asked him to live at Elliot's house, but Adrian was really afraid of Elliot, so he left with Henry.

After that, they have no contact.

"Oh." Cole had a bold idea in his heart.

Chapter 1098

After Adrian returned to the room after drinking water, Cole looked at his father. Cole expressed his thoughts, "Dad, we can use uncle, Adrian. Avery has a fatal flaw, that is, being soft-hearted."

Henry listened to his words, pondered for a few seconds, and said, "Why Use him? Your uncle is a fool and he can't do anything at all!"

Cole squinted his fox eyes and said, "We don't need him to do anything. We just need to use him to threaten Avery. She must have felt guilt towards my aunt for dying to save Avery's son. When she treated my uncle, she didn't even know his true identity. Maybe she came to give my aunt an apology. My uncle treated her."

Henry said with a solemn expression: "She is sorry to your aunt, but not to your uncle. If you use your aunt to threaten her, it will definitely work. But using your uncle to threaten may not work. Is it possible that we are going to kill your uncle to threaten her?"

"Of course not. Avery will not die. My uncle is dumb, very similar to my aunt. Dad, think about it and this is our last chance. Elliot's temper is not controlled by anyone at all. Even if we kill Elliot, he will not give us a cent of his property. And he listened to Avery's words, If we can control Avery, we will control my uncle."

Henry nodded and agreed with his son's point of view.

Elliot's temper is indeed very different from that of ordinary people. If these scandals are used to threaten ordinary people, ordinary people will definitely be willing to spend money to settle things down. But Elliot would not give in.

He would rather lose both than give in to threats from outsiders.

It is precisely because of his courage and tenacity, which is different from ordinary people, that he has reached the peak that no one else can reach in his entire life at such a young age!

“This matter needs to be planned well. If you rashly threaten Avery now, Avery may not be obedient.” Henry said, “Today Elliot was beaten, she must be distressed, let’s wait.”

In the Resort.

Avery drank some champagne.

What happened during the day, and what happened at night, made her emotional ups and downs.

She took a glass of champagne as the waiter passed her with champagne.

Elliot saw that she took a glass of champagne and wanted to dissuade her.

Avery was not good at drinking and gets drunk.

Getting drunk is not a good experience, Elliot was afraid that Avery would have a headache tomorrow.

“I’m happy tonight, I won’t drink any more.” After taking a sip of champagne, Avery didn’t forget to remind, “You can’t drink! You have an injury, so you can’t touch alcohol.”

“I don’t drink.” Elliot looked at her and said, “Avery, didn’t you say you will go back to rest at 9 o’clock? It will be 9 o’clock soon.”

“Oh...then you take Layla back to rest. I’ll play a little longer.” Avery drank With a sip of champagne, her cheeks flushed, “You are injured, but I am not.

Whoever hurt you, go back to rest obediently if you are hurt!”

Elliot was worried about her. What if he took his daughter back to rest and she went cup after cup?

Avery looked like she was drunk now.

Tammy said, "Elliot, take Layla back to rest. Avery will be fine. Your performance tonight is not bad. Keep it up!"

"If you return at 10 p.m. and don't go back to the room, I'll come to you." After saying this to Avery, Elliot walked towards Layla.

After Elliot walked away, Tammy took Avery's shoulders and asked, "Avery, what's the matter with you? Don't you hate drinking?"

Avery exhaled heavily, "I really hated drinking before, and I didn't understand why so many people like to drink. Now I understand."

Chapter 1099

Avery was very moved by Elliot's confession to her tonight.

However, she is also very regretful that the wedding they had planned for so long was ruined in a mess.

Even if the wedding was successfully held at noon today, she would still feel uncomfortable.

Henry is too much. He can expose these scandals anytime, but he chooses today!

"I used to think that most people in life are good people. But some people can always refresh my perception of bad people again and again." She raised her glass and took another sip.

Tammy said, "You mean Elliot's eldest brother, Henry, right? He's really disgusting. Even if Elliot isn't his brother, Elliot hasn't been bad to him all these years. I don't remember any old feelings, really It's so hateful."

"If Rosalie Foster was still alive, she would never allow Henry to do this."

“Well, Avery, don’t be angry. After today’s events, I found that I didn’t seem to have known Elliot before.” Tammy recalled that Elliot was on the stage and looked at Avery’s words affectionately, “I only thought he was a successful businessman before, and money must be the first in his heart, but Tonight, I found out that he is actually a man who values love and righteousness.”

“But God is not fair to him. Anything he encounters on ordinary people may not be able to endure.” Avery put the cup, drank the wine in one go, “I feel very sorry for him. Thinking that he will be charged as a ‘murderer’ in the future, my heart is in a mess.”

Tammy asked Said, “Do you know why he killed Jaxson Foster? Everyone is talking about this.”

“Jaxson Foster abused Shea, if he didn’t kill Jaxson Foster, then the person who died would be Shea.” Avery put down the empty glass and said coldly, “Why do I say God? It’s unfair, because Elliot has not been treated well since he was born. Neither his original family nor the future Foster family have given him normal warmth.”

At 10 p.m., Elliot came to the banquet hall to pick up Avery.

Avery was drunk, lying on the table, babbling, not knowing what he was talking about.

Elliot helped her up from the table and looked at Tammy with cold eyes: “That’s what you said you would take good care of her?”

Tammy shrank her neck and looked innocent, “I said I would send her back to the room, She doesn’t come back. She has to wait for you to pick it up.”

“How much did she drink?” Elliot smelled a strong smell of alcohol on her.

Tammy stretched out a finger.

“A cup?” He was surprised.

Tammy shook her head.

“She insists on drinking, what can I do?” Tammy had a headache. “Hurry up and take her away. Although she can’t drink enough, her drink is okay. She was lying on her stomach when she was drunk, and she didn’t make trouble. But Tomorrow she will be uncomfortable.”

If eyes can kill, then Tammy is probably killed by Elliot’s eyes now. Elliot picked up Avery horizontally and strode out of the banquet hall.

Back at the villa, he put Avery on the bed.

She suddenly opened her moist eyes, stared at him without blinking, and asked earnestly, “Husband, are we...are we married today?”

Elliot took off her shoes and looked at her with deep eyes: “Well. What’s the matter?”

“Then...Are we going to have a bridal chamber tonight?”

Chapter 1100

Elliot didn’t expect that she was drunk and would think about such a thing in her mind.

His big palm rubbed her flushed cheeks: “Avery, you’ve had too much to drink. Have a good rest tonight. Don’t you feel bad?”

Avery looked at him with tears in her eyes, “I feel bad. Seeing you I’m so uncomfortable.”

“I’ll be fine in a few days. I’ll ask the nanny to bring some sober soup.” Elliot looked at her confused appearance and was very distressed, “You lie on the bed and don’t move around.”

“Where are you going?”

“I’ll call the nanny.” Elliot dialed the nanny’s cornet.

Soon, the nanny answered the phone.

He asked the nanny to bring the sober soup. Before the words were settled, Avery shouted softly, “nanny, I want to eat ice cream!” The nanny was stunned for a moment.

Elliot looked back helplessly at her drunken appearance: “Are you sure you want to eat ice cream?”

“I’m so hot, if you don’t give me ice cream, then I’ll take off my clothes...”

Elliot immediately hung up the call. He went to the bathroom to pick up a basin of warm water and wiped her face.

She lifted his arm, looking impatient: “I’m dizzy...don’t mess with me...”

“Will you drink in the future?” Elliot pinched her chin, forcibly wiping her face, “I know that today’s wedding didn’t go according to our original plan which makes you very uncomfortable. But the wedding is just a formality. Our days in the future are still very long.

After wiping her face, Avery became sober, “You prepared the wedding, how much time and energy did you put into our wedding today... Don’t you feel sorry for it?”

“What’s the use of regret?” Elliot put the towel in the basin, rubbed it, and wiped her face again, “Henry is afraid that he is incompetent at home right now.”

“He deserved it.” Avery suddenly raised her voice, “The more Henry wants to harm us, the better we have to live.”

“Well.” Elliot looked at her scarlet eyes and worried that Avery would have a headache tomorrow, “Is there any painkillers in the medicine bag you brought at noon?”

“What do you want painkillers for? Where are you hurting? I’ll show you.” Avery grabbed his arm, trying to sit up.

As a result, within two seconds of sitting up, Elliot lay back heavily. "Close your eyes and get a good night's sleep. You can take the painkiller when you wake up tomorrow. You won't be allowed to drink in the future." Elliot covered her with a quilt.

The slender arm was raised high and placed on the head, and a shallow snort came out of his mouth from time to time.

Elliot could see that Avery was suffering, but he couldn't bear it for her. He turned off the lights in the room, leaving only an orange bedside lamp.

After about a quarter of an hour, her eyes closed and her breathing gradually became even.

The door was knocked gently twice, Elliot strode to the door and opened the door.

The nanny brought the hangover soup and ice cream.

Elliot took the things and closed the door.

The hangover soup is packed in an insulated box, and Avery can drink it when she wakes up in the middle of the night.

Just... what to do with ice cream?

Avery did not sleep peacefully. Mainly a headache. After sleeping for a while, she woke up with a headache. She opened her eyes and saw Elliot holding an ice cream under the dim light and eating it gracefully.

She 'jumped' and got up from the bed!

"Elliot! Are you eating my ice cream?" Avery woke up instantly.

She remembered asking the nanny for ice cream. And most of the ice cream in Elliot's hand belonged to her.

Elliot was so frightened by her that a layer of cold sweat broke out on his back.

He was sitting by the bed, eating ice cream in pain, and brushing his mobile phone, but suddenly there was a scream behind him. Who can stand this?

Elliot will eat half of the ice cream and pass it to Avery.

“Why did you wake up so soon?” Elliot looked at her sullen face and coaxed, “I was afraid it would melt, so I helped you eat some.”

“Why didn’t you wake me up?” Avery took the ice cream, and started eating, “I said I’m hot but you still eat my Ice-cream. Wouldn’t you ask the nanny to bring another one?”

“Eat less Ice-cream.” Elliot touched her forehead, “Are you still dizzy?”

“I’m dizzy!” Avery frowned slightly, “Eating Ice-cream will make you feel more comfortable.”

“There was also hangover soup, would you like to drink some?”

“Wait I will drink it later.” Avery looked at Eye insulation box, the box was pink and very beautiful, “What kind of soup is it?”

“I’ll open it and see.” Elliot took the insulation box over and unscrewed the lid,

“It seems to be tomato and tofu soup.”

“I want to drink it.” Avery really wanted something sour right now.

Elliot immediately took out a small bowl and spoon and filled her with a bowl.

Avery gulps down the ice cream, drank two bowls of soup, satiated and lay down again.

Just when Avery thought she could sleep soundly, a disgusting feeling surged up and she couldn’t stop it!

“Ouch!”

Avery stepped on the carpet with her bare feet, and vomited in the trash can.

She vomited all the ice cream and hangover soup as she just ate.

Elliot walked over quickly, holding her in one hand and wiping her mouth with a tissue in the other.

“Will you want to drink in the future?” Elliot frowned and sighed.

Avery lifted him away and strode towards the bathroom.

Elliot immediately called the nanny and asked the nanny to clean up.

After Avery emptied the contents of his stomach, Elliot turned on the faucet and rinsed his face with cold water.

After vomiting, the uncomfortable feeling is much lessened. The hot feeling in her body also disappeared, but it was a little cold now.

By the time Avery came out of the bathroom, the nanny had cleaned the bedroom.

“Awake?” Elliot saw her eyes which much clearer.

Avery went to the bed, lay down and said, “I’ve never been drunk. I remember everything. We have three children, the oldest is almost eight years old and the youngest is less than a year old. We have many children and few old people. My parents are dead, and my grandparents and your parents are also dead... ah no, it’s not your father who died...”

“Avery, stop talking and sleep. ” Elliot lay down beside her and covered her with the quilt. “Be careful, it will be disgusting later.”

“What do people live for? Where do they go when they die? Is it possible that we think we are alive, but in fact they are Already dead? And the people we thought were dead actually went to another world to live?”

Elliot was speechless.

The next morning, Elliot was woken up by the ringing of his cell phone.

Avery drank too much last night and didn’t fall asleep until four in the morning.

She slept very deeply at the moment, and she was woken up with a terrible headache.

After Elliot answered the phone, he closed his eyes: "What's the matter?"

Chad's voice came from the other side of the phone, "Boss, Nathan turned himself in at the police station this morning. Would you like to go to the police station?"

Elliot opened his eyes abruptly, his eyes filled with chills, "What crime did he commit? Do you want me to get him? Let him die!"

"No." Chad explained, "Nathan said that he killed Jaxson Foster not Elliot."

The expression on Elliot's face suddenly froze.

Chad continued, "The police have informed Henry. The matter has been filed and Nathan should be sentenced to death. Would you like to go and have a look?"

Chapter 1102

12 o'clock at noon.

Avery woke up from hunger. After waking up, she looked at the empty room and was little confused. Her temples were aching, and she recalled what happened last night but her head hurt so much that she couldn't remember anything.

She got out of bed and walked out of the room.

In the living room, Mrs. Cooper was feeding Robert milk.

Seeing Avery coming out, Mrs. Cooper immediately said, "Avery, are you awake? Do you have a headache? Do you want to take a painkiller?"

Avery shook her head. Although the head hurts, it is acceptable.

"Where's Elliot? Why didn't I see him?" Avery looked around. But she wasn't like yesterday, she didn't see him for a while, and she panicked.

After all, the wedding was over and the security had been strengthened, so nothing should happen to him.

Mrs. Cooper said, "Elliot went out in the morning. He said he was going to the police station. If you are worried about him, you can call him. But are you hungry? Do you want to eat something first?"

Suddenly there was a growling sound in the stomach.

"You were vomiting a few times last night, you must be hungry." Mrs. Cooper finished feeding Robert with milk, then hugged Robert and planned to go to the nanny, "Can you eat something light?"

"Yeah. I was vomiting last night. How many times?" Avery only remembered the first time she vomited.

Mrs. Cooper said, "Yeah! Avery, don't drink so much alcohol in the future. You didn't go to bed until four o'clock in the morning last night. Mr. Foster has been taking care of you and I can't help even if I want to help, because you always mention some Strange request."

Avery opened her apricot eyes: "What kind of weird request?"

"You don't even remember?"

Avery shook her head shyly: "I only remember that I ate ice cream and then vomited."

"I don't know when you ate ice cream. I heard a lot of noise in your room after 1 a.m., so I went over and took a look. You had to make a fuss to go swimming...

You said that life has no meaning, so you have to do what you want to do immediately. You not only go swimming by yourself, but also let your husband go swimming with you."

Avery was speechless.

Mrs. Cooper smiled and continued, "The temperature was still a little low at night, so Mr. Foster gave you a bath. As a result, after you took a bath, you said you were hungry and wanted to eat barbecue. So again I brought you a barbecue, but it didn't take long for you to eat the barbecue, and then you vomited again. After you vomited, you took your husband to analyze the philosophy of life..."

Avery was still speechless. She didn't remember anything about what Mrs. Cooper said.

Fortunately, She can't remember, otherwise it would be more embarrassing.

Avery swore, "I'll never drink again. I was a little emotional last night, so I drank a little."

"Didn't you say you drank a bottle?" Mrs. Cooper said.

"Oh, maybe drink a bottle, I won't drink it in the future. It's really uncomfortable to be drunk." She said this, and went back to the room to get her mobile phone. If Avery didn't sleep until 4 o'clock last night, then Elliot probably didn't rest well.

Elliot went to the police station this morning. So, Avery found his number and dialed it.

Elliot quickly answered: "Avery, are you awake? Do you have a headache?"

Chapter 1103

Elliot deep voice came, which calmed her down.

Avery said, "I'm okay...I heard you went to the police station early in the morning. What happened?"

Elliot said word by word, "Nathan said that Jaxson Foster was killed by him. He turned himself in at the police station this morning, so I came to see."

Avery was startled.

Was Jaxson Foster killed by Nathan, How could this be?

"I'll be home soon, and I'll tell you when I get back." After Elliot finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Avery held the phone and came out of the room in a daze.

If Jaxson Foster was really killed by Nathan, then this matter has nothing to do with Elliot. And those who scold Elliot can also shut up.

For Elliot, this is undoubtedly a big happy event, but why is Nathan willing to surrender? When Nathan saw Elliot suffer, did his conscience find out?

Avery shook her head and thought, 'how could Nathan have a conscience like a scoundrel?'

Not long after, Elliot returned to the villa.

Seeing him, Avery immediately asked, "What's the matter? How could Nathan be willing to surrender? Who told him to surrender? What conditions did you give him?"

Elliot looked down at her anxious face, Said: "He is afraid that my career will be affected because of this incident. If my career is affected, I will definitely not give him any benefits in the future."

"Sure enough, it is for money! How much does he ask you?!"

"I guarantee that his son and daughter will have a good life." When Elliot said this, his Adam's apple rolled, "I said he was a scum, but he did his best to his children."

"But Nathan just took advantage of you." Avery was dissatisfied.

"Not really." Elliot loosened the collar of his shirt and sarcastically said, "He said I was the pride of their White family, so he couldn't see me being crushed. He naively thought that this incident would crush me. So he decided to sacrifice himself to preserve the pride of his White family."

"You mean, he carried this crime for you? Actually, Jaxson Foster's death has nothing to do with Nathan?"

"No. He said that Jaxson Foster was indeed killed by him. That night, he happened to pass by Foster's house. He saw me and Jaxson Foster scuffled together. After I seriously injured Jaxson Foster, he pretended to come over to help Jaxson Foster go to the hospital. On the way to the hospital, he will still have breath but Nathan killed Jaxson Foster on the way."

Avery seemed to be listening to a bizarre story, and was fascinated by it.

"Nathan can never tell this secret, so that he won't have to bear any criminal responsibility." Elliot said, "He asked me to change my surname to White, but I refused."

"So he is a conscience, and he doesn't want you to carry this back. Although you were underage at the time, you do not need to bear criminal responsibility for this matter, but public opinion will also affect you."

"You can say that."

"I never expected that a thug like Nathan would have a day when his conscience would find out." Avery said with emotion, "Henry looks like a man, but he is cruel."

Elliot held her and sat down on the sofa.

"People's hearts are very complicated. If I had no problem with my background, Henry would not be so cruel to me. He always knew that I killed Jaxson Foster, but he never made a public statement. It is estimated that his wife did not know about it." Elliot Although resents Henry, he can understand his behavior, "If I wasn't Nathan's son, Nathan wouldn't turn himself in today. If I wasn't his son, maybe he wouldn't have killed Jaxson."

Avery asked, "So you agreed to Nathan's request to guarantee the lives of Zion and Gwen in the future?"

"Yeah. It's up to me to decide how much money to give them." Elliot now has the initiative, "Nathan will be sentenced to death. Jaxson Foster is not an ordinary person, even if I want to protect Nathan, I can't get past Henry. Also, I won't protect Nathan."

Avery felt very complicated after hearing his words. She was shocked and sighed!

Chapter 1104

"Avery, do you remember what happened after you got drunk last night?" Elliot changed the topic lightly.

A blush suddenly appeared on Avery's face.

Avery: "Mrs. Cooper told me, you don't need to emphasize it to me again."

"Last night, you said that three children were not enough and you would have thirty children." Elliot looked at her flushed cheeks and chuckled, "You said To live to old age, to be born to old age. Did I say this is not a sow? Then..."

Avery was shocked by his absurd remarks until her scalp went numb.

"Then you started to learn how to croak. You also asked me if it looked like you learned it." Elliot couldn't help laughing when he said this, "If you dare to get drunk again next time, I will record the whole thing for you."

"You just watch it. I don't remember anything, so I started making up stories?"

How could I be willing to have thirty children? Even if I was drunk, I would never say such nonsense!" Avery said firmly.

"Are you still on your honeymoon?" Elliot asked, taking time to relax, "I heard that Wesley sent a postcard from another Rishawaka?"

Avery wondered and said, "Well. A small country far away from us. I checked this country online. It is a very closed and backward country. It is definitely not a tourist attraction. I don't know what he is doing there."

Elliot made a decision quickly, "Let's go and see! Maybe He is still in that country now."

"Are you sure you want to go? I checked the flight, and there is no flight from our Rishawaka to that country. I have to transfer two flights on the way, and finally I have to take a cruise ship to get to that country. If you leave tomorrow, you will need to take two days to arrive." Avery is not feeling well today, so she can only rest at home today.

"Don't you want to find him?" Elliot's eyes were cold and his tone was even colder, "No matter if Shea is still alive, I want to see him and ask him personally where he is buried! I don't believe he really threw his groans into the sea! I have to ask him for a definite answer."

She looked at his excited emotions and held his big palm with her small hand:

"Elliot, even if Shea is not your sister, do you still care about her so much?"

"Even if I have no blood relationship with her, but these dozens of Years of love is true. Even a dog that you keep by your side can develop a relationship after a few years, let alone a person?"

"Okay, I'll accompany you to find Wesley." With Avery's support, Elliot said

Deep thoughts: "Avery, I always feel that Shea may still be alive. I have dreamed of her more than once. She asked me to find her in a dream."

"Elliot, I know you can't let her go, Me too. But the chances of Shea alive now are very small."

Elliot couldn't listen to her, and still insisted on himself: "Don't you think Wesley's reaction is very strange? If Shea is really dead, why should he keep hiding If he doesn't come back outside? With you protecting him, how can I get revenge on him? Besides, he was not afraid of death for you, so why would he be afraid of me? He was hiding outside, so he must be hiding something!"

Avery became suspicious.

Perhaps, his guess was right.

But everything has to wait until Wesley is found before the answer can be revealed.

After lunch, Avery booked a ticket to go abroad tomorrow.

“How do you plan to arrange the two brothers and sisters of the White family?”

During the lunch break, she asked while lying in his arms.

“I’ll leave this matter to Ben Schaffer.” Elliot closed his eyes and said dumbly.

He didn’t go to bed until 4 a.m. and left at 8 a.m., so he was very sleepy at the moment, “Nathan asked Ben Schaffer to negotiate yesterday, so let Ben Schaffer handle the follow-up.”

“Oh, so Nathan came to see you at the resort yesterday, probably wanting to discuss this matter with you. But you beat him up indiscriminately.” Avery said calmly.

“I asked Nathan what he was doing yesterday, and he said he saw me being beaten, so he came to see me. What do you think I have to do with him? He said he came to see me, of course I thought he was here to see me for a joke.”

“Yeah. I hope they are not like Nathan. If they are not greedy enough, they will often lose more.”

Afternoon.

Gwen appeared in front of Ben Schaffer with her suitcase.

Ben Schaffer was about to explode. “What are you doing? Huh?”

Chapter 1105

Gwen’s crying eyes were red: “My eldest brother has left. He said he didn’t want to stay here for a second. But I didn’t want to go with him. He didn’t care about me at all. I might as well stay here. ...Dad said last night that Elliot would take care of me.”

Ben Schaffer listened to her words, still puzzled: “Since you won’t leave, what are you doing with your suitcase?”

Gwen choked, “My eldest brother sold the house. I don’t have a place to live now. My eldest brother gave me a sum of money, but I am alone, so I’m so scared! Take me to Elliot, I don't have his contact information."

Ben Schaffer was silent.

Elliot had already handed over this matter to him, so it was impossible for him to bring Gwen to Elliot.

Elliot has absolutely no feelings for the Zion and Gwen. He only planned to pay them both a monthly fee, which was considered to fulfill his promise to Nathan.

"Your second brother, Elliot just got married and is very busy. If you have any needs now, just tell me." Ben Schaffer frowned, feeling solemn.

Gwen was Elliot's sister after all, so Elliot couldn't ignore it.

Gwen: "I don't have a place to live now!"

"I'll take you to the hotel." Ben Schaffer said.

"I've never stayed in a hotel alone. I'm afraid alone." Gwen made his request,

"If you don't take me to Elliot, then take me to your house!"

Ben Schaffer took a careful look at Gwen.

Gwen is tall and thin with beautiful facial features and mature looks. Ben don't know how old Gwen is.

Ben: "How old are you this year?"

Gwen: "I'm 20 this year." Ben: "Then you should still be in college, right?"

Gwen: "No. My grades are so bad that I didn't study after high school."

Ben Schaffer was shocked: "You didn't study, so what are you doing every day?"

Gwen: "Dad asked me to watch Adrian at home."

Ben: "Okay! I'll discuss it with Elliot and find you a school then you go to school for study!"

Gwen: "Where do I live tonight? If you don't let me live in your house, then you can send me to Elliot's house."

“Don’t make fun of him! If you go to disturb him, you will not pay for your monthly living expenses in the future.” Ben Schaffer splashed her with cold water to wake her up, “You stay at my house temporarily, Ok?”

Gwen: “Okay. As long as you take me in, I will never go to him. I know he has a bad temper. Well, I don’t want to die!” The time passed, and it was the next day.

After Elliot and Avery sent the two children back to the Starry River Villa, they started to pack their luggage and prepare to go out.

Today they are going to Pokomo, and after arriving in Pokomo, they will transfer to another Rishawaka. Then take a cruise ship to Rishawaka.

Wesley’s second postcard was sent from Rishawaka.

Elliot saw that Avery put a lot of medical supplies in the suitcase, and felt a little guilty: “Avery, we are going on our honeymoon. We are just looking for Wesley by the way. You just take it easy.”

Avery teased him, “You are injured, How can I relax? I touched you lightly last night and you screamed in pain.”

When the two of them were making out last night, Avery accidentally grabbed his back, As a result Elliot cried out in pain.

Elliot had a relatively strong tolerance for pain, which shown how heavy this injury was.

Chapter 1106

“Are you really not going to the hospital?” Avery looked at him worriedly.

“I’m fine.” Elliot knew about his physical condition, but it was just some flesh wounds.

The reason why Avery cried out in pain last night was because when she grabbed him, it wasn’t a light touch.

“You’d better be fine. Otherwise, when you arrive in Rishawaka, you find that you have a physical problem. It’s you who suffers and your conditions still very poor.” Avery said that, she couldn’t help but continue to pack medicines in the suitcase.

“No matter how poor a small country is, there are definitely rich people there. As long as there are rich people, there must be corresponding medical conditions. Even if it is a private hospital, ordinary minor injuries can definitely be cured.” Avery took out the emergency medicine kit.

Elliot said, “With so many medicines, are you expecting me to get sick?”

She was speechless by his words.

“Bring some more beautiful dresses. The sea over there is very beautiful.” Elliot walked to the closet and asked her to choose clothes. “I’ll be your personal photographer then.”

Avery couldn’t help laughing: “You really took me there for honeymoon?”

“If it’s to find Wesley, wouldn’t I send someone? Although I want to find him and I’m a little afraid to find him. If I don’t find him, I can deceive myself and Shea is still alive. I can’t deceive myself any more.” Elliot changed his words, “Just think I’m going out to recover. I look like this, even if I’m not a murderer, I don’t want to be photographed.”

Elliot is a well-known Wealthy man. During this period of time, because of a series of events such as weddings, scandals and murders, he almost came on the front page news.

Although Nathan surrendered himself and got him out of the ‘murderer’ crime, he is still a hot topic of discussion today.

The civet cat for the prince, the fight for property, and the fact that he was beaten up outside the resort, any one of them can be talked about by everyone.

Avery nodded, "Yes, before Nathan was sentenced, there were probably many people who believed that Jaxson Foster was killed by you. You can still watch the live broadcast of the press conference held by Henry in the hotel!"

"I saw him at the police station yesterday, and he didn't dare to look directly at me."

"I haven't seen him delete the live broadcast. Even if you didn't kill his father, he must still want to ask you for money." Avery took a few long skirts from the closet, "He doesn't have a job now, and Cole doesn't have the ability to make money. They still have Adrian to support. The last time they sold the old house, I don't know how much they have left."

If you give 100 million to ordinary people, you will definitely be able to guarantee a lifetime of food and clothing.

But Henry his son are used to living extravagant lives, and it is difficult to switch from extravagance to frugality.

"Did Adrian contact you?" Elliot asked casually.

Avery: "He called me yesterday afternoon, and you just fell asleep. He apologized to me and said he didn't listen to me, so I don't get angry. Actually, I'm not angry, I'm just worried that Henry won't treat me well."

Elliot: "How is Adrian now?"

Avery: "Adrian said that Henry is better than Nathan. But they don't take him out very often. He is locked at home now and has no freedom." Avery lowered her eyes and put her clothes on the Suitcase, "After all, Henry and Cole have been busy dealing with you these days and it is impossible for them to hire a nanny for Adrian."

Elliot said coldly: "He should be grateful to Dade now that he can live with thought. It is impossible for him to fulfill his wishes. Does he think the world revolves around him?"

"He didn't mean to complain. He called me, just apologised to me." Avery packed her luggage and checked the time, "Husband, It's time for us to go out."
"Well."

When going out, Avery looked at the two Child, She was very saddened. Because the place they are going was not a tourist resort and it was too remote, there was no way to take the children.

"Layla, I will definitely take you with me when my parents go on a trip next time."

Layla: "I don't want to be the light bulb for both of you. When my brother comes back and our family travels, I will go.

"Your brother won't be back until a year later."

"I know. If I want to go somewhere to play now, Uncle Eric will take me there. You two go quickly. Uncle Eric will come and pick me up later." Layla waved to both of them.

Avery didn't expect her daughter to be so heartless.

Chapter 1107

Elliot's brows are furrowed, and it is estimated that he is also very uncomfortable.

On the way to the airport, the two of them discussed this issue.

"We can't let Eric have such frequent contact with his daughter in the future. What if he has a thief towards our daughter?" Elliot frowned, with a serious look.

Avery: "Elliot, do you know how much the difference between the two of them is? It's almost twenty years apart!"

Elliot said, "The difference is only fifteen years old. I saw a news last time that a man and a woman registered for marriage. They were 51 years apart in age. Do you think a 15-year-old difference can prevent Eric from having unreasonable thoughts about our daughter?"

Avery was speechless.

"I know you trust Eric, but He is a man after all. And our daughter is so beautiful..."

"Elliot, if Eric really wants to be my son-in-law, I have no problem. I just have to wait until Layla is an adult. If they are related by then. They are still so good, and they decide to stay together for the rest of their lives, I will bless them."

Avery said these words while holding back a smile.

Elliot clenched his fists, and his body was also tensed.

"I'm kidding you! Didn't we send bodyguards to protect Layla? If Eric really did something to Layla, the bodyguards would tell us. And Layla won't let others bully her." Avery comforted.

"It's still necessary to reduce the meeting between the two of them."

"Okay, when the honeymoon comes back, you can tell Layla." Avery threw this problem to him.

Elliot immediately pursed his thin lips.

Two days later, they arrived in Rishawaka.

Rishawaka is one of the smallest coastal countries in the world, with a land area only half the size of Avonsville.

When they arrived in Rishawaka, it was exactly noon.

After arriving at the predetermined hotel, they had a lunch first, and then began to rest to avoid jet lag.

Lying on the soft big bed, Elliot couldn't fall asleep no matter what.

After Avery fell asleep, he got out of bed gently and took out the postcard sent by Wesley from her bag.

On the postcard, there is the postmark of Rishawaka.

Elliot took the postcard and left the room.

About an hour later, Avery woke up.

Seeing Elliot sitting on the balcony blowing air, she immediately got out of bed and walked towards him.

“Elliot, can’t you sleep?” Avery walked over to him and glanced at the sunlight outside, “The weather is really nice today, why don’t we go out for a walk?”

Wander around at will.

Avery stopped when she passed a large pharmacy. She seemed to see a familiar figure.

“Elliot, wait for me here, I’ll go to the pharmacy to buy some medicine.” Avery let go of his arm, “I seem to have forgotten to bring iodophor.”

After that, she strode towards the pharmacy.

Chapter 1108

She entered the pharmacy and saw that familiar figure dodged into the pharmacy’s bathroom. She looked back nervously, wondering if Elliot found out.

Elliot was standing at the door of the pharmacy waiting for Avery. After Avery turned around, Elliot stepped forward and entered the pharmacy.

Avery’s heart was suddenly up and down, and she was uneasy, but she had to maintain her superficial calm. For some reason, she was afraid to let Elliot see Wesley.

In addition to what Elliot said, he said he wanted to see Wesley, but in fact he was afraid of seeing Wesley. Avery always felt that after the two of them met, a fierce battle was inevitable.

“Get me some medicines for promoting blood circulation and removing blood stasis and relieving pain. I also need a bottle of iodophor.” After Elliot stood beside her, she said to the clerk.

Elliot raised his eyebrows: “I bought so many medicines again?”

“I’ll try the medicine here. How does the medicine work?” Avery smiled, “What if the medicine here works well?”

Elliot: “You? It’s taking me as a guinea pig.”

“I didn’t let you eat, what are you afraid of?” Out of the corner of her eyes, she kept paying attention to the situation on the other side of the bathroom, and said to Elliot, “You go and pay.”

He took out the Money clip, walk towards the cashier.

After Elliot walked away, the phone in Avery’s bag vibrated. Her text messages have no sound reminders, only vibrations. She immediately took out her mobile phone, turned it on, and saw a message from an unfamiliar number.

[Avery, I don’t know how to face you yet, please give me a little more time.]

Looking at the text message, the peace on her face disappeared. Although the text message was not signed, she knew it was Wesley!

The familiar figure just now was Wesley. He is now in the bathroom of the pharmacy.

They are now only separated by a wall.

If Avery didn’t care about Wesley’s feelings, she would rush into the bathroom with Elliot, pull him out, and confront him!

However, she couldn’t be so heartless.

Wesley once almost sacrificed his life for her. She has never forgotten

Wesley’s friendship for her!

And the reason why Wesley pumped Shea's blood was to save Robert. If Robert wasn't her son, how could Wesley take such a risk?

Every time Avery thought of Wesley and what he had done for her, she couldn't stop her nose from getting sore.

Avery quickly replied: [Hide well, if Elliot sees you, I'm afraid I won't be able to stop him.]

After she sent the message, Elliot just finished the bill and came over with a bag of medicine.

"Why don't we take the medicine back to the hotel first!" Elliot suggested.

Avery quickly adjusted her mood and smiled at Elliot, "Okay. Didn't you say you want to be my personal photographer? We'll buy a camera later."

"Well. Why are your eyes a little red?" Elliot looked at her red eyes were puzzled, "What's the matter?"

The two came out of the pharmacy. Avery looked at the flowers on both sides of the street and casually gave a reason: "My eyes are a little itchy, maybe I'm allergic."

"Would you like to buy some medicine?" Elliot stopped, "Buy some anti-allergy medicine! What if the allergy becomes serious?"

"It shouldn't be so serious. Wait for me here, I'll go in and buy a bottle of eye drops." Avery turned and entered the pharmacy, Bought a bottle of eye drops.

After that, the two returned to the hotel, and the nanny brought afternoon tea.

They booked a honeymoon room with a dedicated nanny, and the current check-in experience is not bad.

Consumption here is much cheaper than Aryadelle, but the comfort is not bad.

During afternoon tea, they took out their mobile phones in a very tacit understanding.

Chapter 1109

Avery sees whether Wesley has replied to her message. She couldn't help sending a message to Wesley just now, asking if Shea was still alive.

How she wished Wesley could answer her question. And Elliot frowned because of the news from Ben Schaffer.

Ben Schaffer asked if they had successfully arrived in Rishawaka.

Of course he didn't frown because of this question, but Ben Schaffer's words below – [I have a showdown! Your sister Gwen lives in my house now. Zion has returned to Bridgedale and she refuses to go with Zion, and I can't let her bother you. But I'm so bored now and Gwen doesn't listen to me.]

Elliot looked at this long paragraph of text, and suddenly lost his appetite. He only promised to give the White family brothers and sisters living expenses, but he never promised to take care of their private lives.

Ben Schaffer: [Elliot, your sister doesn't like to study. I told her to find a school for her to go to, but she disagreed. She is only twenty years old, what can she do if she doesn't go to school? When you come back, educate her well!]

Elliot couldn't bear it any longer and replied: [She is twenty years old, not two years old! You put away your fatherly love.]

Ben Schaffer collapsed: [Hey! I'm not that old, am I? My concern for her is the concern of my brother for my sister. What does it have to do with the love of a father?]

Elliot: [Since you are not her father, you care what she does.]

Ben Schaffer: [Are you sure you don't care about her?]

Elliot: [OK.]

Ben Schaffer: [Then I don't care about her. She said she wanted to go to work to make money, let her go?]

Seeing that he was so indecisive, Elliot sarcastically said: [Just accept her as your goddaughter.]

Ben Schaffer gritted his teeth: [OK! Then let her go to work. Let her go out to rent an apartment when she is more courageous at work. It's okay to stay here all the time]

Elliot put down the phone.

Seeing the chill on his face, Avery put down the phone: "What happened? Who was messaging to you?"

"It's Ben Schaffer." Elliot picked up the coffee cup, took a sip, and said coldly, "He took Nathan's daughter."

Avery: "That's your sister?"

Elliot: "I can't take her as my sister. You can just call her by her name."

Avery: "Oh, what's her name?"

Elliot: "I don't know."

Avery took it and Gave him a piece of dim sum: "Don't be angry. Ben Schaffer took her in, not for you to take her in."

Elliot: "She was taken in because of my face."

Avery: "Then tell Ben Schaffer clearly, if your sister is affecting his life, so let him leave it alone. Your sister is an adult, so you don't need to treat her as a child."

"It's been made clear." After eating a snack, Elliot drank his coffee and looked at her, "Are your eyes better?"

"Eye drops are much better."

"Eye allergy eye drops help!" Elliot was surprised.

"Maybe it's not allergies. I rubbed my eyes at that time, and I may have rubbed the bacteria on my hands." Avery changed the subject with a smile, "Can you take pictures? I saw a topic on the Internet before, called selfies and boyfriends

The difference between taking pictures.”

“Are you afraid that I will make you ugly?” Elliot looked at her with time, “Give me your phone, and I'll show my skills first.”

Avery panicked and moved the phone in front of her. She was waiting for Wesley's reply, so it was impossible to give the phone to Elliot now.

“I took a picture with my phone.” Avery cheeks flushed, and a clear guilty conscience flashed in her eyes.

Because she is not good at lying, her body is hot and her mouth is dry. She picked up the coffee cup and took a sip.

“What? You have a secret in your phone, can't you show it to me?” Elliot asked deliberately with a smile in his eyes.

The more guilty she is, the more Elliot wants to look at her phone.

After all, Elliot's mobile phone had never been set up against Avery. Anytime
Avery wanted to look at Elliot phone, Elliot could show her.

Chapter 1110

Avery saw that although Elliot had a smile on his face and he could hear sadness and dissatisfaction in his tone. If she hadn't sent a message to Wesley, she would have given him the phone.

“I'm chatting with Tammy!” Avery found a plausible reason, “Tammy asked us if we were there, and then we talked about some sensitive topics.”

“What sensitive topics?” Elliot believed her explanation. Still, he was curious about what they're talking about.

“It's a topic between women.” Avery said, biting her head. “It's about trying to conceive. She thinks I've had three children and I'm very experienced in this, so... so I don't want to show you my phone. What if she asks some private question again, how embarrassing!”

Elliot nodded, understanding and respecting her. He picked up his mobile phone and turned on the camera, wanting to show Avery his photography skills.

Avery immediately raised a hand and compared it.

Elliot pressed the shutter, took a photo, and handed her the phone.

Avery took his mobile phone, and when she saw the photo he took of herself, she pursed her red lips and wrote speechless all over her face.

“What? Not satisfied?” Elliot was a little puzzled, “Isn’t it a good shot?”

After taking the photo, Elliot admired it for himself, and only showed it to her when he felt there was no problem.

“Why did you take my face so big? Is my face so big?” Avery pointed the photo at him and showed him, “Did you look at it and see that the whole photo was my face?”

He clicked Nodding: “Is there any problem? Your face is so beautiful, I’m going to set this photo as the wallpaper.”

Avery felt like a thunderbolt.

The generation gap caused by age difference cannot be ignored.

“Don’t!” Avery quickly deleted the photo and handed him the phone again, “Get up, stay away from me, and try to take another photo! Don’t shoot with my face! No matter how beautiful a face is, take it so close. , there is no aesthetic sense! Are you not an architect? Can you show your professional aesthetics?”

He reluctantly got up, moved away from her, pointed the phone camera in her direction, and after pressing the shutter, he took the photo Show her.

“Elliot, are you on purpose?” She was still dissatisfied after seeing the photo.

“Although this photo makes my face look small, what about my eyes? Are my eyes so small?"

Elliot was stumped. , "When people smile, don't their eyes get smaller?"

Although this photo does make your eyes look smaller, I don't think it's a problem with my photography skills...it's my phone "

Then let's go out and buy a camera." She didn't like taking pictures that much, but she thought it was fun to have Elliot as her exclusive photographer.

Although his photography skills are a bit lousy, listening to him touting her beauty made her heart as sweet as honey.

"I need to change into a nice dress. Be photogenic." After returning his phone to him, Avery went to the bathroom to change.

Elliot turned on his phone and searched the Internet for shooting tips. He thought that his skills were okay to take pictures of people, but obviously her requirements were a bit high.

Probably her expectations of him were a little high.

Elliot played DSLRs when he was a student, but it's been a long time, and now he's a little rusty.

Suddenly, the phone she placed on the bed vibrated and the screen lit up.

A new message entered her phone.

His eyes were drawn to the past –

if it was normal, he might just walk over to look, but today she didn't want to show him her phone, so he curbed his curiosity.

After about twenty minutes, she came out of the bathroom.

Not only did she get a new dress, but she also put on a light make-up and let down her tied hair.

"So grand?" He walked up to her and held her hand, "If I can't satisfy you with my skills later, I'll hire a professional photographer for you."

“No. We’re here for our honeymoon, Just have fun.” Avery walked over to the bed and put her phone in her bag.

Chapter 1111

Elliot reminded: “You have a new message on your phone.” After a pause, Elliot said again, “But it may be a harassing message.”

Avery’s body suddenly tensed, and she looked at him nervously: “Did you see?”

Elliot shook his head: “I didn’t. Don’t you want me to look at your phone?”

Avery smiled and nodded: “You are so good. I’m not forbidding you to look at my phone. If you want, of course you can. I.. I won’t be angry again.”

Avery said so, but her little hand zipped the bag, obviously not planning to show him her phone.

“Aren’t you going to take a look?” Elliot asked.

“Didn’t you say it was harassing information? I also think it might be harassing information.” Avery carried her bag in one hand and held his arm with the other, “After I bought a house, the information was leaked and people often called me to ask me if I would sell the house and The bank called me to ask if I wanted a loan.”

“I also get harassing calls occasionally.”

“I’m more balanced after hearing that.” She breathed a sigh of relief.

“The harassing calls I receive are usually from the bank manager calling me to wish me a happy holiday.”

Avery: “...”

Can you still chat happily?

From the hotel, they headed straight to the digital store to pick up cameras.

Elliot chose only one reason, that is, the expensive one must be the best.

When he entered the store, he asked the boss to take out the most expensive camera and try it out.

When Avery was looking at the camera, she quietly took out her mobile phone from her bag, opened the message, and saw Wesley's reply!

Avery asked Wesley if Shea was still alive.

Wesley reply was: Are you here to find me?

He didn't answer the question!

Avery frowned, resisting her excitement, and replied: We are here for our honeymoon. Elliot wanted to find you but was worried that he would find you and learned the exact news of Shea's death from your mouth. He felt that Shea was not dead. Even though he now knows that Shea is not his sister, his feelings for her remain unchanged.

After the message was sent, she asked again: Wesley, tell me, is Shea still alive? I didn't tell Elliot what happened to you, please believe me too?

"Avery, look here." Elliot held the camera and pointed it at her.

Avery immediately put down the phone, faced him, and pulled out a bright smile.

After Elliot pressed the shutter, Avery strode over to him to check out the photo.

Elliot called up the photo and showed it to Avery.

"So-so, it's alright! It's better than what you took for me with your mobile phone." Avery reluctantly exclaimed.

Elliot told the truth: "Is it possible that it was because you changed your dress and put on makeup?"

"Are you admitting that your photography skills are not good?"

"I am not a professional at all. Since you don't think it is a big problem, Then buy this one." Elliot took out his wallet, ready to pay the bill.

At this moment, her phone vibrated. Because they were so close, Elliot heard her phone vibrate.

Elliot looked at her: “Your phone rang. Shouldn’t such frequent messages be harassing messages?”

She blushed in embarrassment. Decided to turn off the vibration function immediately.

“You pay the bill, I’ll see if it’s a harassing message.” Avery turned her back and turned on her phone.

Chapter 1112

Wesley is finally willing to answer her question.

His reply was: [Well, Shea’s still alive. But she is very ill, and instead of worrying you, it is better for you to think she is dead. This way you can get back to a peaceful life faster. Don’t tell Elliot about this. Because telling him it won’t do anything but upset him.]

Avery looked at this message, and the whole person seemed to be out of body.

On the one hand, she suspected that she was dreaming, and on the other hand, she remembered the scene when Elliot said Shea was not dead.

“Avery, who sent the message?” Elliot asked immediately after seeing her expression was wrong.

She deleted all Wesley’s messages, and then found a reason: “I bought a set of tableware online before, but because the quality was not good, I gave a bad review. Now the seller is chasing me to change the review.”

“You put the seller information Give it to me, or tell me his shop, and I’ll let someone deal with it.” Elliot saw that her face was very bad, so he wanted to help her solve this problem.

Avery shook her head: “I’ve already negotiated with the seller. Let’s go take pictures! Don’t let this little thing affect our vacation.”

They came out of the store and planned to go to the beach to have a look.

The seascape was the most famous in the country. Because the sea here was pure blue-green, especially beautiful.

After they got to the beach, they looked at the magnificent and splendid sea, and their mood was suddenly relieved.

Avery took off his shoes and held them in his hands, walking into the sea as freely as a bird.

“Elliot, I seem to be taking pictures with you. After you take a single photo for me, let’s take some group photos!” Avery told at him. Elliot still had injuries on his face, so naturally he was reluctant to appear on the scene. But since Avery wanted to take a photo with him, he didn’t want to spoil the fun.

They returned to the hotel after more than an hour of filming at the beach.

Avery compared the single photo taken by Elliot for her and the group photo taken by the bodyguard for them, and found that the bodyguard’s photo seemed to be better.

“Elliot...”

As soon as Avery opened her mouth, Elliot guessed what she was going to say next.

Elliot poured her a glass of water and asked, “Are you trying to say that bodyguards are better?”

“See for yourself, if you take better pictures, can I beat you? You are my husband.” Avery showed him the comparison picture she had prepared.

After looking at the comparison picture, Elliot said in all fairness, “You smile brighter when you are with me. It means that I make you happy.”

“Tsk tsk, you really put gold on your face. You are really happy together.”

Avery said, selected a few photos and posted them to the circle of friends, with the accompanying text: [The sea in Rishawaka is very clear and blue, which is not the same as imagined. I'm in a good mood today because...]

Avery didn't continue. For this reason, Shea is still alive. Wesley asked her not to say it, so she won't say it for the time being.

She has to find a chance to meet Wesley, she must know what Shea is now and see if she can help Shea.

Although the chances of her being able to help are almost nil.

If she could help Shea, Wesley would have looked for her long ago.

Elliot scanned her Moments and asked, “I'm in a good mood, because of what?”

“Because of you! I deliberately didn't say it, for fear that everyone would think I was spreading dog food.”

“You posted nine photos of us together, don't you think this behavior is spreading dog food?” He said, silently giving her a dynamic thumbs up.

“It's disgusting to say it in words! Photos should be restrained.” Avery has her own set of delusions.

“Well. What do you want to eat at night? I'll let the nanny prepare. Or we can go out to eat.” Elliot wanted to try local specialties.

She was worried about meeting Wesley when she went out at night, so she said, “I'm a little tired today. Let the nanny bring dinner to the room to eat! The seafood here is famous, let's have a seafood dinner!”

Chapter 1113

Elliot: “Okay. How about we go out to eat tomorrow?”

“Well. I'm going to take a shower first, and I'm sweating a lot in the afternoon.”

Avery walked over to the suitcase, looking for pajamas, "Are we going out at night?"

Elliot: "Let's go outside after dinner to see the night view. If you're tired, we'll come back after a walk."

Avery: "Okay."

After Avery went to the bathroom to take a shower, her cell phone rang.

It was Layla who made the videocall.

Elliot took over the video and saw his daughter's cute and beautiful little face, tenderness in his eyes blossomed.

Layla: "Dad, where's my mom?"

Elliot: "Your mom went to take a shower."

Layla asked, "Oh...are you having fun over there? Did you have fun?"

"It's too small country but the sea view here is beautiful. Dad has seen many seas, but the sea here is the best." Elliot walked to the balcony and showed her the scenery outside, "Can you see the sea outside?"

Layla: "I can't see clearly, Dad! Why don't you go to the beach to show me."

"Okay, Dad is going to the beach now." Elliot took the phone and walked out.

Before going out, he explained to the nanny.

Elliot was afraid that he would come back late, and Avery would not see him in a hurry after taking a shower.

After going out, he went straight to the sea.

At this point the sun is setting and it is not so hot, so there are many more people on the street.

Elliot was entangled for a while, and decided to have a good chat with his daughter: "Layla, Dad thinks you should have less contact with Eric. I know he treats you very well and you like him very much, but have you ever thought about it. If he has any plans for you, you will be very dangerous.”

After hearing what his father said, Layla felt a little complicated and profound, so she turned her head and shouted, “Uncle Eric, have you heard what my dad said? Why don’t you come and tell him!”

That’s it, Layla Give the phone to Eric.

Elliot soon saw Eric’s handsome but angry face.

Awkward! Speechless! Scalp tingling!

In order to end the suffocating stare, Elliot hung up the video.

It’s ridiculous, Eric doesn’t have a home, but he stays at Avery’s house, what is this?

Just as Elliot was about to turn back to the hotel, his cell phone rang. He took out his cell phone from his pocket and answered the call.

“Mr. Foster, the results of your inquiry at noon have come to an end. Would it be convenient for you to come over now?”

“Okay, I’ll go there right away.” Elliot hung up the phone and strode towards the post office.

He lost sleep at noon, took Wesley’s postcard to the post office, and wanted to check the day’s monitoring through the time on the postmark.

See if he can find the person who mailed the postcard. He didn’t expect it to come out so quickly.

In the hotel.

Avery came out of the bathroom after taking a shower. She didn’t see Elliot, so she immediately came out of the master bedroom.

“nanny, where did my husband go?”

“Mrs. Tate, your husband asked me to tell you that he will go to the beach and show your daughter the sea.” The nanny replied with a smile, “Your daughter is very beautiful!”

Avery sighed and went back to the master bedroom.

Chapter 1114

Avery seemed to have been drained of all her strength and almost lost her footing. She also specifically confessed to Wesley in the afternoon, saying that Elliot was looking for him. Since he didn't want to face Elliot, why didn't he hide it?

She looked at Elliot's face carefully to see if there were any new injuries.

“What's your expression?” Elliot supported her and sat down beside the bed, “I took the postcard Wesley sent you to the local post office at noon, and asked the staff to check the surveillance on that day according to the mailing time.

They contacted me just now and said that they found the person who mailed the postcards, so I went over and saw Wesley.”

Elliot's explanation made Avery suddenly open up.

Avery said, “So you said that you saw Wesley from the surveillance?”

“Well, otherwise you think I saw him in reality? If I see him in reality, can I come back alone? Elliot tapped her on the head, “Avery, Why are you so confused?”

Avery chuckled softly: “Maybe I want to see Wesley too much, so when you said that just now, my first reaction was that you saw him in person now.”

Elliot said the reason, “If I see him in person, I will definitely bring him over to meet. Otherwise I'm afraid that I will be alone with him, and I won't help but beat him.”

“Elliot, don't blame Wesley, okay? Without Wesley, Robert would have died long ago. When Wesley was helping Robert, he never expected Shea to have an accident. He wouldn't deliberately want to use Shea's life in exchange for Robert. He's not that kind of person.” Avery held Elliot's big palms in both hands, her tone imploring.

Elliot looked at her sincere face, his Adam's apple rolled: "That's why I said to bring him to see you, because my reason tells me that I shouldn't blame him for all the faults."

"Well, you go to the post office at noon. Do you want to confirm his existence?"

"Yes. After all, there is no signature on the postcard. You think it was sent by him, but what if it is not? I don't feel relieved if I don't see him with my own eyes." Elliot was always suspicious. Especially since this matter is related to Shea, he is more cautious.

Avery asked tentatively: "Elliot, do you think Wesley is still here?"

Elliot shook his head: "It has been several days since he sent postcards. It is unlikely that he is here now."

"Well, I'm a little hungry. You go take a shower first. After you take a shower, we'll go to dinner." Avery reached out to him for her phone, "I'll send back a video for Layla." With a subtle expression, Elliot took the phone out of his pocket and gave it back to Avery.

"Go and wash! I've already taken out the clothes for you." Avery patted his clothes beside the bed.

Elliot hesitated, but finally said nothing and went into the bathroom.

Avery turned on the phone and made a videocall to Mrs. Cooper.

The video was quickly connected, and Layla's little face appeared on the screen.

Just seeing Layla's expression not very happy, Avery asked. "Baby, why are you unhappy? your mother went to take a bath just now. I heard that your father showed you the sea on our side. Did you see it?"

Layla snorted coldly, "I didn't see the sea. Dad made Uncle Eric angry."

Avery was puzzled, "what's the matter?"

Layla said, "Dad didn't tell you? Humph! He did something bad, he must be embarrassed to tell you."

Avery's face was slightly embarrassed when he thought of Elliot handing her the phone. His expression turned out to be because of what happened.

"What did he say about your Uncle Eric?"

Layla said, "I didn't hear that he was talking ill of Uncle Eric at the time. It was they who hung up the video and Uncle Eric got angry. I just found out."

Avery's temple jumped up suddenly.

"Mom, call Uncle Eric and coax him!"

"Well, Mom, you will call him now."

"Okay, Mom, are you having fun over there? Is the sea really as beautiful as Dad said?" Layla asked curiously.

"Yes, the sea here is very beautiful. It's a little late today, so I can't see it clearly. Will your mother make a videocall tomorrow afternoon to show you?"

Chapter 1115

"Well! Then you call Uncle Eric first!" After hanging up the video, Avery called Eric.

After the call was connected, Avery thought about it and said, "Eric, Layla told me just now that Elliot said bad things about you... Although I don't know what he said, I can probably tell you. You must not know him in the same way. He loves Layla too much, so he is cranky. I think that except him, all men in the world have bad intentions for Layla."

Eric: "I have a bad relationship with him. No matter what he says, it won't affect my relationship with you and Layla."

Avery: "Well, did you have a good time diving today?"

Eric: "Very fun. I'll send you the photo later."

Avery: "Okay."

The bathroom door was suddenly pushed open, and Elliot came out.

Avery didn't expect him to take a shower so quickly today.

"Avery, didn't you say you were hungry? Let's go eat!" Elliot guessed who she was talking to on the phone, so he deliberately walked over to her and asked the person over the phone to hang up.

When Eric heard his voice, he felt that he was deliberately disgusting himself, so he didn't care to say goodbye to Avery, and hung up the phone.

"Elliot, I always thought you had a high EQ. How could you speak ill of him in front of Eric?" Avery asked.

"I didn't know he was there." Elliot grabbed her hand and took her to the dining room. "No matter how I dissatisfied him, I wouldn't embarrass him in person."

"Then you will be more careful next time."

"Well."

The dining room, The seafood dinner has been served. In addition to the delicacies, there are also a bouquet of red roses and two red candles.

The nanny turned off the lights in the dining room after they entered the dining room.

Suddenly, the entire dining room was in a trance.

Avery almost forgot that they had booked a honeymoon suite. Is this a candlelight dinner?

She sat down with a smile and asked him, "How do you feel?"

Elliot said sullenly, "It feels a little dark."

Avery: "It's called atmosphere. You, a straight man of steel, don't understand romance at all."

“Add a few more candles, aren’t you afraid that you will get panicked? I don’t think it’s too dark. Are you afraid of eating into your nose?” As the two chatted, Elliot gradually got used to the red light of the candles.

“Go surfing tomorrow?”

“You are full of injuries, do you want to surf? Are you kidding me?” Avery teased, “You can’t play in the water until your injury is healed. By the way, how did you take a shower just now?”

Elliot looked up to see her nervous, and his heart became nervous: “Shower.”

“Do you want the wound to become inflamed? Your wound can’t touch water, how can you wash it with a shower?!” Avery put down her chopsticks and stared at him seriously.

Elliot peeled a prawn for her and coaxed her: “I forgot that I was injured.”

Avery sighed helplessly, got up from the chair, took him back to the room, and gave him medicine.

“You really don’t make people worry. If I knew earlier, I would have waited until you were healed.” Avery pulled his nightgown to her waist, looked at the bruises on his back, and took out the medicine she bought today.

Her phone on the bedside table suddenly lit up, and a text message came in.

Chapter 1116

Avery turned off the vibration function in the afternoon.

Elliot had his back to her, so he didn’t see her pick up the phone.

Wesley sent her a message saying that she was leaving the Rishawaka tomorrow.

Avery replied immediately: [Let’s meet before you leave tomorrow! You set the time and place, I will find a way to meet you.]

“Avery, can’t I really play in the water? Then what are we going to play tomorrow? We can't play in the water at the beach, there seems to be nothing left to play." Elliot sat on the bed and said angrily.

"We can walk around and see, as long as I'm with you, I'll be happy."

"Well."

"Let's see what to do tomorrow." Avery felt that Wesley would probably not refuse her request, so tomorrow She had to find a way to free Elliot to meet Wesley.

And Elliot is a more suspicious person, and it is more difficult to reasonably let him go.

Unless he takes a nap.

"Are you sure you can use the medicine you bought here?" Elliot saw her coming with the medicine she bought today, "Why don't you use the medicine you brought? I think the medicine you gave me before is pretty good. I don't feel that much pain anymore. "

I want to see how the medicine here works." Avery opened the medicine, and the smell of medicine spread out.

"You really took me for a guinea pig." Elliot frowned, "Don't you think this medicine smells pungent?"

"This is medicine, not perfume. The clerk said that this medicine works very well. Isn't it at the scene?" Avery wanted to see if the effect was really that good.

Elliot endured the pungent smell of medicine and replied, "a salesman sells melons and brags about it. Have you ever seen a salesman say that what he sells is not good? Avery, you are a serious adult anyway, why are you so naive?"

"Hmph, I'm innocent, at least I won't get hurt. Unlike you, who knows astronomy and geography, and understands human nature, but ends up with injuries all over the body. This medicine is probably a little irritating, you have to bear it.” Avery reminded.

When finished, she applied the medicine to his wound.

After a few seconds, he took a sharp breath: “What’s wrong with this medicine?!”

“Is it cool?”

“No! It’s burning like fire!”

“Oh, bear with it. Good medicine is bitter and good for the disease, As long as it works well. It’s a good medicine.” Avery spread the medicine all over his body, and then fanned his body with his palm to make the medicine absorb faster.

“Am I really your husband?” Elliot endured the pungent smell and the irritating medicinal effects, feeling that today’s dinner might not taste good.

“Of course you are my husband. I hope you get better soon. Maybe you can go surfing before we leave here.” After a while, Avery put away the medicine and put on her nightgown, “Let’s go, we Let’s go eat.”

The two came to the dining room and sat down in the dining chairs again.

“Did you make videocall to Layla when I was taking a shower?”

“Hmm.”

“Is she mad at me?” Elliot asked as his eyes down, “I wanted to show her our side. Eric, I didn’t see it.”

“Layla is not so angry. As long as Eric is not angry, Layla will not blame you.

When we go back, just buy her a gift. “

After we’ve been here for a few days, are we going to see Hayden in Bridgedale? Will he not see me?” Elliot asked.

Avery was stunned for a moment, “Let’s talk in a few days! Mike said, Hayden has adapted to the new environment, and I am not so worried about him now.”

Apart from the honeymoon, Avery was most worried about Shea.

After dinner, they held hands and went for a walk outside.

The temperature at night was much lower than that during the day.

The sea breeze whistled past her ears, and Elliot wrapped her arms around her waist and asked, “Is it cold?”

Avery raised her head, smiled and shook her head: “Have you noticed that there are few vehicles on the road here?”

“This way The economy is not good.”

“But everyone seems to be having a good time. I see a lot of people with smiles on their faces.”

“Because of the environment they live in, everyone lives a similar life. There is no comparison, and naturally there is less trouble.”

“Elliot, you said why everyone understands the big truth, but everyone is easily trapped by trivial matters.”

Chapter 1117

“Because we are all mortals.” Elliot made a metaphor, “I know you have always had me in your heart, and only me, but when I see you with other men, I can’t help but be jealous. “

Such a heavy topic can be said so interestingly by you. You are really capable.”

She praised and thought carefully, “Let’s play outside for a while! The night scene here is very beautiful.”

“Are not you tired today?”

Avery was stunned for a moment, and then responded accordingly: “Then let’s go to the beach tomorrow morning to watch the sunrise! It must be beautiful!”

Elliot: “Are you sure you want to get up early to watch the sunrise?”

Avery nodded and said firmly: "I've never seen the sunrise. Let's watch it together tomorrow morning!"

He wasn't interested in the sunrise, but seeing that she wanted to see it so much, he agreed.

After wandering outside for a while, they returned to their hotel room.

Because they have to get up early tomorrow morning, Elliot suggested going to bed earlier.

Avery was so sleepy that she wanted to sleep for a long time. But she made an appointment with Wesley to meet at noon tomorrow, and she had to let Elliot fall asleep at noon tomorrow.

So she can only work hard tonight, pull him to stay up late, so that he can be sure that he can fall asleep at noon tomorrow.

At night, after turning off the lights, Avery tossed in bed.

"Husband, I can't sleep." Avery resisted her drowsiness, hugged his arm, and acted like a spoiled child, "Will you tell me a story?"

Elliot: "...". His mind went blank. Telling stories, he really can't.

"Why can't you sleep?" Elliot wondered.

The two of them played at the beach for a long time this afternoon, and they were very tired.

If she doesn't pull him to talk now, he should be able to fall asleep soon.

"I took a nap at noon, so I'm not sleepy now."

"Would you like to play with your phone? I can't tell stories." Elliot suggested.

Avery said, "Sing to me, I know you sing well."

Elliot felt a little uncomfortable.

The two of them had been together for so long, she slept at night, and never pulled him to tell a story or let him sing.

She would only let him stay up late and rest earlier.

Elliot is like her, but the style of painting suddenly changed tonight. Naturally, he wants to satisfy her.

At 12 o'clock, Avery couldn't stand it anymore, so she let him go. The two quickly fell asleep.

At 5 o'clock the next morning, Elliot's alarm clock rang.

After he was woken up by the alarm clock, he immediately turned off the alarm clock, and then patted Avery, who was sleeping soundly.

"Avery, didn't you say you want to watch the sunrise? Do you still watch it?"

Avery was motionless.

Elliot lay down: "Then don't watch it, just go to sleep."

After a minute, Avery was in a nightmare wake up.

After waking up, she glanced at the time and immediately pulled Elliot up.

Elliot: "..."

He dared to say that the woman who pulled him to stay up late last night to sing, and the woman who forcibly pulled him out of bed now is definitely not the Avery he knew.

His wife Avery will never let him sleep well. But when he looked at her face, it was clearly true.

Chapter 1118

At half past five in the morning, the two came out of the hotel and went straight to the beach. At this point, there was no one on the beach.

Avery pulled him to sit down on the beach, and then wrapped the blanket he brought.

Her head, resting on his shoulder, looked directly in the direction of the coastline.

“Do you feel that it’s very beautiful and romantic now. It’s like a plot in a movie.”

Elliot lacked sleep and his eyes were scarlet. When answering her question, he felt that his soul was outside his body.

“Aren’t you really sleepy? Ann, tell me the truth.”

“Of course I’m... a little sleepy. But it’s all worth it to watch the sunrise. We can watch the sunrise and then Go back to sleep.” Avery was afraid that he would fall asleep, so she reached out and squeezed his shoulder.

As a result, only after Avery pinched it, she realized that he had an injury on his shoulder.

Elliot gasped in pain.

“Sorry, Elliot! I didn’t mean to!” Avery didn’t sleep well, her mind was in chaos.

“It’s okay, it’s not very painful, just a little sore.” Elliot quickly adjusted his mood and felt the injury on his body again, “The effect of the medicine seems to be good.”

“Really? Then I’ll squeeze more?” Another squeeze on the shoulder.

“It’s good. I’ll wipe it for you at night.” Avery rested her head on his shoulder again, “I’ll squint for a while. Call me when the sun comes out.”

Elliot looked down at her. She had closed her eyes and felt like she could fall asleep in the next second.

Since She was so tired, why do I have to come out to watch the sunrise?

What’s so beautiful about the sunrise?

Elliot sighed lightly.

At six in the morning, the sun rises from the coastline.

Elliot patted Avery’s little face: “Avery, the sun is out.”

Avery fell into a drowsy sleep. After reaching out and rubbing her eyes, she glanced at the sunrise.

“Elliot, isn’t this the stupidest thing you’ve ever done in your life?” Avery regained her sleep for a while, feeling better, “I know you must think this is meaningless...”

“If I watch it alone, it must be meaningless. Watching it with you is somewhat meaningful.” Elliot looked at the sunrise and said what was in his heart, “You are my wife now, and the meaning of my existence is to make money to support my family and make you happy.”

Avery was instantly ashamed and guilty.

From last night to this morning, Avery dragged him and only let him sleep for five hours.

5 hours of sleep is not enough for an adult.

“Let’s go back!”

“Didn’t you watch the sunrise? The sun hasn’t fully risen yet. The moment when it rises is the most beautiful.” Elliot took out his mobile phone and planned to record this moment.

Avery also took out her mobile phone. But instead of photographing the sunrise, she photographed him.

“Husband, thank you for watching the sunrise with me.” Avery said, “When you get back to the hotel, sleep well, I won’t disturb you again.”

“Well. Why didn’t you let me sleep last night?” Elliot looked at her and said, “You are a doctor, I am a patient now, you have no reason not to let me rest well. You are a bit abnormal.”

Facing Elliot doubts, Avery cheeks burned: “You keep saying that your injury is not serious, so I didn’t take you as a patient. I might have been a little bit of bed recognition last night. I promise I won’t disturb you tonight.”

Elliot was a little dizzy, so he didn't doubt her explanation.

After watching the sunrise, the two returned to the hotel for breakfast.

After breakfast, it was only 7 a.m.

She looked at him and said, "Elliot, Go to sleep after drinking the milk. Your dark circles are a little heavy."

Chapter 1119

Elliot did plan to rest, but listening to her words, she didn't seem to plan to rest with him.

"What about you?"

"I'll go outside to see if there are any waterproof wound patches. If there are, I can go surfing tomorrow." Avery gave a good reason.

Elliot considered it for a few seconds, then nodded: "I'll ask the bodyguard to accompany you."

Avery couldn't refuse. She was unfamiliar with life here, and there was no reason why she wanted to go out alone.

After Elliot went back to the room to lie down, she went into the bathroom, sent a message to Wesley, and asked him to meet at the pharmacy.

After a while, she went out with her bag.

The bodyguard stayed by her side, never leaving.

"Madam, you're in good spirits." The bodyguard teased.

Avery: "If you are tired, then go back to rest."

The bodyguard sarcastically said, "I'm not tired, I just don't understand why you torture my boss. What's so good about the sunrise? If you really want to watch the sun Come out, I'll take a picture for you! Why do you have to drag my boss to get up early and suffer?"

"This is the romance between the husband and wife. Are you single?"

“Sorry, my child is about to enter junior high school. The bodyguard continued to mock her, “My wife is gentle and virtuous. She will do whatever I ask her to do, and never make excessive demands on me. If she dares to let me watch the sunrise with her, I will make her cry.”

Avery said, “So I married Elliot, not you. Because he will do whatever I ask him to do, and he never blames me. Even if I make Elliot cry, It has nothing to do with you either!”

Bodyguard was speechless.

When Avery came to the pharmacy, she asked the bodyguard to wait at the door.

The bodyguard stood obediently at the door and did not go in.

After talking with the clerk for a few words, Avery walked to the bathroom.

After entering the bathroom, she saw Wesley who had not been seen for a long time.

Wesley was much thinner, as if he had taken off his face.

The moment she saw him, her eyes turned red.

Wesley whispered, “Avery, for the sake of safety, let’s keep it short! I didn’t mean to make you sad when I told you about Shea’s death. Her heartbeat did stop before, but she miraculously recovered after a while. Vital signs.”

Avery held back tears and listened to him.

“Although her heartbeat has recovered, various organs of her body have started to have problems one after another.”

“Can I help?” Avery interrupted him.

Wesley shook his head: “It’s not your area of expertise. If you can help me, I will naturally find you. I want to restore Shea to health more than anyone else.”

“What is Shea’s situation now? Where is she? The money that came to give her treatment?”

Wesley said, “I used to have some savings. Now, while making money from seeing a doctor, I find a suitable kidney source for Shea. I came here because I took a job. The salary is very high.”

“Kidney? What happened to Shea’s kidney?” Avery was nervous, and a layer of cold sweat broke out on his back.

Wesley exhaled heavily, “She has kidney failure. Need a kidney transplant. I’ve been looking for a kidney source for a long time. I don’t know how long her body will last.”

Avery muttered ‘kidney failure’ After several times, I searched for relevant knowledge reserves in my mind.

Suddenly, her eyes lifted: “I remember this disease, it seems that the kidney source match between relatives will be higher?”

“Yes. I originally wanted to go to Elliot, but Shea refused. She spends more time in a coma and less time to wake up. But every time she wakes up, she tells me not to tell you about her illness.”

Avery couldn’t help crying: “Elliot is not her brother, it’s useless to find Elliot. Her brother’s name is Adrian... I can find Adrian.”

Chapter 1120

“What’s the situation with this person named Adrian?” Wesley asked curiously.

“He’s in the same situation as Shea. After I performed an operation on him, he recovered well.” Avery felt hopeful, “If I tell him about Shea, he will definitely be willing to help Shea.”

She would not doubt Adrian’s kindness, but she doubted that Henry would not let her see Adrian.

Henry and Elliot have completely torn their skins, so this matter obviously doesn't look difficult, but it's actually very difficult. But no matter how difficult it is, she has to work hard for it.

"Wesley, I will definitely help Shea find the kidney source. When you go back, stay with Shea and don't come out to work again." Avery said, took out a bank card from his bag and handed it to him, "It's not your fault that Shea has become like this. So you must not reject me."

Wesley accepted her card and raised concerns: "Adrian is with Henry now, right? You go. Is it convenient to find Adrian?"

"Henry just asks for money. As long as you give him money, he will definitely not embarrass me." Avery wrote lightly, "As long as Shea is still alive, there must be a way."

After Wesley finished talking, Avery came out of the bathroom, and the bodyguard walked up to her in a single step.

"Why did you go in for so long? If you don't come out in another ten minutes, I will rush in to find you!"

Avery glanced at the time: "Do you have to do this? I only go in for 20 minutes. What can happen?"

The bodyguard said and looked at her, "I've never seen anyone take so long to go to the toilet! If you're at home, you can go for as long as you like, but now outside, shouldn't I be a little more vigilant! If you make a mistake, the boss will let me bury you with me! Why did you go to the toilet and cry yourself?"

Avery thought that she might be too good to talk.

When Elliot's bodyguard was by Elliot's side, he never talked too much.

As a result, in front of her, the chatter was endless.

"I just read a piece of news. A middle-aged man your age had a fire in his house. He put his wife out of the window, pulled her by the hand, and he was seriously injured by the fire." Here, she looked sharply at the bodyguard, "You have to worry about watching the sunrise with your wife.”The bodyguard’s cheeks were flushed by her sarcasm, and he didn’t say a word for a long time.

After Avery bought a medical waterproof bandage, she came out of the pharmacy and returned to the hotel.

Elliot was already asleep. Avery lay down beside him, looking at his sleeping face. Her mind was full of thoughts.

Still Avery can’t tell him about it. If Shea hadn’t been so seriously ill, she would have told him the good news as soon as possible.

But Shea is like this now, and letting him know will only make him more sad.

She could imagine that in order to cure Shea, he would definitely go to Henry.

And Henry will definitely threaten him because of this.

He is a man of arrogance and stubbornness. He would rather burn with his opponent jade than be threatened.

Avery didn’t want to see Elliot suffer any more grievances for Shea.

After taking a deep breath, Avery turned her back. She was very sleepy, but she couldn’t sleep. As soon as she closed her eyes, she remembered the pain Shea was suffering from now.

She should go back to Aryadelle immediately and go to Henry to negotiate. But if she asked to return to Aryadelle immediately, Elliot would definitely be suspicious.

In the afternoon.

When Elliot woke up, she brought the medical bandage and wrapped it on his wound.

Avery discussed with him, “Elliot, let’s go back to Aryadelle after playing one more day tomorrow! There’s nothing fun here. Why don’t we play in Aryadelle!”

Elliot was startled: “Return to Aryadelle the day after tomorrow?”

“Yeah! I miss Layla and Robert very much. I had a dream just now that Robert was crying and calling her mother. It was very pitiful.”

Elliot looked at her red eyes and agreed to her request.

Chapter 1121

“Elliot, I’m sorry. I know you have a half-month leave this time, but we’ve only been out for less than five days. But I really miss the child.” Avery hugged him and apologized hoarsely.

“It’s okay, I miss the child a little too.” Elliot patted her on the back and comforted, “When the child is older, we can take the child out to play together.”

“Well.” Avery breathed a sigh of relief in her heart.

Three days later, they returned to Aryadelle.

The injury on Elliot’s body was almost healed, but the injury on his face was still very conspicuous.

His marriage leave is not over yet, so he decides to stay at home until the marriage leave ends.

“Are you going out?” Elliot asked when he saw Avery carrying her bag and walking to the door to change her shoes.

She smiled and replied, “Yeah, I bought Tammy a present, and I’m giving it to her now. I’ll be back for dinner at night. If I don’t come back at night, you don’t have to wait for me.”

Elliot frowned slightly: “Didn’t you say that you really miss children? Go see your best friend as soon as you come back. No matter how I look at it, I can’t see how much you miss children.”

Robert was in his arms now.

After she came back, she just teased Robert and went to take a bath.

Now get ready to go out after taking a shower. No wonder he said that.

"I'll be back with the baby tonight!" Avery changed her shoes and waved to the father and son.

Before she returned to Aryadelle, she made an appointment with Cole.

Shea things cannot be delayed. The longer she delay, the more danger there is.

Of course she missed the child very much, wanted to hug the child, and wanted to be with the child at home, but she had no energy now.

Half an hour after she left home, Elliot called Jun.

"Is Avery with Tammy now?"

He didn't want to doubt her, but her reaction was very abnormal in his opinion.

So he had to confirm privately that Avery really went to see Tammy.

Jun: "I'm not at home! How about I ask Tammy?"

"Then you ask."

Jun hung up the phone and called Tammy: "Tammy, is Avery with you now?"

Tammy raised her eyebrows: "Why are you asking this?"

"Brother Elliot asked. He may be worried about Avery!"

Tammy hesitated for two seconds and said, "She is with me! Let's make an appointment Let's go shopping together." After talking on the phone, Tammy immediately called Avery and complained: "Avery! Your husband called my husband and asked about your whereabouts! How come you lied to him and didn't talk to me? As soon as I made a slip of the tongue, wouldn't the two of you have to quarrel again?"

"I forgot to tell you, I'll find you later."

"Okay," Tammy asked worriedly, "where are you now? It's not dangerous, right?"

"It's not dangerous. I brought you a gift. I'll talk about it later." Avery hung up the phone after finishing speaking.

At this moment, Cole sat opposite her, smiling slyly.

“Avery, what’s the matter with you looking for me?” Cole guessed for two days without guessing the reason.

But he had a hunch that Avery must be asking for him.

Avery said, “I want to see Adrian. I want to see how his health is now. After all, I am his attending doctor.”

Cole teased, “Oh, you ended your honeymoon early to see my uncle’s health?”

Avery, don’t take me for a fool, okay?”

Chapter 1122

Avery picked up the water glass and took a sip.

“You are now a famous lady, and I’m just a down-and-out young master of the Foster family.” Cole laughed at himself, “Why do you have to go around in circles with me?”

“I need to see Adrian. I have something to ask him.” Avery put down the water glass and said sternly.

“What do you have to find him for? Although he’s not that stupid, he doesn’t have the ability to take care of himself. Even if I could let you see him, my dad wouldn’t allow it. You are Elliot’s wife, and my dad and Elliot are incompatible.”

Avery sneered, “What’s wrong? Isn’t it because you asked Elliot for his company shares, but he wouldn’t give it? Your father and you are so greedy, and the lions are open to talking. I’m afraid that up to now, you don’t feel that your requirements have anything to do with it. It’s too much.”

Cole raised his mouth and said coldly, “Avery, if you have such an attitude, I don’t think we need to continue talking. Do you really think of yourself as a noble wife? This is Elliot and The matter of our Foster family has nothing to do with you.”

“I am Elliot’s wife. So I am not an outsider about this matter.” Avery was neither anxious nor annoyed, “This is your grandma’s plan, and Elliot is also a victim, Why do you ask Elliot for money? Besides, your grandma gave the money to Elliot, not your father. What right do your father and you have to ask him for money?”

Cole asked, “My grandma’s money is the property of the Foster family. Besides, why do you think my grandma did the child’s unpacking? You have the ability to show evidence that my grandma did it. If you can’t come up with evidence, my dad and I have reason to suspect that my grandma didn’t know about it. All of this is Nathan’s conspiracy.”

How did Avery come up with evidence?

Rosalie Foster has been dead for several years.

“Avery, what’s the matter with you looking for Adrian? I can tell you clearly that he is in good health and has never been sick. He also eats well and sleeps a lot. After he followed us, he probably gained weight.” Cole wanted to know why Avery was looking for him.

But Avery glanced at him, lowered her eyes, and pondered for a few seconds.

Avery said, “Go back and help me make an appointment with your dad. Didn’t you just say that, even if you wanted me to see Adrian, your dad would not agree. Since you speak completely at home There is no weight, then I’ll talk to your dad directly! You have an appointment, let me know.”

Cole: “...”

The meeting broke up, and Avery drove to find sweet.

The two met at a restaurant near Tammy’s house.

Seeing her sad face, Tammy ordered her a table of food.

Tammy took the gift from her and asked, “What’s the matter? Others go happily on their honeymoon and come back happily, but you go away happily and come back with a sad face. You go out for a week, and the journey will be short. You have to subtract four days, which equals to three days in total.”

Avery nodded: “Something happened, so I came back.”

“What’s the matter?” Tammy lowered her voice, “I can’t tell Elliot. Is it related to him?”

“It is related to Shea.” She had been in friendship with Tammy for many years, and she trusted Tammy very much, so she did not hide it, “Shea is not dead. But she is very ill. She don’t want us to know, because I’m afraid we’ll be sad. She’s so ill, and she’s still thinking about us.”

“Oh my God!” Tammy’s chest heaved up and down quickly, she picked up the green tea on the table, and took a sip, “So, Who did you go to see just now?”

“Cole.” Avery looked at the table full of delicacies and said blankly, “Shea is going to have a kidney transplant. There is a high possibility that the kidneys of ordinary relatives will be compatible. But Henry and Cole will never give Shea a kidney transplant. So I can only pin my hopes on Adrian.”

“Didn’t you say before that Adrian is the same as Shea, very kind and obedient? Then Adrian should agree to donate Kidneys to Shea?”

Chapter 1123

Tammy gave her an idea, “Would you like to send someone to snatch Adrian! You talk to Henry and his son, they will definitely not let this opportunity to find you to corrupt money. Why not Send bodyguards directly and snatch Adrian?”

Avery was shocked by Tammy’s idea.

“Tammy, this is a society ruled by law. And although Henry has no money now and their Foster family’s connections are still there. Besides, if you send bodyguards to rob Adrian, Elliot will know about it. He will know about it in a week. I don't want him to be coerced by Henry again for the Shea thing."

Tammy reminded, "Well, they will definitely ask you for money And the number they want. It will definitely not be a small amount. You may not be able to satisfy their appetite."

"Let's talk about it when I meet Henry! If we really can't agree, think of other ways. Although the relatives' kidneys are highly compatible, But the kidneys of strangers also have a certain chance of adapting. In short, Shea is still alive, which is great news." Avery rubbed her temples and comforted herself.

"Well. Don't be too nervous. You are like this. It's easy for Elliot to find something unusual. He called my husband at that time to ask about your whereabouts, and he obviously suspected that you were lying."

Avery said helplessly: "Think in another's shoes, if he left me and my child today, we went out. I will also doubt him."

...

Cole returned home and told his father about his meeting with Avery.

Henry: "Avery doesn't want to say anything?"

Cole glanced at Adrian's room and said, "I don't want to say anything. But it's definitely related to Adrian. From what she looks like, I guess it's not a trivial matter. Dad, let's move Adrian to a place where no one can find him. In case Avery comes hard, we can't do anything about it."

Henry pursed his lips, pondered for a moment, and nodded: "Since Adrian It's so important now, let's find a bodyguard to watch him!"

Cole said, "Yeah! You go to meet Avery tomorrow to see what's going on."

"Okay." Henry agreed, worrying, "Could it be Banquet?"

Cole: "Probably not. She came alone. Maybe Elliot doesn't even know. If Elliot knew, he would definitely not let her come forward. Elliot is so impulsive, if something happens, he will definitely come to us directly.”

Henry: “Okay. Then you make an appointment with her. See you at noon tomorrow.”

Cole: “Yeah.”

....

Avery returns home in the evening. Layla immediately ran over and hugged her.

“Mom, why did you and dad come back so soon? Didn’t you say you were going to visit your brother in Bridgedale?”

Avery explained embarrassingly: “Mom missed you and your brother, so she came back early.”

Layla blinked her bright and clear eyes asked, “Then you don’t want Brother? I called my brother last time, and I told him that the two of you would go to him. But if you don’t go to him now, he definitely will sad!”

Avery’s body froze, but the pain in her heart kept coming.

“Avery, are you hiding something from me?” Elliot walked up to her and asked.

Chapter 1124

Avery shook her head without thinking, “I just can’t stay in Rishawaka anymore.”

“Why can’t I stay?” Elliot asked.

Avery said with difficulty, “You told me the other day that you saw Wesley, so whether I took a nap or went to bed at night, I would always dream of Wesley and Shea. I should have been happy on my honeymoon, But every time I wake up from a dream, I feel very uncomfortable.”

Elliot took her into his arms and comforted her softly: “You should have told me.”

Avery said, "Telling you will only make you uncomfortable. Elliot, after a while, you can accompany me to visit Hayden in Bridgedale! I feel a little tired these days."

"Okay." Let him explain."

"Yeah."

She took out the things she bought with Tammy in the afternoon one by one from the bag.

I bought clothes for my two children and some snacks.

After Layla glanced at the new clothes, she pulled her and said excitedly,

"Mom, I'll show you a surprise!"

Avery quickly adjusted her mood: "What surprise?"

I saw Layla running to the coffee table, took a banana from it, then walked to Robert who was playing with toys, hugged Robert from the mat and stood up.

"Brother! Did you see the banana in my sister's hand? Do you want to eat it?"

After Layla stabilized Robert, she immediately took a few steps back, "Come over to my sister's place, and my sister will give you bananas!"

Avery Settling immediately understood what the surprise Layla was talking about.

Could it be that Robert can already walk?

Robert stared at the banana in Layla's hand, his bright eyes never blinking. He clenched his small fist tightly, then stretched out his arm, and walked towards Layla with a serious face.

He is still young and cannot walk steadily. Every time he took a step, that rickety little body made Avery extremely worried.

Elliot said, "Don't worry. Even if he fall, it won't hurt. He went to the fruit plate in the afternoon and wanted to eat bananas."

But the living room is covered with carpet, so it won't hurt too much if he fall.

Avery looked at Robert lying on the ground with aggrieved expression, and wanted to go and pick him up, but was stopped by Elliot.

Layla took the banana and put it in front of him, tempting him, and shouted, "Brother, get up quickly! Brother, get up quickly! When you get up, your sister will give you bananas!"

Robert's face With the expression of 'Baby is so bitter', he tried to get up, but he couldn't get up after several attempts.

He grabbed his little head, gave him a 'swish', looked at his parents next to him. His eyes filled with resentment, as if to say, "Why are you two sitting there watching the play instead of hugging me?"

"Baby, help the chair next to you to get up, don't be afraid, try it! If you get up by yourself, your sister will give you bananas!" Avery encouraged softly.

After Robert hummed a few times, his little hand grabbed the chair next to him and stood up with difficulty!

Avery breathed a sigh of relief. But after a week, her son has changed so much!

The next second, Robert ran to Layla and hugged her body tightly.

"Sister!" The little baby raised his head and wanted to eat a banana.

Layla immediately hugged Robert: "Mom, do you think my brother is very good?"

Avery: "Awesome! It's mainly because his elder sister is very good, so your brother is also very good."

Layla usually played with Robert when she came back from school.

Soon after Robert will call his mother and also call his sister.

Layla took Robert and sat down on the sofa, then peeled a banana. One and a half siblings.

Avery was very moved when she saw this warm picture. She took out her mobile phone and made a videocall to Hayden.

After a while, Hayden received the videocall.

Chapter 1125

Avery looked at her son's sleepy face in the video and said, "Hayden, your mother wants to apologize to you. Mom has returned to Aryadelle because of some things."

"Oh, what happened?" Hayden rubbed Rubbing eyes and asked.

There is a time difference between Bridgedale and Aryadelle. At this moment, Bridgedale is more than 6 in the morning.

"It's not a big deal, you don't have to worry. When mom adjusts her mood, mom will go to Bridgedale to see you. When mom goes there, she will tell you in advance." Avery said.

Hayden: "Well."

"Would you like to see your brother and sister?" Avery said, turning the camera to the sister and brother who were eating bananas.

Layla immediately pointed the remaining bananas at the camera: "Brother, eat bananas for you!"

Hayden: "Childish."

"Layla deliberately angered him, "Brother, younger brother can walk. He will still call his parents, mom and sister, but he won't call you. Are you jealous?"

Hayden: "Boring."

"Brother, do you miss me? If you say you miss me, then I will go to Bridgedale with my mother next time. " Layla took the phone from Avery, "Quickly say you miss me!"

'Dududu'! Hayden hung up the videocall.

Avery took the phone back and said, "Layla, don't be sad. Your brother must miss you, he just hasn't slept well yet. It's only six o'clock on his side."

"Then why did you make videocall so early? "

"Because Mom can't wait to apologize to him."

"Oh, okay! Mom, let's go eat!"

"Well."

After the family had dinner, Avery took the child for a walk in the community.

Elliot stayed at home because of the injury on his face.

Layla was pushing the stroller and walking quickly ahead.

Avery followed behind and reminded aloud, "Layla, don't go so fast. Be careful to bump into someone."

After she said this, the phone in her pocket vibrated. She took out her mobile phone and saw the message from Cole.

Cole told her that Henry was free tomorrow, and asked you to set a meeting place.

She looked at the message, her brain was running at high speed for a few seconds, and she sent him an address.

When Cole saw the address Avery sent, he immediately replied: [Are you sure?]

Avery: [OK. How about it at half past seven tomorrow morning?]

Cole: [Okay!]

Avery chose to meet at a breakfast shop outside the Starry River Villa. She chose to meet at 7:30 in the morning because Elliot hadn't woken up yet, and she could take advantage of the time in the morning to send her children to school, and go out to meet Henry by the way.

The most dangerous places are often the safest places.

The next morning, Avery put Layla in the car, and then said to Mrs. Cooper, “Mrs. Cooper, I suddenly want to eat bean curd. I won’t be home for breakfast today.”

“Okay. What do you want to eat next time?”

“you can tell me in advance, I’ll just go buy it.”

“Well. I’ll go to the breakfast shop outside to buy it.” Avery took her mobile phone and went out.

After coming out of the community, she came to the agreed breakfast shop.

Entering the store, she saw Henry and Cole at a glance.

She walked over and sat down across from them.

The father and son were obviously relieved to see that she came alone.

Chapter 1126

“Are you afraid of me?” Avery teased, picked up the menu and ordered.

Cole said, “This is your territory after all. What’s the matter with you, tell me quickly. Does Elliot live in your house?”

Cole was not only afraid of her, but also of Elliot.

Avery looked at them after ordering a soy milk fritters.

To be precise, looking at Henry.

“Mr. Foster, Adrian is your younger brother, so do you remember that you have a younger sister?” Avery eyes were calm and her tone was calm.

She hopes this matter can be resolved peacefully.

After all, in addition to being very important to her and Elliot, Shea is also Henry’s sister.

Henry listened to her words, thought about it for a few seconds, and then said:

“Did you say Shea? Of course I didn’t forget her. It’s just that she and I are not very close. What did you mention her for? Shea didn't sacrifice her to save your son. Did you? Telling me about her will only make me more angry with you and Elliot."

Avery retorted him, "What's the use of anger? Do you think Elliot and I want to see Shea die?"

Henry glared and complained, "No matter what you say, Shea died because of you. Did you come out with me to talk about Shea? Did you find Shea's body?"

"No." Avery looked at Henry and said word by word, "Shea is not dead. But she is seriously ill. Henry, you can only save Shea. Are you willing to save her?"

"Shea is not dead? Seriously ill? How can I save her? I don't know medical skills..." Henry was a little flustered.

"Would you like to donate one of your kidneys to Shea? She is in kidney failure now." Avery said, and looked at Cole again, "Cole, if you are unwilling to donate your father's kidney, your kidney can also be used. Shea is your own aunt, so you definitely wouldn't give up on your aunt, right?"

Father and son were speechless.

Donate a kidney!

What a joke!

Not to mention that Shea is estranged from them, even if the relationship is very close, their father and son will not easily donate one of their kidneys.

"Avery, calm down!" Cole took a sip of soy milk to calm his emotions, and then said seriously, "My father and I are not very healthy, so it is impossible for us to donate a kidney to Shea. Although Shea is my aunt and I love her very much, I can't sacrifice myself for her."

Avery had long guessed that the father and son would have such a reaction.

"You two are ruthless. Shea is your blood relative. If Elliot was her brother, Elliot would definitely be willing to donate a kidney to her.” Avery teased.

Father and son blushed with shame.

“Let Adrian donate. Adrian is her brother.” Cole thought of Adrian.

What Avery was waiting for was this words.

“If you don’t want to donate your kidneys to Shea, you can only go to Adrian.”

Avery said regretfully, and the conversation changed, “But Adrian’s kidneys are not necessarily suitable for Shea. I have to bring Adrian to do it. Take a physical examination to see if he meets the requirements.”

Henry and Cole looked at each other. Both of them were waiting for this opportunity to turn things around, so they quickly came back to it.

Chapter 1127

Cole discovered Avery’s plan, “No wonder you said you were looking for Adrian yesterday! It turned out that you wanted Adrian to donate a kidney. You deliberately asked my father and me to donate kidneys, let us both first Panic, and then lead to Adrian... Avery, I have to say, you have a lot of brains!” Avery said, “Cole, don’t treat a gentleman’s belly with the heart of a villain. Under normal circumstances, You should donate your kidney on your own initiative. But I know that you are greedy for life and fear death, so you definitely don’t want to.”

“Just talk and scold people for what you do. Shea is indeed my aunt, but what has she done for me all these years? She didn’t even tell me a word. You asked me to donate a kidney to her? I don’t give her a kidney until my brain is flooded!” Cole roared.

Henry patted Cole’s arm to calm him down.

Henry had calmed down and said Have a plan, “Avery, Shea is my sister, and I hope she recovers quickly. I can ask Adrian to donate her kidney.”

“Yes! You hand over Adrian to me, and I will take him to the hospital for examination.” Avery didn’t expect things to go so smoothly.

This father and son are quite conscientious.

A smile appeared on Henry’s face, “Avery, I promised Adrian to donate a kidney to Shea, not only because I want to save Shea, but I also have to guarantee their brother and sister’s future life. Shea changed. It’s like this to save your child. So I’m asking, isn’t it too much?”

Avery clenched her fingers. She is naive! How could this father and son have a conscience?

The waiter came with a tray and put the fried dough sticks and soy milk as she ordered in front of her.

“Dad, you’re right. In order to take better care of my uncle and aunt in the future, we should indeed make a request.” The corner of Cole’s mouth rose, in a good mood.

“How much do you want?” Avery held the soy milk cup, her voice tense, “I advise you to think carefully and then quote. I can give you money, but if the price you quote is beyond my range, I can’t satisfy you.”

“You have no money, but your husband has.” Cole reminded.

“Elliot does have money. If you let him know about this, do you think he will give you the money obediently, or will he directly send bodyguards to arrest Adrian?” Avery threatened, “I didn’t tell Elliot about this. I just don’t want to make things bigger.”

“Make trouble!” Henry said ruthlessly, “Avery, I have nothing left now. Don’t try to threaten me with anything! Besides, I have already hidden Adrian. Get up, let me see where you guys go to grab Adrian! Unless you want Shea to die of illness! Otherwise, I want nothing less!”

“What do you want?” Avery said blankly.

Cole said decisively, “One-third of Sterling Group’s shares. It can only be more, not less! You and Elliot owe our Foster family too much!”

Avery sneered, “Why don’t we give it? Do you think that in this world, only your kidneys can match Shea?”

The expressions of the father and son suddenly became extremely gloomy.

This negotiation broke up unhappily.

Avery angrily left the breakfast shop. She walked back to the community. When she got home, she was so hungry that her stomach cramped. She changed her shoes and strode towards the dining room, clutching her stomach.

“Mrs. Cooper, do you still have breakfast? I didn’t go out to eat.”

“Also. Mrs. Cooper hasn’t come for breakfast yet!” Mrs. Cooper looked at her,

“Why didn’t you eat outside?”

“When you were in line, got into a dispute with a customer.” Avery casually found a reason, “I didn’t think of eating out immediately.”

“There are indeed many people in the breakfast shop outside this place.” Mrs. Cooper brought the breakfast to the table and comforted, “Don’t hurt your body because of such a trivial matter.”

“Well.” Avery glanced at the time and whispered, “It’s been 8 a.m, why hasn’t Elliot got up yet? I’ll go take a look.”

Chapter 1128

She came out of the dining room, and Mrs. Cooper followed.

“Huh, Where’s Robert?”

Mrs. Cooper found out that Robert wasn’t in the living room, and immediately became agitated.

“Don’t worry, he can’t walk yet.” Avery comforted Mrs. Cooper and strode outside.

Although Robert can't walk yet, he is especially good at crawling.

Did he climb out?

The door to the front yard is closed, so the little guy shouldn't be able to get out.

Just when Avery came out of the villa and went to the front yard to look around, Mrs. Cooper's voice came: "Avery! Robert is in the master bedroom!"

Avery breathed a sigh of relief and strode back to the house.

Robert has a stroller for learning to walk. He just pushed his toddler stroller and knocked on the master bedroom door.

When Elliot saw his son knocking on the door, he immediately hugged him and played.

"You're sweating profusely, you look down on your son too much." He reached out to wipe the sweat from her forehead, "He can't get through the gate of the villa at all."

"He can climb!" Avery retorted .

"Even if he can climb out of the villa gate, but he can't climb out of the front yard gate."

"That's because your son is with you, so you don't have back pain when you stand talking." Avery hugged Robert over and touched the little guy with his forehead. "Little boy, why didn't you say anything to your father?"

Robert liked to touch people's heads, so he grinned: "Hee hee hee!"

"Avery, why did you wake up so early today? There are bodyguards to take Layla to school, you don't need to get up early." Elliot looked at her slightly haggard face and said distressedly.

"I can't sleep when I wake up in the morning. I can catch up at noon."

“Well, let’s go have breakfast!”

Mrs. Cooper took Robert from Avery’s arms: “Robert has eaten in the morning, you two go to eat!”

The two went to the dining room, and not long after they sat down, Elliot started
Look at your phone.

Ben Schaffer sent him a message with the name of a model company.

He suspected that Ben Schaffer sent the wrong information, so he returned a question mark.

Ben Schaffer: Elliot, take a good look at this company!

Elliot: Why should I watch it?

Ben Schaffer: Your sister is going to work in this company. To be precise, she has already gone to work.

Elliot: [? ? ?]

Ben Schaffer: You also think it’s outrageous, right? ! What do you think she’s doing bad, she has to be a model... Although she looks a little pretty and has a tall figure, how deep is this line of water!

Elliot: I haven’t seen her.

Nathan brought Zion to look for him, but did not bring Gwen to look for him.

So he has never seen this sister until now. But the children that Nathan brought out must be similar to Nathan.

This is also the main reason why he does not want to associate with this pair of siblings.

Ben Schaffer: Would you like to meet tonight? You educate her well and let her go to school! Although she looks like a little sister. She is actually not that bad.

After all, she is still a child and is easily affected by her growing environment.

Elliot: No.

Ben Schaffer: Well, I called her this month's living expenses. I asked her what she planned to do. She said that she should save the money to buy a house. As you can see, she has quite a plan. Why don't you give her a suite? Your house is so much.

Chapter 1129

Elliot: No.

Ben Schaffer: Why don't you give her a little more money every month?

Otherwise, this amount of money every month has to be saved in the year of the monkey and the horse month.

Elliot: If you pity her, you can buy her a house with your own pocket and give her money.

"Elliot, who are you messaging?" Avery asked when she saw that he didn't even bother to eat breakfast.

"Ben Schaffer." Elliot put down the phone, picked up the milk cup, and took a sip of milk, "Gwen lives with him, so he often sends me messages about Gwen."

"Gwen? Is that your sister?" Avery pondered for a few seconds, "It's not good for her to live in Ben Schaffer's place all the time? Shall we find her a house?"

Elliot said seriously, "Avery, if money comes too easily, you won't cherish it.

Everyone is responsible for their own life. You can't expect others."

Avery nodded, "You are right. Now that she has left Nathan, it is time to reshape her life values. It's okay to suffer a little."

"When is Mike moving out?" Elliot asked.

Mike had said before that he would move.

Avery glanced at him, "He can move whenever he wants. Don't you want to drive him away? I have a very close relationship with him, so don't do this."

Elliot was suddenly jealous, "You are not only with him. Your relationship with Eric is also close. If Eric also asked to move in, you would definitely not refuse."

Avery didn't expect it to be good, she suddenly took off vinegar.

"We don't have many rooms for Eric to live in. And Eric won't come to our house."

"How do you know he doesn't want to come to your house? Without me and Mike, maybe he would have made this request."

"We're both married, and you still eat this kind of nutritious vinegar." Avery peeled an egg and put it in his bowl, trying to shut him up.

"Don't you think Mike should have moved? He came back at twelve o'clock last night, and I was woken up by him." Elliot woke up late today because of this reason.

Avery moved to the master bedroom on the first floor after her third trimester, and now she has been living in the master bedroom on the first floor.

Living on the first floor, She could hear clearly what was happening in the yard.

"Why didn't I hear it?" Avery really didn't hear it, but she also seriously considered his feelings, "I'll talk to him later!"

Avery's voice was settled, Mike with messy blonde hair, strode over.

"I heard it! You two are too much! How can you speak ill of me behind my back? I'll move today after breakfast! Are you satisfied?" Mike sat down in the dining chair, Looking at Elliot coldly, "Is it because of your age that you are not sleeping well? If your condition is serious, you have to see a doctor and prescribe some medicine."

Elliot put down the milk glass, got up and left with a dark face.

After getting Elliot away, Mike's mood finally improved.

"Why did you come back so late last night? Did you go clubbing again?" Avery asked.

Mike sighed with a headache, "Working overtime in the company. But even if you don't tell me, I'm going to move out. When Elliot didn't move here, I thought it was a big place. I feel a lack of oxygen."

"One mountain can't hold two tigers."

"Maybe! But why did you end your honeymoon early?" Mike looked at her, "I heard that you are coming back."

Taking a look outside, Elliot was not in the living room, so he might have returned to his room.

Avery whispered, "Mike, can you help me find Adrian? Henry hid Adrian, but I have to find Adrian. Even by any means."

Mike was shocked: "What happened again?"

Avery frowned slightly: "I can't tell you for the time being."

"You didn't tell Elliot?" "I haven't told him yet. But I'm afraid this matter will be hidden soon. " Avery frowned.

Henry wanted the shares in Elliot's hands, and Elliot would never compromise.

This matter would give him a headache.

Chapter 1130

Shea's illness can't be dragged on for too long.

If she couldn't find a suitable kidney next, and Shea's body continued to deteriorate and she dared not imagine the terrible consequences. So Avery must do everything possible to find Adrian as soon as possible.

Henry and his son have no humanity, and Avery doesn't need to talk to them about benevolence, righteousness and morality.

"Does Adrian use a mobile phone now?"

"Yes. I'll send you his number." Avery asked.

Mike sighed, "Yeah. Judging from your expression, it's a big deal! You were able to hide Elliot, your acting skills are really good."

"Don't make fun of me. You don't know what Elliot's temper is. Last time He doesn't not like Henry, and his injuries haven't healed yet."

Mike couldn't help laughing, "Are you afraid that he will make headlines again. Chad said he has never been so embarrassed."

Avery picked up the milk glass and took a sip and said, "Well. Tell me about this. He's useless. Why don't I figure it out myself. If you tell him, things may develop in a more uncontrollable direction."

"Then you can tell me." Mike blinked his pale blue eyes. He especially wanted to know what Avery was talking about.

Avery glanced at him and said, "Aren't you going to move out? I'm afraid that you won't be under my nose, you will be too complacent, and you won't be able to keep your mouth shut.

"If the matter can be solved perfectly, I will definitely tell you immediately."

Avery also peeled an egg for him, "eat slowly, and I will send you the number right away. Don't tell anyone about this. When You find Adrian, let me know immediately."

Mike: "Got it, go and pack my luggage for me."

Avery said, "Okay! You don't have to take all your luggage with you, and you can always come back for a short stay! Even if you don't like Elliot, don't you miss a few children? I'll keep your room for you. It 's okay."

"Avery, you're still good to me. That b*stard Elliot..." Mike gritted his teeth and said here, and Elliot's face suddenly appeared. Frightened Mike immediately shut up.

Elliot came over and held Avery's hand.

“Let’s take Robert out to bask in the sun!” Elliot’s eyes swept across Mike’s face coldly, then pulled Avery away.

Mike asked Avery to pack his luggage, which was a fool’s errand!

Avery is not a servant at home, why should she pack your luggage?

“Mike has already agreed to move out, why are you still sullen?” Avery took Robert’s travel bag from Mrs. Cooper.

Elliot put Robert in the stroller, “Mike asked you to pack his luggage, what does he take him for? What does he take you for?”

Avery took her arm and went out with him and said, “He also helped me a lot! He also helped us bring Where’s the child! What’s wrong with me helping him pack his luggage? Don’t be fussy!”

Elliot: “You are my wife, you can only pack for me and the child.”

Avery squeezed out a smile, looking at the wound on his face and said, “Okay, I won’t pack for him. I guess it will take a few more hours. It will take days to recover.”

His injured area has turned from bruise to yellow, and the color will gradually fade until it returns to normal.

Elliot: “It doesn’t hurt anymore.”

“But it affects your appearance.” Avery turned around to get a mask and put it on him, “This way you don’t have to be afraid of others laughing at you.”

“I wore a mask. Do you not know me anymore?” Elliot was a little worried.

“Probably! When Layla was over a year old, she kissed me when I went out in the morning, and when I came back with a different hairstyle in the evening, she didn’t want me anymore. I was so scared that I cried.” Avery laughed, “Children are really interesting.”

“Then I don’t wear them anymore.” Elliot took off the mask.

Avery: "Aren't you afraid that others will laugh at you?"

Elliot: "What does it have to do with me, what do others think of me?"

Chapter 1131

Seeing that Elliot figured it out, Avery was very relieved.

The family of three came out of the yard and didn't go far when they met two aunties for a walk.

When the aunt saw Avery, she immediately greeted warmly: "Avery, are you back from vacation?"

Avery: "Well, you are taking a walk!"

"Well! Your baby is so cute!" The aunt praised Robert, Suddenly looking at Elliot, "Avery, is this your husband?"

Avery glanced at Elliot and responded with a smile.

"Your husband is very handsome, but what's wrong with his face? Is this jaundice?" The aunt looked worried, and even wanted to touch Elliot's face.

Elliot immediately took out the mask and put it on.

"No, he has some injuries on his face and is already healed." Seeing Elliot restrained, Avery immediately said, "Auntie, let's go for a walk first."

"Good! Bye!" After the two aunties left, Elliot said glumly: "Are you familiar with them?"

Avery said, "Not familiar! Just meet up! After all, from a community, it is inevitable that we will meet."

Elliot: "Then how did she know you were on vacation?"

Avery said, "It's not surprising that they know! Layla takes Robert out to play every evening. Our children are so beautiful and cute. These aunties like our children, so naturally they can't help but talk to each other."

Elliot: "That's it. I thought it was Mrs. Cooper who said it."

Avery said, "Mrs. Cooper won't tell them about our affairs. Mrs. Cooper pays special attention to privacy."

Elliot: "It's okay to talk about such trivial matters."

Avery: "But Mrs. Cooper won't speak out. She is very cautious. Although she is a servant, I think she is more like an elder."

By the time they came back from their walk, Mike's luggage was already packed.

"I'm ready to go." Mike dragged his suitcase and reluctantly said to Avery,

"Don't mess up my room. I'll check back from time to time."

"Don't worry, your room will definitely be reserved. Avery thought for a while and said, "You come over for dinner at night, otherwise Layla will be sad when she comes back at night and finds out that you have moved."

Mike: "Okay. I can come to eat every night."

"Okay!" Avery sent him to the garage and whispered, "If you have any news about Adrian, tell me immediately."

Mike: "I know. I'll check when I'm settled."

In the evening, Mike came over for dinner. After seeing Avery, he immediately gave Avery a wink.

Avery was relieved to understand.

After dinner, Avery said that she was not feeling well after eating, and asked Elliot to take the two children out for a walk.

After Elliot took the two children out, Mike immediately took back to his room.

"I directly broke through the communication company's system this time, and found the specific location of Adrian's number." Mike put his hands on his hips,

"I'm a bull!"

"I've always known your bull. Where is his specific location? I...I want to go and have a look now." Avery couldn't contain her excitement.

“Do you think Elliot can let you go out with me?” Mike poured cold water on her, “I’ll go take a look alone later.”

“I’ll send bodyguards with you. I’m afraid of danger.” Avery said worriedly, “Henry and his son have long been stunned. I’m afraid they will do something extreme.”

Chapter 1132

Originally, Mike didn’t think how dangerous this matter was. Hearing her say this, he was instantly frightened.

“But you don’t have to worry. Henry is getting old, and Cole’s small body is definitely not your opponent. If you really fight, you shouldn’t suffer too much loss.” Avery comforted.

“Thank you for looking down on me so much. But I think Cole and I are about half a pound!” Mike sighed.

“Don’t be afraid, my bodyguard will protect you.” Avery glanced at him and comforted him. “you can leave now!”

Mike: “Didn’t you tell Layla about my move?”

“Why didn’t you say anything at the dinner table?” Avery raised her eyebrows, “I’ll tell her later. Don’t you want to come tomorrow night?”

After speaking, Avery went to the bodyguard. After sending them away, she went to the community to find Elliot and the children.

“Mom! The gardenias here are blooming! So fragrant!” Seeing Avery, Layla immediately picked a gardenia and handed it to her.

Avery took the flowers and smelled them: “Well, it’s really fragrant! But the flowers in the community cannot be picked! If you like gardenias, we can plant gardenias in the yard.”

Layla pursed her lips and said, “I picked it. Dad said you can pick it.”

Avery raised her eyes to look at Elliot: "Can you teach me something better?"

"Just a few flowers, if the child likes to pick them, or not. I'm... compensated."

Elliot said later, with a serious lack of confidence.

Because Avery's eyes became more and more severe.

"Layla, we won't pick the flowers in the community in the future. Tell Dad what flowers you like, and Dad will let them buy them for you." Elliot changed his words immediately.

Layla took her mother's hand and smiled, "Mom, Dad is so afraid of you!"

"Because he made a mistake. If he didn't make a mistake, he wouldn't be afraid of me!" Avery glared at Elliot.

"Avery, I don't think we need to put this innocuous little thing on the line."

"You don't do this to your own sister. What did you say in the morning, did you forget it so quickly?" Avery reminded him, "As a parent, in addition to caring for children, we also need to teach them correct values."

"Okay." Elliot was educated obediently.

"Elliot, do you feel that we are like this now, especially like a retired life? Every day I eat breakfast and go for a walk, then go back for lunch, take a nap after lunch, eat dinner when I wake up, and come out after dinner. Take a walk... a day has passed."

Avery looked at the darkened sky and said with emotion.

"It's quite different from retirement. When we retire, we won't have children by our side." Elliot looked at Robert with a peaceful face in the cart, and began to imagine the scene when the child grew up.

"When the time comes, we can have a dog." Avery planned.

"I don't like things that shed hair." Elliot was a little disgusted.

"At that time, it's good if the dog like you, but you still dislike the dog." Avery whispered.

Elliot felt a little sad. He suspected that Avery might start to dislike him.

Elliot suggested, "Avery, let's move to my house! as there is no gym in your house. There is no room big enough to be used as a gym."

Avery knew that he had a habit of exercising, so she thought about the feasibility of this problem.

Avery asked the question, "But Hayden won't come to live at your house."

"Isn't Hayden going abroad? When he comes back, we will move back, or change to a bigger house." Elliot said this and looked at his daughter, "Layla, do you want to move to Dad's house? Dad's house has a big house. How about planting your favorite flowers in your yard?"

Avery teased: "Elliot, you are a scheming old man, you know how to convince your daughter to convince me."

"If I don't know you well, how can I be your husband?" Elliot looked at his daughter again, "Dad's house can set up a piano room for you, a dance room..."

Chapter 1133

Layla was crazy.

Elliot continued, "Besides the master bedroom, you could control all the other rooms in Dad's house. Okay?"

Layla nodded frantically.

"When you chased me, you didn't follow me like this." Avery satirized him.

"My whole being is yours, not to mention a mere house?" Avery blushed immediately after she said these disgusting words in a serious manner.

And Layla was pushed by the two of them and Robert ran away.

At the same time, Ben Schaffer was slightly drunk after being toasted a few glasses of wine.

“Mr. Schaffer, it’s so boring for us big men to drink! I’ll call a few sensible women here... There are new products tonight.” A fat middle-aged man flattered Ben. North opening.

Ben Schaffer suddenly woke up a little: “No! I should go home after drinking this cup!”

“Mr. Schaffer, don’t rush to leave, someone will bring it soon, You can take a look. I’ve seen the photos. Well, this time the little sister is very pretty!”

Ben Schaffer: “I don’t like too young!”

“Then I’ll find you a more mature one.”

“No! What kind of woman I want, find it myself.” Ben Schaffer has been very sad these days. Gwen lived in his house, he was very uncomfortable. He wanted her to go, but he couldn’t bear it.

Nathan will be sentenced to death soon. Although Gwen is twenty years old, losing her biological father will definitely make her very painful.

Ben Schaffer picked up the glass, intending to finish the glass and leave.

At this time, the private room door was pushed open. A well-dressed middle-aged woman led three slender young women in.

The fat-headed man immediately waved to one of the women: “Gwen, come here! This is Mr. Schaffer, come and accompany Mr. Schaffer for a few drinks!” Gwen and Ben Schaffer looked at each other, and the air quickly wiped out the crackling fire!

Ben Schaffer’s eyes were sharp, looking at Gwen, who was wearing heavy makeup, not only sober, but also on fire.

Gwen said she wanted to be a model, this is her model path?

When Gwen saw Ben Schaffer, a flash of disbelief quickly flashed in her eyes.

Fortunately, she thought that Ben Schaffer was a gentle man and a more amiable elder brother than Elliot. Haha, I didn't expect his true face to be like this.

Gwen strode to the vacant seat beside Ben Schaffer and sat down.

The fat-headed man immediately poured her a glass of wine and asked her to respect Ben Schaffer.

The moment Gwen took the wine glass, Ben Schaffer grabbed the wine glass from her hand.

"Mr. Schaffer, what's the matter?" The fat-headed man asked in confusion, "Gwen is a newcomer to our company. Not only is she good-looking, but she is also very beautiful."

With a 'bang', Ben Schaffer put the wine glass on the table. He left, then grabbed Gwen's hand and strode out of the private room.

After coming out of the hotel, Ben Schaffer stuffed her into the car and scolded her sternly: "Gwen, this is what you said about going to work? Don't you feel disgusted?! I'm going to call your second brother. Don't think about it from him in the future. Get a cent!"

Gwen was so frightened that his face turned dark blue, "I'm disgusting, aren't you disgusting? You are the cleanest looking for women outside every day!"

Ben lifted his hand and scolded: "What a mess! I'm not like you!"

After he finished speaking, he dialed Elliot's number.

Chapter 1134

Although Gwen has never met Elliot, she is very afraid of him. She desperately rushed towards Ben Schaffer, aimed at his neck, and bit hard!

"Ah—" Ben Schaffer exclaimed in pain.

On the other side of the phone, Elliot listened to his strange cry, and his heart tightened abruptly: "Ben ! What happened?!"

Ben Schaffer gasped in pain and hurriedly brought the phone to his ear.

Gwen stared at him angrily, with her eyes shining like a wild cat. put a lot of pressure on him.

If Ben really complained to Elliot, he believed that Gwen would bite his neck again!

Ben Schaffer lied, "It's okay... I almost hit a wild cat just now! Fortunately, I was a false alarm."

"Why are you calling me?" Elliot had an intuition, and it must have something to do with Gwen.

Since Gwen lived in Ben Schaffer's house, every time Ben Schaffer looked for him, he would talk about Gwen.

Ben Schaffer continued to lie, "I accidentally pressed the shortcut key to call you. Have you eaten? Where are you now? Are you with Avery? Are you having fun after returning to Aryadelle?"

Elliot heard that Ben was speechless and was looking for a call, so he hung up the call.

Avery came out of the bathroom, saw him frowning, and asked, "What's wrong with Ben Schaffer? Could it be your sister's accident?"

"No. He said he made a mistake."

"Oh, I'll put on a mask. "Avery put a mask on his face, then lay on the bed and played with his mobile phone.

Mike sent her a message: F*CK! Adrian's mobile phone is in the house that Henry rented! Cloud Adrian is not in it! They transferred the cloud ink! Now I can't do it.

Looking at the message from Mike, Avery heart sank little by little. She thought that it would be better for Adrian to return to Henry than to stay with Nathan.

But now it seems that she is very wrong. Henry is not better than Nathan. Henry still deprived Adrian of his freedom and locked up Adrian like a beast. Avery eyes were sore, if she had expected Adrian's fate to be like this, she would never have handed Adrian to anyone! Schaffer family.

After Ben brought Gwen home, he locked the door.

"Gwen, I don't need to say more about this job, you can't do it anymore!" Ben Schaffer has calmed down a lot.

Gwen is young and ignorant, and needs someone to guide her.

"My boss only asks me to drink with others, and doesn't ask me to do anything else." Gwen hadn't realized the sinister society, "If you accompany others to drink, you can get paid $2,000. why don't I make this money? "

"Your boss gave you $2,000?"

"Yes!" Gwen showed him the payment records, "He told me that he would only drink with the guests..."

"You believe what he says." Ah! If the person you meet tonight is not me, but another man, do you know how dangerous you are now?" Ben Schaffer reprimanded, "You are not allowed to go to work in that company tomorrow. If you insist on Go, then you will move away from my house!"

Gwen frowned at him: "What about you? You come back so late every day, do you play with different women outside every day? Sc*mbag ! Why do you care of me?"

Gwen said emotionally, and went back to her room to close the door with a 'bang'.

Ben Schaffer stood in the living room with his hands on his h-i-p-s. His anger was particularly uneasy.

Chapter 1135

Ben Schaffer wanted to get angry, but didn't know how. What the hell did he do!
He shouldn't let Gwen live in.

Star River Villa.

After Elliot fell asleep, Avery turned on her phone, sent a message to Wesley and asked Shea's physical condition.

Wesley: [Shea may not last long. She has persisted for a long time. This year, I have traveled to many countries, looking for a suitable kidney source but I have not been able to find a suitable one.]

Avery looked at the message sent by Wesley, and her eyes became wet.

The two of them persisted in silence for so long in private, but there was no result. If they continued to search like this, would God really take care of them?

She has a strong hunch that Adrian's kidneys will most likely be able to fit Shea's body. Because they are twins and have the same blood type, this is Shea's last hope!

Henry just wanted money, and she was willing to exchange money for Shea's life!

Thinking of this, she decided to ask Henry to meet again tomorrow.

The next morning, after she put Layla in the car, she returned to the living room and said to Mrs. Cooper, "I want to go out, and Elliot will wake up later. If he ask you, you can say that I went out to buy daily necessities. "

Oh, okay." After Mrs. Cooper came down, she asked, "Are you really going to buy daily necessities?"

"Well, my period is coming soon. Prepare some in advance."

After talking to Mrs. Cooper, she went out. Because she carried a bag, Mrs. Cooper had no doubts.

Avery saw Henry and Cole again at the breakfast shop last time.

The father and son looked at her haggard and thought she had compromised and were very proud.

“Avery, you can figure it out. Elliot gave us one-third of the shares, and he still has two-thirds. He still takes the big money. He has already made so much money, how can he share the shares for us now? He still uses our Foster family’s surname!” Cole said arrogantly.

Avery’s face was cold, and his voice was even colder: “I did compromise, but I really can’t help you find Elliot to ask for his company’s shares. You know what kind of person Elliot is, even if I ask him, he may not be agree.”

“Since you can’t do it, why did you call us out?” Henry looked alert, “I tell you, don’t play tricks, if you dare to play, you will wait for Adrian to starve to death.” “

“You are so vicious!” Avery frowned and looked at Henry, “Adrian is your own younger brother. Yet you treat him like this. Your mother knows it, so I don’t know how chilling you should be.”

“My mother is dead. It’s useless for you to tell me this. I just want money.”

“I know you want money. I’ll give you my company, is that enough?” Avery said word by word, “Although my company doesn’t make money from Sterling Group but the annual revenue is also very considerable. It is enough for your father and son to live and wear for a lifetime. If you think it is possible, then we will trade.”

“Your company?” The father and son were stunned.

“Are you looking down on my company?” This is already the biggest concession Avery can make.

The Tate Industries is her father’s hard work, but now, she has to give it up. She really had no other way.

She couldn't force Elliot to hand over the shares in her hand. She would rather sacrifice her property than force him.

"You may not be able to get my company." Avery handed them a list, "You take Adrian to do these tests first, and I want to determine whether his kidney can be transplanted to Shea."

Henry took the list, glanced at it and said, "I don't know how much your company is worth. I'll study it when I go back."

"Bring Adrian to check first!" Avery gritted her teeth.

"Okay, we'll take him for a checkup as soon as possible. I'll let you know when the test results come out." Cole saw her blushing eyes, so he agreed.

Chapter 1136

Avery came out of the breakfast shop after eating breakfast.

She met Elliot head-on. He was wearing the light gray home clothes she bought for him with a black mask on his face, revealing only those sharp eaglelike eyes. He came out alone, so he must have come to find Avery.

In an instant, Avery was full of thoughts, moved, and... scared.

Henry and Cole stood behind Avery. Following her gaze, the father and son saw Elliot.

Although Elliot was not wearing a formal suit and wearing a mask and the father and son recognized him at a glance.

Cole was very responsive, he pulled his father and ran towards the car.

Avery strode towards Elliot. But Elliot's eyes fell on Henry and Cole.

How could they be here?

Why did Avery meet the two of them?

What did they talk about?

He could hardly control his reason, and before Avery came over, he strode towards Henry.

“Elliot!” Avery immediately stopped him, “Don’t be impulsive! Listen to me!”

At the same time as Avery grabbed his arm, Henry and Cole quickly got into the car.

Cole burned his butt, stepped on the accelerator, and the car roared away!

Elliot watched them leave, and immediately looked at Avery. His Adam’s apple rolled: “Tell me.”

“They came here for Adrian’s business.” Avery looked into his deep but cold eyes, “Adrian has a terrible headache and they took Adrian to the hospital, but it was of no use. So they came to me. “

After listening to her explanation, he frowned slightly.

Elliot: “How did you answer them?”

Avery said, “I introduced them to a doctor. Let them go to that doctor first. If it still doesn’t work, I’ll go check it out for him.”

“You shouldn’t Lie to me.” Elliot accepted her explanation, but he was still angry, “You said to buy sanitary pads, but there are still some at home. You can lie to Mrs. Cooper with such a crude lie. So how can you use it to lie to me?”

Avery was angry when she saw him, immediately grasped his big hand, and explained with a smile: “I know there are still at home but there is only one more package. More than one package is not enough! You think you have solved a major case but I really want to go buy sanitary napkins. Come and accompany me. “

Avery dragged him to the nearby supermarket.

“Have you eaten breakfast?”

“I didn’t. I thought you were lying and couldn’t eat it.”

“Haha, why are you so angry? Even if I lied to you, you still have to eat.”

Avery’s face With a smile but her heart is particularly uncomfortable.

If she told that she concealed Shea's condition, Elliot would definitely be even more angry.

Elliot glanced at her, "It's fine if you don't lie to me. Avery, I don't have any secrets with you anymore, and I don't want you to hide anything from me.

"Absolutely because you don't know is better than knowing." Avery said with a clear conscience.

Chapter 1137

"What does it mean that I don't know is better than knowing? As long as it is something you know and I want to know that" Elliot shook Avery's hand and increased his strength unconsciously.

"I told you just now. I didn't mean to hide it from you. When I went out, you hadn't woken up yet!" Avery smiled, "I can't wake you up, can I?"

"Well."

.....

On the way.

Henry checked the financial report disclosed by the Tate Industries last year. After reading the financial report, Henry said with disgust: "Although Avery's company is profitable and it is far worse than Sterling Group."

"Dad, we can't get the entire Sterling Group! I think Tate Industries is also very good. Isn't it said that this company is No. 1 in the field of drones? Let's think about it." Cole felt happy when he thought of the fact he could easily get.

Henry snorted coldly: "Are you sure you can manage a technology company like this? This kind of technology relies entirely on core technology to win. If the follow-up research and development can't keep up, it may be overtaken by rival companies. Cole, you are What is it, you don't know what it is? Even if the Tate Industries is developing well now. When it falls into your hands, it will definitely decline at the speed of light.”

Cole didn't expect his father to attack him so mercilessly.

“Dad, I can't beat Elliot, can't I beat Avery? Could it be that the core technology of the Tate Industries was developed by Avery? Don't you make fun of it? Avery takes care of the children at home every day and doesn't care at all. The company.”

“Do you think that Avery will not leave after Avery gives you the company? When her team leaves, she can open another Tate Industries! And her new company will definitely be able to In a short period of time, surpass you!” The more Henry thought about it, the more uneasy he became.

“Then I can sell it immediately after taking over the Tate Industries! With the current value of the Tate Industries, we can get a lot of money!” Cole didn't want to give up the fact of the Tate Industries, “Elliot How could it be possible to distribute the shares to us? It's better to take Avery's company.”

“It's no wonder you can't do great things with your brains! If we get Elliot's shares and then resell them, wouldn't we get more money than we would get from the Tate Industries?”

Henry's words made Cole's blood boil.

“Dad, you're right. It's not safe for us to hold the shares of Sterling Group. It's better to transfer them immediately after we get them. I don't know how many people are greedy for the shares of Sterling Group.”

“Let Adrian do it first . Check it out! In case Adrian's kidney can't be transplanted to Shea, we are excited for nothing now!”

Starry River Villa.

Because it was agreed yesterday that we will move to Elliot's house next, so after breakfast, Mrs. Cooper started to pack up.

Avery doesn't really want to move and is used to living here. But now that she is married to Elliot, she can't just consider her own feelings.

"I knew I would have bought a bigger villa back then." Avery said regretfully as she packed her luggage.

"You like this neighborhood so much?" Elliot asked.

There are too many people in this community, and he can't bear to go out for a walk every evening and be surrounded by a group of old aunties.

"It's not that you like this community, but you're used to it."

"Didn't you live in my house for a long time? Are you not used to living in my house?" Elliot asked back, "If you are not used to living in my house, then we will continue to live there. Here it is. I can find a way to turn your attic into a small fitness room. "

Avery blinked her apricot eyes.

"My attic, are you serious? My attic is not as big as your toilet. How many fitness equipment can I put in it?"

"How about freeing up Mike's room? I think his room is quite big." Elliot suggested her again.

"No!" Avery refused without hesitation, "Let's move to your big mansion. The big deal is to let Mike come to live in your house too."

"You can call Eric to live at my house, anyway, my house is big enough." Elliot sarcastically.

Avery couldn't help laughing: "You're addicted to being jealous, right?"

Elliot said quietly, "Aren't you mad at me on purpose? If I find a few women to live with, you can't just eat dry vinegar like me. I guess you can Peel my skin."

After listening to his words, the discomfort in her heart caused by the move was instantly resolved.

“You’re right, if you have close relationships with other women, I will definitely not make it easier for you.” She gave him a slap in the face, “Twenty-four filial piety is the only way out for you.”

Elliot: “When will you see me? Women other than you have close contact with each other? I think...Tammy? Or, does our daughter count?”

“I think you are free! Come and pack with me.” She led Follow him to the bedroom.

“Wait, I’ll bring Robert here. Otherwise, he will be stay in the living room alone. Don’t look at the child, so don’t care about his feelings. It is because he is small, so we have to take care of him even more.”

Avery teased him, “Then you go to work later. Let’s take him too. Why don’t you just quit your job and take care of your children at home. I’ll give you pocket money for your living expenses every month.”

Elliot took Robert from the living room and followed her words: “Aren’t you afraid that I will spoil the child? If you let me take care of the child at home, it’s not impossible, as long as you don’t care how I take it.”

Avery: “...”

Avery believed that he would take care of the child at home full-time, and he would definitely bring the child into a daddy and treasure boy!

.....

Schaffer family.

At 8:30 in the morning, Gwen quietly came out of the room and planned to go to work secretly.

Regarding Ben Schaffer’s threat, she thought about it all night and came to the conclusion that she could refuse the escort arranged by the boss in the future.

If the boss forces her, she will resign.

Before Gwen reached the living room, she was attracted by a figure sitting on the sofa in the living room. Her steps stopped suddenly!

The woman sitting on the sofa caught a glimpse of Gwen's figure out of the corner of her eye, and immediately looked over.

"Huh?" Juniper Schaffer immediately got up from the sofa and walked towards Gwen, "Who are you? Why are you at my son's house?"

Gwen snapped her toes in embarrassment: "A... Auntie, Hello."

"Hello, who are you? Did Ben Schaffer bring you?" Juniper looked amiable,

"Don't be nervous, I don't care about his private life."

A few years ago, Juniper was urging marriage every year, and Ben Schaffer was annoyed and directly threatened to cut off the relationship.

"Well...I'm staying here for a while. When I have the money to buy a house, I'll move out." Gwen said crampedly.

"Oh, since Ben Schaffer asked you to live here, then you can live here! How tired is it for a girl to buy a house." Juniper pulled Gwen to sit down on the sofa, and looked at her carefully for a few seconds, the more she looked, the more Satisfied, "You are so beautiful, much prettier than that Chelsea! How old are you this year? Where are you from? Are you going to school or work now?"

Gwen blushed: "Auntie, Ben Schaffer and I are not the kind of relationship you think. I'm only twenty years old, so Ben Schaffer is forty, right? He's too old, I won't find such an old boyfriend."

Juniper: "..."

Juniper was very Uncomfortable, sad, heartbroken. Although her son is old but capable.

The dignified chief financial officer of Sterling Group would be disliked by a girl.

It seems that this girl must have a good family background.

Wait... This girl just said she wanted to buy a house. If her family background was good, she would definitely not say such a thing.

Just when the atmosphere was deadlocked, Ben Schaffer came out of the room. Seeing his mother and Gwen sitting together, he couldn't help having a heart attack.

"Ben Schaffer, which daughter is this girl?" Juniper walked up to her son and whispered, "She hates you for being old and also hates you."

Ben Schaffer sneered: "She is Elliot's younger sister! If it wasn't for this relationship, I wouldn't have taken her in!"

Juniper immediately glowed red after hearing the explanation. She pulled Ben Schaffer and walked quickly into the room.

Chapter 1139

After entering the room, Juniper held her son's hand in both hands and said earnestly: "Ben! This is a golden opportunity! Elliot's sister, how close this relationship is! If you marry her, this is not the case. Have you kissed her?"

Ben Schaffer was struck by lightning: "Mom! Are you crazy?! Me and her...I...I despise her!"

"You despise other people's children. What is the girl doing? She is only twenty years old, what a great age!"

"She graduated from high school, but didn't go to university. She is a scmbag!"

Graduated from a prestigious school in Ben Schaffer, how can she bear that her wife is a scmbag?

Gwen was wiped out in the first round!

"What's wrong with not going to college? Didn't you say she's Elliot's younger sister? What kind of younger sister or Cousin?" Juniper probably also felt that Gwen's education was too low, and was a little worried.

"Half-sister!" Ben Schaffer said.

"Oh hey! Isn't that the biological sister?" Juniper exclaimed, "What's wrong with Elliot's biological sister who didn't go to college? Even if she is illiterate, I think it would be good for her to be your wife!

" Mom, don't think I don't know what you're thinking. Elliot doesn't recognize this sister."

"If you don't recognize it now, it doesn't mean you won't recognize it in the future. Besides, it's not just her relationship with Elliot that I care about."

Juniper told the truth, "how beautiful she is and has a good figure. What's more important is that she is young, and the two of you are together, she will definitely give you a beautiful child."

Ben Schaffer spit old blood In the heart.

"It's impossible for me and her! You have a heart to die. When she finds the house, I'll let her get out." Ben Schaffer said coldly, pushed open the door and walked out.

In the living room, Gwen was no longer there.

Gwen just eavesdropped on their speech outside the door. She heard Ben Schaffer say that she disliked her because she was a sc*mbag. She was a little angry, but felt that Ben Schaffer was right.

From elementary school to high school, Gwen not only had poor studies, but also had a bad relationship with her classmates. Her father and brother never cared about her, and she never told them about her own affairs. Because from childhood to adulthood, no matter what she said to them, they would scold her in the end.

In such a family, it is a kind of sadness in itself. And looking good will only accelerate the tragedy.

She will never forget the night when the college entrance examination was over, she was almost raped by some gangsters in the class, and she swore at that time that she would never go to school again.

It's better to stay at home with that fool Adrian. At least not to be bullied.

Had her father not been sentenced to death, she would have continued to live in self-isolation at home.

Foster family.

After the luggage was moved in, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Scarlet began to pack up. After Avery helped clean up for a while, Elliot pulled her back to the bedroom to rest.

Robert fell asleep after eating the milk, so they could rest for a while.

"Just let the servants do those little things." Elliot carried her to the bed and put her down. "You are my wife now, and I don't want to see you too tired."

"I'm not tired. It's you, these days of vacation, Instead, you lost weight." Avery held his face and teased, "It seems that you still have to go to work."

"I think so too. If you don't go to work, you have no appetite for food."

"You are working hard." Avery lie down on the bed and soon fell asleep. She had a nightmare. She dreamed that Adrian's kidney could not be transplanted to Shea.

Chapter 1140

When Avery woke up from the great sadness, the sunset outside the window had already set, and the sunset glowed red half of the sky. She picked up her phone and checked the time.

It's half past five in the afternoon.

Elliot was no longer in the room.

She took a deep breath and sent a message to Cole: [Did you take Adrian to check?]

After sending the message, the door was pushed open.

Layla's little face appeared before her.

"Mom, are you awake? Why did you sleep so long?" Layla saw her mother awake and immediately entered the room, "I'm here to call you for dinner."

Avery put down the phone, lifted the quilt, and sat up.

"Layla, are you still used to moving to Daddy's house? We still have a lot of luggage in our house. If you're not used to it, we can go back to our house anytime." Avery got out of bed and put on her shoes.

Layla sighed, "It must be a little strange. Dad's house is so big like a maze. But Dad's house is also very good, and the big house can hold more things. It's even better if my brother likes it here. "

Avery walked towards the bathroom, "I'm afraid it's hard for your brother to accept this place. When your brother comes back, we'll move back in."

"Oh." Layla followed to the bathroom, "Mom, our school is tomorrow. The school conducts a parent-teacher conference. Are you going or my father?"

Avery was stunned for a moment: "Do you want your mother to go or your father to go?"

"Of course I want you to go. How beautiful you are." The corner of Layla's mouth raised a smile, and then she frowned tangled, "But Dad also wants to go. I don't want him to go."

"You want Mom to go because Mom is prettier than Dad? Layla, We can't judge people by their appearance!" After Avery washed her face, she became more sober, "If your father knew that you disliked him, he would definitely be sad."

I hadn't found Elliot's glass heart before. The longer I get along with him, the more I realize that he is a fragile and sensitive man.

Maybe because he's getting older?

"I don't dislike my father's bad looks. I just think he's a little serious, and he might scare our teachers." Layla begged, "So Mom, you should go to my parent-teacher conference!"

"Well! Mom will wait. Go tell your father."

The mother and daughter came out of the master bedroom and went downstairs.

Elliot hugged Robert and greeted them downstairs with a fatherly smile.

Avery knew what she was thinking by just looking at him.

"Avery, Layla's parent meeting tomorrow, let's go together!" Elliot opened his eyes and said to her.

Avery looked at Layla: "How about I go with your dad?"

"But the teacher said that only one parent is required to participate." Layla wondered.

"I'll just tell your teacher." Elliot really wanted to go to his daughter's parentteacher meeting, but he could see from her daughter's face that her daughter wanted Avery to attend.

So Elliot can solve this problem by going with Avery.

"Otherwise, let your father go! Mom has attended your parent-teacher conference several times. But your father has not participated in his child's parent-teacher conference since he was born." Avery comforted her daughter, "We are pitiful. Have pity on him."

Layla laughed with a 'poof': "Okay, then let's pity him!"

The smile on Elliot's face froze, and he felt an arrow in his knee.

One of the things that he was very happy about was so miserable that Avery said it.

At dinner time, Avery ate two bites, and Cole's message came back.

She picked up her phone and saw the checklist sent by Cole. She forwarded the checklist to Wesley and asked Wesley to see if the check result matched Shea.

"Eat when you eat, don't play with your phone." Elliot said, "Who do you message?"

Chapter 1141

Avery teased: "I told Layla that you will go to the parent-teacher meeting tomorrow. Because when filling out the enrollment information, the father column was blank. I'm afraid that the teacher doesn't know who Layla's father is."

Elliot was severely punished Heartbroken.

"The news of the two of us getting married a few days ago was on the hot search. Do you think your daughter's teacher would not know about it?"

"We got married, so how does the teacher know who Layla's father is? Our marriage doesn't mean me Your children are yours!" Avery continued to pierce his heart.

"Okay, you continue to send messages and explain it to the teacher." Elliot said sadly.

Elliot knew that the teacher had long known about his relationship with Layla, because he had greeted the principal since the beginning of school.

It's just Avery's behavior that makes him a little sad. Does she still want to have children with other men?

After dinner, Elliot offered to go shopping.

"Is the sun coming out of the west?" Avery looked at him, puzzled, "I know you don't like to go shopping."

“I like to go shopping with you.” Elliot corrected her, “You buy things neatly and not picky. It’s the same as me.”

“You just say that I’m going to buy things soon? This is also a manifestation of not like shopping. People who like shopping will choose repeatedly.”

“I want to go shopping for clothes. “I want to be respectful when I go to my daughter’s parent-teacher meeting tomorrow.”

Avery: “???”

“Mom! Let’s go shopping! I’m going too!” Layla said excitedly.

After Avery responded to her daughter, she questioned Elliot in a low voice, “Aren’t those clothes in your closet quite new? Why do you have to buy new clothes?”

“Formal clothes look older.” Elliot explained.

“Oh, I see. You want to look younger.”

“Avery, can you save me some face?” Elliot was helpless.

“It’s okay to pretend to be in front of outsiders. Can you be more real in front of me?” Avery said, asking, “Do you want to take Robert there?”

After thinking about it for a while, Elliot said, “Then go shopping with Robert.”

Avery immediately dismissed the idea: “I won’t bring Robert this time. I’ll buy you clothes first. I’ll take him next time I go shopping. “

After she made the decision, the family of three went out for a walk. Arriving at Commercial Street, they headed straight to the men’s clothing store.

After Elliot tried suit after suit, Layla finally chose her favorite style.

“I saw my classmate’s dad wear it like that!” Layla explained the reason.

Avery couldn’t help laughing: “Layla, your dad doesn’t like to wear the same clothes as others.”

Layla said with an ‘oh’, “But my dad looks better in this suit than my classmate's dad."

Elliot was overjoyed, take out the card immediately and went to checkout.

After buying clothes, the family of three went to a nearby shopping mall.

After they bought Layla some toys and hair accessories she liked, it was eight o'clock in the evening.

Because Layla has homework to do, she has to go home first.

After arriving home, Avery saw that Wesley had returned the message. She immediately said to Elliot, "Go teach your daughter to do her homework, and I'll play with Robert for a while." After the father and daughter went to the study, she immediately turned on her phone.

Wesley's reply came into view: From the test results, Adrian's kidney should be able to be transplanted to Shea.

Chapter 1142

Avery read the reply several times, and after confirming that she read it correctly, she breathed a sigh of relief!

Shea is saved. Avery immediately sent a message to Cole: Adrian's kidney can be transplanted to Shea. We will meet again tomorrow to discuss the transfer of the company in detail.

Cole replied quickly: [Avery, after I discussed it with my dad, we still insisted on our original request.]

Avery was stunned when she saw the news.

Stick to the original request?

Their original request was for Elliot's shares.

Avery's body suddenly became cold, and she couldn't stop shaking.

They didn't even want her company, they insisted on Elliot's shares. That's abominable!

Avery took the phone and walked outside. Seeing that she was going out, Mrs. Cooper immediately asked, "Avery, where are you going?"

"I'm going outside to talk on the phone." Avery cleared the emotions on her face and explained, "Mike has something to do with me."

"Oh! We moved, and we didn't tell him. We really had to explain it to him." Mrs. Cooper said.

Avery took the mobile phone and strode out. The street lights were on in the yard, but she felt dark.

Obviously everything has turned around, but the road is blocked again.

Avery hated Henry and Cole. Walking to the corner of the yard, she dialed Cole's number.

Cole answered the phone in seconds: "Avery, what I meant with my dad is what I said in my message."

"Are you guys looking down on my company?" She asked coldly, "Give me the reason."

"It's not that I look down on your company. At least I don't have this idea. It's my dad who thinks your company's financial report last year was not very good... The revenue seems to be quite average. Although your company's reputation is very good but this revenue is really a bit low, right?"

"That's because most of the revenue is invested in R&D!" Avery was angry at their ignorance, "The most important thing for technology companies is R&D. This year, the investment is even greater, But the revenue will also be very impressive. This year, it will be at least ten times the basis of last year."

Avery had a headache and wanted to end this painful torture as soon as possible. She didn't expect that she was willing to give in to this step, and their father and son actually disliked that the chips she gave were not enough.

“Well, I believe in you, and I also believe that your company is a very promising company. But Avery, you also know that my ability is limited and I don’t have a reliable team like you. After you give me the company, your core team will definitely follow you. How will I operate then?”

Avery said, “Mike will follow me. As long as you appease the others and give enough money, they will definitely not leave. You only need If you spend more money, you are afraid that you will not be able to hire talents? The most important thing in this society is talents. You have to believe in yourself!”

“Hehe, Avery, thank you for giving me confidence. I was beaten by my father and lost my fighting spirit. If only you were so good to me before...”

“Cole, is it necessary to mention the past? You go to discuss it with your father and show your courage. Your father is not If you want Elliot’s shares, you’re just arguing with Elliot. You can maximize your benefits by listening to me. Don’t end up stealing chickens without losing money.” Avery warned sharply. After being silent for a few seconds, Cole let go: “Okay, I’ll go talk to my dad again. I’ll give you a reply tomorrow.”

Avery reminded, “Cole, I hope you’ll wake up a bit this time. Don’t make the same mistake again. You guys can’t fight Elliot. “

Cole: “I know you really reminded me, but your words still make me support but uncomfortable.”

“Then what do you want me to say? Why do you keep facing Elliot? If he knew about this, I don’t know how impulsive he would act. I can’t guarantee that your father and you will be in danger. So we can resolve this matter privately, without disturbing him.”

Chapter 1143

“Got it!” Cole hung up the phone.

Avery held the phone and breathed heavily.

She hoped the father and son could figure it out. Otherwise, once Elliot was involved in this matter, she would really be unable to control the trend of the matter. She was afraid that the situation would get out of control, that her peaceful life would be disrupted.

After finally getting through the torture of the wedding day, they were stable for less than half a month. Is God really going to be so cruel to them?

After some time, Elliot came out to look for her. Seeing her crouching in a corner of the yard, Elliot frowned, "Avery, why are you squatting? Mrs. Cooper said you came out to call Mike, why did you call for so long?" Elliot helped her up, "Have you quarreled with Mike?"

Avery immediately hugged him tightly and said in a hoarse voice : "Elliot, I'm not in a good mood."

"Because of the move?" Elliot held her face up and looked at her, "What did Mike say?"

"He just moved out, but after he moved out, we also moved away." Avery mind was a little confused, "I feel a little lost when I think that Hayden is not around."

"Isn't that saying that he is fine abroad?" Elliot embraced her waist and patiently comforted, "If you want a child With better development, it is necessary for them to see the wider world. They are not destined to stay with us forever. You have to adjust our mentality in time."

"As for Mike, you don't need to care about him at all. He has his life, it has nothing to do with us. Our life has nothing to do with him." Elliot added.

"Hmm. Has Layla finished her homework?" Avery adjusted her mood.

"It's done. Mrs. Cooper took her to take a bath."

"Well. Let's take a bath too! You have to go to school for a parent-teacher meeting tomorrow morning."

“Avery, You wash first.” Elliot held her little hand, “You are a little cold.”

“Okay.”

Elliot sent her to the master bedroom, and immediately came out of the room after seeing her entering the bathroom. He dialed Mike, intending to teach Mike a good lesson.

The phone was dialed and it took a while to be answered. Elliot said, “I decided to move. What’s your dissatisfaction with me! What’s your anger at Avery?”

Elliot lowered his voice, but couldn’t hide his anger, “Aren’t you too comfortable to be beaten?”

Thinking of Avery squatting in the yard, his fists clenched instantly.

Mike was at a loss: “F*ck! What the h-e-l-l are you talking about? Why can’t I understand? When did I lose my temper with Avery? You’d better explain it to me, or I’ll kill you now.”

Elliot listened With his sharp roar and frowned: “Avery called you just now. Didn’t you complain to her? After Avery finished talking to you, she squatted in the yard alone.”

“Huh?” Mike shouted loudly, and at the same time his brain was running at a high speed, “She called me? Oh! There is such a thing...”

Mike is Avery’s person, so of course he has to lie for Avery!

Elliot had a gloomy face and hung up the phone.

Mike’s reaction was too clumsy, he heard the flaw.

Elliot pushed open the door, entered the room, walked to the bed, and picked up Avery’s cell phone. He wanted to see who she was on the phone with just now.

Chapter 1144

Elliot opened Avery call record, and Cole’s name came into view. Without any thought, he dialed Cole's phone.

Cole answered the phone quickly: "Avery, didn't I tell you to answer tomorrow?"

Answer?

Elliot's heartstrings tightened: "What answer?"

On the other side of the phone, Cole froze.

What is Elliot's voice? He clearly saw that it was Avery's call, how could Avery make Elliot's voice?

Cole glanced at the screen of his mobile phone, and after confirming that it was Avery's call, he took a deep breath.

Cole felt guilty, "Why did you call me with Avery's cell phone? Don't you have a cell phone? You have something to do with me? We don't seem to have anything to say between us!"

Elliot gritted his teeth and said word by word "What answer do you want to give Avery tomorrow? Say it."

"Go and ask Avery. I..."

"Since you are not afraid of death, I will send someone to find you now." Elliot pinched now Killing Cole is like pinching an ant to death.

Elliot used to worry about their uncle and nephew relationship, but now it doesn't matter, he can do anything.

Cole's face was ashen with fright: "Don't be impulsive. I said."

Elliot suppressed his anger and waited for him to explain.

"That's it." Cole didn't dare to tell him the truth rashly, so he started to make up the story, "Adrian has been feeling unwell recently, because Avery was his attending doctor before, so we talked to Avery. His situation. Then Avery wanted us to give Adrian to her, and she took Adrian for treatment, but my dad was not so relieved..."

“Your dad is worried about me.” Elliot sarcastically .

Cole teased. “I don’t know what he thought. That’s what happened. You look at Avery’s cell phone secretly, won’t she be angry when she finds out?”

After Elliot finished speaking, he hung up the phone. Avery came out of the bathroom after taking a shower, saw Elliot’s cold face, and walked in front of him puzzled.

Elliot said bluntly, “I checked your phone just now. You didn’t call Mike.”

She was startled. Her heart was very flustered, but she tried to maintain the surface calm: “Have you seen my call log?”

“Yes, I did.” Elliot said confidently, “Can’t I read it?”

“Yes!” Her eyes flickered, She picked up the phone on the bed and glanced at the call log. Just now, Elliot and Cole spoke on the phone for two minutes. She was very curious about what Elliot and Cole talked in these two minutes.

Avery asked, “What are you talking about?”

I was afraid that Cole couldn’t help Elliot’s intimidation, so he said it all.

Elliot looked at her face, thought for a few seconds, and replied, “He said what you were talking about.”

“Oh? What did he say?” She was frightened, “Tell me, I’m afraid he will lie.”

You tell me what you said so I know if he’s lying.” Elliot didn’t seem to trust her very much.

She has been playing with her mobile phone a little more frequently these days, and lying too often.

Even if it’s really for Adrian’s business, is that so?

“For Adrian’s business.” Avery took her hand, “Elliot, Adrian is really pitiful. Henry didn’t treat him well.”

“That’s none of your business.” Elliot said sharply, “You can’t save the world, and you can't save everyone. It's enough to take care of your own life."

Elliot strode into the bathroom and closed the bathroom door.

Avery's nose was slightly sour.

Elliot was angry. After getting married, he has always been very restrained in temper, gentle with her, and patient with children. He was not only a good husband, but also a good father.

Chapter 1145

If possible, Avery hopes that their lives can always be so peaceful and beautiful.

In fact, although Elliot is sensitive and suspicious, he is also very good at coaxing.

As long as Avery puts down her posture and is soft on him, he can usually calm down.

When Elliot came out of the shower, Avery took him to bed.

Elliot's face was still blue and his eyes were angry.

After Elliot lay down, Avery turned off the light.

"Husband, I..."

"Is Adrian more important or me?" Elliot interrupted her.

"Of course you are important." Avery hugged his body tightly, sniffing the familiar breath on his body, "I just want to do something within my power. After all, Adrian is Shea's brother. I promise to do it. These will not affect our lives."

Elliot said, "It has already affected. You said that you are in a bad mood.

Seeing that you are in a bad mood, do you think I am in a good mood?"

"I promise that I will not be in a bad mood in the future. His business has affected his mood." Avery moved to his face and placed a kiss on his cheek, "You have a parent-teacher meeting tomorrow, so you can't wear a mask the whole time. I'll cover your face with concealer tomorrow."

"Okay."

After the reconciliation, the two fell asleep quickly.

The next day.

Avery got up earlier than usual. She promised to cover the scars on Elliot's face, but when she moved yesterday, she didn't bring concealer.

Elliot opened his eyes and saw that she was busy in front of the dresser.

"Avery, what are you doing?"

"I'm looking for liquid foundation." Avery took out all the liquid foundations she brought, and picked a shade that was more suitable for his skin tone, but she could pick and choose and couldn't find a suitable one, "I forgot to bring concealer, so I could only I covered you with liquid foundation. The liquid foundation is a bit white, I don't know if it can cover you."

Elliot heard the words and immediately lifted the quilt and got out of bed.

"Try first." Elliot put his face in front of her.

"Oh." Avery opened a bottle of liquid foundation, squeezed some out, and smeared it on his cheeks.

After smearing it evenly, Elliot's entire face turned white.

"It's a little white. But the concealer is good, and you can't see the injury on your face." Avery asked him to look in the mirror.

Elliot looked at himself in the mirror and laughed at himself: "Little white face."

"Haha! This is already the darkest shade of foundation I brought over. The others are whiter. If you don't want this white, then I'll let the driver go now and buy it. But it's a little early and the mall may not be open yet."

It's not her fault. She has fair skin, so the liquid foundation shades are all white. Besides, there were almost no other blemishes on her face except dark circles, so she did not usually use concealer.

“Just use this! As long as you can’t see the wound on your face.” Elliot compromised.

Avery took him to the bathroom to remove his makeup. When he’s done washing, reapply his makeup.

At eight o’clock, she sent the father and daughter out.

After eating breakfast, Avery went back to her room to sleep. Her eyes closed, and after a while, they suddenly opened. She picked up her phone and called Cole.

Cole said last night that he would give her an answer today. Presumably their father and son have already thought about it.

Cole answered the phone quickly.

“Cole, have you discussed it with your father?”

Cole said lazily, “I discussed it with dad. We only need the shares in Elliot’s hands. The rest will not work. Avery, if you really want to save Shea’s life, you should find a way to persuade him. Elliot bowed his head!”

Chapter 1146

Avery was stunned. She did not expect that the father and son would insist on making such a choice.

Where did their courage come from?

“Why didn’t they listen to the persuasion? Why!” Avery’s eyes were red and her fists clenched. She growled lowly.

“Avery, I’m fed up with being fussy. Since I started my business, I have been compared to Elliot. Everyone thinks that I don’t have the courage and ability of Elliot. I admit that I am indeed not as strong as him. So this time, I’m going to take risks and show my courage.”

“It’s ridiculous.” Avery laughed angrily, “You can’t show courage when you should be courageous, and when you shouldn’t be stupid, you have to show your so-called courage.”

“Shut up.” Cole was ridiculed and said angrily, “Avery, I’ve made it very clear. My dad and I have both thought about it. Shea was seriously ill to save your son, Robert. That is your duty. You go to Elliot and no matter what reason you use. Let him give us one-third of his shares. Otherwise, you will never find Adrian.”

Avery knew that there was no room for change, so she was angry and hung up the phone.

How to talk to Elliot?

Avery can’t speak at all. She had never asked Elliot for money, let alone asked him to give up part of his equity.

Although Elliot had always been generous to her in terms of economics, and had said several times that everything he owned was hers, but if Avery really wanted to ask him for money, and Elliot wanted equity, then Avery didn’t dare. Avery knew him very well, and if she asked him for money for her own enjoyment, Elliot would definitely give money. But if Avery ask him for money, whether to transfer it to someone else or to someone he hates most, he will definitely not give it.

The first primary school in Avonsville.

Elliot and Layla arrived at the school in time. Elliot was invited into the classroom by the teacher, and Layla was taken to the group activity by another teacher.

After Elliot found Layla’s seat in the classroom, he sat down.

When other parents saw Elliot, they looked at him one after another.

Elliot is a well-known richest person in Aryadelle, and everyone is more familiar with his name and appearance.

After Elliot started his business, he never sat on the stage at any meeting. He wasn't used to it, but besides that, everyone looked at him like a monkey in a zoo, making him fidgety.

If Elliot knew it earlier, he brought Avery with him. He took out his mobile phone and sent a message to Avery: [Everyone is looking at me, am I too pale?]

Avery endured the pain and pretended to return to him as if nothing had happened: [whoever looked at you, look back. Take out the momentum of your Sterling Group president.]

Elliot always listened to her, so he put down his phone and looked around.

Sure enough, after he met everyone's gaze, everyone was embarrassed to stare at him.

He sent a message to Avery: [I feel that my face is too white. Turned my phone screen white.]

Avery: [A successful man, don't stare at his face all the time.]

Elliot: [...]

But Elliot has nothing to do now.

Sitting in front of his daughter's small desk, it seems like he is back in school days.

What's worse, the teacher just told him that he wanted him to speak on the stage as the parent's representative before the parent-teacher meeting ended.

The teacher said that he sent a message to Avery last night about this.

What's outrageous is that Avery didn't tell him.

Chapter 1147

Elliot continued to send a message to Avery: [Teacher Rayner said he sent you a message last night and asked me to speak on stage today, why didn't you tell me last night? I have not prepared at all, what will I say when I come on stage later?]

Avery: [Didn't we quarrel last night, so we went to bed early. I also only saw the news of Teacher Rayner this morning.]

Elliot: [What shall I say on stage later?]

Avery: [Say whatever you want! Think of what to say.]

Elliot: [My mind is blank.]

Elliot has never held parent-teacher conferences and has no experience. If it is a meeting in the company, let him say something casually, this will not happen.

Avery: [Just thank the teachers in the class and say that the teachers have worked hard. By the way, I would like to call on the parents to make concerted efforts to assist the teachers and manage their children well...]

Elliot: [You don't think these words, is it hard to tell? I hate this kind of speech that seems to say a lot of words but every word has no meaning.]

Avery: [Then think for yourself. You hurry up and start drafting now.]

Elliot: [...]

After all parents arrive, the parent meeting will begin.

Elliot found a pencil and a notebook from Layla's schoolbag and started drafting.

The teacher saw Elliot's behavior very clearly on the stage. He doesn't know what Ell was writing at his desk.

A successful person like Elliot with his own aura is serious and charming.

The teacher commented on the students one by one. When it came to Layla, Ell finally raised his head and began to listen to the teacher.

"Layla is a beautiful and sensible little girl. It can be seen that her usual home education is very good. She not only studies well, but also has a good relationship with her classmates. She is very helpful..."

When the teacher said this, a parent raised his hand.

"Teacher Rayner, I don't think Layla is as good as you said. I told you that she beat my son last time, but my son said that Layla has not apologized to him until now. Her temper is so fierce, Her family must be something wrong with education."

When Elliot heard this, he frowned. He hadn't heard of Layla's habit of hitting people at school.

Seeing that Elliot's face changed, Teacher Rayner immediately explained:

"That's right, Layla didn't hit someone for no reason. It was Cohen who first pulled Nina's braid and made Nina cry, that's why Layla started beating Cohen. Cohen has already apologized to Nina, but Layla felt that it was right for her to help her good friend, so she didn't apologize to Cohen."

After hearing what the teacher said, Elliot said solemnly, "My daughter is right. Parents of boys with girls' braids should reflect on how to educate their children well. So as not to grow up and go astray."

Cohen's mother: "???"

Her son grabbed the pigtails of the female classmates, how could she curse her son for going astray?

"Mr. Foster, boys are a bit naughty, I don't think it's harmless to fight with each other..." Cohen's mother said dissatisfiedly.

Elliot said unceremoniously, "You don't have quality. Why should you let other boys take the blame with your son? My son won't pull girls' pigtails. Do you think it's harmless for your son to slap and mess around, but my daughter does. What's the problem?"

“No wonder your daughter is so fierce.” Cohen’s mother couldn’t quarrel, but she could only get angry.

“Let your son be careful in the future, or he will be beaten by my daughter again.”

“Hehehe...your family is rich. Why don’t you go to a noble school? Squeeze with us ordinary people to go to school. Do you seem to have a sense of superiority?”

“Anyone will feel superior in front of a shrew like you.” After Elliot finished speaking, Cohen’s mother ran out crying.

Avery’s jaw almost dropped after hearing about this!

Chapter 1148

Avery rushed to the school immediately.

In the classroom, the parents’ meeting continued to open, and Cohen’s mother, accompanied by a teacher who was standing outside the classroom.

“Mrs. Tate, you’re finally here.” Cohen’s mother looked aggrieved, “Your husband is too fierce in front of so many people. He doesn’t give me any face at all.”

Avery: “My husband is indeed a little fierce . But Teacher Rayner sent me a message to explain the situation, I think you need to calm down. We have talked before about my daughter hitting your son. I thought you let it go, but I didn’t expect you to bring it up again.”

But your daughter did not apologize to my son. My son has apologized to Nina.” Cohen’s mother was not convinced.

Avery reasoned with her, “Your son should have apologized to Nina. If your son doesn’t pull Nina’s braid, my daughter won’t beat him. If my daughter make a mistake, she will be punished. And your son is the one who made the mistake not my daughter. Of course my daughter doesn't need to apologize to your son. I taught her this."

"It's really unreasonable!"

"Right or wrong, I believe all parents have a decision. If you continue to make trouble, Aren't you afraid that your son's classmates won't play with your son?" Avery suggested.

Cohen's mother: "Are you threatening me? Do you want to join other parents to exclude my son? I want to transfer my son to another school."

"It's good. The little girls don't have to worry about being pulled by your son after all. " Avery smiled.

Cohen's mother left angrily and planned to find the school leadership theory. In the classroom, Elliot waved to Avery.

The parent meeting has come to an end, and soon, it will be the parent representative's turn to speak on the stage.

Elliot decided to let Avery come to stage. Avery entered the classroom, and Teacher Rayner smiled at her: "Next, we will invite Layla's parents to speak on the stage."

Everyone immediately applauded. Elliot smiled gently and applauded with everyone.

After Avery came to stage, she said: "Hello everyone, I'm Avery, Layla's mother and I'm very happy to participate in this parent meeting. Today is the first time Layla's father has participated in his child's parents' meeting and he is very much looking forward to sharing his experience with you."

Avery finished speaking, took the lead in applauding, and welcomed Elliot to the stage.

Elliot: "..."

In the warm applause of everyone, he bravely walked up to the stage.

After he came to stage, Avery stepped down immediately.

“Hello everyone, I’m Layla’s father, Elliot. I’m very happy to be here today for my child’s parent-teacher meeting.” Speaking of which, his mind went blank.

After a few seconds of silence, before Avery appeared in his mind Teach him the formula, “First of all, I have to say to the teachers, you have worked hard.”

Avery: “...”

The lines were very familiar.

“At the same time, parents should help teachers and manage their children well. I hope that things like pulling girls’ pigtails will not happen again in the class in the future. Otherwise, my daughter will not be merciful. My daughter will beat up whoever kid’s mischief at that time, don’t come to us to complain.”

Avery applauded again, indicating with his eyes that Ell could come down.

Ell understood and immediately stepped off the podium.

After the parent-teacher meeting, the two came out of the school.

Avery laughed out loud, “Elliot, it’s the first time I saw you so nervous. You weren’t nervous when you said your vows in public at the wedding.”

“I’m afraid I’ll embarrass my daughter.”

“Layla likes you very much, Even if you’re really ashamed, she’ll stand up for you.” Avery said, changing the subject, “Let’s go out to lunch!”

“Okay. What to eat?”

“Eat hot pot. I haven’t eaten hot pot in a long time. I want something spicy.”

“Are you sure?” Elliot is very picky about food, especially not spicy, “Don’t you like spicy food?”

Chapter 1149

“I didn’t eat spicy food until I was with you. Because you don’t eat spicy food, I changed my taste.” Avery complained, “When I’m not with you, I can eat spicy food especially.”

“Okay, let’s go eat mandarin duck pot.” Elliot was very moved, so he decided to accompany her to eat.

.....

Cole has been swiping his mobile phone all morning, hoping that Avery can contact him again. He thought that Avery was a woman who valued love and justice, and he thought that Shea’s illness would definitely allow Avery to compromise.

As a result, after Avery hung up the phone in the morning, she never contacted him again.

Cole gritted his teeth and said, “I’m wrong. Isn’t she planning to save my aunt? What a ruthless woman.”

Henry was making tea, feeling restless in his heart. He was a little shaken last night. After taking over the Tate Industries and selling it for money, he could sell a lot, and he also avoided a head-on conflict with Elliot.

After their father and son took the money, they could leave Aryadelle and spend the rest of their lives in other countries in peace.

But last night, Cole didn’t agree with Henry’s idea, and he was willing to give up until he took Elliot’s shares.

Henry couldn’t resist, so he could only follow him.

As a result, it ended up in a situation where nothing could be gained.

“Avery can marry Elliot, which shows that Avery is not a good person at all.

Elliot puts interests above everything else, and Avery is bound to be like him.”

Henry realised, “Avery is willing to take the Tate Industries. Come out and make chips for us, this should be the trump card she can come up with. Don’t think Elliot’s shares.”

Cole gritted his teeth.

Henry drank a cup of tea, his heart was cold and said, "They would rather sacrifice Shea than exchange shares for Adrian's kidney. You should think about how to make a living next. I want to support your uncle."

"Dad, I'm really not reconciled. If we miss this opportunity, we won't be able to turn over again." Cole put down his phone and said solemnly.

Henry glared at his son then said, "Isn't it that you don't want Avery's company? I inquired about it. If Avery's company is resold, it can sell at least $3 billion. I was told by someone else that you rejected Avery this morning. If I knew I could sell for so much money, I shouldn't have let you fool around."

"You can also ask her for it again now." Cole blushed.

"Go to her and ask for it."

"I'm not going. Dad you go. I can't afford that shame." Cole refused.

"You bum! You can't afford to lose that face. Can I afford to lose that face?"

"Then don't!" Cole clenched his fists, "Actually, we can be more ruthless.

Anyway, I only support you, I can't support my uncle! So..."

Henry's eyes widened: "What do you want to do?"

...

At restaurant.

Avery's cheeks were flushed after eating hotpot for a while, and after a while, her eyes were also red.

Elliot poured her water and asked, "Is it spicy?"

Avery reached out and fanned her face: "I used to be good at eating spicy food, but now I can't."

"Then don't eat it." Elliot handed the water to her and removed the dishes in front of her at the same time.

Avery took the water, took a sip, and the tears fell down with a 'swish'.

Elliot was startled.

“It’s so hot, it actually made me cry.” Avery put down the water glass and laughed and unable to control her tears, “Elliot, you said before that everything you own is mine, right?”

Chapter 1150

“Yeah.” He handed the tissue in front of her, staring at her, “Why do you keep shedding tears?”

Avery wiped away the tears with the tissue: “It’s probably been too long since I’ve eaten spicy food, so I can’t stand it. Thinking of how good you are to me and the child, I feel like I own the whole world.”

“Shouldn’t I be happy?” Elliot looked at her wet eyes, and there was a thorn in his heart.

“I’m happy! I’m very happy.” Avery held up the water glass and took another sip of water, “Elliot, I was browsing Facebook last night, and I accidentally saw some netizens say that you value money interests more than anything.

Netizens also said that you married me because I am not bad at making money. If I didn’t have the ability to make money, you would definitely not marry me.”

Elliot face paled in shock by these remarks.

Avery continued, “That’s why I asked you that question just now.”

“Do you think what I said to you was to coax you?” Elliot voice was obviously a little colder.

Avery smiled and said, “Of course I believe you. But after reading those words on the Internet, it is inevitable that you will be cranky. I didn’t question you, just chatted with you.”

Elliot said, “Avery, you are questioning me. If you don’t question me, you won’t ask at all.”

Avery said, "Well, if I am questioning you, you can question me too."

Elliot said, "What am I questioning you? I have nothing to question."

"Then you say, money is more important than me?" Avery looked at him seriously, wanting to confirm his answer again, "Is your company more important than me?"

Elliot didn't expect her to pursue this question. It always felt like Avery was being stimulated. Avery tears were not because of spicy, but something else.

"Is it because I can't give you a sense of security?" Elliot stared at her blankly and asked, "We didn't know each other for a day or two, or a year or more.

Would you really not know the answer of your question? Even if I told you the answer, but you are still uneasy."

Ell questioning made Avery eyes wet instantly.

"It has nothing to do with security, I just want to hear what you have to say."

Avery held back her tears and said almost unreasonably, "I didn't ask you 'love me or not' every day."

Elliot was choked by her words. For a moment, he felt that Avery was holding her lifeline.

"If money is more important than you in my heart, then I don't have to waste so much time with you, and I don't have to waste so much time with my children. I can go to work in a company now, thinking about how to make more money, not with You eat hot pot here that I don't like." Elliot used these words to express his attitude.

Avery was quite satisfied with Elliot's answer.

"If I want your company, will you give it to me?" Avery lowered her eyes and asked this 'excessive' question.

"What do you want my company to do?" Elliot thought for a few seconds, then replied, "You have two companies, aren't you busy enough? If you want money, I can give you all the money you earn. Or you took my company and sold it for money."

Avery: "..."

For a while, Elliot's answer made Avery speechless.

Avery could see that Elliot was really willing to give his the company, but he just needed a valid reason.

Elliot knew Avery didn't love money that much, so Avery couldn't find any good reason to want his company.

Avery mood gradually calmed down and asked, "Elliot, are you nervous? Did my question scare you?"

"It's not your problem that scare me, but I don't understand why you cry." Elliot handed the fruit plate to her, "Avery, Eat some fruit."

"Probably I've been too busy recently. Once I'm free, it's easy to think wildly."

Avery took an apple with a fork and handed it to her mouth, "But I won't doubt it anymore. Elliot, thank you for loving me. I will love you more than me in the future."

Hearing Avery's promise, all the dark clouds in Elliot's heart dissipated.

However, he was still a little worried: "Avery, Are you really okay?"

"I'm okay. I'm about to have my period, so my hormone levels are out of balance and I'm a little emotional." Avery pulled out a gentle smile and continued, "I won't eat spicy food again in the future. Facts have proved that it is better to keep things in the past in memory, and cherishing the present is the most important thing."

Chapter 1151

Avery figured it out.

Shea did not hesitate to sacrifice herself to save Robert's life. Her love for Robert came from Avery's love for Elliot.

Avery's feelings for Elliot are no less shallow than Avery's feelings for Elliot.

If Shea is awake now, she must not want Elliot to be threatened by Henry and his son.

After lunch, Avery took Elliot out of the restaurant.

"Elliot, let's go outside!"

"Well. How do you usually go shopping with Tammy?" Elliot asked curiously.

Avery often goes shopping with Tammy, and doesn't come home until evening.

Sometimes she did hair, or manicures, etc., which was more time-consuming.

Apart from these, there were shopping and eating. Tammy especially liked to buy bags. She had several rooms in her house, which were specially designed for bags.

Elliot said: "Compared to Tammy, you don't seem to have much pursuit."

"Why don't I pursue it anymore? I hold you firmly in the palm of my hand. Isn't it a big pursuit?"

Elliot was in a good mood and held her hand and said, "I'll take you to buy a bag."

Avery: "I don't like bags."

Elliot: "What do you like?"

"I like you." Avery love words came out, and Elliot was caught off guard, the expression on his face a little unnatural .

"You seem to be a different person when you eat hot pot. You made my mood go up and down." Elliot frowned slightly, a little confused, "I still prefer a plain life."

Avery put her arms around his waist and took him to the car and said, "Then we go buy a bag. I've been with Tammy many times, and I think the store clerks recognize me."

The two of them strolled outside until four in the afternoon point home.

After arriving home, Avery asked Elliot to go back to his room to rest. She took out the loot she bought one by one and took pictures for Tammy to see.

Tammy was shocked when she saw that Avery bought so many bags at one time so she sent a message: [Didn't you say you don't like bags?]

Avery replied: [My husband bought it for me.]

Tammy: [Tsk tsk, it's not to show off the bag, but to show off the husband!]

Avery: [Sweetie, I found out today that he really loves me.]

Tammy: [He bought for you a few bags, and you found out that he loves you?]

Avery: [He said he could give me all his money.]

Tammy: [Oh, then you let him give you all. I only believe that Elliot really loves you so much after giving it all to you.]

Avery: [Anyway, I believe him.]

Tammy: [Avery, something is wrong with you. You don't like money so much, why use money to measure whether he loves you or not?]

Avery: [I like money, but I won't be fooled by it.]

After sending the message, Avery felt a sense of loss in her heart. If her company's market value was higher, maybe Henry and his son would agree to her request.

In the end, it's all about money.

Avery found Wesley's number and sent him a message: [Wesley, I'm sorry. I can't find Adrian. I may not be able to help Shea.]

Chapter 1152

When sending this text message, Avery hesitated for a while, and finally deleted the text. How could she give up Shea's life?

Is it really desperate?

She took a deep breath, intending to calm herself down first, and then think about countermeasures.

An hour later, Layla came back from school. After she came back, she walked directly towards Elliot and asked:, "Dad, did you quarrel with Cohen's mother in class today?"

Avery immediately came over to her daughter's question and explained, "Layla, your father did quarrel with Cohen's mother, but your father did not Wrong."

"Hey, the teacher told me all about it! I knew that Dad hurt me the most." Layla said, climbed onto Elliot, cupped his face with both hands, and kissed him hard on the cheek.

Seeing the father and daughter being so close, Avery was very relieved: "Did Cohen transfer to another school?"

"No, he moved to another class."

"Well, Layla, don't be affected by this. Friends are bullied, you should stand up and help bravely. It is a good character to be brave."

After Avery finished speaking, Elliot raised a different opinion.

"Your mother is right, but Dad has something to add. If you can beat others, you can do justice. If you can't beat others, don't be impulsive. The premise of doing good deeds is that it won't affect your safety."

Avery took her daughter off Elliot with a smile and said, "Listen to your father. Now, You go to wash your hands and eat some. I'm going to make a videocall with your brother tonight."

Layla shrugged, "Oh...if my brother sees that we live in In Dad's big house, he will definitely be angry. So I'll tell my brother later!"

“Don’t tell your brother, he won’t be angry?” Avery brought her daughter and went to the bathroom.

“Because I’m a kid. I just said I wanted to move in with my dad, so my brother wouldn’t blame you and dad.” Layla said thoughtfully.

When Elliot heard his daughter’s words, he was very moved.

There are women like this, what can a husband ask for?

After dinner, Avery dialed the videocall to Hayden.

After Hayden received the videocall, he saw his mother at first sight, and at second glance found that his mother was not at home.

He had been to Elliot’s house before and had a little impression of Elliot’s house.

Avery saw her son frown, and her heart tensed: “Hayden, have you eaten breakfast? Because you said you were busy these two days, so your mother can tell you now that I moved to Elliot’s house with your younger brother and sister.”

At this time, Layla took the phone and explained softly: “Brother, I want to move here because our family is too small. Now I have to practice the piano and dance every day, and we have nothing to spare at all. Let me practice.”

Hayden was in a complicated mood after listening to his sister’s explanation.

He knew that his younger sister had to learn a lot of talents. Now that he has a younger brother, the house is indeed a bit crowded.

However, in addition to moving to Elliot’s house, She can also buy a big villa!

Avery saw that his son was still frowning, so she took the phone back from her daughter’s hand.

“Hayden, your mother decided to move here. In addition to what your sister said, it’s also because Elliot has the habit of exercising, and we don’t have any spare room for him to use as a gym. When you return to Aryadelle, your mother will bring your younger siblings back to home.”

“No, you can live in his big house and I can always study abroad.” Hayden felt that he was redundant.

Avery said without hesitation, “If this is the case, then your mother will take your younger siblings to move abroad to settle down. In your mother’s heart, you and Elliot are the most important people. I can’t give up anything for you.”

Hayden’s eyes melted a little.

Chapter 1153

In fact, these days after Hayden went abroad, he had thought about his hatred for Elliot. He hates Elliot’s meddling with his life, and he can’t accept it either in the past or in the future.

But Mike also told him that children have their own thoughts, and parents have their parents’ thoughts.

Although Elliot intervened in his studies, Elliot’s original intention was good.

And after he protested, Elliot immediately stopped interfering.

Elliot is definitely not a bad father.

Chad accompanied Ben Schaffer to a dinner party. Because Ben Schaffer was good at drinking and liked to drink and everyone kept toasting Ben Schaffer.

Chad persuaded several times and tried to keep Ben Schaffer from drinking, but Ben Schaffer rejected the kindness.

“I’ve been very unhappy recently...Why should I take in that woman? Because my brain is flooded.” Ben Schaffer complained to Chad in a low voice, “So I need to drink more!”

“Mr. Schaffer, Don’t do this. If you are really in such pain, you can just tell the boss directly.” Chad comforted.

“What did I tell him? I send him information about his sister now, and he doesn't reply. I didn't think it would be so difficult when I took her in at that time." Ben Schaffer didn't blame Elliot.

"Mr. Schaffer, What are you whispering to Assistant Rayner." The middle-aged man sitting on the other side of Ben Schaffer raised his glass and wanted to toast, "Let's come to the bar. I've already set up a room for you, go to sleep after drinking. I feel that there are no unpleasant things."

Chad interjected: "I'll take Mr. Schaffer back later. Don't bother you to arrange it."

"Assistant Rayner, you've been drinking and you can't drive after drinking. I'll book a room for you too to Guarantee your satisfaction!"

Chad understood the meaning of the boss's words.

"I don't drink and drive, I'm a driver. So you really don't need to book a room."

Chad clearly refused.

Ben Schaffer was dominated by alcohol: "I'm not going back tonight! I'm going to spend the night outside!"

"Good. I've already arranged it for you. I promise you a good night's sleep."

Chad Get up in the chair and leave the private room. He was afraid that he would not be able to take Ben Schaffer away tonight, but he was worried about leaving Ben Schaffer out for the night.

He dialed Elliot.

Elliot answered the phone, and after listening to him explain the situation, he said, "It's not like he hasn't slept outside. Go home when you've had enough. Don't worry about him."

Ben Schaffer was almost forty years old, and he was not What an innocent boy, what scenes had never been seen.

"Boss, the builder has arranged a woman for Mr. Schaffer. If I don't take Mr.

Schaffer away, Mr. Schaffer will definitely...”

Elliot said calmly, “You don’t like women, it doesn’t mean he doesn’t like women. You don’t know how much he drinks. Since he decides to stay outside, why should you worry about him.”

Chad told the truth, “Mr. Schaffer didn’t want to go home because of your sister. Your sister didn’t seem to be listening his words.”

Elliot: “He could totally drive her away. Since he didn’t drive her away, he could only suffer.”

Chad didn’t expect the boss to be so heartless.

That being the case, he took a step forward.

In the hotel at VIP suite entrance.

The fat head man persuaded Gwen kindly, “Gwen, if Mr. Schaffer didn’t want you last time, I wouldn’t call you tonight. I gave you $2,000 last time, and I’ll give you $20,000 tonight. Mr. Schaffer drank a bit too much tonight. He shouldn’t do anything to you. This money is nothing if you don’t earn it. I won’t let you accompany other men but you just need to serve Mr. Schaffer very well.”

Chapter 1154

Gwen calculated in her heart that if she earns $20,000 for nothing. She won’t earn nothing if she doesn’t make money.

Even if Ben Schaffer didn’t drink too much, she would still earn $20,000.

She’s not with other men, so Ben Schaffer shouldn’t be too fierce, right?

After receiving the $20,000 transfer, Gwen entered the room.

The fat-headed man said, “Gwen, You go to bed and don’t turn on the light.

We’ll bring Ben Schaffer over later. You and Mr. Schaffer should be very familiar, right?”

“I’m not familiar with him.” She dodged her eyes and spoke nervously.

The fat-headed man said, looking her at the time, "Ben took you into his car last time. You're still stubborn. If you hug Mr. Schaffer's golden thigh, you won't have to worry about it for the rest of your life. I will go and see the situation of Mr. Schaffer and you are not allowed to run. Ok."

"I have received the money, so I definitely won't run." Gwen said this, and her heart started to panic.

Ben Schaffer will definitely scold Gwen. Because he has always looked down on her job. She doesn't want to be scolded. So in a hurry, she went to the bathroom with her bag.

After a while, she was wearing a smoky makeup. She looked at her bold makeup in the mirror and was very satisfied. Ben Schaffer drank the wine, so he definitely couldn't recognize her anymore.

Just when she was proud of her cleverness, the door was swiped open.

Ben Schaffer was helped in. Tonight was the most he drank in years. He usually claimed to be not drunk after so many cups, but now he can't even see the road.

After being helped to lie down on the big bed, the person who helped him in quickly left.

After the room was quiet, Ben Schaffer faintly smelled a strong scent of perfume. He frowned irritably and looked aside. He saw that in the dim vision. He could vaguely see a person lying beside him.

From her thick hair he could tell that this was a woman. The woman the builder gave him? It's just, why is this woman like a dead fish, lying motionless on the bed?

"Hey, turn on the light for me, I want to drink water." Ben Schaffer was restless, his heart was burning, and he was very thirsty.

Gwen immediately slipped out of bed and went to pour water for him in the dark. When she came to Ben Schaffer with a water glass, Ben Schaffer looked at her dark figure and was stunned!

“Turn on the lights!” Ben roared loudly.

Is this woman out of her mind?

If Ben told her to turn on the light and she didn't hear it but how did she hear that Ben wanted to drink water?

Gwen smelled the alcohol smell coming from Ben and didn't want to pay attention to him.

Ben was very drunk, and he will wake up tomorrow, and he must not remember anything.

Gwen stood still beside the bed and Ben was burning with anger.

Ben forced his body to sit up and dragged Gwen onto the bed.

The water glass in her hand fell to the ground with a 'bang'.

The crisp sound aroused the primitive brute force in Ben Schaffer's body.

.....

Foster family.

After Elliot finished talking on the phone, he began to think about whether he should come forward and take Gwen away from Ben Schaffer.

“Why frown? What are you thinking?” Avery put Robert to sleep and returned to the master bedroom.

“Avery, do you want me to arrange a place for Gwen? She lives in Ben Schaffer, which affects Ben Schaffer's life.” Ell told her his thoughts, “I didn't care about her for a while. She doesn't seem as hopeless as I thought.”

Avery said, “If she seriously affects Ben Schaffer's life, she must be moved out.

If it is not convenient for you to come forward, I will find her tomorrow.”

Chapter 1155

Elliot: "Okay. I'll find a house for Gwen first."

"Yeah." Avery thought for a while and said, "Gwen lives alone with a boy. Elliot, you can find a better neighborhood for her."

"It's great to find her. Will she be reluctant to make progress?"

Avery suggested, "If you are worried about this, you can rent her a house first and pay the rent. If she shows that you are satisfied, you can buy it for her."

Elliot looked Avery: "I don't want to raise anyone other than you and the child."

"I know, but she's your sister. And Nathan is not as heinous as we think. If it wasn't for him to turn himself in..." Avery said and then did not say any more.

"Go take a shower. I'll choose a house for Gwen." Elliot didn't want to talk about it.

Avery: "Okay."

The next day, Avery drove to Ben Schaffer's house early in the morning. The door of Ben Schaffer's house was closed, and they didn't seem to get up yet. Avery took out her mobile phone and planned to call Ben Schaffer, when she heard footsteps behind her. She turned around and saw Gwen.

Gwen had dirty makeup on her face and messy hair. Avery don't know what happened to Gwen.

Avery asked tentatively, "You are Gwen, right? We met in Bridgedale before, and it was your second brother who asked me to come to you. Does your job require night shifts?"

Gwen pursed her red lips, feeling gloomy, Opened the yard lock and entered the yard.

Avery followed in stride.

"Your second brother, Elliot found you a place to live. I'll take you there now. It's not convenient for you to live in Ben Schaffer's house all the time."

Gwen sneered, "Elliot is so kind? He doesn't recognize me?"

Avery followed her into the living room and said, "Elliot promised your dad that he would still guarantee your basic life. Now You Go and pack your luggage and let's go first. I'll tell Ben Schaffer later."

"Oh ." Gwen entered the guest room and started packing.

"Gwen, I heard that you work in a modeling company. How do you feel?" Avery looked at her dress and wanted to persuade her to resign.

Gwen resisted her question, "It's not so good. Don't worry about me. I don't love going to school, I won't go to school."

"Then save my number. If you have any difficulties in the future, you can follow me. Your second brother, Elliot has a bad temper. If you look for him, he may be impatient."

Gwen picked up her phone, saved her number, and asked casually, "Do you still have contact with that fool Adrian?"

"No...he's not an idiot."

"Don't consider it as an idiot, it's just a nickname. Why are you being so serious? I lived with him for more than ten years. Before you operated on him, I served him every day. He ate and drunk with me but my dad and my brother didn't care about him at all."

Avery was shocked when she heard her words.

"I haven't seen him for a long time, I don't know if he's dead." Gwen packed up the luggage in two swipes, and dragged the suitcase to get up, "What are you doing? Let's go."

Avery came back to her senses, her heart tightening and tugging. She don't know how Adrian is doing now. After she sent Gwen to the rented house, she called Ben Schaffer and explained the situation.

Ben Schaffer rubbed his aching temples and took a breath: "Avery, thank you.

You solved a big problem for me!"

Avery: "It was Elliot who asked me to pick up Gwen. You've worked so hard during this time."

Ben Schaffer: "It's all right! As long as she's left."

Avery was about to say a few more polite words when a phone call came in.

She held the screen in front of her, saw a Cole's call, and immediately said to Ben Schaffer, "I have a call to receive. Let's talk next time."

She received Cole's call after Hanging up Ben Schaffer's call.

"Avery, where are you now? I have something good for you." Over the phone, Cole's laughter came.

Cole's laughter was evil and frivolous, causing Avery to break into a cold sweat.

"What good stuff?" Avery's vocal cords tightened and her fingers clenched!

Chapter 1156

With Avery's current relationship with Cole, it's not bad that Cole doesn't want to make things difficult for her.

What good could Cole have for her?

Avery's uncontrollable guess was that Cole planned some other conspiracy.

Cole asked, "You'll know when you see it. It's guaranteed to be a good thing.

Where are you now? I'll have someone deliver it to you."

Since Cole wanted her to see this good thing so much, Avery also wanted to see what it was!

After thinking for a few seconds, Avery said, "Send it to my company."

If it was sent to Elliot's house, Elliot would definitely see it.

"Okay." Cole said and quickly hung up the call.

Avery came out of the community and just got into the car when Elliot called.

If Ell didn't call, Avery also intended to call him.

"Avery, Ben Schaffer called me just now and said that you have already dealt with Gwen's affairs." Elliot did not expect things to go so smoothly, "Did she not cooperate or give you a face?"

"No," Avery said in a relaxed tone, "I told her to move, and she packed up and left with me."

"Is she picky about where she lives?" Elliot continued to ask.

"No. In fact, she doesn't talk much." Avery recalled the scene after she met Gwen, "I don't know if Nathan's affair affected her but she feels very depressed. But you don't have to worry, I'll pay more attention to her in the future."

"Wife, you've worked hard for me."

Avery smiled and said, "What's so hard about it. By the way, I happened to pass by the company, so I plan to go to the company to see if I can go back at noon. Elliot, if you stay at home or you're bored, you can go to work. I'm afraid you've wanted to go to work for a long time, right?"

Elliot said truthfully: "I don't want to work with you and my children every day.

But since you've gone to work, I'll go to the company too!"

"Okay." Avery drove to the company after speaking on the phone.

Sterling Group.

At 10 o'clock in the morning, Ben Schaffer came out of the elevator with a cup of coffee. At a glance, he saw Chad was standing and was waiting at the door of the office.

"Chad, why are you standing at the door of my office?" Ben Schaffer's eyes were scarlet and his face was haggard, but the corner of his mouth was smiling, showing that he was in a good mood.

Chad said guiltily, "Mr. Schaffer, were you... okay last night? I called the boss last night, and the boss told me to leave you alone, so I'll leave first."

"What's the matter?" Ben Schaffer pushed open the office door and strode in, "Elliot told you to leave me alone, that's because he did. He asked his wife to go to my house this morning and take Gwen away. Later I don't have to look at that girl's face anymore."

Chad pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose: "Mr. Schaffer, she lives in your house, and will she show you her face?"

"Yes! Because I told her that if she didn't come back after 9 p.m., I wouldn't open the door for her. So she started to show my face. If someone else gave me a face, would I be able to bear it?! Gwen is Elliot's sister, and I can't bully her. Right?" Ben Schaffer sat down in the office chair and took a sip of coffee and said it.

"Oh, I didn't expect you to be so miserable, Mr. Schaffer." Chad sympathized.

"Otherwise, why did I use alcohol to drown my sorrows last night. Because I was so bitter." Ben Schaffer said with a smile on his face, "Fortunately, this trouble has been solved. I'll treat Avery to eat another day for Dinner."

"Well." Chad's eyes suddenly stared at Ben Schaffer's neck, cleared his throat, and reminded, "Mr. Schaffer, it's better not to play with women outside. It's not clean after all."

His words made Ben Schaffer explode.

"Speaking of this, I'm on fire again! The woman the builder arranged for me last night was absolutely amazing. It's the first time I had seen such a stupid woman and I was very angry!"

Chad asked, "What's wrong?"

“I wanted to drink water last night, but she brought me a glass of water in the dark. I asked her to turn on the light, but she refused to live or die... I suspect that this woman must be very ugly. Otherwise, it will not be like this. Forget it, I won't bother her anymore. She's so ugly, I guess she can only make some money by going to the dark. It's not easy.”

Chad was stunned.

“She's so ugly, but the two of you...”

Ben Schaffer coughed and said embarrassedly, “Don't tell me about this. It's too embarrassing. I drank too much last night, and my reason was out of control. Hey. I don't seem to drink as much as I used to.”

Chad: “It has nothing to do with the amount of alcohol. You drank too much last night, and everyone will get drunk.”

“If I get drunk again in the future, I will give you a million.” Ben Schaffer decided to use restrain himself in this way. His voice was settled, and there was a knock on the office door.

The two looked towards the door, only to see Elliot walking in.

“Boss, why did you come to the company? Isn't your marriage leave over yet?”

Chad immediately walked to Elliot's side.

“Avery went to the company today, so I came to see it too.” Elliot strode in front of Ben Schaffer and smelled a pungent smell of alcohol, “How much did you drink last night?”

“It's too much, I can't remember. If I knew you had taken your sister away today, I didn't drink so much last night.” Ben Schaffer said angrily.

“Avery said that Gwen was very obedient.” Elliot didn't understand why Ben Schaffer was in such pain.

“Be obedient. She's pretending to be in front of Avery. If she angers Avery, you will cut off her source of income.” Ben Schaffer breathed a sigh of relief when he said this, “Actually, Gwen didn’t do anything to me. It’s too much, that is, I always stare at me. It seems that I have done something wrong to Gwen. I look at your face during the day, and go back to see your sister’s face at night, can I feel at ease?”

Elliot: “I haven’t seen her for half a month in the company.”

“I’m making an analogy. Your sister’s temper is definitely not smaller than yours. She is incompetent now, so she bears it. If she has the ability, it is estimated that she will be in heaven.” Ben Schaffer teased.

“Mr. Schaffer, don’t be angry. Gwen has already left, and it is estimated that you will never see her in the future. Seeing that you are not looking very well, why don’t you go back to rest in the morning?” Chad said as he wanted to give

Mr. Schaffer some relief.

“Chad, Your boss didn’t say anything, do you count?” Ben Schaffer teased.

Chad immediately shrank behind Elliot.

Elliot gave Chad a look and told him to go first.

After Chad left, Elliot sat down opposite Ben Schaffer.

Elliot said, “Avery may want my money.”

Ben Schaffer raised his eyebrows and asked, “What does she want your money for?”

Elliot: “This proves that I love her.”

Ben Schaffer asked nervously, “Pfft! Then do you want to give it? How much does she want?”

Elliot: “She didn’t ask me exactly how much she wanted, but asked me if I would give her all my property.”

Ben Schaffer: “Oh, it scared me to death! Women are like this sometimes, she should ask casually. Don’t worry.”

Elliot said, "I'm not worried, I just want you to be mentally prepared. If she really wants it, I will definitely give it."

Ben Schaffer: "..."

Someone is afraid that he has already To the end of the love brain! There is no cure!

Tate Industries.

Avery waited for about half an hour in the lobby on the first floor until the 'good thing' sent by Cole. She took the small and light bag and walked towards the elevator suspiciously. She believed that what was inside would surprise her. So she decided to go to the office and take it apart.

Chapter 1158

Arrived at the office, Avery immediately closed the office door. She quickly opened the bag and glanced inside. There appeared to be a small bag inside. Avery walked to the window, and after seeing what was inside, she gasped sharply. She immediately took out the small bag inside!

–is blood!

This is a small bag of dark red blood.

Avery was suddenly dizzy, her ankles were weak, and she felt like she was going to fall. She didn't faint, but she guessed whose blood it was.

Suddenly, her mobile phone rang. She took a deep breath, strode to the desk, and took out the phone from the bag with trembling hands. She answered the phone, and Cole's evil voice came leisurely: "Have you received the item?"

"You b*stard!" Avery gritted her teeth and cursed angrily, "What do you want to do?"

"You don't even ask this Whose blood is it? Forget it, I won't tell you, just take it for the test. Anyway, the test results will be available in less than half an hour."

Cole smiled and exhaled, "You are so angry. Ohh, Come on, you've already guessed who it is."

"Cole, why didn't I find out that you are a crazy person before?" Avery was already mad with anger, and her body trembled, "Adrian is your uncle. Does your father know about this?"

Cole sneered, "Of course my father does. Now the father and son are of the same mind. Thanks to you and Elliot. If it weren't for you, the father and son relationship would not have been so good. I'll send you ten milliliters of blood today. Think carefully about whether you want to agree to our request!"

"I don't agree?"

"Then I will continue to send you blood tomorrow. I will send you ten milliliters every day until Adr blood is drained! I heard that my aunt seems to have given your son a few hundred milliliters of blood. Let's see if Adrian can last for a few days." Cole's voice sounded like a devil, "We just want money, if you don't give it, then wait for Adrian to collect the body. Not only Adrian will die, but also my aunt will die if she can't get a kidney."

After Cole finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Hearing the disconnection sound of 'dududu', Avery's tears suddenly fell.

This move by Henry and his son is really sinister.

If Avery had known that they were so mean and cold-blooded towards their relatives, even if she made Elliot unhappy, she would definitely keep Adrian by her side.

Avery was wrong! It's her fault. She actually thought that Henry would treat her own brother well. It's too bad and it's too late now.

The office door was suddenly pushed open, and Mike strode in.

His intrusion surprised Avery.

Avery didn't have time to wipe the tears from her face, and she didn't have time to adjust her mood. So after seeing Mike, the expression on her face froze.

Mike looked at her with tears and grief in his eyes, and stood at the door. He heard that Avery came to the company, so he came to talk with her.

Unexpectedly...

"Avery, What's the matter?" Mike took a deep breath and strode in front of her.

Out of the corner of his eyes, he caught a glimpse of what Avery was holding in her hand, "What are you holding in your hand?"

Avery immediately Held the bag of blood in the palm of her hand.

Chapter 1159

"Why didn't you knock on the door when you came in?" Avery complained.

Mike scratched his head then said, "I knocked the door but you didn't hear it. What happened? you quarreled with Elliot? It shouldn't be. Haven't you two been doing well recently?"

"Talk to him. It doesn't matter." Avery took a few tissues from the tissue box and wiped away the tears on her face, "I just saw a social news, a middle-aged man with disabled legs, set up a stall on the side of the road, repairing shoes, Sending his daughter to school... Every time I see news like this, I think of my mother and feel heartache for the people at the bottom."

"Really!" Mike pointed to her clasped hand, "What are you holding in your hand, show me. If you don't show me, I won't believe what you said."

Avery quickly adjusted her mood and said, "What effect does it have on me if you don't believe it? Why did you come to see me for?"

"Hey, you're saying this too much. I heard that you came to the company and I came to see you. And we don't live together anymore. I haven't seen each other for several days.” Mike slumped down in the chair opposite her, “Although you invited me to Elliot’s house for a meal. I really don’t want to go to his house.”

“After that, we will meet outside once a week.” Avery Give a solution.

Mike: “Okay! But you haven’t told me what happened. If you let Elliot know...”

Avery looked at him seriously, “Don’t threaten me. You’re not allowed to talk to anyone about what happened just now.”

“It’s okay, I don’t say it. Then you at least tell me a little bit, Otherwise, how much should I worry? Avery, you can’t only think about yourself and not my feelings.” Mike replied with the same seriousness, “If you were me, could you ignore me?”

Avery choked, “Henry and his son threatened me with cloud ink and asked me to go to Elliot to ask for share.”

Mike said excitedly, “D*mn it! I knew that was the case. The father and son looked like dogs but they were actually more rogues than rogues. The last person who gave me this feeling was Charlie Tierney.

“Mike, I don’t know how to talk to Elliot. He won’t give them the shares. I know his temper...he will never give it...”

Mike raised his eyebrows and said, “It’s me, I won’t give it either. Why don’t you find someone to do the father and son?”

Avery looked at him in disbelief: “Do you really want to help me?”

Mike said coldly, “Yes! I really want to help you. If you don’t give them money and don’t kill them, then only Adrian will die. Do you think they will pay the legal price for killing Adrian? No! They will definitely find a reasonable reason to cover up their m-urder.”

Avery’s tears burst the dyke again.

Mike took out a tissue and handed it to her and said, "Don't cry. They just see you as being soft, so they pick you up. You don't even dare to go to Elliot. But Elliot can't give money for Adrian either."

"And if it's Shea?" Avery asked blankly.

Mike was stunned: "If it was Shea...Elliot would not necessarily hand over the shares. He should choose to kill them like me."

Avery: "..."

"Avery, What did you mean just now, is it possible that Shea is still alive?" Mike asked.

"Don't ask. I'm going out. We're chatting, you're not allowed to say it."

"Don't worry, I'm definitely tight-lipped but I suggest you still consider my proposal." Mike sent her out of the office.

"Don't say it, I won't kill them." Avery refused.

After leaving the company, Avery drove to the hospital. She wants to test the bag of blood.

An hour later, she got the test results.

Blood sample blood type: RH negative blood O blood type.

Among the people she knows, only Shea and Adrian are this special blood type. So this bag of blood belongs to Adrian.

Chapter 1160

Avery was sitting in the waiting area on the first floor of the hospital, her eyes were blank and she was shivering. It seems that she has entered a desperate situation, and she doesn't know how to go. She didn't want to tell Elliot, if she did, Elliot would really kill Henry and Cole. She doesn't want to turn Elliot into a m-urderer. But if she doesn't tell Elliot, she can only see Adrian and Shea die one after another.

After thinking about it, there is only one way.

After sitting in the hospital for a while, she dialed Cole's number.

"Have you figured it out?" Cole answered the phone, expecting her reply.

"Let's meet and talk! I'll send you the location, come over as soon as possible."

Avery came out of the hospital quickly to meet Cole.

"You won't set me up, right? Avery, let me tell you, Adrian is in our hands, If you do any tricks, Adrian will definitely die." Cole said nervously.

"I know." After Avery said, she hung up the phone.

40 minutes later, the two met in a private room at a restaurant near the hospital.

Cole cautiously surveyed the private room.

"What are you doing in the private room? There shouldn't be people hiding in the private room, right?" Cole said, looking under the table.

Avery was laughed at by his timid behavior: "Cole, You're obviously timid as a mouse but you want to do all the bad things. If you are a human being, you don't have to worry about who will harm you."

"You think you said this to me but can you change my mind? Have you ever heard a sentence called starvation to death for the cowardly but for the cowardly to persevere?" After sitting down in the chair, Cole picked up the kettle and poured himself a glass of water.

"Cole, do you remember the sweet words you said when you were chasing me?" Avery changed the subject lightly, "You said that you would always be good to me. Although it has passed, it is still very interesting. I miss you who was kind back then."

Cole frowned and looked gloomy: "Avery, I beg you, don't recall the past. Don't you think it's disgusting to say these things? I'm disgusting, and you are disgusting too. “

“Well, we are all disgusting.” Avery’s hand, under the table, reached into the bag, “then who don’t you think is disgusting?”

“All disgusting! Elliot, my dad and My grandma, they are all bad people.” Cole gritted his teeth and became emotional, “Only my mother is not disgusting, but my mother was killed by Elliot.”

“I think, you may need to see a psychiatrist in your situation.” Holding the phone, Avery calmly got up from the chair and walked towards Cole, “Let me recommend a doctor for you. This doctor may be helpful to you.”

“I don’t need it.” Cole protested, “It’s not me but this perverted society.”

“Really?” Avery walked behind Cole and put the dagger against his neck.

After the cold blade touched his skin, his body suddenly froze.

“Avery! What are you doing?” Cole panicked, his voice trembling.

“What do you think?” Before coming to the restaurant, Avery went to the nearby supermarket to buy this dagger.

Allow Henry and his son to threaten her with Adrian’s life, and she can also treat her in her own way.

“Cole, don’t move. If you struggle and resist, I won’t show mercy.” Avery said, and dialed Henry.

Henry quickly answered the phone.

“Henry, your son is in my hands now. If you don’t want to lose your son in old age, then you can use cloud ink in exchange for your son’s life. Before 6 p.m, If I haven’t seen Adrian, just wait and collect your son’s body.” Avery said coldly, word by word.

Henry was stunned. He didn’t expect Avery to do such an incredible thing. And the fear in Cole’s body turned into humiliation in an instant. He actually fell into Avery's hands. If the father compromises, then the father and son will have no bargaining chip. Although he is greedy for life and fears death, and is as timid as a mouse, the poor life is not acceptable to him.

So Cole grabbed Avery's hand: "You killed me. You came to kill me!"

Chapter 1161

Cole's eyes stared like copper bells, covered with red blood.

"Dad! Don't give her Adrian. I'd rather die than let them get their wish." Cole yelled.

Henry choked and said: "Cole...Where are you now? I'll save you."

"No! Don't you come to save me! You look at Adrian. If Avery don't give money, You must not give Adrian to her." Cole stabbed his neck into the blade of the knife because of his violent struggle.

Bright red blood came out of the wound.

Avery looked at the overflowing blood, and the hand holding the dagger suddenly loosened a little.

Did I really dare to kill Cole? Did I really dare? She questioned herself countless times in her heart.

After giving the answer in her heart, her emotions collapsed. She can speak harsh words, but she doesn't dare to kill at all.

As a doctor, she knew where a knife could easily kill Cole but she didn't have the courage at all!

"Avery, if you have the ability, kill me. If you really kill me, then you and Elliot are a perfect match. Hahaha!" Cole laughed frantically.

Avery's hand holding the knife trembled uncontrollably. And the look in Cole's eyes is as if he could die at any time!

Avery didn't expect him to be like this. Isn't he afraid of death? Why is Cole suddenly not afraid?

“Don’t you dare? You say I’m timid, but I think it’s you.” Cole saw that her eyes were slack, and he squeezed her wrist that was holding the knife.

Her bones were pinched as if they were about to be shattered, and the knife in her hand suddenly fell to the ground, making a ‘bang’.

Cole sneered and slapped her face with a slap: “Want to kill me? Don’t even look at how much you weigh. Elliot just threatens me, what are you?”

Avery was stunned by the slap. A few seconds later, flames of anger ignited in her body. She bent over quickly, trying to pick up the dagger on the ground.

Cole kicked the dagger away. At this moment, the private room door opened and the waiter walked in.

“You two, hurry up. My boss is going to call the police.” The waiter said tremblingly, “You are making too much noise and scaring our guests away.”

Cole gave Avery a sarcastic and arrogant glance, then covered the wound on his neck with his hand and strode away.

Avery put the dagger in his bag, and at the same time took out a stack of cash and put it on the dining table.

When Avery came out of the restaurant, Cole was nowhere to be seen.

Avery’s plan failed!

Cole laughed at her for being timid, maybe she was too timid.

As long as Avery was a little cruel, she wouldn’t fall into such a dead end. She endured the burning pain in her cheek and got into the car.

She didn’t know where to go next. The feeling of despair struck again.

After some time, Avery’s cell phone rang. She glanced at the caller ID and answered the call immediately.

“Avery, can you bring Adrian to Bridgedale as soon as possible? Shea may not last long. Her attending doctor said that her body can only last for another month at most." Wesley said sternly.

Chapter 1162

Avery's vision suddenly blurred, and her heart clenched tightly. She pursed her lips, holding back her grief.

"Avery, why don't you speak? Are you there?" Wesley heard her breathing a little dignified, and immediately changed his mouth, "It's okay if there's nothing you can do. Shea still doesn't know that you found me. She also doesn't know that she is not Elliot's sister, more I don't know that Adrian is her real brother. I don't want her to know this."

"Wesley, I really want to save Shea... I really want to save her. But Adrian is now hidden. It's gone." Avery wiped away her tears and said hoarsely, "I will continue to think of ways."

"Do they want to ask you for money when they hide Adrian?" Wesley was keenly aware of the problem, "How much do they want from you?"

If Wesley can get the money, he can give it.

Avery choked, "They didn't ask me for money. I gave them all my property and they didn't like it. What they want is only Elliot's share."

Wesley listened to her and said decisively, "Then give up. Come on! Avery, let's end this matter! If Shea knew that Elliot was threatened, Shea would rather die than see such a situation. Besides, even if a kidney transplant is performed, will there be rejections later? The reaction is also uncertain. It's unnecessary to take Elliot's share to bet on an uncertain outcome."

"Wesley, do you really think it's unnecessary?" She couldn't believe Wesley would say such a thing.

Wesley said transparently, "If they want all my property, of course I'm willing to gamble. But what they want is Elliot's share. You don't tell Elliot, because you know it will make Elliot very embarrassed. If that's the case, then don't use it. I tortured myself. Death is not as scary as we thought."

Wesley continued, "There is a saying that is particularly good. Death is not the loss of life, but out of the limitation of time. Avery, you and Elliot live a good life and take care of your children. Don't worry about Shea anymore."

Avery smiled bitterly and said, "Wesley, you will always be like this, for fear that I will be embarrassed or wronged. It is my luck to meet you in this life."

"I should say this. I will let you live a good life and hope that you can do more meaningful things in the future. Although Shea is pitiful, but she can have your love, and she is not pitiful. At least she herself has never felt pitiful."

Listening to Wesley's words, Avery's tears fell again.

....

In the evening, Mike came to Foster's house for dinner.

Avery installed pretended to be nonchalant and joking: "Didn't you say you don't like coming here?"

Mike said, "I'm here to see Layla. I asked Chad to come and eat together but Chad couldn't agree. It can be seen how unattractive your husband is, so you treat him as a treasure. But for a person like him, you don't have to worry about him fooling around outside."

"I'll take it as if you're complimenting me." Elliot said dully.

At this time, Layla suddenly stared at Avery's face and asked with a look of surprise, "Mom, where have you been today?"

"Baby, why are you asking this suddenly?" Avery smirked.

Layla said smartly, "You put powder on your face. You don't usually put powder on. Did you go on a date with dad during the day?"

Elliot listened to his daughter's words and immediately looked at Avery's face.

He remembered well that she didn't make up in the morning.

So when did she wipe the powder on her face? Who did she wipe it to see?

Everyone's eyes fell on her face, and she blushed instantly: "Can't I use powder? Are you so surprised? I passed a beauty store today and bought a bottle of concealer and a darker shade. because I don't have any foundation at home."

Her reason was immediately accepted by Elliot.

Avery continued."The clerk took a sample for me to try on makeup, and I thought it was pretty good, so I bought it."

Every word she said was true, except that she bought concealer and foundation to cover up the slap marks on her face.

Chapter 1163

Cole slapped her very hard. If Avery didn't cover the wound on her face, she wouldn't dare to come back at all.

Because Elliot saw that Avery was being bullied, he would definitely get to the bottom of it and avenge her.

Now that Adrian is still in the hands of Henry and Cole, she can't intensify the contradiction between them.

After dinner, Elliot took the two children to play in the yard.

Mike and Avery walked slowly behind them.

"I told you during the day, how are you thinking about it?" Mike asked in a low voice, "I have already contacted the professional killer. I have been to the residence of Henry and his son last time, as long as you nod your head, The matter can be resolved tonight."

Avery was shocked and asked: "I still don't know where Adrian was hidden by them. If we killed father and son, how would we find Adrian?"

Mike didn't think about this problem. But he didn't think it was a big problem:

“When the father and son are killed, and then let Elliot use his power to send people to search the whole city, are you afraid that you won’t be able to find Adrian?”

“What? Elliot is a human being, not a god. If Adrian cannot be found, Adrian will starve to death.” Avery rejected his proposal.

Mike shrugged and looked at Elliot’s back in front of him and said, “If you look ahead like this, this matter will never be resolved. If you want me to say, you might as well tell Elliot about this and give him a headache. It’s better than you People suffer silently.”

“Did you come here tonight to tell me this?” Avery was in a bad mood at the moment, but she couldn’t show it on her face, “You don’t need to teach me.”

Avery knew very well that she couldn’t bear it anymore. Not only because of the slap in the face today, but also because Cole said that he would give her a bag of Adrian’s blood every day.

Even if she resists the pressure today, she is not sure that tomorrow, the day after tomorrow... she will raise her flag and surrender.

“Look at what you look like now?” Mike pursed his lips and said nothing. He didn’t want to force Avery, but seeing her so sad, he couldn’t help worrying.

“Mike, go back first. I’ll think about it carefully. If it really doesn’t work, I can only find him.” Avery said helplessly, “I can’t watch Adrian die. And I can’t watch Shea die.”

“Why do you have such deep feelings for Adrian? Why can’t you just watch him die? You didn’t kill him, so why do you care about him?” Mike was puzzled. His voice couldn’t help raising his voice. A little bit, just happened to be heard by Elliot in front.

Not knowing what Avery said, Mike turned around and left.

“What did you talk to Mike just now?” Elliot asked after Avery came over.

“Nothing to talk about.” Avery didn’t want to talk to him about this topic, so she took Robert out of the cart, “Robert, will your mother help you learn to walk?” After Robert was put on the ground, her brows suddenly wrinkled up. Elliot’s brows also wrinkled.

Avery is obviously running away. It must be that something happened to Adrian again.

Chapter 1164

It’s just that Elliot won’t lose his temper and question her like before. Since she couldn’t bear to tell him, what else did he have to ask.

“Baby, don’t be afraid, okay?” Avery planned to let go of Robert’s hand, “Go over to sister’s side, try it out, you will definitely be able to walk over.”

Robert’s face was full of fear, but he still bravely spread his arms, opened his little feet, hummed, and walked quickly towards Layla.

He was still walking erratically, feeling like he was going to fall at any moment, but he was brave. He walked up to Layla and hugged Layla tightly.

“Brother, you’re amazing. Go to mom’s place again.” Layla turned him around and asked him to walk towards Avery.

This time Robert was much braver than before. He seemed to know that he could not wrestle, so he quickly walked up to Avery.

“Elliot! Did you see that? Our son can walk.” Avery was immersed in the happiness of this moment, “Come and walk with Robert. I want to take a picture.”

Elliot immediately walked to her place and squatted down, letting the son went to Layla’s side.

Avery took the mobile phone and turned on the video function to record this warm picture. After filming the video, she showed it to Elliot.

“Did you find that you look so handsome when you smile?” Avery couldn’t help laughing, “Can I post the video on Facebook?”

At the same time, many people flatter Elliot.

Chad: [The boss seems to be getting younger and younger, this is the power of love.]

Mike: [Are you trying to say that your boss was quite old before?]

Ben Schaffer: [Elliot took the baby at home for a few days, and the whole person looks much kinder!] [Fantastic]

Chad: [Brother Ben, the word kindness is often used to describe the elderly.] [embarrassed]

Ben Schaffer: [You said he was old just now, what happened to him when I said he was kind?]

Chad: [I didn’t say it. That b*stard Mike said it!]

Ben Schaffer: [Is there any difference between what he said and what you said?] [Support cheeks]

Suddenly, Ben Schaffer saw that Gwen had liked this post. He immediately sent a message to Avery: [I seem to see that Gwen has liked you, how did you become friends with Gwen?]

Avery: [When you see her like me? It means you have also added her as a friend.]

Ben Schaffer: [She lived with me before, so she added me. But I plan to delete her.]

Avery: [Well. She is Elliot’s younger sister after all. If she has any trouble in the future, I can help her.]

Ben Schaffer: [Has she troubled you now?]

Avery: [No.]

Ben Schaffer: [If only you could persuade her to change jobs. If she goes on like this, she will definitely be in big trouble.]

Avery: [I talked to her about work, but she didn't want to talk to me. She's not a child, and I can't force her to listen to me. Only take one step at a time.]

Ben Schaffer: [She doesn't like me, probably because I treat her like a child.]

[Laughing and crying]

Avery: [Maybe! She will understand your kindness later.]

Ben Schaffer:[It doesn't matter if she understands or not. If Elliot doesn't recognize her, I won't be able to meet her in the future.]

Avery: [Well.]

After she sent a message to Ben Schaffer, she saw that Cole had liked her post.

Her calm heart suddenly aroused thousands of waves.

Cole liked her post to disgust her, or to remind her not to forget the problems between them? No matter what his intentions were, she didn't want to see him lying on her friend list again.

Chapter 1165

The next day, Avery got up early and covered the scars on her face with concealer. Elliot's hoarse voice suddenly came from the bed: "Avery, why did you get up so early? You have insomnia?"

"I went to bed early last night, so I woke up early in the morning." Avery glanced at the time, it was 6:50 a.m., "Elliot, sleep a little longer. It's still very early."

Elliot looked at the makeup on her face and asked, "Are you going out today?"

Avery smiled and said, "I'm going to go to work from today. I can't stay at home any longer. You said before that I was thinking nonsense. If I go to work, it won't be like this."

"Even if I go to work, I don't need to get up so early. You can sleep with me again." Ell held out his hand to her.

Avery couldn't refuse him, so she went to the bed and sat down.

Elliot's deep eyes suddenly stared at her face and looked carefully.

"You went to work before, and I didn't see you wearing makeup." Elliot knew that Avery didn't like makeup, so he felt that there was a deeper reason for her sudden abnormal behavior.

"The foundation I bought is very moisturizing. It feels better than face cream."

Avery found an excuse, "Would you like to try it?"

Elliot quickly refused.

Avery chuckled softly, "Elliot, have you always been so suspicious? Don't you think I put on makeup to go out to meet someone of the opposite sex?"

"I didn't think so." Elliot put his arms around her Waist, expressing his inner thoughts, "Because I care about you, I will think more if you are abnormal."

Avery did not expect him to express his inner feelings so straightforwardly. Her nose was slightly sour, and she put a kiss on his cheek: "Elliot, I love you. It's not enough to say it many times."

"Me too." Elliot responded to her confession.

"What are the two of us doing? It looks like we are about to die!" Avery smiled and leaned against his arms, hugging his body tightly and said, "Recently, our company's new product development has reached the late stage. Problems can come out."

"I have always known that you are a very professional woman."

"Well. It's been more than a year of pregnancy and childbirth, as if you are living a different life.” Avery sighed, “But seeing Robert is so smart and healthy, everything is worth it.”

“You can do whatever you want in the future, I will be your most solid backing.”

“Husband, thank you.”

At 8 a.m., Avery finished breakfast and Elliot and Robert said goodbye and went out first.

Half an hour later, Avery arrived at the company.

At this time, the front desk just went to work.

“Ms. Tate, why did you come to the company so early today?” The front desk greeted her with a smile.

“I got up early today, so I came here first. If you have my package later, please notify me immediately.” Avery smiled slightly and walked towards the elevator.

About 20 minutes later, the front desk called her on the inside, saying she had her package.

When she put down the receiver, her hands trembled uncontrollably.

Cole, this be@st. He really did what he said.

Avery strode out of the office and went to the front desk to pick up the package.

After retrieving the package, she tore open the bag and took out a bag of blood.

Looking at the bag of blood she took out, her face turned pale with a ‘swish’.

This bag of blood is clearly more blood than the bag of blood yesterday.

Yesterday was ten milliliters, and today this bag is definitely more than ten milliliters!

She grabbed her phone and dialed Cole.

Cole’s voice came lazily, “Have you received the item? By the way, today’s blood is 20 milliliters. Because I found out that you blocked me contact on facebook, I was very angry.”

“Cole! You Are you sick?”

Cole turned a deaf ear to her roar: “When I drew Adrian's blood today, he foolishly asked me why he was drawing his blood. This fool, laughed at me! Ha! Haha!”

With a ‘bang’, Avery slammed the phone to the ground!

Chapter 1166

The last time Avery was in such pain when she inserted the knife into Elliot's chest. She never liked to escape, but at this moment, she was stimulated to lose all reason.

She didn't want to hear Cole's voice. Hearing his voice, her internal organs were churning, and the pain felt like she was about to die.

On the other side of the phone, Cole only heard a loud ‘bang’, and then there was no sound. He glanced at the screen, and the call was not interrupted but he guessed that Avery smashed the phone in a fit of anger, and there was a gloomy smile on the corner of his mouth.

Avery's psychological endurance, she don't know how many days it will last.

He hung up the phone and said to his father, “I guess Avery won't last long.”

Henry frowned, “Cole, let's change houses. I had a dream last night that Elliot was chasing us. I I'm afraid that if we don't get the money, it will lead to death.”

“I thought about this, and when Avery helps us get Elliot's shares, we will go abroad immediately, and then we will see whether to keep the shares and get dividends, or Sell the shares. I think it is better to sell. Although the money you get in this way is not as much as holding, it is better to have less than one thing.”

Henry whispered, “Well, let's change residence first. I've already decided where to move.”

“Then let’s move. As long as Avery asks Elliot for shares, Elliot will definitely be angry and want to kill. But Adrian is with us. In our hands, as long as Avery still cares about Adrian’s life and death. She will definitely not let Elliot attack us. If we can survive this time, we will have countless glory and wealth in the future.

“Cole said as his face turned cold.

The house here will not be returned, and the things will not be taken away. Let them mistakenly think that we still live here.” Henry said the plan.

“it is good.”

After the father and son packed some luggage casually, they left the rental house.

Tate Industries.

Avery got up and picked up the dropped mobile phone. The screen of the mobile phone was broken, and when she pressed the power button, the main interface suddenly appeared in her eyes. She took the phone with the broken screen and went back to the office chair to sit down.

The blood bag on the table kept stimulating her nerves.

Avery reached into her hair roots with both hands, thinking painfully about how to negotiate with Elliot.

Not only does she know Elliot, she knows herself better. It is absolutely impossible for her to die for Shea and Adrian.

If the money is gone, They can make more money. If the lives of their brothers and sisters are gone, they will be gone forever.

After struggling for a while, Avery turned on her phone and dialed Henry.

Henry quickly answered the phone.

“Henry, I will give you what you want as soon as possible. Don’t hurt Adrian again. If you bully him again, I will let you get nothing. He’s your relative, not mine. When he died, you buried him, not me.” Avery’s said with a cold voice.

Henry sighed: “When are you going to ask Elliot for equity? Give you some time.”

Avery: “You are in such a hurry?”

Henry said indifferently, “Do you know that strike while the iron is hot? The longer this matter drags on, the worse it will be for us. Since you are unwilling to give time, let me set a time for you. How about a week? Just a week.”

Avery clenched her fist tightly, tears blurred her vision, and the blood bag on the table turned into a big pool of blood in a trance.

“Okay. Take good care of Adrian this week! If he has any mistakes, don’t even think about getting Elliot’s equity!”

“Avery, if you had said that earlier, we would have taken good care of Adrian.”

Henry babbled and kept talking.

Avery had a terrible headache and didn’t want to listen to his nonsense and said, “I’ll contact you in a week.”

After that, Avery hung up the phone.

Chapter 1167

After putting down the phone, Avery lay on the table and cried.

Someone knocked on the door, then pushed the door and came in. Seeing her lying on the table crying, The man was stunned for a moment, and immediately backed out!

The man knocking on the door is the head of R&D.

The supervisor planned to talk to Avery about the new product, but when he saw that Avery was crying, he panicked and embarrassed instantly. He didn’t know what to do, so he could only pretend that he didn’t see it.

The supervisor took out his cell phone and dialed Mike.

After he told Mike what he saw, he asked Mike to come over.

After half an hour, Mike couldn't take it anymore, so he pushed open the door of her office.

Avery stopped crying and was looking at the computer screen intently.

When Mike got closer, he could clearly see her red and swollen eyes.

Mike put the prepared snacks on her table and said, "I heard that you came to the company very early today."

At this time, Mike saw her phone with a broken screen.

"Why is the screen broken?" Mike asked in an understatement.

"It fell accidentally. I'll change the screen at noon." Avery opened the snack and glanced at it, "Where did the snack come from?"

"The secretary gave it to me. I can't eat much, so I brought some for me. You."

He sat down in the chair and asked casually, "Why are your eyes so swollen? Didn't you sleep last night?"

Avery put the snacks in the cabinet and replied, "I had a bit of insomnia last night, but I woke up today. It's early, so my eyes are a little swollen."

"If you can't hold it any longer, go back to rest early." Mike saw her lying, so he got up from the chair, "I have something else to do, so I'll go first."

"Well."

Mike came out of her office and walked towards the elevator with a solemn expression. Back in his department, he entered the office and closed the door.

Avery will be dragged down sooner or later if this continues.

Mike can no longer let her carry it alone.

After a short thought, he dialed Elliot's number.

"Elliot, something happened to your wife." Mike yelled out after Elliot answered the phone.

On the other side of the phone, Elliot's breathing became significantly heavier:

"You said Avery?"

"F*ck! Who else is your wife besides Avery?"

"What's wrong with her? You fcking said, don't give a sht" His emotions Instant explosion.

"It's related to Henry and his son. Oh, it should be related to Adrian. I don't know what's going on, but she's in a lot of pain now. You can either ask her yourself, but she may not tell the truth. Because she doesn't want to bother you with this matter."

Elliot gritted his teeth, "I knew... I knew it was this sh*t again. Henry will definitely use Adrian to blackmail her and wants money."

Mike said, "Yes! And the money Henry wants must be a figure she can't give. Otherwise she wouldn't be in such pain. Elliot, I know you don't care about Adrian's life or death, but Avery always have to worry about it. I don't care what method you use, hurry up and settle this matter. I don't want to see Avery cry to the death for this matter again."

Elliot's mind was buzzing.

Avery cried to death for Adrian's affairs?

In his heart, it was as if the bottle of five flavors had been knocked over—heartache, irony, and absurdity!

Chapter 1168

At 11 o'clock at noon, Avery got off work early from the company to find a place to change the phone screen. She searched the mobile phone brand store on the mobile phone map and saw the nearest one, about a kilometer away from her.

She walked over and handed the phone over to the after-sales service. After waiting for about half an hour, the phone with a brand new screen was handed back to her.

After she paid the bill, she came out of the mobile phone store.

It was lunchtime and she dialed Mike.

“I’m out now, what do you want to eat? I’ll bring it to you.”

Mike was very confused when he heard Avery’s voice.

If she was told that he told Elliot about her, she would definitely be furious.

“I’ve made an appointment with someone in the department.” Mike politely refused.

“Well. Then I’ll go back directly.” Avery could clearly feel Mike’s attitude towards her. Somewhat unusually cold, but she had a headache and didn’t have the energy to think about it.

After hanging up, she walked back to the company and drove the car away.

She has only a week left. She had to think about how to talk to Elliot in a week.

Sterling Group.

After thinking for two hours, Elliot decided not to ask Avery. As Mike said, even if he asked Avery, she probably wouldn’t say it.

This incident definitely didn’t happen in the past two days. She endured it for so many days and didn’t say it. How could she tell him the truth now?

Unless Elliot gets evidence that she was threatened.

Evidence is easy to find for him.

As long as he got the content of the call between her and Henry and his son.

He dialed the phone and asked someone to check Avery's call.

After the call, his office door was knocked open.

"Boss, what do you want for lunch?" Chad walked in.

"No appetite." His face was bleak and voice was cold.

Chad's heart skipped a beat, unable to guess what was going on: "Then I'll buy some as you like."

After Chad finished speaking, he quickly left the office.

On the way to buy lunch, he called Ben Schaffer and said, "Brother Ben, something is wrong with my boss."

Ben Schaffer: "What's wrong with him? I saw him in the morning and he was fine."

Chad worriedly said, "I asked him what he had for lunch, and he said he had no appetite. It's mainly because his face is so bad. I don't dare to ask what happened. But I have a feeling that it must have happened."

"You called me because you wanted me to ask him what happened, right?" Ben Schaffer couldn't help crying.

Chad flattered, "Well, I'm just a little assistant. Brother Ben, you are different.

Brother Ben, what do you want to eat? I bought it for you."

"Okay! I'll go see him. Buy me something light, I have a bad stomach recently."

After talking on the phone, Ben Schaffer came to Elliot's office.

Pushing open the office door and seeing Elliot, he immediately understood why Chad was worried.

Elliot's complexion was really bad, completely different from when he saw it in the morning.

"Elliot, it's time for get off work, let's go have lunch!" Ben Schaffer said enthusiastically in the same tone as usual.

“Chad went and bought it for me.” Elliot refused.

“Oh, then I’ll ask Chad to bring me one as well.” Ben Schaffer said, pulling the chair opposite him away and sitting down, “What’s wrong, your face is so bad? I thought about it, the company didn’t go out. What’s the matter!”

Elliot: “Let me be quiet.”

“Okay, if you have something to do, don’t keep it in your heart. Tell me anytime.” After Ben Schaffer finished speaking, he got up and walked out.

About half an hour later, Elliot’s cell phone rang.

At the same time, there was a knock on the office door, and Chad walked in with his lunch.

Chapter 1169

Elliot held the phone and looked straight at Chad.

“Boss, your phone is ringing, why didn’t you answer it?” Chad put his lunch on his desk and reminded with a smile.

Elliot’s expression was indifferent, and his voice was cold: “Go out.”

Chad immediately withdrew after realizing that he didn’t answer the phone because of himself.

Elliot answered the phone.

“Mr. Foster, the call recording you want has been sent to your mailbox, please check it.” A respectful voice came from the phone.

“Got it.” Elliot hung up the phone, entered the mailbox, and clicked on the new email.

At a glance, he saw a recent recording, which Avery had dialed to Henry.

Elliot turned on the recording, and the content of the call immediately spread in the office
Avery: [Henry, I will give you what you want as soon as possible. Don’t hurt Adrian again. If you bully him again, I will let you get nothing. He is your relative, not mine! When he died, you buried him, not me.]

Henry: [When are you going to ask Elliot for equity? Give you some time.]

Avery: [Are you in such a hurry?]

Henry: [Do you know how to strike while the iron is hot? The longer this thing drags on, the worse it will be for us. Since you are unwilling to give time, let me set a time for you! How was the week? Just a week!]

Avery: [Good. This week, take good care of Adrian. If he has any mistakes, don't even think about getting Elliot's equity]

.....

In an instant, the world went dark.

Elliot looked like someone had pressed the pause button. The body froze, the brain couldn't think, and the eyes stared at the recording on the screen, as if to dig it out.

Avery wanted to give his shares to the person he hated the most for Adrian's sake.

She knew that doing so would anger him, but she still agreed to Henry.

Elliot remembered the last time he asked her, which is more important between Adrian and him. She answered him important.

That's what Avery said he was more important.

Elliot remembered the last time, and she asked him if he could give her everything? Including his company.

He wondered why he was specifically mentioning his company...now he understands. It turned out that Henry asked her for his company.

It turned out that she had already given birth to exchange his company for Adrian.

Does cloud ink match?

Not worthy.

Elliot's eyes were scarlet, his fingers trembling, and he pressed the record and play button again.

He knew that listening to it again would only hurt more deeply, but he wanted to listen.

He wanted to make sure that he didn't have hallucinations just now. He wanted to make sure that the voice in the recording was really Avery's voice.

He even had to make sure that in Avery's heart, Adrian was the most important thing.

After all, Avery always knew that his company was more than a money-making tool for Elliot. It is his relatives, friends, comrades-in-arms!

Without Sterling Group, there would be no Elliot today.

How could Avery agree to Henry's request for Adrian?

She keeps saying that she loves him, is that how she loves him? Oh! no.

At 1 p.m., Avery drove back to Foster's house.

"Avery, have you eaten lunch? If you haven't, I'll make it for you." Mrs. Cooper smiled, "Are you going to the company in the afternoon? We're going to vaccinate Robert today."

Avery said, "Then I'll take him to get vaccinated in the afternoon. I'm not very hungry, you should cook less."

"Okay." Mrs. Cooper immediately walked towards the kitchen.

Avery sat down on the sofa, turned on his mobile phone, and clicked on Whatsapp.

She added Cole back.

After successfully adding, she sent a message to Cole: I have basically settled with your father. But I have a request. If you can't agree to this request, then don't talk about anything.

Chapter 1170

"Mom!" Robert suddenly came over, hugged her leg, and called out to her.

Avery's heart was instantly melted.

She immediately put down the phone and looked at her son with a surprised expression: "Baby, mom just watched you play with toys alone, so mom didn't bother you. I didn't expect you to come over to find mom."

She held her son in her arms, and kissed him on the cheek.

"Mom will take you for an injection later, don't you cry, okay?"

Robert's black eyes were shining, and he didn't understand the meaning of an injection at all.

He had injections before, sometimes while asleep, and sometimes with toys to attract his attention, so he didn't cry much every time.

But now that Robert has grown up, it may not be easy to fool him.

"Avery, if you're hungry, you can eat some fruit first." Mrs. Scarlet came over and smiled, "If you told me in advance to come back to eat, you wouldn't have to wait."

"I'm not hungry. If I'm hungry, I'll eat outside." Avery smiled and said, "I woke up early today and was a little sleepy. So I decided to come back and take a nap."

"If you are sleepy, you can rest at home. I'll take Mrs. Cooper and Robert for injections later."

"I slept for a while. I couldn't sleep at night after a long sleep."

"That's right. When Elliot went to work this morning, Robert cried." Mrs. Scarlet said with emotion, "If Robert cry in front of your husband, Elliot will definitely not go to work."

"Robert likes his father so much now?" Avery was very surprised, and kissed his son again, "When mother left, you were still with him. Baby, Why did you cry when Dad left?"

Robert couldn't answer this question. First, he can't speak, and secondly, the children cry when they want to cry, not necessarily for any reason.

"If your father knew that you liked him so much, he would definitely be very happy." Avery said, picked up her phone, took a photo of Robert, sent it to Elliot, and told him about it.

At the same time, she saw Cole's reply.

Cole: [We can agree to your request. After all, Adrian has already registered with our family. If you don't return him to us by then, we will see you in court.]

Avery deletes the conversation with him and clicks on Elliot's conversation.

Elliot didn't reply.

Avery guessed Elliot is resting now?

He would not see the message until after going to work at about 2:30.

After a while, Mrs. Cooper called her to eat.

She had no appetite, so she put down the dishes after eating a little. She then went back to her room with her cell phone to rest.

Before closing her eyes, she glanced at Whatsapp again. Elliot still didn't reply.

She set the alarm clock for 3 p.m. and put down her phone.

Time flickered, it was 3 p.m.

She got up in a hurry and came out of the bedroom.

She put the vaccination book in her bag, and Mrs. Cooper came to her with Robert, who was taking a nap.

After going out, they soon arrived at the community hospital.

Robert was sleeping, but woke up after entering the hospital.

When the medical staff gave Robert an injection, Mrs. Cooper recorded the process with her mobile phone.

During the injection, his expression suddenly jumped from daze to pain, and the reaction was particularly interesting.

“Look, baby.” Seeing that his son was about to cry, Avery immediately pointed to the camera, “Let’s send the video of your injection to your dad later, okay? Dad will definitely praise you for being a strong and good baby!”

Avery’s tears were immediately held back.

The little guy held back his tears, and the amused medical staff also laughed.

After the injection, Avery glanced at the video and sent it to Elliot.

It was already 3:30 p.m., but Elliot still didn’t reply to her last message.

Is Elliot busy today?

Avery quickly thought that Elliot hadn’t been to the company for a long time because of the wedding. And he used to be a workaholic, so it’s normal that Elliot doesn’t have time to look at his phone today.

Chapter 1171

When Avery got home, her heart was empty.

In fact, Elliot didn’t reply to her messages in seconds every time. If Avery didn’t ask him for shares in the future, she would never be so nervous.

She took the phone and swiped several times, but she didn’t get a reply from him.

She sent a message to Tammy: [Tammy, how are you and Jun recently?]

Tammy: [That’s it! He has been very busy lately.]

Avery: [Then when you send him a message, when does he usually reply?]

Tammy: [He usually returns when he sees it. Why are you asking this all of a sudden?]

Avery: [I messaged Elliot at noon, but he hasn’t gotten back to me yet.]

Tammy: [You can just call him and ask if it's okay. He must be busy and didn't see the messages, or he must reply to you.]

Avery: [I think so too. So I still don't call him. Anyway, he will be back in the evening.]

Tammy: [Well, don't you also go to work?]

Avery: [I took Robert to get vaccinations this afternoon, but didn't go to the company.]

Tammy: [Oh, I haven't seen you talk to me specifically for such trivial matters. I always thought that you were taking Elliot's hands to death, but now it's the other way around haha!]

Avery: [The feelings are mutual. He likes me and I like him too.]

Tammy: [Yes. After I divorced Jun once, I realized that it wasn't that I couldn't live without him, but that I was as lost as I was without him. what a shame.]

Avery: [It's all over. Cherish each other well in the future.]

After chatting with Tammy, Elliot still didn't reply.

Avery took the phone to charge and planned to ask him what Elliot was doing when he came back from get off work.

At 5:30 p.m., the bodyguards took Layla home.

Avery's mobile phone is also fully charged. She unplugged the charger and opened Whatsapp, but Elliot still did not reply to the message.

Her heart suddenly froze. She found his number and dialed it.

The phone was dialed, and a system prompt sounded soon – sorry, the number you dialed is temporarily unavailable, please try again later.

Is his phone turned off?

Is it powered off or the meeting is shut down?

Her heart suddenly beat violently, and an ominous premonition rose in her heart. She immediately dialed Chad's number, but fortunately the call was quickly connected.

"Chad, is Elliot off work now? I sent him a message and he didn't reply, and I couldn't get through when I called him." Avery asked, "Is he so busy today?" Chad was stunned. He raised his eyes to look at Elliot in the office chair, and then looked up at Elliot's mobile phone on the desk.

Elliot is not busy today.

He stretched out his hand to cover the receiver of his mobile phone, and whispered to Elliot, "Boss, Avery is calling. She said that your mobile phone can't be reached, and the message has not been answered. She asked if you are off work, and asked if you are busy."

Elliot: " Tell her I'm busy and I'll be home late tonight, and tell her not to wait for me."

Chad immediately conveyed the boss's meaning to Avery.

Avery responded in frustration: "Is your boss so busy now? I didn't listen to him."

"Yeah! I've been very busy recently. He didn't tell you, maybe he didn't want to worry you." Chad said .

"Oh, then you ask him to call me back."

"Okay, I'll pass it on."

After talking on the phone, Chad said to Elliot, "Avery asked you to call back."

Elliot: "My phone is out of battery."

Chapter 1172

"Oh, is your charger broken? I have a charger there, I'll bring it to you..."

"No." Elliot's charger is not broken, he just doesn't want to charge it.

His mobile phone was automatically turned off when he heard Avery's call recording till the phone was out of power.

After listening to the recording all afternoon, he now only needs to think of keywords such as 'Avery', 'Adrian', 'Henry', and his heart hurts and disgusts.

Chad couldn't help it, and he asked loudly, "Boss, what is the reason for you and Avery this time?"

"Don't ask what you shouldn't ask, don't say what you shouldn't say." He raised his cold eyes and looked at him coldly.

Chad immediately shut up: "I see. Do you want to go home tonight? If you don't go back, I'll go buy you dinner now."

Elliot: "I don't think so."

"If you don't give her a Call back, I think she may come to the company to look for you later." Chad reminded, "If you don't neglect her so much, she will definitely think wildly."

"It's precisely because I don't neglect her, so she always don't care about my feelings." Elliot eyes were cold, and his voice was even colder, "I was never afraid of making trouble with Henry before. But now, I'm tired."

Not tired, but tired.

Thinking about being used from birth. Now that he has become famous. he thinks that he can dominate everything, that he has found true love and a destination, but he still cannot escape the end of being used.

Avery said more than once that he would never lie to him again, and Elliot believed it. Now the beautiful illusion is torn apart, revealing the ugly lie.

Elliot is really tired.

Chad had never seen Elliot so depressed.

When Elliot was angry, Chad had seen it, whether it was a rage or coldblooded revenge, but he had never seen Elliot cry tiredly.

Chad especially wanted to know what happened between Elliot and Avery, but he knew very well that he couldn't find the result if he asked again.

And what he said just now was very clear, don't ask what you shouldn't ask, don't say what you shouldn't say.

Chad not only couldn't ask him what happened, but he couldn't tell everything that happened now.

Foster family.

Avery and Layla are sitting at the dining table and having dinner.

"Mom, our house is so deserted." Layla felt emotionally, "Uncle Mike is no longer living with us. My brother is not at home, and Dad is going to work again. Maybe he will work overtime every day in the future... A classmate told me that she can only see her father two or three times a month, because her father usually travels around for work."

Avery: "Your father will not do this. Even if he works overtime, he will go home at night."

"But if he comes back too late, I won't see him. I go to school early in the morning, and he can't see me." Layla puffed out her cheeks, "My classmate said that her father had a woman outside, so she often Don't go home."

Avery was shocked by her daughter's remarks.

"Layla, your dad isn't that kind of person."

Layla sniffed, "I don't want dad to be like that either. I'll be sad and you'll be sad too. Brother will hate him even more. Then You call my father after dinner and ask him to come back early."

Avery: "I have called your Uncle Chad, and when your father is not so busy, he will call me back. If he does not call I called back to show that he was on his way home."

"Oh!" Layla felt relieved, "Mom, when are you going to see brother? I'm about to have summer vacation!"

Avery thought for a few seconds then said, "We can visit him anytime after your summer vacation."

Layla put down her tableware and ran out of the dining room with a look of excitement.

Seeing that her daughter was so happy, Avery picked up the phone to see if Elliot had any reply.

As a result, still no.

Half an hour has passed since she called Chad.

It stands to reason that Chad should have conveyed what she said to Elliot, why did Elliot still not reply to her?

Whether it was a message or a phone call, as long as she didn't receive a response from him for a second, she felt uneasy in her heart.

She dialed his number again, and the system beep was still heard.

Chapter 1173

Avery frowned, came out of the dining room, and decided to drive to his company to find him.

She wondered if he was busy with work and didn't have time to look at his phone, or if there were other reasons.

Half an hour later, her car stopped at the entrance of Sterling Group Building.

The lights on some floors of the building are still on. She went straight to the lobby on the first floor.

The security guard saw her and immediately swiped her card to let her in. She took the elevator to the floor where Elliot's office was.

With a 'ding' sound, the elevator door slowly opened.

The lights in the corridor are on, but the door of Elliot's office is closed.

Elliot was no longer in the company. Was he already on his way home?

Her disappointment was greater than her hope. Always feel like something was wrong. Otherwise Elliot wouldn't have contacted her for so long.

They have been very sweet since their marriage, even if they stick together 24 hours a day, they will not get tired.

How could his attitude change?

Did Henry and his son find him?

But she'd already negotiated with them, and they shouldn't have the guts to provoke him. She squatted at the door of his office and dialed Chad.

Chad answered again in seconds: "Avery, what's the matter?"

"Where has Elliot left? I'm at the door of his office now, and he's no longer in the office." Avery's tone couldn't hide her disappointment.

"When I got off work, I told him what you said. However, his mobile phone was out of power, and it seemed that the charger was broken. At that time, a client wanted to invite him to dinner, and then talk about the cooperation in detail, so he may now Let's go to dinner with the client." Chad worked hard to make up the reason.

Elliot was sitting in his car. Because Elliot didn't want to go home, Chad took him to the hotel now.

Chad continued. Avery, why don't you go to the company's ground parking lot. If my boss's car is still there, I'll probably leave with the client."

"Okay, I'll go take a look." Avery got up and walked towards the elevator, "By the way, what kind of person is that customer? Will he drink Elliot or mess around?"

"No. That client and the boss have known each other for a long time."

"Oh. I see. Why don't you send me the client's number?" Avery asked.

"Uh...I don't have the customer's number. Because this customer is in direct contact with the boss every time.” Chad continued.

After talking on the phone, Chad looked at Elliot in the back seat.

“Boss, if you don’t go home tonight, what about tomorrow night?”

“We’ll talk about it tomorrow night.”

“Avery will probably go to the company tomorrow morning to find you.”

“I won’t go to the company tomorrow.”

“Where are you going tomorrow?” Chad was a little panicked.

“I don’t need to report to you. If she finds you again, you can continue editing.”

Elliot gave him an order.

Chad responded and said anxiously: “Boss, I’m a little afraid of you.”

“Don’t call me boss. Don’t call me boss in the future.” He interrupted Chad.

Avery has decided to put his shares To Henry, if he doesn’t agree to Avery, can their marriage continue?

Chapter 1174

Elliot never speculates on Avery with the greatest malice. But Avery’s conversation with Henry was like stabbed him from behind.

Has she ever thought that Adrian is a human being? Although Adrian is pitiful, should she sacrifice him to save Adrian?

If Avery discussed with him first, got his consent, and then went to talk to Henry about the phone call, Elliot would never be so sad.

After Chad sent him to the hotel, he came out of the hotel.

It’s almost July, and the nights are getting warmer.

Chad was sweating shortly after he came out of the hotel. He got into the car and dialed Ben Schaffer.

The mood of Chad was deeply affected by Elliot, “Brother Ben, I don’t know what to do now. I feel like I’m unemployed.”

Ben Schaffer frowned: "Elliot fired you? What did you do wrong?"

Chad took a deep breath then said, "I don't know. I don't think I made a mistake but he just told me not to call him boss. If I don't call him boss, what should I call him?"

"Then call him President Foster!" Ben Schaffer gave him advice.

Chad explained, "I called him Mr. Foster when I first joined the company.

Once he was with the vice president, I called Mr. Foster, and they both looked at me together. Since then, I have called him Calling the boss. I've been calling for a few years. He won't let me call tonight, what does he mean?"

Chad was one of the people around Elliot who knew him best. But he couldn't guess what he was thinking now, let alone what he would do next. An unknown fear arises spontaneously in his heart.

"If you ask me, I don't know." Ben Schaffer pondered for a few seconds, "I went to him at noon, and he wouldn't say anything. But it's definitely related to Avery."

"I know it has something to do with Avery. He doesn't plan to go home tonight, nor does he want to contact Avery. He asked me to lie to Avery that he was very busy. If she really got into trouble with Avery, I wouldn't let me lie to him." Chad looked dazed, "Brother Ben, I'll just tell you about this, don't tell me. He won't let me tell."

"Where is Elliot now?"

"He's in the hotel. He said that he won't go to the company tomorrow."

Ben Schaffer's breathing suddenly became heavy, "What's wrong? They were all fine yesterday. Didn't Avery just sprinkle a handful of dog food in the circle of friends?"

"Yes, I don't understand either. But I can't ask Avery, so don't ask her either. If I ask, my lie will be no longer true."

“Why don’t you ask Mike?” Ben Schaffer suggested, “Maybe he knows something.”

Chad said, “He moved out of Avery’s house. I’m sure he doesn’t know anything.”

Ben Schaffer said, “Then there’s nothing. Besides, we outsiders really can’t get involved in the affairs of the two of them. When did the two of them quarrel, didn’t they reconcile themselves?”

Chad was depressed, “But in the past, when the two of them quarreled, the boss could go to work normally. As long as the boss can go to work normally, I don’t think it will be a problem. It’s too big. The boss doesn’t plan to work this time. Does he want to stop his work for this company.”

Ben Schaffer said, “Then let him rest for a few days. It’s useless for us to be anxious. You go home first. We’ll talk about it tomorrow.”

“Yeah.”

The Foster family.

After Avery took a bath, she came out of the bathroom, walked to the bed, and picked up her mobile phone.

There were no messages and calls.

Elliot suddenly seemed to have news out of thin air from her world.

When Avery went out yesterday morning, Elliot also kissed her cheek.

Thinking that she called his number again, but still couldn’t get through.

His mobile phone is dead and the charger is broken, wouldn’t he borrow someone else’s charger to charge it?

If Elliot wants to charge his phone, he can charge it anytime. Even, he can change a new mobile phone to contact Avery at any time.

Are customers so important? Is work so important?

Her heart was clear like a mirror that Elliot just didn't want to contact her, and he didn't want to return home.

Chapter 1175

As for why Elliot did this, Avery couldn't guess the reason.

Henry and his son would never dare to look for Elliot. Is there anyone else looking for him?

Avery was lying on the bed, looking at the chandelier, dazed. Suddenly, a terrible thought flashed in her mind.

If Elliot doesn't come back and doesn't contact her, how can she ask him for shares? Although it was not appropriate to think about such a thing at this time, it was a burning eyebrow.

If Avery couldn't fulfill her promise to Henry in a week, Henry and his son may torture Adrian. Thinking of this, two lines of tears fell from the corners of her eyes. She thought she had reached a desperate situation two days ago. Now, what kind of desperate situation was the first two days?

Now is the real dead end.

With Elliot's ignored her today, and he may ignore her in the future. Even if they have children, even if she and the children live in his house now. Once Elliot decides to give up, nothing is going to work for him.

That night, she lost sleep.

The next morning.

Avery came to Sterling Group. When Chad came to the company, he saw Avery standing at the door of Elliot's office.

Chad had long guessed that Avery would come to the company today, so it was no surprise to see her. Only, he had to pretend to be surprised.

Chad: "Avery, why are you here?"

“Do you know where Elliot went? He didn’t come home last night. The phone is still there and didn’t turn on.” Avery’s eyes were full of red, and even with foundation on her face, she couldn’t hide her haggardness.

Chad dialed Elliot’s number in front of her, “Ah this...I can’t get through to him either.”

Avery murmured, “Then I’ll wait here. Yesterday morning, We were all fine when we parted. He suddenly lost contact. Did you find anything unusual about him yesterday?”

Chad immediately shook his head and said, “I was working yesterday and didn’t notice anything unusual about him. His office door is open, now you can go in and sit and wait for boss.”

“Okay, thank you.”

Chad felt very guilty. Because he knew that Elliot would not come to the company today.

If Avery waits any longer, he will just wait in vain.

After Chad sent her into Elliot’s office, he immediately returned to his office. He paced up and down the office, and after struggling for a while, he dialed Mike.

“Hurry up and call Avery to tell her away. She’s in my boss’s office now, and my boss won’t come to the company today.”

“Just tell her.”

“Just tell her! My boss doesn’t want to see her. I can’t tell you the specific reason.” Chad lost his patience, “Hurry up and find a way to get her away! I told you, you are not allowed to tell her.”

Mike held the phone and cursed in a low voice. He asked Elliot to find a way to deal with Henry and his son, but Elliot ignored Avery?

How did it turn into this?

Mike immediately rushed to Sterling Group and pushed open the door of Elliot's office.

"Avery, follow me." Mike grabbed her arm and took her outside.

"What are you doing?" Avery pushed him hard and refused to leave, "I want to wait for Elliot here. Let me go."

"He won't come." Mike roared.

Chapter 1176

This stern roar fell in Avery's ears, and also in Chad's ears outside the door.

Chad suddenly became angry, strode behind Mike, and twisted his back hard.

Mike endured the pain and immediately changed his words to Avery: "I mean you don't have to wait for him here. What a waste of time! Which CEO would come to work so early?"

Avery was not convinced by his explanation.

The phrase 'he won't come' kept echoing in Avery's mind. Like a deflated balloon, she was drained of all her strength.

Mike easily pulled her out of the office and left the Sterling Group.

Avery was stuffed into the car, and Mike fastened her seat belt: "I'll let someone drive your car away later."

After Mike got into the driver's seat, he immediately drove the car out.

Avery looked at the Sterling Group building that was gradually receding out of the window, and murmured, "Mike, you said he wouldn't come, who told you?"

Seeing her in a trance, Mike had a headache.

If he tell her the truth, it will stimulate her deeper.

"I just guessed. Did you forget that I'm a man too?" Mike said, "Chad told me last night..."

"What did he say to you?" Avery couldn't wait to interrupt him.

Mike looked at the road ahead with a guilty conscience and said, "He told me that you were looking for Elliot, but Elliot didn't seem to be in a hurry. So he guessed that the two of you were quarreling again."

Fortunately, Avery couldn't see his face, otherwise she would definitely see his guilty conscience.

Avery: "I didn't quarrel with him."

"That's why he quarreled with you." Mike said, "The two of you must have had a conflict anyway. Otherwise, why would he?"

"I don't know. I didn't quarrel with him, why did he quarrel with me?" She was puzzled.

"How do I know what he's thinking when he avoids like this? He's so weird this time.

"Strange. But you can't wait in his office like this. Aren't you afraid of his employees laughing at you?" Mike said, "If he wants to see you, you can naturally see him. If he doesn't want to see you, you will never see him in his office."

"How much hatred does it take to see me forever?" Avery murmured.

Mike comforted, "I just said casually, I don't think he will see you forever. I think he will definitely see you tonight or in two days."

"Send me home. I'll go back to sleep." Avery lowered her eyes slightly, Feeling exhausted.

"Okay. Don't think about anything, maybe he'll come back when you wake up."

Avery guessed, "I feel like Elliot knew everything. Otherwise he wouldn't be like this. He's not a merciless person, and he won't stop going home for a trivial matter."

"If Elliot knew it, I would also know it. Avery, no matter what, you must prepare for the worst. When you are threatened, you should consider it. Let him know, it's not necessarily a bad thing." Mike said calmly.

Avery said excitedly, "But Elliot has ignored me now. You really, Don't you think it's not necessarily a bad thing? I think things are so bad."

The latter words were stuck in his throat and could not be said.

Avery also intends to ask him for shares, and now it seems that she is delusional.

Avery actually thought that Elliot would give what she wanted from him.

Elliot is running away from her now, and the result has already been stated.

Thinking that Avery could not fulfill her promise to Henry, that Adrian and Shea would die one after another, and that she and Elliot might be irreparable, she was miserable.

She should listen. Whether it was Mike's advice or Wesley's advice, if she listened, neither she nor Elliot would have come this far.

It was totally wrong. Avery only considers what she has lost now.

In fact, the result is now good. At least for Elliot, it was good. He didn't have to take out his company's shares, and he didn't have the impulse to kill Henry and his son. He was just angry with Avery alone, and even if he lost this relationship, he still had a decent life.

Chapter 1177

Thinking of this, Avery felt better. Perhaps, she and Elliot still have no fate after all. No matter how many children they have, they will never grow old together.

“Avery, don’t cry.” Mike regretted seeing her weeping. If Mike knew this was the result, he would never have called Elliot.

“I’m fine...” Avery raised her hand to wipe her tears, “I’ll just cry for a while.”

“How can I go to the company at ease like this?” Mike said sadly.

“I want to stay by myself.” Avery choked, “Send me to my own house.”

“Okay.” Mike turned the car at the intersection ahead and drove towards the Starry River Villa.

In the hotel.

Chad pressed the doorbell of Elliot’s room. Elliot’s cell phone hasn’t been turned on yet, and he hasn’t responded to his work emails. He’s lost contact. Chad was very worried, so he came to have a look. As a result, he rang the doorbell three times, but there was no response.

Is Elliot not in the room anymore?

Chad immediately went to the front desk and asked, “Help me check if Mr. Elliot left the hotel today.”

The lady at the front desk said, “Sorry, this is the privacy of the guests, I can’t help...”

“I’m his assistant.” Chad took out his business card and handed it to the lady at the front desk.

The lady at the front desk took his business card, glanced at it, and returned it to him: “Mr. Rayner, I’m sorry. You can go to our manager.”

Chad took back the business card and went to the hotel manager.

When the hotel manager heard that he wanted to inquire about Elliot’s privacy, he immediately said, “Mr. Rayner, I know you are Mr. Foster’s assistant. But I still can’t reveal his privacy casually. Otherwise, he will not come to our hotel in the future.”

Chad expressed his understanding: "I don't want to know his privacy, I'm afraid he doesn't eat well and he has stomach problems."

"You can rest assured. He has breakfast today."

"Okay. Thank you." Chad came out of the hotel after getting this answer.

Elliot was no longer in the hotel, where should he go?

He really worried.

Elliot's sudden visit today was very surprising.

"Mr. Foster, I can go to your place completely, so that you don't have to run."

The lawyer poured Elliot a glass of water.

"I have something to entrust you to do for me." Elliot looked cold and expressionless.

The lawyer sat upright: "Okay, but don't you have legal affairs?"

"I want to ask you to do it." Elliot said.

If you go to the company's legal counsel, then the matter will soon spread to several high-level ears.

Elliot just wanted to end the matter quietly.

The lawyer said, "Mr. Foster, thank you very much for trusting me. I have known you for many years. I will definitely do my best to handle your affairs."

"I want you to find someone." Elliot took out a piece of paper strips on the table.

A person's name and phone number are written on it.

The lawyer took the note, glanced at it, and wondered, "Cole...Isn't this your nephew?" After that, he changed his words immediately, "I'm sorry, I forgot that you are not related to them by blood. "

Chapter 1178

Starry River Villa.

After Avery entered the living room, she saw Mike coming in, and immediately said, "You go. I'll stay here for a while to clean up."

"Then I'll contact you at noon." After Mike finished speaking, he walked out.

After he got in the car, he dialed Tammy.

"Tammy, wait a moment and call Avery. Ask her to go out to play, or you can go to her. In short, find a way not to leave her alone." Mike was particularly worried about Avery.

"What's wrong with Avery?" Tammy noticed from Mike's tone that things were not simple.

"I can't tell you in a few words. You see her, let's see if she will tell you."

Tammy asked, "She quarreled with Elliot? She sent me a message yesterday, saying that Elliot didn't reply to her message. No. Could it be because of this?"

"That's right. She says she wants to be quiet now, you can contact her later."

"Understood."

Tammy finished talking on the phone and immediately took a set of clothes from the closet to change. After dressing up briefly, she dialed Jun.

"Husband, have you heard about the quarrel between Elliot and Avery?"

Jun was in a meeting when he received a call and came out of the conference room with his mobile phone.

"What happened to the two of them? I haven't heard of them quarreling!"

"I just asked you. If you don't know, forget it." Tammy was about to hang up.

"Ask Avery. The two of you have such a good relationship."

Tammy said, "I was going to find her. But I think Elliot caused the trouble.

Yesterday, Avery told me that Elliot didn't reply to her news. I was laughing at Avery. You take the time to inquire."

...

When Tammy drove to the Starry River Villa, he pressed the doorbell at the gate of the courtyard.

Avery came out from inside.

The courtyard door opened, and Tammy entered the courtyard and looked at her at the same time: "Are you planning to move back?"

Avery was wearing plastic gloves and a waterproof apron, and it looked like she was cleaning at home.

"The house is dusty, I'll clean it up." Avery explained lightly, "Why are you here? What did Mike tell you?"

Tammy said straight to the point, "Don't do this kind of rough work. Just leave it to the nanny."

"I can't stop thinking about it when I'm quiet. Doing something can make it less uncomfortable." Avery entered the living room and took off Gloves, "I think I may lose Elliot."

"Don't be so pessimistic. You and Elliot have gone through so many storms, and He has three children. Why would he want to break up with you? Unless he has water in his head." Tammy said firmly.

"Things that often feel impossible will happen. People who think they won't lose are easy to lose." Avery glanced at the house with desolate eyes, "I think I may move back soon. So clean the house."

"Did Elliot say he want to break up with you?" Tammy asked.

"Once Elliot decides to let go, no matter how much I keep it, it's useless."

Avery eyes were red and her voice was sour, "I know him."

"Has Elliot told you to break up?" Tammy was panicked and depressed,

"What about the child? He won't fight with you for custody of the child, will he?”

Avery shook her head: “He has not heard from yesterday until now. He may still be thinking about the trade-off.”

Tammy sighed heavily, “Avery, even if he is really thinking about trade-offs, he won’t necessarily break up with you!”

“I have a very strong hunch.”

Tammy reassured, “Then can you predict the winning numbers of the next lottery? Avery, don’t scare yourself. Besides, even if he really wants to you If you break up, he must have no face to fight with you for child custody. As long as you hold the child firmly in your hands, other pains can be overcome. You told me before that the child is the number one in your heart. “

Avery: “The reason why I feel so uncomfortable is because I may have broken his heart. I don’t want to hurt him at all...”

“Can you tell me what happened?” Tammy asked.

Chapter 1179

Avery lowered her head and did not answer.

“Avery, don’t be sad.” Tammy patted her back without further questioning and said, “I’ll take you to a big dinner. No matter what happens, you must believe that you can overcome all difficulties. In my heart, no People are stronger than you.”

“I don’t want to eat.”

“What if I don’t eat? Why don’t I order takeout!” Tammy took out her phone and said, “I’ve recently started trying to get pregnant. If you don’t eat, I will too.”

Avery: “If you are planning to get pregnant, ask Jun to quit smoking and drinking.”

“I told him. Now I won’t let him stay up late. It’s just a bit hard at night. I can’t sleep.” Tammy complained.

“You’re right. It’s good to get used to it. Even if you and Elliot really broke up, don’t think the sky is falling. It has collapsed countless times.”

Tammy’s comfort made Avery unable to help laugh.

At the same time in Foster family.

Elliot’s sudden appearance shocked Mrs. Scarlet and Mrs. Cooper. They knew that he and Avery had a quarrel.

Elliot didn’t go home last night, and he didn’t call Avery, which is an obvious signal. Moreover, although he is back now, his face is also very bad.

Seeing Robert, Elliot didn’t show the gentle and loving smile as before.

“Sir, Avery waited for you for a long time last night.” Mrs. Cooper said anxiously.

Elliot’s expression was cold and his voice was stern. He said, “You can take good care of the children, don’t worry about other things.”

Mrs. Cooper immediately lowered her head.

Elliot strode upstairs.

In the evening, Avery went to the elementary school to pick up Layla.

When Mrs. Cooper saw her. Her eyes were a little dodgy.

After Layla went to Robert’s side, Avery walked up to Mrs. Cooper and asked in a low voice, “Is Elliot back?”

Mrs. Cooper nodded, then shook her head and said, “He came back at noon, and He didn’t even drink a sip of water when he came back and he will leave in a while.”

“What did Elliot do when he came back? Why didn’t you notify me? I have a question to ask him, and he is completely avoiding me now. If he is like this, how to solve the problem?" Avery whispered.

Mrs. Cooper understood: "I told him that you were waiting for him. But he..."

Having said this, Mrs. Cooper shook her head.

"Then what did Elliot do when he came back?" Avery looked at the two children from the corner of her eyes.

Layla took Robert's hand and wanted to lead him to the bathroom to wash her hands.

Mrs. Cooper said sadly, "Elliot only glanced at Robert, and didn't even hold the child. After he came back, he went upstairs and took some things. I don't know what he took."

Avery, strode upstairs.

Elliot came back to get something?

If the two of them were to break up, what would Elliot take away?

Is it luggage Or important information about work?

Every time Avery took a step upstairs, her heart sank.

Chapter 1180

Reaching the second floor, Avery first entered the master bedroom and opened his wardrobe. In the closet, there were basically no less clothes for him.

"Avery, Elliot didn't come to pack." Mrs. Cooper caught up and saw her standing in front of the closet, so she said, "He used a black bag to pack not many things."

"Yes, daily necessities could be bought at any time. He didn't need to bring these." Avery closed the wardrobe door and walked towards his study room and asked, "Did he say anything?"

Mrs. Cooper: "Nothing."

"Nothing?" Avery Didn't dare to believe.

Mrs. Cooper said truthfully, "That's not true. I told him that you waited for him until late last night, and he asked me to take care of the child and don't worry about other things. Avery, all I can do is take good care of Robert. I can't help you with other things."

"Thank you very much for helping me take care of Robert. We will solve the matter between me and Elliot." Avery walked to the door of his study and wanted to open the door.

Mrs. Cooper said and walked away immediately, "Then I'll go downstairs first."

Avery pushed open the study door and entered the study. She turned on the room light, and the room suddenly brightened like daylight.

On his desk, the clean and tidy notebook was there. The whole wall of bookshelves next to it did not any change. Perhaps what Elliot took away was what was in his safe.

She walked to his desk and saw his safe. She hadn't remembered the password to his safe. He had written her a note with his safe code on it.

If Avery wanted to open his safe, just look for the note.

The note was supposed to be in the interlayer of her bag, but her feet seemed to be filled with lead and she couldn't move at all.

What if it was confirmed that he had taken the contents of the safe?

His heart was no longer in this home, and she can't stop him when he wanted to leave.

She sat down in his chair and couldn't help thinking, what would happen to them if she happened to be home when Elliot came back at noon?

Will there be a heated argument, or will everything be said and then reconciled as in the past after countless arguments?

How she wished it was the latter.

In the dining hall.

Layla was sullen.

Avery had no appetite.

“Layla, are you happy at school today?” Of course Avery knew why her daughter was unhappy, but there was nothing she could do.

“Happy.” Layla said angrily, “Mom, is Dad working overtime again?”

“Well, he’s been busy lately.” Avery didn’t want her daughter to worry. If lying would make her daughter feel at ease, she would do it.

“Did Dad tell you that?” Layla pressed.

“Yeah. Layla, your dad was resting at home because he was on marriage leave. He used to be so busy at work. Actually, mom is also very busy with work, but with your Uncle Mike’s help, mom can go earlier and come back.”

Avery explained patiently.

“Okay!” Layla didn’t doubt what her mother said, so she replied, “If my father is so busy every day, I would suspect that I don’t have a father. Tomorrow is the weekend. Does he have to work overtime tomorrow?”

Avery put down the bowl Chopsticks as her heart was even more uncomfortable.

On weekdays, she could lie to the child that Elliot had to work overtime, but what about weekends? How to cheat?

Avery changed the subject, “After dinner, Layla, let’s make a videocall with your brother. When you have summer vacation, mom will take you and your brother to Bridgedale.”

“Oh.” Layla lowered her eyes. Suddenly, bean-sized teardrops rustled down. Seeing her daughter like this, Avery suddenly became confused. She got up from the dining chair and walked to her daughter: “Don’t cry baby. Mom and Dad just quarreled. It’s not as scary as you think.”

Chapter 1181

“Isn’t it scary enough to take my brother and me to find my brother without taking my father?” Layla looked sad, “Are you two going to divorce?”

“No. I haven’t gotten the certificate with your dad yet. If we separate, it’s just a breakup, not a divorce.” Avery took a tissue to wipe her daughter’s tears and said.

“Oh...isn’t that the same thing? Woohoo!” Layla listened to her Explanation and the tears flowed more fiercely.

Avery said softly, “Layla, don’t cry yet. Listen to your mother. No matter what your mother and father are, we will always love you as well as your brothers and sisters. Your mother will always be with you.”

“I don’t like the two of you arguing. But you two always quarrel.” Layla’s eyes filled with tears of grievance, and roared.

Avery didn’t know how to answer, so she fell silent.

After about a minute or two, Layla looked at Mom’s face and suddenly softened: “I’m sorry Mom. I shouldn’t be talking to you so loudly.”

“Mom, you have to stay with me, Robert and my brother, Hayden.” Layla hugged her mother and choked out the request.

In the evening, after coaxing the child to sleep, Avery dragged her tired body out of the child’s room. She strode towards the master bedroom, and after entering the room, she closed the door.

It can't go on like this. Even if Shea and Adrian were not considered, Elliot's leaving like this would have a great impact on the children.

She found Chad's phone and dialed it.

"Chad, where is Elliot now? I want to see him." Avery said calmly.

Chad said helplessly, "Avery, I'm sorry. I went to look for him today, but I couldn't find him. I also asked Brother Ben, and Brother Ben didn't know where Elliot was."

Avery: "Elliot didn't contact you and didn't care about the company?"

Chad frowned, "No. He's never been like this before."

Avery called out again. "Did he plan to keep running away like this? I already know that I was wrong. Even if he wanted to break up, I could cooperate with him."

Chad said, "Don't talk about it. It's easier said than done when you two break up. Just wait patiently. I have a hunch it's going to come out next week."

Avery: "The result?"

Chad said firmly. "Yeah. He's not the kind of guy who likes to procrastinate.

No matter how serious the problem is between the two of you, he's not going to keep procrastinating. Yes."

"Hopefully." Avery only asked him to give him a good time.

The next day.

Cole was woken up by the phone ringing. He picked up the phone in a daze and saw the unfamiliar number, so he hung up immediately and put down the phone. As a result, a few seconds after hanging up, his phone rang again.

He frowned and answered the phone angrily.

"Hello Mr. Cole, I'm Jeremiah Gordon. I was in charge of your grandmother's inheritance before." The Lawyer Gordon said.

Cole jumped and sat up.

"I remembered you. You and my uncle... have a good relationship with Elliot."

Lawyer Gordon said, "I'm calling you today because it was indeed entrusted by Mr. Elliot. You see when it's convenient, let's meet and talk."

Cole was excited and nervous, "I'm free now. Lawyer Gordon, can you tell me, what is the reason for Elliot to ask you to come to me?"

Lawyer Gordon hesitated for a moment, said bluntly: "Elliot asked me to talk to you about the transfer of his shares."

Cole's legs softened with excitement. He didn't expect Avery to be so powerful.

How could Elliot lower his noble head so easily!

Chapter 1182

Foster family.

Layla cried last night, and today her eyes were red and swollen, and she didn't look very good. So Avery planned to take the two children out to play.

"Layla, didn't you say you wanted to go to the amusement park? Should we go to the amusement park?" Avery wanted to make her daughter happy.

Layla shook her head said, "I don't want to go to the amusement park. My brother doesn't need to go either. He is so young and can't play anything."

"Where do you want to go?" Avery took a sweat towel and put it on her back.

Layla lay on the sofa and said angrily: "I don't want to go anywhere. It's not fun anywhere."

"Then let's go outside. Or if you want to buy something, mom will take you to supermarket." Avery squatted on her daughter. Beside her, she coaxed,

"Didn't you say you wanted new stickers last time?"

"I already have them. My classmates gave them."

“Then let’s go buy some small gifts, and then you can take them to your classmates.”

Layla said shyly, “No need for mom. If you want to go out, I can go out with you. If you don’t want to go out, then we can stay at home.”

Avery gently stroked her daughter’s head with her palm: “Do you miss your father?”

“Hmph, I don’t miss him. I miss my brother.” Layla was duplicitous. She will not admit that she really misses her father.

Over the past few weekends, her father has played with her. Now that her father has suddenly withdrawn from her life, she feels that she is not used to it, and at the same time, thinking that she may not be accompanied by her father in the future, she can’t help crying. But she also knew that if she cried, her mother would be sad, so she could only endure it.

Avery obediently said, “Layla, since you don’t want to go out, then we won’t go out. The weather is fine today, we can play in the yard.”

“What are you playing?” Layla asked.

“Why don’t Mom buy some saplings, let’s plant trees.”

“Mom, let’s buy some flowers and put them in a vase, okay?” Layla suddenly became interested.

“Okay. Let’s go buy it together.” Avery immediately relaxed when she saw that her daughter was interested in something.

Layla nodded quickly: “Then don’t bring my brother? Anyway, we’ll be back soon.”

“Alright.” Avery said, and went to get the bag.

After a while, the bodyguard drove the mother and daughter out. After they went out, after a while, Elliot came back.

Mrs. Cooper was stunned when she saw him coming back. It seemed that he came back specially after Avery went out.

Mrs. Cooper said, "Sir, can you stay at home a little longer today? Layla cried hard yesterday because you didn't come back. She is not in a good mood today. Avery persuaded her all morning, I just took her out."

Elliot was silent for a moment, then asked, "Where is Robert?"

Mrs. Cooper said, "Robert was sleeping in the room. Yesterday he slept in the living room for a while, and was bitten by a mosquito and A little red spot appeared on his forehead."

Elliot immediately walked towards the room and Robert has woken up this time.

The little guy opened his eyes, grabbed the quilt in his hand and stuffed it into his mouth.

Seeing Dad come in, Robert paused when he bit the quilt. Elliot walked to the bed and saw the mosquito bites on his son's forehead, and felt very distressed.

Chapter 1183

Elliot picked up Robert from the bed and touched his forehead with his fingers: "Dad has only been away from home for two days, why did Robert get bitten like this by mosquitoes?"

After a pause, he looked at Mrs. Cooper, "Prepare a mosquito net for the child."

"Mosquito repellent. I bought a mosquito net yesterday and plan to install it later." Mrs. Cooper replied.

Robert's little hands grabbed the buttons of Elliot's shirt, using the buttons as a toy and having a great time.

“Sir, when you didn’t go home the night before yesterday, Layla became suspicious. Don’t look at Layla being young, but she understands everything at her age.” Mrs. Cooper advised, “You must consider your child’s feelings.

Otherwise, in the future It is difficult to win back the heart of the child.”

On the other side.Cole met Lawyer Gordon.

After the two met, Cole looked around cautiously.Lawyer Gordon met at a high-end coffee shop.

At this point in the morning, there were no customers in the coffee shop.

“Lawyer Gordon, is Elliot particularly angry? Look at me and tell the truth, I won’t be in danger, right?” Cole asked in a low voice.

Lawyer Gordon pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose and said embarrassedly, “Mr. Foster, I don’t know how to answer your question.

Because Elliot only entrusted me to promote the transfer of shares with you, I don’t know anything else.”

Cole heaved a sigh of relief: “That’s good. I’m afraid this is a trap. After all, it went too smoothly, a bit beyond my imagination.”

The waiter came over with two cups of coffee and brought it to them.

Lawyer Gordon picked up the coffee cup and took a sip.

Cole was not in the mood to drink coffee, he said, “Lawyer Gordon, about the transfer of shares, what do I need to prepare here? Can you help me make a list? After all, it is not to me, if it is to me, It won’t be so troublesome. After all, Adrian doesn’t even have a bank account.”

When Lawyer Gordon heard the words, he was stunned: “Adrian?”

Cole said slightly, “Yeah! Adrian is my uncle. You should have read the previous news, right? Avery hates me and my dad, otherwise he wouldn’t ask for it. I can only transfer the shares to Adrian. Of course, the same is true for my uncle. After all, my uncle and I are in the same family.”

Lawyer Gordon was stunned.

Elliot didn't tell him this. It only said that the shares would be transferred to Cole, but not to Adrian.

As a result, Cole said that he was going to transfer the shares to Adrian...

Lawyer Gordon was a little dizzy, so he got up immediately.

"Mr. Foster, I'm going to the bathroom. Wait a moment."

Cole said 'oh' and watched Lawyer Gordon walk in the direction of the bathroom.

After Lawyer Gordon came to the bathroom, he immediately took out his mobile phone and dialed Elliot.

"Elliot, Cole said that what he talked to Avery was to transfer your shares to Adrian, not to him. What the hell is going on? Would you like to confirm with Avery now?"

Elliot's expression suddenly froze.

Avery asked to transfer his shares to Adrian?

His shares are his, she really thought she could transfer it to whoever she wanted?

Does she like Adrian that much? Or does she think that he has occupied Adrian's life, and now there is just this opportunity to return what he owes Adrian?

His heart was so painful that it was hard to breathe. He looked at Robert who was playing with toys on the bed, his eyes became moist.

Just five minutes ago, he had already persuaded himself in his heart that although Avery had hurt his heart this time and suffered great grievances, Avery had given him three children and suffered a lot, and they were equal to each other. .

But now, he quickly overturned this idea that had just been established.

He can't forgive Avery. Even if their child is so obedient, it doesn't mean that he can live a good life with Avery.

Avery can exploit his interests and hurt his feelings for other men. Once, there will be a second time.

Chapter 1184

After more than an hour, Avery and Layla returned home. They bought a lot of saplings and flowers at the market.

The bodyguard opened the trunk and moved everything out of the car. Mrs. Cooper came out with Robert in her arms and glanced at it: "You bought so many flowers. It's so beautiful."

"I chose these flowers. The saplings were chosen by my mother." Layla seemed to have forgotten the unhappiness in her heart, with a bright smile in her eyes she said, "Mom also bought fruit tree seedlings."

"What fruit tree seedlings did you buy?" Mrs. Cooper asked.

"I bought a grapefruit tree, a jujube tree, and... Mom, what other trees are there?" Layla looked up at her mother.

"There are also peach and pear trees." Avery added.

"Yes! Peach and pear trees. I like to eat peaches, So mom bought peach trees." Layla excitedly picked up the bag of flowers on the ground, "I'm going to put them in a vase."

"Layla, I put a lot of clean vases on the table, and you can see them when you enter the house. When you take the flowers, pay attention to the thorns! Don't poke your hands." Mrs. Cooper said to Layla.

"I know. I'll be careful." Layla entered the villa with flowers.

Avery was about to move the saplings to various open spaces in the yard. At this time, Mrs. Cooper said, "Avery, after you took Layla out, Elliot came back.”

“Elliot is back?” Avery caught the question. The point is, “He’s left again?”

Mrs. Cooper said helplessly, “Yes. I persuaded him, but it didn’t work. But today he hugged Robert. And he was very distressed that Robert was bitten by a mosquito. He still loves the child.”

Avery said disappointedly, “Of course he loves the child. No matter how much hatred I have with him, the child does not offend him. Does he plan to do this every day and come back quietly when I go out? What if I don’t go out every day? Will he never come back for the rest of his life?”

Mrs. Cooper: “Today, he came back and hugged Robert. It is estimated that he came to see the child.”

“He made me seem like a dove occupying a magpie’s nest. If I wasn’t here, he wouldn’t have to hide outside.”

Avery was very distressed, “When I plant these saplings, I will take the children back to my own house.”

Even if she concealed that she was wrong and was willing to apologize to him and admit her mistake.

Elliot escaped completely like this, not giving her a chance to speak, which made her feel cold.

“Avery, don’t do this. You wait...” Mrs. Cooper hurriedly persuaded her, “Give your husband some time. When he figures it out, he will definitely talk to you.”

“So does Chad. That’s what he said. He said that Elliot should give me the results next week.”

“Yes, you can wait until next week. Don’t move for now.” Mrs. Cooper glanced at the saplings on the ground and said, “I’ll get you tools and Layla will help to plant the trees.”

Sterling Group.

Lawyer Gordon sat in Ben Schaffer's office and told Ben Schaffer about the matter, and Ben Schaffer's face became extremely gloomy.

"Are you kidding me?" Ben Schaffer frowned.

Lawyer Gordon calmly said: "I'm actually quite busy. If it wasn't for Elliot to come to me, I wouldn't have to come here specially to tell you this."

"Haha! It's impossible! Elliot can't give up what he holds All the shares!" Ben Schaffer angrily rebuked, "Even if Henry asked him for shares half a month ago, he only asked for one-third of the shares!"

"I can explain to you about this." Lawyer Gordon was in no hurry and eloquently said, "Originally, Elliot asked me to transfer one-third of the shares he held to Cole, but Cole accidentally mentioned that he had negotiated with Avery to transfer the shares to Adrian."

Ben Schaffer was shocked when he heard this.

Chapter 1185

"You mean that Elliot transferred his shares because of Avery?"

"I don't dare to guess at random, I just tell you what I know." Lawyer Gordon said rigorously, "Elliot listen After saying that the shares were to be transferred to Adrian. He changed his mind. From transferring one third of the shares to transferring all of them."

Ben Schaffer clenched his teeth and also clenched his fists: "D*mn it. What the h-e-l-l is this Avery doing? What! What is she trying to do!"

Lawyer Gordon advised: "Mr. Schaffer, calm down."

Ben Schaffer said irritably, "Fck you, calm down! I can't calm down! If Elliot quits the company, then this company will no longer be Sterling Group. He founded the company with all his passion and hard work. Why did Avery let him transfer the shares to Adrian? Avery's brain was flooded, and Elliot also suffered. Fck!"

Lawyer Gordon continued to persuade: "Elliot has made up his mind, and you can't change the situation if you are angry."

"What about others? I want to see him." Ben Schaffer got up from the sofa.

"I don't know where Elliot is now. We contacted by phone." Lawyer Gordon said.

Ben Schaffer immediately took out his mobile phone and dialed Elliot, but prompted him to turn off the mobile phone.

"You call him. Get through to me. I have to confirm that it was his intention before I can cooperate with your work." The blue veins on Ben Schaffer's forehead angered.

Lawyer Gordon had no choice but to call Elliot.

After the call was made, Lawyer Gordon was about to speak, but Ben Schaffer snatched his cell phone.

"Elliot! Where the h-e-l-l are you hiding?! Are you hiding to give the company to the people you hate. Do you know what you are doing?! Avery is nothing, you listen to her, you are Stupid. Hopelessly stupid. When I scold you for being in love, I didn't mean to see you ruin your career for her now."

Ben Schaffer was chattering and angrily, but the other side of the phone was silent.

"Elliot! What are you pretending to be dumb? Talk to me." Ben Schaffer scolded a little tired.

"You know me. I've made a decision, no matter what you say, it's useless."

Elliot's voice came cold.

Ben Schaffer made a sarcastic sound that seemed to laugh and cry: "What do you mean is that Avery is more important than everything. She told you to die, do you want to die immediately?"

Lawyer Gordon couldn't listen any longer and reminded: "Mr. Schaffer, please pay attention to your words."

"Get out of here." Ben Schaffer was in a fit of rage and his temper was particularly grumpy.

On the other side of the phone, Elliot changed his calm attitude and said word by word, "Don't worry about my business. What kind of woman I find and how to deal with my property are all my business."

"Okay! Your business, I don't care." Ben Schaffer hung up the phone in a fit of anger.

Lawyer Gordon stretched out his hand in front of him and asked for a cell phone.

Ben Schaffer realized that he was holding his mobile phone and immediately returned it.

"I'm sorry, Lawyer Gordon, I didn't do it on purpose just now."

"It's fine. I'm afraid that you talk too much and cause irreversible results. His mood is not very good, and those words you said will aggravate his Emotions." Lawyer Gordon explained.

"You're right. But I can't stand it. I'm really in pain. I don't want to watch Avery destroy him but I can't help it."

Foster's house, the front yard.

Avery and her daughter were planting trees. Mrs. Cooper came over with her cell phone, "Avery, your cell phone is ringing."

Chapter 1186

Avery took off his work gloves and took over the phone.

It was Tammy who called.

Avery answered the phone, and Tammy's voice suddenly came in a hurry: "Avery, Ben Schaffer is too much. He just scolded you. He scolded you publicly in their small group, although he withdrew after scolding, But my husband saw it. My husband thought Ben Schaffer was too much, so he told me."

Avery was stunned: "He scolded me?"

"But Jun said that the scolding was very harsh. Even if you quarrel with Elliot, it is your business. Who is Ben Schaffer? Why does he scold you." Tammy was indignant as if she had been scolded, " My husband and Chad talked about him in the group, so he withdrew those swear words."

Tammy continued, "But that doesn't mean it didn't happen. Avery, you must ignore him in the future. He is probably in menopause, so he is very irritable."

Avery's mood was relatively calm, and guessed: "Maybe he has contacted Elliot."

"Even if he contacts Elliot, he has no right to scold you. Elliot is this Shrinking turtle, what is his dissatisfaction, won't he stand up and say it himself? Let Ben Schaffer swear in the group, he has no quality." Tammy scolded them together, "I used to think that he was different from other men, Now it seems that men are all the same."

Avery: "It's still good to be accurate."

Tammy suddenly put out the fire: "It's OK to be accurate. But we are talking about Elliot now. I hit him just now. I still can't get through the phone. Didn't he come home?"

"He came back when I took Layla out to buy flowers at noon today."

"Oh, shrewd turtle, I see when he plans to see you. "Maybe next week." Avery was sure that Elliot would find her next week.

Not long after the phone call with Tammy, Mike's car drove up.

This weekend, so Mike came over to see Avery and the child.

When Layla saw Mike, she dropped the shovel and ran towards him.

"Layla, you are planting a tree with your mother!" Mike handed Layla the gift he bought, and then strode towards Avery.

"Why are you here?" Avery glanced at him and asked.

"Look at what you said, didn't you agree to get together once a week? Now you think I'm an eyesore?" Michael took her by the arm and led her into the villa, "The sun is so hot outside, aren't you afraid of getting tanned? Studies have shown that skin aging is mainly caused by ultraviolet rays."

"Aging is inevitable." Avery patted the ashes on her body before entering the villa, "Are you going to stay for dinner tonight?"

"Of course. It's already two o'clock in the afternoon. Don't you want to take a nap today?"

"I didn't plan to go to bed, since you're here... Then I'd better go to sleep."

Avery said with a face Tired, "I really want to have a good night's sleep."

She has insomnia every night these days, and wakes up very early in the morning, resulting in a lack of energy during the day.

Mike: "I'll take you back to your room."

"What's the matter? Do you have something to tell me?" Avery glanced at the two children.

The two of them were unpacking the gift that Mike had brought.

Chapter 1187

"It's not a big deal. I want to talk with you casually." Mike whispered.

"Then go outside and talk." Avery took him to the yard, "Speak! What's the matter?"

“What else can you do... Don't you know?” Mike put his hands on his hips and said, “I know you have special feelings for Adrian, but you can't put Adrian in front of Elliot.”

“I didn't put Adrian in front of Elliot.” Avery said.

Mike sighed heavily, “But everyone thinks so now. Avery, if Elliot doesn't want to take money to save Adrian, you can't force it.”

Avery frowned, “I haven't talked to him about this yet. If I talk to him about this, and he clearly refuses to help, can I force him?”

“Oh? You haven't talked to him yet?” Mike was a little surprised.

“No. I feel that someone has revealed the wind to him.” Avery stared at his face, “Mike...”

Mike quickly changed the subject, “The crux of the question now is, how are you going to solve this problem? I'm here to persuade you. You quickly explain to Elliot, and you say you don't care about Adrian.”

Avery: “Do you think if I tell him this, he will be able to calm down and go home?”

“That's right. He's running away from home now, and there's no news. Isn't he just pranking with you?” Mike said in a tone that he thought he knew a man well, “Apologize to him, admit your mistake, and promise that he will get back to him right away.”

Avery began to think about the feasibility of Mike's method.

After hesitating for a while, she said: “I can't say that I don't care about Adrian. But I can ask him for a cent without taking Adrian's affairs.”

“Why are you so stubborn?” Mike was helpless.

“That's who I am. I don't ask him for money, I go to someone else to borrow money. Anyway, Henry and his son want money. They think I don't have enough money, so I can borrow it..." Avery sighed with relief for the method he came up with, "What do you think of my method?"

"Not so good." Mike's brows became more and more frowning, "Avery, don't you plan to use it for Adrian's sake? Do you put all your own net worth?"

"You think I have a lot of net worth, but they don't think it's enough." Avery smiled wryly.

"I think you're crazy. You want to give all of your net worth to the Henry and Cole, but you didn't tell me in advance."

"They wouldn't want it. So I didn't tell you." Avery saw Mike's disappointment, she explained with sadness and heartache, "Mike, what I want to save is not just Adrian."

"Oh? Make it clear, you'd better make it clear to me. Otherwise, I have to learn from Elliot and run away from home." Mike With red eyes, he said aggrieved, "I worked hard overtime to upgrade products, and make money for you, not to make you cheap."

Hot tears fell from the corners of Avery's eyes: "Mike, I'm sorry. I didn't play cheap. You, how good you are to me and how much you have paid to the company, I know. I am not only for Adrian... but also for Shea..."

Mike heard 'Shea' Two words, suddenly took a breath.

Avery lowered her head and said, "She's not dead. I met Wesley on my honeymoon last time. Shea's situation is very bad now. This time Adrian's kidney needed to her because She had a kidney transplant, otherwise she would die."

"I see!" Mike sighed lightly, "Then why don't you tell Elliot? If you tell him, he will definitely not be angry with you!"

"If I tell him, he will definitely lose his mind. At the last wedding, he and Henry and his son had a quarrel like that. I don't want to have such an out of control situation again. Moreover, Shea's situation is very critical now. The kidney transplant is only the first step. Recovery is still unknown. Last time he learned of Shea's death, his depression relapsed, and he wanted to die with Shea at one point. How can I bear to let him suffer like this again?"

Chapter 1188

Mike was instantly discouraged after hearing her words.

What Avery said was true.

Elliot has a manic temper. If he knew that Shea was still alive, he would definitely lose his mind. Even if he was tied, he would tie Adrian to the operating table and give Shea a kidney transplant.

And if the operation fails and he sees Shea's death with his own eyes, how will he face this blow?

Mike said after calming down, "Now there is only one way to solve the problems that Shea's surgery will be successful and you will bring Shea to him."

Avery nodded: "I know. I always thought Rescue Shea and bring her back. If Elliot sees her, he will definitely be very happy."

Mike cursed, "But he has misunderstood you now. Now not only does he hate you, but the people around him also hate you too including Ben Schaffer, Chad..."

"Tammy told me." Avery didn't care about others opinions, although She was a little heartbroken, "Wesley was afraid that I would be embarrassed, so let me don't care about Shea. But I can't do it. Shea became like this because of Robert. If I don't care, I will have a restless conscience for the rest of my life." Mike knew her too well, "I don't know if I can ignore it but you have to plan for the worst. If Shea still dies in the end, then you and Elliot will be completely cold. Don't think that the two of you have experienced so many ups and downs. You can end happily every time."

Avery said sadly: "I have come this far, and I have no turning back to go."

"Don't be afraid, I still say that, I will always support you in any decision. Save Shea is going to sell the company, and I won't say a word."

"I don't know when Elliot will come to me. My agreement with Henry is next Friday... wait until next Friday first." Avery sweated, "Come in. I'll take a bath."

After Avery went upstairs, Mike walked to the two children.

Layla had been staring at them while they were chatting outside the door just now.

"Uncle Mike, my mom and my dad got into a fight and we're moving back in again. If they do, will you move back in with us?" Layla asked.

Mike patted her head and said, "If you want to your uncle move back, I'll move back. Layla, your parents' business is the adult's business. It's good for children to go to school and grow up."

"Simply put. If only I were as young as my brother."

"When your brother grows up, he will also witness when your mother is unhappy. Life is like this, it is impossible to be happy all the time, and it is impossible to be miserable all the time. Not only your mother, but also same with other people." Mike explained to her sharply.

"But I see you are very happy every day." Layla said.

"When your Uncle Mike was sad, he always hid under the quilt and cried."

Mike teased.

"Hahaha! Show me the next time you cry." Layla smiled.

"You, little naughty!"

“Uncle Mike, my mother said that when I have summer vacation, I will take Robert to see my brother and you have to come with us!” Layla begged, “I miss you so much when we used to be together in life.”

“Layla, I’ll be with you all the time. When you’re on summer vacation, I’ll go with you.”

On Monday, after Layla went out to school in the morning, Avery drove to the company. She had a very strong feeling in her heart.

—Maybe Elliot will come to her soon.

After arriving at the company, she attended the regular meeting on Monday.

The heads of various departments reported to her the work of the last week.

She didn’t express any opinion, only before the end of the regular meeting, she said: “Although Mike is the director of the technical department, he is the real boss of the company. I have a lot of personal affairs, and I come to the company very less.

If you have any urgent matters, you can’t contact me and you can contact Mike directly about the matter now.”

After the meeting, Mike followed Avery into her office.

Chapter 1189

Mike asked dissatisfiedly, “Why did you say that? It’s like you’re leaving us.

Hey, don’t you have any plans?”

Avery explained, “No. I just feel ashamed. You didn’t like to work hard at first, but I dragged you to become a great businessman.”

“As you say, I should thank you. Don’t be sentimental. If the company is really sold, we also have the ability to start from scratch. Think about the best in everything, let’s pray that Shea can live well.”

“Have you told Chad about this?” Avery sat down in the office chair and asked?

Mike said, “I didn’t say it. I have nothing to say. If Shea can have a smooth operation, and the operation is successful, then bring Shea back and blind them.”

“Avery: What do you want for lunch? I’m inviting you.”

“Avery, You’ve just finished breakfast, and you’re thinking about lunch. Seeing how enthusiastic you are. I’ll think about what to have for lunch. I’ll tell you after I’ve thought about it.” Mike finished and walked out.

About an hour later, Mike sent a string of dish names.

Avery read the name of the dish, found the phone number of a high-end restaurant near the company, and called to reserve a place.

After booking the place, Avery sent Mike the restaurant name.

When Avery was about to get off work at noon, Mike called: “Avery, you go to the restaurant first, I have a little while to get off work.”

Avery: “Okay, I’ll wait for you at the restaurant. Come over when you’re done.”

Mike: “Well, if you’re hungry. Eat first.”

“I’m not hungry. You should be busy first.” Avery hung up the phone, and when she was about to leave work, she saw a new message from Cole. She opened the message, and a picture jumped into her eyes.

Cole sent a photo of Adrian.

In the photo, Adrian looked at the camera and smiled very shyly.

Avery didn’t understand why Cole sent this photo to herself, so she dialed the phone.

Cole answered the phone in seconds, and laughter came: “Avery, I have known you for so many years, and it was only in the past two days that I really knew you.”

A series of big question marks appeared in Avery’s mind. What does Cole want to do when he says these words?

“Cole if you have something to say, just say it directly, don’t beat around the bush. I mean I admire you very much. I never imagined that you could make Elliot listen to you like this.” Cole said, “I used to think that he was interested in your face and your ability to have children, but I didn’t expect that I was superficial. Elliot was fascinated by you!”

Avery had an ominous premonition. “Why did you mention him?”

“Haha, then don’t mention him, anyway, I don’t have to be afraid of him anymore. When are you coming to pick Adrian up? I’m going to take him to dinner now.” Cole said this, and couldn’t help laughing.

Avery: “!!!”

In her mind, there was a cloud of suspicion.

Cole asked her to pick up Adrian? Why did Cole suddenly give Adrian to her?

Could it be... Could it be that Cole already got what he wanted?

Avery’s face was dark blue, her lips and teeth were trembling, but she couldn’t make a sound when the words came to Cole’s mouth.

Chapter 1190

Cole said, “I’ll send you a location, you can come directly. The rest, we’ll talk about it when we meet.”

Cole hung up the phone after he finished speaking. Avery’s body froze, and her heart couldn’t stop shaking.

Elliot has disappeared in the past few days. Could it be that he did this?

After this thought came up, Avery quickly got the answer in her mind. If Elliot doesn’t nod, who can take his shares?

Tears quickly blurred vision. No wonder the people around Elliot hated him so much. Because they knew about it in advance.

Elliot transferred the shares, how could they not yell at them?

Avery feels that she is now an unpardonable sinner.

They must have thought that Avery forced Elliot to do this. Although Avery hadn't had time to speak to Elliot but she really wanted to talk to him about it. Process aside, the result is the same.

Whether he knew it in advance or waited a few days for her to tell him, Elliot would definitely be angry. Because she touched his interests, and not a little bit. More because he thought she was forcing him so much for another man. After a while, Avery's phone screen lit up, and Cole sent the location.

Avery raised her hand to wipe away the tears on her face, quickly adjusted the expression on her face, and strode out of the office with her bag in hand. Half an hour later, Avery drove to the restaurant where Cole and Adrian were. When Adrian saw Avery, he immediately showed a docile smile. His eyes were as clear and clean as ever, spotless.

Avery took Adrian's arm and wanted to take him away immediately.

"Avery, are you in such a hurry to leave? When will my aunt's surgery be done? How long will the surgery take? I must ask these questions clearly, after all, my aunt's illness is a trivial matter now, and Adrian can't make any mistakes." Cole grabbed Adrian's other arm and said.

Avery looked at Cole coldly: "You despicable villain."

"What are you scolding people for? Isn't it normal between us? Is it a fair deal? Why don't you have any spirit of contract But with a smile, "your husband has nothing now. In the future, he will take care of the children at home. Will you make money to support the family?"

Avery was stunned: "Didn't Elliot only transfer one-third of the shares? He still has...."

Cole looked at the fool Looking at her with eyes and asked, “Hahaha! D*mn it. You’re so stupid, you’re making me die. Did the two of you quarrel? And it’s the kind of fierce quarrel? Elliot transferred all his shares to Adrian. Now, Elliot has nothing. His name will finally disappear from the rich list. And in the future, my name will appear on the rich list. Haha!”

Avery seemed to have been splashed with a basin of cold water, freezing to the bone. It broke her hearts.

What was Elliot doing? Why did he give away all the shares? ! He did this to get revenge on her.

“Avery, you will take my uncle for today and also I’ll give you half a month. If you haven’t handed my uncle back in half a month, I will go to you.” Cole saw Avery’s eyes filled with tears. Filled with tears, he let go of Adrian’s arm contentedly.

Shame and pain filled Avery’s sanity.

Chapter 1191

Avery took Adrian and strode out of the restaurant. At this moment, her cell phone rang. She sent Adrian to the car and sat down and took out her mobile phone.

The call was from Mike. He has now arrived at the restaurant she ordered, but he has not seen her.

“Mike, I’m outside now with Adrian. I’ve already ordered the dishes in advance. You can ask others to eat together.” Avery suppressed her grief and pretended to speak calmly.

“Are you with Adrian?”

His rhetorical question broke her mood instantly: “Elliot transferred all the shares to Adrian. All transferred. Mike, Elliot hates me. So he stings me in this way.”

Mike's chest heaved up and down quickly, and his mind instantly turned into white light.

No wonder Ben Schaffer and Chad hate Avery so much. It turns out that Elliot made such an incredible decision.

For Elliot, this is tantamount to another suicide.

Knowing that Elliot would be like this, Mike would never tell him about the relationship between Avery and Henry.

He was very annoyed and wanted to confess to Avery, but was afraid.

“Avery, I'm sorry. I found him a few days ago.” Mike had a headache.

“...I guessed it.” Avery was not surprised, but it has absolutely nothing to do with outsiders at this point. “Even if you don't go to him, I will encounter this problem with him. My relationship with him which seems to be indestructible and is actually very fragile after quarreling again and again.”

Mike gasped sharply. “Then what should I do? Now that he has handed over all the shares. It means that Sterling Group has nothing to do with him. What will Elliot do in the future?”

Avery said, “I don't know. Mike, I'm so sick right now. I don't know what to do with Elliot in the future... Maybe he'll never show up to me again. I thought Elliot'd come to me this week, But now it seems that he will probably not come to me.”

“Don't cry. You take Adrian to Shea to operate as soon as possible. You and Elliot are already like this, now I can only pray for Shea's operation to go well.” Mike tried his best to restrain his emotions.

“But I want to See Elliot first.” Avery burst into tears.

Mike sighed, “No one knows where Elliot is now. Chad and Ben Schaffer doesn't know either... If he doesn't come to you, you won't find him at all. You're not talking about Shea's situation. Is it very dangerous? Go and save Shea first. If Shea is rescued, he will naturally understand that you are not the kind of person he imagined."

Mike's words made her regain some sense.

"Don't worry, I will help you watch the two children." Mike added.

"Yeah." Avery said and hung up the phone.

A tissue appeared in front of her. She looked along the tissue and saw Adrian's nervous face.

Adrian frowned and blamed himself, "Actually, I can probably understand what you said. My brother and Cole treat me like a fool, thinking I don't understand anything. They are not good people."

"Well, they are using you." Avery took the tissue and wiped away the tears on her face, "Adrian, you have a sister. Your sister is a very kind person like you. We need to take a kidney from your body and transplant it into her body to see if it can save her life. Are you willing to save her?"

"I will. I will do whatever you ask me to do." After a pause, Adrian continued, "I don't want to live with my eldest brother in the future. Can you help me?"

Avery felt unspeakable bitterness. Of course she wanted to help him, but how could Henry and Cole let go?

Chapter 1192

Moreover, the most critical thing right now is Shea's surgery.

"Adrian, let's go to Bridgedale to see your sister first." Avery got into the driver's seat and drove the car towards the airport.

On the way to the airport, she called Mrs. Cooper.

"Mrs. Cooper, I'm in a bit of a hurry. I'm going to Bridgedale now. The return date is uncertain.”

Mrs. Cooper: “Oh, what do you mean by uncertainty? Didn’t you promise Layla to take her to Bridgedale during the summer vacation?”

“It doesn’t matter. Mike will bring her to Bridgedale at that time.” Avery said.

“Oh...what’s the urgency for you? Layla will definitely ask when she came back from school.”

“There is an operation.” Avery froze for a moment, then said concisely.

“Okay, I get it. Go at ease. You don’t have to worry about the family affairs.”

Mrs. Cooper put down her phone and looked at Elliot sitting on the sofa with a heavy face.

“Sir, Avery.... “

Elliot interrupted Mrs. Cooper, “You don’t need to tell me about her. Wherever she goes is her freedom.”

Mrs. Cooper said sadly: “If she knows about you At home, she will definitely come back to see.”

“I don’t need her to see me.” Elliot got up from the sofa and strode upstairs.

Mrs. Cooper looked at his arrogant and cold back and sighed.

Mrs. Scarlet came over and asked, “Why does Avery want to go abroad? It’s not easy for Mr.Foster to come back, but Avery has to leave again. Shouldn’t the two of them have an appointment?”

Mrs. Cooper said, “Probably not. Avery said there was an operation abroad.”

Mrs. Scarlet, “Oh, when will she be back?”

“Avery said that the return date is uncertain.” Mrs. Cooper said here, suspiciously, “Could it be that the two of them really made an appointment not to meet? No matter what kind of surgery, there is always a time. How could she say that the return date is uncertain?”

“I have suffered for three children.”

“Hayden is okay. He is more self-reliant and has never accepted Elliot. So even if Avery breaks up with her husband, it will not affect Hayden.”

“Hey! I heard that something happened to Elliot’s company. I heard that Mr. Foster transferred the company to someone else.” Mrs. Scarlet asked.

Mrs. Cooper’s face changed greatly: “Why is this?”

Mrs. Scarlet said, “I don’t know. The two of them quarreled this time, probably because of this. Sterling Group is a big company, any changes in the top management will be announced, and I have seen the news recently.”

Bridgedale.

Avery took Adrian out of the airport and saw Wesley who was coming to pick him up.

When Wesley saw Adrian, he immediately said hello to him: “Hello Adrian, I’m Wesley and Avery’s good friend.”

Adrian shyly said, “Hello Wesley. Is my sister there with you?”

Wesley: “She’s in the hospital. You go to rest first and get rid of the jet lag. I’ll take you to see her when the rest is over.”

Adrian: “I want to see her now. Avery said she is the kindest person in the world. I hope she gets better.”

Wesley glanced at Avery and quickly compromised.

After the three got into the car, the car drove towards the hospital.

“Avery, what was Adrian’s state before the surgery?” Wesley asked curiously.

Avery recalled, “It’s a bit like Shea before, but he’s not as afraid of people as Shea. He has a very gentle personality, whether before or after the operation.”

“Well, if Shea didn’t have the experience as a child, she should be with Adrian.”

“Yeah! Is she still awake now?”

“She has very little time to be awake. And when she is awake, she is usually tortured by illness and is very painful.” When Wesley said this, he couldn’t bear it, so he changed the subject, “How could Henry be willing to hand over Adrian for you?”

Chapter 1193

This topic deeply hurt Avery.

“Elliot transferred all the shares to Adrian.”

Wesley was stunned for a moment and stated, “It’s good to transfer it to Adrian, then it’s fine to let Adrian transfer it back to Elliot.”

Avery said, “Henry and Cole will not Agreeed. Adrian is in their household registration now.”

Wesley said objectively, “Avery, if you treat Adrian as a normal person, you won’t have such a headache. I see Adrian. There is no need for the father and son to be guardians at all. He can completely decide his own affairs. Just like Shea decided to donate blood to Robert at the beginning.”

Wesley’s words gave Avery great encouragement.

Adrian tried to digest what they said, “Avery, although I don’t know what I got, I can give it back to you. As long as you say it, I will listen to you.. I will only listen to you in the future.”

Adrian was transferred from Nathan to Henry. After experiencing them, he found that Avery was the best for him.

“Adrian, thank you. After the operation is successful, I will consider this matter carefully.” Avery was deeply moved.

After arriving at the hospital, they entered Shea’s ward.

Avery who made psychological preparations all the way, but when she saw Shea, she still burst into tears.

Shea was so thin that only a handful of bones remained. If it weren't for the beating curve on the ECG next to her, she wouldn't think that this was a living person at all.

"Avery, don't cry. She has been suffering from illness for a long time. So when you told me that you couldn't find Adrian, and that you might quarrel with Elliot about it, I told you to stop it for this reason. She wants to die because I refuse to give up her life." Wesley's voice trembled slightly, "I'm waiting for a miracle. What if there is a miracle?"

Adrian stared at Shea on the hospital bed and asked softly, "She is my sister?"

"Yes, she is Shea, your twin sister." Wesley turned on his phone, found a photo of Shea before she got sick, and showed him, "Before she was ill, she was very cute, a bit like you."

Adrian took Wesley's phone and stared at the photo for a moment. An emotion that blood is thicker than water gradually spread to his whole body.

"Give her my kidney now." Adrian returned the phone to Wesley and said.

"Are you sure you won't take a break?"

Adrian shook his head.

Wesley's voice was hoarse: "Okay, I'll take you to go through the hospitalization procedures."

Aryadelle.

At 7 a.m., a breaking news dominated the headlines of major news apps.

—Elliot resigned as CEO of Sterling Group and will no longer participate in any affairs of Sterling Group in the future.

Clicked on the news title, the text was almost the same as the title, and there was no extra content to add.

Generally the fewer words in news, the bigger the matter.

After seeing the news, netizens began to speculate boldly.

[In my opinion, Elliot has committed a serious matter, and he has been investigated by the above]

[What a serious thing it has to do to suddenly resign. The melon behind this must be very exciting. I don't know if I can follow him and find out all the interest chains behind him]

[I searched for Elliot on the Internet and found that he has not appeared in public recently. Has he been arrested?]

[He must have been arrested a long time ago. If things are not checked out, he will not suddenly resign. He is only in his thirties this year. If he doesn't break the law, he will be fine until he is seventy]

Foster family.

Elliot got up at 7 a.m. After watching his daughter go to school, he went to the dining room for breakfast. After drinking a cup of coffee, he turned on his phone.

Chapter 1194

There Are Countless information jumped out. He filtered all the useless information, opened the browser, and saw his picture on the front page news. Everything in the past came to an end in this moment. Everything about him and Avery also came to an end.

When Layla came back last night and saw him at home, her eyes were cold and timid.

Elliot really wanted to get close to his daughter, but when he saw her daughter's reaction, he couldn't say anything, and he didn't dare to approach blindly.

This morning too.

When Mrs. Cooper was combing her hair, she watched quietly beside him.

She combed her hair and immediately ran out of the door with her schoolbag on her back.

He didn't look at him the whole time, and didn't say a word to him. As if he was a beast of a flood.

Only Robert knew nothing. When picked up by him, he would still laugh at him and still call his father. However, he is no longer the radiant Elliot.

His company no longer belongs to him, and his identity, except for the name 'Elliot', has been returned to Adrian. He doesn't think he has much value to the child now.

The phone rang suddenly, pulling him back to reality from his thoughts. He looked at the caller ID on the screen, and after a few seconds, answered the call.

"Elliot, you have been destroyed by that woman now. Have you seen how those people on the Internet in your Aryadelle laughed at you? When you were beautiful, everyone respected you and feared you, so you saw The people who compliment you are those who compliment you, and the voices that compliment you are heard."

"Now you're not the CEO of Sterling Group, everyone looks at you like a drowning dog. Everyone doesn't care if you drown or not. Everyone just laughs at how funny you are when you fall into the water and how funny you look like choking..."

The voice over the phone kept coming.

Elliot's eyes were cold and his fists were clenched tightly.

"Elliot, even if everyone looks down on you, I won't give up on you. Come to my side, I have good wine here, and a more suitable platform for your development." The man was smoking a cigar and leaning on the boss chair and said, "The last time I saw you, I reminded you that Avery is not a good woman. I have seen more women than you have eaten in my life. If you take women seriously, women will ride on your head. If you want a woman to be obedient, you must break her wings first."

The man continued, "Where are you now? I'll send someone to pick you up. Regardless of whether you recognize me as a big brother or not, you come to me for a vacation first and relax."

Bridgedale.

Avery accompanied Adrian to the hospitalization procedures in the hospital, and then took care of him to wash in the ward.

Time flies, and soon it is night.

After Adrian lay down on the hospital bed and fell asleep, she glanced at the night outside the window. She decided to stay in the hospital to guard Adrian.

Before the kidney transplant, she could no longer take any risks.

After a while, Wesley pushed open the door of the ward and walked to her side.

"Avery, Shea woke up. I told her that you were here."

Avery rubbed her sore eyes and walked out with Wesley immediately.

Chapter 1195

Came to Shea's ward, she walked to the bedside and held Shea's hand.

"Shea, I know you are in pain now, but don't give up. Now that you have found a suitable kidney, you will be operated on soon. After the operation, you will be better."

Shea smiled in her eyes. Intentionally, she opened her mouth and said in a weak voice, "How did you find me?"

"Well, I found you a while ago. Your brother always believed that you were not dead, so you must be strong. After the operation, I will bring you with me. Go see him, okay?" Avery encouraged.

"If I'm okay, of course I'm going to see Elliot. I'm going to give him a surprise..." Thinking of this, Shea was excited, "I haven't been this happy for a long time."

"There will be more happiness in the future. Hayden and Layla have never forgotten you. Robert is also very healthy. Now he can call his parents and he has started to learn to walk."

"Avery, did you find the right kidney for me? Wesley searched for a long time, but couldn't find it. Seeing him for my illness, it's so hard, I don't want to live anymore..."

"Don't say such stupid things. You have suffered too much. The days in the future will be smooth and shine."

"Well... I really want to go home and miss my brother." Shea's eyes suddenly lost focus, and she muttered. Shea was in a bad mood, and after saying this, she fell asleep again shortly after.

Wesley covered her with the quilt and looked at Avery: "She didn't say these words before she saw you. She saw you, so she misses Elliot even more."

Avery couldn't wait any longer. She said, "Wesley, when can the surgery be arranged? She's so weak. I'm really worried that she won't be able to wake up at any time."

Wesley patted her on the shoulder and said, "The day after tomorrow. There will be a series of preoperative examinations tomorrow. I know you want to bring Shea to Elliot quickly and explain the misunderstanding, don't worry, I will explain it to you."

Avery's eyes suddenly became wet and moist: "I'm not afraid that he hates me, but I think that he may be more painful than me now. I want to see him and talk to him."

"Avery, don't think about it for now. Go back and rest. Shea and Adrian have me watching, you don't have to worry." Wesley continued to comfort her when he saw that she was in a bad state. Said, "Elliot will know the truth soon. He won't be in pain for long."

Avery nodded.

Wesley was right. In fact, compared to the pain Shea had endured, what was the pain of the two of them now?

When Avery returned home, she couldn't help turning on her mobile phone, found Elliot's number, and dialed it.

In the past few days, she has called him countless times, but every time she can't get through. Unexpectedly, this time she didn't hold any hope, but suddenly got through.

Her heart was beating violently suddenly. She prayed to God for Elliot to answer the phone.

Before she could finish her inner prayer, the phone was suddenly connected.

She was stunned. She seemed to hear his familiar breathing.

Before opening her mouth, her tears fell down one step at a time.

"Avery, this is our last call." On the other side of the phone, Elliot voice came calmly and indifferently, "Let's say goodbye!"

The last call?

"Elliot! Don't break up! Please, don't break up." Avery emotions were completely broken, and she couldn't care about any face or dignity, "I have already told Adrian that he will return all your shares to you. You Wait a few days for me, and I'll take him back to find you!"

After Elliot heard her words, he frowned: "Avery, are you addicted to manipulating others? Do you feel a sense of achievement when you see a man fascinated by you and at your mercy? What you take away, I won't ask for it again."

"It's not like this. Elliot, it's not like this." Avery burst into tears, as if someone grabbed her neck, preventing her from saying what she wanted to say.

The head hurts violently, and the heart hurts even more.

Chapter 1196

"I only believe what I see and what I hear." Elliot listened to her cry, and his heart was unmoved.

In the past, as long as Avery's eyes were red, Elliot would unconditionally compromise with her.

It is precisely because he has been soft-hearted and indulgent to her countless times that the current situation is caused.

Elliot has given up everything, and her plan will never succeed again.

"What did you see? What did you hear?" Avery screamed out of control, "The truth is, what you see and what you hear are one-sided. I won't break up.

Wait for me for a few days. I will definitely explain it to you."

If it was before, Elliot might listen to Avery and give her a few more days. But now, let alone a few days, even a few hours, he couldn't wait any longer.

"When you're done with your business, go back to Aryadelle as soon as possible. Don't forget that you still have two children in the country." After Elliot said this, he hung up the phone.

Avery was disheartened when she heard the disconnecting sound of 'dududu'!

It's like hitting an iron plate, it's cold and painful.

Elliot said goodbye to her and handed over the child to her. Not only did he not want the company, he also didn't want her and the child.

She stubbornly dialed his number again—— ——Sorry, the user you dialed has been turned off, please try again later.

The system automatically hung up the phone, and she stared at the screen in a daze.

So Elliot resolutely left her.

Like a gust of wind, a puff of smoke, fluttering, but firmly left her.

After Elliot turned off the phone, he glanced behind him. The past, let it go.

As if Elliot never had what he had lost. His life was just the restart button being pressed. In the future, he will no longer be held back by anyone.

In the evening.

Layla came home and looked around.

"Layla, are you looking for your father?" Mrs. Cooper saw through her thoughts at a glance, "After you went to school this morning, he went out."

Layla put down her schoolbag and lowered her eyes slightly: "Where Dad was going?"

"He didn't say where he was going. But you ignored him this morning. He was a little sad."

"He was arguing with my mother, and I ignored him." Layla said angrily, walking up to Robert. "Idiot brother, you are the only one who still calls him Dad."

Robert was stunned for a moment, then called out clearly: "Dad."

“Don’t call Dad.” Layla glared at him.

“Dad.” Robert couldn’t understand the threat.

Mrs. Cooper immediately advised, “Layla, don’t quarrel with your brother. My brother is still little and can’t understand your words. If your parents quarreled this time, it’s not your father’s fault? Do you want to blame your father too?”

Layla was stunned for a moment: “It’s not my father’s fault, is it my mother’s fault?”

Mrs. Cooper was afraid that Layla thought she was blaming her, so she spoke softly, “I don’t know exactly what happened between them, but your mother told me privately that she was wrong this time. So You shouldn’t be so indifferent to your father. Whether it’s your father or mother, they are the people you love the most.”

“Okay!” Layla pouted With a small mouth, reluctantly, “then I’ll see him later, it won’t be so fierce.”

“Well. Layla, you play with your brother first, I’ll call your dad and ask him if he wants to come back for dinner.” After Mrs. Cooper finished speaking, she went to call Elliot.

Two minutes later, Layla asked, “Is my dad coming back for dinner at night?”

Mrs. Cooper shook her head, “His phone is off.”

“Oh...” Layla was very disappointed, “Then my mother’s phone number Can you get through?”

She was afraid that her mother wouldn’t be able to get in touch.

Chapter 1197

Mrs. Cooper reassured, “It’s only six o’clock in the morning on your mother’s side. Call her in another hour. Your mother is going out to work, and she will come back when her work is over.”

"If my mother don't come back, what should I do with my brother?" Layla was suddenly frustrated.

At this moment, Robert suddenly burst into tears.

Mrs. Cooper quickly picked Robert up and checked why he was crying.

Outside the courtyard, a car stopped.

Layla saw it and went outside immediately. She saw Mike getting out of the car and striding forward.

"Uncle Mike!" Layla cried and ran over.

Mike frowned, walked a few steps to Layla, and picked her up: "Don't cry baby. What's the matter?"

"I miss Mom and Dad." Layla stretched her hands and rubbed her eyes.

"Isn't your father at home?" Mike came over last night and saw Elliot. But Mike couldn't say much to him, so the two didn't speak.

Layla grimaced, "He's left. The phone can't get through either. Grandma Cooper said it was my mother's mistake, but I didn't know it before. I ignored my father from yesterday to this morning. Will he be angry?"

Why is your father mad at you? Your mother and father quarreled this time, and it can't be said that your mother made a mistake. Just wait a little longer, they will reconcile after a while." Mike carried Layla into the villa.

"Really?" Layla wiped away her tears.

Mike: "Of course. When did I lie to you?"

Layla squeezed out a smile, then frowned: "My brother is stinking, take me out!"

Mike immediately carried her to the yard.

An hour later, Mike made a videocall to Avery. After a few seconds, Avery hung up the videocall.

Mike froze for a moment. How did she hang up?

Just when Mike was about to continue dialing, Avery's call came.

Mike answered the phone: "Avery, why did you hang up the videocall?"

"I'm in the hospital, and the internet is not good here, so let's call." Avery made a reason.

The real reason Avery didn't answer the videocall was because she cried all night last night and her eyes were so swollen today. Not only the eyes are swollen from crying, but the voice is also hoarse.

Hearing her voice, Mike heard something unusual in a second.

"Oh, Layla misses you so much. Say something to Layla." Mike handed Layla the phone.

"Layla, you have summer vacation next week, right?" Avery tried to cover up her hoarse voice with a soft tone.

"Well, Mom, if you don't come back next week, I'll ask Uncle Mike to take me to Bridgedale to find you."

Avery: "Okay!"

"Mom, have you seen my brother?"

"Not yet! Mom picks up. I've been busy these two days, so I'll find your brother when I'm done." After the mother and daughter finished talking on the phone, Mike took the phone back from Layla's hand.

After dinner, Layla went to do her homework, and Mike immediately went to the yard and called Avery.

After the call was connected, Mike asked straight to the point: "Shea is dead?"

"What nonsense are you talking about!" Avery raised her voice a few times and roared angrily.

“Since Shea didn’t die, why didn’t you answer the videocall? And your voice is so hoarse, you’re crying? Could it be... Elliot is dead?” Mike asked in confusion.

“If he’s dead, we won’t see each other in the future.” Avery heard him cursing Elliot, and his heart couldn’t stop trembling with anger.

“I’m joking. Please tell me why you’re crying. Layla also cried in the evening, and it took a long time to coax him.” Mike exhaled heavily.

“Elliot broke up with me.” Avery explained the reason. Out, “He doesn’t want anything. I asked him to wait for me for a few days, but he didn’t wait. He didn’t want to see me again, and he didn’t want to hear my voice again. This time, he won’t look back.”

Chapter 1198

Mike said, “Then you just showdown with Elliot and tell him that Shea is still alive. Let him worry and suffer also. It’s better than letting him hate you alone.”

“I can’t get through to him. I haven’t been able to get through to him since last night, until now.... He probably won’t use this number again.” Avery’s voice was heavy, and she made no secret of her helplessness and grief, “Mike, my heart seems to be dead.”

“What to die for? Even without him, you still have three children.” Mike snapped, “When is Shea’s surgery? Is the time determined?”

Avery took a deep breath and said, “If it goes well, then Tomorrow. I talked to Shea last night. She was so innocent and kind. She missed Elliot very much. I promised her that when her surgery was successful, I would take her to see Elliot..but I couldn’t contact Elliot anymore...”

“You can’t contact him, maybe other people can. You need to adjust your mood first. If Shea's operation can be successful, you are still afraid of him.

Can't you come out? I'll take the child to Bridgedale to find you in two days."

Mike comforted her.

Avery: "Well. I'm going to the hospital."

Mike: "Avery, love is always just the spice of life, not a necessity. Don't be right. Life loses confidence."

"Got it." After talking on the phone, Mike returned to the villa. He stayed until nine o'clock at night and left when Layla fell asleep.

After coming out of Foster's house, he drove to Chad's house.

After Elliot left the Sterling Group, Chad seemed to have been beaten by frost.

Not to mention that Elliot will not step into the Sterling Group again in the future, just thinking that the future boss will be Adrian is not a small blow.

Adrian doesn't understand anything, how can he be the boss of the Sterling Group?

And behind Adrian, there are Henry and his son. It means that the company has now fallen into the hands of Henry and his son.

Just thinking about it makes Chad feel sick.

He has been by Elliot's side for so many years, and he knows how much Elliot hates this father and son.

Asking Elliot to make such a decision is tantamount to cutting the flesh from his body and feeding it into the enemy's mouth.

After Mike came back, Chad said coldly, "Avery hasn't returned to Aryadelle yet."

"I told you, she won't be back for the time being." Mike put on his slippers and led him towards the living room, "You think of a way. Contact Elliot."

“How can I think of a way? How can I get in touch? What if I get in touch?”

Chad pushed his arm away, “I am no longer a boss or subordinate with him.

You let me get in touch. What did he say?”

“Even if you are no longer a boss and a subordinate, but you have known each other for so many years. you are still friends.”

“He has many friends. There is no shortage of useless friends like me.” Chad laughed at himself and said, “Why did you ask me to find him? Are you looking for him, or Avery looking for him?”

Seeing that Chad was so angry, Mike poured him a glass of water: “What if I said Shea was looking for him? Chad, Do you really think that Avery has a vicious heart and turns her elbows out to drive Elliot to a corner?”

Chad’s expression froze, his eyes couldn’t hide his panic: “Shea? Did you just say Shea?”

Mike explained, “Yes Shea is still alive. But she is very ill. Her health is not good. After giving Robert a blood transfusion, she went into shock once, and was rescued later, and then she developed kidney failure...Shea wants a kidney transplant. If she doesn’t, she will die. Whether she will be able to recover after a kidney transplant is unknown. So Avery didn’t tell anyone about this.”

Chad Adam’s apple rolled around, and his mind was in a mess: “Shea’s kidney transplant, why should I let my boss transfer the equity?”

“Because Adrian’s kidney can be transplanted to Shea. And Adrian is held in Henry’s hands. It’s actually very simple, but it’s hard to accept.” Mike sat down on the sofa and exhaled, “Elliot called Avery yesterday and broke up.”

“Oh...you asked me to find my boss, did you want me to tell him about Shea?”

Chapter 1199

“Yes. It’s better for him to know the truth than Avery alone.”

“Why didn’t you tell me earlier.” Chad threw the cup in his hand to the ground and roared, “You early Just got it, right? Why didn’t you tell me earlier? You b*stard.”

Mike blushed after being scolded: “As for Avery’s considerations, I will definitely listen to her...”

“F*ck you.” Chad clenched his fists tightly, extremely angry.

Is it too late to tell the truth now?

“Why are you so angry? Can’t you get in touch with Elliot? If you can’t get through to him, send him an email... He can’t possibly stop using all his social accounts, right?” Mike said angrily. Annoyed, trying to calm him down.

“Even if you tell Elliot about Shea, what can you do? He has already transferred the equity. You and Avery, you two are two sc*mbags.” Chad couldn’t bear it anymore, and swiped his fist at Mike’s face.

“D*mn it. You don’t need to swear, but you still do it. Those who didn’t know it thought it was your equity that was transferred.” Mike covered his face with one hand, and lifted Chad onto the sofa with the other, “Adrian is now in the hands of Avery. Let Adrian transfer the equity to your boss again.”

“Because it’s that simple. It’s hard for you to think about it, then it’s hard for you to do anything.” They stared at each other with big eyes, and after a stalemate in the atmosphere for a while, Chad finally figured it out.

“Okay, I’ll contact my boss. If I can’t get in touch, I can’t help. Who is to blame for Avery’s stupid things?”

“Can you stop scolding Avery?” Mike begged with the pain on his face, “Avery hides it from Elliot, it's not because Elliot is irritable and fragile. She wants to deal with the matter and then tell him what's wrong."

Chad: "Even if my boss is irritable and vulnerable, it's better than Avery's selfrighteousness and the heart of the Virgin."

Mike: "It's obvious that your boss's problem is more serious. If your boss is a normal person, Avery doesn't have to worry so much. Avery fell in love with him. It's like raising an eldest son!"

Chad: "You idiot, shut up!"

Mike: "You're the idiot!"

Chad tried all the ways to contact Elliot but there was no result.

Bridgedale.

After Adrian did a series of preoperative examinations, the doctor asked him to sign the operation risk notice.

Although Adrian was a donor and taking a kidney was not life-threatening to the body, there were still risks.

He held the pen and looked at Avery.

"Doctor, Adrian didn't know how to write. Is there a red ink pad? he can press his handprint." Avery immediately spoke to the doctor.

The doctor immediately brought the red ink pad.

Adrian did not hesitate to print his own fingerprints on the notice.

The doctor said to Avery, "The operation is scheduled for tomorrow morning.

Let him have a good rest today, don't be nervous."

Avery nodded. The doctor left the ward with the notice.

Adrian looked at her and asked, "Avery, is it because of me that you broke up with Elliot, right?"

Chapter 1200

Avery came to the hospital in the morning, Wesley saw that her eyes were so swollen, so he chatted with her for a while.

Adrian heard the conversation between the two of them clearly.

Avery immediately shook her head: "No. I broke up with Elliot because I didn't tell him about finding Shea. He didn't know why I brought you here, so he was angry."

"Then how can I get Elliot not to angry?" Adrian asked.

His question was simple and direct, and Avery was moved by it.

How to make Elliot not get angry, she had no answer in her heart.

Avery sat down beside the hospital bed and talked to him, "Adrian, the shares he transferred to you must not be transferred to Henry and Cole. Because this is a lot of money, if you give it to them, they won't treat you kindly because of this, and they may use the money to do bad things."

Adrian nodded after hearing her words: "Then I'll transfer it to you, okay?"

Avery shook her head: "Let's talk about it after the operation. Now I just hope that the surgery goes well and that you and Shea are safe and sound."

Yonroeville.

Elliot came out of the airport and saw Kyrie Jobin and his bodyguards at a glance.

Kyrie Jobin strode forward and patted Elliot's shoulder: "Our friendship for so many years, I know that you will not break up with me because of a woman.

You may not know much about my current investment. Next, I will.... I'll show you around."

"I'm going to take you to a good place today to show you the latest results of the projects I invested in! If you see it, it will definitely be an eye-opener.

They drive away quickly.

About an hour later, the car stopped in a remote park.

Elliot looked vigilantly at the sign at the entrance of the park.

There were two signboards, one signboard was Safari Park, and the other signboard was Biological Laboratory.

“Is it legal to open a biological laboratory in a safari park?” Elliot questioned.

Kyrie laughed: “I knew you were going to ask this question. There were many types of biological laboratories. This biological laboratory in a safari park is not the kind of biological laboratory you imagine.”

They went into the park.

Kyrie explained to Elliot all the way what research the biological laboratory was doing.

“We originally had a pair of monkeys in the monkey park. They had a very good relationship. They gave birth to four little monkeys. When the fourth monkey was born, the mother monkey had physical problems, so she was sent to a separate place for treatment.”

“At this time, the staff sent another female monkey. Soon, the female monkey developed a relationship with the male monkey, and the female monkey had a good relationship with the male monkey’s four little monkeys.”

” When the female monkey was pregnant, the original female monkey recovered. The staff sent the female monkey back, and the female monkey found out that the male monkey had a new love, and immediately became unhappy and refused to eat...”

Elliot said Listen intently as if he was listening to a story.

“It’s definitely not going to go on like this, so the team of experts in the biological laboratory transferred the emotionally injured female monkey out and decided to perform an operation on it.” Kyrie raised his eyebrows and asked Elliot, “Have you heard of amnestics ?”

Elliot shook his head without hesitation: “Unheard of.”

“Yes, I have only seen such bizarre things in movies and TV dramas before. But the biological laboratory I invested in did it. They used the latest medical methods to give this mother The monkey underwent amnestic surgery. After the operation, the female monkey’s mental state returned to normal.”

Chapter 1201

“It doesn’t remember the male monkey likes, nor the four little monkeys it gave birth to...let alone the later female monkey... After the operation, it made new friends, got along with other monkeys very happily, and gained a lot of weight.”

Kyrie said, his eyes glowing: “We plan to promote this kind of surgery to the society. Of course, the cost of surgery will be very high, and only the rich can consume it. After all, this technology was developed by our team after a long time of research and development.”

“Why are you telling me this?” Elliot raised his eyebrows and asked, “Are you insinuating me with monkeys?”

Kyrie smiled and shook his head: “Look at you, how can you guess my intentions like this? I brought you here to tell you about this new achievement.”

“I don’t think you have this New results can make a lot of money.” Elliot put forward his own opinion, “The rich cherish their lives the most, who dares to gamble with their memories? Wouldn’t it be ridiculous if the operation fails and becomes a fool?”

“This is our achievement. It’s special.” Kyrie took him to the biological laboratory, “Even if the operation fails, it will not make people a fool.”

“Are you sure?”

“Yes. We have done many experiments, and we have succeed.” Kyrie looked at him and said, "Elliot, I will bring you here, in addition to letting you know the results, I also want you to think about whether you want to do this surgery."

Elliot: "... "

"Put Avery out of your mind, so that you won't be trapped by love, and you won't do anything stupid for her in the future." Kyrie looked at him seriously, "I was watching You succeeded, but watching Avery destroy you again, do you know how much I hate Avery? Of course, don't worry, I will not retaliate against Avery. I just hope you can forget her completely. "

Elliot's expression froze, Seems to be thinking about the feasibility of this.

"You're still so young, as long as you forget the past and don't have the fetters of love and love, you will definitely achieve greater achievements in the future. Elliot, I believe in you, and you must also believe in yourself."

Bridgedale.

Time flickered, and it was time for Shea's surgery.

After Shea and Adrian were sent to the operating room, Avery's cell phone rang. She was very surprised when she saw Hayden's call.

"Mom, Layla said you came to Bridgedale." After answering the phone, Hayden's voice came from the other side.

Avery: "Well, mom is in the hospital now. Where are you?"

"What are you doing in the hospital? Why didn't you come to find me?"

Hayden's tone was complaining.

"Mom plans to contact you later today. Today is the day of Shea's surgery, do you still remember Shea?" Avery explained.

On the other side of the phone, Hayden was suddenly silent. An hour later, Hayden rushed to the hospital where Avery was from another city.

Hayden was stunned when he saw Wesley, and then politely said, "Uncle Wesley."

"Hayden, you are getting taller and bigger. You are almost catching up with me." Wesley looked at Hayden's face more and more like Elliot, There was an indescribable shock in his heart.

"I saw that Elliot transferred all the shares of his company." Hayden's eyes fell on Avery's face, "Mom, did you let him do this?"

Otherwise, Hayden really can't understand Elliot's suicidal stupidity Behavior.

"Hayden, don't talk to your mother in this tone. Your mother is to save Shea."

Wesley said sternly.

Hayden turned a deaf ear to Wesley's words, and continued to say to his mom, "You don't have to force me to recognize my father, right? Because Elliot won't forgive you."

Chapter 1202

Avery looked at his son's stern and serious face, tears like opening a valve and kept falling.

Wesley immediately pulled Hayden and walked to the side and whispered,

"Hayden, how could you speak to your mother with that attitude? Don't you want Shea to come alive?"

"Of course I want Shea to come alive. But that's two different things. I.. I don't like Elliot, but I don't want to see him become like this. My goal is to defeat him, but now that he has nothing, my goal can't be achieved." Hayden said.

Wesley understood After Hayden's inner thoughts, he hugged him.

Wesley said hoarsely, "I understand your feelings, but don't blame your mother. She's sadder than anyone else these days. She definitely didn't force your father to give up everything, she won't force anyone. But you Dad made this decision because he was really stimulated. Many things are out of our control, and you are still young, so you may not understand.”

Avery stood outside the operating room, her chin raised slightly, trying to stop the tears from flowing down.

Hayden’s tone just now clearly blamed her.

Avery doesn’t blame him for having such a reaction, it’s all her fault.

Elliot has lost everything now, and his whereabouts are unknown. Avery doesn’t know if she can find him.

In the afternoon, Mike came with Layla.

Layla hasn’t officially had her summer vacation yet, and Mike asked her for three days of vacation, and gave her the summer vacation in advance.

“How’s the surgery?” Mike immediately asked after seeing Avery.

“The operation is over. They are in the observation room now. They need to be observed.” Avery glanced at the time, “Let’s go out to eat first.”

Mike glanced at the two children and asked, “Okay. When did Hayden come here?”

“Morning.”

Mike asked, “Hayden, did you miss class today or did you skip class?”

“I asked for leave.” Hayden’s face was cold.

Mike teased, “Not bad, now I know I’m asking for leave. Why are you so sullen? Did something unhappy happen?”

Hayden: “There is nothing happy about it.”

“Did I come to see your sister? Aren’t you happy?” Mike patted him on the shoulder.

“You are here to see your mother.”

Hayden’s voice was settled, and Layla immediately took her hand: “I clearly came to see you. I wanted to bring my brother too, but Uncle Mike was too anxious and insisted on bring me here first.”

Avery listened to her daughter’s words and asked Mike in a low voice, “Don’t tell me, you are here to see Shea’s surgery.”

“The results of the operation are not available.” Mike said bluntly, “Ben Schaffer found out that Elliot has left Aryadelle.”

Avery’s heart tightened and asked quickly, “Where did Elliot go?”

Mike shook his head: “Ben Schaffer didn’t know. Elliot left Aryadelle. Ben Schaffer and Chad agreed that Elliot would not come back.”

Avery’s heart suddenly ached: “Why? Why do they think so? Apart from the company’s equity, he has a lot of other properties.”

“Yes, he does have a lot of real estate and other investments. He has a lot of money. But he entrusted all his personal affairs to a lawyer. This means that he may not return to Aryadelle in the future.”

Mike’s words, let Avery was like falling into an ice cave.

“Which lawyer did he entrust? Do you have the contact information of that lawyer?” Avery was reluctant to lose contact with him.

Mike shook his head: “Avery, he is determined to leave you. Even if you beg him, he will not forgive you. I don’t want to see you so humble.”

“Tell me the contact information of that lawyer.” Avery didn’t want to be persuaded. She has already made up her mind to find him, so no matter how others persuade her, it is impossible to change her mind. Her emotions were a little intense, and the two children looked back at them.

Chapter 1203

“I don’t know. I’ll ask Chad later. If I get the lawyer’s contact information, I’ll let you know.” Mike quickly calmed her down, “Avery, don’t be so angry in front of the child.”

“Why don’t you say that earlier?” Avery sniffed and said sternly, “I can’t be like before, keep calm all the time and think about others everywhere.”

Elliot left. Losing him, Avery felt unforgettable pain.

Mike asked, “You don’t regret it later? If you told him the truth earlier, maybe...”

Avery said, “If I told him the truth earlier, things would have gone the other way. But in case is it going to get worse? Instead of regretting it, it’s better to go to him.”

“Well. Haven’t you slept for a few days? Let’s see how haggard you are. If you go on like this, I’m afraid that you find Elliot. I know you.” Mike teased.

“How could he not know me? Even if he doesn’t remember my face, can he still remember my voice?” Avery said stubbornly, word by word, “Even if Elliot turns to ashes, I can still recognize him.”

Mike’s back numb for a while: “You don’t let me curse him, aren’t you cursing him too?”

“I just want to express that no matter what he becomes, I will remember him. Similarly, no matter what I become No matter what happens, he will remember me.”

“I know you have deep feelings for each other. I am afraid that you will continue to be sad and your body will break down. Didn’t you want to find him. The God knows where he went. You’re physically not good, how to find Elliot?”

“Well.”

After dinner, they went home together.

Mike said, “Shea is in the hospital, there is a doctor visiting. Avery, you can stay at home and wait for the results. You stay with Hayden at home tonight, because Hayden has class tomorrow. and I will take him to school tomorrow morning.”

Avery: “Okay.”

After arriving home, Avery went to clean up the child's room. In the living room, Layla dragged Hayden asked him about his school.

“Layla, didn't you say before that your uncle Eric was going to take you to film?” Mike asked while leaning on the sofa and playing with his mobile phone.

“I want to play for a week first.”

“But your brother's school holiday time is different from yours.”

“Then take me to my brother's school.”

“Yes! But your brother rents a house over there. I'm afraid your mother can't come with us.” Mike said.

“Then, let's go there.” Layla made a quick decision. “I can see mom anytime, but it's been a long time since I played with my brother.”

“Okay. I'll talk to your mom later.”

In the room.

After Avery tidied up the room, he picked up the phone and checked the time.

Whatsapp alerts a new message.

She opened Whatsapp immediately. The message was sent by Gwen.

Gwen sent a picture and a sentence.

In the picture is the early pregnancy test strip. On the test strip, there are two red bars.

The sentence below the picture is: What should I do, I seem to be pregnant.

Avery was stunned for a moment.

She hasn't seen for a few days, how could Gwen be pregnant?

Avery opened the address book, found Gwen's number, and dialed it.

Chapter 1204

The Phone was quickly connected.

Avery was frightened and asked, "Gwen, are you sure you're not joking with me?"

"What's so funny about this kind of thing." On the other end of the phone, Gwen's mood was very low, "Should I go and take the child or Destroyed?"

"You only tested with test strips, haven't you gone to the hospital for a checkup?"

"No." Gwen took a breath, her voice annoyed, "I went to the pharmacy to buy cold medicine today, and I bought a box of early pregnancy by the way. Test paper. I tested both bars, but I didn't expect that I was lucky enough to be hit."

"Who is the child's father?" Avery was a little angry when she heard her understatement.

How could she not love herself so much.

"I don't want to say it." Gwen said firmly.

Avery said earnestly, "Gwen, you should have seen the news about Elliot, right? He is no longer in Aryadelle, and he may not care about you in the future. The living expenses he promised before may not be fulfilled."

"I understand, you mean that I won't bother you again in the future!" Gwen's tone suddenly became cold.

Avery said, "No. You are his sister. As long as you come to me, I can help you, and I will definitely help you. But if you ask me to help you, you must promise me a condition. You can't do it again in the future. Go to work in that modeling company. It's not terrible to make one mistake, what's scary is to make another mistake again and again.”

“I won’t go to that company in the future.” Gwen had a headache, “Then what should I do with this child in my belly?”

“Gwen, the body is yours, and the child is also yours. Whether you want to kill or give birth, you should think carefully instead of asking other people’s opinions. You don’t even tell me the child’s father, I can give it to you. What’s your idea?”

Avery said here, remembering the scene when she was pregnant with his first child.

At that time, she found out that she was pregnant, so she went to test Elliot’s reaction, but she insisted on not having children.

She still remembered that she had been insomnia for a long time because of the question of where to stay for her children.

“Okay, I’ll think about it myself.” After Gwen finished speaking, she hung up the phone.

Avery looked at the hung up phone, feeling indescribably annoyed.

Regarding Gwen’s situation, she was unwilling to overdo it. But Gwen was Elliot’s younger sister, so she couldn’t care less.

After calming down for a while, she opened Gwen’s dialog box and sent a message.

Gwen received Avery’s message and read it carefully.

Avery showed Gwen two paths. The first way is to give birth to a child. If she decides to give birth, then she should be prepared to work hard to earn money to support the child. The second way is to kill the child and start a new life.

Gwen’s mind was a mess. She had no idea at all. Because she can’t even support herself, let alone raising children.

As for the child's father... She can't say it.

She and Ben Schaffer spent only one night that night. Ben Schaffer was so drunk that he probably didn't even remember what happened that night.

How is she going to speak? After struggling for a while, she dialed Avery's number again.

"Avery, does abortion hurt?"

Avery: "It doesn't hurt. The operation will be anesthetized. Have you made a decision?"

"Not yet. I'm debating whether to tell the child's father... I don't pay for the operation yourself."

Avery: "The operation fee is not expensive. If you have no money, I can give it to you. If the other party is a sc*mbag, you should not contact him."

Gwen said 'oh', and after hesitating for a while, he continued to ask, "Has Ben Schaffer ever been married?"

Chapter 1205

The alarm sounded in Avery's heart.

Gwen suddenly asked Ben Schaffer's private affairs, could it be that the child in her womb belongs to Ben Schaffer?

Avery said, "As far as I know, Mr. Schaffer has never been married. However, he has always had someone he likes in his heart. Although that person is dead. But his eyes on women should be based on the woman he likes. Type to find."

"Oh...then does he have children?" Gwen continued to ask.

Avery was almost certain that Gwen's child might really belong to Ben Schaffer. Gwen was young, Ben Schaffer couldn't hide things in his heart, and his mouth was not strict.

If her child is not from Ben Schaffer, she doesn't need to keep asking about Ben Schaffer's situation.

"I haven't heard of him having children. I don't think he has any. Otherwise, his parents wouldn't worry about his life-long affairs." Avery asked, "Is your child from Ben Schaffer?"

"No! I just said it casually. I'll think about it again, and I'll tell you when I think about it." Gwen finished in a flustered tone and hung up the phone.

After hesitating for a few seconds, Avery found Ben Schaffer's number and dialed it.

Ben Schaffer didn't want to answer her phone at first, but he couldn't resist the curiosity in his heart.

After the call was made, Avery spoke first: "Ben Schaffer, something happened to Gwen, I'm not in the country now. Can I trouble you to visit her tomorrow?"

Ben Schaffer frowned: "What happened to her? "

Gwen is pregnant and may go to the hospital for surgery. She has no relatives or friends in Aryadelle. It would be great if you could accompany her.

"Whose child is she carrying? Which b*stard, or which old man's? She has no shame. Ever since she didn't listen to my advice, I knew she would have this day."

"She won't tell me. I can't ask her face to face. I'm worried that she will go to the hospital for the operation alone. Although this operation is not too risky, it's better to have someone to accompany." Avery worried.

"I see. I will contact her." After Ben Schaffer finished speaking, he wanted to hang up the phone. After hesitating for a while, he asked, "How is Shea?"

“The operation is over. We will observe for a few days.”

“Oh.I heard that Elliot broke up with you.” Ben Schaffer couldn't help poking at her scar, “Although it's not kind to gloat in misfortune. I still have to say, you deserve it. You don't deserve Elliot so well. Just live with your pride and arrogance for the rest of your life!”

“Got it.” Avery said lightly and hung up the phone. She turned to come out of the room and saw Mike and the two children standing in the doorway.

They heard her talking on the phone, but they tacitly agreed and didn't ask more.

Avery also did not tell them these trivial matters.

At night, not surprisingly, Avery lost sleep again. With her eyes open, she looked at the chandelier through the moonlight outside the window, and Elliot's appearance appeared in her mind.

Avery don't know where Elliot is now, if he eats on time or sleeps well. It's not that she can't accept breaking up with him.

The source of her pain now is that they didn't make it clear face-to-face, and the equity that belonged to him was not returned to him... How can they just break up like this?

She didn't want to hurt anyone, so how could she hurt him so cruelly?

The sky will soon be bright.

The phone rang, bringing her thoughts back to reality.

Her eyes were dry and astringent, and when she looked at the screen of her mobile phone, a double image appeared.

If it goes on like this, she may fall down before she can wait to find Elliot.

Chapter 1206

Avery has never been so afraid of physical problems. She had quarreled with Elliot countless times before and suffered from insomnia. She was even more exhausted at work and had trouble sleeping and eating, but every time, she survived.

In her memory, the body was never like this before, as if the organs of various parts were going to stop working at any time.

She answered the phone, and Wesley's voice came.

Wesley: "Avery, Adrian is awake, and his mental state is okay."

Avery: "That's good. Where's Shea?"

Wesley: "Shea hasn't woken up yet. But all her physical signs are within the normal range."

Avery: "Well. I Go to the hospital later."

Hanging up the phone, she heard Mike's voice calling the child to wake up from outside the room.

"Layla, if you don't get up, I won't be able to take you to your brother's place."

Mike threatened, "Then you can only stay at home with mom."

Layla hummed, reluctantly. climbed up.

After a while, Avery's door was knocked. She immediately went to the door and opened the door.

Seeing Hayden, she was a little surprised. She thought it was Mike calling her to get up.

"Mom, I'm sorry." Hayden raised his head, looked at Avery, and apologized, "I shouldn't have said that to you yesterday."

Hayden thought about it all night and felt that what he said to his mother was too much.

He is going to school soon. If he doesn't come to apologize to his mother quickly, it may make her sad for a long time.

Avery said frankly, "Mom isn't angry. It's true that I have a bigger problem with your dad. If your dad didn't know me, he wouldn't be like this. I'll go when Shea's situation improves. Look for him. Before I find Elliot, I may not be able to take care of you and your younger siblings."

Hayden: "I don't need you to take care of me, and my younger siblings are also taken care of. Just do what you want."

"Hayden, Did you disappoint?" Avery felt very guilty.

"You are my mother, as long as you are healthy."

Hayden's answer moved Avery and felt at ease.

After sending them out, Avery went back to her room and sat down on the bed. Her headache was so severe that she seemed to fall down at any moment. In this state, she can't go out.

She picked up her phone, opened her address book, and found a doctor friend's phone number to dial.

"I need some sleeping pills, can you bring them to my house?"

"Are you going to use them?"

"Well. I've been insomnia lately. Taking melatonin doesn't help."

"Are you at home now? I'll send it to you right away."

"I'm at home. Thank you."

After about half an hour, a friend brought the medicine.

"Avery, I saw the news of your husband on the Internet." The friend gave her the medicine and comforted her, "I hope you can take it easy. Even without your husband's financial resources, you can still live well on your own. You don't have to affect your health because of this."

Her friends here don't know how deep the relationship between her and Elliot is for so many years.

Outsiders think that she is sad now because Elliot has changed from a rich man to an ordinary person.

Avery didn't want to explain too much.

"When I sleep well, I should be able to think a lot." Avery said.

The friend said, "Well. I don't dare to give you too much medicine, I'm afraid you will commit suicide. There is only one week's supply. If you still need it after a week, I will take it for you."

"Thank you." She sent her friends away and went back to her room.

Before taking the medicine, she sent a message to Wesley: Brother Wesley, I didn't rest well last night. Going to sleep now. I'll go to the hospital when I wake up.

After sending the message, she took a pill and lay down on the bed.

Chapter 1207

Soon, the effect of the medicine came into play, and she fell into a deep sleep.

After Ben Schaffer got off work, he drove the car towards Gwen's residence.

Coincidentally, after the car stopped at the gate of the community where Gwen lived, he saw Gwen walking towards the community with dinner.

Gwen was playing with her mobile phone, so she didn't notice that Ben Schaffer was standing by the door.

When Gwen was about to reach the gate of the community, a big palm grabbed her arm. She was so terrified that she screamed.

"It's me." Ben Schaffer broke into a cold sweat by her exclamation.

The security guard at the gate and the passers-by around looked at them both.

He pulled Gwen and quickly walked towards his car.

Seeing this, the security guard strode after him: "Let go of this little girl."

Ben Schaffer let go in embarrassment.

The security guard asked Gwen, "Miss, do you know this man? If you don't know, I'll call the police and take him away."

Gwen glanced at Ben Schaffer, wanting to say 'don't know', but was afraid of offending him. Angry at him, it's not going to end well.

"Uncle security, thank you. I know him."

After Gwen explained, the security immediately returned to the gate.

Ben Schaffer opened the car door, and Gwen got in with a blushing face.

After the car drove out, she asked anxiously, "What are you doing here with me? Where are you taking me?"

"Are you still pretending? Why didn't you reply when I sent you a message?"

"You asked me if I was here. I never reply to this kind of news." Gwen opened the bag, took out dinner, and planned to eat it directly in the car.

Ben Schaffer said coldly, "Avery called me and said you were pregnant, and asked me to take you to have an abortion. You can do it! You were killed after a few days' absence. You think your brother is left, Can it be lawless?"

"When did I say I was going to have an abortion? Are you sure Avery told you that?" Gwen hadn't yet considered whether to have an abortion.

What she told Avery at the time was that she still needed to think about it.

"Her words may not be like this, but the meaning is the same. Looking at your reaction, do you want to have an abortion? You want to give birth to this wild species?" Ben Schaffer sarcastically said, "You don't even have the ability to support yourself. How to feed this wild species?"

"Don't worry about it." Gwen listened to him spit out the 'wild species', as if being slapped.

"I don't care who cares about you? Your brother and Avery are not here. Do you think who else will care for you? Will the wild kind's father care for you?"

Ben Schaffer snarled angrily.

"Mr. Ben You're so ugly." Gwen laughed angrily.

If you let him know, he is the father of the wild species, I don't know how he will feel.

"To a woman who doesn't have self-esteem and self-love, of course I speak badly." Ben Schaffer drove the car towards the hospital, "you'll have an abortion later, and I'll allow you to stay at my house for a few days."

"What if I don't fight? The blue veins on Ben Schaffer's forehead were angry:

"It's ok if you don't fight. Then you don't want a cent of living expenses in the future."

Bridgedale.

Avery woke up and saw darkness outside the window. She actually slept from morning to night. She picked up her phone and checked the time.

It was 9 o'clock at night, and she had slept for twelve hours. She was probably full of sleep, and her mind became unusually clear.

She still misses Elliot madly.

And want to find his clues.

She got out of bed and went to the bathroom to wash her face.

The cold water soaked her skin, and a flash of inspiration flashed in her mind, and she suddenly thought of a way to check his whereabouts.

Chapter 1208

Elliot wrote all the passwords of all his accounts to her before.

The paper was in her bag.

When Avery came to Bridgedale, she brought the piece of paper with her.

It was the only personal item Elliot left her. What he bought her doesn't count, bought things without his imprint.

Avery quickly dried her face and came out of the bathroom. After finding the piece of paper, she stared at Elliot handwriting on the paper, remembering the scene when he handed it to her.

What Elliot gave her was more than his account number and password.

Like, Elliot took out his heart and gave it to Avery. It was because he had given everything that he couldn't stand her deception at all.

Avery raised her head and exhaled heavily. Suddenly, the doorbell rang. She put the paper under the pillow and strode out of the bedroom.

Wesley's face was imprinted on the surveillance screen at the entrance.

Avery opened the door immediately.

"Avery, are you alright?" Wesley called her in the evening, but her phone was muted and couldn't hear it.

"I'm fine. Did you call me? I saw it just now and was about to call you back."

Avery smiled and invited him into the room, "I took a sleeping pill in the morning and slept until I just woke up."

Wesley put the fruit he brought on the coffee table and said, "Is insomnia so serious? Then you have to reduce the amount next time."

"You don't have to worry about me, I'll be fine." Avery poured him a glass of water, "You should have a good rest too. I'm going to the hospital tonight to watch."

Wesley said, "You just rest at home. Adrian's body is still quite weak. He woke up for a while after the operation, and has been sleeping since then. Do you have Elliot's whereabouts?"

Avery shook her head, "I plan to wait. Log in to his social account and email address later, and see if I can find his last login time and ip address.”

“Well. A few doctors met today and said that Shea’s surgery was a success. If nothing else, Shea woke up. After that, her body will gradually recover.” Wesley said with relief, “When she wakes up, the first person she wants to see must be Elliot.”

“I know. But I really can’t find Elliot. When I come to him, I’ll regret it for the rest of my life...” Avery lowered her eyes and continued, “I don’t regret it after Mike asked me. I was able to stubbornly say that I don’t regret it yesterday, but after waking up today, I regret it very much. Obviously I can’t make Elliot angry. I can obviously let him know everything and make a decision...”

“Blame me.” Wesley apologized, “I told you not to tell him about Shea.”

Avery looked at him and said sincerely, “Wesley, how can you blame this? It’s Shea who doesn’t want us to know her situation. You just respect Shea’s wishes. Elliot has told me several times, Let me take good care of my family and don’t always think about other people and things, but I didn’t take his words to heart.”

“Avery, don’t regret it.” Wesley saw her remorse and followed suit, but she kept trapped in This kind of emotion will only make things worse, “Adrian can be discharged after a week of hospitalization, if you return him to Henry, then you may find it difficult to find him to get Elliot’s equity back. Avery nodded: “I don’t plan to return Adrian to them.”

Chapter 1209

Wesley analyzed, “I came here to tell you this. Henry still has a certain influence in Aryadelle relying on the contacts of the former Foster family. If you bring Adrian back to Aryadelle, will be very passive. So don’t let Adrian go back to Aryadelle.”

Avery: “What about Shea?”

“Before finding Elliot, let Shea recuperate in Bridgedale.” Wesley has already thought about it, “Avery, didn’t you say you’re going to find Elliot? Henry and his son can’t find you, and they can’t help you. When you get Elliot back, go back to Aryadelle together and ask Adrian to return the equity to him.”

Avery said gratefully: “Wesley, thank you for thinking so much for me. Your proposal is very good. If I bring Adrian back to Aryadelle, I may really not be able to cope with the entanglement of Henry and his son.”

“God, I’ve lost a lot of weight. It won’t work like this.” Wesley helped her to think so much, so that she could get out of her grief as soon as possible, “It’s better to believe that there are ways than difficulties.”

“Well, Hayden gave it to me this morning . Apologize.” A smile appeared on the corner of her mouth, “After Hayden apologized to me, I suddenly realized that I must take care of my health.”

“You haven’t eaten dinner yet? I’ll go and see what’s in the refrigerator.” Wesley Get up from the sofa.

Avery said embarrassedly: “Wesley, there should be nothing in the refrigerator. Let me order takeout.”

Wesley was even more embarrassed: “Then you order two.”

Wesley hasn’t had dinner yet.

Avery couldn’t help laughing and crying: “Shea has been hospitalized in the hospital, wouldn’t you live in the hospital with her?”

“Not really. I rented a house near the hospital.”

“Wesley, I really want to know, who are you? How can you hold back from contacting your parents?” Avery asked this question because she thought that Elliot had suddenly cut off contact with everyone.

Wesley is a very gentle person in her heart. If Wesley can be cruel and not contact his family for so long, then Elliot will only be more cruel than him.

Wesley said, "It's really difficult. Especially when I think of my parents' old age, and I'm the only son, I'm particularly ashamed." After a pause, he added, "When I sent you a postcard, I also sent a postcard to my parents too. I told them I'm fine, so they don't care."

Aver: "I knew you wouldn't be so cruel. But your parents will miss you more when they see your postcard."

Wesley said, "Well, I have planned to go back to see them after the Shea's matter is over. Did you think of Elliot? Actually, you don't need to be too pessimistic, because you have three children. Elliot is angry now, maybe he can hold back his ignorance. Get in touch, and you'll be relieved after a while."

Avery nodded, "I hope it's what you said."

Aryadelle.

Last night, Ben Schaffer took Gwen to the hospital to have an abortion. After arriving at the hospital, the emergency doctor told them not to do this kind of surgery at night, and let them come back tomorrow during the day.

Ben Schaffer took Gwen home and planned to take her to the hospital the next morning.

Gwen thought for a night and made a decision.

The next morning, she told Ben Schaffer of her decision.

Ben Schaffer listened, blew his nose and stared: "Gwen, you can be shameless yourself, your second brother is shameful. If you have to give birth to this wild species, you will go to Bridgedale, and you are not allowed to come to Aryadelle in the future. let alone Be sure to talk about your relationship with Elliot."

"I don't want his living expenses in the future, so he can't control me." Gwen said confidently, "Besides, I never said that Elliot was my second brother. You don't need to worry about it. I've embarrassed him."

Ben asked: "What's your attitude?"

"What's my attitude? I'm pregnant, I decided to have a baby, and I didn't ask you to give me money. What are you doing in such a frenzy?" Gwen said, she decided to test him, "You are so anxious to let me have an abortion. Don't you think I am carrying your child?"

Chapter 1210

Gwen's words made Ben Schaffer laugh. His life for the past few decades has felt like a waste of time. Because it was the first time he met such a foolish and ridiculous woman like Gwen.

"Without ten years of cerebral thrombosis, I can't say such a thing." Ben Schaffer squinted at her with fox eyes, "How do you think you got pregnant? Did you get pregnant through the air? Or should I catch you? Arm, you will be able to conceive my child?"

He said this, and couldn't help laughing again.

Gwen was thinking in her mind how to respond to him.

"Gwen, didn't you say you went to high school? I remember that the educational environment in Bridgedale is very good. You, only studied high school, don't understand this kind of junior high school physiology knowledge?

You, a bad girl who likes to play, should it's right to understand earlier than normal people?" Ben Schaffer not only attacked her with words, but also looked at her with contempt.

Gwen was irritated by him and exploded: "Yeah, how can an old man like you who no one wants have children? According to my experience, a man of your age is basically useless, even if he has a child. If you are a woman, I am afraid it will be difficult to have children."

“Gwen White...!”

Gwen glared at him and said, “Why? You are allowed to scold me, but I am not allowed to talk back? I am Elliot’s sister, not your sister, so you have no right to scold me. It’s okay if you want to scold me, you give me money, and I’ll let you scold me.”

Ben Schaffer looked at her brazen appearance, and was so angry that he took the water cup to fetch water.

“Nothing else, then I’ll go first.” Gwen carried her bag and planned to leave.

“Wait!” Ben Schaffer walked back immediately, “I haven’t asked yet. What are you going for?”

“Then you should ask quickly, and I will go back to sleep after asking. I couldn’t sleep at your house last night, thinking about it. Being under the same roof as you, I feel panic in my heart.” Gwen deliberately angered him.

With a ‘bang’, Ben Schaffer placed the water glass on the coffee table.

“Who is the child’s father?”

“Tsk, weren’t you a wild breed before?”

“Gwen, don’t make me angry!”

“Aren’t you getting angry right now? Could it be that you have a more terrifying fire? ” Gwen looked curious.

Ben Schaffer felt his blood pressure swish up.

Fortunately, Gwen is not his sister, if she is his sister, he will definitely teach her a good lesson.

“Since you have to know who my child’s father is, then I will tell you with reluctance!” Gwen said, “The child’s father is an old man just like you.”

Ben Schaffer: “???”

When talking about an old man, why does Gwen say Ben looks like him?

How many old men in this world can be compared to him?

“When my mother was there last time, didn’t you say, you don’t like old men?”

Ben Schaffer couldn’t understand what she was doing.

Gwen said frivolously, “Of course I don’t like old men, but I like money. Didn’t you say I’m a bad girl? Aren’t bad girls who give money to whoever they play with? If you give me money, I can also follow you...”

“Vogh!” Ben Schaffer was disgusted by what Gwen said.

“Do you have any more questions to ask? Hurry up and ask.” Gwen cleared her throat and said impatiently.

“Do you really plan to give birth to a child?” Ben Schaffer looked at her indifferent face, angered and mourned for her misfortune!

If Elliot knew about this, he would definitely cut off her source of income.

Gwen opposed him, “Not necessarily. It mainly depends on your reaction. You forced me to have an abortion, but I won’t do it. If you don’t force me, maybe one day I will go to the hospital for an abortion.”

“Hahahaha! Are you threatening me? Gwen, your wild seed, you want to live as long as you like it, what does it have to do with me. I’ll take care of you when I’m full and panicked. You won’t have money to support your child in the future. Don’t look for me. I won’t lend you a cent.” Ben Schaffer decided to give up on her completely.

Some people didn’t deserve to be nice to her. Gwen was one, and Avery was also one.

Gwen walked to the door, stopped, and reminded: “Ben Schaffer, you slept with a woman in the hotel a while ago, and that woman happened to be a colleague of the model company I was working for.”

Ben Schaffer: “!!! “

Chapter 1211

F*ck!

What a coincidence?

He seemed to have a handle in her hand, and his momentum was suddenly insufficient.

“That colleague of mine said you can’t do it.” Gwen raised her eyebrows, looking at his face blushing and purple, “Not only can’t you do that, but you won’t give tips. You’ll die if you’re stingy.”

“What’s your colleague’s name? Give me the contact information.” Ben Schaffer was going crazy.

“Are you going to tip her?”

“You...”

“It’s fine if you don’t. I said this not to betray my colleague, but to remind you that I am a bad girl and you are not a good man. If you dare to stand on the moral high ground and scold me again in the future, I will tell you about it.”

Gwen finished the threat and left the Schaffer family in a happy mood.

Bridgedale.

After Avery sent Wesley away, he returned to the master bedroom and took out the paper under the pillow. She first logged into Elliot’s Facebook account.

After logging in successfully, countless unread messages appeared in front of her.

There were messages she sent him, and there were messages sent by Chad.

Elliot didn’t look at a single one.

Avery took a deep breath, logged out of Facebook uncomfortably, and then logged into his mailbox.

After entering the mailbox, she saw his last login time and login ip. Elliot logged in to his mailbox the day before the equity transfer.

Avery looked at the landing time, and two lines of tears rolled down quickly.

Probably for him, at the moment when the equity was transferred, his heart also died.

Thinking of the change in his mood, Avery was in such pain that she couldn't breathe.

....

At the same moment, in Yonroeville.

Elliot suddenly found that his mobile phone was missing. His phone has been off for a few days. Because the phone has not been used at all in the past few days. He can't remember where the phone was lost.

Maybe it was lost before boarding the plane, maybe after getting off the plane... He has no memory at all.

He has always been proud of his memory that is superior to ordinary people, but now, such an important thing, he does not know when he lost it.

Looking for it now is like looking for a needle in a haystack.

He is no longer the Elliot who used to call the wind and call the rain.

A sense of decadence arises spontaneously.

He suddenly remembered the operation that Kyrie Jobin had talked about when he took him to visit the monkey park.

Sadly, the mother monkey was forced to undergo amnestic surgery, but after the operation, she was given a new life.

Isn't this a good treatment for it?

He suddenly envied the female monkey. He can forget all the people and start a new life, make new friends, and regain his dignity and happiness.

After the bath, he lay on the bed, looking at the ceiling and lost in thought.

There were two voices clamoring in his mind.

The first voice: Elliot, escape can't solve the problem. Avery already knew it was wrong. Give her another chance.

The second voice: Elliot! Don't trust any woman anymore. After that operation, completely forget about Avery. Start a new life again. This is your only right choice.

Chapter 1212

The next morning.

After Avery got up, she went to the hospital. Adrian's condition was much better than yesterday.

Seeing Avery, Adrian immediately showed a smile: "Avery, how is my sister?"

Avery sat down beside his hospital bed, picked up the breakfast porridge she bought, and fed it to him: "She woke up last night. It took a while, but she fell asleep quickly. She is still sleeping at the moment."

"Well. Will she be better?"

"It should be." Avery fed a spoonful of porridge into his mouth, "Adrian, you stay in Bridgedale for now. After Shea is discharged from the hospital, you two, brother and sister will stay together. Wesley will take care of you."

"What about you?" Adrian asked.

"I'm going to find Elliot. When I find him, we'll go back to Aryadelle together.

Okay?" Avery discussed with him.

"Okay, when my sister is with me, I won't be so bored." Adrian began to fantasize about his future life.

Avery looked at the smile on his face and raised the corner of his mouth.

After breakfast, Avery's cell phone rang. She took out her mobile phone and saw the words 'Cole' jumping on the screen, her face suddenly gloomy.

Cole sent her a message yesterday, but she didn't reply, so he couldn't wait to call today.

She took her mobile phone and walked towards the balcony.

After picking up the call, Cole's voice suddenly came: "Avery! Why didn't you reply to my message yesterday? Hehe, you don't want to play disappear, right?"

"If I want to play disappear, I won't answer your phone." Avery looked at the dazzling sunlight outside the window, her voice was cold, "Isn't it time yet?"

"You didn't reply to my message yesterday, so I arrived by plane overnight."

Cole said here and asked, "Which hospital are you in? I'll go over now and take care of Adrian by the way."

Avery's strings were tense: "It's ridiculous, Cole, I know what you're worried about..."

"Since you know what I'm worried about, then tell me to the hospital. If I can't see Adrian today, I'll go to your house to block you. I know where your home in Bridgedale is." Cole came prepared.

After being silent for a few seconds, Avery told him the name of the hospital.

This is Bridgedale, she has enough confidence to deal with Cole.

About half an hour later, Cole came to the ward.

Seeing Adrian resting with his eyes closed, Cole breathed a sigh of relief: "Is he okay?"

"Even if he is okay, he can't be discharged now. If you plan to take him away in the next two days..."

"I didn't say I was going to take him away in the next two days. I will definitely take him away after he is discharged from the hospital." Cole looked at Avery with a triumphant smile on his face, "wait for me to take him back to Aryadelle. Now, the Sterling Group will gradually fall into my hands. Avery, will you regret not being with me at the beginning?"

Avery was disgusted by his greasy smile and asked, "Cole, did you come alone?"

"What! Are you testing me?" Cole approached her haggard and pale face, "How could I come alone? Adrian is now my turn against the wind. Key person. I hired a team of elite bodyguards who live near the hospital and are on call at any time."

"Oh, are they the bodyguards brought from Aryadelle?"

"Yeah! Are you afraid?"

"Afraid, I really am. I'm afraid." Avery said, glancing at Adrian, "Adrian's urine bag is almost full, you can change his urine bag later. If he wants to defecate, you have to help him into the bathroom."

Chapter 1213

Cole's face suddenly turned the color of pig liver.

"It's you who said you were going to take care of him, don't you think you can't bear the pain?" Avery teased.

"Why don't you just take a kidney? Why do you have to insert a urinary catheter?" Cole said in disgust.

Avery mocked, "Would you like to try picking a kidney for you? If you're impatient, then go back to the hotel. Come back when he can be discharged from the hospital in a week."

Cole didn't want to endure hardship to take care of Adrian. But seeing that Avery wanted him to go so much, he decided to stay and take care of Adrian.

Seeing that Cole insisted on his own opinion, Avery came out of the ward.

Adrian is safe until Adrian is discharged from the hospital.

Now think of a foolproof way to ensure that Adrian will not be taken away by Cole.

She found Wesley in the doctor's office and told Wesley about the situation.

“This Cole doesn’t hide his ambitions at all now.”

Avery frowned, “Yes. He told me directly that after taking Adrian back, he will take the Sterling Group into his pocket. So I must not let him take Adrian away. He said he brought a lot of bodyguards from Aryadelle, and these bodyguards are near the hospital now.”

“Avery, don’t worry, I’m here. this is a hospital and his bodyguards dare not break in.” Wesley comforted, “There is a no-contact order in Bridgedale. As long as we make this law take effect, we can make Cole unable to get close to Adrian.”

“I know the no-contact order, but what should we do? Make this law take effect?” Avery’s brain began to run at high speed.

Wesley said: “Just submit the proof to the judge that he intends to harm Adrian.”

Avery: “But he will not harm Adrian.”

Wesley said slowly, “Then we will create evidence that he intends to harm Adrian. To treat people like Cole, we need to put aside kindness and sincerity.”

Avery nodded: “Wesley, just do as you said. How is Shea today?”

“She hasn’t woken up today.” Wesley couldn’t accompany her in the intensive care unit, so he could only wait for news in the doctor’s office .

“She will definitely wake up today, and she will be awake longer than yesterday.” Avery said firmly.

“Well. Have you found Elliot’s whereabouts?” Wesley was most worried about Elliot besides Shea.

It’s not that Wesley cares more about Elliot, but that he worries about Avery.

If Avery can’t find Elliot, her life will never return to normal.

“After Elliot transferred his shares, he never logged into his social account and email address.” Although she was a little disappointed, she was not discouraged, “I plan to visit all his friends. If I really can’t find him, I will publish ‘The missing person notice’ with a lot of money.”

Wesley chuckled: “I see your determination to find him, but Elliot may want to dig a hole in the ground. If he is so proud, if he sees himself on the missing person notice, he will definitely feel very uncomfortable.”

“I can’t care so much. As long as there is his whereabouts, I am willing to try any method.”

At noon, Shea woke up from a coma.

She woke up this time, much better than last night.

“Wesley, Avery.” Her voice was weak, but she called out their names accurately, “Did my surgery succeed?”

“Your surgery was a success. You will get better and better every day.” Wesley said .

Shea raised the corner of his mouth and breathed a sigh of relief: “Then can I see my brother? Avery, call him. I want to hear his voice... I also want him to hug him.”

An unnatural emotion flashed in Avery’s eyes, and then in front of her, she dialed Elliot’s number.

Chapter 1214

‘This call cannot be connected’.

Her heart ached suddenly, but she had to pretend to be calm.

“Shea, your brother may be busy, I’ll call him later.” Avery really couldn’t bear to tell Shea the truth now. Even if she can hide it for another day, it is better to wait for Shea to feel better than to say it now.

Wesley gave Avery a deep look. He thought Avery would tell Shea the truth, but he didn’t expect her.

“Okay,” Shea’s eyes flashed with disappointment, and then he said nervously,

“Will my brother blame me? Will he be mad at me?”

“No. Shea, not only is he not mad at you but he misses you very much.” Avery held her hand, “You believe me.”

Shea was relieved, “I believe in you and Wesley the most and my brother.”

“You take a good rest, wait. When you are discharged from the hospital, there will be a surprise for you.” Avery wanted to tell her the truth after she was discharged from the hospital.

“Well. I’m a little sleepy. I’ll go to sleep first. If my brother comes, you must wake me up.” Shea’s voice weakened.

After Shea fell asleep again, Wesley and Avery came out of the ward.

Wesley whispered, “Avery, this matter may not be hidden from her when she is discharged from the hospital. She will stay in the hospital for at least half a month. After a week, if she can’t see Elliot, she will definitely be suspicious.”

Avery expressed her opinion, “Then tell her again in a week. She is too weak now. If she suffers such a blow, I’m afraid it will affect her recovery. My teacher once told me that when a person is sick, if he is in a bad mood, then he subconsciously does not want the disease to get better. In such a situation, the disease will usually take a long time to recover. If the patient is in a good mood and has a positive attitude, the recovery will be much faster.”

“Yeah. Let’s hide it for now. I thought that Adrian would like to meet Shea.

Adrian is really a very nice person. Every time he sees me, They all smiled at me.” Wesley smiled and said.

“They are as kind and gentle as brothers and sisters.”

“After they are discharged from the hospital, they must be settled.” Avery said, rubbing her eyebrows, “My eyes are not very comfortable, these few days. I didn't rest well, and I saw double images. I'm going to buy some medicine."

"Would you like to have a checkup?" Wesley accompanied her, "I'll go with you."

"No, it's because I didn't sleep well. I Just get some medicine."

"Did you take sleeping pills yesterday?" Wesley asked.

"I took half a tablet. So I didn't oversleep today." She laughed at herself, "The feeling after waking up after taking the medicine is still different."

"It's best if you can fall asleep by yourself."

"Then I won't take medicine tonight. After dinner, I'll go for a run in the nearby park."

"Very good. I'm more relieved to see you gradually becoming more cheerful."

Wesley accompanied her to buy medicine.

In the evening, she came home, changed into her sportswear, and was ready to go out for a run.

Before going out, she suddenly thought about Gwen. After hesitating for a while, she dialed the number to Gwen.

At this moment, it is more than seven o'clock in the morning in Aryadelle.

Gwen answered the phone in a daze.

Chapter 1215

"Gwen, have you thought about it?" Avery asked.

Gwen said before that she had made a decision to tell her, but she hasn't told her yet.

"Avery, why do you tell Ben Schaffer about me? Do you know how that old b*stard Ben Schaffer reacted? He scolded me badly, that's enough." Gwen jumped off the bed When she got up, "Ben also forced me to have an abortion. What kind of thing is he? He forced me."

Avery was startled: "I called him, I'm afraid you will do the surgery alone, it's not at ease. "

I know you are kind, but you are doing bad things. Even if you ask your best friend to accompany me to the hospital, it's better than looking for Ben Schaffer." Gwen complained.

"Well." Avery was actually selfish.

The reason why she told Ben Schaffer the news at the first time was because she suspected that Gwen's child was Ben Schaffer's.

Gwen is young and her mind is not mature enough. It would be better if Ben Schaffer knew about it and they made a decision together.

"Forget it, don't tell your best friend. I don't need help from others." Gwen lay down again and continued, "I haven't decided whether to kill this child."

Avery said, "If you don't want to beat him, then don't beat him. Didn't Elliot give you living expenses every month? If it's not enough, I'll give you more money then."

Gwen listened to these words, and her heart warmed: "Why are you so good to me? Elliot has already no longer the boss of the Sterling Group, and although I am his sister, he did not admit me."

Avery: "You are his sister, it has nothing to do with his status. I said, I will help you as much as possible."

"Okay, I don't blame you anymore." Gwen finished childishly and asked, "How is Elliot now? Is he down and doesn't want to see people? If my dad knew that he had become like this, he would definitely regret it."

Avery: "I haven't found Elliot yet."

"Then you have to find him as soon as possible. What if he doesn't want to commit suicide? Isn't it common in social news that rich people commit suicide because of financial problems?" Gwen was not cursing, but really worried about him.

Although the two brother and sister had never met, Gwen could feel that Elliot was a cold and arrogant person.

“Avery, you don’t need to worry about my affairs. I’ve calmed down now. It’s just a trivial matter for me. There’s no need to trouble others at all.” Gwen said.

“Well, I won’t go back to Aryadelle for the time being. If you need help urgently, you should still contact Ben Schaffer.” Avery reminded, “ When I first met Elliot, I was often scolded by Elliot.”

“You are so nice, why did he scold you?” Gwen was puzzled.

“I wasn’t that good at the beginning. Everyone has changed little by little. Some people are getting better and some people are getting worse. Gwen, I hope you can get better.”

Gwen’s cheeks Fever: “Do you always nagging like this? I haven’t had a mother since I was a child. You make me feel like I have an extra mother.”

Avery: “...”

“Do you think Ben Schaffer will know that Elliot is going? Where is it? If he knows, I will move to his house and help you find out.” Gwen disliked her nagging, but she was very moved, so she wanted to help her.

“Ben Schaffer and Elliot have an extraordinary relationship... But if you want to move to his house, he won’t let you go. And you are a girl who moved there...”

Avery raised concerns.

“Don’t worry. I’m pregnant now, and he can’t do anything to me. I’ll move in tonight. I’ll contact you when I find out about Elliot.” Gwen said indifferently.

Gwen hung up After getting on the phone, start packing.

Avery looked at the call that was hung up, a little dazed.

Gwen helped her like this, which made her a little embarrassed.

Chapter 1216

It has been almost a week since Elliot came Yonroeville.

After Kyrie took him to understand most of the industries he is now involved in, he asked him for a drink and a chat.

“You shouldn’t have been in contact with people in Aryadelle these days, right?”

Kyrie said ‘people in Aryadelle’, referring to Avery.

“I have missed my phone.” Elliot raised his glass and took a sip, “I told you last time.”

“Yes, I didn’t forget about it. I sent someone to rummage the villa several times, and I also sent someone to the airport. I searched but I didn’t find your phone. You probably didn’t bring it on the plane.” Kyrie said frankly.

“I’m answering your last question.” Elliot put down his wine glass and looked at the night on the terrace in the distance. “I lost my phone, so I didn’t contact anyone.”

“Hahaha! If you want to contact people in Aryadelle, even if you lose your phone, there are many ways to do it. Didn’t I send someone to buy you a new phone? Avery’s number, You must remember? If you want to contact her, you can contact her at any time. As far as I know, she was looking for you.” Kyrie teased.

“How did you find out?” Elliot frowned. frown.

Elliot didn’t like his privacy being offended and he didn’t like being investigated.

Kyrie raised his eyebrows: “I didn’t check any of your privacy. I just called Ben Schaffer and chatted casually. Ben Schaffer was worried about you. He also tested me and asked me if I had seen you before. I asked him if Avery ran away with that fool named Adrian, and he said...” Kyrie said this, deliberately selling out.

Elliot saw him holding up the wine glass, so he picked up the wine glass and touched it with him.

“Ben Schaffer said that Avery was looking for you and wanted to save you.”

Kyrie’s deep eagle eyes looked at Elliot, “Elliot, how are you thinking? Listen to my advice once. If you go back to Aryadelle now, although you still have some assets on hand, but to those real rich people, you are nothing. Even if you and Avery get together again, relying on Avery’s Tate Industries, you can barely make it into the upper class.”

Kyrie continued, “And after a long time, if you fail to make a comeback, maybe Avery will despise you. Women are the most snobbish. Even if Avery is not like that. A woman, but if she can hurt you once, she can hurt you countless times. Elliot, if you fall once or twice in one place, it can be said to be careless. That is truly hopeless.”

Kyrie pointed to the exit, “If you think what I said is wrong, you can leave. If you leave this time, our brothers will return to the bridge road in the future. I will give Others, only give one chance. And I have given you several chances. I treat you differently from others. You should be able to feel it.”

Elliot drank the wine in his glass.

“I’ll give you An answer tomorrow.” Elliot put down his glass and strode away.

Kyrie looked at his tall back and let out a deep breath. “It’s really tough. I gave him such attractive conditions, and he still has to consider it.”

The assistant said, “Don’t you just admire Elliot? If he really agreed to follow you, he would definitely not betray you. “

Kyrie sighed, I’m afraid he won’t bow his head. I pity him, but he refuses to submit to me. I really don’t know what kind of magic and soul medicine that Avery gave Elliot, and he actually made him surrender. Give up your own country. It's really evil."

Heroes from ancient times have been saddened by beauty."

"What kind of beauty is Avery?"

"You think Avery is not beautiful, but Elliot thinks she is beautiful."

"Hehe, if he forgets Avery and brings Avery to him, do you think he will still be fascinated by her?" Kyrie was very curious.

The assistant said cautiously, "Maybe, maybe not. After all, no one can predict what his temperament will be after the operation. Besides, he hasn't agreed to the operation yet."

Kyrie's expression was inscrutable, "I think Elliot is shaken. I looked at him tonight, and it seemed to be shaken."

The assistant said, "Then don't I want to congratulate you in advance? If Elliot completely lost his memory, wouldn't he be at your mercy?"

What the h-e-l-l are you thinking about? I'm sure I can't mess with his mind. I'm pointing him to make money for me." Kyrie took out a cigar, and the assistant immediately took out a lighter and lit it for him.

In the dark night, the flames rise.

Elliot returned to the villa where he stayed.

Alcohol on top, spread to limbs and bones. There was a dull pain in the temple.

After changing his slippers, he walked towards the living room sofa.

The nanny who took care of his daily life saw him coming back and immediately came over: "Mr. Foster, do you need anything?"

Chapter 1217

"Give me a glass of water." Elliot sat down on the sofa and simply ordered.

The nanny immediately brought a glass of water and handed it to him.

He took the water glass, took a sip, and began to think about the consequences he would face after the operation.

—Before today, he hadn't really thought about it.

—What Kyrie Jobin said to him tonight made his dead heart ignite a lingering hatred.

—He would not have been lonely here.

—Why did he fall like this?

—Does his life really have to be wasted in such a senseless way?

—He was not reconciled.

—Whether he is Elliot or Nathan's illegitimate son, his life should not be destroyed and defined by anyone.

—He doesn't want anyone to look up to him, what he wants is that others can't look up to him.

After putting the water glass down, he said to the nanny, "Give me a pen and a notepad."

The nanny immediately went to get him a pen and notepad.

Elliot took the pen and notepad back to the bedroom and locked the door.

After turning on the bedroom light, he strode to the desk.

If this operation is to be done, then he needs to put some key information on paper.

In case, after the operation, he really don't remember anything, and he can have a certificate for doing things when he see this notebook in the future.

He hesitated for a few seconds before writing.

After he figured out what to write, he quickly wrote down——

——I have three children, Hayden, Layla, and Robert.

——Both of my parents died, and everyone I cared about has passed away.

Writing here, he suddenly stopped.

There was a sharp pain in his heart.

There seems to be nothing left to record.

Apart from the three children, the person he cared about most was Shea, but Shea was already dead.

And Avery... He didn't want to think of her, let alone record her name.

As long as he thinks of her face and sees her name, he feels like he has been pierced by thousands of arrows and is in pain.

The human body has a stress response. Elliot is holding the pen now and wants to write down the words 'Avery', but his fingers are shaking violently.

He couldn't write this name 'Avery' at all.

The next day, eight in the morning.

Elliot came out of the bedroom.

At a glance, he saw Kyrie Jobin sitting on the sofa in the living room.

You don't need to ask, you can guess that Kyrie is forcing him to answer.

"Elliot, you're up. Let's go to breakfast first. Let's talk about business after breakfast." Kyrie got up with a smile and strode towards him.

Chapter 1218

Bridgedale.

Hospital, inpatient department.

Adrian opened his eyes and saw Cole, his gentle eyes suddenly became extremely cold.

Avery told him that he should treat Cole as air.

Because he is a patient now, even if he ignores Cole, Cole will not be angry.

"Uncle, are you awake?" Cole saw Adrian open his eyes, and immediately said with a smile, "I bought you a tonic soup and put it in a thermos box, and I'll give it to you now. You can drink it yourself. Do you need to feed?"

Of course Cole didn't want to feed him.

Adrian just had one kidney removed, his hands were fine, and he had absolutely no problem eating.

Adrian looked at Cole coldly and shook his head.

"Aren't you hungry?" Cole's smile solidified and persuaded, "You haven't eaten for so long, how can you not be hungry? If you don't eat, it will affect your recovery."

Cole looked forward to his early discharge from the hospital, so of course take good care of him.

Adrian still shook his head.

"Are you really not hungry, or don't want me to feed you?" Cole looked at his haggard appearance and began to think of a way, "How about I let Avery feed you?"

Adrian nodded.

Cole cursed in his heart: 'Saying you are a fool, you know how to pick someone to serve you.'

Cole put down the insulation box, took out his mobile phone, and dialed Avery.

Not long after, Avery came to the ward.

"Cole, you go out first. You are here to affect my mood." Avery sat down beside the hospital bed.

"Ha ha ha! Avery, you are really interesting. It was Elliot who took the initiative to transfer the equity to Adrian, and it wasn't me who forced him with a knife."

The reason why Cole mentioned this was to deliberately disgust her, "Now If you ignore my love, you won't be able to climb high in the future." After Cole finished speaking, he strode out.

After the door of the ward was closed, Avery opened the thermos cup, and a strong fragrance overflowed, making people greedy.

“Avery, when will he leave?” Adrian asked.

“It’s coming.” Avery raised the head of the bed and fed him soup, “you just need to remember my words and ignore Cole.”

“I ignored Cole. But I don’t want to see him. He’s here, I can only sleep with my eyes closed.” Adrian’s voice was dull, “How is my sister?”

“Shea woke up for a while today, and her body is much weaker than yours. So I haven’t told her about you yet. It’s her brother. I’m afraid she’s too emotional and her body can’t stand it.”

Adrian replied, “Avery, I’ll drink soup myself.”

He took the soup bowl and quickly finished the soup.

After handing her the empty bowl, Adrian looked out the window.

“Avery, go back quickly. It’s getting dark.” While Adrian hoped that she would go home to rest soon, he was reluctant to let her go, “Will you come to see me tomorrow?”

“As long as you don’t want to eat tomorrow, I will come and feed you.” Avery gave him an idea.

The corner of Adrian’s mouth raised a happy smile.

At this time, in Aryadelle, the morning light sprinkled the sky and the earth like gold.

It was seven o’clock in the morning, and the villa area was quiet, as if it had not changed from the dark night.

Gwen dragged her suitcase and appeared at the door of Ben Schaffer’s house.

She took out the eye drops from her pocket and put it into her eyes.

After two lines of tears, she took a deep breath and rang the doorbell.

In the villa, Ben Schaffer woke up from his dream when he heard the knock on the door, and hurriedly came out of the bedroom with his slippers on.

The sound of 'bang bang bang' was like a drum, clearly reaching his ears.

Ben immediately turned back to the bedroom, picked up his mobile phone, and was ready to call the police at any time.

Chapter 1219

After he got his mobile phone, he strode to the door and saw Gwen's face on the access control display, a burst of fire and black smoke coming from his head.

He has changed the password of the courtyard gate, how did Gwen enter his courtyard?

Apart from jumping over the wall, he couldn't think of any other possibility.

He opened the door in order to figure out the problem.

As a result, the door opened, and Gwen immediately carried her suitcase and entered his living room.

Ben Schaffer: "!!!"

He just watched her blatantly break into his house, not knowing what to do.

Ben Schaffer said angrily, "Gwen, What are you doing?"

"I moved the house." Gwen sat down on the sofa, holding her suitcase in both hands, watching with tears in her eyes. Looking at Ben, "someone kept knocking on my door last night. I checked the surveillance this morning, and that person was a man and a pervert... So I can't continue to live there."

Ben Schaffer suddenly closed Getting angry, he walked up to her and asked, "Have you called the police?"

Gwen shook her head: "I have already cancelled the lease. I thought about it..."

"Don't cry yet. I'll give you a new lease on life. Rent a house." Ben Schaffer interrupted her.

Gwen shook her head and complained: "I am so beautiful, no matter where I rent, there will be perverts looking for them. I have been attracted to perverts since I was a child."

Ben Schaffer: "....."

"I thought about it, although I hate you very much, but your house is bigger and the security is good, so I'd better live with you." Gwen raised her hand to wipe her tears, "Don't worry, I will pay you the rent. The living expenses that my brother gives me every month, you don't have to give it to me, just treat it as your rent."

Ben Schaffer was stunned: "No... You didn't say you don't want your second brother, Elliot. Do you have the money?"

"I'm so miserable, you still want to severely deduct the living expenses my second brother gave me?" Gwen looked at him in disbelief.

"What do you mean by harsh deduction... You decide to give birth to a child and then give up your living expenses!"

Gwen stared at him blankly and said, "My second brother doesn't know about my pregnancy. Could it be that Have you contacted Elliot? Avery has been looking for him, if you have his whereabouts, then I will call Avery now..."

Ben Schaffer immediately stopped her: "Don't be fooling around. Avery will contact Elliot. If I can't get on Elliot, how can I contact him."

Gwen said, "It's not worth it. My second brother must have given you a lot of money in advance and asked you to transfer it to me every month. My dad will be executed in half a month. My eldest brother doesn't care about me, the second brother's whereabouts are unknown, and I will be an orphan soon."

At this moment, it goes out.

Gwen is indeed quite miserable, but also quite irritating.

As long as Ben thinks that Gwen has a wild seed of an old man in her belly, he will be dismayed.

And Gwen will live in his house in the future, and Ben will be in pain every day.

Ben: "If you don't, go and kill the child first..."

"I won't." Gwen said firmly, "Why are you not able to get along with the child in my womb? I haven't even given birth to my child yet. It doesn't take up any space in your home, could it be that you want to charge rent for two people?"

Ben Schaffer was speechless. He turned back to the room.

Gwen sighed heavily. The first move in the plan, success!

The second step is to inquire about Elliot's whereabouts.

As long as there is news about Elliot from Ben Schaffer's side, Gwen believes that he will know it immediately.

.....

Yonroeville.

In the hospital, the doctor handed a surgical risk notice to Elliot.

"Mr. Foster, you can rest assured that even if the operation fails, you will at most maintain the status."

Elliot took the risk notice and read it carefully.

Chapter 1220

"Elliot, do it." Kyrie stood beside him and urged, "There have been 300 clinical trials, all of which have been successful."

"Mr. Kyrie, to be precise, there are 301 successful cases. Did you forget that you also had this operation?" The doctor said with a smile.

Elliot immediately looked at Kyrie.

Kyrie laughed suddenly: "Of course I didn't forget it, I just didn't want to mention it.” He looked at Elliot, “Do you know Rocky? I heard that he is a golden retriever who has been by my side for 20 years.”

“I know, Rocky is died.”

“Yes, people around me told me the same. I had surgery to clear the memory of it. So I don’t remember my feelings for it now,” Kyrie said, his face was slightly red, “I didn’t expect that I would have such deep feelings for a dog. It’s a shame to say it, so I didn’t tell you about my surgery.”

“You really don’t remember Rocky?” Elliot was shocked and look at him.

Kyrie nodded: “Do you think I’m smiling so happily, like pretending? I hate dogs now, and I would never keep a dog, let alone develop feelings for a dog.”

Elliot looked at the smile on his face not as pretentious.

Afterwards, Elliot signed his name on the risk notice.

.....

Time flies, three days have passed.

Adrian can be discharged from the hospital in another day.

Cole’s spirit was obviously high. Today he ordered a luxurious lunch for Adrian.

After lunch was delivered to the hospital, he immediately called Avery and asked her to feed Adrian.

Cole is now inseparable from Adrian. The more critical it is, the more it is necessary to ensure the safety of Adrian.

Cole knew that Avery was not willing to return Adrian to him, so he had to guard Avery strictly.

Adrian frowned, “Avery, Cole said just now that I can be discharged from the hospital tomorrow. But I feel that my body is still very weak, can I really be discharged from the hospital?”

Before Avery could speak, Cole took the lead and Answered: “Of course you can be discharged. You have been in the hospital for a week. If you feel very weak, when I take you back to Aryadelle, I will hire a super nannie to take care of you. Or you can go to the hospital if you want. I'll arrange an intensive care unit for you."

Adrian looked at Avery.

Avery reassured, "Adrian, don't be afraid. Cole is your nephew, he will definitely not harm you. You will have an examination tomorrow, and if the result of the examination is ok, you can go back to Aryadelle with him."

"What if there is something wrong with my test results?" Adrian asked.

Cole comforted, "Uncle, you won't have a problem. If you have a problem, the doctor would have treated you long ago. I know you can't bear Avery. Don't worry, her home is also in Aryadelle. Wait for her in the future. When you return to Aryadelle, I will arrange for the two of you to meet."

Adrian lost his appetite immediately: "I'm full."

Cole glanced at the rest of the lunch on the table: "Uncle, how much do you want to eat? If you can't eat it, forget it, and when you return to Aryadelle, I will let someone cook you delicious food from the mountains and seas every day."

Avery packed up the leftovers and left the ward with a garbage bag.

Cole's cell phone rang. Seeing that it was his father's call, he immediately took it: "Dad, don't worry, everything is normal here. I will bring Adrian back to Aryadelle tomorrow."

"What is Avery's attitude?" Henry asked.

"What attitude can she have? Could it be that she can still kidnap Adrian?"

Haha! I think she has already accepted her fate. It's not good if she doesn't accept her fate." Cole smiled wickedly.

"That's right, now that she doesn't have Elliot's backer, what else can she do?"

Henry laughed.

Cole suddenly changed the subject: "I don't know what my aunt's situation is now."

"Aren't you going to visit her? Anyway, she's your aunt." Henry smiled restrained.

Cole said, "They won't let me see. At first they said she was in the intensive care unit and she was not allowed to visit. I thought that after so many days, it is impossible for her to be still in the intensive care unit."

"It's easy to say. But don't worry about other things, the most important thing right now is to bring Adrian back to Aryadelle safely." Henry was eager to learn, "I've already ordered a big meal for you."

"Okay!"

Avery went from Adrian's ward After coming out, went to Wesley.

Wesley was in the intensive care unit and was taking care of Shea.

Shea was transferred from the intensive care unit yesterday.

Chapter 1221

Shea's body is very weak, but her consciousness is much clearer than a few days ago.

Seeing Avery coming in, Wesley immediately walked to the door: "She just fell asleep, let's go out to talk."

Avery nodded.

The two came to the doctor's duty room and closed the door.

Avery said, "I won't go back tonight. Tonight must be successful. Otherwise, Adrian will be taken away by Cole."

"Well. Don't worry, I have already arranged it. There should be no problem. "

Avery said, "The house needs to be determined as soon as possible. The place you told me the day before yesterday, I don't think it's safe enough."

Wesley said, "Then according to your opinion. Although this is a bit troublesome for others, but The place you chose is indeed relatively safe."

"Okay."

Avery chose Professor James Hough's former residence.

After Professor James Hough passed away, his former residence was left unused.

His former home is near the medical school, next to the local police station.

This is also the reason why Avery chose here.

She called Professor James Hough's son the day before yesterday, and the other party agreed to let Adrian live in her father's former residence.

At night.

Adrian suddenly woke up from his sleep and shouted. Cole immediately got up from the escort bed and walked to his bedside.

The next morning, Cole opened his eyes and woke up and saw two police officers staring at him. Cole thought he had a nightmare, so he reached out and rubbed his eyes.

"Cole, please come back to the police station with us." The unfamiliar and serious voice made Cole get goosebumps.

"What are you doing?" Cole got up from the bed and saw that Adrian's hospital bed was empty. He was startled and sweated, "What about the patient lying on this bed? Where are the others?"

After he asked aloud, with a 'click' sound, the cold shackles bound his wrists.

"You are suspected of intentional injury and are now officially under arrest."

Cole was stunned.

Who did he intentionally hurt?

what happened?

“Avery, Did you find someone here? You shameless woman. You will do anything to get my uncle. You are extremely shameless. I did not commit a crime. I was wronged. You let me go. Today I have to go back to Aryadelle. I have to bring my uncle back to Aryadelle! Ah!”

Cole’s exclamation ran through the entire corridor of the ward.

At the same time, Adrian was sent to the former residence of Professor James Hough.

Last night, Adrian cooperated with them to perform a play. He was thirsty in the middle of the night, so Cole got up and poured water for him.

The water in the kettle on the table contains poison that can cause death.

After Adrian pretended to drink water for two hours, he was sent to the emergency room.

The nurse on duty called the police, saying that Cole gave poison and wanted to kill Adrian.

Hence the scene that happened in the hospital just now.

“Avery, you can rest assured to find Elliot.” Wesley said to Avery.

Chapter 1222

Avery shook her head: “I don’t have his whereabouts now and I don’t know where to find him. Shea is not completely out of danger yet, so I’m still more worried about her. I’ll talk about her when she’s discharged from the hospital.”

Wesley: “Can’t you log in to Elliot’s account? You can ask his friends.”

Avery: “Are you asking me to use his account to ask his friends?”

Wesley: “You can also use your own thoughts, Elliot is a living person and cannot disappear from this world out of thin air. As long as you inquire more, you will definitely be able to find out about him.”

Avery: "Actually, there is no news of him like this, which is good news. If anything happens to him, it will definitely be in the news. Now I can't find any news about him, which means he is still alive."

"You will comfort yourself." Wesley smiled helplessly.

"I wanted to find him very much at first, and I was so anxious that I was going crazy. It turned out that even if I was so anxious, it was useless." Avery had some problems with her body recently, and she kept insisting without telling anyone. She couldn't push herself too hard. Otherwise, if Elliot was not found, her body would collapse first.

"Even if you can't find Elliot for the rest of your life, you still have to live your life the way you want." Wesley patted her on the shoulder, "Hayden is about to go on vacation, how did you arrange for the children?"

"Where do they use me? Arrangement." Avery smiled, "Hayden's study plan is arranged by his teacher. His teacher has high hopes for him, wishing that he would devote himself to studying 24 hours a day. As for Layla, she's with Eric, I can't do it at all. Be careful."

"Do you miss Robert?" Wesley asked.

Avery pulled out a wry smile: "I'm most worried about him. There were so many people around him before. Now everyone is not around him, I feel so pitiful."

"He has to eat, play and sleep now and would be very happy. He's not pitiful."

"Listening to you, I feel much better."

"Life is too short, there's no need to worry all the time. Are you staying here for a while, or go home to rest? I'm going to the police station now." Wesley said .

"I'm here with Adrian for a while. He is relatively unfamiliar with this place and may be more cautious."

"Okay."

After Wesley left, Avery took Adrian's hand and led him to familiarize himself with the environment here.

"This is my teacher's house. I can perform surgery on you because he cultivated me." Avery said, "There is a small yard in the back. If you stay in the house and get bored, you can go to the yard to get some air. You just finished the operation, and you can't go to crowded places yet."

"Okay."

The police station.

Cole was very emotional and shouted loudly.

"Adrian is my uncle, how could I poison him? I didn't put the pot of water there, someone framed me. The person who framed me was Avery. Go and arrest Avery, I want to tell her Confrontation."

After Wesley came over, Cole was even more excited.

"Where's Avery? Isn't she afraid to confront me?"

Wesley walked up to him and said with a cold face, "Adrian is out of danger. Now I give you two choices, if you refuse to admit it. You voted for the poison, so let's file a lawsuit. We have sufficient evidence in our hands, which is enough for you to go to jail in Bridgedale. The second choice is that you admit that you did it, because it didn't cause a catastrophe, Therefore, the punishment can be lightened."

Cole felt dizzy. He feels like he's been slapped hard.

"Cole, the laws of Bridgedale are different from those of Aryadelle. I suggest you weigh it carefully before making a decision." Wesley threatened in a low voice.

Cole gritted his teeth and swallowed it in his stomach.

This account, he recorded.

....

Aryadelle, weekend.

Ben Schaffer got up at ten o'clock in the morning and heard the sound of a kitchen knife chopping a chopping board.

He strode over and saw Gwen wearing an apron, cooking in the kitchen.

"Gwen, what are you doing?" Ben Schaffer frowned, thinking he was hallucinating.

Chapter 1223

Because Gwen eats takeout almost every meal, Ben Schaffer always thought Gwen couldn't cook. But seeing her chopping vegetables move smoothly, it is clear that Gwen is someone who often cooks.

Gwen put the sliced cucumbers on the plate, "The part-time worker you hired is only for housework, not cooking."

Ben Schaffer teased, "You can order takeout. Don't you eat takeout every day?"

"How do you know that I eat takeout every day?" Gwen has been staying at home for the past few days.

But when Gwen eats takeout every day, Ben is not at home.

Ben Schaffer sneered, "The aunt who collected the garbage told me. Don't you think that you are tired of eating takeaway, so you cook?"

Gwen shook her head, "The takeout is so delicious, how could I be tired of eating it? I saw online saying that pregnant women should not eat takeout, it's not good for the baby, so I decided to do it myself."

The smile on Ben Schaffer's face disappeared.

"I'll make lunch for you later. I have something to tell you." Gwen said seriously.

Ben Schaffer's temple started to hurt.

Ben: "What's the matter with you? Tell me now."

Gwen: "I'm out of work right now..."

Ben: "Well, you asked me to help you find a job, right?"

"No." Gwen looked at him and thought she was right. She interrupted him,

"Didn't you let me go to school before? If you pay me tuition, I'll go to school."

Ben Schaffer: "..."

With a gloomy face, Ben said nothing and went to the living room.

Gwen immediately chased after him.

"Gwen, since you plan to give birth to a child, why don't you go to the child's father to take over your life?" Ben Schaffer's heart was beating violently, and he roared out of his heart, "What do you want to do with me? What do you dare to do with me, and you still want me to be a father?"

Gwen: "Just think that you are lending me money to go to school. When I make money, I will pay it back to you."

Ben: "Why don't you go to Avery to borrow money?"

"You're so stingy." Gwen couldn't agree on anything. She immediately returned to the kitchen, picked up the kitchen knife again, and chopped the chopping board with a bang.

Ben Schaffer changed his mind. Just when Ben was about to take a drink and go to the kitchen to talk to her again, Chad's phone call came.

"Brother Ben, why are you suddenly looking for Kyrie?"

When Ben Schaffer got up just now, he sent a message to Chad asking for Kyrie's contact information.

"He called me a few days ago and talked with me a little." Ben Schaffer walked to the sofa and sat down, "He never called me on his own initiative. Although we knew each other's existence, we were completely unfamiliar. "

I'm not familiar with him either. Although I saved his number, but I haven't contacted him. I remember you have his number. "Chad said.

"Yes, I saved it before. But he gave it to me last time. The call was from another unfamiliar number. I called last night, but that number no longer exists."

Ben Schaffer became suspicious because of this incident.

When things go wrong, there must be demons.

Elliot's whereabouts are unknown now, and Kyrie suddenly called. Although he didn't talk about anything important, it was abnormal.

"Then can you get through his previous number you saved?" Chad asked.

"Can't get through." Ben Schaffer frowned, "I suspect Elliot is on his side."

Chapter 1224

Gwen heard his voice on the phone clearly in the kitchen. She knew that in addition to Avery looking for Elliot, Ben Schaffer must also be looking for him.

She was lying at the door of the kitchen, eavesdropping openly.

Ben Schaffer didn't realize that Gwen was eavesdropping.

After finishing talking on the phone, he turned his sore neck, and with a 'swish' out of the corner of his eyes, he saw Gwen's head coming out of the kitchen.

"What are you doing?" Ben Schaffer felt that she was sneaking, as if a large monitor was hanging over his head.

Gwen immediately came out of the kitchen, "You don't have millet peppers at home, I like spicy food, and I can't do without millet peppers."

Ben Schaffer raised his eyebrows and said, "Why don't you buy vegetables when you buy them? You shouldn't expect Shall I buy it for you?"

Gwen walked up to him and said, "Let's go buy it together. You twisted your neck just now, isn't your neck uncomfortable? You lack exercise and need to move around more. As you get older, your body will get worse, and if you exercise more, it will improve a lot.”

She said, reaching out and grabbing his arm, trying to pull him up from the sofa.

Ben Schaffer felt that he was out of touch.

“Gwen, don’t do anything to me. Don’t think I dare to treat you if you are pregnant now.” Ben Schaffer said harshly.

“Why are you like this? How many times have you pulled my arm before? Why didn’t I wiggle like you? Are you still a man?”

Ben Schaffer’s lips moved, and he didn’t know how to refute.

“I don’t want to go out with you, okay?” Ben Schaffer said.

“No. I’m not familiar with this place, you take me to buy it.” Gwen said firmly.

“How did you buy the vegetables in your kitchen?” Ben Schaffer was shocked.

“I bought it on the grocery shopping app but I only lack millet peppers now. I buy a few millet peppers, and no one else will deliver them to me.” Gwen said, forcibly dragged Ben Schaffer out.

Along the way, Ben Schaffer looked around for fear of meeting an acquaintance.

Walking with Gwen, Ben felt... ashamed.

In case someone mistakenly thinks they are a couple, the explanation is unclear.

“Ben Schaffer, my father will be executed soon. My eldest brother said he would not come to collect his body, and my second brother is not here. I am a girl, how can I collect my father’s body?”

Ben Schaffer heard Her words were suddenly serious.

Gwen looked at him sadly and asked, “Can you get my second brother back before my dad dies? I really don’t know what to do, I’m a weak woman, and I can't help but collect the corpse. How can I do this well?"

"If your second brother can't come back by then, I will help your dad get the funeral done. Don't worry about it." Ben Schaffer frowned, reassuring her .

"Where is my second brother now? I still hope he can come back, because before my dad turned himself in, he said Elliot was the pride of our White family."

Ben Schaffer frowned, "I don't know where he is. I'm also looking for him."

Gwen: "Didn't you just say that you suspected who he was with? Who was that person?"

Ben: "You overheard me talking on the phone?"

Gwen: "I'm not deaf, of course I can hear anything in your house. Ah!"

Ben: "You also heard me say doubt, it doesn't mean that your second brother is really with someone else."

"Then you must have a basis for suspecting that person. Just like you never doubted that the child in my womb was Yours, because you don't think the two of us have done it... right?" Gwen looked at him without blinking.

Ben Schaffer got goosebumps all over: "What does the wild species in your stomach have to do with me? If you can't speak, just shut up."

"If you get my second brother back, I'll shut up. Otherwise I'll bother you every day." Gwen threatened him.

Chapter 1225

After lunch, Gwen sent a message to Avery: Ben Schaffer has a suspect. But he refused to say who that person was. But it doesn't matter, I found that he called Chad and said this, you go and ask Chad.

At that time, when buying millet peppers, Gwen lied that he did not bring a mobile phone and asked Ben Schaffer to pay.

Ben Schaffer took out his phone and unlocked it, and she took it away immediately.

She pretended to accidentally open his call log, and saw that the last phone call was with Chad.

Regardless of Ben Schaffer's image of a mature elite outside, in Gwen's eyes, he is just an elderly man.

There are so many ways for her to deal with Ben Schaffer.

No, within a few days of moving in, she got the first-hand news.

....

In Bridgedale.

Avery's mobile phone received the message, and the screen lit up.

She didn't wake up. She came back late at night and had no time to exercise, so she took half a sleeping pill before going to bed. She can't sleep without sleeping pills. No matter how much she understood in her heart and how relieved she was in her mouth, as long as there was no whereabouts of Elliot for a day, her heart seemed to be missing a large piece.

When she woke up in the morning, she lifted the quilt and got out of bed, found a water glass, and took a large glass of water to drink.

Her throat was so dry that it seemed to burn. After drinking water, she felt better.

She went back to the bedroom, picked up her phone, and first saw the message from Mike: [Hayden is on holiday, I'll take them both to see Shea later.]

She replied immediately: [OK. be careful on the road.]

After replying to the message, Avery casually opened the message sent by Gwen.

After seeing the content, her body froze immediately.

Without any thought, she immediately exited Whatsapp and found Chad's number to dial.

The phone dialed and rang for a while before being answered.

"Avery, I just had no signal in the company's underground parking lot, and I saw your call when I came up." Chad drove into the main road in front of the company building, and put on a Bluetooth headset at the same time.

Avery: "Did you just get off work?"

"Well. You called me, maybe something happened to Mike?" Chad was suddenly nervous.

"He's fine." Avery immediately explained, "Chad, do you have news about Elliot?"

Chad: "No. If I have news about him, I will definitely tell you, don't worry."

"But I heard that Ben Schaffer is the suspect." Avery said bluntly.

Chad let out an 'ah', then asked with a smile, "Who told you? Brother Ben did call me this morning."

"Who does he suspect?" Go to him. I'll be free soon, I'll go to him."

Chad said, "Ben is just suspicious, not sure where the boss is. And where exactly that person is, I and Ben are both don't know."

"Who is that person?" Her heart raised in her throat, "What is the basis for Ben Schaffer's suspicion of this person? He can't just doubt it casually, right?"

"This person and the boss have known each other for many years. Now, I usually only see each other when something big happens. So Ben Schaffer and I haven't met this person a few times in total, and we have never been in contact with him. But this person called Ben Schaffer a few days ago and talked about my boss, I also talked about you."

Chad thought of something when he said this.

He continued, "By the way, you've met this person. His name is Kyrie Jobin, and he came before you got married."

Chapter 1226

Avery felt a sense of familiarity upon hearing this name. She had heard the name, but for a while, she couldn't match the name with a specific person.

"Oh! I remembered." She suddenly whispered, "People call him Brother Carrier."

"Yes. That's him, Kyrie Jobin."

"Because I don't like him, and I told Elliot to stop interacting with him, so he hates me very much. He also asked a woman to talk to me specifically and let me leave Elliot." Avery said this and took a deep breath, "If Elliot is really on his side, then I'm afraid Don't get back to him. Elliot knows that I am incompatible with Kyrie."

Chad looked embarrassed: "Actually, the problem now is whether to find Elliot or not, but to know where he is, whether he is safe or not, and how he is doing. If he's on Kyrie's side, as long as he's doing well, it doesn't matter."

"Well. You don't know Kyrie's specific location. Do you know which country he's in?" Avery planned to find him.

Chad said, "People like Kyrie invest in projects all over the world and have no fixed address. But I know that he made his fortune in Yonroeville. If you want to go to Yonroeville, it is best not to go alone. There Many legal provisions are different from those in Aryadelle, and the law and order is relatively poor. If you go there, you must have bodyguards with you."

"Okay, I see."

In the hospital.

Mike came to Shea's ward with Layla and Hayden.

After the two children entered the ward, Mike took Wesley outside the ward and asked about Shea's situation.

"She is in a stable condition now. But there may be a rejection reaction in the future." Wesley said.

"Oh, I think she's so thin, I almost didn't recognize her." Not only Mike was frightened, Hayden and Layla were also frightened.

The two children stood by the hospital bed, staring at Shea's face, looking carefully to identify whether she was Shea or not.

"Hayden, Layla, I am so happy that you came to see me." Shea looked at them and was very excited, "You have grown a lot taller."

If the two of them didn't recognize Shea's appearance, but Shea's sound has not changed.

"Shea, why are you so sick? You look so pitiful." Layla's little face was wrinkled,

"Why didn't you tell us you were sick earlier? That way we can visit you often! "

"I'm afraid you're worried about me. I hope you're happy every day." Shea didn't regret hiding them at all.

"Shea, when you are discharged from the hospital, you can live with my mother." Hayden said distressedly, "Although you are not my aunty but my mother will take good care of you."

Hayden's words made Shea frown. Suddenly wrinkled.

"Hayden, why am I not your aunt?" Shea asked, "My brother is your father, so I'm your aunt... Isn't that right?"

After she finished, Hayden was stunned.

Hayden walked quickly towards the door of the ward and asked Wesley: "Uncle Wesley, you haven't told Shea that Elliot isn't her brother?"

Wesley: "No. Your mother is afraid that she won't be able to accept it and wants to wait for her. What's the matter?"

"I accidentally told her." Hayden blamed herself, "She's so sad."

Wesley quickly entered the ward and saw Shea's face blank and panic.

Wesley held Shea's hand and said, "Shea, calm down first. We originally wanted to wait until you were discharged from the hospital and then tell you, because you are still relatively weak. Elliot is not your brother, your brother's name is Adrian. It was Adrian who donated a kidney to you and saved your life."

Chapter 1227

Shea burst into tears.

"I know it's hard for you to accept this result, but you don't have to worry. Even if you're not Elliot's sister, he still loves you. After he knows about this, his feelings for you have not changed." Wesley took a tissue and said, Wipe her tears.

"Shea, don't cry. Even if you're not my aunt, I still love you." Layla was very distressed when she saw her cry, "Look at my brother who said you were discharged from the hospital and moved to our house. We I like you all!"

Shea listened to Layla's tender and sonorous voice, her tears stopped: "I like you too...but I still care about Elliot...I have never seen him. I..."

"He's left." Layla answered her, "He didn't know you were here. Because his phone didn't work."

Hearing the words, Shea's tears fell again.

"Shea, didn't you say that you were afraid of letting him see you as you are now? It just so happens that you are recovering well now. When you are healed, Avery will bring him to see you." Wesley wiped her tears again.

Shea asked worriedly, "Why did he disappear? Will he be in danger? Why did this happen? He's not a child anymore, so why did he disappear?"

"He got angry with my mother, so he left. "Layla used her own understanding to tell the reason, "Don't be sad, Shea, I'm not sad. He used to say that he loved me the most, but now people don't know where to hide, hum."

Shea Seeing Layla's angry look, she wanted to cry but couldn't cry.

On the way to the hospital, Avery saw the message from Mike.

Mike said Avery that he was at the hospital with Layla and Hayden.

Avery parked the car in the hospital parking lot and immediately pushed the door to get out. When she got out of the car, a figure immediately stood in front of her.

"Avery, why didn't I find you so sinister and vicious before?" Cole didn't sleep all night.

In order not to go to jail, he could only admit against his will that he had poisoned himself. After he admitted to poisoning, the police immediately made him sign a no-contact order.

Since he signed the no-contact order, he is in Bridgedale and will not be able to approach Adrian.

Once he gets close to Adrian, he will be taken away by the police.

He didn't expect that after admitting poisoning, there would be such a consequence. But he had already signed it, and it was too late to regret it.

Avery pushed his body away and said, "Cole, in terms of insidiousness and viciousness, I'm afraid I'm less than one ten thousandth of yours. You can't touch Adrian anymore, if you violate the ban three times, you will be formally arrested. You shouldn't have spent the money for selling your old house, right? You can't have fun in prison."

“Don’t worry about my heart here. Unless you can let Adrian hide in Bridgedale for the rest of his life. Otherwise, there is a chance.” Cole didn’t want to admit defeat, “I heard that Elliot is left, maybe he has died in some corner now. After all, if he loses the Sterling Group, he loses everything.”

Avery heard him say ‘death’ This word, sanity instantly collapsed.

She raised her hand and slapped Cole.

“Get out of here.”

“Haha! I won’t get out. I can’t get close to Adrian, I will disgust you in front of you.” Cole put on a rogue look.

“Okay, I’m going to find Elliot soon, you can go with me.” Avery grabbed his wrist and wanted to pull him into the car.

Cole felt as if Avery was crazy, and a cold sweat broke out on his back.

He pushed her away and cursed, “Go find him. It’s better to die outside with him. When you all die, the Sterling Group will be mine.”

After Cole left, Avery held the car door, Breathing heavily.

Chapter 1228

Elliot Won’t Die and Avery won’t die either. She won’t let Cole’s tricks succeed.

After adjusting her emotions, she came to the inpatient department. She happened to see Mike coming out of Shea’s ward with Layla and Hayden.

“Mom.” Layla saw her and strode toward her.

Avery opened her arms and took her daughter into her arms.

“Mom, I miss you so much. Do you miss me?” Layla acted like a spoiled child in Avery’s arms.

“Of course mom misses you. If you don’t come back, mom will find you.” Avery kissed her daughter’s soft cheek.

“Mom, we saw Shea. Shea knew my dad wasn’t her brother, and she cried. But we coaxed her.” Layla told her mother one by one what happened, “Wait for Shea to be discharged from the hospital. Now, let her live with us.”

“Yes. But mom has to go to find your dad first.” Avery frankly told the child, “Mom will go to Yonroeville next. No matter if you can find your dad or not, mom will be there for you. Come back once a month.”

Layla’s mouth shrunk suddenly: “I come back once a month, but only twelve times a year, what if I can’t find my father?”

Avery was stunned for a moment: “If you still can’t find him at the end of the year, then I won’t look for him yet.”

“If you don’t look for him, does that mean he’ll never come back?” Layla suddenly felt uncomfortable. “I finally recognized my father, but it didn’t take long for my father to leave. Was it doomed that I couldn’t have a father?”

“Layla, Mom can’t answer your question. Your dad is an adult, not a child. He might come back, or he might never come back.” Avery said with a stiff smile on her lips. “Mom will take you to dinner first.”

They found a restaurant near the hospital for dinner.

Hayden took out a golden trophy from his schoolbag and handed it to Avery.

“Mom, I give it to you.”

Avery took the trophy and saw the Gold Award of the Hacker Cup Contest written on it.

“Didn’t you reject the competition?” Avery was very surprised.

“Later, the teacher persuaded me alone, So I participated in the finals.” Hayden lowered his eyes and said.

Avery Holding the trophy in her arms and said, “Hayden, you are really amazing. Mom knew that your qualification test was based on strength, and it has nothing to do with your father. Mom is proud of you.”

“Mom, I will become a very powerful person in the future. I also want you to be proud of me.” Layla frowned and said solemnly.

Mike interjected coolly, “Your mother is proud of you every day. Eat first. I’ll take you back to rest after dinner. Your uncle Eric will come to pick you up tomorrow. Your mother will also go to Yonroeville. Now, my brother Hayden and I are left alone.”

Hayden: “I have activities in the summer vacation, so I don’t have time to play with you.”

Mike: “???”

“Don’t you want to go back to the company?” Avery looked to him, “Elliot is left and Wanda will most likely return to Aryadelle.”

Mike: “If you hadn’t told me, I would have almost forgotten about this old woman. She has been hiding in Bridgedale for so long, and there is no sound at all, and she can bear it.”

Avery said lightly, “Otherwise, how could she have achieved what she is now? Before my father died, can you imagine that she had no other hobbies besides beauty and playing cards every day? Widowhood opened her new life.”

Mike gave a thumbs up: “Sometimes falling in love does affect work. Look at how good your career was before you made up with Elliot. After making up with him, you almost have no energy to work.”

She defended, “It’s because of pregnancy and confinement to hold the wedding, and it has nothing to do with falling in love. If there was no accident, my life with Elliot would be back on track now.”

Chapter 1229

“Okay, everything you say is right. But are you sure you want to go to Yonroeville?” Mike looked solemn, “That country is not very safe.”

“I checked the information, and it’s not as scary as you said. Don’t say this in front of the children.” Avery was afraid that the children would be worried.

Mike: “Okay, I’ll shut up. You have to pay attention to safety anyway.”

Avery: “I’ll take the bodyguards with me. I’m looking for Elliot, not death.”

Mike nodded: “If you get him back, I think the two of you should reflect on it. If every quarrel is like this, can the two of you bear it, can the child bear it?

Friends around you, such as me, can bear it?”

Avery: “It’s not what the two of us think about quarrel. Do you think we are not uncomfortable?”

Mike: “Then stop arguing. What’s wrong with the equity transfer? It was given to the fool Adrian, not to Cole. Chad said he has a lot of other things to do. It’s no problem to raise you and three children...I thought about it carefully, you two probably live too well in normal life, so you can’t stand a little blow.”

“You can say that I am alone, Don’t talk about him.” Avery couldn’t stand anyone criticizing Elliot.

“You’re still protecting Elliot, I think you’re used to his bad temper.” Mike complained.

“If you don’t eat, go out and wait. Don’t interfere with our meal.” Avery glared at him.

Mike suddenly shut up.

.....

Avonsville.

Luxurious European-style villa.

Wanda’s face was rosy, holding a red wine glass in her hand, drinking and celebrating with the vice president and several investors.

“Who would have thought that in just one year, Elliot would collapse.” After Wanda took a sip of wine, her eyes suddenly became sharp, “Next, it’s Avery’s turn.”

“Elliot and we have no competition . relation.”

“But he wants to kill me for Avery’s little slut.” Wanda swallowed her anger for so long, she was suffocated.

“Wanda, you still can’t be careless. Although Elliot has transferred his equity, he can make a comeback at any time. With his brain, he can raise funds and start a business at any time.” the investor said, “If he comes to me, I will definitely be willing to give him money.”

“Oh, you think so beautifully, I’m afraid your wishful thinking won’t work.”

Wanda put down the wine glass, picked up the phone, clicked a photo, and showed it to everyone, “This is my friend in Aryadelle sent it to me. Elliot is now in Yonroeville. He is hanging out with a businessman named Kyrie.”

“Tsk tsk, I didn’t expect him to find an investor so quickly.”

Kyrie’s investment direction has always been in small and medium-sized countries. Not only does it not overlap with our business, but the investment market is also completely different.” Wanda has a strong hunch. She felt that she would never meet Elliot again in her life.

Her life is about to officially set sail.

Next, there will be no strong opponents that can hinder her.

...

After Mike returned to Aryadelle with Hayden, he settled down, and the phone rang rapidly. He drank from a water glass in one hand, picked up his mobile phone in the other hand, and answered the call.

“Have you returned to Aryadelle? Avery didn’t come back with you, right?” On the other side of the phone, Chad’s voice came anxiously, “Major media suddenly released news, saying that my boss is dead.”

‘Pfft!’ Mike spit out all the water.

Elliot is dead?

How could he die?

Chapter 1230

“I went to ask a media source, and they said it was revealed by an insider. I asked what an insider was, and they said they also heard about it.” Chad said this and exhaled heavily, “They read the news from the “A Morning Post”, so they followed the trend. The source of the “A Morning Post” was sent back by their reporters in Yonroeville.”

Chad was reluctant to believe this news, but when he heard that the news came from Yonroeville, he was struck by lightning.

“Listen to what you mean, is this news true?” Mike’s face was ashen, he couldn’t believe the result.

Although Avery did not return to Aryadelle together, once the news spread, it would soon reach her ears.

How could Avery accept such bad news?

“I haven’t seen my boss’s de@d body, how can I be sure that the news is true?” Chad said with difficulty, “It’s just that my boss may really be in Yonroeville, and now the news comes from Yonroeville, so I’m a little panicked.”

“Don’t panic, I’m going to check the news of Yonroeville now.” Mike finished and hung up the phone.

Hayden stayed in the living room the whole time, listening to Mike’s voice on the phone clearly.

Ever since Mike sprayed water, he’d pricked up his ears, wondering what was going on.

“What happened?” Hayden immediately asked after Mike hung up the phone, “Elliot is in Yonroeville, did something happen to Elliot?”

Hayden didn’t hear what Chad said on the phone. He only heard Mike talking about Yonroeville, so he guessed that it had something to do with Elliot.

“The domestic media are reporting that Elliot is dead. I don’t know if it’s true.

So I’m going to check the news from Yonroeville.” Mike strode towards his room and continued, “Headache! Mom knows this news, but she doesn’t know how sad she should be. You probably don’t know that the two of them quarreled this time because your mother concealed him, which caused him to misunderstand, so she made the matter of giving up the equity.”

“Your mother has always been Very self-blame. If the misunderstanding is not explained clearly, he will die, and your mother will suffer for a lifetime.” Mike added.

When Hayden heard the news of Elliot’s death, the expression on his face suddenly froze. His emotions are very complicated. Even if he hates Elliot again, considering the emotional changes of his mother and sister after Elliot’s death, he would rather Elliot live.

After Mike went to the room, Hayden also returned to his room.

Hayden opened the notebook, and after connecting to the Internet, a news pop-up window popped up—— –The end of a generation of business legends! Click to view Elliot’s ups and downs.

A black and white photo of Elliot was attached to the pop-up window.

Hayden looked dazzling. But he couldn’t help but click in.

This was a press release. The content of the manuscript summarized Elliot’s bizarre and magnificent entrepreneurial experiences.

Hayden couldn’t recognize so many words, so he turned directly to the bottom comment.

—[Candle] This incident shows that no matter how much money he make, he can't spend it without life.

—He is still so young, why can't he think about it?

—The news did not say that he committed suicide. I think he definitely didn't commit suicide. Who committed suicide and went abroad to commit suicide? Most of them were assassinated abroad.

—Since he knew that someone abroad was going to kill him, he should stay at home. How chaotic is there in Yonroeville, you can find it with a casual search on the Internet! In the end, it was his destiny. D*mn it.

—Didn't he just get married not long ago? Where is his wife?

—He has run out of money, of course his wife ran away. As the saying goes, husbands and wives are birds of the same forest, and when disaster strikes, they fly separately.

—His wife Avery is also one of the top entrepreneurs in the country. Even if he collapses, Avery will have no problem raising her.

—Do you think she could have been so successful without Elliot's help? You are too naive. Just wait and see, Avery will definitely have bad luck next.

...

Mike entered the network of Yonroeville and searched for Elliot's name.

Chapter 1231

It turned out to be all kinds of news about Elliot in Aryadelle.

Mike had an idea, typed Kyrie's name, and a series of related news immediately popped up. The latest news about Kyrie is a photo of him wearing a black suit to buy chrysanthemum flowers at a flower shop.

This posture, at first glance, is to go to the funeral. Could it be that he was going to attend Elliot's funeral?

Mike glanced at the news time, it happened yesterday. Therefore, Elliot died yesterday, and today the news came back to Aryadelle...

Mike took a screenshot of the news and sent it to Chad.

Chad replied with a long list of periods.

After seeing the news, Ben Schaffer immediately bought a plane ticket to Yonroeville.

Tammy dialed Avery's number immediately. At this time, the time of Bridgedale is late at night.

Avery took half a sleeping pill and fell asleep.

Tammy didn't get through the first time, her heart hung in her throat, and she dialed her number again.

When such a big thing happened, Tammy had to let her know immediately.

Avery was awakened by Tammy's third call. When she woke up, she checked the time first, and then answered the phone in confusion.

"Avery, Elliot is dead. Domestic news has spread all over the country." Tammy exclaimed, "He died in Yonroeville. Of course, this is all from the news. And the news only contains text, no photos. Ben Schaffer has already rushed to Yonroeville. Look at you..."

Avery stared blankly at the dimly lit room, before he could say anything, tears fell first.

"Avery, did you hear what I said?" Tammy raised her voice when she saw that there was no response from the phone.

"Elliot is dead? You said he was dead?" Avery clutched her phone tightly, got up quickly, and turned on the room light.

"Yes, that's what the domestic news said. We have to go to Yonroeville to confirm the details.” Tammy said, “Why don’t you wait for the news from Ben Schaffer.”

“How could he die... ..Kyrie has a good relationship with him... Chad said so, saying that they have known each other for many years, longer than he and Ben Schaffer have known each other...Kyrie How could you kill Elliot...”

Avery cried and got out of bed, quickly walked to the closet, and looked for clothes to change.

“Avery, don’t worry, it might be fake news.” Tammy listened to her cry and felt very sad, “I don’t think Elliot can’t identify danger. How could such a shrewd person die so easily?”

“I’ll go find him...I’ll go find him now.” Avery hung up the phone and quickly changed her clothes.

Within ten minutes, she came out of the villa. She drove out and headed to the airport.

The car drove forward rapidly, and her tears kept falling. She had long seen that Kyrie was not a good person. That’s why she strongly discouraged him from interacting with Kyrie at that time.

Who knows, he finally ran to find Kyrie.

His death was definitely murder.

Even if Elliot hates Avery, it won’t kill by himself. After all, he still has three children, how could he ruthlessly abandon everything to seek death?

He’s not that merciless, he’s not.

Chapter 1232

Aryadelle.

After the news of Elliot’s death spread, people could be heard talking about it everywhere.

Eric didn't tell Layla about it, but when Layla was in the bathroom, she heard others talking. She came out of the bathroom and came to Eric, unable to hide the grief on her face. "My father is dead?"

Eric was a little surprised. For a while, he didn't know how to answer her question.

"I was in the toilet and heard two aunties say that my father died." Layla's eyes were red, "Why did my father die? I don't want him to die."

Eric immediately picked her up and walked towards the car Go over there.

"Layla, it's not clear whether this is true or not. The news came from abroad, and your mother has gone to confirm it now. I'll let you know when I have the exact news."

There were two lines in the corner of Layla's eyes: "I don't want my father to die. Although he always quarrels with my mother, he is very good to me. He is also very good to my mother, otherwise he will not quarrel and win against my mother."

Eric: "Well, I know he's good. Don't cry yet, what if he's all right? Let's wait for news from your mom, okay?"

Layla: "I want to call mom."

Eric: "She's now in the plane, the phone was turned off."

Layla: "I want to call my brother."

Eric: "Okay, I'll call him now." Eric held her in one hand and dialed Hayden's number with the other.

Hayden quickly answered the phone.

Layla: "Brother, woohoo!"

Hayden knew why his sister was crying, so he calmly said, "Dad is not dead."

Layla: "Really? Brother."

Hayden :”Well, I didn’t see his body, so he didn’t die. When his body is brought back, you won’t cry.”

Layla: “...”

“You stay with Uncle Eric, don’t come back.” Hayden continued, “I’m very busy with my studies, so I don’t have time to take care of you. You can come back when your mother comes back.”

Layla: “.....”

.....

Detention Center.

Gwen came to visit Nathan.

Seeing Elliot’s news today, she felt a little down.

Elliot was dead, and his father was going to die soon. It felt like this family was just scattered.

Originally, she had no feelings for her family, but before that, the family broke up when she broke up. Maybe it was because Avery was kind to her, which led her to have fantasies.

Before today, Gwen had been looking forward to Elliot’s return. In this way, Avery can keep in friendly contact with her all the time because she is Elliot’s sister.

Who would have thought that Elliot would just hang up like this.

“Gwen, What did you say?” Nathan’s eyes bulged when he heard the news of Elliot’s death.

“It was on the news. The news said Elliot died in Yonroeville. Ben Schaffer has already gone to Yonroeville to find him.” Gwen lowered her head and continued, “I came here to tell you. In case you don’t know the news until you die.”

Nathan blushed and roared, "You stinky girl. You are deliberately mad at me. You have hated me since you were a child, and now I am dying, you can't let me die without regrets?!"

Gwen raised her head: "Yes, I'm just here to anger you. Although I hate you so much, I have already contacted the staff of the crematorium for you. They will drag you to be cremated by then. I will let them Throw away your ashes, after all, I don't have the money to buy you a cemetery, and I don't have a house to store your ashes."

"You..." Nathan trembled with anger and coughed violently.

"Would you like to tell me before you die, who is my mother?" Gwen asked the question that was hidden in her heart.

Chapter 1233

"I can't even remember who the mothers of your two brothers are, how can I remember who your mother is? Don't be delusional, the women I played with when I was young were all the meanest chickens, if you ran away You won't get any benefit by recognizing relatives, but you will be sucked blood by your trash mother."

Gwen felt a chill in her heart after hearing his father words.

"Everyone has the right to hate me, but you and your eldest brother have no right. How can you two survive until now?" Nathan still thinks he has a clear conscience for these two children.

"Visit time is over." After the police spoke, they took Nathan away.

Gwen looked at Nathan's slightly hunched back, his eyes couldn't help but get wet.

Nathan is no longer the tall, violent and frightening man in her eyes. He is not a qualified father. He has never loved her like a normal father, but it is undeniable that she was raised by him.

Gwen lied to him when she said she would throw away his ashes just now. She did not contact the crematorium staff at all. She said that on purpose to make his father angry. She wanted to see if he would be frightened and came to beg her.

After coming out of the detention center, Gwen stopped a car on the side of the road and reported the address of Ben Schaffer's home.

After she told Ben Schaffer that she wanted to go to school, Ben Schaffer found her the admission brochures of two universities and let her choose.

Although she has been quarreling with Ben Schaffer, Ben Schaffer took what she said to heart, which moved her very much. She was determined not to live the same life as before. Avery said that life is yours, and the path you choose to take is entirely up to you.

Back at Schaffer's house, Gwen entered the door code. After the courtyard door opened, the black car parked in the courtyard attracted her attention.

This was not Ben Schaffer's car.

When Gwen came out of the house, the car was not in the yard. She crossed the yard anxiously and walked to the door of the villa.

Before she could press the code, the door was pulled open from the inside. A man with kind eyes and facial features like Ben Schaffer appeared in front of her.

Gwen immediately guessed that this was Ben Schaffer's father.

Gwen: "Hello, uncle."

"You are Gwen, Come in." Russell Schaffer invited her into the room.

After entering the house, she saw Juniper sitting on the sofa and was drinking tea.

“Gwen, come here.” Juniper glanced at Gwen calmly, “I came over today with your uncle and saw a woman’s luggage in the guest room, we didn’t know you lived here, Ben Schaffer last time Said that after you moved out, you didn’t tell me that you moved back again. So I accidentally flipped through your luggage and saw this.”

Juniper picked up a color ultrasound form from the coffee table.

This is the color Doppler ultrasound that Gwen did when she went to the hospital for an examination. It was confirmed that there is a gestational sac in the body.

“Auntie, this is mine.” Gwen walked over and took the ultrasound form.

“Well, your name is written on it. Gwen, can you tell me about the child in your womb...”

“I can’t tell you.” Gwen didn’t want to lie to her or tell her frank.

Her relationship with Ben Schaffer was too embarrassing. If Ben Schaffer knew that the child belonged to him, he would definitely be tougher to let her get rid of it.

“Oh... Does Ben Schaffer know about this?” The smile on Juniper’s face disappeared.

“he knows.”

“He knew you were pregnant, and he let you live in. It seems that you are pregnant with his child. Haha! That’s great. I knew you two were having fun.”

Juniper laughed excitedly, suddenly remembering the news of Elliot’s death,

“Hey, I heard about your brother, don’t be too sad, don’t move the fetal gas. If you give birth to this child, everything in Ben Schaffer will be your child’s in the future, and your child’s will be yours.”

Chapter 1234

Auntie, no, I didn't want to use the child to get his property. Everything was an accident." Gwen seemed to be on trial. She had never been so ambitious.

"You two are alone in the same room, of course accidents are prone to happen. Hahaha!" Juniper couldn't hide her joy, "You are Elliot's sister, and his father and I will definitely not treat you badly. I know You have suffered a lot in the past, and we will take care of you as our own daughter."

Gwen looked at the kind faces of Juniper and Russell, the rebuttal words were on her lips, and she could not say them.

She had never felt such warmth from her elders. She seemed to be drowning in a honeypot and was reluctant to come out.

She knew it was bad, but She couldn't control it.

Yonroeville.

Ben Schaffer went to and from several times and found one of Kyrie's subordinates.

"Mr. Foster died in a car accident."

"Did in a car accident? Are you sure it was an accident and not a murder?" Ben Schaffer was furious, "Bring Kyrie here. I want to confront him."

His hand lowered his head: "Mr. Schaffer, Don't embarrass me. After Mr. Foster's accident, Brother Kyrie was heartbroken, and now he is in the hospital."

"Are you sure he is too sad, not hiding in the hospital and afraid to come out?"

Ben Schaffer roared.

The subordinate said, "This is Brother Carrier's territory, and Brother Carrier is not afraid of anyone. Brother Carrier and Mr. Foster are friends, how could he murder Mr. Foster? Besides, didn't Mr. Foster already take over the Sterling Group's equity in the company been transferred out? What benefits will Brother Kyrie get from murdering him at this time?"

Ben Schaffer couldn't answer.

"Mr. Foster came here by plane. It means that in his heart, he still regards Brother Carrier as a friend. And there is no interest between them for a long time. How could Brother Carrier attack Mr. Foster?"

"Mr. Schaffer, I understand that you are very sad and also We are too." The man's face was heavy.

"Where did he get into the car accident? Where is his body?" Ben Schaffer thought for a while, and it was true that Elliot and Kyrie had long since lost interest.

Kyrie shouldn't kill Elliot.

"Mr. Foster was involved in a car accident on the winding mountain highway. That day, Brother Kyrie invited Mr. Foster to listen to the scriptures on the mountain. Because Mr. Foster was in a bad mood, Brother Kyrie specially invited a high-ranking monk, hoping to make Mr. Foster feel better. It was raining lightly that day, and the road was a little slippery, so there was an accident."

Said his subordinates, and took Ben Schaffer out.

"That section of the winding mountain road is a bit steep, but it's no problem for an experienced driver to drive. Brother Kyrie goes up the mountain to listen to scriptures every half a month, and has never had a problem."

Ben Schaffer heard a burst of pain in his heart: "Has his body been found?"

"Not yet. You can see why after seeing that mountain. "

His subordinates drove Ben Schaffer to the place of the accident.

The railing next to the winding mountain road was knocked off, and standing on the side, you can see obvious traces of the car rushing down.

At the bottom of the mountain, there were endless rocks and abyss.

This mountain was relatively high. Falling from here, there will be absolutely no possibility of surviving.

And because of the special geographical location, it was difficult to carry out search and rescue work.

“Brother Kyrie asked several groups of rescuers to search and rescue. The person in charge of the search and rescue work said that there are too many dead corners below. If you unfortunately fall into a dead corner, there is no way to find the body. Unless the entire mountain is razed to the ground. But This is unrealistic. The temple on this mountain is one of the oldest temples in Yonroeville, and it can't be moved at all.”

Today's weather in Yonroeville is very gloomy, and there is a dull feeling that the mountains and the rain are about to come and the building is full of wind.

Ben Schaffer loosened his neckline, but still felt that he could not breathe.

“Mr. Schaffer, let's go back first. It's going to rain heavily.” The subordinate reminded, “The weather is too bad, it will be very inconvenient to drive. There was only a car accident here, let's be careful.”

Chapter 1235

After the two came down from the mountain, as expected, it rained heavily.

It's getting dark.

It's only three o'clock in the afternoon, and the sky is dark, as if the end of the world.

Ben Schaffer looked at the rain that was constantly beating on the car window, and his eyes were wet.

It's summer, and the body was exposed to the wild, and within a week, it's completely decomposed. There was such a strong rainstorm now... let alone a week, after today, the remains would definitely be completely destroyed.

When the phone rang, his emotions pulled away from his grief. He took out his phone and reached out to wipe the tears from his eyes.

He answered the phone, and Avery's voice came from the other side: "Ben Schaffer, where are you? Have you found the news about Elliot? I just got off the plane, and I'm going to find you now."

"You're staying at the airport. Don't move, I'll pick you up." Ben Schaffer quickly adjusted his mood and began to think about how to settle her.

If Avery was told of Elliot's car accident on the mountain and her body could not be found, she would definitely collapse.

.....

Avery stood at the gate of the airport, looking at the pouring rain in front of her, feeling restless in her heart. She never dared to think about what would happen if Elliot really died.

But now, looking at the sky that seemed to be falling down, she couldn't restrain her pessimism and frustration.

If Elliot is really dead...what should she do...

In her heart, there was no answer.

The strength in the body seems to be drained, and the body seems to fall down at any time.

She was now hanging on with one breath, she was still alive in gambling Elliot.

About half an hour later, Ben Schaffer appeared in front of her with a black umbrella.

"Why hold a black umbrella?" Avery is now sensitive and vulnerable. Seeing something black was like seeing Elliot's body.

Ben Schaffer made an excuse, "I bought it on the side of the road. Let's go in and sit."

Ben Schaffer put away the umbrella and pulled her into the airport lobby.

Avery was puzzled and said in confusion, "Have you found Elliot's whereabouts? You take me to see him. Even if it is his body, I will see him with my own eyes."

Ben Schaffer: "Avery, calm down first."

"I can't calm down." Avery frowned and almost cried, "How can I calm down? I planned to bring Shea to him after the operation is successful, and explain to him clearly... Now Shea is recovering very well and will be discharged soon, how can Elliot die?"

"I don't want him to die either." Ben Schaffer's strong reason was instantly disintegrated, "But is this something we can't do if we don't want it? Avery, you are not a child anymore, not everything can happen according to our wishes." Avery's eyelashes trembled and tears rolled down. She was startled by his roar.

After a while, she made a hoarse voice from her throat: "He... is gone?"

"This is the situation I have at the moment. Elliot fell from a mountain of thousands of meters with people and car, and he didn't survive. Possibly. I won't let you go to that mountain, it's too dangerous. Elliot has already had an accident, if you have another accident, what will happen to your children?"

Ben Schaffer said here, tightening her wrist hold.

Avery burst into tears and her faith collapsed. She didn't cry like Ben Schaffer imagined, nor was she heartbroken to find Elliot's body.

Because after a brief silence, her body softened and she fainted.

Aryadelle.

Chad drove to the Starry River Villa.

Mike was home alone.

After returning home at noon today, Hayden was called away by the teacher.

Mike took a nap at home and woke up in the evening.

"Avery fainted." Chad told him the news.

Mike suddenly sobered up: "Elliot is really dead?"

Chad nodded: "Brother Ben said that my boss was on the way up the mountain by car, and the car fell down the mountain...even the body can't be found."

Mike: "F*ck, so Miserable!"

"That's why Avery fainted." Chad had a headache, "I can't believe it, and I can't accept the result."

Mike: "Didn't you say you suspected murder? Are you sure it wasn't murder?"

Mike almost forgot When was the last time he saw Elliot?

Mike didn't even say goodbye to him. He felt very regretful and absurd.

Knowing that Elliot would leave this world so early, Mike would never oppose him again and again.

Chad said after thinking, ""Brother Ben said that my boss and Kyrie have no entanglement of interests for a long time, and my boss has nothing to do with the Sterling Group now. Kyrie has no motive or purpose to hurt my boss at all. Before my boss, whether it was an injury or a happy event, Kyrie would come to visit and celebrate. I think their personal relationship should be fine."

"Is that an accident?" Mike frowned and sighed heavily, "No, I..I have to go to Yonroeville. I'm afraid that Ben Schaffer won't be able to bring Avery back."

"You can go tomorrow. When Hayden comes back, you can tell Hayden and Layla... If you leave, I don't know how to tell them." Chad was very embarrassed.

“Just say what you want to say. Do you think this matter can be kept from them?” After Mike finished speaking, he saw Mrs. Cooper walking out.

Mrs. Cooper heard their conversation. When she heard the news of Elliot's death, she was deeply saddened.

“Mike, go and bring Avery back. What if she did something stupid, what would the three children do.” Mrs. Cooper's eyes were scarlet, “Oh, it's really uncomfortable. Fortunately, Robert doesn't understand anything now.”

Mike walked over and comforted: “I know you have served by Elliot's side for many years, and now you may be sadder than us.”

“Mike, Elliot is a very good person.” Mrs. Cooper was emotionally broken.

“I know. That's what Avery said, and so did Layla. I believe he was a good guy.”

“But they didn't remember him being nice until he died. If they were nice to him before he was alive, they might have not the result.” Mrs. Cooper complained in her tone.

“How can a couple not quarrel. Elliot's death was an accident, and it has nothing to do with Avery.”

“I know... I'm just too uncomfortable, so I said casually, don't tell Avery this.”

Mrs. Cooper Turn back to the room.

Chad took his mobile phone to check the air ticket to Yonroeville, and then said, “Listen to Mrs. Cooper, you should go to Yonroeville now. It just so happens that there is a flight going there tonight.”

“Yeah. I'm going to the airport now, You stay at home and wait for Hayden to come back.” Mike said.

“Do you want me to tell him the truth?”

“Now that Elliot is gone, I can no longer treat Hayden as a child. He should learn to take on the responsibilities. He has to bear.”

Soon after Mike left, Hayden was sent home by a bodyguard.

When Hayden saw Chad, he politely greeted him.

Chad asked with a smile, “Hayden, you just returned to Aryadelle, are you so busy?”

“I’m behind my classmates in culture class. I have to make up for it.”

“I must be very tired, right?” Chad said.

“Not tired.” Hayden said lightly, “Are you looking for Uncle Mike?”

“No, he just went out and is going to pick up your mother.” Chad asked him to sit down on the sofa, “I want to talk with you.”

Chapter 1237

Hayden looked at his face and asked keenly, “Is Elliot dead?”

Chad was stuck in his throat and replied, “Hayden, as the eldest son in the family, you need to take care of your sister’s emotions at this time. Because your mother...”

“What happened to my mother?” Hayden frowned, worried.

“Your mother fainted. When she wakes up, I’m afraid the real pain will begin.”

Hayden suddenly lowered his eyes, unable to hide the sadness in his eyes.

Chad watched him carry his schoolbag and silently went upstairs to go back to his room, a feeling of grief arose spontaneously.

How hopeful that something can be done to alleviate the damage caused by this bad news.

But when I calmed down, I found that my heart was also riddled with holes.

After Elliot transferred the shares of the Sterling Group, Chad never really felt that Elliot left the Sterling Group. So he still works normally every day. He believed that Elliot would definitely come back in the near future.

Unexpectedly, this is the result. He didn't know if he could return to the Sterling Group to work normally as usual.

If parents and teachers shaped him when he was a student, then Elliot shaped a brand new him when he was working.

Many people say that Elliot is indifferent, ruthless, and arbitrary towards people and things, but only those who really get along with him know that he is a man with flesh and blood.

.....

Yonroeville.

Avery woke up slowly after falling asleep for several hours. She looked at the unfamiliar room, a little lost.

Her mind was blank, She can't remember what happened, but she can clearly feel the pain from her heart.

After Ben Schaffer made a phone call, he returned to the room from the balcony.

Seeing Avery's eyes open, Ben Schaffer immediately walked to the bed.

"Avery, Mike is here to pick you up. When he arrives, you can go back to Aryadelle with him."

"Why did he pick me up?" Avery stared at Ben Schaffer, "Where am I? Why are you in the same room as me?"

Ben Schaffer gasped sharply. He held the phone, his arms raised and lowered. Here is the hotel.

After she fainted, he took her to the hospital emergency room. After the doctor took a look, he asked him to take her to rest, and she would wake up when the rest was over.

But although she wakes up now, her mental state is worrying.

Is she amnesia?

Ben Schaffer said sharply, "Avery! Please cheer up. Chad called me just now and said that your child is very sad, and you must return to Aryadelle as soon as possible to soothe the child's emotions. "If Elliot was still alive, he would definitely not want to watch it. You look so sluggish."

Ben Schaffer's words made Avery remember everything.

The memory loss just now seemed to be a self-protection mechanism activated by the body.

"I see. I'm sober. I can go home... I'm taking him home with me." She quickly got out of bed.

Ben Schaffer pressed her back.

"Look at the weather outside. It's still raining. The weather forecast shows that it will rain for the next three days." Ben Schaffer would never let her leave the hotel, "You still have three If you die too..."

"Shut up. Ben Schaffer, shut up for me." Avery's cheeks were flushed, and she bit her every word, "I don't want to die for love. I'm not going to die. I just want to see his body to believe he really left me."

Chapter 1238

Ben Schaffer clenched his fists in both hands and clenched his teeth, not knowing how to convince her.

"Elliot is a living person. He is neither a gust of wind nor a shower of rain. Don't say he is dead before finding his body. What if he is still in a corner, waiting for rescue? Do you think this is not possible?" Avery's eyes were scarlet, and the words came from the bottom of her heart.

Ben Schaffer cried bitterly when she was questioned: "I didn't want to give up on him. Avery, I'll take you to the scene to see it. I just find it difficult..."

“I will find him no matter how difficult it is. Avery’s eyes were firm, and his tone was firmer, “Even if I look for him inch by inch, even if the mountain is leveled, I will find him.”

In a luxurious European-style villa.

A subordinate quickly entered from the door.

“Brother Kyrie, Avery and Ben Schaffer went to the mountain. They are not afraid of death. It’s still raining outside. I don’t think Elliot had a car accident on the mountain, but the two of them are afraid that there will be a car accident on the mountain. .”

Kyrie was smoking a cigar, and a thick ring of smoke came out of his mouth.

“I didn’t expect this Avery to be quite strong. I didn’t see what Elliot liked in her before, but now I see it. She and Elliot have similar personalities, and they are both stubborn.” Kyrie frowned, squinting his eagle eyes, “Let her find it. I think she can last a few days.”

“We don’t care about her?”

“I don’t care about her. As long as she doesn’t come to trouble me, treat her as non-existent.”

“Okay! Brother Carrier.” The subordinate nodded, and after two seconds of silence, he asked, “Brother Carrier, how is Elliot? Is he awake?”

Kyrie stared at him and snorted: “Don’t ask about things that shouldn’t be asked. When he can do things for me, you will naturally see him.”

“Brother Carrier, I don’t mean anything else. I’m just worried that Avery will find him.”

“This is my territory. Even if Avery really finds him, it is impossible to take him away from me.” Kyrie sucked After taking a breath, his deep eyes flashed darkly, “We don’t have to take her seriously at all. Just like when I went to Aryadelle a while ago, she didn’t take me seriously.”

“She’s still too young, I’m not sensible. When did Elliot meet you, he was not very respectful...I really don’t know how he adjusts and teaches his wife on weekdays.” His men teased coldly.

“There is no need to mention the past. Elliot will not be entangled in love again in the future. I believe he has this determination himself.” Kyrie said, and took out a notepad, “This is what he gave me. Reply to the notepad that the nanny asked for the night before. He was probably afraid of forgetting some key information after the operation, so he wrote down what he thought was important.”

The subordinate looked at the notepad and was very curious.

“His three children are written on it, but Avery is not written. It shows that he hates Avery deeply. Even if he doesn’t have this operation, he will never have anything to do with Avery again.”

.....

Ben Schaffer held an umbrella and pointed out the incident to Avery.

“All the railings here were destroyed. Kyrie asked a rescue team to search and rescue. The search and rescue team recovered some auto parts, but other than that, nothing was found.” Ben Schaffer Road.

“Did you find the driver who was killed together?”

“No. It’s such an unfortunate rain. When I came to visit in the morning, I could still see bloodstains, but now the bloodstains have been washed away by the rainstorm.” Ben Schaffer said When he got here, he took a deep breath, “Avery, do you really think there is a chance of surviving if you fall from here?”

Avery choked: “It’s theoretically impossible. But I haven’t seen his body, so I don’t think so. I will give up. If the rescue team here can’t be found, I will go to rescue teams from other countries. Even if he really dies, I will take his ashes home.”

Ben Schaffer was moved by her sincere feelings: “Okay, I’ll contact the best search and rescue team. It’s already dark, let’s go down the mountain first. If you still want to come, I’ll accompany you tomorrow.”

Avery is like a puppet As usual, she was pulled into the car by Ben Schaffer.

Back at the hotel, she didn’t take a bath and just lay down on the bed.

It was probably due to the wind and the rain, her body and bones were cold.

It was summer, and the air conditioner in the hotel room was running at 24 degrees, and she was huddled with cold.

She can turn off the air conditioner and cover up to keep herself warm. But she was rigid and motionless.

Chapter 1239

Avery imagined in her mind that Elliot was lying in a barren forest and waste rocks, with no food and no water, covered with bruises and bruises, but could not be treated.

The more she thought about it, the more her heart ached. Tears kept pouring out, soaking the hair on the temples. After a while, she fell asleep in a daze.

In the second half of the night, there was a strong wind blowing outside.

She was awakened by a nightmare, and when she woke up, she saw that the curtains were constantly beaten against the wall by the strong wind.

Fortunately, the light in the room had never been turned off, otherwise she would have been scared out of her head by the terrifying sound.

She walked quickly to the window, ready to close it.

Surprisingly, the rain stopped outside.

The rain stopped...She don’t know how Elliot is now. As if her soul had been hooked away, she walked towards the door of the room without being controlled by reason.

She wants to find him right now, go find him in the mountains.

What if he was still alive, what if she found him?

She remembered that once before, Charlie set up a bureau and invited them both to Tierney's house. At that time, his leg was just short, and he went to look for her on the wild mountain near Tierney's house and fell.

At that time, she found him. Now, she can find him just as well.

A few hours later, a new day kicked off with the continuous rain.

After Ben Schaffer received Mike, he took him to the hotel.

Because it was still early, Ben Schaffer took Mike to have breakfast first.

"Avery wants to find Elliot's body. She means to keep looking if she can't find the body." Ben Schaffer took a sip of coffee, his eyes heavy with exhaustion, "Mike, take her back to Aryadelle first. I will contact International Rescue. The team will come to search and rescue. If you can't find him within a month, then give up. Because he can't survive a month under the mountain..."

Mike: "I'm afraid Avery won't accept this result."

"No. So what if you accept it? You can continue to look for it, but it is nothing more than a matter of spending more money. But I don't recommend her to do so. In addition to the huge search and rescue fee, the energy and emotion she put in is also a sunk cost. I'm afraid that she will get deeper and deeper and won't be able to get out, which will affect her future life."

"I understand what you mean. But I can't do anything about her at all." Mike frowned, "I have to force her back to Aryadelle and lock her up. But in this way, she will hate me for the rest of her life."

"You persuade her first."

"I will persuade her for sure. If she insists on looking for it, I can accompany her here for a while. Just as you said, I will give her a one-month deadline, if she still refuses to leave after a month, I will force her to leave here.”

“Okay.”

After the two agreed, they started to eat breakfast.

Half an hour later, Ben Schaffer brought Mike to the door of Avery’s room. Mike rang the doorbell, but there was no response inside.

Mike took out his phone and checked the time.

It’s already 8 a.m. It stands to reason that she should get up at this point.

Mike frowned and pressed the doorbell again—

Chapter 1240

“Mike, don’t press.” Ben Schaffer stopped him, “Avery must have slept all night last night. Let her sleep longer. If she wakes up, she must cry again.”

Mike retracted his hand: “I haven’t slept all night, have you? Why don’t you go back to your room to sleep? You ask the bodyguard to take me to the place where the accident happened.”

“I can’t sleep. As soon as I closed my eyes, I felt like I heard Elliot calling me to help. I’m very uneasy. I really want to save him but I really can’t do anything. If Avery’s feelings for Elliot are the same as before, she must be more uncomfortable than me.”

Mike said, “Then let’s wait for her. I’ll call Chad to report safety.”

“Okay.”

After Mike walked away, Ben Schaffer took out his mobile phone and planned to call the international rescue team he contacted last night.

What we talked about last night was that the rescue team came overnight. After dawn today, the search and rescue work will start immediately.

Because it is still in the golden search and rescue period.

The week before the accident is the most critical moment.

After the golden search and rescue period, the chances of the injured surviving will drop significantly.

In fact, there is no need to wait as long as a month. Generally, the injured person cannot be found after half a month, and it can basically be concluded that they are dead.

Unexpectedly, before he pressed the dial button, the number of the search and rescue team leader called first.

Ben Schaffer answered the phone immediately.

“Mr. Schaffer, there is a woman here. She has to go down with us to search and rescue... We can't take her down. If something happens to her, we can't take the responsibility.”

Ben Schaffer's heart rang a big alarm: “Who is this woman?”

“She said she was Elliot's wife. No matter who she is, we will not take her down. She looks like she has a high fever and must leave here immediately.”

Ben said sharply: “I know her. I'll go over immediately.”

Hearing Ben Schaffer's voice, Mike immediately hung up the phone and came over: “What's wrong?”

“Avery went to the mountain. The rescue team said she had to go down the mountain to rescue together, how could this be possible?” Step towards the elevator.

Mike patted his head sharply: “I knew there was no response when I pressed the doorbell, it must be because she was not in the room. You can't fall asleep when Elliot has an accident, how could she sleep!”

Ben Schaffer said angrily, “I was negligent. The people in the rescue team said she had a fever, and I have to wonder if she ran to the mountain at night.”

“It's definitely possible. She never listens to anyone's orders when she does things. Can't control her, who can control her?" Mike had a headache.

The elevator stopped at the first floor.

Mike went to the front desk to ask the front desk lady for antipyretics.

Today's rain is a little less than yesterday, but it's still a headache.

If it does not rain, the search and rescue work will be better carried out.

The car drove unimpeded all the way up the mountain, and finally stopped at the point of the accident.

After Mike got out of the car, he rushed into the rain and shouted Avery's name.

Where is Avery? There is no sign of her at all.

Ben Schaffer catches up with Mike with an umbrella.

Ben Schaffer muttered, "I think Avery may have gone down with the rescue team."

"She's crazy. She's really crazy. When she comes up, I'm going to take her home immediately." Mike clenched his fingers tightly, looking at the terrain down the mountain in horror, his body couldn't stop shaking.

He has a mild fear of heights, so he never dares to climb mountains. When flying, he never dare to look out the window.

If Chad fell down the mountain, he would never dare to take the risk.

Even if there is no fear of heights, it is dangerous to search and rescue in this weather. If Avery didn't love Elliot, he didn't have to take such a risk at all.

"Elliot, I'm here to find you. I know you're not dead. If you hear my voice, you must hold on, and I will find a way to save you."

Avery sat in the helicopter, holding a horn and shouting.

The rescue is divided into two parts.

Chapter 1241

Some people are in the helicopter, searching with special thermal imager equipment.

This kind of equipment can only search for living people or living animals. If Elliot was dead, this equipment would not be able to find him.

Others were placed in various areas under the mountain, looking for them inch by inch.

The search and rescue work started in the morning. About two hours later, the helicopter flew back to the mountain and put Avery down.

The moment Mike saw her, he almost uncontrollably wanted to train her.

“The terrain below is steep, there are many canyons and bushes, and I can’t find his body at all... Mike, if I can’t find him, he will definitely die! What should I do?” Avery’s head was dizzy, so she rested her head on Mike’s shoulder.

Mike was instantly scalded by her body temperature.

“You have a fever, Avery. Are you dying?” Mike took out the antipyretic medicine he brought and stuffed it into her mouth, “Hurry up and take the medicine down the mountain. Leave the rescue to the professional rescue team. Go deal with it. Elliot is alive or dead, you can’t control it.”

Avery swallowed the medicine without saying a word, but tears kept streaming down.

“Avery, don’t cry. I’ll take you back first, and we’ll come back when your fever subsides.” Mike softened.

Avery: “My head hurts... Mike, my head seems to be splitting...”

Mike picked her up and walked towards the car.

“You have a fever, so your head hurts. Go back and have a good sleep. Maybe when you wake up, they will find Elliot.” Mike comforted her.

Mike stayed on the mountain for two hours, and after seeing the surrounding terrain, he almost immediately concluded that there was no way that Elliot was still alive.

Reality is not a novel, not a TV series, and there will be no miracle of resurrection.

With Mike's comfort, Avery finally closed her scarlet eyes.

Back at the hotel, Mike carried Avery to the bed, covered her with a quilt, and waited for her fever to subside.

Mike paced up and down the room, thinking about whether to take her home while she was sick.

Elliot is dead, absolutely dead. Searching further will yield no results. As the saying goes, long pain is worse than short pain. If someone has to be the villain, let him be the villain.

.....

In the hospital.

Today is the fourth day after Elliot's surgery. Typically, patients wake up 24 hours after surgery.

But today is the fourth day, and the nurse came to round the room in the morning, and he was still in a coma.

Kyrie was very dissatisfied with this. After breakfast in the morning, he came to the hospital.

The dean, the chief surgeon, and the nurse who looked after Elliot were all scolded by him.

"If he doesn't wake up today, the three of you must die." Kyrie's roar spread throughout the entire floor, "Speak, Which of you will die first?"

The dean and the chief surgeon stepped back one after another. They don't want to die.

Obviously there were no accidents during the operation, but Elliot didn't wake up. They also don't know what's going on.

The nurse threw a fright and knelt on the ground.

“Brother Kerry, when I scrubbed Mr. Foster’s body this morning, his hands twitched. He didn’t move a few days ago. He moved today. Please give me two more days!” The nurse cried. After saying these words, a bodyguard strode over.

“Brother Kyrie, Elliot is awake.”

Chapter 1242

After the plane landed at the capital airport of Aryadelle, Mike immediately called an ambulance.

Avery had a high fever since yesterday. After taking the antipyretic, the fever only subsided for a while.

On the plane, he asked the flight attendant for antipyretics and gave her a second fever.

As a result, this time the fever subsided was shorter than the previous one.

Avery soon continued to burn again. And the body temperature is higher than the first burn.

When Mike took her off the plane, he felt that Avery’s body temperature had reached over forty degrees. Her body began to twitch and babble, and she lost her mind.

If Mike knew that her fever would be so severe this time, he would never take her home while she was sick.

The ambulance came quickly. After putting Avery into the ambulance, Mike went to the hospital with the car.

Since the news of Elliot’s death spread a few days ago, the rumors about Elliot in the whole city have not stopped.

This time Avery was rushed to the hospital, which made people wonder whether her illness was related to Elliot's death.

"The Sterling Group has never denied the news of Elliot's death."

"The Sterling Group has nothing to do with Elliot for a long time. So whether the news is true or false, they will not speak out."

"The capital letters of the word Elliot. It turns out that it doesn't belong to Elliot now, so will the Sterling Group change its name next?"

"I don't know if the Sterling Group will change its name, I only know that Elliot should really be dead. Do a search. You can find relevant news on the news of Yonroeville. It is said that he had a car accident on the mountain, and now the rescue team is looking for someone on the mountain... It has been almost a week, and no one has been found. What's worse, from After he had a car accident, it started to rain heavily in Yonroeville. This is God's death."

"What was Avery's condition when he was sent in?"

"It was said that she had been burning for a day and a night, and the high fever could not go down."

Several doctors chatted in the office.

"Avery came back from Yonroeville. Maybe Elliot really died, that's why she became sick."

"They must have really loved each other, otherwise they wouldn't have had so many children."

"But Avery is also a very capable woman. Others say that she relied on Elliot to help her rebuild the Tate Industries, but she did not rely on Elliot for an technology abroad."

"She did not rely on Elliot abroad, but she did rely on other men. There are several men around her who She is so determined! For example, the blond man who brought her to the hospital today."

“Ms. Tate has just been widowed, let’s have some morals!”

.....

The Schaffer family.

Juniper called Ben, but no one answered.

Juniper discussed it with her husband last night and decided to let Ben marry Gwen into the family as soon as possible, so that when Gwen gave birth to a child, it would be justifiable.

But Juniper called her son for two days in a row, but couldn’t get through.

Gwen: “Are you calling Ben?”

“I know, but he doesn’t have time to connect the phone, right?” Juniper put down the phone, “I want to let him give you a place. Didn’t you say you want to go to school again? Your uncle and I think that you should focus on your child now. You can go to school anytime, and if something goes wrong with your child, it will be too late to regret it. “

Gwen waved her hands again and again and refused, “Aunty, I’m not suitable for Ben.”

“I know you despise him for being old...but you are pregnant with his child. If you don’t marry him, who are you going to marry?” Juniper persuaded her heartily, “If your second brother hadn’t died, I’m sure I wouldn’t dare to say that to you. Your second brother is gone now, you have no backer, and others will not look down on you. Only when you are with Ben Schaffer, you will not be bullied.”

“Aunty, I said that I was not suitable for him, not only because I didn’t like him, but also because he didn’t like me.” Gwen said bluntly, “The matter of the child.”

Chapter 1243

“I’ll take care of him. When he comes back, I promise to let him marry you.”

Juniper made a promise to her, “My request to you is that you don’t need to work or go to school for the time being. You just stay at home and raise your baby. I will find a nanny to serve you.”

Gwen looked embarrassed, and an idea came to her mind: “Aunty, although my second brother is dead, my second sister-in-law is still there. I have to tell her about this first.”

“Oh...you said Avery! Will she take care of your business?” Juniper asked.

“Never mind! She treats me very well.” Gwen is now caught between Ben Schaffer and Ben Schaffer’s parents, very embarrassed, unable to make up her mind.

Mainly because Ben Schaffer’s parents were too kind to her. She really didn’t say anything too cruel to make them sad. So she needs to wait for Avery to come back and let Avery help her decide.

After Avery was sent to the emergency room, the doctor immediately injected her with antipyretic and anti-inflammatory drugs.

By evening, Avery’s temperature finally returned to normal. Her face was pale and bloodless, but fortunately she woke up.

“Avery, you’re finally awake. If you don’t wake up again, I’ll collapse.” Mike said excitedly when she saw her eyes open.

Avery had no strength. She glanced at Mike with a dull expression, then began to look around.

“You have a high fever, and you can’t get rid of the fever in Yonroeville, so I’ll take you back to Aryadelle for treatment.” Mike made an excuse with a guilty conscience.

Avery did not doubt what Mike said, because she felt that she was indeed sick.

“Elliot...”

“Looking for it. Ben Schaffer invited the best rescue team in the world to search on that mountain day and night. If they can find it, there will definitely be news. If they can’t find it...then accept the reality. No matter how reluctant you are, you have to accept it.” Mike held her pinned hand to prevent her from breaking down.

Avery pulled her hand back from his big palm.

“Mike, if I die, you will help me take care of the child, right?” After a moment of silence, she said a cool voice.

If Avery did die, of course Mike would help her take care of the children. But if she was trying to find fault with herself, of course he would not agree.

“You think too much. I have my life, and I don’t care about your three children. If you die, I will send your three children to the orphanage and let them be adopted by others. As well-behaved and smart as Layla, she will definitely be adopted by a wealthy family, but not your two sons...” Mike said this deliberately, so that Avery did not dare to die.

“You’re mad at me on purpose.” Avery’s vision was blurred and her voice was choked.

“Avery, I only owe you, not your children. Why should I raise children for you? If you really die, I will really send them to the orphanage. If you don’t believe it, then try.” Mike spoke harshly.

Avery turned her head to the side, not wanting to see him, nor to continue arguing with him about this issue.

For a moment just now, she really wanted to follow Elliot away. But Mike’s words made her wake up.

In life, there are eight out of ten unsatisfactory things.

The pain she is experiencing now is called life and death.

Everyone will meet.

From the time her father left her, she knew that she would be leaving, not just one or two, but everyone.

Chapter 1244

Sure enough, then the mother left, and now Elliot is gone. In the end, she will also leave this world. All the stories and rumors about her in this world will fade little by little with the passage of time. Until the end, all the marks about her existence in this world disappeared.

Like Big Brother said, if death is beyond the time limit, then she hopes that there will never be an afterlife.

About an hour later, Juniper came over after hearing the news.

Mike was a little surprised when he saw Juniper.

“Ben Schaffer called me, I asked Avery, he said she had returned to Aryadelle, and I said I wanted to see her...”

“Oh, Ben Schaffer did call me just now to ask where we were.” Mike said,

“Avery has just gone down with her fever. Because of Elliot, her mental state is not very good. I’ll go and ask her first.”

“Okay, tell her that I’m here for Gwen’s business.” Juniper said.

Mike was at a loss, but he went in and conveyed what Juniper meant.

Within two minutes, Mike opened the door of the ward and let Juniper go in.

Avery leaned against the head of the bed, holding her spirits strong.

“Avery, are you okay?” Juniper put the fruits and flowers she brought on the cabinet, then sat down beside the hospital bed, “You may not remember me, when you married Elliot, I went to your wedding scene.”

“Why don’t I remember you? I talked to you at that time.” Avery put on a smile.

“Well, I heard that you are not feeling well, so I came to see you. Avery, you are still young, and you still have a long way to go. Don't be defeated by the pain at the moment. Ben Schaffer and Elliot are as close as brothers, even if he is not there. Now, if you have any difficulties in the future, just say something, and Ben Schaffer will definitely help you."

"I know." Avery asked, "What happened to Gwen?"

"Isn't she pregnant with Ben Schaffer's child? Ben Schaffer is not at home now, so I discussed it with his father. Gwen is Elliot's younger sister, we can't treat her badly, So we are going to let Ben Schaffer marry Gwen. I talked to Gwen, what Gwen means is that although Elliot is gone, you are still here, and you have to listen to this matter. "

Avery was startled by this incident.

Gwen's child is indeed from Ben Schaffer.

"Did she really say that?" Avery didn't expect Gwen to leave the decision to her.

Juniper: "Yes, after all, she is not old and has no elders around, so she is more dependent on you now."

Avery: "If she decides to give birth to a child, it is naturally better to live with Ben Schaffer. I believe that Ben Schaffer will look at Elliot. Treat her kindly in the face of her."

Juniper: "Avery, I am relieved to hear your words. You can rest assured in the hospital to recuperate. Ben Schaffer will help with Elliot's funeral. We will come again when this matter is over. Discuss the marriage of Gwen and Ben Schaffer. What do you think? "

Avery nodded.

After Juniper left, Mike strode in.

"What happened to Gwen?" Mike asked.

"Can I go?" Avery glanced at the ward, feeling depressed, and wanted to leave here.

“You can’t go.” Mike walked over to the hospital bed. “The doctor drew your blood and took it for a test. You have to live here until the results come out.”

Avery sighed and lay down on the hospital bed again.

“Mike, my head hurts... I may not live long.” Avery whispered, “If I die of illness, I will give you all my property, you just need to help me take care of my three children and grow up Just anyone.”

Mike listened to her babbling about this, and his head also started to hurt.

“Does your head really hurt that much?” Mike sat down by the bed and grabbed her arm with his big palms, “It’s a pity that I can’t do the test today, so I can only do it tomorrow. I’ll go and ask the doctor to give you an order first. I’ll take you to do it.”

Avery retracted her arm and changed her frustrated attitude: “I’m fine... I’m a little sleepy, I’ll sleep for a while.”

“Avery, Ben Schaffer let you escape once, I Stay in the ward tonight, you have a good rest, and don’t want to go anywhere.” Mike said firmly, “When you wake up tomorrow, go for a general examination, I want to see if you are really dying of illness.”

Chapter 1245

Avery turned her back to him and didn’t answer his words. She said just now that she had a headache and thought she might die of illness, which was true. Missing Elliot became a heartbreaker, which led to depression and suicide, which is also true.

From childhood to adulthood, every time she encounters difficulties and setbacks, she will do psychological construction for herself in her heart and redeem herself.

But this time, she was so tired. Even though there are still three children to take care of, she is willing, but powerless.

After dinner, Mike asked the doctor for a checklist and put it on the cabinet.

Avery was lying on the bed, looking at her mobile phone.

“Didn’t you say headache? I asked the nurse for some painkillers for you.” Mike handed her the medicine, “Would you like to take one?”

“I’m feeling better now.” Avery said, “You take the medicine Put it on the table, and I’ll eat it later when I have a headache.”

“Don’t play with your phone. The news about Elliot on the Internet is overwhelming, and it’s disgusting. Don’t make yourself unhappy.” Mike stood beside the hospital bed and reminded her.

“I didn’t watch the news. I was replying to a friend’s message.” She showed him the screen of her phone. “Many people send me messages, but I can’t help but reply.”

“There are still many people who care about you. The world is not gone. No one can run.”

“Well, without Elliot, the sun will still rise. Without me, the earth rotates on its own.” Avery seemed to be answering his question seriously, and seemed to be joking.

As soon as his scalp exploded, he always felt that her words meant: I’m going to die with Elliot. After all, the world can’t run without anyone.

“Avery!” Mike shouted angrily.

“Have you taken a shower?” Avery said tepidly. “You smell of sweat. Even if you don’t have any clothes on, why don’t you take a shower? Otherwise, if you stay in the same house for one night, I don’t care. You are dizzy.”

Mike gritted his teeth and turned to go to the bathroom.

Avery put down the phone after replying the message. Pick up the painkiller from the table and swallow it.

She took medicine and got a good night's sleep.

The same moment.

Tammy received Avery's reply message.

"Husband, what does Avery mean when she says she's fine?" Tammy didn't believe Avery was fine now.

"She was afraid that you would be worried, so she said she was fine." Jun translated, "I can't contact Brother Ben right now, so it can be seen that the situation in Yonroeville is definitely not good."

"She said she was going to sleep, I still think Let's call her. Forget it, I'll call her tomorrow." Tammy was worried, "If she was crying, I wouldn't be so worried.

But she said she was fine... ."

"Little sweet, I understand what you mean. But since she said she was going to sleep, it means that she doesn't want to be disturbed now. You can contact her again tomorrow."

"Well."

The next morning.

In ther hospital.

The doctor pushed open Avery's ward door, walked to Mike's side, and patted him awake.

"Where's Avery?" The doctor asked, looking at the empty hospital bed.

Mike slept on the side of the bed.

Hearing the doctor's words, he looked at the empty bed and was shocked.

"The results of her blood test came out yesterday. There are several abnormal data, and further examination is necessary." The doctor said, "Go and find her quickly.”

Chapter 1246

Mike's brain exploded. It's not that he was shocked by the doctor's words, but that Avery was gone.

D*mn it. Mike promised to guard Avery so that she could not escape, but she escaped again while he was asleep.

Don't think, don't ask, she must be on the flight to Yonroeville by now.

Seeing that Mike didn't speak, the doctor rushed out and grabbed him immediately: “Did you hear what I said just now? She has to come back for an examination...”

“I see. When I find her, I will take her to the hospital for examination. But there should be no way to come to your place for examination. Most of her have already left the country.” Mike said in a hurry.

“Oh, it's fine. As long as she can go for the checkup, she can do it anywhere.”

“Does your hospital not look at patients? How can patients be allowed to walk around?” Mike asked.

“This...we are a hospital here, not a prison. If patients can move on their own, of course they can go wherever they want, but if they go out on their own while in the hospital and something happens, our hospital is not responsible.”

“Okay, I'll give you a discharge order. But you really need to find her quickly.

Not only does she have a problem with the test results, but she also has a lung infection that needs to be hospitalization. If she refuses to be hospitalized, she must take medicine to control her.” The doctor reminded.

Mike patted his head, “Got it. It's a headache. Why the h-e-l-l did I fall asleep last night.”

This time Avery ran away, and Mike wasn't sure he could get her back.

....

Yonroeville.

After Avery arrived at the airport, he took a taxi directly to the mountain.

It's not raining much today, so she won't get wet without an umbrella.

Rescue teams were still continuing to rescue.

Avery stood at the site of the accident, looking at the long bushes and rocks below, her fingers clenched tightly.

At this moment, life and death were between her thoughts.

If she just jumped down like this, she could go to accompany Elliot.

A rescue worker saw her and greeted her immediately, "Ms. Tate, why are you here again? How did you go up the mountain? No one came with you? By the way, are you feeling better?"

People's concern, let her reason back to the body.

"Thank you for your concern. I'm in good health. Is there any progress in the rescue work?" Avery asked.

"Yes... I found a lot of things, including pieces of clothes, a small amount of blood, and car parts..."

Avery heard the words and immediately took out her mobile phone and dialed it to Ben Schaffer.

Whose clothes are the pieces?

Whose blood is it?

How much she hoped it was Elliot's, but she didn't want it to be his.

If it is his, it means that he will not live without seeing people and dead without seeing corpses.

But if it is his, it also means that he may really be killed.

Ben Schaffer answered the phone with an anxious tone: "Avery, have you come to Yonroeville again? Do you know how anxious Mike is?"

"Ben Schaffer, whose clothes are the pieces found? Who is the blood stain? Is it Elliot's?" Avery asked without answering.

Ben Schaffer answered her question and said, "It's not his. The test results are out. It's from the fellow driver. I haven't found anything related to Elliot yet. Stay on the mountain and don't move, I'll pick you up."

Chapter 1247

Avery held the phone and murmured: "It's not Elliot's... Didn't find anything in Elliot... Elliot is definitely still alive..."

Ben Schaffer listened her heart hurts at her babbling.

A week has passed, and it is almost impossible for Elliot to be alive.

He may have been thrown far away the moment he fell. Because the current search and rescue scope is not large enough, there are several places where it is difficult for search and rescue personnel to enter.

When the search and rescue scope expands, maybe he will be found. But by then, it will be too late.

An hour later, Ben Schaffer met Avery.

Avery stood at the site of the accident, stiff like a petrified statue.

Ben Schaffer grabbed her arm and pulled her into the car.

"It's not long since your fever subsided, don't catch a cold again." Ben Schaffer said sharply, "Mike is very worried about you. After he asks me to find you, he will take you to the hospital."

"I'm fine, why should I go to the hospital?" Avery looked coldly At him, she stubbornly said, "I'm going to find Kyrie. You take me to him."

Ben Schaffer retorted, "What are you doing with Kyrie? Do you think he killed Elliot? It was him. So what? Avery, this is his territory, and we are not his opponents at all. Calm down and wait for Elliot's body to be found. Let's bring Elliot back to Aryadelle and let him go to the ground for safety."

Avery choked, "I don't want to find him . To take revenge, I'll ask him for Elliot. I think he hid Elliot. Otherwise, how could there be no body? It doesn't make sense. The rescue team has been looking for a week, how could it be halfhearted? No corpse could be found... The corpse must have been transferred long ago."

Ben Schaffer's heart twitched: "Why does Kyrie want Elliot's corpse? Kyrie is a businessman, not a corpse lover. I can't think of a reason for him to do this."

"You can't think of the reason, because you are a normal person." Avery's doubts became heavier, "Don't you think it's strange? We came here, but Kyrie seemed to have disappeared, completely hiding from his face, did he feel Guilty? He has to give me an explanation."

Ben Schaffer: "He explained it to me. His subordinate said he was too sad and was hospitalized."

Avery got into the car, "Oh, let's go to the hospital to see him. Do you have his number? Or you can contact his staff. If he doesn't see me, I'll go to his house to find him."

Ben Schaffer: "Do you know where his house is?"

Avery: "I don't know, but I can ask. I can log in to Elliot's social account, and there are mutual friends between him and Kyrie."

Seeing that she was so determined, Ben Schaffer immediately called Kyrie's men and asked where Kyrie was now.

An hour later, Ben Schaffer brought Avery to Kyrie's mansion.

After layers of security checks, they finally entered the living room.

Kyrie Jobin received them.

Kyrie: "Sit."

Avery sat down near Kyrie.

“Ms. Tate, long time no see. You are much more haggard than the last time we met.” Kyrie said sarcastically, “I am also very saddened by Elliot’s death.”

Avery stared at his face and said word by word, “I don’t think you are sad at all. If he is still alive, you can’t hide him. If he dies and you occupy his body, aren’t you afraid that he will turn into a ghost and ask for your life?”

Kyrie retaliated viciously, “Ms. Tate, you are so angry, I’m really afraid that you will become a ghost and come to me in the future. I was polite to you before, and it was all because of Elliot. Now Elliot is dead, do you think I’ll take you seriously?”

“Kyrie, Avery just wants a truth. Not only her, but I also need the truth. The rescue team has been working for a week, but found nothing. Does this make sense?” Ben Schaffer interjected. Kyrie sneered, “So you came to find the person I want him?” Okay, I’ll give it to you.”

After speaking, he winked at his subordinates.

After a moment, his subordinates held a piece and walked to Avery.

Chapter 1248

This was a black notepad.

Kyrie said, “Avery, I’m not going to mention some things, because you have three children. Elliot is gone, and you still have to live in the future. You should recognize his handwriting. He is the most important person to him, but he doesn’t have your name. No matter whether he is alive or dead, he doesn’t have you in his heart.”

Avery took the notepad, opened it, and saw Elliot’s handwriting at a glance.

She was very familiar with Elliot’s handwriting. After reading what he wrote, she pursed her lips and was speechless for a long time.

Ben Schaffer came over, took a look, and asked Kyrie: “Why did Elliot write this?"

Kyrie said, "He wrote it if he wanted to, and I didn't force him to write it. Enough is enough, I have been friends with Elliot for many years, and I will never harm him. If you've had enough trouble, go back to Aryadelle."

"Kyrie, where is his body? Even if you don't let us take his body away at least let us see him once." Ben Schaffer said unwillingly.

"Ben Schaffer, I won't go around in circles with you anymore. You take Avery away now and go back to Aryadelle. Maybe you will have a chance to see him in the future. If you continue to bother me here, I can tell you for sure. You guys, you don't want to see him in your life."

Kyrie finished speaking impatiently, got up and left the living room.

Avery wanted to chase after her, but Ben Schaffer grabbed her arm.

Ben Schaffer whispered, "Avery, don't be impulsive. Listening to his tone, Elliot is indeed in his hands now. Maybe Elliot is not dead yet."

"Really, I guess. He told us to go back to Aryadelle now."

Avery stubbornly said, "You go back. I won't go back. I want to be alone. Just before hotel to stay."

"How long do you stay?" Ben Schaffer pulled her out of Kyrie's house, "How can I be at ease when you are alone?"

"Ben Schaffer, I'm no longer a child. I just want to get closer to Elliot. If there is any news about him, I can find him as soon as possible."

Of course Ben Schaffer would not leave her alone in Yonroeville.

Avery changed the subject, "Your mother looked for me. You better go back to Aryadelle. Take advantage of Gwen's belly still not big, hurry up and hold the wedding."

Ben Schaffer: "???"

Avery was talking What? Why can't Ben understand?

"What does it matter to me if her belly is big?" Ben Schaffer vaguely felt that something was wrong, "What wedding? Wouldn't you let me marry her?"

Avery said calmly, "It seems your mother hasn't told you yet. You should hurry back to Aryadelle. Take care of your own affairs first, then worry about me.

Didn't you say Mike is here?"

Ben Schaffer said, "I don't worry about you anymore and what the h-e-l-l are you doing? How is it possible for me and Gwen. The child in her womb is not mine. Why should I marry her?"

"How do you know the child in her womb is not yours?" Avery retorted.

"I've never done it with her. How could her child be mine? I f*cked it up. It must be Gwen who told my mother that the child in her womb is mine, and my mother wanted me to marry her. Mom wants to hug her grandson and she's going crazy. When she sees a woman, she wants someone else to give birth to me. No, I have to go back right away. This woman Gwen is too bad."

Ben Schaffer sent Avery to the hotel, leave for the airport.

Avery didn't check in at the hotel. She took Elliot's notepad and walked aimlessly on the streets, thinking about what to do next.

What is certain now is that Elliot is in the hands of Kyrie.

No matter if Elliot is dead or alive, she will take him back from Kyrie.

Elliot is hers, life is hers, death is her ghost.

Chapter 1249

Even if this is Kyrie's territory, she won't let Kyrie bully her.

About 4 hours later, Mike arrived at the airport in Yonroeville. He turned on his mobile phone and saw the message from Ben Schaffer: Avery was in the previous hotel. There is an urgent matter, so he will go back to Aryadelle first."

Mike cursed lowly: "This guy, why did you leave Avery here alone. She's left alone, who knows what she can do?"

Mike dialed Avery's number. Fortunately, Avery answered the phone.

Her tone was indeed much more relaxed, "Mike, Elliot may not be dead. He's in Kyrie's hands. I'm so comfortable now. So I don't need you to accompany me. Go back and look at the child. Wanda has already returned to Aryadelle, I'm afraid she will do something."

Mike: "You go back to Aryadelle with me."

"As I said, Elliot is not dead. I want to stay here and inquire about his whereabouts. I've called my bodyguard, he'll be here soon. I know what I'm doing. I'm definitely not going to confront Kyrie Jobin." Mike felt her return to normal.

Mike: "You asked me to leave now?"

Avery: "Yes. You go back and look at the company and the children. I will call you every day."

"Okay..." Mike agreed after two seconds, and immediately went back, "No way. Your blood test result is abnormal, the doctor asked you to go to the hospital for further examination."

Avery said, "I can do the examination here. I am a little sleepy today, and when the bodyguard arrives tomorrow, I will ask the bodyguard to accompany me to the hospital."

Mike said, "I will wait. After you have done the examination, make sure it is not a big problem and then go back. In case you are seriously ill..."

"Don't curse me. If I'm really seriously ill, I'll cure it. I won't die until I find Elliot."

Avery said. Her tone softened a bit, "Mike, you know, after learning that Elliot may still be alive, I feel much more relaxed. Now I am more worried about Wanda's idea of harassing my company, and also afraid that she will hurt my child."

"Don't worry, I'll go back to Aryadelle. I have to go for an inspection tomorrow, and when the results come out, send them to me immediately. If you don't go for the inspection, I will come to you." Mike reminded.

Avery: "Got it."

After the call, Avery stopped a car on the side of the road and reported to a hotel near Kyrie's house.

She was blank to Kyrie. Taking this opportunity, she wanted to inquire more about him. See if she can find Elliot's whereabouts secretly.

After checking in at the hotel, she went to a nearby pharmacy to buy medicine.

Although the fever subsided, her cough did not subside.

She originally planned to take the medicine when she went to the hospital for an examination tomorrow, but she was afraid that her condition would worsen sharply.

The word "death" came out of her mouth lightly, but when she thought that if Elliot really died, she wouldn't even know what the truth was, and her heart was full of unwillingness.

At night, bodyguards came and lived in the room next to Avery.

The next morning, accompanied by bodyguards, Avery went to a nearby hospital for an examination.

After the blood was drawn in the laboratory, the bodyguard stayed here to wait for the results, while Avery went to another department for examination.

When she was looking for the elevator, she heard a commotion in the lobby on the first floor.

At this moment, she was standing by the railing of the corridor on the second floor, following the sound and looking downstairs—

—She saw dozens of bodyguards in black, protecting the people in wheelchairs, and quickly heading for the exit of the hospital.

Chapter 1250

There are many of them and they walk very fast, so Avery can't see who the person in the wheelchair is at all. Those bodyguards were burly and completely covered the person in the wheelchair.

So Avery couldn't even see the back. She had a strong premonition in her heart that the person in the wheelchair was Elliot. Her heart was beating violently.

She seemed to have smelled Elliot's breath. She ran uncontrollably towards the rolling elevator. She's going to see who's in that wheelchair.

When she came down from the second floor, the person in the wheelchair had been pushed into the RV by the bodyguard.

She saw the RV door slam shut.

She saw nothing.

The bodyguards 'whoosh' and got into different cars.

Soon, several cars rushed out like sharp swords.

She felt like someone had pressed the pause button, no sound came out of her throat, she could only watch them disappear.

After being dazed for a few seconds, a thought flashed through her mind quickly.

The cars were heading in the direction of Kyrie's house.

If the man in the wheelchair is Elliot, then they must have gone to Kyrie's house.

Avery could get the answer now as long as she went to Kyrie's house.

In the hospital.

After waiting for a while, the bodyguard got Avery's laboratory test.

The bodyguard glanced at the list, and there were several data items in red font, which should indicate that these data were abnormal. But he couldn't understand the impact of these abnormal data. He took the list and went to Avery.

Avery originally told him that she was going to have a CT scan of the lungs, but the bodyguard waited outside the CT room for a long time without waiting for her.

He immediately took out his cell phone and dialed Avery.

Avery answered the phone: "I'm outside now, you are waiting for me at the hospital, I'll go back soon."

The bodyguard asked, "Why did you run outside? Where are you now? I'll find you."

"I'm near Kyrie's house. I plan to go back to the hospital immediately." Avery squatted outside Kyrie's house for a while, but did not see the cars she saw in the hospital.

She suspected herself of being paranoid. The person in the wheelchair might not be Elliot.

"Boss, can you tell me something first? You run around like this, it's hard for me to do it. If something happens to you, Mike will trouble me." The bodyguard complained.

Avery said, "I'm your boss, why should I report my whereabouts to you."

"Because I want to protect you. If I don't know where you are, how can I protect you?" The bodyguard's words made Avery silent for a moment: "I was in a hurry to leave. I thought I found Elliot, so I forgot to tell you."

“Are you hallucinating? If Elliot was still alive and he saw the news of his death in the sky, do you think he would be indifferent?” The bodyguard raised his doubts, “There is something wrong with your test results, I will take a picture for you to see. You go back to the hospital immediately.”

After hanging up, Avery saw the photo sent by the bodyguard.

She zoomed in on the picture and saw her unusual data.

She was anemic and had coagulation abnormalities.

Chapter 1251

Avery keenly judged that there might be something wrong with her body. She has not been on her period recently, nor has she suffered any trauma or bleeding. How can the data be like this?

She has a severe headache recently, maybe she needs to go to the hospital for a brain CT.

As a neurologist, she is very sensitive to diseases of the brain.

If it is a disease of the brain, it is troublesome.

.....

Avonsville.

Ben Schaffer came out of the airport and went straight to his home. He didn't tell his parents about his return in advance, so Russell was very surprised to see him back.

“Ben Schaffer, you came back just in time. What happened to Elliot?” Russell asked.

Ben Schaffer angrily asked, “Where's my mother? Where is Gwen?! Where are the two of them?”

Russell saw his son's angry face, and immediately said, “Oh, your mother took Gwen out to buy clothes. By the way, what kind of expression is this? You want to eat people?"

"Who am I to eat? Don't you want to eat me? Who is Gwen, you may not understand. The child in her womb is not mine. You let me. Isn't it a big joke to marry her?" Ben Schaffer sat down beside his father.

Russell: "Gwen said she was pregnant with your child."

"I haven't slept with her before, how could she be pregnant with my child?" Ben Schaffer had a splitting headache, wishing to open his mouth to justify himself, "I will take her now. Call back, I'm going to confront her."

"Wait." Russell was stunned for a moment, and said, "Gwen didn't seem to say that the child is yours. It's your mother who thinks the child is yours. Because Gwen didn't say no, So your mother thinks the child is yours."

"It's really confusing. If the child was mine, how could I not know? If the child was mine, I would have..." Ben Schaffer said.

His mind went blank and he didn't know what to say.

Russell raised his eyebrows: "What happened to you long ago? Married her long ago? How many times has your mother urged you over the years, but you always said that you didn't meet the right one, and would rather not get married than do it soon."

"Yes, It's the same attitude now. Even if the child in Gwen's womb is mine, I will not marry her. She is too scheming and too shrewd. It's clear that the baby in her womb is not mine, why didn't she tell you all? She deliberately misunderstood you and asked you to force me to marry her and treat our whole family as fools?" Ben Schaffer's angry voice spread outside the door.

Juniper and Gwen came back from shopping and heard Ben's words before entering the door.

Juniper looked embarrassed and looked at Gwen: "Gwen, isn't your child from

Ben Schaffer?"

Today, Juniper took Gwen to buy a lot of new clothes and bought her some jewelry.

Gwen pushed and refused several times, but she really couldn't, so she accepted it all.

Unexpectedly, Ben Schaffer came back.

Ben Schaffer looked at the new clothes on Gwen's body and the jewelry on her hands with disgust: "Gwen, I see your second brother's face and tolerate you everywhere, but that doesn't mean I will allow you to be with me. Chaos in front of my parents." After a pause, he shouted sharply, "You move out of my house immediately."

Gwen's cheeks were burning hot.

The new clothes on the body, the bracelet on the wrist, like a burning red iron, has become a shame.

Half an hour later, she took a taxi to the Starry River Villa.

Mrs. Cooper heard the doorbell and came out.

Seeing Gwen, Mrs. Cooper was stunned for a moment, then opened the courtyard door.

Although this was the first time Mrs. Cooper saw Gwen. She had seen Gwen's photos and know that she is Elliot's sister.

Mrs. Cooper led Gwen into the room and introduced Hayden in the living room:

"Hayden, her name is Gwen, she is your father's sister, you should call her Aunty."

Hayden glanced at her, and the word 'Aunty' really shouted Do not export.

"Gwen, don't you live in Ben Schaffer's house?" Mrs. Cooper asked.

"He kicked me out." Gwen lowered her head and choked, "I don't have a place to go now.”

“Oh, then you should stay here for now. I’ll talk about it when Avery comes back. I’ll make dinner first, and wait a while. I’ll clean up your room.”

After Mrs. Cooper left, Hayden looked at Gwen and asked, “Why did Uncle Russell drive you out?”

Gwen’s grievance broke out in an instant: “I’m pregnant with his child, but he hates me.”

Chapter 1252

Such a bloody thing is beyond the cognition of Hayden’s age group.

“I decided to kill this child. I will never meet him again.” Gwen made up her mind.

The expression on Hayden’s face was stunned, and for a moment, he didn’t know what to say.

“Are you Hayden?” Gwen looked at Hayden’s face, and the more she looked, the more she felt that he and Elliot looked alike.

Hayden: “Yeah.”

Gwen hesitated for a while then asked, “Are you still on summer vacation now? Can you accompany me to the hospital tomorrow? I’m a little scared alone.”

Hayden: “...”

Although this woman was his aunt and this was the first time they met. They don’t know each other at all.

Besides, she went to the hospital for an abortion and brought a child to accompany her, what role could it play?

Hayden instinctively wanted to reject her. But he suddenly remembered that when his mother was pregnant with him and his sister, he didn’t have his father by his side. A woman who is pregnant and lonely is so miserable.

Now Gwen's experience is similar to that of her mother.

Unexpectedly, Ben Schaffer is also a big sc*mbag.

Gwen said, "If you don't want to, forget it. If I can't come back from the operation tomorrow, I'll ask the doctor to find me a nurse..."

"We'll talk about it tomorrow." Hayden said solemnly.

"Oh. Where's your sister?" Gwen was a little restrained.

Although Hayden is much younger than Gwen, Hayden exudes a mature temperament that does not belong to his age group. Gwen had never met Elliot, but she felt that maybe Elliot was the same.

"Layla has her own business." Hayden glanced at Gwen's stomach inadvertently.

Gwen: "I just got pregnant and my belly is not big yet."

Hayden's face suddenly turned red.

Gwen said uncomfortably, "How old are you this year? Why do you look so old and heavy. I wasn't so nervous in front of Ben Schaffer. Why do I feel so nervous when facing you!"

"You can go to the guest room and stay." Hayden showed no emotion on his face and said, "Turn right to the second guest room."

Gwen dragged her suitcase and walked towards the guest room on the right.

Not long after, Mrs. Cooper's cell phone rang. It was from Ben Schaffer.

Mrs. Cooper replied, "Yes, Gwen is here with us. She said you kicked her out."

Ben Schaffer took a breath: "Hey! It's hard to say. It's not what you think."

Mrs. Cooper: "I know you're not that kind of person. There must be a misunderstanding between you."

"No misunderstanding. I don't get along well with her. I can pay her monthly living expenses, but I can't live with her."

"Well. It's fine. Let her live first. We're here. We'll talk when Avery comes back."

“Okay. I’m calling you mainly because I’m worried about her running away... In case she gets lost, I can’t tell Elliot.” Ben Schaffer was in a mood particularly contradictory.

After Gwen dragged her suitcase away, Juniper found that she had left all the new clothes and jewelry she bought today in the room without taking it with her. If she is bad to the end, Ben Schaffer will not be so upset.

The next morning.

Gwen came to the hospital accompanied by Hayden.

After registering, the two went to the gynecology department.

The gynecology waiting area is full of women and their husbands.

When Gwen and Hayden appeared in the gynecology department, everyone’s eyes fell on them.

Gwen was nervous about the surgery, so she didn’t pay attention to other people’s eyes.

And Hayden, the intestines regret green. If he knew it was so embarrassing, he would never sympathize with Gwen. Never accompany her to have an abortion!

After waiting for half an hour, Gwen dragged Hayden into the doctor’s office.

“Let your husband wait outside.” The doctor glanced at them and reminded them in a deep voice.

Chapter 1253

Gwen: “...”

Hayden:”!!!”

Hayden was ashamed to leave, Gwen grabbed his arm and prevented him from leaving.

Gwen said embarrassedly, “Doctor, he’s my nephew. He’s not yet ten years old.

I was nervous when I saw a gynecologist for the first time, so I asked him to accompany me.”

Doctor: “...”

After the awkward atmosphere lasted for a minute, the doctor immediately asked for help: “The child is well nourished and developed.”

“He has good genes. His parents are very picky.” Gwen explained.

“Oh, what’s your problem?” The doctor asked.

“I want to have an abortion.” Gwen handed the doctor the color Doppler ultrasound she had done last time, “The child is a month old now.”

Doctor: “Are you married?”

Gwen: “No.”

Doctor: “Have you thought about it?”

“Well. I haven’t. Money to raise a child and give birth to a child will only make him live a miserable life with me. It’s better to get rid of it as soon as possible.”

Gwen explained her difficulties.

Her words shocked Hayden. He thought that Gwen didn’t want baby because she had a bad relationship with Ben Schaffer, but he didn’t expect it was because she didn’t have the money to raise baby.

After being silent for a few seconds, Hayden pulled her out of the doctor’s office.

.....

Yonroeville.

Avery got the CT film of his brain and fell into a long silence. She doesn’t have to take the film to the doctor. Because she is a doctor herself. She had unexplained bleeding inside her skull.

She sat on the bench outside the CT room, thinking about whether she had been hit by an external force recently. She thought about it for a long time without getting an answer.

Because she hasn't been hurt by any violence recently. She had to do another MRI to identify the lesions.

"Boss, why don't you show the film to the doctor?" The bodyguard stood beside her and asked, "In a little while, the doctor will be off work."

Avery got up from the chair, glanced at her phone, and said lightly: "I'm a little hungry. Let's go and eat first."

"Okay! Then we can go back to the hotel first, and come back in the afternoon."

The bodyguard said.

"Do you know that I'm a doctor?" Avery asked the bodyguard with her lips curled up.

The bodyguard was stunned for a moment: "I know, you are still a very good doctor."

"Then do you know what kind of doctor I am?" Avery's question stopped the bodyguard.

After the bodyguard scratched his head, he suddenly realized: "I'm really stupid. You seem to be specially designed to show people's brains."

The smile on Avery's face disappeared, "Well. I may need an operation. My situation is not serious illness, don't tell Mike."

"Boss, who performed the operation on you? Although you are very powerful, you can't operate on yourself." The bodyguard was worried.

"I can ask a doctor I know to operate on me. Don't worry, my illness will be fine." She comforted. "And it hasn't been diagnosed yet. I need another test.

Come back in the afternoon."

The bodyguard asked, "Boss, is it really a minor illness?"

“If it’s a serious illness, I’m afraid I won’t be able to laugh at you here. As I’m a doctor, my illness is not a big problem, but to ordinary doctors, my illness is definitely a serious illness.”

It may be that during this period of emotional depression and multiple collapses, intracranial hemorrhage was caused.

The human will can be invincible, but the human body is very fragile.

No wonder the splitting headache the day before yesterday made Avery feel like she might be dying. Her body had already signaled her disease.

It’s just that she was too sad to think about it.

In the afternoon, she came to the hospital for an MRI examination.

An hour later, she got the test results.

Chapter 1254

The moment Avery saw the results of the examination, her body was weightless, and the strength in her body was drained, as if she was about to fall down at any time.

Seeing her face ashen, the bodyguard was so frightened that the alarm bell rang.

“Boss, don’t you have a terminal illness, are you going to die?” The bodyguard considered whether to be more euphemistic before saying this. But he hadn’t thought about it yet, and the words came out first.

Because Avery’s face was so gloomy. It gives the feeling that the sky is about to collapse.

“It’s not a terminal illness.” Avery answered him firmly, “You don’t have to worry. Even if I die, Mike will pay you your monthly salary.”

The bodyguard couldn’t help laughing: “Boss, I’m not worried about my salary... ..hey, well, I do get a little worried. You’re the best boss I’ve ever had in my career and I don't want you to die. As long as you don't die, I can follow you for the rest of my life."

Avery: "I try to live as long as possible."

"Thank you." The bodyguard supported her and said cautiously, "Would you like to see the doctor? Let's see what the doctor has to say."

"No. The qualifications of the doctors here are not as good as those of my junior brothers and junior sisters."

"Okay. Then What are you going to do? You can't operate on yourself, you have to find a doctor." The bodyguard could not wait to send her to the hospital for treatment as soon as possible.

Avery's face was completely bloodless, and her voice was not as energetic as before. Anyone who looked at her could see at a glance that she was seriously ill.

"I'll contact the doctor. Let's go back to the hotel now." Avery pushed the bodyguard's arm away and said, "I'm fine now, I can walk by myself."

"Oh, what's wrong with you? Are you sure you won't tell me, Is it?" The bodyguard was confused and had no clue.

Avery: "You don't understand when you say it."

The bodyguard: "Okay! Then are you sure you don't tell Mike?"

Avery: "He doesn't understand when I say it."

Bodyguard: "..."

"If you use light, medium, and Let's distinguish the illness again, my illness belongs to 'moderate'." Seeing that the bodyguard was really worried, Avery told him in an easy-to-understand way.

The bodyguard nodded sharply, feeling very disappointed: "It means that there is a possibility of death."

“Any disease has a possibility of death. Even a common cold has a possibility of death.” Avery advised him.

The bodyguard: “D*mn it! Don’t scare me.”

“Let’s go back to the hotel.” Avery felt a little frustrated, “I originally asked you to accompany me to find Elliot, but now I asked you to accompany me to see a doctor.”

“Boss, don’t said that. I’d rather accompany you to see a doctor. After all, I heard that Kyrie is a very scary person. I’m still a little afraid of death.” The bodyguard said what he said in his heart.

Avery sighed. She don’t know if she can still find Elliot.

The medical resources in Yonroeville are relatively backward, and reason told her that she should return to Aryadelle or go to Bridgedale for treatment now, which is the best choice.

But she didn’t find Elliot, she didn’t want to leave here.

There is only one way now, and that is to ask a doctor to come here to treat her.

Furnished in a modern minimalist villa.

Elliot was sent to the bedroom. His sharp eyes like falcons looked at the surrounding environment. Today is the day after he woke up after surgery.

Chapter 1255

Although Elliot woke up late, his physical condition recovered better after waking up.

He should have continued to stay in the hospital for a few days for observation, but he didn’t want to stay in the hospital, so he was discharged today.

“Elliot, the doctor said that it’s normal that you can’t remember things right now. After a few days, your memory will gradually be restored.” Kyrie supported him, wanting him to go to bed and rest.

After Elliot sat down by the bed, he pushed Kyrie Jobin's hand away.

"Recover my past memories?" Elliot opened his thin lips lightly, and said these words in a hoarse voice, his shrewd eyes rolled darkly, "You mean, I have lost my memory?"

Kyrie looked at his cold expression. The appearance of unabated vigor, drumming in his heart.

Because Kyrie couldn't guess what he remembered now, and what part of his memory he had lost.

After waking up from surgery, Elliot rarely spoke. The doctor asked him questions, and he hardly answered.

But a brain examination was performed on him, and his brain was normal, nothing abnormal. So the doctor privately concluded that he should remember the past, but he may not remember certain things.

This sentence is judged, said is equal to not said.

"You had a minor operation. you did this operation voluntarily. Your signature is on the operation sheet." Kyrie held a chair and sat down in front of him and said.

"What operation?" Elliot's head hurts a little now, and he can't think hard.

"Part of the amnesiac surgery." Kyrie showed him the surgical drape. "This is a state-of-the-art surgery, and it has not been popularized yet. Because you are in pain, you chose to have this surgery."

"Why am I in pain?" Elliot took the surgical drape and glanced at it.

"Do you remember the name Avery?" Kyrie stared at his face, not letting go of any subtle expressions on his face.

Whether the operation is successful or not depends on his answer to this question.

“I don’t remember. What happened to her?” Elliot answered quickly.

Kyrie sighed in relief. It appears that the operation was very successful.

Elliot loves Avery so much but now, he doesn’t remember it.

Kyrie gritted his teeth and said, “She is your enemy. She ruined you.”

“Impossible!” Elliot clenched his fingers tightly. Knead the surgical drape into a ball. He couldn’t have been ruined by a woman.

“Elliot, do you still remember that you are the boss of the Sterling Group?”

Kyrie took his arm.

Elliot nodded as he remembered. He is the boss of the Sterling Group. He is the youngest and most promising entrepreneur in Aryadelle, and he has topped the list of the richest people in Aryadelle for many consecutive years! Everyone looks up to him.

He is the unattainable god of Aryadelle.

None of those who tried to take his property and assassinate him succeeded.

In the end, they all died under his hands.

“You are no longer the boss of the Sterling Group. If you don’t believe me, you can read the news online.” Kyrie handed him his mobile phone, “Avery took everything from you. She took advantage of your love for her, Swallowed your company and gave it to another man. You were heartbroken and came here to find me. Elliot, I didn’t want to tell you this, I was afraid of evoking your painful memories. But I have to explain it to you Clear your mind, so that you can start a new life again.”

“Are you sure I’m being tricked by a woman?” Elliot clutched the phone tightly, murderous aura in his eyes.

Kyrie reassured, “Of course you’re not that stupid. She gave birth to three children for you. She used your three children to eat away your body step by step, control your mind, and finally take it away. All of you.”

“Three children...” Elliot murmured, “I have three children?”

“Yes. Now the custody of these three children is in Avery’s hands. If you want to get your children back, You must become strong.” Kyrie opened the bloody reality to him, “You have nothing now. You are not her opponent at all.”

Chapter 1256

Avery returned to the hotel, opened the address book, and found a classmate. As far as she knew, he was now a relatively well-known doctor in neurology. But they haven’t been in touch for many years, She don’t know if he will be willing to come to Yonroeville to treat her.

After hesitating for a while, she dialed the other party’s number.

“Avery?” A pleasant male voice came from the other side of the phone.

“Well, are you Xander Jenkins? I heard Wesley say that you are now a relatively good neurologist. Are you still working in the hospital?” Avery asked softly.

“Yes. You talked to Wesley about me? It’s an honor!”

“Xander, I want to ask you for help with something. I wonder if you have time recently.” Avery asked politely.

“I don’t have time this week. If you have anything to do, you can tell me first. If you have time, you will have it.” Xander smiled and said, “If you ask me for help, I will definitely help you.”

Avery reported the results of her own inspection and told him: “The medical environment in Yonroeville is relatively poor, so I want to find a doctor to perform surgery for me. You can rest assured about the remuneration. If you are willing to come, you can ask for the price, and I will pay you double.”

Xander was flattered: "Let's old classmates, talking about money hurts feelings. I'll ask the hospital for leave next week to find you. We'll decide the surgery plan together, and the payment will be ignored. When your surgery is successful, you can just treat me to a meal. Okay."

Avery said sullenly, "How embarrassing is this. We will discuss in detail when you come over."

Xander: "Okay. You have a good rest these days. I will rush over to find you as soon as possible."

Avery: "Well."

After hung up the call, Avery breathed a sigh of relief. Her condition was discovered early, and now she has no other clinical manifestations except for occasional splitting headaches.

She took a sip of water and dialed Wesley. She don't know how Shea has recovered and don't know if Adrian is doing well now. Since Elliot's bad news came, she has not contacted them.

Wesley answered the phone quickly: "Avery, how are you doing now? Is there a conclusion about Elliot?"

"I'm okay. Elliot...He shouldn't be dead." Avery hesitated After a moment, "Body is still missing. Of course, even if he is not dead, he should not be very good now."

"As long as he is not dead. Even if he is sick, he can be cured. Wait for him to recover. Well, he will come back naturally." Wesley comforted, "You don't have to worry about Shea. She is recovering well. But because she is in poor health, she still needs to be hospitalized."

"Well. Where's Adrian, How is he? "

"I hired a teacher for him to teach him something every day. I go to see him every night. He is in good shape.” Wesley didn’t send her a message these days, for fear of disturbing her.

“Where’s Cole? Did he trouble you?”

“No. Maybe he has already returned to Aryadelle. After all, it’s useless for him to stay here. Besides, isn’t it said that Elliot is dead in Aryadelle, even if there is something wrong with him? Thinking about it, I think it’s time to go back to Aryadelle and plan again.”

Avery breathed a sigh of relief: “Wesley, you’ve worked hard for you. I don’t know how long it will take me to find you. If Shea discharged from the hospital, you have to bring them both back to Aryadelle...”

Wesley: “She was discharged early. I plan to wait until she recovers before letting her out.”

Avery: “Well.”

Wesley: “Are you still in Yonroeville? Will you be in danger?”

Avery: “No. Although Kyrie is not a good person, I don’t have a deep hatred with him, and he won’t do anything to me.”

Wesley: “That’s good. You don’t have to worry about Shea and Adrian. Take care of yourself.”

Avery: “Well.”

After talking on the phone, Avery took out his film again. She was a little sleepy, but couldn’t sleep.

Xander is coming over next week.

Chapter 1257

Now there are still several tests needed to confirm the condition, and these tests are more important, she plans to wait for Xander to come over before doing it. However, she can now draw several causes of her intracranial hemorrhage based on her own experience.

In the evening, the golden house.

After returning from Elliot's villa, Kyrie has been frowning.

Seeing this, his subordinates wondered, "Brother Kyrie, didn't Elliot's surgery succeed? He doesn't remember Avery now. Why are you not happy?"

Kyrie took out a cigar from the cigarette case, The subordinate immediately took the lighter and lit him a cigarette.

"F*ck, I remember Rocky." Kyrie took a cigarette and exhaled a thick ring of smoke, "This terrible operation has only been done for half a year. It made me regain my memory so quickly."

"Ah! Have you regained your memory?"

"The doctor said, it's like cutting a piece of your flesh, some people may dent a large piece, and some people will grow back. Everyone is different. Kyrie said in distress, "I f*cking remember Rocky. This beast killed my most beloved woman."

His subordinates: "..."

Kyrie raised nearly two A ten-year-old dog named Rocky. Before the end of the dog's life, Rocky killed Kyrie's favorite woman at that time.

Kyrie did not hesitate at that time, and shot Rocky with one shot.

Every time this memory reminds Kyrie, it is painful. Because he didn't know whether he was suffering because of the death of his beloved woman, or because he killed Rocky on impulse.

Between women and dogs, Kyrie is lost. But as time went by, the woman and the dog didn't bother him so much anymore.

What he is worried about now is that the effect of the operation is so unstable, maybe one day Elliot will think of Avery.

“Brother Kyrie, while Elliot doesn’t remember Avery, you can quickly make him your person.” The subordinate suggested, “When he becomes your person, even if he remembers Avery, he will not be able to. What’s the impact.”

“How do I make him my person? Although he trusts me now, he is still that tough guy. It’s not that easy to conquer him.”

“Didn’t he hate Avery now? He definitely wants to take back the Sterling Group and the custody of his three children, but he doesn’t have the ability to do this now. You just need to give him a little favor... Of course, the favor can’t be given in vain, you can Set some conditions, such as letting him...”

Having said this, the subordinate leaned into Kyrie’s ear and spoke his mind. Hearing this, Kyrie nodded in satisfaction.

.....

In the modern minimalist villa, Elliot couldn’t sleep at night.

He pressed the call bell. After a while, the nanny came.

“Give me a cup of coffee.” The nanny was stunned: “Mr. Foster, you’ve just finished surgery, so I’m afraid it’s not suitable to drink coffee. Shall I warm you up with a glass of milk?”

“Are you teaching me to do things?” Elliot frowned and said impatiently.

“I’m going to make coffee for you.” The nanny was so frightened that he didn’t dare to shout, and immediately exited the room.

After the nanny left, Elliot picked up the phone and turned it on. He typed Avery into the search box of the browser and pressed the search button.

Soon, countless pieces of news about Avery appeared in front of him.

This woman has a gentle and quiet appearance. Although she can be considered beautiful, among the countless stunning beauties she has seen, she is at most average.

Why did he let this woman have three children for him?

Chelsea is much prettier than her, but he has never touched Chelsea.

Until, he clicked on a video about Avery——

Chapter 1258

In the video, Avery's eyes flowed and he was in high spirits. She answered the reporter's questions fluently, with confidence between her eyebrows and eyes.

Looking at her face, listening to her voice, Elliot head suddenly ached. There was a sudden white light in his mind, as if something exploded.

He put down the phone, held his head in his hands, squatted down in pain, panting heavily and unsteadily.

...

Avonsville.

Hayden brought Gwen back from outside.

Seeing them coming back so quickly, Mrs. Cooper was a little surprised: "The surgery is over?"

Hayden didn't want to face Gwen for a second, so he went back to the room immediately.

Gwen shook her head: "I didn't do it."

"Why didn't I do it? The doctor doesn't have time today?" Mrs. Cooper said, "I said why so fast."

"Mrs. Cooper, is Hayden rich? The doctor asked me why I had an abortion. I said I didn't have the money to support the child. In the end, Hayden told me that if I just wanted to have an abortion for this reason, then I could think about it again. Because he is willing to give me money to support the child."

Mrs. Cooper was shocked.

"Does Hayden really have a lot of money? Otherwise, why did he say that to me?" In Gwen's opinion, what kind of money can a child under the age of ten have?

Even if he has money, it is just the annual lucky money.

"Gwen, Hayden should be quite rich. Since he said he wants to give you money to raise your children, he will definitely do what he says." Mrs. Cooper felt complicated, "Hey, now that Elliot is not here, Hayden has to take on the heavy responsibility of the whole family."

"I feel so ashamed when you say that." Gwen blushed.

"Does your child really belong to Ben Schaffer?" Mrs. Cooper wondered, "Is Ben Schaffer so irresponsible?"

Gwen lowered her head, not knowing how to explain.

"Let's talk about your business when Avery comes back. Also, I didn't expect Hayden to be so kind to you. He has a very slow personality."

"I can see that Ben Schaffer seems to be cold to everyone." Gwen shrugged, "Although he has a dark face, he has a good heart."

"Your brother, Elliot is the same. It's a pity..." Mrs. Cooper paused when she said this.

Gwen knew that she was sad about Elliot, so she changed the subject: "Are you going to make lunch? Let me help you. I'm very good at cooking."

Mrs. Cooper nodded: "Okay."

At this time, Ben Schaffer drove over. He went to the modeling agency where Gwen worked before. He wanted to find out who was the woman he slept in the hotel that night.

Gwen did not deny that the child in his womb was his, this incident pierced his heart like a thorn, making him particularly uncomfortable.

When he arrived at the model company, he didn't explain his intention, but just asked the boss to call all the female models.

After about half an hour, all the female models lined up in front of him.

The fat-headed male boss said with a flattering smile: "Mr. Schaffer, which one do you like, take it away directly."

Ben Schaffer looked over all the female models one by one, and his heart became a ball.

That night, the lights were not turned on, so he had no idea what the woman looked like. Moreover, the woman didn't say a word that night, and he didn't know what the woman's voice was like.

He only vaguely remember that in the dim vision, He saw that the woman had long hair. But the group of women in front of them basically have long hair.

Ben Schaffer couldn't find any clues, so he could only show off with the fatheaded man: "Who was the woman you sent to my room before? Don't go around in circles with me, if you lie, I have a way to keep you from hanging out in Aryadelle. "

The fat-headed man was so frightened that his legs were weak: "President Schaffer, how dare I lie to you. You suddenly found the woman that night...Is there something wrong? Was it because she didn't serve you that night? Or... ..She served you so well that night, do you still want it?"

"I'll just answer the fcking question you ask." Ben Schaffer kicked the coffee table in front of him with his feet, furious, " It's all your fcking good work! Even if you want to make trouble, I will only trouble you!"

The fat-headed man was so frightened that he thumped and knelt on the ground: "Mr. Schaffer, the truth is, I will serve you that night. The woman in my hands is no longer under my control. I thought you took care of her."

"She is not under your care? Where has she gone? Tell me, her name." Ben Schaffer stood up from the sofa and glared angrily at him.

The fat-headed man stammered: “She’s been with you a few times, why don’t you know who it is? It’s Gwen.”

Ben Schaffer: “!!!”

Chapter 1259

Gwen!

It turned out to be Gwen!

Gwen, this d*mn woman. She also said that the woman accompanying him was her colleague. Why doesn’t she tell the truth? Why lie to him?

Ben Schaffer took a deep breath, clenched his fists and strode away from the modeling agency.

Coming out of the modeling agency, his cell phone rang. He took out his phone and saw an unfamiliar number.

He instinctively wanted to hang up the phone, but after a closer look, this number was the number of Yonroeville!

His brain was running fast... Just as he was about to answer the phone, the phone suddenly hung up.

.....

Yonroeville.

The nanny took the brewed coffee and entered Elliot’s bedroom.

Elliot hung up the phone immediately. He remembered Ben Schaffer’s number just now, so he dialed it uncontrollably. In fact, he didn’t think about what to say after the phone got through.

Now Sterling Group is no longer his company, and Ben Schaffer is not his chief financial officer. Even if they have been friends for many years, but now things are different, and they are in contact, what can be changed?

Even if Ben Schaffer still regards him as a friend, how can he maintain the unequal friendship in this relationship?

The nanny brought the coffee to him and put it down: "Mr. Foster, do you need anything else?"

"No, go out." Elliot voice was cold and emotionless.

After the nanny went out, he closed the door quickly. He picked up the coffee cup and took a sip.

The phone screen lit up, and it was Ben Schaffer who called. He looked at Ben Schaffer's number on the screen, and the bitter taste spread from the tip of his tongue.

After the phone rang for a while, it was automatically disconnected by the system because it was not answered.

Ben Schaffer did not call again. His world has returned to peace. After the severe headache just now, some primitive emotions settled in his heart.

For example, he wants to go back to Aryadelle and take back his company.

Also, he wants to take back his three children one by one.

Everyone has their own innate characteristics, these characteristics are integrated into the blood.

For Elliot, his characteristics are: savage, plundering, and dominating everything. Even if he has nothing now, but one day, he will return to the top of power.

3 days later.

Avery got news from Elliot in the hotel. She didn't expect to hear from him so soon. She didn't even expect that the news that Elliot was still alive made her unable to laugh.

"Boss, don't do this." The bodyguard looked at her ashen, and felt very uncomfortable.

Elliot's news was brought back to her by him. He was smoking outside the hotel today and heard what others said.

Now this incident has spread in Yonroeville.

"Boss, you are seriously ill now, you want to open up." The bodyguard continued to comfort.

Avery coughed violently. Suddenly, bright red blood spattered from the corner of her mouth.

Chapter 1260

Avery wanted to say, I'm fine, I'm fine. But the blood on the corner of her mouth made her speechless.

The bodyguards were as anxious as ants on a hot pan, turning round and round.

"Boss, shall I take you to the hospital? Or should I call to get the ambulance?"

In a panic, the bodyguard pulled a few pieces of paper and stuffed it into her hand, "How about I go get you a basin of water first? "

Don't panic." Avery wiped the blood from the corner of her mouth with a tissue, and took a breath, "My friend will be here soon. Wait for him..."

"Wait for him. Wait for him again!" Maybe when he comes, you're already dead." The bodyguard could not wait to send her to the hospital immediately,

"You are coughing up blood, you can't drag it on any longer."

Avery sat down in the chair and calmed herself come down: "If I have an operation on my disease, I want to drain the blood in my brain. Maybe the blood I am coughing up now is the blood in my brain."

Even if the bodyguard doesn't know medicine, he knows she is talking nonsense: "Then keep coughing. Cough up all the congestion."

Avery: "Go get me a basin of water. I want warm water."

Bodyguard: "OK."

The bodyguard went to pick up a basin of warm water and put it in in front of Avery.

Avery glanced into the water: "Where's the towel?"

"You didn't say you wanted me to take the towel. There are several towels in the bathroom, which one do you want?" the bodyguard asked.

"The pink one."

"Oh. Boss, when your awesome classmate is here, can he immediately perform surgery on you?" The bodyguard brought the pink towel and threw it into the basin.

"No. Before the operation, there are still several important examinations that need to be done." Avery twisted up the towel and wiped her face.

The bodyguard looked at her calmly and calmly, as if someone else was coughing up blood just now.

"Can't you go and have the check-up done now?"

Avery said, "I talked to the doctor here, and he said that my disease will not die all at once. He asked me to wait for my friend to come. She said he The teacher knows me, and his teacher told him not to mess around."

Bodyguard: "???"

"Are you relieved now? I won't die for a while." Avery washed her face and felt much refreshed, but there was still a heavy weight in her mouth. Bloody smell.

"What can I rest assured? I can rest assured when you are ill." The bodyguard took the water basin away. "When will your classmates arrive?"

Avery: "Tomorrow."

The bodyguard: "How are you doing today?"

"Stay in the hotel to rest." Avery got up from the sofa and planned to go to bed for a while. She feels very weak now and can't lift herself up.

There may be a reason for her illness, or it may be because Elliot's news hit her too hard.

The bodyguard told her that Elliot and Kyrie's daughter were married.

The bodyguard put the water basin in place and came out of the bathroom.

Seeing her lying sick on the bed, she couldn't bear to leave her alone.

"Boss, Elliot must have taken a fancy to the money of Kyrie's family." The bodyguard advised her, "He lost power in Aryadelle, so he is now targeting the Jobin family."

"Don't persuade me." Avery's voice was cold, "I know what kind of person he is. I believe he is not the kind of person you said."

"Then why did he marry Miss Jobin? Is it because of love?"

"Can't it be forced? He can't fall in love with another woman so quickly. He can't betray himself for money." Avery's deep eyes seemed to hide a sharp sword, very sharp.

Bodyguard: "Okay, he was forced. It must have been Kyrie who put a knife on his neck and forced him. Then why are you lying on the bed? Why didn't you save him?"

Avery: "I was thinking the way."

Bodyguard: "..."

Avery: "If we both go hard, we will only be thrown out. You go and find out where he lives now. I want to see him."

There are bodyguards in front of Kyrie's house. Where did he go to inquire about such detailed information?

Chapter 1261

But seeing Avery's pale face, the bodyguard didn't want her to force her way, so he agreed.

Avonsville.

Ben Schaffer drove to the Starry River Villa.

He was very messy inside and didn't know how to face Gwen, but... since she was the woman who was at the hotel that night and was pregnant with his child, he must be responsible for her and the child. Even if he can't marry her, he must support her.

Ben Schaffer got out of the car and strode to the gate of the villa to change his shoes.

Gwen was eating fruit in the living room, and when he saw Ben Schaffer standing at the door changing his shoes, he was completely dumbfounded.

–What is he doing here?

–Certainly not for her.

–In that case, she should go back to her room.

–She can't help but quarrel with him.

The more she thought about it last night, the more unwilling she became.

If his parents weren't there yesterday, she would definitely have to scold him before leaving.

“Gwen, where are you going?” Ben Schaffer changed his shoes, and when he saw her getting up to leave, he immediately stopped her, “I'm here to find you. You go back to the sofa and sit down, let's talk.”

“What? What can we talk about?” Gwen said so, but she still went back to the sofa and sat down.

“Talk about the night we were in the hotel before and what we did that night.”

Ben Schaffer's face was ashen, he walked up to her and stopped, “I already know! If I hadn't gone to your former company and asked about it, what would you do? Hide me for the rest of your life?"

Gwen retorted, "It's funny, isn't this your own problem? Other men will be like you, no one will know when they sleep at night? If you sleep ugly, you will too.

Do you agree? Or are you saying you've always been so nonchalant?"

Ben Schaffer: "... " Anger! Guilty! Speechless!

"I wasn't like this before." Ben slumped down beside her.

"I don't care about what you did in the past." Gwen said calmly, and said with disgust, "The sofa is so big, you have to sit next to me? You stay away from me."

A sense of frustration, in Ben Schaffer's heart Comes to life. He didn't move because the matter wasn't settled.

"Gwen, tell me, how to solve the problem of the child? What do you want?"

Gwen: "I want you to stay away from me."

Mrs. Cooper heard the movement and immediately poured a glass of water for Ben Schaffer and brought it over.

Ben Schaffer took the water glass, thanked him, and took a sip.

"Gwen, I was wrong about what happened before. I'm confused, I shouldn't question you. I shouldn't drive you away either... It's my responsibility that you are like this now, I'll make up for you. You talk to me first. I'm going back..."

Gwen said uncomfortably, "I won't go to your house. I have already found someone to support me. I don't need you to worry about my child's life."

Ben Schaffer nodded, "It's only been one night, and you found the man who took the order?"

Gwen picked up the cup on the coffee table and took a sip: "Yeah! What are you doing so unexpectedly? Get on me?"

Ben Schaffer grabbed the water cup in her hand, raised his hand and wanted to throw it –

“Hey! This is Avery’s cup.” Gwen quickly reminded, “If you want to be angry, go back to your house. “

Ben Schaffer left in anger.

Gwen exhaled heavily.

.....

Yonroeville.

Avery’s bodyguard came to Kyrie’s house, gathered up his courage, and pressed the doorbell.

Chapter 1262

It happened that Kyrie was at home. After his subordinates reported the situation, Kyrie was very curious, so he asked his subordinates to let Avery guard in.

The bodyguard did not expect to enter Kyrie’s house so smoothly, and was a little panicked.

But since it comes, it will be safe. If you can help Avery contact Elliot, it will be even better.

During the security check, all the daggers and hidden weapons on the bodyguards were seized.

The bodyguard was extremely regretful in his heart, but he pretended that nothing had happened. He has been with Avery for a long time, and is deeply influenced by Avery’s temperament.

Arriving at the living room of Kyrie’s house, the bodyguard saw Kyrie and greeted him politely: “Hello, Mr. Jobin.”

“Call me Brother Kyrie.”

“Brother Kyrie, hello. I’m Avery’s bodyguard. I came to see you today because my boss Avery has something to ask for.” The bodyguard sat down on the sofa next to him and said calmly.

“Oh? She’s still in Yonroeville?” Kyrie thought that Ben Schaffer took Avery away, but he didn’t expect her to be obedient at all.

“Yes. But she will go back to Aryadelle soon. She gave up because she heard that Elliot married your daughter.” The bodyguard lied without blinking, “Before she wants to go back to Aryadelle, she will see Elliot and bless him face to face.”

Kyrie raised his thick eyebrows in disbelief. But the appearance of the bodyguard does not look like a lie at all.

“Are you sure she wants to bless Elliot and my daughter, not to make trouble?” Kyrie said sarcastically.

“What’s the matter with her? She’s so small, she has no power to hold a chicken, can she make trouble?” The bodyguard teased, “Furthermore, Elliot has nothing now, and coming here to be your son-in-law is a tall order. The boss is very happy for him.”

“You speak so nicely. It’s a pity, you are Avery’s bodyguard.” Kyrie laughed, “Well, go back and tell Avery, I can let her see Elliot, but after seeing this, she must go back to Aryadelle. Elliot has started a new life with my daughter, and I don’t want to see his ex-wife disturbing their lives from time to time.”

“Okay! I’ll tell my boss when I go back. Did they meet?” the bodyguard asked.

“Tomorrow! He’s not free today.”

“Okay. Then I won’t disturb you.” The bodyguard said and left immediately. He didn’t expect this trick to be so smooth.

He returned to the hotel and saw Avery reading with a black notepad. He knocked on the door and came in, but Avery didn’t notice.

“Boss, what are you looking at?”

Avery closed the notepad: "How is it? Have you heard the news?"

"I went directly to Jobin's house and settled with Kyrie. He said he would arrange for you to meet tomorrow. The bodyguard reminded, "I lied, I said you were going to bless Elliot and Miss Jobin, and Kyrie agreed. So boss, when you see Elliot tomorrow, don't get angry. Don't make trouble. Otherwise, they will definitely be punished by them."

Avery raised a bitter smile: "Should I praise you for being smart?"

"Since working by your side, I have indeed become smarter." The bodyguard poured her a glass of warm water, "If Elliot refuses, Come with you, let's go back to Aryadelle. Kyrie must have given him a lot of benefits, otherwise he wouldn't be willing to stay here."

Avery said hoarsely, "He's pranking with me. He doesn't care money at all. If he cares about money, why should he hand over the Sterling Group to others?"

"Oh...do you have such a big stake in your anger? The world of rich people, I don't understand."

"I will talk to him tomorrow. Explain clearly, if he is determined to break with me, I will respect and bless him." Avery lost her mind.

After all, Avery's physical condition is unclear now, and she still doesn't know what will happen after the operation.

The next morning.

After Avery received Xander's call, he immediately took a taxi to the airport to pick him up.

They met when they were in graduate school. After graduation, Avery returned to Aryadelle, while Xander entered the best hospital in Bridgedale.

Their lives never intersected after that.

So now meeting at the airport, the expressions of the two of them are a little embarrassed and cramped.

Xander said, "I haven't seen you for a few years, and you are still so beautiful but you look quite haggard. Do you have any other symptoms besides a headache now?"

Avery shook her head: "At present, the headache is more obvious."

Xander said, "Well, although you don't have many symptoms now, you should have surgery as soon as possible. I'll do a cerebral angiography today to see the specific situation. By the way, you didn't eat breakfast in the morning, right?"

Avery nodded: "No."

"That's fine. Let's go to the hospital now."

"So anxious? You just arrived, I'll treat you to dinner. Besides, I have something to do today, I'll do it tomorrow..."

Xander looked at her seriously, "Avery, don't make fun of your life. Does Wesley know about your illness? Don't you know? If you don't listen to me, I'll call him now."

Avery raised her hand and surrendered: "Then let's go to the hospital now."

"You are a doctor yourself, even one of the top doctors in the world. Don't you understand how critical your situation is now? You said you didn't suffer from it. If you hit your head, why do you have bleeding inside your skull?" Xander said solemnly, "It must be a disease."

Avery: "Old classmate, don't be so serious. I really have something to do today..."

Xander: "Whatever you have Whatever happens, you must do all the tests that you need to do today. After the cause is diagnosed, operate as soon as possible.”

Avery took out her mobile phone to see if there was any news. Probably because she was too strong, she actually received news from Kyrie.

Kyrie told her that she could arrange to meet Elliot tonight. She immediately replies ‘OK’ and checks the time.

If the imaging goes well, it will be over in about an hour or two, and it will not affect her going to see Elliot tonight.

Thinking of this, she breathed a sigh of relief.

“Avery, I heard that your husband died.” Xander said suddenly.

Avery said, “No, my husband isn’t dead. He’s still alive.”

“Oh? Then why does the news say he’s dead?” Xander was puzzled.

“Because someone wants to make a clean break with his past life.” Avery saw the bodyguard beckoning to her not far away, and immediately walked over with Xander.

“Then you two got in touch? Does he know about your illness?” Xander asked after the two got into the car.

“I haven’t seen him yet. But I will soon.” Avery fastened her seat belt, “Xander, let’s not talk about this. I’m not sure I can let him go back with me.”

“Okay! I don’t ask about it.”

After arriving at the hospital, Xander took Avery for a routine preoperative examination.

After the routine examination, the two entered the dsa examination and treatment room.

When the anesthetic was injected into her body, she lost consciousness within a few moments.

.....

In the evening, the Jobin family. The front yard was full of luxury cars.

The banquet hall on the second floor was brightly lit.

Today was the first time for Elliot and Rebecca Jobin to entertain guests after their marriage.

They didn't have a wedding.

Because Kyrie wanted to make them husband and wife as soon as possible, there was no time to prepare for the wedding.

"Why hasn't Avery come yet?" Kyrie glanced at the time and said jokingly,

"Should Avery not come?"

Chapter 1264

At the gate of the courtyard, a taxi stopped.

The bodyguard got out of the car first, and then helped Avery down.

Bright lights were turned on in the yard, illuminating the figures of the guests in a colorful way.

Avery recognized Elliot's figure in the crowd at a glance. He was wearing black clothes and black pants, holding a goblet in one hand and a woman in a white dress in the other.

The woman leaned on him like a bird, smiling happily and charmingly. The two were like a golden boy and a beautiful girl, and they were a perfect match.

The bodyguard followed her gaze, and after recognizing Elliot, he coughed dryly: "Boss, why don't we go in? If we go in, aren't we looking for abuse? I think Mr. Foster and his new wife seem to be very affectionate."

The bodyguard's voice was settled, and Avery strode into the yard. To be precise, it was walking towards Elliot.

The bodyguard bravely followed in.

As a result, after entering the yard, the bodyguard was immediately invited to stay in the entourage area on the other side.

The bodyguard sat down in the chair, and out of the corner of his eyes, Avery caught Elliot's arm and wanted to pull him away.

The bodyguard was stunned. Avery was so fierce, she will definitely be driven away by Kyrie's bodyguards.

"You are Avery, right?" Rebecca grabbed Elliot's arm and pulled it back, "Why are you pulling my husband?"

"He's my husband too." Avery looked at Rebecca coldly.

Rebecca reasoned with her, "I know the two of you got married in Aryadelle, but you didn't get the certificate. Although Elliot and I didn't have the wedding, we already got the certificate. He is my husband now, not your husband."

Since Rebecca wanted to reason, Avery also patiently reasoned with her.

"Elliot is from Aryadelle, not Yonroeville. We don't recognize the marriage certificate of Yonroeville. So in my case, he is not your husband. Unless..."

"Unless what?" Rebecca asked.

Avery said word by word, "Unless he cancels the nationality of Aryadelle and joins the nationality of Yonroeville. As long as he is from Aryadelle for a day, I will not recognize your husband and wife relationship."

"You... hello Bad." Rebecca frowned her beautiful eyebrows and became furious, but she couldn't do anything about Avery, "Elliot, tell Avery whose husband you are now."

Elliot's eagle-like eyes fell on Avery's face .

From the moment she came to him, Elliot began to look at her.

Avery face is exactly the same as what Elliot saw online, but her eyes are not as confident and energetic as in the video. It was this woman who took away his company and occupied his three children.

After Kyrie saw Avery upstairs, he immediately went downstairs to watch the fun.

From the corner of Elliot's eyes, Kyrie was coming, so he said to Avery every word, "I'm Rebecca's husband. If you dare to speak rudely to Rebecca again, don't blame me for being rude."

Avery felt a pain in her mouth and clenched her fingers tightly, "Okay, Rebecca is your wife, I'm not. Then will you go back to Aryadelle in the future? Or do you plan to stay here forever and love your Rebecca until you grow old."

Elliot looked at her face and said sternly, "Of course I will grow old with Rebecca. I will go back to Aryadelle. I want to get everything I lost back. I will make you pay a heavy price."

Chapter 1265

Avery thought she heard it wrong.

Elliot said that what he lost, he wanted to get it all back.

–What he lost, is the Sterling Group?

"Elliot, since you said so, let's settle the old accounts thoroughly tonight." Avery grabbed his arm again, "I want to talk to you alone. Because this involves our privacy."

Avery said after finishing, she drag him away from the crowd.

This is Kyrie's home, wherever they go, there are Kyrie's eyes and ears.

The two came to the backyard and stopped.

"Elliot, don't talk yet, just listen to me." Avery looked at him with tears in his eyes and explained to him, "I did talk to Henry at the beginning, and I would persuade you to transfer the equity to Adrian. That is Because I found Shea. Shea has kidney failure and needs a kidney transplant. Only Adrian's kidney matches. But they hid Adrian, and I can't find Adrian. And the situation on Shea's side is different. It's more critical."

"I compromised in order to save Shea. The reason I didn't tell you was because I was afraid that you would be forced to act too aggressively by them. Elliot, your equity was transferred to Adrian, not to transfer. To Henry or Cole. Adrian is now in Bridgedale, you come with me, we will pick up Adrian, I will let him return the equity to you. You are still the boss of Sterling Group, you have nothing to lose. We Live as before... okay?"

After she said all she had to say, she waited for him to respond. She was sure she had said all the key information.

She was very sure that after Elliot knew all this, he would not resent her anymore. Because no matter how unpleasant the process was, now Shea has recovered, and the equity he lost can be returned to him.

It means that Henry and his son were happy for nothing and got nothing.

The result was much better than she expected.

It's just that Elliot misunderstood.

"Not good." After a brief silence, Elliot gave a firm answer, "Put away your pretentious good intentions, I will take back my shares myself."

"Elliot, what do you mean? What are you going to do?"

"I made it very clear in the front yard just now. I will make you pay a heavy price." Elli was afraid that she would not hear clearly, so he grabbed her slender arm with his backhand, squeezed it tightly, and stared at her with black obsidian-like eyes. The voice came from a cold pool, "I won't fall down twice in one place, and I won't suffer two losses on the same woman. I, Elliot, completely cut off from the past."

Avery looked at his eyes, the body can not stop shaking.

How could he do this? After he came to Yonroeville, what happened?

His face is still familiar, and his voice has not changed, but why did he become so cold-blooded and ruthless?

“Are you going to cut ties with me, or cut off your ties with your children? Or, do you want to cut ties with everyone in Aryadelle?” Avery choked up, tears pouring down, “Elliot! Who owes you? Who owes it? Don’t you want to Shea? You wrote in your notebook that the person you cared about most died, isn’t it Shea? She is not dead. She will be discharged from the hospital soon. Do you want to cut ties with her too? “

Looking at her trembling little face crying, Elliot heart doesn’t seem to hurt at all.

Elliot doesn’t seem to have woken up from his numbness, and is now just a cold-blooded revenge machine.

“My relatives or friends were originally mine, and will be mine in the future.

Only you, nothing.” Elliot said indifferently, and pushed her arm away.

Avery’s body was stressed, and she staggered backwards suddenly, and fell straight down.

Her spine was injected with anesthesia today, and the injection port was still aching. And when she had an angiography today, the femoral artery was punctured, and now the wound is still very painful.

She was supposed to rest in the hospital for 24 hours, but she was forced out of the hospital because she was going to see him.

Unexpectedly, this was the result.

Chapter 1266

Elliot looked at her on the ground with an indifferent expression. His aloof and mighty appearance reminded her of the first time they met many years ago. At that time, he had just woken up from a vegetative state, and he had a cold and ruthless attitude towards everyone. Exactly the same as now.

Why does Elliot do this? Elliot treated Avery like a stranger who had nothing to do with him. No, he didn't treat her like a stranger. He took her as an enemy. He thought she had caused everything he lost. He said he would make her pay a heavy price.

She was suddenly curious how he would make her pay a heavy price.

His cold gaze was withdrawn from her, his long legs moved away, and he passed by her, bringing a gust of wind.

The fanning night wind was like a slap on her cheek, Make her feel hot.

Avery thought sadly, if she was about to die now, She is afraid Elliot wouldn't look at her more.

After a while, the bodyguards came and helped Avery up from the ground.

"Boss! Why did you fall? you should have listened to Dr. Jenkins and won't let you come." The bodyguard picked her up and hugged her, "Didn't you agree with Elliot? I think he went to his new wife's side again. It's over."

Avery sighed in pain and cried in a hoarse voice: "Elliot seems to have changed..."

"It's like a man has a new love." The bodyguard hugged her and quickly left the Jobin's house, "I have to take you to the hospital first. Dr. Jenkins will definitely not let you come out again when he sees you like this."

"I don't understand...how could Elliot fall in love with another woman so quickly..." Avery said.

The bodyguard carried her to the car, fastened her seat belt, and shoved the tissue box into her hand.

"Boss, I think it's more important for you to get medical treatment now. You fell to the ground just now, can't you get up?" The bodyguard was very distressed when he remembered how she was helpless on the ground just now.

Elliot's heart is too cruel.

In order to show his loyalty to Kyrie, he even treated his ex-wife like this.

Avery had a splitting headache, not knowing whether it was because of her heartbreak or because of her illness. She hugged the tissue box and closed her eyes in tears.

Everything, everything was disrupted. She lost Elliot. Totally lost.

Even if she brought Shea to him, it wouldn't change the situation.

She and Elliot were completely dead.

Jobin family.

Kyrie was very satisfied with Elliot's performance tonight.

"Elliot, I read you right. You are indeed a person worthy of trust." Kyrie patted Elliot on the shoulder, "I am completely relieved that Rebecca will follow you in the future."

Elliot lit a cigarette, Between his fingers: "The surgery is really useful. I can't remember what happened with Avery. I have no interest in women now."

"That's how men should be focus on career." Kyrie took Elliot with him and walked towards the hall, "Your family is stable now and your health has recovered. I have an important job for you to do. As long as you do it well, I will slowly hand over the business to you in the future."

Elliot followed Kyrie and entered the golden hall.

.....

Hospital, inpatient department.

After Avery lay down on the hospital bed, she couldn't sleep.

Elliot's reaction tonight was too weird.

It didn't look like Elliot's being threatened anymore.

Chapter 1267

But Elliot has indeed changed. Become unfamiliar and cold-blooded. It doesn't make sense to reason with him, and he refuses to talk to him about old feelings.

Avery felt like a stone was blocked in her heart, heavy and painful.

Perhaps, letting go of obsessions is the only way out.

The next morning.

Avery decides to go to Bridgedale with Xander for surgery. It's not that surgery can only be performed in Bridgedale, but it is meaningless for her to stay in Yonroeville.

Elliot was determined to say goodbye to the past completely and start life anew. She stayed here just to get in his way.

When packing her luggage, Avery was holding a black notepad and was dazed. This was Elliot's thing and should be returned to him.

"It seems that the amnestic technique was really good. Elliot didn't remember his ex-wife at all. I heard that his ex-wife went to him last night, but she was overthrown by him..."

"Then don't our hospital want to It's on fire? After all, the vice president personally gave Elliot the chief knife." A conversation sounded into Avery's ears.

Avery was shocked and walked out the door immediately. She quickly caught up with the two nurses who were talking just now, and grabbed the arm of one of the nurses.

"What kind of amnesiac? How can there be an operation to clear memory in this world?" She exclaimed sharply, "Who is your vice president?"

The two nurses recognized Avery and panicked.

"Ms. Tate, haven't you been discharged from the hospital? Why haven't you left?"

“Yes, I do plan to leave the hospital. My friend has gone to help me with the discharge procedures.” Avery took them both into her ward, “you guys tell me now, what happened to the amnestics? Why did Elliot do this surgery? Was he forced to do this surgery?”

“No! It was done voluntarily by Elliot. Ms. Tate, since you are his ex-wife, why don’t you ask him in person?”

“Didn’t you say that he did amnestics, and he didn’t remember me at all.” Avery wanted to cry, but the corners of her mouth twitched, “No wonder he seemed to be a different person last night. It was because of this.”

“Ms. Tate, I know you are very injured now, but this operation was really done voluntarily by Elliot. He wants to forget you. So he did this operation. This operation can only be done in our hospital, because it is a brand-new technology developed by our vice president. I tell you this, I already know everything. Please don’t trouble with our vice president.”

Facing the nurse’s prayer, Avery suddenly released the nurse’s arm. The two nurses ran away immediately.

After a while, Xander completed the discharge procedures and returned to the ward.

“Xander, I’m not out of the hospital. I have to stay here.” She looked apologetic.

Xander looked at a loss: “What happened? Why did you change your mind?”

Avery walked to the door of the ward and put the door closed.

“Have you heard of amnestics? I’ve never heard of it before, but today, I heard about it.” Avery told Xander what the nurse told her just now.

After hearing this, Xander was very surprised: “There is actually such an operation? I have never heard of it. Who researched it?”

“The vice president of this hospital. I will find a way to meet this vice president someday.”

Xander was amazed, “Take me with you when you meet vice president. It’s amazing. Elliot had this operation, so he didn’t remember you at all?”

Avery nodded: “If he still remembers me , he won’t be so indifferent to me last night. Kyrie must have said a lot of bad things about me in front of him, so he now treats me as an enemy. If I don’t care about him, he will definitely be turned into a puppet by Kyrie. I Don’t let Kyrie’s tricks succeed.”

Xander understood her feelings of wanting to save Elliot, but...

“You better do the surgery first. I’ll make an appointment for the operating room.” Xander said back to business.

“No, if I do the operation now, it will take a long time to recover after the operation... I don’t have that much time to delay.” She made a choice without thinking, “My tumor is not too big, and it can be done again. Delay for a while. I want to help Elliot recover his memory. When he recovers his memory, I will have an operation immediately.”

Chapter 1268

Xander frowned when he heard the words. As a doctor, the health of the patient comes first.

As an old classmate, Avery’s condition is also on top of her relationship with Elliot.

Xander asked her, “What if it takes Elliot a long time to recover his memory? What if he can’t recover his memory? Are you going to keep dragging it on? Your tumor is not big now, when it gets bigger, say It may deteriorate rapidly, and then...”

“I will review it regularly. Once the tumor gets bigger, I will immediately undergo surgery. Xander, I will not joke about my life.” Avery looked at him and said,

“Elliot has just performed amnestics, and now is the easiest time to awaken his memory. Give me a month first, let me try it.”

“One month.” Xander’s Adam’s apple rolled , “If after a month, he still doesn’t have any feelings for you, then you must operate immediately.”

“Okay.” Avery thanked him very much for his understanding, “Xander, I can’t delay you for so long. Go back to work first. I’ll call you back when I decide to have an operation.”

Xander shook his head: “I haven’t been on vacation since I started working. Now I’ll take my vacation from the past few years together. If I don’t perform the operation for you, I will Don’t worry. You are Professor Hough’s most proud student. If something happens to you, Professor Hough will definitely be heartbroken. Although his old man has passed away, he has always lived in my heart.”

Xander’s remarks made Avery burst into tears.

“Xander, I owe you a favor. When you need me in the future, I will definitely be there.”

“You are serious. If our identities change, you will also help me.” Xander frowned, “I think you’re a little irrational. Although Elliot has lost his memory now, he is healthy. It’s the same if you go to him after the operation.”

Avery shook her head: “it’s different. It will take at least a month for me to recover from surgery. There are too many variables in this month. You don’t know what kind of person Kyrie is. He asked Elliot to do this surgery, Just to turn Elliot into his pawn. I can’t let Elliot fall into the quagmire.”

After listening to her detailed explanation, Xander probably understood why she was so anxious to wake up Elliot’s memory.

“Can you approach him now?” Xander asked.

“Difficult.” Avery lowered her eyes, but her eyes were firm, “but this matter can’t trouble me. As long as I want, I will definitely find a way to see him.”

Xander nodded: “I’ll wait for you. If you feel uncomfortable, you must tell me. I will find a way to see the vice president these days to see if there is a way to restore Elliot’s memory quickly.”

“Thank you, Xander.”

“You’re welcome.”

.....

Avonsville.

Ben Schaffer called Chad and Jun out to drink and relieve the boredom.

“Has Avery called you?” Ben Schaffer looked at Mike.

Originally, he didn’t call Mike, but Chad brought Mike here.

It’s like he didn’t call Tammy, but Jun’s general Tammy also brought him.

“Hit.” Mike shrugged, “Every time she glanced at Robert, asked about Hayden, and then hung up the video. She didn’t talk to me at all.”

“Did you ask her about Elliot?” Ben Schaffer still Concerned about the whereabouts of Elliot.

“I said it all, she doesn’t talk to me too much.” Mike said here, the conversation changed, “But I checked the news of Yonroeville every day, and finally found Elliot. He is not only alive, but also alive and well.”

Ben Schaffer pricked up his ears.

“He is married to Kyrie’s daughter Rebecca. I’ll ask you, are you awesome?”

Mike poured a glass of wine and took a sip, “Avery refuses to come back, probably because he wants to win his heart. I think Avery was kicked by a donkey in the head, a sc*mbag like Elliot, what do you want him to do? Isn’t it dirty?”

Chapter 1269

Everyone was silent.

Only Tammy snorted coldly: "You men don't have a good thing."

Ben Schaffer was stimulated by this sentence: "It's boring for you to say that."

"I heard that you made Gwen's belly bigger and still Don't want to be responsible? Is there such a thing?" Tammy blocked his words, "I really sympathize with Gwen. Why did I meet you, a big sc*mbag?"

Jun bumped her with his elbow, Let her stop talking.

"Don't let people talk about it? Even if Elliot is here, I dare to call him a sc*mbag in front of him." Tammy came here today to vent Ben Schaffer.

"I didn't say I'm not responsible for Gwen. I went to her, and she said she found the man who took over. What the h-e-l-l can I say? Am I going to have a showdown with the pick-up man? It's ridiculous." Ben Schaffer held up wine glass, drink it up.

Chad immediately poured wine for him.

"Then you should reflect on it, why Gwen would rather live with the man than with you. It's not because of you." Tammy gave him a hard blow.

Ben Schaffer's eyes were scarlet, and he was scolded and dumbfounded.

Tammy said, "Although I haven't met Gwen, Avery told me that Gwen is a very poor girl. She has been neglected since she was a child and lacks love. Now as long as she is nice to her, she will be very obedient. You must be very bad to her."

Ben Schaffer said in a snarky manner: "How can you be good to her when you say that you are good to her? Marry her? I can't do it. She and I are like people from two worlds."

"Then why are you distressed? Just let Gwen and the man live together. You don't have to be responsible. After the child is born, it has nothing to do with you." Tammy blinked her apricot eyes, "Still, you don't want Gwen, but want a child?"

Ben Schaffer: "..."

Tammy: "Scmbag! Although Elliot is a scmbag, he didn't rob Avery for the child."

Ben Schaffer: "..."

Mike couldn't bear to see Ben Schaffer's face turning red: "Ben Schaffer, don't you really want a child?"

"Nonsense. Of course I want my own child. Don't you want it when you have a child?" Ben Schaffer retorted.

Mike blinked innocently, "I won't have a child. If you want a child, you can't have a child's mother, right?"

"I said, she has already found a pick-up man. I originally had a good discussion with her, but the discussion couldn't go on." Ben Schaffer picked up the wine glass and slammed the wine into his stomach.

It was the first time Ben Schaffer had encountered such a headache in all his years of life.

"If I told you that the man you were talking about was someone you knew..."

"Who?!" Ben Schaffer threw the wine glass down with a 'bang'.

"The man lives in Avery's house." Mike's reminder was clear enough!

"F*ck! She's on good terms with Avery's bodyguard?"

Everyone: "..."

"In your eyes, Hayden is not that man?" Mike saw him pitiful, so he pointed it out.

"You said that the man is Hayden?" Ben Schaffer's face changed from purple to pale, and from pale to peach red, “Hayden wants to help her raise a child? How embarrassing is this? He is still a child himself.”

Chapter 1270

“Gwen only need money to raise a child, and Hayden has more money.” Mike saw Ben Schaffer’s embarrassed expression and was overjoyed, “Gwen was going to the hospital to abort the child. She asked Hayden to accompany her to the hospital. After the two went to the hospital, I don’t know what happened, and finally Hayden decided to pay for her.”

Ben Schaffer’s anger disappeared immediately. He was embarrassed and wanted to burrow in the ground.

“Hayden is better than your biological father and Hayden is not even ten years old. Don’t you feel ashamed?” Tammy mocked.

“Don’t say it. I’m already ashamed.” Ben Schaffer sighed, “This Gwen has no other ability, and has a first-class ability to anger people. She didn’t tell me anything clearly, and deliberately made me angry.”

“Hayden’s character is so cold. Gwen can have a good relationship with Hayden but he can’t get along with you. It’s clear at a glance whose problem is.” Tammy scolded Ben Schaffer.

“Okay, I’ll go home and reflect on it. I’ll talk to Gwen when I calm down.” Ben Schaffer was defeated.

.....

Yonroeville.

After Avery left the hospital, Xander contacted the vice president through Avery’s previous doctor.

The two sat down at a restaurant near the hospital and shared lunch.

“Xander, do you have a good relationship with Avery?” The vice president said.

“It’s okay. I used to go to graduate school with her under Professor James Hough. It’s the same teacher, so she needed me this time, so I came here.”

Xander answered truthfully, “Vice President Lewis, I have an appointment today. You, mainly want to know about issues related to amnestics. Because I haven’t heard of anyone who has done this research successfully.”

The vice president said modestly, “I can’t talk about success. There are only 300 clinical examples. This still includes animal experiments.”

Xander was puzzled, “Then how dare you perform this operation on Elliot? If the operation is not mature, how dare you apply it to the human body?”

The vice president said, “Because there is no huge harm in this operation. Mr. Kyrie, who invested in this research, also performed this operation. You probably haven’t experienced any pain. Some people will suffer from some pain like memory torture in their lifetime. It affects life and affects work.”

Xander affirmed, “You are right. However, after this operation, is there a way to quickly restore memory?”

“No.” The vice president shook his head, “I am only responsible for researching how to make people lose their memory, not how to restore their memory.”

...

Avery asked the bodyguard to send him to Kyrie’s house. Unfortunately, Kyrie was not at home.

“I have something to give to Elliot. Does Elliot live here?” Avery discussed with the Jobin family bodyguard.

The Jobin family bodyguard shook his head: “What do you want to give him? I can help you pass it on.”

“It’s a very important thing.” Avery took out the black notepad, “There are some more important information in it. I have to hand over to Elliot.”

The Jobin family bodyguard: “He doesn’t live here. Don’t come here in the future to find him.”

“Where does he live?” After she asked this question, The Jobin family bodyguard did not return.

Avery’s bodyguard advised. “Boss, let’s go. If someone asks me about your residence, I won’t tell you. Isn’t it difficult for you to be a worker.”

Avery: “You can empathize with others. Why don’t you empathize with me?”

The bodyguard helplessly said, “I empathize with you. It’s just that I can’t empathize. If I were you, I would make so much money every year and I would play with different little meats every day. Why hang on an old tree like Elliot?”

Avery glared at him.

“Let’s go back. The sun is so vicious today.” The bodyguard blocked her from the sun with his palm, “Don’t tan you.”

She lifted his arm: “I’m not going back. I still have a way.”

“What way?” The bodyguard immediately went to open the door for her.

Since Avery didn’t plan to leave here any time soon, they rented a car at the dealership.

Chapter 1271

After getting in the car, Avery turned on her mobile phone and found a number to dial.

The phone was dialed, and it took a while to get through.

“Hello! Nick, I’m Avery.”

The person on the other side of the phone heard her voice and laughed:

“Where did you get my number?”

“I found your number.” Avery said straight to the point, “I want to ask you for a little help.”

“Dr. Tate, we had already settled at the mansion in the forest before. I don’t owe you any more, so I won’t help. You are busy.” Nick simply refused.

Avery said softly, “Yes, we did clear things up before. But how can you guarantee that you won’t ask me in the future? As you get older, the risk of brain disease increases. If you get sick in the future and come to me, and I will treat you for free.”

Avery’s bargaining chip made Nick’s heart move.

“What do you want me to do for you?” Nick’s breathing became heavier, and he laughed contemptuously, “Don’t you want me to help you snatch Elliot? You made a fool of yourself at Kyrie’s house last night. I heard.”

“You invited Elliot to your house, and I have something to give him back.”

“That’s it?”

“That’s it.”

Nick: “Okay, I’ll ask him now.”

After the negotiation, Avery received the positioning from Nick. She sent the location to the bodyguard and asked the bodyguard to drive over.

“Boss, you have some connections.” The bodyguard exclaimed.

“Have you heard of the law of six people? I used to think that the world is so big, how can any two people be connected by just six people?”

“Now you believe it?”

Avery didn’t answer this irrelevant question.

“I’m a little nervous. I’m afraid that Elliot will leave when she sees me.”

The bodyguard also sweated for her: “Boss, have you watched idol dramas?”

Avery: "Huh?"

The bodyguard said, "My wife loves to watch them. I'll follow along Just a little later. If Elliot doesn't want to listen to you later, you kiss him. If he wants to leave, you also kiss him too. As the saying goes, strong girls are afraid of entanglement. In fact, the same is true for men. You have to go out, shameless, I guarantee he can't do anything about you."

Half an hour later, the car stopped at the door of Nick's villa.

Avery entered the villa smoothly and met Nick.

Nick invited her to sit down and poured her tea in person.

"Nick, has Elliot agreed to come?" Avery felt uneasy in her heart.

Nick said slowly, "He will definitely give me his face but he didn't say when he would come, you can wait a while."

Avery: "Well. Do you know about his memory loss?"

Nick: "Yes. Yonroeville is so big, what can you hide from me?"

Avery pleaded in a hurry, "Can you help me, I want to take Elliot out of here. If he stays here, it will be difficult for him to get out of Kyrie's control."

"Avery, you are so naive." Nick looked at her with a deep meaning, "Let's not say that Elliot lost his memory now, even if he recovers his memory, he won't even think about leaving here."

Avery's heart clenched tightly: "Why?"

Nick said, "Because Kyrie won't let him go. If you want to get out of your body, you'd better leave now. Otherwise, I'm afraid you won't be able to leave by then."

Chapter 1272

About an hour later, a black car drove into the front yard of the villa.

Nick reminded Avery: "Your man is here."

Avery smiled bitterly: "He is not my man now, but my creditor."

He said it more than once last night, and wanted her to pay a painful price.

She lost sleep all night because of it. Even thinking about it now, her heart still feels vaguely uncomfortable.

After the car stopped, the door opened and Elliot strode out of the car. He was wearing black clothes and black pants today, which made his figure look tall and slender.

His bodyguard did not enter the living room with him. When he changed his shoes and entered the living room, his eyes immediately fell on Avery's face.

There was a palpable surprise in his eyes.

Seeing Avery during the day was different from seeing her last night.

Probably because people are more calm and rational during the day.

Nick said, "Elliot, sit down. How is your health?"

"It's fine." Elliot's expression returned to his usual coldness. He took the teacup from Nick, took a sip, and put it down.

Nick asked casually, "Do you and Rebecca plan to make up the wedding?"

I've prepared a big gift for you. If you don't make up the wedding, you can take the gift back later."

Elliot treated Avery like air and talked about this issue without a trace of discomfort, "I've been very busy recently, so I don't have time to think about it."

"I know you're very busy. Did Kyrie hand over the mess he couldn't handle to you? Hehe, listen to my advice, do some things if you can, don't be brave if you can't do it. Don't make a mess." Nick said lightly, glanced at Avery, then got up and said to Elliot, "Avery is looking for you. Do you want to talk to her? It's up to you."

After that, Nick strode out.

Elliot picked up the teapot and poured tea into the cup leisurely.

Avery took the black notepad in front of him and said, "Elliot, I'm here to return your things. This is what Kyrie gave me a few days ago. It's your thing, so I'll return it to you."

Elliot looked at the notepad, his eyes retracted: "Do you have anything else to do?"

Avery spoke too fast, afraid that he would get up and leave at any time, "I know you had amnestics. You forgot about me and everything that happened between us. So whether you are right now I don't blame you for my attitude. You take this notebook back and take a look at it."

"Avery, don't do any more fearless struggles. It's already over with you." The moment Elliot put down the teapot, his falcon-like eyes looked at her indifferently.

Avery looked directly at him: "I should have said this. Before you restore your memory, we will not end. As long as I don't admit that we are over, we will not be over."

Elliot looked at her stubborn face and gritted his teeth.

"Also, before I say it's over, you'd better keep yourself clean and don't do anything that's sorry for me." Avery asked him, "No matter how loving you are in front of people with your new wife, you two won't do anything at night. If you sleep together, You can't touch her and you can't let her touch you."

Elliot seemed to hear a funny joke, and a mocking arc appeared on the corner of his lips. He put the teacup down heavily, and the smile on his face instantly turned into a cold face.

"Are you ordering me?" Elliot reprimanded in a low voice, "Avery, do you believe I killed you?"

After he said these words, murderous intent shot up in his eyes. His words touched the rebellious factor in her body.

Avery walked in front of him and looked at him with red eyes: "Then you do it. If you don't do it today, I will look for you tomorrow, the day after tomorrow... I will look for you every day until you regain your memory."

Elliot looked at her not afraid of death, his Adam's apple rolled, and then he pushed Avery away in annoyance.

Chapter 1273

"How did you get Nick to promise to help you?"

"I have my own way." Avery sat down beside him and said aggrievedly, "Elliot, I can't make you forget me. All Our passion and love are closely related to you. Our past, you can't clear it all up if you want, or I can quit if you want to start a new life."

Elliot clenched his fingers tightly, not knowing how to connect her words.

He threatened her but she was not afraid. He couldn't really do anything to her. Even if he want to do something to her, he can't.

"Do you really have no feelings for me?" Avery squeezed his big palm tightly, "turn your head to look at me."

"Boring." Elliot sneered from his throat.

"I've long known that you are good at covering up your heart, but I don't believe that you completely forgot about me." Avery squeezed his hand with the utmost strength, her other hand wrapped around his neck, her red lips falling on his thin lips.

Elliot familiar breath stirred all the emotions in her heart. Thinking that he is now another woman's husband, thinking of his cold attitude towards himself, tears fell uncontrollably. Hot tears were printed on his face.

Elliot pushed her away suddenly and glared at her with disgust: "Avery! Did you use such a lowly method to control me before?"

"Yes!" Avery pursed her bright red lips and followed his words, Said, "Would you like to try it to see if you will be controlled by me again?"

Elliot was irritated by her words but he couldn't really kill her. Finally, he turned his anger on the black notepad in front of him. He threw the notepad in the trash. Then get up and get ready to leave.

"Elliot! You really forgot about me." Avery looked at his tall back and laughed at herself, "I thought you were lying to me but I didn't expect it to be true."

His footsteps stopped for a while, and then he decided to leave. After he left, Avery picked up the notepad from the trash can and wiped it clean with a tissue. After wiping, she put the notepad in her bag. Then she picked up the teapot and poured herself a cup of tea.

After a while, Elliot's car disappeared in the front yard of the villa. Avery came out of the villa with a bag.

The bodyguard saw her coming out and immediately opened the car door.

The bodyguard said, "Boss, I saw the two of you kissing. Do you still have feelings for him? Does he have feelings for you?"

Avery: "What do you think?"

"It's not me that you kissed, how do I know?" The bodyguard blushed and drove the car out.

Avery ignored the bodyguard's ridicule. She began to think about how to find Elliot tomorrow.

Elliot didn't take the notepad and Avery could continue to use this reason to go to him tomorrow.

During dinner, Avery was in the hotel and invited Xander to dinner.

“I met with the vice president today. He said there is no recovery method.”

Xander said and smiled, “But he said that the first monkey who underwent amnestic surgery has recovered its memory. Is this a good news?”

“Well. Forget it. I tested Elliot today. I don’t think he completely forgot about me.” Avery stated her basis, “Elliot really hates people touching him. But when I kissed him today, he didn’t push him immediately. Whether he remembers me or not, his body doesn’t resist me that much.”

Chapter 1274

Although the two of them were arguing on the surface, Avery had great confidence in her heart.

“Then what are you going to do next? After all, Elliot has a wife now. Wouldn’t you be embarrassed to go to him?” Xander asked.

“What’s so embarrassing about me? If it wasn’t for Kyrie, Elliot and I would have reconciled long ago.” Avery took a sip of water then continued, “You’ve seen someone get a marriage certificate as soon as they got off the operating table. “Well, but why does Elliot listen to Kyrie so much?”

Xander was a little confused, “You said Kyrie is not a good person, doesn’t Elliot know?”

Avery was silent for a moment, then explained: “It’s a complicated thing to say. Kyrie helped him a long time ago. The good and the bad are not simply distinguished by legal terms. Maybe the people we think are bad but some people good and kind hearted.”

“I see. If Elliot stays by Kyrie’s side, there will be no danger.”

“No. Kyrie is a very dangerous person, as long as Elliot stays with him by his side, even if Kyrie doesn’t move him, Kyrie’s opponents and enemies won’t let him go.” Avery said.

Avery was with Nick today and learned a lot of information.

Xander now completely understood.

Elliot entered a dangerous circle, and Avery wanted to pull him out of this circle. She is not only for Elliot and Rebecca to break up and come back to her, but also for Elliot's future.

Jobin family.

Kyrie invited Elliot and his daughter Rebecca to dinner.

A sumptuous meal was on the table.

After everyone was seated, Kyrie poured a glass of wine, and when he handed it to Elliot, he remembered that he had an operation, so he immediately put the glass in front of his daughter and said, "Rebecca, You drink for Elliot."

Rebecca smiled tenderly: "Dad, you treat Elliot better than me now. Who is your biological son?"

"I treat Elliot well, isn't it for you? Your brothers are not good, no one can do the best. I am also getting old, and we will only rely on Elliot in the future."

Kyrie said, looking at Elliot, "What is the third brother looking for you today?"

Elliot said, "He asked me and Rebecca when to make up for wedding. He prepared a gift for us."

Kyrie said, "Oh, he has a heart. Since the sixth and seventh died, he has refused to see me again. Our seventh brothers had such a good relationship before. Now it's like this, it's also chilling."

"Don't mention the past. I won't like to recall the past." Elliot took an empty wine glass and poured himself a drink, "Kyrie, I'll accompany you to drink some."

"Okay." Kyrie raised it up Clinking glasses with Elliot and said, "Ben Schaffer and Avery came over last time. They are ridiculous and they wanted to kill you. But I will not kill you. I used to treat you as a real brother. But now you have married my daughter, So let's kiss each other more."

"I made an appointment with the second and fourth brothers to meet in a week. If you don't want to come forward, then I will go alone." Elliot said.

"I'll go with you. I'm afraid you won't be able to deal with them if you go alone." Kyrie frowned and said solemnly, "They think I did the death of the sixth and the seventh. Now the two of them join forces. Come on, you want to kill me. If I hadn't read the past feelings, I would have killed them. Now that they have taken advantage of overseas capital, they want to ride on me, which is really irritating."

Elliot silently sipped wine.

"Although my appeal is to resolve this matter peacefully, if they have to be tough, I will accompany you to the end. In Yonroeville, no one can touch you. It's a big deal that everyone will die together. But they will never have the guts." Kyrie picked up the glass and poured the wine for Elliot, "They all know that you are mine now. As long as you don't leave the country in the future, I can guarantee your safety."

"I will solve this matter as soon as possible. It is impossible to stay in Yonroeville forever." Elliot wanted to take back which he has lost everything before.

"With your words, I'm relieved." Kyrie looked at the ambition in his eyes and was a little worried. If he can always obey himself, that's the best.

Chapter 1275

Kyrie was afraid that one day Elliot will swallow everyone in one bite.

Kyrie changed the subject, "Elliot, I heard that you met Avery today. Why is she still haunted? or I will send someone to drive her away so that she won't bother you all the time.”

“Avery used to treat Nick. If Nick can stand on our side this time, it will be more beneficial to us.” Elliot didn't directly say, ‘You don't touch Avery but the effect is more convincing.”

Kyrie reminded, “Okay! Then I'll give the third child a face. It's just that she always comes to you, doesn't she want to help you restore your memory? I have entrusted my daughter to you, you promised that you will treat her well in the future. Even if you get your memory back, you can't leave my daughter.”

“No.” Elliot drank the wine in the glass, put down the glass, and held Rebecca's small hand with his big palm, “Rebecca is very good. She's is suitable for my wife.”

Kyrie laughed: “My daughter must be good. I told her that she would obey you. If she makes you angry one day, you tell me, I'll teach my daughter a lesson.”

Rebecca said coquettishly, “Dad, can't you give me some face in front of Elliot. Elliot is my husband, of course I will take good care of him and listen to his words. Don't worry.”

After dinner, the driver drove Elliot and Rebecca back to their wedding room. Their wedding room was in the villa where Elliot lived before. That villa was about five kilometers away from Kyrie's villa.

A few minutes later, the car arrived at the wedding room and stopped.

Rebecca got out of the car first, and then helped Elliot to get out of the car.

He drank and felt a little dizzy.

Rebecca said softly, “Elliot, the doctor said that you can't drink for the past two weeks. It's my father's indiscretion to allow you to drink. I'll help you go back to your room to take a bath first. Then let the nanny cook you sober soup up."

Elliot was helped back to the bedroom, and Rebecca immediately went to the bathroom to give him bath water.

Rebecca was gentle, considerate, and obedient to him, and would not upset him at all.

Such a wife, save worry and trouble. Elliot couldn't fault it. But why did Avery's face and voice keep flashing in his mind?

Avery asked him to keep himself clean and forbid him to share a room with Rebecca.

In the past few days, Elliot really hadn't been in the same room with Rebecca. Because Rebecca was on her period, so Elliot slept in the guest room very intelligently and did not disturb her.

"Elliot, the water is ready. Do you want me to wash it for you?" Rebecca blushed slightly and walked up to him, trying to help him undress.

"No." Before Rebecca's fingers touched Elliot's body, he got up and strode into the bathroom.

Rebecca watched as the bathroom door closed, her heart pounding non-stop.

20 minutes later, Elliot came out wearing a bathrobe after taking a shower.

Rebecca was sitting by the bed in a sexy nightdress and looked at him affectionately.

Elliot was stunned when he saw this scene.

"Elliot, I'm leaving for my period. We can have the same room." Rebecca said shyly, walked up to him, and hugged his sturdy body with both hands.

Elliot's eyes darkened, and after tangled for a few seconds, he said dumbly,

“Okay.”

Chapter 1276

Avery told him not to sleep with Rebecca, but he chose to sleep with Rebecca. He wanted to prove that he was no longer the Elliot of the past. He could do whatever he wants now, and no one could control him.

“Elliot, I’m a little nervous, can you wait... be gentle?” Rebecca said shyly, pulling away the tie of his nightgown with her fingers.

Elliot held her fingers and frowned: “Have you sprayed perfume?”

“Well, does it smell good?” Rebecca raised her eyes and looked at him tenderly.

Tonight, she especially sprayed the fragrance that men are said to love.

“It doesn’t smell good.” Elliot re-fastened the strap of the nightgown, “Go and wash it off.”

“Oh, well...Actually, I don’t really like the smell.” Rebecca smiled and turned towards the bathroom.

He didn’t know if it was because of the strong fragrance, but he suddenly had no interest in Rebecca. He picked up the phone and checked the time.

It’s still early.

Elliot strode out of the bedroom and asked the nanny to make sober soup.

About a few minutes, Rebecca came out of the bathroom after taking a shower again.

But there was no Elliot in the bedroom.

Rebecca quickly put on her pajamas and came out of the room. It happened that the nanny came upstairs with the hangover soup.

“Have you seen Elliot?” Rebecca asked.

“Sir asked me to cook him sober soup and send it to the study.” The nanny said, "Miss, why don't you send it to Mr.?"

The nanny had always taken care of Rebecca, so she always considered her.

"Why did he go to the study?" Rebecca muttered, carrying the soup bowl and walking towards the study.

After knocking on the study door, she saw that the notebook on the desk was open, and Elliot was holding his mobile phone, not knowing who he was talking to.

Elliot saw her coming in and immediately ended the call and said, "I have something to do, you go to bed first."

"Okay." Rebecca put the sober soup on the desk and reminded, "You remember to drink the soup. Then I'll go to the bedroom..."

Elliot interrupted her, "I have to go to the guest room to sleep. I'm going to the hospital for a review tomorrow. If I don't get a good night's rest, it will affect the results of the review tomorrow."

"Okay, then don't be too late. You can call me anytime if you have anything."

There was a gentle smile on Rebecca's face. Until she left the study, her smile remained in his mind.

Could there really be such a good-natured woman?

Her character was so well-behaved and docile that it seemed like a dummy.

She Gave him an unreal feeling.

The hot steam from the hangover soup made him recover his mind.

He refused Rebecca not because of Avery's warning during the day, but because the doctor called him and reminded him to go for a review tomorrow.

He drank alcohol tonight and didn't know if it would affect the results of tomorrow's review.

He sat down in the chair, picked up the hangover soup, saw the tomatoes and tofu in it, a nerve in his mind suddenly tense, and he exhaled violently in pain.

Rebecca came out of the study and did not return to the guest room.

It's too early to fall asleep at all.

She came to the living room on the first floor. The nanny was a little surprised when she saw Rebecca.

Chapter 1277

"Miss, why didn't you accompany your husband?"

"He's busy and didn't need me to serve him." Rebecca sat down on the sofa, picked up the fruit plate, and ate the fruit sullenly, "He didn't seem to be interested in me. Was I not beautiful enough? But the last time I saw his exwife, I think I was much more beautiful than his ex-wife and I was younger than his ex-wife."

The nanny boasted: "Miss, of course you're more beautiful than his ex-wife. Otherwise! How could he marry you so simply?"

"But I took off his clothes for him just now, and he put them on again."

Rebecca whispered and guessed, "Is he not healthy?"

The nanny comforted, "Miss, he only After the operation, his body is definitely weak now. In another month, he should be able to return to normal. He is so tall, and he has three children with Avery, so he must be fine."

Rebecca suddenly felt a lot more relieved.

The next morning.

Elliot came to the hospital for a review.

After the deputy dean asked about his physical condition, he opened a CT of his brain.

"Mr. Foster, I have to remind you that your ex-wife heard from nowhere that you would come for a re-examination today. Before you came, she came to me once and asked if you were here.”

Elliot suddenly remembered what she said yesterday. .

She said she would come to him every day until he regained his memory.

Elliot took the list and came out of the vice president’s office. As a result, he met Avery head-on.

Avery handed the black notepad to him: “this is your notepad, which contains the notes you took before the operation. If you accept it, I’ll leave right away.”

Elliot took the notepad from her hand without hesitation.

Seeing him accept it, Avery breathed a sigh of relief: “Are you here for a review? The CT room is on the sixth floor. Go!”

“Avery, do you think I’ll fall in love with you again when I restore my memory?” Elliot looked at her proudly, “Although I forgot what happened between us, I can find it through the Internet. I will never do it again. I’ve been tricked by you.”

“Have you been tricked by me? I’ll wait until you recover your memory. The impression you have of me now is the one instilled in you by others. Whether it was instilled by Kyrie or the Internet. It’s all one-sided for you.” Avery deliberately angered him, “You’re half a fool now.”

Her last words successfully angered Elliot. He pushed her body hard into the corner.

“Elliot, you should still remember what kind of person you used to be. You used to hate running away, no matter what happened, you were never afraid to face it. Why did you listen to Kyrie and do amnestics? Do you think you can erase our past by forgetting me? Impossible! Your memory will reappear, just like the wound on your body will heal automatically.”

Avery saw the anger in his eyes disintegrate a little bit, she breathed a sigh of relief in her heart.

Looking at his familiar face and smelling his unique breath, her reason was thrown into the clouds.

How she wanted to hug him tightly.

Suddenly, Xander strode from not far away!

“Elliot! Let go of Avery.”

Xander saw Elliot pushing Avery to the corner, thinking that Elliot was bullying

Avery, so he didn't even think about it, he ran over and grabbed Elliot's arm.

He wanted to pull Elliot away, but he didn't expect that Elliot slammed back with his elbow almost instantly.

Xander's internal organs were hit hard, as if they were about to split.

He let out a pained cry, let go of Elliot's arm, and at the same time squatted down.

“Xander! Are you okay.” Avery saw that Xander was injured and immediately went to check his condition.

Elliot frowned when he saw that Avery was so nervous about this strange man.

What does this man named Xander have to do with Avery?

“Elliot, Come and help me. He's my classmate.” Avery couldn't help Xander, so she sought Elliot's help, “Elliot, you are too insignificant.”

“Anyone who sneaks at me from behind will This is the end.” Elliot looked down at her from a high position, “Avery, don't come to me in the future.

Otherwise, it will not be your classmate but you who will be injured next time.”

After he finished warning in a deep voice, he strode towards the elevator.

Chapter 1278

A nurse passed by and saw that Xander needed help, and immediately pushed a wheelchair.

Avery pushed Xander to the emergency room.

After arriving at the emergency room, Xander's sanity gradually recovered.

His chest still hurts, but what makes him more uncomfortable is why Avery likes a brutal and violent man like Elliot.

"Avery, if he strikes harder, I might not be able to go back to Bridgedale...

Aren't you afraid that he will go crazy and kill you one day?" Xander was deeply worried about Avery's fate.

The main reason was that now Elliot didn't remember Avery, and Avery insisted on saving him in dire straits.

She thought that the water was too hot, and for Elliot, it may be heaven.

"I'm sorry! Xander, Elliot thought someone attacked him, that's why he attacked you so hard. Next time you see him, you can greet him from the front." Avery explained.

"Is there a next time? I don't want to see him again." Xander was about to cry without tears, "I think my ribs may be broken and I will have to be hospitalized."

As a prophecy, the chest X-ray showed a mild fracture of the ribs.

Although it's not serious, it still has to rest for a week.

Aryadelle.

Today, Layla rested and Eric sent her back to the Starry River Villa.

As soon as Layla entered the door, Mrs. Cooper told her that Elliot was not dead.

"Brother told me." Layla wanted to squeeze out a smile, but couldn't. "Brother also told me that my father has a new wife."

Mrs. Cooper knew about this, but Mrs. Cooper felt that There is a misunderstanding.

It's just that she didn't dare to speak for Elliot in front of her.

After all, this thing was outrageous.

"Layla, your aunt lived in our house. Your father's sister." Mrs. Cooper changed the subject.

"My brother told me that this aunt is pregnant with Uncle Ben's child." Layla sighed when she said this, "I haven't been home for a few days, and so many things happened. I feel so tired."

She lay down on the sofa in a bad mood.

The main reason is to think that her father is now in Yonroeville, has a new wife, and her mother refuses to come back there. She must be very angry.

Gwen heard the voice and came out.

When Gwen see Layla, She said 'Hello' to her immediately.

"Hello Layla, I'm your aunt, just call me Gwen." Gwen looked at Layla's pretty little face and liked it very much.

"Aunt Gwen, how are you? I heard that you are pregnant with a baby!" Layla couldn't help looking at her belly.

"Um..." Gwen felt embarrassed talking about this child, so she changed the subject, "Are you going to start school soon?"

"Yes! I don't know if my mother will come back when I start school. Then my brother will also go to school in Bridgedale, I feel so lonely." Layla pursed her lips, "It must be because I am too good, so my mother doesn't care about me. My father always does something to make people angry, but my mother keeps revolving around him."

"Layla, don't think like that. I haven't had a mother since I was a child, and my father and my brother didn't care about me. So I am a very bad person. But you are different, your brother likes you very much, and so many people around you like you very much. You are much happier than me.” Gwen comforted her.

“Aunt Gwen, I heard from my mother that your father is big bad guy.”

“The big bad guy is dead now.” Gwen sat down beside her, “Even if your father married a new wife outside, it would definitely not be as bad as my father.”

Hearing Gwen say this, Layla suddenly not so frustrating anymore.

“Of course, if your father does have a new wife, you must never forgive him.”

Gwen said.

“I won’t forgive him. I heard that Uncle Schaffer made you angry, so don’t forgive him.”

Chapter 1279

“Yeah!” The two seemed to have found a confidant and chatted very speculatively.

Ben Schaffer changed his shoes at the door and listened to the conversation between the two of them, very heartbroken.

“Gwen, let’s talk alone.” Ben Schaffer walked in front of Gwen, “We’ll solve our affairs in private. Don’t affect others.”

“Uncle Ben, Gwen is my aunt, why are you bullying her?” Layla sees Ben Schaffer being domineering, so she speaks for Gwen.

“Baby Layla, I didn’t bully her.” Ben Schaffer laughed harder than he cried,

“I’m here to solve the problem. Don’t worry, I will definitely not bully her.”

“Oh, then how are you going to solve the problem?” Layla asked curiously,

“Will you be as irresponsible as my father?”

Ben Schaffer felt an arrow in the knee. “Then do you think I’m responsible for marrying your aunt?”

Layla: "It depends on whether my aunt is willing to marry you. If you don't want to marry, my aunt will marry you."

Ben Schaffer: "..."

"My aunt is so young and beautiful, Uncle Ben, are you older than my father?" Layla pierced her heart to the end, "Uncle Eric said that old men are shrewd and realistic, arrogant and sensitive. I feel, a younger man is better."

Ben Schaffer looked at Eric: "Why do you instill such absurd thoughts into Layla? Is it because you are young?"

Eric said casually: "Right."

Ben Schaffer: "..."

"Gwen, since you don't want to talk to me alone, let's talk about it openly" Ben Schaffer took a deep breath, "You've been living in Avery's house, haven't you? What's the matter? Don't you think my house is fine, I'll live in it for you."

"What about you?" Gwen asked.

"Didn't you say you're afraid of living alone? I'll live with you. When your belly is big, what should you do if there is an emergency?" Ben Schaffer had a night of insomnia and decided to take her home.

Regardless of whether she gets married or not, let her give birth to the child smoothly.

"We're not married, it's not appropriate to live together." Gwen said.

"Are you forcing marriage? If you insist on asking me to marry you, it's impossible. But you can't make too many demands on me. I don't like someone taking care of me." Ben Schaffer had a showdown.

Mrs. Cooper came over with Robert.

The driver was there.

The bodyguards also came to watch the fun.

Gwen felt embarrassed, so she dragged Ben Schaffer and walked out.

“Gwen, you must know what’s going on with your second brother, Elliot. Avery is now crossing the river, so don’t bother her with our affairs. There are also Hayden and Layla, they are still children, and they usually study very hard. Don’t you think that as an aunt, it’s not good to bother them so much? You go back with me first, and if you have any requirements, you can ask. I can satisfy you, try to satisfy you.” Ben Schaffer persuaded.

“I know, I know!” Gwen felt ashamed and did not forget to hurt him, “You can talk so much, why didn’t you catch up with your goddess?”

Ben Schaffer mocked: “Because I have done all the bad things, so God sent you Come and punish me.”

.....

Yonroeville.

After Elliot finished the head CT and came out of the CT room, he was shocked to realize that he had been holding the black notepad Avery returned to him.

He stared at it for a few seconds, and out of curiosity, opened the notepad – in addition to his handwriting, there was a beautiful font on it.

It was written by Avery.

The reason why he thought it was Avery’s words was because this text contained all Avery’s secrets.

Chapter 1280

It is not so much a secret as it is privacy.

Avery wrote all her account numbers and passwords in this notebook.

It’s just that Elliot’s not interested. He has no hobby of prying into the privacy of others.

He turned the paper over, and as a result, saw the photo she had pasted on the paper.

This is their previous sweet photo.

In the photo, the two of them are smiling happily.

Even, in front of the camera, Elliot kissed her cheek. His chest rose and fell rapidly, his heart arrhythmia, and his body temperature rose suddenly.

His fingers quickly flipped back...the back was full of pictures of him and her.

There are group photos in the living room, dining room, and bedroom at home, and there are group photos in restaurants, streets, and the seaside.

He didn't look at the photos carefully because he didn't want to recall the past. His past has been judged as a failure, and he does not want to repeat the same mistakes.

With a 'pop', he threw the notepad into the trash can next to it.

"Mr. Foster, your CT results are out." The radiologist handed the printed paper report to him, "You're recovering well, but you should pay attention in the future. Don't overuse your brain or exercise vigorously in the near future. Take more rest."

"Thank you." Elliot took the paper report form, but out of the corner of his eyes fell on the trash can next to him.

Seeing that he was standing still, the doctor wondered, "You can show the results to Vice President Lewis. Let's see what he has to say."

"I'll wait."

"Are you still doing anything?" Didn't move, so I asked.

"It's all right. Go get busy." Elliot said.

The doctor scratched his head, turned and entered the CT room.

After Elliot closed the door of the CT room, he immediately picked up the black notepad from the trash can next to it. He opened the notebook, tore off the first page, and threw the notepad in the trash again.

Those group photos, Elliot didn't want to see them. He didn't want to keep Notepad.

However, he couldn't expose Avery's privacy. The torn paper was quickly folded by him and put into his pocket.

When he came out of the hospital, the driver saw him and immediately opened the car door for him. After he got in the car, the car quickly drove away.

In the hospital parking lot, Avery's bodyguard threw the cigarette between his fingers on the ground and crushed it with his feet.

Today Avery arranged a task for him – to follow Elliot.

If he can find out where Elliot lives, it's best. If he can't find where Elliot lives, then stare at Elliot's itinerary today to see where he goes and who he sees.

This task was quite arduous. The bodyguard listened to this task in the morning and shook his head directly.

After he shook his head, Avery immediately took out his mobile phone and wanted to book a ticket for him and send him back to Aryadelle.

Of course, the bodyguard can't leave Avery here alone, so he can only take over the task in pain.

Avery comforted him very gently. Although Elliot forgot her now and was ruthless towards her, Elliot's attitude towards others would not change.

What she means is that Elliot is still a good person, and if the stalker is discovered, Elliot will not kill him.

The bodyguard drove and caught up with Elliot's car.

Elliot's driver soon found out that he was being followed, so he reported to Elliot, "Mr. Foster, the black car in the back has been following us. It came from the hospital."

Chapter 1281

The black Car was in a position diagonally behind them, and they followed unhurriedly.

Elliot looked at the road in front of him, and said, "Stop in a place with fewer people."

"Okay." The driver immediately accelerated and drove the car to a nearby road with fewer people.

The bodyguard turned around behind him.

As a result, the car turned around and saw Elliot's car parked beside him.

The bodyguard slammed into the brakes and slammed the car to a halt.

Elliot got out of the car and strode to the bodyguard's car.

The bodyguard let out a low curse and lowered the car window.

Elliot saw his face, and the emotion in his eyes was unexpected but not unexpected.

Most people don't follow this blatantly.

"Avery asked you to follow me?" Elliot asked with a gloomy expression.

Bodyguard: "Yes! If it wasn't for my boss's order, why would I follow you?"

Wouldn't I sleep well at home? So, please don't trouble me, I'm just a hard worker."

Elliot's jaw tightened, "Why did she ask you to follow me?"

The bodyguard said truthfully, "She wants to know your address. Mr. Foster, can you tell me your address? This way I can leave work early. My boss said, if I can't follow your address, so let me follow you for a day today. You don't want me to be with you for a day, right?"

Elliot's eyes were unpredictable, and he threatened in a low voice, "Avery is not afraid of death, and you are not afraid of death?"

"Of course I'm scared to death. My boss asks her to trouble you if you get angry, don't hit me." The bodyguard confessed, "Mr. Foster, in fact, my boss wants your address, not necessarily to harass you and your new wife. ...She may be afraid that you will be killed one day, so she can collect your body for you."

Elliot's eyelids jumped.

–Did her bodyguard speak human language?

–He is alive and well, why curse him to death?

"Avery has already found out that Kyrie is in great danger now." The bodyguard revealed Avery's good intentions.

"Since you already know that this place is full of danger, why didn't you bring her back to Aryadelle?"

"I wanted to bring her back to Aryadelle too, but she wouldn't listen. She's always been like this. Seriously, if you don't tell me the address, maybe she will drive after you tomorrow." The bodyguard threatened Elliot.

Unexpectedly, the intimidation succeeded.

After the bodyguard got Elliot's address, he whistled and drove away immediately.

20 minutes later, the bodyguard took Elliot's address and showed it off in front of Avery.

"Boss, how is my efficiency?"

"Do you want me to praise you, or give you bonuses?" Avery came out of Xander's ward.

Xander originally came to perform surgery on her, but now she is not hospitalized, but Xander is hospitalized.

“I want you to give me bonuses while complimenting me.” The bodyguard handed the note with Elliot’s address to Avery, “Boss, although I got his address, it’s not his home, it’s Miss Jobin. If you go there to make trouble, the Jobin family’s bodyguards will definitely not show mercy to you. “

Avery glanced at the address and put it in his pocket.

“Although my skills are good, there is still a big problem with one against ten.”

The bodyguard confessed, “So don’t do stupid things that kill you.”

Avery said, “Do I look like such a brainless person? You did a good job today, and I’ll give you a bonus. You help me watch Xander here. I’ll go to the vice president.”

“Oh, is your classmate so seriously injured? You have to go to the vice president.”

Avery didn’t answer him. She went to the vice president, not for Xander’s business.

Although Xander suffered a fractured rib, it was not serious. Recover in a few days.

She went to the vice president to see the results of Elliot’s review today. She came to the vice president’s office, but the vice president was not there.

She waited outside the office for a while, but she didn’t wait for anyone, so she could only go to the radiology department to see if the radiology department could show her Elliot’s films.

Chapter 1282

The driver sent Elliot to the villa.

After the car stopped, Elliot got out of the car.

Rebecca walked out of the room briskly in a fiery red dress.

“Elliot, how’s the test result?”

Elliot: “It’s okay. The doctor told me to rest more.”

Rebecca took his arm and entered the living room with him.

“Then don’t be so busy next. If you’re embarrassed to tell Dad, I’ll tell him.”

Rebecca frowned slightly, “Dad only knows to let you work, and doesn’t care about your health at all. To me, nothing is as important as you.”

“Rebecca, why are you dressed up so beautifully today?” Elliot glanced at the red dress on her body with deep eyes and pulled the topic away.

Rebecca smiled excitedly: “Because there will be a mysterious guest coming tonight. I won’t tell you first, you’ll find out later tonight.”

Elliot nodded: “It’s your birthday soon, what birthday gift do you want?”

Rebecca’s cheeks were slightly red, and she said with embarrassment:

“There is no one who asks for a birthday present. I want whatever you give me. I am happy with whatever you give me. As long as it is given by you, I will cherish it well.”

Every word of Rebecca made him feel comfortable.

On the contrary, Avery gave him a headache as soon as he opened his mouth.

Intuition told him that he should choose Rebecca, a knowledgeable, docile, docile and virtuous woman, but he thought of Avery more often in his heart.

“Rebecca, do you want to go shopping? Let’s take you out to buy gifts in the afternoon!”

After he made the proposal, Rebecca smiled and stood on tiptoe and kissed his chin: “Thank you husband. I heard that you didn’t eat in the morning. You must be hungry now? I made soup for you and made your favorite dish, go and try it.”

“Well.”

The time flickered, and it was evening.

After Avery had dinner, she drove to Elliot and Rebecca’s residence. She didn’t dare to park the car at the gate of the front yard of their villa. After she parked the car beside the fence, she carried a bag and got out of the car.

She took a deep breath, walked to the gate of the courtyard, passed the railing gate, and glanced into the courtyard.

Under the glow of the sunset, she could see a lot of flowers and trees planted on the left side of the front yard, and an artificial rockery pond on the right side.

The environment was quiet and the scenery was pleasant. It’s not dark yet, but the lights in the yard were all turned on.

The door of the villa was closed, and the lights inside could only be seen through the window, but the scene inside could not be seen clearly.

Avery pursed her red lips, took a deep breath, and then pressed the doorbell.

Soon, the nanny opened the door of the villa and walked out.

Seeing Avery, the nanny frowned.

She couldn’t let Avery in.

“Ms. Tate!” the nanny said with a bit of arrogance and impatience, “the relationship between you and Mr. Foster is in the past. Now Mr. Foster and my young lady are married. And they have already been in the same room and are very affectionate. It’s her twenty-first birthday, and this afternoon, Mr. Foster took our young lady out to pick out gifts.”

Avery said, “they are married, isn’t it normal for them to be in the same room?

Why did you tell me specifically? Could it be that the two of them have not been in the same room for the past few days?”

The nanny was so angry that her temples jumped at her words: "Ms. Tate! You are not welcome here. Please leave immediately!" "I'm looking for Elliot, not you. You let him come out or ask your lady to come out." Avery was not affected at all, his breath was steady, neither humble nor arrogant.

Chapter 1283

Ms. Tate didn't I tell you just now? They went shopping for gifts in the afternoon and haven't come back yet." The nanny glared at her and said, "I have never seen a shameless woman like you. It's been made clear that I don't want you, yet you dare to come here."

Avery pursed her lips and clenched her fingers holding the bag tightly.

"You'd better leave quickly. Otherwise, when our eldest young master comes to see you later, he won't be so patient to reason with you. He may kill you directly." After the nanny said this ruthlessly, Turn around and walk towards the villa.

Master?

The eldest young master of the Jobin family?

Avery's source of information on Kyrie came from Nick.

Nick only told her about the troubles Kyrie was facing now, but did not tell her about Kyrie's family situation.

So she didn't understand what the nanny said about the eldest young master.

She promised the bodyguard that she would not die in vain. She didn't come to die, she came to deliver medicine to Elliot.

At noon, she went to the radiology department to find a doctor, and asked for a CT scan performed by Elliot today. She carefully checked Elliot's film, and after watching it, she found a small problem.

She stood outside the courtyard gate for less than a quarter of an hour, and two luxury cars came from not far away.

While Avery was looking at the two cars, one of the cars maliciously turned on the high beams and deliberately hit her with the high beams.

The strong light stabbed her to raise her arm to block her eyes.

“Who is that woman?” Cristian Jobin, the eldest young master of the Jobin family, who was sitting in the passenger seat, turned to ask his sister.

Cristian asked the driver to turn on the high beam just now.

Rebecca frowned and said gloomily, “That’s Elliot’s wife in Aryadelle. But Elliot and her only had a wedding in Aryadelle, and they didn’t get a marriage certificate.”

Cristian: “Oh, Avery, right?”

Rebecca whispered, “Yes. I don’t know how she got here. I hate it.”

A look of unhappiness appeared in Cristian’s eyes, and he looked at Elliot:

“Elliot, my sister is the jewel of our Jobin family. She has never been angry since she was a child. Don’t dare to make my sister feel wronged.”

“Brother, Elliot didn’t make me feel wronged. The last time Avery came over, Elliot pushed her down directly. She was shameless and insisted on pestering Elliot. Elliot has already expressed his attitude to her.” Rebecca quickly replied brother explained.

“If that’s the case, then I’ll get out of the car and kill her.” Cristian’s voice settled, and the driver drove the car to Avery and stopped.

The tense atmosphere spread, Rebecca looked at ElliotRebecca immediately stopped her eldest brother: “Brother, this is the marriage room of Elliot and mine, don’t kill people here. I will kill her.you Just drive away.”

Rebecca got out of the car quickly and strode to Avery.

After the two men got out of the car, Cristian took out a cigarette and handed it to Elliot.

“Avery, what are you doing at my house?” Rebecca asked arrogantly.

Avery's eyes eyes fell on Elliot.

“You can't smoke.” Avery strode in front of Elliot, snatched the cigarette he took from Cristian's hand, threw it on the ground, and handed him the medicine she brought, “There is something wrong with your re-examination results today.

This is medicine, and the instructions for taking it are written on it. You take the medicine on time and go to the hospital for a review in a week.”

Out of the corner of Elliot's eyes, he saw Cristian's killing intent towards her, and immediately opened the medicine she handed over: “Avery, get out.”

Rebecca heard that there was a problem with the re-examination results, and asked nervously: “Avery, the doctor said that Elliot's re-examination was fine.

Why do you say that Elliot has a problem? Are you deliberately looking for an excuse to see Elliot?

“Rebecca, Please ignore Avery. You bring eldest brother in first, and I'll let her leave immediately.” Elliot's voice was settled, and Rebecca immediately pulled Cristian into the yard.

Elliot looked at Avery with a cold and complicated expression.

The next second, his big palm clasped her wrist tightly. Her body was violently taken away by him.

Chapter 1284

He took her to her car.

“Open the door!” he shouted sharply.

“Your re-examination results are not ideal, did you not go to Vice President Lewis?” Avery handed the medicine to him again. Her tone was more severe than his, “You must avoid smoking and drinking recently, I don't care about the Jobin family. What's the matter, young master, you can't make fun of your body."

"I told you to open the car door!" He raised his voice and slammed his clenched fist on the car without warning.

'Bang' with a loud bang!

Avery shrank her neck.

"I'm leaving, I'm leaving now!" Avery was suffocated by the powerful aura around him.

She stuffed the medicine into his arms and pushed his body away.

She opened the car door and looked back at him before entering the car.

"Elliot, I won't pester you all the time. I'm afraid that you will regret it after regaining your memory. If you recover your memory someday, come and tell me that the current life is the life you want, and I will leave." Avery After saying these words, she got into the car and closed the door.

After the car disappeared in front of his eyes, he threw the medicine she stuffed into the trash can next to him.

After filming today, the doctor told him that he was recovering well. He believed that the doctor would not lie to him.

He strode into the front yard and into the villa.

Rebecca was talking on the phone with her cell phone.

Seeing him come in, Rebecca greeted the person on the phone and hung up the phone.

"Elliot, I called Vice President Lewis just now and asked about your review. He said you didn't go to him after the examination today." Rebecca frowned worriedly, "He said he listened to radiology. The doctor said your film is fine. But I told him that Avery said there was a problem with your review, so he's going to adjust your film now.”

After Rebecca finished speaking, Cristian laughed at the side: “Rebecca, you have never cared about me so much.”

“It’s different. Brother, you have so many people who care about you, but Elliot is the only one now.” Rebecca walked up to the big brother and said, “Big brother, how long are you going to stay here this time?”

“My father told me to come back. He didn’t tell me to go.” Cristian said, looking at Elliot, “Elliot, you married my sister, and I want you to stay drunk tonight.”

“Big brother! Elliot just had surgery, he can’t drink now.” Rebecca refused for Elliot.

“But how did I hear that he drank with his father last night? He could give his life to drink with his father, but not with me? Is he looking down on me?”

Cristian’s words, both inside and out, were putting pressure on Elliot.

He was admonishing Elliot that he was the master of the Jobin family.

Moreover, in the Jobin family’s site, the Jobin family’s eyeliner is everywhere.

Elliot’s every move is under his control.

“I’ll accompany you to drink.” Elliot said indifferently and took a sip.

“It’s almost the same. Otherwise, I thought you looked down on me.” Cristian said angrily, leaning on Elliot’s shoulder, and strode towards the dining room.

Rebecca watched the two of them take their seats in the dining room. She held her mobile phone and anxiously waited for Vice President Lewis’s reply.

Today, her father is away, and she can’t find him to help her. The eldest brother has always had a bad temper and doesn’t listen to anyone.

If he gets Elliot drunk and causes Elliot to suffer from physical problems, his father will definitely punish him. And Cristian would definitely hate Elliot for that.

Rebecca didn’t want the relationship between Cristian and Elliot to deteriorate.

After a while, the phone rang, and Rebecca immediately answered the call.

After answering the phone, Rebecca walked towards the dining room in shock.

She snatched the glass from Elliot's hand and said, "Elliot, just now Vice President Lewis said that there is indeed something wrong with your reexamination results. It may have been caused by drinking with Dad yesterday.

You can't drink today. You drink milk, I'll accompany you. "

Elliot's eyes flickered with a fleeting surprise.

Chapter 1285

Avery didn't just find a reason to see him tonight, but his review result was really wrong.

...

On the way back to the hospital, Avery felt a lot of pain.

She went to the radiologist at noon to ask for Elliot's CT scans. The doctor took out the black notepad and said that Elliot threw it in the trash can. Elliot must have thrown away the medicine she just gave him.

She turned on the car music, and the melody flowed out, making her forget her troubles for a while.

The red light ahead came on and she stopped the car.

A low male voice sang in his ears –

"I want to walk with you in the rain with an umbrella, and walk silently holding hands. You throw the umbrella in the wind and hug the rain and me. We are completely different but irresistible... .You are you, I can be me, each other is a gap for each other..."

She wanted to accompany Elliot through the wind and rain, but he held another woman's hand.

She planned to listen to the song to relieve her pain, but before she finished listening to a song, her mood had completely collapsed.

The red light is dimmed, the green light is on.

She stepped on the accelerator and drove the car out.

The ringtone of the video call rang. She saw that Hayden was calling, so she drove the car to the side of the road and stopped, turned off the music, wiped the tears from her face with a tissue, and adjusted her mood.

After taking the video, she saw her son's face and the corners of her mouth rose.

"Hayden, is Layla going home?"

"Well." Hayden looked at her mother's red eyes. Although Avery was laughing but she clearly cried.

Seeing her mother like this, Hayden's heart was heavy.

Hayden handed phone to Layla and walked away silently.

"Mom! I'm not happy." Layla just got up, a little angry, "I haven't seen you for a long time."

Avery coaxed, "Aren't you going to see mom now? Mom can make videos for you every day. Have you seen my aunt?"

Layla sighed, "Yes! She has been picked up by Uncle Ben. when will you be back? Now that Dad has a new wife, you Don't want him. If he makes one mistake, we can forgive him, and if he makes two mistakes, we can forgive him, but this time, it's the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth time he's made a mistake."

Avery said softly, "Layla, Your father's affairs are a bit complicated, and your mother will not explain it to you for a while. Your mother'll tell you when she goes back."

Layla frowned, "Oh... my brother has already run away. He runs like a duckling, but unfortunately you can't see it. I'm not happy, neither is my brother, only my brother Robert is happy like a little fool every day.”

Avery was silent. She didn't know how to comfort her daughter.

The change in her relationship with Elliot will definitely have a huge impact on the child.

After a while, Hayden took the phone from Layla's hand.

“Mom, are you driving? You drive first, and I'll make a video with you tomorrow.”

“Well.” After the video ended, Avery cheered up and drove the car back on the road.

In the villa.

After Rebecca drank two glasses of wine with her eldest brother Cristian, her cheeks suddenly flushed and her eyes were blurred.

Elliot supported her and said to Cristian, “I'll take Rebecca back to the room to rest first. I'll drink with you later.”

Cristian felt very boring.

“Forget it. Rebecca will definitely blame me if I drink you out.” Cristian put down the glass and sneered, “We will have a chance to fight in the future, so don't be in a hurry.”

Chapter 1286

After Cristian finished speaking, he left from their wedding room.

“Eldest young master, your father called you back, it should be to curb Elliot.”

Cristian's subordinates drove the car and said to Cristian, “I have already inquired about it. President Jobin asked Elliot to mediate the bad debt with the second and fourth masters. If Elliot can handle this matter well, President Jobin promises to hand over the core business to him.”

Cristian's expression was gloomy, his fingers clenched his fists and his teeth clenched.

“Father doesn’t trust me.”

“Don’t be angry yet. President Jobin calls you back, which means he doesn’t trust Elliot that much either. Although Elliot is President Jobin’s son-in-law, he is a foreigner. Once he swallows up the Jobin family, that’s not a situation that President Jobin wants to see.”

“If my father handed over all the rights to Elliot, how can I stop him? Am I going to use the forehead to block his gun? My Dad is old and stupid.” Cristian scolded angrily.

The subordinate was silent for a few seconds, then came up with an idea:

“Eldest young master, Elliot hasn’t taken off yet, you can take advantage of this time...” The subordinate didn’t say anything after that.

But Cristian understood what it meant.

In the villa, Rebecca was drunk and held Elliot without letting go.

“Elliot... I’m so hot.” Rebecca only had half a glass of red wine, but he drank two glasses tonight, so she was very drunk.

She wanted to take off her skirt uncontrollably.

Elliot carried her to the bathroom, put her in the bathtub, and turned on the cold water switch.

The cold water made Rebecca frown: “Elliot, It’s so cold.”

“Didn’t you say you’re hot?” Elliot looked down at her, “I’ll ask the nanny to serve you.”

“No, I don’t want a babysitter.” Her delicate little face was wrinkled, showing a completely different willful look than usual, and she quickly pulled his arm,

“Elliot, I want you to accompany me. Just stand by my side and stay with me.”

Elliot felt as if she had changed.

Before, she was well-behaved and sensible in front of him and didn’t bother him, like a mask she wore.

His big palm pushed her little hand away: "Don't make trouble unreasonably."

Rebecca woke up like someone had poured cold water on her.

She put her hands in the cold water with a dull expression on her face: "Then please call the nanny for me. I'm a little dizzy, and I'm afraid I'll fall over later."

"Well." Elliot strode out of the bathroom and went to the first floor and let the babysitter go up to serve.

The nanny went upstairs immediately.

Now the whole villa was quiet and empty, but his heart was beating wildly.

His eyes turned to the front yard – the bodyguard standing in the front yard smoking met his gaze, and immediately put out the cigarette.

After a while, he came out of the living room, and the bodyguard immediately greeted him.

"Mr. Foster, what's the matter with you?"

Elliot hesitated for a moment, then said, "Come here."

"Okay." The bodyguard followed him to the outside of the courtyard. They saw Elliot stopped in front of the trash can.

The bodyguard was puzzled: "Mr. Foster, do you think that the trash can is more unsightly here? I'll remove it now!"

Elliot rolled his throat: "Open the lid."

The bodyguard was even more puzzled: "It smells bad."

Elliot stared at him coldly: "Open it!"

The bodyguard confessed: "Okay, but can you tell me why you want to open it?"

After opening the cover, what do you want to do? You can make it easier for me..."

Elliot had never seen such a long-winded bodyguard.

Chapter 1287

Elliot stretched out his noble hand and opened the lid of the trash can. Just when he was about to reach in and take out the medicine he had just thrown in, the bodyguard immediately stopped him!

“Mr. Foster! It’s dirty inside. Let me do it.” The bodyguard didn’t dare to push Elliot away, so he could only quickly hold the trash can and turn around.

Elliot retracted his hanging arm, adjusted his mood, and said to the bodyguard, “There is a bag of medicine in it, take it out.”

“Oh! Is that the bag of medicine that your ex-wife sent in the evening?” With the fastest speed, he twisted the bag of medicine out of the trash can.

When Elliot saw the medicine, he immediately stretched out his hand, intending to take it.

“Mr. Foster, this is something I picked up from the trash can. It’s so dirty. I’ll take it to disinfect you before giving it to you.”

“...”

He wanted to replace this eventful and talkative bodyguard.

“Mr. Foster, in fact, I can go to the pharmacy to buy medicine for you again.

These medicines can be bought at the pharmacy.” The bodyguard disliked the bag of medicines picked up from the trash can, but Elliot wanted it, but he didn’t dare to throw it away.

Elliot grabbed the bag and said coldly, “Put the trash can back in place!”

The bodyguard was stunned for a moment: “Oh!”

Elliot took the bag of medicine he picked up from the trash can and strode toward the villa.

The bodyguard touched his nose: doesn’t it mean that he has a cleanliness addiction? Unclean now? And he kindly reminded him to disinfect, why is he unhappy?

In the hospital.

Avery pushed open the door of the ward and was surprised to see the bodyguard and Xander chatting hotly.

“What are you two talking about?”

The bodyguard: “Your classmate is very interested in the past between you and Elliot, and it happens that I know everything, so I will tell him.”

Avery raised her eyebrows: “I want to go back to Aryadelle.”

“Boss, if you suffer, you will suffer. If you think about yourself, you don’t have to suffer here, Right?”

“Go back to the hotel to rest.” Avery didn’t want to talk about it, “I’ll find you tomorrow if I have something to do.”

“What about you? You can’t stay here with your classmates all night, can you? I’ll wait outside.” After the bodyguard finished speaking, he strode out of the ward.

Xander looked at her red and swollen eyes, not knowing what to say to relieve her.

“Xander, how are you feeling now?” Avery walked to the chair where the bodyguard was sitting and sat down and asked Xander.

“I’m fine.” Xander wrote lightly, “I understand why you can’t let him go after knowing the relationship between you and Elliot.”

She lowered her eyebrows and said angrily: “Actually, if you didn’t have children, it might not be so troublesome. Now my affair with him has a great impact on the child, and I feel very sorry for the child.”

Xander comforted, “You can’t think that way. Few people can really grow up in a greenhouse. The growth process of most people, all have the negative effects of family. Real life is like this, there are both good things and pains.”

“Thank you for comforting me, I feel better.” Avery raised a smile and cheered up, “It’s going to last for a month, and it’s just the beginning.”

I came out of the hospital and went back to the hotel.

After she showered and changed into clean clothes, she lay down on the big soft bed. She wanted to let herself go, but she started thinking about what happened today out of control in her mind.

Jobin’s nanny said that Elliot took Rebecca to buy gifts this afternoon.

Regardless of whether they have s-e-x or not, their relationship seems to be good.

When she was depressed, the phone rang suddenly, disturbing her thoughts.

She picked up the phone and was stunned when she saw the call reminder.

Chapter 1288

Avery answered the phone, and there was a male voice over the phone.

“Avery, I have something to tell you.” The call was from Nick.

Avery sat up and said solemnly, “You tell me, I’ll listen.”

“Do you still want to see Elliot?”

She was stunned for a moment, and quickly replied, “Yes. Do you want to help me?”

“Haha! You are so persistent. He doesn’t remember you anymore, why don’t you give up?” Nick laughed.

“What he does to me is his business. Whatever I do, I have a clear conscience.” Avery said calmly, “You can’t be looking for me to make fun of me, right?”

Nick said, “Of course not, I’m not so boring. Rebecca’s birthday will be in a few days, and the Jobin family will hold a birthday party for her. Are you afraid of the sea?”

“Not afraid. Why do you ask that?”

“The birthday party will be at that time. It will be held on a yacht. Kyrie invited me, but I don’t want to go.” Nick explained the reason.

Avery answered immediately, “I can go instead of you. I can bring you any gifts or words you need to bring over there.”

“Hahahaha! Avery, how I wish you were a Doctor, not Avery.” Nick sighed sarcastically, “You should do something more meaningful instead of getting into this muddy water.”

Avery said firmly, “Nick, if I switch with Elliot, he won’t give up on me easily either. I just want him to recover his memory as soon as possible, so as not to make a big mistake.”

“Since you say that, I won’t advise you. Come to my house this Friday morning, I’ll give you the present and let the driver take you there.”

“Thank you.” Avery said sincerely, “If you have anything I can help you in the future, feel free to ask.”

Nick sneered, “Don’t talk about it so far, let’s live until Elliot recovers his memory. Do you know why I didn’t go to Rebecca’s birthday party? Actually, I like Rebecca quite a bit. She is very good, like a tamed canary. No man can resist such a beautiful and docile woman.”

Avery listened to his words, and his heart felt like a bottle of five flavors was overturned.

“Cough cough, let’s go too far, let’s talk about why I didn’t go to her birthday party. Because her brother came back, I couldn’t help but want to kill when I saw her brother.”

“Why? What did his brother do? Are you angry?” When Avery asked this question, Cristian's fierce and ruffian face came to mind.

In the evening, if Elliot hadn't blocked her, Cristian would probably have done something to her.

"A brother died to save him. As a result, this fool not only did not know how to reflect on his sins, but instead went to cause trouble, and finally killed his brother." Nick said here, his voice was tense, and his anger was transmitted through the radio waves.

"This seven brothers broke up because of this?" Avery seemed to understand.

"No, Elliot has long since left us." Nick gritted his teeth, "Our six brothers broke up because of this incident. No, to be precise, they are the four brothers. The death of the sixth and seventh has given us a great deal of relief. It's a big blow."

"Well, I can understand."

"You understand sht. Don't think that if I call you Doctor Tate, you will really take yourself seriously." Nick is very upset now, so he gets angry, "How good our relationship used to be, how bad our relationship is now. Of course, I'm no longer involved in their affairs, I'm so fcking disgusting!"

Avery didn't expect his mood to change so quickly. Suddenly she did not know how to answer.

"Do you think I have a bad temper? Hehe, you haven't seen the second and fourth children, they are much worse than me. Elliot is now in turmoil, aside from the two thorns of the second and fourth children, just Cristian's. This b*stard, it's enough for Elliot to have a headache. What's the use of me telling you this, if he dies, you will die with him. I will see that you have saved it. For my sake, bury the two of you together." Nick said this and laughed.

Chapter 1289

Avery said calmly, "Nick, although you are very ugly, I know you are not bad.

Everyone has the life they want, and the life I want is to stay with Elliot for the rest of my life. If he is in danger, I won't die with him, I will find a way to save him."

"Ha!"

"Nick may need your help then."

"F*ck! Don't look for me." Nick was afraid of her. Keep talking, so he hang up immediately.

Avery put down the phone and lay down again. It stands to reason that she should be worried about Elliot being surrounded by enemies on all sides.

Strangely, she didn't worry about that. What she worried about was whether Elliot would be emotional about Rebecca.

Rebecca looked sweet and beautiful, with a petite and exquisite figure.

According to Nick, Rebecca was tamed to be obedient to men and was good at pleasing men... Could Elliot resist such a temptation?

"Hiss..." There was a sudden sharp pain in her head, causing her body to curl up into a ball.

The frequency of her headaches has been increasing recently, indicating that her condition is getting worse.

She didn't know if her body could last a month. She must wake up Elliot's memory as soon as possible.

As long as Elliot remembered the bits and pieces of their past, she believed that he would definitely make the right choice.

The next day, she took her bodyguards to the mall to go shopping.

The bodyguard was puzzled: "Boss, why are you in the mood to go shopping today? Don't you go to Elliot today? Or...Elliot is also in the mall?"

"I don't go to him today. I need to buy a dress today. In three days, it will be Rebecca's birthday. Then I will replace Nick to attend Rebecca's birthday party." Avery didn't sleep well last night, today she was looking a little bad.

"Oh! It means that you will be able to see Elliot when the time comes. You are here to buy a dress today so that you will be able to overwhelm Rebecca."

Avery glanced at the bodyguard: "I bought the dress because Nick was this morning. Send me a message and tell me not to wear tattered clothes and lose his face."

Bodyguard: "..."

"I have to buy a handbag and a pair of high heels." Avery planned, "First Buy clothes."

Buy clothes, and then go with bags and shoes, so it's not easy to make mistakes.

"If you can overwhelm Rebecca by then, maybe Elliot will go back to Aryadelle with you." The bodyguard said firmly, "Have you never heard of a man? I know what a man is like."

Avery was stunned.

"Look at you now, you are haggard and simple. If Elliot treated your lover in the past, even if you had a muddy face, he would still think you were the cutest.

But now he doesn't remember you, plus that Rebecca is dressed up every day in front of him, and between you and Rebecca, Mr. Foster must like Rebecca more." The bodyguard's words made Avery's head start.

She was careless.

After a while, the two entered the clothing store to pick out dresses.

The bodyguard took a V-neck halter dress and handed it to her: "Boss, buy it."

Chapter 1290

Avery took over the dress, looked at it, and frowned.

Although this is not her favorite style, she wants to listen to the bodyguard once.

What if it works?

Avery didn't know how to wake up Elliot's memory, so she could try any method.

....

Avonsville.

Ben Schaffer and Gwen send Russell and Juniper to the airport.

The two elders actually didn't want to leave, because Gwen was pregnant with Ben Schaffer's child, and the child would be born in eight or nine months.

It was Ben Schaffer who insisted on asking the two elders to leave.

The main reason why he did this was that the two elders loved Gwen too much. He felt that if this continued, Gwen would have to go to the house sooner or later.

For example, the first day he brought Gwen home, his mother took her to buy clothes, bags, and shoes.

The next day, mother took Gwen to buy a few sets of jewelry.

He doesn't mind that his mother buys clothes and jewelry for Gwen, but can he not buy so many at one time? And his mother swiped his card every time to pay.

The mother has his supplementary card, but the mother does not usually spend his money.

Of course, his headache wasn't the issue of spending money, but his mother's deviant attitude towards Gwen's doting.

Before the child was born, he felt that his family status was in jeopardy. If the child was born, wouldn't this family be in chaos?

He couldn't accept such a change, so after a long talk with his parents last night, he decided to let them go first.

After the two elders boarded the plane, Ben Schaffer and Gwen came out of the airport.

"Forgot to tell you, my eldest brother is here today." Gwen took out his phone and glanced at the time, "Why don't you go first, I'll pick you up later."

Ben Schaffer: "???"

Big brother, Zion?

Ben Schaffer took a deep breath and rubbed his swollen temples: "When will your eldest brother arrive? Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

"That's my eldest brother, not your eldest brother. Why do I have to tell you?"

Gwen's mouth was sharp, but it was because Zion scolded her on the phone yesterday, and she was very unhappy.

She didn't want Ben Schaffer to know that their brother and sister relationship was so bad.

She don't want this to bother him.

"Gwen, you are pregnant with my child now, so you must tell me everything about you." Ben Schaffer wanted to get angry very much, but considering that she was pregnant now, he could only bear it.

Before the mother left, remind him again and again that the first three months of pregnancy are very important. His mother told him not to make Gwen angry.

If the child is gone, the relationship between their mother and son will also come to an end.

"He must be here for my dad's funeral." Gwen said this, unable to hide it, "He knows that I am pregnant with your child, and he may ask you for money."

Ben Schaffer was not surprised at all. After taking a deep breath, he asked,

“How much do you think he will want?”

“How do I know that?” Gwen said angrily, “Why don’t you go outside and hide?”

“Chief Treasurer, will I be afraid of your brother?” Ben Schaffer laughed angrily,

“I’ll wait here with you. I want to see how much he can open his mouth.”

Two hours later, Zion walked out of the station. When he saw Ben Schaffer, his face suddenly sank.

Ben Schaffer glanced at the time and said, “Let’s go to dinner first. I’ve reserved a seat.”

Gwen was afraid that his eldest brother would make trouble with Ben Schaffer at the airport, so he reminded in a low voice, “Brother, father’s ashes are still at Ben Schaffer’s house.”

Zion asked inexplicably, “Why didn’t you bury him? Could it be waiting for me to bury it?”

Chapter 1291

Ben Schaffer was surprised: “Then what are you doing here?”

“You made my sister’s belly bigger, shouldn’t you be responsible for her? Don’t think that if Elliot is not here now, you can bully my sister.” Zion Explaining the purpose, “You must marry my sister.”

Gwen: “???” Her eyes widened, unable to understand what the eldest brother, Zion was saying.

“I understand, you want a dowry. Tell me, how much do you want? Can I give it to you directly?” Ben Schaffer negotiated with him, “I don’t want to talk about the wedding beforehand, aside from the fact that I don’t want to marry your sister. The reason is that your sister doesn’t want to marry me either.”

Zion was furious when he heard this, and scolded: “Gwen, your brain is flooded? Do you know how rich he is? Since you are pregnant with his child, just Hurry up and marry her. You will definitely not be able to marry a man richer than him in the future.”

Gwen said blankly: “Brother, how much do you want, tell him, don’t yell at me.”

“I can’t figure it out.” Zion finished scolding Gwen and looked at Ben Schaffer, “Let me talk to you alone.”

Ben Schaffer couldn’t bear seeing Gwen’s face turning red when he was being scolded: “Gwen, you take a taxi and go to back home first.”

After Ben spoke, Gwen strode out.

He took Zion to the restaurant he reserved for lunch.

Arriving at the restaurant, the two were seated, Zion couldn’t wait to speak:

“You must marry my sister, or I will take her to the hospital to abort the child.”

Ben Schaffer’s mouth twitched: “Zion, calm down.”

“I I have inquired about it, you have never been married, and you have no illegitimate child. The child in my sister’s womb is your first child. It is also your old child, you must not have the heart to abort this child, right?”

“I’ll give you two choices, either do the wedding now, or do it after the baby is born.” Zion didn’t give him time to think.

“After the wedding.” Ben Schaffer gave this answer without hesitation.

He definitely couldn’t let Gwen kill the child. His parents couldn’t bear the result.

This time, the parents came over and were overjoyed to learn that Gwen was pregnant with his child.

Ben Schaffer hadn’t seen his parents so happy in a long time. With more and more gray hair on his parents’ heads, he wants them to enjoy their old age.

Zion breathed a sigh of relief when he got this result. “Then let’s talk about the bride price.”

Ben Schaffer: "How much do you want? If you're still a man, don't use your sister's life-long event as a bargaining chip for your profit."

"Seeing that you're nervous, I'm not stupid. Just give it as normal." Zion came prepared, "If you marry Chelsea, how much dowry will you give to Chelsea's family?"

Ben Schaffer: "....." F*ck!

"This is my card number. If you're a man, don't fool me." Zion pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose, "Whether it's one million or ten million, as long as it's the number you gave to Chelsea's family, I can Accept it all."

Ben Schaffer kneeled to Zion in his heart, and called him brother by the way.

.....

Yonroeville.

It was Rebecca's birthday today.

On the blue sea, a huge yacht is parked on the sea.

The relatives and friends of the Jobin family came early in the morning to celebrate Rebecca's birthday.

Rebecca was wearing a white princess dress today, as beautiful as a doll in an oil painting.

Elliot wore a black suit, kept a low-key and steady side by her side, and entertained the guests with her.

Not long after, a bright red shadow appeared in their field of vision Avery was wearing a red sexy dress and long skirt, revealing her white and delicate skin. Her long hair was rolled up, elegant and intellectual. Today she put on a delicate makeup look, radiant and radiant.

She took the gifts and walked towards them.

Chapter 1292

Why is Avery here?" Rebecca saw Avery dressed up, and her jealousy suddenly burned.

Usually Avery's face is facing the sky, which has led to Rebecca's high selfconfidence.

Rebecca thought that she was more beautiful and younger than Avery, and men would definitely be attracted to her.

But now, Avery is wearing a sexy long dress, which is charming and colorful, making her look like a childish little girl.

Of course Rebecca wasn't happy.

Elliot didn't answer her question because he was attracted by Avery.

"Rebecca, I wish you a happy birthday." Avery handed the gift to Rebecca, "By the way, this is from Nick."

"Third master?" Rebecca took the gift and asked in confusion, "The third master asked you to come?"

"Yes, your third master asked me to come."

"What is your relationship with my third master? Why did he let you come instead of him?" Rebecca wrinkled, frowned and handed the gift to the subordinate beside him.

"Our relationship is a long story, are you sure you want to listen?" Although Avery was talking to Rebecca, the corner of her eye kept falling on Elliot.

Avery noticed that Elliot was looking at her too. And it's a fair look. Could it be that Avery was dressed too beautifully today and attracted him?

It seems that the bodyguards have a good idea. Or men understand men better.

Rebecca also noticed that Elliot was staring at Avery, and immediately panicked: "I don't care about your relationship. Since you are here on behalf of the third master, I can't help but give the third master face. Go to the banquet hall. "

The banquet hall was in the cabin. But most of the guests were hanging out in the sun and chatting on the deck.

Avery came for Elliot, so she didn't enter the cabin. She walked to the corner of the deck, looked at the scenery on the sea, and looked at Elliot from time to time.

Not long after the guests arrived, Elliot and Rebecca walked towards Kyrie.

Kyrie is proud of the spring breeze today, not only because of his daughter's birthday, but also because Elliot has become his fast son-in-law.

In less than an hour, Kyrie blushed and was led by the bodyguard to the guest room in the cabin to rest.

After Kyrie went to rest, Elliot replaced Kyrie and chatted and drank with the guests.

But after he took a glass of champagne, Rebecca quickly replaced the glass in his hand with Coke.

Avery sees all this in her eyes.

It can be seen that Rebecca really likes Elliot. If Elliot lives in Yonroeville, he will be able to live very well.

It's just that Cristian probably won't let him go so smoothly.

Thinking of Cristian, Avery frowned, alarmed in her heart.

After she got on the yacht, she hadn't seen Cristian yet.

As Rebecca's eldest brother, shouldn't he entertain guests with Kyrie today?

Where has Cristian left?

She suddenly worried that if Cristian took advantage of today's crowd and secretly played tricks behind his back, it might make Elliot hard to guard against.

Thinking of this, she immediately began to search for Cristian's figure on the huge deck.

The red figure suddenly moved quickly within the line of sight, and Elliot immediately fixed his eyes on her.

She stopped and walked around, staring at the guests, as if looking for someone.

Who is she looking for?

Besides him, who else does she know on this yacht?

She looked around on the deck and probably didn't find the person she was looking for, so she entered the cabin and planned to go to the banquet hall to find it.

"Elliot, Kyrie has been praising you for your ability just now, saying that he can retire in peace with you in the future." Someone complimented Elliot.

Chapter 1293

Elliot was absent-minded and made a random excuse to leave: "I don't seem to see Cristian today, I'll go to the banquet hall to see."

After he finished speaking, he strode towards the entrance of the banquet hall.

It happened that Avery hurried out of the banquet hall.

The two collided without warning. All the drinks in Elliot's glass were poured on Avery.

At this moment, the sky is thunder and the earth is on fire.

Both were stunned.

She had just entered the banquet hall and saw that Cristian and the guests in the banquet hall were drinking, so she felt relieved and left the banquet hall in a hurry.

She didn't expect to meet Elliot who came to the banquet hall to look for her.

Of course, she wouldn't know that he came to the banquet hall to find her.

It's like Elliot didn't know that Avery hurried out of the banquet hall to keep staring at him on the deck.

“You spilled the drink on me.” Avery reacted first and reminded him.

The waiter strode over, Elliot put the empty cup on the tray, then took a dry towel from the tray and handed it to her: “I’m sorry, I didn’t mean to.”

She took the towel and wiped the liquid on her chest. But her dress was wet.

“What should I do? My clothes are wet.” Avery looked at him innocently, waiting for him to give a solution.

Elliot frowned, a little embarrassed.

This is on a yacht, not on land. It’s not like you can just find a clean dress for her to change into.

“What do you want to do?” Elliot looked at her with deep eyes.

Elliot knew she was deliberately making things difficult for him.

“I’m asking you, don’t ask me back.”

“Would you like to dry it with a hair dryer first?” Elliot eyes stayed on the wet clothes on her chest for a few seconds, and then a flush of blush appeared on her handsome face.

His eyes moved unnaturally and landed on her face. As a result, after staring at her for less than three seconds, his face turned even redder.

“Okay! You help me dry.” Avery demanded, “How do I get to the housekeeping department?”

Avery asked him to blow her clothes, which was an undisguised seduction.

The two of them tacitly walked towards the guest room department.

Except for the waiters, there are almost no guests in the housekeeping department at this moment.

Elliot asked: “Did you beg Nick to let you come?”

Avery: “You said the opposite. He invited me to come. I know you don’t want to see me, after all, your wife is like a flower, and I'm just your ex-wife who has passed the fresh period."

Elliot pushed open the door of a guest room and strode in.

Avery followed him in.

When the door closed, he grabbed her waist: "What do you want to wear today?"

Avery raised her head and looked at his handsome but indifferent face: "No doubt, it's just what you think. It's my freedom to stare at me. If you don't look at me, how do you know I'm looking at you?"

"Avery, I don't remember you anymore. No matter who you were in the past, for me now, you're just a strange woman." Elliot said the most affectionate words, but his big palm grabbed her waist even harder.

"You don't remember me in your mind, maybe your body does. Or... let's try it now?" Avery looked at him and said defiantly, "We have known each other for eight years and have slept together countless times. This time, your body has definitely not forgotten me."

Her words caused a tingling in his head, "I have a wife now."

"Does Kyrie have only one woman? Your second brother, Nick and fourth brother... Do they only have one woman?! Since you choose to fool around with them, how can a woman satisfy you?" After Avery finished speaking, Avery, Without giving him time to think, red lips blocked his thin lips.

Her words made him instantly abandon all the rules and regulations that bound him.

Elliot picked her up and walked towards the big bed next to her.

Chapter 1294

A moment later, Rebecca found that Elliot was left.

She couldn't find him in the banquet hall, and when she went to the deck, she couldn't find him either.

What's even more frightening is that not only Elliot is left, but Avery is also left. Rebecca's heart jumped wildly. Could it be that the two of them had a private tryst?

Avery is so beautiful and enchanting today that even a woman can't help but look at her, let alone a man?

Rebecca immediately took out her mobile phone and dialed Elliot's number.

The phone went out, got through, but no one answered.

In a hurry, Rebecca immediately sent bodyguards to find Elliot.

After a while, the bodyguard led a waiter over.

"Miss Jobin, about 20 minutes ago, your husband accidentally spilled the wine from the glass on a lady. After that, your husband took the lady to the housekeeping department, presumably taking her to deal with her body stains." The waiter explained to Rebecca.

Rebecca frowned and asked anxiously, "Is that lady wearing a long red dress?"

"Yes. That lady is indeed wearing a long red dress." After the waiter answered, there were tears in Rebecca's eyes. she said, "You take me to the housekeeping department to find them right away."

The waiter looked embarrassed and said, "I don't know which room they are in, why don't I ask the housekeeping manager to take you there?"

"Forget it. I'll go by myself and find them." There are dozens of guest rooms on the boat, and she knocked on the door one by one, not afraid of not finding them both.

Rebecca took the bodyguard and walked towards the cabin room.

After she entered the guest room, Elliot and Avery came out one after the other from the front room.

Rebecca saw their figures and immediately strode over.

“Elliot!”

Her voice was filled with excitement and grievances that were lost and found.

Avery raised her eyes to look at Elliot-

Elliot saw that he was not in a hurry, and without hesitation, walked towards Rebecca. When he was in bed just now, he was not so callous to her. If it wasn't for the phone call from Rebecca, the two of them would have regained their old passion in bed now.

She naively thought that he might be able to remember fragments of the past, even if it was just the memory of the bed.

But after Elliot put on his trousers and buckled the belt, the short-lived warmth in his eyes was replaced by indifference. Now, Elliot has become Rebecca's husband again.

“Elliot, why are you with her?” Rebecca asked with a curious wink, pretending she didn't know anything.

Elliot took Rebecca's arm and took her out of the housekeeping department: “I got her dress wet, so I brought her to dry it.”

“Oh, so it is. Actually, you can find me. I brought a spare and I can put my clothes on for her.” Rebecca, like a bird, snuggled up to Elliot's arm and disappeared from Avery's sight.

At this moment, Avery had a new understanding of Rebecca.

No wonder Nick said that Rebecca was a tamed canary. She is so young, but she is so tolerant of men. Even if Avery was allowed to see Elliot and herself in bed with Rebecca's own eyes, as long as Elliot didn't abandon her, she would definitely forgive Elliot.

Avery came out of the guest room and walked towards the deck.

The purpose of her coming here today has been achieved. She had close contact with Elliot. As for whether Elliot can think of her because of this, it all depends on good luck.

The sun was shining and the wind was strong today. Her hair was blown away by the wind, she simply raised her head and blew the sea breeze happily.

“Ms. Tate, do you smoke?” the bodyguard who brought her asked.

Chapter 1295

This bodyguard was from Nick.

Avery looked at him: “Do you think I can smoke?”

The bodyguard: “I think you are very bored.”

Avery chuckled and stretched out her hand: “Then give me one!”

The bodyguard handed her a cigarette and then set fire to her: “Nick called me just now and told me to go back.”

“Well, go back. I’ll go home by myself later.” Avery looked at the lit cigarette and imitated the bodyguard. Put it to your mouth and try to take a breath.

As a result, the choking smell of tobacco penetrated the air pipe, and she couldn’t help coughing violently.

The bodyguard laughed: “Look at how stupid you are. Don’t take such a big mouth at the beginning.”

Avery was laughed at by him, and was a little annoyed: “If I give you a scalpel and ask you to operate on someone, you will too. You ‘ll become an idiot.”

“Haha! You’re still angry.” The bodyguard laughed. His eyes fell on the red mark on her collarbone, teasing, “Have you gotten along with Elliot so soon?”

“No,” Avery was slender. She put the cigarette between her fingers and took a sip, barely choking this time. “Elliot didn’t recognize people when he lifted his pants. He wasn't like this before."

"People will change. They will change. What he's like is related to the environment he is in." The smile in the bodyguard's eyes was very aggressive, making people uncomfortable, "Would you like to come with me?"

Avery's smile between his fingers, Frightened and fell into the sea.

"What do you mean?" Avery frowned.

"Literally!" The bodyguard looked at her slyly, "If you don't go, then I'll go. If you don't go with me, be careful to regret it."

"Why do you regret if I don't go with you?" Avery became more and more confused, and even felt that the face of the bodyguard in front of her became distorted. She pushed the hair from the sea breeze on her cheeks behind her ears and asked, "What the hell are you trying to say?"

Seeing that she was so clueless, the bodyguard was reluctant to tell her more.

"Ms. Tate, I'm leaving. Take care of yourself." The bodyguard took a step back and turned around and left.

Hey! Wait a minute." Avery was even more annoyed, "Give me your cigarette and lighter."

The bodyguard didn't expect her to be addicted to smoking, but he gave her the cigarette and lighter generously.

Avery took over the cigarettes and lighters and no longer cared about the bodyguard's whereabouts.

In the banquet hall.

Rebecca held Elliot's arm and refused to let go for a second. When she saw Elliot in the housekeeping department, she saw the bite marks on Elliot's neck.

This is not only a bite mark, but also a gauntlet from Avery to her.

Avery, this b*tch. To be so brazen, openly seduce her husband at her birthday party.

Rebecca was so angry that she vomited blood, but she couldn't show any unhappiness on her face.

If Avery is a v*xen, then Elliot can't control his lower body, and both have problems.

Rebecca could only endure. Her father had told her that no matter what, he would keep Elliot's people.

Only when Elliot stays in the Jobin family can there be hope for the future of the Jobin family. Rebecca must not let her father down, let alone see the fall of the Jobin family.

After a while, Kyrie's personal nanny came hurriedly, took Rebecca's hand, and whispered, "Miss, something happened?" Elliot immediately pricked up his ears when he heard this.

After the nanny told Rebecca about the matter, Rebecca immediately took Elliot's hand and said anxiously, "Elliot, go see my father with me."

Kyrie got drunk in the morning and was sent to the guest room went to rest.

The babysitter stayed in the room to take care.

Just now Kyrie's cell phone rang. It was from someone important. The nanny wanted to wake up Kyrie to answer the phone, but no matter how the nanny called, she couldn't wake him up.

Chapter 1296

Now Kyrie's situation was that after calling him, he didn't respond at all.

But when he sniffed, he still breathed.

So the nanny did not contact the doctor immediately, but contact to Rebecca first.

"Miss, why didn't you see the eldest young master?" The nanny didn't see Cristian, so she looked for Rebecca.

“He probably drank too much.” Rebecca muttered, “I saw him drinking a lot of alcohol today.”

The nanny said, “Oh, the eldest young master hasn’t come back for a while. I think he is happy to see so many relatives and friends today. Miss, you don’t have to worry too much. The master is breathing normally. I suspect that he may have fallen into a deep sleep.”

“Did you call a doctor?” Rebecca asked.

The nanny said, “No, why don’t I call now.”

“Well, hurry up and call the doctor.” Rebecca was upset, “Dad must not have an accident.”

Rebecca was worried that her father had not made a will. She knew that her father was waiting to see Elliot’s performance. If Elliot performed well, he said that he would hand over the core business to Elliot.

If his father died suddenly now, then Cristian would definitely occupy his father’s property. Now she and Elliot are on the same boat, so she can’t let her father have an accident.

She and Elliot entered the guest room where Kyrie was resting, and saw Kyrie’s peaceful sleeping face at a glance.

Elliot strode to the side of the bed and reached out to probe Kyrie’s breath.

Breathing was normal.

Rebecca bent down, held Kyrie’s big palm, and shouted loudly, “Dad, wake up! I’m Rebecca, Dad!”

Rebecca’s voice was very high-pitched and heard, even a little sharp.

But Kyrie did not respond. Obviously, Kyrie Jobin was not sleeping normally now. He must have passed out.

Soon, the nanny came with the doctor

On the deck, Avery leaned against the railing and smoked the first cigarette in his life.

In fact, she had already lit three cigarettes.

Every time a cigarette is lit, it is completely burned out by the sea breeze within a few puffs.

As she lit the fourth cigarette, there was a dull sound of footsteps behind her.

Avery didn't look back, because the sea breeze blew the unique scent of the man behind her.

He stopped beside her, saw the cigarette in her hand, and was stunned.

In his originally calm eyes, thousands of waves appeared.

"You can smoke?"

The man seemed unable to believe that she was such a woman.

"I can not only smoke, but also drink. Besides, I will do everything you can do." Avery raised her red lips and teased, "Why did your wife let you out?"

Don't answer, let me I'm guessing...she's the one who asked you to kick me off the yacht?"

She kept her eyes on the bite mark on his neck as she spoke.

This is what she bit, she bit it on purpose.

She wants Rebecca to know who is his real wife and who is the third party in this relationship.

After Elliot heard her words, his expression became more gloomy. He opened his palm, and a hairpin appeared in his palm.

She left it on the bed.

"No wonder my hair is loose." Avery took the hair clip from his palm, tugged the hair on her forehead to one side, and secured it with a hair clip.

Her casual and calm movements easily tugged at his heartstrings.

“Avery, let’s go.” His Adam’s apple rolled, and he said sharply, “Let’s go now.”

Chapter 1297

His words made her stunned for a moment.

Avery guessed it right.

“I knew it was Rebecca who asked you to drive me away. It’s almost time for lunch, don’t you even give me a meal?” Avery said coldly, “I’ll leave after lunch. “

Why do you have to eat this meal?” he retorted. His eyes, his tone, are telling her – now, immediately, immediately!

“I’m hungry, I want to eat before leaving!” Avery clenched her fingers tightly and stubbornly said, “If I have to eat this meal, can you force me to leave?”

Avery was really hungry, but It is not necessary to eat this meal. She couldn’t swallow the breath in her heart.

Because Elliot was lingering with her while being a good husband to Rebecca. He just forgot the memory related to her, not a different person, how could this be?

Before he had Chelsea by his side, why didn’t he see him entangled with Chelsea?

Can circumstances really change a person?

But Elliot had known this group of people many years ago. Could it be that he was such a person before?

Avery’s heart was chaotic, and her mind was even more chaotic.

Elliot said indifferently, “Avery, I can’t keep you for this meal. After getting off the yacht, you can eat whatever you want.”

Avery said, “I’m not leaving. Can you still throw me from here?”

The blue veins on Elliot’s forehead were angered, and the coldness was clearly visible in his eyes.

Avery could feel that his patience was rapidly diminishing. Maybe, he could really do something about throwing her out of here.

Because Elliot was now the son-in-law of the Jobin family, and now all the relatives and friends of the Jobin family were on this boat.

His ex-wife angered his current wife and refused to leave with a cheeky face.

Elliot had to act, otherwise how would he explain to the Jobin family?

Just when Avery thought of this, her body suddenly volleyed into the air.

Elliot picked her up and lifted her up.

Before Avery could react, Elliot let go of his hands mercilessly and let her fall into the sea like a pebble.

'Bang' with a loud bang. Her body fell into the sea, causing a splash. Despair and pain swept through her entire body in an instant.

Even if Elliot hugged her and drove her off the yacht exit, she would not be so distressed.

There was nothing more grief than death, Avery has completely given up.

After she fell into the sea, her body seemed to be enchanted and could not move.

She could swim, but she didn't want to swim ashore at all.

When people were extremely depressed, it was easy to breed thoughts of suicide.

Avery closed her eyes and let the sea water hit. The sea water quickly poured into her body from her ears, nose, and mouth, she couldn't see anything, couldn't hear anything!

At this time, the lifeguard swam over and picked up her body.

On the yacht, Elliot watched with a worried look on her face as she was picked up by the lifeguards, and gave the order: "Send her to the hospital."

After his words were settled, Rebecca strode towards him.

When Elliot saw Rebecca's figure, he immediately cleaned up the emotions on his face and walked towards Rebecca.

"Elliot, the doctor said that my father may be suffering from alcohol poisoning, but it's not a serious problem. I'll wake up after a few bottles of fluid."

Rebecca put her arm around him, "The luncheon has begun, let's go eat."

"Yeah." His face was cold, showing no emotion.

From the corner of Rebecca's eyes, she looked at the place where she was standing just now, but there was nothing.

"Elliot, have you seen Avery? I didn't see her in the banquet hall." Rebecca pretended to be calm and said, "Although I don't like her very much, the visitor is a guest, we should treat her to dinner."

Elliot: "She's left."

"Oh? Did you let her go?" A happy smile appeared on Rebecca's face.

Chapter 1298

Elliot didn't want to mention things related to Avery, nor did he want to find an excuse to answer Rebecca's question. So he simply did not answer the question.

Rebecca didn't dare to ask questions at all, and didn't dare to show her face to him.

She smiled and said, "Elliot, I'm really worried about my father's accident today. Fortunately, you are by my side. With you, I feel so at ease."

Elliot: "He will be fine."

" Well. I don't worry about him anymore. I'm just glad that I can marry you.

Being your wife is the luckiest thing in my life."

Avery was rescued by yacht lifeguards to shore. The lifeguards immediately gave her first aid for drowning.

After spitting out the seawater in his stomach, Avery woke up.

The yacht in front of her suddenly reminded her of what happened just now.

“Miss, do you need me to take you to the hospital?” the lifeguard asked.

Avery shook her head in conditioned reflex: “I’m fine...”

A feeling of being resurrected from the dead made her wake up suddenly.

–How can Avery die?

–Avery has kids and so many close friends. Life is not only about love, but also family and friendship.

After the chill in Avery’s heart subsided, she quickly got up.

She was embarrassed at the moment, but fortunately there was no one around.

“Miss, I’ll find the driver to take you out of here.” The lifeguard explained to her, “I can’t get a car here!” She stayed where she was, waiting for the lifeguard to call the driver for her.

About an hour later, she was taken to the hotel where she was staying.

Her hair and clothes were dry. It’s just that the clothes are wrinkled, the hair is messy, and what’s worse, the makeup on her face is spent.

Avery returned to her room and immediately went to the bathroom to remove her makeup. She poured the makeup remover onto the cotton pad, and before she could wipe her face, the phone in her handbag rang.

Her handbag fell into the sea with her. Although it was drenched in sea water, the phone was of good quality and could still be used.

She put down the cotton pad, found her mobile phone, and saw that Nick was calling.

It is estimated that Nick has heard that Elliot threw her into the sea.

She answered the phone and was ready to be laughed at, but Nick didn't laugh at her.

"Have you returned to your residence?"

"Well. I brought your gift, and I have completed what you told me." Avery laughed at herself, "I shouldn't bother you again in the future."

"Listen to your dejected voice, Are you going to listen to my advice and go back to Aryadelle?" Nick said.

"It's not your persuasion. It was Elliot who chilled my heart." She thought of what happened today and felt extremely absurd, "I thought I could warm his heart, but I turned into a clown."

There were a few guests on the deck and Those people definitely saw this scene when I was thrown into the sea.

Although she didn't know those people, she still felt utterly ashamed.

"Oh, I heard that you were thrown into the sea by Elliot." When Nick said this, he couldn't help laughing, "You hate him because of this?"

"If you were me, wouldn't you be angry?" Avery asked back.

"I'm not you, so this kind of thing won't happen to me." Although Nick didn't laugh at her, he laughed lightly, "Are you packing your luggage now? Have you bought the plane ticket?"

Avery Felt a little dizzy.

Chapter 1299

Nick and his bodyguard spoke strangely, which gave her a headache.

"I'm removing makeup now." Avery answered patiently.

"Have you finished removing your makeup and packed your luggage?" Nick seemed to be particularly interested in her luggage.

“Why are you holding on to my luggage? I won’t pack it today.” Avery told him to give up, “My classmate is hospitalized here. I will leave with my classmate after my classmate is discharged.”

Nick suddenly Lost interest: “I thought you would be pissed off today. Since you don’t leave, hang up!”

Dududu! The call was hung up.

“It’s inexplicable.” Avery put down the phone and said to herself, “Why does he have to leave me today? Could something major happen today?”

.....

Aryadelle.

After Nathan’s ashes were buried, Zion went back to Bridgedale.

As soon as Zion left, Gwen immediately asked Ben Schaffer, “How much dowry he asked you for?”

Based on her understanding of Zion, Zion could not have left so easily without getting the money.

Ben Schaffer: “Gwen, although your brother asked me for a betrothal gift. We don’t necessarily want to get married. We’ll talk about everything after you have a baby.”

“I didn’t say I wanted to marry you. I just want to know about my elder brother. How much did you ask for?” Gwen whispered, “If I can make a lot of money in the future, I can give it back to you.”

Ben Schaffer didn’t expect her to think like this, so he said, “1 million.”

She was stunned for a moment and said in surprise, “So much?”

1 million was a lot of money for her.

Ben Schaffer didn’t know how to take her words.

Because he lied.

He gave Zion 10 million.

Zion asked him to give it according to the standard given to Chelsea, how could he only give Chelsea 1 million?

But he couldn't give Zion more, so he gave 10 million.

He was afraid that saying 10 million would put Gwen under psychological pressure, so he said 1 million.

"Everyone says you're rich. Is a million to you, like a dime in our pockets?"

Gwen saw that he didn't speak, so she opened her mind, "Yes, If you don't like me, how can you give a high dowry."

Ben Schaffer's calm heart was irritated by her: "Gwen, if you don't make me angry for a day, you won't feel comfortable, right?"

"Why do you like anger so much? I read on the news that men also have menopause, are you in menopause?" Gwen wondered, "Would you like to buy some tea to reduce anger? My dad also liked to get angry before his death, and the doctor suggested that he drink chrysanthemum Tea. Why don't you buy some to drink too?"

Ben Schaffer: "..."

"Gwen, I don't want you to pay back the money I gave your eldest brother. Just treat it as your hard work for giving birth." Ben Schaffer took a deep breath and calmed himself down.

"What do you mean, the child is yours after birth, and has nothing to do with me?" Gwen's face lost a bit of vitality.

"No. We can raise them together." Ben Schaffer was afraid that her thoughts would affect her body, "Gwen, it's too early to talk about this, wait until you give birth to a child. You are Elliot's younger sister, I will definitely not bully you. "

Oh, then why do you give my eldest brother the hard work of giving birth?”

Gwen stretched out his hand towards him, “That’s a dowry, not hard work. If you want to pay hard work, give it to me directly.”

Ben Schaffer: “???”

is outrageous!

This woman, treat her a little bit better, and she will ride on his head.

.....

Yonroeville.

Xander did a checkup in the afternoon, and his body was no longer in serious condition, so he could be discharged from the hospital.

Avery thought Xander would stay in the hospital for at least two days, but she didn’t expect him to recover so quickly.

Just when she was going to tell him that she and Elliot had completely broken up and could go to Bridgedale for an operation, a doctor passed by her in a panic, and said something to another doctor that shocked her—

“There was a shooting on a yacht over the Marbour Sea, we are going to rescue now.”

Chapter 1300

She quickly extracted the key words in her mind: Marbour, yacht, shooting case.

Today, Rebecca’s birthday party was held on the yacht of Marbour Sea.

So the shooting the doctor said... must have happened at Kim Young Ah’s banquet!

She immediately chased after the doctor, but one step too late.

The two doctors entered the elevator, and the elevator doors closed quickly.

Xander chased after her: “Avery, what are you running for?”

“They said a shooting case just now, did you hear that?” Her cheeks were flushed and her breathing was solemn, “Elliot may be in danger.”

“You mean a shooting case happened at Rebecca’s banquet?” Xander took her arm, “Don’t be nervous... Do you have Elliot’s phone number? Why don’t you try calling him first? “

“I have his number, but he may not answer my call.” Avery frowned, took out her mobile phone, and called Elliot. Just as she guessed, the call went over and was not answered.

“Don’t worry, didn’t the doctor go to rescue just now? Maybe all the injured people will be sent to this hospital later.” Xander comforted her, “How about we just wait here? Otherwise, wait for us to rush. Maybe the ambulance brought them here.”

Xander accompanied her to the emergency room.

If the injured person is brought in, they will go to the emergency channel.

The two sat down in the emergency waiting hall.

Avery’s body was tense, and her brain was running at high speed.

On the yacht today, Nick’s bodyguard asked her if she wanted to go with him before leaving. She didn’t understand what the bodyguard meant at the time, and felt that the bodyguard was inexplicable. Now it seems that Nick’s bodyguard may have long known that there was danger on the yacht, so they called her to leave together.

It’s a pity that Avery didn’t understand the meaning of the bodyguard at that time. If she knew in advance that there would be danger on the yacht, she would definitely take Elliot off the yacht.

Also, after she was sent back to the hotel, Nick called her and kept asking when she would return to Aryadelle, which also confirmed this.

If there was no danger there, why should Nick kindly remind Avery to return to Aryadelle?

Avery tears suddenly and hurriedly fell.

Seeing her sudden tears, Xander was puzzled: "Avery, Elliot may not be in trouble, why are you crying? Guns can't be restrained here, there should be frequent shootings."

She raised her hands to wipe away tears, and choked: "Actually, I came back from there at noon today. It wasn't me who came back, it was Elliot who drove me back."

"Oh?" Xander pondered for a few seconds and guessed, "You mean that he may have known in advance that the yacht was on the boat. There will be a shooting case, so let you go in advance."

Avery nodded sharply: "It must be so. Because his behavior at noon was too extreme. He let me go, I refused to go, he threw me directly into the sea. "

Xander was stunned.

Avery said "I hate him to death at noon. I don't understand why he does this...I understand now. He must know there is danger, so let me go quickly."

Xander took out a tissue and handed it to her: "Are you worried that Elliot is in danger?"

Avery took the tissue and wiped away her tears, her chin raised slightly, trying to stop the tears from falling: "It must be Rebecca's eldest brother who did it. He is afraid that Elliot will rob him of Kyrie's property, so he can't tolerate Elliot."

"Even so, Rebecca will definitely help him, right?"

Rebecca is only 21 years old, and she doesn't have any ability to fight against her eldest brother." Avery became more and more desperate, "No, I have to call Nick and ask.”

She must immediately know who was injured in the shooting.

.....

Avonsville.

On the laptop screen, a piece of news from Yonroeville appeared in front of Hayden.

The shooting on the yacht appeared on the local news in Yonroeville.

Because Avery is in Yonroeville, Hayden checks the news of Yonroeville every day.

After seeing the shooting, Hayden frowned tightly.

Chapter 1301

Elliot is on that yacht, is it possible that my mother is also on that yacht?

Thinking of this, Hayden immediately picked up his mobile phone and dialed Avery.

Avery answered the phone quickly.

“Mom, where are you now?”

“Mom is in the hospital now.” Avery glanced at Xander and said to Hayden,

“Mom has a classmate who has a broken bone and is hospitalized in the hospital. I’m visiting him in the hospital now.”

“Oh .” Hayden was relieved and at the same time, he wondered, “What classmate?”

“It’s a classmate of your mother when she was in graduate school. He happened to be traveling here in Yonroeville and unfortunately broke a bone.”

Avery explained.

“Got it.” Hayden was silent for two minutes. Later, he said, “Mom, I’m about to start school.”

Avery blamed herself very much: “Hayden, I’m sorry. Mom can’t take you to school in person. Let Uncle Mike take you there, okay? Wait for mom. When you are free, Mom will see you immediately.”

“Yeah.” Hayden knew that this would be the result, but he was still very disappointed.

After hanging up the phone, Hayden held the mouse, exited the news website, and searched for flight information.

Mom can’t come back to see him. So Hayden decided to go to Yonroeville to see mom. Before school starts, he wants to see his mother. He planned to go quietly by himself.

It’s not that he wants to take risks, but that Mike has been busy these two days.

Just when Hayden was about to buy a ticket, the door was suddenly pushed open.

Mike’s face appeared at the door.

“Hayden, I’m going to the company. If you have anything to do, call me.” Mike said.

Hayden’s heart was beating fast, but his face was calm: “Is something wrong with the company?”

“Something went wrong. Wanda didn’t know where to find a very powerful R&D talent... This person is very mysterious. I have been checking the details of this person these days.” Mike said and sighed, “You don’t have to worry, even if the company goes bankrupt, I can support you.”

Mike pretended to say it easily and left.

Hayden is more worried about Avery’s safety now, so he has no energy to worry about the future of Tate Industries.

.....

Yonroeville.

After Avery finished talking with Hayden, she dialed Nick's number again.

She called Nick a few times just now, but Nick didn't answer.

She doesn't know if Nick is busy, or Nick doesn't answer her phone on purpose.

After dialing the phone, she looked outside the emergency room.

It's been almost an hour, and it stands to reason that the ambulance should have arrived long ago.

–Could it be that the injured were not sent to this hospital? Just when she was thinking about it, Nick answered her phone and asked, “Avery, do you want to ask me about the shooting?”

“Nick, is Elliot injured?” Avery took her mobile phone and walked outside the emergency room, “Did Cristian move your hand?”

Nick sneered, “Tsk tsk, even You have already guessed it! Cristian, this brainless thing, no matter how many years have passed, no matter how many beatings he has received, he will not grow his brain. In this wave, Cristian is considered to have lost his mind.”

Cristian planned to kill Elliot today. If Elliot is dead, it is possible for Cristian to take over the Jobin family property.

Unfortunately, his plan failed. The bullet that was going to hit Elliot was blocked by Rebecca's body.

Chapter 1302

At the same time, Kyrie also woke up.

Kyrie was furious when he knew what had happened.

Rebecca was shot in the left scapula and has been sent to the nearest hospital for surgery to retrieve the bullet.

Cristian and Elliot were outside the operating room, waiting for the operation to end.

Of course Cristian would not admit that the shooting was his own. But Kyrie didn't listen to his explanation at all.

Kyrie directly slapped Cristian in front of everyone.

Kyrie's face was ashen, He said, "Why don't you just kill me? If you kill me, you will inherit my properties directly, isn't it more convenient?"

There are five distinct fingerprints on Cristian's cheeks. "Dad! I really didn't do it. Besides, how dare I kill you, I'm not a beast."

Seeing that Cristian refused to admit it, Kyrie raised his hand and ready to give him another slap.

Seeing this, Elliot blocked Kyrie's arm.

"Since Cristian said he didn't do it, don't be angry." Elliot said coldly.

Kyrie retracted his arms angrily, staring at his son with gloomy eyes: "If you really want to kill, can you f*cking stop being so obvious? Stupid thing without a brain. Why do I call Elliot to help me, it's because I don't see any hope in you. If the Jobin family is handed over to you, do you believe that within half a year our Jobin family will fall?"

Cristian gritted his teeth, his body was tense, and his heart was unwilling.

"Do you know how other people laugh at you behind your back? They call you a stupid pig." Kyrie clenched his fists and cursed angrily, "You are such a fucking stupid pig. Get the hell out of here."

After scolding, Cristian angrily left.

Kyrie sighed heavily and looked at Elliot: "I was careless. I didn't expect him to be so eager to attack you."

Elliot sat down on the bench next to him and said slowly, "Cristian really isn't very good at hiding his inner thoughts."

Kyrie sat down beside Elliot and said, "Otherwise I wouldn't let you stay with me. I said I wouldn't touch you. Elliot, I'm not joking with you. I have four sons in total, besides him and Rebecca, I have two sons. My two sons are much smarter than Cristian, but unfortunately they are both killed by the enemy."

"Rebecca is also very smart." Elliot said calmly.

"I know. I have been very strict with her since I was a child. I didn't let her have her own ideas. I just wanted her to learn my way of thinking and not be as ignorant and ignorant as ordinary women but she seems to have fallen in love with you." He eased a little.

Elliot was noncommittal.

When the bullets flew over today, Rebecca stood in front of him without any hesitation. If she doesn't love him, she doesn't have to risk her life to save him.

"Elliot, you said you would treat Rebecca well, but what you and Avery did on the yacht today disappointed me..." Kyrie did not shy away from having a showdown with him.

The yacht is owned by Kyrie, and every guest room is monitored. Every staff member on board is a member of Kyrie.

So Elliot and Avery's every move was difficult to hide from Kyrie.

"Did you remember Avery? Otherwise, how could you get along with Avery so quickly?" Kyrie looked at Elliot suspiciously.

Elliot said, "We Just went to bed."

Kyrie was stunned.

"I promised you that I would take care of Rebecca, but I never promised that there would only be Rebecca a woman in my life." Elliot used what Avery taught him to bet money on Kyrie's mouth.

Kyrie suddenly burst out laughing: "Elliot, you have changed a bit. You didn't want this woman before, but now you suddenly think about it?"

"I don't think about it that much. Women are not worth my energy to think about." Elliot tone was cold and indifferent.

"If you can think this way, I won't worry about it. I don't mind how many women you want to play with, as long as your wife now is Rebecca, and you have to take good care of her. I will not interfere in your private life." Kyrie said.

Elliot: "Well."

Chapter 1303

Kyrie looked at the blood on his white shirt and said, "Elliot, you go back to take a shower and change your clothes first. You've been tired all day today. Take a bath and get a good night's sleep. After Rebecca's surgery is over, she won't wake up for a while. So you will come back to the hospital tomorrow morning to accompany her."

Elliot was not polite, got up from the chair, and strode out of the hospital.

Seeing Elliot's figure disappear from sight, the expression on Kyrie's face suddenly became extremely gloomy.

Today was Rebecca's birthday, but Elliot and Avery were on the yacht where the banquet was held.

His behavior, in addition to not taking Rebecca in his eyes, did not take the entire Jobin family in his eyes.

Kyrie couldn't stop him from playing with women outside, but on such an important occasion today, he completely disregarded the face of the Jobin family, which made Kyrie very annoyed.

Did he really think that the Jobin family would die without him?

Kyrie gritted his teeth, and his anger grew stronger.

Cristian won't let him worry, at least he won't betray him. Elliot's ability is strong, which is a good thing, but he may betray him at any time.

If the two of them are compared together, Kyrie is even more afraid that Elliot will become a hidden danger.

After smoking two cigarettes, Kyrie picked up the phone and dialed Cristian:

"I'm giving you a chance to atone for your sins now."

Cristian was drinking at home, and when he heard his father's words, he immediately put down the bottle: "What do you want me to do?"

"What I ask you to do is more risky. But If you do it well, I will definitely not hand over the core business of the Jobin family to outsiders. Do you understand what I mean?" Kyrie threw out the benefits, and Cristian was immediately stunned.

Cristian said, "Dad, I will definitely work hard this time."

.....

Aryadelle.

At 10 a.m.

After Ben Schaffer went to work, Gwen walked out of the guest room. She is now pregnant with Ben Schaffer's child, so Ben Schaffer will not let her do anything.

There were three meals a day. Specially a nanny came and did all the housework everyday.

She didn't have to think about anything other than eating and drinking every day.

Although such a day was boring, it was much more stable than the days when she had eaten this meal and worried about the next meal. At least she won't be too anxious about her future life now.

After Gwen came out of the room, the nanny immediately brought breakfast to her.

“Miss, did you wait for Mr. Schaffer to go out before you came out?” the nanny said with a smile.

“Yeah.” Gwen glanced at the breakfast and saw the fried browned chicken breast, and suddenly felt a little sick, “I’ll just eat porridge.”

“It seems that you have started to have early pregnancy symptoms. Mr. Schaffer asked me this morning. What about the early pregnancy reaction.”

“Why did he ask this?” Gwen picked up the porridge bowl and took a small bite.

“He said that you eat a lot at every meal, and he suspected that you would not suffer from early pregnancy.”

Gwen said, “Humph! Mr. Schaffer didn’t like me, and he would laugh at me for everything.”

The nanny: “Mr. Schaffer was not laughing at you. He was thinking that if you didn’t have early pregnancy reaction, you didn’t have to suffer.”

Gwen said, “Would Mr. Schaffer be so kind?”

“Gwen, you have a big prejudice against him. If Mr. Schaffer really hates you that much, he won’t take you into the house for good care. “

Gwen blushed. At this time, her cell phone rang, and it was a strange call. She hesitated and answered the phone.

Chapter 1304

After breakfast, Gwen went out.

Someone asked her to meet and she agreed. The person who asked her to meet was a woman she did not know. But the woman said she was a good friend of Ben Schaffer.

Since she was Ben Schaffer’s good friend, she was embarrassed to refuse.

After leaving the Schaffer’s mansion, she took a taxi on the side of the road and reported to the restaurant that the woman had made an appointment with. About 20 minutes later, the car arrived at the restaurant. Gwen got out of the car and walked towards the door of the restaurant.

As soon as she entered the restaurant, a mature woman sitting by the window immediately waved to her. She walked over and took a seat.

“You are Gwen? You are really beautiful and tall, no wonder Ben Schaffer likes you.” The woman spoke first, and at the same time looked at her carefully.

“Mr. Schaffer didn’t like me.” Gwen corrected her, Strangely, “Didn’t you say that you are his good friend? Since you’re a good friend, why didn’t you know that I have a bad relationship with him?”

The woman was stunned for a moment, and said embarrassedly, “Mr. Schaffer didn’t tell me that you have a bad relationship. Just said that you’re pregnant with his child.”

“Maybe it’s because he didn’t think I’m worth mentioning.” Gwen asked, “Did you have anything to do with me?”

“It’s nothing, I’m just curious. He took you out to meet, but he refused. So I had to ask you out myself.” The woman said, picked up the menu, and handed it to her,

“Oh, what’s your name?” Gwen didn’t take the menu, “I ate it before going out, and I’m not hungry now.”

“You can order it. The milk tea in this store is good, you can try it.”

Gwen picked up the menu again, and in the beverages column, she saw milk tea as expected. She ordered a cup of plain milk tea and handed the menu to the other party.

Gwen said bluntly, “Did you like Ben Schaffer? I didn’t have the kind of relationship with Ben Schaffer. The child was just an accident. His parents wanted this child, so he took me to his house.”

“Even if the child in your belly is an accident, you are very good.” The woman’s mouth raised a bitter smile, “I have known him since childhood. I have liked him for so many years, and I have never had the chance to conceive his child.”

Gwen: “Because you’re a good woman. You may not know, his private life is very messy. He often sleeps outside with different women.”

“How is it possible. Ben Schaffer is not that kind of man.”

Gwen insisted, “How did the child come from here? If you don’t believe it, forget it.”

The woman said, “You talk about him so dirty, but you stay with his family. You must really want to marry him, right? I was afraid that I would rob him, so I said he was dirty.”

“I didn’t stay at his house, he insisted on taking me to live at his house.

Besides, I didn’t want to marry him, and I didn’t have the right to dislike him as dirty because I’m bad too. I’m telling you this, I just hope you find a man to brighten your eyes.” Gwen said. She didn’t want to quarrel with her, so she kept her tone calm.

“Little sister, you are so interesting.” The woman said.

“I feel You are laughing at me.” Gwen looked helpless.

“Hahaha, no, no. I just think you are different from what I imagined.” The woman also ordered a cup of milk tea and handed the menu to the waiter, “I heard that Elliot is your brother.”

“He hasn’t recognized me yet.”

“Oh, he’s no longer the boss of the Sterling Group. It doesn’t make any sense whether he recognizes you or not.” The woman said.

Gwen said bluntly, “You should stop talking about my family affairs, it has nothing to do with you. You haven't told me what your name is. I live at Ben Schaffer's house now, I can see him every day, I can help you speak in front of him."

The woman said excitedly, "No need. Don't worry about it."

"Then we don't seem to have much to talk about." Gwen said, took out her phone and read the news.

"Gwen, are you really planning to marry Ben?" The woman quickly adjusted her mood and asked calmly.

"His parents have mentioned this, but everything will be discussed after I give birth to the child." Gwen said, "When I give birth to the child, he should give me a favor and send me away."

The woman couldn't help laughing at her words.

Chapter 1305

After a while, two cups of milk tea were delivered to them.

The woman said, "Try it, the milk tea in this store is very delicious."

Gwen took a sip, feeling similar to the milk tea in the milk tea shop outside.

Because there was no common topic with the other party, and the conversation was not speculative, Gwen finished drinking the milk tea in a short while.

"How did you get here?" the woman asked.

Gwen: "I came by taxi."

"I came by car. I'll drop you back." The woman picked up her bag and got up.

"I don't want to bother you. I'll just take a taxi and go back." Gwen also picked up her bag and got up, "Aren't you going to tell me your name?"

"No.." The woman pulled out a faint smile and walked away first.

Gwen watched her leave and muttered in her heart: This woman is really strange. She asked herself out just to invite herself a cup of milk tea?

Taking a taxi back to Schaffer's mansion, Gwen suddenly felt a cramping pain in her abdomen. She immediately lay on the sofa, moaning uncontrollably in pain.

Seeing the strangeness, the nanny came over immediately and asked about her situation.

"My stomach...it hurts!" Gwen hands tightly covered her stomach.

Seeing this, the nanny panicked: "I'll call Mr. Schaffer right away."

Gwen's face turned pale with pain, her back was sweating non-stop, and the pain in her abdomen became more obvious and severe.

An ominous premonition came out of her heart, her child... will something happen?

Milk tea... There must be something wrong with the cup of milk tea that the woman who didn't want to tell her name invited her to drink.

After Ben Schaffer received the nanny's call, he immediately drove back. When he came back, he saw Gwen curled up in the gray leather sofa.

Gwen seemed to be suffering from a serious illness, her face was pale, her eyes were dull, and the hair on her forehead was wet against her face... She was wearing a long white dress today.

There was blood on the hem of the skirt.

"The child is gone?" Ben asked, clenching his fists.

The nanny immediately came out of the bathroom: "Mr. Schaffer, you and Gwen's child are mostly gone. Gwen shed a lot of blood just now..."

The nanny's voice settled, and Gwen burst into tears uncontrollably.

Ben Schaffer looked at her weak and haggard appearance, and quickly retracted the questioning words to his lips.

No matter how the child disappeared, it was definitely not her intention.

She went to the hospital several times before trying to abort the child, but she was not willing to do so.

Ben walked to the sofa and took Gwen into his arms: "Don't cry, I'll take you to the hospital now."

.....

Yonroeville.

Avery and Xander stayed in the emergency room until 10 p.m.

After coming out of the hospital, they stood on the side of the road to stop the car.

Avery: "Xander, thank you for staying with me tonight."

"You're welcome, I have nothing to do when I go back to the hotel." As Xander said, he saw a black car stop in front of them.

Before the black car stopped, a man in black wearing a black mask got out of the car.

Chapter 1306

The man in black grabbed Avery's arm with lightning speed.

With a 'bang', Avery's mobile phone fell to the ground. Before she could react, her body was quickly dragged to the car by the man in black.

Xander hurriedly chased after him and took Avery's other hand.

"Who are you? Hurry up and let go, Otherwise I'll call the police." Xander yelled at the man in black.

He has just been discharged from the hospital, and his body is relatively weak, so he cannot exert much strength.

Soon, his body reached the door of the car.

And the man in black turned a deaf ear to his threats. Not only was he not afraid of calling the police, but he even threw a punch and hit him in the face.

Xander's glasses flew out instantly. Without glasses, he became blind.

"Xander let go. Go find Elliot. Let Elliot save me." Avery saw that Xander was beaten, but he still held her hand tightly.

Avery was afraid that Xander would be implicated by herself, so she threw off his hand forcefully.

After she let go of Xander's hand, her body was completely dragged to the car.

With a 'bang' sound, the car door was forced closed by the man in black.

The black car, like a gust of wind, quickly disappeared into the dark night.

Xander screamed in pain. He struggled to find the broken glasses on the ground and put them on. After barely being able to see things clearly, the black car had no idea where it was heading.

Xander hurriedly took out his cell phone from his pocket, intending to call the police.

At this time, out of the corner of his eyes, he caught a glimpse of Avery's mobile phone that fell to the ground.

Avery just asked him to find Elliot. So, Xander quickly picked up her phone and pressed the power button.

However, after pressing the power button, the screen prompts that the face does not match, and asks him to enter the password to unlock.

—How would he know Avery's mobile phone password.

—He hadn't been in contact with her for several years, and when he was the same teacher in the past, his relationship was not that familiar.

—He scratched his head straight at the screen of the phone he wanted to unlock. He has no idea where Elliot is now, how can he find him?

—Now, just call the police.

Xander turned on his cell phone and dialed the police. After the phone got through, he began to describe what had happened to the police.

At this moment, Avery's mobile phone screen lights up.

Xander saw the words 'Elliot' jumping on the screen of Avery's mobile phone, and his eyes were wet with excitement. He hung up the police's call and immediately took Elliot's call.

"Elliot! Avery was kidnapped Just now at the gate of the Hospital. It was a black car, and a man in black got off and took Avery away." Xander's emotions collapsed. He used all his strength to yell at him, "Elliot, F*ck you, hurry up and save her. If she dies, you will regret it for the rest of your life."

On the other end of the phone, Elliot heard Xander's words, frowned and hung up the phone.

He just took a shower and saw several missed calls from Avery, so he called her back.

Unexpectedly, Avery was kidnapped.

His face was gloomy and powerful, and he quickly thought about who was behind the scenes and how to rescue him. He strode to the closet, took out a set of clothes and changed into it, then strode downstairs.

The person who kidnapped Avery was either Cristian or Kyrie, there was no other possibility.

Although Elliot married Kyrie's daughter, his relationship with the second brother, Nick and the fourth brother has not yet officially become hostile.

They would not be so impatient to attack Avery.

Chapter 1307

The black car drove all the way, and finally stopped at the gate of an abandoned factory in the suburbs.

Now it's nearly 11 o'clock at night, there were no street lights in the suburbs, it's pitch black.

Only in the old factory, there was a faint yellow light. This orange light, in such a night, looked strange and infiltrating.

Avery's heart was trembling. She saw a tall figure standing inside the abandoned factory.

The man turned his back to her, and she couldn't see his face. However, she already knew who he was.

The two of them met at the door of Elliot and Rebecca's wedding room.

He also controlled the shooting on the yacht today. He didn't kill Elliot during the day, so he attacked Avery tonight.

Avery was pushed into a huge abandoned factory building by the man in black.

Immediately, the iron door behind him was slammed shut with a bang.

Avery said coldly, "Cristian, what do you want to do when you arrest me? Elliot still doesn't remember me if you want to use me to threaten him, it's useless."

Cristian threw the cigarette between his fingers to the ground and stepped on it with his foot. He turned around. He was wearing a white tank top, revealing a body of strong muscles.

With a sinister smile on the corner of his mouth, he walked to Avery in two steps and pinched her chin: "I'm looking for you tonight, it's nothing to do with Elliot."

Avery hated the greasy eyes. she looked at him like he was looking at commodities. She reached out and pushed his arm. But she couldn't push him away at all.

"Today during the day, you and Elliot were on our Jobin family's yacht and were doing that shameless thing, and it was all filmed by the surveillance in the room. I'm stronger than Elliot, don't look for him in the future, I'll satisfy you."

Cristian squeezed her chin, increasing his strength, and his tone was frivolous.
Said.

Avery was shocked when she understood his intention.

“Cristian, don’t mess around. Elliot and I were legal husband and wife in Aryadelle, so we...”

“This is Yonroeville and his current wife is my sister.! You seduce my sister’s husband.” Cristian pushed her to the ground and untied the belt around his waist.

“Don’t come here. Don’t touch me.” Avery’s face was pale. I’ll never look for Elliot again. I’ll go back to Aryadelle right away. Please, let me go.” Avery couldn’t help moving her body back.

“It’s too late. Did you see the camera there?” Cristian pointed to the camera on the wall, “Tonight, I must conquer you. Let you be my woman. I heard that you are very capable. Just in time, you stay by my side and help me with the business at home.”

“No. No.” Avery’s blood boiled, and her fingers groped on the ground to see if she could find a weapon to protect herself.

‘Clap’ sound.

Cristian pulled out the belt and slammed it on the ground.

“Avery, there is only one way to resist me, and that is death. Even if you die, I will get you tonight.” Cristian strode up to Avery, straddled her, and gave a big palm with blue veins, to tear her clothes.

At the hospital.

Elliot stopped the car and stepped out of the car.

Rebecca’s surgery had been completed and she was now being sent to the intensive care unit.

Kyrie sat on the sofa in the intensive care unit, drinking tea and waiting. He wasn't waiting for his daughter to wake up. Instead, he was waiting for Elliot. Not long after, the door of the intensive care unit was pushed open.

Elliot strode in.

"Brother, did you kidnap Avery?" Elliot walked up to Kyrie and asked in a deep voice.

"Elliot, your wife has just finished the operation, and she's lying on the hospital bed and hasn't woken up yet. Isn't it bad for you to ask me about other women?" Kyrie put down the teacup heavily and threatened, "The more you care about Avery, the more dangerous Avery is."

Chapter 1308

Kyrie's remarks almost tacitly agreed that he did the kidnapping case tonight.

"Brother, give me Avery, and I'll let her leave the country immediately." Kyrie didn't dare to say more to anger Kyrie.

Now that Avery is in the hands of Kyrie, Elliot doesn't know what kind of torture Avery will suffer.

"Yes! But wait until tomorrow. Not tonight." Kyrie looked at his face and said coldly, "Didn't you say that you didn't focus on women? I promise she won't die, so you can go back and rest in peace!"

"Why not tonight?" Elliot intuitively felt that these words contained great danger. Kyrie said, "Cristian was very angry when he knew that you messed with her at Rebecca's birthday banquet today. So I decided to teach her a lesson. I told Cristian, I can't take her life. So Cristian at most play with Avery and she's not your wife now. You and other men can play with her, right?"

Elliot's forehead bulged, his fingers clenched.

"Brother, it was my fault and you can punish me if you're angry. Please let Avery go.” Elliot’s jaw tightened. After hesitating for two seconds, he knelt down on one knee and continued, “Avery is the mother of my three children. I don’t want her to be humiliated.”

“Just Two of your three children don’t have your last name.” Kyrie teased.

“When I return to Aryadelle in the future, I can change the child’s surname.”

Elliot said.

“Then how do you know that she didn’t voluntarily have a good time with Cristian?” Kyrie squinted his fox eyes and scolded coldly.

Elliot actually knelt down for Avery. How can he believe that he doesn’t have Avery in his heart?

“You asked me to go over and ask her face to face. If she says she is willing, I will never interfere in her affairs again.”

Kyrie said ruthlessly, “Elliot, You care more about Avery than Rebecca. Even if Rebecca blocked the bullet for you, you still miss this ex-wife. If I destroy Avery, you will only care about Rebecca in the future. This is Yonroeville, my territory. Even if you hate me for this, I must teach you a lesson. Let you know what happens if you disobey me.”

Kyrie got up from the chair and continued, “Elliot, Since you don’t want to go back to rest, then you can just watch Rebecca here.”

After speaking, Kyrie strode out of the ward.

Elliot stood up, looked at the closed door, and gritted his teeth.

This is Yonroeville, the sphere of influence of Kyrie. Even if Kyrie wanted his life, it would be easy.

Elliot couldn’t save Avery at all.

Not long after, the door to the ward was pushed open. The bodyguard came in and reported, “Mr. Foster, a man named Xander is outside and wants to see you.”

Elliot's Adam's apple rolled up and down. After a pause, he said, “Let him in.

Go buy me a pack of cigarettes.”

The bodyguard took the order and walked out immediately.

Xander came in, looked at Rebecca sleeping on the hospital bed, and came to Elliot tremblingly.

“Didn't I ask you to save Avery? Why are you here?” Xander couldn't unlock Avery's cell phone and couldn't contact Elliot, so he had to inquire about the hospital where Rebecca was hospitalized. Fortunately, Elliot was found successfully.

However, looking at Elliot's appearance, it seems that he does not intend to control Avery's life or death.

“How did you find this place?” Elliot looked at him and asked.

“I asked Vice President Lewis where Rebecca was hospitalized, and he told me that he was here, so I came to see.” Xander looked indignant, “Avery asked me to find you to rescue her. Elliot, even if you don't remember her now, but you can't just watch her die.”

“Avery won't die.” Elliot said.

What Kyrie had promised him would not change.

Chapter 1309

Xander heaved a sigh of relief, “Oh, since you said that, then I'm relieved! You didn't see how fierce the man in black was. My glasses were broken by him.”

Elliot looked at with his red and swollen eyes, he couldn't help thinking of Avery's difficult situation now. He clenched his fists and strode towards the door.

Xander followed him: “What are you going to do?”

“Smoking.” He asked, “Do you want to be with me?”

“I’m not very good at smoking...Let’s smoke together.” Xander wanted to refuse, but was really bored, so Changed his mood.

After a while, the bodyguard handed Elliot the cigarettes and lighters he bought.

Elliot took the cigarette and walked towards the smoking area.

Xander followed behind him. After the two of them lit a cigarette each, the white smoke immediately rose and lingered.

“Elliot, have you really forgotten Avery now? Her bodyguard told me that you used to love each other very much.” Xander asked.

“Her bodyguard didn’t follow her today?” Elliot asked rhetorically.

“No. Didn’t she go to Rebecca’s birthday party today? Nick sent someone to take her there, so she gave the bodyguard a day off.” Xander said this, and was even more annoyed, “I’m sorry I didn’t Use. If her bodyguards were here today, Avery would not have been kidnapped.”

Xander’s words suddenly woke Elliot up.

After Elliot put out the cigarette, he immediately took out his mobile phone and dialed Nick.

In an old factory.

After Avery’s clothes were torn apart by Cristian, she raised her hand and gave Cristian a slap.

“Cristian, you can’t touch me. Because...” Avery eyes were full of tears of humiliation, and when she said this, she hesitated.

Cristian was not afraid of Elliot at all. So Avery could only think of other ways.

Cristian touched the face that was slapped by her, and his anger erupted:

“Because of what?! You b*tch dare to hit me. You’re going to die.”

“Because I am Nick’s woman. Nick! You are familiar with this name. Right?”

Avery shouted.

Cristian was stunned. The anger in his body cooled down immediately.

“You are Nick’s woman? Are you sure?” Cristian seemed to have heard a joke, and he was a little scared at the same time.

“I met him in Bridgedale four years ago. He had an operation in Bridgedale four years ago. Professor James Hough performed the operation, and I was the first assistant. His operation was almost done by me. It was also because of that operation that he treated me well. Love at first sight. Because of his intense pursuit, we had a secret relationship. I didn’t plan to say this, but I didn’t expect you to be such a jerk. If Nick knew that you treated me like this tonight, he would never let him go over you.”

Avery said it carefully, and Cristian was so frightened that he extinguished the fire.

“I’ll call my third master now. If it’s what you said, I’ll let you go right away. But if you lie, hehe... If you lie, I’ll let you suffer to death.”

After Cristian gritted his teeth, he picked up one side of his pants, took out his mobile phone from his pocket, and dialed Nick’s number.

Avery’s heart clenched into a ball. There was a white light in front of her eyes, and everything turned into an illusory halo.

She felt like she might be dying.

After Cristian dialed the phone, it took a while to be connected.

Cristian turned on the speakerphone and wanted Avery to hear the conversation.

“Third Master, I’m calling you so late because I have something I want to verify with you.” Cristian said in a submissive tone, “Is Avery your woman? She said that she had a secret relationship with you in Bridgedale four years ago.”

Chapter 1310

In the mansion, Nick glanced at Elliot, and then responded to the phone,

“What’s wrong? Did Avery provoke you?”

Cristian seemed to have swallowed a fly, his face was very strange.

“Third Master, how is your relationship with her now?”

“Didn’t I ask her to attend Rebecca’s birthday party instead of me today? Are you stupid to ask this question? I asked you, did she mess with you?”

“Oh...Avery didn’t mess with me. But she was on the yacht today, doing that kind of thing with Elliot, and my dad found out. Dad is very angry. I’m also very angry.”

“Where did you get angry? Didn’t Rebecca get shot by you and was hospitalized?” Nick refuted, “I’m not sure about her and Elliot. I know. They both gave birth to a Nick, what’s wrong with doing that kind of thing?”

Cristian: “???”

Being scolded is not the most uncomfortable thing. Like, what happened to this world?

In his impression, the third master is not such a person.

“Third Master, aren’t you afraid that Elliot finds out and makes trouble with you?”

“It’s none of your business.” Nick said this, and glanced at Elliot again, “With your brain, you must not have thought of it, maybe Elliot had long ago I know about it.”

Cristian: “...”

He was about to crack. Unexpectedly, the third master and Elliot shared the same woman.

“Okay, okay! I’ll send Avery to you right now. My dad asked me to give her a lesson, but don’t worry, I haven’t touched her yet.” Cristian apologized.

“I think your dad is old and confused . It’s over.” Nick said sarcastically, and hung up the phone.

Putting the phone on the table, Nick said to Elliot in a hurry: “Avery is fine, but you came to beg me for her at night, don’t say you haven’t thought of her yet.”

“It’s not important.” Elliot’s expression did not change, but he breathed a sigh of relief, “It’s very late, I won’t disturb you.”

“Cristian said that Avery will be sent to me right away. Are you sure you won’t wait for her to come?” Nick asked.

Elliot shook his head, and then strode into the night.

Half an hour later, Cristian sent Avery to Nick.

Cristian specially bought her a new dress and had her hair combed. So now she has nothing abnormal except for her crying red eyes.

“Third Master, I brought her to you. I didn’t touch her. It’s very late today, so I won’t disturb you anymore.” Cristian promised.

After Cristian finished speaking, he left.

Avery looked at Nick and said gratefully, “Nick, thank you. I will keep your kindness to me in my heart, and in the future...”

“Don’t thank me. I don’t want to help you at all. You really can make up stories.

Why don’t you become a screenwriter? If Elliot hadn’t been sitting here and staring at me, could I help you?” Nick leaned on the sofa and rubbed his forehead with a headache, “I would have let him go, but you don’t go. If there is another next time, I will definitely die.”

Avery heard the words ‘Elliot’, and all the haze in his heart disappeared.

Avery smiled slightly and said, “There won’t be a next time. Now everyone knows that I have a close relationship with you, and they shouldn't dare to bully me. Nick, thank you again. Please ask your bodyguard to send me to the hotel. I don't dare to go out alone."

Nick looked at the smile on her face and shook his head: "It looks like you don't plan to go back to Aryadelle."

"I'll wait for Elliot to go back with him."

"Naive! It's hard for him to get out now." Nick got up from the sofa, walked outside the door, and greeted a bodyguard, "Send her back to the hotel."

Chapter 1311

Avery walked to Nick's side, and said firmly: "I at least want Elliot to give me an explanation before I leave."

"I'm too lazy to care about your business." Nick had a headache when he saw Avery's stubborn appearance.

"You are hard-mouthed and soft-hearted, and so is Elliot." Avery felt a glimmer of light in her heart.

Although Avery was kidnapped and suffered some humiliation, she knew Elliot's intentions. If Elliot had no feelings for her at all, how could he beg Nick for her?

"It's numb, I don't know how to be ashamed." Nick blushed and strode out of the living room.

Nick's bodyguard sent Avery to the hotel and left.

Avery walked towards the elevator, and her bodyguard immediately followed and patted her on the shoulder: "Boss! You're finally back. Xander called me and said that you were kidnapped, which made me anxious."

In Yonroeville, the bodyguard was unfamiliar with the place where he lived and had no connections, so he couldn't get any information at all. He could only wait for her in the hotel lobby.

“I shouldn’t have given you a holiday today.” Avery pressed the elevator button and said with lingering fears, “Cristian is too arrogant. He kidnapped me directly on the street.”

“This is the Jobin family’s territory, of course Cristian dares to be so arrogant. Well, you’re back, otherwise what am I going to tell Mike and your two children....By the way, who rescued you?”

Avery said, “Elliot.”

The bodyguard sighed, “I guessed it was him. Except for him. When Xander called me, he cried. I have to say, your classmate is quite loyal.”

“Where is he now?” Avery asked.

The bodyguard said, “I don’t know. He called me at that time and said to find Elliot. Now that Elliot has rescued you, I guess he has come back to rest. Why don’t you call him and ask?”

Avery was empty-handed. She said, “I lost my phone. I wonder if Xander picked up my phone.”

The bodyguard glanced at the time and said, “Then go to his room tomorrow to find him. It’s very late now. It’s almost 1 a.m.”

“Hmm.”

Avonsville.

Ben Schaffer sent Gwen to the hospital for a b-ultrasound examination.

The examination showed that the gestational sac in Gwen’s body was gone.

Her child is gone.

Ben Schaffer helped her out of the ultrasound room.

Gwen didn’t cry anymore, but her mood was very low, she didn’t say a word, and her eyes kept down.

Ben Schaffer pulled her to the waiting chair next to her and sat down.

“Gwen, what’s going on? The nanny said that you went out after breakfast.

What are you doing?”

Gwen heard the voice and raised her head: “The woman had shoulder-length hair and was wearing a dark brown skirt. She said she was your good friend.

She invited me to drink a cup of milk tea, and that cup of milk tea killed my child.”

Ben Schaffer frowned as if listening to a bizarre story.

“She said she was my good friend?! What’s her name?”

“She wouldn’t say it. But I have her number.” Gwen turned on the phone and showed him the call record, “Ben Schaffer, I’m really stupid. But it’s alright if the child is gone, you don’t need to be embarrassed anymore. But I can’t give you the dowry gift you gave to my eldest brother for the time being.”

Ben Schaffer felt a pain in his heart: “Gwen, stop talking. I’m sorry for you. I know this woman, I’ll go find her.”

Gwen put away her phone and said, “Send me back first. Send me to Starry River Villa.”

Chapter 1312

When Ben Schaffer sent Gwen to the Starry River Villa, Hayden was about to go out. He bought a ticket at 3 o’clock this afternoon and flew to Yonroeville.

But because of Gwen’s arrival, his travel plans were disrupted.

Ben Schaffer apologized to Hayden, “Hayden, I’m sorry for your aunt. She refused to live in my house, so I sent her over. I’ll call your mother later to explain the situation.”

Hayden looked at Gwen glanced.

Gwen’s eyes were red and swollen from crying, and she looked aggrieved by being bullied. She lowered her head, carried her luggage, and walked towards the guest room she stayed in before.

“The baby is gone.” After Gwen walked away, Ben Schaffer said to Hayden, “It was made by the woman sister who lived next door to me.”

Hayden didn’t want to hear his explanation anymore after hearing this: “Go away. I don’t want to see you.”

Ben Schaffer looked guilty and wanted to say something, but he knew that what he said was superfluous. After Ben Schaffer left, Hayden took the schoolbag to the room and put it down.

When Hayden came to the living room, Mrs. Cooper asked, “Aren’t you going to Layla’s place? Don’t worry, I will take care of your aunt.”

Layla was taken to the event by Eric.

Hayden agreed to let Layla help lie, and he secretly went to Yonroeville to see Avery.

Layla agreed.

“I’ll go tomorrow.” Hayden said, walking towards Gwen’s room. He didn’t like Elliot, but he knew clearly that although Elliot and Gwen were brothers and sisters, they were completely different people.

He was very sympathetic to what happened to Gwen, so he was willing to be nice to Gwen. Coincidentally, when Hayden was about to knock on the door, Gwen opened the door from the room.

“Hayden, is he gone?”

“Yeah.”

Gwen hugged Hayden, “My child is gone. I’m a little sad, but thinking that I’m giving birth to the child now is just to trouble everyone, so I’m not so sad anymore. I’m fine now. I really want to become a powerful person like your mother.”

Hayden released her: “I’ll help you.”

After a pause, he said, “But you want to go with me to Bridgedale.”

Gwen didn’t hesitate to think and nodded.

.....

Yonroeville.

Rebecca woke up in the middle of the night and saw a man lying on the table sleeping next to her. She was in a daze, thinking it was Elliot, so she shouted, “Elliot...”

Xander woke up immediately when she heard the voice. He looked at Rebecca, and Rebecca also looked at him.

Seeing that the face in front of him was not that of Elliot, but that of a strange man, Rebecca screamed in fright.

Xander immediately walked to the bedside and covered her mouth.

“Don’t call me. I’m not a bad person. I wanted to leave, but Elliot never came. I can’t leave you in the ward alone, right?” Xander had a headache.

Rebecca heard Elliot’s name, the mood suddenly calmed down. It turned out that this strange man was Elliot’s friend.

Xander introduced himself, “I’m Avery’s classmate, my name is Xander. I came here to find Elliot. But after Elliot left, he never came. Your family didn’t send anyone here. I really want to go, so you should contact your family now, I should go.”

Xander said, took out his mobile phone, and checked the time.

It’s already 3 a.m

Xander didn’t know if Avery returned to the hotel safely. Avery’s mobile phone is in his hand, he should go back and check the situation.

Rebecca's eyes were dull and her voice was very weak, "You and Avery are in the same group. You came here to find Elliot for Avery."

Xander confessed, "Yes! Avery was kidnapped tonight. The situation is very critical, I can only come to Elliot for help. Forget it, I'll call the nurse to watch you."

Chapter 1313

After Xander finished speaking, he strode out of the ward. He came out of the ward and saw Elliot standing not far away. He was leaning against the window smoking a cigarette. Unexpectedly, he had already returned to the hospital.

However, he did not enter the ward.

Xander strode towards Elliot and saw a pile of cigarette butts in the trash can in front of him.

"Is Avery safe?" Xander asked.

"Well. I saw that you were asleep, so I didn't bother you." Elliot threw the cigarette between his fingers into the trash can, "Go away."

"I'm going back. Rebecca wakes up, you go back to the ward. Take a look."

Xander said.

Elliot pursed his thin lips and strode towards the ward.

Xander walked towards the elevator. For some reason, Elliot gave him a terrible feeling.

Although Elliot's face was calm, there were dark waves in his eyes. He always felt that he was like a dormant beast that could wake up at any time!

In a flash, the time came to morning.

Avery came to the door of Xander's room and pressed the doorbell.

Xander opened the door, saw Avery, and immediately invited her in.

"Xander, why are your eyes so swollen? You need to prescribe some medicine.” Avery was startled by the injury on his face.

Xander said, “I took anti-inflammatory drugs. By the way, your phone is with me, but it’s out of power.”

Xander returned the phone to her and continued, “When did you come back last night?”

“I came back sooner, so I didn’t come to you. What about you?” Avery took the phone and answered then questioned.

“I didn’t come back until after 3 a.m.” Xander took a bottle of water, twisted it open, and took a sip, “I was so sleepy last night that I fell asleep in Rebecca’s ward.”

“Xander, thank you last night...” Avery hardly slept last night, but she was in good spirits at the moment.

Probably because she escaped from death last night, it was too thrilling, and her tense nerves had not yet relaxed.

“I was only going to ask you to invite me to a big meal, but now it seems that there are no two big meals, and you are afraid that you will not pay my favor.”

Xander put down the water bottle and continued, “Have you had breakfast yet? Let’s go together. Let’s eat.”

Avery: “Okay. After breakfast, I’ll accompany you to change your glasses.”

“Well. By the way, before your phone was turned off, a call came in. I didn’t see it clearly, and your phone was turned off.” Xander was afraid that it was an important call, so he said, “Why don’t you go back to your room to recharge first, and I’ll bring you what you want to eat.”

Avery: “Okay, you can bring me a sandwich and a glass of milk.”

Xander: “Yeah.”

Avery went back to the room, charged the phone, and turned it on.

Mrs. Cooper and Ben Schaffer's missed calls jumped out immediately. After thinking for a while, Avery called Ben Schaffer first.

If Ben Schaffer is not in a hurry, he will not call her.

Avery called and Ben Schaffer answered it immediately: "Avery, why can't you get through with your phone?"

She said lightly, "My phone ran out of power last night and turned off. What's the matter with you calling me?"

"Gwen's child is gone. It was done by a woman I know. This matter has a great impact on Gwen, and she has moved to your house now." Ben Schaffer said concisely, and said with guilt, "I want to give her some money, But she doesn't answer my phone now."

Avery frowned, "Since the child is gone, forget it. You don't need to give her money, I will take care of her."

Ben Schaffer: "You blame me."

"That's not true. My own life is a mess, so I don't have the right to blame others." Avery said very calmly.

Ben Schaffer pondered for a moment and asked, "Is Elliot still not remembering you?"

Chapter 1314

"Only he knows about this issue." Avery was in a mess. She felt that Elliot had remembered her but he didn't say it, so she wasn't sure.

Elliot saved her last night, and it may also be because they had an intimate act at noon yesterday.

Ben Schaffer asked, "Then what's your next plan? Do you need my help? Elliot forgot you, but he didn't forget me."

"Has he contacted you?" Avery asked curiously.

“No.” Ben Schaffer was embarrassed, “I had a call from a strange number in Yonroeville before, but I didn’t answer. When I called, he didn’t answer.”

“I know his number in Yonroeville. Avery’s mood suddenly became nervous, “You report the number you said to me, and I’ll see if it’s him.”

“Okay.” Ben Schaffer minimized the call record, clicked on the address book, and found the unfamiliar number.

After he reported the number, Avery’s breathing quickened: “it’s Elliot. Ben Schaffer, this number is the one Elliot uses now.”

“I guessed it was him. He only forgot you, not me, so he not only remember me, but also my number.” Ben Schaffer was breathing heavily, “It’s just that he doesn’t answer my call now. You said that he is unfeeling, so there’s no need to give up brotherhood, right?”

Avery also doesn’t understand Elliot now mental state.

“Do you want me to meet Elliot?” Ben Schaffer wanted to have a face-to-face talk with Elliot now.

If Elliot doesn’t want to talk about Avery, Ben Schaffer can talk to him about the Sterling Group. Although his shares are now under the name of Adrian, the entire company only recognizes him as one boss.

“No.” Avery calmly said without hesitation, “It’s particularly dangerous here, and none of you should come here.”

“F*ck! What you said is a bit scary.” Ben Schaffer suddenly panicked, “Are you saying that your lives are in danger at any time?”

“It’s not as scary as you think. Anyway, don’t come here. I’m here now.” Avery thought about it all night last night, and the more she thought about it, the more uncomfortable she felt.

“Elliot is now Rebecca’s husband, and Kyrie must be staring at Elliot from all angles. Yesterday, I was careless and did that kind of thing with Elliot on the yacht. Cristian knew about it, and Kyrie must know it too. It is uncertain how Kyrie will deal with Elliot next.”

“Okay, I won’t go there. Then be careful! Even if you want to find Elliot, you will find it secretly. The country is too far away from Yonroeville, and there is nothing you can do to support you.” Ben Schaffer reminded her.

Avery suddenly thought of a question, “Do you know what Mike is busy with recently? He hasn’t called me anymore.”

“It’s better if you call him. I’ve been very busy recently because of Gwen’s affairs. Ben Schaffer sighed, “Actually, I don’t despise Gwen that much but she always thinks that I despise her and I don’t know how to communicate with her normally.”

Avery said, “She has a low self-esteem, that’s why she is like this. Since she chose to cut off contact with you, you don’t have to think about it.”

Ben: “That’s the only way.”

After talking with Ben Schaffer, Avery called Mrs. Cooper.

Mrs. Cooper quickly answered the phone: “Avery, are you alright there?”

Avery: “Alright. How about at home?”

Mrs. Cooper said, “Everything is fine at home. Eric took Layla out to shoot an advertisement. Hayden also wanted to go there. I called you in the morning, mainly to tell you this. But Gwen came over at noon, so Hayden didn’t go. He said he would go to Layla tomorrow.”

“Okay. I’ll call Eric tomorrow night.” Avery said.

“Well. How are you and Mr. Foster?” Mrs. Cooper asked with concern.

She was afraid that Mrs. Cooper was worried, so she reported the good news instead of the bad news: “It’s considered a great progress.”

“That’s good. I knew that the two of you have gone through so much wind and rain, and you will definitely not be separated easily.”

Well. “

She doesn’t actually have a lot of confidence.

Unless Elliot told her clearly that he remembered her and their past, she would feel at ease.

....

In the hospital.

Chapter 1315

Kyrie came to visit Rebecca after breakfast.

Rebecca was in good health. Because Elliot was always by her side, she felt that everything was worth it.

Rebecca coquettishly said, “Dad, I want to go home to recuperate. I don’t want Elliot to suffer with me in the hospital.”

“Yes. I’ll let the medical staff go home to take care of you.”

“Thank you Dad.” There was a smile on Rebecca face, but her eyes were a little nervous, “Dad, where’s eldest brother? Did you punish him?”

Kyrie said, “Shouldn’t I punish him? You just married Elliot, but he wants to kill Elliot.”

“Big brother is just on impulse. You have a good talk with him and don’t punish him. I don’t want him and Elliot to become enemies. Otherwise I will be very sad.” Rebecca begged.

“My silly daughter! Don’t worry about this.” Kyrie said, giving Elliot a look and letting him come out.

The two came out of the ward, and Kyrie patted Elliot on the shoulder and said, “I gave you a small punishment last night because I was afraid that you would repeat the same mistakes. You still haven't recovered anything that you lost in Aryadelle. I don't want to see you fall twice on Avery."

"Well." The attitude of Elliot is more indifferent than Kyrie, as if nothing happened last night, "I'm about to negotiate with the second brother and the fourth brother, are you sure you want to go with me?"

"You mean, you are going alone?" Kyrie hesitated, "I was thinking about this last night too. If I go over, I'm afraid they won't be able to calm down and negotiate with you."

Elliot: "Let me go alone. If I can't negotiate, then you will come forward."

Kyrie: "Okay. I'll give you a few more bodyguards when the time comes. Whether you can negotiate or not, you must pay attention to safety."

Elliot: "Well."

Kyrie looked at his red eyes and said, "Did you not sleep last night? Go back to rest first and I'll take Rebecca home to recuperate in the afternoon."

Elliot: "Okay."

Aryadelle.

Hayden, wearing a peaked cap and a schoolbag, appeared at the Capital Airport. In another hour, he will board the flight to Yonroeville. He is going to find his mother, and if he can, he wants to take her home.

Hayden watched the news about Yonroeville for a few days and felt that Yonroeville was too dangerous, and he couldn't let his mother stay there. If his mother refused to go home with him, he would stay in Yonroeville to protect his mother secretly. Only he and Layla knew about the plan.

An hour later, he passed the security check smoothly.

The plane took off on time.

After more than ten hours of flight, the plane arrived in Yonroeville.

Hayden came out of the airport, stopped a taxi on the side of the road, and reported the name of the pre-booked hotel.

Half an hour later, the taxi stopped in front of the hotel.

Hayden got out of the car, lowered the brim of his hat, and strode into the hotel.

He intends to stay first, find out about the situation here, and then contact his mother. Otherwise, if he rashly appeared in front of his mother and asked her to go with him, her mother would definitely not agree.

After he went to the front desk to get the key card, he walked to the elevator.

Fortunately, the elevator happened to go down to the first floor.

With a 'ding', the elevator door slowly opened –

Elliot's stern face suddenly appeared in Hayden's eyes.

Chapter 1316

After seeing Elliot face clearly, Hayden almost reflexively walked towards another elevator.

Elliot and his entourage got out of the elevator and strode towards the hotel door. He didn't seem to see Hayden. In other words, he saw Hayden, but did not realize that this was his son.

All in all, this encounter was a surprise.

After Elliot left, the elevator door in front of Hayden opened.

Hayden hesitated for a few seconds, and finally turned around and went to the front desk to check out. If he can meet Elliot today, he is not sure that he will meet Elliot in this hotel in the future.

This hotel was the best hotel in Yonroeville. The reason why Hayden booked here was because it's safer.

However, the owner of this hotel was Kyrie.

...

Elliot came to the hotel today, and it was Kyrie who asked him to come and inspect.

Kyrie is determined to let Elliot take over the industry under his name.

Cristian was too reckless and made many enemies outside. If it wasn't for Kyrie to block Elliot, Cristian would have been cleaned up long ago.

So Kyrie sent him to another city to develop his business the year before.

Obviously it is to develop business, but in fact it is to avoid the limelight.

However, Cristian has been developing business in other countries for several years, but has not achieved any results.

Kyrie can only grab Elliot and let him use it for himself.

The two of them had a little unpleasantness because of Avery the day before yesterday, but luckily it didn't affect the relationship.

Elliot came out of the hotel and strode towards the parking lot. The bodyguard stepped forward and opened the door for him.

He walked to the door, and his footsteps stopped suddenly.

"I'll make a call." He said this to the bodyguard, turned and walked towards the hotel fountain.

At this time, Avery and Xander were in the hospital.

Avery thought that the injury on Xander's face must be rubbed with ointment, and Xander thought that she should come to the hospital for a re-examination to check the tumor in the brain.

Both tried to convince the other, and in the end, they compromised together.

Xander came to buy external rubbing medicine, and Avery came to review.

When Elliot's call came, Avery was in the CT room for an examination. Her cell phone was placed in Xander's hand.

Xander looked at Elliot's call and hesitated to answer it. If he does, how can he explain that Avery's cell phone is in his hand? Thinking of this, he decided not to take the call.

Elliot is a suspicious and shrewd man. Anyone who lies in front of him will look stupid.

5 minutes later, Avery came out of the CT room. Xander immediately walked up to her and handed her her mobile phone: "Elliot called you three times. Just now, three consecutive calls."

Avery's face changed greatly, and she immediately took the phone and called back.

Elliot answered it in seconds, and the voice came sternly: "Avery, Why did your son come here? Did you allow him or did he come without permission?"

Avery was stunned, and subconsciously supported the wall to support the weight of her body .

"You said Hayden? Where did you see him?" Her panicked tone explained everything. She didn't know Hayden was here. Hayden secretly came here. It's like something he can do. He is reckless and daring.

"DI Hotel." Elliot shouted in a low voice, "Come here quickly to find Hayden and send him away."

"I'll go there right away." After Avery said this, Elliot hung up the phone. He strode towards the car and got into it.

Chapter 1317

Elliot has other jobs next, so he can't stay here forever. But he believed that after Avery came over, he would definitely find Hayden. As long as she found Hayden, she could send Hayden away from here.

Avery hung up the phone, and Xander asked, "what happened? You looked a little worry."

"Xander, I'm in a hurry, I have to go out immediately." Avery looked anxious and didn't have time to tell him more, "I'll explain to you later."

After Avery finished speaking, she strode towards the elevator. Xander wanted to chase after her, but he thought that her CT results had not come out, so he could only help her here and wait for the results.

As soon as Avery moved, the bodyguard immediately followed her. Since the kidnapping case, the bodyguards have never left Avery.

The two entered the elevator, and the bodyguard asked, "What happened?" "Elliot called me just now and said he saw Hayden." Avery said nervously, and something came to her mind.

Avery turned on her phone and found Eric's number.

When the elevator reached the first floor, she quickly got out of the elevator and dialed the phone.

Eric answered the phone quickly..

Avery asked, "Eric, Mrs. Cooper said that Hayden went to find you and Layla. Is he with you now?"

Eric glanced at Layla, a little embarrassed.

Layla asked him to help lie, but he couldn't lie to Avery.

Avery had a headache, "Why didn't you speak? Did Hayden not go to your side? Hayden has come to Yonroeville."

"He's looking for you?" Eric was completely unaware of Layla and Hayden's plans.

If it wasn't for Avery's call, Eric wouldn't know about it at all.

"No...He didn't come to me."

This is the reason for Avery's headache. "Elliot said that he saw Hayden in the hotel. After Hayden came to Yonroeville, he didn't contact me immediately, but went to the hotel. The more you have your own opinion, the more I'm afraid that something will happen to him.”

Eric wanted to comfort her, but before he could speak, Avery hurriedly said,

“I’m going to find Hayden now. You must be optimistic about Layla.”

“Well.”

On the phone, Avery and the bodyguard strode out of the hospital.

After getting in the car, the bodyguard drove the car towards the DL hotel.

“Boss, didn’t Elliot forget you? Why does he still remember Hayden?” The bodyguard asked doubts.

Avery was startled for a moment: “Maybe he saw the photos online? The first time he saw me after the operation, he knew who I was. Besides, he just forgot me, not necessarily his three children.”

“Boss, do you think there is such a precise and accurate operation? How can I forget you, but remember the child you gave birth?” The bodyguard teased.

Avery was silent. She couldn’t answer the question.

Moreover, the most important thing now is to find Hayden and send him away.

20 minutes later, the two arrived at the DL hotel.

Avery walked to the front desk and asked, “Miss, please help me find out which room Hayden lives in. He is my son. He is not yet an adult. He came to the Bridgedaley himself. I am very worried about him.”

The lady at the front desk was a little embarrassed: “Miss, can you show your ID?”

Avery: “I’m sorry, I didn’t bring my ID. I’m really his mother, and he’s not ten years old now. Just check it out for me, Does he stay here, don’t tell me his specific room number.”

The lady at the front desk: “Hayden?”

“Yes, Hayden.” Avery typed out his son’s name on his mobile phone and showed it to the lady at the front desk.

The lady at the front desk checked on the computer, and then shook her head:

“Sorry, we don’t have the name of Hayden staying in our hotel.”

Avery was stunned.

Elliot couldn’t lie to her. But there was no need for the lady at the front desk to lie to her.

Hayden doesn’t live here, so where is he now?

Avery came out of the hotel and found Hayden’s number to dial.

—Sorry, the user you dialed is temporarily out of service area.

Avery squatted down helplessly, her eyes were scarlet, thinking about what to do next.

At this time, Elliot’s phone call came again.

Chapter 1318

Avery answered the phone, but couldn’t adjust her emotions: “Elliot, I didn’t find Hayden. I came to the hotel to ask, and the front desk said Hayden didn’t stay at this hotel.”

“Are you sure you saw him in this hotel?” Avery asked again hoarsely.

“Sure.” Elliot’s voice came firmly.

Avery asked, “You haven’t forgotten Hayden, have you? You haven’t forgotten Layla, and Robert...”

Elliot’s breathing was obviously solemn: “I’m sure he is in Yonroeville. You should go look for him instead of asking me this silly question.”

Avery tears fell, “I can’t find it. I don’t know where to find him. He can’t get through. If he doesn’t contact me, It’s impossible for me to find him at all.”

Hayden was no longer a two or three year old baby. During the half year he studied abroad, his abilities improved by leaps and bounds. Now he was no longer the Hayden that Avery is familiar with.

Hearing Avery's cry, Elliot brows furrowed: "OK, I'll find Hayden."

Elliot accompanied Kyrie and the others to lunch at the moment. Because he was worried about Hayden and he came to the bathroom and called her.

After hanging up, Avery stood up. She wanted to find Hayden as soon as possible and prevented Elliot from coming forward.

Otherwise, let Kyrie know that Hayden is here. It is hard to guarantee that Kyrie will catch Hayden and will threaten Elliot with Hayden.

Avery wiped the tears from the corners of her eyes and called to Mike.

Mike answered the phone quickly and covered his exhaustion with laughter: "I specifically didn't call you these few days to see if you would call me."

"Hayden has come to Yonroeville. I can't contact him now. Is there any way you can contact him?" Avery held the mobile phone and stood in the hot sun, looking towards the hotel door.

"Pfft! Hayden went to Yonroeville? This kid! How dare he!" Mike jumped up from his chair in shock. "I'll find a way to contact Hayden right away. I'll call you as soon as I have news."

Avery looked away from the hotel door. Seeing her sweating profusely, the bodyguard suggested, "Boss, let's go back first. Hayden is here to find you, and he will definitely call you.

"The family has taken them away." Avery's mouth seemed to be pressing a big rock.

"Boss, Hayden is not that stupid." The bodyguard said his own analysis, "Let's go back to the hotel first, maybe Hayden is in our hotel now."

Although Hayden is young, he knows nothing less than normal adults. Even, his IQ is above 99% of the crowd.

Avery wiped the sweat from her forehead and said, "Go back first!"

The two returned to the hotel where they stayed, but they did not meet Hayden, but met Xander who was waiting in the lobby on the first floor.

Xander held a bag in his hand, and inside this bag was a CT film of Avery's head.

Avery was shocked when she saw the film in her hand. She took the bag and asked casually, "Should it be alright?"

Xander's tone was a little cold: "I hope you are all right, too."

Avery immediately understood that the test results were not good. She didn't watch the film at all and changed the subject: "My son is here. He is not even ten years old this year. He came alone."

Xander was stunned for a moment: "Where are the others?"

"Elliot said he saw Hayden. Maybe it's because they met once, so he is hiding now." Avery took out her mobile phone between words to check for incoming calls and messages.

In her mind, quick memories and Hayden's bits and pieces. And the tone and words Hayden said the last time they talked on the phone.

Until Hayden came here privately, he didn't show any abnormal emotions. He was calm and composed, not like a child. This time, he was able to come to Yonroeville smoothly, and it was organized and planned.

Chapter 1319

Maybe Avery really shouldn't be so pessimistic, now she couldn't find him, and the Jobin family's people were not so easy to find him.

After lunch, she went back to her room.

Hayden still did not contact her.

She took out the film and examined it carefully. The tumor in her brain was a little bigger than last time.

No wonder Xander's face was so ugly at that time.

If Avery hadn't said that Hayden was here and her whereabouts were unknown, Xander would have reminded her to undergo surgery as soon as possible.

Elliot returned home after lunch. At lunch, he drank some wine. Because Kyrie called some close clients over, Elliot couldn't help having a few drinks with them.

When he got home, he went straight to the bedroom. He was a little dizzy at the moment and had to rest before he could find Hayden at night.

He pushed open the bedroom door and saw Rebecca lying on the bed, he was stunned for a moment.

"Elliot, have you been drinking?" Rebecca put down the phone, looked at Elliot's flushed face, and explained, "My eldest brother came to see me at noon, and he asked me to rest in the master bedroom."

"Well." Elliot sat down beside the bed and looked at her pale face, "How are you feeling today?"

Rebecca said, "Except for the pain in the wound, my spirit is much better than yesterday. Elliot, you shouldn't drink. You've been taking medicine for two days, and you said that you can't drink after taking the medicine, and they can't force you to drink."

"I want to sleep for a while."

Rebecca understood what he meant and set off immediately, planning to get out of bed.

"You are injured, just lie down." Elliot lay down beside her and closed his eyes.

Rebecca didn't dare to breathe, and quietly watched him fall asleep.

She finally breathed a sigh of relief after she breathed evenly. She finally dared to stare at his face and carefully looking at every inch of his face.

It was the first time Rebecca and Elliot were in the same bed.

Elliot didn't know, in fact, Rebecca had a crush on him for many years. It's just that when Rebecca understands that her feelings for Elliot are between men and women, he has returned to Aryadelle to develop his career.

Later, he didn't come to Yonroeville very much.

She didn't expect him to have a bad day. If it wasn't for this opportunity, how could Elliot possibly marry her?

Now that Elliot is Rebecca's husband, she must not let Avery take Elliot away.

About 2 hours later, Elliot woke up from a nightmare. He dreamed that Hayden was brutally murdered by Cristian. After waking up, he found that it was a dream, and he breathed a sigh of relief.

"Rebecca, I suddenly remembered something. I want to go out." Elliot looked at Rebecca, who was resting in bed.

Rebecca: "It's about dinner. Where are you going?"

"Don't ask me what I'm going for, and don't tell others about my itinerary." Elliot got out of bed and explained to her.

"Elliot, I know what you mean. Even if my eldest brother comes to ask about you, I will not tell you everything." In order to reassure him, Rebecca promised, "My eldest brother is not your opponent at all. What you need to pay attention to is my dad."

Hearing Rebecca's words, Elliot was a little surprised.

"Elliot, I want to grow old with you." Rebecca took the opportunity to confess.

A complicated look flashed in Elliot's eyes: "You rest at home, if I come back late, don't wait for me."

Chapter 1320

DL hotel.

Elliot didn't go to the front desk to ask if Hayden's check-in information was available. Avery came to ask during the day. Since the front desk said no, then there should be no.

Either Hayden came to Yonroeville and used fake identity information. Or Hayden went through the check-out procedure after meeting him at the hotel. He wanted to check to see if Hayden was still in this hotel. He went directly to the monitoring room and asked the security guard on duty to call up this morning's surveillance video and show it to him.

"Mr. Foster, what kind of person are you looking for? I'll help you find it."

"A child. But he is quite tall. I can find it myself." Elliot sat down in the chair, holding the mouse to start adjusting the time on the monitor screen.

He only needs to check whether Hayden has checked in at the front desk, as well as check the monitoring of the elevator to see if Hayden has entered the elevator, and then he can determine whether he has actually checked in.

As a result, Elliot entered the approximate time when he and Hayden met, and pressed the search button, but a blank space appeared on the monitor.

His body suddenly tensed, and the fingers holding the mouse became stiff.

Surveillance is hacked!!

Elliot can enter other time periods to search at will, and other time periods are no problem.

It just so happened that Hayden presence in the hotel's monitoring was deleted.

This just proves that Hayden has indeed come to Yonroeville. Elliot immediately got up from his chair, strode out of the monitoring room, and walked towards the front desk.

“What about the guy on the day shift today?”

Elliot saw that the front desk staff had changed to a woman.

Chapter 1321

Mike teased, “Avery, don’t be crazy. Even if Hayden doesn’t look for you tonight, he should look for you in a few days. Don’t worry too much. At least he’s still safe now.”

With Mike’s answer, Avery felt a little relieved. But she had made an appointment with Elliot to find Hayden together, so she still had to go out.

Avery said to the bodyguard, “I’m going to the DL hotel now. I’ll drive over there. You wait here. Mike said he told Hayden the information of the hotel we stayed in. If Hayden came here to find us tonight, you will immediately give me a call.”

The bodyguard: “Okay, it’s not dangerous for you to go to Elliot, I’m afraid that the two of you will be caught by Kyrie.”

“If there is such a danger, Elliot won’t let me pass.”

Avery drove, heading towards DL hotel. About 20 minutes after she left, Hayden’s figure appeared in the bodyguard’s sight.

Hayden is not wearing his signature baseball cap, let alone his signature black schoolbag. He walked alone to the hotel lobby where Avery stayed. He was tall and thin, with a particularly tall and straight body, and the bodyguard recognized him at a glance.

The bodyguard strode up in front of him and grabbed his arm.

“Hayden! Your mother has been looking for you for a day, and she’s going crazy. Fortunately you’re all right.” The bodyguard looked at Elliot’s cold face in the light, and breathed a sigh of relief.

“Where’s my mother?” Hayden saw Mike sent him an encrypted message, so he came here.

“Your mother is looking for Elliot. Elliot is looking for you too.” The bodyguard dragged him to sit down on the sofa in the lobby and said, “Sit and wait for a while, I will call your mother. By the way, why are you roaming alone? It’s dangerous here. Your mother is going to send you home tonight. Don’t you know that she was kidnapped the day before yesterday and almost died.”

When Hayden heard the word ‘kidnapping’, he immediately grabbed the bodyguard’s arm.

“Don’t call my mother yet.” Hayden looked serious, “What’s the matter with the kidnapping case.”

Bodyguard: “Ahem, this is a long story...”

Chapter 1322

Hayden: “You say it short.”

On Rebecca’s birthday, your mother and your father made out on the yacht, and after they were done, they were discovered by the Jobin family, and then that night, your mother was kidnapped by Cristian.” The bodyguard used the shortest text to restore all the facts, “Cristian wanted to insult your mother and stood up for his sister.”

Hayden’s body suddenly exuded a strong murderous aura.

Seeing that Hayden was angry, the bodyguard immediately coaxed: “Don’t be angry yet. Your mother is fine. Your mother is very smart. She lied that night, and of course she couldn’t do without Elliot’s help.”

Hayden wrote down the name ‘Cristian’.

“Yeah! Kyrie’s only son now.” The bodyguard teased, “Because he’s not good enough. He can’t be a leader, so Kyrie wants to keep your father in Yonroeville and be the lackey of the Jobin family.”

“This b*stard, How dare he bully my mother? I want to teach him a lesson!”

Hayden squeezed his fist tightly.

“How do you teach him a lesson? This is the Jobin family’s territory. Elliot doesn’t dare to directly turn against the Jobin family, you little brat, what can you do...and your mother will definitely send you home tonight.”

“Don’t call my mother first.” Hayden didn’t respond to his cynicism, “You tell my mother that I’m safe. Tell her not to look for me. When I’m done, I’ll come to her.”

“Hey! What are you doing? Where do you live now? I can’t let you go.” The bodyguard chased after him.

He looked coldly at the bodyguard grabbing his big palm, threatening: “Believe it or not, I hacked your phone?”

The bodyguard suddenly let go.

This little ancestor, he can’t afford to offend him.

As soon as Hayden left, the bodyguard immediately called Avery: “Hayden came and left again. He said he was going to teach Cristian a lesson. I wanted to stop him, but I couldn’t.”

Avery’s scalp was numb “You can’t even stop a child, how can you protect me?”

“What kind of person is your son, don’t you know? He is a little devil.” The bodyguard was indignant and a little aggrieved.

Chapter 1323

“Hayden said he was going to teach Cristian a lesson? You told him about my kidnapping?” Avery took a deep breath and said, “How could you tell him this? You know that he is a little impatient.”

“I didn’t mean to.” The bodyguard immediately apologized, “Hayden asked me to tell you that he is safe, so don't worry. He will come to you when he says things are done."

Avery felt that he was being pinched. She slapped her neck and couldn't breathe.

Her breathing is getting heavier... The bodyguard listened to her breathing on the phone and was very worried: "Boss, are you all right?! Elliot is not with you now, you are still DL hotel?"

After the bodyguard asked a series of questions, there was a 'beep beep' sound of disconnection.

Elliot took Avery into his arms and hung up her phone.

"Avery! Cheer up! Hayden will be fine." Elliot saw that she seemed to faint at any moment, so he picked her up by the waist and strode towards the car.

Today, because of Hayden, Avery can't eat or sleep. Physical exhaustion, mental breakdown, so the current consequences.

Elliot carried her to the back seat of the car and lay down, then unscrewed the water bottle, trying to feed her some water.

Avery's lips were a little dry, and Elliot suspected she was suffering from a slight heat stroke due to lack of water.

"Avery, Hayden is no longer a child. He knows what he's doing. You wait for him to contact you. Don't worry." Elliot fed water into her mouth and comforted her patiently.

After she drank some water, she recovered a little.

"Why isn't he a child?" Avery's eyes were wet and her voice was trembling.

"He's only ten years old. Even if he knows what he's doing. He can't be responsible for what he's doing."

"I'll continue to look for him." Elliot rolled his throat, "I'll go to another hotel to find him. But he doesn't seem to use the identity of Hayden. The front desk at the day shift today said he used a Chinese name. You know his Chinese name? Does he have a Chinese name?"

"Where does he have a Chinese name? He must have used a fake identity."

"He knows how to come here and use a fake identity, and he still has a sense of risk prevention." Elliot continued to comfort her, "Go back to rest first. I'll let you know when I find him."

Avery looked at his familiar face with tears in her eyes, and his low voice as before echoed in her ears, as if everything went back to before he lost his memory.

For a moment, she was in a trance.

She grabbed his arm and couldn't help but ask, "Elliot, have you recovered your memory, Did you?"

He looked at the tears on her face, and after a moment of silence, he said, "Whether I have it or not? Restoring my memory, my plans won't change."

"What plan?" Avery's heartstrings tensed.

"Get back what I lost." Elliot took her hand away from his arm, "When I finish dealing with this matter, I will go back to Aryadelle. When I find Hayden, you will go back to Aryadelle with him. Now you think if you know the questions, there will be answers. Even if you don't come to me, I will find you."

Avery sneered, "Are you looking for revenge? You don't remember our relationship at all. You obviously know nothing. No loss, you have to put yourself in the position of the victim."

Elliot said sharply, "Avery, what's the point of you struggling with this issue now? Now finding the child is the most important thing."

"The business of the two is also important." Avery sat upright and upright, as if this would make her more dignified, “Rebecca blocked you from bullets, are you moved by her? You don’t want to be with me anymore, so I found the reason for this ‘amnesia’! Otherwise, how can you remember your son so clearly, but you can’t remember me alone?”

Elliot pursed his thin lips as Avery questioned.

“Say it, Have you changed your mind?” Avery persisted and asked him, “You answer me, I have the right to know the truth. I don’t want to be kept in the dark by you anymore.”

“Tell me that you are really amnesiac, Or false amnesia? Tell me, do you plan to spend the rest of your life with Rebecca or do you want to go back to Aryadelle to live with me? Between me and her, you have to choose one.”

Avery wanted to grab the collar of his shirt to put pressure on him, but in the end, her fingers only lightly grabbed the front of his chest.

Chapter 1324

Elliot didn’t want to be so humble and aggrieved, but reality hit her hard.

Avery couldn’t face the pain of losing him, and the confidence and pride she once had had disappeared before she knew it.

“Tell me first, how are you willing to leave here.” Elliot generous palm held her small hand. He wanted to take her hand away, but Avery held on to his shirt tightly.

“You just want to get rid of me? The more you want to get rid of me, the more I won’t leave.” Avery was having a hard time, and she wouldn’t make him feel better, “I don’t believe Kyrie and Rebecca can allow you to keep entangled with me. “

“Don’t you plan to send Hayden back?” Elliot retorted.

The two of them spoke their own words, but they understood what each other was talking about.

“I’ll just take him on the plane.”

Elliot looked at her stubborn face and stubborn eyes, and he couldn’t do anything about her.

“There are no outsiders here, why don’t you tell me the truth?” Avery couldn’t understand him, and she felt like she was going to be tortured mad by him.

Every day she came to Yonroeville, her spirit was under heavy pressure.

If it weren’t for the wonderful memories of the past constantly emerging in her mind, she would definitely not be able to hold on to the present.

Elliot didn’t answer her question.

The car they were in was given to Elliot by Kyrie.

Who can guarantee that there are no bugs in the car?

The bodyguards outside the car were also assigned to him by Kyrie.

Although the bodyguard followed him and obeyed his orders, no one could guarantee that the bodyguard would not betray him at any time.

“You came by car, I won’t take you back.” Elliot wanted to get out of the car, so that she could get off easily, “Go back.”

She still grabbed his clothes and refused to let go.

“I’m not going... Last time on the yacht, you were obviously not like this.” Avery missed his tenderness at that time, she wondered if she was dreaming at the time, she needed to confirm.

“Come up and close the car door.” Elliot looked at her with deep, dark eyes.

Avery had to forcibly pull him into the car and close the door.

“Avery, what do you want to do?” Elliot looked at her helplessly, “I’m going to find Hayden...”

“Didn’t you say he used a fake identity, is it safe now?” Avery quickly unbuttoning his shirt, “Try again... Let’s try again...”

Elliot frowned. He doesn't want to do that right now. He just wanted to find Hayden as soon as possible, so that Hayden would not fall into the hands of Kyrie, which would ruin his affairs.

He couldn't bear to reject her directly, so he shied away: "Next time."

"No! Who knows when the next time will be..." Avery fingers quickly unbuttoned his shirt one by one, revealing his essence With a thin and sturdy chest, "Elliot, I am your wife. Have you forgotten the oath you made in front of all your relatives and friends? You said you would love me forever. Are your oaths irrelevant?"

Chapter 1325

Rebecca lay in bed. She sleeps more during the day, so even if she waits until midnight, she still has no sleepiness.

She picked up the phone several times and wanted to call Elliot, but she held back when she thought of what he said when he left.

Whether it is father, elder brother, or Elliot, they are all men. As long as it's a man, there's nothing to worry about. They can't love only one woman in their entire life.

Since Elliot can remember, to now, my father has changed countless women. When he is with every girlfriend, he spoils each other very much, but when he doesn't love them, he really dislike women.

Not to mention big brother.

The eldest brother got married and had children early, but the eldest brother's private woman never broke.

Big brother even changed women faster than father.

The elder sister-in-law would also quarrel with the elder brother at first. After a few quarrels, she probably knew that nothing could be changed. For the sake of the child and for Mr. Jobin's status, the elder sister-in-law didn't care about anything and just took care of the child.

Rebecca thought sadly, at least Elliot didn't change for a different woman every day. As long as Elliot wife is her, as long as he treats her well on the surface, she can endure all grievances.

It was about 2 a.m. when a white light came from the yard.

That's a car headlight.

She immediately put down her phone and pretended to fall asleep.

After a while, the sound of footsteps gradually became clear, and then the bedroom door was opened.

A bedside lamp was turned on in the bedroom, and through the dim light, Elliot could see Rebecca's sleeping face.

Elliot checked all the large hotels in the city tonight, but did not find out Hayden's whereabouts.

Either Hayden changed his identity again, or Hayden stayed in a small hotel.

Although Elliot was very worried about Hayden, he also knew that worry would not help.

Hayden said that he would teach Cristian a lesson. If Elliot wanted to find Hayden, he just had to keep an eye on Cristian's movements.

He took the pajamas from the closet and was about to go to the bathroom to take a shower.

At this time, Rebecca opened her eyes, pretending to just wake up, and her voice came softly: "Elliot, are you back? What time is it?"

Elliot raised his wrist and glanced at his watch: "It's 2 o'clock. You Go back to sleep."

Rebecca: "I'm asleep. Go and take a shower."

“Yeah.” Elliot didn’t look back at her, but strode into the bathroom.

Rebecca felt a little sad when she saw the bathroom door closed.

The day they got the certificate was probably the best time for Elliot to treat her.

After Avery appeared in their lives, his attitude towards her became more and more indifferent.

Elliot came back so late tonight, he must have gone on a date with Avery.

Sadly, Rebecca didn’t dare to ask or tell others, so she could only feel aggrieved in her heart.

Her wound is still very painful now, but she didn’t dare to tell him about the pain. Lying on the bed, looking at the crystal chandelier, she suddenly thought of a man’s face in her mind.

On the night of the surgery, there was a man named Xander, who said he was Avery’s classmate.

–Why are Avery’s classmates here?

–What is the relationship between that man and Avery?

After a while, Elliot came out of the bathroom after taking a shower.

Rebecca looked at him with eyes as bright as a deer. She saw the red mark on Elliot’s neck at a glance, and just when she wanted to take a closer look, Elliot quickly turned off the bedside lamp.

“Go to sleep!” Elliot’s voice came.

Just when Rebecca thought Elliot would lie down next to her, he picked up his pillow.

Chapter 1326

“I’m going to sleep in the guest room.” Elliot picked up the pillow and planned to leave.

“Elliot, don’t go, okay?” Rebecca begged softly, “I won’t touch you.”

"I'm afraid I accidentally touch your wound." Seeing her so humble, Elliot explained, "Wait. You'll talk when you're healed."

Rebecca received his explanation and was immediately satisfied.

"Elliot, I want to remind you one thing." Rebecca reached out and turned on the bedside lamp on his side, "I checked Avery's information today, and I finally know why you like her, because she is very good. But Elliot, this is Yonroeville, and my father doesn't like Avery. If you're good for yourself and her, you'd better stay away from her. If you need a woman outside, I won't be angry. I don't want you to quarrel with my father because of Avery."

Rebecca could see the love marks on Elliot's neck.

"I know." Elliot said coldly.

Rebecca asked. "Then why didn't you send her out of here? You could send her off the yacht in the first place, why can't you send her out of Yonroeville? As long as you are cruel, you can do it."

Elliot looked directly at Rebecca's face.

Although Rebecca was lying on the bed, she looked particularly awake.

"Do you think you are very smart?" Elliot raised his lips and sneered, "If you want to keep me, then you'd better be a fool."

Rebecca felt uncomfortable at his words.

It was obvious that everything Elliot said was sincere, and he didn't appreciate it, he was angry with her.

Rebecca: "Elliot, I'm sorry."

"Sleep!" After Elliot finished indifferently, he took the pillow and strode away from the master bedroom.

After a while, the door closed, and Rebecca's tears fell.

.....

Avery drove back to her hotel, and before the car stopped, he saw the bodyguard squatting outside the hotel door smoking.

Seeing her coming back, the bodyguard immediately strode towards her.

“Boss, why did you come back so late?” The bodyguard put out the smoke,

“Did you go to Hayden?”

“Well.” Avery and Elliot did go to Hayden together.

Avery Continued, “I went to several big hotels, but I couldn’t find Hayden’s whereabouts.”

The bodyguard guessed: “He should live near our hotel. When he came here, he didn’t wear a hat or carry a schoolbag.”

Avery’s eyes suddenly brightened: “Didn’t you tell me earlier?”

“You didn’t give me a chance to say it at all. Ah! You were so sad, did you faint?

I heard you were out of breath...”

“Well, it’s a little heatstroke.” Avery strode into the hotel, “I’ll look around tomorrow.”

“Tomorrow I will accompany you to find it.”

The time flickered, and it was the next morning.

The Jobin family villa was in a park. The environment was beautiful and the scenery was pleasant. The villa where Elliot and Rebecca live was on the right side of the park, and the villa where Cristian lives was on the left side of the park.

At 8 o’clock in the morning, Cristian woke up from the big bed. He used to pick up his phone to check the time.

As a result, a strange picture appeared on the phone screen. His phone screensaver and background were pictures of his young daughter.

Every time he turned on his phone, he would see his daughter’s cute little face.

But at this time, when he pressed the power button, what appeared on the screen was not his daughter's face, but something similar to a timer.

Above this timer, there is also a line of creepy text: ['Countdown to death.']

Below these words 'Countdown to Death', the most primitive string of numbers is – 72:00:00

72 hours, equal to three days.

This string of numbers is decreasing every second. It seems that his life is also decreasing every second.

The scene at this time was very similar to the scene in a horror movie he had seen.

–Someone is going to take his life.

–Who is it?

Chapter 1327

Cristian sat on the bed thinking about it for a while, completely clueless. He had been sent by his father to expand his business for two years. In the past two years, he has not communicated with people here.

It's only been a few days since he came back, how could someone kill him?

Is it Elliot?

But Elliot has no real power yet.

Moreover, his father kept staring at him and observed his performance. If he made a half-point error, his father would never hand over the real power to him.

So he shouldn't dare to do it himself at this crucial juncture.

But besides Elliot, who else is there?

When it's time for the Jobin family to negotiate with the second and fourth masters, the second and fourth masters should not make any moves at this time.

Cristian patted his head, very distressed. He looked at the phone screen again, intending to turn off the death timer, but he found that the screen seemed to be locked, no matter how he pressed, the phone screen did not respond at all. He couldn't turn off the countdown, couldn't go back to the home screen, and couldn't use any features on the phone.

He was immediately stunned.

–Is his cell phone infected with a virus?

-Is this countdown to death a joke made by a hacker? Or maybe he accidentally clicked on a malicious website while playing with his phone last night, so his phone got poisoned?

Thinking of this, he decided to ask a technician to check it out.

....

In the hotel.

The bodyguard made an appointment with Avery last night, and went to find Hayden nearby today.

After the bodyguard got up this morning, he first came to Avery's door and rang the doorbell.

When the doorbell rang, there was no response. The bodyguard took out his mobile phone and dialed Avery. The phone was connected, but she didn't answer.

Is she still sleeping?

The bodyguard waited for a while and decided to have breakfast first.

Arriving at the restaurant, the bodyguard's cell phone rang.

He thought it was Avery calling, but it turned out to be Elliot's call.

Elliot didn't get through to Avery just now, so he called her bodyguard.

The bodyguard said, "I went to ring the doorbell just now, but there was no response. Why don't I go to her room after breakfast? But I think she is probably resting, because she didn't come back until two o'clock in the morning last night."

Elliot: "Then don't. I'm going to find her."

The bodyguard said helplessly, "Oh, I also said that I would go with her to find Hayden nearby this morning. If I go alone, even if I find Hayden, it's useless. He doesn't listen to me. I can only wait. She wakes up and talks."

Elliot: "Do you know where to find Hayden?"

The bodyguard: "I guess he's near the hotel where we stayed. Because he didn't carry his schoolbag when he came last night."

"I'll go with you now." Elliot had another nightmare last night. He dreamed that Cristian killed Hayden. He must find Hayden tell Hayden not to mess with Cristian.

This is the Jobin family's sphere of influence. Even if Kyrie appreciates him again, for Kyrie, he is definitely not comparable to Cristian.

After all, Cristian is the son of Kyrie.

If something happens to Hayden, he can only break the net with Kyrie. And to tear his face with Kyrie, he may not be able to guarantee Hayden's safety. So Elliot had to stop the tragedy from happening before things got too out of hand. He thought that Avery had already given him enough headaches, but who knew that Hayden would give him even more headaches.

At noon, after the network security technicians checked Cristian's mobile phone, there was absolutely no way to crack the virus in Cristian's mobile phone.

Chapter 1328

But they tracked down a little bit of information.

"Mr. Jobin, your mobile phone was poisoned at 3 a.m. today."

Cristian raised his thick eyebrows: "I f*cking fell asleep at three o'clock in the morning."

"Three o'clock. It doesn't matter whether you sleep or not. What is certain is that your home network or your private information must have been leaked. Otherwise, hackers will not be able to break into your phone."

Cristian said angrily, "Who the h-e-l-l dares to leak my Private information?"

"I don't know. You go home and check. As for this phone, do you think you should take it back, or leave it here and we will continue to crack it?" the technician asked, "This phone You can't use the virus in it until it's cracked."

"If that's the case, what's the use of me taking it back? I don't know which b*stard's prank. Haha. It wants my life." Cristian gritted his teeth and said, "I must find out this murder-seeking thing."

"Mmmm! Mr. Jobin, after you buy a new phone, I suggest you not use your own information to register a phone account. You try with your wife's information. This is safer." The technician reminded.

"I see!"

Cristian came out of the network security center and was about to go to the mall to buy a mobile phone.

On the way, he frowned, still suspecting that Elliot did this. He asked his bodyguard for a mobile phone and dialed Elliot's bodyguard.

"Ali, let me ask you something, you are not allowed to lie." Cristian raised his voice and said harshly, "Is there anything unusual about Elliot these two days? Has he contacted anyone outside to kill me?"

Ali was stunned for a moment, and then replied: "Eldest young master, according to my observation, in addition to accompanying Miss Rebecca at home these two days, he has been inspecting work outside at your father's order. Then he is with your second and third masters. Contact the fourth master. He is very busy every day, and I haven't seen him meet other strangers, nor have I heard that he is looking for someone to kill you. If he had a different opinion, I would have reported it to your father."

Cristian heard Ali's words, he breathed a sigh of relief: "I forgive him and dare not kill me."

"That is. Elliot is now completely dependent on the Jobin family to live, how dare he make trouble?"

"What is Elliot doing now?" Before Cristian hung up the phone, asked casually. Ali was stunned for a moment, then said: "I heard him call your third master at the time, and I guess he has an appointment with your third master. I guess he wants to draw your third master... "

I see! If there is anything unusual about him, you can tell me immediately."

Ali asked, "Okay. But why did you call from another cell phone?"

"My cell phone is broken. When I get a new one, I will replace it with a new one. I'll send you the number!"

Ali: "Okay, okay!"

...

Elliot and Avery's bodyguards looked around the hotel, but did not find Hayden.

Seeing noon, Elliot invited the bodyguards to dinner.

"Mr. Foster, you invite me to dinner, I'm so sorry." The bodyguard said.

Elliot: "You help me find my son, and I let you go back hungry. I'm also sorry."

The bodyguard: "Oh, if that's the case, then I'm welcome."

They entered and take a seat at a high-end restaurant nearby.

Elliot asked two bodyguards to order food. He held his mobile phone to see if Avery had called him back or sent him a message. Because he called her in the morning and she didn't answer.

If Avery wakes up and sees his missed call, she should call him back.

He turned on the phone and saw the message from Avery.

She said she overslept and didn't hear her phone ringing in the morning, so she didn't answer his call.

When Elliot was about to reply to the message, out of the corner of his eyes, a familiar figure got up from the dining chair.

He immediately looked towards the figure.

–Is he Hayden?

The little ones are here for lunch.

They didn't expect to find someone all morning, but now The little one come here without any effort.

Chapter 1329

Just when Elliot got up and was about to catch Hayden, a group of people came in at the door of the restaurant.

The leader is Cristian.

The moment Elliot saw Cristian, Cristian also saw Elliot. This is the first time the two have officially met since the shooting.

When the enemy met, he was extremely jealous.

When Cristian saw Elliot, a fierce light flashed in his eyes.

But because Kyrie and Rebecca were sandwiched between the two, the apparent peace had to be maintained.

When Hayden saw Cristian come in, he immediately sat down in the chair again. This was the first time he saw Cristian.

This bastard who bullied mom. If it wasn't for her resourcefulness, her mother would have been killed by this bastard now!

He absolutely cannot give Cristian the possibility of hurting his mother again, so Cristian must die.

“Didn’t you have an appointment with the third master today? Why are you eating here?” When Cristian asked Elliot this sentence, his eyes swept to Ali inadvertently.

Ali is Elliot’s personal bodyguard. To put it nicely, he is a bodyguard, but to put it badly, he is Kyrie’s eyeliner beside Elliot.

Cristian felt that Ali would not be bought by Elliot in such a short period of time. But why is Elliot here?

Ali blushed slightly, restrained and uneasy.

At this time, Elliot spoke first: “Nick is not available this morning, we temporarily changed the time and arranged to meet in the afternoon.”

“Oh! I said! Who is this person?” Cristian sat down beside Avery’s bodyguard and asked Elliot.

The bodyguard immediately reached out to Cristian: “Hello, Master Jobin, I’m Avery’s bodyguard.”

When Cristian heard this, his face suddenly turned pale: “Why are you here? Could it be that Avery is also there?”

He looked around, and after meeting Hayden’s profile, he stopped for a while.

Afraid that he would recognize Hayden, Elliot immediately explained: “I asked Avery’s bodyguard to come out, and I planned to ask her bodyguard to send her back to Aryadelle. Rebecca talked to me last night, and she didn’t want Avery to stay here.”

Cristian sneered: “You finally care about Rebecca’s feelings? If you can’t say anything about Avery, let the third master say it. Isn’t she also the third master, Nick’s woman? Haha!”

Elliot held up the water glass and took a sip.

“Elliot, I really didn’t expect you to play so much in private. Haha! And that Avery, it opened my eyes.” Cristian talked about Avery, “She is a medical genius and a famous female enterprise. Your identity sounds awesome, but it turns out to be so unrestrained in private. For a while, I didn’t know whether to say that the two of you played with Rebecca, or whether Avery played with the two of you.”

Cristian’s words made Hayden clench his fists. He got up abruptly and accidentally knocked over the water glass in front of him.

The water glass rolled to the ground with a ‘bang’ sound.

Cristian immediately looked towards the source of the sound. Hayden immediately lowered the brim of his hat, then carried his schoolbag, and went to the cashier to check out.

Cristian frowned as he watched Hayden walk to the cashier, and then took his eyes back.

“I can’t get used to seeing someone pull like this in front of me. If he was older, I would have to beat him up.” Cristian said wildly.

Cristian seemed to be talking about Hayden, but he was actually speaking to Elliot. He was warning Elliot not to try to climb on his head.

Avery’s bodyguard saw Hayden walking out, and immediately got up: “I’ll go first, you guys can talk slowly!”

Chapter 1330

After the bodyguard finished speaking, he walked out quickly. He came out of the restaurant and strode up to catch up with Hayden.

“Hayden! Your parents are looking for you. The two of them found you at two in the morning last night.” The bodyguard wanted to take him to see Avery.

“Let go of me.” Hayden is already determined to let Cristian finish.

The bodyguard slammed him a little and said, “your mother asked me to see you and brought you to her. Otherwise, she will fire me.”

Hayden: “If you don’t let go, I can also ask my mother to fire you. Squid!”

The bodyguard immediately released his hand: “Hayden! Don’t go now! Your parents mean that Cristian is more dangerous, so don’t provoke him.

Otherwise, you will fall into his hands.”

“I won’t fall into anyone’s hands. Before I get rid of Cristian, don’t look for me again.” Hayden shouted at the bodyguard and also said, “Trust me, okay!”

The bodyguard: “...”

Hayden’s facial features are similar to Elliot, and his arrogant, proud and hot temper should also be very similar to Elliot.

The bodyguard was conquered by the confidence and leadership that radiated from him.

The bodyguard only shook his head, and Hayden ran away and disappeared.

The bodyguard returned to the hotel in despair, just in time to meet Avery coming out of the elevator.

“You went to find Hayden with Elliot?” Avery asked. She was completely asleep, so she is in good spirits now.

“I saw Hayden just now, but let him go again.” The bodyguard lowered his head, ready to be scolded, “Boss, I’m really afraid of him.”

Avery said, “Then you’re not afraid of me?”

The bodyguard said, “I thought about it, I seemed to be more afraid of him.

Even if Elliot saw him, he would have no choice. Only you could subdue him.”

Avery was annoyed: “I shouldn’t have overslept.”

“Don’t think like that. You look much more normal today. Hayden let us believe him. He said he would solve Cristian as soon as possible, and then come to see you.”

“He Really?” Avery felt that things were getting more and more out of control.

“Well. I believe in him, boss, you believe in him too. He is not 100% sure, and he will not rashly take action.”

....

Jobin’s Villa.

Rebecca lay in bed for a few days and couldn’t lie down any longer.

Through Vice President Lewis, she invited Xander over.

Elliot went out early and returned late almost every day, so she invited

Xander to come home, and she was not worried at all that she would be bumped by Elliot.

In fact, Xander didn’t want to go to the appointment, but Vice President Lewis treated him well, so he came to meet Rebecca out of Vice President Lewis’s face.

“Xander, I checked. You came here on a tourist visa. And you came here after Avery came. You came here for Avery, right?” Rebecca sat on the sofa, she looked at him calmly.

“You invited me here just to ask this?” Xander asked rhetorically.

“Elliot is my husband now, but Avery is here, which has seriously affected the relationship between our husband and wife. Xander, do you like Avery? Take her away. Otherwise... ..Otherwise my brother and my father may kill Avery at any time.” Rebecca said and warned him.

Xander frowned, “Miss Jobin, I want to take her away too. But I can’t help it.

She wants to wake up Elliot’s memory. Let’s go.”

Rebecca: “Does she think that when Elliot regains her memory, she can go back to Aryadelle with him?”

Xander: “Yes. That’s what she thinks.”

Rebecca analyzed calmly, "She doesn't know Elliot too much. Elliot knew what she wanted and what she was doing from the beginning to the end. Even if Elliot loses his memory and doesn't remember her, Elliot would not be able to remember her. Just found their past from the news. He chose to stay here because there is what he wants here."

Xander was taken aback.

"This is the ticket to leave Yonroeville tonight, and this is sleeping pills."

Rebecca handed the ticket and medicine to Xander, "You knock her out tonight and take her away."

Xander was stunned. If he listened to Rebecca and forcibly took Avery away from Yonroeville, he would definitely be very angry when Avery woke up.

–Avery might break up with him.

–If Xander doesn't listen to Rebecca, Avery may be in danger of staying here.

After thinking twice, he accepted the ticket and sleeping pills.

"I knew you would accept it. You must like Avery, so you must understand how painful I am now." Rebecca picked up the water glass in front of him and took a sip.

"Miss Jobin, people's joys and sorrows are not the same. I only understand the pain of my friend and I...I don't understand you, just like you don't understand that Avery and I are not the kind of relationship you think." Xander said this then said goodbye to her.

Before that, he and Avery had not had much contact for several years. How could there be a relationship between a man and a woman? But their relationship with teachers will never change.

"Oh, then think I don't understand. As long as the two of you leave the country, I don't care about the two of you at all." Rebecca put down the water glass and said, "I just want to protect my own one-acre and three-point land."

"I'll take the plane ticket and sleeping pills first. But I won't necessarily succeed." Xander finished and got up from the sofa.

Rebecca said, "Xander, please take my contact information. If you need my help with anything, you can call me."

Xander didn't think he needed her help. In his eyes, Rebecca is like a childish child.

Although he has a childish face, he has been learning the tone and appearance of adults, which is a bit funny.

After the two exchanged numbers, Xander walked out of the villa. Back at the hotel, he pressed the doorbell of Avery's guard room.

The bodyguard and Avery returned to the room after lunch. They made an appointment to find Hayden together in the afternoon.

Seeing Xander standing at the door, the bodyguard was a little surprised: "Dr. Xander, are you looking for me?"

"Well." Xander entered the room and closed the door, "How is Avery today?"

The bodyguard said, "She is fine today. She slept until noon and woke up.

Now I went back to my room to take a nap. But I don't think she could fall asleep. She saw me looking for Hayden outside all morning and asked me to come back and take a rest."

"Then Isn't it disturbing your rest?" Xander asked sternly.

"You came to me specially, what's the matter?" The bodyguard looked at him.

Xander was very uneasy, and he didn't dare to talk to Avery directly, so he could only talk to the bodyguard. His purpose is not to talk, but to hope that the bodyguards will join forces with him to take Avery away together.

Otherwise, if Avery was given sleeping pills, he would not be able to get her to the airport.

Xander whispered, "Let's get out of here tonight. Rebecca came to me just now and said that her father and brother didn't like Avery. If Avery continued to stay here, it would be very dangerous."

The bodyguard: "I know. My boss knows this too. But she doesn't know how to spell fear."

Xander said solemnly, "Besides this, there was also her illness. She needed surgery as soon as possible. The Jobin family didn't deal with her, and her illness would kill her. This was not a trivial matter. You couldn't follow her with everything."

The bodyguards paced up and down the room, undecided.

"I have sleeping pills here. I'll secretly give it to her at dinner later. Then we'll take her out of here." Xander said the plan.

The bodyguard frowned, "What about Hayden? Let's go and leave Hayden here alone?"

Xander analyzed, "I've thought about this. Let's go first and let Elliot find Hayden. Also, if Hayden knew that Avery was no longer here, he would definitely not stay here. Now there is nothing better than this. It's a good way."

The bodyguard nodded: "You are right. But when she returns to Aryadelle, she will definitely be pissed off."

After that, a compromise was made.

After the two reached a consensus, Xander immediately returned to the room. At dinner time, Xander ordered a sumptuous meal at a restaurant in advance.

Avery and the bodyguard looked around the neighborhood in the afternoon, but did not find Hayden.

When Avery came to restaurant and saw the table full of delicious food, she said, "Xander, why do you suddenly want to treat?"

Chapter 1331

Xander has a guilty conscience: "Look at how thin you are. Besides, I will invite you today, and you will invite tomorrow."

"Okay." Avery sat down.

Xander immediately picked up the juice pot and poured her a glass of juice.

The bodyguard opened a can of beer.

Xander did not drink or drink juice, but opened a box of coconut milk.

Avery was quite hungry, so she picked up her chopsticks and greeted, "Eat!

After dinner, I plan to go out for a walk."

"Aren't your feet tired after walking all afternoon?" The bodyguard teased. "It's okay. If you're tired from walking, then I'll go alone later..."

"You forgot about the kidnapping case? Let's eat first! We'll talk about it when we're done." The bodyguard admired her courage.

"Well." Avery took a bite.

At this time, Xander raised the glass, "Let's have a drink. I hope it goes well next time."

Avery raised the juice glass and toasted with him: "Xander, shouldn't it be your birthday today? It's weird at night."

Xander took a sip of coconut milk and shook his head quickly: "If it's my birthday, I'll definitely tell you to buy a birthday present."

Avery couldn't help laughing. Just when she was about to drink the juice, a familiar figure suddenly jumped into her eyes.

After meeting up with Nick this afternoon, Elliot came to the neighborhood to find Hayden again.

At lunch time, he and the bodyguard came in for dinner, but he didn't expect to see Avery as soon as they came in.

His bodyguard, Ali recognized them and came to Avery's table ahead of him.

Just like that, Elliot and Ali sat down at their table.

Xander, bodyguard were speechless.

Avery asked the waiter to bring two sets of cutlery.

Xander and the bodyguard remained speechless.

After bringing the tableware, Avery took Elliot's cup and poured him juice.

Xander and the bodyguard remained speechless.

Help!

There are sleeping pills in the juice.

They planned to let Avery take sleeping pills and take Avery away directly.

They thought everything would go smoothly and nothing would change, but in the end—

—Why did Elliot come?

—There were countless restaurants nearby, why did Elliot choose this one?

—Moreover, there were countless empty tables in this restaurant, why did he sit down at their table?

Xander has no experience in doing bad things, so at this moment, his face was flushed, his heart was racing, his mouth was slightly open, he wanted to say something, but he didn't know how to say it.

The bodyguard was slightly stronger than him.

The bodyguard started directly and grabbed Elliot's juice cup.

"Master, what juice to drink?" The bodyguard poured out the juice in his glass and poured him a drink.

Avery: "What are you doing? Elliot can't drink."

Avery took Elliot's glass back, poured out the wine in it, and refilled it with juice.

Xander and the bodyguard remained speechless. The expressions on their faces seemed to be twitching. Their eyes seemed to bulge out.

Elliot noticed something was wrong at a glance.

Chapter 1332

Neither of them seemed to welcome him. Besides, neither of them wanted him to drink juice.

And the reason they didn't want him to drink the juice was definitely not because of how precious this bottle of juice was...

Elliot had suspicions in his heart, so he held up the glass and pretended to drink it.

"Hey! Don't drink it." Xander said, grabbing the juice cup from his hand at the same time.

The expression on Avery's face suddenly became cold.

Avery glanced at the juice in her hand then asked, "Why can't he drink it? Is there something wrong with the juice?"

After Avery said these words, the dining table suddenly fell silent.

Xander and the bodyguard lowered their heads, not knowing how to speak.

Ali took the chopsticks and asked, "Is there a problem with the juice, but the vegetables? I'm very hungry. Are these vegetables edible?"

Xander: "The vegetables are fine, you can eat them."

Ali pushed back: "The vegetables are all right, what's wrong with the juice? You poisoned Avery?"

Xander anxiously explained: "How could we poison Avery. It's just a sleeping pill."

After the truth came out, Avery got up and left immediately.

“Avery, listen to my explanation.” Xander immediately chased after her and pulled her back, “We want to take you away. Seeing that you are here, Hayden is worried about you, so he came here. If you continue to stay here, what if another child of yours comes running?”

“So you’re going to hide it from me and give me sleeping pills?” Avery couldn’t accept that they treated him like this.

The bodyguard said helplessly, “Boss, we tried to persuade you, but you won’t listen at all. If it wasn’t for being forced, we wouldn’t want to use such a method.”

Avery was still angry.

At this time, Elliot said calmly, “They’re right, you really should go.”

Avery glared at Elliot and said to him, “I can’t go now. How can I go with Hayden here? Even if I want to go, I’ll find Hayden go together. You can’t protect yourself if you are a bodhisattva crossing the river yourself, don’t worry about me.”

Seeing that the two of them were about to quarrel, Xander sighed, “Eat first. It’s cold. If you don’t want to go, then don’t go. For tonight, you can blame me alone. It’s my idea.”

The bodyguard immediately said, “Boss, don’t blame Xander. This idea is Rebecca came up with it. Rebecca went to find Xander today.”

After Rebecca was involved, everyone’s eyes turned “sharp” to Elliot.

Elliot was on her back and said, “You guys eat. I’ll go first.”

He got up from his chair and strode away from the table. Ali immediately caught up with him. Soon, they both disappeared from everyone’s sight.

Avery called the waiter to remove the juice.

Xander and the bodyguard lowered their heads and dared not look directly at her face.

Avery said, "No wonder tonight's dinner is so rich. It turns out that this is the last meal in Yonroeville. You two look up."

Xander and the bodyguard looked up.

"What else are you two planning, tell me." Avery took the coconut milk in front of Xander and filled her glass.

Xander shook his head: "For the time being, I only plan to take you out of here first. When you leave here, you will almost wake up."

"Aren't you afraid that I will break up with you?" Avery asked after drinking a sip of coconut milk.

"I'm afraid, but if you stay here, if something happens, I'm even more afraid."

"Boss, don't blame Xander..." The bodyguard interjected.

Avery glared at him, "You have the guts to talk? You are my bodyguard, but you turned your elbows out. Who pays you?"

The bodyguard shut up.

Chapter 1333

"By the way, didn't you say that Elliot will pay you a salary every month?"

Does he still pay you?"

The bodyguard was stunned for a moment: "I don't know. My salary is in my wife's hands."

"Forget it, this issue is not important. When I go back, I'll give you a bonus."

Avery thought that after the bodyguard came, she never rested or had time to spend with his family as he sacrificed a lot.

When she returns home safely, she will give her bodyguard a large bonus.

"Boss, if you say that, I'm embarrassed to urge you to go back to Aryadelle."

The bodyguard slurred.

“Let’s eat! When I find Hayden, I will consider whether to leave here with him.” Although Avery complained about their plan, this incident gave her a lot of inspiration.

She is not in danger now, which does not mean that there is no danger in the future. She couldn’t implicate the bodyguard and Xander.

At the same time, Cristian was only having dinner at home. His new mobile phone was fine and could be used normally, but when he put down the tableware and picked up the mobile phone again, he found that the mobile phone screen had turned into a countdown to death. There was no way he could quit this countdown.

What’s even more frightening is that the countdown time is connected to the countdown time in the morning.

Now the time displayed on the screen is – 61:05:33 his life, 61 hours left?

‘bang’, he threw the phone to the ground.

His daughter was terrified and burst into tears. His wife immediately carried her daughter back to the room.

“Call everyone out.” Cristian yelled at the nanny, “There’s a ghost in the house. I have to find this ghost tonight!”

The technician said that a top hacker would be a person if he didn’t have his private information, is unable to break into his network and mobile phone.

Therefore, his information must have fallen into the hands of hackers, and his mobile phone will be hacked.

Not long after, all the servants in the family came to the living room and stood in two rows.

Cristian’s eyes swept across their faces one by one.

“Some of you betrayed my information.” Cristian held a sharp dagger in his hand and threatened, “If no one admits it tonight, then I can only use my means to solve this matter.”

Everyone’s face was ashen with fright and didn’t dare to breathe.

“As of 12:00 a.m. tonight, if no one admits it, then I’ll just pick someone out of you to kill.” Cristian sat down on the sofa and put pressure on each word, “I don’t mind killing all of you idiots. Drop.”

The whole villa was shrouded in the shadow of death, and the atmosphere was very depressing and terrifying.

The nanny’s face was ashen, and she glanced at Cristian’s wife not far away.

Cristian’s wife wanted to come over, but the nanny shook her head at her.

...

When Elliot came home, Rebecca was a little surprised to see him. She asked, “Elliot, have you eaten yet?”

She recovered well. The doctor told her to rest in bed, but she couldn’t lie down today, and she ate dinner in the dining room by herself.

“I didn’t eat.” Elliot looked at her pale face and said, “You’re looking better today.”

“Well. The wound isn’t so painful today, so I came down to eat by myself.”

Rebecca accompanies him towards the dining room go.

The two took their seats at the table, and the nanny brought hot dishes and meals to the table.

After the nanny left the dining room, Elliot broke the silence: “Your plan failed.”

Rebecca was stunned for a moment, but did not realize what Elliot was saying.

Elliot continued, "Avery won't leave Yonroeville tonight."

Rebecca understood the meaning of his words, and her cheeks suddenly burned, "Elliot, listen to my explanation."

Chapter 1334

Elliot looked at her quietly, waiting for her to explain.

Rebecca said frankly, "The reason why I want Avery to leave Yonroeville is not only because I am afraid that you will fall in love with her again, but also because I am afraid that she will stay here and affect your career. Elliot, you're my husband and you're the most important person to me. But my eldest brother doesn't think so. He treats you as an enemy."

"If there is only one choice between eldest brother and you, I will definitely choose you." Rebecca confided her heart, "You have nothing left in Aryadelle. I hope you are here and make a comeback. My father relies a lot on you. Don't make him angry until he hands over his rights to you, okay?"

Elliot said, "Actually, I hope your plan will succeed. I also hope she can get out of here."

Rebecca breathed a sigh of relief: "I thought you were angry with me, I thought I was making an assertion."

Elliot said, "You are indeed making an opinion. You should tell me in advance."

Rebecca said cautiously, "Then I have something to tell you in advance next time. Elliot, I am willing to listen to you in everything as long as you don't abandon me."

Elliot lost his appetite when he looked at the table full of delicacies.

Chelsea was obedient to him before, but Rebecca was more obedient than Chelsea.

.....

Aryadelle.

Mike has been very busy lately. This time is different from every time before.

This time he hit the iron plate.

Wanda took advantage of Elliot's accident this time and brought a mysterious R&D staff back.

Of course, Wonder Technologies did not publicize this matter. It was information that Mike secretly found out.

After Mike knew this information, Wonder Technologies products were upgraded one after another, as if they were hanging up.

So Mike is sure that this mysterious R&D personnel must be a super boss.

He especially wanted to know who this person was, but no matter what method he used, he couldn't find out the slightest information about the other party.

"Chad, I don't dare to call Avery now." Mike raised his glass and drank, "I'm afraid that when she comes back, she will see Wonder Technologies quickly grabbing our market... No, if she comes back later, maybe the company will go bankrupt."

Chad took the wine glass from his hand.

"Is it that serious?" Chad poured him a drink.

"We are a technology company, and the most important thing for a technology company is core technology, and now our core technology is about to lose its edge." Mike rubbed his aching temples and continued, "The person Wanda brought back this time seems to be in my heart. She has an eye on her body. She seems to be holding my life."

Chad said, a layer of cold sweat broke out on his back: "This is the first time I see you showing such a troubled expression. It seems that this time is difficult. I'm really stumped."

"I don't dare to tell anyone about this now. Of course, the executives in the company can't hide it. Wonder Technologies holds product upgrade releases almost every day. We upgraded with our products and their prices are lower. It means that we have no advantage now."

Chad pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose and said with certainty:

"Your core technology has been stolen. This is the only possibility."

Mike said, "I know. But now the worst thing is, I checked and found no trace of theft. I don't even know what the problem is. If Avery knew about this, she would definitely think I was very annoying. It 's useless."

Chad said, "Don't blame yourself. If you can't get through this, then face the reality. Isn't my boss also nothing now?"

"Are you so comforting?" Mike After taking a sip of the drink, he frowned, "Even if I go bankrupt, I have to find this person. It really doesn't work, I'll tie Wanda and ask."

Chad reminded, "Don't mess around. Now that I don't have my boss to support you, you still shouldn't have a head-on conflict with Wanda. If you take out any of the capital behind Wanda, it will be enough for you to feel uncomfortable."

Mike was unhappy. He said, "I'm so useless now. It seems that it started with Elliot's accident."

"Don't be discouraged, there are lows, there will be peaks. If Avery calls you next time, you should tell her the situation. Come on."

Chapter 1335

"Let's talk when Avery returned to Aryadelle. Although she didn't care much about money, she cared about the Tate Industries. Her father handed over the company to her before he died. If the Tate Industries collapsed, she would definitely be very sad.”

.....

Yonroeville.

Cristian didn't sleep all night.

At 12:00 a.m., Cristian did what he said and killed a domestic servant with his own hands. He has a hard time, and no one else in this family can think of it.

With his eyes open until dawn, watching the countdown on the screen of the mobile phone, the time passed by every second, he thought of a way.

This hacker is definitely in Yonroeville now. The enemy is in the dark and he is in the light.

As long as he checked the people who have been in Yonroeville in the past few days to see if there was anything suspicious, he could narrow the search scope.

Around noon, the bodyguards handed over a thick stack of documents to Cristian.

“Eldest young master, these are the documents sent by the airport, which are divided according to nationality. Please take a look.”

Cristian first took out the documents of the personnel who came from Aryadelle and looked at them one by one.

Cristian asked, “There is still a day and a half. Do you think I will die in a day and a half?”

The bodyguard said with sincerity, “Master, how can you die? Your father sent a lot of people to protect you in the morning, just because he was worried about your accident. Now there are bodyguards on the third and outer floors of the villa, and they will definitely ensure your safety.”

Cristian: " But I'm so f*cking uneasy. I always think that this hacker has a thousand ways to kill me."

"No, young master. If it's really dangerous, I'll definitely stand in front of you."

The bodyguard immediately show loyalty.

"Do you think my wife's reaction was a little cold after this happened? She doesn't seem to be afraid of losing me at all." Cristian said suspiciously, "She doesn't seem to love me anymore."

The bodyguard didn't know how to answer: "Maybe your wife was frightened. She has been taking care of her children at home, and she seldom goes out to socialize. I guess she has never seen such a thing."

"I'm afraid she has different feelings for me." Cristian gritted his teeth, "You pay close attention to her these two days."

"Okay!"

Cristian turned over the information cards of the inbound personnel from Aryadelle one by one. He mainly looks at the occupation of these people. If it is a career related to computers, he will let his staff focus on the investigation.

After looking at it for an hour, a data card made him frown. Now the information card he is holding in his hand shows a ten-year-old boy.

The reason why this little boy caught his attention was because this little boy looked a bit like Elliot. He knew that Elliot had a son named Hayden. But the boy on the data card was not Hayden.

He put down the data card, opened the notebook, and searched for Hayden's photos.

When he checked Elliot's information on the Internet before, he had seen photos of his two children. He felt that the boy on the data card was a bit like Elliot's son.

Chapter 1336

“Is this a f*cking person?” Cristian carefully compared the photos of Hayden found on the Internet with the photos on the data card, and then let out this exclamation.

The bodyguard looked at the photo and felt like the same person.

Cristian gritted his teeth and said, “If this person is Hayden, it means that this little guy has been in Yonroeville for a few days. Elliot did a good job of hiding it, he didn’t leak any rumors.”

“Of course he wouldn’t dare to leak the rumors. If it falls into the hands of you and Kyrie, it is a good bargaining chip.” The bodyguard said, “You can discuss with Kyrie to see if you want to arrest this child.”

Cristian immediately took out his mobile phone and called to his father.

As a result, when he turned on his phone, and he immediately saw that d*mn countdown to death. So he used the bodyguard’s cell phone to call his father.

After explaining the situation, Kyrie on the other side of the phone was silent for a few seconds, and then said: “You can do this quietly. If you do it well, Elliot will be able to listen to us obediently in the future.”

“I understand. Just send someone to do a carpet search.” Cristian wanted this expectations for him from his father’s words.

Father relied heavily on Elliot. After all, Elliot is a foreigner, how can he compare with himself?

“By the way, have you found the hacker who downloaded the virus on your phone?” Kyrie asked.

“Not yet... This hacker is very powerful. I found a few experts to crack it, but they didn’t crack it.” Cristian was worried, but his tone was calm, he didn’t want his father to feel timid, “Father, you don’t have to worry. I don’t go out these days, so I'll be fine."

"I'm not worried about you." Kyrie was silent for a few seconds, and said, "I remember Hayden is a genius. I went to Aryadelle before. I heard about it when I was there. He seems to have been admitted to the genius class in a very powerful university in Aryadelle by exception."

Cristian: "You mean that the virus in my phone was caused by Hayden?"

Chapter 1337

Kyrie said irritably, "How do I know who it is? You idiot, I'm giving you this information so you can check it. Catch Hayden as soon as possible. This little thing uses fake identity information. If Elliot asks, you can say that this person is not Hayden."

"Okay!"

This chapter is provided by naijdate.com. Visit naijdate.com for daily update.

After hanging up the phone, Cristian immediately sent someone to check out major hotels.

He had Hayden's identity information in Yonroeville and Hayden's photo, so finding Hayden was only a matter of minutes.

This matter quickly reached Elliot's ears.

Ali said, "Mr. Foster, if your son falls into Cristian's hands, you will be miserable in the future. Cristian is cruel and inhumane. You must know that. Unless you don't want this son."

Elliot did not expect Cristian soon learned the news of Hayden's coming to Yonroeville.

Elliot: "You didn't tell Cristian about this?"

Ali: "If I wanted to tell Cristian, I told Cristian the day before yesterday, why did I tell it today?"

“Why did you help me?” Elliot looked at the bodyguard solemnly.

Ali: “Master Jobin chose to entrust you with the responsibility between you and Cristian. No matter how stupid I am, I know how to choose.”

Elliot glanced at the time: “I must pick up my son before Cristian can find him.

Ali, I can’t come forward in this matter. Just now Kyrie called me and asked me to go out. He deliberately set me aside so that Cristian could catch my son.”

“What do you need me to do?” Ali said, “The premise for me to help you is that I will not be in any danger.”

After Elliot was silent for a while, a flash of light flashed in his mind.

...

Avery came out of the room, and when he went to the lobby on the first floor, he saw a man in black standing next to the lady at the front desk, calling for guest information.

Elliot called her just now and said that Cristian was sending someone to look for Hayden.

Elliot asked her to find a way to contact Hayden immediately.

Once contacted Hayden, he immediately took Hayden to his and Rebecca’s wedding room. The most dangerous place is also the safest place.

Chapter 1338

Avery doesn’t think this is a good way, but right now, Hayden doesn’t have a better hiding place.

No matter where Hayden was hidden, Avery was not at ease.

Put it on Elliot’s place, at least not so worried. It’s just Rebecca...

The bodyguard comforted, “Since Elliot asked you to send Hayden over, it means that he has already discussed with Rebecca. The women in Yonroeville are quite traditional. Dogs follow dogs. After an ordinary woman gets married, she should change her surname to her husband's. If Rebecca is not the daughter of the Jobin family, she has to change her surname too."

Avery frowned: "But I can't contact Hayden now."

The bodyguard said, "Have you called Hayden?"

Avery: "I called him last time, but his number was not in the service area."

"Try again?" The bodyguard said.

Avery immediately turned on the phone and dialed Hayden's number.

Unexpectedly, it got through this time.

After the call was connected, Avery said excitedly: "Hayden! Where are you now? Cristian already knows you are here, and he has sent someone to look for you now."

"I know." Hayden's tone was understated.

Avery: "How did you know? You can't stay in the hotel now!"

"I'm not in the hotel anymore." Hayden's tone was still light, "Mom, don't worry about me."

"Why don't I worry about you?" Avery Having said this, she choked, "Your father told you to hide in his house."

"I won't go." Hayden refused without hesitation, "In another day, Cristian will die. Then they won't have the energy to find me."

Avery doesn't care about Cristian's life or death, she only worries about Hayden's current situation.

"Then tell me, how are you going to evade their search now? They can't find you in the hotel, they will definitely find you in the major restaurants." Avery said this, her emotions were on the verge of collapse, "Mom, please, you first Go to your father's place to hide. Many people have come to search the hotel where mom is staying now, Mom can't protect you now."

Avery said here, a car stopped in front of her.

Ali came with Rebecca.

Rebecca lowered the car window. She was seriously ill, and her face was pale.

"Avery, where is your son now?" Rebecca spoke quickly, "It was Elliot who asked me to pick up your son. Bring your son to me as soon as possible.

Otherwise, I can't protect your son."

Avery hadn't hung up yet, so Hayden could hear Rebecca's voice clearly.

Avery opened the car door and got into Rebecca's car.

"Rebecca, I owe you a favor this time."

Rebecca said coldly, "It was Elliot who begged me to do this. Even if I owe it, it is Elliot who owes me. Wait until the limelight passes, you and your son must leave here immediately."

"I know." Avery did not dare to continue the adventure.

When the current storm passes, she will take Hayden out of here immediately.

At 3 p.m.

When Elliot returned home, he saw Hayden in the guest room.

"Elliot, he won't talk to me. I told him to eat, but he ignored me. The nanny brought him lunch, but he didn't eat it."

Rebecca said, "Hayden probably doesn't like me."

Elliot enter the room and close the door.

Chapter 1339

At this time, the father and son were left in the room.

The two of them are rarely alone.

Mainly because Hayden doesn't like Elliot and hide when he see him.

As a result, Elliot didn't know how to face Hayden. If it weren't for an emergency, they wouldn't have this opportunity to be alone.

"Do you know how dangerous it is for you to come here rashly this time?"

Elliot couldn't help but accuse.

Hayden: "Take care of yourself."

Elliot: "If you are taken away by Cristian, guess if your mother will go and fight with Cristian!"

Hayden: "Even without you, I will not be taken away by Cristian. If it wasn't for my mother begging me to come to you, I wouldn't have come."

Elliot raised his eyebrows and mocked: "So you didn't eat because your mother didn't ask you to eat?"

Xiao Leng glared at him coldly: "Don't bother my mother."

"I don't bother her. But you are here, you must be obedient." Elliot looked at his facial features that looked like his own, wanted to be cruel, but not cruel, "I'll ask the nanny to bring you food. If there's nothing wrong, you'd better stay in the room and don't come out."

Hayden frowned, his face was sad.

Elliot knew that Hayden didn't want to see him, so he left the guest room.

After going downstairs, Elliot asked the nanny to bring food to Hayden.

The nanny went upstairs with the hot meal. Rebecca looked at Elliot and said, "Hayden is here, you can rest assured. The nanny is my person, she will not talk nonsense."

Elliot reminded, "Well, Rebecca, you are all right. Don't talk to him. He has a bad temper like me."

Rebecca couldn't help laughing: "Indeed. I was stunned when I first saw him."

He looks so much like you. But his temper should be a little bigger than yours. I think you get along much better than him. “

That’s because Hayden hates me. He doesn’t do this to other people.”

“Why does Hayden hate you? Because you’re with me?” Rebecca asked tentatively.

“Not exactly. I’ve always had a bad relationship with him.” Elliot was upset when he mentioned this, so he changed the subject, “I’m a little sleepy, so I’ll go back to my room to rest first.”

“Okay, go and rest. If there is any situation, I will remind you at any time.”

Rebecca was afraid that his father or elder brother would suddenly come over.

After Elliot returned to the room, he called Avery.

“Hayden is completely safe now, you can rest assured.”

“He told me that Cristian would die in a day’s time. I can’t figure out how he would kill Cristian. You must keep an eye on him, and never let him go out.”

Avery was in the hotel room at the moment, unable to sleep due to a headache.

The villa where Elliot lives belongs to a park with Kyrie and Cristian. If Hayden goes out, it is easy to be found.

“I will be optimistic about him. Regardless of whether Cristian is dead or not, I will find a way to get you out of here. Don’t turn off your phone. When I think of a way, I will contact you at any time.” Elliot whispered.

“Elliot, it’s up to you, are you still unwilling to tell me the answer?” Avery pondered for a moment and asked, “Do you remember me?”

In order to make her feel relieved to leave here, Elliot replied: “ I remember.”

“Oh, then tell me, what was the gift I gave you on our first date?” Avery didn’t believe what he said. So she excitedly asked this.

Elliot was speechless. He never expected that Avery would give him a test.

Chapter 1340

Avery sneered, "You can't answer. You still don't remember me. But I'm still very relieved. Even if you don't remember me, your attitude towards me is much better than at first. If I continue to stay here, you will still fall in love with me."

Elliot: "Avery, is this the time to talk about this kind of thing?"

"Otherwise what are we talking about? Are we talking about you and Rebecca?" Avery's emotions were on the verge of collapse, "Rebecca really listens to you. I have to suspect that her love for you is not less than mine."

Avery mocked him, "Are you enjoying your current state? The colorful flags are fluttering outside, and the red flag at home doesn't fall down. If days like this continue, it shouldn't be long... I'll give up."

Elliot fingers tightened abruptly while holding the phone.

Avery gave him an ultimatum, "I will stick to it until the end of this month at most. If you still have the same attitude and refuse to come with me, then I will quit. You don't have to fight with me for the custody of the child in the future. After all, your new wife is so young and she is absolutely happy to ask her to give birth to you ten or eight."

"Avery, do you mean that you have to wait until the end of the month?" Elliot ignored her cynicism.

Avery was not happy, so she stabbed him with these words.

"It's not a few days until the end of the month." Avery went cold.

She could sense from his tone that even at the end of the month, it was impossible for him to leave here with her.

His attitude has always been clear that he will not leave the country in the short term. At least until he regained his memory, it was impossible for him to go with her.

In the end, he don't know who hung up the phone first.

Avery tossed and turned on the bed and couldn't sleep, and there was a sudden drop in her lower abdomen. She opened the phone calendar and glanced at the date.

Chapter 1341

Her period was delayed by a week. It is estimated that there are too many things recently, mental exhaustion, leading to endocrine disorders and menstrual disorders.

She got out of bed and planned to go to the supermarket to buy sanitary napkins.

When she got out of the elevator, she saw Xander at a glance.

Xander looked at Avery with a supermarket shopping bag in his hand, and asked her, "Where are you going? Isn't Hayden settled? You don't look very good."

Avery helplessly said, "I have an endocrine disorder. Maybe it's because I'm too anxious these days."

Xander said seriously, "Have you ever thought that it might be caused by your condition? How about I accompany you to the hospital for a checkup? If it wasn't for your condition. It was caused by the endocrine disorder and it must also be treated with medicine."

"Xander, it's not that serious. I used to..." Avery didn't care.

"It used to be before, and now is now. You used to be younger. The body is better, and there is no tumor in the brain. Don't take your body seriously."

Xander said what he suppressed in his heart, "Say something unlucky, if you die, your child will have to live with Elliot. Do you want your child to have a stepmother? No matter how gentle Rebecca looks on the surface, how do you know that she won't abuse your child in private? "

Avery's scalp tingled with excitement at his words. She is not afraid of death, but she is afraid that the child will have a stepmother.

She suffers from it herself.

Wanda is still the shadow in her heart. She must not let her children live with Elliot and Rebecca. Therefore, she must not die.

"Then go for a test." Avery compromised.

The two arrived at the hospital. After the doctor ordered the color Doppler ultrasound, Xander took her to the color Doppler room.

Avery hasn't had a good rest these days, so after lying down on the color Doppler bed, her eyes closed uncontrollably. After a while, she fell asleep.

The doctor handed the results of the color Doppler ultrasound to Xander.

When Xander saw the results, his body couldn't stop shaking.

Chapter 1342

Half an hour later, Xander woke Avery up.

"You fell asleep in the ultrasound room just now."

Avery slept for half an hour and recovered a lot: "It's embarrassing, I can't sleep in the hotel. Maybe the smell of disinfectant in the hospital makes me feel at ease."

"Maybe Come on. I also prefer the smell of disinfectant." Xander said and led her towards the elevator.

"The result?" Avery reached out to him.

Xander said solemnly, "The machine is broken, so there is no way to print the results. But the doctor showed me the situation in your uterine cavity. You are fine, it should be an endocrine disorder caused by too much stress.”

“I just said Come on. Although I’m not as young as I used to be, I’m still very young now.” Avery was full of confidence, and when she said this, her voice lowered a bit, “I told Elliot today that I’ll wait until he arrives here. The end of the month.”

Xander thought about it, and answered her perfunctorily. “By the way, you don’t need to take the medicine first, you can observe it later.”

“Well. I didn’t intend to come to the hospital for this matter. I went downstairs at that time to buy sanitary napkins. But it was still very difficult. Thank you.”

Avery let out a smile, “You are really a good and responsible doctor.”

“Don’t praise me. I’m usually sick myself, and I don’t like going to the hospital.”

Xander took her out of the hospital and went back to the hotel room.

It’s only 4:30 in the afternoon, so it’s a little early for dinner.

Avery’s bodyguard came out to smoke and chat.

“Don’t you smoke?” The bodyguard handed Xander a cigarette.

Xander said, “I used to smoke when I was young. Then I quit because I was too busy with work.”

“Oh, smoking is not a good thing.” said the bodyguard, lighting him up.

“I’m a little annoyed.” After Xander took a cigarette, his eyes fell into the distance, “Do you think Avery is very stubborn?”

“I know what you’re going to say. If you really want to leave, you can leave at any time. She won’t force you to stay here with her.” The bodyguard said.

Xander shook his head, and said, “Avery’s first child was twins. At that time, she and Elliot had already divorced. She was under so much pressure that she had to give birth to the child. What do you think she wanted?”

“Women are soft-hearted.” the bodyguard said.

“You say If she is pregnant now, will she abort the child?” Xander looked at the bodyguard, and continued, “You also know that she is sick now, she can’t get pregnant and have a child normally...”

“D*mn it. She’s pregnant again?” The bodyguard’s jaw dropped in shock.

Xander calmly said, “I’m using an analogy. Because her character is more stubborn and stubborn than I thought, so I’m very curious, if she is pregnant now, what will she choose.”

Bodyguard said, “Don’t think about it. She will definitely find a way to give birth to the child.” After a pause, he continued, “The premise is that the child in her womb belongs to Elliot.”

“Oh...why are you so sure?”

The bodyguard: “I guess. I don’t know much about her illness, and I don’t know much about women having children...but I know she likes children very much.”

Xander reasoned, “But if she insists on having children, her illness may worsen to the point where she cannot kill her child. This child cannot be wanted.”

The bodyguard said, “Doctor Xander, why are you so excited? Didn’t you say it was just an analogy? You look like she really is Pregnant with a baby.”

Xander: “

The bodyguard teased, “It’s impossible for her to be pregnant again, right? After she came here, she and Elliot haven’t seen each other a few times... I slept twice at most... It’s impossible to get married twice. Right? I remember when my wife and I were trying to conceive, it took me half a year to conceive a child.”

“Indeed, it’s not that easy to conceive a child.” Xander said lightly.

He had already inquired about the information he wanted to know from the bodyguard’s mouth.

.....

At night.

Rebecca couldn’t sleep, so she got up and walked towards Hayden’s room.

She gently opened the door of the guest room, thinking that it should be dark inside, but the lights in the room were on.

Hayden is sitting in a chair with a laptop on the table.

On the laptop screen, there are a bunch of codes that she can’t understand.

Chapter 1343

Rebecca frowned and asked, “Why haven’t you slept yet? It’s almost time. Do you often stay up late like this?”

As Rebecca spoke, she walked towards the desk. Hayden hesitated for two seconds between closing the laptop and not closing it, and finally decided not to close it.

Rebecca hasn’t graduated from university yet. After marrying Elliot, she simply dropped out of school at home.

Moreover, Rebecca studied philosophy. With Rebecca’s knowledge level, she couldn’t understand the things on his laptop at all.

“Who asked you to come my room?” Hayden asked, looking at Rebecca’s face.

“I... I had a nightmare just now, dreaming that you were taken away by my eldest brother. So I came to see you.” Rebecca lied casually.

Hayden asked, “Then you want me to be caught by you. If your elder brother is taken away, do you still want me to be taken away by your elder brother? If I am captured by your elder brother, Elliot will become a puppet of your Jobin family in the future. He will do whatever you ask him to do.”

Rebecca was speechless. She didn't expect Hayden to say such a thing.

Hayden continued, “Although I hate my dad very much but he still cares to me. Would you like to call your elder brother now?”

Rebecca was a little moved. She thought of the consequences of doing so, and was even more afraid.

Rebecca explained patiently, “Hayden, I know you don't like me, and you may have prejudice against me. I'm not the same as my eldest brother. I'm with your father...”

In the following words, Rebecca embarrassed to say it. After all, she is Hayden's stepmother.

“If I told you that I was going to kill your eldest brother, would you still hide me in your house?” Hayden deliberately angered Rebecca, wanting to see where Rebecca's bottom line was.

Rebecca was stunned by these words.

–The child in front of her wants to kill her big brother...

–Does he have this ability?

Just when Rebecca wanted to question, Hayden reminded her: “Didn't your eldest brother tell you that he received death threats recently?”

“Yes, the countdown to death.” Rebecca looked at Hayden's face, and then looked at the laptop in front of him. The mysterious hacker who hacked into the big brother's mobile phone, is it Hayden?

Just when Rebecca trembled slightly and didn't know what to do, the door was pushed open.

Elliot strode in.

Seeing his face, Hayden immediately closed the laptop, strode into bed, and pulled up the quilt to cover his face.

At 1:00 a.m., the two of them didn't sleep and came to see Hayden, which was really interesting.

Seeing Hayden lying down, Elliot immediately pulled Rebecca out of the room.

"Elliot, I had a nightmare, so I came to see Hayden..." Rebecca explained.

Elliot closed the door of the guest room and asked, "Did Hayden tell you anything?"

"Hayden said he was going to kill my elder brother." Rebecca looked nervous,

"Elliot, can he really kill my elderbrother Cristian?"

"Don't worry, I won't let him go out." Elliot assured her.

Rebecca breathed a sigh of relief: "That's good."

Elliot patted her shoulder, "Go to sleep! I'll go in and talk to him."

After Rebecca left, Elliot opened the door of the guest room and strode forward. He saw Hayden holding the quilt and looking at him with dark and bright eyes. There was a strong hostility in those eyes.

Elliot went to the bed and sat down, and said, "I didn't betray your mother."

Chapter 1344

Hayden did not expect that he would suddenly say such a sentence.

Hayden heard about his amnesia, so after sitting up, he couldn't help but ask,

"You don't have amnesia?"

"Amnesia." Elliot looked at Hayden's face and said word by word, "I forgot me and you. What happened between my mother. But after seeing her, I have a feeling in my heart that she should be a very important person for me."

"Humph! You are not worthy of being my father at all. You're a coward who avoids problems. The most cowardly b*stard I've ever seen, and I'm not as cowardly as you." Hayden looked at his face and vented his dissatisfaction. Elliot was scolded by his son, and his heart was full of anger.

When people are impulsive, it is easy to make wrong things and decisions. Back then at the mansion in the forest, he almost strangled Hayden himself. He came to Yonroeville, was brainwashed by Kyrie, and performed amnestics, which is also considered one.

But now is not the time to turn the tables.

Elliot frowned and negotiated with Hayden, "Hayden, you go back to Aryadelle with your mother first, and when I settle the matter here, I will go back to Aryadelle to find you. Your mother doesn't listen to me at all, so you will find a way to make it happen when the time comes. She's going with you."

"She's the mother, I'm her son, how could she listen to me?" Hayden felt that this matter was too difficult, he couldn't handle it.

"You act like a spoiled brat with her." Elliot gave his son an idea.

Hayden's brows were so wrinkled that he could catch flies: "I won't be coquettish."

Elliot's deep eyes looked at Hayden's distressed face in front of him... This was the first time he had seen his son at such a close distance.

This was the first time the father and son have spoken so much.

"How are you going to kill Cristian?" Elliot pondered for a moment and asked.

Hayden: "This is my plan. Don't worry about it."

"I'm afraid you can't figure it out, maybe I can help you?" Elliot whispered.

"I can do it myself. I don't need your help." Hayden was determined and confident.

Elliot: "You can't go out next time, are you sure you can kill Cristian?"

"Just wait and see." Hayden's chin raised slightly, frivolous and arrogant.

Elliot looked at his son's high-spirited appearance and had mixed feelings in his heart.

When he was Hayden's age, he was not as good as Hayden at all.

"Since you are so good, then the matter of your mother returning to Aryadelle will be left to you." Elliot glanced at the time, "It's very late, go to bed. I'll leave when you fall asleep."

"If you don't leave, I'm not going to sleep tonight." Hayden stared at him with a look of "neuropathy".

I'm not a little kid, so I don't need parents to watch and sleep next to me, okay?"

"Then I'll go out." Elliot stood up. Before turning off the lights, he remembered something and reminded him, "Don't tell Rebecca everything in the future. After all, she is from the Jobin family."

"Then you have to let me come to hid here?"

"Okay, you can say whatever you like to her."

"Two boats with your feet." Hayden looked at his figure and jumped out word by word, "Sc*mbag!"

His Adam's apple rolled. Go away, trying to explain, but in the end nothing was said.

Although he was scolded by his son tonight, he was not angry when he calmed down.

Hayden used to treat him coldly. Now at least willing to scold him.

With age, Hayden has grown a lot.

After coming out of Hayden's room, Elliot walked towards the guest room where he slept.

He walked to the balcony and dialed Nick's number: "Nick, I want to ask you for help with something."

"Don't talk about Avery." Nick cut off his words.

"The day Cristian died, lend me your private jet."

Nick: "???"

He was stunned for a moment, and he said in a loud voice, "When will Cristian die?"

Elliot: "Soon."

Chapter 1345

Nick: "What do you mean?"

"My son said soon."

Elliot didn't know Hayden's plan, but he felt that Hayden should have full confidence, "No later than the day after tomorrow. When Cristian is dead, the Jobin family will be in chaos, I want to take advantage of that time Avery and my son sent them off."

Nick sighed repeatedly: "Your son is not yet ten years old, right? Do you believe what he said?"

"Why don't you believe it?" "Let's wait until Cristian is dead." Nick sneered, "If it wasn't for Kyrie protecting him, he would have died a long time ago. By the way, do you want to go back to Aryadelle with Avery?"

"I can't go." Elliot said calmly, "Now the relationship with the Jobin family is too deep, even if I go back to Aryadelle, Kyrie will go to Aryadelle to trouble me."

Nick laughed: "Very good, early. Time to reshuffle."

...

At 7 a.m.

When Avery woke up, she was thinking of Hayden. So after hesitating for a while, she made a videocall to Hayden.

“Hayden, are you still used to living there? Did Rebecca embarrass you? Your father...” Seeing her son’s face, she immediately threw a series of questions.

“Mom, Dad doesn’t remember you.” Hayden took the phone and sat up. He was woken up by the ringing of his cell phone, so his hair was messy. But fortunately his mind was clear.

He remembered everything his Dad said to him last night.

“Did he tell you?” Avery frowned.

“Well.”

Avery was not surprised by the result. If Elliot remembered her, he couldn’t hide his inner feelings.

“Mom, when Cristian is dead, you can go back to Aryadelle with me.” Hayden remembered what Elliot taught him last night and asked him to act like a spoiled child with Avery.

He knew how to act like a spoiled child, after all, Layla likes to act like a spoiled child. But he couldn’t get it out.

“What did he say to you last night?” Avery was particularly curious about the conversation between the father and son, “You didn’t talk to him before, why did you talk to him last night?” Hayden’s

His cheeks were slightly red: “It’s all about Amnesia. I didn’t take him as the old Elliot.”

Avery: “He just forgot me, he didn’t forget you and your younger siblings.”

“Well...I scolded him. I thought he would be very angry, but he was not angry.” Hayden said.

“You scold him, what is his reaction?” Avery asked curiously.

“He didn’t respond. When he asked me to go back to Aryadelle, he would take you home with him.” He said this, speaking more slowly, “Mom, you will go back with me when the time comes, and he said that he will wait until the matter on his side is finished. I will go back to find you.”

Avery hesitated for a while, then nodded: “Okay, mom will go back with you.”

During this time, she tried every means, but couldn’t make Elliot remember her. She continued to stay here, with no use other than torturing each other.

Time flies, it’s night.

Cristian has not gone out for two days. The countdown to death was still on the screen of his new phone.

There were eight hours left until his death. Inside and outside the villa, everything was normal.

Cristian wanted to see who would come to take his life tonight.

“Dad! Drink water!” A cute little girl, holding a glass of water, swayed to Cristian.

Cristian looked at his daughter’s cute little face and immediately took the water glass.

Chapter 1346

When he was holding a water glass to drink water, he kept his mind.

“Baby, why did you suddenly bring water to Dad?”

If it was usual, he would never be suspicious of what his daughter gave him.

But he really couldn’t forget the death countdown on his phone screen. He wanted to keep his eyes open until 3 a.m. to see who will kill him in the end.

If he didn’t die at 3:00 in the morning, it means that the hacker was a trickster who was pretending to be a ghost.

Oh, if he didn't die at 3:00 in the morning, it would prove that the hacker was Elliot's son Hayden.

Hayden is not yet ten years old. Although Hayden is very powerful and can hack into his cell phone, with Hayden's ability, he can only hack into his own cell phone.

If he wanted to kill him, Hayden was still a little tender.

Cristian's daughter blinked her round eyes: "The teacher said that I will bring water to my parents... I want to shoot a video and send it to the teacher."

Cristian noticed that his wife was standing not far away with a mobile phone and was filming.

"So it is!" Cristian laughed.

His daughter is in kindergarten, and the teacher assigns various homework assignments every week.

When Cristian was not at home, his wife and daughter completed it.

Cristian blushed when he thought that he suspected that his wife and daughter would frame him.

He drank the water from the water glass in one gulp, and then handed the empty water glass to his daughter.

"My dear, will Dad stay with you more in the future?" The daughter took the water glass and nodded with a smile.

After taking the video, Cristian's wife walked over to her daughter and said, "Baby, give Dad a kiss."

The daughter was stunned for a moment, then obediently walked up to Cristian and kissed him on the cheek.

"Husband, when are you taking a bath? Do you want to go and get you a bath now?" the wife asked.

“I won’t take a bath first. Take your daughter to take a bath.” Cristian said, and continued, “You and your daughter go to bed after taking a bath, don’t wait for me.”

The wife’s face was solemn: “Husband, I know What are you waiting for? When I put my daughter to sleep, I’ll wait with you.”

“No! I’ll wait until 3:00 in the morning at most.” Cristian had an attitude of ‘I’m not afraid of anything’. I’ll be fine.”

“That was a hacker’s prank. You don’t have to worry about it.”

“Well. Take your daughter to take a bath first. I’ll watch TV for a while.” Start the remote control and turn the TV on.

Like Cristian didn’t sleep and was waiting for 3:00 in the morning.

Hayden did not play on the computer. He lay in bed, waiting to return home with his mother. He doesn’t like this place.

Every minute and every second here makes him upset and disgusted.

Rebecca is completely different from Chelsea or Zoe who appeared beside Elliot before.

Rebecca is the youngest, and her childishness is superficial.

Unlike Chelsea and Zoe, they belong to women who look very powerful at first glance.

And it is this kind of woman who doesn’t seem to have any lethal power, and is often the most able to seduce men’s hearts.

If he and his mother go back to Aryadelle, but Elliot stays with Rebecca in Yonroeville, his mother will definitely be sad.

But long-term pain is worse than short-term pain. If Elliot really fell in love with Rebecca, such a sc*mbag, mother would not want it.

Time passed minute by minute, and soon the hour hand pointed to 3 a.m.

Hayden immediately sat up from the bed and turned on the bedside lamp.

In the living room on the second floor, Elliot was sitting on the sofa, not sleepy.

According to Hayden, Cristian will die today.

He was waiting for the news of Cristian's death. He glanced at the time display on his phone, it was already 3:15 in the morning.

Chapter 1347

He got up from the sofa and planned to go back to his room to rest.

In a few hours, it will be time for him to negotiate with the second brother and the fourth brother on behalf of Kyrie.

Whether Cristian died or not, today was destined to be an unusual day.

Just as his grandfather grabbed the door handle of the guest room, Hayden's door opened.

He heard the voice and looked towards Hayden's room – the father and son looked at each other, and even if they didn't say anything, they could know what the other was thinking.

Hayden didn't expect that Elliot would be like him, waiting until now. It seems that Elliot trusts his plan very much. And Elliot saw the result of this plan on Hayden's face.

"Cristian is dead." Hayden opened his mouth and told the result.

Elliot immediately turned on the phone, there was no incoming call or message on the screen.

"Are you sure?" Elliot asked, his Adam's apple rolling.

"You question me?" Hayden said coldly.

"You murdered with a knife?" Elliot lost all sleep and strode to Hayden, "How did you do it?"

Hayden has already avenged his mother, so it doesn't matter if he plans to say it. "I found out that his wife and the nanny had an affair. If they don't kill Cristian, they will die."

Elliot understood immediately.

Kyrie sent numerous bodyguards to protect Cristian outside Cristian's villa. Unexpectedly, the person closest to Cristian was the one who killed Cristian in the end.

"Go back to your room to rest first." Elliot glanced at his phone, but there was still no bad news from Cristian.

An ominous omen suddenly rose in his heart.

When Hayden entered the room, he said again: "Have you packed your luggage?"

"I'll pack it now." Elliot said, "Well. I'll go see if Rebecca has received any news."

After speaking, He strode towards the master bedroom. The door to the master bedroom opened, and it was pitch black inside.

He doesn't need to ask, He also knows that Rebecca has not received the news of Cristian's death.

Cristian was dead, and Kyrie's bodyguard would definitely inform him immediately.

-Why did Kyrie not inform him of his death?

==How is Kyrie feeling now, and what is he planning?

Just when he was about to exit the master bedroom, Rebecca suddenly woke up.

"Elliot? Is that you?" Rebecca turned on the light as she spoke.

Elliot's face was gloomy: "Your brother is dead."

Rebecca's eyes were filled with two lines of tears: "How did he die? It's your son..."

"My son was in the room and didn't go anywhere." Elliot defended Hayden, "It wasn't him who did it. This matter has nothing to do with him."

Rebecca nodded while weeping. She quickly picked up the phone, but her father did not call her to notify.

"Did my dad call you and say that?" Rebecca hurriedly got out of bed.

"No." Elliot said inexplicably, "your dad didn't say anything. I suspect your dad will do something next."

"Since my dad didn't call you, how did you know that my eldest brother is dead?" Rebecca Walked up to him and wanted to know the truth.

But Elliot's indifferent expression said it all.

"I'll go see my eldest brother." Rebecca strode to the closet, planning to change clothes and go out.

Elliot: "If you go there without authorization, how do you explain that you knew about your elder brother's death in advance? You go back to bed immediately and lie down. I'll ask the driver to go outside to check the situation."

Rebecca swallowed tears in her stomach. She put down the clothes she took out, walked to the bed, and lay down: "Elliot, if my eldest brother dies, my dad will be crazy."

Chapter 1348

Elliot didn't answer her words. He exited the master bedroom and called the driver. Ask the driver to drive out now and see what's going on.

In this park, there was a main road, which could pass through the villas of Kyrie and Cristian.

“By the way, let’s take a look at the situation at Kyrie’s house.”

The driver: “Okay, Mr. Foster.”

The nanny, driver and bodyguard of this family are all on Rebecca’s side. And Rebecca is facing Elliot.

“If someone in the park stops the car and asks what you are doing out so late, you can say that Miss Rebecca asked you to go out to buy supper.”

The driver: “Okay!”

After talking to the driver, Elliot went downstairs. He did not turn on the headlights in the living room on the first floor.

He wanted to know the situation of Kyrie, presumably, Kyrie was also watching him secretly now.

Cristian’s death was undoubtedly a huge blow to Kyrie.

Kyrie had a total of four children, three sons and one daughter, and now all three sons are dead. So Rebecca said that Kyrie would go crazy.

It wasn’t that Elliot wasn’t afraid, but it was over, and it was useless to be afraid.

No matter what kind of madness Kyrie goes, he must ensure Hayden’s safety.

After some time, the driver drove the car back to the front yard.

The headlights flashed in front of Elliot’s eyes, and he got up immediately.

After a while, the driver came to him: “Mr. Foster, the park is blocked. Don’t let me go out. I said to buy food for Miss Rebecca, but it’s not OK.”

“Kyrie’s villa and Cristian’s villa...”

The driver said. “Both villas are brightly lit. It looks like something has happened. The eldest young master’s yard is full of bodyguards. There seems to be crying...”

Elliot’s eyes drooped slightly. He began to think about countermeasures.

After Cristian died, Kyrie blocked the way out of the park for the first time.

This move was really cruel.

“Do you know there are other exits in the park?” Elliot can be trapped here, but Hayden can’t! He must send Hayden out safely.

The driver shook his head: “Mr. Foster, even if there are other exits in the park, there must be bodyguards now. Are you going out?”

Elliot waved his hand: “Go and rest!”

The driver: “Okay.”

The driver left Afterwards, Rebecca walked downstairs. The tears were wiped from her face, but she looked very sad.

“Elliot, my dad just called me. He said that the eldest brother was killed by the nanny. The nanny actually killed my brother.” Rebecca held the phone in her hand, and when she opened her mouth, tears couldn’t help falling.

Elliot walked up to her and said, “I’ll accompany you to see it now.”

“Okay.”

When Elliot stepped out of the villa, he glanced upstairs. He must now meet with Kyrie to see when the park exit will open.

Cristian’s house.

Chapter 1349

The two bodies were covered with white cloth, and beside them, there were people in black kneeling.

Elliot’s eyes fell on the two corpses.

One belongs to Cristian, and the other should belong to the nanny.

Kyrie sat on the sofa next to him, smoking a cigarette.

The smoke lingered, and the expression on his face could not be seen clearly.

Rebecca squatted down and glanced at the two corpses, then squatted beside Cristian's corpse and cried aloud: "Brother... I don't want you to die! What will happen to my father and me if you die? Big brother, Wake up!"

Rebecca's sadness was not faked. Even though she was now Elliot's wife, her 20-year relationship with her eldest brother was also true.

Even if eldest brother's bullet hit her, the first thing she thought of was not to ruin the relationship between eldest brother and Elliot.

Elliot walked up to Kyrie, and before he could speak, Kyrie handed a data card to him.

"Look." Kyrie narrowed his eagle eyes and exhaled a thick ring of smoke.

Elliot took the information card and saw Hayden's registration photo at a glance.

This is the fake identity information Hayden used to come to Yonroeville. The information is fake, but the avatar is real.

"Does this kid look a lot like your son?" Seeing that Elliot didn't speak, Kyrie sneered, "I heard that your son is a computer expert and the number one in the genius class of Central University?"

Elliot put down the data card and said, "This matter has nothing to do with my son. It doesn't matter. He is just a child under ten years old..."

"Although he is under ten years old, his lethality is very powerful." Kyrie put Cristian's mobile phone, press the power button, the death countdown above is gone, and now the screen is: gameover.

Game over!

For Hayden, the game is over.

But for Kyrie, this game has just begun.

“I’m old, but I’m not old enough to be useless.” Kyrie’s voice was very desolate, although there was no ups and downs, it contained great power, “If you accompany Rebecca here, you are not afraid of me Your son caught it?” Elliot’s heart clenched suddenly. The thing he was most afraid of had happened.

“Let’s follow the rules of the road.” Kyrie smashed the cigar between his fingers into the ashtray, and exhaled the last puff of smoke, “Use your son’s life for my son’s life.”

“No!” Elliot clenched his fingers and shouted loudly, “Let my son leave, and I will listen to you in the future.”

“Hahahahaha!” Kyrie laughed wildly, suddenly roared, “Kneel down in front of me.”

After Elliot breathed a sigh of relief, he knelt down in front of Kyrie and also in front of everyone.

In the next second, Kyrie kicked Elliot away.

“How the h-e-l-l do you dare? You even dare to move my son? Do you really think I dare not kill you?” Kyrie’s eyes were scarlet, he picked up the ashtray on the coffee table and smashed it in Elliot’s direction !

Rebecca immediately rushed over and blocked his father’s attack for him.

“Dad...Dad, It’s not what Elliot did.”

“What’s the difference between what his son did and what he did?” Kyrie looked at the blood spilling from the corner of his daughter’s mouth. His fists were clenched, and his body couldn’t stop shaking, “I shouldn’t have married you to him. He has no ambition to swallow everything from me. He can kill your elder brother now, and the next step is to kill me.”

"No dad! I won't let him do this." Rebecca knelt in front of his father and hugged his father's leg, "Dad, please let Elliot go. I can guarantee that he didn't want to kill the big brother."

Kyrie looked at her daughter's tearful face, her heart seemed to be split into pieces.

"Kyrie, let my son go." Elliot looked directly at Kyrie's angry face, "I'll pay for his mistakes."

Kyrie As if hearing a joke, the corners of his mouth twitched, "He owes me a son, do you pay me back? Unless you never leave Yonroeville in your life, stay here forever, and be the dog of my Jobin family."

"Yes." Elliot agreed to his request without hesitation, "as long as you let Avery and my son left together..."

"Hehe! Your life can only be redeemed for one person." Kyrie walked in front of him, crouched down, and smiled wickedly, "Avery and Hayden, You can only choose one."

Chapter 1350

In the villa, after Hayden packed his luggage, he was completely drowsy. He was sitting in a chair with his schoolbag on his back, waiting for the moment to leave.

Just when he thought that Elliot would not come to him tonight, the door was opened without warning.

Elliot's face appeared in front of him.

"Have you packed everything?"

"It's been packed long ago." Hayden got down from the chair, walked up to him, and looked at him, "Can you go now?"

"Well." Elliot hesitated for a moment, and then said, "You go first tonight."

Hayden stopped, "My mother won't come with me? I told my mother, she promised to go back to Aryadelle with me."

"She can't leave for the time being." Elliot Showdown with him, "You go first. I will find a way to send her away in the future."

Hayden looked at his calm face and immediately guessed the reason.

"Did I cause you trouble by killing Cristian?"

Elliot shook his head: "If I were you, I would do the same. So, you're right."

"But my mother can't leave now... ." Hayden frowned angrily.

"I'll find a way to send her away." Elliot grabbed his arm and led him downstairs, "After you return to Aryadelle, don't come back. It's easier to save one person than two."

Hayden lowered his head, No answer.

Although Elliot didn't blame him for being too impulsive, Elliot's words were very clear.

Hayden was able to leave tonight, and it was Elliot who saved him. It was refreshing to avenge his mother, but he lacked thought to leave this mess.

Hayden solemnly confessed to Elliot before getting into the car and leaving, "You must protect my mother and. If something happens to my mother, I will teach you a lesson."

This was the first time Hayden stared at him for a long time.

Elliot looked at his son's face with a very complicated mood. Considering the critical situation at the moment, he closed the door immediately.

Nick was waiting outside the park.

Elliot entrusted Nick to help send Hayden back to Aryadelle, and Nick agreed.

...

The night passed and the sun rose as usual.

Avery stretched her back and opened her eyes. The golden sunlight outside the window shines in through the curtains.

She got out of bed immediately, pulled the curtains back, and opened the window to let in the air.

Suddenly, something came to her mind, and she immediately walked to the bedside and picked up her phone.

Several pieces of messages popped up –

Elliot: [Hayden has returned home safely. You stay in the hotel for now and don't move. I'll try to get you out as soon as possible.]

Bodyguard: [Boss, Cristian is dead. He is really dead. Your son is so awesome.]

Elliot's message was sent just after 3:00 in the morning, and the bodyguard's message was just sent.

The hand she held the phone trembled slightly.

She wanted to call Elliot to ask what happened last night. How did Cristian die, whether Hayden was injured, etc...

But thinking that Cristian was dead, he must be with Rebecca and Kyrie now, preparing for Cristian's funeral, so she dialed the number to the bodyguard.

"Boss, Cristian is dead. It's really heartwarming." The bodyguard said excitedly.

"I know. Hayden has already been sent back to Aryadelle. Originally, Elliot asked me to return to Aryadelle with Hayden, but now he only sent Hayden away alone. Does that mean that I can't leave now?" Avery paced around the room.

It's not that she is in a hurry to leave here, but she guesses that something terrible happened last night.

The bodyguard froze for a moment: "I don't know. I'm having breakfast in the restaurant now. I'll bring you what you want to eat."

Chapter 1351

Avery has no appetite, but next, there is still a long battle to fight:

"Sandwiches and milk."

"Why do you eat this every day?" The bodyguard complained.

"Then you can bring some." After talking on the phone, Avery went to the bathroom to wash up.

By the time the bodyguard brought her breakfast, she had already changed.

Xander came with the bodyguard.

"Close the door." Avery said.

After Xander closed the door, the three sat together and began to express their views on what happened last night.

"I feel that things may be a little serious, otherwise, you two should go first."

Avery put forward her own thoughts while eating breakfast, "I don't want to involve you."

The bodyguard and Xander looked at each other, and the bodyguard answered, "If you leave a patient here at this time, are we still men?"

Xander: "Since you choose to let me operate on you, I will definitely leave here with you."

Avery listened to them, She replied, "I just sent a message to Elliot, but he hasn't replied to me yet. I'm so moved that I can't eat it. While the Jobin family is busy preparing for the funeral, you two should leave quickly!"

The bodyguard leaned on the sofa, and said, "I'm not leaving. What danger can you have? Now Kyrie's last son has also been killed, and he has only one daughter left. This daughter is also married to Elliot, which means that the entire Jobin family is Elliot's in the end. "

Xander bumped the bodyguard's body with his elbow, telling him not to lift the pot without opening it.

"Do you think Elliot will stay here and live with Rebecca?" Avery lost her appetite.

The bodyguard immediately explained: "Of course I didn't mean that. I just told you not to worry... As long as Elliot is still in the Jobin family, he will definitely find a way to protect you."

Avery: "He doesn't remember me."

The bodyguard: "But he knows that you are the mother of his child!"

Xander glanced at the two of them and said, "Don't argue. There's nothing to quarrel about. We'll just wait and see."

Avery took a bite of the sandwich.

The bodyguard complained that she eats sandwiches for breakfast every day, but brought her sandwiches anyway.

Mainly because she was afraid to bring other breakfasts, she didn't like them.

Jobin family.

After Cristian's body was sorted out, it was placed in an ice coffin for preservation.

Kyrie asked the master to calculate the best time for burial, and the master said that the day after tomorrow is the best.

So the funeral will be held the day after tomorrow.

Kyrie came after the incident at 3:00 in the morning, and has not slept until now. After all, he was getting old, and his body couldn't take it any longer. He was supported by bodyguards and went back to rest.

Elliot and Rebecca entertained the guests of condolences at Cristian's house.

Originally scheduled to meet the second brother and the fourth brother at the hotel this morning, it was changed to meet here.

When the two heard the news of Cristian's death, they were very happy.

Cristian should have died a long time ago. If it wasn't for Kyrie who has been protecting this son, Cristian would have died many times.

"Listen to the third brother that your son did this." The second and fourth took Elliot into the room to chat alone.

Elliot: "That's right."

"What conditions did you agree to Kyrie?" The fourth brother smoked a cigarette, breathing heavily, "Let me guess, did he ask you to stay in Yonroeville in the future and be a role model for him?"

Elliot responded, and with his slender fingers, he took a cigarette from the fourth brother's cigarette case.

Elliot didn't sleep all night, but he wasn't sleepy, but he just didn't know how to send Avery away.

"Kyrie is so wary, he must have made more than just this request to you, right?" The second brother narrowed his fox eyes and said slowly.

Elliot's smoke between his fingers trembled slightly: "He asked me to let Rebecca conceive a child within a year."

Chapter 1352

It's not just Elliot's verbal promise to want Elliot to stay in Yonroeville.

Kyrie is not only selfish, but also very defensive.

The way to turn Elliot into one's own, besides making him his son-in-law, it's best to keep his roots here.

Roots are his descendants.

If Elliot had children in Yonroeville, he wouldn't think about going back to Aryadelle.

"After Cristian's funeral, let's go outside and talk." The fourth elder glanced around and whispered, "In short, your son has done something that none of us have been able to do, and your son will have great prospects in the future"

"Cristian asked for it by himself." Elliot shook the cigarette ashes into the ashtray, "If Cristian hadn't bullied Avery, this would never have happened."

"That's because your son has something to offer. My son is five years older than your son. Now he only play games every day, and I have a headache when I see it. How did your son educate so well?"

The topic suddenly became the exchange of parenting experience.

"I thought you all knew that Hayden was not brought up by me." Elliot only witnessed Robert's birth.

He doesn't know if Robert will be able to solve the problem here on his first birthday.

"Didn't he come back to you when he was four or five years old?"

Elliot said, "He has been living with Avery. I rarely care about him. Mike cares more about him."

"Tsk, you obviously remember everything. Ah!"

Elliot opened his thin lips lightly, "Except Avery, I remember everyone else.

Because of this, I don't think Avery is the bad woman Kyrie said."

"Hahahaha! If Avery is a bad woman, you won't have a first child with her and a second child. You're not a fool." The second brother laughed, "But you did spoil Avery too much before, you seemed a little brainless. It's just a woman, there's no need to catch up with yourself. business!"

"Yeah." Elliot came to Yonroeville this time, and he felt a lot and learned a lot.

A momentary act of anger may be able to vent the unhappiness in his heart, but after the self-willingness is over, life must continue. Only with absolute power and wealth can he protect himself and his loved ones.

In the afternoon, Avery asked Xander to go out for a walk.

Hayden has left Yonroeville safely, which is one of her worries.

Avery smiled bitterly, "I dreamed that Hayden was captured by Cristian every night these few days. Fortunately, there was no danger."

Xander sincerely praised, "Your son has refreshed my understanding of children. You are still so young, and you have such great abilities. In the future, even if you don't find a husband, you can rely on your son for the rest of your life."

Avery frowned, "I'm a little worried that he will go astray in the future. He has a good personality. Elliot is too similar. When something happens, he is more aggressive. If Elliot hadn't been here, he probably wouldn't have been able to leave Yonroeville smoothly."

This time Hayden came here secretly without telling everyone. At such a young age, he already has his own opinions and the ability to implement plans independently.

But his age is here after all, and his mind is not mature enough.

"Elliot hasn't replied to your news yet?"

Avery said, "No. It is estimated that he will not reply to my news before the funeral. Kyrie has been staring at him, and now that Cristian is dead. Kyrie must be staring at him. Keep an eye on it."

Xander comforted, "Don't think so much, wait for him to contact you. It's really not good, I can do the surgery for you first."

Avery shook her head: "Kyrie doesn't let Hayden leave the country so easily, he must have made unreasonable demands on Elliot. This is what I am most afraid of. Often what I am most afraid of will come.”

“No matter what Elliot agrees to Kyrie’s request, at least your son is safe now. This is the best outcome. otherwise you wouldn’t be in the mood to ask me out for a walk.” Xander continued to comfort Avery.

Chapter 1353

Avery nodded.

“Avery, if you have the opportunity to leave here now, would you like to leave?” Xander raised his head slightly and glanced at the birds flying freely in the sky.

Avery followed his line of sight, glanced at the sky, and said cautiously: “I didn’t take it seriously when everyone told me that this place is dangerous. But now I find that it’s really dangerous here, and it can really kill people. My own life can gamble as you please, but I can’t implicate others.”

Avery called Xander and the bodyguard, so she wanted to take them both out of here.

If there is a chance to leave now, Avery will not hesitate any longer.

Xander said, “You can’t just gamble with your own life. Let’s find a way together and we will definitely be able to get out of here.”

“Well.”

There are fewer people on the street than usual today. Unspeakable depression.

“Do you think someone is secretly stalking me?” Avery suddenly looked around suspiciously.

The bodyguard who followed behind them said, “Boss, even if Kyrie wants to control you, just block you at the airport. If you want to leave Yonroeville, you can only go to the airport!"

....

In the evening, after Xander returned to his room, he turned on his mobile phone and found Rebecca's number.

After hesitating, he dialed the number. Rebecca said that if he had anything, he could call her.

At this time, Rebecca was resting in the bedroom. She lasted from 3:00 in the morning to noon. After that, her body couldn't hold it anymore, so she came back to rest.

Xander's phone call brought her back to reality from a nightmare.

Rebecca answered the phone and rubbed her aching temples.

"Rebecca, I'm Xander. I heard that your eldest brother passed away." Xander said politely.

"What are you looking for from me?" Rebecca had a heavy nasal voice and her voice became hoarse.

"I want to take Avery out of here, is there any way you can help us?" Xander made his request.

Rebecca sneered: "I begged you to leave a few days ago, but you won't leave. Now my elder brother is dead, and my dad is mad. You want to leave at this time but there is no door to escape."

Xander calmly reminded, "Avery continues to stay in. It's not good for her here. If Elliot recovers his memory, he will definitely find a way to escape with Avery. If he doesn't recover his memory, he will fall in love with her again."

"I don't care about his heart. Whoever loves him is fine as long as he is my husband. He has promised my father that he will never leave Yonroeville in his life." Rebecca had trouble sleeping, had a splitting headache, and naturally couldn't speak. "Also, he also promised. My father, will have a child with me this year. When I have Elliot's child, he will naturally stay by my side!"

Rebecca's words made Xander stunned.

"Is Elliot agreed?"

"Can he not agree? If he doesn't agree, how did Hayden leave the country? I don't care whether he is willing or not, he will have a child with me anyway."

Rebecca is not afraid of anything now.

The eldest brother died, and she was the only child left in the Jobin family.

In the future, everything about her father will belong to her and Elliot.

"Oh... well." Xander was in a complicated mood, not knowing what to say.

If Avery knew what Rebecca said, she would be saddened.

Moreover, Xander hadn't told Avery yet that she had a baby in her womb.

Chapter 1354

The reason why Xander didn't tell her is that she was afraid that she would have the idea of giving birth to a child.

This idea cannot exist.

Because this child must not be born.

If Avery were to have the baby, she would have to delay brain surgery until nine months later. Nine months later, it's unknown what the tumor in her brain would look like.

Maybe Avery didn't survive nine months at all. Of course, if she's lucky, she might be able to survive nine months before giving birth to a child before undergoing brain surgery.

But the chances of this success are low.

He was afraid that Avery would bet on the odds.

In his opinion, if she insists on giving birth to this child, there are only two possibilities in the end.

The first possibility is that the child is born and she dies. The second possibility is one corpse and two lives.

So Xander couldn't tell her the news anyway for her life.

For the past two days, Xander has been thinking about how to kill the child in her stomach without knowing it. But he didn't think of a good way.

After all, Avery is not an ordinary woman. She is a medical genius, not easy to fool. Fortunately, Avery is just pregnant now, and he still has enough time to figure out a way.

At the same moment, Avery received a call from Hayden in the room.

After Hayden returned to Aryadelle, because of the time difference, he didn't call his mom to report her safety as soon as possible.

Avery didn't blame Hayden for being too reckless, because Hayden did everything for her.

If Cristian hadn't kidnapped her and insulted her that night, Hayden would never have killed Cristian.

"It's time for you to go to Bridgedale. Don't delay your studies because of your parents." Avery said earnestly, "I'll leave Yonroeville when there is a chance. You don't have to worry about me too much."

"I'll take Gwen with me. Let's go to Bridgedale together." Hayden told her his plan.

"Why?" Avery was puzzled. "Why did you take her to Bridgedale?"

Hayden explained, "She stays in Aryadelle, and no one cares about her. Ben Schaffer despised her. That's why her baby was killed by Ben Schaffer's friend. I have to miscarry. I don't like Ben Schaffer, and I want him to regret it."

Avery sweated on her forehead: "Your uncle Schaffer grew up in a different environment than your aunt, so your personality may not be suitable. It doesn't mean that Ben Schaffer really hates your aunt. Besides, your aunt has a miscarriage, and your uncle Schaffer is also very sad. It's just that he didn't tell you."

After Gwen's miscarriage, Ben Schaffer sent Avery several messages to express his apology. He said that he wanted to apologize to Gwen, but Gwen deleted him and refused to see him.

In order to avoid causing a psychological burden to Gwen, Ben Schaffer did not go to her again.

Avery felt that Ben Schaffer would not act, and Ben Schaffer must really want this child.

It's just that for a child of Hayden's age, the world is black and white, just like he always thought that Elliot was an unforgivable villain.

"Gwen has promised to go to Bridgedale with me." Hayden told her the result.

"Oh, she goes to Bridgedale with you, then what? Can you convince her to go to school like you?" If so, Avery is very supportive.

"She doesn't like going to school, she wants to be a model." Hayden told her his deeper plan, "I will directly open a company for her in Bridgedale and ask a professional agent to take her and make her a supermodel."

Avery was taken aback for a moment.

Hayden added, "I will pay for all the expenses."

Avery: "Since the two of you have discussed it, let's do it. If you don't have enough money, tell me."

Although this plan feels a bit bold, it is better than Hayden sneaking to Yonroeville. As long as it can be solved within the scope of ability, it is not a big deal.

Chapter 1355

Hayden changed the topic, "Mom, Layla is angry. She thought I would bring you back, but she found out that you didn't come back, so she ignored me."

Avery was in pain: "We called Video!"

Hayden said, "She won't."

Avery urged, "Then I'll call her again tomorrow. Don't tell her everything here. I'm afraid she will be worried."

Hayden said, "Mom, Elliot was beaten."

Avery was stunned.

Hayden continued, "I saw footprints on his clothes, so he must have been beaten by Kyrie. I don't hate Elliot anymore when he strangled my neck before."

Avery had mixed feelings, "I don't know whether to be happy that the father and son are finally separated, or to be uncomfortable with Elliot's current situation."

"Mom, when can you come back? Did he say anything?" Hayden saw that his mother had not spoken, so he continued to ask.

"I don't know. Cristian's funeral is the day after tomorrow. He probably won't be free until the funeral is over." Avery changed the topic lightly, "After you and Gwen arrive in Bridgedale, let me know. Also, Gwen's eldest brother is also in Bridgedale. I don't know much about her eldest brother, so you should pay attention."

"Got it." Hayden didn't take Zion seriously at all.

....

Time turned, and it was the day of Cristian's funeral.

The Jobin family was a well-known consortium in Yonroeville, so Cristian's funeral was broadcast live on TV.

The weather was overcast today with a drizzle in the sky.

Avery could have watched the live broadcast at the hotel, but she still decided to go to the scene.

What if she can see Elliot?

She wanted to know too much what price Elliot paid to send Hayden out of here.

With Kyrie's temper, it was certainly not enough to beat him to relieve his anger.

Because Cristian was the only son of the Jobin family.

She changed into a blue dress, and after taking the elevator to the first floor of the hotel, she went to the hotel store to buy a black umbrella.

She didn't tell the bodyguard and Xander that she would go to the scene to watch Cristian's funeral.

Everyone from the Jobin family went to see Cristian today, and no one would notice her.

Avery walked into the rain with an umbrella, and the cool breeze was blowing, alleviating her inner anxiety.

The memorial service was set up at the JJ Hotel.

The road in front of the hotel is subject to traffic control, and ordinary vehicles are not allowed to pass.

Avery took a taxi to the vicinity of the hotel, and looked at the door of the hotel. She was afraid that it would be difficult to see Elliot. She stretched her neck and looked far into the distance, falling into the eyes of Nick who came to mourn.

Nick asked the driver to stop the car, and then he dialed Avery's number.

Nick teased, "Are you here to see Elliot? How can you see it when you are so far apart? Come over and I'll take you in."

Avery looked around and saw the luxury cars parked on the road ahead here, she saw Nick.

Nick's bodyguard pushed the crowd aside, strode to Avery, and invited her into Nick's car.

"Nick, thank you. I won't go into the hotel, just let me have a look outside the hotel door." She said gratefully after taking her seat.

"I definitely won't take you to the hotel. If Kyrie gets angry and kills you with a gun, how can I tell Elliot?" Nick laughed, "You want to watch the fun, why not? Come early? Look at the people standing in front with their cameras, they were here from last night."

Avery lowered her eyes: "I decided to come here on the spur of the moment. My son told me that Elliot was beaten the night before."

Chapter 1356

Nick grinned, "Oh, are you distressed? What's a beating? Even if he gets a knife and a bullet, he doesn't necessarily take it to heart."

Avery frowned: "Nick, Elliot is not the same as you."

Nick interrupted her: "This is Yonroeville. Don't mention the past, including his case in Aryadelle, it's already over."

Avery's brows tightened: "Elliot will go back to Aryadelle. He said that he will go back when the matter here is resolved."

Nick: "When did he tell you?"

Avery: "A few days ago!"

Nick sneered, "The night Cristian died, he promised Kyrie that he would never leave Yonroeville again.”

Avery’s expression changed. She was pale, and her eyes were no longer bright.

“I can’t stand it anymore?” Nick didn’t mean to make Avery feel uncomfortable. But sooner or later Avery would know about it.

It was better for Nick to tell her now than when Elliot told her personally, but she was completely unprepared.

“There are more things that you can’t bear, do you want to hear it?” Nick shoved the tissue box into her hand, “If you want to cry, just cry quickly, so as not to get out of the car and cry later, it will be ugly.”

Nick’s voice was settled, and Avery’s tears suddenly fell.

“What’s more unbearable? You say it!” Avery wiped the tears from her face with a tissue and asked while looking at him.

Nick softened. He didn’t want to talk. If he said it, Avery couldn’t cry and burst into tears?

Nick: “Why don’t you ask Elliot? He’s done tonight, so he’ll be free.”

“You tell me now.” Avery squeezed the tissue tightly, her tone was firm, and her eyes were firmer, “Don’t worry, I’m mentally sprepared.”

“Oh... you can actually guess it. If he stays here and doesn’t leave, does that mean he has to have a child with Rebecca?” Nick raised his eyebrows, “If Rebecca gave birth to his child, would Elliot be more inseparable from here? After seeing him today, you can basically give up on him.”

Avery collapsed suddenly, and her tears fell like a flood.

Nick: “Are you mentally prepared?”

Avery cried like this. how could she get out of the car?

Nick can’t get out of the car by himself, So let the driver tow her away.

Nick coughed, "Don't cry, I'm going to get out of the car. If you don't get out of the car, I'll ask the driver to take you to the parking lot."

Avery stopped crying abruptly, but her tears remained fall down.

Holding the tissue box, she opened the car door with one hand, intending to get out of the car.

"Hey! You don't have to be so desperate." Nick stopped her before getting out of the car, "If Kyrie dies, the promise between them can be overturned. But it's not that simple to kill Kyrie. That's it."

Avery took a deep breath and got out of the car. The rain was heavier than before. She opened the umbrella and walked behind the crowd.

In this way, it is convenient for her to see Elliot without being discovered by the Jobin family.

Avery felt like someone had pressed the pause button. She was still breathing and thinking, but she couldn't move.

Elliot wanted to have a child with Rebecca and wanted to settle here permanently.

This was the last thing she wanted to see.

If Avery was in Aryadelle, she could still think of a way, but this was Kyrie's territory, and she couldn't do anything.

She even thought pessimistically, maybe after meeting Elliot today, the two of them will never meet again in the future.

Chapter 1357

Once Avery leaves here, perhaps Kyrie will not allow her to step into this land again in the future.

After a while, a coffin was carried out by relatives and friends of the Jobin family.

She saw Elliot's stalwart figure.

Elliot seems to have become a member of the Jobin family now.

Otherwise, why did Kyrie let him help Cristian to help the spirit?

Soon, a group of people got on the funeral car that transported the coffin.

Countless luxury cars vanished from the sight.

Holding her umbrella, Avery followed the crowd and left quietly. She didn't take a taxi, and strolled leisurely all the way back to the hotel.

The bodyguard and Xander were drinking tea in the lobby on the first floor of the hotel, and they were startled when they saw Avery walking in from outside.

They both thought Avery was resting in the hotel room.

"Boss!" The bodyguard yelled at her.

She was stunned for a moment, but she didn't react. She walked towards the elevator out of inertia.

Seeing that something was wrong with her, Xander strode over and held her back.

"What's wrong with you? You're out of your mind, you shouldn't go to the scene to watch Cristian's funeral, right?"

Avery then came back to her senses, "Well, why are you here?"

"Why didn't you tell us when you went out? Xander took her to the sofa in the hall and sat down, "What if you are in danger?"

"No one will pay attention to me today." Avery gradually became sober, but her voice was cold, "Elliot is for the sake of Send Hayden away and agree to Kyrie's conditions. Kyrie asked Elliot to have a child with Rebecca and stay here for the rest of his life."

Xander knew this for a long time, so his face was calm.

The bodyguard was stunned: "D*mn it. Then why are we staying here? Why didn't Kyrie let us go?"

Xander explained, "Probably because Elliot cared too much about Avery. To Kyrie As far as profit is concerned, Avery can handle Elliot's chess piece."

The bodyguard: "You have seen Kyrie through."

"This is a good guess, you can guess it by substituting Kyrie's identity." Xander said, frowned.

I don't know when I can get out of here.

He and the bodyguard just used the ID numbers of the three of them to try to buy tickets on the ticketing app. He and the bodyguard's ID cards can buy tickets, but Avery's ID card cannot.

At 9 p.m.

Elliot and Rebecca left the hotel after entertaining the guests. When they came out of the hotel, Kyrie took advantage of the wine and took Elliot's hand, as if threatening and reminding him that he would wait to hold his grandson next.

A granddaughter is not good, a grandson must be born.

One child is fine, two children are better, three children is not too much, if they can have four, five or six... He can set Elliot free.

There was no expression on Elliot's face from beginning to end. After he agreed to Kyrie's conditions, he seemed to be out of his body.

Rebecca knew that Elliot was reluctant, but she believed that as long as she treated him tenderly, as long as they had children, they would definitely be able to change him.

Back at the villa, Rebecca put the bath water for him and asked him to take a bath.

Elliot did not refuse.

After half an hour, Elliot strode out of the bathroom. His falcon-like eyes suddenly dimmed. He saw Rebecca in a sexy nightdress standing by the bed waiting for him.

“Elliot...my injury doesn't hurt much anymore.” Rebecca approached him affectionately and untied his nightgown, “I know you've been very tired these days. You Just lie still, and let me do the rest.”

Chapter 1358

Rebecca deduced from Avery's behavior of chasing love for thousands of miles and running to Yonroeville to find Elliot that Elliot might like active women. And Rebecca had been too passive before. So tonight she has to take the initiative. Unexpectedly, Elliot lifted her hand away.

“Rebecca, I forgot to tell you something.” Elliot quickly put on the nightgown and fastened his belt, “I have a problem with that.”

Rebecca was stunned. She suspected that she had heard it wrong, and she frowned.

He discussed this issue with the nanny before, and the nanny said that he could have three children with Avery, and after that there must be problem in that respect.

Rebecca blushed in embarrassment, and withdrew her little hand at a loss:

“Then you used to...”

“It used to be before, and now is now. Once a man turns 30, his physical strength will not be as good as before.” Elliot Seriously admitting that he has a problem, “My problem is more serious than that of ordinary men. I can't tell the world about this kind of thing, and I hope you don't say it. You can have children with other men. I will put yours at that time. The child treats it as if it were her own.”

Rebecca was completely stunned. She shook her head instinctively after being stunned for a moment.

“If you don’t want to find it yourself, I can help you find it.” Elliot looked down at her and discussed with her, “How about my bodyguard? Although he is your father’s bodyguard. He is very smart. If you find him, he will save a lot of trouble, and your father won’t bother us again and again about having children.”

Rebecca was stunned. She looked pale and said unwillingly: “But didn’t you have a relationship with Avery not long ago? Why can’t you?”

Elliot retorted coldly, “Who told you that I had a relationship with her? you saw it?”

Rebecca shook her head with tears in his eyes: “I didn’t see it...but I always thought you were normal, after all, you and Avery had three children...”

“That was the past. When I saw a beautiful woman like you now, my body would not react.” His fingers brushed against her pretty cheeks.

Rebecca looked down at his private part which was completely down and not responded.

Elliot suddenly retracted his finger and asked her to make a choice, “Go confess to your father, or have a baby with a bodyguard.”

Rebecca was in a particularly messy mood, and she didn’t want to choose either.

“Can I accompany you to the hospital for treatment? What if it can be cured?” she begged.

“Healing? Are you afraid that others won’t know that I have a problem?” Elliot raised his lips and retorted.

“No...I want you to be healthy...”

“I’m healthy, except for that.” Elliot confessed again that he couldn’t satisfy her.

A man wouldn't say such a thing if it wasn't really bad.

Rebecca's face turned ashen and her body went cold.

Elliot sat down beside the bed, and said, "If you want to divorce me, after a while, you can talk to your father. Now that your eldest brother just left and your father is depressed. Don't bother him with our affairs. "

Rebecca sat down beside him, expressing her attitude, "I won't divorce you.

Even if you can't do that, I won't divorce you. Elliot, let's go to bed tonight, please let me think about it again."

"Yes." Elliot raised his hand and turned off the light.

Today in the hotel during the day, Elliot saw Avery when he was sending Cristian to the funeral.

Nick told him that Avery was here. Nick also told Elliot that Avery was wearing a blue skirt today. So he glanced at the crowd and found her figure.

Although Elliot only glanced at her from a distance, he saw the tears streaming down her face.

That picture has always existed in his mind, lingering. Elliot always believed in his inner feelings. Now he understands Whoever loves him and who is using him will give correct guidance in his heart.

He already has three children and he doesn't want any more. If he can't take the responsibility of a father for his child, why give birth to a child?

So he would rather admit that he can't than give Rebecca a chance.

In the hotel.

Avery opened her eyes and looked at the ceiling in a daze.

Chapter 1359

After returning to the room from dinner, she has been in this state until now.

She kept asking herself in her heart, did she really reach a dead end? Is it really desperate?

No inner voice responded to her.

Because Avery knows better than anyone that in the current situation, she is not only unable to protect herself, let alone save her and Elliot's love.

Even if Elliot recovered his memory now and called her to say that the woman he loved the most in his life was her, it would not help.

In the face of life and death, everything seems so insignificant.

About 2:00 in the morning, when Avery was about to turn off the lights to sleep, the screen of her mobile phone suddenly lit up, and a text message came in.

Seeing the message was sent from Elliot, her heart beat violently, as if she was resurrected from a dying state.

Elliot replied to the message she sent the day before yesterday: [Wait a minute.]

After reading these words over and over several times, 10 minutes passed.

She hesitated whether to reply to him, and 10 minutes passed. Just when she made up her mind to send him a message and ask him about his next plan, half an hour passed.

–It's already 3:00 in the morning, Elliot must be asleep, right?

–Message him now, it's too late.

–Everything is too late.

–If she had told him the truth earlier, he would not have come to Yonroeville in a hurry.

–If he doesn't come to Yonroeville, he won't become Kyrie's pawn.

–Or, if she listened to him at first and left Yonroeville earlier, Hayden wouldn't sneak up to kill Cristian, and Elliot wouldn't be bound here for the rest of his life.

–Really I did a lots of wrong steps?

Her head suddenly throbbed violently. After taking a deep breath, she opened the drawer, found the painkiller and quickly put the tablet into her mouth.

Elliot asked her to wait, not knowing how long it would take.

Perhaps, Avery can do the operation here first. Regardless of whether Elliot can return to Aryadelle in the future, she will live well and raise their three children.

Painkillers work quickly. When the pain in her head subsided, she turned off the bedside light.

A few hours later, it was dawn.

At breakfast, Avery told Xander that she could have surgery first.

Xander was very excited.

“But I didn’t fall asleep last night. I have to go back to my room to catch up after having breakfast.” Avery didn’t fall asleep for a minute last night.

She was very sleepy now.

Xander said sympathetically, “Well, don’t worry. As long as you agree to the operation, you’ll be fine in a few days. I’ll go to the hospital to book a ward and an operating room for you.”

Avery: “Xander, thank you.”

“It’s not too late for you to thank me when the operation is successful.” Xander brought her a glass of warm milk and continued, “Drink the milk first, then sleep well.”

“Well.”

After breakfast, Xander went to the hospital.

Entering the hospital, he was suddenly attracted by a familiar shadow.

Why did Rebecca come to the hospital?

Xander couldn't help but follow in Rebecca's footsteps and followed her.

It was mainly because Avery was not in a hurry to be hospitalized, so he let himself gossip like this.

When he saw Rebecca walking towards the male department, Xander strode forward and stopped her: "Miss Jobin, why are you coming to the male department?"

Chapter 1360

A woman, coming to see andrology, is quite puzzling.

Rebecca winked at the accompanying bodyguard and asked the bodyguard to step back first.

Rebecca asked Xander, "Why are you in the hospital? Are you coming to see the male department?"

Xander scratched his head awkwardly: "No, I came with you."

"You followed me?" Rebecca frowned warily.

"No, you misunderstood me. I came to the hospital today for something. Didn't I tell you before that Avery and I are classmates? I'm also a doctor. I also eat dinner with the vice president of this hospital, ."

After getting his explanation, Rebecca let go of his vigilance.

"I'm not here to see a doctor, I'm here to ask some questions." Rebecca woke up this morning and found that Elliot was no longer around.

The nanny said Elliot left early.

Elliot didn't say where he was going or when he would come back.

Rebecca felt uncomfortable, so she came to the andrology department of the hospital to ask about the men's problems, whether they could be treated well, and the impact on having children.

Rebecca's actually quite shy. Her family education is very strict. Before marrying Elliot, she had no close contact with the male person.

If she wasn't forced to, she would never come to the male department.

"Consulting questions about andrology?" Xander's mouth raised a smile, "You see there are quite a few patients today, why don't you ask me first, in case I can answer your questions?"

Rebecca glanced at the male department. If she went over, there was need to line up. It's just that there were a lot of male patients queuing outside, which made her a little embarrassed.

Rebecca struggled again and again, walked out of the male department, and decided to ask Xander first. If Xander didn't understand, she would come and ask the doctor.

The two sat down in a breakfast restaurant outside the hospital.

Xander had breakfast, so he ordered a drink and Rebecca didn't order anything.

"Doctor Xander, is it true that a man can't do it after he is 30 years old?"

Rebecca asked in a low voice.

Xander choked abruptly: "No, isn't it? Why do you ask that? Who in your family is not good?"

Rebecca frowned: "Keep your voice down. Who do you think is not good in my family? Could it be my father? Even if my dad is dead, he won't tell me."

"Oh...then you mean...Elliot?" Xander didn't think about him because he should be fine.

Otherwise, Avery wouldn't be pregnant again so soon.

"Don't say it. Otherwise he will be angry." Rebecca took a deep breath, "Last night my dad asked us to have a baby quickly, so when I got home, I wanted to make out with Elliot, but he didn't have no interest on me. He said he couldn't do that.”

Poof!

Xander wiped his mouth with a tissue.

–This Elliot is very interesting.

–There is absolutely no problem with him, and he was able to refuse Rebecca.

–Rebecca looks sweet and cute, and has a good figure. Most men can't hold her when they see her.

–But when Elliot faced her, his heart was still in the water which could only show that he had other women in his heart.

Rebecca frowned, “Doctor Xander, isn't this disease incurable? Of course, no matter if it is cured or not, he doesn't intend to cure it. But my dad asked me to give him a baby.”

Xander said, “Elliot won't let you touch it? Even if it's not very good in that respect, as long as it's not a problem with sperm quality, it won't affect fertility.”

Chapter 1361

“He won't let me touch.” Rebecca lowered her eyes, “Avery can touch him, but I can't.”

“Then why don't you find a way to send us away?”

Whether you go to Aryadelle or Bridgedale, it is better than staying here.

Rebecca sneered: “Doctor Xander, I didn't expect you to follow me to beg me to help you.”

“You also know that Elliot has Avery in his heart. Only by letting Avery leave here can your relationship with Elliot heat up. I'm really trying to help you find a way.”

Rebecca was in pain, “Hehe, if I have a way to send you away, can I help? I hate Avery more than anyone else. If I can't give birth Child, my father will definitely blame me. Do I really want to have a child with another man?"

Xander's heart skipped a beat: "You want to have a child with another man, pretending to be you and Elliot?"

"It was his idea. I think this idea is terrible. I don't want other men to touch me."

Rebecca said in disgust.

"Then you can choose IVF." Xander helped her find a way.

Rebecca said sadly, "He won't give me his sperm. He doesn't love me at all."

"Oh..." Xander reconciled, a bold thought suddenly appeared in his mind, "Miss Jobin, if you can conceive Elliot's child, but the mother is not you, would you like it?"

Rebecca: "....."

How can she conceive Elliot's child, and the child's mother is not herself?

She didn't change her mind, so she felt that it all seemed like a fantasy.

"Miss Jobin, did you hear what I said?" Xander reached out and shook his hand in front of her.

Rebecca's eyelashes trembled slightly, and she came back to her senses:

"Doctor Xander, what you said just now is true? You can let me conceive Elliot's child?"

Xander said, "To be precise, it's not that you can conceive his child, but it is to transplant his child into your womb. If you are willing, we will continue to chat, if you are not willing, then treat me as saying nothing."

"I do." In order to show sincerity, Rebecca immediately promised, "As long as you can make me pregnant with Elliot's child, I can promise to send you all out of here."

Xander didn't expect the matter to be resolved at once.

At least for him, all the problems were solved.

He wanted to perform surgery on Avery immediately, and Avery agreed.

The child that Avery had to destroy in her body and transferred to Rebecca could be regarded as saving the little baby's life.

Moreover, in order to keep Elliot, Rebecca will definitely regard this child as his own.

More importantly, they can get out of here.

"Doctor Xander, can you tell me who and Elliot's child are to be transplanted to me?" Rebecca smiled bitterly, "Could it be that Avery is pregnant?"

"Well." Xander didn't want to say more.

Rebecca didn't ask any more questions.

Because Rebecca was so sad.

"Elliot refuted me last night, saying that he had never done anything with Avery.

In order to avoid having a child with me, he would rather admit that he was not good at that aspect, and would rather be looked down upon by me than have a relationship with me. I'm so sad." Rebecca said, tears pouring down like rain.

Xander took out a few tissues and handed them to her.

"Miss Jobin, feelings need to be accumulated over time. You have a short time with him. If you wait for a long time, maybe his attitude towards you will change."

"Thank you for comforting me. Doctor Xander, when can you transplant Avery's child to me?" Rebecca couldn't wait to speak, "As long as it is successful, I will immediately ask my father to let him go."

Xander frowned, "Wait for me. Let me know. The transplant operation has certain risks and may not be successful."

Chapter 1362

Although Xander said so, Rebecca was still full of confidence. If she can succeed, then she can keep Elliot.

As long as Elliot never knows that the child's biological mother is Avery, then the child is hers.

After Xander completed the hospitalization procedures, he did not immediately return to the hotel to find Avery.

Because he privately decided to give Avery's child to Rebecca, if Avery knew, she would definitely be angry. But if Avery doesn't, the baby in her womb will die.

Between life and death, Xander prefers to let the child live.

–Hayden's face kept appearing in his mind. What if the baby in her belly is as smart and capable as Hayden after birth?

–Moreover, even if the child did not grow up by her side, as long as she told the child the truth about her life in the future, she could let the child choose where to live.

The more he thought about it, the more determined the plan was.

They are now trapped here and cannot leave, but as long as the child is transplanted to Rebecca, they can successfully leave here.

Now operating on Avery and leaving here are the most important things.

Back at the hotel, Xander entered his room. Although he has firmed up his inner plan. He is inevitably uneasy. After all, it was the first time to do such a thing.

Xander walked to the desk and opened the notebook. He opened Avery's surgical plan and checked it carefully. After confirming that it was correct, he frowned and opened the mailbox.

He was sure that he didn't have the courage to tell Avery about this in person in the future, so he planned to write an email to Avery.

Of course, this email will not be sent immediately.

He clicked the timer to send out. After turning on the timing function, he hesitated when choosing the time. After one year, three years, five years, or when that child is an adult?

After struggling for a while, he chose to send this email eighteen years later.

Chapter 1363

When the child is an adult and when Avery finds the child, he can let the child choose to live with the biological mother or the adoptive mother.

He picked up the water glass, took a sip, and then began to write the text of the email –

Avery: [When you see this email, please think back to the scene when we were in Yonroeville 18 years ago. Because this email was written to you eighteen years ago by me sitting in my hotel room. Please be patient and read it before contacting me. Whether you resent me or understand me, I accept it.

About a week ago, you said that your period was delayed. I took you to the hospital for a check-up, but you fell asleep on the medical bed. The doctor gave me your ultrasound form, and I was speechless in shock.

You have a tumor in your brain, the tumor was pressing on the nerves in your brain, and the tumor was growing, you must had surgery as soon as possible.

You also called me to help you in Yonroeville because of this. How can you get pregnant at a time like this?

Of course it is pointless to pursue this. I thought about telling you this, but your bodyguard told me that you like children very much, and you have a stubborn temper. After knowing the existence of this baby, you may risk your life to give birth to this baby. I feel desperate.

Between you and your baby, of course I choose to protect you. So I decided to secretly abort your child while you were under anesthesia.

As a result, an accident occurred.

You haven't forgotten that your son Hayden came to Yonroeville and killed Cristian with the help of the nanny, so we were trapped in Yonroeville and couldn't leave, right?

Chapter 1364

I met Rebecca in the hospital. She was troubled by her pregnancy. Because Elliot refused to touch her or have children with her.

I think Elliot should have you in his heart, so he refused to touch Rebecca. At that moment, I immediately understood why you came to Yonroeville to look for him regardless of your life. Because the two of you are a match made in heaven, and no matter what happens, it will never let you separate.

At the time of writing this email, I still feel that you will end up together because I believe in true love.

You can probably guess what happened next. I transferred the embryo from your body to Rebecca, who promised to help us leave the country.

I am writing this email to you, firstly, to confess my mistakes to you and ask you to forgive me. The second is to tell you that the children of Rebecca and Elliot are actually the flesh and blood of you and Elliot.

If you want to find this child, then you go to Yonroeville to find him now. It is not known whether the child is a boy or a girl. But I believe that Kyrie should treat him well.]

.....

Finished writing the email in one breath, Xander didn't want to review it, and clicked the send button directly.

The interface is immediately displayed: Successfully sent , there is a prompt attached below: The email will be sent to Avery in 18 years (yearmonth*day).

Closing the notebook, he came out of the room.

Avery slept all day. When it was getting dark in the evening, the bodyguard asked the housekeeping manager to brush open the door of her room.

The bodyguard was worried about her accident.

After brushing the door open, she heard movement and immediately opened her eyes to wake up.

“Boss, are you alright?” The bodyguard scratched his head, “You’ve been sleeping all day, I worried about you.”

Avery immediately sat up from the bed: “What time is it?”

“It’s 6:30 in the evening.”

“Oh...no wonder I’m so hungry.”

“Get up quickly, Xander and I will wait for you at the hotel restaurant.” After the bodyguard finished speaking, he strode out of the room.

At dinner, Xander offered to let her go to the hospital tomorrow.

Avery was eating and seemed to be thinking about something.

“Boss, you’re going to the hospital tomorrow, are you okay?” The bodyguard repeated Xander’s words.

Avery suddenly came back to her senses: “I will be hospitalized tomorrow.”

Xander: “Then when do you want to be hospitalized?”

“Then tomorrow. You can do it anytime, and you can’t go now anyway. Just thinking of the surgery, I’m a little scared.” Avery held up the water glass and took a sip of water. “When you perform surgery on others, you are not afraid of anything. Now it’s your turn, and you can finally feel the patient’s nervousness.”

Xander laughed at himself: “You don’t worry about me. If you were the one who performed the operation on me, I would definitely not panic.”

Avery laughed loudly: “I’m not really worried about your technique. This operation is just a small case for you. I just want to go ahead of time. I want to buy a wig. But it's very late today, and I don't know the wig store is closed or not."

For craniotomy, part of the hair will be shaved according to the surgery site. In case the surgery shaves off more hair, it is necessary to wear a wig.

Xander smiled, "We'll go buy a wig after dinner, just in case. Don't worry, I'll keep your hair as long as possible."

"Well."

"Boss, you are beautiful, even if you shave your head. I think, you might look a beautiful woman." The bodyguard complimented, "The most important thing is that hair can grow back. Health is the most important thing. When you finish the operation, maybe we can leave this place."

Xander: "Yes, wait. After your surgery, maybe we can go."

"You two really comfort people." Avery was a little depressed, but because of their company, she felt better.

Chapter 1365

On the other side, in the villa.

Elliot and Rebecca were sitting in the dining room and having dinner.

"Elliot, why did you go out so early this morning?" Rebecca spoke cautiously, breaking the silence.

"Your father asked me to accompany him to your sister-in-law's house." Elliot said lightly, and then changed the subject, "What did you think about what I told you last night?"

Rebecca said, "I've thought about it. I won't force you. But I can't have that kind of relationship with your bodyguard. Elliot, I'm your wife. I won't do that kind of thing with other men except you."

Elliot Seeing her stubborn tone, he frowned: "What if I never touch you in my life?”

Rebecca said sadly, “If that’s the case...I won’t tell my dad. I I went to the hospital today. The doctor told me that I can do test tube babies.”

Elliot’s eyes suddenly brightened: “That’s fine. But don’t let your father find out.”

“I know. I will be very careful. Rebecca heard his tone soften a bit, but she was hopeful, “Can you accompany me to the sperm bank to select?”

Elliot: “Go on your own choice. I will be very busy next time.” After a pause, probably thought she was a little pitiful, so he explained, “If I go to the hospital with you, you might find out.”

“Oh, yes. Then I’ll go by myself.” Rebecca was very satisfied when she got his explanation, “Elliot, in fact, if we can always respect each other like this, I think it’s pretty good.”

“Do you really think so?”

Rebecca said shyly, “Well. Actually, I’m not that keen on that kind of thing.

Hope you can stay by my side. My eldest brother died and now I have nothing but you and my dad.”

“You have a lot to do. Haven’t you graduated yet? You can go to school again. Make more friends.” Elliot was full and put down the dishes.

Rebecca looked at his back and probably understood what Elliot meant.

Elliot didn’t want her to be burdened.

The woman Elliot likes is a capable woman like Avery.

The next day.

Xander and his bodyguards sent Avery to the hospital.

Xander made an appointment for her in the VIP ward. Avery lived alone in a room with an accompanying bed. She looked at the escort bed with an embarrassed look on her face.

After Xander sent her to the ward, he went to help her make an appointment for the operating room.

The bodyguard sat down on the escort bed and said, "Boss, when you have surgery, I'll be here to watch over you."

Avery immediately refused, "I'll find a nurse."

"The nurse will take care of you during the day. I'll watch over you at night." The bodyguard was afraid that she was in danger.

Usually bad people do bad things at night.

There are doctors and nurses in the hospital during the day, so he won't be so worried.

"Don't you worry about me?" The bodyguard shouted when Avery saw the strange expression on her face, "Then let Xander watch over you at night, I'll watch you during the day."

Avery: "..."

"Well, the hospital gown is pretty good-looking, you should put it on quickly."

The bodyguard took her speechlessness as a tacit consent, and stuffed the hospital gown into her arms at the same time.

Avery took her sick clothes to the bathroom and put them on.

Putting on her sick clothes, she looked at herself in the mirror. Although it was a low point right now, she believed that after the low point, life would definitely improve.

After coming out of the bathroom, she lay down on the hospital bed, picked up her mobile phone, and wanted to notify Mike about her surgery.

After the mother died, apart from the child, Mike was her closest friend.

She dialed Mike's phone, and she quietly waited for the call to be connected.

A few seconds later, Mike answered the phone: "Avery, did you know it all?"

Hey, I'm sorry for you this time. I really want to hammer myself to death."

Mike was stunned for a moment, "What happened? What happened? What's the matter?"

Chapter 1366

Avery suddenly forgot to call him to say that she was about to undergo surgery.

"Ah? Don't you know? I thought someone told you about the company, so you came to me to settle the account." Mike said awkwardly.

"No wonder you didn't call me recently. It turns out that something happened to the company." Avery took a deep breath and asked, "The company is going bankrupt?"

"I did it. Didn't I tell you that I was abandoned before? That person came to me. He didn't come to me directly. He unknowingly stole our company's core technology and gave it to Wanda. He didn't ask Wanda to receive a penny. He did it just to get my attention. This sh*t!"

"Your ex?"

"Well. Forgot to tell you, he's also a hacker. And... His skills are better than mine. So I f*cking checked a few nights before I found out that it was him."

Avery was stunned and didn't know what to say.

Mike: "I've already let him go. But our core technology has almost been stolen."

Avery: "Uh..." She really didn't know what to say.

This incident was too bloody and sudden, beyond her comprehension.

"Avery, scold me. I know that the Tate Industries is your hard work, so I never dared to call you..." Mike blamed himself.

"It's okay... don't feel bad. Although it's important, it's not as important as you."

Avery comforted, "I'm not angry. Really."

Mike: "Why aren't you angry?"

Avery: "Because I suddenly found out Nothing is more important than a healthy body."

"Are you... sick?" Mike doubted, "Only sick people would say such things."

"Yeah. I'm calling you to tell you that I'm going to have a minor surgery. I can't make videocall with my child these days."

Mike said, "I'll watch the child, you don't have to worry about it. What kind of minor surgery?"

Considering Mike's current self-blame, Avery didn't want him to worry, so she downplayed it: "A minor gynecological surgery."

Mike didn't ask any further.

Afternoon.

Avery fell into a daze, and suddenly there was a rush of footsteps in his ears.

She opened her eyes suddenly.

After a while, Xander pushed open the door and walked in.

"Avery, are you awake? I made an appointment for tomorrow's examination for you. Before the operation, you will have a detailed examination."

Avery asked, "Well, you are my attending doctor now, and I will listen to you.

What happened outside?"

"Did you hear that?" Xander walked to the bedside, "Kyrie fell at home and fainted. He was rushed to the hospital just now."

...

Emergency Building.

After Kyrie was sent to the emergency room, his men stood outside the door, waiting anxiously.

"I wonder if you have heard of the world's top neurologist? That doctor is now in our hospital." A doctor stood beside him and spoke to Lorenzo Paquette, Kyrie's confidant.

Lorenzo frowned: "Take me to that doctor."

The doctor immediately took Lorenzo to the ward where Avery stayed.

After a while, Avery was taken to the door of the emergency room. She saw Elliot at a glance.

Elliot also looked at her... to be precise, looking at the hospital clothes on Avery and frowned.

Chapter 1367

"Avery, although my boss doesn't like you very much, if you can cure my boss, I will help you speak nicely in front of him." Lorenzo said in a rough voice.

Rebecca questioned, "Avery, are you really that powerful? However, if you can cure my father, I will also speak for you in front of my father."

Elliot turned sideways and pulled out his phone from pocket and send a message to Avery.

Avery's phone vibrated lightly. She turned on her phone and saw the message from Elliot.

There were only this message – 'No'.

Elliot told her to refuse to see Kyrie Jobin.

She held the phone and said to Rebecca lightly, "I have to go first to check on your father's condition. After that I can say answer of your question."

After her voice was settled, the door of the emergency room opened.

Elliot watched her resolutely stride into the emergency room, his fingers clenched.

Avery clearly saw the message he sent her but—

—why didn't she listen to him?

—Who is Kyrie?

–Hasn't she experienced it during this time?

Not to mention Kyrie's personality, just say Kyrie's confidant Lorenzo, like Kyrie, has a cold and cruel temperament.

If Avery promised to help Kyrie to heal, but failed to cure Kyrie in the end, Lorenzo would definitely kill her.

Elliot asked her to refuse because he didn't want Avery to jump into the fire pit.

Even if Avery could cure Kyrie, Kyrie would never be grateful to her.

About half an hour later, the door to the emergency room opened, and Kyrie was pushed out.

"Doctor, how is my father?" Rebecca asked the doctor who came out first.

The doctor said, "Ms. Tate said you invited her to treat Mr. Jobin..."

"Avery, you promised to treat my father? Is my father seriously injured? Does he need surgery? When will he wake up?" Rebecca asked eagerly.

"How did he get hurt?" Avery asked.

"The servant and the bodyguard said that my father fell down when he went downstairs." Rebecca's eyes were red, "Maybe my elder brother's death made him a little dazed."

"His brain hemorrhage is not too serious . . . However, further examination is needed." Avery glanced at the bodyguards surrounding here, and said, "So many of you are here, affecting other people to see a doctor. Just leave a few people here, others first Go back."

Lorenzo immediately said to Rebecca, "Miss Jobin, go back first. Elliot and I are guarding here, your father will be fine."

Rebecca glanced at Elliot, and then looked uneasy. He glanced at Avery.

"You go back first." Elliot said.

Rebecca immediately nodded meekly: "Then I'll come back tomorrow morning."

After the bodyguard sent Rebecca away, Avery strode towards the elevator.

Elliot and Lorenzo followed.

The elevator door opened, and Avery said to Lorenzo, "Go take care of Kyrie for an examination. After you get the results of the examination, go to the neurology inpatient department to find me."

Lorenzo nodded and gestured to Elliot: "What?"

"He's going to pay the fee, and there are some hospitalization procedures to be done." Avery teased, "What? Are you afraid I'll eat him?"

Lorenzo's face turned black.

Several bodyguards followed into the elevator, and when the elevator door closed, Avery immediately looked at Elliot.

This is the first time they have officially met since Cristian's death.

Avery hasn't seen Elliot for a few days, and Elliot has lost a lot of weight.

Chapter 1368

"The inpatient department is over there, let's go." Ali, the bodyguard, saw that the two of them were standing still, so he opened his mouth to break the silence.

The three walked towards the inpatient department.

Arriving at the neurology department, Avery said to Elliot, "Let your bodyguard pay the fee."

Elliot immediately took out a card and handed it to the bodyguard.

After the bodyguard left, Avery took Elliot into the doctor's office.

There are two doctors sitting in the office. Elliot was a little surprised to see the two of them coming in.

Avery directly pulled Elliot into the bathroom attached to the office and closed the door.

"Didn't I tell you to refuse? Why didn't you listen to me?" Elliot asked Avery first.

“Why should I refuse to see Kyrie?” Avery has her own ideas. “Nick told me that as long as Kyrie dies, your promise to him will not be fulfilled.”

Elliot was shocked by her bold idea. He said, “You want to take this opportunity to kill Kyrie?”

“Can’t you?” Avery raised her eyebrows, “I can do it without knowing it, and I promise not to let others see that I did it.”

Elliot: “Do you think they are reasonable gentlemen?”

Avery was stunned.

“If Kyrie dies accidentally, even if you didn’t kill him, his subordinates would kill you. Not to mention you killed him.” Elliot rejected Avery’s idea.

Avery: “I don’t want to kill him, do you want me to treat him? What a joke...”

Elliot looked at her gown again, and asked, “Why are you wearing a hospital gown? Are you sick?”

Avery blushed nervously, remembering the lie she told Mike, so she said:

“Gynecological disease, I need a minor surgery.”

An unnatural look flashed in Elliot eyes: “Wait when they come over, You just pretend your stomach hurts and say you can’t help. If Kyrie wakes up and sees you, he’ll definitely remember Cristian’s death! He’ll never be grateful to you.

Do you understand what I mean?”

“Oh.... ..” Avery lowered her eyes sadly, and soon raised her eyes to look at Elliot again, “You promised Kyrie that he would never leave the Yonroeville, and you promised him to have a child with Rebecca, which is against your will, right?”

Elliot’s adam’s apple rolling up and down sensually.

“Elliot, if you don’t let me kill Kyrie, then you can find a way to kill him.” Avery’s eyes suddenly turned cold, her tone even colder, “Please give me a happy answer, If I do it, or you do?”

“Are you forcing me?” Elliot frowned.

If Avery killed Kyrie rashly, her bodyguard and classmate would all have to die.

“Yes, I’m just forcing you.” Avery felt like she was going crazy, if she didn’t force Elliot, life would drive her crazy, “Either you don’t care about my life or death. Kyrie is going to deal with me and talk to me. What does it have to do with you? You have always wanted to protect me from here. Your feelings for me, who can you deceive? Do you think your new wife, Rebecca doesn’t know anything.”

Elliot looked at her aggressive look. His eyes were getting thicker, and the teeth were clenched.

‘Bang bang bang’. There was a knock on the door.

Ali, The bodyguard went to pay the bills and came back. He didn’t see the two of them. After asking around, a doctor told him that the two of them were in the bathroom.

–Two adults in one bathroom?

–Even if the two of them were going to plot something, they won’t run to the bathroom to plot it.

With a ‘squeak’, the bathroom door opened. Avery bent over with a pained face, while Elliot held her arm and helped her out of the bathroom.

Ali was shocked, “What’s wrong? Dr. Tate, are you alright?”

Avery gasped and said intermittently, “I… I’m afraid. I can’t help Kyrie because I am too sick.”

Chapter 1369

Elliot entered the doctor’s office, asked the doctor on duty about Kyrie’s situation, then came out and walked towards the elevator next to him. Entering the elevator, he pressed the number on the next floor.

After a while, the elevator arrived, and he strode out of the elevator.

Instead of going directly to Ward v03, he went to the neurosurgery doctor's office.

The doctor was stunned when he saw Elliot. He sat down opposite the doctor and asked, "I want to know Avery's condition."

"This... This is the patient's privacy, and it is inconvenient for me to tell you."

The doctor looked embarrassed, "If you talk to the patient I know, you can ask the patient directly."

"She said it was a minor operation. Tell me, is it a minor operation?" Elliot changed his question.

The doctor pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose, and after thinking for a while, he let out a sigh of relief: "She can't trust the doctor in Yonroeville, and specially called for an expert in Bridgedale to operate on her. Do you think this is a minor operation or a major operation? "

Elliot frowned, ready to get up to find Avery.

At this time, the doctor said again: "But for Ms. Tate, this operation is indeed a minor operation, and she is not deceiving you."

Elliot sat down again, calmed down, and asked, "She invited him from Bridgedale?"

"Yes, she originally asked me to register and issue a check-up, but after the report came out, she didn't trust my medical skills, so she found the expert from Bridgedale. It is said that she was a classmate in graduate school, Now he is an expert in a large hospital in Bridgedale. It is amazing to be an expert at a young age."

"Xander?"

"Yes. Dr. Xander not only became an expert at a young age but also can deal with. I made an appointment with Vice President Lewis.”

Elliot: “When did she call you?”

“It happened a while ago. It was not long after your surgery in our hospital”

Elliot’s heart suddenly tightened.

–Avery came here shortly after his surgery. And when he came here, he found out that she was suffering from such a serious disease.

Even so, Avery still insisted on awakening Elliot memory, hoping to take Elliot out of here. Obviously, she could leave here in time and go to Bridgedale to receive better treatment after finding out that she was ill, but she chose to call a doctor from Bridgedale for treatment here.

There was a sudden pain in his head.

Avery loves him. There is no doubt about it. But Elliot questioned it for so long. If it wasn’t for Kyrie who suddenly fell and came to the hospital, he would not have known that Avery was sick and hospitalized.

Avery had no intention of telling him about it at all.

Half an hour later, the bodyguard came to the hospital after taking a shower.

As he approached Ward v03, he suddenly caught a glimpse of a familiar figure.

On the balcony next to the aisle entering the VIP ward area, a tall figure stood.

That seems to be... Elliot.

The bodyguard strode over, and after confirming his identity, raised his hand and patted his shoulder.

“Mr. Foster.”

Hearing the familiar voice, Elliot’s tense nerves relaxed. He snuffed out the cigarette between his fingers and threw it into the trash can next to him, then turned around.

“It’s really you. Why are you here?” The bodyguard smiled, “Did you come to see my boss? Have you seen her? I knew she let us go to meet you hahaha. “

I didn't see her.” Elliot said calmly, “When is her surgery scheduled?”

“I guess the day after tomorrow. It is said that a detailed examination will be done tomorrow. After the examination is completed, it is estimated that the operation will be performed.” A big tumor was compressing all kinds of nerves in her brain.”

Elliot: “...”

Avery and the doctor spoke to him mildly, which caused him to lose his mind when he heard the bodyguard's words.

“Go and see Avery. Xander said that her illness has a 30% failure rate.” The bodyguard continued, “Maybe she won't be able to get off the operating table. I already saw her handing over the agreement paper to Xander.”

Chapter 1370

The voice of the bodyguard was settled, and Elliot immediately strode towards Ward v03. He didn't knock on the door, just pushed open the door of the ward and went in.

The light in the ward is on, and Avery has closed her eyes and rested. But she didn't fall asleep. She heard the movement and opened her eyes immediately. She thought it was the bodyguard who came after taking a shower, but unexpectedly, it was Elliot.

Seeing him come in, she jumped and sat up.

“You lie down.” Elliot walked to the side of the hospital bed and looked down at her, “A tumor grows in your brain?”

Avery just lay down when she heard the words behind him, and her body suddenly became hot: “Go and ask.”

“What your bodyguard said.” Elliot sat down in the chair next to him, “I know I'm sick, why don't I treat it well? When I should recover my memory, it will naturally recover."

"I'm afraid you will fall in love with Rebecca. My son, get used to the life here and never want to return to Aryadelle and my illness is not particularly serious, it's okay to delay it." Avery expressed her concerns.

"Yes, delay it, from the early stage to the late stage. When you are dragged to death, even if I recover my memory, I can be with Rebecca with a clear conscience." Elliot followed her words and said calmly.

Avery: "..."

Why is your mouth so poisonous?

"Didn't I plan to have surgery?" Avery blushed slightly and asked sternly.

"Why didn't you keep procrastinating?" Elliot asked back.

Avery sighed: "You've already agreed to Kyrie's request, what else can I do? Unless you want to get out of here, I can't do anything about it."

"Finally, I know how to accept my fate."

"I didn't think about dragging my illness." Avery was alive and well, but she didn't want to die.

"After your surgery, I will find a way to get Nick to send you back to Aryadelle."

Elliot hesitated for a moment, then said, "I may not be able to return to Aryadelle soon. You go back, and live your own life first."

"You might as well not say that." Avery had a headache.

"Go to sleep." Elliot ended the conversation.

Avery: "I can't sleep when you're here."

Elliot: "Then I'll go."

"Don't go." Avery reached out and took his arm, "You stay with me for a while."

Elliot looked directly into her face: "You are now Patient, it's hard to sleep late."

If Avery wasn't sick, Elliot could stay up late with her, but when he thought of a big tumor growing in her brain, he didn't want to let her mess around.

"Then you sleep with me for a while." Avery refused to let go of his arm,

"Anyway, Kyrie will not be awake for a while."

Elliot thought for a moment, and felt that this was inappropriate, but it didn't hurt.

"Have you not had a good rest these days? Look at your dark circles." Avery sat up, moved in, and forcibly pulled him down on the hospital bed.

Although the bed in the VIP ward is a bit more advanced than the ordinary one.

It will still look crowded when the two of them lie down together.

After he lay down beside her, she reached out and hugged his body: "Did you smoke?"

"Did you choke on you?"

"No." Avery put her head on his neck and said hoarsely, "You used to only smoke when you were upset. Although the current difficulties seem difficult for us to overcome. we will definitely overcome them. We have come through so many ups and downs in the past."

"Why are you marrying Rebecca?" Avery suddenly said after a moment of silence.

Elliot was stunned for a moment, not expecting her to mention this sensitive topic.

"Why?" Avery curiosity was piqued. "Even if you don't remember me, you are not someone who can marry a woman casually."

His voice Calmly came, "It was Kyrie who asked her to come to me. Kyrie asked her to reveal to me that if I marry her, with my ability, everything in the Jobin family will be mine in the future."

Chapter 1371

Avery didn't give him time to react, and immediately asked: [What are you looking for from me? I am in ward v03. If you want to come to me, just come directly.]

Of course Avery guessed that Elliot said he had something to do with her, which was a pretense.

Estimated the time, Kyrie should have completed the examination by now and was sent to the inpatient department for treatment.

Kyrie's black-faced subordinate doesn't look easy to mess with, and although he is not Kyrie's son. His level is definitely not low. Otherwise, he wouldn't dare to show his prestige directly in front of Elliot.

It took a while for Elliot to reply to her: [Because someone said you were hospitalized in neurosurgery, I want to know why you lied.]

Avery teased him deliberately: [If you don't care about me, you won't care why I lie.]

Elliot didn't reply. Because Avery was so direct.

Elliot didn't remember every bit of their past, he only knew their past from the mouths of others and her.

Even so, it still affected his judgment of her.

He can analyze anyone rationally and look at them objectively, but every time he faces her, his mind will become a mess and a mess.

Like a spell, he was destined to walk step by step towards the love trap she set.

Eleven at night.

Avery asked Xander and the bodyguard to go back to the hotel to rest.

“I haven’t had surgery yet. In fact, I can go back to the hotel to rest today.”

Avery lay on the bed and smiled lazily.

Since Avery came back from seeing Elliot tonight, the corners of her mouth have always been smiling.

The bodyguard said to Xander, “Doctor Xander, go back to the hotel and I’ll just watch my boss here.”

Xander: “Okay, then I’ll go first.”

Avery said to the bodyguard, “You go with Xander. I’m safe here.”

“Who told you that it’s safe here?” After a pause, the bodyguard said, “You have an appointment with Elliot for a secret meeting tonight? If so, then I’ll go.”

Avery thought he was outrageous, and his words became more and more presumptuous.

“Then don’t leave, stay here and see if Elliot will come to me for a secret meeting in the middle of the night.”

“Okay! I didn’t intend to leave.” The bodyguard said, but went to Xander’s side, “But I Go back to the hotel to take a shower first.”

After speaking, he and Xander left together.

After the bodyguard left, Avery got out of bed immediately and went to the bathroom to wash.

When the two of them were here, she was too embarrassed to wash up.

Even if it was a VIP ward, after all, there was only so much space, and there was no privacy at all.

Upstairs, neurosurgery.

Lorenzo asked Elliot to go back, and Elliot asked him to leave.

“Rebecca will come over tomorrow morning. You can bring her with you. Then I will go back to rest.” Elliot said.

When Lorenzo heard the word 'Rebecca', he was immediately confused.

If Elliot hadn't come to Yonroeville, Rebecca would have become Lorenzo's wife after graduating from university.

This was also the reason why Lorenzo was unhappy with him.

Moreover, Kyrie also intended to let Lorenzo suppress him, so Lorenzo was not afraid of him at all.

After Lorenzo left, Elliot glanced at the time.

It's almost 12 o'clock.

"You guys stay here, I'll talk to the doctor." After explaining to the bodyguards, he strode towards the doctor's office.

The southernmost part of the vip ward, through a corridor, and walking forward, is the general ward and the doctor's office.

Chapter 1372

Elliot entered the doctor's office, asked the doctor on duty about Kyrie's situation, then came out and walked towards the elevator next to him. Entering the elevator, he pressed the number on the next floor.

After a while, the elevator arrived, and he strode out of the elevator.

Chapter 1373

The voice of the bodyguard was settled, and Elliot immediately strode towards Ward v03. He didn't knock on the door, just pushed open the door of the ward and went in.

His voice Calmly came, “It was Kyrie who asked her to come to me. Kyrie asked her to reveal to me that if I marry her, with my ability, everything in the Jobin family will be mine in the future.”

Chapter 1374

“Of course! I will treat the child as my own child.” Rebecca replied without hesitation.

“If the child finds out about his life and wants to return to Avery in the future, can you promise to respect the child’s wishes?” Xander continued to ask.

Rebecca hesitated.

“Miss Jobin, if you limit your child’s freedom, the child will only be further away from you. We can actually manage only ourselves. What do you think?” Seeing that Rebecca didn’t speak, Xander reasoned with her.

“According to what you said, do you think Elliot will also be farther away from me?” Rebecca didn’t like what he said.

Xander: "We are talking about the child now. I don't want to express my opinion about you and Elliot, and I don't care."

Rebecca was afraid that she would regret it, and immediately followed his words: "I promise you. If In the future, if the child knows his life experience and wants to go back to Avery, it means that I'm not doing well enough, and I will respect his wishes and let him choose his own life."

After receiving Rebecca's answer, Xander was considered to have a consolation.

Because if the child is not transplanted, it will only be destroyed.

He didn't want to kill the child.

Now transplant the child out to save the child's life, and the child will have a chance to return to Avery in the future.

Besides, Xander also needs Rebecca to help them leave Yonroeville now.

Xander has been in love with his girlfriend for three years, and promised to meet his parents at the end of this year and get married next year. Now he is trapped here and must leave as soon as possible.

...

Elliot came out of the hospital and did not go home to rest. Last night, he was accompanying Kyrie in the ward. In fact, he could rest, but couldn't sleep.

Avery's condition made him worry.

He was thinking about why he was so afraid of her leaving because of illness.

He had never been so eager to restore his memory. Last night, he had been trying to think back, hoping to remember bits and pieces of their past.

The more he remember, the more blank his brain becomes.

He called and asked the second brother and the fourth brother to go to Nick's house to meet.

The bodyguard drove the car to Nick's house. At this time, several luxury cars were parked in the front yard of the villa.

Elliot got out of the car and strode into the living room of the villa.

"Elliot, what's up with Kyrie?"

The second brother, Nick, and the fourth brother were all there.

The three were sitting in the living room making tea and drinking.

"Drinking tea early in the morning is not good for the stomach." Elliot sat down on the sofa, looking at the tea in front of him.

"You haven't had breakfast yet?" Nick said, and gave the servant next to him a wink.

The servant immediately brought a breakfast and put it in front of Elliot.

"Kyrie's fall is not serious. He can be discharged after staying in the hospital for a few days." Elliot took a bite of breakfast and said, "Cristian's death hit him hard."

"Hahaha! Can it be big?" The second brother laughed, "I'm afraid he will tie you tighter in the future."

"I have to find a way to get rid of him." Elliot thought for a night and came to this decision.

Chapter 1375

"Get rid of him? You put it simply." Nick took a sip of tea, and continued, "He's not dead. Don't try to get rid of him."

"Yes, I called you here today to discuss this matter." Elliot looked at them and continued, "The property of the sixth and the youngest that Kyrie swallowed up will give you all the time. Except for the Jobin Industries, which he founded by himself, you can take everything else you want."

The three ma stared at him blankly, "Are you sure?"

"I'm sure. Jobin Industries is owned by Kyrie, and it will be left to Rebecca."

Elliot picked up a cup of tea and drank it, and continued, "When the matter is settled then I will go back to Aryadelle."

"Elliot, do you really think about it?" Nick patted him on the shoulder, "Although you did a good job in Aryadelle, but Kyrie has a good reputation in Yonroeville. Wealth is no less than that of your Aryadelle. As long as you live with Rebecca, everything in Kyrie will be yours in the future. Your second and fourth brothers only want to return to the property of the sixth and youngest, and the rest of them I didn't want to touch it."

"Second brother, since Elliot wants to go back to Aryadelle, why should we stop him?" The second brother said.

"I also think we should respect Elliot's thoughts. Since Elliot wants to go back to Aryadelle, we should help him." The fourth brother said.

Nick glared at them both: "You two want to divide up Kyrie's industry after Elliot leaves, right?"

"What you said is really ugly. Elliot said that Jobin Industries will leave it to Rebecca. Then we definitely won't touch it. Although I hate Kyrie, an old thing that eats people and doesn't spit out bones. Rebecca is still very young. How can we leave nothing for Rebecca?" The second brother smiled explain.

"Yes, we won't touch the Jobin Industries. But after Elliot left, how could Rebecca manage Jobin Industries by herself? Maybe someone else will be watching. If Rebecca left, let us take care of the company, and we give her a sum of money every year."

Elliot said, "Second brother and fourth brother, don't worry, Lorenzo will take care of Rebecca. As soon as Kyrie dies, Rebecca will gradually grow up. Give her some time."

The second brother said, "Elliot, since you are having said that, we will definitely not mess around for the time being. It's not that easy to just want Kyrie to die. This matter needs to be discussed in the long run."

Elliot: "I called you here today just to talk to you guys. A consensus is reached."

The second brother looked at him, "Of course we have no opinion. Just why did you decide so suddenly? Have you regained your memory?"

Elliot shook his head: "I have also three children in Aryadelle."

"Just for the sake of three A child? Rebecca is so young, she can give birth to as many children as you want."

Elliot: "That's different."

"What's the difference? You are not for the children at all. Are you for Avery?"

Nick pierced his lie, "You are in love with Avery again."

Elliot was silent.

"I didn't expect that among our brothers, there was actually an infatuation seed.

Hahaha!" The second brother laughed, and continued, "Why did we form an alliance in the first place? To make money! Elliot, no wonder you were the first to quit. Because you don't love money that much at all."

Elliot: "Don't laugh at me. I have my hometown in a country, and I will definitely go back."

"Whatever hometown is not hometown, where you have money is hometown. If you want to go back, we won't stop you. But in a short time, it's definitely not easy to start. At least you have to get some rights to Kyrie first."

Elliot: "I know. I'm ready for the long run."

Nick said, "Then you Go back to sleep first. Look at the red blood in your eyes, it's scary. Furthermore, we have to find a way to send Avery away first."

"After Kyrie's discharge from the hospital, I will have a good talk with him. He should agree to let Avery go.” Elliot said. He finished breakfast and got up.

Nick said, “Well, after all, Kyrie goal is to keep you.”

In the evening.

Elliot came to the hospital. He went to neurosurgery first to see Avery.

Avery lay on the bed, closed her eyes, and slept peacefully.

When the bodyguard saw Elliot’s coming, he immediately explained, “My boss had a general anesthesia this afternoon, but she’s still not awake yet.”

Elliot was puzzled, “Why does she need a general anesthesia? Didn’t she have surgery yet?”

Chapter 1376

“Have you bought breakfast?” Xander put the breakfast he brought on the table.

“Rebecca brought it to my boss. My boss doesn’t eat it, so I ate it.” The bodyguard teased, “Rebecca is a talented person. She said that she can bear my boss when she is big or small.

“What should be big or small?” Xander didn’t react for a while.

“It’s the big wife and the little wife.” The bodyguard picked up the pork ribs soup, took a sip, and made a satisfied voice, “My boss can’t stand Rebecca’s grievance.”

Xander thought it was extremely funny and said, “It really makes me Eyeopening.”

“You said she was a dignified young lady of the Jobin family, and she looked like a flower, so why did she have to hang herself on Elliot’s tree?”

Xander: “Isn’t it the same for your boss? It means that Elliot has indeed been there.”

“Can the two of you stop discussing my personal affairs in front of me?” Avery ate the breakfast brought by Xander and begged, “Or, let me finish breakfast and then you can talk.”

The bodyguard smiled at her. “Then let’s talk about something to make you happy. Last night, you and Elliot were hugging in bed. Did you two make an appointment to go back to Aryadelle together?”

Avery was about to speak when a voice came from the door of the ward. There was a knock on the door.

The door to the ward was half-open. After the knock on the door, they all looked towards the door.

Avery saw Elliot and his bodyguard Ali standing at the door.

Ali knocked on the door.

“Miss Jobin said she brought breakfast to Ms. Tate, so Mr. Foster came to see.”

Ali said.

Avery immediately asked the bodyguard to return the insulation box.

“Breakfast is not bad. But don’t give breakfast any more in the future. It’s impossible for our boss to agree to Miss Jobin’s request.” The bodyguard stuffed the insulation box into Ali.

“What request?” Elliot said alertly.

Chapter 1377

“She said she is willing to serve you with our boss. Our boss won’t agree.” The bodyguard said.

Elliot’s expression froze: “I will warn her not to disturb you again.”

He said this to Avery.

“Well, go back and rest.” Avery saw that Elliot was not looking very well, and it was estimated that he hadn’t slept much last night.

Elliot nodded: “The surgery time is fixed and let me know.”

“Okay.”

After Elliot and Ali left, Avery took a few bites of breakfast and put it down.

“Why don’t you eat?” The bodyguard saw that the porridge in her bowl didn’t move much.

“I don’t have any appetite.” Avery touched her stomach, “Maybe I’m a little nervous thinking about the surgery.”

Xander gave her milk, and said, “It’s fine to eat less. It’ll be fine after the surgery.”

“Well. What tests are you going to do today?” Avery asked. Then she took the milk and took a sip.

Xander told her about the inspections to be done.

After Avery heard this, she frowned slightly: “Is it necessary to do another angiography?”

Xander said, “The congestion in your brain has spread, and the tumor has grown. Do it again to be safe.”

“Okay! The place where the anesthesia was administered last time still hurts a bit.”

“Then after today’s examination, I will let you rest for two days before the operation.”

Avery vaguely disturbed, “It’s better to have the operation as soon as possible.

The more it drags on, the more panic I feel. How about I still write a suicide note?”

Xander: “...”

Bodyguard: “Hahahaha! Xander, do you know why my boss is like this?

Because I lied to Elliot like this last night. I said that the surgery failure rate is quite high, and my boss has already written a suicide note in advance.”

Xander: “Are you mocking my medical skills?”

Bodyguard: "I just want to see if Elliot cares about my boss."

Xander: "But you not only scared Elliot, but also Avery."

Xander's voice settled, and his cell phone rang. After looking at the caller ID, he said to Avery and the bodyguard, "I'll go out and answer a call."

He walked outside the ward and answered the phone.

"Doctor Xander, I've already come to the hospital." On the other side of the phone was Rebecca's voice.

Xander whispered, "Oh, your dad is sick, you should take care of your dad first. I will take the embryo out of her body today, and it doesn't have to be transplanted into your body immediately."

"My dad has someone to take care of it, I don't care." Rebecca felt a little nervous and excited, "Just transplant it to me today. Doctor Xander, I'm afraid that there will be many dreams at night."

At this moment, Xander's heart beat violently. He hesitated and nervous.

—Could he accept the consequences of doing so?

There was a sound from the phone, and he picked it up to see that it was from his girlfriend.

Xander kept Rebecca's phone and took his girlfriend's call.

"Xander, where have you been these days? If you don't come back and don't let me find you, what do you think of me? I'll give you the last three days, if you don't return to Aryadelle after three days, we will break up." The voice of his girlfriend came angrily.

Dududu!

The phone is hung up.

Xander took a deep breath and turned on Rebecca's call, "Miss Jobin, if I give you the child, can you promise to treat the child well?"

Chapter 1378

“Of course! I will treat the child as my own child.” Rebecca replied without hesitation.

“If the child finds out about his life and wants to return to Avery in the future, can you promise to respect the child’s wishes?” Xander continued to ask.

Rebecca hesitated.

“Miss Jobin, if you limit your child’s freedom, the child will only be further away from you. We can actually manage only ourselves. What do you think?” Seeing that Rebecca didn’t speak, Xander reasoned with her.

“According to what you said, do you think Elliot will also be farther away from me?” Rebecca didn’t like what he said.

Xander: “We are talking about the child now. I don’t want to express my opinion about you and Elliot, and I don’t care.”

Rebecca was afraid that she would regret it, and immediately followed his words: “I promise you. If In the future, if the child knows his life experience and wants to go back to Avery, it means that I’m not doing well enough, and I will respect his wishes and let him choose his own life.”

After receiving Rebecca’s answer, Xander was considered to have a consolation.

Because if the child is not transplanted, it will only be destroyed.

He didn’t want to kill the child.

Now transplant the child out to save the child’s life, and the child will have a chance to return to Avery in the future.

Besides, Xander also needs Rebecca to help them leave Yonroeville now.

Xander has been in love with his girlfriend for three years, and promised to meet his parents at the end of this year and get married next year. Now he is trapped here and must leave as soon as possible.

...

Elliot came out of the hospital and did not go home to rest. Last night, he was accompanying Kyrie in the ward. In fact, he could rest, but couldn't sleep.

Avery's condition made him worry.

He was thinking about why he was so afraid of her leaving because of illness.

He had never been so eager to restore his memory. Last night, he had been trying to think back, hoping to remember bits and pieces of their past. The more he remembers, the more blank his brain becomes.

He called and asked the second brother and the fourth brother to go to Nick's house to meet.

The bodyguard drove the car to Nick's house. At this time, several luxury cars were parked in the front yard of the villa.

Elliot got out of the car and strode into the living room of the villa.

"Elliot, what's up with Kyrie?"

The second brother, Nick, and the fourth brother were all there.

The three were sitting in the living room making tea and drinking.

"Drinking tea early in the morning is not good for the stomach." Elliot sat down on the sofa, looking at the tea in front of him.

"You haven't had breakfast yet?" Nick said, and gave the servant next to him a wink.

The servant immediately brought a breakfast and put it in front of Elliot.

"Kyrie's fall is not serious. He can be discharged after staying in the hospital for a few days." Elliot took a bite of breakfast and said, "Cristian's death hit him hard."

"Hahaha! Can it be big?" The second brother laughed, "I'm afraid he will tie you tighter in the future."

"I have to find a way to get rid of him." Elliot thought for a night and came to this decision.

Chapter 1379

"Get rid of him? You put it simply." Nick took a sip of tea, and continued, "He's not dead. Don't try to get rid of him."

"Yes, I called you here today to discuss this matter." Elliot looked at them and continued, "The property of the sixth and the youngest that Kyrie swallowed up will give you all the time. Except for the Jobin Industries, which he founded by himself, you can take everything else you want."

The three ma stared at him blankly, "Are you sure?"

"I'm sure. Jobin Industries is owned by Kyrie, and it will be left to Rebecca."

Elliot picked up a cup of tea and drank it, and continued, "When the matter is settled then I will go back to Aryadelle."

"Elliot, do you really think about it?" Nick patted him on the shoulder, "Although you did a good job in Aryadelle, but Kyrie has a good reputation in Yonroeville. Wealth is no less than that of your Aryadelle. As long as you live with Rebecca, everything in Kyrie will be yours in the future. Your second and fourth brothers only want to return to the property of the sixth and youngest, and the rest of them I didn't want to touch it."

"Second brother, since Elliot wants to go back to Aryadelle, why should we stop him?" The second brother said.

"I also think we should respect Elliot's thoughts. Since Elliot wants to go back to Aryadelle, we should help him." The fourth brother said.

Nick glared at them both: "You two want to divide up Kyrie's industry after Elliot leaves, right?"

"What you said is really ugly. Elliot said that Jobin Industries will leave it to Rebecca. Then we definitely won't touch it. Although I hate Kyrie, an old thing that eats people and doesn't spit out bones. Rebecca is still very young. How can we leave nothing for Rebecca?" The second brother smiled explain.

"Yes, we won't touch the Jobin Industries. But after Elliot left, how could Rebecca manage Jobin Industries by herself? Maybe someone else will be watching. If Rebecca left, let us take care of the company, and we give her a sum of money every year."

Elliot said, "Second brother and fourth brother, don't worry, Lorenzo will take care of Rebecca. As soon as Kyrie dies, Rebecca will gradually grow up. Give her some time."

The second brother said, "Elliot, since you are having said that, we will definitely not mess around for the time being. It's not that easy to just want Kyrie to die. This matter needs to be discussed in the long run."

Elliot: "I called you here today just to talk to you guys. A consensus is reached."

The second brother looked at him, "Of course we have no opinion. Just why did you decide so suddenly? Have you regained your memory?"

Elliot shook his head: "I have also three children in Aryadelle."

to quit. Because you don't love money that much at all."

Elliot: "Don't laugh at me. I have my hometown in a country, and I will definitely go back."

"Whatever hometown is not hometown, where you have money is hometown. If you want to go back, we won't stop you. But in a short time, it's definitely not easy to start. At least you have to get some rights to Kyrie first."

Elliot: "I know. I'm ready for the long run."

"After Kyrie's discharge from the hospital, I will have a good talk with him. He should agree to let Avery go." Elliot said. He finished breakfast and got up.

Nick said, "Well, after all, Kyrie goal is to keep you."

In the evening.

Elliot came to the hospital. He went to neurosurgery first to see Avery.

When the bodyguard saw Elliot's coming, he immediately explained, "My boss had a general anesthesia this afternoon, but she's still not awake yet."

Elliot was puzzled, "Why does she need a general anesthesia? Didn't she have surgery yet?"

Chapter 1380

The bodyguard scratched his head, "I don't understand either. Avery is doing an inspection today..."

Elliot: "Where's Xander?"

"I don't know. Maybe waiting for the result." The bodyguard is just a brick,

Xander Let him do what he does.

"Have you eaten yet?" Elliot asked.

The bodyguard shook his head: "I'm here to guard my boss."

Elliot said, "Then go to dinner. I'll watch her here."

The bodyguard, "Oh! Have you eaten? Do you want to bring it for you?"

Elliot said, "I've eaten. You bring her."

"Okay." After the bodyguard finished speaking, Elliot strode out of the ward.

He sat down in the chair beside the hospital bed. Looking at Avery's sleeping pale face, Elliot always felt as if she was no longer alive.

His big palm couldn't help holding her hand. Her hand was slightly cold, but her fingers moved slightly as Elliot held hers.

Avery is still alive, after confirming this, Elliot felt a lot more relieved. He retracted his hand and glanced at the bedside table.

There were some fruits on the cabinet as well as her bag.

For some reason, when Elliot saw her bag, his heart tightened suddenly, like seeing an old friend he hadn't seen in a long time.

He couldn't help but take her bag and open it.

There were tissues inside, a small bottle of disinfectant alcohol, and a pack of cotton swabs...Avery was so different from other women that there was no makeup in the bag. As Elliot was about to close her bag, he suddenly caught a glimpse of something in the middle of the bag.

He opened the interlayer and took out a piece of paper. He unfolded the paper and saw his handwriting is on it.

His various account numbers and passwords were written on it.

He looked at the note, his Adam's apple rolled up and down.

This is what he wrote to her.

If he hadn't loved her deeply and trusted her, he wouldn't have told her all of his privacy.

Elliot suddenly thought that Avery had written her various account passwords to him on a notepad a while ago. It turned out that he had told Avery his account passwords too.

Just when Elliot was in a trance, the phone Avery put on the pillow rang. Elliot immediately put the note in his hand back on the bag's interlayer and put the bag back on the cabinet. When he hesitated to answer the phone for Avery, Avery suddenly opened her eyes and woke up.

When Avery saw Elliot sitting beside the bed, surprise flashed in her apricot eyes.

"Why are you here?" Avery woke up from the anesthesia, unable to tell the time and place of day and night for a while.

"Your bodyguard went to dinner." Elliot pointed to her phone, "Your phone is ringing."

Avery picked up the phone, and took the videocall.

A delicate girl's voice came: "Mom! Why are you sick again? Are you in pain?"

Layla heard about her mother's illness, and her distressed mother overcame her angry mother's feelings of not going home.

"Mom will be cured by surgery." Avery raised the corner of her mouth and changed the subject, "Are you going to start school? Have you had a good time this summer? Have you finished your summer homework?"

Chapter 1381

Layla sighed: "Mom, don't mention my summer homework. I've already finished it but I don't know if it's correct or not. No one will check my homework when you're not at home."

"Didn't Mom find a tutor for you? Mom called her later and asked her to check your homework for you."

“Oh...” Layla has been playing for two months, and her heart is wild and she doesn't want to bring up homework.

Looking at her daughter's little face, Avery said, “Layla, do you want to see your father?”

Out of the corner of her eyes, she caught Elliot staring at her.

Elliot also have wanted to see Layla.

Layla heard the word ‘Daddy’ like a frightened kitten at first, then quickly frowned: “I don't want to see him. He's a b-a-d. Mom, you wouldn't leave if it wasn't for him. I won't be so happy.”

Avery didn't know how to answer.

“Mom, why did you ask me if I wanted to see Dad? Is Dad next to you?” Layla suddenly asked after scolding Elliot.

“Yeah! He's right across from me.” Avery said, turning the camera to Elliot.

The expression on Elliot's face suddenly stiffened, and his body tensed.

On the other side of the videocall, Layla was also stunned, as if the pause button had been pressed.

Avery walked over to Elliot and looked at her daughter together and asked, “Why don't you two talk? Layla, your father actually misses you. He will go home.”

Elliot calmed down and apologized in a hoarse voice: “Layla, Dad is sorry for you. Dad doesn't ask for your forgiveness, but don't be angry otherwise Dad will feel bad.”

“Humph!” She ran to find Mrs. Cooper and asked, “Grandma Cooper, my mother is with my father. Is Robert awake?”

Robert was sleeping, but when Layla shouted, Robert suddenly opened her jet-black eyes. Mrs. Cooper took the phone from Layla, and when she saw Elliot, she burst into tears: "Sir, I knew that Avery would definitely find you.

Everything is fine at home. Layla is fine. Robert is fine too. Hayden and Gwen went to Bridgedale together... Look at Robert, he's a little fatter."

Mrs. Cooper hugged Robert and said to Robert, "Robert, look at Daddy. Hurry up and call Daddy."

Robert just woke up with an aggrieved look on his face, his mouth deflated, it's fine if he doesn't cry, don't expect him to call Dad.

Avery looked at her son's aggrieved face, and smiled and coaxed: "Baby, don't cry. Mommy went back to buy you a gift."

"Mom. I want a gift too. You can't just buy it for your brother and not me. "

Layla squeezed into the camera, exasperated.

"Sister...Sister hug!" Robert grabbed Layla's arm and wanted to hug.

"Stinky brother! You are so fat now, your sister can't hold you anymore." Layla disliked him but still hugged her brother.

Robert is almost one year old. He has a good appetite now, not only eating milk, but also eating complementary food and snacks.

When Avery was at home, he would control his children's diet a little.

Now that she is not at home, what Robert wants to eat, Mrs. Cooper will usually give it. So the little guy instantly gained a size.

Elliot's heart melted when he looked at the warm picture of the two siblings.

The door of the ward was pushed open, and Xander came back with her checklist.

"Show me the checklist." Avery walked away from Elliot, came to Xander, and took the checklist.

"Do you have a videocall with your child?" Xander heard the child's voice.

"Well. My daughter called." Avery said with a gentle smile.

Xander was curious and wanted to go see her child.

As a result, before he could reach Elliot, Elliot was already walking towards the balcony with his mobile phone. After he went to the balcony, he closed the door between the ward and the balcony.

Xander shook his head helplessly and returned to Avery: "Why is Elliot here?"

He is so blatantly with you that he is not afraid of what Kyrie would say?"

"Isn't Kyrie in hospital?" Avery explained, "It is because Kyrie is in the hospital, that's why he is so blatant."

Xander said, "Haha! I didn't expect Kyrie to fall, but he made it work for you.

He still concealed his feelings for you before, but now he is concealing it.

There's no hiding it."

Chapter 1382

Avery took the checklist, looked at the results and then frowned, "It seems that our previous plan needs to be changed."

Xander said, "Yes. I was about to tell you this. Your condition has deteriorated too fast. You must operate as soon as possible."

Avery looked over to the balcony glanced at it, then put away the checklist:

"Wait until the evening."

Xander said, "Okay. Have you eaten yet?"

Avery said, "Not yet. The bodyguard went to buy it."

Xander took out his mobile phone and said, "I'll call and ask him to bring one for me."

Avery walked towards the balcony, wanting to hear what Elliot and the child had to say.

She had just reached the door when the door was pulled open.

After Elliot finished the videocall, he handed her her cell phone back.

“What did you tell your daughter?” Avery took the phone and asked.

Elliot’s handsome cheeks were slightly red: “Ask your daughter. I have to go up.”

“You won’t be able to come over later at night?” Avery hesitated and asked.

Elliot’s face turned a little red again: “It depends. I’ll send you a message later.”

“Okay.” Avery sent Elliot out of the ward.

After he left, she went back to the hospital bed and sat down. Xander joked:

“You two are dating in the hospital, I have never seen a patient with such a good mentality as you.”

“This fully shows that I trust your medical skills too much. I think you can definitely cure me. That’s why I’m in the mood to date.”

Xander sat down in the chair next to him and said, “Seeing that the relationship between the two of you has improved, I’m really relieved for you. You paid so much for him, if he insisted on staying here, that’s so unfair to you.”

“It’s not fair or unfair. I came to him voluntarily. Even if I can’t save him, I won’t hate him.” Avery picked up the water bottle and took a sip, “Xander, why did you give me general anesthesia? It’s just for an examination...and I have to have general anesthesia during the operation.”

Too much anesthesia is not good for the body.

Xander was also helpless.

Avery had to be given general anesthesia to get the embryo out of her body without her knowledge.

Xander said awkwardly, “Actually, I didn’t inject you with general anesthesia.

The dose is less than the amount of general anesthesia. In your situation today, when I'm considering surgery, should I give you a lower dose?"

"If the dose is less and there is no general anesthesia, then it won't kill me?

I'm very afraid of the pain." Avery said, the bodyguard came back with dinner.

At upstairs.

Kyrie had woken up, but he was weaker now.

Elliot entered the ward, saw Lorenzo, and said, "Go back to rest with Rebecca."

Lorenzo said badly, "Didn't you see that Rebecca was not there? She is not feeling well, so she left long ago."

Elliot: "What's wrong with her?"

Lorenzo: "She's your wife, you ask me?"

Elliot immediately took out his mobile phone and called Rebecca.

Soon, the phone was connected.

"Rebecca, I heard that you are not feeling well, what's the matter with you?"

Hearing Elliot's question, Rebecca smiled softly: "I'm fine. It's just that my stomach hurts a little. Maybe it's time for my period? I'm resting at home now.

You don't have to worry about me."

Elliot said, "If you are not feeling well, go to the hospital for a checkup."

Rebecca: "Well, it's not that uncomfortable. If it's really that uncomfortable, I'll go to the hospital. It's a pity I couldn't take care of Dad in the hospital today."

Elliot: "Don't worry, Lorenzo and I will take care of him."

"Elliot, thank you. Thank you for your hard work." Rebecca said gratefully.

After hanging up, Elliot walked to the hospital bed and looked at Kyrie:

"Brother, how are you feeling now?"

"Dizzy." Kyrie frowned, "Why don't you go back to accompany Rebecca. I...I'll probably go home tomorrow."

Chapter 1383

Elliot: "Treat at home?"

Kyrie: "Well, the doctor said my problem is not serious."

Elliot: "Okay. Then I'll pick you up tomorrow." After Elliot finished speaking, he looked at Lorenzo, "Then I'll have to work hard for you tonight."

Lorenzo didn't speak.

After Elliot left, Kyrie looked at Lorenzo.

"I know you're upset that he stole Rebecca, so there's nothing you can do, who makes you less capable than him?" Kyrie's voice came coldly, "If you don't agree, you should devote yourself to learning from him. If you want surpass him, you can replace him."

Lorenzo said, "I know."

"Why is Rebecca uncomfortable?" Kyrie asked.

Lorenzo said, "Miss Jobin didn't tell me in detail. She just said that she can't come to see you for the next two days. When the matter is completed, she will explain it to you as soon as possible. She should have some plans."

"You don't care about Rebecca's age lightly, She is definitely not a brainless woman." Although Kyrie was weak, his eagle eyes were shining brightly, "As long as Rebecca can put the interests of the Jobin family above love, I don't worry about the Jobin family at all. I'm afraid..."

Kyrie frowned and said to Lorenzo, "Rebecca has fallen into it. She has fallen in love with Elliot. She sent me a message and told me. You need to be there from time to time. Talk to her and remind her."

Lorenzo said, "Okay, I will!"

....

Inside the villa.

Rebecca was very happy while drinking the soup made by the nanny. Now, there was a little life in her belly. Although this little life may not survive smoothly, there was still hope.

Rebecca finished the soup and chatted with the nanny, "I can't let anyone know that this child belongs to Avery. The child is in my body now, and he is my child."

The nanny gave her an idea: "Miss, why don't you find someone to kill Xander? Only when Xander disappears from this world will the truth not be told."

Rebecca frowned. She had a good impression of Xander, but at the moment, Xander was indeed a huge obstacle.

If Xander ever tells the truth, the child in her stomach will be snatched away by Avery.

Rebecca must not let this happen.

"Miss, leave this to Lorenzo. You are now pregnant with a child, take good care of your body and don't think about anything." The nanny said.

Rebecca nodded. She immediately picked up the phone, and dialed Lorenzo.

....

Neurosurgery Inpatient Unit, Ward v03.

The arrival of Elliot made Xander and the bodyguards retreat wisely.

"Why are you here?" Avery was about to discuss the treatment plan with Xander, but Elliot suddenly came in.

"Kyrie will be discharged from the hospital tomorrow. He asked me to go back to accompany Rebecca." He sat down on the chair beside the hospital bed, "I'll stay with you and go back later."

"Go back to accompany Rebecca?" Avery said and also there was jealousy,

“Did you listen to what I told you before?”

Elliot hesitated for a moment and explained, “Rebecca is not feeling well today.”

“I am not feeling well either. I will have surgery tomorrow. Tomorrow, after Kyrie is discharged from the hospital, you can’t come to the hospital and you can’t come to see me.” Avery was not only uncomfortable, but also felt uncomfortable, “You stay with me tonight.”

Elliot softened, “After your surgery, I will take the time to see you.”

Avery: “I want you to accompany me tonight.”

Elliot: “Okay.”

“You have surgery tomorrow, so I’ll go to bed with you.” Elliot thought about it and discussed with her.

Avery got off the bed and said, “I’m going to sleep in the escort bed too. I’m not a patient yet.”

“Have you taken a bath?” Elliot asked.

Avery: “No! How about you?”

Elliot shook his head and suggested, “Why don’t we go to the hotel!”

Avery blinked: “Okay!”

Chapter 1384

Avery changed her hospital clothes, put on a mask, followed behind Elliot, and left the hospital in a low-key manner. Coming out of the hospital, Avery immediately took his arm.

Avery: “Let’s find a hotel nearby. If Xander and my bodyguards know that I’m staying at a hotel with you tonight, they will definitely laugh at me.”

Elliot: “It’s because it’s more convenient to take a bath.”

Avery: “Oh, it’s really convenient to take a bath in a hotel.”

“You’re a patient now, so I’m not that rude.” Elliot defended himself.

Avery couldn’t help laughing: “What are you explaining to me. Are you a beast? I have the answer in my heart.”

“What answer?” Elliot looked at her blushing face.

“Sometimes a beast, sometimes a gentleman.” Avery gave the answer and asked him at the same time, “Elliot, what is your impression of me?”

Elliot replied without hesitation, “It’s the same as your evaluation of me. You seduced me first. “

Avery clenched her palm tightly, “Oh! I don’t believe Rebecca didn’t seduce you. Are you hooked?”

Elliot: “Didn’t I already hook you?”

“You can too in two boats.” Avery fanned her eyelashes.

“Really?” Elliot looked at her innocently.

Avery was irritated by his airy rhetorical question. She pinched him at the waist.

Elliot immediately clenched her hand and gestured forward with his eyes: “Just go to the hotel in front.” Behind them, Lorenzo’s black eyes stared at them until they entered the hotel.

Lorenzo got a call from Rebecca, so he came out of Kyrie’s ward.

Unexpectedly, when they got out of the elevator, they saw Elliot and Avery coming out of another elevator.

They only saw each other in their eyes and didn’t notice him at all.

Rebecca can endure Elliot’s private relationship with Avery to revive but Lorenzo can’t bear it.

Elliot’s behavior simply ignored the Jobin family.

Moreover, Rebecca said that she didn’t care, how could she not care in her heart?

It's just that the adoptive father relies too much on Elliot, so Lorenzo can't do anything to Elliot.

After Lorenzo smoked a cigarette on the side of the road, he took someone into the car.

The next day, 7:00 in the morning.

The warm sunlight came in from the window.

Avery woke up and saw Elliot lying beside him, as if he was dreaming.

As if the two of them never misunderstood and quarreled, he didn't leave the country, and she didn't get sick.

They slept in the same bed every day and woke up to his familiar face every morning.

His eyes suddenly opened and he saw Avery staring at him.

"What are you looking at?" After Elliot opened her mouth, Avery kissed him on the cheek: "You sleep a little longer, and I'll go to the hospital by myself."

Elliot: "I'll take you there."

"No need. You've been busy these days. I haven't rested well. After my surgery, you can see me again." Avery said and sat up.

"I'll see you at night." Elliot looked at her back and said.

Chapter 1385

"You call my bodyguard or Xander first, and come back when I wake up." Avery said, "There should be no problem with this operation, you don't have to worry."

Elliot: "I won't worry as long as you leave here safely."

"I'm sure I can get out of here safely. You'll get out of here safely, too." Avery put on her clothes and picked up her phone, "I'll go first."

"Well. Be careful on the road. Call me if you have anything."

“...”

Avery came out of the hotel and strode towards the hospital. In less than 10 minutes, she returned to the ward.

Fortunately, Xander and the bodyguard hadn't come yet.

Avery went to the bathroom to wash up, then walked to the bedside, picked up her phone, and turned it on. She saw that Xander sent her a message at 4:00 in the morning: [I can't operate on you. My girlfriend forced me to go back home. So I go first. Sorry.]

This message made Avery stunned.

She knew that Xander had a girlfriend, and she heard him talk about it when they ate together before.

After a while, the bodyguard carried the breakfast, pushed open the door of the ward and walked in.

Avery immediately put down the phone, but the expression on her face did not adjust for a while.

The bodyguard put the breakfast on the table and asked, “Boss, what's the matter with you? I went to call Xander in the morning. There is a ‘Do Not Disturb’ sign hanging on the door of his room. It's strange.”

Avery explained, “Xander is left. He sent me a message at 4:00 in the morning, saying that he couldn't operate on me.”

“Ah?! What's going on? You two quarreled?” The bodyguard was taken aback.

It was agreed that the operation was done today, but the chief surgeon left.

How to do this operation?

“He said his girlfriend forced him to go back, so he left first.” Avery said calmly,

“It's okay, I can find another doctor to operate on me. This operation is not that difficult.”

“Xander is too unkind. Even if his girlfriend forces him to go back, he can go back after the operation on you today. He can’t wait for a day? Don’t you think it’s a little strange? He will be fine if you go back to the hotel with him in the evening.” The bodyguard felt very strange.

Avery looked at the bodyguard: “Maybe his girlfriend had a big fight with him.” The bodyguard sneered, “Even if there was a big fight, he wouldn’t leave you here, right? Either he doesn’t promise to operate on you and he said several times that we can leave here after your operation.”

“He must be involuntarily. Don’t blame him. Wait for my operation. I’ll call him later and ask.” Avery’s mood has calmed down. She took her breakfast out of the bag and took a small bite.

“Boss, he said last night that your condition has deteriorated. Could it be that he couldn’t handle your operation, so he escaped.” The bodyguard opened his mind.

“Impossible. Even if my condition deteriorates, the operation is at most complicated. With his ability, he can completely perform this operation for me. It’s definitely not the reason you guessed.” Avery still knows Xander’s ability very well otherwise she would not have called him to help him operate.

It’s just that Xander left before the operation, which is a bit strange indeed. In fact, he could leave at any time, but he chose to leave the night before the operation, which caught Avery by surprise.

“Then he’s too hateful. Boss, break up with him.” The bodyguard complained, “Let’s go to another doctor after breakfast.”

“Well.”

After breakfast, Avery and the bodyguard Go to a Doctor.

The doctor was very surprised when he heard that Xander had left.

“I thought you had a good relationship. I saw that he was very responsible for your illness before...”

The bodyguard said angrily, “We were also very angry. He didn’t say bye, he just left. What a b*stard! Let’s see if you can perform this operation on my boss.”

The doctor said embarrassedly, “Of course it can be done, but I can’t guarantee that the operation will be successful. After all, I have no medical skills. Xander is amazing. If you can’t trust me, you can find experts from other countries.”

Avery pondered for a moment and said, “Please help me with the operation. It’s already so late.”

Her condition deteriorated faster, and she couldn’t drag it on any longer.

.....

Bridgedale.

Chapter 1386

Wesley called Avery but no one answered, so he dialed Xander’s number, but no one answered.

Today is the day was Avery’s surgery day, and he wanted to know the situation of the surgery.

Just when he checked the flight in Yonroeville and planned to go to Yonroeville, Avery’s phone came back.

“Brother Wesley, my mobile phone is charging in the ward.” Avery discussed the surgical plan with the doctor, and only returned to the ward just now.

“Are you operating today?”

“Well.” Avery was stunned for a moment and told him the matter, “Xander has returned to Aryadelle, so I asked the doctor in this hospital to operate on me.”

Wesley was taken aback: "What's the situation? What's the urgency? Can't you go back to Aryadelle after the operation? When did he leave?"

"He sent me a message at 4:00 in the morning, and he probably left when he sent me a message." Avery's mood has calmed down down.

"Why didn't you have an operation before leaving? Are you in a hurry for this day?" Wesley was puzzled.

"Maybe his condition is in a hurry. And this is not a major operation for me..."

"Craniotomy, why is it not a major operation? Xander is a fool. Either he will not agree to perform the operation for you, since he has agreed. How can he go back on the last day? I'll call him later." Wesley's tone was very serious.

Avery immediately said, "Brother Wesley, don't call him. He must have his own difficulties. I'll call him after my operation is over."

Wesley: "Is the doctor over there okay? "

"I don't think there should be any problem. Kyrie always comes to this hospital to see a doctor every time he is sick." Avery changed the subject, "How are Shea and Adrian?"

"They are fine." Wesley lived with them and waited for Elliot and Avery to return, "Shea is much better, and Adrian takes good care of her."

Avery: "I miss you so much."

Wesley: "You need to have peace of mind. The most important thing is to recover from your illness now."

Avery: "Well."

Wesley: "Then I won't bother you. Send me your bodyguard's number. I'll wait for you tonight and contact to your bodyguard."

Avery: "Okay."

After speaking, Avery sent the bodyguard's number.

At 11 p.m.

Elliot returned to the villa.

In the living room, there was a floor of flowers, and Rebecca sat beside him, putting in a bottle.

Seeing Elliot coming back, Rebecca immediately put down the scissors and flowers in her hands and asked, "Elliot, is my dad coming home?"

"Well. He's home now. How are you?" Elliot sat down on the sofa and glanced at the flowers she had arranged.

Rebecca sat down beside him and said, "It's a little better today. I heard that Avery has an operation today. After her operation is over, you can go and see her if you want. It's a pity that she doesn't want to see me otherwise I would also like to see her. I'll go see her with you."

Elliot looked at the sincere expression on Rebecca's face, and said solemnly, "Don't go to her in the future."

Rebecca: "Okay. I didn't expect you to hate me so much."

Elliot: "Since you are in good health today. It's not that uncomfortable anymore, then you can go see your dad later."

Rebecca said, "Well. I'll put these flowers in the vase and go there. Elliot, are you hungry? Would you like something to eat? The nanny made the soup..."

"I'm not hungry. Since you're fine, I'll go first." His voice settled, a look of disappointment flashed in her eyes, and he immediately explained, "Your dad gave me some work has been arranged, and I have to deal with it."

"Well, you go. I'm just worried that your body can't take it." Rebecca escorted him out.

After he left, Rebecca returned to the living room.

The nanny held a bowl of chicken soup and brought it to Rebecca: "Miss, did you see that Elliot's heart is not at home at all. If Avery was not here, he would definitely not be like this."

After taking a sip of the chicken soup, Rebecca said, "I'll go and talk to my father about this later. However, Avery has an operation today, and it is estimated that she will have to stay in the hospital for a few days before leaving here. Her heart will naturally go home."

"Well. This is the Jobin family's territory. No matter how powerful Elliot was in the past, no matter how good Avery is, no matter how good his arm is, Elliot must be your husband honestly, and Avery must also be an honest husband. Get out of here."

The nanny's words made Rebecca smile.

After drinking the soup, Rebecca went to Kyrie's house, accompanied by the nanny.

"Dad, how do you feel?" Rebecca asked, holding Kyrie's hand.

Kyrie looked at his daughter and asked, "What did you do yesterday?"

Rebecca said, "I now have Elliot's child in my belly. Dad, please let Avery leave here. Wait for Avery to leave. Now, I will definitely let Elliot stay here with peace of mind."

"What happened to the child?" Kyrie was very surprised.

After Rebecca explained the matter, Kyrie frowned, not very satisfied.

"Dad, don't be angry yet. This child's role is to keep Elliot here. When he stays, are you still afraid that he won't have children with me in the future?"

Rebecca's words made Kyrie's brows stretch: "Well. Rebecca, you not only want Elliot to stay here, but also like Avery, hold his heart firmly. Elliot can give up everything for Avery, and you also want him to give everything for you."

Rebecca nodded: "Dad, I will work hard."

.....

In the hospital.

After all the preoperative preparations were done, Avery was sent to the operating room.

The bodyguard stood outside the operating room door, waiting anxiously.

After a while, Avery's cell phone rang, and it was Mike.

The bodyguard answered the phone: "My boss has just entered the operating room. It will take at least an hour to come out."

Mike: "When Avery comes out, you will call me back as soon as possible."

Bodyguard: "Let's talk about it when she wakes up. I still don't know how this doctor's medical skills are... My boss was put out by her classmates. I still can't figure it out, obviously he was fine yesterday, so if he doesn't want to do it, he won't do it."

"Then What's the name of the person?"

"His name is Xander. I had a good impression of him, but who knew he was such a person. Next time I want to see him, I have to scold him to death."

"I'll check this person out." Mike finished and hung up the phone.

The bodyguards were restlessly walking around outside the operating room.

At 3 p.m., the lights in the operating room went out, and after a while, the door of the operating room opened, and Avery was pushed out.

Chapter 1388

After Avery was transferred to the ward, not long after, Elliot came.

"Doctor, when will my boss wake up?" the bodyguard asked the chief surgeon.

Doctor: "She should be able to wake up when the anesthesia is over."

Bodyguard: "How long will it take for the anesthesia to pass?"

Doctor: "It may be soon, it may be at night."

At 7 p.m., Avery woke up slowly. After she woke up, Elliot called the doctor immediately.

The bodyguard called Mike from outside the ward.

After Mike answered the phone, he said, "I checked Xander, but I didn't find out that he bought a ticket from Yonroeville to Bridgedale. He should still be in Yonroeville."

Bodyguard: "How is that possible? Another doctor performed surgery on my boss today. If Xander was still here, why didn't he perform surgery on my boss?"

Mike: "The information I found can't be wrong. He really didn't leave by plane."

The bodyguard said, "D*mn it. But we really can't contact him."

"How is Avery now?" Mike didn't so concern about Xander, he cared more about Avery, "Can she speak now? I want to hear her voice."

The bodyguard walked into the ward with his mobile phone.

The doctor was checking Avery's temperature and blood pressure. Although her eyes were open and were a little dull.

"I'm afraid she can't talk to you now. When she's better, I'll ask her to call you back." After the bodyguard finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

After a while, Wesley's phone call came.

The bodyguard stood outside the door of the ward and answered the phone:

"My boss is already awake, but she can't talk to you on the phone now. I don't think she's very awake."

Wesley: "Well, it's like this after the surgery. She will be tomorrow. It should be much better."

"Wesley, you and Xander should also know each other, right? Didn't Xander send a message to my boss to go back to Bridgedale? But Mike said he didn't go back to Bridgedale. What do you think he is? What do you mean?" The bodyguard asked the question.

Wesley: "I called him just now, and his cell phone has been turned off."

The bodyguard: "Then do you know his address?"

Wesley said, "I don't know. Xander should be trustworthy. Otherwise, Avery will not be able to. Call him over."

"Then why did he send such a message to my boss? And if he doesn't go back to Bridgedale now, where is he?" The bodyguard especially wanted to figure out this question.

Chapter 1389

"Are you going to the hotel where he stayed?"

"I went to see it in the morning, and there was a 'do not disturb' sign on it." The bodyguard said and paused, "I'll wait to go down to the hotel to see. A staff said he didn't leave here. If he didn't, then he could only be in the hotel..."

The bodyguard said, trembling in his heart and a cold sweat on his back.

After talking on the phone, the bodyguard returned to the ward.

The doctor checked Avery just now, and she was normal.

The doctor had already left, and Elliot was with her by the hospital bed.

The bodyguard put Avery's mobile phone on the table.

"Boss, rest well and don't think about anything. I'll go buy dinner now." The bodyguard said, and asked Elliot, "Would you like to bring it for you?"

"No, I'm not hungry yet." Elliot said.

"Oh, then I'll go first." After the bodyguard finished, he left the ward.

After the bodyguard left, Elliot looked at Avery.

Elliot held her infusion hand and said, "I know you have a headache right now, so don't think about anything. Kyrie has promised to let you leave here. When you feel better, you can leave."

"Well. I miss home so much..." Avery said, a sharp pain in her head suddenly came.

"Don't talk yet." Elliot looked at her pained appearance, his heart clenched tightly, "I will be here with you tonight. Before you leave here, I will be with you."

Avery stretched her thin eyebrows and gently responded.

In the hotel.

When the bodyguard came to the room where Xander stayed before, there was still a 'Do Not Disturb' sign hanging on the door.

The bodyguard pressed the doorbell, waited a moment, and got no response.

A strange feeling rose up.

If there are people in the room, after the doorbell rings, the people inside should come to open the door to see.

The bodyguard goes to the hotel manager and said, "My friend lives in this room. I can't contact him now, so you help me open the door to see. I just went to the front desk to ask about my friend if he had checked out, but the lady at the front desk refused to tell me. If something happens to my friend, your hotel will not be able to shirk its responsibility."

The hotel manager took the card and swiped the door open.

The bodyguard pushed open the door, and the sight inside made his hair stand up.

In the hospital ward, Elliot's cell phone rang. Seeing that it was Avery's bodyguard calling, he immediately answered the phone.

"Mr. Foster, This is the bad news. Xander is dead. He died in the hotel room."

The bodyguard was chilling and didn't know what to do with Xander's body.

Hearing this, Elliot walked out of the ward immediately.

Chapter 1390

Avery don't know how long it took, she woke up from a sleep, and saw the ward was empty, Elliot was not there, nor was the bodyguard.

–Didn't Elliot say that he would accompany her here?

Avery took the phone and checked the time. It's already 11:00 p.m. She felt nothing but pain at the moment.

She found Elliot's number and dialed—

On the other side of the phone, Elliot's voice came, "Avery, are you awake? I'll go over to accompany you right away."

Her lips moved, and her voice was very soft: "If it's inconvenient to come here, you can come here..."

"I'm in the hospital, I'll go there right away." After Elliot finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Xander's body has been sent to the hospital. Now Elliot and the bodyguard need to find out why Xander died suddenly.

Moreover, before Xander died, why did he send such a message to Avery?

Since he was going to leave, why didn't he make it? He felt that his death was not an accident, but...murder.

Elliot returned to the ward with the bodyguard.

Seeing the two of them, Avery asked aloud, "Did you go to smoke?"

"No."

"Yeah!"

The two of them spoke together, but the answers were different.

The calmness on Avery's face was replaced by curiosity: "What are you doing?"

The bodyguard kept his mouth shut and let Elliot speak.

“The bodyguard smoked and I had a late-night snack.” Elliot finished his words concisely, walked to the bed and sat down, “Are you feeling better now?”

“Hmm. Why did Kyrie suddenly agree to let me go?” Avery asked.

“Rebecca went to him.” Elliot said truthfully.

Avery said weakly, “I understand. Rebecca doesn’t want me to stay here at all. If I leave, you will be hers.”

Elliot said, looking at the bodyguard, “Don’t think about it. You go back to rest first.”

“Oh... Boss, then I’ll go first. I’ll see you tomorrow morning.” After the bodyguard finished talking to Avery, he strode out.

The two of them planned to tell her Xander’s death when Avery was discharged from the hospital.

Avery just had brain surgery and couldn’t be stimulated now.

The next day.

After the nurse gave Avery’s medicine today, Elliot went back to rest.

Avery felt better today than yesterday. The pain was lessened and the spirit was slightly better.

The bodyguard thought Avery couldn’t eat today, so he didn’t buy her breakfast.

Avery especially wanted clear porridge, so she asked the bodyguard to buy it.

After the bodyguard went out, her cell phone rang.

It is a strange call, and the attribution shows Bridgedale.

She picked up the phone, and a female voice came: “Avery, I’m Xander’s girlfriend. Where are you now?”

Avery was stunned: “Isn’t Xander returning to Aryadelle?”

“Why didn’t I know he was returning to Aryadelle?” Now tell me where you are now?” The woman over the phone gradually lost control of her emotions.

Avery frowned, feeling that something was wrong. After she reported her ward number, the call was interrupted.

–Xander did not return to Bridgedale, where did Xander go?

–Could it be that something happened to Xander?

Chapter 1391

Within half an hour, Xander's girlfriend came to the hospital. When she saw Avery, she was stunned for a moment.

"Did Xander do your surgery for you? What about others?"

The bodyguard immediately pulled her and wanted to take her out. But she pushed the bodyguard away suddenly, insisting to confront Avery.

"He sent me a message at 4:00 a.m. yesterday, saying that there is no way to operate on me." Avery was afraid that she would not believe her, so she turned on her phone and showed her the text message.

She took Avery's mobile phone, and after reading the text message, her scalp became numb: "What nonsense! He didn't contact me at all, and he didn't tell me that he was going back to Aryadelle."

"You mean he didn't return to Aryadelle to find you?" Avery looked at her inexplicably.

"If he returns to Aryadelle to look for me, why should I come here to ask you for someone? I haven't seen him for half a month." She returned Avery's phone, "I need an explanation."

Avery's brain was about to explode.

The bodyguard immediately reassured Avery, "Boss, stay still on the hospital bed, I'll explain to her!"

Having said that, the bodyguard took Xander's girlfriend's arm and wanted to take her out again.

“What do you want to explain? You explain it here!”

Avery echoed: “What do you want to explain? Do you know where Xander is?”

The bodyguard stammered: “I know...know.”

“Where is he? Say it.” Avery was about to get up from the hospital bed in excitement.

The bodyguard immediately held her down: “Xander was killed...Boss, don’t go crazy. I have already told Elliot about this, and Elliot said he would find out the truth. I found out last night that he was dead in the hotel room...”

All of a sudden, a burst of crying came.

When Xander’s girlfriend heard the news of Xander’s death, she suddenly collapsed.

After the bodyguard pressed Avery, he immediately went to appease her: “don’t cry... or come out of the ward and cry. My boss just finished the operation, and the doctor said she needs to rest.”

Xander’s girlfriend pulled him out.

On the hospital bed, Avery’s tears welled up.

–The murder of Xander must have been done by someone from the Jobin family.

–Except for the Jobin family, no one else will hurt him at all.

–The Jobin family definitely didn’t want him to operate on her, so they killed him.

–Did they think that her illness could not be cured?

–Why not come directly at her? Xander is just an ordinary doctor, why do they want to kill him?

Avery had a headache, and even her heart was in severe pain. She seemed to be strangled, unable to breathe.

...

When Elliot returned home, the nanny immediately went upstairs and called Rebecca down.

Rebecca went downstairs and saw him with a tender and sweet smile.

“Elliot, is Avery okay?”

Rebecca knew that he didn’t go home last night and was accompanying Avery in the hospital. She felt uncomfortable, but she felt better when she thought that Avery was about to leave here.

Chapter 1392

Elliot looked at her face and asked her, “Do you know Xander? How did he die?”

Rebecca’s smile froze: “Is he dead? I don’t know. I’ve been at home.”

Elliot: “You don’t need to go out if you want to kill him.”

“I didn’t kill him. I have no grievances with him, why should I kill him?” Rebecca was anxious Next, she reached out and grabbed his arm, “I knew him. I went to the hospital before to ask about IVF, and happened to meet him at the hospital. He begged me to help Avery get out of here, and I said my father was angry. I can help when my father is not so angry.”

“That’s all?” Elliot pushed her hand away.

“Yes! There can’t be anything else between me and him except Avery.”

Rebecca saw that he didn’t seem to believe in himself, and said, “There’s another. I took the initiative to invite him to be a guest at my house, because I heard that there was a man next to Avery, so I wanted to know the relationship between the two of them.”

Elliot said, “He died, and died of poison. Do you think, except for Who else in your Jobin family might kill him? He’s just a doctor and has no connections

here.”

“I don’t know. Elliot, I really don’t know. I’m not feeling well, I’ve been staying at home.” Rebecca said, tears falling down, “Maybe it was my father who did it... He’s been brooding about the death of my eldest brother. He didn’t dare to directly Killing Avery, I was afraid of angering you, so I killed the people around her to relieve her hatred.”

Elliot had no choice but to throw the blame on Kyrie.

Sure enough, when Elliot heard these words, his face suddenly became extremely cold, but he could do nothing.

In the hospital, no matter how the bodyguards comforted Xander’s girlfriend, they couldn’t calm down Xander’s girlfriend. At the same time, the bodyguards worried that Avery couldn’t stand the blow, so they had to call Elliot and ask him to come over.

After a while, Elliot came to the hospital.

After meeting Xander’s girlfriend, he explained the cause of Xander’s death to her.

Elliot said bluntly, “I can’t explain it to you for the time being, but I can only compensate you. If you go to the murderer, you will only lose your own life.

This is an irrational act. If Xander is still alive, he will never die. I don’t want to see you die for him.”

“I don’t want compensation. I don’t want any money you give me. I just want Xander.”

Elliot: “He has already Dead. I can take you to see his body.”

After Elliot took her away, the bodyguard turned and entered the ward.

Avery was lying on the hospital bed, with the nurse comforting her. She has just finished the operation, and she can’t get out of bed yet, and she is not suitable for intense emotions, which will affect her recovery.

“Boss, Xander must have been killed by someone from the Jobin family. We have no way to seek revenge from Kyrie, we can only bear it.” The bodyguard stood beside the hospital bed and said these words plainly.

Avery pursed her lips, pressing her inner grief.

Before, Avery really thought so. After leaving the hospital, leave here first to prevent Kyrie from blackmailing Elliot with himself.

But now, Avery has changed her mind.

Kyrie killed Xander, she couldn’t leave here just like that. Avery wanted to avenge Xander.

It was Avery who called Xander here, if it wasn’t for her, Xander would never have died. She owes Xander a life, and no matter what, she will avenge him.

.....

Afternoon.

Elliot comforted Xander’s girlfriend and sent someone to take her to deal with Xander’s body.

After the body is cremated, she will take Xander’s ashes out of here.

Elliot returned to the ward and saw Avery lying quietly on the hospital bed.

Her eyes were red and swollen, and the expression on her face was very cold.

“Xander will not die in vain.” He sat down beside the hospital bed, and his voice came calmly.

Avery interrupted him. “He died in vain. Even if you kill Kyrie, he won’t come back to life. If he didn’t know me, he wouldn’t have been killed at all.”

“Even if you blame yourself, he’s the same I won’t come back to life.” Elliot said word by word, "I know you want revenge, even if you die here, you will not hesitate. Have you ever thought, who will suffer the most when you die?"

Chapter 1393

Avery knew that Elliot said this to calm her down, but she couldn't calm down. She was heartbroken. The more uncomfortable, the more painful the wound on the head.

"Avery, don't think about this anymore." Elliot held her hand tightly and said word by word, "Even if the sky is about to fall, don't worry about it. We'll talk about everything when you are discharged from the hospital!"

She tried and took a deep breath and was trying to calm her trembling body. After a few minutes, her mood finally calmed down.

Elliot voice came in a low voice, "Avery, close your eyes. You can recover quickly only if you have a good rest."

Avery closed her eyes disobediently, she didn't want to.

As long as she closes her eyes, Xander's face appeared in her mind.

When she saw the message sent by Xander, she had no doubts.

It's just that she never expected Kyrie to be so cruel. She couldn't let herself act as if nothing had happened. Even if she temporarily suppressed her anger, she had to stay awake.

"Go out. I want to be alone." Avery pulled her hand out of his big palm, "I will take care of my illness, I won't get out of bed. I want to be alone."

"Okay." Elliot got up and looked at her pale and cold face, "I'm outside, you have something to call me."

"No need." Avery refused, word by word, "Go back and rest. There are bodyguards watching me, I don't Something will happen. I can get out of bed tomorrow."

“Why don't you let me accompany you?” Elliot had to suspect that she had transferred her hatred of Kyrie to him.

“I want to stay by myself. I don't want to hear any advice. I don't want to hear anything. I just want to get well in peace.” Avery's eyes were red and tears were about to roll out at any moment, she choked, “I beg you, go Bar.”

Elliot strode out of the ward.

When the bodyguard saw him come out, he immediately asked, “Mr. Foster, why did you come out? How is my boss?”

Elliot: “She didn't want to be disturbed.”

“But she is a patient now and needs someone to escort her.” The bodyguard scratched his head and said, “How about I go in?”

“Avery's crying now. You can go in later.” Elliot's eyes darkened and he confessed, “After you go in, don't persuade her. She doesn't want to be persuaded.”

“Oh... Is she treating you? Are you angry?” The bodyguard saw that Elliot's face was not very good, so he comforted, “Xander was called by my boss. Now that Xander is dead here, she must think that Xander was killed by her. I think so too. So no matter what she said to you, don't take it seriously.”

“I know.” Elliot wasn't angry with her, but he panicked, “I'll go first, I have something to do. I'll make a call.”

Xander died of a highly poisonous poison which can cause people to die quickly if ingested in a very small amount.

This drug is a forbidden drug, and ordinary people can't get it at all.

Therefore, when Xander died, he did not suffer too much pain and torture.

It's just that a living person just passed away. It will be a painful blow for his family and friends.

Elliot came out of the hospital and asked the bodyguard to drive the car to Kyrie's villa.

Kyrie is recovering well.

When Elliot saw him, he felt better than yesterday.

Chapter 1394

"Elliot, the job I gave you, you did a good job." Seeing him, Kyrie said with kindness, "By the way, how are you talking to the second and fourth brother? They should have been looking for you?"

Elliot nodded: "I have met with them. The preliminary opinion is that the property of the sixth and the youngest..."

"That's my property. The property of the youngest has long been mine. I bought it from their widow in a reasonable and legal way."

After the death of the sixth and the youngest, Kyrie did everything possible to buy out their property at a low price.

It is obviously a buyout, but it is actually a robbery.

The second and fourth broke up with Kyrie because of this.

If Kyrie used this despicable method to deal with outsiders, that's all.

The sixth and the youngest are their allied brothers, how can they embezzle their property? Even if they want to embezzle, they will share it with their brothers. How can Kyrie take it alone?

Besides, the sixth and the youngest were killed in order to settle the mess for Cristian, and it was really disgusting that Kyrie did such a thing for the sake of profit.

"Brother, I propose to donate one third of the income from this part of the industry to the state treasury, and another third for public welfare. In the end, we only get one third of the proceeds." Elliot was afraid that Kyrie would get angry and explain, "We can donate only a small part of the money through accounting. In this way, we will only lose a small part of the profit."

"Well, even if it is only a small part of the profit, I don't want to lose it." Kyrie grimaced, gritted his teeth and said, "If it wasn't for the sake of me and their former brothers, I would never suffer this loss."

"It's not good for us to fall out with them. Let's take a step back, in order to move forward better."

"Just do as you say." Kyrie said. He asked the bodyguard to hand over cigarettes.

The bodyguard immediately lit a cigar and delivered it to him.

"You haven't recovered yet, so it's best not to touch the cigarette." Elliot reminded to Kyrie.

"I smell it, I don't smoke." Kyrie held the cigarette in his hand, "Now that I have you to help me, my Jobin family will only get better and better. Of course I want to live a good life."

Elliot: "Well."

When the cigar was finished, Kyrie threw the cigarette butt into the trash can.

"Elliot, did you come to me just to talk about this?" Kyrie squinted his fox-like eyes and said, "How is Avery? I heard that she had a major operation."

"The operation is success, but she is not very good."

"Why is she bad?" Kyrie asked knowingly.

Elliot said calmly: "Her classmate is dead. His name is Xander, a neurologist.

He specially called over to let this classmate operate on her. He was killed in the early morning of the day of her surgery."

Oh..." The corners of Kyrie's mouth rose, evoking a sarcastic arc, "I killed him."

Elliot suppressed all his emotions in his heart, and his tone was calm: "How did he provoke him, Are you?"

Kyrie exhaled, "Of course he didn't offend me. I think about it, but I can't get angry. My son can't just die like this. Otherwise, how lonely he would be on Road. I can't kill your son to vent, let alone Avery, otherwise you will be angry with me. I can only kill the people around Avery to vent my anger."

Elliot pursed his thin lips and did not speak.

Kyrie has done all the bad things in his life. For him, killing someone is as random as stepping on Avery.

Elliot got up from his chair, "You have a good rest, I will see you tomorrow."

After Elliot finished speaking, he strode towards the door.

Kyrie looked at his arrogant back and shouted to Elliot uncontrollably: "Don't think I don't know you're angry. I promised to let Avery leave, enough to give you face. Don't be shameless. If you dare to betray me, I will not let you leave the Aryadelle to live."

Chapter 1395

Kyrie looked furious, as if Elliot had done something wrong to him.

"You are ill now, you should rest well and don't think too much." Elliot stopped Kyrie and continued, "Rebecca said that she is not feeling well, I will go back and see her."

His light tone made Kyrie feel like a fist. smashed in cotton.

After he left, Kyrie was very upset.

Kyrie said to the bodyguard, "He is more and more able to hide his feelings. Don't look at how much he seemed to respect me just now, but he actually hated me in his heart."

"Just because of that doctor named Xander. I don't think he is?"

Kyrie frowned, "Of course he's not for Xander...he's for Avery. You didn't hear him say Avery is not good? Avery is in a bad mood because of Xander's death.”

The bodyguard laughed and said, “If she hates it, she hates it but she has no power, even if she hates you, she and also Elliot can’t do anything. this is your world. If you are willing to reuse him, he is a thing, if you don’t reuse him, he is a piece of sh*t!”

“He is still better than Lorenzo. I need him to do things for me.” Kyrie’s voice was low Come down, “but I don’t have to worry, Rebecca will definitely be able to keep him.”

.....

Avonsville.

Tate Industries.

Mike convened a senior management meeting to truthfully inform everyone about the problems the company is currently facing.

Mike said, “It’s me who has implicated the company. Now that Avery is not in the country, she has no energy to manage the company, and she can’t solve the problems the company is facing now.”

“It means that our company only has the latest models. The product was not stolen.” An executive asked in surprise.

Mike said, “Yes. Except for the latest models, if other old models continue to be produced, there is only one situation, that is, they cannot be sold. Wonder Technologies has not invested any research and development, so they can be sold at low prices. And our cost is placed in front of them, it is impossible to fight a price war with them.”

The vice president wondered, “Then what should we do? Should we cut off the production line and lay off a large number of employees?”

Mike didn’t answer. If he wants to keep the company alive, this is the only way to go.

“I heard that Wonder Technologies has spent a lot of money to hire a research and development team abroad, and they should have a lot of new products to launch next.”

“I suddenly felt that our company was at a dead end and came to a dead end. How could this be?”

Mike: “Blame me. If it wasn’t for my stubborn ex who came out to make trouble, our company would never have done this.”

The vice president said, “Director Mike, since Avery is not to blame, then we don’t have the right to blame you. If the company really can’t go on, then go bankrupt. It’s not like the company has never gone bankrupt. Although I’m not very good at finding a job at my age, it’s good. I’ve saved a lot of money in the past few years...”

“Hey, are you really going to go bankrupt?” Someone sighed.

“Unless someone invests and changes the direction of development. Why can Wonder Technologies ride on our face? The first and biggest reason is that they have a lot of money. Wanda has made countless investments, even if they burned it in the early stage. A lot of money goes in, but it doesn’t affect the normal operation of their company at all and they continue to attract investment...”

“Who will invest in us? We offended many investors when our company was booming.”

“Yeah! Avery doesn’t accept investment from outsiders at all.”

“Then it can only go bankrupt. But even if the Tate Industries goes bankrupt, it will not affect Avery’s technology in Bridgedale at all.”

“I can come back and rebuild the Tate Industries.”

No one answered.

Because everyone knows it's unlikely.

Wanda's Wonder Technologies almost emptied the Tate Industries this time.

Reality is reality, Avery has no cards.

Chapter 1396

"I see." Ben Schaffer was rarely ordered like this, even if Elliot asked him to do something, he had never had such an arrogant attitude.

He was not angry, after all, he owed Gwen.

"That...you pull me out of the blacklist." Ben Schaffer continued, "I'll talk to Mike later, and if I have any feedback, I can tell you directly. After all, Adrian is not that smart."

Wait until I finish eating to see how I feel." Gwen hung up the phone after finishing speaking.

After returning the phone to Adrian, Gwen breathed a sigh of relief.

Hayden said casually: "Actually, if my mother's company goes bankrupt, it doesn't matter. This way, my mother won't be so tired."

Hayden knew the problems encountered by Tate Industries but Hayden was not in a hurry.

He felt that after the company went bankrupt, his mother could rest at home.

In the future, he can make money for his mother without having to work so hard.

Gwen frowned, "But you and your sister are still in school. You have a younger brother to support. I know you will make money but you are still a child after all. In case you can't make money someday What?"

"I haven't thought about this." Hayden never doubted his own abilities.

Gwen blinked: "Then you can think about it now. Of course, it's fine if you don't want to. You still have your father. He will definitely support you.”

Hayden was very speechless.

Gwen assured, “Hayden, don’t worry. I will definitely work hard to improve myself. When I can make money in the future, I will definitely take care of you.

Although you don’t want to call me aunt, you and your mother treat me well.

Okay, I keep it all in my heart.”

Hayden was even more speechless.

In front of him, it is better to mock him for not being able to support his family.

At the hospital.

Avery returned to the ward after a series of examinations. When she saw the dinner Hayden bought, she was very moved.

“Hayden has a class tomorrow, so I’ll go back first.” The bodyguard explained to Avery.

Avery: “Well.”

“Boss, are your physical examination results okay?” The bodyguard asked.

“It shouldn’t be a problem. Some test results haven’t come out yet.” Avery felt much better than when he was in Yonroeville.

Presumably because of seeing close friends and relatives, she was psychologically comforted.

“I think you’re in good spirits.” The bodyguard said.

Avery: “This is my second hometown. People will be more relaxed in a familiar environment.”

“Well. Your phone rang just now, and it seems to be your best friend.” The bodyguard reminded.

Avery picked up the phone, saw Tammy’s missed call, and went back immediately.

Avery answered her phone in seconds, "Avery! I heard you went to Bridgedale. Wait for me, I'll fly over to see you right away." Tammy said.

"No, I'll go back to Aryadelle when I'm discharged from the hospital. Let's meet again." Avery didn't want to trouble Tammy to run around.

During her time in Yonroeville, Tammy often sent her messages to persuade her to return to Aryadelle.

"Okay, Avery, you must take care of yourself. I went to see Robert today. Robert is really cute. I really want to take him home and play."

Avery said sadly, "I miss him so much. He's almost his first birthday. I hope Elliot can go back to Aryadelle before his birthday."

"What's going on with Elliot now? Is he in danger?" Tammy asked.

"Even if he's in danger, he won't tell me. He can only come back if Kyrie is dead." Avery's mood suddenly fell. After she calmed down, she didn't even feel that she had to seek revenge from Kyrie.

Chapter 1397

Because there is nothing, it is worth making Elliot pay the price of his life.

Thinking of this, Avery's head started to hurt again.

Tammy said worriedly, "Avery, I heard that Elliot's wife in Yonroeville is very beautiful, so you're not afraid that he will change his mind and dislike the old?"

Avery: "If he really changed his mind, it wouldn't hurt me that much."

Tammy: "Yes. If he's really that sc*mbag, you should be able to forget him soon."

Maybe because of this call Avery dreamed at night that Elliot fell in love with Rebecca and was willing to stay in Yonroeville for Rebecca.

In the dream, the two of them soon gave birth to a baby, and the family was harmonious and beautiful, happy and loving.

And she was in Aryadelle, waiting for him, and when her hair was gray, she couldn't wait for him to come back.

At the end of this dream, she fell ill on the bed and died with hatred. She was in a cold sweat when she woke up from her nightmare.

She picked up her phone and checked the time. It is now more than 3 a.m. in Bridgedale time.

She couldn't sleep, so she sent Elliot a message: [I dreamed of you just now.]

Unexpectedly, he quickly replied: [Only Wesley can control you.]

Looking at the message he sent, Avery couldn't help snorting coldly: [I remembered the fact that you spoke ill of me to Wesley in private. Next time we meet, I'll settle the bill with you.]

Elliot: [Let's talk about it when you recover.]

Avery: [I'm almost recovering. After coming here, I saw Hayden, Gwen, and Adrian. Feeling better in body.]

Elliot: [When you return to Aryadelle and see your daughter and Robert, you will get better sooner.]

Avery: [Not necessarily. Maybe when I go back to Aryadelle, I will be so angry that I have high blood pressure. My company may be going bankrupt. After I left for less than a month, I was slapped by Wanda.]

Bankruptcy is not the biggest headache for Avery, the headache is losing to Wanda.

Elliot: [It's not like you haven't gone bankrupt before, take it easy.]

Avery: [Are you so comforting? And my family went bankrupt before, so it doesn't matter to me. I have never gone bankrupt since I started my business.]

Elliot: [Aren't you going to experience it right away? Failure is also a precious experience.]

Avery: [Thank you for comforting me, I feel better.] [smile] [smile] [smile]

Elliot: [Go on sleeping!]

Avery: [I can't sleep. what are you doing now? How did you and Rebecca sleep at night? Didn't Kyrie force the two of you to have children? How are you going to have children?]

Elliot: [I'm having breakfast. At night she sleeps in the master bedroom and I sleep in the guest bedroom. The child is going to have a test tube.]

Avery: [Who test tube with whom?]

Elliot: [She randomly picked one from the sperm bank.]

Avery was relieved: [Elliot, I thought about it, if you are not 100% sure that you can kill Kyrie, then forget it. Your life is important. When I'm out of the hospital, I'll find a way to get you out.]

Elliot: [You are already like this, and you still want to save me to move.]

Avery: [I feel you are mocking me.]

Elliot held the phone and looked at the message she sent, the corners of his mouth raised slightly.

Rebecca knew that Elliot was texting with Avery.

Elliot only has a smile on his face when he is with Avery.

Rebecca's heart ached slightly, and she opened his mouth to attract his attention: "Elliot, I want to tell you something."

He put down the phone and looked at Rebecca.

"I... I'm pregnant." Rebecca blushed slightly and told him the good news.

Chapter 1398

Elliot heard the words, stunned for a moment, and then said coldly: "It's good."

Rebecca said gently, "Well, I'm also very happy. I wanted to tell you the news last night, but you came back a little late last night, I'm afraid It affects your rest at night, so I didn't tell you. After breakfast, let's go to Dad's house and tell Dad the news."

Elliot: "Okay."

After breakfast, the two went to Kyrie's house. .

Kyrie is infusing. But when he saw them coming, he had a good look on his face.

"Dad, how is your health? Did the doctor say that you will need to infuse for a few days?" Rebecca walked to the bedside and held Kyrie's big palm.

"Today is the last day. Go to the hospital for a re-examination later. Let's see how the recovery is." Kyrie squinted his fox eyes and asked, "You two come here together, do you have something to tell me?"

Rebecca said with a smile: "I and Elliot have also come to see you together before. The reason why we don't come together is not because you have arranged too much work for Elliot. He doesn't have enough time to rest every day. "

"A man should focus on his career." When Kyrie said this, he glanced at Elliot. Rebecca smiled and said, "Dad, I have good news to tell you. I'm pregnant. I just found out."

Kyrie's eyes lit up, a little surprised: "So soon?"

Rebecca said: "Don't you really want to hug your grandson? Why is it too fast?"

"Hahaha! I just didn't expect you two to be so fast. It's good to be pregnant. I just don't know if it's a boy or a girl." Kyrie smiled and danced, "It doesn't matter if the first child is a boy or a girl. I like them both. You are still so young. You will have more babies in the future."

"Is there anything like you?" Rebecca coquettishly said, "When are you going to the hospital? I'll accompany you later."

Kyrie said, and added, "You're pregnant now, just stay at home and have a good rest. I'll review it, and I'll be fine. If there's nothing wrong with my review, we'll have a party in a week, and welcome baby. It's coming."

"Okay." Rebecca agreed and looked at Elliot, "Elliot, what do you think?"

Elliot: "It's good."

.....

A week later.

Avery felt that her body was almost recovered, so she went for a review.

The inspection results showed that the recovery was good.

"Brother Wesley, can I be discharged from the hospital?" Avery raised her eyebrows proudly, "You can't ask me to stay for another week, right? I lie down every day and my waist is about to break."

"It seems that I don't need to live anymore. But You were making a fuss about being discharged from the hospital a week ago, but the test results at that time were not very good." Wesley turned over the old accounts with her, "I don't even know what you thought at the time. In my heart, you are obviously a very rational person."

"Brother Wesley, please stop talking. I wanted to be discharged at the time because I thought my body was recovering well. I think back now, although I was recovering well at the time, it was far from enough to be discharged from the hospital. I have realized that I was wrong."

"It's good to know that I was wrong. Don't make yourself sick if you don't want to be hospitalized." Wesley asked, "Would you like to rest here for a few days before returning to Aryadelle?"

Avery shook her head: "I miss Layla and Robert so much. I can't wait to buy a ticket to go back to Aryadelle today. But let's go back tomorrow. I'm also reluctant to leave Hayden.”

Wesley smiled: “Fortunately there are only three children, if there are more

Well, I don’t think you’ll think about it.”

“You don’t understand.” Avery walked towards the ward, “I didn’t understand those who had children before I gave birth. Brother Wesley, after you return to Aryadelle this time, you will be old. Stay in the country honestly, and accompany your parents well. In the years since you disappeared, they have aged a lot.”

Wesley: “Actually, I prefer to stay in Bridgedale.”

Avery: “But you will still go back to Aryadelle. Right?”

Wesley: “Well.”

Avery: “Actually, you can find a woman to marry and have children...”

“Avery, please let me go.” Wesley begged for mercy, “When I return to Aryadelle, My parents will definitely urge me, so I won’t bother you to rush me.”

Chapter 1399

“Hahaha!” Avery looked at him embarrassed and continued to tease him,

“Brother Wesley, how do you feel about Shea?”

“Do you have to ask such a question?” Wesley stopped, and said seriously,

“Avery, do you think it’s possible for me and her?”

Avery’s smile disappeared: “Why is it impossible? As long as you want, as long as Shea is willing, the two of you can be together. Before her accident, I think the two of you got along very well.”

Wesley: “I think it’s enough for me and her to get along as friends.”

“Brother Wesley, when Shea is over, you should ask. Think about it. If she is willing to marry you, and you don’t despise her.”

“How could I despise her?” Wesley interrupted her.

Avery sighed, "Since you don't dislike her, then you can wait for her and let her decide what kind of relationship you two get along with. Have you never been in love? Why are you so passive?"

Wesley frowned.

.....

Yonroeville.

Today, the Jobin family held a party to entertain relatives and friends.

Rebecca was pregnant now, and there were bodyguards by her side all the time.

The bodyguard protecting her was not an outsider, but Lorenzo.

Lorenzo's skills were good. In addition, he and Rebecca have known each other since childhood, and they are as close as brothers and sisters.

Elliot and Kyrie entertained the guests together.

"Today is the first time for our brothers to meet after their relationship broke.

Come, let's have a drink!" The third brother raised his glass and shouted for a drink.

Elliot said to Kyrie: "Big brother can't drink recently. Let me drink with you."

"I'm happy today, I'll drink with you." Kyrie held up a glass of champagne, and after clinking with them, he took a sip.

After a while, he became dizzy.

"Hey, I can't accompany you to drink, I'm going to take a break." Kyrie was supported by the bodyguard and left the banquet hall.

After Kyrie left, the third brother laughed: "Kyrie's body is not as good as before."

"He is almost sixty years old, and he has to do it if he doesn't agree with him."

"Elliot, maybe you don't have to do anything, At that time, everything in the Jobin family will naturally be in your hands.” The fourth brother said.

Elliot shook his head, “I can’t wait that long.”

The fourth brother said, “Then you must wait until Rebecca gives birth, right?”

“The child in her womb is not mine.” Elliot took a sip of wine.

The fourth brother said, “Don’t say things like that outside. Otherwise, Kyrie will know and won’t let you go.”

“Well.” Elliot glanced at Rebecca.

Rebecca was eating and chatting with the female guests. Although Lorenzo was by her side, Lorenzo’s eyes fell on Elliot’s side.

Elliot withdrew his gaze. He drank and chatted with everyone, and after a while, a slightly familiar face flashed by in front of him.

He looked at the figure, and saw that the person was carrying a tray and was walking through the banquet hall. He immediately put down the wine glass and strode over.

Chapter 1400

Hasn’t she already left? How could she be here?

Elliot had an ominous premonition in his heart.

About half a month ago, Xander was killed, and at the same time, Xander’s girlfriend came.

Naturally, she could not accept the news of Xander’s death, but she still reluctantly cremated Xander’s body.

Elliot sent someone to take her and Xander’s ashes to the airport.

He thought Xander’s girlfriend had left that day. But he just saw a waiter holding a tray, and that waiter seemed to be her.

She may have returned after returning Xander’s ashes.

And why she came, it’s hard to guess. She definitely didn’t come to be a waiter, she definitely came to seek revenge for Kyrie.

Elliot strode towards the room where Kyrie was resting. Before he could get close, there was a piercing noise.

The men's screams and the women's screams were mixed together.

When Elliot entered the lounge, he saw Kyrie's chest with a dagger stuck in it.

And Xander's girlfriend had been kicked to the ground by the bodyguard, blood dripping from the corners of her mouth.

"Mr. Foster. You came just in time. I don't know how this woman got in. Do you want to interrogate her first, or just kill her?" A bodyguard asked, stepping on the woman's face.

Another bodyguard called an ambulance.

Just when Elliot was about to speak, Lorenzo strode in.

After Lorenzo saw what happened, he immediately drew his gun and aimed it at the woman's head.

"Don't kill her yet." Elliot stopped immediately, "The matter hasn't been investigated yet..."

"What's there to investigate? This woman is Xander's girlfriend. She is here to avenge Xander." Lorenzo recognized her identity after seeing her face clearly.

So Lorenzo thinks that there is no need to investigate, just kill her directly.

Elliot frowned and scolded Lorenzo, "Go to the doctor first to stop the bleeding for your foster father. Didn't you see him bleeding a lot?"

Lorenzo turned back and saw Kyrie's eyes staring like a copper bell, with a painful expression on his face, he immediately said, "Foster father! I'll find a doctor right now!" After speaking, he quickly ran out to find a doctor.

After Lorenzo went out, Elliot looked at the woman on the ground.

The woman gasped for breath, lowered her eyes, and dared not look at him.

Although Kyrie was stabbed, he did not die. His eyes were looking fiercely at the woman on the ground.

Elliot said to the bodyguard, "Take her out. I have a question to ask her. This is the Jobin family's hotel, how did she get in? I think the management should change."

After he finished speaking, he walked out first.

The bodyguard immediately dragged the woman to keep up with him.

Not long after, Lorenzo brought the doctor to the lounge.

Seeing Elliot's absence, Lorenzo immediately asked the bodyguard, "Where is Elliot and that woman?"

"Mr. Foster went to investigate how that woman got in." The bodyguard said.

"Haha! I think he wants to let that woman go." Lorenzo's words were settled, and another bodyguard strode in.

"Where is Elliot?" Lorenzo asked.

"Mr. Foster killed that woman. Waiting for the ambulance outside now."

"Are you sure he killed that woman?" Lorenzo frowned, not quite convinced.

"I saw it with my own eyes. He just broke the woman's neck." The bodyguard said.

He put down the phone and looked at Rebecca.

"I... I'm pregnant." Rebecca blushed slightly and told him the good news.

Chapter 1403

Elliot heard the words, stunned for a moment, and then said coldly: "It's good."

Rebecca said gently, "Well, I'm also very happy. I wanted to tell you the news last night, but you came back a little late last night, I'm afraid It affects your rest at night, so I didn't tell you. After breakfast, let's go to Dad's house and tell Dad the news."

Elliot: "Okay."

After breakfast, the two went to Kyrie's house. .

Kyrie is infusion. But when he saw them coming, he had a good look on his face.

"Dad, how is your health? Did the doctor say that you will need to infuse for a few days?" Rebecca walked to the bedside and held Kyrie's big palm.

"Today is the last day. Go to the hospital for a re-examination later. Let's see how the recovery is.” Kyrie squinted his fox eyes and asked, “You two come here together, do you have something to tell me?”

Rebecca said with a smile: “I and Elliot have also come to see you together before. The reason why we don’t come together is not because you have arranged too much work for Elliot. He doesn’t have enough time to rest every day. “

“A man should focus on his career.” When Kyrie said this, he glanced at Elliot.

Rebecca smiled and said, “Dad, I have good news to tell you. I’m pregnant. I just found out.”

Kyrie’s eyes lit up, a little surprised: “So soon?”

Rebecca said: “Don’t you really want to hug your grandson? Why is it too fast?”

“Hahaha! I just didn’t expect you two to be so fast. It’s good to be pregnant. I just don’t know if it’s a boy or a girl.” Kyrie smiled and danced, “It doesn’t matter if the first child is a boy or a girl. I like them both. You are still so young. You will have more babies in the future.”

“Is there anything like you?” Rebecca coquettishly said, “When are you going to the hospital? I’ll accompany you later.”

Kyrie said, and added, “You’re pregnant now, just stay at home and have a good rest. I’ll review it, and I’ll be fine. If there’s nothing wrong with my review, we’ll have a party in a week, and welcome baby. It’s coming.”

“Okay.” Rebecca agreed and looked at Elliot, “Elliot, what do you think?”

.....

A week later.

Avery felt that her body was almost recovered, so she went for a review.

The inspection results showed that the recovery was good.

“Brother Wesley, can I be discharged from the hospital?” Avery raised her eyebrows proudly, “You can’t ask me to stay for another week, right? I lie down every day and my waist is about to break.”

“It seems that I don’t need to live anymore. But You were making a fuss about being discharged from the hospital a week ago, but the test results at that time were not very good.” Wesley turned over the old accounts with her, “I don’t even know what you thought at the time. In my heart, you are obviously a very rational person.”

“Brother Wesley, please stop talking. I wanted to be discharged at the time because I thought my body was recovering well. I think back now, although I was recovering well at the time, it was far from enough to be discharged from the hospital. I have realized that I was wrong.”

“It’s good to know that I was wrong. Don’t make yourself sick if you don’t want to be hospitalized.” Wesley asked, “Would you like to rest here for a few days before returning to Aryadelle?”

Avery shook her head: “I miss Layla and Robert so much. I can’t wait to buy a ticket to go back to Aryadelle today. But let’s go back tomorrow. I’m also reluctant to leave Hayden.”

Wesley smiled: “Fortunately there are only three children, if there are more Well, I don’t think you’ll think about it.”

“You don’t understand.” Avery walked towards the ward, “I didn’t understand those who had children before I gave birth. Brother Wesley, after you return to Aryadelle this time, you will be old. Stay in the country honestly, and accompany your parents well. In the years since you disappeared, they have aged a lot.”

Wesley: “Actually, I prefer to stay in Bridgedale.”

Avery: “But you will still go back to Aryadelle. Right?”

Wesley: “Well.”

Avery: “Actually, you can find a woman to marry and have children...”

“Avery, please let me go.” Wesley begged for mercy, “When I return to Aryadelle, My parents will definitely urge me, so I won’t bother you to rush me.”

Chapter 1404

“Hahaha!” Avery looked at him embarrassed and continued to tease him,

“Brother Wesley, how do you feel about Shea?”

“Do you have to ask such a question?” Wesley stopped, and said seriously,

“Avery, do you think it’s possible for me and her?”

Avery’s smile disappeared: “Why is it impossible? As long as you want, as long as Shea is willing, the two of you can be together. Before her accident, I think the two of you got along very well.”

Wesley: “I think it’s enough for me and her to get along as friends.”

“Brother Wesley, when Shea is over, you should ask. Think about it. If she is willing to marry you, and you don’t despise her.”

“How could I despise her?” Wesley interrupted her.

Avery sighed, “Since you don’t dislike her, then you can wait for her and let her decide what kind of relationship you two get along with. Have you never been in love? Why are you so passive?”

Wesley frowned.

.....

Yonroeville.

Today, the Jobin family held a party to entertain relatives and friends.

Rebecca was pregnant now, and there were bodyguards by her side all the time.

The bodyguard protecting her was not an outsider, but Lorenzo.

Lorenzo's skills were good. In addition, he and Rebecca have known each other since childhood, and they are as close as brothers and sisters.

Elliot and Kyrie entertained the guests together.

"Today is the first time for our brothers to meet after their relationship broke.

Come, let's have a drink!" The third brother raised his glass and shouted for a drink.

Elliot said to Kyrie: "Big brother can't drink recently. Let me drink with you."

"I'm happy today, I'll drink with you." Kyrie held up a glass of champagne, and after clinking with them, he took a sip.

After a while, he became dizzy.

"Hey, I can't accompany you to drink, I'm going to take a break." Kyrie was supported by the bodyguard and left the banquet hall.

After Kyrie left, the third brother laughed: "Kyrie's body is not as good as before."

"He is almost sixty years old, and he has to do it if he doesn't agree with him."

"Elliot, maybe you don't have to do anything, At that time, everything in the Jobin family will naturally be in your hands." The fourth brother said.

Elliot shook his head, "I can't wait that long."

The fourth brother said, "Then you must wait until Rebecca gives birth, right?"

"The child in her womb is not mine." Elliot took a sip of wine.

The fourth brother said, "Don't say things like that outside. Otherwise, Kyrie will know and won't let you go."

“Well.” Elliot glanced at Rebecca.

Rebecca was eating and chatting with the female guests. Although Lorenzo was by her side, Lorenzo’s eyes fell on Elliot’s side.

Elliot withdrew his gaze. He drank and chatted with everyone, and after a while, a slightly familiar face flashed by in front of him.

He looked at the figure, and saw that the person was carrying a tray and was walking through the banquet hall. He immediately put down the wine glass and strode over.

Chapter 1405

Hasn’t she already left? How could she be here?

Elliot had an ominous premonition in his heart.

About half a month ago, Xander was killed, and at the same time, Xander’s girlfriend came.

Naturally, she could not accept the news of Xander’s death, but she still reluctantly cremated Xander’s body.

Elliot sent someone to take her and Xander’s ashes to the airport.

He thought Xander’s girlfriend had left that day. But he just saw a waiter holding a tray, and that waiter seemed to be her.

She may have returned after returning Xander’s ashes.

And why she came, it’s hard to guess. She definitely didn’t come to be a waiter, she definitely came to seek revenge for Kyrie.

Elliot strode towards the room where Kyrie was resting. Before he could get close, there was a piercing noise.

The men’s screams and the women’s screams were mixed together.

When Elliot entered the lounge, he saw Kyrie’s chest with a dagger stuck in it.

And Xander’s girlfriend had been kicked to the ground by the bodyguard, blood dripping from the corners of her mouth.

“Mr. Foster. You came just in time. I don’t know how this woman got in. Do you want to interrogate her first, or just kill her?” A bodyguard asked, stepping on the woman’s face.

Another bodyguard called an ambulance.

Just when Elliot was about to speak, Lorenzo strode in.

After Lorenzo saw what happened, he immediately drew his gun and aimed it at the woman’s head.

“Don’t kill her yet.” Elliot stopped immediately, “The matter hasn’t been investigated yet...”

“What’s there to investigate? This woman is Xander’s girlfriend. She is here to avenge Xander.” Lorenzo recognized her identity after seeing her face clearly.

So Lorenzo thinks that there is no need to investigate, just kill her directly.

Elliot frowned and scolded Lorenzo, “Go to the doctor first to stop the bleeding for your foster father. Didn’t you see him bleeding a lot?”

Lorenzo turned back and saw Kyrie’s eyes staring Like a copper bell, with a painful expression on his face, he immediately said, “Foster father! I’ll find a doctor right now!” After speaking, he quickly ran out to find a doctor.

After Lorenzo went out, Elliot looked at the woman on the ground.

The woman gasped for breath, lowered her eyes, and dared not look at him.

Although Kyrie was stabbed, he did not die. His eyes were looking fiercely at the woman on the ground.

Elliot said to the bodyguard, “Take her out. I have a question to ask her. This is the Jobin family’s hotel, how did she get in? I think the management should change.”

After he finished speaking, he walked out first.

The bodyguard immediately dragged the woman to keep up with him.

Not long after, Lorenzo brought the doctor to the lounge.

Seeing Elliot's absence, Lorenzo immediately asked the bodyguard, "Where is Elliot and that woman?"

"Mr. Foster went to investigate how that woman got in." The bodyguard said.

"Haha! I think he wants to let that woman go." Lorenzo's words were settled, and another bodyguard strode in.

"Where is Elliot?" Lorenzo asked.

"Mr. Foster killed that woman. Waiting for the ambulance outside now."

"Are you sure he killed that woman?" Lorenzo frowned, not quite convinced.

"I saw it with my own eyes. He just broke the woman's neck." The bodyguard said.

"Where's the corpse?" Lorenzo was going to see the woman's corpse.

Chapter 1406

"The body was dragged away. There were so many guests today, I'm afraid that the guests will see bad luck." The bodyguard replied.

Lorenzo was speechless.

Not long after, the ambulance arrived, and Kyrie was rushed into the ambulance.

Lorenzo went to the hospital with the car, while Elliot stayed to see the guests and accompany Rebecca.

A party that was going to be good ended because of the attack on Kyrie.

After Elliot sent the guests away, he planned to send Rebecca home.

"My father will be fine, right? I heard that a woman disguised as a waiter came in?" Rebecca frowned, worried.

“Your father shouldn’t be in danger. The dagger didn’t stick to the heart.” Elliot opened the car door and let her get in the car.

“Elliot, I want to go to the hospital to accompany my father.” Rebecca felt uneasy.

It happened so suddenly.

Her father was hospitalized not long ago for a wrestling, and her health was not good. Now she was assassinated. She was afraid that her father would not survive and die suddenly.

Elliot said, “You’re going to the hospital now, and you can’t do anything. Go home first, and then go there when your father wakes up.”

“Okay.” After Rebecca got into the car, she saw several people standing in front of the hotel through the car window so she said to Elliot, “Are they waiting for you? I’ll just go back by myself, you can stay with them.”

After Rebecca left, Elliot strode to the door of the hotel.

“Second brother, fourth brother, go back first.” The second brother was puzzled, “Why did you save that woman? I really don’t understand you and Nick, you two are poisonous.”

Elliot did not kill Xander girlfriend. He hid the woman in Nick’s car and planned to let Nick take her in for a while.

When Kyrie is dead, send her out of here.

Nick shrugged: “Avery promised to treat me free of charge when I was sick.

Elliot promised me that if I had difficulties in the future, I would do my best to help him. I will help them both a little now, and they will reward me even more. Yes, I think I made it. What you make is money, and what I make is the favor they both owe me.”

The second and fourth scoffed.

Elliot said to Nick, "Nick, take her back first and find a doctor to show her. I'm going to the hospital to see Kyrie."

"Okay. Actually, I promised to help you, mainly because I was shocked by this woman's courage. She dared to assassinate Kyrie by herself. It's too awesome. If Kyrie died tonight, it would be funny!" Nick sighed.

Elliot: "I didn't get in the right position."

Nick laughed and said, "How can it be a pity to hear your tone? Even if Kyrie doesn't die tonight, his vitality will be severely damaged. Go to the hospital and see. If there is any movement, tell us anytime."

Elliot nodded, sent them away one by one, and then went to the hospital.

.....

Bridgedale.

After Avery was discharged from the hospital, she first came to Professor James Hough's house to visit Shea.

Shea has gained some weight since the surgery, but she is still thinner overall. She could get out of bed and move around, but she would get very tired after walking for a while and had to stop and rest.

"Shea, your recovery is really good. If Mrs. Scarlet sees you, she will definitely be very happy."

Shea's eyes twinkled a little bit of stars, looking forward: "I miss Mrs. Scarlet so much. I wanted to call her but I want to go to her directly after returning to Aryadelle and give her a surprise."

"Well, we will return to Aryadelle tomorrow."

"I have already packed my luggage." Shea showed Avery the luggage she had packed, "Avery, my brother, Elliot, when will he be back?"

"I also want to know when he will come back." Avery had an idea in her mind,

"Do you want to see him?"

Shea pursed her lips and nodded heavily.

“Then let’s make a video call for him. Let’s see if he answers.” Avery took out her mobile phone, found Elliot’s number, and dialed the video call.

Chapter 1407

Hospital, emergency room.

Elliot saw the video call from Avery, and immediately strode towards the elevator.

Seeing that Lorenzo was not following, Elliot took over the videocall.

Shea’s face instantly appeared on the screen.

“Brother!” Shea couldn’t help shouting when she saw Elliot.

Elliot listened to her familiar voice, looked at her thin face, and infinite thoughts rose up.

“Brother, I’m Shea. Have you forgotten me? Why don’t you talk? I miss you so much... Although I’m not your sister, you will always be my brother.”

Shea said what was in her heart, anxiously waiting for his response.

But a few seconds of waiting seemed like a century to Shea.

“How could I forget you?” Elliot’s Adam’s apple rolled, and he said hoarsely,

“Shea, you have lost weight.”

Shea suddenly shed two lines of hot tears in grievance: “Brother, when are you coming back? I miss you. I miss you so much!”

“You go back to Aryadelle with Avery first. Mrs. Scarlet will take care of you.”

Elliot couldn’t give her an accurate reply, “I still have something to do here, I’ll go back when it’s resolved.”

“I’ll wait for you to come back.” Shea said obediently.

“Well. Is Avery there?” Elliot asked.

“Yes.” Shea handed the phone to Avery, “Brother is looking for you.”

Avery took the phone and looked at his familiar face on the screen, her heart beating wildly uncontrollably.

But she hasn't seen each other for a week, and it feels like a long, long time apart.

"Elliot, you're in the hospital?" Avery saw a nurse pushing a cart behind him.

"Well, Kyrie was assassinated, and is now rescuing." Elliot said lightly.

"Assassination? Who assassinated him?" Avery spoke faster, "How is he injured? Will he die?"

"It should not die. It was Xander's girlfriend who assassinated him. The love between her and Xander is very touching, but her behavior is tantamount to suicide. If I hadn't stopped Lorenzo, she would be dead now."

Avery knew that he said this to warn her .

"How is she now? Can you guarantee her safety?" Avery asked nervously.

Elliot said, "She's with Nick."

Avery: "We have a chance in the future, we have to thank Nick."

"Well. When will you return to Aryadelle?" When Elliot asked this question, he raised his eyes and glanced at Lorenzo.

Lorenzo was standing far away from the door of the emergency room, his dark eyes kept looking at him.

"We're going back to Aryadelle tomorrow. Elliot, can you go back to Aryadelle before Robert's first birthday?" Avery's tone was eagerly eager.

"I'll try my best." After Elliot finished speaking, he hung up the video call and strode towards Lorenzo.

Seeing him coming, Lorenzo said angrily: "Avery was calling?"

Elliot: "Yes."

Lorenzo: "Couldn't you f*cking treat Rebecca well?"

“If I truly love Rebecca, do you think I can make it? Do you approach her every day?” Elliot looked at him coldly, “Do you know why Kyrie didn’t choose you? Because you are stupid. As long as you can learn a little, you won’t treat me as an enemy all day long.”

Lorenzo was black-faced by his scolding, and shouted in a rough voice: “You haven’t got the Jobin family yet.”

Elliot: “I got your Rebecca. It’s only a matter of time before I get the Jobin family.”

Lorenzo was poked In the middle of the pain, the fists are tightly clenched.

Not long after, the door of the emergency room opened and a nurse came out.

Lorenzo grabbed her and asked, “How is my adoptive father?”

“Mr. Jobin has lost too much blood, and now he needs a blood transfusion.”

The nurse said eagerly and strode away.

Chapter 1408

The door to the emergency room was closed again, and Lorenzo and Elliot looked at each other.

Lorenzo: “Are you expecting my adoptive father to die?”

Elliot: “Do you expect me to tell you what’s in your heart?”

Lorenzo: “Haha! Talking to you is just playing the qin to a cow. As long as I am alive, I will never let you hurt my righteousness.”

Elliot: “If I decide to do it, you won’t be able to stop it.”

Lorenzo: “You really have a problem.”

Elliot: “You have a bigger problem. You must be looking forward to my death every day, right? That way you can get Rebecca. It’s a pity that she has fallen in love with me now and you lost her.”

Lorenzo: “Elliot, don’t get too complacent. One day you will lose miserably because you underestimate the enemy.”

Elliot: "I'll wait and see."

Aryadelle.

capital Airport.

Avery and Wesley came out of the gate with Shea and Adrian, and saw Mike who was picking up the plane.

"Avery, you're finally back." Mike gave her a big hug, "If you don't come back, I really can't stand it anymore."

After speaking, he let go of her and looked at Shea and Adrian.

"You two brothers and sisters look alike." Mike reached out and squeezed Shea's face, "Shea, you can't mess around anymore. How good it is to live. When you die, you can't see anything. You still haven't seen Robert, you don't know how cute Robert is, not only cute, but also a little naughty."

"Eh, has he become naughty now?" In Avery's impression, her son is a cute little boy.

Absolutely nothing to do with naughty.

Mike sighed helplessly, "He has the ability to destroy now. If we doesn't look at him for a while, he starts to tear down the house. Mrs. Cooper can't control him at all. Mrs. Cooper spoils him too much."

Avery: "Aren't you at home too?"

"When the company encounters such a crisis, why am I in the mood to take children?" Mike scratched his head and took them out of the airport, "By the way, Ben Schaffer asked me if I wanted to invest, and I said I'll talk about it when you come back. The money you gave me will last for a while."

Avery said, "Well. I don't want the Sterling Group's money for now. If the problem can't be solved, I'd rather go bankrupt than pour money into it endlessly. It doesn't make sense. "

I think so too. Hey, let's not talk about that. Go home first." Mike pointed to the two cars at the airport gate, "Both are ours."

Wesley stood outside and did not get in the car: "Go back, I will take a taxi home myself."

Avery looked at him and said, "Brother Wesley! Come up, we will take you home first. Do you think I can let you take a taxi back by yourself? "

Shea said, "Wesley, I want to see your parents, I want to say sorry to them."

After hearing Shea's words, Wesley's face turned even redder, "Shea, wait for me and my parents. After meeting and obtaining their forgiveness, I will take you to see them again."

Shea pursed her lips and hesitated.

Seeing Wesley's embarrassment, Avery immediately said, "Brother Wesley, take a taxi back by yourself. Please admit your mistake to your parents, and they will forgive you."

.....

After several hours of rescue, Kyrie was transferred to the intensive care unit.

When Elliot returned home, it was already 2:00 a.m.

He stepped into the room with empty steps, and lay down in his clothes. This time, he slept very deeply. The whole person seems to be hollowed out and reassembled again.

When he opened his eyes and woke up, the sky was bright. His eyes were blank, open without focusing, but frames of pictures flashed quickly in his mind.

Chapter 1409

He got up and went downstairs. The nanny saw him and immediately brought breakfast to the table.

“Where’s Rebecca?” Elliot asked.

“Rebecca went to the hospital. She was worried about Mr. Jobin, so she went out early in the morning.” The nanny said.

Elliot took out his mobile phone and called Rebecca.

Rebecca answered the phone quickly: “Elliot, are you up yet? I’m in the hospital now. My father is still sleeping. You can rest at home for a while.”

Elliot: “Well, when he wakes up, you tell me immediately.”

Rebecca: “Okay.”

Elliot went out after eating breakfast. He didn’t go to the hospital, but came to Nick’s house.

Nick thought he was here to see Xander’s girlfriend, so he said, “The person is not dead, but the injury is relatively serious. The doctor said that he can’t get out of bed for at least half a month. The person is on the second floor, if you want to see her, go up and see.”

Elliot shook his head: “Nick, I remember everything.”

Nick was stunned for a moment: “Do you remember everything?”

When Elliot was about to speak, Nick slapped his thigh: “You remember Avery?”

Elliot: “Yes. I remember how we met and how we fell in love. I also remember why we quarreled and why I came here.”

“Then how are you feeling now?” Nick looked at him curiously.

“It feels absurd.” Not only absurd, but also regretful.

“Hahaha! Do you regret coming here?” Nick poured him a cup of tea, “Elliot, you are still young, when you reach my age, you will find that no matter what, whether it is right or wrong. Keep an eye on it, it will all pass. Even if you never return to Aryadelle in the future, just live here for the rest of your life, and the days will pass quickly.”

“I have to go back.” Elliot picked up the teacup and took a sip, “I can’t live here forever.”

Nick said, “That’s because you have the opportunity to go back. Did you tell Avery?”

Elliot shook his head: “It’s like being drunk and doing stupid things. When I wake up, I still remember my stupid things.”

Nick: “You can say that you are drunk and don’t remember anything.”

Elliot: “I can say that. But I don’t want to be right. She lied. I’ll tell her when I go back to Aryadelle.”

Nick: “Well. Do you still hate Avery?”

Elliot: “She was trying to save Shea.”

Nick: “Even if Avery had difficulties, but in my opinion, what she did at the time it’s still not good. If I were you, I wouldn’t let myself suffer from this kind of uselessness.” Nick comforted him and continued, “Don’t blame yourself. It’s good to let Avery suffer a little bit. I’ll see if she will dare to let her in the future. You are wronged.”

....

Aryadelle.

Star River Villa.

When Avery returned home, he immediately took Robert into his arms and kissed him again and again.

“Mom, Hug me!” Layla was beside her, jealous.

Avery put down her son and picked up Layla.

Layla has grown up, and Avery can’t hold her anymore.

“Layla, mom will never leave you again.” Avery kissed Layla on the cheek.

Chapter 1410

“Okay! If you can do it, then I’ll forgive you.” Layla stretched her hand and pulled the hook with her.

On the other side, Mrs. Scarlet hugged Shea tightly.

“Shea, do you know how sad I am when you die? Do you know how sad your brother is? You are still alive, why didn’t you tell us earlier?” Mrs. Scarlet let go of her and looked at her carefully, “ you lost so much weight and suffered a lot, right?”

Shea explained, “I got sick. I almost died. Big Brother Adrian saved me.”

“You are not allowed to mess around in the future. It’s not good, how can you draw so much blood? You don’t take care of your body like this. Do you know how uncomfortable your brother is?”

Shea lowered her head, took Mrs. Scarlet’s hand, and shook it: “I know I’m wrong. When my brother comes back, I’ll apologize to him.”

Mrs. Scarlet hugged her tightly again: “Shea, it’s fortunate that you’re okay. You’re okay...”

“Well, Mrs. Scarlet, Look at my brother.” Shea stretched out her hand and pulled Adrian to her side, “His name is Adrian, he’s my brother. He is very kind to me.”

Mrs. Scarlet said, “I’ve seen him. Avery brought him back before, yes I took care of him. He is just like you, very sensible. Adrian, thank you for saving Shea. You will live with Shea in the future, and I will take care of you.”

Shea pulled Mrs. Scarlet, walked aside, and chatted alone: “Mrs. Scarlet, I... I like Wesley. I want to be with Wesley in the future.”

Mrs. Scarlet was stunned for a moment: “You want to marry For Wesley?”

Shea nodded shyly.

Mrs. Scarlet, "But your brother, Elliot..."

"I'll tell him when he comes back. If he doesn't agree, I'll beg him." Shea said stubbornly, "I'm sure he'll be soft-hearted."

Mrs. Scarlet was both angry and funny: "Does Wesley know what you're thinking? If Wesley dislikes you, don't you feel ashamed?"

"If Wesley dislikes me, then I will be friends with him." Shea has a set of ideas.

Mrs. Scarlet said helplessly, "I think you like him and pamper you with everything. If he hadn't drawn your blood, you wouldn't have gotten sick at all."

Shea: "Mrs. Scarlet, don't blame him. I begged him. He's very nice, so I like him."

Mrs. Scarlet frowned, "I want to meet him another day. He can't do that.

Otherwise I wouldn't feel at ease to hand you over to him."

Shea smiled at Mrs. Scarlet: "Don't be angry, I'm so hungry, I want to eat your food."

"Go wash your hands." Mrs. Scarlet led her to the bathroom.

After dinner, Mrs. Scarlet took Shea and Adrian back to Elliot's villa.

They entered the door on the front foot, and Henry and Cole came on the back foot.

Henry said strangely, "Mrs. Scarlet, Shea and Adrian are my relatives. You have no reason to stop me from entering, do you? If you insist on stopping, then I can only call the police.

"When the two of them came back, Avery had confessed that Henry and Cole must not see them."

"If you call the police, I can also call the police." Mrs. Scarlet confronted him head-on, "You are just related by blood, it doesn't mean they are your playthings" “Don’t you think you are the master of the Foster family?” Cole roared arrogantly.

At this time, Shea walked over from the living room with Adrian’s support.

“Shea, I’m your eldest brother.” Henry saw Shea and immediately opened his mouth.

Shea looked at them coldly, “Although I have a blood relationship with you, I don’t recognize you as a big brother. Adrian doesn’t recognize you either.

There is no law that stipulates that you must recognize each other if you are blood related.”

Henry said bitterly, “Shea, did Avery teach you to say that? She deliberately provokes the relationship between our brothers and sisters, you can’t fall for her trap.”

“Henry, I know what you want. .Sterling Group belongs to Elliot, you can’t take it away. I’m not a fool, and I’m not an item. If you dare to call the police and say that I have a low IQ, I have no self-care ability, and you want to control Adrian and me, then we can test it and compare it with one another. Who’s IQ is high, and who’s IQ is low!”

Chapter 1411

“This move will draw wages from the bottom of the pot. Elliot especially likes to do it.” Ben Schaffer explained to her proudly, “Although the initial investment is huge, but after the opponent is killed, the right to speak will be in our hands. “

Can we dig to move others? Wanda must have given others a lot of benefits, and maybe even promised shares...” Avery said.

Ben Schaffer said, “What Wanda can give, we can give. And we can give more. If it were you, would you choose to join the Sterling Group or the Wonder Technologies?”

These two companies are not of the same order of magnitude at all. It is completely incomparable.

“Then...are you going to dig, or me?” Avery asked.

Ben Schaffer said, “Let’s go together. It would be easier if Elliot went to dig. It’s just that I asked when Elliot could return to Aryadelle, and he said he couldn’t come back for the time being.”

Avery’s eyes drooped slightly, “He can only go back to Aryadelle when Kyrie dies. Now Kyrie is in the intensive care unit, maybe he will hang up at some point.”

Ben Schaffer sighed, “Mr Foster didn’t tell me this. He called me and only told me about your company. I feel like a pawn, he doesn’t take me as a brother at all.”

“No.” Avery explained for Elliot, “He just doesn’t want you to worry. In case you run to find him, it will only make it more difficult for him. The various legal provisions of Yonroeville are different from ours, except for a few major power families and the life of ordinary people is like a straw.”

Ben Schaffer said, “I know, I will not go to him. I manage the company for him, which is the greatest help to him. But I also want to know his situation.”

Avery said calmly, “I can tell you about him. His current wife’s name is Rebecca, the only daughter of Kyrie. Rebecca loves him very much, and they plan to have a baby through test tube. Of course, the baby can’t be Elliot’s. This is just to fulfill Kyrie’s request. Because this child will be born with the surname Jobin, and will stay in Yonroeville in the future to inherit Kyrie’s family business. Elliot wants to Find an opportunity to kill Kyrie.”

Ben Schaffer nodded: “Thank you for telling me this. If he told me that, I wouldn’t be afraid. But how easy is it to kill Kyrie? There are a few confidants...”

Avery said, “Well. But Elliot also has helpers. The other brothers are all on Elliot’s side. Give Elliot a little more time, and he will definitely be able to go back to Aryadelle.”

Ben Schaffer nodded, and after a moment of silence, he said, “Don’t disclose our cooperation for now. We will make it public when we find Wanda’s core team. It will be more exciting to catch Wanda by surprise then.”

Mike brought a glass of water to Ben and said, “Sure enough, You are really bad.”

Ben Schaffer took the water glass, drank it all in one gulp, and put down the empty water glass, and then said, “I have the right to think that you are complimenting me. Now that it’s settled, I’ll go first and find you when I get in touch with Wanda’s team.”

“Okay.” Avery sent Ben Schaffer to the door of the office, then walked back and closed the office door.

Mike sat in the chair that Ben Schaffer was sitting on just now, looking at her with all his time: “It’s still Elliot. Although he is not the boss of the Sterling Group now, the people of the Sterling Group still recognize him.”

“Don’t say such things. Avery walked to the office chair and sat down. “The Sterling Group was founded by Elliot, and Ben Schaffer certainly recognizes him.”

“In the future, your company will not be entirely yours. They can drive them away with a little tricks.” Mike reminded, “You have to think clearly.”

“Is it so clear for me and him?” Avery didn’t care. She said, “If he really wants my company, I can offer it with both hands.”

After saying this, her heart beat faster. She couldn’t help thinking of what Elliot said in Yonroeville.

Elliot said he was going to take everything from her.

Chapter 1412

A cold sweat broke out on Avery's back. It was one thing that she was willing to give him everything she had, and it was another feeling if he wanted to take everything from her.

Avery immediately understood why Elliot was so angry.

For Elliot, what he lost was not only the Sterling Group, but the collapse of his beliefs.

Avery didn't think she would take away her Tate Industries, and she never thought before that she would let him hand over the Sterling Group to someone else.

In the evening, Avery asked Tammy to come to the house for dinner.

"Avery, does your wound still hurt?" Tammy gently fiddled with the hair on her head.

The wounds are a little shocking. During the surgery, part of my hair was shaved.

—Fortunately, she has a lot of hair, so if she doesn't look carefully, she won't find the injury on her head.

Avery said calmly, "Well. It will take at least a month before it gets better. How are you and Jun?"

Tammy pulled Avery to sit down on the sofa, and said, "I'm just like that with him. The passion fades, and the old couple mode is turned on but I have already taken over my father's work."

"How do you feel? Are you still used to work?" Avery took out a bunch of gifts she brought one by one.

Tammy said sullenly, "It's alright, it's not as difficult as I thought. My dad's request to me is that as long as the company doesn't go bankrupt, it's fine. He said that he has left a pension for himself. Don't worry. I feel so embarrassed to hear him say that."

Avery said, "Uncle said that so you don't have to put too much pressure on you. Running a company takes more energy, and some people naturally like to be bosses. I like that kind of high-intensity pressure and stimulation, and some people can't stand it."

Tammy said, "I don't like to be in charge. But my father has only one daughter, and I have to take this responsibility. Although Jun and I are husband and wife, it is impossible for my parents to give him my family property. The divorce rate is so high now and my parents think that he and I will still get divorced in the future."

Avery said, "Did you two sign a property agreement before marriage?"

Tammy said lightly, "No, but we both agreed verbally that his property is his and mine is mine. , If we get divorced, go back to our own family. I'm not worried about him taking advantage of my family. After all, my family and his family can't tell who is richer than the other."

Tammy's words, let Avery was lost in thought.

In her opinion, Tammy and Jun are very affectionate, similar to her relationship with Elliot.

Avery didn't expect them to divide each other's property so clearly in private.

Tammy complained, "Avery, do you remember when I complained to you about Jun before? He took over his father's company and worked overtime every day.

I complained that he came home too late every day and spent too little time with me, and he in turn blamed me for not being considerate to him. Now I'm taking over my dad's company, sometimes I'm busy and go home late, so he just calls me one call after another. Not only does he call me, he also has to play with me.”

Avery couldn't help laughing: “He may be afraid that you will suffer.”

Tammy said, “Don't comfort me. I have a bodyguard. If someone really bullies me, I will call the bodyguard. Elliot thinks I shouldn't go out and show my face, just stay at home, play cats, walk dogs, go shopping and spend money every day.”

Avery said, “Isn't he not very professional and not too strong?”

“That's right! He's not very capable. I expect him to support the family in the future, so it's better to work on our own.” Tammy immediately waved to her.

"That's right! He's not very capable. I expect him to support the family in the future, so it's better to work on our own." Tammy immediately waved to her when she saw that Layla had been listening, "Layla, you understand?"

Chapter 1413

Layla came over and lay on Avery's lap and asked, "You said your husband couldn't do it, didn't you?"

Tammy said with a smile, "Yeah, if you're looking for a husband in the future, you have to keep your eyes open. Don't look to your uncle, who has no ability, and likes to meddle in his own business. Unless you are particularly good at making money. I want to find a little white face to take care of, so you can be your uncle."

"If you have to find a small white face to take care of, why don't I look for uncle Eric?" Layla blinked and raised doubts.

Tammy laughed loudly: "I'm going to tell your uncle Jun this. Maybe he can recognize how much he weighs after listening to it!"

"Let's eat!" Avery pulled Layla shoulders to get her up from Tammy's lap,

"Layla, everyone is unique, and your Uncle Jun also has advantages that your Uncle Eric doesn't have."

"Avery, how can you raise Jun so much. Is it okay for Eric to hang Jun in all directions? To be ashamed, if I can get Eric, I will go to divorce Jun immediately." Tammy just said these words. Her heart is full Beautiful turned. Avery didn't expect that she would actually have such a thought, and couldn't help laughing along.

"Don't you think about other men besides Elliot?" Tammy asked in a low voice. Avery shook her head: "Even if you have a good impression of other people of the opposite sex, you are only good friends and don't think about anything else."

Tammy: "Yes, your Elliot is so good. If my Jun had half of him, I would n't think about anything else."

Avery said shyly, "Actually, it's not entirely because he is very successful in his career. I think he is very handsome. If he doesn't work in the future and relies on me to support him, I will be very happy."

Tammy: "..."

"Don't you think he's handsome? His handsomeness is different. He's not a handsome guy in the traditional sense..." Avery blushed slightly.

"Is Elliot not a handsome guy in the traditional sense? He is a handsome guy in the traditional sense. We generally don't discuss his face, not because he is not handsome, but because his ability to make money is too outstanding. In addition to his handsome face, he's also in good shape. Why don't you mention his figure?"

Avery's face turned even redder: "I really want to say Elliot has in good shape, but I haven't had time to say it."

"Hahaha! This is the first time I hear you compliment Elliot. If Elliot heard it, he would be very happy."

Avery shook her head: "I made a serious mistake this time. Elliot still complains a little bit about me transferring his company to someone else. I really owed it too much before. Thinking about it."

Tammy said, "It's not that you transferred his company to Adrian, right? Didn't he transfer it himself?"

Avery blamed herself and said, "He knew about the transaction between me and Henry in advance. It's my problem. I should have told him ahead of time that whether he could accept it or not, he shouldn't let him know about it from someone else's mouth."

Tammy comforted, "If he doesn't know ahead of time, you'll tell him too. It's not a coincidence. It's alright, you rescued Shea anyway, this is a great achievement."

In the dining room, Mrs. Cooper brought the sumptuous dishes to the table.

"Tammy, are you still trying to conceive recently?" Mrs. Cooper lowered her voice when she said this.

After all, this issue is somewhat sensitive.

Mrs. Cooper originally wanted to ask Tammy alone.

Who knew that after Tammy came over, she kept pulling Avery to speak.

Avery interjected, "Mrs. Cooper, why are you asking this all of a sudden?"

Chapter 1414

Mrs. Cooper said kindly, "I have a relative who has been trying to get pregnant for a long time and didn't get pregnant. Later, I found a very good old doctor and prescribed medicine for a few months, and then I became pregnant successfully. I was thinking, Isn't Tammy preparing for pregnancy, why don't you also go to the old doctor? If it works the best, there's nothing to lose if it works."

Avery looked at Tammy.

"Okay! You can tell me the contact information of the old doctor, and I'll take a look at it." Tammy turned her head and said to Avery, "Mrs. Cooper is right. There's nothing to lose if you try."

"You Bring the prescription back and show it to me."

Mrs. Cooper: "Okay."

Avery blushed slightly, "I don't quite understand it but I can check it."

Tammy said, looking at Mrs. Cooper, "Hahaha! I think Mrs. Cooper recommended it. It's definitely reliable. It should be fine. If I can successfully conceive a baby, I will give you a big red envelope."

Mrs. Cooper smiled back: "No, no, as long as It's better than anything that you can conceive a baby. I'll call now and ask for the contact information."

Mrs. Cooper said, and walked out of the dining room.

Layla took a bite of the rice, and then said to Avery, "Mom, I won't have a baby in the future."

"Why don't you want to have a baby?" Avery didn't know why her daughter thought of this, "You still Little, wait for you to think about this later."

Layla pouted, "I don't want my belly to bulge. It's not beautiful. Why don't boys have children?"

“Layla, this question is a great question. Let your mother study it carefully, how to make a man have a baby.” Tammy felt like a mountain in her heart because of the problem of having a baby, “If I can make a man have a baby, I can work hard to become an excellent entrepreneur like Elliot.”

Avery poured cold water on her: “If you kill me, I can’t make a man have children.”

“Then can you help me become the second Elliot?”

“I’ll give you Elliot directly, okay?”

Tammy took the spoon and filled it with After a bowl of soup, “I want it, but I’m afraid you won’t be able to give it. Hahaha! Do you keep in touch with Elliot?”

“Occasional contact. Elliot is still under the surveillance of Kyrie, and he is not very free. So we usually send messages.” Avery took a mouthful of rice and continued, “But Elliot promised me that he would go back to Aryadelle.”

“He would be stupid if he didn’t go back to Aryadelle! Hayden and Layla are so good. If I had two such wonderful children, I wouldn’t need a husband.”

“Little sweet Auntie, and my brother.” Layla reminded Tammy that she missed one.

Tammy: “Haha! Our Robert is super cute, and he will definitely be as good as you and your brother in the future. Your father is probably thinking about your heart and lungs in Yonroeville.”

Layla blinked her big bright eyes and pouted, “But Dad didn’t make a videocall for me. Even if someone is watching over him, is there someone who is watching over him when he goes to the bathroom? If he really misses me, he will definitely have time to make a video call for me. He doesn’t miss me at all and my brother. maybe soon, Dad and his new wife will have many children.”

Tammy: “You think it’s a piglet. Generally speaking, there is only one child at a time.”

Layla: “My mother gave birth to two at a time. I have a summer vacation. In the TV series that Uncle Eric took me to shoot, the heroine gave birth to four at a time.”

Tammy was speechless.

Avery didn't know how to answer her daughter's words. Only when Elliot comes back and the family is reunited can his daughter's concerns be relieved.

.....

Yonroeville.

After spending a week in the intensive care unit, Kyrie was sent to the general VIP ward.

Chapter 1415

Rebecca and Lorenzo accompany Kyrie in front of his hospital bed every day. Elliot was not idle either. Apart from visiting Kyrie every day, he also helps Kyrie manage his huge business empire.

The Jobin family has a wide range of industries in Yonroeville, from maternal and child products to education, to funerals, as well as high-end hotels, shopping malls and luxury brands across the board.

At the beginning, it took Kyrie a full week to show him these industries.

After Elliot married Rebecca, Kyrie introduced him to the heads of various industries. Although Kyrie did not make it clear that he would hand over the power to him next, the people in charge were all smart people.

This time Kyrie was assassinated, everyone tried their best to please Elliot.

Although Kyrie didn't die, Elliot's position here was stable.

In the evening, when Rebecca came back from the hospital, she was a little surprised to see Elliot at home.

“Elliot, you came back very early today. If only you could go home so early every day. Otherwise, your body will definitely be overwhelmed.” Rebecca walked up to him and smiled.

Elliot: “How is your dad?”

Rebecca frowned, “When dad woke up in the morning, he was weak and was calm. In the afternoon, when he recovered a little, he started to lose his temper. He was very angry that he was attacked in his hotel, so Let Lorenzo clean up the person in charge of the hotel. The doctor said that he is not in a good mood right now, but he doesn’t listen to the doctor at all. He wants to kill the person who assassinated him with his own hands.”

Elliot frowned one hop.

If Kyrie knew that Xander’s girlfriend was not dead, Kyrie would kill her desperately.

Just when Elliot was going to call Nick and ask him to hide Xander’s girlfriend somewhere else, Nick’s call came first.

Nick was so angry that he blew his nose and stared, he said, “Elliot, is Kyrie awake? Otherwise, how would his subordinates dare to come and raid my house? Lorenzo brought a group of people here, and without saying a word, they found her on the second floor. They gott that woman and took that woman away. If you don’t hurry up and stop it, that woman will never live to get dark!”

Elliot glanced outside the door, it was going to be dark soon.

Nick had no slip of the tongue, what he said was dark, it was dark.

But Elliot thought that the woman might be dead.

She is Xander’s girlfriend and came to avenge Xander. She wasn’t sent by someone else, so there’s no need to check her background. Just kill it.

“Kyrie won’t trust me anymore.

Nick angrily scolded, “Kyrie is so suspicious. This old man has a great fate. If he died this time, it would have been easier.”

Elliot’s cell phone rang, he picked it up to see that it was Lorenzo incoming call. He frowned, stared at Lorenzo’s name for a few seconds, and then answered the phone.

“Elliot, that woman has already been killed by me. It’s the same way as Xander’s death.” Lorenzo’s voice came triumphantly, “Also, the adoptive father asked me to inform you that you will take good care of Rebecca at home, and the other don’t need to worry about it.”

After Lorenzo finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Elliot held the phone tightly, his face gloomy. He wasn’t offended that Kyrie had trumped his rights.

If Avery was told that Xander’s girlfriend was killed, she would definitely be so angry that she lost her mind.

“Elliot, what’s the matter with you?” Rebecca walked up to him and asked worriedly. Just when she looked at his face, a feeling of nausea came up, she immediately grabbed his arm and retched.

Chapter 1416

Elliot immediately helped her to the bathroom.

After the nausea passed, her face turned pale.

“Elliot, I’m sorry. I couldn’t hold back just now.” Rebecca wiped the water droplets from her face with a towel, and then asked, “Who did you talk to on the phone just now, What happened? You look bad.”

“You don’t have to always apologize to me.” Elliot strode towards the living room.

Rebecca followed him to the living room.

Rebecca guessed, "Elliot, did my father lose his temper with you? He felt that the people around him did not protect him, so he lost his temper with everyone, and he also scolded Lorenzo."

The woman who assassinated your father was hidden by me before. But today, Lorenzo found it." Elliot thought it necessary to explain the matter to her, "so your father stopped all my work."

Rebecca's face suddenly turned black: "My father blames you. I'll beg him."

Elliot interrupted her, "Do you think it's useful for you to beg him?"

Rebecca looked at his sullen face, and a fear rose in her heart: "What should I do? My father doesn't believe you anymore, maybe he will help Lorenzo up."

"Lorenzo likes you so much, if Lorenzo likes you so much, It doesn't matter to you that Kyrie is lifted up." Elliot said lightly.

Rebecca frowned, very worried, "Elliot, you are my husband. I can't let my father treat you like this. You hide that woman just because you have a good heart and you can't kill like them."

Elliot corrected her, "You're wrong. I saved that woman because she didn't deserve to die. I even regret that she didn't kill your father."

Rebecca was shocked.

Elliot calmly said word by word, "Rebecca, your dad and I will eventually go to opposite sides. Today is just the beginning of the deterioration of the relationship. I or him, you can only choose one of the two."

Rebecca can't choose this multiple-choice question.

One is the man who raised her, and the other is the man she wants to be with her whole life.

Elliot said, "I'm wrong, it can't be said to be one of two choices. If your father can't kill me, then I will kill him. After he dies, I will go back to Aryadelle."

Rebecca's tears fell, "Elliot, don't go. Don't leave me. If you have to go back to Aryadelle, can you take me with you."

—Just think Elliot was leaving her, and her heart seemed to be torn apart, and it was extremely painful.

—It didn't hurt so much to think that her father would die.

Rebecca finally said, "Between Kyrie and Elliot, I'll chose Elliot."

Elliot rejected her, "Impossible. You and your children stay in your motherland.

Lorenzo will accompany you."

"But I don't want Lorenzo." Rebecca broke down and cried, "Elliot, if the child in your belly is yours, won't you be so cruel to leave me?"

Elliot: "The child in your belly is not mine."

Rebecca choked, "What if it is yours? I can't even assume that Is it?"

Elliot's eyes were cold, and his voice was even colder: "Don't deceive yourself."

"Why do you hate me so much...why?" Rebecca sat on the sofa and was crying into tears.

Elliot picked up the tissue box and handed it to her: "Rebecca, I don't hate you.

I just don't love you. Stop crying, let's eat."

After Elliot finished speaking, he strode towards the dining room.

The nanny immediately came over and wiped Rebecca's tears with a tissue:

"Don't cry, miss. Don't break your body by crying. You are pregnant with a baby now, so think about it. As long as you give birth to your baby smoothly, everything will be fine. "

Rebecca looked towards the dining room.

Chapter 1418

"Elliot is no longer the boss of Sterling Group, don't you know about this?"

Another reporter said, "now the boss of Sterling Group is called Adrian. Do you want to embarrass Elliot by asking someone to contact Elliot? “

Ah this... I saw that President Schaffer was breaking news with Elliot, so I thought...” The reporter who asked the first question blushed embarrassedly. He thought that although the Sterling Group was not Elliot on the surface, it was still Elliot in private.

Otherwise, why would Ben Schaffer chat with Elliot at the press conference?

“President Tate, please continue to talk about the next layout of the Tate Industries. Regarding the pricing of its products, as well as the next development issues. I believe that everyone is very concerned about this series of issues.” Another reporter put the topic on the topic and get back on track.

Avery took a sip of water, adjusted her mood, and said again: “About our previous products, the pricing will be lowered. After the press conference, everyone will be able to see the new lowered prices.”

“I believe everyone is very concerned about it . The next development issues of our company. After the capital injection of the Sterling Group, we will hire a new R&D team. This is a very mature team, and the team members will be disclosed to you at the right time. I believe their arrival will open the door to everyone. A more exciting technological life.”

...

When Wanda saw this, her temples suddenly ached, and her heart beat violently.

Avery will hire a new R&D team?

Wanda hadn't heard of this at all, so she was a little shocked to know the news suddenly.

“Hurry up and notify the executives of various departments to have a meeting in the conference room.” Wanda couldn't sit still but gave order.

The assistant took the order and immediately went to call to notify.

After a while, the assistant pushed open the door and came in: "Ms. Tate, the R&D department has collectively asked for leave."

Wanda: "What?"

The assistant: "Those people you hired at a high price have collectively asked for leave today."

Wanda's face turned pale and purple. She has realized that the team she hired with high salary was poached by Avery. D*mn it. She didn't expect Avery to do this trick behind her back.

No, Avery doesn't have the brain and the courage at all. It must have been dug by the Sterling Group.

At the end of the press conference, Avery's cell phone rang. She took out her mobile phone and saw that Wanda was calling, and immediately answered:

"Ms. Tate, what are you doing?"

Wanda yelled, "When did you hook up with the Sterling Group? You've done a good job of keeping secrets. You think you can win by poaching my team?"

Haha! I, Wanda, can survive until today, but I won't be defeated so easily by you. Wait for me, I won't let you and those who betrayed me. "

Avery was too lazy to waste her words with her, so she hung up the phone.

"Wanda is calling?" Ben Schaffer came over, saw her frown slightly, and guessed.

Avery: "Yeah. She watched our press conference, so she was furious."

"Don't worry about her." Ben Schaffer put his palm on her shoulder and changed the topic lightly, "Do you have any connection with Gwen?"

Avery: "Why did you suddenly mention her?"

"Uh...she pulled me into the blacklist. Last time she said she pulled me out, but I haven't been pulled out yet." Ben Schaffer was pulled into the blacklist for the first time. The list is always on my mind, "Why don't you help me talk about it and let her pull me out?"

Avery thought for a few seconds and nodded in agreement, "Do you want to be her friend? Wouldn't you be embarrassed?"

"If she doesn't want to be my friend, I can leave her alone. But she is Elliot's sister after all. I'm afraid that she will have any difficulties in life in the future. Maybe I can help her." Ben Schaffer stated his intention.

Chapter 1419

"Okay. I'll call her at night." Avery suddenly thought of a question, "Are you really messing with Elliot at that time?"

Ben: "Yes! I secretly took a picture of you and sent it to him."

"What did he say?" There was a jumping light in Avery's eyes.

Ben: "He said you were beautiful."

"You lied to me. He wouldn't talk like that." Avery didn't believe it at all.

Ben Schaffer asked, "Then what do you think he will say when he sees your photo?"

Avery thought for a while and said, "He probably won't say anything about my photos."

Ben: "Hahahaha! You still know him. But he didn't say anything, he must have thought something."

"If it was before, I might be able to guess what he was thinking, but now, I can't guess him." Although Avery couldn't guess him, she didn't care.

As long as Elliot comes back and comes back to her side, that's enough.

The two came out of the hotel, got into the same car, and went to the Tate Industries together.

.....

Yonroeville.

Elliot brought Rebecca to the wedding banquet hosted by the second brother.

Today was the day when the second brother's grandson was born. Rebecca entered the banquet hall and went to see the baby.

"Elliot, is Kyrie still ignoring you?" the second brother asked.

Nick laughed, and said, "Not only did he ignore Elliot, he also ignored me. I went to the hospital to see him the day before yesterday and was stopped by Lorenzo."

The fourth brother laughed and said, "Hahaha! You two are so stupid. I don't blame Kyrie for hating the two of you."

Nick said, "He hates me, I don't care. Anyway, I broke up with him a long time ago. It's Elliot, It's not good to deal with him."

"Elliot, Rebecca listens to you like this, so let Rebecca help you." The second brother leaned into Elliot's ear and whispered, "Women are for use. If you don't use her, wait until Kyrie. If you reuse Lorenzo in the future, you will be very passive. Kyrie has been hospitalized twice, maybe he will make a will in advance."

"Rebecca is pregnant now, I can't force her to do such a thing." Elliot said calmly.

"You think you don't get along with Kyrie, how good would it be for her to be caught in the middle?" The second brother patted his shoulder and continued,

"Consider my proposal, if you can't be ruthless, I can help you."

Just when Elliot was about to speak, the fourth brother said first: "Elliot, don't rush to refuse. When dealing with Kyrie, you can't be indecisive. Don't you want to go back to Aryadelle earlier to see your wife and children? You drag on like this. When Kyrie is discharged from the hospital, you will have less chance to start.”

Rebecca hugged the newborn baby and found a few eyes swept towards her.

She looked over immediately—

the second master, the third master, and the fourth master were looking at her, only Elliot was drinking with a wine glass.

The little baby’s grandmother said with a smile, “Rebecca, they must be talking about you. I guess They were guessing whether the baby in your belly is a boy or a girl.”

Rebecca blushed: “Elliot doesn’t seem to be very happy. “

“I heard that he had a conflict with your father. Rebecca, you have to help him talk more in front of your father, otherwise he will be unhappy here, and he will want to go back to Aryadelle.”

“My father won’t let me.” Rebecca said helplessly, “I don’t know what to do now. Except for the baby in my belly, I don’t seem to have anything to rely on.”

The little baby’s grandmother said, “Don’t think so. How old is the baby inside?”

Rebecca smiled, “The baby is two months old.”

Chapter 1420

Mrs. Cooper said kindly, “I have a relative who has been trying to get pregnant for a long time and didn’t get pregnant. Later, I found a very good old doctor and prescribed medicine for a few months, and then I became pregnant successfully. I was thinking, Isn’t Tammy preparing for pregnancy, why don’t you also go to the old doctor? If it works the best, there’s nothing to lose if it works.”

Avery looked at Tammy.

“Okay! You can tell me the contact information of the old doctor, and I’ll take a look at it.” Tammy turned her head and said to Avery, “Mrs. Cooper is right.

There’s nothing to lose if you try.”

“You Bring the prescription back and show it to me.”

Mrs. Cooper: “Okay.”

Avery blushed slightly, “I don’t quite understand it but I can check it.”

Tammy said, looking at Mrs. Cooper, “Hahaha! I think Mrs. Cooper recommended it. It’s definitely reliable. It should be fine. If I can successfully conceive a baby, I will give you a big red envelope.”

Mrs. Cooper smiled back: “No, no, as long as It’s better than anything that you can conceive a baby. I’ll call now and ask for the contact information.”

Mrs. Cooper said, and walked out of the dining room.

Layla took a bite of the rice, and then said to Avery, “Mom, I won’t have a baby in the future.”

“Why don’t you want to have a baby?” Avery didn’t know why her daughter thought of this, “You still Little, wait for you to think about this later.”

Layla pouted, “I don’t want my belly to bulge. It’s not beautiful. Why don’t boys have children?”

“Layla, this question is a great question. Let your mother study it carefully, how to make a man have a baby.” Tammy felt like a mountain in her heart because of the problem of having a baby, “If I can make a man have a baby, I can work hard to become an excellent entrepreneur like Elliot.”

Avery poured cold water on her: “If you kill me, I can’t make a man have children.”

“Then can you help me become the second Elliot?”

“I’ll give you Elliot directly, okay?”

Tammy took the spoon and filled it with After a bowl of soup, “I want it, but I’m afraid you won't be able to give it. Hahaha! Do you keep in touch with Elliot?"

"Occasional contact. Elliot is still under the surveillance of Kyrie, and he is not very free. So we usually send messages." Avery took a mouthful of rice and continued, "But Elliot promised me that he would go back to Aryadelle."

"He would be stupid if he didn't go back to Aryadelle! Hayden and Layla are so good. If I had two such wonderful children, I wouldn't need a husband."

"Little sweet Auntie, and my brother." Layla reminded Tammy that she missed one.

Tammy: "Haha! Our Robert is super cute, and he will definitely be as good as you and your brother in the future. Your father is probably thinking about your heart and lungs in Yonroeville."

Layla blinked her big bright eyes and pouted, "But Dad didn't make a videocall for me. Even if someone is watching over him, is there someone who is watching over him when he goes to the bathroom? If he really misses me, he will definitely have time to make a video call for me. He doesn't miss me at all and my brother. maybe soon, Dad and his new wife will have many children."

Tammy: "You think it's a piglet. Generally speaking, there is only one child at a time."

Layla: "My mother gave birth to two at a time. I have a summer vacation. In the TV series that Uncle Eric took me to shoot, the heroine gave birth to four at a time."

Tammy was speechless.

Avery didn't know how to answer her daughter's words. Only when Elliot comes back and the family is reunited can his daughter's concerns be relieved.

.....

Yonroeville.

After spending a week in the intensive care unit, Kyrie was sent to the general VIP ward.

Chapter 1421

Rebecca and Lorenzo accompany Kyrie in front of his hospital bed every day. Elliot was not idle either. Apart from visiting Kyrie every day, he also helps Kyrie manage his huge business empire.

The Jobin family has a wide range of industries in Yonroeville, from maternal and child products to education, to funerals, as well as high-end hotels, shopping malls and luxury brands across the board.

At the beginning, it took Kyrie a full week to show him these industries.

After Elliot married Rebecca, Kyrie introduced him to the heads of various industries. Although Kyrie did not make it clear that he would hand over the power to him next, the people in charge were all smart people.

This time Kyrie was assassinated, everyone tried their best to please Elliot.

Although Kyrie didn't die, Elliot's position here was stable.

In the evening, when Rebecca came back from the hospital, she was a little surprised to see Elliot at home.

"Elliot, you came back very early today. If only you could go home so early every day. Otherwise, your body will definitely be overwhelmed." Rebecca walked up to him and smiled.

Elliot: "How is your dad?"

Rebecca frowned, "When dad woke up in the morning, he was weak and was calm. In the afternoon, when he recovered a little, he started to lose his temper. He was very angry that he was attacked in his hotel, so Let Lorenzo clean up the person in charge of the hotel. The doctor said that he is not in a good mood right now, but he doesn't listen to the doctor at all. He wants to kill the person who assassinated him with his own hands.”

Elliot frowned one hop.

If Kyrie knew that Xander’s girlfriend was not dead, Kyrie would kill her desperately.

Just when Elliot was going to call Nick and ask him to hide Xander’s girlfriend somewhere else, Nick’s call came first.

Nick was so angry that he blew his nose and stared, he said, “Elliot, is Kyrie awake? Otherwise, how would his subordinates dare to come and raid my house? Lorenzo brought a group of people here, and without saying a word, they found her on the second floor. They gott that woman and took that woman away. If you don’t hurry up and stop it, that woman will never live to get dark!”

Elliot glanced outside the door, it was going to be dark soon.

Nick had no slip of the tongue, what he said was dark, it was dark.

But Elliot thought that the woman might be dead.

She is Xander’s girlfriend and came to avenge Xander. She wasn’t sent by someone else, so there’s no need to check her background. Just kill it.

“It’s too late.” Elliot looked away from the outside, his Adam’s apple rolled, “Kyrie won’t trust me anymore.

Nick angrily scolded, “Kyrie is so suspicious. This old man has a great fate. If he died this time, it would have been easier.”

Elliot’s cell phone rang, he picked it up to see that it was Lorenzo incoming call.

He frowned, stared at Lorenzo’s name for a few seconds, and then answered the phone.

“Elliot, that woman has already been killed by me. It’s the same way as Xander’s death.” Lorenzo’s voice came triumphantly, “Also, the adoptive father asked me to inform you that you will take good care of Rebecca at home, and the other don't need to worry about it."

After Lorenzo finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Elliot held the phone tightly, his face gloomy. He wasn't offended that Kyrie had trumped his rights.

If Avery was told that Xander's girlfriend was killed, she would definitely be so angry that she lost her mind.

"Elliot, what's the matter with you?" Rebecca walked up to him and asked worriedly. Just when she looked at his face, a feeling of nausea came up, she immediately grabbed his arm and retched.

Chapter 1422

Elliot immediately helped her to the bathroom.

After the nausea passed, her face turned pale.

"Elliot, I'm sorry. I couldn't hold back just now." Rebecca wiped the water droplets from her face with a towel, and then asked, "Who did you talk to on the phone just now, What happened? You look bad."

"You don't have to always apologize to me." Elliot strode towards the living room.

Rebecca followed him to the living room.

Rebecca guessed, "Elliot, did my father lose his temper with you? He felt that the people around him did not protect him, so he lost his temper with everyone, and he also scolded Lorenzo."

The woman who assassinated your father was hidden by me before. But today, Lorenzo found it." Elliot thought it necessary to explain the matter to her, "so your father stopped all my work."

Rebecca's face suddenly turned black: "My father blames you. I'll beg him."

Elliot interrupted her, "Do you think it's useful for you to beg him?"

Rebecca looked at his sullen face, and a fear rose in her heart: "What should I do? My father doesn't believe you anymore, maybe he will help Lorenzo up."

"Lorenzo likes you so much, if Lorenzo likes you so much, It doesn't matter to you that Kyrie is lifted up." Elliot said lightly.

Rebecca frowned, very worried, "Elliot, you are my husband. I can't let my father treat you like this. You hide that woman just because you have a good heart and you can't kill like them."

Elliot corrected her, "You're wrong. I saved that woman because she didn't deserve to die. I even regret that she didn't kill your father."

Rebecca was shocked.

Elliot calmly said word by word, "Rebecca, your dad and I will eventually go to opposite sides. Today is just the beginning of the deterioration of the relationship. I or him, you can only choose one of the two."

Rebecca can't choose this multiple-choice question.

One is the man who raised her, and the other is the man she wants to be with her whole life.

Elliot said, "I'm wrong, it can't be said to be one of two choices. If your father can't kill me, then I will kill him. After he dies, I will go back to Aryadelle."

Rebecca's tears fell, "Elliot, don't go. Don't leave me. If you have to go back to Aryadelle, can you take me with you."

—Just think Elliot was leaving her, and her heart seemed to be torn apart, and it was extremely painful.

—It didn't hurt so much to think that her father would die.

Rebecca finally said, "Between Kyrie and Elliot, I'll chose Elliot."

Elliot rejected her, "Impossible. You and your children stay in your motherland. Lorenzo will accompany you."

"But I don't want Lorenzo." Rebecca broke down and cried, "Elliot, if the child in your belly is yours, won't you be so cruel to leave me?"

Elliot: "The child in your belly is not mine."

Rebecca choked, "What if it is yours? I can't even assume that is it?"

Elliot's eyes were cold, and his voice was even colder: "Don't deceive yourself."

"Why do you hate me so much...why?" Rebecca sat on the sofa and was crying into tears.

Elliot picked up the tissue box and handed it to her: "Rebecca, I don't hate you. I just don't love you. Stop crying, let's eat."

After Elliot finished speaking, he strode towards the dining room.

The nanny immediately came over and wiped Rebecca's tears with a tissue:

"Don't cry, miss. Don't break your body by crying. You are pregnant with a baby now, so think about it. As long as you give birth to your baby smoothly, everything will be fine. "

Rebecca looked towards the dining room.

Chapter 1423

Elliot sits in the dining chair and eats quietly as usual. Rebecca couldn't tell what magic Elliot had that made her fascinated by him. She wanted to follow him, wherever Elliot went, she wanted to follow him. But Elliot doesn't want her.

"Miss, let's go eat." The nanny helped her up from the sofa, and continued,

"Otherwise, the food will be cold later. After dinner, you can have a good chat."

"Did you hear what we said just now?" Rebecca asked in a low voice.

The nanny nodded.

Rebecca: "Don't say anything."

The nanny: "Don't worry, miss, I won't say anything."

Aryadelle.

Tate Industries held a press conference and officially announced that it would accept Sterling Group as a shareholder.

The purpose of this in-depth cooperation between the two parties is not only because the Tate Industries needs capital injection to tide over the difficulties, but also because the Sterling Group wants to expand into new fields.

On the computer screen of Wonder Technologies, Wanda was broadcasting the live broadcast of the conference.

As the representative of Sterling Group, Ben Schaffer attended the event. He sat on the chairman's seat and talked freely in front of the reporters under the stage. And Avery sat next to him, smiling.

"Ms. Tate, if Elliot was here, I don't think Elliot would have spent so much money to help Tate's Industries. Now the boss of Sterling Group is Adrian, and Adrian is a fool. This fool is played around by Avery." Assistant, On the side, analyze with Wanda.

"You are so naive. Ben Schaffer is representing Elliot himself." Wanda's face was gloomy and her voice was cold, "Elliot must know about this. Don't look at me saying that Elliot is now a mud bodhisattva crossing the river. With Elliot's ambition, maybe he can swallow up all of Kyrie's assets!"

The assistant suddenly shut up.

If it's really like what Wanda said, then they can't surpass Elliot at all.

"It is estimated that they will make big moves in the future." Wanda stared straight at the live broadcast screen, "The people in the Sterling Group are decided to invest money in the Tate Industries, and they will never let it go. The money is lost."

"Boss, do you want to hold a meeting now to discuss the solution?" The assistant asked.

Wanda: "Wait for me to watch their live broadcast." In the live broadcast screen, Ben Schaffer finished his speech, and then asked Avery to talk about the next development plan of the Tate Industries.

The camera was given to Avery, and a close-up shot was drawn.

Avery put on makeup today, and her complexion looks very good. Her hair was pulled back, and she was wearing a black uniform skirt, capable and mature.

Ben Schaffer took a sip of water, then took out his mobile phone and sent a message to Elliot: [Today, he is going to sign a contract with Avery. We have 51 shares, and you will be the big boss of the Tate Industries in the future.]

Elliot: [What's Avery's attitude?]

Ben Schaffer turned on the camera, took a photo of Avery's profile, and sent it: [She is very happy. If we don't sell shares, she will only go bankrupt.]

After the message was sent, Ben Schaffer added: [But she can also choose to sell the company. Can also sell for a lot of money.]

Elliot looked at the profile photo of Avery sent by Ben Schaffer and enlarged the photo.

The corners of her mouth were raised, her expression was bright, and she looked really happy.

Under the stage, a reporter suddenly raised his hand and spoke: "Mr. Schaffer, I see you chatting with Elliot. How about we connect with Mr. Foster on the spot and let him express his opinion."

Ben Schaffer suddenly panicked and immediately Put the phone down.

Avery's speech was interrupted, and her mind went blank for a moment.

Chapter 1424

"Elliot is no longer the boss of Sterling Group, don't you know about this?"

Another reporter said, "now the boss of Sterling Group is called Adrian. Do you want to embarrass Elliot by asking someone to contact Elliot? "

Ah this... I saw that President Schaffer was breaking news with Elliot, so I thought..." The reporter who asked the first question blushed embarrassedly. He thought that although the Sterling Group was not Elliot on the surface, it was still Elliot in private.

Otherwise, why would Ben Schaffer chat with Elliot at the press conference?

"President Tate, please continue to talk about the next layout of the Tate Industries. Regarding the pricing of its products, as well as the next development issues. I believe that everyone is very concerned about this series of issues." Another reporter put the topic on the topic and get back on track.

Avery took a sip of water, adjusted her mood, and said again: "About our previous products, the pricing will be lowered. After the press conference, everyone will be able to see the new lowered prices."

"I believe everyone is very concerned about it . The next development issues of our company. After the capital injection of the Sterling Group, we will hire a new R&D team. This is a very mature team, and the team members will be disclosed to you at the right time. I believe their arrival will open the door to everyone. A more exciting technological life."

...

When Wanda saw this, her temples suddenly ached, and her heart beat violently.

Avery will hire a new R&D team?

Wanda hadn't heard of this at all, so she was a little shocked to know the news suddenly.

"Hurry up and notify the executives of various departments to have a meeting in the conference room." Wanda couldn't sit still but gave order.

The assistant took the order and immediately went to call to notify.

After a while, the assistant pushed open the door and came in: "Ms. Tate, the R&D department has collectively asked for leave."

Wanda: "What?"

The assistant: "Those people you hired at a high price have collectively asked for leave today."

Wanda's face turned pale and purple. She has realized that the team she hired with high salary was poached by Avery. D*mn it. She didn't expect Avery to do this trick behind her back.

No, Avery doesn't have the brain and the courage at all. It must have been dug by the Sterling Group.

At the end of the press conference, Avery's cell phone rang. She took out her mobile phone and saw that Wanda was calling, and immediately answered:

"Ms. Tate, what are you doing?"

Wanda yelled, "When did you hook up with the Sterling Group? You've done a good job of keeping secrets. You think you can win by poaching my team?"

Haha! I, Wanda, can survive until today, but I won't be defeated so easily by you. Wait for me, I won't let you and those who betrayed me. "

Avery was too lazy to waste her words with her, so she hung up the phone.

"Wanda is calling?" Ben Schaffer came over, saw her frown slightly, and guessed.

Avery: "Yeah. She watched our press conference, so she was furious."

"Don't worry about her." Ben Schaffer put his palm on her shoulder and changed the topic lightly, "Do you have any connection with Gwen?"

Avery: "Why did you suddenly mention her?"

"Uh...she pulled me into the blacklist. Last time she said she pulled me out, but I haven't been pulled out yet." Ben Schaffer was pulled into the blacklist for the first time. The list is always on my mind, "Why don't you help me talk about it and let her pull me out?"

Avery thought for a few seconds and nodded in agreement, "Do you want to be her friend? Wouldn't you be embarrassed?"

"If she doesn't want to be my friend, I can leave her alone. But she is Elliot's sister after all. I'm afraid that she will have any difficulties in life in the future. Maybe I can help her." Ben Schaffer stated his intention.

Chapter 1425

"Okay. I'll call her at night." Avery suddenly thought of a question, "Are you really messing with Elliot at that time?"

Ben: "Yes! I secretly took a picture of you and sent it to him."

"What did he say?" There was a jumping light in Avery's eyes.

Ben: "He said you were beautiful."

"You lied to me. He wouldn't talk like that." Avery didn't believe it at all.

Ben Schaffer asked, "Then what do you think he will say when he sees your photo?"

Avery thought for a while and said, "He probably won't say anything about my photos."

Ben: "Hahahaha! You still know him. But he didn't say anything, he must have thought something."

"If it was before, I might be able to guess what he was thinking, but now, I can't guess him." Although Avery couldn't guess him, she didn't care.

As long as Elliot comes back and comes back to her side, that's enough.

The two came out of the hotel, got into the same car, and went to the Tate Industries together.

.....

Yonroeville.

Elliot brought Rebecca to the wedding banquet hosted by the second brother.

Today was the day when the second brother's grandson was born. Rebecca entered the banquet hall and went to see the baby.

"Elliot, is Kyrie still ignoring you?" the second brother asked.

Nick laughed, and said, "Not only did he ignore Elliot, he also ignored me. I went to the hospital to see him the day before yesterday and was stopped by Lorenzo."

The fourth brother laughed and said, "Hahaha! You two are so stupid. I don't blame Kyrie for hating the two of you."

Nick said, "He hates me, I don't care. Anyway, I broke up with him a long time ago. It's Elliot, It's not good to deal with him."

"Elliot, Rebecca listens to you like this, so let Rebecca help you." The second brother leaned into Elliot's ear and whispered, "Women are for use. If you don't use her, wait until Kyrie. If you reuse Lorenzo in the future, you will be very passive. Kyrie has been hospitalized twice, maybe he will make a will in advance."

"Rebecca is pregnant now, I can't force her to do such a thing." Elliot said calmly.

"You think you don't get along with Kyrie, how good would it be for her to be caught in the middle?" The second brother patted his shoulder and continued, "Consider my proposal, if you can't be ruthless, I can help you."

Just when Elliot was about to speak, the fourth brother said first: "Elliot, don't rush to refuse. When dealing with Kyrie, you can't be indecisive. Don't you want to go back to Aryadelle earlier to see your wife and children? You drag on like this. When Kyrie is discharged from the hospital, you will have less chance to start.”

Rebecca hugged the newborn baby and found a few eyes swept towards her.

She looked over immediately—

the second master, the third master, and the fourth master were looking at her, only Elliot was drinking with a wine glass.

The little baby’s grandmother said with a smile, “Rebecca, they must be talking about you. I guess They were guessing whether the baby in your belly is a boy or a girl.”

Rebecca blushed: “Elliot doesn’t seem to be very happy. “

“I heard that he had a conflict with your father. Rebecca, you have to help him talk more in front of your father, otherwise he will be unhappy here, and he will want to go back to Aryadelle.”

“My father won’t let me.” Rebecca said helplessly, “I don’t know what to do now. Except for the baby in my belly, I don’t seem to have anything to rely on.”

The little baby’s grandmother said, “Don’t think so. How old is the baby inside?”

Rebecca smiled, “The baby is two months old.”

Chapter 1426

Avonsville.

After Avery had dinner, she took Robert for a walk in the community. She was supposed to take Layla out for a walk, but Layla needs tutoring.

After the summer vacation, an exam was first arranged in the school, and as a result, Layla’s ranking dropped.

Without waiting for Avery to talk to Layla, Layla took the initiative to ask for tutoring.

Avery used to worry that her child would not pay attention to learning, but she didn’t expect her worry to be completely unnecessary.

“Boss, when you were in Yonroeville, you gave me a bonus when you said it back.” The bodyguard followed Avery and walked slowly, “I didn’t plan to say that because your company was about to go bankrupt before, didn’t you?

However, you have now invested in the Sterling Group...”

Avery laughed: “I’ve been too busy these days, I forgot. Even if I’m going to go bankrupt, the bonus that should be given to you.”

With that, Avery took out her mobile phone and directly transferred a large sum of money to the bodyguard.

The bodyguard immediately flattered: “Boss, you look so beautiful when you transfer money to me.”

Avery: “Don’t praise me. Every time you praise me, I break into a cold sweat.”

“Can you not be so tired next time? The Sterling Group is a shareholder, and it also takes up the majority of the shares. You can let the people of the Sterling Group take care of it. You just need to receive dividends every year. If I were you, I would retire directly.” The bodyguard chatted with her.

Avery: “If I play at home every day, then I don’t need a bodyguard.”

The bodyguard was shocked then said: “Then you should go to work every day. I think young people still need work to enrich themselves, otherwise it will be boring.”

Avery was amused by his reaction, “You take Robert and I’ll make a call.”

Robert walks a little more steadily now, and is not too willing to sit in the cart.

The bodyguard took Robert over, picked him up, and held it high.

“I’ll take Robert over there to play with the children.” The bodyguard pointed to the fountain.

“Okay, I’ll go look for you after the phone call.” Avery agreed that Ben Schaffer’s matter had to be done.

After the bodyguard carried Robert away, Avery dialed Gwen's number.

The call was quickly connected.

Gwen asked, "Avery, are you looking for me or Hayden? Hayden may have gone to school."

Gwen now lives with Hayden.

First, Gwen was afraid of living alone. Second, the house where Hayden lived was quite big, and Hayden was usually at school, so the house was basically empty.

So Gwen proposed to hold back, but Hayden didn't object.

Avery said softly, "If I'm looking for him, I'll call him directly. Gwen, I'm looking for you because I want to talk about Ben Schaffer."

Gwen felt nervous when she heard his name: "What's the matter?"

Avery said, "Ben Schaffer wants you to remove him from the blacklist. He promised me that he would not harass you. He said he was afraid that you might have trouble in the future and could help you. I think he is sincere. I want to take care of you. It's the kind of care that a brother takes care of a sister."

Gwen teased, "Oh... he's so shameless. He asked you to tell me. With you and Hayden taking care of me, how could I need him to take care of me? But since he found you, then I'll pull him out of the blacklist with reluctance."

Avery said, "If he harasses you and makes you feel uncomfortable, tell me, I'll go find him."

Gwen sighed, "I'm not a child anymore, if he harassed me, I'll block him again.

My life is so good, although Elliot doesn't recognize me and you treat me like a sister."

Avery said, "It's not that he doesn't recognize you, he's a slow person."

Gwen said, "Anyway, I think Hayden is much easier to get along with than him."

"Maybe the two of you have fate." Avery is very pleased that their relationship is so good, "How is your work?"

Chapter 1427

"Recently, I need to practice my body first. The agent that Hayden hired for me is so strict. First of all, the diet must be completely in accordance with her plan. Second, she stares at me every day when I exercise, for fear that I will be lazy. You know why she is so strict? What Hayden talked about with her was that if I can become popular, then I will give her ten times the salary." Gwen said this and couldn't help but smile bitterly.

Avery: "This can indeed motivate her to be good."

Gwen: "Well, you said Hayden is so small, why is his brain so flexible?"

Avery: "Maybe... born!"

After talking on the phone, Avery went to the bodyguard and Robert. She walked to the fountain and saw Robert standing next to a pink children's bicycle. The little guy grabbed the handle of the bicycle with both hands, pouted, and stared at the bodyguard.

Beside him, a little girl screamed at Robert in a hurry.

Robert was not afraid at all.

The bodyguard coaxed Robert, "Hey little ancestor, this is Miss Sister's bicycle. Shall we give it back to Miss Sister?"

Robert held on to the bicycle tightly and didn't let go. He felt that as long as he got what he got, it was his.

"Hey, this kid's grandma, should I buy this bike?" The bodyguard took out his wallet and planned to use the money to solve the problem.

Avery came over immediately and stopped the bodyguard.

"Robert, this is Miss Sister's bicycle, not yours." Avery walked up to Robert and squatted down, reasoning with him, "You are still young, you can't ride a bicycle. When you are older, your mom will buy a bicycle for you.”

Because her voice was gentle, Robert let go of the bike after thinking for a while and threw herself into her arms.

“You are really your mother’s good baby.” Avery hugged Robert and looked at the little girl, “Little girl, what’s your name? your Brother, Robert didn’t mean to steal your bicycle. He may think your bicycle is very beautiful, so he likes it very much. Auntie apologizes to you, don’t you get angry, okay?”

The little girl smiled because her bicycle was praised for her beauty.

“My name is Cora, I can take my brother to play with.” The little girl immediately got on the bike and patted the seat behind, “Brother Robert, come up.”

Seeing that Robert wanted to go up, Avery carried him to the The back seat:

“Robert, hold your elder sister, be careful to fall down.”

Robert immediately hugged Cora’s waist tightly.

After Cora rode away in the car, Cora’s grandmother asked Avery: “Does your husband live here now? I haven’t seen you out for a walk in a while.”

Avery: “Well, he will be back after a while. “

Cora’s grandmother: Some people say you broke up, I don’t believe it. You two are in such a good relationship, and the child is so beautiful, even if it is for the sake of the child, it is impossible to break up.”

Avery: “Well, I’m sorry just now. I almost cried.”

Cora’s grandmother: “It’s okay, children are like this. My granddaughter robbed other people’s things before. It’s better to be bigger.”

....

At 8 p.m., Avery took Robert home.

“Mom! Why are you coming back now?” Layla has already finished tutoring,

“Dad just called the video call.”

Avery was stunned: "Did you pick it up?"

"Then I'll call him now." Avery took out her mobile phone and dialed Elliot's number.

Before she can make a video with him, she must first confirm that it is convenient for him to receive the video call now.

The call was made and was quickly connected.

Chapter 1428

"Where are you now? What are you doing? Is it convenient to take the video call?" Avery asked.

"I'm taking a shower." Elliot voice came in a low voice.

Avery froze for a moment, then said, "I'll Change the audio call mode to video call."

After she finished speaking, she hung up the phone and dialed the video call without waiting for him to respond.

Elliot took the video call. Seeing Elliot standing in the bathroom with no clothes on, Avery was stunned for a moment.

Her face turned red with a 'swish', her mind was a mess, and she suddenly forgot what to say.

Elliot's current appearance was not good for children to see, so she took her mobile phone and quickly walked towards the bedroom.

When she returned to the bedroom and closed the door, she found that her face was even redder.

She was very familiar with him, but at this moment, looking at his familiar face across the screen, he always felt a little strange.

"I took Robert out for a walk just now." Avery adjusted her mood and said first, "Why did you make a video call for Mrs. Cooper and not me?"

Although it was a trivial matter, she was angry for no reason.

"I want to see the child. I also made a video call for Mrs. Cooper before." His explanation did not make her quell her anger, but made her even more angry.

Avery: "Don't you want to see me?"

This question made Elliot thin his lips. He sipped suddenly.

"Do you have a problem with me? Because I transferred your shares to Adrian..."

"No."

Elliot said, interrupting her cranky thoughts, "I have no problem with you. You are not today. Have you gone to work? I'm afraid you are working overtime in the company."

Avery teased, "What's the point of working overtime? Now that you are the big boss of my company, why should I work so hard? It's almost eleven o'clock on your side. Right? Why did you take a shower so late?"

Elliot: "Today, my second brother treated me as a guest. I went to drink some wine."

"Are you physically able to drink?" Avery was surprised.

Elliot: "I only drank a little, it's fine."

"You went with Rebecca?" Avery asked casually.

Although Avery knew that he would return to Aryadelle in the future, but thinking of him getting along with Rebecca every day, she couldn't help feeling angry and angry.

Elliot: "Well."

"Isn't she going to be IVF? Did it work?" Avery continued.

Elliot: "Hmm."

"So soon?" Avery exclaimed in surprise.

Elliot: "It seems to have been two months."

"What is it like?" Avery was dissatisfied with his ambiguous answer.

Elliot frowned slightly: "I'm not very clear about her."

His answer finally made Avery feel a little more at ease.

Avery continued: "Where's Kyrie?"

Elliot: "Still in the hospital."

"Why do you feel bad? Are you happy?" Avery stared at his face, always feeling that he was very preoccupied, "Are you busy lately? Every time I take the initiative to send you a message, don't you want to go back to Aryadelle?"

Elliot pondered for a moment, then replied: "Xander's girlfriend is dead."

Why didn't Elliot contact Avery and why didn't he look happy because he felt ashamed.

The expression on Avery's face froze suddenly, and something seemed to be stuck in her throat, making her not know what to say for a while.

"Why did I keep urging you to leave Yonroeville before, because I can't protect anyone." Elliot voice was hoarse.

Avery eyes were scarlet, "Elliot, I don't blame you. It has nothing to do with you. If revenge is more difficult, then don't take revenge. I don't want you to die. You find a way to get out of there. you hurry back."

Elliot: "I'll be fine."

"You told me before that Xander's girlfriend would be fine, but she's dead. How do you know that Kyrie will not kill you? People like Kyrie are moody, and He knew about your protection of Xander's girlfriend, and he will definitely not let it go." Avery felt more and more dangerous the more he thought about it.

Elliot: "Kyrie just stopped my work."

After Elliot said this, there was a knock on the bathroom door.

Rebecca's voice came from outside the bathroom, "Elliot, the nanny has made sober soup, and I'll put it on the bedside table for you."

Avery heard Rebecca's gentle voice, and a thorn suddenly grew in her heart.

Avery asked him aloud, "You find a way to come back. If you don't find a way to come back quickly, I will find a way to save you."

Chapter 1429

Avery was giving him orders, not discussing with him.

After saying this, Avery hung up the video.

Elliot put down the phone, walked under the shower, turned on the switch, and the warm water quickly slid down his body along his short hair.

Elliot was very upset.

Avery said she was coming to rescue Elliot. It's like Xander's girlfriend has to come to avenge Xander.

If Xander was still alive, it would be impossible for his girlfriend to risk her life to avenge herself.

Elliot still remembers Xander's girlfriend's eyes when she was trampled on the ground by the bodyguard after she assassinated Kyrie.

His eyes are very bright. The anger in his eyes is not obvious, some are just relief.

Elliot decided to save her at that time, precisely because of her stubborn eyes, which reminded him of Avery. He thought that if he died in Yonroeville, Avery might be like Xander's girlfriend, running desperately to seek revenge for Kyrie.

Elliot didn't want Avery to save him. Whether he needs rescue or not, he doesn't need Avery.

After taking a shower, Elliot came out of the bathroom. At a glance, he saw Rebecca standing beside his bed.

Rebecca said, "Elliot, my father will be discharged from the hospital tomorrow, let's go to the hospital to pick him up tomorrow. I will ask my father to forgive you. Don't say anything tomorrow, I will make him to forgive you."

Elliot walked to her side, picked up the hangover soup, and took a sip.

The soup is a bit sour, and it is very refreshing to drink into the stomach.

Ellio finished the soup, and Rebecca immediately took the empty bowl. "It's very late, you go to rest. We'll talk about tomorrow's business tomorrow." He looked at Rebecca's unease face, his eyes slid a little bit until it landed on her stomach.

Rebecca followed his gaze and glanced at her belly, and said with a smile:

"The child is still very little."

"Well, I know." Elliot tone was very light.

When Avery was pregnant with Robert, Elliot was always by her side. He knows how hard it is for a woman to get pregnant and how great a child is to be born. So he couldn't live up to Avery.

The next day, 8 a.m.

After finishing dressing up, Rebecca came to Elliot's door and knocked on the door.

Rebecca told him last night that she was going to the hospital today to pick up Kyriee home.

Although Elliot didn't explicitly agree last night, Rebecca didn't think he would refuse.

Rebecca knocked on the door twice, but there was no response. She was heartbroken and opened the door without authorization.

She saw that the quilt on the bed was neatly folded, which was folded by the nanny.

And the nanny told her just now that Elliot was still sleeping and didn't go downstairs.

Explain that this is not what the nanny folded today.

This further shows that Elliot didn't sleep on this bed last night.

Rebecca suddenly felt hypoxia.

–Elliot is not in the room or the villa, where has he been?

–When did he leave?

Rebecca immediately went back to her room to get her cell phone and dialed his number.

Sorry, the number you dialed has been switched off, please try again later.

Shut down!

Elliot turned his mobile off.

This is the first time Elliot has shut down since he came to Yonroeville.

Rebecca suddenly felt like the world was spinning. Don't know what to do.

–Could it be that Elliot... returned to Aryadelle?

Chapter 1430

“Lorenzo, Stop it.” Rebecca shouted loudly. She quickly rushed to Elliot and protected him.

Lorenzo withdrew his hand, but still did not lose his breath.

“If you kill him, I won't let you go.” Rebecca looked at Lorenzo fiercely, “You are just an outsider. It's not your turn to intervene in our Jobin family's affairs.”

Outsiders' the word stabbed. Lorenzo looked at Rebecca's familiar face, as if looking at a stranger. After Rebecca married Elliot, she completely changed.

In Rebecca heart, only Elliot. If Elliot wanted everything from the Jobin family, she would give it away.

As an outsider, Lorenzo could only watch her do one stupid thing after another.

Just when Lorenzo was about to leave the ward, Rebecca looked at his back and whimpered: "Lorenzo, don't go."

Rebecca said angrily, but she didn't want to drive Lorenzo away. Just seeing Elliot bleeding so much, she was very angry.

But what would Rebecca do if she faced such a big mess after Lorenzo left?

Lorenzo stopped and looked back at her: "Didn't you say I'm an outsider?"

"You're not an outsider." Rebecca held back her tears, "But don't bully Elliot anymore. I decided to kill my father myself. Yes I am an adult and I am responsible for everything I do."

Lorenzo sneered: "Okay! You are responsible for yourself."

Rebecca prayed, "Lorenzo, don't go. I need you to help me. We are still the same as before, okay?"

"Okay!" Lorenzo clenched his fists, endured the heartache, and asked, "Then what do you need me to do?"

"Go to the doctor. Go to the doctor immediately." Rebecca roared.

After a while, the doctor came.

Elliot was sent to first aid to stop the bleeding.

After another doctor checked Kyrie's body, he announced: "Mr. Jobin is dead."

Rebecca: "I know... what should I do next?"

"Miss Jobin, we need us Find out the cause of Mr. Jobin's death?"

Rebecca: "No."

"Then...you can hold a funeral for Mr. Jobin." The doctor said.

Rebecca looked at Lorenzo: "Lorenzo, you are responsible for my father's funeral. Also, if there is something wrong with Elliot, I won't let you go."

Lorenzo's face was ugly and he didn't answer her.

.....

Avonsville.

Today, the Sterling Group entertained the executives of the Tate Industries, and Avery also brought Layla and Robert.

The reason why she brought her two children was mainly because several executives of the Sterling Group asked her to bring the children over to have a look.

Elliot has been away for a while, and he still doesn't know when he will return. Everyone misses him a lot.

"Layla, you are a big star now. My eldest and second child like you very much. Originally they wanted to come over to play with you, but I was afraid that they would scare you, so I didn't bring them here." An executive flattered Layla, "I heard that you are also very good at studying, you are amazing!"

"My mother taught me well." Layla said modestly.

"Hahaha! Your mother is great, and so are you." The executive said, and the conversation changed, "Layla, when will your father come back? If your father comes back to accompany you, he can teach you a lot "

Chapter 1431

Layla's mouth is shriveled: "You ask my mother this question."

"I'm not embarrassed?" The executive said with a smile, "I'm afraid to ask your mother, your mother is sad."

"But you ask me, I'm sad too." Layla looked sad.

"You miss your father, right?" The executive was persuasive. "He told me many times before, he said he loved you very much. He said he wanted to make a lot of money and spend it for you."

Layla: "Really, what else did he say?"

"Actually, your dad doesn't like to express his feelings very much, but every time he talks about you, he is very excited. He said he prefers his daughter.”

Layla’s nose slightly acid.

“Would you like to call your father? If you take the initiative to call him, he must be very happy.” The executive continued, “Your mother will bring her brother tonight, you can ask your mother to get the phone over and give it to your father Make a call.”

“Uncle, are you trying to talk to my dad on the phone?” Layla saw his intentions.

The executive blushed slightly and nodded: “I have joined your father’s company since I returned to Aryadelle. I have a good relationship with your father.”

“Oh...then I will go to my mother for a mobile phone.” Layla After agreeing, she immediately walked towards Avery.

Avery took Robert to chat with other women with children.

“Mom, let me play with your cell phone.” Layla walked to Avery and reached out to her for her mobile phone.

Without thinking, Avery took out her mobile phone and handed it to her daughter.

“What do you want mom’s phone to play with?” Avery asked Layla.

“I’ll call dad,” Layla said, taking her phone and walking away.

After Layla walked away, a female employee of the Sterling Group who was standing next to Avery said, “Do you have such a good relationship with President Foster?”

“Elliot dotes on her very much. It’s just that when I and Elliot quarrel sometimes, she will stand by my side. But she still likes this father very much in her heart.”

“Few people can reject the charm of President Foster. He just stood there, no If you talk, you can fascinate a lot of people.” The female employee laughed, and continued, “In recent years, many companies have poached me and offered me a higher salary than President Foster, but I didn’t quit.”

“Because you are not short of money?”

“Hahaha! Not lack of money is one aspect, and I feel more at ease working with President Foster. Maybe I’m used to working in my comfort zone, so I don’t want to move.”

“Well, that’s how people are. When Elliot was together at the beginning, he quarreled every day, and it took a while to settle in. After that, he couldn’t fall in love with other men. I think it may be what you said, and he didn’t want to spend any more energy to adapt to new men.”

“Avery, it’s enough for you to have our President Foster. You don’t need to look at other men. You don’t know how much the female employees of our company envy you.”

“Well, it’s enough for me to have him.” She was very content. The only hope now is that Elliot can return home smoothly.

After Layla took Avery’s mobile phone, she walked to the executive.

The executive took Layla to a quiet place to make a phone call.

Layla turned on her phone, clicked on the address book, found Dad’s number, and dialed.

“Layla, you usually play with your mother’s phone, right? You’re very skilled.”

The executive said with a smile, feeling a little excited.

Layla explained, “I have a cell phone myself, I just didn’t bring it. My brother bought it for me.”

Layla frowned, “Outside, my dad’s under control. Every time he calls me secretly. He’s such an idiot, he has to go outside and suffer.”

“Just wait until he returns home.”

Layla responded, staring at the phone screen without blinking.

The phone was dialed, it was connected, but no one answered.

Just when Layla thought the call would not be connected, an unfamiliar voice came from the other end of the phone—

Chapter 1432

“Avery?” There was a female voice over the phone.

Layla was stunned, not expecting a woman to answer the phone.

—Could this woman be Dad’s new wife?

“Who are you?” Layla asked loudly, frowning.

On the other side of the phone, Rebecca was stunned.

She thought it was Avery’s call, but she didn’t expect it to be a girl’s voice.

—Could it be Avery and Elliot’s daughter Layla?

Rebecca quickly adjusted her messy mood and said, “Are you Layla? I’m your father’s wife. My name is Rebecca. I don’t know if your mother has mentioned me to you.”

Layla’s brows were instantly locked, and her face became gloomy.

“I’m calling my dad, not you. Why are you answering my dad’s call?” Layla yelled uncontrollably.

Avery heard Layla’s roar, and immediately hugged Robert and rushed over.

Seeing Layla’s emotional breakdown, Rebecca explained calmly: “Layla, I know you can’t accept me, but I’m your dad’s legal wife now. And I’m pregnant with his child now. I can accept yours existence, I hope you can accept my existence. Otherwise, only you will suffer.”

“When did you become pregnant with my dad. You said you were pregnant with Elliot’s child?” Layla was shocked.

After all, children are children, and their psychological endurance is not so strong.

“Yes. I’ve been with your dad’s child for two months. Layla, I know it’s going to be hard for you to hear this, but you should respect your dad’s choice. Your dad will stay with me in the future. You are no longer a three-year-old child. I hope you can persuade your mother to let her think about it, and she can find a man again. “

After Rebecca finished speaking, she could already imagine how angry Avery would be when she learned this information from Layla.

“Layla, What’s wrong with you?” Avery saw that Layla was holding the phone, crying with tears, and immediately put Robert down.

“Mom!” Layla immediately jumped into her mother’s arms when she saw her, and cried out in grievance, “I called Dad, his new wife, Rebecca answered. Rebecca said she was pregnant with my dad’s child.”

Listening to Layla With the broken cry, Avery put her arm around Robert and took the cell phone in Layla’s hand with the other.

The call continues.

Avery put the phone to her ear and gave a hello.

Rebecca heard Avery’s voice and immediately responded: “Avery, I didn’t mean to make your daughter angry. She asked me, and I can only answer her truthfully.”

“You told my daughter that you were pregnant with Elliot’s child? Rebecca, do you know what the word ‘truthful’ means? Do you think I don’t know if the child in your womb belongs to Elliot? ” Avery asked her.

“Your self-righteous tone is ridiculous. Well, the child in my belly is not Elliot’s. Elliot is going back to Aryadelle to reunite with you. Is this what you want to hear?” Rebecca laughed and continued, “You just Continue to deceive yourself.”

Avery seemed to have been slapped twice, her cheeks burning hot.

“Where’s Elliot? Why did you answer his call?” Avery didn’t want to argue with Rebecca.

Avery wants to talk to Elliot and ask Elliot to tell her whether the child in Rebecca’s womb is his. Will he ever return to Aryadelle?

Rebecca asked, “Avery, did you meet Elliot on the first day? Do you think I can use his cell phone to answer the phone without his permission? Let me tell you straight, he said me to took your call.”

Avery felt like she was slapped twice.

This time, her face is not fiery hot, but fiery pain. It was because she knew Elliot that her face hurt.

–It is impossible for outsiders to take Elliot’s mobile phone, He always answered the phone by himself.

Chapter 1433

Unless Elliot took the initiative to ask someone to answer the phone for him.

“Avery, Elliot always let you go back to Aryadelle, not because he was worried about your safety, but because he felt that you were in Yonroeville and hindered our life. After you left, he promised me that he would accompany me in the future. And our children, will not leave us. Please don’t disturb our life in the future. If you need child support, you can ask me for it. I can give you as much as you want. Don’t bother Elliot anymore. I don’t want to contact you again.”

Rebecca’s tone gradually became impatient.

“Give him your phone. If he tells me that, I promise that I will never disturb you again.” Avery shouted every word.

Rebecca: "Sorry, he can't talk to you. Because I asked him to promise me not to talk to you in the future. I'm pregnant now and my mood is unstable, so he loves me very much and doesn't dare to make me angry. If I get angry and cause an accident to the child, no one can take the responsibility."

Avery: "..."

"Avery, I have finished telling you what I should say. Elliot and I are going to rest." After Rebecca finished speaking, she waited for another two seconds, seeing that she didn't speak, so she hung up the phone.

Rebecca put down the phone and looked at Elliot on the hospital bed.

Elliot was seriously injured.

The doctor said he might not be able to wake up for a while.

Even after waking up, it takes a long time for the body to recover to normal.

Lorenzo took half Elliot's life.

Rebecca was very angry. But she now needs Lorenzo to help her with her father's funeral. So she planned to wait until Elliot was discharged from the hospital, and then find Lorenzo to settle the account.

Elliot was laying on the hospital bed. Rebecca looked at Elliot's face wrapped in heavy gauze, thinking in her heart, just to take advantage of the time he was in the hospital, to cut off his relationship with Avery.

If it wasn't for this opportunity, she would have no way to deal with Avery.

As if from the moment she killed her father, the ambition within her awakened.

In order to achieve what she wants, she understands that she has to do anything. She doesn't want others to look down on her, she wants to be like her father, who others will be afraid of when they talk about it.

Even if it can't be done completely, at least it can't be bullied casually.

Aryadelle.

In the banquet hall.

Because Layla was crying too sadly, Avery couldn't care about her emotions and immediately coaxed her: "Layla, don't cry. The child in that woman's womb is not your father's. Your father explained it to me."

Layla was aggrieved, and the tears couldn't stop.

Robert stood next to her, watching her sister cry non-stop, and also started crying.

Avery couldn't coax the two children alone, but fortunately Mike came over in time and picked up Layla.

"Let's go back first." Avery hugged Robert and said to Mike, "Don't affect other people's mood."

"What's going on? I can hear the two children crying from far away."

Avery whispered, "Layla called Elliot, but Rebecca answered. Rebecca said that Elliot would not return to Aryadelle in the future. She also said that the child in her womb belongs to Elliot which is ridiculous."

Mike Stopping: "It wouldn't be true, would it? Otherwise, why would she take Elliot's mobile phone to answer your call?"

Chapter 1434

After Mike asked these words, Layla in his arms cried even louder.

Avery: "Can you stop the crow's mouth?"

Mike immediately shut up.

Avery coaxed her daughter, "Okay, Layla, don't cry. It's no big deal. your father told me clearly that the child in Rebecca's womb is a test-tube baby. It's not her and your father's. We trust Dad, Okay."

Layla buried her head in Mike's neck, her voice muffled: "I don't trust him. I don't trust him anymore."

Avery: "Baby, you don't trust him. It's fine. But don't let this affect your mood.

When you didn't have a father, you were happy every day, right?"

Layla: "That's because I have my brother with me..."

Avery coaxed, "Your brother will back at the end of the year and it will be the end of the year soon. Although you don't have a elder brother to accompany you now, you have a younger brother to accompany you!"

"My brother, Robert is too young." Layla said with disgust.

"But Robert loves you as much as your elder brother. Look at you crying just now, and Robert crying with you."

"That's because I scared him." Layla raised her head with tears in her eyes.

Seeing her daughter's sober and aggrieved appearance, Avery couldn't help laughing.

"Mom, don't laugh at me." Layla blushed.

"Okay, mom doesn't laugh at you anymore. Actually, mom understands your sadness, but mom wants you to be strong. If I can be with your dad, that's the best thing, but if I can't be with him, then we have to live a good life, right?"

Avery reasoned with her daughter softly.

Layla nodded. "Mom, I won't cry anymore."

"You're so good. You cried so loudly just now that the aunts and uncles in the banquet hall came to ask what's wrong with you. They all care about you. We need to see more people who care about us."

Layla was silent for a few seconds, then asked : "Mom, dad won't come back, will you go to him again? Mom, I don't want you to leave me again."

Avery's expression was a little stiff.

Seeing this, Mike immediately settled the situation: "Layla, even if your mother goes to your father, you will accompany your brother. Besides, I think that since your father promised that your mother would return to Aryadelle, he will definitely not break his promise. Your little head melon seeds, think more about how to bring learning up.”

When she heard the word “learning”, Layla suddenly had a headache.

Bringing the two children home, Avery said to Mike, “It’s still early, you go back to the hotel to play with them. I’ll put the children to sleep, so I won’t go out.”

“Okay, but you should contact Elliot, Let’s see what happened.”

Even if Mike didn’t say anything, Avery would contact Elliot again.

Rebecca’s flamboyant attitude tonight is too arrogant.

After Mike left, Avery took her daughter to take a bath.

Robert was carried away by Mrs. Cooper.

“Mom, I’ll take a shower by myself. I have to do my own business.” Layla said, and began to undress herself.

“Then mother goes out?” Avery knew that her daughter would take a bath. Mrs. Cooper told her.

But in the days when Avery just returned to Aryadelle, Layla asked her to help wash.

Layla pulled her arm and said, “Mom, don’t go. You’re here with me or you can bring my homework in and help me check it.”

“Okay, mommy will get your homework.” Avery Bring her daughter’s homework and open the homework book.

Essay topic – “My Dad”

Layla didn’t let Avery teach her to write this composition.

However, there is a tutor to guide her, so this composition is also written in a relatively long length.

“My dad is a tall man with big eyes. He has deep dimples when he smiles. But he usually doesn’t smile because he’s a serious guy. He likes to smile at me because he loves me. I..."

Avery felt a pain in her heart after reading the composition written by her daughter, thinking of her daughter crying tonight.

Chapter 1435

"Then kill me first." Rebecca stopped him, "Lorenzo, I did it. You saw with your own eyes the poison I fed Dad."

"You stupid woman. There is no cure." Lorenzo scolded angrily.

Rebecca cried bitterly: "Brother Lorenzo. I'm sorry. I didn't discuss it with you in advance."

"Don't call me brother. You are really stupid this time. Come on! How did the adoptive father raise a white-eyed wolf like you." Lorenzo hated that iron was not steel.

This was the first time Lorenzo scolded her.

Rebecca body softened and she fell to her knees on the ground. She said, "I did it by myself. You want to blame me and don't blame Elliot."

"You're still talking for Elliot at this time. What does he give? What kind of ecstasy did you pour? Rebecca, do you believe that he will return to Aryadelle right away? Do you really understand or fake it? If it wasn't for the adoptive father to block him, he would have left long ago. You shouldn't think it's righteous After my adoptive father dies. Will he live a good life with you? He doesn't love you at all. Stop dreaming."

Rebecca stared at him blankly: "Elliot won't leave, I'm pregnant with his child."

Not long after, the second master and Elliot were came to the hospital.

The second master saw Rebecca kneeling in front of Lorenzo, and Lorenzo's face was not right, so he sent Elliot to the ward and slipped away.

Seeing Elliot, Rebecca immediately choked and said, "Elliot, my dad is dead. I killed him.”

Elliot strode up in front of her and pulled her up from the ground.

After Rebecca stood firm, Lorenzo raised his foot and kicked Elliot.

“You use Rebecca to kill my adoptive father, what kind of man are you?”

Lorenzo rushed towards Elliot like a beast, wishing to swallow him alive.

Seeing this, the nanny immediately entered the ward and pulled Rebecca out.

Rebecca was crying so hard that she wanted to go in and pull the crazy

Lorenzo: “Lorenzo, don’t fight. I did it all. It’s nothing to do with Elliot!”

The nanny forcibly pulled Rebecca away.

“Miss! What you did is so absurd. You didn’t even tell me in advance. I almost made Lorenzo drink that soup... Miss, you are so confused. Your father is gone. Who will protect you in the future? Do you expect outsiders to protect you? You are too naive. In this world, apart from your father, even Lorenzo can’t treat you sincerely.”

“I don’t regret.” Rebecca had tears in her eyes, “My dad doesn’t look down on me at all. He’s alive, and he won’t be nice to Elliot.”

“Elliot, you keep your mouth shut. All he thinks is Avery. Miss, why can’t you figure it out?”

“I am pregnant with his child, and he will definitely not leave me and the child.”

Rebecca cried with scarlet eyes, gasping for breath, “If he wants to leave, I will just tell him that the baby in my womb belongs to him.”

“What if he still has to leave?” The nanny asked her.

Rebecca shook her head. She hadn’t thought about that.

—What happened today was so sudden that she didn’t have time to think calmly at all.

“Miss, your father is dead. Most of his inheritance must be left to you. You have to think carefully about how you can ensure that these properties will not be taken away by people with ulterior motives." The nanny continued, "I'm talking about people with ulterior motives, including your second master, third master, fourth master, and Elliot... Of course, including Lorenzo."

"Among these people, Lorenzo should be the best for you. " The nanny added.

Rebecca shook her head: "Lorenzo just wants my property. People like Lorenzo are the most dangerous. Elliot clearly doesn't like me, so no matter how bad Elliot is to me, it can't be any worse."

The nanny was speechless. She didn't know what to say.

Rebecca was no longer a child, she had her own thoughts and opinions.

Otherwise, she wouldn't kill Kyrie with her own hands.

"Elliot!" Rebecca suddenly exclaimed and strode towards the ward.

In the ward, Elliot fell in a pool of blood, but Lorenzo's beating continued.

Chapter 1436

"Lorenzo, Stop it." Rebecca shouted loudly. She quickly rushed to Elliot and protected him.

Chapter 1438

“Hahaha! Not lack of money is one aspect, and I feel more at ease working with President Foster. Maybe I’m used to working in my comfort zone, so I don’t want to move.”

“Well, that’s how people are. When Elliot was together at the beginning, he quarreled every day, and it took a while to settle in. After that, he couldn’t fall in love with other men. I think it may be what you said, and he didn’t want to spend any more energy to adapt to new men.”

“Avery, it’s enough for you to have our President Foster. You don’t need to look at other men. You don’t know how much the female employees of our company envy you.”

“Well, it’s enough for me to have him.” She was very content. The only hope now is that Elliot can return home smoothly.

After Layla took Avery’s mobile phone, she walked to the executive.

The executive took Layla to a quiet place to make a phone call.

Layla turned on her phone, clicked on the address book, found Dad’s number, and dialed.

“Layla, you usually play with your mother’s phone, right? You’re very skilled.”

The executive said with a smile, feeling a little excited.

Layla explained, “I have a cell phone myself, I just didn’t bring it. My brother bought it for me.”

Layla frowned, “Outside, my dad’s under control. Every time he calls me secretly. He's such an idiot, he has to go outside and suffer."

"Just wait until he returns home."

Layla responded, staring at the phone screen without blinking.

The phone was dialed, it was connected, but no one answered.

Just when Layla thought the call would not be connected, an unfamiliar voice came from the other end of the phone—

"Avery?" There was a female voice over the phone.

Layla was stunned, not expecting a woman to answer the phone.

—Could this woman be Dad's new wife?

"Who are you?" Layla asked loudly, frowning.

On the other side of the phone, Rebecca was stunned.

She thought it was Avery's call, but she didn't expect it to be a girl's voice.

—Could it be Avery and Elliot's daughter Layla?

Rebecca quickly adjusted her messy mood and said, "Are you Layla? I'm your father's wife. My name is Rebecca. I don't know if your mother has mentioned me to you."

Layla's brows were instantly locked, and her face became gloomy.

"I'm calling my dad, not you. Why are you answering my dad's call?" Layla yelled uncontrollably.

Avery heard Layla's roar, and immediately hugged Robert and rushed over.

Seeing Layla's emotional breakdown, Rebecca explained calmly: "Layla, I know you can't accept me, but I'm your dad's legal wife now. And I'm pregnant with his child now. I can accept yours existence, I hope you can accept my existence. Otherwise, only you will suffer."

"When did you become pregnant with my dad. You said you were pregnant with Elliot's child?" Layla was shocked.

After all, children are children, and their psychological endurance is not so strong.

“Yes. I’ve been with your dad’s child for two months. Layla, I know it’s going to be hard for you to hear this, but you should respect your dad’s choice. Your dad will stay with me in the future. You are no longer a three-year-old child. I hope you can persuade your mother to let her think about it, and she can find a man again. “

Chapter 1439

After Rebecca finished speaking, she could already imagine how angry Avery would be when she learned this information from Layla.

“Layla, What’s wrong with you?” Avery saw that Layla was holding the phone, crying with tears, and immediately put Robert down.

“Mom!” Layla immediately jumped into her mother’s arms when she saw her, and cried out in grievance, “I called Dad, his new wife, Rebecca answered. Rebecca said she was pregnant with my dad’s child.”

Listening to Layla With the broken cry, Avery put her arm around Robert and took the cell phone in Layla’s hand with the other.

The call continues.

Avery put the phone to her ear and gave a hello.

Rebecca heard Avery’s voice and immediately responded: “Avery, I didn’t mean to make your daughter angry. She asked me, and I can only answer her truthfully.”

“You told my daughter that you were pregnant with Elliot’s child? Rebecca, do you know what the word ‘truthful’ means? Do you think I don’t know if the child in your womb belongs to Elliot? ” Avery asked her.

“Your self-righteous tone is ridiculous. Well, the child in my belly is not Elliot’s.

Elliot is going back to Aryadelle to reunite with you. Is this what you want to hear?" Rebecca laughed and continued, "You just Continue to deceive yourself."

Avery seemed to have been slapped twice, her cheeks burning hot.

"Where's Elliot? Why did you answer his call?" Avery didn't want to argue with Rebecca.

Avery wants to talk to Elliot and ask Elliot to tell her whether the child in Rebecca's womb is his. Will he ever return to Aryadelle?

Rebecca asked, "Avery, did you meet Elliot on the first day? Do you think I can use his cell phone to answer the phone without his permission? Let me tell you straight, he said me to took your call."

Avery felt like she was slapped twice.

This time, her face is not fiery hot, but fiery pain. It was because she knew Elliot that her face hurt.

–It is impossible for outsiders to take Elliot's mobile phone, He always answered the phone by himself.

Unless Elliot took the initiative to ask someone to answer the phone for him.

"Avery, Elliot always let you go back to Aryadelle, not because he was worried about your safety, but because he felt that you were in Yonroeville and hindered our life. After you left, he promised me that he would accompany me in the future. And our children, will not leave us. Please don't disturb our life in the future. If you need child support, you can ask me for it. I can give you as much as you want. Don't bother Elliot anymore. I don't want to contact you again."

Rebecca's tone gradually became impatient.

“Give him your phone. If he tells me that, I promise that I will never disturb you again.” Avery shouted every word.

Rebecca: “Sorry, he can’t talk to you. Because I asked him to promise me not to talk to you in the future. I’m pregnant now and my mood is unstable, so he loves me very much and doesn’t dare to make me angry. If I get angry and cause an accident to the child, no one can take the responsibility.”

Avery: “...”

“Avery, I have finished telling you what I should say. Elliot and I are going to rest.” After Rebecca finished speaking, she waited for another two seconds, seeing that she didn’t speak, so she hung up the phone.

Rebecca put down the phone and looked at Elliot on the hospital bed.

Elliot was seriously injured.

The doctor said he might not be able to wake up for a while.

Even after waking up, it takes a long time for the body to recover to normal.

Lorenzo took half Elliot’s life.

Rebecca was very angry. But she now needs Lorenzo to help her with her father’s funeral. So she planned to wait until Elliot was discharged from the hospital, and then find Lorenzo to settle the account.

Elliot was laying on the hospital bed. Rebecca looked at Elliot’s face wrapped in heavy gauze, thinking in her heart, just to take advantage of the time he was in the hospital, to cut off his relationship with Avery.

If it wasn’t for this opportunity, she would have no way to deal with Avery.

As if from the moment she killed her father, the ambition within her awakened.

In order to achieve what she wants, she understands that she has to do anything. She doesn’t want others to look down on her, she wants to be like her father, who others will be afraid of when they talk about it.

Even if it can't be done completely, at least it can't be bullied casually.

Aryadelle.

In the banquet hall.

Because Layla was crying too sadly, Avery couldn't care about her emotions and immediately coaxed her: "Layla, don't cry. The child in that woman's womb is not your father's. Your father explained it to me."

Layla was aggrieved, and the tears couldn't stop.

Robert stood next to her, watching her sister cry non-stop, and also started crying.

Avery couldn't coax the two children alone, but fortunately Mike came over in time and picked up Layla.

"Let's go back first." Avery hugged Robert and said to Mike, "Don't affect other people's mood."

"What's going on? I can hear the two children crying from far away."

Avery whispered, "Layla called Elliot, but Rebecca answered. Rebecca said that Elliot would not return to Aryadelle in the future. She also said that the child in her womb belongs to Elliot which is ridiculous."

Mike Stopping: "It wouldn't be true, would it? Otherwise, why would she take Elliot's mobile phone to answer your call?"

Chapter 1441

After Mike asked these words, Layla in his arms cried even louder.

Avery: "Can you stop the crow's mouth?"

Mike immediately shut up.

Avery coaxed her daughter, "Okay, Layla, don't cry. It's no big deal. your father told me clearly that the child in Rebecca's womb is a test-tube baby. It's not her and your father's. We trust Dad, Okay."

Layla buried her head in Mike's neck, her voice muffled: "I don't trust him. I don't trust him anymore."

Avery: "Baby, you don't trust him. It's fine. But don't let this affect your mood. When you didn't have a father, you were happy every day, right?"

Layla: "That's because I have my brother with me..."

Avery coaxed, "Your brother will back at the end of the year and it will be the end of the year soon. Although you don't have a elder brother to accompany you now, you have a younger brother to accompany you!"

"My brother, Robert is too young." Layla said with disgust.

"But Robert loves you as much as your elder brother. Look at you crying just now, and Robert crying with you."

"That's because I scared him." Layla raised her head with tears in her eyes.

Seeing her daughter's sober and aggrieved appearance, Avery couldn't help laughing.

"Mom, don't laugh at me." Layla blushed.

"Okay, mom doesn't laugh at you anymore. Actually, mom understands your sadness, but mom wants you to be strong. If I can be with your dad, that's the best thing, but if I can't be with him, then we have to live a good life, right?"

Avery reasoned with her daughter softly.

Layla nodded. "Mom, I won't cry anymore."

"You're so good. You cried so loudly just now that the aunts and uncles in the banquet hall came to ask what's wrong with you. They all care about you. We need to see more people who care about us."

Layla was silent for a few seconds, then asked : "Mom, dad won't come back, will you go to him again? Mom, I don't want you to leave me again."

Avery's expression was a little stiff.

Seeing this, Mike immediately settled the situation: "Layla, even if your mother goes to your father, you will accompany your brother. Besides, I think that since your father promised that your mother would return to Aryadelle, he will definitely not break his promise. Your little head melon seeds, think more about how to bring learning up."

When she heard the word "learning", Layla suddenly had a headache.

Bringing the two children home, Avery said to Mike, "It's still early, you go back to the hotel to play with them. I'll put the children to sleep, so I won't go out."

"Okay, but you should contact Elliot, Let's see what happened."

Even if Mike didn't say anything, Avery would contact Elliot again.

Rebecca's flamboyant attitude tonight is too arrogant.

After Mike left, Avery took her daughter to take a bath.

Robert was carried away by Mrs. Cooper.

"Mom, I'll take a shower by myself. I have to do my own business." Layla said, and began to undress herself.

"Then mother goes out?" Avery knew that her daughter would take a bath. Mrs. Cooper told her.

But in the days when Avery just returned to Aryadelle, Layla asked her to help wash.

Layla pulled her arm and said, "Mom, don't go. You're here with me or you can bring my homework in and help me check it."

"Okay, mommy will get your homework." Avery Bring her daughter's homework and open the homework book.

Essay topic – "My Dad"

Layla didn't let Avery teach her to write this composition.

However, there is a tutor to guide her, so this composition is also written in a relatively long length.

“My dad is a tall man with big eyes. He has deep dimples when he smiles. But he usually doesn’t smile because he’s a serious guy. He likes to smile at me because he loves me. I...”

Avery felt a pain in her heart after reading the composition written by her daughter, thinking of her daughter crying tonight.

Chapter 1442

Layla was not an ignorant child. In public, she loved face more than anyone else.

She was really sad to cry in the banquet hall. She felt that her father was hers, but Rebecca told her tonight that her father had a new child, and her father would not only be her father in the future.

As if her beloved toy was snatched away, how could she not be sad?

After Layla took a bath, Avery coaxed her to sleep, and then came out of the children’s room.

Robert also took a bath and was eating milk.

“Avery, go take a bath. When Robert eats the milk, I’ll take him to sleep for a while.” Mrs. Cooper said.

Avery: “Well.”

Avery touched Robert’s little head and went back to the room. After closing the door, she took out her phone and found Elliot’s number.

She wanted to dial, but hesitated again. How embarrassing would it be if Rebecca picked up the call again?

After thinking for a while, she found Nick’s number and dialed it.

The phone was dialed, and after a while, it was connected.

Avery: "Nick, it's me."

Nick said depressedly, "There's a caller ID on my phone. You're arguing with me so late, and you're not letting anyone sleep?" "You woke me up just after falling asleep."

Avery: "I'm sorry! I was in a hurry, so I forgot the time on your side."

Nick: "What are you in a hurry for?"

Avery: "I called Elliot tonight, but Rebecca picked it up."

"Oh, Elliot was beaten. , I guess the injury is not light." Nick was awake, he simply sat up and took a sip of water, "Of course, I don't know the specifics. Rebecca has protected him well and won't let us visit."

"What's the matter? What happened?" Avery's strings were tense, and she frowned.

Nick: "It's a long story... We made a game and let Rebecca kill Kyrie."

"Kyrie is dead?" Avery's back suddenly turned a layer of hot sweat broke out.

"Yeah! This matter was kept quiet, and the funeral was held in a low-key manner. Because it was Rebecca who killed it. She didn't want people to know about it." Nick spoke of this, and his spirit suddenly rose, "I heard that Lorenzo put the Elliot gave him a beating. I just heard that we don't know the details."

Avery: "Can't you go and see him?"

Nick said, "I can't see it. Rebecca won't let me see it. Since she killed her father, she seems to have changed. I've got someone. I also called Elliot, but no one answered. So I guess Elliot's situation is not very optimistic now."

Avery: "I'll go to him now."

"Hey, don't wait. Come." Nick had a headache, "Wait a while. If Elliot is really injured and is in the hospital right now and when he recovers, he will naturally contact you. Just wait.”

Avery: “Nick, thank you tell me this. Otherwise, I was almost deceived by Rebecca.”

Nick: “When I saw Elliot for the last time, his attitude didn’t change. He was still determined to go back to Aryadelle and didn’t want to stay here.”

Avery: “Yes. What you said made me feel much more at ease.”

After hanging up the phone, Avery thought about it, and it was difficult for me to calm down.

–Elliot can’t be reached now.

–If he is injured, how is he injured?

–If I wait, who knows how long it will take and what will happen?

Avery quickly made up her mind– ‘Go to Yonroeville and find Elliot’.

Chapter 1443

She wanted to go to the airport immediately and take the nearest flight to Yonroeville, but after thinking about it, she held back.

She has to talk to her daughter first. Otherwise, her daughter will definitely be heartbroken.

Before the change, she must have ignored it and rushed to Yonroeville, but now, she can’t do that anymore.

During this time, the things Avery has experienced have made her grow a lot.

She can’t always just focus on her own emotions and ignore the feelings of others.

This is true for children, and the same is true for Elliot.

The next morning.

Avery got up early, went to the children’s room, and called Layla up.

“Layla, your dad is injured, and mom has to go see him.” Avery sat beside the bed and discussed with her daughter, "I'll bring him back this time when I go there."

Layla's sleepy eyes were open and she didn't react: "Oh..."

Avery continued, "Mom bought a plane ticket this morning. After sending you to school, mom will go out. After mom leaves, Uncle Mike will come and stay. You have What's the matter, you can tell Uncle Mike, you can also tell Uncle Eric..."

"What? Mom, are you leaving?" Layla was completely sober.

Avery: "Yeah, mom just told you that your dad was hurt."

"How did he get hurt? Is it serious?" Layla looked worried.

"Mom doesn't know yet. I'll find out after I've passed it." Avery brought over the clothes that her daughter was going to wear today, "Don't worry, the worst person is dead, and mom won't be in danger."

"Kyrie died?" Layla asked in surprise.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery: "Yes! Who told you his name?"

"Uncle Mike told me." Layla's mood suddenly improved, "The bad guy is finally dead. Mom, can I go to Yonroeville too?"

"Haha, baby, you have to go to school." Avery took off her pajamas and put on her skirt, "It's not fun over there. Wait for Mom to go and bring Dad back. We'll never go there again."

"Of course. Mom will miss you and your brother, Robert." After sending her daughter out, Avery returned to her room to pack her luggage.

Mrs. Cooper walked into the bedroom with Robert in her arms.

"Avery, will it be dangerous for you to pass this time?" Mrs. Cooper was very worried.

Avery said, "No. Kyrie is dead. Now Kyrie has only one daughter, Rebecca, Elliot's wife in Yonroeville. I have dealt with Rebecca, but she is a childish child. I'm not afraid of her."

Mrs. Cooper: "I still have to plan for the worst."

"When Kyrie dies, I don't know how many people are thinking about the Jobin family's property. Rebecca now has wolves and tigers. If she wants to deal with me, I can ask Nick to help me." Avery returned after thinking it over.

Mrs. Cooper: "Well. Call home when you arrive."

Avery: "Okay."

Avery packed her luggage and prepared to go out with her suitcase.

Robert looked at his mother about to leave, and seemed to realize something.

Suddenly, the little guy exclaimed, "Mom! Woo!"

He struggled to get down from Mrs. Cooper's arms, ran to Avery, and hugged Avery's leg.

Avery's peaceful heart was disturbed. She wanted to laugh and coax her son, but her eyes suddenly became wet.

"Robert, mom will be back soon." Avery put down the luggage, picked up her son, and looked at his big eyes, "Mom will pick up dad. Then mom and dad will play with you, okay?"

Chapter 1444

Avery put the bread in Robert's hand. The little guy had snacks, and the tears in his eyes were held back.

Mrs. Cooper returned to the living room and took Robert from her arms.

"Avery, don't worry! Go early and return early."

"Well." Avery strode out of the villa after kissing Robert's forehead.

....

Yonroeville.

Avery came out of the airport and looked at a country that was both familiar and unfamiliar in front of her. Her mood was completely different from last time.

“Boss, let’s go to the hotel to check in first.” The bodyguard said while carrying her suitcase.

“Go to the hospital first. Nick said that Elliot might be injured, but he’s not sure. I want to confirm this.” Avery didn’t fall asleep on the plane because she thought Elliot might be injured, and he wasn’t very injured.

“Boss, you look haggard and vicissitudes of life now. Regardless of whether Elliot is injured or not, I feel that if you don’t get some sleep, you may be hospitalized at any time.”

“Why are the people around me all crowmouths?” Avery sighed. She gave up the idea of going to the hospital immediately, and decided to go to the hotel to take a shower and change her clothes.

“I’m just telling the truth. You should think about it, is it that you usually do your own way.” The bodyguard muttered softly.

Avery: “Are you educating me?”

The bodyguard: “I’m obviously begging you. If you fall ill, I will be very sad.”

Avery: “You will be sad when I die.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

The bodyguard: “Who is the crow’s mouth? Together, Mike and I are no match for the power of your mouth.”

...

The two quarreled and arrived at the hotel.

After checking in and getting the room card, the two took the elevator to the housekeeping department.

The bodyguard sent her to the room and warned: “If you go out, you must call me. Although Kyrie is dead, Rebecca definitely doesn't want to see you here."

"Got it. I'll take a shower first. Take a shower, go back to your room and rest."

Avery sent the bodyguard out, then closed and locked the door.

About half an hour later, after taking a shower, Avery was about to go to the hospital to inquire about Elliot's whereabouts.

When she came out of the room, she took out her mobile phone and called the bodyguard. Because when the bodyguard let her out just now, he must call him.

According to her previous habit, she felt that there was no dangerous little thing, and she would definitely do it directly.

But now she decided to get rid of her bad habit.

She dialed the phone and got through, but no one answered. She suspected that the bodyguard might have fallen asleep. Thinking of this, she put away her phone and strode towards the elevator.

In the hospital.

Avery found her former attending doctor and presented the fruits and flowers she had bought.

When the doctor saw her, his jaw dropped: "Ms. Tate, haven't you returned to Aryadelle? Why are you here again?"

"I came here to thank you." Avery sat down in the chair and said, "If not With your superb medical skills, how can I be healthy now?"

The doctor got goosebumps: "Ms. Tate, don't mess around with me, what the h-e-l-l are you coming to me, tell me directly."

"Elliot, is injured, right? Where is he being treated?" Avery said nervously.

The doctor shook his head and sighed: "I knew that you came to me, it must be the drunkard's intention not to drink."

Avery: "Just tell me. There are still patients queuing outside."

Chapter 1445

Mr. Foster seems to be injured, but I don't know how. It was the vice president who treated him and kept the whole process confidential. Something happened to the Jobin family, you should be careful. Let's go." The doctor approached Avery and whispered.

Avery got up from the chair, and said, "Elliot is injured, I can't ignore it. Thank you for telling me this. I'll see you next time."

The doctor sighed again, "Will you live well? You have to toss. I've never seen you so afraid of death."

Avery: "Don't worry, I can't die."

After Avery finished speaking, she went to Vice President Lewis. But unfortunately Vice President Lewis was not in the hospital today.

Avery had no sleepiness and didn't want to go back to the hotel, so she called Nick and visited his house.

After Nick received her call, his shocked tone was no less than the doctor's reaction just now.

After the two met, Nick looked at her as if he were looking at a creature from outer space.

"Didn't I tell you not to come?" Nick had a headache.

"Isn't Kyrie dead?" Avery put the bought fruit on the coffee table, "Nick, can you accompany me to the hospital? If you go to Rebecca, she won't rush you. Let's go?"

"What if I don't agree to you?" Nick deliberately made things difficult for her.

Avery: "If you don't agree, then I'll come to see you tomorrow."

Nick frowned, "Are you threatening me? Do I owe you? Do you have to find me?”

Avery said: “You don’t owe me, I owe you.”

“Come on, I’ll accompany you on a trip. If this trip doesn’t yield anything, don’t bother me next time.” Nick took a sip of tea.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery: “Okay, thank you. Your kindness, I will keep it in my heart.”

Nick: “Don’t put a high hat on me. If it weren’t for your medical skills, I wouldn’t bear you.”

Avery: “I don’t think you are such a person. In the relationship between you and Elliot, you will definitely help me.”

Nick: “Ah, you woman. I told you not to wear a high hat.”

“Okay, Nick, let’s go to the hospital now.” Avery Got up from the sofa, walked up to him and took his arm.

As if struck by lightning, Nick immediately pushed her away: “Don’t do anything to me. That trick you did to Elliot is useless to me.”

Avery: “Would you like to call the hospital first?”

Nick glared at her and said, “What are you calling for? So that Rebecca will know in advance that we are going there and stop us at the hospital gate?”

Avery was stunned: “Is the hospital belongs to the Jobin family?”

Nick: “Yes! The Jobin family is the major shareholder of that hospital.”

Avery felt a little pain in her head. How did she dare to operate in that hospital?

If the Jobin family wanted to harm her at that time, they could kill her in minutes.

“Nick, you said on the phone that after Rebecca killed her father, she seems to have changed. What is the specific change?” Avery was more curious.

Because she will inevitably have direct contact with Rebecca next.

Nick said, "What was Rebecca like before? You have come into contact with her. She has a bit of a shadow of Kyrie now. Maybe the second brother succeeded in brainwashing her. In short, don't underestimate her now. Kyrie is dead. After that, everything in the Jobin family fell into her hands."

"Kyrie gave her all the inheritance?" Avery was a little surprised. Because Kyrie didn't pay much attention to Rebecca's attitude before.

Kyrie prioritized sons over daughters. His attitude towards Elliot and Lorenzo during his lifetime was better than that of Rebecca.

"Yes, it must be for his own daughter. And Rebecca is pregnant, and the child will have the surname of the Jobin family." Nick said.

Chapter 1446

Speaking of the child, Avery's eyebrows wrinkled involuntarily: "Nick, do you know whose child is in her stomach? Is it Elliot's?"

Nick strode outside and said, "How do I know this? I didn't install Camera on their bed. When you see Elliot, you can ask him this question directly."

Avery: "Elliot told me that the father of the child was picked by Rebecca in the hospital sperm bank. "

Nick: "Then why do you still ask if it's Elliot's?"

"Rebecca said on the phone that the child belongs to Elliot. It was a serious statement, and it made my daughter cry." Avery followed Nick and got on the car.

Nick thought it was a trivial matter, So he said, "When Rebecca's child is born, you will know whether it is Elliot's."

"I don't think Elliot will lie to me. But I don't think Rebecca needs to tell such a clumsy lie. Because you don't need to wait for her child to be born to know whether the child is Elliot's." After Avery finished speaking, Nick was stunned.

Nick: "How long does it take to check?"

Avery: "You can check after three months of pregnancy. Through amniocentesis..."

Nick: "Oh. Rebecca's child should be almost three months old."

Avery didn't answer.

If Rebecca dared to tell Elliot that the child was his, Elliot would definitely do DNA test with the child.

The biggest question now is how serious Elliot's injury is.

The car drove towards the hospital. After being silent for a while, Nick said to Avery, "I'll go in first. If I can see Elliot, you don't have to go in."

Avery said, "But I really want to see him with my own eyes."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Nick: "Don't you just want to confirm his condition? You see him, it will do nothing but make Rebecca angry. If Elliot is awake, I will tell him you are here.

If he is unconscious, it's no use seeing him."

Avery retorted, "What if I can treat him? If he is really hurt that badly, the doctor here may not be able to cure him."

Nick: "Okay, I'll go check the situation first."

"Nick, how are you going to explore?" Avery was afraid that he would be closed.

Nick narrowed his fox eyes and said one word: "Cheat."

Avery: "???"

When Nick arrived at the hospital, he inquired about the floor of the inpatient department where Elliot was, and went immediately.

The elevator reached the floor and opened.

He came out of the elevator, and two bodyguards stopped him immediately.

“I’m here to find Rebecca. Go and tell Rebecca, and say I have something important to look for. It’s about the interests of the Jobin family.” Nick said to the Jobin family bodyguard.

Hearing the words, the bodyguard immediately went to report to Rebecca.

After a while, Rebecca came out.

“Second Master, what do you want to say to me?” Rebecca looked cold and distant, “Why don’t you just call me directly?”

“Can you get through? I called you last time, but you didn’t take my call.” Nick said teasingly, “Aren’t you going to invite me to sit down? I came to you today, not because I have a good relationship with you, but because I saw Elliot’s face.”

Rebecca thought about it, and then invited Nick. The two were going to the ward.

The two bodyguards followed immediately.

Arriving at the ward, Nick saw Elliot lying on the hospital bed at a glance.

The relaxed expression on Nick’s face suddenly froze.

“What did Lorenzo do?”

Rebecca sat down on the sofa and said, “Well. When Elliot is healed, I will naturally punish Lorenzo. My father just left, and I still need Lorenzo to help me. Second Master, you want to follow me say what?”

Chapter 1447

Nick took his eyes away from Elliot, frowned, and asked without answering,

“Did the doctor say when Elliot can wake up?”

“No.” Rebecca was reluctant to talk about Elliot’s condition.

Nick: “It seems that the injury is too serious, so the doctor can’t estimate when he will wake up.”

Rebecca did not answer this question, but said angrily: "The doctor said that his life is not in danger."

Nick: "He went abroad to seek better treatment?"

Rebecca: "I thought about it but the doctor said that he is not suitable for transfer now."

"Oh...then why didn't a better doctor come to treat him?"

"The doctor said Elliot's illness is not serious enough to ask a doctor outside."

After Rebecca answered this question, her tone became impatient, "Didn't you say you have something to tell me? If it's just an excuse to come to see Elliot, you have also seen Elliot now..."

There was a commotion outside the ward.

"Elliot!" Avery's voice came from exhaustion.

Rebecca heard her voice, and a cold sweat broke out on her back.

-Is it her hallucination?

-How did she hear Avery's voice?

Rebecca quickly walked out of the ward and saw Avery who was stopped by the bodyguard.

"Avery! Why are you here?" Rebecca's voice was deafening.

Rebecca thought she would never see Avery again, but unexpectedly, Avery is here again.

Nick saw Avery come over but he was not surprised. He didn't want to help her, but couldn't help speaking for her.

Nick said to Rebecca, "Rebecca, did you forget that Avery is a relatively good doctor? Avery heard that Elliot was sick, so she wanted to come over to see his condition. Let her go see Elliot Right. Elliot is a living dead now, and he can't see her, let alone go with her...”

Rebecca looked at Nick and said, “You brought her here, right? You said fake to ask me for something, but it’s real to bring Avery here. You do this, it really makes me sad.”

“Rebecca, since you are pregnant with Elliot’s child, why are you afraid of me?”

Avery said excitedly, Pushing her bodyguard away, “I just want to see Elliot’s condition, in case I can help him and let him recover quickly, okay? You keep saying that you love her, then you shouldn’t stop me from going. Look at him.”

Nick teased, “Rebecca, be generous. She said you were pregnant with Elliot’s child, if that’s the case, Elliot will definitely be responsible for you and the child.”

Rebecca was entangled in her heart. Before she came back to her senses, Avery had strode past her and broke into the ward.

Nick followed her into the ward.

The two stood by the hospital bed and looked at Elliot, who was bloodless and motionless on the bed.

Elliot’s entire body was wrapped in white gauze except eyes. It’s hard to imagine Elliot so much suffered before.

Nick saw Avery’s eyes were scarlet and tears fell, so he took out a pack of tissues from his pocket and planned to hand tissues to her.

Unexpectedly, Avery turned around and walked in front of Rebecca.

With a ‘pop’ sound, a loud slap sound came.

She slapped Rebecca in Rebecca’s territory.

Chapter 1448

Nick was stunned.

Rebecca was also stunned.

The Jobin family bodyguards rushed up immediately when they saw their master being beaten.

Nick walked over and stopped them.

“Don’t worry about their women’s affairs, you two gentlemen. Go to the elevator to guard, don’t let unrelated people break in.” Nick said, and took the two bodyguards out.

The door of the ward was closed, and only Rebecca, Avery and Elliot were left in the room.

“You hit me?” Rebecca covered her face with her hands, her eyes flashing with unbelievable anger.

“Miss Jobin, how did you let Elliot become like this? How dare you use his mobile phone to show off your power with me, and how dare you hide his illness? What are you putting on in your mind? Is he dead? Now, you can still occupy his body and tell me that you two are very loving?”

Rebecca put down her hand and clenched her fist tightly: “He is not dead. The doctor said he will recover. It just takes a little time. That’s it.”

“Who beat him up like this? Is it Lorenzo?” Avery’s eyes flashed with deep hatred, and she asked her, “Why did he beat Elliot? Rebecca, What were you doing? Why were not you stop him?”

Rebecca said, “I didn’t stop Lorenzo.”

“Why do you occupy him now? What face do you have to occupy him? Don’t you feel guilty?” Avery Gritting his teeth.

Rebecca said, “Elliot is not dead. When he recovers, I will treat him well and I will make up for him. If you question me here, how good are you to him? If you are good to him and you are not wrong to him, why would he abandon you and your children to come here? Anyone can accuse me, but you are not qualified.”

Rebecca's rebuttal made Avery suddenly calmed down.

Now arguing about this was useless.

"Where's his inspection report? Give it to me." Avery reached out to Rebecca.

Rebecca's stiff pestle stayed on the spot and didn't move.

"I asked you to give me his inspection report. If you can't speak, get out." Avery raised her voice a bit and her fingers clenched tightly.

Rebecca blushed when she scolded her face to face: "The inspection report is in the cabinet in front of you. Avery, don't think that I dare not..."

"You are going to kill me?" Avery glanced at her coldly, then opened the cabinet and took out a stack of examination reports, "Rebecca, are you addicted to murder? If you can't control yourself, I suggest you go to a psychiatrist. "

Rebecca slammed the door and left.

Nick smokes outside the ward. Seeing Rebecca coming out, he immediately grabbed her.

"Rebecca, I know you don't want to see Avery, but Avery's medical skills are really good. Let her stay here and treat Elliot." Nick persuaded her nicely,

"Lorenzo hurt Elliot like this, if there is any root of the disease, it will be miserable."

Rebecca: "I want Elliot to wake up and see me, not her."

Nick laughed and said, "Then why don't you stay in the ward all the time. In this way, Elliot wakes up and sees two of you. I really envy Elliot, the two women are fascinated by him."

Rebecca: "I'm annoyed when I see Avery."

Nick: "Avery is even more annoying when she sees you. She can bear it and you also bear it."

Rebecca: "..."

"By the way, isn't the child in your belly a test-tube baby? Why did you tell Avery that it was Elliot?" Nick asked this question in a low voice, "Elliot told me personally that your child is not his."

The corner of Rebecca's mouth raised a mocking smile: "Why do you think I dare to kill my father in a desperate attempt to kill my father? Because the child in my womb belongs to Elliot. Even if Elliot doesn't love me, he will still be there for the child in my womb."

Chapter 1449

Nick didn't think Rebecca was joking.

–Is it true?

–If true, that would be interesting.

Nick should have watched the fun, but his temples hurt.

Elliot and Avery had a conflict. If it was in Aryadelle, it had nothing to do with Nick.

But obviously, their next conflict will be troubled here. They were fighting here, and he certainly couldn't eat melons like the others standing with akimbo.

Avery took Nick one at a time, calling him as affectionate as a brother.

At first, Nick was annoyed by Avery coming to him, but then for some reason, he seemed to get used to it, so he didn't think she was too annoyed.

"Since you have a child in your womb to threaten Elliot, why are you afraid of Avery? Just let her stay here. Let's wait until Elliot recovers."

Rebecca held back her anger: "You said so. I want to kill her."

"If you kill her, Elliot won't let you go. Don't think that if you are pregnant with his child, you will get the gold medal. Rebecca, you are not like your father. If you kill people with ruthlessness, you are still not your father. Don't blame me for speaking badly, I just hope you can cherish the life that you can control and don't kill yourself."

Rebecca gradually calmed down: "I know... ..I know where Elliot's bottom line is. I just want to keep Elliot by my side, as long as Avery doesn't rob me, I won't hurt her."

Nick laughed and said, "If you can't rob her, you treat Elliot as a commodity. When Elliot wakes up, he can go wherever he wants, and you can't do anything at all."

"If he wants to leave, will you help him leave?" Rebecca's eyes narrowed and wet.

Nick said, "Not only will I help him, but your second and fourth masters will also help him." Nick looked at her lost face with scheming eyes, "One mountain can't hold two tigers. Elliot and we are not the same kind of people. And he is too capable. If he stays here, it is a hidden danger for your second master and fourth master. If you cannot become the same kind, you will become opponents."

"As you say, if Elliot leaves here, Would you attack the Jobin family?"

Rebecca's heart went cold.

"Elliot has already negotiated with them. Some of the benefits your dad swallowed will definitely be spit out. As for the Jobin Industries, we promised that Elliot would not move. What you need to do in the future is to keep the Jobin Industries from outsiders."

Rebecca lowered her head, tears streaming down her face.

"Do you regret killing your father?" Nick asked.

"So what if I regret it, he won't survive again." Rebecca turned her back.

Nick: "Rebecca, listen to my advice again, don't break up with Lorenzo over Elliot. In case you can't keep Elliot, it's not bad to keep Lorenzo. At least he's here, it can be much easier."

Rebecca: "Got it."

.....

Avonsville.

In the minimalist villa, the smell of traditional medicine permeates the entire space.

Jun couldn't stand the smell of medicine, so he went up to the second floor.

As a result, the second floor is also this strong strange smell.

Distraught, he glanced at the sky outside.

It was getting dark, but Tammy hadn't come back yet.

It has been half a month since Tammy took over the Lynch Group.

In the past half month, she has been home late for at least ten days.

For at least a week, she spent drinking with others outside.

Because of her new appointment, major dealers and customers invited her to dinner one after another. She couldn't refuse, so her dinner was scheduled a month later.

Jun went to accompany her when he was free, but he also had his own things to do, so it was impossible to accompany her every day.

Chapter 1450

So the two of them often quarrel over this matter.

The medicine that the nanny downstairs boiled was bought by Tammy after she went to seek medical treatment, and she drank it three times a day in the morning, noon and evening.

Tammy insisted on drinking for two days, and today was her third day to drink the medicine.

She didn't come back for lunch today, and she didn't know how late she would stay up tonight.

Jun stood on the balcony to breathe while dialing her number.

The phone was dialed, and it took a while to get through.

"Husband, I can't leave now... I'll be home later. You can eat alone and don't wait for me." Tammy's answer made Jun feel angry.

"Didn't you say you need to prepare for pregnancy? You didn't drink your medicine? You didn't drink it at noon today." Although Jun was angry, he didn't dare to speak too harshly.

Since Tammy was kidnapped, he dared not allow himself to lose his temper with her.

"I wanted to go back to drink medicine at noon. You said that fatigued driving is not good, so I stayed at the company to rest... You said it's okay to drink less."

Tammy argued with him.

Jun said, "I mean it's okay to have one less drink, but you can't come back tonight to drink, so drink less."

"Then can you bring it to me? Are you at home now?" Tammy asked back.

Jun took a deep breath and said, "Okay! Send me the location and I'll send it to you."

After speaking on the phone, Jun went downstairs and asked the nanny to pack the boiled traditional medicine in a heat preservation box.

While packing, the nanny muttered in a low voice: "Master, you are too indulgent to Tammy. Which woman preparing for pregnancy drinks outside every day? You can't drink when preparing for pregnancy."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Jun: "Tammy said she didn't drink. She drank all the juice."

The nanny: "But the clothes she changes every night smells of alcohol."

Jun frowned, "Other people drink alcohol and it smells like medicine. I don't know about this medicine. Does it work? It's so unpleasant to drink. If you put it away before, Tammy will never drink it."

The nanny: "Young master, you are soft-hearted. Tammy socializes outside every day. If your parents find out about this, you will definitely be angry."

"Don't talk to me. My parents said. Just wait until Tammy has been busy for a while." Jun took the insulation box from the nanny and strode out.

A high-end restaurant, private room.

Jun carried the insulation box, pushed open the private room door, and saw a fat middle-aged man holding a glass of wine and forcibly pouring it into Tammy.

The insulation box in Jun's hand fell to the floor with a 'bang'.

Hearing the movement, Tammy immediately saw Jun, and immediately pushed the man beside him away.

"Husband!" Tammy blushed embarrassedly and explained, "I...I..."

Tammy wanted to say 'I didn't drink', but the truth was that she had just been given a sip liquor.

"Have you been drinking?" Jun strode in front of her and smelled a strong smell of wine.

Jun wasn't sure if Tammy drank or not, but her dodging eyes betrayed everything.

"Drink a little. Just a sip." After Tammy finished speaking, Jun immediately shook off her arm and strode away.

"Husband. Wait for me." Tammy grabbed her bag and quickly chased out.

In the parking lot outside the restaurant, Jun stopped.

Tammy chased after him——

“Husband, today’s guests are special.”

“I’ll just ask you, can I drink alcohol to prepare for pregnancy?” Jun frowned and shouted angrily, “Either you don’t tell me that you want children. You really want children, and you can talk to these old men every day. fooling around outside? Your family does business by relying on women to accompany others to drink outside? Is your mother like this?”

Chapter 1451

Tammy won’t be angry no matter how Jun scolds her.

But when Jun scolded her mother, she instantly exploded. She raised her hand and slapped him in the face.

“Jun, did you forget that when you were socializing before, you often came home drunk and vomited all over the house. Did I scold your mother? You b*stard. You have no right to scold me. And you have no right to scold my mother. Even if I drink, so what? I said that I want to prepare for pregnancy but I didn’t say that I must prepare for pregnancy now. Can’t I postpone the preparation for work?”

A public slap in the face, swept away with dignity.

And what Jun meant just now didn’t say that her mother was out drinking, but that her mother didn’t socialize outside like her, and she didn’t have to.

Tammy misinterpreted his meaning and beat him.

Jun’s chest rose and fell rapidly, his mind was a mess, and then he stopped.

In order not to make this quarrel irreparable, Jun forcibly suppressed the anger in his heart.

Jun opened the door, got into the car, and slammed the door shut. He stepped on the accelerator and drove the car out.

The moment the car drove out, Jun looked at Tammy’s figure in the rearview mirror.

Tammy didn't look at him. She found the car keys in her bag, unlocked the car, opened the door, and got in the car. After she got into the car, she slowed down to see where Jun was going.

As a result, she drove in the opposite direction back to their house.

Jun suddenly panicked. He immediately stopped the car and called Tammy.

Tammy quickly answered the phone: "What?"

"Where are you going?" Jun suppressed his anger.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Tammy: "I'm going back to my house. Jun, let's calm down."

Jun took a deep breath and said indifferently, "Okay! Then calm down."

Tammy didn't speak, so Jun also didn't speak.

Both of them were angry now, and neither of them would bow their heads.

They often quarreled like this before, but this was the first time after their remarriage.

Tammy listened to the beeping sound of disconnection, tears welling in her eyes.

—It's obviously a very small matter, why are they arguing like this?

While crying, Tammy drove the car forward until the car stopped at the gate of Lynch's house.

When the two elders of the Lynch family saw their daughter coming back, they asked in astonishment.

Turning a deaf ear to their questions, she went straight upstairs to her room and locked the door.

Tammy's father, Thiago Lynch said, "It must be another quarrel about the child."

Tammy's mother, Mary Lynch said, "It's not about the children...it must be about Tammy's work. Tammy sent me a message and told me that Jun wanted her to stay at home and not go out to socialize."

Thiago said, "Surely Jun wanted the property of our Lynch family?"

Mary frowned, "Okay, keep your voice down. When I married you, didn't you let me quit too work? You men are all virtuous. You have nothing to blame."

Thiago said, "Our daughter has been wronged, why do you still speak for outsiders?"

Mary frowned, "They should solve their problems themselves. Tammy's situation, it's very rare to be able to dislike it."

Thiago said angrily, "How can you say that? Even if your daughter is single for life, it's better than being despised by others. Our Lynch family is not without money, so why should we suffer from that?"

"I'm wronged." Mary sighed.

Chapter 1452

In the room.

Tammy hugged the pillow and lay on the bed. She took the mobile phone, found Avery's number in the address book, and dialed it.

After a while, the phone was connected.

"Avery, I quarreled with Jun. I think it was a mistake for me to remarry him."

Tammy choked, "Men can socialize outside every day, why can't I?"

"Tammy, don't cry. Please communicate this matter well, there must be a compromise solution." Avery comforted.

"I've told him many times. I said that I've been busy for a month or two, so I won't socialize often after that. He promised well but today he lost his temper. He even scolded my mother. I couldn't bear it, so I beat him." Tammy said as she raised her hand to wipe her tears.

Avery: "Why would Jun scold Auntie? He's not such a person."

Tammy: "I heard it with my own ears."

Avery: "What did he say?"

Tammy: "I...I forgot. Because I was too angry. I didn't remember too clearly."

Avery, if you were me, what would you do? I'm so confused right now."

Avery: "If Jun really scolds Auntie, it will definitely be unbearable. But I suggest you to ask clearly, what he said may not be what you think."

Tammy replied in a hoarse voice. she change the topic: "Have you seen Elliot?"
"Well. He was seriously injured. He is still in a coma." Avery was in the ward, escorting Elliot, "but it's not life-threatening, it's just that it takes a lot of effort to recover."

Tammy: "How could this happen? Was it made by the Jobin family? This Rebecca is really incompetent."

"Don't mention Rebecca." Avery glanced at Rebecca lying on the bed with her.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

The ward was very large, and in addition to the hospital bed, there was an accompanying bed.

During Elliot's hospitalization, Rebecca stayed in an escort bed every night.

Tonight, Avery will either go back to the hotel or sleep on the table in the ward.

She didn't want to go back to the hotel. She was afraid that after returning to the hotel, Rebecca would not let herself come to the hospital tomorrow.

But she didn't want to sleep on the table either.

Chapter 1453

At about 10:00 p.m., her sleepy eyelids were fighting, and she glanced at Elliot who was motionless on the hospital bed. She thought for a few seconds, then walked to the side of the hospital bed and lay down carefully.

“Avery! What are you doing?” Seeing Avery go to squeeze the hospital bed with Elliot, Rebecca immediately got up from the escort bed.

Avery innocently said, “I’m sleeping. You took up the escort bed, I can only squeeze with Elliot.”

Rebecca’s scalp was numb, she said, “Come down quickly and don’t touch Elliot’s wound.”

Avery: “I can come down, you can let me sleep in the escort bed.”

Rebecca: “You..”

Avery got off the hospital bed and walked in front of Rebecca, and said, “Rebecca, pregnant women should not get angry too often. Otherwise, it’s not good for the fetus. Also, if you don’t have a good rest here, aren’t you afraid that the child will be miscarried by you?”

Rebecca: “Don’t stay there. Curse me! My child will be fine!”

Avery ignored her and went to lie down on the escort bed, occupying a seat.

Rebecca felt angry when she saw her brazenly occupying her own bed, but there was nothing she could do.

Unlike Avery, she couldn’t squeeze a hospital bed with Elliot.

After standing in the ward for a while, she walked to the bed and saw that Elliot showed no sign of waking up, so she left the ward indignantly.

Hearing the door of the ward closed, Avery opened her eyes. She was very sleepy just now, but as soon as Rebecca left, she lost sleep.

She got up and got out of bed, walked to the bedside, and gently held Elliot’s large palm wrapped in gauze in her hand. “Elliot, wake up soon. I’ll take you home.”

The phone rang, Avery immediately took out her phone and saw the video call from Layla. When she went abroad, she promised Layla that she would make video call with her every day.

She hesitated and took the video call.

“Mom! Where are you?” Seeing the background behind Avery, Layla seemed to be in the hospital, so her voice suddenly rose.

“Mom is in the hospital. Do you want to see Dad?” Avery hesitated just now, just wondering whether to let her daughter see Elliot as she is now.

After a brief hesitation, Avery felt that her daughter should now be able to withstand such a realistic shock.

“Yes!” Layla replied without hesitation.

Avery took a deep breath and pointed the camera at Elliot on the hospital bed.

Layla opened her eyes wide, and when she saw that the person on the bed was her dad, she suddenly exclaimed: “Is this my dad? Mom! How could my dad become like this?”

Avery retracted the camera and aimed Self: “Your dad is sick. Not only did he not wake up, but he couldn’t speak. What Rebecca told you before was all false.”

The expression on Layla’s face seemed to be relieved, but also as if her brows tightened even more.

–What Rebecca said was false. Dad was not such a merciless person.

Chapter 1454

–But her dad is so sick now that she can’t even speak, she is so worried.

“Mom, can you cure dad?” Layla asked in a nasal voice after being silent for a few seconds.

“Your dad is not a very complicated illness. It just takes a long time to recover.”

Avery comforted softly, “You don’t have to worry about him, he can be hospitalized in a month at most.”

Layla: "Oh... Mom, show me him again."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

After her daughter's request, Avery turned the camera on Elliot again.

Layla looked at Elliot's bloodless pale face, and remembered the picture of her dad being kind to her, and tears rolled down immediately.

Listening to her daughter's sobbing, Avery turned the camera back and said, "Layla, don't cry. Your dad will be fine."

"Mom, I secretly spoke ill of dad. I shouldn't have spoken ill of him." Layla rubbed her red eyes with her hands, blaming herself. .

Avery: "Mom knows you care about him."

Layla: "When dad is healed, will you be able to bring dad back?"

"Well. When he can be discharged from the hospital, Mom will take him home immediately. Don't let him leave us."

When Avery said this, Elliot's fingers moved slightly on the hospital bed.

After talking about the video call, Avery adjusted his emotions, then turned around and looked at Elliot on the hospital bed.

Avery sat down in the chair beside the hospital bed, lightly held Elliot's big palms with both hands, then leaned her head against the edge of the bed, and whispered softly, "Elliot, we have known each other for almost ten years. How many decades can we live? When you wake up, let's stop arguing, let's live a good life, okay?"

—What responded to her was a boundless and long silence.

The next day.

At 9 a.m.

Rebecca entered the ward accompanied by the nanny.

Avery glanced at Rebecca and saw that Rebecca was holding an unknown list in her hand.

“Avery, didn’t you curse me for a miscarriage last night?” Rebecca arrogantly handed the prenatal check-up form she made today to Avery, “The color ultrasound I just had, the list is still hot. My child is growing very good.”

Avery glanced at the color ultrasound sheet she handed over, then took it and glanced at it.

Avery teased, “You’re less than three months old, so what’s the hurry? In three months, you will have to check for NT, hepatitis B, syphilis, AIDS... If there is any test that fails, the child in your stomach will no longer live.”

Rebecca looks like someone has thrown a basin of cold water.

She had never been pregnant, so she didn’t know that she had to do so many tests. So she suddenly confused.

Avery stuffed her color ultrasound sheet into her hand.

“By the way, you said that the child belonged to Elliot. After three months, you’d better do a paternity test, otherwise this will not end.”

Chapter 1455

“Just do it. Whoever is afraid.” The nanny said, then strode to the bedside,

“Why hasn’t Elliot lost his medicine today? Didn’t the doctor come to the ward?”

“Aren’t you going to check the time now?” Avery was in a bad mood, so her tone was very poor, “I asked the doctor to change the medicine when the doctor came to round the room. They are going to dispense the medicine now.”

The expression on Rebecca’s face was red and white.

Avery is also a doctor, so she can make this kind of decision.

Compared with Avery, Rebecca is like a dispensable waste.

“Miss, you can’t be angry with her. Just let her accompany her in the hospital.

Why should we fight her for such a hard thing? When Mr. Foster wakes up, won’t you come home with us?” The nanny coaxed her and continued, “The doctor said you need more rest, So I'll take you home to rest.”

Rebecca was not convinced: “What if Elliot wakes up and doesn't see me?”

The nanny: “Let bodyguard stay here. If Mr. Foster wakes up, he will notify us as soon as possible.”

Rebecca pursed her red lips, tangled.

“Miss, let's go. Don't you feel upset watching Avery here?” The nanny continued to persuade.

Seeing that Elliot showed no sign of waking up, it was really pointless to spend time here.

–It's the most important thing for her to raise her baby at home with peace of mind.

Thinking of this, Rebecca turned and left the ward. After She and her group left, the nurse came in with the reconstituted medicine.

Avery said to the nurse, “Give me the medicine. I'll get it for him.”

The nurse smiled and said, “Doctor Tate, with you here, we won't have anything to do with it.”

Avery : “Look at him.”

“Well. Vice President Lewis said the same thing. But how did you let Miss Jobin go?” The nurse asked in a low voice and continued, “You don't know, she gets angry with Vice President Lewis every day and asks questions. Why isn't Mr. Foster awake yet? Our Vice President Lewis is so annoyed by her that we dare not say anything.”

“You are afraid of her because you live here. I'm from Aryadelle, so I won't be bothered by her breath.” Avery hung the medicine bottle, sterilized the indwelling needle in her hand, and screwed the needle on.

The nurse: "Aren't you afraid that Miss Jobin will trouble you?"

Avery: "If she dared to trouble me, she would have done it yesterday."

"Yes. Doctor Tate, our colleagues all said that Miss Jobin is not as good as you.

Mr. Foster will definitely talk to you when he wakes up. You go back to Aryadelle." Seeing Avery's easy-going personality, the nurse started chatting with Avery.

Avery took this opportunity to ask the nurse, "Do you know who the father of the child in Rebecca's womb is? Rebecca said that the child belonged to Elliot, but Elliot told me not to."

The nurse looked embarrassed: "I don't know very well. Although her child was done in our hospital, it was not done in our department."

Avery nodded, expressing understanding.

"But I can go and find out for you. I have a sister in the reproductive department, and she must know the inside information." The nurse said enthusiastically.

Avery had a smile on her face: "Okay, please help me ask."

The nurse: "Well, I don't have time for work at the moment. I'll ask at noon."

"Thank you so much." Avery was in a mood and Couldn't help but got nervous.

Chapter 1456

Avery felt that Elliot wouldn't lie to her, but looking at Rebecca's confident attitude, she didn't seem to lie to her either.

She needs to know the truth, the sooner she knows the better.

Aryadelle.

After a night of insomnia, Jun was dizzy and very painful.

Before eight in the morning, his parents came.

Jun didn't need to ask to know that the nanny told his parents about him and

Tammy.

“Jun, what do you think?”

Jun looked confused: “Do you two need to be so serious? It’s not the first time Tammy and I have quarreled...”

Mrs. Hertz, “Oh, yes little quarrel?”

Jun’s face was very bad, and said, “Whether it’s a small quarrel or a big, it’s all about me and her. I’m going to make up for sleep, you two go back.”

“Since you don’t want to be talk nice with us, then I and your dad will go to Lynch’s house now and talk to Tammy.” Mrs. Hertz said, getting up.

Jun said immediately, “Hey mom. Don’t do this. Tammy said she wanted to calm down, so don’t go to her.”

Mrs. Hertz said, “What’s so cool about being calm. I think you two just want to avoid the problem. I know you like her and don’t want to break up with her.

Your father and I are very open-minded, and I won’t force you to separate for the sake of the child. We think that the conflict between you and Tammy will be rooted to the end, It’s still the child’s problem.”

Jun: “No! I just don’t like her socializing outside, it has nothing to do with the child.”

Mrs. Hertz: “Why can’t Tammy socialize outside? Isn’t her family’s business important?”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Jun was asked back and was speechless.

Mrs. Hertz said, “Yes, you should understand Tammy more. Don’t blame her blindly. We won’t force Tammy to have children again. Didn’t the doctor say that she is difficult to conceive?”

“You two think about it?” Jun looked at the two elders in surprise.

“No, what I mean to your dad is that you can find other women to have children.” Mrs. Hertz said this way, “As long as you pay, there are many women willing to give birth to you.”

Jun said, “Mom, what nonsense are you talking about?”

Mrs. Hertz said, “Tammy can’t have children, so we won’t make it difficult for her. We will find other women to have children. Is there any problem? You and Tammy are still husband and wife. The woman who gives birth to you is only responsible for giving birth, and will not affect the lives of the two of you.”

Jun: “Mom, I beg you to stop talking. If Tammy hears this, she will must divorce me.”

Mrs. Hertz said, “Divorce means divorce. It’s not that you can’t have children, so what are you afraid of?”

Jun didn’t expect his mother to say such a thing. Although he quarreled with Tammy, he never thought about divorce from Tammy.

He was no longer a young and vigorous man in his twenties. He decided to remarry Tammy, not because of Tammy’s face and figure, nor because of her childbirth.

“Mom, why don’t you work hard with dad to have another son.” Jun thought about it for a while, and then showed up, “I don’t understand your thoughts, and I won’t do as you say. An insult to me, and and also to Tammy.”

After Jun finished speaking, he took the car keys and left.

About half an hour later, Tammy drove over. She tossed and turned awake last night. This morning, her mother enlightened her and asked her to come and have a good talk with Jun.

She ate breakfast and drove over.

The two elders of the Hertz family had already left, and only the nanny was at home.

When the nanny saw her return, she immediately put down her work and walked in front of her.

“Tammy, if only you came back earlier. Jun and your in-laws just left.” The nanny said.

“My in-laws are here?” Tammy put her bag on the sofa.

“Yeah! They’re here to find out and say one thing...” The nanny said here and did not continue.

Chapter 1457

Tammy’s curiosity was aroused.

She asked the nanny: “What’s the matter? Does it have anything to do with me?”

The nanny said hesitantly: “It’s related! It’s mainly about the child. Actually, it has nothing to do with you.”

“Since it is talking about the child, why doesn’t it have anything to do with me?”

Tammy frowned her beautiful eyebrows, intuition that something happened,

“What did they say?”

The nanny: “If you’re angry, I’d better not say it.”

Tammy: “If you don’t say it, then I’ll ask Jun.”

“Oh no. I’ll tell you.” The nanny took her arm and continued, “Your in-laws want to find a woman to replace You give birth to a child for Jun. Don’t be in a hurry to get angry... You and Jun are in a hurry to get angry about the child. It’s better to let other women suffer. You are still the young lady of the Hertz family. I won’t blame you for socializing outside.”

Tammy turned ashen as she was hit hard, and immediately shook off the nanny’s hand: “It’s good. Don’t tell them that I’ve come back. “

Tammy was so angry that the bag fell on the sofa and forgot to take it away.

At noon, Jun put down his pride and called Tammy, but he couldn't get through.

At 4:00 in the afternoon, Jun dialed her number again, but still couldn't get through.

Jun was a little irritable at first, but he couldn't get through to her twice, and he suddenly panicked. He ended his work early and drove towards Tammy's house.

Mary Lynch was at home.

Seeing Jun coming, Mary immediately invited him into the room to sit and after a while she said, "Quite so, don't blame Tammy for her recent socializing. It's her father who put a lot of pressure on her."

Jun: "Mom, I'm not angry anymore. Tammy's also very professional."

"I knew I didn't see you wrong. Except for me and her father, you are the one who loves her the most." Mary heaved a sigh of relief.

Jun: "Mom, Tammy didn't answer my call, so I came to wait for her."

"Why didn't she answer your call? Didn't you talk in the morning?" Mary asked in confusion.

"Morning?" Jun was surprised, "We didn't talk in the morning."

Mary : "I asked her to find you in the morning, didn't she go?"

Jun thought about it and said, "I went out very early in the morning. I haven't seen her."

"Oh...I'll call her and ask." Mary got up and looked for her cell phone.

After Mary got the mobile phone, she called Tammy in front of Jun.

Soon, the phone was connected.

Jun was suspicious, and immediately took out his mobile phone and dialed

Tammy's number – sorry, the number you dialed is temporarily unavailable.

Tammy blocked him.

.....

Yonroeville.

After Elliot's medicine was finished, Avery took the empty medicine bottle to the nurse station and threw it into the special medical trash can.

The nurse was no longer at the nurse's station in the morning. It is estimated that she went to find her sister in the reproductive department.

Avery returned to the ward, and after a while, the bodyguard brought her meals.

Because Rebecca allowed Avery to take care of Elliot here, the Jobin family bodyguard had no reason to stop Avery's bodyguard.

"Boss, you're really not afraid of death. I took a look just now and found that the Jobin family's bodyguards are all armed with guns." The bodyguard reminded Avery in a low voice.

"Even if they have bombs, it doesn't matter to me." Avery opened the lunch box and said calmly, "Go back to the hotel to rest. I'll be fine until Elliot wakes up."

Chapter 1458

"I've been resting in the hotel all day, I'll stay here for a while." The bodyguard walked to the hospital bed and stared at Elliot and looked carefully, "He just lays like this every day?"

Avery: "Well."

The bodyguard sighed, "The living dead mentioned in the book are like this, right? Can he still wake up?"

"If it is as serious as you said, then he is not in the ordinary ward, but in the ICU." Avery took a sip of soup and said, "He should be waking up soon."

“Oh, that’s good.” The bodyguard walked up to her and sat down, “Boss, I admire you more and more. You can be in Rebecca’s territory, drive Rebecca away, your courage and courage are indeed the woman who can take down Elliot.”

Avery blushed at his embarrassment: “Rebecca is pregnant now, so she didn’t follow up with him to argue.”

The bodyguard: “Oh, so it is.”

Avery said, “When you bring your meal over at night, bring my suitcase.”

“Okay. I can get it now, I’m fine anyway.” The bodyguard got up and strode out.

After Avery finished eating, she took out the lunch box and threw it away.

She happened to meet the nurse who was going to inquire about the news and walked quickly.

When Avery saw the nurse, her heart beat faster.

“Ms. Tate, is Mr. Foster awake?” Because the Jobin family’s bodyguards were guarding outside, the nurse asked symbolically.

“No.” Avery shook her head.

The two entered the ward and closed the door of the ward.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

The nurse said, “Ms. Tate, I didn’t get too specific information, because my sister didn’t know the inside story. She said that Miss Jobin’s transplant operation was done by the director.”

This result did not surprise Avery too much.

Everything about the Jobin family is private.

The nurse suddenly lowered her voice, “However, I still heard some important news. It takes a period of time to do IVF normally. Ms. Tate, you are a medical student, so you should understand what I mean. But Miss Jobin didn’t. Miss Jobin did it directly. I don’t know where the embryos transplanted into Miss Jobin's stomach came from. I don't even know who the father of this child is. "

Avery was stunned.

–Direct transplant?

–How could this be?

The nurse said, "Ms. Tate, when Mr. Foster wakes up, you can ask Mr. Foster what's going on. If Miss Jobin's child is indeed Mr. Foster's, then Mr. Foster must know but I am a little puzzled. It's Mr. Foster's, so why did they choose IVF? Miss Jobin is very young and in good health, so they can conceive directly."

Avery couldn't answer the nurse's question. Because she was more confused than nurses now.

After the nurse told Avery what she knew, she took another look at Elliot's situation and left the ward.

When the bodyguard brought her luggage, she sat beside the hospital bed in a daze, completely unaware that someone had entered.

"Boss, what are you doing in a daze." The bodyguard stretched out his hand and shook it in front of her. "Why are you so worried? It was fine just now. After I left, what happened?"

Avery: "I was thinking about what happened in Rebecca's stomach. What's the matter with the child."

"What is there to think about? When Elliot wakes up, you can just ask him if he doesn't." The bodyguard said lightly, "Didn't you say he is about to wake up?"

The bodyguard's mouth seemed to open light. After his words were settled, Elliot on the hospital bed suddenly opened his eyes without warning.

When the bodyguard saw Elliot open his eyes, he jumped back in fright.

"Boss! Elliot is awake." The bodyguard screamed.

Avery saw Elliot.

Elliot woke up!

Avery was too excited and nervous, she was at a loss for words and wanted to speak, but she didn't know what to say.

After Elliot opened his eyes, his eyes were cold and distracted.

Avery don't know what Elliot was thinking.

Chapter 1459

"Boss, don't you have a question to ask Mr. Foster? You ask!" Seeing Avery in a daze, the bodyguard immediately reminded her.

Avery recovered from the shock.

"Don't make a noise. He just woke up, but he's not awake yet." Avery pushed the bodyguard outside. "You stay outside. Don't come in without my order."

After pushing the bodyguard out, she quickly returned to the Elliot but his eyes were closed.

Avery rubbed her eyes, wondering if she had an illusion just now. However, the bodyguard saw it just now.

Avery didn't have any illusions, and Elliot did wake up briefly just now. Just when she hesitated to call his name, he opened his eyes again.

"Elliot!" Avery said quickly, "Elliot!"

Elliot's eyes suddenly focused and looked at her.

"It's me, I'm Avery." Avery choked, "Kyrie is dead, when you are discharged from the hospital, let's go back to Aryadelle together."

—It took him twice as long as usual to digest what Avery said.

"Elliot, I know you're in pain right now. It hurts everywhere. You don't need to answer what I said..." Avery held his big palm and whispered.

"Okay..." Elliot replied hoarsely from his throat.

When he is discharged from the hospital, he will go back to Aryadelle with her.

Avery's eyes suddenly became wet.

As Elliot answered her last sentence, she was satisfied.

In the evening, Rebecca came with a heat preservation box.

Hearing that Elliot woke up, she immediately asked the nanny to stew soup and porridge.

"Elliot!" Rebecca put the insulation box on the cabinet and walked to the side of the hospital bed. Seeing Elliot's eyes open, she immediately asked gently and eagerly, "Elliot, how are you feeling? I brought you soup and..."

Vice President Lewis interrupted her: "Miss Jobin, he can't drink soup now. He can only eat porridge and light noodles."

"I've brought porridge." Rebecca immediately opened the insulation box.

A strong fragrance wafted across the entire ward.

Avery came out of the bathroom, smelled the fragrance, and strode to Rebecca.

"Avery, the doctor said that Elliot can't drink soup, let's drink this soup."

Rebecca's attitude towards Avery turned a hundred and eighty degrees,

"Fortunately, I brought porridge for Elliot."

Avery took the porridge, walked to the hospital bed, and asked, "Do you want to eat porridge?"

"Hey! Avery, why are you doing this?" Rebecca strode over and took a bowl from Avery's hand. Snatched, "This is the porridge I brought to Elliot, I'll just feed him, don't bother you."

Avery turned to ask Elliot, "Who do you want to feed?"

Rebecca held the bowl tightly, nervously waiting for Elliot's answer.

She saw that Elliot looked at Avery with amber-like eyes, and spit out a word:
“You.”

Rebecca’s hand holding the bowl suddenly lost his persistent strength.

Avery took the bowl from Rebecca’s hand and said, “I’ll stay with him tonight. When he’s not awake, he doesn’t need you. When he wakes up, he doesn’t need you anymore.”

Rebecca’s face turned pale.

“Elliot, do you really need me? Are you planning to go back to Aryadelle with Avery?” Rebecca asked unwillingly.

Elliot said without hesitation, “Yes.”

Rebecca’s heart fell to the bottom.

What she desperately wanted to grasp, she regarded her as a burden, lest it be avoided.

Chapter 1460

The nanny supported Rebecca and persuaded in a low voice, “Miss, don’t be angry. You are pregnant with a child.”

Rebecca took a deep breath and tried to adjust her emotions.

When her father died, Elliot’s attitude towards her was completely undisguised.

The nanny helped Rebecca out of the ward.

“Miss, what do you think you are doing?” the nanny said worriedly, “If you want me to tell you, don’t punish Lorenzo. At least Lorenzo has his heart on you. You can see that Elliot doesn’t take you seriously at all. It’s irritating.”

Rebecca was stuck in his throat: “That’s because he didn’t know that the child in my womb was his. If he knew... His attitude towards me would definitely not be like this.”

Seeing her persistent and unrepentant, Nanny can only let her stubborn.

When the last bump in the head breaks blood, she will know who is really good to her.

The nanny said, "Miss, you're less than three months pregnant now, so you need to keep your mood stable. Let's go back first. Elliot won't be able to leave the hospital for a while. When he's about to be discharged, you can get the results of the paternity test. Show him and see how he chooses."

Rebecca responded.

The nanny reminded, "Miss, you still have to prepare for the worst. If Elliot doesn't want you and the child, you must be strong."

Rebecca: "What can I do if I'm not strong? My father is dead, and I have no support. I am not strong, do I want to die?"

The nanny shut up and dared not say more.

When she reached the elevator door, the elevator opened slowly, and Lorenzo was standing inside.

When the nanny saw Lorenzo, her eyes suddenly lit up: "Lorenzo, accompany the lady to relax. I'll go back first."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

After the nanny finished speaking, she walked away first.

Lorenzo came out of the elevator, looked at Rebecca's aggrieved face, and explained: "I heard that Elliot woke up, so I came to see. Why didn't you accompany him in the ward?"

Rebecca said angrily: "Elliot doesn't want me to accompany him. He said he wants to go back to Aryadelle with Avery."

Lorenzo sneered: "I already guessed the result."

Rebecca: "Are you laughing at me?"

"I didn't laugh at you." Lorenzo Grabbing her wrist: "It's too boring here, let's go down and talk!"

.....

Aryadelle.

Mary was full of anger after talking on the phone with Tammy but Jun was there, so after she hung up the phone, she could only quickly suppress her emotions and force a smile.

Tammy said on the phone that she and Jun were over.

Jun: "When? Tammy didn't say it to me."

And Tammy heard that Jun was now at her house, she decided not to go home tonight.

"Exactly, have you and Tammy quarreled about anything else?" Mary put down her phone and sat down on the sofa.

Jun shook his head: "No."

Mary frowned, "There should be. Otherwise, Tammy wouldn't be like this.

When I asked her to find you in the morning, her attitude was quite good. I'm a little impulsive, regretting that I shouldn't hit you. It's impossible that nothing happened today, so she changed her attitude."

Jun: "Oh? What is her attitude now?"

Mary told the truth to be honest, "Tammy hates you now. you don't have to wait for her here anymore, she said she won't be back tonight."

Jun felt a thorn in his heart. He got up and strode away.

Driving home, the nanny handed Tammy the bag that Tammy had left at home in the morning and handed it to Jun.

The nanny: "Yes, this is where Tammy landed here in the morning. I don't know if there are any important items in it, I dare not touch it."

Jun took the bag and asked, "Did she meet my parents when she came over in the morning? Did my parents say something bad to her?"

The nanny shook her head: "No. When she came, your dad and mom were left."

Jun opened the bag and found some makeup and a bottle of folic acid.

Chapter 1461

Tammy really worked hard to prepare for pregnancy.

"Lend me your cell phone." He put down his bag and asked the nanny to borrow his cell phone.

The nanny immediately went to get the phone and handed it to him.

He used the nanny's mobile phone to dial Tammy's number.

After a few seconds, the call was connected.

"Tammy, tell me clearly, How did I provoke you, and you want to cut ties with me?" Jun planned to have a good talk with her, but as soon as he called, his temper flared.

"Whose number did you use to call?"

"The nanny at home. You are so naive. Do you think you are still a little girl like Gwen? You can always play the blacklist, you can count it by yourself. After we are together, how many times have you blocked me in total."

Tammy listened to his roar and wanted to laugh: "If I want to block, block me, you can control it? Go and have children with other women, you give What am I doing on the phone? Do you think I'm not enough to respond?"

Jun was silent, then looked up at the nanny and asked, "You said that when Tammy came, my parents had already left, so what my parents said, Did you tell Tammy?"

The nanny immediately lowered her head: "Yes, I just want to persuade Tammy."

"Get out of here." Jun was furious.

Dudu Dudu! On the other side of the phone, Tammy hung up.

With a 'bang', Jun smashed the phone in his hand to the ground.

Yonroeville.

Elliot frowned after taking a few mouthfuls of porridge.

Avery put the bowl aside and wiped his mouth with a tissue.

Doctors and nurses had left the ward.

Now, besides the two of them, there were Avery's bodyguards in the ward.

The bodyguard came to deliver food to Avery.

The bodyguards of the Jobin family who were guarding outside the ward before have already evacuated, so now the bodyguards can stay here without any scruples.

Avery unbuttoned two buttons of Elliot's hospital uniform, and planned to bring water to wipe his body.

"It's very late, you go back to rest." Avery said to the bodyguard.

"Drive me away so early?" The bodyguard was reluctant to get up, "Okay, I'll go, I won't disturb the world of the two of you."

The bodyguard took the garbage out and closed the door.

Avery walked to the bathroom, took a pot of hot water, and put it on the cabinet.

"Elliot, apart from the pain in your body, how is your head feeling now?" Avery asked because his head injury wasn't serious.

Although Lorenzo was ruthless, he was a bit measured.

"It's okay." After eating a few mouthfuls of porridge, he felt refreshed.

"That's good." Avery picked up the towel from the basin, wringed it dry, and wiped his face, "I want to ask you a question about the child in Rebecca's belly.”

She saw his calm eyes, and suddenly There were waves.

“Is the child in her womb yours? I won’t be angry if you confess to me now. But if you lie to me, I will definitely be angry.” Avery wiped his face and threw the towel into the basin .

Elliot looked at her sullen face, his voice was flat and hoarse: “It’s not mine.”

Avery didn’t relax because of this: “That child was not conceived normally, it was a test tube. Did you provide her with your?”

“No.” Elliot interrupted her. “Why doubt me?”

Chapter 1462

This was the longest sentence Elliot said after he was waking up.

Avery looked into his eyes, stunned for two seconds, and explained, “I originally believed in you, but Rebecca told me that the child in her womb belongs to you, so I asked you again.”

Elliot: “So?”

“Well, she didn’t tell me directly at first, she told Layla.” Avery rubbed the towel in the basin, wrung it dry, and wiped his body, “Layla was crying. Layla cared about you very much.”

Elliot’s emotions suddenly became agitated.

“Elliot, don’t be angry yet. I’ve explained it to Layla.” Avery held his face in her palm and stroked gently, “Rebecca lied to me, saying that you were determined to make a clean break with me, so I didn’t even listen to my phone. I suspected something was wrong, so I called Nick to confirm. I found out that she really lied.”

“Since you know Rebecca lied, why do you still ask about my child?” Elliot asked her back.

Avery froze for a moment: "Probably because of the child, there is no need to lie. After all, you can know the truth by doing a paternity test. I don't think Rebecca is such a stupid person, how dare she use this to deceive me?"

After her voice was settled, the phone she put on the table rang.

Avery put down the towel, picked up the phone, saw that it was Layla calling, and took it immediately.

Avery couldn't wait for her daughter to see that Elliot had woken up.

"Layla, your father is awake." Avery turned the camera to Elliot.

When Layla saw her father, she immediately said excitedly: "Dad, you finally woke up, I'm so worried about you."

Elliot looked at her daughter's smiling face and listened to her tender voice, with a smile in her eyes: "Dad is fine."

"Dad, why are you being beaten? Who beat you? You tell me his name, and when I grow up, I'll teach that person a lesson." Layla said angrily.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Layla has a notepad. It remembered who and so had asked her to borrow money, and who had made her angry.

If she didn't remember it in a notebook, it would be easy to forget. Because she is not too vengeful, and she doesn't want to suffer, so she uses a small book to remember.

Elliot couldn't help laughing: "Layla, Dad is all right."

"Oh...then when are you coming back?" Layla's words were sharper than the last, "I don't like your new wife, you must talk to that The woman breaks up. Otherwise, I won't let you go back to our house. I won't let you see your brother."

Avery sweated on her back. She didn't expect her daughter to say this.

She turned the camera to herself: "Layla, mom and dad will take care of it.

Don't worry."

Layla: "Then I'm going to do my homework. There's a lot of homework today."

Avery: "Well, baby has worked hard."

After the video call hung up, Avery put the phone on the table.

In order to ease the awkward atmosphere, she asked, "Lorenzo beat you, didn't you fight back?"

Avery remembered that Elliot's skills were not bad. If he fought back, he wouldn't be beaten like this.

"Lorenzo is out of anger, so I can leave here smoothly." Elliot said hoarsely, "If I don't come here, nothing will happen. The consequences are my own."

"Don't say that. Everything has been done. It's over." Avery pulled the quilt up to him and continued, "You are recovering well now, don't think about anything. When your body recovers, let Rebecca do a paternity test to see if her child is yours or not."

"If the child is mine, there is only one possibility." Elliot saw that Avery cared so much about this matter, so he said the only possibility, "After I came here, I underwent a brain operation. After the operation, I was in a coma for three days. What happened in those three days, I don't know."

Avery nodded.

"I haven't touched her since I woke up from surgery." Elliot reiterated.

Chapter 1463

"Elliot, I feel very relieved that you are willing to explain this to me." Avery raised her eyebrows and asked his choice according to the worst outcome, "If the child in Rebecca's womb is really yours, What would you do?"

"I don't want her child, and I can't be responsible for her and her child." Elliot knew exactly what he wanted.

“It’s enough to have your answer. This time is a painful lesson. No matter what happens in the future, I will not hide it from you again. I will tell you as soon as possible.” In her tone, it was hard to hide the guilt, “Elliot, I love you very much, and I know that you love me very much. I have always known.”

Elliot replied, “I am also at fault.”

“You are right. It is my fault.” Avery looked at him, officially confessing to him, “If I were you, I might do something more impulsive than you.”

Elliot didn’t want to continue this heavy topic.

“Can I get out of bed?” Elliot changed the subject.

“What are you thinking? You’ve broken a leg.” Avery patted his left leg, which was splinted, “but you can roll over slightly. I’ll help you.”

“My leg should be alright?” He tried to move his leg, but he didn’t feel as serious as he said, “My right leg is fine.”

“I want to get out of bed, I’ll talk about it in two days. In addition to your leg injury, your arm is also broken.” Avery took the pillow on the escort bed and put it against his back, so that his body was slightly to the right.

“Is my arm broken too?” Elliot was a little surprised.

“Are you numb from pain? Don’t your left arm hurt?” Avery looked at him in confusion.

“It doesn’t hurt very much.” Elliot felt his body carefully. It didn’t hurt too much anywhere. Otherwise he wouldn’t even want to get out of bed.

“Your arm is not as bad as your leg. When you leave the hospital, you will have to buy a wheelchair.” Avery said, her hand resting on her thigh, rubbing him moderately, “It’s uncomfortable to lie down for a few days, right?”

Elliot: “Well. When did you come?”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“Arrived yesterday. The escort bed is very comfortable, and I live here very well.” Seeing his frown slightly, Avery didn’t know what he was thinking, “What do you think? want to watch TV? Or, you can rest.”

“Let’s watch TV.” Elliot had been lethargic for a few days, but now he is really sleepy.

“It’s not convenient for you to watch TV on your side like this. I’ll show it to you on my phone.” Avery picked up the phone. “What do you want to watch? Domestic news or local news?”

Elliot: “It’s okay.”

“Then I’ll show you. Watch local news.” Avery turned on her phone, found a video showing local news, opened it, put it on the cabinet next to it, adjusted the angle, and asked him, “Will this be too high? I’ll put a bed for you. Raise your head a little bit?”

Elliot: “Well.”

After Avery adjusted the head of the hospital bed to a suitable position, she walked towards the escort bed.

Avery: “Watch TV for a while, I’ll take a shower.”

Elliot: “Okay.”

Avery took the clean clothes and walked to the bathroom.

Elliot looked at the news playing on the screen of her mobile phone, absentmindedly.

He’s not interested in local news. Because there was no local person he cared about. He would rather see the news of Aryadelle.

His broken left hand was temporarily inflexible, but his right hand was fine. He tried to stretch out his right hand and took the phone from the table. The moment he picked up the phone, a call came in. He accidentally touched the screen and pressed the answer button.

Chapter 1464

The call was from Hayden. After he accidentally pressed the answer button,

Hayden's voice immediately came: "Mom, I heard that Elliot woke up."

Elliot was very moved when he heard his son's voice.

The son cared about him, so he called to inquire about his situation.

"Mom, ask him who he chooses. If he can't bear his new wife, don't want him and go back to Aryadelle." Hayden thought that his mother was on the phone, so he spoke freely.

Elliot's emotion for the last second came to an abrupt end. It turned out that his son didn't care about him, but worried that Avery would be wronged.

It's better for a son to know that he feels sorry for his mother than to have no conscience.

"Mom, why didn't you speak? Did Elliot make you angry again?" Hayden asked in a gloomy voice.

Elliot couldn't keep silent any longer, "It's me. Your mother went to take a bath."

Hayden was silent for a while.

Elliot: "your question, I have already answered your mother."

Hayden didn't want to talk to him about his love story at all. He wanted to ask how his body was, but was ashamed to speak.

Because Hayden didn't speak, Elliot decided to take the initiative: "Hayden, are you busy with your studies now?"

After the question was asked, Hayden didn't answer.

Also, the relationship between their father and son, although not as tense as before, is not good enough to chat about everyday life.

Just when Elliot thought Hayden was going to hang up at any time, a female voice came.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“Elliot?” Gwen’s voice came.

Elliot was stunned.

The voice was...

“Where’s Hayden?” Elliot asked.

“Hayden gave me the phone and let me talk to you.” Gwen scratched her head embarrassingly, “That...I heard that you were sick and hospitalized, are you feeling better?”

“Well.” Elliot said nothing. the desire to continue.

“Do you know who I am?” Gwen asked.

–It was the first time the siblings spoke on the phone.

Elliot was completely unfamiliar with her voice, but he knew that she lived with Hayden.

“Gwen.” She said her name.

“It’s me.” Gwen heard her name being pronounced by her, her heart pounding, “Avery told me that you are not as cold as you have shown, no matter if what she said is true or not, I hope you can be well Cherish Avery. Don’t be fooled by your new wife in Yonroeville...”

Elliot frowned.

Avery finished the bath as quickly as possible and came out of the bathroom.

When Elliot saw her coming out, he handed the phone to her: “Hayden’s phone.”

Avery strode over and took the phone.

As a result, the call has been dropped.

“What did you say?” Avery asked.

“Hayden gave Gwen the phone when he heard my voice.”

Avery raised the corner of his mouth: “What did you say to Gwen?”

“She talked a lot, I didn’t remember what she said.” Elliot was a little tired .

His body has not recovered yet, and his energy is obviously unable to keep up.

Avery: “Go to sleep if you’re tired.”

Chapter 1465

Avery: [Did he say anything?]

Gwen: [Uh...he didn’t seem to say anything. It’s embarrassing, he probably thinks I’m a talker.]

Avery: [He just woke up today and is not in a good mood. If he wasn’t sick, he’d definitely talk to you.]

Gwen: [Oh, I thought he had always been so reticent to talk. Are you okay with him?]

Avery: [Well, we made up.]

Gwen breathed a sigh of relief: [That’s good! I knew you two would definitely make up. If Elliot doesn’t cherish such a good woman as you, then he is a fool]

Avery didn’t want to talk about this topic, so she sent a message to ask: [how are you? Has Ben Schaffer looked for you?]

Gwen: [On the day I pulled him out of the blacklist, he called me and said to test to see if he was pulled out. He was so boring, not at all like a man of his age.]

Avery: [It’s not interesting to be old-fashioned.]

After sending this message, her eyelids became heavier and heavier. She put down her phone, lay down on the bed, and fell asleep after a while.

...

A week later.

Jun felt that Tammy seemed to have completely disappeared from his world. Tammy especially likes to play with mobile phones. She sends a circle of friends every day. But since the day they quarreled, she never posted on the circle of friends again.

Jun thought he was blocked by her, so he asked their mutual friend, but the friend said that he hadn't seen her post on Moments.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

This time the two of them quarreled, and he didn't think it was necessary to have a cold war for so long.

Because Jun had already explained to her that he was different from his parents, and he couldn't listen to his parents and do such absurd things.

Without waiting for get off work, he drove to the Lynch Group.

He entered the company and was about to walk towards the elevator.

The front desk immediately chased after him: "Ms. Lynch, haven't come to the company for two days."

"What's the matter?" Jun's temple jumped up.

The front desk said, "I don't know. You can call President Lynch and ask."

Jun came out of the Lynch Group and called his mother-in-law.

"Mom, what's wrong with Tammy? The front desk said Tammy hasn't come to the company for two days. Is she feeling unwell or what?" Jun asked anxiously.

Mary looked back at her daughter who was resting on the bed.

"Tammy, it's from Jun, why don't you tell him?"

Tammy snorted coldly, "I don't want to talk to him."

Tammy's voice was particularly loud.

Over the phone, Jun could hear the conversation between the mother and daughter clearly.

Jun's temper was much more restrained now than in previous years.

If it was put on hold, he would definitely hang up the phone as soon as possible.

She had the temper of the eldest young lady, and he had the temper of the eldest young master!

"Tammy, what are you doing with him? It's not his bad idea. Besides, he called me." Mary persuaded her daughter with kind words.

"He's only calling now, it's been a week." Tammy became angrier the more she thought about it, she simply hugged the quilt and covered her head.

Tammy, don't hold your breath. Pregnancy is prone to lack of oxygen." Mary lowered the quilt that her daughter was holding.

On the other side of the phone, Jun froze when he heard the word 'pregnant'.

"Mom! Mom! Sweetie is pregnant?"

The mobile phone in Mary's hand made a super strong external voice.

Mary turned on the speakerphone: "Yes, come here."

"Mom. If you let him come, I'll leave." Tammy sat up from the bed, "His parents are too much. I can't being wronged like this."

Jun understood her stubborn temper, and immediately said: "Mom, tell Tammy, I won't go. Let her rest well and don't get angry."

After talking on the phone, Jun said Immediately call Avery for help, "Avery, Tammy is pregnant. But before she found out she was pregnant, she was very angry with my parents. I wanted to apologize to her but she refused to see me. Her stubborn temper didn't listen to her mother at all. Now only you can help me..."

Chapter 1466

"Ms. Tate, this is a package from your driver." The bodyguard handed the courier to Avery, "From Yonroeville. Do you need me to open it?"

Without waiting for Avery to speak, Elliot took the first step and said, "Disassemble."

The bodyguard immediately disassembled the courier and took out the documents from it.

The bodyguard shook the document and took it in front of him and smelled it.

Except for the ink smell of the printing paper, there was no other odor.

Avery took the document from the bodyguard and glanced at it.

"The result of the paternity test sent by Rebecca." Avery said and handed the document to Elliot.

She glanced at the title of the document just now, and then at the identification result.

Just as she expected.

The child in Rebecca's womb is really Elliot's.

Although Avery had already prepared for this mentally, She was still in a bad mood. She didn't want to share Elliot with any woman at all.

Even though Elliot's heart is with her, she still has a lump in her heart when she thinks that he and another woman have a child outside.

Avery turned her face away and looked out the window. She didn't want to see Elliot's expression after seeing the result.

Elliot read the document quietly, and looked at Avery calmly. "Avery, I want to go down to get some air."

"Oh...I'm going to get a wheelchair." Avery strode back to the ward and pushed the wheelchair out.

Elliot sat down in the wheelchair, and the bodyguard immediately took the crutches from him.

Elliot handed the document to the bodyguard: "Take it and destroy it."

"Destroy it for what?" Avery snatched the document from his hand, "Keep it."

"Why keep it for me?" Elliot raised his eyes to look at her, "Isn't it happy to keep it for myself? If this child is anything I want on my own initiative, you will definitely turn your back on me."

"Take your anger out." Avery handed the document to the bodyguard, "Take it and put it in the drawer of the ward."

The bodyguard took the document and strode towards the ward.

Avery pushed the wheelchair and walked towards the elevator.

"If she contacts you after the birth of her child, then we will personally go to Yonroeville and do a paternity test again." Avery had some illusions in her heart, "What if the test result is fake?"

"No need to take care of her." Elliot said coldly, "Whether the child is mine or not, don't care about her."

"Are you so cruel?" Avery looked at his profile with a complicated mood.

"I said that the children are not what I want, and I can't be responsible for them. She insists on giving birth to children, and that's her business." Elliot tone was cold and clear.

The unhappiness in her heart dissipated little by little.

Brook family.

Shea came to Wesley, and it happened that Wesley's parents were at home.

Shea saw them, a little surprised and shy.

When she called Wesley, Wesley didn't say that his parents were at home.

"Shea, you are so thin now, you have suffered a lot." Sandra said, she went to the kitchen to fill a bowl of soup and gave it to her, "This is what I stewed for Wesley in the morning. This is his favorite soup."

Shea immediately picked up the spoon and took a sip: "Auntie, it's delicious."
After speaking, Shea quickly drank the soup.

Chapter 1467

"Would you like to add a bowl to you? There is still one in the pot." Sandra asked with a kind smile.

"Mom, she can't eat too much in one meal." Wesley stopped, "I went out with Shea first."

"Your dad and I want to see Shea, why are you taking her away in such a hurry?" Sandra said.

Shea heard the words, and immediately took Sandra's hand obediently:

"Auntie, did you hear me when I called Wesley?"

"Well. You said you wanted Wesley to see your brother." Sandra sat down on the sofa and looked at her with peaceful eyes, "Do you like Wesley?"

Shea lowered her eyes, feeling a little flustered.

Wesley was even more flustered. In fact, he had already confessed to his parents about himself and Shea.

What Wesley said was that if Shea was willing to be with him, he would take care of Shea for the rest of his life.

The parents didn't say anything on the surface, but he knew that the parents actually mind.

After all, Shea is different from ordinary women. As soon as she has a special status, Wesley doesn't want to take advantage of her, and she can only see her face in the future. Secondly, she is weak and cannot conceive and give birth to children like ordinary women.

"I like Wesley very much." Shea suddenly raised her head and looked at Sandra with a firm tone, "Auntie, if you don't like me, I... I will try my best to make you like me.”

Sandra was stunned. After a moment, she couldn't help laughing: “How could I not like you? From the first time I saw you, I liked you very much. Just liking you and accepting you as Wesley's wife are two different things. “

“Mom, you promised me that you wouldn't mind my personal affairs.” Wesley's eyes blushed. He was afraid that Shea would be sad because of his mother's words.

“I'm talking to Shea, don't interrupt.” Sandra glared at her son and looked at Shea again, “Auntie means that if you like Wesley and want to be with Wesley, then you can't bully Wesley. I know that you want to be with Wesley because he is good to you. But have you ever thought about it, he listens to you in everything, maybe he is wronged?”

“Mom, I am not wronged. I never came. I've been wronged.” Wesley couldn't help but speak.

“I told you to stop talking.” Sandra reprimanded.

Wesley immediately closed his mouth.

Wesley's father, Nolan Brook took his son and left the living room.

Sandra said happily, “Shea, do you understand what I just said to you? You can be with Wesley, but you can't let Wesley be wronged. I'm just such a son, I just hope he can be happy and safe.”

“Auntie, I won't bully Wesley, and I won't let my brother bully Wesley.” Shea answered without thinking.

Sandra nodded with satisfaction: “Shea, I have another request. You can't tell Wesley about this request.”

Shea widened her eyes, looked at the woman in front of her seriously, and waited for her to speak.

Sandra said, "You are not in good health, so you can't have children. But in the future, if your physical conditions allow, I still hope that you and Wesley can have a child."

...

On the way to the hospital, Wesley saw Shea. Shea was a little lost, so Wesley held her hand and asked, "What did my mother tell you? Did she let you leave me?"

Shea shook her head: "Auntie is not as bad as you think. Auntie is very good."

Wesley: "Then what are you thinking?"

"I'm afraid my brother will scold you later. What if I can't persuade him." Shea breathed softly.

"Don't worry. Even if Elliot really wants to scold me, he won't scold me in front of you." Wesley smiled and said, "Just now my dad called me to the study and told me that he and my mother didn't plan to stop us from being together."

"Well! Your parents are super nice people. They are as good as you are." Shea felt how lucky she was to meet him and fall in love with him.

Arriving at the hospital, Shea took Wesley into the ward.

Elliot was resting.

Seeing the two of them, Avery immediately took them outside to talk.

"Elliot was still talking about why the two of you haven't come before he fell asleep." Avery raised her eyebrows, and continued, "He talked about the two of you, and he will talk about it after he is discharged from the hospital. I guess he hasn't figured out what to do."

Chapter 1468

"Well, let's wait until Elliot is discharged from the hospital." Wesley glanced at the time and asked, "Avery, Why did Elliot go to bed so early? Did he eat lunch?"

"I haven't eaten yet. If he wants to sleep, let him sleep." Avery was a little hungry, "Let's go out to eat. There were nurses and bodyguards watching him here, he would be fine."

Wesley: "Well."

They came out of the hospital and found a restaurant nearby sit down.

When ordering, Wesley took the menu, told Shea what each dish was, and asked her what she wanted to eat.

Avery took the water cup and took a sip: "Brother Wesley, do your parents know what happened to you and Shea?"

"Yes. Shea went to my house today, and my mother talked to her."

"They were right. What was Shea's attitude?" Avery was afraid that Shea would be wronged in the Brook family.

"Avery, my uncle and auntie are very good to me." Shea said actively, "Auntie said she likes me very much."

Avery smiled knowingly: "That's good."

"If I were with Shea, I would not follow me. Parents live together." Wesley thought about their future, "Shea said she wanted to raise a baby."

"Very good. You should go back to work in the hospital next, right?" Avery asked him about his work plan .

"Well. I like this industry quite a bit."

"Brother Wesley, you and Shea will go well next time." Avery was happy for the two of them, "I'm waiting for your wedding."

Wesley's cheeks were slightly red: "Wait until Shea's body recovers. The wedding is just a formality, I don't really care."

"It doesn't matter if you care, you have to ask Shea if she cares." Avery said with a smile.

Shea was originally willful in front of Wesley, but what Sandra said to Shea this morning, Shea remembered in her heart.

Shea couldn't let Wesley be wronged, she needed to listen to Wesley's opinions and felt Wesley's psychology more.

"I listened to Wesley." Shea said with embarrassment.

"Brother Wesley, Shea is because you said you don't care about the wedding, so I'm embarrassed to say that I want a wedding." Avery analyzed, "If you are afraid of trouble, you don't need to have a grand wedding. You can go to the resort to hold a small and medium-sized wedding. There is still a sense of ceremony, after all, it is only once in a lifetime."

Wesley nodded: "After Elliot is discharged from the hospital, I will talk to him first, in case he disagrees..."

"Don't worry, Elliot has a sharp mouth and a beautiful heart, and Shea has already told him that he wants to marry you, so it is impossible for Elliot to ignore Shea's wishes." Avery knew Elliot too well.

Shea was a special existence to him.

Elliot could quarrel with Avery because of many things, but not to Shea.

After lunch, Avery asked Wesley to take Shea back to rest.

Shea was relatively weak now and was still recovering, so it was not suitable to stay outside for a long time.

After watching them go, Avery returned to the hospital.

Mike and Chad came over.

Mike brought Mrs. Cooper's lunch, and Elliot was eating.

"Avery, go back and rest. Chad is here with Elliot in the afternoon." Mike said to Avery, "Mrs. Cooper has a cold."

Avery nodded, walked to the bed, and asked Elliot, "Do you want me to feed you?"

Elliot left hand was fractured, although it was not serious, but Avery couldn't bear to see Elliot eat with one hand.

Chapter 1469

"Avery, you go back to take care of Robert and let Mrs. Cooper have a good rest." Elliot put down his chopsticks, picked up the soup bowl with his left hand, and demonstrated to her that it's perfectly fine to eat by himself.

Elliot has a comminuted fracture in his left hand and has been resting for more than a week, and should be fine now.

"Then I'll go back first, you can call me if you have anything." Avery leaned over, placed a kiss on his forehead, and quickly left the ward.

Elliot was stunned.

Chad followed the music, "If Mrs. Cooper hadn't been sick, Avery would probably not have gone home."

Mike sat down beside the escort bed and looked at the man who was drinking soup leisurely on the hospital bed: "Elliot, I feel you have changed. I was here just now, I'm embarrassed to say it."

"What do you mean?" Elliot glanced at him.

"Now I am the technical director of Tate Industries, and you are the boss of Sterling Group, let's talk." Mike showed him, "I heard that you used to be generous to Avery, but now you have a large share of the company. The two of you are in a good relationship now, so you can live in peace with each other. If you two break up in the future, wouldn't you do whatever you want?"

Chad gave Mike a wink and told him to stop talking.

But Mike ignored his eyes and continued to question Elliot: "I think your feelings for Avery have changed. You used to love her unconditionally, but now you are starting to calculate.”

“Mike, shut up for me.” Chad felt that what he said was too much, so he reprimanded.

Even if Elliot and Avery’s relationship changes, it is their private matter, and outsiders have no right to interfere.

“Chad, take the documents in the drawer to the lawyer. I’ll chat with Mike alone.” Elliot instructed Chad.

Chad immediately walked to the cabinet, opened the drawer, and took out all the documents inside.

Before going out, Chad stared at Mike with death eyes for two seconds.

Mike cleared his throat, then reached out and pushed him outside: “Bring the door.”

Chad went out and closed the door.

Elliot packed the lunch box on the small table and put it on the next cabinet.

Then he picked up the water bottle, unscrewed it, and took a sip of water.

“Mike, I have indeed changed.” Elliot admitted, “I am not what I used to be. My attitude towards Avery has changed.”

Mike gasped when he heard what Elliot said.

Avery, an idiot, didn’t feel the change in Elliot’s attitude? Before leaving just now, she even kissed Elliot.

She should have slapped him.

“I’ve known her for almost ten years. Some of the big and small things that happened in these years have been forgotten, but some of them will never be forgotten in a lifetime.” Elliot’s eyes were not focused, and his voice was cold. ”

I can be sure that even though my attitude towards her has changed, my love for her has never changed.”

Mike was stunned.

Elliot Continued, “The changes I made are just to better protect our relationship. As long as she loves me as always, I will never do anything to hurt her.”

Mike asked back, “What if Avery doesn’t love you anymore?”

If Avery doesn’t love me anymore, then, as you expected, she will lose everything.” Elliot’s Adam’s apple rolled up and down, and his voice was cold, “Not only will Avery lose the Tate Industries, but she will also lose the child.”

Mike instantly understood what Elliot meant: “You want to control her and keep her by your side.”

Elliot: “You can understand that.”

Mike: “You b*stard, it’s too bad! Feeling is your love for me. Wish, how can you force her?”

“You can tell her what I said just now. If she can’t accept it, she can leave me now.” Elliot looked at him indifferently.

Chapter 1470

Of course Mike won’t tell Avery what Elliot said right now. If he said it, and she broke up with Elliot, Chad would have to beat him.

He will observe Elliot’s performance in the future. If Elliot treats Avery badly one day, he will immediately let Avery see the true face of Elliot.

Chad drove the car and sent the documents to the law firm.

The lawyer took the documents from him and said apologetically: “Chad, thank you for your hard work. I originally planned to go by noon, but I was in a hurry...just finished.”

“It’s okay. I’ll drive over too. Not far.” Chad was thinking about the hospital, so he left after a few polite words.

Mike's violent temper, no matter who he is, doesn't know how to restrain himself.

Chad was afraid that Mike and the boss would quarrel.

The boss is now a patient, how can he withstand Mike's toss?

Chad drove the car on the road. When he was about to arrive at the hospital, the lawyer's phone called.

"Chad, where are you now?" On the other side of the phone, the lawyer's voice was clearly frightened, "You took the wrong documents!"

Chad immediately pulled the car to a stop, "Wrong? My boss asked me to take it."

Because he kept thinking about whether Mike would make the boss angry, he took out the document from the drawer and didn't read the contents of the document.

The lawyer said in a very low voice, "You brought the documents I asked for, but you also took the documents that you shouldn't have. Come over now and take the documents back."

Chad realized the seriousness of the problem. He immediately turned around and drove to the law firm.

He wanted to ask on the phone what kind of documents he should not take, but after thinking about it, he didn't ask.

–Elliot has always been meticulous in his work, how could he be confused this time?

–If it is a document that cannot be seen by outsiders, how can it be put together with the official document?

–How Elliot could not notice when he took the documents?

Chad drove all the way, and drove the car to the law firm at the fastest speed.

The lawyer stood at the door of the law firm, anxiously raising his head.

Seeing Chad's car, the lawyer immediately took the document bag and walked to his car.

"Don't get out of the car. I've packed it in a document bag. Send it back quickly." The lawyer handed him the document bag.

Chad took the document bag, hesitated for a moment, and then asked, "Have you seen the contents of the document?"

The lawyer looked embarrassed: "This... If I said I didn't see it, you wouldn't either."

Chad couldn't help laughing and crying: "Your tone on the phone made me feel uneasy. It's not something scary, right?"

The lawyer: "Terrible."

Chad's expression froze.

"When you return the file later, don't put the file bag back. It's better to return it intact. After all, it's embarrassing...you know what's inside. It's over." The lawyer said, waving goodbye to him.

After Chad drove the car out, he felt even more uneasy.

After driving the car for a distance, he stopped the car, opened the document bag, and took out the documents.

In the hospital.

After talking with Elliot, Mike took out his mobile phone to play the game, but after a few games, Chad hadn't come back.

"Why don't you send a file? It's been almost two hours, it's sent to Mars." He dialed Chad's phone, intending to spit it out.

"I've already arrived at the hospital. I just went to buy some fruit." Chad hung up the phone after he finished speaking.

Mike was stunned.

About three minutes later, Chad entered the ward with a bag of fruit.

“You can go.” Chad pushed Mike out.

Mike felt rejected and his self-esteem took a hit: “I won’t go now, I’ll stay here.”

Chapter 1471

“I don’t need you here anymore.” Chad put down the fruit and pushed him out with both hands, “By the way, remember to bring meals at night.”

Mike: “What’s the matter with you? I said I won’t leave.”

Chad didn’t want to talk nonsense with him, so after pushing him out, he quickly returned to the ward and closed the door.

“You two quarreled?” Elliot felt that the atmosphere was a little subtle.

Chad: “He must have made you angry?”

“No.” Elliot glanced at the fruits he bought, “Why do you buy so many fruits?”

“Don’t you want to eat more fruits to supplement vitamins when you are sick?”

Chad opened the fruit bag and took out the file bag, “Boss, I accidentally took your paternity test result.”

Chad thought about whether to hide Elliot. He could secretly put the paternity test results back in the drawer when Elliot wasn’t paying attention.

Finally he decided to confess.

Elliot is not a fool, this matter cannot be concealed at all.

Who knows, when Elliot heard his words, he just responded lightly.

“I want to destroy it, but Avery won’t let it.”

“Avery knows about this?” Chad was shocked, “What was her reaction?”

“This was sent to her by Rebecca, of course she knew. Rebecca had long ago told her about it. Even if she was angry, she was mentally prepared in advance.”

“My God. This Rebecca is declaring war on Avery.” Chad put the file bag back in the drawer.

Elliot: “Don’t tell the public about this.”

“Don’t worry, I won’t tell you. I won’t tell Mike.” Chad scratched his head embarrassedly, “I think it’s better to destroy it. Or I’ll take it back for you and put it away.”

Elliot: “Let Avery handle it.”

Chad: “Okay!”

Time blinked, and a week passed.

Elliot was finally approved to be discharged from the hospital. On the day he was discharged from the hospital, outside the hospital gate, there were a lot of reporters who took pictures secretly.

About two days ago, Sterling Group issued an external announcement that the chairman of the company was changed back to Elliot from Adrian.

This means that those who once coveted the Sterling Group have had their dreams shattered.

Elliot is back. His business empire will start a glorious journey again.

Elliot was pushed out by bodyguards in a wheelchair.

The reporter posted the secretly photographed photos on the Internet, with an accompanying text – what happened to Elliot in just three months?

In addition to the photo taken today, there is also a handsome photo of him when he was in high spirits.

The two photos are placed together for a stark contrast.

This Facebook quickly became popular.

Many netizens have left their comments.

–Curious, who broke Elliot’s leg? Is that Avery?

–Hahaha! Upstairs, are you serious? Why did Avery break Elliot’s leg? [laughs and tears] [laughs and tears]

[laughs and tears]

–I also think Avery broke his leg. Because he married a wife in Yonroeville. No one knows about this, right? [Support cheeks]

–What’s wrong with rich men marrying more wives? People’s wives didn’t say anything, I don’t know what some people are sour.

–No wonder Avery didn’t come to pick him up from the hospital. It turned out that the two of them had a relationship problem.

–I don’t know what happened to Elliot, I only know that his company’s thirdquarter earnings report continued to rise. [lemon] [lemon]

...

Elliot was taken to the car, and after sitting firmly, he asked the driver, “Why didn’t Avery come?”

Chapter 1472

Avery told Elliot last night that she would come to pick him up from the hospital today.

But she didn’t come.

The driver said, “Avery is sick.”

Elliot frowned slightly when he heard this.

Avery got up this morning and felt dizzy. She thought it was because she didn’t sleep well, but after eating breakfast, her body temperature was obviously high.

She took a thermometer and checked, and sure enough, she had a low-grade fever.

It was a bit windy outside today, which was one of the reasons why she decided not to go out. Secondly, she was afraid that her illness would be passed on to Elliot.

Elliot was recovering from a serious illness, and his body was still relatively weak and his immunity was relatively low.

When the driver went to pick up Elliot, she packed a guest room for Elliot.

They can only sleep in separate rooms until they get better.

Fortunately, although she was ill, Mrs. Cooper was better.

Mrs. Cooper said that she might have been infected by her illness, but she knew very well that her illness had nothing to do with Mrs. Cooper.

After Mrs. Cooper caught a cold, she stayed home for two days, and only came back when her symptoms subsided. After coming here, I only go out of the room when cooking, and stay in the room to rest at other times.

How could it be contagious to her?

After a while, the car that picked up Elliot drove slowly to the front yard and stopped.

The driver got out of the car and opened the rear door.

After Elliot was helped out of the car, he released the driver's arm.

With a cane in one hand, he strode towards the door of the villa.

He has been able to walk very steadily, but it is a little troublesome when getting on and off the bus.

Robert stood at the door of the villa, watching Elliot limping, and immediately hugged Mrs. Cooper's leg in fright.

"Don't be afraid, Robert, that's your dad." Avery heard the movement in the room and came out immediately. She had antipyretic stickers on her forehead and a mask on her face.

Elliot walked to the door, saw her like this, and sighed helplessly: "Have a fever?"

"38.2 degrees, not serious." Avery walked in front of him with a nasal voice,

“You sleep in the guest room. I’m afraid that the cold will spread to you.”

“You have a good rest, don’t think nonsense.” Elliot reached out and touched her cheek, which was a little hot, “Have you taken medicine?”

Avery: “Took cold medicine. It will be better after two hours of sleep.”

Elliot: “Drink more water.”

“Drink.” Avery was lethargic, “I was a little dizzy. I went to bed. Although you have been discharged from the hospital, you should be careful not to fail the reexamination.”

“Go and rest!, I will accompany you.” After Elliot watched her return to the room, he turned his attention to Robert who was hiding behind Mrs. Cooper.

Robert looked at him curiously and timidly with a pair of jet-black eyes.

“Robert, come here, Dad will give you a hug.” Elliot put on a gentle smile, and his tone was also very gentle.

Of course Robert wouldn’t let Elliot hug him.

The way he walked strangely made Robert a little scared.

“Robert, don’t be afraid. Dad is sick and only uses crutches.” Mrs. Cooper picked up Robert and walked to Elliot, “Dad give you a hug, and Dad’ll get you some fruit puree, okay?”

Seeing the fruit puree’s sake, Robert reluctantly let go of the hand that was holding Mrs. Cooper.

Elliot took him into his arms smoothly, smelling the milky smell of his body that belonged only to a child, and felt peaceful and happy in his heart.

His life seemed to be back on track from a fork in the road.

....

Bridgedale.

After a week of playing around, Ben Schaffer was ready to return to Aryadelle.

Before returning to Aryadelle, he had to visit Hayden and Gwen.

He brought gifts and came to Hayden's residence. He rang the doorbell, and within a moment, someone came to open the door.

It was Gwen who opened the door for him.

Chapter 1473

Gwen was wearing a yoga suit and was sweating. Seeing Ben Schaffer, she was stunned for a moment.

"What? It's such a surprise to see me?" Ben Schaffer glanced at her quickly as he spoke.

But he hasn't seen her for a while, and he feels that Gwen has lost a lot of weight, and her temperament has changed.

"The access control system at home is broken." Gwen took a step back to make way for him.

"Oh, why didn't someone come to fix it?" Ben Schaffer entered the room and changed his shoes at the entrance.

Gwen: "No one usually comes to visit."

"Then how dare you open the door if you don't know it's me?" Ben Schaffer was surprised by her weak sense of defense.

"I know it's you. Hayden told me this morning that you would come over today."

Gwen walked to the living room and put away the yoga mat.

"Then why were you so surprised when you saw me just now?" Ben Schaffer changed his shoes and walked to the living room to watch her clean up.

Gwen said slowly, "I'm not surprised to see you. I was stunned by the speed of your aging. The last time I saw you, I didn't think you were so old. Why haven't you seen you for a while, so old More."

Ben Schaffer: "???"

—How different can he be now from three months ago?

–Why is Gwen speaking so ugly?

Gwen was mad at him on purpose.

“Why don’t you talk? Are you angry?” Gwen cleaned up the living room and turned to look at him, “You don’t look in the mirror every day, do you? You are really aging a lot, are you tired from work? Or play with women? Too much, your body is weak?”

Ben Schaffer gritted his teeth. He had chosen a gift for her carefully, but now he didn’t want to give it to her.

“What’s in this hand?” Gwen saw the bag in his hand, so she asked, “A gift?”

Ben Schaffer took a deep breath and decided not to care about her.

After all, he was ashamed of her.

He handed her the bag: “A gift for you.”

“Oh, is it compensation for a previous miscarriage?” She took the bag and took out a jewelry box from it.

No wonder Gwen said that, ordinary friend, who gave such a precious gift.

Ben Schaffer couldn’t stand being stabbed by her words, “Gwen, can you talk to me? I’m very happy to see you.”

Gwen: “I’m not happy to see you happy.”

Ben Schaffer was left speechless by her, and lost his temper. He walked to the sofa angrily and sat down, changing the subject: “When will Hayden be back?”

Gwen: “Six, seven or eight in the evening.”

Ben: “It’s so late?”

“Is six o’clock too late?” Gwen put the jewelry box Open, and inside was a sparkling bracelet. She put the bracelet on, That was not bad.

“Isn’t he a primary school student? Domestic primary school students leave school at five o’clock in the afternoon.”

“Hayden is an ordinary primary school student but he is a genius.” Gwen teased, “I’m going to the training class to study accounting, shouldn’t it be too late? Wait for me to take the exam. Accountant certificate, maybe I can do better than you.”

Ben Schaffer felt his face being rubbed against the ground by her.

Ben: “Gwen, do you hate me so much?”

“Don’t make fun of yourself. I just don’t like your sh*t and I have to ask Avery to tell me about the big things. You’re not ashamed.”

Ben Schaffer was beaten by her. Powerless to fight back, defeated without a fight.

At 6:30 p.m., Hayden came home from school.

“Let’s eat out. I’ll treat you.” Ben Schaffer got up from the sofa and said to Hayden with a smile.

Hayden has no opinion.

“You guys go eat, I won’t go.” Gwen said lightly.

When Ben Schaffer heard her words, he immediately exploded.

“Gwen, are you so interesting? It’s just a meal, and it didn’t kill you. Are you targeting me like this?” Ben Schaffer blushed with anger, and quickly bullied his chest.

Gwen and Hayden were stunned.

Chapter 1474

“Where did the process go?” Avery asked. She also planned to wait until Elliot was discharged from the hospital before doing this.

Unexpectedly, Ben Schaffer was already ready.

“It’s over.” Elliot said casually, “Adrian lives in my house now?”

Avery said, "Yeah, Adrian and Shea live in your house. If you mind, I'll arrange another place for him. I see that he and Shea have a good relationship, so I don't want to separate them."

"I have no opinion." When Elliot said this, the conversation changed, "If this is the case, then I can only go to live your home."

Avery blinked and froze for a moment: "You are my husband, and you should have lived with me."

"Avery, you said Elliot didn't feel hurt his head. He didn't think he was injured. He used to be smart." Tammy glanced at the document, put it down, turned around, and laughed.

"Tammy, you need to be virtuous when you are pregnant." Elliot said, his eyes shifted to Jun, "Your mother asked Ben Schaffer to give me a message."

Jun's mouth twitched: "My mother said What's wrong?"

Elliot: "Your mother asked me to remind you that you can live in Tammy's house, but the child must be surenamed Hertz."

Jun: "..."

Tammy suddenly got angry: "Originally I didn't want to argue about this, but since my mother-in-law has to fight, then my child has to have my surname." After a pause, she said again, "Tell my mother-in-law what I said."

Elliot: "Are you going to pass the phone?"

Jun: "Tammy, I'm going to tell my mother...but I won't talk about it for now. I'm afraid she will get emotional and come to quarrel with you..."

Tammy: "Do you think I'm afraid of her? She's so ridiculous. She's not named Hertz, and I don't know what my child's last name is, and she won't be named her. What is she excited about?"

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update. Jun: "Okay, stop talking about this."

Tammy: "I have to."

"Then let's go back and talk!" Jun took Tammy left the ward.

Avery chased out and persuaded: "Tammy, pay attention to your emotions, don't get too excited."

"Don't worry. I'm in a good mood. As long as Jun is on my side, I'm not afraid of anything." Tammy smiled at her, "Go in and take care of Elliot."

"Well."

After watching them leave, Avery returned to the ward.

She put away the documents on the desk and said, "These are for the lawyers, right?"

Elliot: "Ben Schaffer said the lawyers will come to pick them up later."

"Well." Putting the documents in the cabinet, Avery sat down beside the hospital bed, "Are you still used to using the new phone? Your previous model was discontinued, so I bought you the latest model."

"It's just a phone." Elliot understated and laughed at himself, "I didn't hurt my brain."

"Haha...you have no contact on your phone. That's it, I'll share the business cards of our mutual friends on my phone with you." Avery took out her phone.

"Avery, don't you know there is a cloud disk? I can log in to the cloud disk and import the contents into the new phone." Elliot opened the phone address book and showed her, "It's done."

Avery : "..."

"I want to get out of bed and go for a while." Elliot put down his phone and begged her, "Can I go outside for a walk?"

"You can go for a walk in the corridor, if you want to go down, only In a wheelchair." Avery said, giving him the crutches.

The two came out of the ward and saw a bodyguard head-on, coming with a package of express documents.

Chapter 1475

“Ms. Tate, this is a package from your driver.” The bodyguard handed the courier to Avery, “From Yonroeville. Do you need me to open it?”

Without waiting for Avery to speak, Elliot took the first step and said,

“Disassemble.”

The bodyguard immediately disassembled the courier and took out the documents from it.

The bodyguard shook the document and took it in front of him and smelled it.

Except for the ink smell of the printing paper, there was no other odor.

Avery took the document from the bodyguard and glanced at it.

“The result of the paternity test sent by Rebecca.” Avery said and handed the document to Elliot.

She glanced at the title of the document just now, and then at the identification result.

Just as she expected.

The child in Rebecca’s womb is really Elliot’s.

Although Avery had already prepared for this mentally, She was still in a bad mood. She didn’t want to share Elliot with any woman at all.

Even though Elliot’s heart is with her, she still has a lump in her heart when she thinks that he and another woman have a child outside.

Avery turned her face away and looked out the window. She didn’t want to see Elliot’s expression after seeing the result.

Elliot read the document quietly, and looked at Avery calmly. “Avery, I want to go down to get some air.”

“Oh...I’m going to get a wheelchair.” Avery strode back to the ward and pushed the wheelchair out.

Elliot sat down in the wheelchair, and the bodyguard immediately took the crutches from him.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot handed the document to the bodyguard: "Take it and destroy it."

"Destroy it for what?" Avery snatched the document from his hand, "Keep it."

"Why keep it for me?" Elliot raised his eyes to look at her, "Isn't it happy to keep it for myself? If this child is anything I want on my own initiative, you will definitely turn your back on me."

"Take your anger out." Avery handed the document to the bodyguard, "Take it and put it in the drawer of the ward."

The bodyguard took the document and strode towards the ward.

Avery pushed the wheelchair and walked towards the elevator.

"If she contacts you after the birth of her child, then we will personally go to Yonroeville and do a paternity test again." Avery had some illusions in her heart, "What if the test result is fake?"

"No need to take care of her." Elliot said coldly, "Whether the child is mine or not, don't care about her."

"Are you so cruel?" Avery looked at his profile with a complicated mood.

"I said that the children are not what I want, and I can't be responsible for them. She insists on giving birth to children, and that's her business." Elliot tone was cold and clear.

The unhappiness in her heart dissipated little by little.

Brook family.

Shea came to Wesley, and it happened that Wesley's parents were at home.

Shea saw them, a little surprised and shy.

When she called Wesley, Wesley didn't say that his parents were at home.

"Shea, you are so thin now, you have suffered a lot." Sandra said, she went to the kitchen to fill a bowl of soup and gave it to her, "This is what I stewed for Wesley in the morning. This is his favorite soup."

Shea immediately picked up the spoon and took a sip: "Auntie, it's delicious." After speaking, Shea quickly drank the soup.

Chapter 1476

"Would you like to add a bowl to you? There is still one in the pot." Sandra asked with a kind smile.

"Mom, she can't eat too much in one meal." Wesley stopped, "I went out with Shea first."

"Your dad and I want to see Shea, why are you taking her away in such a hurry?" Sandra said.

Shea heard the words, and immediately took Sandra's hand obediently:

"Auntie, did you hear me when I called Wesley?"

"Well. You said you wanted Wesley to see your brother." Sandra sat down on the sofa and looked at her with peaceful eyes, "Do you like Wesley?"

Shea lowered her eyes, feeling a little flustered.

Wesley was even more flustered. In fact, he had already confessed to his parents about himself and Shea.

What Wesley said was that if Shea was willing to be with him, he would take care of Shea for the rest of his life.

The parents didn't say anything on the surface, but he knew that the parents actually mind.

After all, Shea is different from ordinary women. As soon as she has a special status, Wesley doesn't want to take advantage of her, and she can only see her face in the future. Secondly, she is weak and cannot conceive and give birth to children like ordinary women.

"I like Wesley very much." Shea suddenly raised her head and looked at Sandra with a firm tone, "Auntie, if you don't like me, I... I will try my best to make you like me."

Sandra was stunned. After a moment, she couldn't help laughing: "How could I not like you? From the first time I saw you, I liked you very much. Just liking you and accepting you as Wesley's wife are two different things. "

"Mom, you promised me that you wouldn't mind my personal affairs." Wesley's eyes blushed. He was afraid that Shea would be sad because of his mother's words.

"I'm talking to Shea, don't interrupt." Sandra glared at her son and looked at Shea again, "Auntie means that if you like Wesley and want to be with Wesley, then you can't bully Wesley. I know that you want to be with Wesley because he is good to you. But have you ever thought about it, he listens to you in everything, maybe he is wronged?"

"Mom, I am not wronged. I never came. I've been wronged." Wesley couldn't help but speak.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"I told you to stop talking." Sandra reprimanded.

Wesley immediately closed his mouth.

Wesley's father, Nolan Brook took his son and left the living room.

Sandra said happily, "Shea, do you understand what I just said to you? You can be with Wesley, but you can't let Wesley be wronged. I'm just such a son, I just hope he can be happy and safe."

"Auntie, I won't bully Wesley, and I won't let my brother bully Wesley." Shea answered without thinking.

Sandra nodded with satisfaction: "Shea, I have another request. You can't tell Wesley about this request."

Shea widened her eyes, looked at the woman in front of her seriously, and waited for her to speak.

Sandra said, "You are not in good health, so you can't have children. But in the future, if your physical conditions allow, I still hope that you and Wesley can have a child."

...

On the way to the hospital, Wesley saw Shea. Shea was a little lost, so Wesley held her hand and asked, "What did my mother tell you? Did she let you leave me?"

Shea shook her head: "Auntie is not as bad as you think. Auntie is very good."

Wesley: "Then what are you thinking?"

"I'm afraid my brother will scold you later. What if I can't persuade him." Shea breathed softly.

"Don't worry. Even if Elliot really wants to scold me, he won't scold me in front of you." Wesley smiled and said, "Just now my dad called me to the study and told me that he and my mother didn't plan to stop us from being together."

"Well! Your parents are super nice people. They are as good as you are." Shea felt how lucky she was to meet him and fall in love with him.

Arriving at the hospital, Shea took Wesley into the ward.

Elliot was resting.

Seeing the two of them, Avery immediately took them outside to talk.

"Elliot was still talking about why the two of you haven't come before he fell asleep." Avery raised her eyebrows, and continued, "He talked about the two of you, and he will talk about it after he is discharged from the hospital. I guess he hasn't figured out what to do."

Chapter 1477

"Well, let's wait until Elliot is discharged from the hospital." Wesley glanced at the time and asked, "Avery, Why did Elliot go to bed so early? Did he eat lunch?"

"I haven't eaten yet. If he wants to sleep, let him sleep." Avery was a little hungry, "Let's go out to eat. There were nurses and bodyguards watching him here, he would be fine."

Wesley: "Well."

They came out of the hospital and found a restaurant nearby sit down.

When ordering, Wesley took the menu, told Shea what each dish was, and asked her what she wanted to eat.

Avery took the water cup and took a sip: "Brother Wesley, do your parents know what happened to you and Shea?"

"Yes. Shea went to my house today, and my mother talked to her."

"They were right. What was Shea's attitude?" Avery was afraid that Shea would be wronged in the Brook family.

"Avery, my uncle and auntie are very good to me." Shea said actively, "Auntie said she likes me very much."

Avery smiled knowingly: "That's good."

"If I were with Shea, I would not follow me. Parents live together." Wesley thought about their future, "Shea said she wanted to raise a baby."

"Very good. You should go back to work in the hospital next, right?" Avery asked him about his work plan .

"Well. I like this industry quite a bit."

“Brother Wesley, you and Shea will go well next time.” Avery was happy for the two of them, “I’m waiting for your wedding.”

Wesley’s cheeks were slightly red: “Wait until Shea’s body recovers. The wedding is just a formality, I don’t really care.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“It doesn’t matter if you care, you have to ask Shea if she cares.” Avery said with a smile.

Shea was originally willful in front of Wesley, but what Sandra said to Shea this morning, Shea remembered in her heart.

Shea couldn’t let Wesley be wronged, she needed to listen to Wesley’s opinions and felt Wesley’s psychology more.

“I listened to Wesley.” Shea said with embarrassment.

“Brother Wesley, Shea is because you said you don’t care about the wedding, so I’m embarrassed to say that I want a wedding.” Avery analyzed, “If you are afraid of trouble, you don’t need to have a grand wedding. You can go to the resort to hold a small and medium-sized wedding. There is still a sense of ceremony, after all, it is only once in a lifetime.”

Wesley nodded: “After Elliot is discharged from the hospital, I will talk to him first, in case he disagrees...”

“Don’t worry, Elliot has a sharp mouth and a beautiful heart, and Shea has already told him that he wants to marry you, so it is impossible for Elliot to ignore Shea’s wishes.” Avery knew Elliot too well.

Shea was a special existence to him.

Elliot could quarrel with Avery because of many things, but not to Shea.

After lunch, Avery asked Wesley to take Shea back to rest.

Shea was relatively weak now and was still recovering, so it was not suitable to stay outside for a long time.

After watching them go, Avery returned to the hospital.

Mike and Chad came over.

Mike brought Mrs. Cooper's lunch, and Elliot was eating.

"Avery, go back and rest. Chad is here with Elliot in the afternoon." Mike said to Avery, "Mrs. Cooper has a cold."

Avery nodded, walked to the bed, and asked Elliot, "Do you want me to feed you? "

Elliot left hand was fractured, although it was not serious, but Avery couldn't bear to see Elliot eat with one hand.

Chapter 1478

"Avery, you go back to take care of Robert and let Mrs. Cooper have a good rest." Elliot put down his chopsticks, picked up the soup bowl with his left hand, and demonstrated to her that it's perfectly fine to eat by himself.

Elliot has a comminuted fracture in his left hand and has been resting for more than a week, and should be fine now.

"Then I'll go back first, you can call me if you have anything." Avery leaned over, placed a kiss on his forehead, and quickly left the ward.

Elliot was stunned.

Chad followed the music, "If Mrs. Cooper hadn't been sick, Avery would probably not have gone home."

Mike sat down beside the escort bed and looked at the man who was drinking soup leisurely on the hospital bed: "Elliot, I feel you have changed. I was here just now, I'm embarrassed to say it."

"What do you mean?" Elliot glanced at him.

"Now I am the technical director of Tate Industries, and you are the boss of Sterling Group, let's talk." Mike showed him, "I heard that you used to be generous to Avery, but now you have a large share of the company. The two of you are in a good relationship now, so you can live in peace with each other. If you two break up in the future, wouldn't you do whatever you want?"

Chad gave Mike a wink and told him to stop talking.

But Mike ignored his eyes and continued to question Elliot: "I think your feelings for Avery have changed. You used to love her unconditionally, but now you are starting to calculate."

"Mike, shut up for me." Chad felt that what he said was too much, so he reprimanded.

Even if Elliot and Avery's relationship changes, it is their private matter, and outsiders have no right to interfere.

"Chad, take the documents in the drawer to the lawyer. I'll chat with Mike alone." Elliot instructed Chad.

Chad immediately walked to the cabinet, opened the drawer, and took out all the documents inside.

Before going out, Chad stared at Mike with death eyes for two seconds.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Mike cleared his throat, then reached out and pushed him outside: "Bring the door."

Chad went out and closed the door.

Elliot packed the lunch box on the small table and put it on the next cabinet.

Then he picked up the water bottle, unscrewed it, and took a sip of water.

"Mike, I have indeed changed." Elliot admitted, "I am not what I used to be. My attitude towards Avery has changed."

Mike gasped when he heard what Elliot said.

Avery, an idiot, didn't feel the change in Elliot's attitude? Before leaving just now, she even kissed Elliot.

She should have slapped him.

"I've known her for almost ten years. Some of the big and small things that happened in these years have been forgotten, but some of them will never be forgotten in a lifetime." Elliot's eyes were not focused, and his voice was cold. "I can be sure that even though my attitude towards her has changed, my love for her has never changed."

Mike was stunned.

Elliot Continued, "The changes I made are just to better protect our relationship. As long as she loves me as always, I will never do anything to hurt her."

Mike asked back, "What if Avery doesn't love you anymore?"

If Avery doesn't love me anymore, then, as you expected, she will lose everything." Elliot's Adam's apple rolled up and down, and his voice was cold, "Not only will Avery lose the Tate Industries, but she will also lose the child."

Mike instantly understood what Elliot meant: "You want to control her and keep her by your side."

Elliot: "You can understand that."

Mike: "You b*stard, it's too bad! Feeling is your love for me. Wish, how can you force her?"

"You can tell her what I said just now. If she can't accept it, she can leave me now." Elliot looked at him indifferently.

Chapter 1479

Of course Mike won't tell Avery what Elliot said right now. If he said it, and she broke up with Elliot, Chad would have to beat him.

He will observe Elliot's performance in the future. If Elliot treats Avery badly one day, he will immediately let Avery see the true face of Elliot.

Chad drove the car and sent the documents to the law firm.

The lawyer took the documents from him and said apologetically: "Chad, thank you for your hard work. I originally planned to go by noon, but I was in a hurry...just finished."

"It's okay. I'll drive over too. Not far." Chad was thinking about the hospital, so he left after a few polite words.

Mike's violent temper, no matter who he is, doesn't know how to restrain himself.

Chad was afraid that Mike and the boss would quarrel.

The boss is now a patient, how can he withstand Mike's toss?

Chad drove the car on the road. When he was about to arrive at the hospital, the lawyer's phone called.

"Chad, where are you now?" On the other side of the phone, the lawyer's voice was clearly frightened, "You took the wrong documents!"

Chad immediately pulled the car to a stop, "Wrong? My boss asked me to take it."

Because he kept thinking about whether Mike would make the boss angry, he took out the document from the drawer and didn't read the contents of the document.

The lawyer said in a very low voice, "You brought the documents I asked for, but you also took the documents that you shouldn't have. Come over now and take the documents back."

Chad realized the seriousness of the problem. He immediately turned around and drove to the law firm.

He wanted to ask on the phone what kind of documents he should not take, but after thinking about it, he didn't ask.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

–Elliot has always been meticulous in his work, how could he be confused this time?

–If it is a document that cannot be seen by outsiders, how can it be put together with the official document?

–How Elliot could not notice when he took the documents?

Chad drove all the way, and drove the car to the law firm at the fastest speed.

The lawyer stood at the door of the law firm, anxiously raising his head.

Seeing Chad's car, the lawyer immediately took the document bag and walked to his car.

“Don't get out of the car. I've packed it in a document bag. Send it back quickly.” The lawyer handed him the document bag.

Chad took the document bag, hesitated for a moment, and then asked, “Have you seen the contents of the document?”

The lawyer looked embarrassed: “This... If I said I didn't see it, you wouldn't either.”

Chad couldn't help laughing and crying: “Your tone on the phone made me feel uneasy. It's not something scary, right?”

The lawyer: “Terrible.”

Chad's expression froze.

“When you return the file later, don't put the file bag back. It's better to return it intact. After all, it's embarrassing...you know what's inside. It's over.” The lawyer said, waving goodbye to him.

After Chad drove the car out, he felt even more uneasy.

After driving the car for a distance, he stopped the car, opened the document bag, and took out the documents.

In the hospital.

After talking with Elliot, Mike took out his mobile phone to play the game, but after a few games, Chad hadn't come back.

"Why don't you send a file? It's been almost two hours, it's sent to Mars." He dialed Chad's phone, intending to spit it out.

"I've already arrived at the hospital. I just went to buy some fruit." Chad hung up the phone after he finished speaking.

Mike was stunned.

About three minutes later, Chad entered the ward with a bag of fruit.

"You can go." Chad pushed Mike out.

Mike felt rejected and his self-esteem took a hit: "I won't go now, I'll stay here."

Chapter 1480

"I don't need you here anymore." Chad put down the fruit and pushed him out with both hands, "By the way, remember to bring meals at night."

Mike: "What's the matter with you? I said I won't leave."

Chad didn't want to talk nonsense with him, so after pushing him out, he quickly returned to the ward and closed the door.

"You two quarreled?" Elliot felt that the atmosphere was a little subtle.

Chad: "He must have made you angry?"

"No." Elliot glanced at the fruits he bought, "Why do you buy so many fruits?"

"Don't you want to eat more fruits to supplement vitamins when you are sick?"

Chad opened the fruit bag and took out the file bag, "Boss, I accidentally took your paternity test result."

Chad thought about whether to hide Elliot. He could secretly put the paternity test results back in the drawer when Elliot wasn't paying attention.

Finally he decided to confess.

Elliot is not a fool, this matter cannot be concealed at all.

Who knows, when Elliot heard his words, he just responded lightly.

“I want to destroy it, but Avery won’t let it.”

“Avery knows about this?” Chad was shocked, “What was her reaction?”

“This was sent to her by Rebecca, of course she knew. Rebecca had long ago I told her about it. Even if she was angry, she was mentally prepared in advance.”

“My God. This Rebecca is declaring war on Avery.” Chad put the file bag back in the drawer.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot: “Don’t tell the public about this.”

“Don’t worry, I won’t tell you. I won’t tell Mike.” Chad scratched his head embarrassedly, “I think it’s better to destroy it. Or I’ll take it back for you and put it away.”

Elliot: “Let Avery handle it.”

Chad: “Okay!”

Time blinked, and a week passed.

Elliot was finally approved to be discharged from the hospital. On the day he was discharged from the hospital, outside the hospital gate, there were a lot of reporters who took pictures secretly.

About two days ago, Sterling Group issued an external announcement that the chairman of the company was changed back to Elliot from Adrian.

This means that those who once coveted the Sterling Group have had their dreams shattered.

Elliot is back. His business empire will start a glorious journey again.

Elliot was pushed out by bodyguards in a wheelchair.

The reporter posted the secretly photographed photos on the Internet, with an accompanying text – what happened to Elliot in just three months?

In addition to the photo taken today, there is also a handsome photo of him when he was in high spirits.

The two photos are placed together for a stark contrast.

This Facebook quickly became popular.

Many netizens have left their comments.

–Curious, who broke Elliot’s leg? Is that Avery?

–Hahaha! Upstairs, are you serious? Why did Avery break Elliot’s leg? [laughs and tears] [laughs and tears]

[laughs and tears]

–I also think Avery broke his leg. Because he married a wife in Yonroeville. No one knows about this, right? [Support cheeks]

–What’s wrong with rich men marrying more wives? People’s wives didn’t say anything, I don’t know what some people are sour.

–No wonder Avery didn’t come to pick him up from the hospital. It turned out that the two of them had a relationship problem.

–I don’t know what happened to Elliot, I only know that his company’s thirdquarter earnings report continued to rise. [lemon] [lemon]

...

Elliot was taken to the car, and after sitting firmly, he asked the driver, “Why didn’t Avery come?”

Chapter 1481

Avery told Elliot last night that she would come to pick him up from the hospital today.

But she didn’t come.

The driver said, "Avery is sick."

Elliot frowned slightly when he heard this.

Avery got up this morning and felt dizzy. She thought it was because she didn't sleep well, but after eating breakfast, her body temperature was obviously high. She took a thermometer and checked, and sure enough, she had a low-grade fever.

It was a bit windy outside today, which was one of the reasons why she decided not to go out. Secondly, she was afraid that her illness would be passed on to Elliot.

Elliot was recovering from a serious illness, and his body was still relatively weak and his immunity was relatively low.

When the driver went to pick up Elliot, she packed a guest room for Elliot.

They can only sleep in separate rooms until they get better.

Fortunately, although she was ill, Mrs. Cooper was better.

Mrs. Cooper said that she might have been infected by her illness, but she knew very well that her illness had nothing to do with Mrs. Cooper.

After Mrs. Cooper caught a cold, she stayed home for two days, and only came back when her symptoms subsided. After coming here, I only go out of the room when cooking, and stay in the room to rest at other times.

How could it be contagious to her?

After a while, the car that picked up Elliot drove slowly to the front yard and stopped.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

The driver got out of the car and opened the rear door.

After Elliot was helped out of the car, he released the driver's arm.

With a cane in one hand, he strode towards the door of the villa.

He has been able to walk very steadily, but it is a little troublesome when getting on and off the bus.

Robert stood at the door of the villa, watching Elliot limping, and immediately hugged Mrs. Cooper's leg in fright.

"Don't be afraid, Robert, that's your dad." Avery heard the movement in the room and came out immediately. She had antipyretic stickers on her forehead and a mask on her face.

Elliot walked to the door, saw her like this, and sighed helplessly: "Have a fever?"

"38.2 degrees, not serious." Avery walked in front of him with a nasal voice, "You sleep in the guest room. I'm afraid that the cold will spread to you."

"You have a good rest, don't think nonsense." Elliot reached out and touched her cheek, which was a little hot, "Have you taken medicine?"

Avery: "Took cold medicine. It will be better after two hours of sleep."

Elliot: "Drink more water."

"Drink." Avery was lethargic, "I was a little dizzy. I went to bed. Although you have been discharged from the hospital, you should be careful not to fail the reexamination."

"Go and rest!, I will accompany you." After Elliot watched her return to the room, he turned his attention to Robert who was hiding behind Mrs. Cooper.

Robert looked at him curiously and timidly with a pair of jet-black eyes.

"Robert, come here, Dad will give you a hug." Elliot put on a gentle smile, and his tone was also very gentle.

Of course Robert wouldn't let Elliot hug him.

The way he walked strangely made Robert a little scared.

"Robert, don't be afraid. Dad is sick and only uses crutches." Mrs. Cooper picked up Robert and walked to Elliot, "Dad give you a hug, and Dad'll get you some fruit puree, okay?"

Seeing the fruit puree's sake, Robert reluctantly let go of the hand that was holding Mrs. Cooper.

Elliot took him into his arms smoothly, smelling the milky smell of his body that belonged only to a child, and felt peaceful and happy in his heart.

His life seemed to be back on track from a fork in the road.

....

Bridgedale.

After a week of playing around, Ben Schaffer was ready to return to Aryadelle.

Before returning to Aryadelle, he had to visit Hayden and Gwen.

He brought gifts and came to Hayden's residence. He rang the doorbell, and within a moment, someone came to open the door.

It was Gwen who opened the door for him.

Chapter 1482

Gwen was wearing a yoga suit and was sweating. Seeing Ben Schaffer, she was stunned for a moment.

"What? It's such a surprise to see me?" Ben Schaffer glanced at her quickly as he spoke.

But he hasn't seen her for a while, and he feels that Gwen has lost a lot of weight, and her temperament has changed.

"The access control system at home is broken." Gwen took a step back to make way for him.

"Oh, why didn't someone come to fix it?" Ben Schaffer entered the room and changed his shoes at the entrance.

Gwen: "No one usually comes to visit."

"Then how dare you open the door if you don't know it's me?" Ben Schaffer was surprised by her weak sense of defense.

“I know it’s you. Hayden told me this morning that you would come over today.”

Gwen walked to the living room and put away the yoga mat.

“Then why were you so surprised when you saw me just now?” Ben Schaffer changed his shoes and walked to the living room to watch her clean up.

Gwen said slowly, “I’m not surprised to see you. I was stunned by the speed of your aging. The last time I saw you, I didn’t think you were so old. Why haven’t you seen you for a while, so old More.”

Ben Schaffer: “???”

–How different can he be now from three months ago?

–Why is Gwen speaking so ugly?

Gwen was mad at him on purpose.

“Why don’t you talk? Are you angry?” Gwen cleaned up the living room and turned to look at him, “You don’t look in the mirror every day, do you? You are really aging a lot, are you tired from work? Or play with women? Too much, your body is weak?”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Ben Schaffer gritted his teeth. He had chosen a gift for her carefully, but now he didn’t want to give it to her.

“What’s in this hand?” Gwen saw the bag in his hand, so she asked, “A gift?”

Ben Schaffer took a deep breath and decided not to care about her.

After all, he was ashamed of her.

He handed her the bag: “A gift for you.”

“Oh, is it compensation for a previous miscarriage?” She took the bag and took out a jewelry box from it.

No wonder Gwen said that, ordinary friend, who gave such a precious gift.

Ben Schaffer couldn't stand being stabbed by her words, "Gwen, can you talk to me? I'm very happy to see you."

Gwen: "I'm not happy to see you happy."

Ben Schaffer was left speechless by her, and lost his temper. He walked to the sofa angrily and sat down, changing the subject: "When will Hayden be back?"

Gwen: "Six, seven or eight in the evening."

Ben: "It's so late?"

"Is six o'clock too late?" Gwen put the jewelry box Open, and inside was a sparkling bracelet. She put the bracelet on, That was not bad.

"Isn't he a primary school student? Domestic primary school students leave school at five o'clock in the afternoon."

"Hayden is an ordinary primary school student but he is a genius." Gwen teased, "I'm going to the training class to study accounting, shouldn't it be too late? Wait for me to take the exam. Accountant certificate, maybe I can do better than you."

Ben Schaffer felt his face being rubbed against the ground by her.

Ben: "Gwen, do you hate me so much?"

"Don't make fun of yourself. I just don't like your sh*t and I have to ask Avery to tell me about the big things. You're not ashamed."

Ben Schaffer was beaten by her. Powerless to fight back, defeated without a fight.

At 6:30 p.m., Hayden came home from school.

"Let's eat out. I'll treat you." Ben Schaffer got up from the sofa and said to Hayden with a smile.

Hayden has no opinion.

"You guys go eat, I won't go." Gwen said lightly.

When Ben Schaffer heard her words, he immediately exploded.

“Gwen, are you so interesting? It’s just a meal, and it didn’t kill you. Are you targeting me like this?” Ben Schaffer blushed with anger, and quickly bullied his chest.

Gwen and Hayden were stunned.

Chapter 1483

Ben Schaffer’s roar was deafening.

Gwen was not so afraid of him at first, but seeing his angry look at the moment, her heart suddenly trembled.

“Uncle Schaffer, my aunt doesn’t eat heavy meal every night. She only eats fruit at night.” Hayden said, breaking the silence.

Ben Schaffer: “???”

The corners of his mouth twitched, and the blush on his face became deeper.

Finally, an embarrassed cough started.

Gwen couldn’t help but want to laugh: “Forget it, I’ll go with you.”

After going out, Ben Schaffer was too embarrassed, so he kept walking with Hayden and kept asking about Hayden’s study.

Hayden was annoyed by his questioning, so he walked to Gwen’s side.

Ben Schaffer had to walk side by side with the two of them.

“Gwen, you’re so thin and exercising now, there is no need to skip dinner. You can eat less.” Ben Schaffer finally summoned up the courage to speak to her.

Gwen: “I want to eat too, but my boss won’t let me. You go and tell my boss.”

Ben: “Who is your boss?”

Gwen: “Manager.”

“Who is your manager?” Ben Schaffer asked.

“Do you really want to find her?” Gwen raised her eyebrows and asked him,

“What does it have to do with you if I eat dinner or not?”

This question stopped Ben Schaffer. He seems to be really busy. But he just wanted to take care of her.

“Hayden, didn’t you invest in the company? You are the big boss behind the scenes. Go and tell the agent that you can’t keep your body by dieting. It’s unhealthy.”

Hayden: “I don’t care.”

Although he invested the money to open the company, he was only responsible for investing the money and nothing else.

Moreover, Gwen just didn’t eat at night, so she could eat a little for breakfast and lunch.

Gwen still does physical exercise every day, which shows that she is not so hungry.

The three went to a restaurant and sat down.

After Ben Schaffer ordered a table of dishes with the menu, he ordered a bottle of red wine with great interest.

Gwen thought he was a bit outrageous: “Are you addicted to alcohol? Would you like to find a few people to drink with you?”

Ben: “No, I’ll drink a little.”

Gwen: “You drink a little but you have ordered a bottle, why?”

“Can I still order a drink? This is not a bar.” Ben Schaffer guessed that Gwen might be distressed about the money, so he explained, “I can take the wine bottle home if I can’t finish it, and drink it when I want to drink in the future.”

Gwen: “I don’t like drinking.”

Ben: “Didn’t you drink well when you accompany you before?”

“Are you sure you want to turn your back on the old account?” Gwen raised her eyebrows, with an attitude of ‘the old lady will accompany her to the end’, which made Ben Schaffer persuade him.

“Bring back what you can’t finish drinking, you can take it to soak your feet.”

Ben Schaffer said seriously, “Maybe it can be sterilized.”

Gwen: “I think you need it more. You can buy more wine, take a bath with wine, and your whole body will be healed. All need to be sterilized.”

Ben Schaffer: “...”

Hayden sat on the side, listening to the two of them coming and going against each other, like sitting on pins and needles. Before eating, he was already half full.

Chapter 1484

Aryadelle.

In the evening.

Everyone came to the Starry River Villa with gifts to celebrate Elliot’s discharge from the hospital and also to celebrate the reconciliation between Elliot and Avery.

After Avery took two doses of medicine, the fever subsided and her head was not so dizzy.

But after Tammy came over, she still put on a mask.

Tammy was pregnant and couldn’t get sick.

Tammy said, “Avery, you must have been too tired recently. When people are too tired, they are easy to get sick. Before I got pregnant, I also caught a cold once. I also took cold medicine. I asked the doctor if the child would be sick. It will be affected. The doctor said that since the baby didn’t bleed, it means that it has no effect.”

Avery: “Well. Why didn’t you come with Jun?”

After heard this question, the calm on Tammy's face no longer existed.

"My mother-in-law was hospitalized because of my high blood pressure. Jun went to take care of him. I haven't seen him for three days, and I suspect my mother-in-law won't let him come to me."

Avery frowned, "Your mother-in-law's condition is very serious. Have you been to the hospital?"

"My mother-in-law has had high blood pressure for many years. Since I met Jun, she has been hospitalized several times. She has to stay for half a month each time. If I go to see her, not only will I not be able to comfort her, but it will only make her blood pressure even higher." Tammy laughed at herself, and continued, "I can't compromise with her. I have already decided what my child's name will be.

"Okay! what's the name?" Avery asked.

"If it's the baby boy, his name will be Enzo, or If it's the baby girl, her name will be Kara. What do you think?" Tammy was very satisfied with the name she came up with.

Avery thinks the name is good, but her mother-in-law is afraid that she will not give up.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery: "Tammy, what will you do if your mother-in-law doesn't allow Jun to be with you?"

Tammy: "I've been thinking about it these days. It's enough for me to have children, but men are not necessary. Besides, without Jun, I can still find other men. The most important person in my life is definitely not a man with no blood relationship. The most important people should be my parents, and then my children. "

Avery felt that Tammy was much more mature.

Avery: "If only my mother is still alive. I want her to be happy, but there is no chance."

"Avery, don't be sad. The things we can do are actually very limited. Don't look at how free and easy I just said. In fact Jun didn't come to me for three days, I'm very angry." Tammy pulled out a wry smile and continued, "But I can't be sad all the time because of this, it's not good for the child."

Avery: "It's good for you to think so. Be sure to take care of your own body. It will be a very happy thing to have a child born safely. It is completely different from the happiness of love."

"Yeah! Elliot is almost recovering, right? I see him holding Robert with one hand, so relaxed." Tammy looked towards Elliot.

Avery: "It should be almost the same. I told him not to hug Robert first. After all, he is still recovering, but he doesn't listen. Because Robert doesn't want Elliot but he wants to have a good relationship with Robert quickly."

Tammy: "Haha, I see it. Now, Robert's little mouth is pouting, not very happy."

Avery walked over and took Robert from Elliot's arms.

After Robert got into his mother's arms, he immediately made a 'Owow' in aggrieved, and then called out to his mother softly.

"Robert is so cute. When he grows up, he will definitely be completely different from Hayden. He will definitely be a little warm man." Tammy reached out and teased Robert's little face.

Avery said, "Because they grew up in different environments. In fact, Layla's personality was not gregarious before, but it changed a little after returning to Aryadelle."

The smile on Tammy's face disappeared.

The environment of a single parent family will definitely have a big impact on the children.

If Tammy can't resolve the conflict with her mother-in-law, her children will grow up in a single-parent family in the future.

Avery: "Tammy, you don't have to worry so much. Although Hayden is not gregarious, he is also very good. Being lively has the advantage of being lively, and being introverted has the advantage of being introverted."

Tammy was delighted, "If my child can have Hayden percent With an IQ of one, I'm going to be so happy."

At 9 p.m., everyone left one after another.

After Avery put Robert to sleep, she came to Elliot.

She stood on tiptoe, approached his face, smelled it, and then frowned: "Elliot, what's the matter with you?"

Chapter 1485

Avery smelled a strong smell of wine in his breath.

Elliot was drinking. He looked at her with slightly drunk eyes, and said frankly:

"I'm in a good mood today, and I drank a small cup."

Avery: "You only stopped taking the medicine today."

"Yes, I stopped taking the medicine today, so I drank a little." Elliot said, wrapping his arms around her waist, "I'm going to sleep with you tonight."

"Okay, you've already been drinking, why are you afraid of the cold virus?"

Avery teased him, "No one will stop you from drinking?"

Elliot looked innocent: "No. They clink glasses with me."

Avery: "..."

Elliot: "Don't be angry. The champagne I drink is not high enough."

Avery: "The alcohol is not high but it's also wine. I didn't stare at you for a while, and you started messing around. Fortunately, I didn't let you go to work."

If you were allowed to go to work, I don't know what you would be like."

Elliot looked at her angry expression, He leaned down and kissed her on the forehead.

"You've been chatting with Tammy tonight, what are you talking about?" Elliot's breath gushed on her skin, intimate and warm.

"I asked her why Jun didn't come, and she said her mother-in-law was hospitalized with high blood pressure. Do you know about this?" Avery was relieved because of his kiss.

Avery helped him and walked towards the master bedroom.

Elliot: "I also found out tonight. Jun was taking care of his mother in the hospital, so he didn't come."

Avery frowned slightly, "Tammy said that her mother-in-law might force them to separate. Do you think we can help them?"

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot said sharply, "Jun's mother wants a child, but Tammy doesn't give it. Their conflicts can't even be resolved. As outsiders, how can we help? You persuade Tammy to do the worst. she must plan to give birth to the child first."

Avery: "That's what I advised her. Tammy really wants to give birth to this child, so she should be able to think about it."

Elliot: "Well."

The two returned to the master bedroom, and Avery helped Elliot to sit on the sofa.

Avery: "You take off your clothes, I'll go get the water."

Elliot fractured his left leg and is still splinted, so he can't take a bath or shower.

"Avery, have you watched the news online?" Elliot unbuttoned his shirt one by one.

Avery responded: "I took a look when I woke up during the day. Are you trying to say that you were secretly photographed when you were discharged from the hospital? You look a little haggard in the photo. Why was your expression so serious at that time? "

"Because I didn't see you, I was a little confused." Elliot explained.

"Haha, I wanted to call you this morning, but I was so dizzy at the time that I fell asleep after taking the medicine." Avery smiled and admitted her mistake, "The netizens look at me too highly, how dare I Break your legs? Even if you marry a hundred wives, I wouldn't dare."

Listening to her teasing, Elliot stopped when he took off his clothes: "One hundred wives, do you want me to die in bed?"

Avery: "Yeah, isn't that easier than breaking your leg?"

"Avery, do you care about me and Rebecca?" Elliot asked, looking at her figure in the bathroom.

Avery came out with the water basin, "Can you believe me if I say I don't care? If I go to get a license with a man, but I don't have a relationship, you can't stand it. A child came out. Elliot, you asked me this question, do you want me to comfort you in return?"

Elliot threw the shirt he took off on the ground, and pulled the belt buckle off with his fingers.

"I'm not wronged, I don't need comfort. I want to comfort you, but I don't know how." Elliot pulled out the belt and put it aside.

Avery put the water basin on the table, then walked up to him and took off his pants.

The trousers Elliot wore were looser, so it was easier to take them off.

Avery: "Just be careful when taking off your left leg."

Avery said lightly, "You better stop comforting me. The more you comfort me, the more cranky I am. people need to be content. Elliot, I am very happy when you are by my side now. Just don't think about Rebecca and that child."

Elliot: "Then don't think about it."

"Yeah." After taking off his pants, Avery picked up the shirt he threw on the ground and put it in the laundry basket.

.....

Bridgedale.

The sun rose slowly from the east.

Chapter 1486

The sun shines through the window and falls into the huge living room.

On the sofa, a man and a woman hugged each other and slept soundly.

Suddenly, a rapid and harsh ringtone came from the mobile phone.

Gwen opened her eyes first.

It was her phone that rang.

Gwen wanted to reach out to find the phone, but her arm was bound by something, so she couldn't move.

She opened her eyes immediately, and after seeing what was restraining her, she immediately raised her feet and kicked Ben Schaffer off the sofa.

"Ah!" Ben Schaffer exclaimed, then opened his eyes.

"You old hooligan!" Gwen jumped off the sofa and scolded Ben Schaffer, "Think about what happened last night."

Ben Schaffer was blank and forgot about the pain.

Last night, he invited Hayden Gwen to dinner.

He ordered a bottle of wine and drank it alone.

Hayden ate children's meals, Gwen ate fruit salad. Ben was boring to drink alone, but he didn't want to end the dinner so quickly, he could only drink one cup after another... In the end, he was drunk.

He couldn't remember what happened after he was drunk.

"Gwen, can't you? I drank too much last night, it's impossible for you." Ben Schaffer smelled an odor that didn't belong to him, so he raised his arm and smelled it. .

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

It seems to be Gwen's breath.

"You old hooligan, you drank too much last night and kept holding me and refused to let go. Hayden almost called the police, if I hadn't stopped him. You should be in the detention center now."

Ben Schaffer was shocked: "Is Hayden so heartless?"

"Isn't the point that you are playing a hooligan to me?" Gwen was so angry that she ignored the phone call.

"Okay, sorry. I drank too much last night. How did I get back?" Ben rubbed his aching temples.

Gwen: "I hired two big men to drag you back."

Ben Schaffer: "..."

Seeing that Ben really didn't remember anything, Gwen didn't bother him.

Gwen picked up her phone, saw the missed call from her agent, and called back immediately.

After calling, she immediately went to the bathroom to wash her face and was ready to go out.

"Are you going out? I'll take you off." Ben followed to the bathroom with a smell of alcohol.

Gwen: "No need. I'll go to the company myself."

“I just want to see your company. After I deliver you, I’ll go to the airport. I’ll go home with my ticket today.” Ben apologized to her again, “Gwen, I’m sorry.

Next time I meet you, I won’t drink anymore.”

Gwen listened to his sincere tone and sneered: “You better bless me not to be famous, otherwise we will definitely not have the chance to meet next time.”

Ben: “Why? Are you going to leave the earth when you are famous?”

Gwen: “I am famous, and ordinary people want to spend money when they see me.”

Ben: “Then I don’t need to spend money.”

Gwen: “...”

Aryadelle.

Wonder Technologies.

The assistant pushed open the door of Wanda’s office.

“Ms. Tate, there is some exciting news, do you want to hear it?”

Wanda glared at the assistant.

The assistant immediately came to her ear and whispered, “A female cleaner in our company told people everywhere that she was Elliot’s biological mother.”

Chapter 1487

Elliot’s biological mother?

Wanda was stunned for a moment.

Elliot is not a member of the Foster family, and this incident had already started.

His biological father, Nathan, had already been executed.

Nothing about his birth mother has ever been reported online.

“Bring that woman, I’ll take a look.” Wanda said to the assistant.

The assistant smiled and said, "I knew you were definitely interested. I'll call the head of logistics and ask him to bring her."

After two seconds of silence, Wanda confessed, "Keep quiet about this matter."

"Okay! Don't worry." The assistant said and went out to make a phone call.

Star River Villa.

Elliot has a cold fever today.

Avery thought that Elliot had infected, but she thought it was caused by his drinking last night.

"How can drinking cause a cold?" Avery was much better today, but seeing Elliot's ill appearance, she blamed herself, "I infected you."

Elliot: "It's okay, I don't blame you."

"It's useless for you to blame me. I don't dislike you. I'll sleep with you tonight."

Avery went to get him cold medicine, "Don't hold Robert today. The child will be much more troublesome if he has a cold."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"Well. I try not to go out of the room." Elliot was afraid that when he saw

Robert, he couldn't help but want to get close to him. "Have you noticed that Robert is getting cuter the more he looks?"

Avery handed Elliot a cup of warm water and handed him the pills again:

"Robert is very cute. So you get better soon and bring more children. This way I can go to work too."

Elliot frowned, "Aren't you going to accompany me to work from home? You let me home alone?"

"You want to keep your legs. I don't need them." Avery pushed his hand holding the pills, "You take the pills first."

Elliot put the pills in his mouth, took a sip of water and swallowed them.

Avery took the empty water glass from him and put it on the table.

Avery: "For a hundred days, you have to wait for your legs to be completely healed before you can go to work. I counted the time and waited for your legs to recover, and it will be the end of the year."

Elliot: "I know, I can rest at home. But Why don't you accompany me?"

"Didn't you have children to accompany you? If I was at home, I would not be able to work well." Avery explained to him patiently, "I took your investment, and I can't let you lose money."

Elliot chuckled softly: "You think so?"

Avery: "Yeah! No matter who puts money in, I'll always think that way."

"Mike came to me a few days ago and said I was too much for you. He blamed me for not being able to. I want your shares." Elliot looked at her gently and wanted to know her reaction.

Avery couldn't help laughing: "I understand Mike's thoughts. In his eyes, I'm not a human being, but a god. So it's normal for all unreasonable and unimaginable things to happen to me. If you invest money, you don't want shares. I would rather choose to let the company go out of business."

"Do you want to know what I think?" Elliot asked.

"I know what you think." Avery eyes were clear, and her tone was firm, "Elliot, we have known each other for so many years. Although we have been on and off a few times, I am confident that I know you."

Avery replied, Elliot felt very satisfied. He was not afraid of being guessed by her.

Elliot's just afraid that Avery doesn't understand.

"As long as you stay by my side and be my wife, what's yours is yours, and what's mine is also yours." Elliot expressed his heart to her.

“What’s yours and mine, I don’t care about that at all.” Avery smiled and reached out to touch the temperature of his forehead. “Fortunately, there is no fever. You lie down and rest today. The more rest you have, the faster your recovery will be.”

“You go out today?” Elliot took her hand, not wanting her to go away.

“I won’t go out this morning. There are activities at Layla’s school in the afternoon, so I have to go out in the afternoon.” Avery pulled the quilt up to cover him, “Do you want anything to eat? I’ll bring it back to you in the afternoon.”

Elliot: “No appetite. You come back early in the afternoon.”

Seeing his lack of energy, Avery suddenly didn’t want to go out.

Avery: “I’ll let Mike go to Layla’s school activities.”

“If you agree to Layla, then you should go. I’m not feeling well right now, I should be able to sleep better later.” Elliot afraid that his daughter will be disappointed if he doesn’t go.

Avery exited the room after he closed her eyes.

Chapter 1488

Avery rubbed her eyebrows, then opened her eyes and looked out the window.

The scenery outside the window kept moving backwards, and she could clearly see the tall buildings, flower beds, and the continuous flow of traffic outside.

–Could it be the reason for not having a good rest recently?

–The last time this happened to her was before the surgery in Yonroeville.

–However, after she was discharged from the hospital, she underwent a reexamination, and the results of the re-examination were no problem.

–May be too tired recently.

Now that she and Elliot have also received the certificate, the stone hanging in her heart has fallen, and she should adjust her state well.

Maybe after a few days of rest, the body will return to normal.

The car quickly drove to the Starry River Villa.

When Avery got home, Robert was playing with toys in the living room, and Elliot was taking a lunch break.

Mrs. Cooper asked her to go back to her room to rest, but she was not sleepy.

“She came here today and brought a gift. It was said that Gwen spent a month’s salary to buy it for you.” Mrs. Cooper said, “Gwen is quite attentive.”

Avery was very surprised: “It’s not easy for Gwen to make some money. How can I be embarrassed to spend so much money to buy me a gift.”

“Just give her a gift. She is willing to buy you a gift because of her heart. If you refuse, she will be sad.” Mrs. Cooper laughed.

Avery: “Yeah.”

Mrs. Cooper: “She only brought gifts for you, not for your husband.”

Avery: “The two brother and sister haven’t met. Elliot didn’t say that he wanted to recognize this sister. Gwen is not the kind of flattering person.”

Mrs. Cooper: “I see. Whoever treats her well will treat her well.”

Avery: “Well, where is the gift?”

Mrs. Cooper: “Mr. Foster was afraid that Robert would take it, so he took it back to the bedroom.” After Mrs. Cooper finished speaking, Avery walked towards the bedroom. .

When Avery entered the room, there was not much movement, but Elliot opened his eyes.

“Did I wake you up?” Avery rushed to the bed.

“No.” Elliot sat up and asked worriedly, “What time is it?”

“It’s almost three o’clock.” Avery dialed his forehead messily, “I heard that Gwen bought me a gift.”

“Well, that powder box is.” Elliot said.

Avery looked at the bedside table and picked up the pink box. She opened the box, saw the necklace inside, and smiled, “She has a good eye for gifts. This style is so beautiful.”

“How about Tammy?” Elliot changed the subject.

Avery shook her head: “Not very good. I called Jun, and Jun was heartbroken. The two of them are a bit like the two of us before. No one wants to bow their heads, and everyone thinks they are in control.”

Elliot: “Don’t you make up now?”

“Elliot, do you have any cracks in your heart?” Avery held the box in her hand and looked at him softly, “We used to quarrel all the time, and quarrels hurt our feelings a lot.”

“Is there a crack?” Elliot asked.

Avery smiled and shook her head: “I don’t think there are any cracks. Every time we reconcile, there is a feeling of forgetting the pain after healing. Are you the same as me?”

Elliot looked at her smile and said what was in his heart, “No matter how angry you make me, as long as you come to me, I will rekindle my confidence.”

His answer warmed her heart.

Avery hugged him, breathing the familiar breath on his body, her eyelids darkened a little.

“Are you sleepy?” Elliot said in a hoarse voice, “Go to sleep. I’ll call you in an hour.”

Avery: “It suddenly got dark in front of me, guess what I was thinking at the time?”

Elliot looked her in the eyes: “Why is this happening? Is there a possible disease?”

Avery: “I thought so too. I suspected I had an incurable disease, and then imagined that after I died, you might find a new wife soon and think of our children, who may be abused by the stepmother.”

Chapter 1489

Elliot was speechless.

“I don’t feel any discomfort, I’m probably just too tired.” Avery rubbed her eyes, “I’m asleep.”

“Well.” Elliot sat beside the bed Walk.

He didn’t leave the room until Avery was breathing evenly.

When he came to the living room, Robert glanced at him.

“Son, do you feel bored when you play at home every day?” Elliot walked over to his son and chatted with him, “Do you want to go to the morning class?”

Robert couldn’t understand, so he looked confused.

Mrs. Cooper said, “Sir, why don’t you wait until Robert’s first birthday to send him to the early education class. He’s a bit boring at home alone. There are no children of the same age to play with.”

Elliot: “I’ll discuss it with Avery then.”

Mrs. Cooper said, “Avery didn’t mention the early childhood classes. I think it’s better for the child to stay at home. I took Robert to play in the community before, and I heard from a mother-in-law that my grandson went to kindergarten and fell ill every day. I never get sick, but when I go to school, I get sick.”

Elliot was stunned for a moment: “Then I won’t send Robert to the early childhood class.”

His original intention was to let his son play with children of the same age, so that he would have more fun.

Mrs. Cooper said, "Sir, look at Robert, I'll go to the kitchen to see the soup."

After speaking, Mrs. Cooper walked towards the kitchen.

Robert immediately hugged the toy and followed Mrs. Cooper towards the kitchen.

"Baby, what are you doing in the kitchen? Dad wants to play with you." Elliot hurriedly chased after him and picked Robert up, "Dad, will you show you the pictures of your mother and sister? And the picture of your brother... ..You haven't seen your brother for a long time, we will bring him back when you have your first birthday."

Elliot turned on the phone, and Robert was immediately attracted by the screen.

He smoothly carried Robert to the sofa and sat down, and the father and son began to look at the photos and videos on the phone.

The photos and videos on his phone were copied from the cloud drive, and they were all taken several months ago.

"This is a photo of you when you were born. Isn't it a small one... You were sick at that time, and you were taken to the incubator when you were born." Elliot looked at the photo of Robert living in the incubator, the memories of the past flooded in his mind.

Robert looked at the photo on the screen with a serious face.

Elliot looked at his serious little face, and couldn't help but kissed him on the cheek: "Robert, fortunately you're fine. When you grow up, you must be filial to Aunt Shea."

Robert stretched out her finger, He swiped on the screen of his mobile phone, and the photo immediately flipped to the next one.

“Who taught you to turn pages?” Elliot didn’t expect his son to play with his phone, “Did your sister teach you?”

Robert focused on the photos on the phone and didn’t answer.

Suddenly, a notification message popped up in the notification bar of the mobile phone.

–Rebecca asked to add you as a friend.

Seeing the word ‘Rebecca’, Elliot frowned.

Rebecca?

How could she have his facebook ID?

What is she looking for him for?

Thinking of this, he tapped the notification bar information.

Just when he was about to reject Rebecca’s friend request, the verification message she sent came into view.

–Elliot, I saw our child today. I think she looks a lot like Layla.

Elliot’s finger was above the reject button, but he couldn’t touch it. Layla’s little face suddenly appeared in his mind.

He wanted to see if this kid really looked like Layla.

Chapter 1490

In fact, Elliot was more surprised.

It stands to reason that even if he and Rebecca really have a daughter, this child can’t be like Layla.

Because Layla’s facial features are more like Avery.

After agreeing to Rebecca’s friend addition request, Elliot looked at the screen of his phone, waiting for Rebecca to send a photo.

He looked at the word ‘typing...’ next to the word Rebecca, and his heart beat faster.

Unpredictable, Robert stretched out his little hand and slapped his phone sharply.

The phone suddenly fell to the ground.

Robert wanted to see the photo, but Elliot didn't show him the photo anymore, he was angry.

After photographing the phone on the ground, the little guy snorted angrily and struggled to get down.

Elliot held him with one hand and picked up the phone with the other.

"Dad shows you the photo, don't be angry." Elliot whispered, "You little guy, how can you be so angry. Your mother is not so fierce."

Robert seemed to hear that this was not a good thing, so he hummed again.

Elliot picked up the phone and reopened the photo album, Robert was quiet.

At this time, Facebook reminded that three new messages were received.

But Elliot didn't dare to open it immediately.

After a while, Mrs. Cooper came over with two bowls of soup.

"Sir, the soup is ready, you and Robert will try it first." Mrs. Cooper put the soup on the table.

Seeing Mrs. Cooper, Robert immediately slipped off the sofa and walked to Mrs. Cooper.

Elliot smiled and said, "Robert didn't recognize people before. Now he knows how to pick people."

"It means that Robert has grown up." Mrs. Cooper carried Robert into the children's dining chair and sat down, feeding him soup.

Elliot opened facebook and saw the message from Rebecca.

He clicked on the color doppler photo sent by Rebecca.

Now the child is still relatively young, and the facial features are not fully developed, so at first glance, it is like looking at a little monkey.

Elliot frowned, puzzled, how could this little monkey-like thing be like his lively and lovely little princess Layla?

Rebecca did nothing to add him to facebook.

Elliot glanced at the text she sent –

‘Elliot, the child is still relatively young, so he can’t see clearly. But if you look closely, you can see that the child is more like Layla. ‘

‘Elliot, please don’t delete me, okay? In another month, I can send you clear pictures of the child. I promise not to disturb you. I just want to show you the baby. ‘

Because Elliot didn’t reply, Rebecca sent another message later – I had a hunch that the baby was a girl.

Elliot likes girls very much.

Because of Layla, he has no resistance to girls at all.

But he just has no resistance to himself and Avery’s children, and doesn’t care about other people’s children, as well as his own and other people’s children.

He clicked Rebecca’s avatar, and then clicked the three dots next to her, ready to delete her.

At this time, she sent two more messages.

–[Picture]

–Here’s a comparison of Layla I made with our baby, it’s really a bit similar.

Elliot took a deep breath, returned to the chat interface, and clicked on the comparison picture sent by Rebecca.

If he looks at the ultrasound image alone, he can’t see any resemblance between this little thing and Layla.

When Avery finished speaking, the audience roared with applause. She took her daughter off the stage.

“Mom, you said it well.” Layla looked at her with admiration.

Avery smiled: “When your dad’s legs are healed, let him participate in this kind of activity. Guarantee he can speak better than mom.”

“I don’t want dad to come.” Layla puffed her cheeks, “My teacher knows that. Dad has a wife outside. He came to ask me specifically. I feel ashamed.”

Avery: “Layla, don’t think like that. Everything your dad did before was out of his own hands.”

Layla: “Then I don’t want him either. Just let him take his brother at home.

Avery: “Your father has to go to work after his legs are healed. He can’t stay at home all the time.”

After the event, Layla wanted Avery to take her outside for a while. But Avery didn’t agree.

Avery: “Your father is sick today, and he told us to go back early after the event.”

Layla: “Is he a baby? He needs someone to accompany him when he is sick.”

“He is not yet healed, so let’s treat him as a baby for the time being.” Avery took her daughter into the car.

.....

Weekend.

Eric came over to visit Avery and Elliot, and at the same time he also took Layla to an event.

“Eric, I went to Layla’s school on Friday to watch Layla dance. She has made great progress. I have to thank you for all this.” Avery sincerely thanked her.

“It’s Layla’s talent, it has nothing to do with me.” Eric’s eyes passed over Elliot, and he said lightly, "Elliot has two wives, you can also consider finding another husband."

As soon as these words came out, the calm living room suddenly became turbulent.

Elliot originally sat quietly on the sofa and listened to them, but Eric was arrogant and rude.

He dared to encourage Avery to find two husbands. He didn't take himself seriously at all.

Not only that, Elliot thought Eric wanted Avery to find him as her second husband.

With a 'teng', Elliot stood up from the sofa.

Elliot didn't use a cane because he was so angry that he forgot that he was lame now.

Seeing that the situation was wrong, Avery immediately pushed Eric out of the door: "Take Layla away first."

Eric didn't want to make it difficult for Avery, so he took Layla and walked out the door.

"Avery, why are you afraid of Elliot? It's Elliot who did the wrong thing to you first. You can do the same to let him feel your mood." Eric's voice was not lowered deliberately, so Elliot could hear it clearly.

Elliot's face was gloomy and cold, with sharp eyes like hawks, staring at Eric's direction.

Avery don't know what she said to Eric. Eric took Layla and left quickly.

After Eric left, Elliot sat back on the sofa again.

Avery walked over to Elliot and sat down. Her face was slightly red, and the corner of her mouth was smiling: "are you so angry?"

“Eric meant you to find a second husband, but he actually asked you to find him as your second husband. ” Elliot translated Eric’s words.

Avery smiled and said, Eric said his opinion, but I won’t accept his opinion.”

“Why do I listen to your tone? It’s a bit regretful?” Elliot looked at her face, and his tone was sour.

“Are you jealous? I think it’s time to beat you up so you don’t swell.” Avery looked at him proudly, “Although there are many women who like you, I also have many admirers.”

Chapter 1492

“I’m just afraid I can’t compare to you.” Elliot touted her, “You are young and beautiful, and more importantly, you are outstanding in ability. No matter what you do, you are the best in the industry. Unlike me, half of your feet are already in the coffin.”

Avery was speechless.

Whether Elliot was complimenting her, or mocking her with self-mockery, Avery couldn’t tell.

Avery: “Your IQ has improved a lot!”

“There is no IQ. Every word I say is from the bottom of my heart.” Elliot had a frank face.

“Oh, why didn’t I know you had half your foot in the coffin?” Avery said, raising his right leg to take a look.

Elliot took her hands away and put her legs away.

“Layla said it this morning.” Elliot said with a bit of sadness, “she came to ask me what it meant to put my foot in the coffin. I said this to describe someone getting old and she said, Dad, did you step into the coffin with half of your foot?"

Avery's tears came out of her smile.

Avery: "Elliot, don't blame Layla."

Elliot: "I don't blame her. I just hate Eric."

Avery: "Don't blame Eric. He just said it casually."

Elliot: "He's obviously trying to test your bottom line and get mad at me at the same time."

"But I won't listen to him." Avery rested her head on his shoulder, overjoyed, "It's been a long time since I saw you jealous, it feels so good."

Elliot put her hand on her, raised her face and looked at her: "It feels good to see me angry?"

"When I was in Yonroeville, I was as angry as you are now every day. Even more angry than you are now." Avery turned her head again leaning on his shoulder.

"I'm sorry." After Elliot calmed down, he reflected on himself, "Did you get angry with me when you had a tumor in your head?"

Avery immediately raised her head and smiled, "How could you have such great magic power. And the tumor also. It doesn't grow in a day or two. The disease develops to a certain extent and it is accumulated over time."

Elliot: "I used to make you angry too."

Avery: "Well, since you insist on saying that my illness is caused by you, then don't make me angry in the future."

Chapter 1493

"Well. I won't leave you and the child in the future." Elliot has tossed enough.

"Retractor." Avery held out her little finger childishly.

Elliot froze for a moment, then pulled the hook with her.

“Husband, when are we going to get the marriage certificate?” Avery said, changing the topic in a relaxed manner.

Elliot: “How was Monday?”

“Okay.” Avery didn’t want to drag it on.

When Avery was in Yonroeville before, Rebecca reminded her more than once that they were legal couples only if they got a certificate, not only if they had a wedding. So Avery was obsessed with the marriage certificate.

In the hospital.

After Mrs. Hertz was hospitalized with high blood pressure, Jun has been taking care of him in the hospital.

This is the first time Mrs. Hertz has asked her son to take care of himself at the bedside.

Mrs. Hertz had been hospitalized several times before, and every time she asked him to work hard, so as not to be affected by her illness.

And this time, she was admitted to the hospital by Tammy. If this matter is not resolved, she will not be able to swallow the anger in her heart.

“Mom, the doctor called me just now, and he said that your blood pressure has not been able to go down He asked me to persuade you to adjust your mood and always be happy. Otherwise, the blood pressure will not be lowered, which is not good for the body.”

Mrs. Hertz sneered: “I don’t want to be angry, do you think I want to die?”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Jun: “Mom, that’s not what I meant.”

Mrs. Hertz”Yes, Tammy doesn’t listen to me, I can understand. After all, she is not my daughter. I have nothing to be angry with her, but you are my son and you have to listen to me.”

“Didn’t I take care of you in the hospital? I haven’t contacted Tammy for almost a week.” Jun was upset, but he didn’t dare to show it.

Mrs. Hertz sneered, “What else do you have to contact? When you said good things at the beginning, she said that they would change. Tammy didn’t take our Hertz family seriously at all. I think all this is her plan. I’m asking you to borrow a sperm to continue the incense for their Lynch family.”

Jun sighed helplessly: “Mom, if you think so, then so be it. Anyway, Tammy is pregnant with my child now.”

Mrs. Hertz: “What’s so strange about pregnancy. Any woman on the road can be pregnant with your child. If you are healthy, you can have a baby with anyone.”

Jun: “...”

After a while, the door of the ward was pushed open.

Seeing the person coming, Mrs. Hertz immediately said enthusiastically: “Jun, this is Mrs. Cooper I told you just now.”

Jun immediately greeted Mrs. Cooper.

Two hours later, this matter reached Tammy’s ears.

Tammy’s calm heart was suddenly turbulent and rushed!

Jun actually had a blind date with a young woman in the ward behind her back.

Absolutely!

O Monday.

Avery and Elliot dressed up and went out to the Civil Affairs Bureau.

After getting in the car, Avery suddenly asked, “Have you brought all the documents?”

Avery: “I’ll check online.”

“No need to check.” Elliot held her little hand, “Even if we don’t bring our documents today, even if the sky falls, we can get our certificates.”

Chapter 1494

Avery opened her bag, glanced at the documents of the two, and breathed a sigh of relief: "I have all the documents. When the sky falls, the genius will not fall."

Elliot: "Why did we not get the certificate until today?"

Avery was stunned for a moment: "If you didn't go to Yonroeville at that time, we planned to get the certificate after the wedding."

Elliot: "That's too late. Hayden and Layla are both eight years old."

"To be precise, there are Eight and a half." Avery corrected him.

Elliot: "You didn't want to get a certificate from me before, so you don't believe me."

Avery thought about this question carefully, and then said: "I think it is very troublesome to go through the formalities. Marriage and divorce are very troublesome. If we have a good relationship, but it doesn't matter whether you have that marriage certificate or not."

Elliot: "But this time it was you who asked for the certificate."

Avery was embarrassed: "Can you not break the stage?"

Elliot: "I just want to know your mental journey."

"My mental journey is very simple. When I don't want to get the certificate from you, I won't get it, but if I want to get it, I will get it." Avery was succinct, with a hint of domineering in her tone, "What's your opinion?"

"No opinion. You want to do it. You can do whatever you want and live as you want, that's fine." Elliot smiled.

Elliot was in a good mood when he got the certificate today.

Avery was also in a good mood.

It seemed like they had waited so long for this moment.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“Actually, getting the certificate doesn’t mean anything.” Avery sighed suddenly, “Look, Tammy and Jun have also obtained the certificate, but they are having a lot of trouble now. Tammy told me that Jun was going on a blind date with another woman in the ward. “

Elliot: “Are you sure this news is true?”

Avery: “I’m not in the ward, how do I know if it’s true. It was Tammy who told me.”

Elliot said, “Jun shouldn’t do such a thing. He really wanted to start a new life with another woman, so there’s no need to hide in the hospital for a blind date.”

“But Tammy has already gone to the hospital and slapped Jun.” When Avery said this, Elliot was very worried about the next development of the two of them.

It should have been a happy thing that Tammy was pregnant, but the two ended up fighting against each other.

“Does Tammy tend to be violent?” Elliot frowned slightly, “Tammy hit it right, but not once or twice this time.”

Avery also felt that it was not very good to do it, but everyone’s temper was different.

Avery: “Tammy is pregnant now, and it’s easier to lose control of her emotions.”

Elliot: “It’s just a matter of understanding.”

“Well. Tammy told me to leave it alone, saying that she had given up.” Avery wanted to control it, but couldn’t.

Emotions are a matter of two people, and outsiders can’t do anything at all.

Avery: “I’ll get the certificate later, you go home first. I’ll go see Tammy.”

“Okay. You make her less excited. It’s time to change her hot temper.

Otherwise, when the child is born, I'm worried about the child. I can't stand it."

Elliot reminded.

Avery: "You're very welcome. Even if Tammy can't take the child, her mother and nanny will help. The child will definitely be well taken care of. Now I'm just worried that Tammy can't think of it."

Tammy always showed a fiery look that she was not afraid of anyone, but in fact she was very sensitive and fragile inside.

Civil Affairs Bureau.

Before filling out the form, the two went to the nearby photo studio to take a registration photo.

This was a very simple photo studio, it won't help with p-picture beautification, and the fee is very cheap.

After the photo was taken, the boss said, "You two really look like husband and wife." Avery took the photo and glanced at it: "Is there any?"

"Yes, you meet every day, you can't see it yourself." The boss handed them the cropped photo, "$10, scan the code or cash?"

Just when Avery was about to scan the code, Elliot put a $100 bill. Hand it to the boss: "No need to look for it."

Avery was stunned for a moment.

In the boss's thanks, Elliot pulled Avery to fill out the form.

Chapter 1495

"Just because the boss said that we have a husband and wife relationship, so you give people $90 more?" Avery teased him.

Elliot: "Today is our big day. It's not too much to give a little red envelope, right?"

"It's not too much, but with so many staff in the Civil Affairs Bureau, do you want to give everyone a red envelope?” Avery didn’t care about the money, she just thought Elliot behavior, a bit pompous.

“I brought candy.” Elliot turned back and glanced at the bodyguard.

The bodyguard was carrying a black bag in his hand.

Avery didn’t know that he prepared wedding candy in advance. So she walked up to the bodyguard and opened the bag, which was full of candy.

“Elliot, you are really thoughtful. Then, do you want to send candy to your company’s employees?” Avery walked over to him and took his arm.

Elliot: “When we had our wedding before, we sent happy candy to the staff.”

Avery: “Oh, I remembered. In fact, our wedding was only two months ago, but it feels like a long time has passed.”

“Well.” Elliot took the form from the staff and handed Avery a copy.

Avery suddenly remembered something, and immediately asked the staff: “I am remarried with him, is the procedure the same as the first time I got the certificate?”

The staff nodded: “Yes. Fill in the application form too.”

“Okay.” Avery was relieved. She didn’t do it in person for the first time, so today was the first time in her life for her.

She was inevitably nervous, always worried about what went wrong.

After filling out the form, Avery brought Elliot form over and checked it.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

After checking it was correct, Avery handed the two forms to the staff.

Avery: “Husband, are you nervous?”

Elliot explained, “It’s okay. I was even more nervous during the wedding. At the wedding, we were all acquaintances. Now, no one knows us here.”

The staff said with a smile, “Mr. Foster, you don’t know us, but we both know you and Ms. Tate. As soon as you came in, we all recognized you.”

Elliot: “...”

Avery looked at his flushed face and laughed.

Soon, two freshly-baked marriage certificates were handed to them.

“Didn’t you say you were going to find Tammy? I’ll take the marriage certificate back and keep it.” Elliot took the marriage certificate from her hand.

Avery: “Well, let’s have a celebratory meal when I go back in the evening.”

Elliot: “Okay.”

After the two got into the car, the driver sent Avery to Lynch’s house first.

After Avery got off the car, the driver drove the car to the Starry River Villa.

Elliot held two marriage certificates in his hand and was very emotional. He opened the marriage certificate and looked at their group photo, stunned.

He rarely shares moments of life in the circle of friends, but at this moment, he couldn’t help taking out his mobile phone and took a photo of the two marriage certificates.

He uploaded the photo and attached the text: I only have one wife, and she is Avery.

He pressed the release button, then opened the window and let the air blow.

After a few minutes, he picked up his phone and saw the news just posted, and there were countless likes.

Ben Schaffer Comments: [Come back soon, I’ll be waiting for you at your wife’s house.]

Elliot replied: [Have you returned to Aryadelle?]

Ben Schaffer: [Yes! I came out of the airport and went straight to your wife’s house.]

Elliot: [Is there something wrong?]

Ben Schaffer: [After we met, I'll say.]

Chapter 1496

Starry River Villa.

When Elliot came back, Ben Schaffer was holding Robert and had a good time.

Elliot was greatly stimulated: "My son is so familiar with you?"

"I often come to see him. Of course he is familiar with me." Ben Schaffer saw that Elliot came back alone, so he asked, "Where is Avery? Gwen asked me to brought her a gift."

Elliot sat down on the sofa, said, "Avery went to see Tammy. Did Jun tell you anything?"

"No. The two of them quarreled again? It's about the child's name? I think they are in a hurry, the baby hasn't been born yet. It's not too late to quarrel after the birth."

Mrs. Cooper came over and carried Robert away.

Elliot handed the marriage certificate to Mrs. Cooper: "Take it and put it in the drawer of my study room."

Mrs. Cooper took the marriage certificate and carried Robert to the study room.

Ben Schaffer put the gift. Gwen asked him to bring back to Avery and put it into Elliot's hand: "Open it and see."

"What's there to see?" Elliot put the box on the table.

"This gift cost of a month's salary of Gwen." Ben Schaffer squinted his fox eyes, "Gwen said that the person she is most grateful for is Avery, so she bought this gift and asked me to bring it back. She is very kind. Reported."

Hearing that, Elliot picked up the box and opened it – there was a necklace inside, the price should not be expensive, but the style should be Avery's favorite.

Elliot closed the box and put it on the table.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Ben Schaffer said, "You haven't met Gwen, have you? She is quite different now. I think you can try to get to know her."

Elliot glanced at him: "You like her? She also likes you, I have no problem."

Ben Schaffer: "Elliot, which eye do you see that I like her?"

Elliot: "As soon as I entered the door, you started to mention her. If you don't like her, don't keep saying it in front of me."

Ben Schaffer sighed: "I didn't think about her in that way, but I've always dreamed to her in these two days. Do you think something is wrong with me? I feel scared myself."

Hearing what Ben said, Elliot immediately moved a little distance from him:

"Don't you want me to come forward?"

Ben Schaffer immediately denied: "Am I that low? If I decide to chase her, I'll definitely do it myself."

"Good luck." Elliot could already see that he was interested in Gwen because of his eyes and tone, The performance is particularly obvious.

Ben said, "I'm old now, and since she's your sister, I don't dare to mess around. Before I'm sure I can be responsible for her, I won't act rashly."

Elliot said, "If you always think she's my sister. Take it to heart, I'm afraid you won't chase her in your life. If you want to chase after her, I won't laugh at you."

Ben Schaffer blushed slightly: "Will Avery laugh at me?"

Elliot: "When she comes back, ask her."

Ben: "Forget it. I'll ask casually."

"It's not unreasonable that you are single now. You don't go after the woman you like, are you waiting for God to arrange a ready-made wife for you?" Elliot picked up the water glass and took a sip.

Ben: "Didn't you just get your license today and ended your single life? As for insinuating and cynicism at me? If I want to get married, it will only take a few minutes.”

Elliot: “Then go get one now.”

Ben: “Let’s go back to sleep.”

If Ben Schaffer wanted to do it, he would have done it long ago.

After Ben Schaffer left, Elliot picked up the box on the table and walked towards the master bedroom.

.....

Lynch family.

Tammy’s mental state is similar to what she usually looks like. She also has a good appetite.

Chapter 1497

After Avery came over, she peeled at least a pound of pistachios and ate it.

Avery: “Tammy, don’t eat it. Although you won’t get angry if you eat too many nuts, your stomach will feel uncomfortable.”

“Oh...my mother told me to eat more nuts and said that it will nourish the brain for the child.” Tammy wiped her hands with a damp towel.

Avery said, “Nourishing food should be in moderation. Otherwise, the body cannot digest it, and it will have the opposite effect.”

Tammy thought thoughtfully: “It’s like the relationship between two people. It’s too good but not good. Because when we quarrel, it will be more intense than ordinary people.”

“How are you and him now?” Avery said carefully .

“No contact. Calm down first. Let’s wait until the child is born.” Tammy smiled bitterly, “Maybe Jun will have a new love and a child by then.”

Avery: “It’s not like that.”

"I believe. A man might as well believe in himself." Tammy took a sip of water and continued, "I still won't give you any bitterness. You just got your certificate today, congratulations on your hard work. I'll be fine with Jun in the future, and stop doubting each other. Judging from the few quarrels with Jun, the quarrels are very emotional."

Avery: "I understand the truth, but sometimes some things happen, people don't know what to do."

"Avery, you said my heart is broken. Every time I lose my temper with Jun. I feel even more uncomfortable. But if I don't have it, I feel like I'm going to suffocate." Tammy threw herself into her arms and complained, "It was planned that I would have an obstetric check-up in the future. Jun accompanies me. But I don't dare to contact him at all."

Avery: "Should I give him a call?"

Tammy: "No need. Let's solve the matter between me and him. I've done the worst. No matter what, I still have a baby in my stomach."

After a while, Tammy felt sleepy and went back to her room to sleep.

When Avery was about to leave, Mary took her hand and prayed, "Avery, give Jun a call. Even if Jun wants to find a new love or divorce Tammy, she will wait until Tammy is finished giving birth. Let's talk about the child. If he makes any noise now, Tammy will definitely be in pain."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery: "Okay auntie, I'll call him later."

On the way back, Avery dialed Jun.

Jun answered the phone quickly.

"Jun, are you taking care of your mother in the hospital now?" Avery asked.

"No, I'm resting at home now." After Jun was slapped by Tammy, the fingerprints on his face made him unable to see anyone. So he could only stay at home and waited for the injury to recover.

Avery: "I went to see Tammy just now. Auntie asked me to tell you that if you want to get a divorce or find a new girlfriend, wait until Tammy gives birth to a child."

Jun was silent for a moment.

Avery was a little cold: "Do you really want to divorce Tammy?"

"If Brother Elliot always slaps you, do you still want to live with him?" Jun asked.

Avery was silent.

"What you said just now, I will do it. Don't say anything else."

"Okay."

Jun: "I saw Brother Elliot's circle of friends, congratulations on getting the certificate."

Avery was a little surprised: "Are you in a circle of friends?"

"Yeah! Go and have a look. It's very sweet." Jun chuckled softly.

After hanging up the phone, Avery opened the Moments, and sure enough, he saw Elliot's dynamic.

She gave a like, intending to comment, "I only have one husband, and he is Elliot", but at this moment, her eyes suddenly darkened, and the world seemed to suddenly darken.

She quickly put down the phone. Fortunately, she didn't drive, otherwise it would have been dangerous.

Chapter 1498

Avery rubbed her eyebrows, then opened her eyes and looked out the window. The scenery outside the window kept moving backwards, and she could clearly see the tall buildings, flower beds, and the continuous flow of traffic outside.

–Could it be the reason for not having a good rest recently?

–The last time this happened to her was before the surgery in Yonroeville.

–However, after she was discharged from the hospital, she underwent a reexamination, and the results of the re-examination were no problem.

–May be too tired recently.

Now that she and Elliot have also received the certificate, the stone hanging in her heart has fallen, and she should adjust her state well.

Maybe after a few days of rest, the body will return to normal.

The car quickly drove to the Starry River Villa.

When Avery got home, Robert was playing with toys in the living room, and Elliot was taking a lunch break.

Mrs. Cooper asked her to go back to her room to rest, but she was not sleepy.

“She came here today and brought a gift. It was said that Gwen spent a month’s salary to buy it for you.” Mrs. Cooper said, “Gwen is quite attentive.”

Avery was very surprised: “It’s not easy for Gwen to make some money. How can I be embarrassed to spend so much money to buy me a gift.”

“Just give her a gift. She is willing to buy you a gift because of her heart. If you refuse, she will be sad.” Mrs. Cooper laughed.

Avery: “Yeah.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Mrs. Cooper: “She only brought gifts for you, not for your husband.”

Avery: “The two brother and sister haven’t met. Elliot didn’t say that he wanted to recognize this sister. Gwen is not the kind of flattering person.”

Mrs. Cooper: “I see. Whoever treats her well will treat her well.”

Avery: “Well, where is the gift?”

Mrs. Cooper: “Mr. Foster was afraid that Robert would take it, so he took it back to the bedroom." After Mrs. Cooper finished speaking, Avery walked towards the bedroom. .

When Avery entered the room, there was not much movement, but Elliot opened his eyes.

"Did I wake you up?" Avery rushed to the bed.

"No." Elliot sat up and asked worriedly, "What time is it?"

"It's almost three o'clock." Avery dialed his forehead messily, "I heard that Gwen bought me a gift."

"Well, that powder box is." Elliot said.

Avery looked at the bedside table and picked up the pink box. She opened the box, saw the necklace inside, and smiled, "She has a good eye for gifts. This style is so beautiful."

"How about Tammy?" Elliot changed the subject.

Avery shook her head: "Not very good. I called Jun, and Jun was heartbroken. The two of them are a bit like the two of us before. No one wants to bow their heads, and everyone thinks they are in control."

Elliot: "Don't you make up now?"

"Elliot, do you have any cracks in your heart?" Avery held the box in her hand and looked at him softly, "We used to quarrel all the time, and quarrels hurt our feelings a lot."

"Is there a crack?" Elliot asked.

Avery smiled and shook her head: "I don't think there are any cracks. Every time we reconcile, there is a feeling of forgetting the pain after healing. Are you the same as me?"

Elliot looked at her smile and said what was in his heart, " No matter how angry you make me, as long as you come to me, I will rekindle my confidence."

His answer warmed her heart.

Avery hugged him, breathing the familiar breath on his body, her eyelids darkened a little.

“Are you sleepy?” Elliot said in a hoarse voice, “Go to sleep. I’ll call you in an hour.”

Avery: “It suddenly got dark in front of me, guess what I was thinking at the time?”

Elliot looked her in the eyes: “Why is this happening? Is there a possible disease?”

Avery: “I thought so too. I suspected I had an incurable disease, and then imagined that after I died, you might find a new wife soon and think of our children, who may be abused by the stepmother.”

Chapter 1499

Elliot was speechless.

“I don’t feel any discomfort, I’m probably just too tired.” Avery rubbed her eyes, “I’m asleep.”

“Well.” Elliot sat beside the bed Walk.

He didn’t leave the room until Avery was breathing evenly.

When he came to the living room, Robert glanced at him.

“Son, do you feel bored when you play at home every day?” Elliot walked over to his son and chatted with him, “Do you want to go to the morning class?”

Robert couldn’t understand, so he looked confused.

Mrs. Cooper said, “Sir, why don’t you wait until Robert’s first birthday to send him to the early education class. He’s a bit boring at home alone. There are no children of the same age to play with.”

Elliot: “I’ll discuss it with Avery then.”

Mrs. Cooper said, "Avery didn't mention the early childhood classes. I think it's better for the child to stay at home. I took Robert to play in the community before, and I heard from a mother-in-law that my grandson went to kindergarten and fell ill every day. I never get sick, but when I go to school, I get sick."

Elliot was stunned for a moment: "Then I won't send Robert to the early childhood class."

His original intention was to let his son play with children of the same age, so that he would have more fun.

Mrs. Cooper said, "Sir, look at Robert, I'll go to the kitchen to see the soup."

After speaking, Mrs. Cooper walked towards the kitchen.

Robert immediately hugged the toy and followed Mrs. Cooper towards the kitchen.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"Baby, what are you doing in the kitchen? Dad wants to play with you." Elliot hurriedly chased after him and picked Robert up, "Dad, will you show you the pictures of your mother and sister? And the picture of your brother... ..You haven't seen your brother for a long time, we will bring him back when you have your first birthday."

Elliot turned on the phone, and Robert was immediately attracted by the screen.

He smoothly carried Robert to the sofa and sat down, and the father and son began to look at the photos and videos on the phone.

The photos and videos on his phone were copied from the cloud drive, and they were all taken several months ago.

"This is a photo of you when you were born. Isn't it a small one... You were sick at that time, and you were taken to the incubator when you were born.” Elliot looked at the photo of Robert living in the incubator, the memories of the past flooded in his mind.

Robert looked at the photo on the screen with a serious face.

Elliot looked at his serious little face, and couldn't help but kissed him on the cheek: “Robert, fortunately you're fine. When you grow up, you must be filial to Aunt Shea.”

Robert stretched out her finger, He swiped on the screen of his mobile phone, and the photo immediately flipped to the next one.

“Who taught you to turn pages?” Elliot didn't expect his son to play with his phone, “Did your sister teach you?”

Robert focused on the photos on the phone and didn't answer.

Suddenly, a notification message popped up in the notification bar of the mobile phone.

–Rebecca asked to add you as a friend.

Seeing the word 'Rebecca', Elliot frowned.

Rebecca?

How could she have his facebook ID?

What is she looking for him for?

Thinking of this, he tapped the notification bar information.

Just when he was about to reject Rebecca's friend request, the verification message she sent came into view.

–Elliot, I saw our child today. I think she looks a lot like Layla.

Elliot's finger was above the reject button, but he couldn't touch it. Layla's little face suddenly appeared in his mind.

He wanted to see if this kid really looked like Layla.

Chapter 1500

In fact, Elliot was more surprised.

It stands to reason that even if he and Rebecca really have a daughter, this child can't be like Layla.

Because Layla's facial features are more like Avery.

After agreeing to Rebecca's friend addition request, Elliot looked at the screen of his phone, waiting for Rebecca to send a photo.

He looked at the word 'typing...' next to the word Rebecca, and his heart beat faster.

Unpredictable, Robert stretched out his little hand and slapped his phone sharply.

The phone suddenly fell to the ground.

Robert wanted to see the photo, but Elliot didn't show him the photo anymore, he was angry.

After photographing the phone on the ground, the little guy snorted angrily and struggled to get down.

Elliot held him with one hand and picked up the phone with the other.

"Dad shows you the photo, don't be angry." Elliot whispered, "You little guy, how can you be so angry. Your mother is not so fierce."

Robert seemed to hear that this was not a good thing, so he hummed again.

Elliot picked up the phone and reopened the photo album, Robert was quiet.

At this time, Facebook reminded that three new messages were received.

But Elliot didn't dare to open it immediately.

After a while, Mrs. Cooper came over with two bowls of soup.

"Sir, the soup is ready, you and Robert will try it first." Mrs. Cooper put the soup on the table.

Seeing Mrs. Cooper, Robert immediately slipped off the sofa and walked to Mrs. Cooper.

Elliot smiled and said, "Robert didn't recognize people before. Now he knows how to pick people."

"It means that Robert has grown up." Mrs. Cooper carried Robert into the children's dining chair and sat down, feeding him soup.

Elliot opened facebook and saw the message from Rebecca.

He clicked on the color doppler photo sent by Rebecca.

Now the child is still relatively young, and the facial features are not fully developed, so at first glance, it is like looking at a little monkey.

Elliot frowned, puzzled, how could this little monkey-like thing be like his lively and lovely little princess Layla?

Rebecca did nothing to add him to facebook.

Elliot glanced at the text she sent –

'Elliot, the child is still relatively young, so he can't see clearly. But if you look closely, you can see that the child is more like Layla. '

'Elliot, please don't delete me, okay? In another month, I can send you clear pictures of the child. I promise not to disturb you. I just want to show you the baby. '

Because Elliot didn't reply, Rebecca sent another message later – I had a hunch that the baby was a girl.

Elliot likes girls very much.

Because of Layla, he has no resistance to girls at all.

But he just has no resistance to himself and Avery's children, and doesn't care about other people's children, as well as his own and other people's children.

He clicked Rebecca's avatar, and then clicked the three dots next to her, ready to delete her.

At this time, she sent two more messages.

–[Picture]

–Here's a comparison of Layla I made with our baby, it's really a bit similar.

Elliot took a deep breath, returned to the chat interface, and clicked on the comparison picture sent by Rebecca.

If he looks at the ultrasound image alone, he can't see any resemblance between this little thing and Layla.

Elliot took a deep breath, returned to the chat interface, and clicked on the comparison picture sent by Rebecca.

If he looks at the ultrasound image alone, he can’t see any resemblance between this little thing and Layla.

But the picture of Layla posted by Rebecca was an old photo of Layla a few years ago.

Looking at Layla’s old photos and the baby in the color Doppler ultrasound, the more and more Elliot looks, the more similar they are.

Seeing that Elliot had not been deleted, Rebecca immediately sent another message: Elliot, I know that I am not as good as Avery. Since you chose Avery, I have nothing to do. I just hope you don't forget me and the baby. When the baby is born, I hope you can come and see us. I don't blame you if you can't come. Just please don't remove me from your friends list, I want to send you pictures of the child in the future. Please don't be so cruel to your child. I beg you."

After Elliot stared at the comparison picture for a while, a small hand grabbed his trousers.

Robert came over after drinking the soup.

Robert wanted to continue looking at the photos, so he reached out to him for a mobile phone.

Elliot originally wanted to say that child can't keep looking at the phone, it's not good for the eyes, but looking at Robert's stubborn expression, he couldn't harden his heart except to follow his son.

He quickly exited Facebook, opened the photo album, and showed it to Robert.

Mrs. Cooper said, "Sir, drink the soup first. Otherwise, it won't taste good when it's cold. When you drink the soup, I'll ask Robert to return the phone to you."

"Do Robert usually play with the phone?" Elliot was afraid that Robert would develop a bad habit of playing with mobile phones.

Mrs. Cooper, "No. I only give him a touch every time I play a video on youtube."

Elliot: "I think he can use Youtube very well."

"He's very smart, and he'll know after watching Layla's dancing video a few times." Mrs. Cooper went to Robert's side and put the phone away.

In the bedroom.

Avery didn't sleep well. She usually doesn't dream much during the day because she sleeps for a short time during the day.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update. But today she was dreaming.

She dreamed that she had gone to another world.

The reason why she said it was another world was because that world was completely foreign to her.

There was no one she knew there, no place for her, she just kept walking aimlessly on the street.

She wanted to integrate into that world, but found that the people in that world spoke a language she had never heard before.

She was hungry and cold, terrified and frightened.

When the fear reached a certain level, she kept hinting to herself in her heart:

This is a dream! This is not true. When she wakes up from the dream, she will return to the world she is familiar with. End it now. Whether it's death or destruction, it's over now.

When Avery struggled to wake up from her dream, it was already dark outside the window.

The breeze blew in from the screen window, and the screen curtain fluttered in the wind. She looked at the scene in front of her with infinite sadness in her heart.

She had seen in a movie before that dusk was the most emotional time of day.

Avery had already woken up, and she knew that she could not go to another world, but her heart was still very painful.

The door was suddenly pushed open, and Elliot walked in with a cane.

Seeing Avery's eyes open, Elliot wondered, "When did you wake up?"

"Didn't you say that you called me after I slept for an hour? Why didn't you call me?" Avery quickly adjusted her mood, lifted the silk quilt, Get out of bed, "I've been slumbering for a long time. I'm sure I'm going to have insomnia tonight."

Elliot explained, "I wanted to wake you up, but before you went to bed, you said you were tired, so I wanted you to sleep longer. Who knew that you actually fell asleep? In the afternoon. It seems that you are really tired. The child has already eaten, let's go eat."

"Are you waiting for me?" Avery was surprised. The corners of her mouth raised unconsciously.

"Well, we agreed to have a celebratory meal tonight." Elliot held her hand,

"Today's dinner is very rich. Ben Schaffer wanted to come to eat, but I refused."

"Why refuse? I think you may call Shea and the others. It's more lively." Avery helped Elliot out of the bedroom.

Elliot: "I want to eat with you alone."

Avery sighed, "It's okay. Today is our real reunion. What do we call this? One plus one equals five?"

"Well. You can't have children in the future." Elliot said.

Chapter 1502

It's not that Elliot didn't like children, but that having children was too damaging to a woman's body.

Elliot didn't want Avery to suffer any more.

Avery said, "I won't give birth in the future. We have three children, that's enough."

Elliot listened to her words and nodded.

"I'm so hungry...I'll see what delicious food I've made." Avery forgot that his broken leg was still recovering, and she dragged him away quickly.

Elliot was on crutches, trying to keep up with her.

When Avery was in the dining room, she suddenly came back to her senses.

"Husband, I'm sorry. I forgot that your legs are not yet healed." Avery looked guilty, "Why didn't you remind me?"

"My legs are much better. Actually, I can walk without a cane." Elliot said, Put down the crutches.

Avery helped Elliot to sit down in the dining chair: "I went to bed in the afternoon and had a nightmare. When I woke up, I felt very depressed. But when I saw you and you were waiting for me to have dinner, all my unhappiness suddenly changed and became joy. Have you ever experienced that feeling of great sadness and great joy?"

"I saw your absent-mindedness just now, and I guessed that you must be unhappy. But I didn't expect it to be because of nightmares." Elliot picked up his chopsticks, continued, "What kind of nightmare did you have?"

Avery said her dream with a smile: "I dreamed that I went to a completely unfamiliar place. Everyone there has a cold face and said I don't understand anything at all. But I remember everything in the real world. I want to find you and my child, I want to go back to our home, but I don't know, you and home are not in that world."

—The peace of mind no longer exists. It was obvious that she was not talking about blood and violence, but she felt a chill all over her skin.

—Loneliness and loneliness are often the most terrifying.

"Are you insecure?" Elliot asked.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery shook her head: "No. I'm very happy today. At least I'm full of expectations and confidence in our future. Maybe I went to see Tammy today, and I was affected a bit."

Elliot said firmly, "Don't worry, the two of them won't break up. Do you know how many girlfriends Jun had before Tammy?"

Avery slipped the shrimp into her mouth, chewed slowly, and waited for him to continue.

Elliot: "Jun used to change every two months. I thought he would never be sincere to any woman in his life until he met Tammy."

Avery was a little surprised, "Did Jun care so much before? I still I thought he was a very good guy."

"Jun's situation can't be said to be obsessive. When he likes those women, he really likes them. When he doesn't like them, he really doesn't like them. The reason why they break up frequently is precisely because he doesn't want to deceive those women."

Avery persevered, "That's fussing. If you were someone like him, do you think I would like you?"

Elliot pondered for a few seconds and asked, "I remembered Jun told me that Tammy had talked about a lot of boyfriends before."

Avery: "..."

"The two of them are quite suitable. Although Jun was also angry, he could have been obsessed with Tammy for so long, maybe he just liked her hot temper." Elliot spoke calmly, and gave Avery a piece of spare ribs, "Before Robert's first birthday, let's go Bridgedale. Go and see Xander and his girlfriend's family."

I shouldn't talk about this today, after all, it's too painful.

"Okay." Avery's eyes suddenly became a little sentimental, "Why do you suddenly think of them?"

Because Rebecca added Elliot on Facebook today, He remembered what happened in Yonroeville. He was recalling how his and Rebecca's child was born. No matter what he thought, he had no clue.

Finally, he thought of the tragic death of Xander and Xander's girlfriend.

Chapter 1503

This was the second thing that made Elliot feel uncomfortable.

“When you went to bed in the afternoon, I always felt like I missed something and didn’t do it. So I thought of Xander.” Elliot didn’t want to tell Avery about Rebecca looking for him, for fear that she would be unhappy.

Avery: “I’ve never forgotten Xander. You said before that you wanted to accompany me to see his family, so I think we’ll go when your legs are healed.”

“Well. Where is Robert’s birthday?” Elliot asked, “ You can prepare first.”

Avery took a spoon and filled a bowl of soup and said,“Let’s do it at the hotel. The child is too young, and it is troublesome to take it too far. And your legs are not convenient. Just go and find a hotel nearby!”

“How many people?” Elliot continued to ask.

Avery: “You look please! But be sure to do a good job of security.”

Elliot: “Hmm.”

In the room.

Layla made Hayden a video call and showed him the marriage certificates of her parents.

“Brother, I took it out in my father’s study room secretly. The two of them are having candlelight dinner in the dining room now. It’s so romantic.” Layla put her phone on the table, because she wanted to hold her brother and prevent him from making trouble.

“Robert’s birthday is coming soon, have you thought about what gift to give your younger brother?” Hayden asked over the phone.

Layla frowned, then kissed Robert on the cheek: “He’s so young, I’ll just give him a kiss.”

Robert couldn’t help but smile after being kissed by her sister.

“Look at how happy my brother is! If I gave him a gift, he wouldn’t necessarily be so happy.” Layla laughed.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Hayden was more difficult to do.

Robert was reluctant to call Hayden, and he didn’t like to talk to him about videos.

When Hayden returned to Aryadelle to celebrate Robert’s birthday, Robert would definitely not want to be kissed by him.

“What gift do you think I should buy for Robert?” Hayden asked Layla.

Layla said, “I’ll tell you when you come back. When you come back, I won’t let you go. You promised to come back by the end of the year.”

“It’s not yet the end of the year.” Hayden told her.

Layla: “I don’t care. Our family hasn’t been reunited for a long time. Now that Mom and Dad have finally come back, it’s time for you to come back.”

“I’m going to school.” Hayden didn’t want to continue talking about this topic with his sister, so he hung up video call.

At dining room.

At the end of the dinner, Elliot told Avery about his plan to get ligated.

Avery was shocked when she heard the news and then said, “Because I just said that I won’t give birth in the future, so you want to do this? Elliot, there are many contraceptive methods. We can choose a method that is not harmful to both parties, such as wearing a co*dom.”

“Yes. There are many contraceptive methods, but when we are excited, we may forget contraception. When we were in Yonroeville, we didn’t take any contraceptive measures. Don’t you think it’s dangerous?” Elliot put forward his thoughts.

Avery blushed slightly: “At that time, I deliberately seduced you. I didn’t expect to seduce you successfully... Besides, you lost your memory at that time, and you don't remember me. It will definitely not be like that again in the future."

"Avery, don't take any chances." Elliot didn't want any accident, "I've made an appointment with the doctor for surgery tomorrow."

Avery looked at him with her eyes fixed: "Tomorrow? Why are you so anxious?"

"I'll have surgery tomorrow. When the operation is successful, my leg will almost recover. It will not affect our lives by then." Elliot told her the plan.

Chapter 1504

Avery took out her mobile phone and searched online: How long can I have s-e-x after ligation?

Online answer: one month later.

Avery blushed slightly, put down the phone, and looked at Elliot, then said, "Are you sure you want to do it? As long as it is an operation, there will be risks."

"It's just a minor operation, what risks can there be. And the doctor said that recanalization can be done in the future." Elliot looked calm, as if he had already considered it.

Seeing that Elliot had made up his mind, Avery could only agree.

Moreover, Elliot used active contraception to reduce the risk of her suffering.

Avery was very moved. She said, "I'll accompany you tomorrow."

"Of course you want to accompany me." Elliot face, under the soft halo of the orange candle light, was extraordinarily gentle, "I'm a little nervous."

"Hahaha...I thought you were not afraid. You are a minor operation, and I should be able to accompany you into the operating room." Avery teased.

"That's not necessary. You are next to me, and I am more nervous. Just wait for me outside the operating room." Elliot exclaimed.

"Okay, I'll wait for you where you asked me to." Avery took a deep breath and asked, "Would you like to go outside to get some air? I'll push you out in a wheelchair.”

“I want to go out, but I don’t want to be in a wheelchair.” Elliot didn’t want to be mistaken for a lame leg.

“You go out with me on crutches?” Avery raised her eyebrows slightly, “Why don’t you still use a wheelchair? Don’t you have idol baggage? You don’t look good on crutches.”

Elliot: “...”

Avery took out the wheelchair and pushed it in front of Elliot.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot sighed helplessly and sat up. When he was about to go out, he suddenly thought of the two children: “What are they doing? The house is so quiet.”

“Mrs. Cooper will visit them. Don’t worry about Layla bringing the children. She is very measured.” Avery has special trust in Layla.

Because sometimes Robert has bad habits, Layla will be the first to correct him.

“Will it affect Layla’s homework?” Elliot was not worried about Robert, he was more worried about Layla.

Layla is in elementary school, but she has a lot of homework.

Avery: “We’ll come back from a walk later, and I’ll go check her homework.”

Elliot: “Well.”

Avery pushed Elliot out.

The sky has darkened. The street lights in the community suddenly turned on the moment they went out.

Avery’s eyes flashed, and her heart lit up.

In front of them, there was an old couple with gray hair and hunched waists, holding hands and walking forward slowly.

Avery stared at the old couple for a while, wanting to say something, but felt that any words would break the peaceful beauty of the moment.

She lowered her eyes and saw that Elliot was also staring at the couple in front of her.

“Avery.” Elliot said suddenly.

Avery: “Huh?”

“You look at them.” With Elliot eyes, he motioned Avery to look at the couple in front of her.

Avery: “I saw them, what’s the matter?”

Elliot said, “Look at the old woman in front of you, she is holding her husband.”

Avery was stunned for a moment.

“Every time you go out, you won’t take the initiative to lead me.” Elliot complained,

“You have to study like that old woman.”

Avery: “.....”

–In such a warm and romantic picture, what she thinks of is life and death. What she thinks is holding her hand, growing old with her, what she thinks is wanting to win the heart of one person, and the white head will not be separated.

–And What is Elliot thinking about?

–After walking outside for half an hour, Elliot proposed to go home to see if Layla had finished her homework.

“Didn’t you say you don’t care about your daughter’s grades? Even if she gets zero marks in the test, you can still give her a good life. That’s what you said before.” Avery teased him.

Chapter 1505

Elliot said calmly, “Yes, I remembered. I’m afraid you and your daughter can’t stand it. If your daughter gets a zero in the test, first your daughter will cry, and secondly you will Anxiety. After all, you are a genius, how can you tolerate your daughter being so bad?”

Avery was speechless.

Because Elliot was absolutely right.

If Layla scored zero on the test, not only would Layla cry, but she couldn't help crying.

When they got home, Mrs. Cooper took Robert to take a bath and Layla was doing her homework.

Avery walked to her daughter's side to watch her do her homework.

Avery: “Playing with your brother tonight will delay you?”

“No! I have already finished my homework. This is the workbook I bought outside the school.” Layla showed the workbook to her mother, “My classmate bought this one, so I also bought.”

Avery was very surprised: “Why didn't you tell your mother?”

“I bought it after school today.” Layla showed a bright and innocent smile, “I just went down to find you and Dad but I didn't find. My brother went to take a bath, and no one was playing with me, so I took it out and wrote it.”

“Layla, you don't need to work so hard.” Avery was afraid that her daughter would work too hard.

“My brother said that if I get full marks in the next exam, he will come back. I must get full marks.” Avery had a determined look on her face.

Avery: “Does your brother really say that?”

Layla: “Well. I called him just now, He said it.”

Avery: “Layla, don't put too much pressure on yourself. It's almost the end of the year, and even if you don't get full marks, he'll be back soon.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Layla: “I want him to come back sooner. A day earlier, and I will too Happier.”

“Well. Mom will accompany you.” Avery brought a chair over and sat down beside her daughter.

The next day, after Layla went to school, Avery accompanied Elliot to the hospital.

When going out, Robert hugged Avery’s leg and wanted to go out with them.

“Baby, Mom and Dad are going to the hospital, not to play, so I can’t take you with me. When Mom comes back, will she buy you toys?” Avery hugged her son and coaxed him for a while.

Finally, Mrs. Cooper carried Robert away, and they were able to go out smoothly.

In the car, Elliot’s mind was still the image of Robert clinging to hug.

“Our two sons, the contrast is too great.” Elliot sighed.

One son is like an iceberg, and another son is like a furnace.

Avery asked, “Hayden is like you, Robert is like me. Which one do you prefer.”

“Both are my sons, and I like both. If you ask me to say which one I like more, it must be more like Your one.”

“Have you put honey in your mouth?” Avery’s face was flushed, “smooth, do you remember what you were like?”

Elliot said, “The past doesn’t matter. I just remember what I am now.”

The two chatted all the way, and the car quickly arrived at the hospital.

When taking Elliot to the operating room, he handed his cell phone to Avery.

“Don’t be nervous, it’s just a minor surgery.” Avery took his phone and comforted him.

Elliot: “Well.”

Avery stood on tiptoe and placed a kiss on his cheek, “You come in, I’ll wait for you outside.”

After Elliot responded, he followed the medical staff into the operating room.

After the operating room door was closed, Avery sat down on the bench outside.

When Avery was bored, she turned on her phone.

When she opened Facebook, she realized that it was his mobile phone that she opened.

Avery accidentally clicked on 'new friend' at the top of the address book.

The word 'Rebecca' came into view immediately.

Next to 'Rebecca', there are three words 'added'.

Who this 'Rebecca' is, Avery hardly has to think.

Ohh...Rebecca from Yonroeville...

Elliot actually added Rebecca!

Chapter 1506

Avery's heart suddenly froze. Her fingers trembled, and she immediately looked for Rebecca's account.

However, it was not found.

She searched for the word 'Rebecca' in his friend list, but no relevant results were found.

She was looking for one by one in his friend list again. In the end, there was no gain.

He added Rebecca, but deleted her again.

Only this was possible.

The friend verification sent by Rebecca wrote that the child in her belly looked like Layla. Elliot must be out of curiosity, so she passed her friend application.

After Elliot saw the photos Rebecca sent, he deleted her again.

Thinking of this, Avery felt better.

—Rebecca was so shameless.

If she didn't mention Layla's name in the verification information, Elliot would not necessarily agree to her friend request.

Otherwise, Elliot would not have deleted her so quickly.

Avery's mood quickly calmed down.

Since Elliot dared to hand over the phone to her, it proves that he has no guilt in his heart.

After about half an hour, the operation was over.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot walked out by himself.

Avery hurriedly stepped forward and supported him: "How do you feel? Does it hurt? Do you want to rest for a while and then go back?"

"It feels fine." Although Elliot said it was fine, his face was a little cold.

It's surgery after all, so it's definitely not comfortable.

Avery: "Then let's go back. You have a good rest these days."

Elliot: "Well."

When Elliot got home from the hospital, his complexion recovered a little.

"Aren't you going to rest in your room?" Avery saw him sitting down on the sofa in the living room, so she sat down with him.

"I slept well last night, and I'm not sleepy now." Elliot turned on his phone and said, "My son's birthday banquet is about to start..."

"I'll take care of this. You have a good rest at home, you don't have to do anything and Don't worry about it." Avery looked at his pale face and explained, "You have surgery, don't do heavy work, don't hold the child for the next two days."

"Holding a child is heavy work?" Elliot was surprised.

Avery said, "Don't you think our child is quite heavy?"

Elliot shook his head: "It might be a little heavy to hold Layla, but it's perfectly fine to hold Robert."

"Well, pay attention to yourself, don't get tired." Avery said, looking eye time.

It's still early for lunch, so Avery plans to go out and book a hotel.

"You don't have to worry about the guest list. I'll make the list on my side. You don't have any relatives on your side. I'll just ask Chad to help. When I've settled on the list and menu, I will send it to Look." Avery was in good spirits today.

Elliot: "Okay. Wife, it's been hard work for you."

Avery: "What kind of hard work is it for me. I hope you'll be in better health by the time of the child's birthday party."

Elliot: "Definitely."

Avery: "Well, then I'll go out first. "

Chapter 1507

Avery asked the driver to drive to a five-star hotel near the Starry River Villa.

The car will drive fast, if there is no traffic jam, it will be there in about ten minutes.

The driver said, "Boss, seeing that you and Mr. Foster have such a good relationship now, we are all happy for you. You don't need to care what those people outside say."

"You saw the news that Elliot's leg was interrupted by me. Right?" Avery asked with a smile.

The driver hesitated for a moment, then replied: "No, I saw that Mr. Foster has a wife outside. This kind of thing, others didn't know what's going on, so they spreaded it randomly."

Avery: "Well, I don't care how it is spread on the Internet. I know what's going on in my mind."

"Yes, that's what I meant. I heard that Mr. Foster will get more benefits if he stays in Yonroeville. He didn't choose to stay outside, but came back to talk to you. The children are reunited... Boss, I can tell you with certainty that he absolutely loves you."

Hearing the driver say this, Avery's face immediately flushed.

The driver usually doesn't talk much.

Probably because Avery knew that she was in love with Elliot and was in a good mood, so she didn't have to worry about anything.

After the car arrived at the hotel, Avery entered the hotel, and the lobby manager received her.

The lobby manager said, "If you book after half a month, we can basically reserve the banquet hall here. It depends on the number of guests on your side. Our largest banquet hall can accommodate five hundred people at the same time. " Avery shook her head: "There are not so many guests. At most one hundred people."

"Then let me show you. Choose which hall you like?" The lobby manager led the way.

At noon, Chad received a call from Avery and asked him to come to the hotel for dinner.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Chad immediately drove to the hotel and said, "I guess you're looking for me for Robert's birthday party."

"You don't know what to expect." Avery poured him a glass of juice with a smile.

"No, my boss called me and asked me to prepare the guest list. He said that Robert's birthday banquet is your responsibility." Chad said, and took out a prepared list, "Look at this list. I will follow the The list of your wedding banquet was listed before. There are 88 people."

Avery put down the juice pot, picked up the list and took a closer look, "Chad, your efficiency is too fast."

There was almost no problem with this list.

"These are all trivial matters. If there is anything I can do to help, you can just tell me.” Chad took a sip of juice and added, “You are my boss now. It is more important than Mike in my heart.”

“I...I called Mike just now, and he said he was busy, so he didn't come to eat.”

Avery put the guest list in her bag and explained, “Our lunch today is a test dish for a birthday party.”

Avery finished Later, the waiter came in with the dishes.

There were 12 dishes in total.

Two people eat, obviously could not finish.

Chad suggested, “Why don't I call Brother Ben to come and eat together? Or if I can't finish eating, I'll pack it up and bring it back to Mike to eat later.”

“Then you can pack it up and take it back later.” Avery explained the reason why she didn't call Ben Schaffer, “Brother Schaffer's attitude towards Gwen is a little subtle. If I call him over for dinner, I will definitely ask him.”

“Why is it subtle? Brother Ben didn't tell me these.” Chad pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose and asked gossip.

“He sent a message to Gwen late at night... Because of the jet lag, he sent a message to Gwen late at night, and it happened to be daytime over there.”

Chad was shocked: “My Brother Ben, is it so hard to chase women?”

“Hahaha, why did you say that, I feel a little funny.” Avery couldn't help laughing,

“In addition to sending messages to Gwen late at night, he also harassed Gwen's agent, and asked the agent not to customize too strict training for Gwen.”

“My God. Brother Ben is treating Gwen as his own sister.”

Avery analyzed, “But in reality, when many brothers and sisters grow up, they will not interfere in each other's lives like this. I think Brother Ben may want to pursue Gwen.”

“Didn't the two of them live together before, is Gwen still pregnant with Brother Ben's child? If I knew this earlier, Brother Ben shouldn't have disliked Gwen. Yes, it hurts too much.”

“I also feel embarrassed, I don’t even know who to help.” Avery sighed.

Chapter 1508

Chad said, “Don’t help anyone. Let them both go tossing. Gwen and Hayden are together and you don’t have to worry about her suffering.”

“Hayden will be returning to Aryadelle soon. Gwen will be there alone by then. I’m still a little worried about her.” Avery replied.

Chad said, “Didn’t you say that the model company is managed by Gwen’s agent? Her agent will definitely take care of her.”

Avery: “Well. The identities of Gwen and Ben are quite different, so it’s really up to Gwen to decide.”

Avery clipped a piece of eggplant clip, took a bite. It was tender, crunchy, sweet, “The meat filling inside seems to be shrimp.”

Chad tasted a piece: “It seems to be a mixture of shrimp and pork.”

Avery: “Well, I’ll wait a moment. Bring one back for Layla to eat. Layla likes to eat this.”

Chad knew this was a trial dish, so he tasted every dish.

“Although the taste was not as good as the chef you invited at your wedding before, it was quite satisfactory.” Chad gave a pertinent evaluation.

Avery: “If you tell Elliot like this, he will definitely invite another chef to take charge.”

Chad sneered, “I won’t tell him. I don’t have to worry about it, it’s settled like this. Come down, you can take care of him at home with peace of mind.”

“We can invite the chef to make some dishes and put them in the buffet area. This way everyone can choose their own way of eating.” Avery suggested.

Chad: “Also. I’ll contact the previous chef later.”

Avery: "Okay. After you've negotiated the cost, give the bill to..."

"I'll just give the bill directly to Brother Ben. My boss won't let you pay." Chad interrupted her, "When the invitation is printed, I will send someone to mail it out. As for the cake, it depends on which brand you want to order. I can accompany you to pick it up later."

Chad said in an orderly manner.

"Chad, your ability to do things is really strong."

"Not one-thousandth as good as my boss." Chad said modestly, "If my boss hadn't broken his leg, he could decide everything by himself, and I would only run errands for him. That's good."

"He wanted to do it himself, I let him rest well. Because he went to the hospital today." Avery stopped the car immediately after saying this.

"He went to the hospital today? Isn't it time for a re-examination?" Chad looked at her and continued, "Is there something wrong with my boss? Otherwise, why did he put you in charge of this birthday party?"

Chad asked a series of questions, and Avery's thought of trying to make excuses disappeared all of a sudden.

Chad is the person next to Elliot. Even if his IQ is not as good as Elliot's, he is definitely higher than ordinary people.

"Uh...he went to the hospital for a minor operation today." Avery said hesitantly.

Chad: "What kind of minor surgery?"

"Ligation."

Chad gasped: "This surgery is not in a hurry, why do you have to do it now? He has not recovered from his serious illness and is still very weak."

Avery picked up the juice cup and drank Juice then said, "He's in a hurry. He thinks he's pretty much like a normal person. You know, he likes to show off."

"Yes. But is ligation really a minor operation?" Chad asked curiously.

Avery pondered for a while: "That's it. Don't misunderstand me. I didn't ask him to do this operation."

"I didn't misunderstand." Chad froze for a moment, "I don't know how to praise him for his moving spirit of sacrifice for love. It's time to praise you."

Avery: "You praise him, don't praise me."

"Oh... I'm full." Chad ate two bites of each dish, and he couldn't even eat the main food.

"I'm full, too." Avery put down her chopsticks and glanced at the dishes on the table that were barely moving. "I'll ask the waiter to pack."

"You sit, I'll do this kind of trivial matter."

Chapter 1509

After leaving the hotel, Chad planned to accompany Avery to choose a cake.

As a result, as soon as Avery came out of the hotel, she met a familiar face.

Wanda didn't expect to meet Avery here.

She's here to meet two clients. she didn't want to come here because it's a bit far from her company. But after thinking about it, it's still here.

Unexpectedly, Wanda ran into Avery.

"Avery, aren't you at home with Elliot?" Wanda said, looking at Chad, "Are you here for the Sterling Group or the Tate Industries?"

"No matter what it is, This matter is none of your business." Avery said coldly.

Wanda teased, "I really wanted to talk to you. Didn't you plan to use your Tate Industries to break me up? You didn't break me, but you sold the company to Elliot. How can we play our game? You asked me to fight with Elliot, I'm not a fool. In my eyes, you lost. You lost completely."

Facing Wanda's provocation, Avery's face turned red.

Chad patted her arm, reminding her not to have the same knowledge as Wanda.

"Whether it's you or my boss, as long as she can taste the evil, it's the same."

Avery responded.

Wanda sneered, "Chad, you think I'm the air. I'm the boss of Wonder Technologies after all, do you despise me so much? I'm honestly running a business in Aryadelle, I don't believe your boss can What about me?"

Chad said, "Then you'd better be honest, otherwise, my boss will never let you go. My boss would have wanted to deal with you a long time ago, if it weren't for the twists and turns in his relationship with Avery. Do you think you can stand here and show off your power?"

"Haha! Then you'd better bless your boss that there will be no more troubles in the future." After Wanda said this, she and her assistant strode into the hotel.

Chad looked at Avery and said, "Let's go. If you are angry with her, you will be caught in her trap. She hates you and my boss the most. Don't look at her smiling face, I wonder how scared she is!"

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery said, "Every time I see her, it's hard for me to keep calm. My mother could have lived in peace."

Chad: "Don't think about that. If Auntie is alive, I'd rather you look forward."

Avery: "Well."

After half a month.

At the airport.

Avery and Mike came to the airport to pick up Hayden and Gwen.

Today is Robert's birthday. Avery planned to go to Bridgedale to pick up Hayden a week ago, but Hayden didn't want her to pick him up.

And Hayden has been busy with his studies recently, so he didn't come back until today.

Not only Hayden was busy, but Gwen was also very busy.

Soon, Gwen will participate in a model competition. If it goes well, she will make her debut through this competition.

In the past two weeks, her manager was afraid that she would be influenced by Ben Schaffer, so she took away her mobile phone and let her concentrate on training.

After Avery received them at the airport, she couldn't help but sigh, "Hayden has grown taller, Gwen has lost weight, and lost a lot of weight."

Gwen: "It's okay! I lost about ten pounds."

Avery: "Will your body not be able to take it?"

Gwen: "I couldn't take it at first. Now I'm used to being hungry. By the way, am I going to see Elliot today?" Gwen was suddenly a little nervous.

From the airport, they will go directly to the hotel ballroom.

Avery nodded: "Yes. He originally wanted to pick you up together, but I let him stay in the hotel."

Chapter 1510

Gwen took a deep breath, then reached out and scratched her slightly messy hair, "Is it a little bad for me to look like this?"

Avery: "Are you nervous because you want to see him?"

"A bit! After all, he's my brother... and it's the first time we've met." Gwen said from her heart, "I want to make a good impression on him. Of course, I'm not trying to please him, because I like you and your children."

"You're doing fine now, if you don't believe me, ask Hayden." Avery led them into the car with a smile.

After sitting in the car, Gwen immediately asked Hayden: "Hayden, how do you think I am now? Pretty? Do you want me to go back and wash my hair?"

Hayden mechanically turned his head to the car window.

In his eyes, only his mother and sister are the most beautiful. All other women are the same.

"Gwen, you can go back first if you want." Avery saw that she was uneasy, so she said, "We will take you back first, but you have to go to the hotel by yourself later."

"Okay! Avery, you are so kind to me." Gwen wrapped her arms around her with a pampered smile.

Avery said, "Don't be so polite to me. My house can't live in a bit, so you go to your brother's house. Shea and Adrian also live there."

"Can I really live at my brother's house?" Gwen blinked her eyes, "he agrees?"

Avery was stunned for a moment: "I think Elliot should agree. I didn't tell him."

Because this matter is a trivial matter, and these days are a bit busy, so she forgot to advance Talk to him.

"Then you can call him now and ask. I don't think he would agree to let me live in his house. I can't compare to Shea." Gwen is particularly self-aware,

"Actually, I'm not afraid of staying in a hotel anymore. I can go to the hotel."

Although she was Elliot's sister, she didn't dare to be proud of it.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

She hadn't seen Shea, but she had heard how good Elliot was to Shea.

Avery saw that Gwen was so cautious and worried, so she took out her mobile phone and dialed Elliot.

"Have you received your son?" Elliot's voice was hoarse.

“Yes. Elliot, I want Gwen to stay at your house, because you have more empty rooms there.” Avery told him his arrangements.

As a result, Elliot was silent.

Avery was a little embarrassed.

If Elliot doesn't agree, Avery certainly won't force him to agree.

“Let's arrange another place for her.” After a moment of silence, Elliot said, “To me, she is still a stranger.”

After all, Elliot had never met. How could he possibly agree to let Gwen live in his own home?

“Okay!” Avery looked at Gwen with an embarrassed look after hanging up the phone.

“Avery, I know he won't let me live in his house. If I were him, I would do the same.” Gwen comforted Avery, “Just take me to the hotel. When I make a lot of money in the future, I will first buy a big house.”

“Well, you can definitely do it.” Avery saw her beaming expression, and felt that she was very different from before, “Go directly to the hotel where Robert's birthday banquet is held. Hang up the room fee. It's under your brother's bill.”

Gwen raised her eyebrows: “Will he be angry?”

“No. He just doesn't like other people to go to his house, so he won't care about spending such a small amount of money.”

Gwen: “Okay. Well, I'll listen to you.”

When Avery came to the hotel, she opened a VIP room for Gwen first.

After Gwen got the room card, she said to Avery, “Hurry up and go to the banquet hall. I'll go to you when I'm dressed up.”

Avery: “Okay.”

When Avery came out of the room, Mike leaned into Avery's ear and whispered,

“Sure enough, people depend on clothes and hairstyles. I thought Gwen was a bit dirty before, but now I look at her, not only do I not think she is dirty, but I think she is dirty. There is a supermodel temperament on her body.”

Avery: “Mike, no wonder you didn’t speak just now, it turned out that she was stunned by her supermodel temperament.”

Chapter 1511

“Hahahaha! That’s not the case. I don’t know her very well, so I have nothing to say.” Mike put his hand on Hayden’s shoulder, “No wonder Ben Schaffer’s attitude towards her has changed so much.”

They After chatting, they soon came to the banquet hall.

Elliot and Layla were waiting at the gate of the banquet hall.

As soon as they got out of the elevator, Layla rushed towards them.

“Brother!” The corner of Hayden’s mouth twitched, not quite used to his sister’s warm welcome.

But before he could react, Layla threw herself into his arms and hugged him tightly.

“Brother! I got first in the exam. You promised me that as long as I took the first exam, you wouldn’t leave.” Layla took his arm, for fear that she would say an answer but he didn’t want to hear.

Hayden: “I’m not leaving for the time being.”

“Oh, Temporarily?” Layla picked out the words.

“The world is so big, I definitely won’t stay in the country forever.” Hayden removed his sister’s arm that was holding his body, then held her hand,

“Where’s my brother, Robert?”

“My brother is sleeping. He eats all day long. Sleeping, chubby, like a lazy pig.”

Layla said, and his little hands began to tug at his schoolbag, “What gift did you buy for your brother? Show me.”

Avery saw the relationship between the two brother and sister like this Intimacy, very pleased.

“Brother, you didn’t just buy a gift for your brother, did you buy it for me?” Layla pulled her brother’s schoolbag down, unzipped it, and rummaged inside.

Avery took a deep breath: “Layla, it’s outside, don’t mess up your brother’s things. Let brother get it for you.”

“Oh, okay!” Layla returned her schoolbag to her brother.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Hayden took out a transparent box from his schoolbag.

Inside this box was a round crystal ball.

“Brother, is this a gift for me? It’s so beautiful.” Layla took the box into her hand.

Hayden: “This is a gift for my brother, Robert.”

“What about mine?” Layla stuffed the box with her mother, then reached out to her brother for a gift.

Hayden zipped up the zipper of his schoolbag, and took out a small delicate box from his pocket.

Layla grabbed the box in her hand and opened it.

Inside was a children’s watch.

The watch featured Layla’s favorite cartoon princess characters, and was studded with diamonds of different colors.

Layla was very excited: “Brother, I knew you would buy me a gift. I also bought a gift for you, but I didn’t bring it at home.”

Elliot stood at the door of the banquet hall, looking at Hayden with soft eyes pull.

He recalled the first time he saw them, they were kindergarten children. At that time they were not so tall, their characters were not so lively and distinct, and they didn't talk much.

–At that time, they were hostile to him.

–In a flash, they have grown so big.

–More importantly, his relationship with the children has eased a lot.

Avery walked to Elliot with two children.

She was worried that Hayden would turn a blind eye to him, so she took the initiative to break the deadlock that had not yet come: “Hayden, your father woke up very early today, because you are coming back, he is very excited.”

Hayden looked up at Elliot's expectant eyes, Just as he was about to speak, Elliot's mobile phone rang.

Elliot cursed in his heart, took out his mobile phone, and saw a strange call.

Chapter 1512

Elliot really wants to hang up, but today is Robert's birthday, what if a guest calls?

He stepped aside and picked up the phone.

“Let's go first!” Avery took the two children into the banquet hall first.

When the guests saw Hayden, they immediately greeted him.

“Hayden is so tall now! The last time I saw Hayden, he was much shorter than now.”

“Look at President Foster and then look at Avery. They are both tall, and a child cannot be short.”

“Yes, Robert. One year old, but he is already taller than my two-year-old granddaughter. Hahaha!”

“.....”

Hayden was not familiar with these people, so he didn't want to stay here and be watched.

“I want to see my brother.” Hayden said to Avery.

“Okay, I’ll take you there.” Avery greeted the guests and walked towards the lounge with Hayden.

In the lounge, Robert was wearing a prince costume, sleeping on the bed with a sweet face.

Mrs. Cooper sat next to him, taking care of Robert.

Seeing Avery and Hayden come in, Mrs. Cooper immediately got up.

“Hayden, you’re finally back. Layla looks forward to you every day, it’s alright, you don’t have to be separated anymore.” Mrs. Cooper walked up to Hayden, “Hayden is almost taller than me.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Mrs. Cooper’s voice was settled. The little guy, Robert on the bed suddenly moved.

Everyone’s eyes flicked, and they looked towards the bed.

After Robert stretched, his eyes opened suddenly.

Mrs. Cooper immediately held Robert in front of Hayden introduced him: “Look at Robert, this is your brother.”

Robert blinked his big eyes that hadn’t woken up yet, with a blank expression on his face.

Hayden felt that what his sister said was right.

The younger brother is white and fat, with a lazy face, really like a little lazy pig.

He has little patience with children, but not with his own brother.

He took out the gift for his younger brother: “Look, Robert, this is the birthday present that your brother bought for you. This is a crystal ball and a projector.”

After speaking, Hayden turned the projector switch on.

Avery immediately went to the window and closed the curtains.

In the room, a colorful starry sky pattern suddenly appeared.

In the banquet hall.

Ben Schaffer walked up to Mike and asked in a low voice, "Didn't Gwen go back to Aryadelle together? Could it be that she didn't come back?"

Mike: "Take away your hooliganism."

Ben Schaffer suddenly turned dark: "Where am I a hooligan?"

"You're a hooligan everywhere. Gwen will soon become a supermodel, and her worth is different." Mike teased, "In the past you loved her and ignored her, but in the future you won't be able to climb up to her."

Ben Schaffer face turned blue and white, "Why are you talking so ugly?"

"Because I'm telling the truth. You definitely didn't expect Hayden to recognize this aunt. If you had known Hayden would recognize her, you would have been more polite to her." Mike took a glass of champagne from the waiter's tray next to him.

Ben Schaffer smiled instead: "Do you think I'm short of that money?"

Mike: "Who can tell? It's hard to guess the mind of an old man like you."

Ben Schaffer: "..."

Mike: "Do you want to know where Gwen lives now? I know."

Ben Schaffer: "Where does she live?"

"Hahahaha! I won't tell you." Mike was very happy to see Ben Schaffer collapsed.

Ben Schaffer gritted his teeth: "I think you deserve to be beaten."

"Try to beat me!" Mike said, and out of the corner of his eyes, he caught a tall white figure entering the entrance of the banquet hall.

Chapter 1513

Mike and Ben Schaffer looked towards the door –

Gwen was wearing a long white dress with her hair tied in a bun behind her head. Her face was clean and light makeup, and she stepped on a pair of high-heeled shoes, which made her already tall and slender.

She came in with Elliot.

Ordinary people stand next to Elliot, and they will be a bit inferior. But Gwen seemed very harmonious when she was beside him.

Ben Schaffer strode over and said to Elliot, "You two brother and sister have known each other?"

Elliot was stunned for a moment, and their eyebrows knitted together: "What are you talking about?"

Ben Schaffer was also stunned, he said, "You and Gwen! I think you two came in together."

Elliot seemed to realize that there was someone standing beside him.

He looked at Gwen, and his sharp eyes looked at her again.

A group of crows flew over Ben Schaffer's head: "Elliot, you came in with Gwen, but you didn't know who she was?"

"Did I have to know who she was?" Elliot took his eyes away from Gwen.

"Hahahaha! You hadn't met Gwen, it's not your fault." Ben Schaffer said this and looked at Gwen, "Gwen, you didn't call anyone when you saw your brother? You secretly followed him like this... "

"I didn't follow my second brother secretly." Gwen retorted Ben Schaffer's words, "The banquet hall is so big and there are so many people and I want to find Avery and Hayden. If I follow him, I can find them quickly."

Elliot couldn't help but glance at Gwen again.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Gwen was taking him as a guide.

Elliot was very shocked when he finished talking on the phone just now, and after hanging up the phone, his mood didn't come back to his senses for a long time.

So he didn't notice that Gwen was following him.

"Where did Avery go?" Elliot asked Ben Schaffer.

"Hayden wanted to see Robert, so Avery took him to the rest room." Ben Schaffer's voice settled, and Elliot walked towards the rest room.

Gwen originally wanted to follow her, but Ben Schaffer grabbed her arm.

"Gwen, why didn't you reply to my message? I sent you a message for a week, but you didn't see a single one?" Ben Schaffer wasn't particularly angry.

Because Ben changed another number to call her mobile phone, but he couldn't get through. So Gwen shouldn't have blocked him.

"Then don't send me messages." Gwen pushed his hand away, "Also, all you send me is nonsense."

The messages Ben sent to Gwen were like 'what are you doing?' 'Are you tired of training?'

Ben Schaffer was hit hard enough: "Isn't life made up of countless nonsense? Do you think your brother and Avery don't talk nonsense when they are in love?"

"I'm talking about you, what are you talking about when they are in love?" Gwen was inexplicable, "Do you think the two of us are in love?"

Ben Schaffer had something to say, but Gwen blocked him all back.

He had never met a woman with thorns like Gwen.

Chelsea had also rejected him before, but even if Chelsea rejected him, she would not speak to stab him, so his relationship with Chelsea has always been good.

But Gwen was obviously not such a person.

She didn't fight Ben Schaffer to death, she seemed puzzled.

After Ben Schaffer took a deep breath, he glanced at the bracelet on her wrist.

This is what Ben sent her to Bridgedale last time.

“Gwen, although you always hate me, but you wear the bracelet I gave you. You don’t actually hate me that much.” Ben Schaffer squinted his fox eyes and caught the evidence that Gwen ‘cares’ about him.

Gwen raised her wrist and glanced at the bracelet casually: “The box of this bracelet is broken, I can’t store it, so I wear it. If you think wearing this bracelet is because I like you, I will take it off. “

Ben Schaffer: “....”

Chapter 1514

Ben immediately held down Gwen’s movement of picking up the bracelet: “Don’t take it. Just wear it. You look good wearing it.”

Gwen retracted his hand: “Oh.”

Ben Schaffer was still upset: “I bought it for you. This bracelet was bought at the counter. Is the quality of the box so bad?”

“Since you bought it at the counter, it’s not the box, but my strength.”

Ben heard that she seemed to be sarcastic, but there was no evidence. And said, “Then I’ll pick a stronger box next time.”

“Next time?” Gwen asked, “Do you like giving people gifts so much?”

Ben Schaffer denied: “It’s usually others who give me gifts.”

Gwen: “Are you reminding me that I didn’t return the gift to you?”

“Oh no! I’m answering your last question. I mean that people usually give me a little more gifts, and I rarely pick them out myself.” Ben’s cheeks flushed, obviously annoyed by her words, “I’ve basically never given gifts to women now, except for female relatives at home, then Avery, Layla and you.”

“You said that. I don’t dare to accept your gifts. I can’t accept gifts that you personally choose.”

Ben Schaffer said, “Forget about the gifts. Did your agent come with you? “

Gwen: “No.”

“Then you can eat well.” Ben Schaffer wanted to take her to the buffet area to eat.

“I’m going to participate in the competition next month. Even if my agent doesn’t come, I can’t eat indiscriminately.” Gwen pushed his hand away, “Don’t do anything to me, otherwise people will misunderstand our relationship and it won’t work. Okay.”

Ben Schaffer’s face was stunned: “I don’t care.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“I care!” Gwen looked embarrassed, “If there is a good man at the scene who falls in love with me at first sight and wants to come over to chat with you, but sees that I can’t talk to you clearly, others will definitely not dare to come over.”

Ben Schaffer: “!!!”

“Do you have anything else to ask me about the news? If there is nothing else, then I’ll go first.” Gwen saw Avery and the others coming over, so she finished talking, and walked away.

Seeing Gwen, Avery immediately introduced her friend to Gwen.

“Gwen, this is Shea, this is Shea’s boyfriend Wesley. Wesley is also my senior brother. This is Adrian, Adrian is Shea’s brother.” Avery put the man beside him. After being introduced to Gwen one by one, her eyes finally fell on Elliot, “This is your second brother, Elliot.”

Gwen’s face flushed red: “I met him just now.”

“Well... Your second brother looks serious, but he is actually a very gentle person.” Avery wanted to ease the relationship between the two of them.

“Avery, don’t worry about me and her, don’t worry.” Elliot interrupted her, “I’m a little hungry, are you hungry?"

"I'm also a little hungry. The food in this buffet, the chef of our last wedding banquet made it." Avery smiled and continued, "I didn't eat at the last wedding, but Chad said the chef's cooking was very good."

"I didn't eat it last time." Tammy said. She looked regretful, "Unfortunately, I don't have a good appetite right now."

"Do you have anything you want to eat? I'll ask the chef to make it for you alone." Avery asked.

Tammy shook her head: "I can't eat anything. I drank some rice soup in the morning, but I didn't dare to eat the porridge, and I felt nauseous. But I'm not hungry, so you don't have to worry."

Avery: "Well, have you met with Jun? He even greeted me when he came."

Tammy said casually, "I didn't meet him. I guess he avoided me. You guys go eat. Don't mind me. I'll find a place to sit for a while."

Chapter 1515

Tammy found a chair next to her and sat down, then took out her mobile phone, intending to play a game.

Gwen couldn't eat, so she walked over to Tammy sat down and said, "Tammy, you can't eat this heavy food, can you eat fruit?"

"I can eat some fruit, but not too much. If I eat too much, I will vomit." Tammy put down her phone and looked at her, "I saw you just now that you chatted with Ben Schaffer."

Gwen said sternly: "Ben sent me a message before and I didn't reply, so he asked me why I didn't reply."

"That's it. Then why didn't you reply to his message? Do you hate him?" Tammy chatted about gossip, and suddenly became energetic.

After thinking for a while, Gwen shook her head and said, "I don't hate him."

Tammy: "I heard from Avery that Ben wanted to chase you."

Ben: "Really? Why didn't I hear about it."

"You can feel whether he is interested in you or not." Tammy is experienced after all, "You should also like him, right? Are you hanging him on purpose?"

Gwen shook her head again: " Hayden asked me not to fall in love now. He said that I have nothing now, and even if I am with a good man, others will look down on me. I think Hayden is right. So I will not fall in love for the time being."

"Hayden really said that?" Tammy was very surprised, "He is too precocious."

"Well..." Gwen knew that Tammy was pregnant, so she looked at her lower abdomen, "How many months is your child?"

"It's been two months. I will endure for another month, and my child will almost have no accidents." Tammy showed a smile, "It's so hard. The main reason is that I can't eat enough every day and I'm hungry every day."

"Me too. I..I'm really hungry right now, but I can't eat. I'm going to race next month, and I have to finish..."

Not far away, Ben Schaffer bumped Jun's elbow: "Gwen and your wife were chatting."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"I have been in a cold war with her for a month." Jun did not dare to look at Tammy at all.

It's not that I'm afraid of her, but I'm afraid that I will soften my heart when I see her.

"Is it necessary for you to compete with a pregnant woman?" Ben Schaffer advised Jun, "We men should be more open-minded."

"Brother Ben, I know you're chasing Gwen recently, and you're very thickskinned." Jun picked up a glass of wine and clinked with him, "But Tammy and I are different from you. Even if I make up with her, she and my mother will still quarrel.”

“Then let them fight. Ben Schaffer suggested to him, “I know you are going to talk about your mother’s high blood pressure. Of course you can’t be an unfilial son, but you can also be ‘sick’”

Jun: “???”

He asked suspiciously Eyes, looking at Ben Schaffer.

“Your mother is only your son, and she must think of you more than her grandson. You are healthy now, of course she dares to threaten you. What if you are not so healthy?” Ben Schaffer leaned into his ear and said, “There are so many now. People have depression, etc. This kind of disease cannot be stimulated. If your mother knows that you are depressed, she will dare to force you.”

Jun suddenly realized that he drank the wine in the wine glass.

Buffet area.

After Avery ate something, she suddenly remembered Elliot’s phone call just now. She asked, “Elliot, who called you just now?”

Elliot’s heart beat suddenly faster.

A flustered look flashed across his eyes, and after he took a deep breath, he said, “A sales call.”

Chapter 1516

Elliot’s mood was very messy, he hasn’t figured out how to tell Avery that his biological mother is still alive, and he has contacted him through various channels.

From Elliot’s cold and warm attitude towards Gwen, it can be guessed that Elliot has no expectations for this biological mother.

When Elliot needed mother’s love the most, this woman didn’t give him any warmth, and now he is strong enough to not need this woman to play the role of a loving mother.

Avery saw that his expression was a little unnatural, so she followed his words and asked, "What are you selling?"

Elliot replied without thinking, "House."

Avery: "Haha, what did you say."

Elliot said lightly, "I said I wanted to buy the house where I live in now. The other party was stunned and then I hung up the call."

Avery: "Didn't he hear your voice?"

Elliot: "I'm not a big star."

"Well, for me, you are more radiant than a big star." Avery looked at Elliot tenderly, and boasted, "You are looking very handsome today."

Avery complimented him so earnestly that Elliot couldn't help blushing.

Elliot looked at her bright and moving face and whispered: "You are also exceptionally beautiful today."

Avery: "Do you mean that I am not beautiful usually?"

"You are beautiful usually, you are beautiful every day." Elliot praised as he touched her, her ears burned.

Hayden and Layla were eating not far from them, but when they heard the two of them were talking about love, the two children moved away immediately.

"Brother, did you hear Mom and Dad talking just now?" Layla said with a bright smile, "Since Mom and Dad came back from Yonroeville, the two of them have become more and more childish."

This topic made Hayden at a loss.

"Why didn't Uncle Eric come?" Hayden changed the subject.

“Uncle Eric will come later. He is very busy.” Layla looked sad, “I don’t know if I will be as busy as Uncle Eric when I grow up. If I am so busy in the future, then I can’t play with you at home a lot.”

“Layla, everyone has their own business to do when they grow up. When you get married, you won’t play with Robert and me. You will play with your husband.”

Hayden found a chair in the corner and sat down.

Layla stood by his lap and looked at him with a puzzled expression: “My husband doesn’t know where to play in the mud. Mom and Dad said, don’t let me fall in love too early... Did they not I told you this? Brother, when are you going to fall in love? When are you going to get married? What kind of woman will you find as a wife? You have a wife, don’t you love me as much as you do now?”

Layla’s questions were endless, and Hayden’s mind was confused.

“I won’t get married in the future.” Hayden has no longing for marriage.

–After Hayden was born, he lived with his mother and grandmother. Elliot appeared after he had already understood some things.

–Moreover, after Elliot’s appearance, the originally peaceful life was thrown into waves again and again.

–Although Mom and Dad are sweet now, it’s also scary when the two of them fight.

Hayden felt that marriage was too exhausting of energy and emotions, so he decided not to get married in the future. Of course, it’s too early for him to think about it at his age.

“Are you going to become a monk if you don’t get married?” Layla looked at him incomprehensibly, “Even if I support you, your parents won’t support you. Do you know about the quarrel between Auntie Tammy and Uncle Jun? “

Layla told her brother all the gossip she knew.

“Mom and dad will definitely let you have a child and inherit their property in the future.”

Hayden looked at Layla: “You like to have your child. You have a child, and let your child inherit their property.”

Layla blinked her big black and shiny eyes: “But I will become a big star in the future, and I can make a lot of money by myself. I don’t want to have children.”

Mrs. Cooper hugged Robert and chatted with others not far away.

Hayden: “Then let Robert be born.”

Chapter 1517

Layla’s eyes lit up, and she laughed happily: “Okay! Let Robert have children in the future. Hehe! This way parents won’t force us.”

Robert seemed to hear her sister’s silver bell-like laughter, his eyes that were as dark as black gems immediately locked in the direction of Layla.

Robert didn’t know that at his first birthday party, his brother and sister even conspired to let him have a baby.

In the Lunch time.

Gwen accompanies Tammy to eat fruit in the fruit area.

Tammy said, “Gwen, you can eat light vegetables and boiled meat. I used to lose weight and asked a nutritionist for a recipe.”

Gwen explained, “Well, I usually eat vegetables and meat, but I have no appetite today. It’s probably because the jet lag hasn’t settled yet.”

Tammy: “Also, I heard that you came here soon after getting off the plane. Why didn’t you come back a day earlier?”

“Hayden doesn’t have time. After he came back this time, he won’t be there for the time being. I have returned to Bridgedale. So I was very busy a while ago.”

Tammy sighed, “Time flies so fast, in the blink of an eye, Robert is already one year old. Hayden also stayed abroad for a year. But my life is nothing to Change. It seems to be getting worse and worse.”

Gwen: “Tammy, now that you have a baby, it should be getting better and better.”

Tammy: “Hahaha, my child now is my only comfort.”

Gwen advised her, “It’s better to have comfort than nothing. I just want to stand out now, so that I can live on my own in the future. Instead of relying on Avery and Hayden to help.”

“You can do this. Thinking, it will definitely not be bad in the future.” Tammy rekindled her fighting spirit, “When I give birth to the child, I will also work hard.”

The voice settled, and out of the corner of her eyes, Tammy caught a familiar figure facing this direction.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Tammy looked up and saw that Jun was drunk and his eyes were scarlet.

Ben Schaffer supported him and walked towards Tammy.

Tammy immediately got up from the chair, her heart beating wildly uncontrollably.

“Tammy, is that your husband?” Gwen asked gossip when she saw Tammy’s expression was wrong.

Tammy snorted.

Soon, Ben Schaffer helped the drunk Jun to walk in front of them.

Ben Schaffer pushed Jun into Tammy’s arms: “He drank too much and kept shouting at Tammy...you can do it.”

Gwen pulls away.

“Hey! Let go. What are you pulling me for?” Gwen said angrily.

“The two of you are together, is it appropriate for you to be a light bulb there?”

Ben Schaffer pulled her to the table where he was eating.

At this table, there are Elliot, Avery, Shea, Wesley and Adrian.

But Ben Schaffer pressed her and sat down beside him, as if they knew each other well.

Gwen wanted to sit next to Avery, but unfortunately, Elliot was sitting on Avery's left, and a beautiful young man was sitting on the right.

"You..." Gwen looked at Eric's face and swallowed, "You are Eric."

Eric smiled and nodded: "You are Elliot's sister Gwen"

"I'm not his sister yet." Gwen said with a smile, "I don't deserve it."

The people at the table looked at Elliot.

Chad couldn't help laughing, he said, "Gwen and my boss are really similar.

Before, my boss also said that he was not worthy of Avery."

After one table glanced at Chad, they looked at Elliot again. .

—How could a man so high above say such humble words?

Chapter 1518

"When did I say it to your face?" Elliot knew that he had said this, but he said it when he quarreled with Avery.

Chad saw that Elliot looked a little solemn, and suddenly realized that he had leaked.

If it's in private, he's fine with that.

The key is the people at the table now! He shrewdly told the boss's private affairs, what was the boss's face?

"Maybe I remembered wrong... Boss, you shouldn't have said it." Chad immediately tried to save this embarrassing situation.

Seeing that Chad was frightened, Avery said to save the scene: "He did say such things. And he said it more than once."

With Avery coming out to support, Chad was not so panicked.

Elliot was actually not angry. He used to think that he had a serious physical or psychological disease, so he always felt that he was not worthy of Avery.

“Don’t laugh at Elliot, who never did impulsive things or said impulsive words when they were in love.” Ben Schaffer saved Elliot’s dignity, “But let me tell the truth, I think Gwen is better than Elliot. I’m more confident.”

Because there were too many people here, Gwen was embarrassed to confront Ben Schaffer in person.

But Gwen gave Ben Schaffer a cold look with her eyes.

Ben Schaffer immediately closed his mouth.

Avery answered, “It’s a good thing to have self-confidence. I think Gwen is pretty good. She’s not blindly confident. She has the capital of self-confidence.”

Gwen was embarrassed to be praised: “Where do I have the capital. Dare to slap Ben Schaffer. Who makes him always bother me.”

“Why does it bother you if I care about you?” Ben Schaffer said in his heart.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Gwen: “Who wants you to care? Do you care more about your parents, okay? You are already this age, and your parents are definitely not young.”

Ben: “My parents have a babysitter to take care of.”

“You are you, and the babysitter is a babysitter. If a babysitter can replace the function of a child, what’s the point of having a baby?” Gwen reasoned with him seriously.

Ben Schaffer was blocked by her words, and there was no room for him to retort.

“Gwen, you can really do it. Ben Schaffer was trained like a grandson by you. He didn’t dare to let a fart. He wanted to beat me just now.” Mike gloated.

Chad raised his eyebrows: “Why did Brother Ben beat you? You’re being cheap again?”

Mike: “...”

Ben Schaffer laughed and broke into a game.

At this time, Tammy came over and said goodbye to Avery: "Jun is drunk and crazy, I'll take him back first. I'll see if I can come over in the afternoon."

Avery got up from the chair and sent them away.

"When he was drinking just now, I persuaded him to drink less, but he didn't listen." Avery called the security personnel, supported Jun, and continued to say to Tammy, "Ben Schaffer said that he was drinking for the sake of drumming. Get up the courage to find you."

Tammy said calmly: "I know. He is outside and cowards to death in front of me."

Avery: "Is he so afraid of you?"

Tammy explained, "It's mainly because I have a bad temper. I'm angry, and I can't help it. In addition, my dad is also violent, so he is not only afraid of me, but also of my dad."

"It's better that he doesn't want to Break up with you. It's so cruel that he wants to break up with you. He doesn't have to be afraid of you and his uncle." Avery looked back at Jun with a smile.

As a result, Jun smiled at her, and extended his hand to make an OK gesture.

Jun's not that drunk, he's pretending to be drunk.

Chapter 1519

Avery understood what Jun meant, and immediately said to Tammy: "Don't come here in the afternoon. You bring Jun back to rest, and when he wakes up, you can have a good talk. It's not only bad for you to continue the cold war like this and it is not good for the children. I still think of ways to solve the problems you are facing."

"Simply put, it can be solved by solving it." Tammy said without restraint, "unless my mother-in-law dies."

Afterwards, Jun coughed violently.

Tammy immediately looked at him.

Jun immediately leaned his head on the shoulder of the security guard, looking like he wanted to die.

“Ha! Even if you’re drunk, you know I’m talking sh*t. What a good son!” Tammy sneered.

Avery knew that she had always been stubborn, so she continued to explain: “If Jun is not filial, you will not look down on him. There must be a solution. You go back first and calm down.”

Tammy: “Where are you going? I don’t want to go to his house!”

Avery said, “Didn’t Jun come to you on his own initiative? Then go back to your house. When the two of you have sorted out the problems, I will solve the problems between you and your mother-in-law.”

“Okay. Jun looks so drunk, I can’t ignore him.” Tammy said with a look of disgust, and pressed the elevator button, “Avery, don’t send him off. With the help of security, I have no problem here.”

Avery: “Well Let me know when you get home.”

Tammy: “Okay.”

After Tammy and Jun entered the elevator, the elevator door slowly closed.

Tammy changed her face in a second, stretched out her hand and pinched it hard on Jun’s arm: “Drunk?”

Jun gasped in pain, “Hey! It hurts! Stop pinching! What are you doing? When did you see it?”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“You drank a total of two glasses of wine... Can you get drunk with two glasses of wine? You can deceive outsiders. Can you deceive me?” Tammy said to the bewildered security guard.

She said, "Thank you!"

The security guard: "It's alright."

The elevator reached the first floor, and the two walked out to the parking lot.

"Tammy, have you been watching me secretly?" Jun's cheeks were slightly red, and he was secretly delighted.

"I'm watching you a-s-s. You came to me within 20 minutes of lunch, how much can you drink in 20 minutes?" Tammy glared at him and continued, "Why are you looking for me? You are shameless and skinless. You can't solve your mother's problem, so don't look for me."

"Brother Ben gave me a solution, and I think it's not bad." Jun leaned into her ear and said the solution.

Tammy's eyes suddenly brightened.

"This method is not bad." Tammy smiled and looked at his face, how she looked pleasing to the eye, "Husband, did I beat you last time? Hey, I came back from the hospital last time, and my hands were numb for a long time."

Jun remembered his experience of being slapped in public in the hospital, and the smile on his face instantly solidified.

"Tammy, are you violent? I said I didn't have a blind date with that woman, why don't you believe me? If you don't believe me, forget about it, you beat me in front of outsiders, you thought about me Do you feel that way?"

Tammy immediately lowered her head and admitted her mistake: "I can't be angry with that girl staring at me."

Jun: "You can't be angry with that girl. What are you hitting me for?"

"That girl's mother is so strong that I can't beat her." Tammy looked cowardly, "If you are really dating that girl, and you won't help me, wouldn't I have to suffer a big loss?"

Jun's temples jumped up suddenly. Originally, he was very angry, but after listening to her explanation, he became angry and laughed angrily.

Jun: "You dare to stand in front of me."

"Who told you to be my husband, you can bear it." Tammy took his arm and yawned, "I'm a little sleepy, come back to my house with me. "

Chapter 1520

"Well, how was the result of your last prenatal checkup?" Jun helped her into the car.

Tammy: "The child is still too young to see anything. I saw a small dot on the color Doppler ultrasound."

Jun: "What did the doctor say?"

"The doctor asked me to have a scheduled obstetric examination, and by the way reminded me to rest and maintain my mood. Stable." Tammy glanced at him, "Jun, if Ben Schaffer doesn't give you this idea, are you planning to never contact me?"

Jun looked embarrassed: "I'm not thinking about that. Is there a way? I can't think of a good way, how dare I contact you? Even if I contact you, you will not give me a good face."

"That's true." Tammy breathed a sigh of relief, "Husband, you really don't care about the child's surname and my surname. "

I care ..." When Jun said this, Tammy's face changed greatly. Jun held back a smile and finished what he said, "I care about you."

"Husband, you deliberately tested me just now!" Tammy hugged his head and gave him a sharp kiss on the cheek, "Husband, thank you for being so tolerant of me. I will keep your kindness to me in my heart. Next time you make me angry, I try not to do it."

Jun's mouth twitched: "Thank you wife, you are so kind."

...

Banquet hall, after lunch, Hayden wanted to go home to rest.

Layla was Hayden's follower today, and she was going home with him.

So Avery simply sent the three children home together.

Elliot stayed in the banquet hall to accompany the guests.

"Elliot, did Hayden call you today?" Ben Schaffer asked.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot: "He was about to call me, but a phone call happened to come in. He was interrupted."

Ben Schaffer said enviously, "It's a coincidence. But since he doesn't hate you anymore, he will call you sooner or later. I didn't envy you before, but now I see your son and daughter being so good, and suddenly I start to envy you."

"It's too early to be envious. Hayden didn't say that he didn't hate me. It was Avery who coaxed him in the middle." Elliot knew very well that without Avery, Hayden would never give him a good face.

"With Avery to help you, it's only a matter of time before your child likes you." Ben Schaffer said, looking not far away.

Gwen somehow caught up with Eric.

After Eric had lunch, Gwen came up to him. The two were chatting, not knowing what they were talking about.

"I really envy Eric. He has a beautiful face. Every woman who sees him has eyes that glow." Ben Schaffer's expression was sour, and his tone was even more sour.

Elliot chuckled: "Now you want children and wife, and you don't hide it at all."

"Yeah, I'm excited by you. We are about the same age, but you have three children and your wife is young and beautiful." Ben Schaffer said more and more sad, "Now I feel that time passes so fast, especially when I see young people like Eric and Gwen, I feel more and more uncomfortable. It seems to belong to my best era. , it has passed.”

Elliot: “You are too pessimistic.”

“Of course you are not pessimistic. Your wife and children are on the stove, and now you are the happiest person.” Ben Schaffer said that his head became more dizzy, “I’ll take a nap, or else I can’t hold it in the afternoon.”

After Ben Schaffer left, Chad came to accompany Elliot and said, “Boss, do you want to take a rest in the guest room?”

Elliot: “Can’t sleep.”

“Hayden returned to Aryadelle, are you too happy?” Chad asked, “You will have enough time to repair your relationship with Hayden.”

” No. ” Elliot really wanted to drink. When Avery was there, he didn’t dare to drink it, but now that she is home, he wants to drink some, “I want a glass of champagne.”

Chad: “Can you drink now? Probably not.”

Elliot: “It’s fine to drink less.”

“I’ll get it for you.” Chad went to the bar and brought him a glass of champagne, “You drink less, otherwise there will be wine Smell on you, Avery can smell it.”

Chapter 1521

Elliot took the glass and said calmly: “It’s okay. Even if she knows I drink, she won’t say anything.”

Chad sat down beside him and asked, “You don’t look very happy.”

“The woman called me and said she was my biological mother.” After taking a sip of wine, Elliot explained the reason for his unhappiness, “Before Nathan died, he told me that my biological mother was the escort girl in the dance hall.”

Chad Shocked: “How did this woman find you?”

“She still remembers Nathan. And she said that she saw my picture and said that I looked a lot like her when I was young.” Elliot put down the wine glass and turned on the phone.

After the call, the woman sent him an artistic photo of her youth.

The woman in the photo has three-dimensional and delicate facial features, and her eyebrows and eyes are full of charm. She was a very beautiful woman.

Chad took a deep breath and asked, “Boss, what is she looking for you for? Is she asking you for money? Or does she want to meet you?”

“She didn’t say this directly, but said that I might be her son. She can do a paternity test with me.” Elliot took another sip of his wine, “I agree.”

“Well. If you want to confirm her identity, you must do a paternity test. Even if you look at the photos, you and her do look alike, but You still need scientific evidence.” Speaking of which, Chad remembered an important question,

“Where is she now? What kind of work is she doing?”

Elliot: “I didn’t ask. She said she would return to Aryadelle as soon as possible and go to the identification with me.”

“She is in Abroad?” Chad frowned, “How can a dancer have the opportunity to go abroad?”

Elliot: “It’s not difficult for ordinary people to go abroad. Not all people who go abroad have decent jobs.”

Chad: “You are right. Since she has contacted you, she must have a plan. But I can’t say for sure. Gwen lives with Nathan, but Gwen and Nathan are different.”

Elliot said indifferently, “Wait. Let’s talk about the identification results. Even if she is really my mother, I can’t recognize her.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“Well. No matter what you decide, I will support you.” Chad asked, “Have you said this matter to Avery?"

"I'll tell her at night. She is very happy today, and I don't want to use this kind of mess to affect her mood."

"She is really happy today. She always smiles when she sees everyone. I haven't seen her happy face for a long time." Chad smiled.

At night.

After sending the guests away, Avery helped Elliot into the car.

Elliot didn't use crutches today. His legs have almost recovered, and as long as he does rehabilitation training in the later stage, he can slowly return to normal.

After getting in the car, Avery asked him, "You didn't rest at noon today, are you exhausted?"

Elliot: "It's okay. It's definitely not as tired as you have children."

Avery: "Robert doesn't stick to me anymore after he has older brother and sister."

"Well." After Elliot responded, he was silent for two seconds, and then spoke again, "The call I received this morning was not a sales call."

"Huh?" Avery didn't react for a while.

Today Robert's birthday, Elliot answered a lot of phone calls.

"There is a woman who says she is my biological mother. She wants to come back and do a paternity test with me." Elliot told the business.

Avery: "Your biological mother?"

Elliot: "Well."

Avery quickly adjusted her mood: "Oh, if you are willing to do a paternity test with her, then do one."

Chapter 1522

Avery didn't take this matter to heart. No matter what Elliot's attitude towards this biological mother is, she respects and accepts it. Because she believed that when he made a choice, he must think carefully.

In the banquet hall, some people were drinking and chatting.

Because Gwen lived in a hotel, she stayed in the banquet hall and played with her mobile phone, but didn't leave.

Ben Schaffer couldn't bear to see her alone, so he walked in front of her.

Ben: "Are you waiting for me?"

Hearing Ben Schaffer's voice, Gwen immediately raised her head and asked inexplicably, "What am I waiting for?"

"I was joking with you. I knew you would frown upon hearing this." Ben Schaffer thought it was funny.

"You're happy to make me angry?" Gwen put away her phone and got up from her chair.

"Aren't you really angry? I'm really joking with you." Ben Schaffer followed in her footsteps, "Where do you live? I'll take you back."

Gwen: "No, because I'll stay in this hotel."

"Oh, no wonder you weren't in a hurry to leave just now." Ben Schaffer followed her out of the banquet hall, "How long will you stay here? When will you return to Bridgedale? Your big brother knows you are in Bridgedale, has he ever looked for you?"

"Why you questioned me so much?" Gwen glanced at him out of the corner of her eyes, "Are you panicking from eating too much?"

"Didn't I hope you could stay for a few more days?" Ben Schaffer scratched his head, "I want the person who caused your miscarriage to come and apologize to you in person."(source: infobagh.com)

"No! I really don't need to. I didn't want that child much. She helped me abort it, so I could concentrate on my career. I am very grateful to her now." Gwen had already thought about it.

When she miscarried, the child was just budding, and the damage to her and the child was the least.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"Do you really think so?" Ben Schaffer felt a little uncomfortable. Because he really wanted that child. The child was gone, and he was lost for a long time.

"I didn't think so, what did you think?" Gwen asked back, "Are you going to come to my room with me?"

Ben was stunned for a moment, his face flushed with drunkenness: "I want to chat with you. If you are worried, you can open the door."

"Do you have a serious desire to talk? What are you going to tell me? You are talking outside." Gwen originally wanted to reject him, but looked at him cautiously. Strict look, somehow softened.(source: infobagh.com)

"You didn't answer any of the questions I asked you just now."

"I'll stay for about a week. But if there's nothing wrong here, I might go to the training ahead of time." Gwen entered the elevator and pressed the floor where she lived, "As for my eldest brother, he didn't contact me. Didn't you give him a sum of money? He probably won't remember his sister until the money runs out."

Ben: "Oh oh... So, you two brother and sister don't have a good relationship."(source: infobagh.com)

Gwen gave him a deep look and said, "There is too much age difference, there is a generation gap. It's like I have a generation gap with you."

Ben Schaffer showed a look that was uglier than crying Laughing, "Why didn't I think there was a generation gap between us."

“Are all of you old men so changeable?” Gwen couldn’t understand him, “Didn’t you dislike me before? I’m far away from you, it’s not the right fit. Are you on your mind?”(source: infobagh.com)

“You misunderstood me, really misunderstood me. I never despised you... I regarded you as my sister at first, and hoped that you would listen to my plan, but you didn’t. , so we have differences and contradictions. In fact, this is not a generation gap.” Ben Schaffer explained to her patiently.

“What about now?” Gwen looked at his red face and asked, “What do you think of me now?”

Ben Schaffer didn’t expect her to be so direct, he couldn’t stand it. He pushed the glasses on the bridge of his nose and took a deep breath: “Do you want to hear the truth or a lie?”

“If you tell me the truth, I will tell you the truth, if you lie to me, I will tell you the truth. Just lying to you...you choose.” Gwen shifted her gaze to the elevator display.

With a ‘ding’ sound, the elevator reached the designated floor.

Chapter 1523

The two came out of the elevator one after the other.

Gwen took out the room card from her bag, and Ben Schaffer followed her step by step.

Ben: “Gwen, I think I quite like your character...”

“Oh, when I wasn’t Hayden’s aunt, no matter how you looked at me, I was not pleasing to the eye, and I felt bad everywhere, now I’m Aunt of Hayden, you start to like my character.”

Ben Schaffer: “...”

Gwen opened the door, pushed open the door, and walked in.

“If you’re not afraid that I will continue to bully you, you can come in.” Gwen stood in the room and looked at him with a defiant expression.

Ben Schaffer hesitated for a few seconds, then strode towards her.

With a ‘bang’, Gwen closed the door.

“Aren’t you afraid of me?” Ben Schaffer looked at the closed door and smiled.

“What are you afraid of?” Gwen put the bag on the sofa, took a bottle of water from the small refrigerator, and twisted it open, “If we really fight, you are not necessarily my opponent.”

Ben Schaffer feeling insulted.

Gwen saw that Bew was confused, so after taking a sip of water, she took out a bottle of anti-wolf spray from her bag.

“Do you know how effective this spray is?” Gwen took the anti-wolf spray in front of him and gave him a look, “When I was in Bridgedale, an old man touched my b-u-t-t, I took out this bottle, sprayed it on his face, he immediately fell to the ground, rolled left and right, and cried...”

Ben Schaffer’s face changed greatly, and his body became stiff.

“Hahahaha! It scares you. If you don’t mess around, I won’t spray you.” Gwen put the spray down on the table, then sat beside the bed and changed her slippers.

Chapter 1524

“Besides my personality, what other strengths have you found in me? Or, what else do you like about me?” Gwen needs to find confidence from the old man.

Ben Schaffer could see that Gwen was treating him as a toy for pastime when he was lonely.

That’s all, she is willing to play with him, he should be content.

The next day, 8 a.m.

Star River Villa.

All member of the family were sitting at the table and having breakfast.

“Elliot, the temperature has turned cold recently. I plan to take Hayden Layla out to buy autumn and winter clothes later.” Avery said to Elliot.

Elliot: “Well, I’ll go with you.”

“What are you kidding. You told me last night that your legs hurt a little bit, did you forget?” Avery glanced at him, “stay at home and take care of yourself.”

“Did I say last night that my legs hurt?” Elliot couldn’t remember.

“Yes! When I pressed your leg last night, I asked you if it hurt, and you said a little.” Avery told the details to his face.

Elliot suddenly remembered: “That’s because you were a little bit too strong at the time.”

“I didn’t use it.” After Avery finished speaking, she changed her tone, “I only used a little bit of force. If your legs are fine, I can’t use that bit of force at all. I don’t care for you.”

“Okay, you guys go out, I’ll stay at home.” Elliot compromised with grief.

After breakfast, Avery took the two children out the door.

After playing with Robert for a while, Elliot went to the study and opened the notebook. After a while, the phone he put on the table rang.

Elliot picked up the phone and saw the number from yesterday. He frowned slightly and answered the phone.

“Elliot, I’ve already arrived in Aryadelle. When are you free, let’s meet.” A woman’s voice came from the phone.

“Where are you now?” Elliot glanced at the time.

It was 10: a.m. in the morning.

Chapter 1525

"I'm in the hotel. Do you want us to have dinner together at noon." The woman asked cautiously.

"There's no need for that. If you want to meet, then go to the appraisal center." Elliot said indifferently, "I'll send you the location."

On the other side of the phone, the woman was silent for two seconds, then replied, "Okay. "

She didn't say anything other than a 'good' word.

After hanging up, Elliot sent the location of the identification center, then got up and came out of the study, ready to go out.

Seeing that Elliot was going out, Mrs. Cooper immediately asked, "Sir, where are you going? Didn't Avery let you rest at home?"

"I'll tell her." Elliot changed his shoes in front of the shoe cabinet, "I'll look for it later."

Mrs. Cooper: "Okay."

After Elliot went out, Mrs. Cooper immediately called Avery and told her about him going out.

In Mrs. Cooper's mind, Avery is the mistress of the family, and she should know everything about the family.

"Okay, I see. Elliot hasn't contacted me yet. I'll wait and see if he tells me at noon." Avery was in the clothing store, watching the two children try on clothes.

"Well."

After talking on the phone, Avery took a photo in the direction of the two children and sent it to Elliot.

Avery wanted to see if Elliot would tell her why he went out.

After the photo was posted, she walked up to the two children.

“Mom, who are you calling?” Layla asked.

“Mrs. Cooper called. Said your father was out.” Avery said truthfully.

“Why did he go out? Didn’t you let him rest at home? Why is he disobedient?”

What if his leg hurts again?!” Layla frowned and was distressed and angry.

“Your father’s legs are much better. There is no problem with walking.” Avery said to Layla with a smile, “How about this coat on you? Do you like it?”

“I like everything, but my brother thinks that the wardrobe told me not to buy so many.” Layla took off her coat, “Mom, let’s buy that purple coat just now. I like purple lately.”(source: infobagh.com)

“Okay. Except for that purple one, You can buy two more. Last year’s clothes are probably too small. When you go home, Mom will sort out your old clothes, and we can donate those that can’t be worn.”

“My brother’s clothes will definitely not be able to wear anymore. My brother has grown a lot taller.” Layla glanced at her brother, “Buy some new clothes for my brother too.”

“Yeah.”

The two children continued to choose clothes.

Avery turned on the phone and saw Elliot’s reply: [I’m going to the appraisal center for appraisal now, and I’ll go to you when I’m done.]

Avery: [That woman has returned to Aryadelle?]

Elliot: [Hmm.]

Avery hesitated for a while, and replied: [Do you want to have a meal with her?]

Elliot: [No need for now. Wait until the results come out.]

Avery: [Good.]

Identification Center.

After Elliot arrived at the lobby, he waited for about 10 minutes. A taxi stopped outside, and a middle-aged woman in a brown trench coat and sunglasses got off.

After she got off the station and stabilized, she took off the sunglasses on the bridge of her nose.(source: infobagh.com)

Elliot watched the woman from a distance in the hall. His heart was beating violently uncontrollably!

Chapter 1526

Elliot had a strong premonition in his heart that this woman might really be his biological mother. If it is counterfeit, never dare to come to the appraisal center to appraise it with him.

The woman quickly entered the hall.

After seeing Elliot, The woman immediately walked up to him: "Hello Elliot, my name is Sofia Hertz. I don't know if Nathan has mentioned me to you."

Elliot looked at her face , Word by word: "No."

Nathan has played with too many women, and there are many illegitimate children.

How could he possibly remember the names of those women.

He was able to raise Zion and Gwen, which is a great gift of kindness.

"Yes, he has too many women. It's normal not to remember me." Sofia laughed at herself, "You should dislike him, right? When he was sentenced to death, you didn't help him. According to your ability, you want to save him, he can definitely be saved."

Sofia's question made Elliot frown.

"Aren't you living abroad?" Elliot wondered.

Sofia's face turned red with a swish, her eyes were nervous and guilty: "I, after I suspected that you were my son, I was willing to check your condition..."

"Let's do the appraisal first." Elliot looked at her.

Sofia's facial features are very beautiful, and it can be seen that she was a beauty when she was young.

Elliot didn't know how old she was now. The wrinkles on her face were a little deep, which seemed to go against the brand-name clothes and big-name bags on her body.

Under normal circumstances, wealthier women are very willing to spend money on beauty and maintenance.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Sofia was carrying the bag, but there was no trace of maintenance on her face.

Sofia followed behind Elliot to take a test sample.

Soon after the samples were taken, the staff informed them that the results would be available in about three days.

"How much is this check? Where do I pay the bill?" Sofia opened her bag and took out her mobile phone, "I'll pay the bill."

Elliot: "I've already paid."

Sofia's face flashed an embarrassed blush, her eyes dodged. She was willing to look away from his face again: "...Aren't you busy? Then go get busy! When the results come out, let me know."

"Well."

When Elliot did, he also looked at her. He already had results in his mind.

The woman in front of him was most likely his mother.

Just like Layla and Avery look alike, even if there is no DNA test, they can know that Layla is Avery's daughter.

If Elliot has nothing to do with Sofia, how could he be similar to Sofia?

After coming out of the identification center, he got into the car.

The driver asked, "Boss, where are you going?"

Elliot looked out of the car window. Sofia was standing on the side of the street and seemed to be waiting for a taxi.

Seeing that he didn't answer, the driver turned around and asked again: "Boss, are you going home?"

Elliot came back to his senses: "Don't go home."

Elliot turned on his mobile phone, dialed Avery, and asked where she was.

"We're still shopping for clothes! Why don't you go to order a restaurant first, and then go look for you when we finish buying clothes." Avery said.

"Okay. Where do you buy clothes? I'll go to order a restaurant near you."

Avery told him the location and asked, "How did you feel when you saw the woman who said she was your biological mother?"

Elliot pondered for a few seconds and Replied: "I'm a lot like her."

Avery was stunned.

Elliot said this, indicating that he had already determined in his heart that the woman was his mother.

"Are you going to take it or..." Avery hesitatedly ask this question.

"I don't know. I'm in a mess right now. She's completely different from Nathan. I need to think about it.

Chapter 1527

Elliot met Sofia today, and the brief contact between the two was different from what he imagined.

Sofia was like a simple old woman, without so much scheming and shrewdness.

She came to him, perhaps not for money, but for that affection.

She didn't want him when she was young, maybe because Nathan forcibly took him away, or because she didn't have the ability to support him.

If she wasn't like Nathan, he wouldn't have such strong malice towards her.

During lunch, Elliot didn't talk to Avery about Sofia. There is no need to let the child know about this before the results come out.

After dinner, when they got home, and the two children went to take a nap, the two of them started chatting.(source: infobagh.com)

"Do you have her photo? I'm curious, are you two really that similar?" Avery peeled an orange and divided him in half.

"There is no photo of her now." Elliot showed her the photo of Sofia when he was young. "Actually, it is more obvious from the photo of her when she was young."

Avery glanced at her and nodded immediately: "At a glance, it is true. Your eyes and nose are similar to hers."

"Well." Elliot put down the phone and ate the oranges she gave, "After taking the test sample today, she wanted to pay, but I stopped her."

"Okay, it means that she probably didn't meet you for your money."

"I can't tell. It takes a long time to know what kind of person the other party is."

Elliot ate the oranges.

"This orange is sweet and sour. If Sofia is really your mother, and she is a good person, you can actually recognize her. Although you don't say it, I know that you yearn for family affection. You can be seen from the attitude towards Shea. Although Shea is not your sister, but because we grew up together and have feelings, this relationship is stronger than blood relationship. "(source: infobagh.com)

"What I long for is not the relatives who came out halfway." He wiped his hands with a wet tissue.

“Well, I understand your feelings. When the results come out, if she’s really your mother, let’s see what she wants! If she wants to meet you, you can give her a chance and you can get along more.” Avery said, “Anyway, you’re not busy right now.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot was thinking about other things.(source: infobagh.com)

Avery took another orange from the fruit bowl and peeled it slowly: “Elliot, what are you thinking about?”

“She is carrying a Hermes bag. The clothes on her body are also very good.”

Elliot expressed his doubts, “But her words and deeds are submissive, and the skin on her face is very loose, so she may not take care of it.”

Avery analyzed, “Oh...she is submissive, maybe she is a little afraid of you.

Some people Pay attention to maintenance, some people don’t. Also, some people’s skin will be a little tighter, while some people’s skin is easy to loose no matter how well maintained.”

“Well.”

“Elliot, you are so cautious, it shows that you are right She had expectations.

Unlike Nathan before, you were particularly annoyed with him. You didn’t care what clothes he wore or what his skin was like.”(source: infobagh.com)

“Because Nathan came to me and asked me for money. Sofia didn’t.” Elliot smiled bitterly, “Although I’m not short of money, I don’t want to be used as an ATM.”

“Hahaha, don’t worry, no one can use you as an ATM.” Avery wanted to say that his strong personality and With a vigilant personality, ordinary people simply cannot take advantage of him.

Elliot looked at her with deep eyes: “you can be a child.”

Avery: "..."

She was a little confused by his sudden love words.

"Sleepy or not, do you want to take a nap?" Elliot saw that she was stunned, so he changed the subject.

Avery stuffed an orange into her mouth, "I'm not very sleepy, maybe I've had enough sleep recently. I want to go to work at the company next Monday."

Ellio has no objection.

Avery has been with him at home for a long time.

Chapter 1528

By the way, you said before that it suddenly became dark. Has this happened recently?" Elliot kept this matter in his mind, but he didn't ask because she didn't say anything similar in the follow-up.

Now Avery decided to go to work, so Elliot had to make sure she was okay.

"Not lately. It must have been too tiring the previous time."

"Do you still need a re-examination?" Elliot suggested, "Why don't you go for a re-examination next Monday?"

Avery said, "I've re-examined before, no problem. I don't like going to the hospital very much. Although I'm a doctor, I'm a little bit taboo, just like ordinary people. As long as there is no physical pain, I won't go to the hospital if I don't go to the hospital."

Elliot: "But some diseases do not have pain in the early stage. "

Avery raised her eyebrows, "Yes. But I have a physical examination every year. We had a physical examination in the first half of this year, and we did it together."

"Well." Elliot was relieved, "You want to sleep with me, Is it?"

Avery glanced at the shopping bag on the table and said, "Go to bed first. I want to organize the child's wardrobe. Otherwise there will be no place to put new clothes."

"I'm bored." Avery had no choice but to tell the truth, "Go to sleep. If I'm sleepy later, I'll go to bed."

"Okay." Elliot got up from the sofa, thought about it, and decided to ask. "What is Hayden's attitude towards me now?"

"I didn't talk to him about you. If he didn't take the initiative to talk about you, I'm afraid that if I mentioned you to him, it would make him feel rebellious." After eating the oranges, Avery also stood up, "Don't worry, Hayden is not going abroad now, you can meet every day."

With Avery comfort, Elliot restless mood stabilized.

After Elliot went back to the bedroom, Avery walked towards the child's room.

Hayden and Layla were sleeping in separate beds.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot said that when the children are ten years old, let them sleep in separate rooms.

Avery asked Layla the question, and Layla resisted a little.

Because Layla had slept with her brother since she was a child, it took them a long time to coax them to sleep in separate beds.

But Layla is growing every day, and maybe by the time she's ten years old, she won't resist this question.

Avery entered the children's room. The two children were already asleep. They slept very deeply.

Avery opened the cabinet and took out all the clothes inside. The two of them grew too fast, and almost all of these clothes could not be worn. She carried stacks of clothes out of the room.

There are a lot of clothes in it, even the hangtags are not cut.

In addition to buying clothes for children, Tammy also buys clothes for children.

After carrying the clothes to the living room, she made Tammy a video call.

“Tammy, don’t buy clothes for your children in the future. You see so many new clothes, and the tags are not cut. The two of them can’t wear them anymore.”

Avery said regretfully.

Tammy looked at the piles of clothes and laughed: “You don’t want them to me.”

Avery: “Are you sure you don’t want them?”

“Yes! Didn’t you say that the tags were not cut? But the old clothes of Layla and Hayden are you? It can also be delivered.” After Tammy and Jun reconciled, they were in a good mood.

Avery felt dizzy: “Did you not count the age difference between my child and yours? It will be almost ten years before your child can wear these clothes.

Chapter 1529

Tammy: “F*ck! Ten years later... that’s fine. You donate it. Otherwise it would be too wasteful to throw it away.”

“Well, I plan to go out and organize the donation.” Avery couldn’t help laughing and said, “Jun go home with you and live with you, what’s your mother-in-law’s reaction?”

“Do you think my mother-in-law can’t help but come to her precious son?”

Tammy laughed and said, “I forgot to tell you last night. My mother-in-law hasn’t been discharged from the hospital yet. I heard that Jun was depressed yesterday, so he came to my house immediately and planned to ask a teacher to ask the guilt. In front of my mother-in-law, Jun said that he’s depressed, my mother-in-law doesn’t believe it hahahaha!”(source: infobagh.com)

Avery: “Hahaha! Auntie probably knows Jun better, and knows that Jun’s personality is more optimistic...”

“Well, even if the sky falls, Jun will not be depressed. I’ve been with him for so long, and he’s never had insomnia. Every time I quarrel with him, I’m so angry that I can’t sleep, but he slept on the bed without being affected at all. The only time he had insomnia was the first time I talked to him. He said when he was divorced. He said he couldn’t sleep at that time, so he asked the doctor to prescribe sleeping pills. This guy was a little sick, so he went to the doctor. He is so afraid of death, how can he be depressed?”(source: infobagh.com)

Avery corrected her: “Insomnia and depression are two different things.”

“I think it’s the same. Depression manifests itself as being unhappy and pessimistic. But as long as people sleep well, their spirits are not much worse.”

“It makes sense. Many patients with depression have symptoms of insomnia.”

Avery put her mobile phone on the table, organized her clothes.

Tammy spoke eloquently, “Isn’t my mother-in-law not believing in Jun’s depression? Jun knew that his mother wouldn’t believe him, so he was prepared. He directly took out a bottle of treatment. Depression medicine, take medicine in front of your f*cking face.”

Avery immediately looked up at the screen when she heard this: “Do you really take it?”

“Haha, the vitamin tablets in the bottle. Hahaha! He doesn’t have depression, how could he really let him take that kind of medicine. But my mother-in-law didn’t know. My mother-in-law was so frightened that she was stunned. ” Tammy remembered the scene from last night and whispered.

Avery: “So have you reconciled with your mother-in-law?”(source: infobagh.com)

Tammy’s laughter subsided, “No! we can’t reconcile. As long as she doesn’t force Jun, that’s fine. Last night my mother-in-law held Jun and cried for a long time. ...After crying, she didn’t say anything and left with my father-in-law. I don’t think she would force Jun.”

Avery: “That’s good.”

“Where’s Elliot? Where’s your child? Why is your house so quiet?” Tammy asked.

“They’re taking a nap. I can’t sleep, so I packed the children’s clothes.” Avery was talking, and Mrs. Cooper came over with a few cardboard boxes.

Mrs. Cooper said, “Avery, take a break, I’ll clean up. Robert fell asleep just now.”

Avery was a little tired, so she stood up. Probably after squatting for a long time, she suddenly stood up, resulting in the lack of blood supply to her brain, her head was dizzy, and her body was unstable.(source: infobagh.com)

She quickly held onto the sofa and breathed a sigh of relief.

“Avery, what’s wrong with you?” Mrs. Cooper hurriedly walked to her side and asked.

Tammy also saw that Avery almost fell just now, and asked loudly, “Avery, are you okay?”

“I’m fine...” Avery immediately stood up and looked at the video call, “I just stood up suddenly, So I’m a little dizzy.”

Tammy said, “Are you anemic? You need to make up more for anemia. Let Mrs. Cooper cook you more delicious food.”

Avery: “Well. I’m going to take a nap and hang up first.”(source: infobagh.com)

“It is good.”

After Avery hung up the video, Mrs. Cooper said with a worried look: “Avery, why don’t you go to the hospital to check to see if you are really anemic. The food you usually eat is not bad. If you are really anemic, ask the doctor to prescribe it for you. Order some medicine.”

Avery: "I'm much better now. I didn't pay attention just now, so I shouldn't have gotten up abruptly."

Mrs. Cooper said, "Well. Go to bed! I'll pack these clothes."(source: infobagh.com)

Master bedroom.

Elliot was already asleep, and his sleeping appearance was very quiet and peaceful.

Avery walked to the bed and sat down, looking at his handsome face up close, the more she looked at it, the more she liked it, and the more she looked at the spirit, the better.

Chapter 1530

Seeing Avery sleeping so soundly, Elliot really couldn't bear to call her to get up. Coming out of the bedroom, he saw several large cardboard boxes in the living room.

Mrs. Cooper said, "Sir, these are the old clothes of Layla and Hayden. Avery said to donate these clothes. I forgot to ask her where to donate. I asked the bodyguard to remove the box, otherwise it would take up too much space. It's over." (source: infobagh.com)

Elliot: "Donate to the poor mountainous area. I'll find the contact information."

After that, Elliot sat on the sofa and turned on his mobile phone.

Mrs. Cooper went to prepare a fresh-cut fruit plate for him.

Elliot's company donates money to impoverished mountainous areas every year. But this has always been done by the people in the finance department.

He called the finance department and asked for the contact information over the mountain.

The staff of the finance department immediately called up the relevant information: “Boss, there are several charitable associations and schools in poverty-stricken areas that our counterparts donate to, or I will send them to you.”

Elliot: “Well.”

After speaking on the phone, Elliot quickly accepted to a detailed table.

He has hardly ever been to impoverished areas, only when Robert was born prematurely and needed blood transfusion, he went to impoverished mountainous areas to ask for blood.(source: infobagh.com)

His thoughts were suddenly pulled far away. Somehow, he suddenly thought that if his child grew up in such an environment, he didn't know what the child would become, and whether the child would grow up alive and well.

In poor mountainous areas, three meals a day were a problem. Not to mention how backward the medical environment was.

The unevenness of this world, Elliot has always deeply understood. So for the sake of his family, he must live well and work hard.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

After he glanced at the form, he felt that it was not enough to just donate some old clothes. He re-allocated it to the finance department, “Is Ben Schaffer here?”

“The chief financial officer is not here today.”

“I'll transfer 5 million from my personal account later. You guys will cooperate with the purchasing department to buy school supplies and donate them to schools in the mountains. I still have some old clothes here, and we will send them over when the time comes.”

“Okay, boss.”

Born in such a place, there was only one way to change one's fate, and that was to study.

3 days later.

Tate Industries.

Avery came out of the conference room after making an exception. Back at the office, she was very thirsty, so she picked up the water glass and took a gulp of water.(source: infobagh.com)

The phone on the table suddenly rang.

Avery immediately picked up her phone and saw that it was Elliot calling.

The corners of her mouth twitched involuntarily and she picked up the phone.

His deep voice suddenly flowed through the electric waves.

“Avery, let’s have dinner together at noon.”

She was stunned for a moment: “Yes! Can you eat outside? Why is he so solemn all of a sudden?”

Avery felt that Elliot’s tone was a little unusual.

“The results of my identification with Sofia have come out.” Elliot replied.

Chapter 1531

At noon.

Avery came to the restaurant ordered by Elliot and met with Sofia.

After she sat down beside Elliot, she couldn’t help looking at Sofia.

Elliot said on the phone that the identification results showed that Sofia was his mother.

“Are you Avery?” Sofia had a kind and restrained smile on her face, “You are so beautiful.”

Avery was also a little restrained, so she tried to find a topic: “Auntie, you live in Bridgedale? When did you go to Bridgedale?”

Sofia lowered her eyes and thought for a moment: “I’ve been there for quite a few years. This matter is a bit complicated... I was smuggled over to work as a gangster back then, but I didn't expect that I was lucky. I met my future husband there. I didn't use the identity of Sofia there."

Elliot's doubts were explained. He sent someone to check on Sofia in Bridgedale, but found no information.

"Then did your husband come with you?" Avery asked.

Sofia shook her head: "He passed away the year before. In fact, I saw Elliot on the news before. When I saw Elliot, I thought he looked alike to me, but I didn't dare to think about it, because I couldn't climb high. I found out that Elliot's biological father is Nathan, and I started to doubt it."

"Well, let's eat first. Otherwise, the food will be cold." Avery said with a smile.

They eat western food.

Because Sofia came back from Bridgedale, she was afraid that she was not used to Aryadelle's food taste.

Avery picked up the knife and fork, ready to cut the steak.

At this time, Elliot handed her the cut steak.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

The two of them were talking just now, and Elliot was silently cutting the steak.

They both ordered the same meal, so when Elliot handed her the plate, she took it without hesitation.

Sofia picked up the knife and fork and cut the steak seriously.

Elliot looked at her from the corner of his eyes.

Avery sliced the steak with too much force, causing the blade and plate to screech.

She seemed to be in a hurry, her face turned red, and the movements of her hands became more and more awkward.

"Auntie, are you a little nervous?" Avery saw this and broke the embarrassment,

“Don’t be nervous, Elliot doesn’t have any ill will towards you. Otherwise, he won’t agree to eat with you.”

Sofia stopped her hand with the knife. With a stiff smile on her face, she said, “I am indeed a little nervous... After all, I am humble... and Elliot is so... successful.”

“Auntie, don’t said to be like this. We can’t decide our origin, and we can’t change our destiny in many cases. Most people are mediocre all their lives. Elliot will not deny you because of your past.”

“Avery, you speak so nicely. Sofia looked at her with envy, “I heard that you are a very good doctor. It’s amazing that you have such high achievements at such a young age.”

Avery’s cheeks flushed with praise: “Auntie, why don’t you have such high achievements?” I’ll cut it for you.”

“No, no, I can cut it, but today my fingers are not very good.” Sofia smiled and declined, then lowered her head and continued to cut the steak.

“Auntie, take the liberty to ask, how old are you this year?” Avery asked after eating a piece of beef.

“Ah... I just turned 53 this year.” Sofia looked embarrassed when she answered this question, “When I was born, I just dropped out of school and came to work, and Nathan lied with his eloquent words.”

Avery was shocked. She didn’t expect Sofia to be so young.

Chapter 1532

But the wrinkles on her face, she felt weathered and looked older than her actual age.

“After I gave birth, I had to go to work and couldn’t take care of the child. So after Elliot was born, it was Nathan’s mother who took care of me.” Sofia recalled the past, "After I have saved some money, I went and asked Nathan to see the child, but Nathan refused to show me. Later, Nathan changed his contact information, and I couldn't find him. Fortunately, I knew his name."

"This Nathan die, it's so bad." Avery is also a mother now, so after hearing what Sofia said, she was furious, "A person like him will die."

Sofia's eyes flickered and her lips moved, as if she wanted to pick her up. In the end, nothing was said.

The atmosphere turned cold for a moment.

Elliot looked at Avery: "Would you like something else?"

Avery used a fork to fork the broccoli on the plate: "That's enough. Ask Auntie if she want something else."

Elliot was silent.

Sofia hurriedly said, "I can eat these."

"Auntie, you don't have to be polite to us. I don't think you like steak very much.

There are other main dishes on the menu. You can order whatever you want."

Avery handed the menu to Sofia.

Seeing Avery's enthusiasm, Sofia took over the menu with a smile and ordered a plate of fried rice with eggs.

"Your taste is still a habit here." Avery smiled.

"Yeah." Sofia put down the menu, not wanting to talk more about her eating habits.

"Auntie, what's your plan next? Do you work in Bridgedale?" Avery wanted to know more about her thoughts.

Sofia shook her head: "I mainly live on the savings my husband left behind."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"Then do you plan to go back to Bridgedale, or stay here?" Avery continued to ask.

Sofia: "This... Of course I want to stay here, after all my husband is dead."

Avery: "Do you and your husband have children?"

Sofia: "My husband and I have no children, But he and his ex-wife have a daughter. His daughter is already married."

"Oh, if you want to stay in Aryadelle, you can." Avery said in a relaxed tone, "If you have any difficulties in the future, you can tell us."

"I , I don't have any difficulties... The legacy my husband left me is enough for me to spend... As long as I can see you from time to time, I will be very satisfied." A smile appeared on Sofia's face.

It's just this smile that looks a bit reluctant. She has something to say. But every time she felt that she was going to say something important next, what she said was nothing that hurt or itchy.

After lunch, Avery offered to take Sofia back to the hotel, but she refused.

After watching her get into a taxi, Avery looked up at Elliot and asked, "How do you feel?"

"How about you?" Elliot didn't know how he felt.

Because he felt so weird.

Avery opened the door, got in the car, sat firmly, and answered his question: "I feel that Sofia has a lot of thoughts. She said that she had no problem and didn't need our help, but she looked like she was in trouble."

"It's not the same bag as the bag three days ago." Elliot expressed his doubts,

"Today's bag is also from Hermes. If it is genuine, the price is not cheap."

"I finally understand that you were with her three days ago . What you said, you said her skin was not well maintained. She was only 53 years old, but she looked very older."

“She and Nathan may not be as simple as she said.” Elliot pointed out another point of doubt, “She asked me three days ago why I didn’t save Nathan. It’s not like she shows us that she has no shortage of money.”

Chapter 1533

Avery deeply agrees.

Avery: “Although Sofia has many doubts, I don’t think she is a bad person.”

“Well.” Elliot had seen her three days ago.

After these two meetings, although he felt that she was a little suspicious, he also felt that there was a lingering pitiful aura about her.

He wouldn’t deliberately divide people into three, six, and nine classes, but he subconsciously believed that even if Sofia was wearing a famous brand, carrying a Hermes bag, and trying to look like a lady, her words and deeds would not deceive people.

“Elliot, let’s not think about it so much for now. After you meet her a few more times, maybe you will know why she is like this.” Avery thinks that although Sofia is a little strange but she is not the kind of aggressive person.

No matter what was in Sofia’s heart, she should not harm them.

“I’m afraid that she will be used.” Elliot expressed his concerns, “If someone with a heart knows that she is my biological mother, someone will definitely want to use her hands to create trouble.”

Avery nodded: “Tell me your aunt’s number and I’ll talk to her more. Let her be on guard.”

“Well.” After sending her the number, Elliot asked, “Are you going home or going back to the company?”

Avery touched her stomach, she said, “I’m not full.”

Elliot: “Would you like to go to the restaurant just now? You can also change to another one.”

“I don’t want to eat Western food.” Avery smiled, “I saw my aunt eating egg fried rice just now, I think So fragrant. But I want to eat hot and sour noodles now.”

Elliot has never eaten hot and sour noodles outside, but this simple snack should be able to be cooked in any restaurant.

“I know that there is a shop whose hot and sour noodles are particularly authentic.” After Avery said this, she immediately reported the driver’s address.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

After searching the store name on the mobile map, the driver drove the car towards the destination.

“This store is near the high school I used to study...” Avery said, seeming to think of something, but she quickly brought it over with other words, “Now I think of life in high school, in addition to endless questions, I don’t seem to have any other memories.”

“Your college entrance examination scores seem to be good.” Elliot had investigated her information before.

“My score can be used to get into a better key university. I want to go to a medical school in another province, or go abroad, but my dad doesn’t agree.” Avery still felt a little pain in her heart when she talked about this, “My dad didn’t want to hindering me. He said he was reluctant for me to leave him. Although he usually doesn’t care much about me. I am his daughter after all.”

“I understand. If Layla wants to leave me to study far away, I will also be reluctant. Elliot said, “Jack is usually quite busy.”

Avery: “Well. He is a workaholic. I asked you to spend more time with the children at home because I lacked fatherly love in my childhood.”

The two arrived at the hot and sour noodle shop near the high school.

The store was still there and has been renovated and looks relatively new.

The boss and the proprietress were ready to close.

This store was only doing morning business because of its good business.

“Boss, we came here on purpose to eat noodles.” Avery said with a smile, “I used to go to school here and often came to eat noodles.”

The boss looked at her for a while, and suddenly remembered: “I remembered.

Your mother often wait for you in our store after school at noon.

Chapter 1534

Avery smiled and said, “Yes.”

Elliot immediately understood why she had to come here to eat fans.

She was thinking about her mother.

.....

After Sofia returned to the hotel, she took the room card and swiped the door open.

Entering the room, she was shocked when she saw Wanda.

“You, why are you here?” A layer of cold sweat broke out from Sofia’s back.

Wanda showed a sly smile: “Is the marriage still going well? Seeing that you have been out for so long I think you have a pleasant meal with your son, right?”

“I...I didn’t recognize him. He probably doesn’t want to recognize me.” Sofia put her bag on the table, walked to the sofa and sat down, “Mrs. Tate, maybe he sees that I’m not rich, so he doesn’t want to recognize me.”

“Sofia, He agrees to eat with you, which shows that he has the idea of recognizing you. Otherwise, he will not bring Avery to accompany you to dinner.”

Wanda calculated, “He has so much money, don’t you want to get some? Do you want to start over a business or back to the days of cleaning the toilet?”

“Do you want me to do something by helping me like this? Mrs. Tate, he doesn’t talk to me at all, so I can't help you." Sofia put the bracelet on her wrist and returned her also she took off the necklace around her neck and put it on the table, "I'm guilty of lying to them. I don't want to be rich anymore."

"Sofia, if you follow the steps I planned for you, then you will get benefits. I will give everything to you. If you listen to me, I promise to give you a villa and give you money that you can spend in the rest of your life. With a house and money, your life will be complete."

Wanda's words, let Sofia was very moved.

If Sofia is relying on herself, she will never be able to get the villa and the endless money in her life.

Furthermore, Elliot's attitude towards her was really cold.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Although Elliot paid for the meal today, how could it compare to the benefits promised by Wanda?

"Sofia, I know you don't trust me very much, so I asked a lawyer to draw up a contract. As long as you listen to me, I will definitely give you the benefits I promised you at that time. If I can't fulfill my promise by then, you can sue me with the contract."

Wanda said, and took out a stack of documents from her bag.

"Mrs. Tate, I haven't decided whether to listen to your arrangement. I'm a little afraid of my son... Although he doesn't recognize me, he is a little serious." As long as Sofia thinks of Elliot's unsmiling face, her heartbeat can't stop speeding up.

"What are you afraid of, he's your son, and he won't kill you." Wanda showed her the top document, "I'll give you a villa in the city center, and 10 million in cash, what do you think?"

Sofia took the document and carefully glanced at the contents.

Because she didn't read much, and she was a little farsighted, it took a while to read the main content of the document.

"Mrs. Tate, if I sign this document, what do you want me to do?" Sofia was moved.

"What I want you to do is very simple. You try to have a good relationship with Elliot and let him recognize you as a mother, but you don't need him to be more filial to you. As long as he can help you when you encounter difficulties. For him, 10 million is about the same as ordinary people's cents. But he is a very stingy person. If you don't want to get close to him, it is impossible for him to give you such a large amount of money."

"Then you will get What?" Sofia is not a fool, Wanda gave her a villa and 10 million, indicating that Wanda will get more at that time.

"I own a company in Bridgedale, and I want to make it bigger, but I need investment. I will transfer the company to your name at that time, and when you have a good relationship with him, you will ask him to invest some money in you." Sofia said, I'm afraid I don't have that ability."

"How do you know you can't if you don't try? Besides, if he doesn't vote, you have nothing to lose." Wanda shoved the pen into her hand, "If you weren't his biological mother, do you think this kind of good thing would come to an end? Is it on your head? Don't be ashamed of your face."

Chapter 1535

In a flash, half a month has passed.

Soon, it will be New Year's Eve.

In order to bring the relationship between Hayden and Elliot closer, Avery proposed that the family take a set of family photos with the theme of New Year. After her proposal was made, Layla immediately agreed with joy, and Elliot also agreed.

Finally, the family's eyes fell on Hayden.

Hayden was not interested in taking family portraits, mainly because he did not want to take pictures with Elliot.

Although he could accept living under the same roof as Elliot, he still felt a little bit different when he saw Elliot.

This kind of awkwardness seems to be an emotion etched in his bones.

"Brother! Let's go take pictures together!" Layla grabbed Hayden's arm and begged, "Just treat it as a New Year's gift for me."

Layla said, Hayden couldn't refuse.

The family came to the studio. Because the temperature was relatively low recently, Avery chose three sets of themes for indoor shooting.

After the three sets of family portraits were taken, the photographer turned over the original retakes and asked, "Ms. Tate, do you want to take a set with your daughter? There are few photos of you and your daughter. There are also Mr. Foster and..."

Before the photographer finished speaking, Hayden interrupted him immediately: "No."

The photographer wanted him and Elliot to take a photo of father and son, but he didn't want to.

Seeing the embarrassed look on the photographer's face, Avery immediately said, "Let me take another set with my daughter. Everyone says that my daughter looks like me, but I think my daughter is much prettier than me."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Layla merged Elliot and Avery have all the advantages, so they are slim, bright and moving.

“Ms. Tate, you are too modest. Your daughter is beautiful, and you are also very beautiful.” The photographer praised her and took them to the next photo scene. Hayden didn’t follow him, and Elliot also stood still.

Elliot wanted to be alone with his son for a while, but looking at his son’s face, he seemed to be leaving at any moment.

“Aren’t you going to see them take pictures?” Elliot asked secretly. After asking this question, he quickly said, “If you are tired, just sit here for a while, and I’ll go see them take pictures.”

After Elliot walked away, Hayden sat down in the chair.

The staff brought a glass of water and put it in front of him.

“Hayden, do you want Auntie to take you to remove your makeup?”

“Wait a minute.” Hayden wanted to wait for her mother and sister to finish the filming, and then go to remove her makeup together.

After the staff walked away, Hayden turned on his phone and played a game.

He was not addicted to games, so when the screen of a mobile phone on the table lights up, his eyes are immediately attracted.

It was Elliot’s phone that lit up.

Elliot’s phone was right next to his arm, so he could see the content on his screen by looking slightly sideways.

–Elliot, I just found out today that you blocked me.

–I just want to show you the picture of the child, I will not disturb your life with Avery.

–It took me a long time to find out your new number, please don’t block me.

–I had a four-dimensional color Doppler ultrasound today, and I guessed right, our child is really a daughter. Don’t you really want to see what she looks like?

Hayden was attracted by the second text message.

He put down his cell phone, picked up Elliot's cell phone uncontrollably, and opened it.

Elliot's mobile phone was set up with face recognition and password lock.

Probably because he and Elliot looked alike, so when he picked up Elliot's phone, the screen lock turned on automatically.

He didn't notice this detail and clicked on the text message directly.

This strange number did not say who that was, but Hayden guessed from the text message that the owner of the strange number was Rebecca.

Elliot, I know you can read my text messages, let me show you our daughter. I didn't lie to you. Does she look a lot like Layla? She will surely be as cute and smart as Layla in the future.

Rebecca kept sending text messages.

Hayden's eyes fell on the baby's face on the 4D color Doppler ultrasound photo.

Chapter 1536

This little baby really looked more and more like Layla.

However, this baby was the child of Elliot and Rebecca.

'Bang'!

When Elliot heard the movement, he immediately looked towards the source of the sound.

The movement came from Hayden.

Elliot strode towards Hayden.

Hayden handed him his mobile phone immediately after he came over.

He took the phone, but looked at Hayden's cold and hostile eyes in confusion.

"What's wrong?" Elliot asked Hayden, "I heard something fall to the ground just now. Did you drop your phone?"

Hayden replied, "It's your phone. I threw it."

Hayden was very angry just now, so he dropped Elliot phone to the ground.

After throwing it on the ground, he thought his mother might be angry, so he picked it up.

Elliot glanced at the phone in his hand.

Because of the phone case, the phone is intact.

Hayden wouldn't throw his phone away for no reason, so he turned it on and saw a 4D color Doppler photo.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

The baby in the photo looked a little familiar.

This was a color Doppler photo.

Ordinary people didn't send him such pictures... Could it be Rebecca?

He immediately clicked the return button and glanced at the sender, it was an unfamiliar number.

At the same time, Elliot saw that this strange number sent him countless messages.

After glancing at the news, Elliot understood why Hayden was angry and threw his phone away.

Elliot was helpless.

Rebecca found his new number and insisted on sending him a message, which was not something he could control.

"Hayden, this is a message from Rebecca. She added me on Facebook last time, and I deleted her. I didn't contact her behind your back." Elliot explained in a low voice, "I have reached an agreement with your mother. I Agreed that I will not go to Yonroeville again, nor will I recognize this child."

Hayden was still very unhappy after listening to his explanation. He felt that the existence of Rebecca and this child was a shame.

Even if the mother said that she didn't care, but this incident made her a huge grievance.

Hayden couldn't change anything. It is impossible for him to go to Yonroeville to kill Rebecca and that child, so he can only see and not bother.

Out of sight includes not in sight of Elliot.

Hayden got up from the chair and walked towards Avery.

"Hayden! Don't tell your mother yet." Elliot looked at his son's tall and thin back.

His Adam's apple rolled, "If she knew that Rebecca contacted me, she would not be happy. Don't worry, I will block Rebecca's number."

Hayden paused for a few seconds, then continued to walk towards Avery in silence.

He just stood by to watch his mother and sister take pictures, and did not speak.

Elliot turned on his mobile phone again and looked at the 4D color Doppler ultrasound photo carefully.

How could this kid look like Layla?

He don't know what Layla looked like when she took the 4D color Doppler ultrasound.

If there was a 4D photo of Layla, it would be nice to compare it.

Elliot saved the photo, then deleted the text message from Rebecca, and added Rebecca's number to the blacklist by the way.

When he got home after taking pictures, it was already dark.

Mrs. Cooper brought a sumptuous dinner to the table.

Avery and the child went to the bathroom to wash their hands.

"Hayden, why are you unhappy? You're not like this this morning, are you too tired? Or is your father making you angry?"

Avery noticed the change in his son's mood, so he asked in a low voice.

Chapter 1537

After Avery asked aloud, Layla realized later that her brother was sullen.

“Brother, why are you unhappy? If you don’t like taking pictures, then I won’t force you to take pictures next time.” Layla grabbed her brother’s arm and coaxed him.

Hayden didn’t want his mother to be affected by Rebecca’s incident.

Because Elliot said he would block Rebecca.

“It’s a bit tiring to take pictures. It’s more boring than shopping.” Hayden made an excuse casually.

He doesn’t like shopping, but if he compares taking pictures with shopping, he would rather go shopping.

Shopping is at least a breath of fresh air outside, taking pictures and staying in the studio all the time, stuffy.

Avery promised his son, and smiled, said: “I didn’t take a nap today, so I’m really tired. Next time I take a family photo, my mother chooses when the weather is good, so that I can go outside and shoot the location, and it won’t be so boring. I thought you Dad made you angry. At that time, I took a photo with Layla, and I saw that you two were alone for a while.”

Hayden almost couldn’t help complaining.

At this time, Elliot walked to the door of the bathroom: “What are you talking about inside? Are you talking bad about me?”

He was a little guilty, afraid that Hayden would make a snitch with Avery.

Of course, even if this matter is told to Avery, he is not afraid.

At most, explain it to Avery again.

“What are you saying bad about?” Avery came out of it, “If you didn’t do anything bad, you don’t have to worry about us saying bad things about you. Are you guilty?”

Elliot shook his head: "You took your child in to wash your hands, but you didn't even tell me to wash your hands. "

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"You are so big, do you still need me to call to wash your hands?" Avery couldn't help laughing, "The bathroom can't hold so many of us all at once."

Avery came out and saw that the two children were still in the bathroom, so she whispered to Elliot, "I think Hayden is not very happy, so I asked him if he had a conflict with you."

Elliot raised his eyebrows: "How did he answer? "

Avery: "He said that taking pictures was too tiring, but I think he was mostly perfunctory. I took him to take pictures before, and he was quite happy. It's impossible to suddenly stop taking pictures."

"Maybe it's because of me. Elliot explained the reason, "At that time the photographer wanted me to take a photo with him, and he was very unhappy."

"But Hayden refused, we didn't force him." Avery still didn't quite understand his son's emotional change. "Maybe he's really tired. He studies late every night now, and I'm really worried that his body can't handle it."

Elliot knew why his son was unhappy, so he wasn't worried about his health.

"Let's go to dinner first! I'm a little hungry."

"Well, I'm hungry too." Avery pulled his arm over and glanced at his watch, "It's 7:50 p.m., no wonder I'm so hungry."

It was completely dark outside.

Three children play with toys in the toy area, after having dinner.

Mainly Hayden Layla were playing. Robert was still too young, so she could only hold her own little toy and watch her brother and sister play with curiosity.

Avery took her mobile phone and searched for various gifts on the Internet. She is preparing a Spring Festival gift for her child, but she has a headache and doesn't know what to give.

Avery: "Elliot, what are you going to give the children?"

Elliot: "Have you started picking now?"

Avery: "Well, it's fine to be idle anyway."

Elliot replied, "Toys for Robert, jewelry for Layla, gifts for Hayden I haven't thought about it yet."

Avery: "Hahaha, I also have a headache and don't know what to give Hayden."

Chapter 1538

Elliot: "Think slowly, it's not that day yet."

Avery asked, "Well, will you attend my company's party then? My company vice president told me that the employees below hope that the party will be organized. You can be present because you are our major shareholder now."

"If you let me participate, I will participate, and if you don't let me participate, I will stay at home." Elliot doesn't like crowded places, whether it's his company or Avery's. He is not very interested in the company's party.

"What you mean is that you don't want to participate! Then I will take the children to participate." When Avery finished speaking, Elliot immediately changed his words: "If you take the children, then come with me by the way."

"Well. Look. I haven't told the child yet." Avery rubbed her stomach, "I still like summer, it's not so dark at this time in summer. Not only is winter cold, but the days are very short. It feels like the day goes by in one fell swoop. "

In fact, every day goes by very fast. Sometimes when I look at Hayden and Layla, I can't believe that this is my child." Elliot sighed in his heart, "Have you recorded their growth?"

Avery: "What Records? Photos or text?"

Elliot: "It's okay. Because I've lost the time before they were four years old, I'm curious about what they were like before.”

Avery nodded: “I remember I showed you them before. The photos when they were just born. There is an album at home, and there are photos of them when they were young. I’ll get it for you.”

Elliot: “Okay.”

Avery entered the room, took out the album, and handed it to him.

“After returning to Aryadelle, I didn’t print any photos. Another day, I’ll sort out the photos on my phone and print a photo album. It’s better to have a physical photo album. I used to save my baby’s photos on the Internet, and I saved a lot, as well as my pregnancy photos. All kinds of photos, and then the account suddenly couldn’t be logged in, and the password was always displayed. I couldn’t find it back.”

Avery regretted.

“I want to see the photos of Hayden and Layla when they were just born. Only this album has some photos.”

“Where do you exist? What is your account number? I’ll help you find them.” Elliot wanted to see those dusty photos.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

After Avery answered his question, Layla’s voice came: “Mom! Come here! Come and see the castle that my brother helped me build.”

She bought her daughter a box of complicated building blocks a while ago.

It’s Layla’s to buy.

Because after this box of building blocks is assembled, it is a very beautiful castle.

Layla tried to build it a few times, but it was too complicated.

After Avery went to the children’s side, Elliot walked towards the study.

Avery stored the photos in an app of a domestic maternal and child community platform. Now this app was outdated and not as popular as in previous years.

Elliot called Chad and asked him to continue the boss of the company.

About an hour later, Chad contacted the boss of the company and sent the boss's number to Elliot's mobile phone.

Elliot dialed the number, and the other party answered in seconds.

"Hello, Mr. Foster, I don't know what you have to do with me. As long as I can help you, I will be there."

Elliot responded, "I have an account, but I forgot the password. You can let me know. Can your company's technology help you retrieve it?"

"Where do you have an account? Is it a product of our company?"

"Well."

The boss wiped his sweat: "There are three products in our company, I don't know about you and which one are you talking about?"

Elliot: "Mom and baby."

The boss listened to him saying these words seriously, and couldn't help laughing: "I didn't expect you to register the account of mother and baby."

Chapter 1539

"I didn't register. My wife did." Elliot said Avery's account name, "She forgot the password for this account. There are a lot of photos in it, please ask your technicians to get the account number and photos back?"

"Okay, I'm in charge of technology, I'll come to help you right away. If I don't reply to you before 12 o'clock tonight, then don't wait tonight."

Elliot: "Thank you for your hard work."

"It's okay, it's our honor that your wife can choose to use our products."

After talking on the phone, Elliot opened the photo album on his mobile phone and saw the 4D color Doppler ultrasound photo sent by Rebecca today.

He zoomed in on the photo to see the baby's facial features.

This little guy looked a bit like Layla.

Elliot couldn't help walking towards the bathroom, turned on the light, and looked at his face in the mirror.

Layla looks more like Avery, but why does he and Rebecca's children look like Layla? After looking in the mirror for a while, Elliot reopened the album to find Layla's picture.

Layla's facial features are more three-dimensional now, with some personal characteristics.

Sometimes when he look at her, he feels that she is more like Avery, and sometimes he feels that she is more like myself.

Elliot couldn't help but strain his heart. He didn't have any feelings for Rebecca, and he thought he wouldn't have any feelings for their children either.

But now, looking at this little baby who looked so much like Layla, his heart softened.

Elliot knew why he was soft-hearted. Because this kid is like Layla.

If this child looks like Rebecca, or like him, he will definitely not be soft-hearted.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

About half an hour later, Avery came to knock on the study door.

Avery: "Elliot, what are you doing in the study?"

Elliot strode up in front of her: "I just found someone to see if I can retrieve your account."

"It's so late today, it's nothing to worry about, you can do it tomorrow. Go find someone again." Avery took him out of the study, "Let's go take a bath. Hayden and Layla have already taken a bath."

"Aren't they playing with building blocks?" Elliot glanced at the time, "It's only been half an hour.”

“The child takes a bath very quickly. They all turned off the lights and fell asleep at the moment.” Avery took his arm and walked towards the master bedroom, “Just now Mike called me and said we were digging The new product developed by the new team is very good. I am looking forward to going to the company tomorrow.”

“Then go to bed early tonight. When you see the new product tomorrow, tell me how you feel.”

“Of course I will tell you. After all, you paid for it, and I will definitely report to you.”

Avery laughed and teased.

After the two entered the bedroom, they closed the door.

Avery went to the closet to get pajamas, while Elliot reached out and unbuttoned his shirt.

His legs hadn't fully recovered yet, and Avery helped him take a bath every night.

For Avery's personal care, Elliot now enjoyed peace of mind. He always knew where his heart was. Where is Avery, where is his heart.

Even if Elliot has different feelings for the child in Rebecca's belly, it is because the child resembles Avery.

He just doesn't know if the child will continue to develop and his appearance will change.

After taking a shower, Elliot came out of the bathroom. He went to bed and sat down, turned on his mobile phone, and checked if the boss of the Mom and Baby APP had replied.

—No.

He doesn't know if the boss can get the account back tonight.

Chapter 1540

Elliot clicked on a financial app and watched the news to pass the time.

Suddenly, his eyes widened.

He saw a familiar company name – Wonder Technologies.

According to the news, they got the gossip that Wonder Technologies will go public in Bridgedale soon.

The news content was very short, but if this news was true, then Wanda's layout was really a bit big. It should be said that she and the capital behind her had great ambitions!

If a company in Aryadelle went to list in Bridgedale, it was impossible for them to do so if there was not enough huge interest to seduce them.

Elliot suddenly didn't understand why Wanda dared to do this.

was she sure she could pass the scrutiny of going abroad for listing?

Or had she found a strong backer who could ignore his presence?

Elliot didn't know if the news was true or not, but he had to find out if it was true.

He took a screenshot of the news and sent it to Ben Schaffer.

Ben Schaffer saw the screenshot and called him immediately.

Ben Schaffer: "Wonder Technologies is going to go public in Bridgedale?"

"How about you go to Bridgedale and investigate." Elliot said.

"Okay! Going to Bridgedale... I'm very happy." Ben Schaffer's tone was relaxed, and he didn't hide his happiness at all, "It just so happens that I have a gift to take to Bridgedale for Gwen. And she's going to be a model soon. The game is over, I will stop by to watch her play before returning to Aryadelle after the game."

Elliot teased: "Dating at public expense?"

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Ben Schaffer laughed at himself: "Thank you for looking down on me so much.

Gwen is not willing to fall in love with me at all. When I asked her why she didn't want to fall in love with me, she said that apart from me being too old, she wanted to do a good job in her career first, and after she had a successful career, had seen a wider world, and met more excellent handsome guys, she would then decide to have a good career and don't fall in love with me."

Elliot felt that Gwen's choice was wise. Although he has a good relationship with Ben Schaffer, he cannot force Gwen and Ben Schaffer to be together with his conscience.

Whether two people are suitable or not requires constant trial and error to understand what they want before deciding.

"Your son has done a good job." Ben Schaffer couldn't help laughing and crying, "He is not only a strong supporter of Gwen, but also Gwen's spiritual mentor and emotional mentor. Your son is simply a talent."

"It seems that my son does not like me, it is not his wrong." Elliot was a little worried, "He has a good relationship with everyone, but I can't get along."

"Take your time! There will be more days in the future!" Ben Schaffer was originally a violent temper, but now Half of the edges and corners have been smoothed by Gwen.

After the two chatted for a while, Avery came out of the shower.

Elliot hung up immediately.

"Who are you talking on the phone with." Avery heard him talking on the phone in the bathroom, but she couldn't really hear it.

"Ben Schaffer. He said that he bought a gift for Gwen, and he was going to Bridgedale to give it to her. By the way, Gwen would return home after the competition." Elliot put down his phone.

"Gwen? You are calling her so affectionate now. Hahaha!" Avery rubbed some cream and walked to the bed, turning off the light, "Actually, I also want to watch Gwen's game live, but you don't have enough legs. It's convenient, forget it."

“Well. Go to sleep.”

“Husband, I haven’t heard you say you love me for a long time.” Avery put her arms around his waist after laying down, buried her head in his neck, and took a shallow breath.

Elliot: “I love you.”

Avery was startled, raised her head, and smiled warmly, “Uh? Why are you so good?”

Elliot: “Because I love you.”

Listening to his low-pitched and powerful love words, her heart continued to accelerate, as if it was about to jump out.

At 3 o’clock in the night, Elliot’s cell phone suddenly lit up.

The owner of the Mom and Baby app retrieved Avery’s account password and sent it to his mobile phone.

He immediately logged in to the app and saw Avery’s photos that existed in it before.

Chapter 1541

Contained more than three hundred photos. There were selfies of Avery during her pregnancy, as well as photos of the baby when she was born.

These photos were never seen before by Elliot.

He starts with the first photo at the bottom.

The first photo was of her and Laura when they were waiting in the waiting area of the hospital.

In the photo, Avery caressed her bulging belly with one hand and smiled well, and Laura also showed a kind smile.

Elliot’s eyes suddenly became sour.

As long as he remembered that he had not given her and the child any care when she was Layla and Hayden. He would blame himself.

Pregnancy with twins was much more difficult than pregnancy with singles. At that time, Avery was also very poor financially, and she had to take care of her studies. She don't know how much she suffered.

He turned the photos back – there were landscape photos of her school, photos of her and her classmates, and photos of her and Professor James Hough.

His finger continued to slide left on the screen, and suddenly, a black-and-white B-ultrasound shot into his eyes.

He zoomed in on the photo and could clearly see two children inside.

This was just an ordinary B-ultrasound photo, and the child's facial features cannot be seen.

He carefully read the diagnostic analysis below the photo. There are many professional words in it, which he does not understand, but looking at the diagnosis results, the development of both fetuses was normal.

Even though the child was born normally, he was still relieved.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery even took ordinary B-ultrasound photos and saved them, maybe the 4D color ultrasound photos were also saved.

His fingers flicked through the album quickly.

Sure enough, she kept the four-dimensional color Doppler ultrasound photos of her two children.

After taking a closer look at the two color Doppler photos, he quickly recognized Layla's color Doppler photo.

He saves the photo to his phone, and then finds the color Doppler photo sent by Rebecca.

After comparing the two photos together, his body suddenly became cold.

The chill came from the heart.

Why is he and Rebecca's daughter so similar to Layla.

Before there was no photo comparison, he just thought it was a bit similar. After comparing the two thinking color ultrasound photos together, he found that the two children were simply copy and paste.

Elliot was completely sleepless. He's not in the mood to look at the other photos in the album either.

Holding the phone, he wanted to call Rebecca and ask why this happened.

But after calming down a little, he controlled the impulse in his body.

How could Rebecca know why this happened.

If he contacts Rebecca now, Rebecca will only be more confused.

His mind was very messed up.

This little baby, who looks very much like Layla, is like a hook, hooking his heart.

Reason tells him not to be curious and not to get close to everything related to Rebecca, because doing so will definitely make him lose his current peaceful and stable life.

But this little baby made him go crazy.

In the morning.

Avery woke up, stretched, and got out of bed to go to the bathroom.

After washing her face, she went back to the bed and picked up her phone. She originally wanted to check the time, but was attracted by the news sent by Elliot at night.

Chapter 1542

Elliot sent her account password at night.

Avery immediately turned her head to look at his sleeping handsome face.

It is estimated that Elliot stayed up late last night, which is why he slept so deeply now.

Avery leaned down and pressed a soft kiss to his face.

Not long after Elliot fell asleep, he opened his eyes abruptly after being kissed by her.

“Did you not sleep last night? The red blood in your eyes is a little heavy... Isn't it just one account, even if you can't find it, it's fine.

“I saw your pregnancy photos last night, and I felt very guilty after seeing them.

“Well, I'm getting up. Go to sleep.

Elliot's eyes followed her figure until she left the bedroom

Tate Industries.

Avery came to the R&D department and listened to the R&D team introducing new products.

Time flickered, and it was noon.

“Avery, what do you think?

Avery: “Alright. This is the original design for Wonder Technologies?”

Mike: “Yes.”

“Is there any action from Wonder Technologies?” Avery asked.

Mike sneered: “Elliot is now the big boss of the Tate Industries. If Wanda dares to oppose us, she will oppose Elliot. She is now holding her tail between her tails and has not heard anything.

Avery did not relax her vigilance: “Wanda this people, can bend and stretch, don't look at her as if she has her tail tucked, maybe she is brewing a big move behind her back. She is by no means a timid person.”

“Oh, even if she is brewing a big move, we don’t need to be afraid.

Avery laughed for a while and changed the subject: “Yesterday, we were going to take a family photo.

“Oh, I used to take a family photo with your children, and I could take a corner, but now you don’t take me for a family photo.

Avery: “It wasn’t fun. After taking pictures yesterday, Hayden was not very happy.”

Mike: “Why?”

“I don’t know. Hayden said it was because he was tired, but he is not the kind of temperament that makes him angry because he is tired.

Mike said, “He doesn’t tell you, it means it’s not a big deal but to be honest, he is too cruel. 365 days, is there a month off? I don’t think so. He studied so hard just to surpass Elliot.

Avery: “I know. I also want him to rest more, but he has his own opinion. I can’t interfere.”

Mike gloated, “Haha! I really don’t know if he can find a daughter-in-law in the future. Layla is not a good little ancestor to serve.”

Avery: “If you can’t find a daughter-in-law, let’s live alone. I want to be a big star. If she really becomes a big star in the future, and there are so many fans following her, do you think she will still lack love?”

“I think Robert should be a little warm man. Because he was born in an environment full of love.

Avery said, “It’s easy to be spoiled. But I’m not worried because Robert has older brothers and sisters to teach.”

Bridgedale.

Ben Schaffer came to the house where Hayden lived before with a gift.

After Hayden left, now Gwen lived alone.

Ben Schaffer was here last time and knew the password, so he opened the door and entered directly.

Chapter 1543

About evening, the doorbell rang.

Ben Schaffer thought it was Gwen who came back, so he strode to the door to open the door.

As a result, there was a man standing outside the door.

Ben Schaffer was stunned for a moment, and the man outside the door was also stunned,

The two of them had met before, so they were no strangers.

“What are you doing here?”

“Why are you here?”

“Why can't I be here? This is Hayden's house.

Gwen told him before that her relationship with Zion was not very good, and that Zion would not come to her until the money was spent.

So now that Zion has found it is the money spent?

Ben Schaffer hates things that suck blood. Gwen's current salary can only support basic living, and there is no much money for Zion at all.

Therefore, Ben Schaffer would not condone Zion to ask Gwen for money.

“Hehe, I don't care whose house this is, I only know that my sister lives here!

Where's her?

“Why are you looking for her?”

Zion glanced Zion glanced

“Who did you hear that we broke up?”

Zion's face was flushed, and he was in a hurry: 'I came to see my sister, why did you think I came to ask her for money? I never asked her for money. Didn't I just take some stinky money from you? You gave it to me voluntarily! Now that my sister has a miscarriage, do you want to get the money back.'

"Don't treat a gentleman's belly with your villain's heart. You just came to see her? She has been in Bridgedale for so long. Did you think of seeing her today?"

Zion: "Hehehe, I don't let an outsider to take care of my family's affairs.

Ben: "Gwen's affairs, I'll take care of it!"

The night was as thick as ink.

After Gwen finished today's training, she dragged her tired body back home.

When she opened the gate of the yard, she saw that the lights in the villa room were on, and her heartbeat suddenly accelerated.

Could it be that she forgot to turn off the lights when she went out in the morning?

But she didn't turn on the light at all in the morning.

Who entered her house? Thief?

Gwen immediately took out her mobile phone from her bag and planned to call the police at any time!

Meanwhile, she found a branch from the yard. After picking up the branches, she immediately remembered that she had anti-wolf spray in her bag.

Just as she stood at the door and entered the password, the door was pulled open from the inside.

"Gwen, why are you coming back now?"

The anti-wolf spray in Gwen's hand fell to the ground with a bang.

"You...what's wrong with your face?"

Ben Schaffer touched the wound on his face, and turned his face away with a bit of shame: "Nothing, I accidentally fell."

"Oh?" Gwen walked up to him and continued to stare at his face, "You throw another one and show it to me."

Chapter 1544

Ben Schaffer: "???"

"I don't know, I have never seen wrestling can fall like this.

Ben Schaffer walked to the sofa and sat down. The medical bag on the coffee table was open, iodophor, cotton swabs, and anti-inflammatory drugs were placed on the table.

"Who was beaten? Gwen sat down beside him so that she could taunt him at close range, "I didn't expect you to have an enemy in Bridgedale."

"Yeah! I didn't expect that I would have an enemy in Bridgedale. And by coincidence, the enemy is Zion.

He was beaten, but he also beat Zion

Otherwise, Zion would not be able to leave easily.

He sure is old. If he was ten years younger, he would never have been injured.

"What do you mean? I didn't beat you up, what does it have to do with me?"

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Ben: "It's nothing to do with you, it's about your elder brother. Didn't he call you?"

"No! My elder brother has been here? He beat you up like this?"

Gwen picked up her bag, looked for her mobile phone, and planned to call Zion.

"Do you feel honored?" Gwen Put down the bag, "Why are you two fighting?"

Ben: "I ask you, did he call you?"

"No! When I was training, the phone was turned off. He couldn't contact me at all.

“No. He doesn’t have the guts to ask me for money. But I think he’s most likely to ask you for money.

“It’s a little bit of money. But I can’t give it to him. I’m not a fool. I want to live myself.

Ben: “You can hire a few bodyguards in the future.”

Gwen: “Oh, yes.”

“You’d better not give him money, not even once. Because if you give it once, there will be countless times later.

Gwen nodded and muttered in a low voice, “Why did he spend the money you gave him so quickly? I can’t make so much in a year, how can I afford him to spend like this. I really don’t know what he’s doing all day long.”

Ben Schaffer coughed: “Gwen, in fact, I didn’t give him one million.”

Gwen was stunned.

Ben Schaffer looked at her stunned little face and waited for her reaction.

Gwen said, “D*mn it. I knew that you couldn’t give me such colorful gifts. After all, you despised me so much before, how could you give me a million. No wonder my brother came to me so soon. Asking for money...because you didn’t give him that much, so he spent it all at once. I said how could he spend money so fast.

Ben Schaffer:””

Ben Schaffer was full of old blood Spray in the heart.

Why did Gwen think he was so stingy?

Even if Ben despised her at the time, but Gwen was pregnant with his child at the time, how could he be so stingy towards her?

“Gwen, in your eyes, I’m an old and cynical person, right?

Gwen did not dare to answer this question.

Ben's injured now and looks pitiful.

What if she pissed him off?

"I gave your brother ten million at the time.

Chapter 1545

Gwen's eyes widened, the light in her eyes scattered little by little, as if her soul was out of her body.

Ten million, ten million, ten million!

She read it three times in her mind before realizing how much money it was.

Ben Schaffer saw her startled expression, afraid that she would not believe it, so he found out the transfer record to Zion.

Ben: "Gwen, I'm not as stingy as you think. You keep saying that I despise you, but I really don't despise you. If we haven't slept before...

"Don't say that." Gwen said, interrupted, "Why are you giving my brother so much money? What are you doing with so much betrothal gifts?"

Gwen had planned to work hard to make money and return him the one million he gave.

But now 1 million has become 10 million, such a large debt, she is afraid that it will be difficult to repay in a short time.

Ben Schaffer took a deep breath: "This money is indeed not a small amount, but if it is a betrothal gift for a future wife, it is not too high. You were pregnant with my child at the time, how could I treat you badly?"

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Gwen sighed, "Oh... it turned out to be given for the sake of the child. It's a pity that the child is gone. If you didn't have a child, it would be a million?"

Ben: "If you weren't pregnant at the time, I don't know how to talk about marriage."

“Yes! It was your parents who wanted this child so much that they forced you to marry me.

Ben: “I’m afraid that you have a burden in your heart, didn’t you say you would pay me back?”

Gwen: “Then you just don’t tell me.”

Ben: ...”

“Don’t explain. If he comes to me later, I’ll ask him to pay him back.

Ben picked up a beautiful shopping bag from the ground.

“Didn’t I say I was going to get you a sturdy box last time?

She don’t know if it’s an iron box or a stainless steel box. At first glance, she can tell that it is a very sturdy box.

“Ben Schaffer... Are you lacking in your roots?

This box was definitely expensive.

“Didn’t you say that the box last time was too easy to break? I asked someone to customize this one, and it definitely won’t break.

Gwen: If you send a box, you can send a box, with so many gems inlaid on it, who would dare to accept it!”

Ben Schaffer said lightly, “This kind of colored gemstone is very cheap, but it looks good, but it’s not worth much, and it’s not worth collecting. You accept. This is what I specially asked the designer to design. There are seven colored gemstones on it, which represent auspiciousness and good luck. If you accept this box, you will be able to get what you want in the model competition. The ranking you want.”

Gwen immediately showed a happy smile and accepted the gift.

“Actually, I lied to you last time.” Gwen held the box and said suddenly, “The box is not broken. I liked that bracelet very much, so I wore it.”

“Is that so.” Ben Schaffer scratched his head. He smiled, “Then why are you lying?”

“I’m afraid you will misunderstand. I like the bracelet you gave, but that doesn’t mean I like you. It’s two different things.

Seeing her troubled appearance, Ben Schaffer comforted: “The gift is not very valuable. It’s a small gift from my brother to my sister.”

“We are not brother and sister. After all, we both slept.

“Oh...well...then you can treat me as your licking dog.

Chapter 1546

Ben Schaffer felt that he was now treating Gwen like a dog licking as described by others on the Internet. However, he was not angry. Rather, it was interesting Gwen’s jaw dropped in shock at his remarks.

Did Ben not understand the meaning of licking a dog, or was he too thickskinned?

“By the way, I didn’t come here specifically to find you. If you have training tomorrow, you can go to training and leave me alone.

Gwen: “What did my second brother ask you to do?”

“Business.” Ben asked, “Can I stay here for a few days? I see Hayden’s room is empty.”

“Don’t sleep in his room. He may come again in the future.

Ben Schaffer glanced at the room: “It’s really small.”

Gwen sarcastically said, “If you dislike it, then you Go to the hotel. You are so rich, you go to the presidential suite. I didn’t ask you to stay here.”

*You misunderstood me again, I said it’s really small, it’s just an objective evaluation, it doesn’t mean me dislike it...I’ll just live here. Let your elder brother come to me tomorrow.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Gwen: "He won't do anything to me if he finds it, you don't have to be wronged here for this reason."

Ben Schaffer sighed helplessly, "Hey... I just want to stay with you for a while. It doesn't matter if you find your elder brother or not. I found out, I can't go around talking to you."

"People are tired enough to live, why? Still going around?"

"Okay! You're right." Ben Schaffer summoned his courage and said, "Gwen, I plan to wait for you to return to Aryadelle after the game is over."

Gwen: "Okay! I don't have time to accompany you anyway, you can stay here as long as you like."

Ben: "Can you speak a little more politely?"

Gwen: "Didn't we say we shouldn't go around?"

"Okay, don't go around. You can't accompany me during the day. But you can stay with me at night."

Gwen: "Lick dog doesn't dare to say that to his goddess. You should say that you accompany me to relieve my boredom, not me."

Ben Schaffer: " "

She actually regarded him as a lick dog.

Aryadelle.

After being silent for a few days, Sofia took the initiative to contact Avery.

"Avery, will I come to see you, will it affect your work?" Sofia looked embarrassed.

"No. I'm not very busy at work."

"I came to you to tell you that this year, I don't plan to go back to Bridgedale during the Spring Festival. Sofia took over the menu, but did not read the contents of the menu."

Avery immediately understood what Sofia wanted to say, "You want to spend the Spring Festival with us, right? I think it's okay, but I have to go back and discuss it with Elliot before replying to you."

Sofia: "Okay, Avery, thank you. You are so kind."

"You're welcome. Are you still staying in a hotel? Will it be more expensive to stay in a hotel? How about I help you find a house?"

Avery looked at it and seemed to see the word Wanda displayed on the screen.

Chapter 1547

Sofia hung up the phone with a guilty conscience, and even turned off the phone.

Avery looked at everything, and asked in a calm tone, "Why don't you answer the phone?"

Sofia picked up the water glass in front of her and took a sip: "I'm not familiar with this person."

Sofia knew that Avery and Wanda were enemies with their relationship.

Sofia has been very entangled these days.

Because Avery treats her very well, and shows a willingness to help her.

In fact, as long as the future life can go on, Sofia doesn't have to have a villa and ten million.

Of course, sometimes she also thinks that she has a villa and 10 million, so she doesn't need Elliot as a son.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

After all, Elliot's personality is too indifferent, and it is definitely impossible to treat him well in the future.

From the last time she met the two. after that Elliot didn't even give her a call, and she couldn't help but contact Avery, and that was the reason for this meeting.

Avery said, "Auntie, I know this person. I didn't expect her to contact you so soon. She should know that you are Elliot's biological mother, so she contacted you. This is the first time she called you. When was it? Have you met? What did she tell you?"

Facing Avery's series of torture, Sofia was flustered

This time, she took the initiative to contact Avery, but she did not tell Wanda.

If Wanda knew that she was meeting Avery now, it would be impossible to call.

"I've seen... I can't understand her.

Avery didn't force her, and said slowly: "She is my enemy, She killed my mother."

"Why did she do this?" Sofia was shocked.

Avery: "Because her daughter died. I didn't kill her daughter, but she insisted that the murderer was me."

Sofia: "So..."

"Auntie, no matter what Wanda asks you or tells you, you will Don't believe it. If she gave you a lot of money, you should pay her back as soon as possible. If you are short of money, Elliot and I can give it to you. You must not take her. Because she gave you a dollar and she must be trying to get it from you. Take one hundred dollars, or even more."

Sofia nodded: "I didn't take her money."

Avery explained the consequences, "That's good. Wanda definitely wants to use you to deal with Elliot...if Elliot knows If you join forces with Wanda, he will never forgive you. You don't want to turn against your own son, do you? Besides, we can give you the benefits Wanda can give you."

Sofia listened Hearing Avery's words, he was very moved and ashamed.

Sofia sighed, "Of course I don't want to turn against Elliot, but... I don't know how Elliot treats me. I know I'm not qualified to ask him anything, but he is my own son after all, and I definitely want to be at peace with him. Avery, you have children, you should be able to understand my feelings, right?"

Avery: "Auntie, besides Elliot, you also other children?"

This question made Sofia panic even more. She has children, but she dares not speak.

Having said that, it's revealing.

She pretended to be a 'rich man, and she took Wanda's money to buy clothes and stay in a hotel early in the morning, which made her ashamed to say it.

Chapter 1548

"Auntie, if it's inconvenient for you to say it, it's fine. I'm just asking casually. I'll go back and tell Elliot that when the Spring Festival comes, I'll try to bring you over to spend together."

Sofia: "Avery, thank you Ah!"

"These are all trivial matters, you don't have to be so polite. Elliot has a sister, and he hasn't publicly recognized her yet, but he has a much better attitude towards her now. Give him more time." Avery took out a card from her bag and handed it over, "I'll send the password to your phone later. You can spend the money inside as you like."

Sofia immediately rejected it.

"Auntie, accept it. If Wanda comes to you again, please tell her to stop harassing you. If you have any difficulties, we will solve it. After all, we are a family." Avery's words made Sofia put down her card completely.

She accepted Avery's card.

In the evening.

Avery returned home. She told Elliot about her meeting with Sofia today.

Avery complained, "I knew Wanda wouldn't let this opportunity go. She seems to be honest on the surface, but she keeps making small moves behind her back. I know her too well."

"Did Sofia contact you?" Elliot asked.

"Well. Isn't the Spring Festival coming soon? She said that she won't return to Bridgedale for the new year. She wants to celebrate the Spring Festival with us. Elliot, let's pick her up for the festival!" Avery looked at him expectantly, "If we push her away, she might be bought by Wanda. Whether you have feelings for her or not, your biological mother is the only one. We spend some money to settle her well. For us, it doesn't matter at all. It's laborious."

Elliot understood what Avery said, but he felt disgusted in his heart.

Elliot picked up a stack of documents from the table, and said, "Sofia lied to us. I had someone go to check her details. The first time she called me, she said she was in Bridgedale, so I initially sent someone in Bridgedale investigated her. But nothing was found."

Avery took the document and looked at his solemn face: "So you have investigated her information in Aryadelle?"

Elliot: "It's too humble, I was afraid that I wouldn't recognize her, so I forged her identity as a rich lady."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

After hearing his words, Avery looked down at the document in her hand.

"Elliot, what are you going to do? I met her today, and the chat was pretty good. She already knew the grievance between me and Wanda, and she accepted the bank card I gave. As long as she doesn't talk to Wanda next Contact, the thing she lied to us can actually be regarded as never happened. After all, it doesn't matter.”

Avery scanned the document roughly and put it on the table.

“It is nothing more than that her identity has changed from a rich lady to a very ordinary low-level person. It is precisely because she has lived a very difficult life that she is easily deceived by Wanda’s words. Moreover, her true identity, as you guessed, also There’s nothing wrong. It means that her life is not as complicated as we think.”

Elliot looked at her: “You want me to meet her so much?”

Avery shook his head: “I didn’t force you to meet her. I think we support her. She just did her best. She didn’t make any more demands, she just wanted to spend the Spring Festival with us.”

Elliot didn’t answer. He needed to think about it again.

Avery: “I don’t want her to be controlled by Wanda. I don’t want a simple solution to become complicated.”

“Let’s eat first!” Elliot held her hand and said, “I want to meet her again before inviting her to our house for the Spring Festival. Let’s talk.”

“Okay! But don’t keep your face sullen. People who don’t know you will really be frightened by you.” A smile bloomed in Avery’s eyes.

Chapter 1549

The next day, Elliot received a call from Ben Schaffer from Bridgedale.

Ben: “Elliot, I asked around, but I didn’t hear that Wonder Technologies is going to list in Bridgedale.”

Elliot: “That news has been deleted.”

Ben Schaffer laughed, “Oh, there is only one possibility. Wonder Technologies is indeed listed. But the time is not ripe, so let’s go of the gossip and find out.

Wanda has worked so hard to raise funds, so she definitely wants to go public.

If you hadn't been staring at it all the time, with Wanda's skills, she would definitely want to go public. Social skills, her dream has come true."

"When are you coming back?" Elliot asked.

"Didn't I tell you last time, I'll come back after Gwen's game is over." Ben Schaffer didn't want to go back for the time being.

His relationship with Gwen has eased a lot compared to before. He seemed to see the dawn of hope in front of him.

"Did you not look at the calendar?" Elliot reminded him, "Don't you spend the New Year with your parents every year? The day of Gwen's competition happened to be New Year's Eve."

Ben Schaffer was stunned for a moment: "I really didn't look at the calendar. I'll spend New Year's Eve with Gwen. I've spent so many years with my parents during the Spring Festival, and I've spent it with Gwen this year, so they shouldn't say anything."

Elliot: "Where are you two now?"

Ben Schaffer laughed, the wound on his face was sore, and he gasped immediately.

"Fck, that bastard Zion hurt my face. I don't even dare to go out to meet people."

Ben Schaffer went out with a low cursing, "I wore a mask to go out in order to find out if Wonder Technologies was going to go public. I don't dare to take off my mask when I see people. When people ask me what's wrong, I can only lie and say I'm allergic."

Elliot: "It's serious?"

Gwen: "I know if Gwen will be good on the day of the competition. I plan to go on stage to give her flowers."

After hearing his words, Elliot remembered a piece of news he saw two days ago.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“There is a kind of tree in this world. I forgot the name of the tree. It is the only one of its kind. It is a male tree and has lived for more than 100 years. Because the female tree has died out, so there is no way for this kind of tree to reproduce. But this male tree that has lived for more than 100 years still blooms and courtes each year...”

Ben Schaffer listened to his voice and savored the story he told, horrified and startled. Got goosebumps all over.

Ben: “Elliot, I beg you not to talk about it. Why does it sound like a horror story when you say something so good.”

Elliot laughed loudly: “That tree has been single for more than 100 years, you’re much luckier than that tree.”

Ben Schaffer snorted coldly, “I knew that your ultimate goal was to hurt me. Just do your best to hurt me. When I finish my single life, you won’t have a chance.”

Elliot: “So confident?”

“I’m not 100% sure. I’m only half sure.” Ben Schaffer said frankly, “You little sister, you don’t play cards according to common sense. I can’t guess what she’s thinking every time, and I also guess. I don’t know what she has to say next.”

“That’s why I got you hooked.” Elliot teased.

“I’m not fascinated. After all, I don’t even touch my hands. What’s wrong with it.”

Ben Schaffer laughed at himself, “Maybe it’s because I met true love. I’m just platonic to her now...”

Elliot: “Didn’t she agree to fall in love with you? You call it unrequited love.”

“D*mn it. You brother and sister are trying to kill me. You don’t understand me at all.” Ben Schaffer felt that Elliot was too bitter.

“I understand. Don’t you just get older, and your desire in that area has diminished, so you started to seek mental stimulation?” Elliot said.

Ben Schaffer felt guilty and hung up the phone angrily. He didn’t expect Elliot’s mouth to be so poisonous, not only poisonous, but also terrifying.

This weekend, Avery bought red paper and came back. She planned to ask Elliot to write couplets and blessings.

Elliot has been recuperating at home for a while, occasionally practicing calligraphy.

She once saw his calligraphy and was shocked. She felt that the couplets and blessings of this year’s Spring Festival could be contracted by him.

“Buying so much red paper?” Elliot was puzzled.

Chapter 1550

“You can write a few more copies, and we can take them as gifts.” Avery made her plan early, “Brother Wesley invited us to eat dumplings at his house tomorrow, and then give him two copies. “

Elliot: “Avery, are you sure that my level can reach the level of gift-giving?”

Avery: “Of course I can. As long as you don’t show off in front of real calligraphers, others won’t see you as an amateur at all.”

Elliot couldn’t help laughing.

Avery cut red paper and Elliot prepared pen and ink.

Robert watched the excitement with his big eyes that were as crystal clear as gems.

“Elliot, I found some couplets on the Internet, let’s see how they go.” After cutting a few couplets, she brought her phone over and showed him, “I think this is pretty good...”

–The flowers of the sunrise river are red like fire, and the river water is green like blue in spring: Birds chirping and flowers fragrant.

“Ahh..this one is also good.” Avery read it to him, “Red plums are proud of winter snow, and green willows spew catkins to welcome the new year...”

Elliot frowned slightly: “This pair has too many strokes.”

Avery: “I thought you could write anything.”

Elliot: “You can write, but it’s another time whether you can write well or not. It’s a matter.”

Avery: “Then you write first, what if it looks good?”

“Since you have spoken, then I can only be respectful rather than obedient.”

Elliot tidy up the table, then picked up the red paper and began to fold the grid.

Avery stood next to him and was amused, “You seem to be writing couplets with your skillful technique.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot: “It’s fake. Actually, I’m very nervous.”

He practiced calligraphy purely to cultivate his sentiments to take his words to give away.

“Haha, then I’ll let you relax.” Avery said, picked up a writing brush and a piece of white, and wrote the words ‘Elliot’ on the paper.

Because she can’t write with calligraphy at all, so she can imagine how ugly she writes.

“Thank you.” Elliot put the surprise into his stomach, “I really relax a lot.”

“Hahaha! You teach me how to fold a grid, and I’ll help you.” Avery put down the brush and wrote “Elliot” just now. He handed Robert a large piece of waste paper, “This is your father’s name, you have to remember it!”

Elliot taught her origami.

After Avery met, Elliot picked up the brush and began to write the first couplet. The flowers of the Sunrise River are as red as fire, and in the spring the river is as green as blue. He likes this couplet very much. He plans to keep it for his own use after he finishes writing it.

Elliot finished writing on one side, then put what he had written aside, picked up another blank red piece of paper, and wrote another sentence.

Avery concentrated on watching him write.

Elliot's serious look was very charming.

"Husband, your writing is so beautiful. You are as handsome as you are." Avery couldn't help but praise, "I will give this couplet to Brother Wesley when the time comes."

"Okay, it's up to you." He was praised ecstatic.

After writing the couplets, Avery carefully held the two couplets in front of them, intending to enjoy them and put them aside to dry.

The result—

Avery looked at the small dark handprints on the couplet, and everyone was stunned. She immediately looked at Robert and took a breath.

Chapter 1551

"Son, how can you put ink on your face?" Elliot was not angry when he saw that the couplet was destroyed.

But looking at Robert's little black hands, his clothes full of black ink stains, and his mottled little black face, his brows suddenly wrinkled.

"I haven't looked at you for a few minutes, why did you get the ink?" Avery walked up to Robert and undressed him, "How did you get the ink? I didn't see you crawling on the table."

Robert understood what his mother said, and pointed his little hand to the side.

On a chair next to it, there was a bottle of ink.

Elliot explained, "I took it out when I was looking for ink, but I forgot to put it in. I don't blame my son."

"You are protecting your shortcomings. I don't know how he unscrewed the cap of the ink bottle." Avery took off Robert. After taking off Robert, she immediately took him to take a bath.

Elliot looked at the mess his son created and shook his head.

He don't know if Hayden was so naughty when he was a child, but Robert was visibly upset.

The next day, Avery and Elliot came to Wesley's house with their three children as guests.

Avery took out the couplet written by Elliot and showed it to Wesley.

Avery: "Elliot wrote it, isn't it nice?"

Wesley nodded: "It's not bad, it looks like that."

Avery was a little puzzled when she got this evaluation: "Is it just 'not bad'? I think it's very good"

Wesley looked at her puzzled expression, pointed to a calligraphy and painting on the wall, and asked, "What do you think of the calligraphy and painting on the wall?"

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery glanced at the wall, and immediately exclaimed: "The clouds and flowing water, the dragon and the phoenix dance, belongs to the kind of master level that I can't understand, but it is very powerful at first glance.

Wesley: "This is written by my father."

"Wow! Uncle is so powerful." Avery's cheeks were flushed, and she suddenly wanted to take back the couplet she sent out.

She had known Wesley for so long, and she had never heard him say that his father had such high attainments in calligraphy.

“What are you talking about?” Nolan came over and asked with a smile.

Avery: “Uncle, Wesley said that the calligraphy and painting on the wall is your work. You are amazing!”

Nolan smiled, “Wesley is better than me. He is not only good at calligraphy, but also very good at painting. He always wanted to learn art, But I forced him to study medicine.”

Avery: “...”

Elliot stood not far away, listening to all this, so embarrassed that his toes were on the ground.

At the same time, he want to take back the couplet written by Wesley's arms.

Amateur players squeaked in front of professional players, and were taught a vivid lesson by professional players.

Today's dumplings, I'm afraid they won't taste good.

“Brother Wesley, you are so secretive. If I knew that your calligraphy is so good, I asked you to write the couplet and send it to us.” Avery said, reaching out and taking back the couplet you sent.

“There is no reason to take back the gift that was sent.” Wesley took it back from the Confederation. “He wrote it well, and if he has time to practice more in the future, he will improve.”

Nolan immediately understood what happened.

“Elliot, are you interested in calligraphy? Come on, let's discuss it.” Nolan took Elliot to the study.

Layla immediately followed the them to watch the fun.

Robert also followed.

Shea came over, took the couplet from Wesley's arms, and opened it.

"My brother's writing is so beautiful." Shea praised sincerely, "I want to hang my brother's words on the wall."

Avery couldn't help laughing: "No, your brother is embarrassing."

"Then I'll take it and hang it in my room." Shea hugged the couplet written by Elliot, like a treasure.

Avery: "Shea, this is hanging on the door."

Shea: "Then I will take it home and hang it on our door."

"This is for Wesley." Avery held back a smile, "Tomorrow I will ask your brother to write more and give it to you."

Chapter 1552

"Then hang it at the door of Wesley's house." Shea blushed slightly and whispered, "I will marry Wesley in the future, and his home will be my home."

Avery pulled Shea to the sofa and sat down: "Shea, you seem to have recovered a lot now than a while ago. Maybe next spring, your brother will promise you two to be together."

Shea: "I weigh 80 pounds now. Wesley said that my height and weight must be normal to reach 90 pounds."

Avery: "Well, you are still very thin now. But you can't overeating, or it will backfire."

After listening carefully, Shea nodded: "Avery, I want to hold a wedding on the lawn."

Avery: "Yes! A lawn wedding can also be very romantic."

The two began to chat about various details of the wedding.

Wesley saw that they were chatting so happily that he couldn't bear to interrupt.

The eight characters haven't even been mentioned yet, but they make it seem like they are about to hold a wedding.

“Hayden, are you still getting used to it when you return to Aryadelle?” Wesley saw Hayden sitting alone, so he walked over to chat with him.

“This is my hometown.” Hayden said.

Wesley: “Well, you and your father.”

“Uncle Wesley, do you know about my father and Rebecca?”

“Well.” Wesley understood what he was thinking, “You Focus on studying, they will handle their affairs themselves.”

Hayden did not answer this sentence. If Elliot makes his mother unhappy one day, he will definitely not sit idly by.

“Uncle Wesley, you are married to Aunt Shea, so be nice to her.” Hayden said suddenly.

Wesley: “Yes.”

“You can’t make her angry. You have to listen to her.” Hayden continued to demand.

Wesley didn’t reply to him like he did just now: “If her request and choice are wrong, I can’t listen to her.”

Hayden: “You can listen to her first, and then slowly reason with her. Don’t quarrel with her, Don’t accuse her.”

Wesley nodded: “I think you will be a good man in the future. You will be very good to your wife.”

Hayden’s face turned red with a ‘swish’, “I won’t get married in the future.”

Wesley: “Why? “

Hayden: “I don’t know why, I just don’t want to.”

Wesley: “That’s because you haven’t met a girl who makes your heart beat faster. When you do, you'll change your mind. I thought I would end up alone until Shea entered my life. It was like opening a new world. She is so simple, pure, innocent, and cute..."

Hayden was so numb that he ran away and went to the kitchen.

Sandra thought that Hayden was hungry, so she quickly cooked a large bowl of dumplings for Hayden.

Time flies, and in a week, it will be the New Year of Aryadelle.

Elliot's legs have returned to normal.

Avery was worried, and accompanied him to the hospital for a review. After taking a film, the doctor said that he was recovering well.

Except for not exercising vigorously, daily activities are no problem.

After coming out of the hospital, the driver asked them where they were going.

Their eyes met inadvertently.

Elliot understood what he was thinking, so he said to the driver, "Go home first."

Avery had been waiting for his leg to recover, and then went to Bridgedale together to visit Xander's family.

When Elliot got home, Avery simply packed their luggage, and then rushed to the airport with Elliot.

After more than ten hours of flight, the plane landed at the capital airport of Bridgedale.

They came out of the airport, took their luggage to the villa and put them away, and then went to the dealer.

Chapter 1553

After Xander's death, Avery has been in contact with Xander's family by phone and Whatsapp.

Xander's parents were both highly educated people, and their personalities were gentle and restrained.

Xander's death was undoubtedly a huge blow to them, but they never complained about Avery.

This made Avery even more guilty.

The two came to Xander's house, and looking at Xander's mother, Sabrina Jenkins's gray hair, Avery's eyes suddenly became wet.

"Auntie, I wanted to visit you and my uncle for a long time, but because my husband was seriously injured, I only came to see you now."

The expression on Sabrina's face was very solemn.

"I told you not to come, how troublesome!" Sabrina poured them two glasses of water, and continued, "Actually, Xander's death is not the most uncomfortable thing for us, the most uncomfortable thing is that Xander's girlfriend, Willa, actually died to avenge him in a foreign land..."

Sabrina said here, weeping.

Avery immediately took a tissue and wiped Sabrina's tears.

Avery: "Auntie, you must take care of your body. If Xander and Willa see you so sad, I don't know how distressed they will be."

Sabrina endured the great grief and choked: "Willa was like my own daughter. Every time she came to see me, she would accompany me to talk for a long time. She also said that she will marry Xander in the future, and will not move out, but will live with us... She was so quiet and well-behaved. How dare she went to avenge Xander alone?"

Avery had never seen Willa, but from Sabrina's mouth, Willa's image instantly came alive in her mind.

"Okay, don't cry. People came all the way to see us, not to see us cry." Xander's father, Maddox Jenkins patted Sabrina's back, "Didn't you say you want to ask Avery if you have any questions? You ask!"

Avery immediately said, "Auntie, if you have anything to ask me, feel free to ask.

As long as I know, I will tell you the truth."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Sabrina took a deep breath, adjusted her emotions, and asked, "Xander said that the person who was poisoned to death was done by Kyrie, but why did Kyrie kill my son? My son was just an ordinary doctor. Xander lived with you and your bodyguard at the time in the Hotel, why didn't Kyrie kill your bodyguard but killed my son?"

Avery thought about this question.

"Maybe Kyrie doesn't want Xander to operate on me."

Apart from this reason, she really couldn't think of any other reason.

Sabrina frowned, "But Xander isn't the only one who can do your surgery. Your surgery isn't that difficult. Didn't the doctors in Yonroeville do it for you? If Kyrie doesn't want the doctor to treat you, so why didn't he kill the doctor who operated on you? The doctor who operated on you isn't dead, right?"

Sabrina's words caused Avery to think deeply. She couldn't answer the question.

If Kyrie killed Xander just to prevent Xander from giving her treatment, but after Xander died, she underwent an abnormally smooth operation in Yonroeville, how to explain this?

Sabrina looked at her puzzled and let out a long sigh, "I'm afraid I can't solve the cause of my son's death."

"Auntie, I'm sorry. Before Xander was killed, nothing abnormal happened, so I can't guess why it happened." Avery apologized, "but There must be a deeper reason for his death."

“Yeah! If there is no reason, why didn’t someone else die?” Sabrina’s eyes were dark and sad, “Maybe this is Xander’s life.”

Chapter 1554

“Xander must have provoked someone.” Maddox said firmly, “You and your bodyguard are fine, this has already explained the problem. Why we didn’t blame you is also for this reason.”

Avery thought it deeply in her mind: “He usually has contacts with those people in the hospital besides me and my bodyguard.”

After her voice was settled, Elliot added: “He has also met Rebecca.”

“Elliot, you mean, this matter has something to do with Rebecca?” Avery frowned immediately.

Elliot: “I don’t know, I only know that Rebecca has approached Xander.”

Avery asked, “Why did Rebecca approach Xander? what happened to them?”

“She invited Xander to her house, so I know She said that she asked Xander to take you away.”

After listening to Elliot’s explanation, it seemed that Rebecca had no reason to kill Xander.

Even if Rebecca asked Xander to take Avery away, but Xander refused to agree, Rebecca would not kill Xander.

Elliot said suddenly, “Someone knows the reason. Avery, do you remember Lorenzo? Xander probably died at his hands. Because Xander’s girlfriend and Xander died of the same poison and was killed by Lorenzo.”

“How can I contact that Lorenzo? Is he in Yonroeville?” Sabrina was very excited, “Can I go to Yonroeville and ask him?”

Elliot said, “Auntie, don’t be impulsive. Although Kyrie is dead, Lorenzo is not a good person. It will be very dangerous if you go to him rashly.”

“Hey... can you contact Lorenzo? I don't want to take revenge anymore, I just want to know who my son has provoked and what he did to get him to this end.

If I can't know the reason, I can't rest my eyes.” Maddox's eyes were scarlet.

Avery looked at Elliot.

“Avery, it's not that I don't want to help contact Lorenzo, but it's unnecessary. Do you think he will tell us the truth? No matter who instigated him, he will never say it.” Elliot said about Lorenzo's character that he knows him very well, “Even if he kills him, he won't say anything.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery nodded: “If you ask Rebecca, it is even more impossible to get an answer.

If Rebecca did it, Rebecca would not admit it. If not What Rebecca did, then it could only be Kyrie.”

Sabrina was very desperate after listening to their conversation.

Xander's cause of death, Sabrina was afraid there was no way to know in this life.

After lunch, Avery asked, “Auntie, can I go to Xander's study?”

“Yes, there are a lot of books in his study. I don't know what to do with it.”

Sabrina took her to the study. You can help me to see which ones can be donated. He will never come back, and these books can be of greater significance if they are given to those who need them.”

“Okay, I will organize them and donate them to medical school books. Let's go!”

Sabrina stayed in the study for a while and then went out. Looking at everything in the study, she can't help but think of Xander.

After Sabrina went out, Elliot walked up to Avery: “How long will it take to sort out? If it takes more time, you can come back tomorrow.”

On a shelf above.

Avery stood on tiptoe and took down the portfolio above.

“What are you doing with this?” Elliot was puzzled.

Avery said, “This is marked with ‘surgery cases’. It should be a case of his previous surgeries. I want to see if he has given the patient two general anesthesia before.”

Chapter 1555

Because there was too much information, Avery couldn’t read it at Xander’s house, so she took the portfolio back with her.

“Avery, Ben Schaffer asked us to go out to eat.” After Elliot answered the phone, he said to her, “If you are too tired, I will reject him.”

“Are Gwen together?” Avery is a little tired.

Elliot immediately asked Ben Schaffer on the other side of the phone, “Is Gwen together?”

Ben Schaffer said, “She hasn’t gotten off work yet. She only comes back at 9 p.m. every day recently. Don’t you two come out to eat without her? If Avery doesn’t want to come out, you can come out. You haven’t seen me for so long, don’t you miss me?”

Elliot got goosebumps: “You come directly to us, I can consider inviting you to eat nearby. “

Do you know that I’m an hour’s drive from here to you?” Ben Schaffer exclaimed, “I’m a patient now.”

Elliot sneered, “The injury on your face is still not healed? Don’t you mean the injury is not serious? Zion hurt you so badly, can you bear it?”

Ben Schaffer immediately said: “It’s okay, I’ll go find you.”

“If you come alone, I’m afraid my wife won’t see you.” Elliot gave him a vaccination in advance, “She’s very tired today.”

“I know, I am in your wife’s heart, not as much as Gwen’s finger. I’m looking for a drink with you, if your wife is here, let's catch up, it's better if you don't, you accompany me for a drink." Ben Schaffer hung up the phone.

Elliot walked to Avery and took away the information in her hand.

Elliot: "Don't watch it. I'll see you tomorrow."

Avery: "Hey, I'm also idle."

Elliot Said, "Aren't you full for dinner? Why don't we go and have some more with Ben Schaffer later? Ben Schaffer will come over later."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"Go eat with him. I'm not hungry." Avery was really not hungry, or maybe it was because she had something in her heart, so she didn't feel hungry.

Elliot: "Then I'll bring you some back for a late night snack."

They had dinner at Xander's house.

Sabrina cooked a table of hearty dishes, but everyone had no appetite, so they didn't eat much.

"Okay. But I'm a little sleepy. I might fall asleep before you come back." Avery rubbed her temples.

"Go take a shower first." Elliot pulled her up from the sofa and walked towards the master bedroom, "You can sleep when you're sleepy, don't wait for me."

Avery: "Well."

The two returned to the master bedroom, she Open the suitcase, take out the clothes one by one, and hang them in the closet.

"You go take a shower, I'll hang up." Elliot wanted to help.

"I'll do this kind of little thing myself." Avery glanced at him, "Why don't you take a bath first. When you go to see Ben Schaffer later, you have to be clean."

After Avery finished speaking, she brought him a set Come out with clean clothes.

After Elliot entered the bathroom, Avery picked up her phone and tried to call Gwen.

The phone was connected, but no one answered.

She hung up the phone and sent a message to Gwen: [Your second brother and I are in Bridgedale. Let's meet for dinner when you are free.]

After sending the message, she continued to organize her clothes.

After an hour.

Elliot went out and met Ben Schaffer at a nearby restaurant.

And Gwen also ended today's training and called Avery back.

"Avery, I just got my mobile phone. When did you come? Today?" Gwen came out of the company and immediately pulled up the zipper of her jacket, "I can ask for leave tomorrow to see you."

Avery: "Will your request for leave delay your training? I have something to do in the past two days. When I'm done with my work here, I and your second brother will find you."

Gwen: "Okay. It seems that Ben Schaffer has also sent me a message."

"He should have wanted to call you to come to our side with him. He has come over now." Avery explained.

"Oh, it's too late today, so I won't go." Gwen shuddered, "Is it just you and my second brother who came here?"

Chapter 1556

Avery: "Well, we have something to do here."

Gwen: "Okay, then I'll come to me when you're done."

Avery: "Okay. You should rest early in the evening, you shouldn't have to wait for Ben Schaffer. Your second brother and I apply for this. If he drinks late, it must be Ben Schaffer who asked him to drink."

Gwen couldn't help laughing: "My second brother is so cowardly in front of you?"

Avery: "I'll be angry."

Gwen: "Avery, you've trained my second brother so well."

"If I go out so late, I'll make it clear to him." Avery had just taken a shower and was awake for less than a few minutes. Sitting on the bed at this moment, drowsiness struck immediately.

After talking on the phone, she was too lazy to turn off the light, so she just lay down and fell asleep.

Dining room.

Elliot took off the mask on Ben Schaffer's face.

The bruises on his face have not disappeared, and he looks a little embarrassed.

"Can you drink like this?" Elliot asked.

"It doesn't hurt anymore. I don't take anti-inflammatory drugs anymore. You can drink it." Ben Schaffer poured him some wine, "Your legs must be fine, right?"

Otherwise Avery won't allow you to go out."

Elliot: "Well, I told her I 'll have a drink tonight."

Ben: "She agreed?"

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot: "Hmm."

Ben: "Huh? Why is she so forgiving? I thought you could only drink secretly."

Elliot: "Do you think I can drink alcohol secretly? If I drink or not, she can tell by smelling it."

"Hahaha! You used to laugh at me with an old tree that has been single for more than a hundred years on the phone...Look at how you are being controlled by Avery now. I drink if I want, no one cares about me, and I don't need to report to anyone." Ben Schaffer mocked.

Elliot took a sip of wine: "Don't you want someone to take care of your situation, and no one will take care of you?"

Ben: "Haha, you are being taken care of by a woman, and you are proud of yourself?"

"I drink too much and go back, my wife will take care of me. Of course I'm proud."

Ben Schaffer: "..."

After two glasses of wine, the topic of the two went from fighting each other to opening their hearts.

Ben: "Elliot, I suddenly felt that I was stupid before. But I dare not tell others, I can only tell you..."

Elliot: "Tell me."

"I thought I was waiting for Chelsea, Chelsea will eventually marry me. I've been wrong for more than ten years." Ben Schaffer picked up the glass and continued pouring, "I haven't dared to face this mistake until now. I've lived to this age, but it's not a cloud. Gwen is smart."

Elliot: "Chelsea is already dead, why do you still mention her."

"Because I don't want to repeat the same mistakes. If I chase Gwen, but Gwen keeps hanging on me, I have to stop the loss in time." Ben Schaffer's eyes Scarlet, "I don't have many ten years to waste."

Elliot: "Well."

"Elliot, do you have any troubles now?" Ben Schaffer asked casually.

After asking this question, he wanted to withdraw, but unfortunately there is no withdrawal function in reality.

Elliot can't be troubled now.

“Yes.” Elliot turned on the phone and showed him a picture, “Who do you think this picture looks like?”

Ben Schaffer took the phone, narrowed his eyes, and took a closer look at the picture: “This is not Layla. Is it?”

Elliot: “This is Rebecca and my child.”

Ben Schaffer: “Ah!”

Chapter 1557

Elliot took back the phone, “I don’t dare to tell Avery about this. I want to wait.”

“Wait for what?” Ben Schaffer was a little drunk, but suddenly sober.

Elliot said, “Wait until this child grows up a bit, and see if her appearance will change. How could Rebecca’s and I’s child grow up to look like Layla?”

“Yes! I’m also wondering. How similar Layla and Avery look, anyone with eyes can see at a glance. You and Rebecca’s daughter may be like you, maybe Rebecca but it’s impossible to look like Avery.” When it comes to excitement, Ben Schaffer can’t help but slap the table.

Elliot confessed, “Don’t tell Avery about this. Don’t tell anyone. I promised Avery that I would never go to Yonroeville again, nor would I take the initiative to contact Rebecca. If I keep my promise, Then I shouldn’t even mention Rebecca and that child.” The more Elliot drank, the more sober he became.

Every time he thinks of the child like Layla, he feels very distressed.

“Don’t worry, I’ll be tight-lipped.” Ben Schaffer put the bottle aside and poured a glass of warm water and said, “Suddenly I don’t want to drink anymore.”

Elliot: “Why?”

Ben Schaffer said helplessly, “If I’m drunk, who will comfort you? And I’m drunk, how can I go back later? Besides, I look at you, I’m afraid I’m drinking too much. Maybe I’ll call Avery later and ask her to pick you up.”

Elliot immediately put down the glass: "She should be sleeping. We got off the plane today and went to Xander's house. She didn't sleep on the plane."

Ben: "If I were her, I would feel very guilty."

Elliot: "Xander's parents didn't blame her."

Of course you can't blame her. Who knows what happened to Xander's death."

Ben Schaffer quickly turned the topic back to the child, "You said just now that you can't go to Yonroeville in the future, then what about when Rebecca gave birth?"

Elliot didn't answer his question, just glanced at him. "Well, I can't go, Avery will definitely be angry if I go."

Ben Schaffer shrugged, "If you want to see that child, I can go in your place. I'll go secretly and not let anyone know. When I pass, I'll show you the baby and do a paternity test for you, how about it?"

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Elliot: "It's too early to think about this issue."

"It's not too early. In a few months, Rebecca will give birth. If you don't see it with your own eyes, who knows if the child really looks like Layla?" Ben Schaffer wanted to solve this mystery, "Or when you come to Bridgedale, I'll pick up Rebecca and the child to come to Bridgedale with him and you can meet."

Elliot felt that this proposal was absurd, "If I really want to see that child so much, I can take Avery to see it openly."

Ben Schaffer teased, "Don't talk about it, you don't even dare to tell Avery what to talk about taking Avery to see Rebecca give birth to a child. Do you think Avery can be stimulated by this? No matter how much she says, do you think she really doesn't mind? Even if she only hears the words Rebecca, I guess she is nauseated and want to vomit."

Elliot's thin lips pursed into a line, "According to what you said, wait until the child continues to grow up and see if it will change."

Seeing his gloomy face, Ben Schaffer couldn't bear it, and persuaded, "Don't worry, you and Rebecca's child will only be the same. It will be like you and Rebecca, but it is impossible to be like Avery."

Elliot: "Well."

Ben: "If it is really like Avery, it is a mutation." Ben Schaffer smiled unkindly.

Elliot: "Variation? Is there such a thing?"

"I'm talking nonsense. How can I understand this?" Ben Schaffer touched his chin and said, "When Rebecca has a baby, I'll go to Yonroeville to see. I'll go and see it in your name, I'll see it myself."

"Whatever you want." Elliot couldn't control him.

"You said I'll call Gwen later and ask her to pick me up, will she ignore me?" Ben Schaffer suddenly wanted to drink again.

"I don't know." Elliot gave him an idea, "You can try. If she ignores you, I can take you back to my house."

"Okay, then I'll try." Ben Schaffer picked up the wine bottle with great interest, poured a little wine, "I'll drink less and pretend to be drunk later. If I'm really drunk, I won't know anything."

Half an hour later

Chapter 1558

Gwen received a call from Ben Schaffer. She had taken a shower, was lying on the bed, and was reading a short video to decompress.

Ben Schaffer's call suddenly popped up, and she sat up suddenly.

She picked up the phone, and Ben Schaffer's voice came intermittently:

"Gwen...I...I drink too much...Can you... Come pick me up?"

Along with these words, there was a wine burp.

Gwen seemed to follow the radio waves and smelled the pungent smell of alcohol.

“It’s so cold outside, so I won’t pick you up.” Gwen refused his request without hesitation. After refusing, her conscience was uneasy, and she added, “You can find a nearby hotel to stay in. What are you doing back here at night? It’s unnecessary.”

Ben Schaffer was irritated by her ruthless answer.

“Didn’t you drink with my second brother? Where’s my second brother? Drunk too?” Seeing that Ben Schaffer didn’t say a word, Gwen asked.

Ben Schaffer sighed: “Your second brother wants to take me back to his house. But his legs are not good. How can I ask him to help me with more than 100 pounds?”

Gwen: “Then you can go by yourself.”

Ben: “I’m drunk!”

“Oh...” Gwen thought about it, still reluctant to run dozens of kilometers to pick him up in the cold weather, “Then you ask my second brother to take you into a taxi, I won’t lock the door and wait for you to come back, okay?”

This was the limit Gwen could do for him.

She has to train tomorrow, staying up all night waiting for him to come back is already affectionate enough.

Ben Schaffer was a little discouraged at first, but when he heard her words, he immediately became bloody, “Good, I’ll go back now.”

Elliot put Ben Schaffer in the car, and then walked back to the villa.

It was 10 p.m. and the cold wind whistled past his ears. The cold air hit his skin, and there was a kind of pain that a knife had slashed.

Originally a 10 minutes journey, Elliot walked home in 5 minutes.

The bedroom light was on, Elliot pushed open the door, and saw Avery leaning on the bedside, flipping through the materials brought back from Xander's study.

"Why haven't you slept yet?" Elliot took off his coat, walked to the bed and sat down.

Avery smelled the faint smell of alcohol on his body, and her stomach suddenly became hungry.

"Didn't you say bring me a late-night snack?" Avery put down the documents and rubbed her stomach, "Did you forget?"

The expression on his face suddenly froze.

Elliot forgot it.

Because he chatted with Ben Schaffer about the child in Yonroeville, he was very worried, so he forgot to bring her a late-night snack.

"I'll buy it for you now." Elliot immediately got up and picked up his coat, "What do you want to eat?"

"Forget it, I'll just drink some water." Avery lifted the quilt and got out of bed, "It's too cold outside. No matter how many years I stay, I'm not used to the climate here."

Looking at her slender back, Elliot's Adam's apple rolled: "What do you want to eat, I'll buy it. I'm not cold."

"Elliot, I don't blame you for forgetting to bring me a late-night snack." Avery raised her water glass and took a sip, "I just slept and had a nightmare, so I woke up. I wasn't waiting for you."

Chapter 1559

"What nightmare?" Elliot didn't put down his coat.

"A very strange dream, I don't even dare to say it." Avery frowned.

“It’s just a dream, it’s all fake.” Elliot hesitated and guessed, “Did you dream about what happened in Yonroeville?”

Avery nodded and shook her head again: “I dreamed about Xander. Xander used to have a good relationship. Although there was no contact for a few years, the feeling of seeing him again is still the same as before. But I had a dream just now that he had become a bad person.”

Elliot: “Bad person? What did he do in the dream?”

“He didn’t let the two of us be together. In the dream, he was on Rebecca’s side.” When Avery said this, she felt a chill in her heart, “Xander is not Such a person. He will never stand on Rebecca’s side. He is my friend, if he is with Rebecca...”

“Avery, don’t get excited. Dreams are all fake, he certainly isn’t a bad guy. If he is a bad guy, he won’t be killed.” Elliot helped her sit down beside the bed,

“What do you want to eat? I’ll buy it.”

Avery: “I told you not to go out and buy it.”

“I don’t want you to feel hungry.” Elliot looked at her solemnly, “I just came back from outside, I really don’t feel cold.”

“Okay, let’s go out together.” Avery wasn’t sleepy, so she took her coat and went out with him, “I don’t particularly want to eat anything. Let’s have something to eat later. How did Ben Schaffer get back?”

“I called him a taxi.”

The two came out of the villa and walked into the cold night together.

“Is it cold?” Avery put her arms around his waist and pressed her body close to him.

Elliot hugged her, and his laughter spread over her head: “Fortunately, you’re by my side, I’m not cold.”

“No wonder I didn’t feel hungry when I drank water just now.” Avery echoed him, “It turns out that this is the feeling of being full of water.”

“I shouldn’t have forgotten to bring you a late night snack.” Elliot solemnly apologized to her.

“I said it’s not your fault, you don’t need to apologize to me.” Avery asked with a smile, “What did you chat with Ben Schaffer?”

“He said he regretted it and shouldn’t have put his mind on Chelsea for so many years. He also said that if Gwen kept hanging on him, he would give up.” Elliot picked out some things that she would know and told her, “He drank a lot, but he was not drunk. I asked him to come to our house to rest, he has to go back to Gwen’s side.”

Avery: “It seems that the two of them are doing well now.”

Elliot said, “Ben Schaffer has changed a lot now. I can see that he really wants to stabilize.”

Avery: “It’s good. If Gwen also likes him, it will be even better.”

Elliot: “Don’t you know Gwen’s attitude?”

Avery shook her head: “She didn’t tell me this. She is now focused on the competition and has no time to think about anything else. “

...

When Ben Schaffer returned to Gwen’s residence, it was just 11:00 p.m.

The light in the living room was on. He entered the villa and saw Gwen lying on the sofa, sleeping soundly.

His body froze instantly. Kind of embarrassing. He felt like he’s so old. He could go to Avery’s villa to stay overnight, but he had to run back. If he doesn’t come back, Gwen won’t wait for him in the living room, let alone fall asleep on the sofa.

Although the heating was turned on at home, there was no need to worry about her freezing, but she was tall and tall, and the sofa couldn't accommodate her at all. Her body was curled up.

If she sleep like this all night, she will definitely have back pain tomorrow.

Ben strode to the sofa, wanting to carry her to the room to sleep. As a result, he picked Gwen up and Gwen immediately opened her eyes.

Chapter 1560

After seeing Ben, Gwen brows furrowed and her arms twitched.

Seeing that he was about to be beaten, Ben Schaffer quickly threw her back to the sofa.

"What are you doing...you want to hit someone?" Ben Schaffer took two steps back, speaking very fast, "I saw you fell asleep on the sofa, so I wanted to take you back to the room, what did you think I'm going to do?"

Gwen immediately rubbed her eyes after hearing his words: "I thought you were going to molest me and scared me to death."

"No... Am I that scary? I didn't force you, did I? I never force women." Ben defended himself.

"It doesn't matter if it's scary or not." Gwen sat up and said slowly, "If Eric's handsome face was in front of me just now, I would definitely not resist."

Ben Schaffer: "???"

"Being with a handsome guy like him, just looking at his face, makes me feel happy. Not to mention any kind of intimate relationship. I will feel that I have taken advantage of him." Gwen finished with a happy face, seeing Ben Schaffer's face was as black as the bottom of a pot, and she immediately closed her mouth.

Ben Schaffer said coldly, "Why don't you say it? Since you like him so much, then you go after him.”

Gwen: “I like so many handsome men, if I like other people’s faces, I will go after him. Others, can I chase after him? Besides, I still know how much I weigh myself, I’m not worthy of a male god of Eric’s level.”

Ben Schaffer felt his face slapped and it made a sound.

“You’re not worthy of Eric, so do you think you’re worthy of me?” Ben Schaffer felt that he was much better than Eric’s little white-faced man, but Gwen obviously didn’t think so.

“I’m not worthy of you, but I didn’t ask you to come to me, did I?” Gwen’s thoughts were very clear at this moment, “You’re struggling with this problem, why don’t you study the way to keep healthy.”

“You despise me again.” Ben Schaffer was a little aggrieved.

Gwen was also very aggrieved: “I don’t think you’re old, can you be immortal? If so, I won’t talk about you in the future.”

Ben Schaffer: “...”

“Didn’t you say you were drunk? I think you are very awake.” Gwen walked up to him and stared at his face for a few seconds, “You deliberately lied to me that you were drunk and asked me to pick you up, didn’t you?”

Ben Schaffer coughed dryly. A few times: “I just want to see if you will pick me up.”

Gwen: “Why are you so naive? Kindergarten children are more mature than you.”

She pushed his body to one side.

“Gwen, thank you for waiting for me to come back.” Ben Schaffer thought of how she had fallen asleep on the sofa just now, and all the unhappiness in his heart disappeared instantly.

Although Gwen has a knife mouth, her heart is not so hard.

The next morning.

Elliot opened his eyes and woke up, there was no one around. He immediately lifted the quilt and sat up.

The curtains were drawn, and looking out from the floor-to-ceiling windows, a thick layer of snow could be seen in the yard.

The temperature in Bridgedale was worse than that in Aryadelle. Summer was so hotter and winter was so colder.

He looked at the falling snowflakes outside the window, and all the thoughts in his mind were taken away.

At this moment, his soul seemed to be out of the body, leaving only an empty shell.

He didn't think about anyone or anything.

Avery cooked breakfast and entered the room. Seeing him staring out the window in a daze, an indescribable complex emotion surged in her heart.

She always feel that she shouldn't disturb him, but she also feel that his appearance reflects that he is not happy in his heart.

Chapter 1561

"Elliot, what are you thinking?" Avery walked up to him, put a kiss on his cheek and said in a low voice, "I feel like you are unhappy."

"The snow outside reminds me of a lot of things." Elliot eyes fell out of the window again, "I always feel that the snow is the same as before, but we are not what we used to be."

"What do you mean we are not what we used to be? " Avery's eyebrows frowned, unable to guess what Elliot was thinking.

Elliot explained, "We will eventually grow old, but the snow will not change. Every birthday and Spring Festival, it is easy to fall into this emotion."

"Hahaha! Maybe I'm not your age, So on birthdays and New Year, other than being happy, I don't think about these things." Avery pulled him out of bed, "I made breakfast, but it tasted so-so, so don't dislike it."

"What did you cook?" Elliot asked.

"Fried two eggs, and boiled noodles." Avery shrugged, "There are no other ingredients at home. The weather is so bad today, and the takeaway has stopped."

"Well, what time did you get up?" Elliot entered washroom wash.

"I woke up at 7 o'clock. But I didn't get up until 8 o'clock." Avery stood at the door of the bathroom, "I found three cases of the same condition as me in Xander's past surgery cases. I've had general anesthesia twice. I'm going to go to Xander's former teacher and ask."

Elliot: "I'll go with you."

Avery said, "It's snowing so much today, I'll just go by myself. I've passed A former classmate, contacted his former teacher."

"Aren't you a teacher?" After washing up, Elliot walked out of the bathroom.

Avery took his big palm and walked towards the dining room.

"It wasn't before graduate school. Did you forget that I went to a university in Aryadelle? In fact, I also like to miss the past, especially the biggest turning points in my life. I often think, if I hadn't contacted Professor James Hough at the beginning, then I will definitely not have the achievements I have now."

"Even if you don't take the initiative to find Professor James Hough, you will still be a very good person. Wherever gold is, it will shine."

“You can really praise people. I saw it. Check the weather forecast, there will be heavy snow today and tomorrow, and the flight has been suspended for the past two days, so let’s stay here in peace.”

Entering the dining room, Avery brought the cooked noodles to him.

Avery said shyly, “The noodles are a little bland, and the eggs are a little salty.

You can break the eggs and eat them with noodles.”

She was also helpless about her regressive cooking skills. She had a time before and was a good cook. Later, when she returned to Aryadelle, there were people serving her every day, and she didn’t need to enter the kitchen, so her cooking skills naturally deteriorated.

“I’ll go buy vegetables later and cook for you.” Elliot tasted the eggs, and he was really flustered, so he soaked the eggs in the noodle soup, “Don’t you want to go to Xander’s house to sort out his books?”

“I’ll tidy up with his teacher. With help, I’ll be able to tidy up soon. I should be able to accompany you at home tomorrow.” Avery quickly finished the noodles and wiped her mouth with a tissue, “If you can’t eat it, Don’t eat it. There are noodles and eggs in the refrigerator, you can cook it yourself. I have an appointment with his teacher to meet at 10 o’clock, and I have to go out.”

“Actually, you can make an appointment after the snow stops. Do you have to go out today?” Elliot glanced at the heavy snow outside the window, worried for her safety.

Snowy roads are slippery and more prone to traffic accidents.

“There are cleaners to clean up the snow on the road, but I’ll drive slowly.” Avery walked to the door and changed her shoes, “I’ll call you later.”

After Avery went out, Elliot looked at the noodles in front of him. The eggs were too salty to eat, but thinking that Avery had worked so hard to fry them, he still endured eating the eggs.

Elliot took a deep breath and drank three glasses of water before covering up the salty taste.

Avery and Xander's teacher made an appointment to meet in a cafe.

After the two met, the teacher shook hands with her very enthusiastically.

"Avery, I heard Xander mention you. Before Xander went to Yonroeville to find you, he called me."

Avery was a little surprised: "what did he say?"

The teacher said, "He said you trusted him very much. It made him a little nervous. After he arrived in Yonroeville, I called him to ask about the situation. He didn't want to tell me too much out of the protection of your privacy, so I didn't ask. "

Avery: "I told him not to tell me about my illness."

The teacher: "I understand. After the news of his death, I went to see his parents. They were very sad, and I didn't dare to ask more about it."

"Frankly speaking, we don't know what's going on." Avery took out the examination that Xander had done in Yonroeville, "This is the surgical plan formulated by Xander and me, and these are what Xander asked me to do. The day before my operation, he gave me a general anesthesia. You should know that general anesthesia is harmful to the body. Moreover, we generally do not give patients two general anesthesia in a short period of time, unless connected Two major operations. But we generally don't perform two major operations on patients in a row."

The teacher's face changed greatly when he heard the words.

The teacher: "This is definitely not possible. Why did Xander do this?"

Avery: "I asked, and he said that the dose was less than the dose of general anesthesia. I didn't doubt it at the time, so I didn't ask. After he died, I checked it, and that was The dose of general anesthesia."

The teacher: "There must be a problem. Xander is either threatened or for some other reason. He takes your illness very seriously and is cautious, and he won't want to harm you."

Avery nodded: "yes, I think so too. Before he was killed, his attitude towards me was normal. I really hope that I will get better from the operation soon. I don't believe that it is fake. He will never harm me."

This chapter is provided by naijdate.com. Visit naijdate.com for daily update.

The teacher: "Can't you find the reason?"

Avery shook her head: "If I could find out the reason, I wouldn't come to you. We have no contact with the Yonroeville now."

The teacher: "Then there is no way, I...I can only be sure that Xander will never mess around. He must have had a last resort."

"With your words, I feel more at ease." At least Avery no longer doubted that Xander was on Rebecca's side...

In the afternoon, after she and the Teacher had sorted out the books in Xander's study, Xander's parents kept them for dinner.

Avery couldn't refuse, so she went home after dinner.

She sent Elliot a message in advance that she couldn't go home for dinner, but Elliot was already cooking at that time, so he still cooked a large table of dishes.

When Avery got home, she saw the food he cooked, and her eyes were red with emotion.

"Husband, serve me a meal." Avery sat down in the dining chair and acted coquettishly with him, "I'm a little tired of sorting books today."

Elliot immediately filled her a bowl of rice and handed it to her: "You met his teacher, is there anything to gain?"

"Yes." Avery took a piece of meat and put it in her mouth to taste it, and it tasted surprisingly good, "His teacher thinks there is a secret behind this incident. I think it has something to do with Rebecca. But I don't want to go to Rebecca. Because Rebecca will never admit that Xander's death is related to her. Go to her, maybe she will take the opportunity to entangle you."

Chapter 1563

"Has Rebecca added your Whatsapp?" Avery asked.

"No." Elliot replied without hesitation.

The second time Rebecca looked for him, it was through text messages on his mobile phone, and he did not add his Whatsapp account.

"If she adds you Whatsapp, do you know what to do?" Avery 'beats' him face to face.

"Ignore." Elliot gave the answer and asked, "How does it taste?"

"It is no exaggeration to say that your cooking skills are comparable to that of a chef." After Avery took a few bites, she gave a very high rating.

"You didn't eat much at Xander's house, did you?" After dinner, he knew the quality of the dishes he cooked.

His cooking skills are not comparable to that of a chef, at best a little better than Avery.

"No, I came back today after I was full." Avery took a mouthful of rice. "Although I have a filter for you, you are doing really well. At least it's a qualified homecooked dish."

Elliot was silent for a moment and asked: "Would you like to go for another checkup? I always feel that Xander did something to you before he died."

"I had a checkup before, and my body is fine." Avery looked up at him, "After he died, I at least I did two comprehensive examinations. Besides, if he really did something to me, my body would definitely feel it. After the anesthesia took effect, I didn't feel any discomfort."

Elliot said firmly, "That's because you told Xander at the time. I didn't have any precautions, so I didn't feel the abnormality of the body carefully. I asked the doctor today. There are many adverse reactions of general anesthesia. Generally, the doctor does not recommend general anesthesia for patients when general anesthesia is not necessary. Yes. Xander must have done something to you."

She was startled by his solemn expression.

"But since you didn't notice anything abnormal, it's too late to say this now." Elliot saw her stop eating, so he changed the conversation, "You eat! Let's make a videocall for the children after dinner. It hasn't snowed in Aryadelle yet. Layla and Robert will definitely be very happy to see the snow."

"Well. We'll build a snowman later, and then make a videocall for them." No matter how old Avery is, as long as she sees snow, the first thing that comes to her mind is to build a snowman.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery tasted every dish Elliot made, and when she finally put down the dishes, she smiled contentedly: "Husband, is there anything you can't do?"

"Yes," Elliot replied, "I'm not going to have children."

"Hahahaha. Why do you say such a serious thing?" Avery got up from the dining chair, wrapped the leftovers in plastic wrap, and put them in the refrigerator, "If you can have children, you must have been silent from the start to the delivery."

"Not necessarily. When you gave birth, I checked how painful it was to give birth.

The answer on the Internet said that the pain of natural labor is the same as surgery without anesthesia. It's almost surgery. I'm sure I can't keep silent." Elliot threw all the dishes in the dishwasher, pressed the power button, and washed his hands with hand sanitizer.

"Do you know what I was thinking when I gave birth?" Avery walked over to him and watched him wipe his hands with a dry towel, then took his arm and walked towards the door, "I saw him during my internship in the hospital. Many terminally ill patients. It only hurts for a few days to give birth to a child, but people who are seriously ill often endure pain for months or even years before they die."

"Why do you suddenly talk about such a heavy topic?" Elliot's Adam's apple rolled.

Avery: "Didn't you talk about the pain of having a baby? I'm here to comfort you. Although having a baby is painful, it's even more painful."

"You're really comforting, my heart is heavier." Elliot couldn't help laughing.

"Tsk, let's go build a snowman. We'll build our own, and let the children see who is more beautiful later." Avery walked to the door, took a coat from the hanging clothes, put it on, and ran into the yard first.

Elliot turned on all the street lights in the yard, looked at her running lightly like a deer, and the corners of his mouth couldn't help rising.

He put on his coat, changed his shoes, and strode out the door.

Twenty minutes later, Avery's cell phone rang. She took off her gloves and took the videocall from Layla.

"Layla, where are your brother, Hayden and Robert? Call them quickly." Avery smiled and turned the camera to the snowman she and Elliot made, "Look, this is the snowman made by mom and dad."

Layla looked at the yard. The white snow scene and the two big snowmen prototypes couldn't help but exclaim: "Mom! It's snowing so hard over there. I really want to go and build a snowman with you.”

Chapter 1564

“It’s big in the daytime. It’s not much at the moment.” On the other side of the video call, Layla shouted ‘brother’ and ‘stinky brother’.

After a while, Hayden and Robert appeared in the video call.

“Look at the snowmen made by mom and dad. Who do you think is better?” Avery pointed out the two snowmen to the children, “The smaller one is made by mom, and the bigger one next to it is made by dad.”

“Is there any need to ask? Of course, it’s my mother’s good-looking pile.” Layla cheered.

Avery was instantly satisfied: “Mom hasn’t finished stacking it yet. Mom is going to make a beautiful nose for it. When mom’s stack is finished, mom will stack three more small ones, so we have a family of five.”

“Mom, you make me more beautiful! If I am the prettiest little snowman.” Layla asked quickly.

“Of course, Mom will definitely make you the most beautiful.”

After the video call was finished, Elliot walked up to her and touched her hand holding the phone.

“The temperature has dropped a lot. You go inside and I’ll build the remaining little snowmen.” Elliot touched her hand a little cold.

Avery: “I’m not cold, I just wear gloves. With you, everything is very happy.”

Elliot: “Me too.”

Avery teased, “I know. If it weren’t for me. If I ask you to come out and build a snowman, you won’t run out to build it yourself. Those who really like to build snowmen will run out to build them during the day.” stud

“I bought vegetables during the day and studied recipes.” Elliot defended himself .

Avery laughed, "Even if you didn't buy groceries or study recipes, you won't come out and make a snowman. You wouldn't do such a childish thing by yourself."

Elliot: "It's kind of stupid to make a snowman by yourself."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery: "I don't think so."

Elliot: "I told me."

Avery: "I know, if you make a snowman by yourself, I will think you are very cute."

.....

After building the snowman, Avery and Elliot took a photo with five snowmen in the snow, and while sending the photo to Layla, she also posted the photo to the circle of friends.

–Avery ate dinner made by her husband today and built a snowman together. Life is so self-evident.

After the dynamic release is successful, it immediately receives numerous likes and comments.

Ben Schaffer: "Coke? Are you drinking Coke?" [Laughs]

Gwen replied below his comment: "You graduated from Y University, right?"

Tammy: "I went to check the second half of this sentence. The second half of the sentence is why it is necessary to be a human being. I don't know the last word, hum!"

Jun: "Don't cry, wife, that word is very difficult, and I don't even know it." [Hug]

At night, after Avery fell asleep, Elliot looked at the news she posted and fell into deep thought.

Chapter 1565

Regarding the cause of Xander's death, Avery was definitely not as light as she appeared on the face.

If it wasn't that she didn't want to have any more contact with Rebecca, she would definitely go to Yonroeville to find out what happened to Xander.

Elliot felt the grievance in her heart from the words 'life is so self-contained'.

But he couldn't do anything about it. He could neither make Rebecca and the child disappear, nor could he get the truth of Xander's death from Rebecca's mouth.

Avery won't let him go to Yonroeville, nor let him contact Rebecca.

The only thing Elliot can do now is to accompany Avery and the children well and stop making them sad.

Aryadelle.

It's 12 p.m.

Jun accompanied Tammy to the hospital for an obstetric examination. After the obstetric examination, they went directly to Lynch's house.

Jun lived here on weekdays and went back to Hertz's house to accompany his parents on weekends.

His mother was hospitalized with high blood pressure last time, and was later discharged, but her blood pressure was still high.

He knew why his mother was unhappy, so he tried to use the weekend to make up for his parents' debt.

Today is Saturday, and he told his parents in advance that he would accompany Tammy for an obstetric examination today, and he would go back in the evening.

Unexpectedly, his car drove to the door of the front yard of Lynch's house, and he saw his father's car parked in the yard.

"My parents are here." Jun's heart was tense, and he said with a guilty conscience.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“It’s coming! It’s coming! What are you doing in such a panic?” Tammy unfastened her seat belt, pushed the door open and got out of the car.

“Tammy, my parents didn’t tell me they were coming to your house today.” Jun didn’t feel flustered, “I always think they came to your house suddenly, there must be a conspiracy.”

“What are you afraid of, this is my house, you Parents still dare to mess around in my house?” Tammy walked over to the driver’s seat and pulled Jun down.

The two entered the living room and saw at a glance that the four elders were divided into two factions, each occupying one side, and there was a great potential for negotiation.

Jun immediately walked up to his parents with a smile on his face: “Dad, Mom, why are you here? Why didn’t you tell me? If Tammy’s parents are not at home, you are not here for nothing.”

Jun said, and sat down beside his mother.

Tammy sat down beside her parents.

The confrontation has not only not disappeared, but has intensified.

Tammy just glanced at her mother-in-law lightly, and then she felt a bad and strong aura from her mother-in-law’s face.

Tammy is almost three months pregnant now. After becoming a mother, her mentality has changed significantly.

She used to think that her mother-in-law was a little possessive towards Jun, but now she understands her mother-in-law’s mood a little bit.

It’s just that understanding comes from understanding. Jun belongs to her, and this will not change.

Moreover, she has also made psychological preparations that if she has a son, the son will get married and run with his daughter-in-law in the future.

“My dad and I are here to find you.” Mrs. Hertz smirked to maintain a decent appearance, “Didn’t you say you’re depressed? So I asked your dad to contact a foreign psychiatrist. We plan to take you abroad for treatment.”

Chapter 1566

“Mom, Jun’s condition has been brought under control. As long as he follows the domestic doctor’s orders and takes his medicine on time, it will have no effect.”

Tammy answered first.

“Taking medicine every day, how can it have no effect? Did the doctor tell you that taking medicine has no side effects?” Mrs. Hertz’s voice was not loud, but her tone was resentful, “I gave Jun the best doctor I contacted abroad, and it is said that he can cure depression.”

Tammy smiled dryly, “Why haven’t I heard that a doctor can cure depression?”

There is no other way to treat this disease than to take medicine and regulate your emotions. If the doctor you mentioned was really that powerful, he would have been well-known all over the world long ago”

Mrs. Hertz: “There are so many things you haven’t heard of, if you knew everything, you would be famous all over the world.”

The mother-in-law and daughter-in-law disagreed and quarreled.

“Mom! Don’t get excited. Be careful that your blood pressure rises again.” Jun patted his mother on the back while speaking for Tammy, “Tammy is right, I have never heard that modern medicine can completely cure depression. Besides, Tammy’s belly is getting bigger now. I have to take care of her, so I can’t go abroad for treatment. Let’s talk about it when Tammy’s child is born!”

“I knew you were going to say that.” Mrs. Hertz sighed, opened the bag, and took out a few bottles of medicine, “This is the medicine I asked the expert to prescribe. You can take it and see the effect. If it works, then take this medicine regularly.”

Jun’s face suddenly changed.

Tammy was so nervous.

The two elders of the Lynch family knew that Jun’s depression was fake, so they sweated.

“Yes, don’t think your mother is too busy. You have been pampered and grown up since you were a child, and you don’t understand our painstaking care for you. She talks about your depression in front of me every day, for fear that you won’t be able to think about it one day and throw it away. Get off us and leave.”

Mr. Hertz said bitterly.

Jun shook his head in embarrassment.

How could he not know the deep love his parents have for him.

If Jun is really depressed, he will definitely take this medicine, and he will take it in front of them and show them.

“Jun, you can take it now. I heard that this medicine is very effective. One thousand dollar for one medicine.” Mrs. Hertz urged.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Jun’s brain exploded: “One thousand dollar for one medicine?”

“Yeah! It cost hundreds of thousands for these bottles of medicine. I’ll bring it to you first and see if it works. If it works...” Mr. Hertz said.

“Dad, Mom, I’m not terminally ill, how can you buy such expensive medicine?”

Jun felt that his parents had been deceived.

Tammy was more direct and asked her own question: “Have you been deceived? He is not cancer. What kind of medicine costs 1,000 dollar? Tell me the doctor’s contact information, and I will check.”

Mr. Hertz and Mrs. Hertz’s face turned dark.

“Tammy, don’t speak so badly.” Thiago said, “Isn’t it only a few hundred thousand dollars? Your mother usually pays this price for a more expensive bag. Even if your in-laws are really deceived, don’t you? Do you think your mother wasn’t cheated? In my opinion, anyone who buys something that is not worth that price is paying IQ tax.”

Tammy couldn’t help but be happy.

Dad said her speech was ugly, and he thought how nice his own words were.

Jun sighed and said to his mother, “Mom, I have taken the medicine today. I will wait until tomorrow to take the medicine you bought. Tammy is going to take a nap. I will take you back.”

Mrs. Hertz: “Jun, do you think you are sick or not? Do you think I and your dad can’t tell? You lied to us with outsiders, has your conscience been eaten by a dog?!”

Tammy’s heart was burning with fire. She felt like her husband is going to be beaten. “Ah...my stomach...it hurts!”

She screamed suddenly, causing the whole room to change faces.

Jun immediately ran towards her and picked her up.

“Husband...take me to the room to lie down for a while...” Tammy gave him a secret wink, lest he think her stomach hurts.

How could Mrs. Hertz not guess that this was Tammy’s plan, but seeing that her son cared about her so much. She suddenly felt that if she continued to make trouble, there would be no good results.

Chapter 1567

“My family, how did you raise Tammy so well?” Mrs. Hertz said with a smile, “My son is like a fool in front of Tammy.”

Of course the two elders of the Lynch family understood what she meant.

“My daughter is really good. We haven’t taught her much, she’s born so good hahaha.” Thiago couldn’t hide the joy and pride in his eyes.

Mrs. Hertz smiled a little: “My family, let’s discuss something. We didn’t expect Tammy to be pregnant so quickly. The doctor said before that she was not easy to get pregnant, but in fact it was bullsh*t. If it is really not easy to get pregnant, how could Tammy be so successful?”

“You wouldn’t want Tammy to have a second child, right?” Mary heard Mrs. Hertz’s intention.

“My dear Mary, what do you mean, Tammy has a family name with your family name, and will not give birth in the future? Then what’s the face of our Hertz family?” Mrs. Hertz’s blood pressure is about to rise.

Mary explained, “No. It’s useless for you to tell us whether Tammy will have a second child. You have to tell Tammy. Although Tammy is my daughter, we all listen to her. Our little sweet eats soft and not hard. If you want her to have a second child, then you have to be nice to little sweet.”

Thiago added: “What is your attitude towards us little sweet. It’s also clear. It’s not that we can’t live without your son. If you arrange a blind date for Jun in private, we won’t welcome you as guests in the future. My daughter will not be wronged, and neither will we.”

“Of course, as long as you are kind to Tammy in the future and don’t do things in person and behind your back, we can still get along well. After all, Jun is very filial to us, comparable to my own son. I am very satisfied with this son-in-law.”

Thiago squinted and smiled with satisfaction.

The hearts of the two elders of the Hertz family were about to be pierced.

The son who raised him so hard, ran away with other women, and even went to filial piety to other people’s parents.

In the room.

Jun wanted to go out and explain to his parents, but was held back by Tammy.

“Are you stupid? Are you going out to fight?” Tammy lay down on the bed, “Your parents are angry now, you should wait for them to calm down before going to them.”

“Yes!” Jun sat down beside her, “I’m just worried about my mother. My mother has high blood pressure.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“I know your mother has high blood pressure. If your mother doesn’t have high blood pressure, I’ll just quarrel with her. Am I pretending to have a stomachache?” Tammy stroked her abdomen, “Jun, do you regret being with me?”

Jun: “How could it be. If I couldn’t stand your violent temper, I would have run away.”

Tammy glared at him: “I really don’t know if you’re praising me or hurting me.”

“Equally divided, but it’s true that I love you.” Jun reached out and touched her belly, and said in a low voice, “Tammy, I know you love me too.”

“Bullsh*t, if I don’t love you, I don’t have to have children at all. I’m bitter and want to have children. Isn’t it all the pressure from your parents?” Tammy glared at him at a glance.

Jun smiled, “I know how good you are to me, I will keep it in my heart. Let’s take a nap. When I wake up, I will go to my parents.”

“You and them are good. Say, don’t really get mad at them.” Tammy put down the phone, “My mother just sent me a message saying that your mother wants me to have a second child.”

Jun replied embarrassedly, “They follow me. I said it, I don’t care. It’s as simple as pulling a radish to have a child. I asked them why they didn't have a second child in the first place, but they didn't say anything."

Tammy: "Hahaha! You are so bad!"

Jun: "Wife, come and kiss one."

Tammy hugged his head and gave him a strong kiss on the face.

.....

Two days later.

Bridgedale.

The snow stopped and the snow in the yard started to melt.

The temperature has gotten colder.

Elliot and Avery invited Gwen and Ben Schaffer to have dinner together.

Chapter 1568

After eating this meal, the two of them will go back to Aryadelle for the Spring Festival.

"Gwen, it's a pity I can't watch your game." Avery handed a gift to her, "I picked this up with your second brother yesterday. It's a little thought from us. I hope your game will go well and you'll get the ranking you want."

Gwen: "Thank you. when my game is over, I'll go back to find you."

Avery: "Well, when your game is over, you have a good rest. It feels like you have been reborn in just a few months."

"I'm quite satisfied with my current state." Gwen put the gift in her bag with a narcissistic expression, "I think I'm more beautiful now."

"You're an aesthetic deformity. You've had enough before. you've lost weight, and now you're skinny and if I want to say beauty, it's still more beautiful before." Ben Schaffer expressed his views mercilessly.

Gwen: "If you don't like me now, don't."

“I didn’t say I didn’t like you. I’m just worried about your health.” Ben Schaffer explained patiently.

“My profession requires me to maintain such a weight, you keep talking about it, it’s really annoying!” Gwen glared at him, “I don’t have an Electra complex, so don’t always act like my elders, okay?”

Avery held back a laugh, “Do you two always bicker like this?”

Gwen: “No.”

Ben: “Yes!”

The two of them said in unison, but gave completely different answers.

Probably feeling a little embarrassed, so they both took up the water glasses in front of them and took a sip.

“Ben Schaffer, do you want to go back to Aryadelle with us?” Elliot saw that the two of them were not dealing with each other so much, so he asked Ben Schaffer.

“Go back with them. If I can reach the top three in the competition, I will definitely call you to show off. If I don’t get the top three, don’t bother me.” Gwen discussed with Ben Schaffer.

“I’m not going back.” Ben Schaffer said firmly, “I’ve agreed to watch your game, I’ll definitely have to watch it before I leave. I even have the camera ready.”

Gwen: “As you like. Anyway, if someone asks me at that time. What does it have to do with you, I will say that you are my father.”

Ben Schaffer: “Are you polite? Can’t I be your brother?”

Gwen: “We don’t look alike.”

Ben: “Then you say I am your father?”

Gwen: “Stepfather.”

Ben Schaffer was a little angry, but it wasn't enough for him to return home.

"Elliot, have you seen that? This is the true face of your sister. She is so gentle and well-behaved in front of Avery. She was just like that in front of me." Ben Schaffer made a small report to Elliot in front of Gwen.

Elliot: "What do you want me to say? "

Avery: "..."

The water he just drank almost spit out.

Gwen smiled unkindly.

"Avery, Elliot suffered a lot when chasing you before? I remember it like this."

Ben Schaffer was neither angry nor annoyed.

Avery: "You may remember it wrong. I was more angry before. How could a proud person like him make himself suffer?"

Ben: "Then how did you endure it?"

"I couldn't bear it, I always quarreled with him directly. If you follow me, maybe Gwen will ignore you." Avery held back a smile, "Gwen wants to work hard now, please wait patiently."

After dinner, Elliot and Avery went directly to the airport.

Chapter 1569

They bought tickets for 11 o'clock tonight.

They could have bought a ticket for tomorrow, but Avery missed the child and wanted to go back earlier.

Arriving at the airport, the accompanying bodyguards go to check-in.

Avery and Elliot rested in the VIP lounge.

She rested her head on Elliot's shoulder and whispered, "I'm a little dizzy."

"Go to sleep first if you're sleepy. I'll call you later when we board the plane."

Elliot looked at her sideways.

Avery has closed her eyes.

“Is it cold?” Elliot reached out and shook her hand.

Her hands were warm, but she said, “It’s a little cold.”

Elliot raised his hand and touched the temperature of her forehead: “Do you have a fever? The temperature is a little high.”

Avery heard this, reached out and touched her forehead, Elliot touched his forehead and said, “It seems that the temperature is a little higher than yours. But I’m a little dizzy…”

“You wait for me here, I’ll find a thermometer to take your temperature.” After speaking, Elliot strode towards the service desk.

Soon, he came back with a thermometer.

Avery took the thermometer and put it under her armpit.

A waiter came over with hot water and put it in front of them.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“Thank you.” Avery picked up the water glass and wanted to drink some hot water.

“When did you start to get dizzy? If we knew you were not feeling well, we didn’t need to go to them to eat.” Elliot touched Avery’s forehead again, and was more certain that she had a fever.

“It was fine when I ate just now, but only when I came to the airport by car, I feel dizzy.” After taking a sip of hot water, Avery put down the water glass, “Keep away from me, be careful that I infect you with a cold.”

“I never catch a cold.” Elliot said, “Avery, you are still too weak.”

“You’re someone who has just recovered from a serious illness, so you have the nerve to say that I’m weak?” Avery bickered with him, “I don’t like the weather here. If I was in Aryadelle, I wouldn’t catch a cold.”

Elliot: "Would you like to wait for your cold to heal? Or Go back to Aryadelle now?"

"No. I'll take some medicine and I'll sleep on the plane, and go back to Aryadelle." Avery was in good spirits, "Even if I have a fever, it's not a high fever. It shouldn't exceed thirty-nine degrees."

After five minutes, she took out the thermometer.

The temperature was exactly thirty-nine degrees.

Elliot took the thermometer and returned it to the service desk.

At the same time, Elliot took the antipyretic and cold medicine from the front desk.

When Avery boarded the plane, her temperature wasn't as high, but she was more sleepy than before.

After getting on the plane, she lay down and went straight to sleep.

The flight attendant knew she had a fever, so she brought a blanket and antipyretic stickers.

"After Ms. Tate's fever subsides, cover her with a blanket." The flight attendant reminded Elliot.

Elliot: "Thank you."

The flight attendant: "You're welcome. Let us know if you need anything."

Avery slept directly to her destination. She woke up as the plane taxied.

"Avery, you slept for 10 hours. How do you feel now?" Elliot sighed.

Her fever has subsided, and she was a little confused because she slept for too long.

Avery: "Are we in Aryadelle?"

Elliot: "Yes."

"I'm so thirsty." Avery pursed her dry lips.

Elliot immediately opened the thermos cup and gave her water.

Chapter 1570

At the airport, Mike brought Layla and Hayden to pick up the plane.

“If Mom knew that Robert was sick, she would definitely die of distress.” Layla muttered softly.

Robert had a fever last night, and after taking antipyretics, the fever subsided, and after a few hours, the fever started again.

Robert is a premature baby, and his body will be slightly weaker than normal children.

“Isn’t it no longer burning? It’s just a common cold. Your mother is a doctor, so you won’t be scared.” Mike said.

“But Robert’s voice has become the voice of a duckling.” Layla remembered that Robert’s voice had become rough now, and couldn’t help but want to laugh.

During their conversation, Elliot and Avery came over.

“What are you talking about? I can see you laughing all the way.” Avery walked up to Layla and touched her head, “Why don’t you rest at home so late?”

“I’m on winter vacation now, I don’t need to get up early. My brother is coming to pick you up, and of course I will too.” Layla took her mother’s hand and said,

“Mom, Robert has a fever.”

Avery: “I also have a fever but it subsided on the plane.”

Layla said, “Mom, why don’t you take good care of yourself? But my younger brother is worse than you. My younger brother’s voice has become rough.”

“Did he go outside for a hair dryer?” Avery said in pain, “The last time my brother had a fever, he caught a cold.”

“I don’t know. My brother and I were playing outside, and we didn’t catch a cold.” Layla whispered, “Mom, how did you catch a cold?”

Avery scratched her head: "I don't know, but your mother is already well."

Back home, Avery looked at Robert, who was languid, and immediately picked him up.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"Little baby, do you have a cold? Have you taken the medicine?"

Mrs. Cooper smiled and said, "The medicine prescribed by the doctor this time is very sweet, and he likes to drink it."

"Avery, you also need to take medicine." Elliot reminded, "Go take a bath first."

Elliot: "Mrs. Cooper, it's already very late, take Robert to rest."

Mrs. Cooper explained: "Robert slept all day during the day, so I can't sleep right now. But it's really late now, so you should go to rest early! I'm taking Robert back to the room."

After Mrs. Cooper took Robert away, Avery sent Layla and Hayden back to the room.

"Babies, you are going to pick up mom tonight. Mom is very happy, but if it's too late next time, don't pick up mom."

"Mom, it's my brother who has to pick you up. I'm very sleepy." Layla said, climbed onto the bed and lay down, "Mom, you also go to bed earlier."

"Yeah!" Avery wanted to give her daughter a good night kiss, but thought that she had a cold now, so she gave up.

From the children's room, she went back to the master bedroom.

Elliot was running hot water for her in the bathroom.

Avery took the medicine out of her bag and took two.

"Elliot, wash up first. I'm not sleepy." Avery slept enough on the plane, and now she is in good spirits, "Gwen sent me a message, I'll text her back first."

"Okay." Elliot Close the bathroom door. He hadn't slept on the plane, for fear that Avery might get sicker or wake up suddenly, so he's more tired now.

Avery sat down on the small sofa and read the message from Gwen.

Gwen: [Avery, Ben Schaffer took me out to go shopping. I thought he was going to buy me something, of course, if he did buy me something, I certainly wouldn't. The result... he wanted to buy it himself, and he asked me to pick it for him. Suits, shoes, ties... I can choose anything, I'm drunk]

Avery: [Hahaha! He's here to watch you play, so buy new clothes.]

Gwen: [Maybe. He said he was going to do a look. With that hair on his head, I'm really worried that the stylist isn't doing enough.]

Avery: [Gwen, do you like him? I was quite happy when I saw you hurt him.]

Gwen: [A little bit. I thought about it a little bit, and in fact, he's been pretty good to me all along. It's my own personality that is too aggressive, and I often go against him.]

Avery: [You have a game tomorrow, so have a good rest tonight.]

Gwen: [Ben said he would invite me to a big dinner tonight. After I have a big meal, I will go home to rest. You wait for my good news.]

Avery's fingers jumped on the screen, trying to type 'OK', but as a result, his eyes went black, and the mobile phone in her hand fell to the ground with a 'bang'.

Chapter 1571

Her body was tense, she closed her eyes and opened them again.

Brightness reappears.

But just now, it suddenly became dark, and she couldn't see anything. It was definitely not an illusion.

She reached out and rubbed her eyes, carefully feeling the condition of her eyes.

Eyes were a little bit up.

She didn't know if it's a psychological effect, but now she felt a little pain in her head, and her vision was not as clear as usual.

She sat blankly by the bed, forgetting to pick up the phone that fell on the ground.

.....

Bridgedale.

After Ben Schaffer swiped his card to pay the bill, he took a shopping bag and glanced at Gwen.

Gwen held her cell phone, not knowing who she was messaging. She frowned and was completely forgetting herself.

"Who are you talking to? I've settled the bill. Let's go out first." Ben Schaffer glanced at the screen of her phone.

Gwen immediately took the phone away: "I'm talking ill of you to Avery."

"Oh, I know what you're talking about." Ben Schaffer saw through her thoughts,

"However, Avery probably didn't talk to you about me. What a bad word."

Gwen: "Avery didn't reply to me."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"She should have just arrived home. Please let her have a good rest." Ben Schaffer pulled her out of the store, "Let's go see women's clothing next."

"Wow! You're actually wearing women's clothes? I can't tell, you're actually a big boss in women's clothes." Gwen was shocked.

Ben Schaffer had a headache after hearing her words.

Ben: "If I go to buy milk powder someday, do you think I can have a baby?"

Gwen: "No! There is milk powder for the elderly on the market."

Ben Schaffer: "..."

The next day.

Spring Festival in Aryadelle.

Because the Starry River Villa was relatively small, the Spring Festival was celebrated at Foster's villa.

Early in the morning, Elliot and Avery took their three children back to Foster's villa.

Avery asked, "Elliot, are you going to pick up your mother, or let the driver pick it up? Be more lively, let's not be so stingy."

Elliot said, "Let the driver pick her up. I met her last time, she didn't tell me anything. I think she's still hiding something from us."

Avery smiled and said, "It's just that she took the benefits of Wanda and didn't dare to tell you. I already told her to let her go back. Let's not talk about unhappy things. Let's go make dumplings."

Elliot looked embarrassed: "I don't know how to make dumplings."

"Then go take the children." After saying that, Avery walked towards the kitchen.

At this moment, the bodyguards posted couplets outside the villa and hung red lanterns.

Layla followed the bodyguards to watch the fun.

Hayden was not interested in everything here, so he sat on the sofa and used his mobile phone.

Robert wanted to go out with Layla just now, but Layla refused.

So he could only follow his brother eagerly and watch him play games.

Elliot walked to Robert's side and picked him up: "Robert, will Dad play with you?"

Robert immediately pushed him without thinking, not wanting to play with him.

Like magic, Elliot took out a big red envelope from his pocket.

Robert's eyes were immediately attracted, and he reached out to get the red envelope.

"You give this red envelope to brother, and Dad will give you another one, okay?" Elliot wanted to give Hayden the New Year's money, but he was afraid of giving it directly, and Hayden didn't want it. So he wanted to borrow Robert's hand to give Hayden the New Year's money.

Robert understood what his father said, and immediately handed the red envelope to his brother.

Of course Hayden didn't want the red envelope from Elliot.

But Robert's cute little face, coupled with the voice that became thick after a fever, called his brother, and his heart suddenly softened.

Chapter 1572

"Brother!" Robert called out to his brother, Hayden and the little hand holding the red envelope almost reached his face.

Hayden was moved by his younger brother, Robert's persistent spirit, so he accepted the red envelope.

Elliot immediately took out another red envelope and gave it to Robert.

"Do you want to go out with your sister to see hanging lanterns? Can Dad take you out?" Elliot noticed that Hayden was very embarrassed with the red envelope, so he hugged Robert and walked away.

Just now Robert wanted to go out, but Avery wouldn't let him, so Layla refused him to go out with him.

Because Robert had not fully recovered from the cold, Avery was afraid that he would catch a cold when he went out and the cold would worsen.

Elliot put a hat on Robert, added a scarf to him, wrapped him tightly, and then went out with him.

Not long after, Shea trotted to the yard.

“Brother, these are the dumplings I made.” Shea took the dumplings she had made after working hard for a while, and identified them to Elliot, “When the dumplings are ready, you can eat the ones I made. Because the bread inside I got the coins.”

Elliot looked at the dumplings made by Shea, and a warm current swept through his heart.

“How many did you pack in total?” Elliot asked.

Shea said sullenly, “Just this one. Because I have to wrap coins in it, it took me a long time to wrap this one.”

“Then I’ll cook it for Mrs. Scarlet.” Shea said excitedly, and took the dumplings into the house.

In the kitchen.

Seeing Shea coming back, Avery smiled and said, “Are you going to show it to your brother and let him eat the dumplings you made later?”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“Yeah! I’ll make another one for you to eat.” The smile on Shea’s face is gentle and warm, with pure and strong love.

Avery couldn’t resist Shea’s kindness: “Okay! I hope your brother and I can find your dumplings later.”

“If you can’t find it, I’ll help you find it.” Shea took the dough and scooped the meat filling with a spoon in one hand, “I can definitely recognize the dumplings I made. Because the dumplings I made are big, fat, and the cutest.”

Half an hour later, the driver picked up Sofia.

After Sofia came over, she only glanced at Elliot timidly, and immediately went into the kitchen to help Mrs. Scarlet.

This day has been busy and fulfilling.

Time passed, and it was evening.

After the reunion dinner, the driver was ready to send Sofia away.

Before Sofia left, she gave Hayden, Layla and Robert New Year's money respectively.

"Avery, I want to tell you something." Shea took Avery's arm and walked aside,

"Valentine's Day will be in a few days. I want to get a certificate with Wesley that day."

Avery: "Your brother..."

"I don't want to tell him, because he may not agree." Shea leaned into her ear and said her thoughts, "I want to get the certificate and then tell him. "

Avery: "Aren't you afraid that he will get angry?"

Shea: "Afraid. But I really want to marry Wesley."

Avery looked at the sincere light in Shea's eyes and nodded: "I support you. If Elliot gets angry then, I will persuade him."

"Thank you Avery." Shea hugged Avery happily.

Not far away, after Elliot watched Sofia leave, he turned around and saw the two of them hugging each other. He was about to go over and ask them what they were talking about when the phone rang.

He picked up his mobile phone and saw that it was an unfamiliar number.

He hesitated, then answered the phone.

"Elliot, I'm coming to your city. Can you come out and meet me?"

It was Rebecca's voice.

Rebecca was here.

Elliot took his mobile phone and strode towards the gate of the courtyard.

If Avery heard Rebecca's voice, she would definitely be angry.

“What do you want to do?” Elliot whispered.

Rebecca prayed softly, “I have a big belly now. This is the last time I will go out before giving birth. I just want to see you once. After seeing you, I will leave immediately.”

Chapter 1573

Afraid of his rejection, Rebecca hurriedly said: “Elliot, please don’t be so cruel. I won’t come again in the future. When the child is born, I will take care of the child...”

Elliot stood in the yard Outside the door, he turned slightly sideways and looked towards the door of the villa.

Avery was looking at him. But she didn’t come.

Shea’s hand took her arm, rambled about something to her.

When Avery found that Elliot was looking at her, she immediately turned her eyes back to Shea’s face.

“I won’t see you. Rebecca, don’t contact me again. You will only make me hate you more.”

Rebecca burst into tears and choked: “I didn’t mean to come to you, I really can’t control myself... The child always kicks me now, every time she kicks me, I want to tell you... She is already a healthy and lively life, she will be as smart and lovely as Layla in the future. Elliot, I don’t ask you to give her normal fatherly love, as long as we meet occasionally and it’s good to meet her once. Even if we can’t meet upright, it’s fine to meet in secret.”

Rebecca’s cry made him grit his teeth.

His fists were clenched tightly, and the child’s little face that looked very much like Layla appeared in his mind.

“Elliot, I’m at the Regent Hotel near your house, and I’ll leave tomorrow morning.” Rebecca saw that Elliot didn’t speak, so she held a glimmer of hope, “Will you come and see our children? Knowing that when I have a baby, you can’t go to Yonroeville to see me, and I won’t have the strength to bring the baby to come to you, so you can come and see us tonight? I brought a lot of photos of the baby to show you, It was taken this month.”

The Regent Hotel is only a ten-minute drive from Elliot’s home. After going back and forth, plus the time to watch Rebecca, it can be done within half an hour.

The child softened Elliot’s heart.

When Rebecca gave birth, it was impossible for Elliot to see Rebecca and the child.

It is impossible to see them in the future.

When the child is born, Rebecca’s attention is shifted to the child, and she should not come to him again.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Thinking of this, Elliot decided to see Rebecca for the last time. He hung up the phone and walked towards the villa.

Avery accompanied Shea and Adrian to watch the Spring Festival Gala in the living room.

Hayden and Layla were also there.

Robert felt asleep in Mrs. Cooper’s arms.

Elliot walked to Avery. Before Elliot could speak, Avery immediately got up from the sofa and walked aside with him.

“Who did you talk to on the phone just now?” Avery didn’t think much of it when she asked this question.

“A friend.” Elliot didn’t say much, “I’m going to go out now and come back in half an hour.”

Come back in half an hour, which is equivalent to where Elliot is going, which is nearby.

Avery said, "Is half an hour enough? Meeting friends, don't you invite them to have a meal? It's fine if you come back later, but drink less alcohol."

Elliot nodded: "You'll be sleepy before you go to bed, and don't wait for me."

"Well." Avery sent him out the door.

After Elliot left, Avery went back to the living room.

"Mom, where is Dad going so late?" Layla lifted her heavy eyelids, "We're going to set off fireworks later."

"Your dad has a friend here, he's going to see his friend." Avery explained to her daughter, "He said he'd be back soon. But if you want to set off fireworks, we don't have to wait for him."

Layla: "Let's go set off fireworks now!"

"Okay!" Avery put on the jacket for the child, "Put on the jacket first, it's a little cold outside."

The two children put on their jackets, and Shea and Adrian also put on their jackets.

Adrian took the lighter and walked out first.

Shea and the two children quickly ran out.

When Avery was about to go out, the phone rang.

Chapter 1574

Gwen called Avery.

Avery picked up the phone immediately.

Gwen's excited voice came: "Avery! I ranked second in the preliminary round. I was second."

Avery's heart beat with excitement: "You are awesome. I knew you could do it."

“I’m so happy! I originally set my goal to be in the top ten and successfully enter the semi-finals, so I’m satisfied. I didn’t expect that I was second in the preliminary round. It’s only a little bit lower than the first place.”

Avery: “Gwen, you really amazing. If your second brother knows this news, he will definitely be happy for you.”

“I also hope he can impress me. I will continue to work hard in the future.” Gwen said, Ben Schaffer’s voice came, “Gwen, are you calling Avery?”

Gwen: “You know it but you are still asking.”

“Let’s talk when we go back. I have already booked a flight back to Aryadelle, let’s go home.” Ben Schaffer said.

Fireworks bloomed in the air, and the night was suddenly decorated with colorful lights.

Avery looked at the dazzling light in the sky, and his thoughts were pulled far away.

In the living room, Robert was awakened by Layla’s cheerful scream.

Mrs. Cooper hugged Robert and walked to Avery: “Robert didn’t blink. This was the first time Robert has seen fireworks.”

Avery looked at her son’s wide eyes in shock, and couldn’t help but laugh:

“Baby, aren’t the fireworks so beautiful?”

Robert stretched his arms out, wanting to go out.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Mrs. Cooper looked at Avery’s face.

“Take him out and see. It should be fine after a while.” Avery finished and walked out with Mrs. Cooper.

The fireworks were on for about half an hour.

When the night returns to tranquility, Shea leads Layla, Adrian leads Hayden, and prepares to go back to the living room.

“Mom, I’m going to set off fireworks tomorrow.” Layla said to Avery.

Avery: “Okay! Let’s go buy fireworks tomorrow.”

Layla: “Our yard is too small, but Dad’s yard is big enough. So many fireworks, if they are placed in our yard, there is not enough space to put them.”

“Then I’ll stay at my father’s house tomorrow.” Avery said, adding, “But you have to discuss it with your brother first. Mom and Dad will listen to you.”

Layla immediately grabbed Hayden’s arm and discussed with him in a low voice.

Regent Hotel.

After Rebecca waited for Elliot in the hotel lobby, she was moved and happy tears.

Rebecca was wearing a loose long coat, which couldn’t hide her bulging belly.

“Elliot, thank you for coming to see me and the baby. There are too many photos of the baby, so I put them in the room.” Rebecca grabbed his arm and pulled him towards the elevator.

“I asked the doctor why our children look like Layla. The doctor said that the child should be like you. Layla should be like you.” Rebecca explained to Elliot why the child resembled Layla.

Foster family.

After the children put off the fireworks, they went back to the room and went to sleep, and Mrs. Cooper carried Robert back to the room.

After watching TV in the living room for a while, Shea couldn’t hold it anymore, so she went to rest.

“Adrian, are you sleepy? If you are sleepy, go to bed. There was a whole day of noise at home, and you didn’t take a nap.” Avery wanted to wait for Elliot to come back.

Avery glanced at the time. It has been 40 minutes since Elliot went out.

She didn't know when Elliot will come back.

Adrian said warmly, "Avery, I'll accompany you. Are you waiting for your husband? Why didn't he come back so late? Do you want to call him?"

Chapter 1575

Avery shook her head: "Elliot said he was going to see his friend, and he would come back after seeing his friend."

"Why didn't Elliot take you to see his friend?" Adrian asked in confusion.

"Maybe his friend just wants to see him, not me." Avery replied casually and continued, "Are you hungry? I'm a little hungry. If you're hungry too, then I'll cook something to eat."

"What to cook?" Adrian was a little hungry, so he got up.

The two walked towards the kitchen.

Too many dumplings were made in the morning and they were not cooked.

"Let's cook dumplings and eat them." Avery took out the dumplings from the refrigerator.

Adrian: "Okay! I like to eat dumplings."

"Do you have anything you don't like?" Avery asked with a smile.

Chatting with Adrian will naturally relax her mood.

"I don't like to eat bitter melon." Adrian pulled his face, "Bitter melon is really bitter.

But Mrs. Scarlet likes to eat it."

"I don't like bitter melon either. But bitter melon is a good thing." Avery told him about science, "But if you really don't like it, then don't eat it."

"Well, can you let me cook? I want to try it." Adrian hasn't cooked yet.

"Okay! I'll teach you." Avery stepped aside and continued, "Let's turn on the stove first. Press the switch and then turn the switch. No, we need to use a clean pot first and connect the right amount of water. It's about this The water on the scale line is enough. After connecting the water, we put the pot on the stove, and then turn on the switch. Wait for the fire to boil."

"How does the water boil?" Adrian stared at the water in the pot, ask.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery taught patiently, "Wait a while when the water boils, and then it's boiling. At this time, you can throw the dumplings or noodles into the pot. Like this kind of dumplings that have been frozen in the refrigerator, it usually takes ten minutes to cook. When it's almost cooked, you can taste it."

Adrian nodded: "It doesn't seem to be that difficult."

Avery boasted, "It's not that difficult. Plus you're smart, you can learn anything.

Shea can even make soup. If you want to learn this, Usually, I can ask Mrs.

Scarlet to teach you."

Adrian: "Mrs. Scarlet is afraid that my clothes will get dirty, and afraid that I will cut my hands with a knife."

Avery: "You can tell her that you will be careful. Mrs. Scarlet is soft-hearted."

Adrian: "Yeah."

Soon, the water boiled.

"Now you can put the dumplings in. The water is boiling, you have to put it in gently, otherwise it will be very painful if you get scalded by the boiling water."

Avery was instructing.

Adrian took the dumplings and carefully put them into the pot.

"Yes, that's it. Look how smart you are!" Avery boasted.

At the door of the kitchen, Elliot stared blankly at the harmonious and warm picture of the two of them. He didn't want to go in and break this beauty.

When all the dumplings were in the pot, Avery caught a glimpse of Elliot out of the corner of his eye.

“When did you come back? Why didn’t you make a sound?” Avery wiped her hands with a dry towel and strode to him.

Elliot didn’t smell of alcohol, but there was a faint, unfamiliar smell of perfume.

Elliot should have gone to see the woman.

“I Just got back. Avery, are you cooking dumplings?” The expression on Elliot face was calm.

Avery: “Well, do you want to eat some? If you want to eat, I’ll ask Adrian to put more dumplings.”

Elliot: “I’m not hungry. Can Adrian cook?”

“I taught Adrian just now, it should be fine.” Avery said and walked over to Adrian and asked, “Is there anything else you don’t understand?”

“Yes,” Adrian asked, “How to turn off the fire?”

Avery pointed to the stove switch, “Just screw it back to the original position. Then turn off the power switch here.”

Adrian: “Okay, I see. Go watch TV with him. I’ll call you when it’s done cooking. “ Well, if there is anything you don’t understand, please call me at any time.” Avery finished with a smile, and went to the living room with Elliot.

A chorus was playing on TV.

Chapter 1576

A total of six artists chorus, followed by countless dancers.

The scene was very lively and the melody was very festive.

Avery and Elliot sat down on the sofa, and both of them looked at the TV screen at the same time.

Elliot said proactively, “Ben Schaffer called me. He said that Gwen won the second place in the preliminary competition.”

Avery: “I know. Gwen called me.”

Elliot: “They will go back to Aryadelle tomorrow.”

“Well.” this topic made Avery forget to ask who Elliot went to see just now, “Let Gwen continue to stay in the hotel then? It’s not good?”

“Do you want Gwen to stay at my house?” Elliot asked.

Avery: “It’s okay to stay at my house. It’s the Spring Festival, everyone is back home to reunite with their families, but we let Gwen come back to stay in the hotel. I think it’s too indifferent.”

“Listen to you. You can live wherever you arrange for her.” Elliot compromised, looking at her clear eyes with deep eyes. After hesitating again and again, he said again, “I just...”

“Avery, come and see if the dumplings are cooked.” Adrian sound came from the kitchen.

Avery immediately got up from the sofa and strode towards the kitchen.

Elliot got up very early today and was very sleepy now. He walked to the kitchen and said to Avery, “Avery, I’ll go back to the room to wash first.”

“Okay! Go!” Avery was holding a bowl, and in the bowl was a steaming dumpling, in the sweltering heat Under the steam, her eyes gleamed faintly.

After Elliot returned to the room, Avery and Adrian filled dumplings and went to the living room to eat while watching TV.

20 minutes later, the two finished eating dumplings.

Avery took the bowl into the dishwasher and came out of the kitchen.

Avery: “Adrian, go back to your room to sleep. I’m going to bed too. It’s very late now.”

Adrian scratched his head: "I want to wait for the New Year's Eve."

Avery glanced at the time, and it was just over an hour before the New Year.

"I'll wait for New Year's Eve with you." Avery sat down beside him, "Actually, I'm not that sleepy."

A sketch was playing on the TV.

In order to make herself not so sleepy, she took a serious look.

After some time, Avery's phone screen lit up.

She picked up her phone and saw that it was 11 o'clock at night. Elliot should have fallen asleep.

She clicked on the message from the unfamiliar number, and saw a candid photo.

In the photo, Rebecca has a big belly, holding Elliot's arm, and was about to enter the elevator.

In the photo, Elliot was wearing the new coat he wore today.

–He said he was going to see a friend, but it turned out to be Rebecca.

–The faint scent of perfume on his body naturally came from Rebecca.

–Didn't he say he'd never meet Rebecca again?

–No, what he promised was that he would never go to Yonroeville again.

–He didn't say that Rebecca came to Aryadelle to see her.

[Miss Tate, we photographed your husband having a tryst with a woman with a big belly for nearly an hour tonight. If you don't want this news to be in the headlines, then you need to pay a buyout fee. I still have a lot of these photos in my hand, and if I release any of them, it will definitely make it impossible for your family to celebrate the New Year.]

Avery read the text message sent by the other party, and her heart sank into a cold pool.

She wanted to say, let the photos go out, because it wasn't her who was secretly photographed anyway.

But thinking about how big this incident would affect the child, she could only endure her unhappiness and sent a message to ask: [How much do you want?]

Chapter 1577

The other party immediately replied: [Five million. This number is not much for you, is it? As long as you call the money tonight, I promise to destroy all the photos.]

Avery looked at the word 'Five million' and thought it was ridiculous.

–Is the photo of Elliot and Rebecca worth so much money?

Avery wanted to grit her teeth and said to the person on the phone, go and expose it. Expose now. Not to mention that Elliot and Rebecca were photographed going to the hotel for a tryst, even if she took a picture of the two of them on the bed, she wouldn't be afraid.

Elliot was not afraid, what was there to be afraid of.

Avery just felt disgusted, and she was afraid that the child would be disgusted.

In the end, it was still getting older, and the temperament was more calm than before, and it was more able to bear the pain that was unbearable before, or it was too much, and people were a little numb.

Avery copied the bank card number sent by the other party, opened her own bank app, and transferred five million.

After receiving the money, the other party sent a message: [Miss Tate, I didn't expect you to be so refreshing. I didn't expect you and your husband to be so good looking. But still, I wish you a Happy New Year]

Avery clenched the phone tightly, and the expression on her face couldn't be concealed.

“Avery, what's wrong with you?” Adrian asked, looking at her cold expression.

“Someone wishing me a happy new year,” Avery explained, putting the phone down, “the one I hate.”

Adrian: “Oh... the hater, just ignore it.”

“Um.” Avery took it from the table and picked up the glass and took a sip.

Time will soon come to the countdown to New Years Eve.

On the TV, the host and everyone on the scene counted down together: “Ten, nine, eight, seven...”

“Adrian, what do you wish for in the new year?” Avery looked at Adrian.

Adrian: “I hope I can become smarter and smarter and can take care of myself.”

Avery: “You can definitely do it. I believe in you.”

“Avery, thank you. What is your wish?” Adrian asked rhetorically.

Avery thought for a moment, then the corners of her mouth rose: “I hope my three children are healthy and happy.”

“No.”

“No.”

“No one said that you can only make one wish, but you can make many.” Adrian reminded her, “You can also wish that you and your husband are also healthy...”

“If you wish too much, it won’t work.” Avery smiled and said, “The most important thing is that the child is healthy and happy.”

Adrian: “Okay! Then Am I being too greedy? My wish is so big.”

Avery: “Don’t be greedy. God has already accepted your wish. We will celebrate New Year’s Eve together at the end of the year.”

Adrian: “Okay!”

Avery returned to the bedroom and Elliot gave it to her. Left a bedside lamp.

He was fast asleep, breathing evenly and looked really tired.

Avery walked to the bed and turned off the light before she went to bed. The room suddenly fell into darkness.

She lay down on the bed with her back to Elliot.

–Elliot went out to see Rebecca, but he didn't tell her in advance. Today is New Year's Eve, a day to reunite with family. On such an important day, he secretly went out to meet Rebecca.

For Avery, this was a spiritual betrayal.

–If Elliot can sneak to see Rebecca once, there will be a second time, a third time...

–It's the same thing as physical betrayal.

–Is Elliot not letting go of Rebecca or the child in Rebecca's womb? Or, both?

–After all, if Elliot doesn't have feelings for Rebecca, how can he have feelings for the child in Rebecca's belly?

Suddenly a deep rift arose in her heart.

No wonder people say that after being together for a long time, it is easy to lose freshness and passion. She thought that she and Elliot would be exempt from the commonplace, but unexpectedly, they were also common people.

Chapter 1578

This was not the life Avery wants.

If she and Elliot really got to the point where they were separated from each other, she would rather not have this relationship.

She lives with her own children, and she will never have such troubles. She didn't want to be pitied by anyone, and she didn't want to be put on emotional shackles.

The more Avery think, the more awake her mind becomes, and the more she can't sleep.

After an unknown amount of time, she seemed to have fallen asleep in a daze, or even had a dream. Only when she was dreaming, she knew she was dreaming. She didn't sleep very well, a dream started soon, then ended quickly and entered another dream.

This lasted for about two or three hours, and she woke up completely. She picked up her phone and checked the time. It's almost 5 a.m.

She breathed a sigh of relief. After a while, she got up.

At 7:30 in the morning, the calm of the villa was broken.

Layla and Hayden got up.

The two of them came out of the room and went to see Robert first.

After Hayden returned to Aryadelle, he got along with Robert for a period of time, and the relationship between the two brothers improved.

Looking at Robert at his current age is like looking at low-level animals, but his younger brother is slightly different from ordinary small animals.

That is his younger brother is cuter.

Robert also liked Hayden more, because the things he plays with him make him feel novel.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Layla pushed open the door of the children's room, Robert was sitting on the bed, holding the bottle in both hands, drinking milk.

"Hayden, Layla, Happy New Year." Mrs. Cooper immediately took out two red envelopes and gave them to Hayden and Layla.

"Grandma Cooper, aren't you going home to spend the New Year with your family?" Layla sat down beside the bed and asked.

Mrs. Cooper smiled and said, "I'll take a vacation when Robert is completely healed. He's still coughing a little."

Layla: "Oh...the cough is fine, he'll be fine when his mother is here."

“Well. Your elder brother is looking at your younger brother, and I will go to see if I need help in the kitchen.” Mrs. Cooper said and walked out.

Robert finished drinking the milk, put the bottle aside, and then stretched out two small arms towards Hayden and Layla, wanting to hug.

“Stinky brother, you are already a big baby, come down and go by yourself.” Layla carried her brother to the ground and put on shoes for him.

When Robert put on his shoes, Robert immediately took his red envelope and walked to Hayden.

He handed the red envelope to Hayden, who was puzzled: “I don’t want it, you give it to my sister.”

Robert pouted, stubbornly giving the red envelope to Hayden.

Layla was a little angry: “You gave the red envelope to my brother, but you didn’t give it to me, I’m angry!”

Hayden felt a little smug when he saw that Layla was jealous.

Hayden didn’t expect Robert like him so much.

He took the red envelope given by his brother, and as a result, the little guy immediately hugged his leg and said in a coquettish voice, “Brother hug!”

Layla: “Haha! Brother, he gave you a red envelope because he wanted you to hug him. Haha! Haha!”

Hayden’s face changed slightly, and after scolding ‘stinky brother’ after learning from Layla in his heart, he reluctantly picked Robert up.

At 8:00 a.m., Elliot got up. After washing up, he went downstairs.

When he came to the first floor, he immediately searched for Avery in the living room.

“Layla, where’s your mother?” Elliot slept well last night and was in good spirits today.

Layla looked shocked: "Isn't mom sleeping with you?"

Hayden also looked at Elliot with a puzzled face.

Elliot: "She's not in the room. She's left when I wake up."

After Elliot finished speaking, he looked at Mrs. Cooper.

Mrs. Cooper shook her head: "I didn't see Avery when I got up. I went to ask the bodyguard at the gate."

Mrs. Cooper strode out of the yard.

After a while, Mrs. Cooper got the news and returned to the living room.

"The bodyguard said that Avery left at 6:00 a.m. She drove away."

Chapter 1579

"You two are going to fight and go outside! Don't quarrel with my mother." Hayden supported Avery and walked towards the master bedroom.

Mrs. Scarlet immediately called a bodyguard and sent Mike away.

After Mike was sent away, Elliot was completely awake. He stood at the door of the master bedroom, not daring to go in.

Avery was sitting beside the bed, and Hayden was checking if his mother was injured.

"Mom is fine... Mom is just a little tired." Avery was afraid that his son would be worried, so she lightly said, "the two of them drank too much, so they quarreled. Don't worry."

"I'm not worried. Where are they?" Hayden said angrily, "Mom, let's go home tomorrow. I don't want to live here."

"Okay." Avery agreed.

The punch Elliot punched Mike landed on the left side of her head.

She had no injuries on her face, and there was hair blocking the place where she was hit, so no one could see any wounds at a glance.

“Did Layla wake up?” Avery asked worriedly.

“No. Layla slept soundly.” Hayden replied.

“Go to sleep too. After playing all day today, you must be tired.” Avery wanted to get up and send Hayden back to the room.

“I’ll go back to the room by myself.” Hayden pressed her, not letting her send him off. “Mom, if you’re uncomfortable, you must tell me.”

Hayden didn’t see his mother being hit by Elliot’s fist, only that his mother was caught between two men.

And the two men drank too much, and it is very possible that they accidentally hurt their mother.

“Well, I’m really fine.” Avery still got out of bed and sent Hayden out of the room.

Avery came from Elliot and stood at the door, and she saw it.

After Hayden left, she turned around and met Elliot’s fiery, deep eyes.

She glanced at Elliot and entered the house.

Elliot followed into the house and closed the door.

“Would you like to see a doctor?” Elliot followed her to the bedside.

Avery had a headache, but not as bad as before.

She felt that there should be no major problems, so she did not want to go to the hospital.

Take a night off and see how things go tomorrow.

Besides, if Avery appeared in pain, Elliot didn’t know what to blame himself.

She didn’t want to use this little injury to win his attention.

“I’m a little sleepy. Let’s talk about other things tomorrow.” Avery pulled the quilt and lay down on the bed.

Elliot immediately reached out and found the wound on her head.

“Don’t touch me.” Avery pushed his hand away angrily.

“Let me see.” Elliot pleadingly said, “Avery, I’m sorry.”

“I don’t want to hear these words. If you really feel sorry for me, just be quiet.”

Avery stared at him coldly.

“Let me see.” Elliot repeated his request.

If Avery didn’t show him, Elliot probably wouldn’t be able to sleep tonight.

Avery pulled down the rubber band that tied her hair and let it loose.

Elliot immediately pushed her hair away, and saw the swollen.

“It’s swollen.” Elliot’s Adam’s apple rolled, “I’ll take you to the hospital.”

Avery: “It’ll be fine in two days.”

Elliot: “Are you sure?”

“Do you know more or do I know more?” Avery lay flat and looked at him calmly,

“Are you sober?”

Elliot: “Yeah.”

“Go take a bath and then go to sleep.” Avery was smoky from the alcohol on his body, “You drink so much tonight, think I’ll take care of you? Elliot, I won’t take care of you in the future.”

Chapter 1580

Elliot drinks as much as he likes to drink, and sees whoever he likes to go out.

Avery needed to calm down for a while and thought about her future direction.

“Avery, let’s not do this.” Elliot frowned, very dissatisfied with what she just said.

“You go take a shower first. If you have anything to say, we’ll talk about it tomorrow.” Avery didn’t want to talk to him about it.

Avery has a headache now, and Elliot drank too much. Even if Elliot is a little more awake now, he is definitely not rational.

No matter what the two of them talk about now, there will be no result.

Elliot sat beside the bed and didn’t answer her.

He wanted to talk to her, but seeing that she had closed her eyes, he had to give up.

He drank too much tonight, and although his reason was sober, his body was still dominated by alcohol. He was terribly dizzy.

After Avery was breathing evenly, Elliot lay down beside her.

After lying down, his heart was always uneasy, so after hesitating for a few seconds, he stretched out his arms and wrapped his arms around her waist.

Avery was already asleep, but his arm stretched over and hugged her tightly.

If Elliot wasn't drunk, he wouldn't have hugged her so hard.

In addition to waking her up, this kind of force made her uncomfortable.

Avery opened her eyes and stared at the hazy yellow light reflected in the window, stunned.

After an unknown amount of time, there was a murmur behind him: "Avery...don't leave me...don't go..."

Elliot had a nightmare. His body was hot, and Avery felt like she was about to melt.

She tried to take his arm away from her waist.

Elliot held her like this, and Avery couldn't sleep at all. But she tried, and she couldn't move him at all.

Fortunately, She slept in the afternoon. Except for the pain on the head, there is no other discomfort.

Avery simply picked up the phone and passed the time.

Tammy sent her a photo of tonight's dinner: [the chicken soup was stewed by my mother-in-law herself. The pie was made by my mother-in-law herself. My mother-in-law treated me today, that's called an intimacy... How can people have two faces?]

Avery replied: [Some people have more than two faces. There may be countless faces.]

Tammy: [Are you talking about my mother-in-law or someone else?]

Avery: [Talk about this phenomenon.]

Tammy: [I'm really not used to it today. Although my mother-in-law called me a few years ago to show her goodwill, she saw me today and treated me better than her own daughter. My mom has never been so sticky to me.]

Avery: [Since the old man is courting you, you should also take a step back. It's better to be peaceful than noisy.]

Tammy: [She is waiting for me to give birth to my second child.]

Avery: [You give birth to this baby safely first, and the second child is not in a hurry. The big deal is that if you don't want to give birth in the future, you can't get pregnant.]

Tammy: [I told Jun the same. He said never let his parents know about this idea.]

Avery: [Well. In many cases, difficulties can be resolved slowly.]

Tammy: [Avery, I am so satisfied now! I am now waiting for my baby to be born so I can live a life like yours.]

Tammy has always envied Avery.

Their children are well-behaved and sensible, and Elliot loves her very much.

Although the relationship between the two of them has twists and turns, the end result is good. And they are still very young, and there will be decades to come to each other.

Avery looked at the message she sent and was happy for her.

Looking at the phone screen, Avery suddenly fell silent. She should have replied to Tammy, but after typing a few words, she deleted it.

Tammy was happy now, she didn't need to tell her unhappy things to influence others.

Chapter 1581

Avery suffered so much grievance, Mike must scolded Elliot severely.

Otherwise pissed off.

Moreover, he has to figure out what Elliot's attitude towards Rebecca is!

If Elliot intends to get entangled with Rebecca, he must persuade Avery to divorce.

The phone was dialed and was quickly connected.

"Avery said he went to the grave with you, where are you now?" Elliot's voice was the same as usual, calm, without ups and downs.

"Avery told you to take me to the grave?" Mike was startled.

"You didn't go with her?" Elliot was also shocked.

Mike scolded, "Hehe, Elliot, it's not the point of going to the grave now. The point is, you f*cking met with Rebecca last night and were found out. What do you want to do? If you don't want to live with Avery Now, divorce her. Don't hang her and mess around outside again."

"What did Avery tell you?" Elliot didn't expect his suspicions to come true, "I went to see Rebecca last night and I didn't have time to tell Avery."

When Elliot was about to tell Avery last night, she was called by Adrian to the kitchen. Then he fell asleep because he was so sleepy.

When Avery woke up in the morning, she was no longer at home.

Elliot didn't deliberately hide it. His fault, at most, was that he didn't tell her the truth when he went out.

After all, there were so many people in the family at that time that it was not convenient to speak directly.

Mike sneered, "You've been discovered now, so there's no time to talk about the reasons. Elliot, you are really disappointing. If you can't let go of Rebecca and can't end your relationship with Avery, don't talk to Avery. Together! You are like this, not only tarnishing your feelings, but also hurting your three children even more."

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

"I can't let go of Rebecca." Elliot retorted him.

Mike scolded, "Then why did you run to see Rebecca? Yesterday on New Year's Eve, you went to see Rebecca secretly. Who are you trying to disgust? If I were Avery, I would never run out in anger! What a bummer!"

"Mike, there are some things I dare not say to Avery." Elliot decided to respond to Mike's question after a moment of silence, "I have no feelings for Rebecca, otherwise, I would not have left Yonroeville. However, I was also at fault. My fault was that I had feelings for the child in her womb."

Mike gritted his teeth: "You and Avery already have three children, isn't it enough that your father's love is overflowing? That child of Rebecca, give up the three children in your country? You either have no brain or lie. You just have feelings for Rebecca."

"I would rather admit that I have a brain hole than that I have feelings for Rebecca. "

Elliot's answer made Mike sigh heavily: "Then what the h-e-l-l do you want to do? Take Rebecca's child? Let Avery won't live in peace? Do you mean that?"

Elliot: "Do you think there is such a thing? Is it possible?"

Mike sneered, "Why is it impossible? I think it's possible for you to do something outrageous. If you go and tell Avery, you are for the child in Rebecca's womb, so you are with Rebecca. Rebecca is confused, guess what Avery will react to."

Elliot: "So I dare not tell her."

Mike scolded loudly, "Sc*mbag, Avery's remarriage with you will definitely be her life is the stupidest thing ever."

Mike's roar was deafening.

Avery was woken up by his roar in the guest room. She clearly heard what Mike just said.

Elliot turned out to be for the child in Rebecca's womb, so he went to see Rebecca last night.

Elliot actually had feelings for the child in Rebecca's womb!

Avery was stunned, as if she had suffered a head-on blow.

The child in Rebecca's womb is also his child, how could Avery forget it? How could he really give up his own flesh and blood.

Chapter 1582

If she stopped him and prevented him from seeing Rebecca and Rebecca's children, it would be dehumanizing and inhumane.

"Mike, the child in Rebecca's womb looks a lot like Layla." Elliot explained the reason, "I can show you the photos, but don't tell Avery. I'm afraid she will be sad."

"Hehehe! I don't see it. You have made things like this now, of course you have to find an excuse to cleanse yourself. It's just that you made a mistake, I'm on Avery's side. If you don't make a clean break with Rebecca and that child, Avery will break with you sooner or later. You can't have both fish and bear's paws."

Hearing Mike's rebuke, Elliot swallowed what he said to his mouth.

Even Mike had such a big reaction. If Avery knew about it, it would definitely not be less than his reaction.

Because Elliot didn't speak, Mike's reason returned to his body a little: "You said that the child looks like Layla? Are you sure you are not joking? How can you and Rebecca's child resemble Layla?"

"Rebecca showed me the child's color Doppler." Elliot explained.

Mike: "Oh! She showed you a color Doppler photo like Layla's... Don't you know that the photo can be Photoshopped? How can you be sure that the photo she shows you is real? You use your daily schedule. Think carefully, how can you and Rebecca children be like Layla?"

Elliot was silent.

"This is the funniest joke I've heard recently. You're being played around by Rebecca. I know Layla is beautiful and talented, and you like her very much, but you can't think that Layla is just because of that. You can copy and paste at will."

Mike laughed.

Elliot was like a dick.

Mike was right.

–Why can't color Doppler photos be faked?

–Even the paternity test sent by Rebecca might be fake.

–Before a child is born, everything is empty.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

He can't believe it unless the child is born and he really sees the child like Layla.

"Mike, is Avery at your house now?" Elliot asked hoarsely.

"What are you doing? She's sleeping now. Judging from her appearance, she probably didn't sleep last night." Mike didn't want Elliot to come over to disturb her.

But Elliot couldn't control his emotions. He wanted to see her right away, explain to her, apologize to her.

...

After Mike finished talking on the phone, he walked to the door of the guest room, opened the door lightly, and glanced inside.

Avery turned her back to the door and couldn't see his face clearly.

But Mike thought she should have fallen asleep. Because he stood at the door and watched for a while, she lay quietly, motionless.

He closed the door of the guest room and returned to the living room, making tea while waiting for Elliot.

Elliot didn't say he was coming on the phone just now, but Mike felt that Elliot would definitely come.

Sure enough, within half an hour, Elliot appeared at his door.

Mike opened the door for him, and said strangely: "Is Rebecca still in Aryadelle now?"

"She's left." Elliot strode into the living room, "Which room is Avery in?"

"I said she was resting, do you want to wake her up?" Mike hurried forward and pulled him back.

At this time, Avery pushed open the door of the guest room and walked out.

Chapter 1583

After Avery was woken up, she never fell asleep. She was very depressed.

When Elliot saw Avery come out, he immediately strode towards her and took her into his arms.

"Avery, I'm sorry." Elliot hugged her tightly and apologized to her.

Avery's eyes were scarlet, and out of the corner of her eyes she caught a glimpse of Mike's figure.

No matter what Elliot say to her, it's not good at all.

Avery pushed Elliot and wanted to talk to him elsewhere, but Elliot hugged her tightly and didn't let go.

"Go to the room and talk." Avery looked at his handsome face with remorse and whispered.

Elliot took a deep breath, grabbed her arm, and led her into the room.

The two entered the room and closed the door.

Mike frowned, let out a gloomy sigh, and walked to the door of the guest room, wanting to eavesdrop.

It's a pity that the two of them didn't make a lot of noise in the room, and Mike couldn't hear anything.

Mike turned on his phone, sent a message to Chad, and complained wildly: [Your boss is such a big sc*mbag! Do not agree to argue.]

Chad: [Are you sick? New Year's Eve, do you want me to scold you?]

Mike: [Ha ha ha! I knew you were indiscriminate, you must protect your boss first.]

Chad: [You tell me, why did my boss provoke you? Could it be that you went to eat and was kicked out by him?]

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Mike: [What are you farting! Just based on my friendship with Avery, do you think he dares to treat me with such disrespect?]

Chad: [Then you are sick! When I finish my New Year's greetings today, I will take you to see a doctor tomorrow!]

Mike: [You may not know what the big news is! I really don't want to tell you, I'm dying of curiosity] Chad: [? ? ?]

Mike: [Your boss is probably going to kneel down to admit his mistake. Are you saying I'm going to buy a washboard or a durian now?]

Chad was worried when he read the news, so he dialed Mike's number.

Without thinking, Mike hung up the phone. Then send him a message immediately: [I'm eavesdropping on them outside the door]

Chad: [Oh...have you overheard anything?]

Chad: [Wait! Are they both at their house or yours now?]

Mike: [At my house! Your boss ran Avery away from home angrily. You said that your boss is not a scmbag! In my heart, he is the second biggest scmbag besides my ex!]

Chad: [What the h-e-l-l happened? If you don't tell me again, we'll break up. My patience can only count to five.]

Chad: [5,4,3]

Mike: [Shit! Slow the fuck up!]

Chad: [2]

Mike: [Rebecca!]

Chad: [What happened to Rebecca? Isn't she in Yonroeville?]

Chapter 1584

Mike: [She came to Aryadelle to find Elliot. And Elliot, a scmbag, even secretly ran to see her. I'll ask you, never give up! Scm is not sc*m.]

Chad: [... sc*m!]

Mike: [Hahahaha!]

Chad: [How can my boss do this? Is he worthy of Avery like this? Is it worth three kids?]

Chad was a little sad.

Mike: [When he's smart, he's pretty smart, but when he's stupid, he's really stupid. He was deceived by Rebecca.]

Chad: [My boss was deceived? Oh my God! Rebecca cheated on my boss's body?]

Because Avery had run away from home, Chad took this matter more seriously.

Mike: [Pfft! If your boss slept with Rebecca, I wouldn't say he was cheated. I'll just say he cheated.]

Chad:[Oh, how did you get deceived? You f*cking talk half way, it makes me sick to death. I really want to kill you.]

Mike: [Rebecca said that the child in her womb looks like Layla, your boss believed it. You say it's not funny. I'am happy!]

Chad: [What's so good about this? You are laughing weirdly.]

Mike: [You idiot. Layla looks like Avery, but Rebecca lied to Elliot and said that their children look like Avery. Don't you think it's funny?]

Chad: [...I'll go! Isn't Rebecca a bad brain? Telling such a lie can deceive for a while, but not forever!]

In the guest room.

Avery sat down beside the bed, while Elliot squatted in front of her and looked at her reverently.

"Rebecca came to me last night and said that he would see me for the last time and would never come to Aryadelle again, so I went." Elliot explained what happened last night to her.

Avery said firmly, "Why do you believe what Rebecca said? After she gave birth, she brought the child to you, and you would still go to see her. Elliot, I underestimated Rebecca's threat to our relationship. "

Elliot: "Avery, I'm sorry. I shouldn't have gone to see her...I shouldn't have believed her. She said the child was like Layla, so I went to see her out of curiosity. I have absolutely no personal feelings for Rebecca."

"I know. I believe that you have no feelings for Rebecca. But I also believe that you have feelings for your children." Avery held his face in both hands, "You can't ignore your children. Just like you clearly hated children before, but when you saw Hayden and Layla, you naturally assumed the responsibility of a father."

Elliot lowered his eyes and didn't dare to promise her that he would never see that child again.

If Rebecca brings the child to his door in the future, how can he keep the door behind him?

He felt that Rebecca could definitely do such a thing.

It's like Rebecca has been deceiving Elliot with fake color ultrasound photos!

Rebecca can do anything!

"Avery, I won't divorce you, and I won't give up our children." After pondering for a moment, Elliot said his determination, "You don't want to separate from me, and don't want to take the children away."

"Are you here to quarrel with me?" Avery withdrew her hand, her body trembling with anger.

"No." Elliot got up, took her into his arms again, his voice choked up slightly, "I don't want to make you angry, I don't want to see you sad. I'm just afraid that you will make up your mind to leave me silently."

"Elliot, let me be quiet...I want to be quiet." Avery's eyes were red and tears were swirling in her eyes.

"No. I can't leave you alone." Elliot knew her character too well. If she was left alone, she would definitely think wildly and go slanted.

"Then what do you want me to do?" Avery raised her fist in tears and slammed her fist on his shoulder, "Will you let me endure it? Will you endure it for the rest of your life? You want that child of Rebecca and you."

"I don't want it. Avery, I don't want that child." Elliot held her angry little face tightly with both hands and pressed his forehead to hers, "I swear, I will never see Rebecca again, but if that child comes look for me, I can't promise you not to see her."

"You met the child, and then what?" Avery looked at him with hard eyes, "If the child wants to recognize you, if she is crying and begging you, kneel down and beg you. What? Elliot, how dare you tell me you don't want it. You promise me now, coax me well, and when the child is born in the future, if you recognize her, what can I do to you."

Elliot tightened his body and didn't say anything.

"The most worthless thing in this world is a promise." Avery squeezed his wrist tightly with both hands, trying to pull his hand away.

Chapter 1585

Mike stood outside the door of the guest room. He originally heard the two of them quarreling fiercely. He hesitated to push the door and go in to help Avery.

As a result, the fierce quarrel began to calm down within 2 minutes.

After a while, the door to the guest room opened, and the two of them were ready to come out.

"Are you finished talking?" Mike scratched his head, "So soon?"

"Mike, let's go back first." Avery seemed to calm down, but the redness in her eyes became heavier.

"Oh, are you guys going to move the battlefield and have another quarrel?" Mike followed them and walked towards the door, "Avery, you must not be brainwashed by him. You are a woman in the new era, and you have to stand your ground. What can't be tolerated, no matter how Elliot begs you, don't swallow it. I know Elliot, if you endure this time, he will definitely have another time."

Avery was very moved when she listened to his rambling reminders.

"You go to our house for dinner at night. Gwen will be back at noon." Avery changed the topic slightly and spoke to Mike.

Mike: "Oh, yes! Is yours or Elliot's?" Mike asked.

Avery: "Let's celebrate the New Year at Elliot house."

"Okay! I'll see the situation at night. If I'm free, I'll go there." Mike sent them out.

Elliot followed Avery into a car, and the driver drove another car.

After the two cars drove away, Mike sent Avery a message: [What did you two talk about? Did you just let him go?]

After Avery got home, she replied: [New Year first. After the Spring Festival.]

Mike: [Oh, yes, it's New Year now! It's just how aggrieved you are! There are only six days until the end of the New Year]

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery: [Elliot refused to separate.]

Mike: [I knew he would not be separated. If he were to be separated from you, none of the three children would be with him. He even wants Rebecca's children, let alone your three children. In fact, he is very ruthless towards women, all he wants is his children]

Avery: [I'm a little sleepy. I'll go to bed first. You come over for dinner tonight.]

Mike: [Since you want me to go so much, I'll definitely go.]

Avery didn't reply. She didn't sleep last night, she was very dizzy. Every time she took a step forward, it felt like she was going to fall down the next second.

Seeing that her mental state was not right, Elliot immediately supported her arm.

After Avery entered the bedroom, she went straight to the bed and lay down.

Elliot did not leave. He sat on the edge of the bed and watched her sleep.

Not long after, Ben Schaffer sent Gwen to Foster's house.

There was laughter and laughter downstairs, it was very lively.

"Auntie, you are amazing." Layla blew the rainbow fart to Gwen, "When you are in the finals, I want to see you perform."

"Okay! As long as you don't delay your studies, of course I welcome you to the scene." Gwen opened the suitcase in the living room and took out the New Year's gift she bought for them, "Layla, where is your mother? I bought her a super beautiful bracelet. She will definitely like it.”

“My mother this morning went to my grandmother’s grave and After returned she is sleeping.” Layla looked at Gwen’s suitcase without blinking, “Auntie, is your suitcase full of gifts?”

The reason why Layla asked, It was because there were few clothes in the box.
v: “Yes! My clothes are in my satchel. This box is full of gifts for you.”

Adrian also came over.

When Gwen saw him, he immediately shouted at him, “Adrian! I bought you a gift.”

“If you don’t call me a fool, it’s the best gift.” Adrian had a shy smile on his face.

“My conditioned reflex wanted to call you a fool, but with so many people in my family, I held back. I must give you some face.” Gwen took out a box and handed it to him, “This is a drawing board for Drawing. When you are bored, you can use it to write and draw.”

Adrian took the gift, a little worried that he would not use it.

“I’ll send you a tutorial later, and you can watch the video more. If you really can’t, I’ll find a way for you.” Gwen asked, “Do you like it?”

Adrian nodded implicitly: “I like it...”

Chapter 1586

“Adrian, I’m a very good model now. When I become a professional model, I’ll be able to make a lot of money.” Gwen said to him in a showy tone, “I hope you can become a model one day. A normal person can marry a daughter-in-law.”

Adrian’s face turned red.

This question, he was embarrassed to answer.

“Gwen, you are so funny.” Ben Schaffer couldn’t help laughing beside him.

“Why haven’t you left yet?” Gwen heard his voice and looked at him immediately,

“Didn’t you say you want to go back to make up for sleep?”

“I can make up for sleep here too. I’ll go back after dinner.” Ben didn’t want to leave for the time being because it was too lively here.

After a while, Elliot walked downstairs.

“Elliot, your sister brought you a gift.” Ben Schaffer sat on the sofa with a look on his face watching the show.

Gwen glanced at him, then took out the gift she bought for him from the suitcase.

When she bought gifts, Ben Schaffer was there for her reference.

For example, the drawing board for Adrian was Ben Schaffer’s suggestion.

But when picking gifts for Elliot, Ben Schaffer didn’t make any suggestions.

Ben Schaffer asked her to buy whatever she wanted, because Elliot would not like it no matter what she bought.

Elliot lacks everything, everything he has is the best, and Gwen has limited funds, so it is impossible to buy too expensive gifts for Elliot.

Elliot saw the three children surrounding Gwen’s suitcase, so he walked in front of Gwen.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Gwen handed him the gift, her voice a little lower than before: “Happy New Year.”

Elliot glanced at the gift she handed over, and then continued: “Thank you.”

The gift Gwen gave him was a very handsome cartoon character holding a golden sign that read: Twenty-four filial piety, good husband.

Ironic.

He just made Avery angry. If it’s not New Year’s Eve, Avery is afraid to divorce him.

How dare he bear the label of twenty-four filial piety and a good husband?

“Elliot, do you know what this cartoon character is called?” Ben Schaffer asked.

Of course Elliot didn't know.

"This is the male protagonist of a girl's comic. Gwen likes this cartoon character very much, she thinks you are very similar to this cartoon character. Domineering and rich, love from one to the end..." Ben Schaffer added.

Elliot felt that this gift was ironic and hot. His face darkened instantly.

Ben Schaffer noticed the abnormality and immediately closed his mouth.

"I'm going to make up for sleep." Ben Schaffer got up from the sofa and pulled Hayden away.

Entering the guest room, Ben Schaffer asked Hayden: "What's wrong? Your dad is in a bad mood."

Hayden: "Why didn't I see it?"

Hayden didn't know that his parents were arguing, so he didn't think Elliot was abnormal.

"They didn't quarrel?" Ben Schaffer asked.

Hayden: "My mother went to the grave before she came back."

Ben: "Oh, did your mother take your father to the grave?"

Hayden: "No."

Ben Schaffer slapped his head: "the two of them quarreled. If they don't quarrel, your mother definitely take your dad to the grave with you."

Hayden's face suddenly gloomy.

The two of them quarreled, it must be Elliot's fault.

Chapter 1587

At 4:00 in the afternoon, Avery woke up.

Everyone looked at her as she came downstairs.

She was a little flattered.

"Why are you all looking at me?" Avery touched her face.

When she woke up, her face was a little red.

In the afternoon, she slept well, so she is in good spirits now, and she is not as distracted as before.

No matter what, her life will go on.

And now so many friends came to the house, she was very happy to see them.

“Avery! I brought you a gift.” Gwen brought the gift she bought to her in front of her, “I got a good place in the preliminary round, and my agent gave me an extra bonus. For this, I bought it for you at a jewelry store near the airport.”

Avery opened the box, and inside were several bracelets of different thicknesses with decorative beads of different colors.

These bracelets look great on the wrist together.

“Gwen, thank you, I like it very much.” Avery smiled brightly.

Elliot, Ben Schaffer, and Hayden looked at the smile on her face together.

“Let’s have a drink tonight.” Mike came over, stood beside Elliot, and put his hand on his shoulder, “Do you dare to drink with me?”

Elliot knew why Mike asked him to drink.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

He wanted to vent his anger for Avery.

“You drink less, or you will all get drunk. There can’t be so many people here.”

Avery didn’t stop her clearly.

Mike: “Isn’t there a driver at Elliot’s house? We are drunk and let the driver deliver it.”

Avery: “There is only one driver working during the Spring Festival.”

Seeing this, Ben Schaffer immediately followed, “How can I be without me drinking!”

If Ben Schaffer didn't come to help, Elliot would definitely be half-killed by Mike.

Gwen didn't know that Avery and Elliot were in conflict, so he was puzzled:

"Avery, why didn't you stop them? Where can someone start drinking during the day? If they drink it at night, they will definitely get drunk."

Immediately It was 5: p.m., and although it wasn't completely dark, it would soon be dark.

Avery sat on the sofa and ate fruit: "Let them drink if they want."

"Ben Schaffer and Mike have no problem drinking, but isn't my second brother seriously ill?" Gwen was worried about Elliot's body.

Although Elliot has not officially recognized her sister, he accepted the gift from her today and agreed to let her live in his house.

Gwen was happy and grateful.

A feeling of finally being at home came spontaneously.

"His body has recovered." Avery peeled a longan and put it in her mouth, "Don't worry about them, if something goes wrong, you can send him to the hospital."

Gwen felt that Avery seemed to have changed, but she looked at her. Her eyebrows were raised slightly, and she looked like a cloudless wind, but it didn't seem to have changed.

She used to be very strict with Elliot, but now she is much more relaxed towards him

Chapter 1588

"Avery, should I call you sister-in-law instead?" Gwen also took a longan and peeled it off, "But I think calling you sister-in-law will make you old. If the two of us go out shopping, others will see, maybe we will think that I am an older sister and you are a younger sister."

Avery: "Gwen: you should call me Avery. It sounds more affectionate."

“Tell me, let me call you sister-in-law when I come back this time.” Gwen said in a low voice, “Ben always relies on his age and feels that he eats a little more salt than me and knows more than me, so he likes to teach me. The truth of life.”

“Ben Schaffer is kind. If you call my sister-in-law sweetly, your second brother can accept you faster.” Avery expressed Ben Schaffer’s thoughts.

“I know. I don’t think it’s necessary to be as glib and cunning as he is. I just like to call you Avery, I have a good relationship with you, you can call me whatever you want. If Elliot is willing to accept it, I will accept it, and if I don’t want to accept it, I will pull it down. I can support myself.” Gwen said confidently.

“You can say that Ben is slick, but he must be sad when you say that he is cunning and cunning. If he hears it, he must be sad.”

“His mental capacity has improved a lot recently. In Bridgedale, he lives with me, and we bicker every night.” Gwen recalled the short period of time in the past, and a sweet smile appeared on the corner of her mouth.

Avery smelled the gossip: “You two... live together?”

Gwen shook her head hurriedly: “I share a house with him. It can only be counted under the same roof, not living together. I am with him. I haven’t decided to fall in love yet, how can we live together.”

Avery: “Well. It’s better to be cautious.”

“I must really want to marry him before I agree to be with him... Huh? Where’s Shea?” Gwen suddenly remembered Shea, “I brought her a gift too, but I never saw her.”

Avery whispered, “She should go to Wesley’s house. She is going to marry Wesley.”

Gwen: “Wow! When are they getting married? Can I attend their wedding?”

Avery smiled, “The wedding date has not been set yet. They will get the certificate first. This is the first good news in the new year.”

“Really I envy them. Shea and Wesley are very pure. They are really suitable.”

Gwen diverged her thoughts, “The two of them will definitely not quarrel.”

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

Avery: “Brother Wesley has a very good personality, I have never met him. Shea is also more gentle.”

“Then the child born by the two of them will definitely be more gentle.” Gwen said casually.

The smile on Avery’s face suddenly froze.

Gwen also suddenly thought of this question, “Avery, if Shea gives birth to a child, will the child have a certain chance of inheriting bad genes?”

Avery: “Well. Putting this aside, Shea’s body is too weak. She will have children.”

“Ah! I envy them more and more! I don’t want to have children either.” Gwen was madly envious, “The pain is one aspect, and on the other hand, I heard that postpartum training is particularly painful.”

Avery: “You keep your current training and you’ll be able to recover soon.”

“I don’t even have a partner, so giving birth is far from me.” Gwen wiped her hands with a tissue, “Avery, let’s go eat. I can smell it all. It smells good.”

“Yeah.” Avery got up and walked towards the dining room with her.

Several of their men have already drank.

Avery glanced at Elliot’s reddened face.

Mrs. Cooper divided two tables, one for drinking and one for not drinking.

After Avery finished eating, he accompanied Gwen to the guest room.

Because Gwen was about to suffer from jet lag, Avery didn’t stay in the guest room too much.

“Avery, you look a little tired. Did you go to the grave today to catch the cold?”

Mrs. Cooper came over and picked Robert up after finishing her kitchen work.

"It's okay." Avery forced a smile, "Robert is already well, you can start your vacation tomorrow!"

"This... Mr. Foster drank a lot of alcohol tonight, and it is estimated that he will have a headache tomorrow. I will wait until the day after tomorrow." Mrs. Cooper said sympathetically, "Mike has been drinking alcohol, why don't you take care of it?"

Chapter 1589

Avery heard the words and walked towards the dining room.

"Okay, stop drinking." Avery said this to Mike, "you should go back."

Ben Schaffer immediately stood up when he heard this: "Didn't you say there is only one driver? Let the driver take me back first. I'm so sleepy, I have to go home."

Ben Schaffer immediately rushed out of the dining room after getting off the table.

Mike blushed and strode after him, "Send me back first. I don't want to live here. This is not Avery's home."

"Do you understand? I said it first, so send me back first." Ben Schaffer pushed Mike away.

Mike drank too much, was top-heavy, staggered and almost fell.

Avery quickly supported him: "I'll take you back."

"Avery, you still treat me well." Mike moved his hand and put it on her shoulder.

Behind them, Elliot looked at them with scarlet eyes.

Elliot drank the least, but he was the worst, so he was more drunk than Mike and Ben Schaffer.

When Avery was helping Mike to leave, Elliot strode forward and grabbed Avery's arm.

Elliot: "You take care of me at home."

He drank too much and felt uncomfortable, but Avery didn't even give him a look.

Now that all three children have returned to the room, Avery no longer has to hide her anger and dissatisfaction with him.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

If it wasn't for what happened last night, Avery would never let him drink so much alcohol today, and she would never send Mike home when he was drunk, regardless of his feelings.

Avery felt that her arm was about to be broken by him.

Seeing this, Mrs. Scarlet immediately came over and persuaded: "Avery, you can ask the bodyguard to take Mike back. Go and take care of Mr. Foster."

Avery nodded, then looked at Mike: "The bodyguard will take you back."

"Avery, I want you to take me back." Mike was stubborn and deliberately competed with Elliot secretly.

From the corner of Avery's eyes, she saw Elliot's face gloomy.

They both drank too much and had no sense at all. Avery was sandwiched between them, as if wrapped in two flames.

Under normal circumstances, she would not have such a headache.

"I have to ask you to take me there. Isn't there a servant at home? You can let the servant take care of him!" Mike and Avery argued for it, and grabbed her arm, wanting to pull her away.

Elliot, like a gust of wind, quickly walked in front of them, blocking their way.

"Let go of her." Elliot warned Mike, "She is my wife."

"Haha! She is your wife today, maybe not tomorrow." Mike not only did not let go, but also provocatively said, "The marriage certificate counts. What a piece of sh*t! It's just a piece of paper."

Elliot was instantly furious. He raised his fist and waved it in Mike's direction.

Avery didn't even think about it, and immediately blocked in front of Mike.

When Elliot realized the problem, it was too late.

He punched Avery on the head.

This punch caused a white light to explode in Avery's mind. Then the pain spread to the limbs and bones!

"F*ck! Elliot, you idiot. Who the h-e-l-l are you beating. You're going to die." Mike was half sober, and immediately pushed Avery away and rushed towards Elliot.

And Elliot's wine has completely woken up.

He ignored Mike and directly pulled Avery's swaying body.

Mike's fist quickly swung towards Elliot. Elliot's feet were unstable, and when he fell to the side, he dragged Avery and fell over together.

Fortunately, Elliot quickly stabilized his body, and Avery bumped into his arms.

Mike was not relieved, he chased after him, grabbed Avery's arm, wanted to pull her away, and continued to teach Elliot a lesson.

Just when Avery was about to say 'don't fight', a loud voice came: "What are you doing!"

Hayden's voice was low and powerful.

His voice was settled, and he strode towards his mother.

Chapter 1590

"You two are going to fight and go outside! Don't quarrel with my mother." Hayden supported Avery and walked towards the master bedroom.

Mrs. Scarlet immediately called a bodyguard and sent Mike away.

After Mike was sent away, Elliot was completely awake. He stood at the door of the master bedroom, not daring to go in.

Avery was sitting beside the bed, and Hayden was checking if his mother was injured.

“Mom is fine... Mom is just a little tired.” Avery was afraid that his son would be worried, so she lightly said, “the two of them drank too much, so they quarreled. Don’t worry.”

“I’m not worried. Where are they?” Hayden said angrily, “Mom, let’s go home tomorrow. I don’t want to live here.”

“Okay.” Avery agreed.

The punch Elliot punched Mike landed on the left side of her head.

She had no injuries on her face, and there was hair blocking the place where she was hit, so no one could see any wounds at a glance.

“Did Layla wake up?” Avery asked worriedly.

“No. Layla slept soundly.” Hayden replied.

“Go to sleep too. After playing all day today, you must be tired.” Avery wanted to get up and send Hayden back to the room.

“I’ll go back to the room by myself.” Hayden pressed her, not letting her send him off. “Mom, if you’re uncomfortable, you must tell me.”

Hayden didn’t see his mother being hit by Elliot’s fist, only that his mother was caught between two men.

And the two men drank too much, and it is very possible that they accidentally hurt their mother.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

“Well, I’m really fine.” Avery still got out of bed and sent Hayden out of the room.

Avery came from Elliot and stood at the door, and she saw it.

After Hayden left, she turned around and met Elliot’s fiery, deep eyes.

She glanced at Elliot and entered the house.

Elliot followed into the house and closed the door.

“Would you like to see a doctor?” Elliot followed her to the bedside.

Avery had a headache, but not as bad as before.

She felt that there should be no major problems, so she did not want to go to the hospital.

Take a night off and see how things go tomorrow.

Besides, if Avery appeared in pain, Elliot didn't know what to blame himself.

She didn't want to use this little injury to win his attention.

“I'm a little sleepy. Let's talk about other things tomorrow.” Avery pulled the quilt and lay down on the bed.

Elliot immediately reached out and found the wound on her head.

“Don't touch me.” Avery pushed his hand away angrily.

“Let me see.” Elliot pleadingly said, “Avery, I'm sorry.”

“I don't want to hear these words. If you really feel sorry for me, just be quiet.”

Avery stared at him coldly.

“Let me see.” Elliot repeated his request.

If Avery didn't show him, Elliot probably wouldn't be able to sleep tonight.

Avery pulled down the rubber band that tied her hair and let it loose.

Elliot immediately pushed her hair away, and saw the swollen.

“It's swollen.” Elliot's Adam's apple rolled, “I'll take you to the hospital.”

Avery: “It'll be fine in two days.”

Elliot: “Are you sure?”

“Do you know more or do I know more?” Avery lay flat and looked at him calmly,

“Are you sober?”

Elliot: “Yeah.”

“Go take a bath and then go to sleep.” Avery was smoky from the alcohol on his body, “You drink so much tonight, think I'll take care of you? Elliot, I won't take care of you in the future.”

Chapter 1591

Elliot drinks as much as he likes to drink, and sees whoever he likes to go out.

Avery needed to calm down for a while and thought about her future direction.

“Avery, let’s not do this.” Elliot frowned, very dissatisfied with what she just said.

“You go take a shower first. If you have anything to say, we’ll talk about it tomorrow.” Avery didn’t want to talk to him about it.

Avery has a headache now, and Elliot drank too much. Even if Elliot is a little more awake now, he is definitely not rational.

No matter what the two of them talk about now, there will be no result.

Elliot sat beside the bed and didn’t answer her.

He wanted to talk to her, but seeing that she had closed her eyes, he had to give up.

He drank too much tonight, and although his reason was sober, his body was still dominated by alcohol. He was terribly dizzy.

After Avery was breathing evenly, Elliot lay down beside her.

After lying down, his heart was always uneasy, so after hesitating for a few seconds, he stretched out his arms and wrapped his arms around her waist.

Avery was already asleep, but his arm stretched over and hugged her tightly.

If Elliot wasn’t drunk, he wouldn’t have hugged her so hard.

In addition to waking her up, this kind of force made her uncomfortable.

Avery opened her eyes and stared at the hazy yellow light reflected in the window, stunned.

This chapter is provided by infobagh.com. Visit infobagh.com for daily update.

After an unknown amount of time, there was a murmur behind him: “Avery...don’t leave me...don’t go...”

Elliot had a nightmare. His body was hot, and Avery felt like she was about to melt.

She tried to take his arm away from her waist.

Elliot held her like this, and Avery couldn't sleep at all. But she tried, and she couldn't move him at all.

Fortunately, She slept in the afternoon. Except for the pain on the head, there is no other discomfort.

Avery simply picked up the phone and passed the time.

Tammy sent her a photo of tonight's dinner: [the chicken soup was stewed by my mother-in-law herself. The pie was made by my mother-in-law herself. My mother-in-law treated me today, that's called an intimacy... How can people have two faces?]

Avery replied: [Some people have more than two faces. There may be countless faces.]

Tammy: [Are you talking about my mother-in-law or someone else?]

Avery: [Talk about this phenomenon.]

Tammy: [I'm really not used to it today. Although my mother-in-law called me a few years ago to show her goodwill, she saw me today and treated me better than her own daughter. My mom has never been so sticky to me.]

Avery: [Since the old man is courting you, you should also take a step back. It's better to be peaceful than noisy.]

Tammy: [She is waiting for me to give birth to my second child.]

Avery: [You give birth to this baby safely first, and the second child is not in a hurry. The big deal is that if you don't want to give birth in the future, you can't get pregnant.]

Tammy: [I told Jun the same. He said never let his parents know about this idea.]

Avery: [Well. In many cases, difficulties can be resolved slowly.]

Tammy: [Avery, I am so satisfied now! I am now waiting for my baby to be born so I can live a life like yours.]

Tammy has always envied Avery.

Their children are well-behaved and sensible, and Elliot loves her very much.

Although the relationship between the two of them has twists and turns, the end result is good. And they are still very young, and there will be decades to come to each other.

Avery looked at the message she sent and was happy for her.

Looking at the phone screen, Avery suddenly fell silent. She should have replied to Tammy, but after typing a few words, she deleted it.
